CHILDRESS MAY GET DENVER LINE

WILLIAMSON ASSERTS EXTENSION PLANNED

(By Associated Press)

CHILDRESS, April 18—Position of the Burlington-Fort Worth and Denver railroads on building northward from Childress through Wellington and Shamrock, Texas, probably will be decided in a few days, according to a telegram received and made public by the Childress Chamber of Commerce today from F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington.

The message was in reply to one from the Chamber of Commerce in which it was explained the Chamber of Commerce refused to go in with other neighboring towns in an effort to get the Rock Island to build south through Shamrock, Wellington, Childress and Paducah. The Chamber of Commerce asked the Burlington official to give the plans of that system in regard to building north out of Childress.

"It is our feeling that any development in that territory logically belongs to the Fort Worth and Denver," Mr. Williamson's telegram said. "We appreciate your message of the fifteenth in connection with the Rock Island and Frisco application.

"We are interested in a line from Childress and expect to determine our position definitely within a few days. In the event a decision is reached at this time to proceed, we would greatly appreciate your co-operation."

The exchange of telegrams followed a meeting here Monday of the Childress and Paducah Chambers of Commerce.

INJUNCTION WILL BE HEARD FRIDAY

Decision will be made by Judge Clark M. Mullican at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning on the attempt of M. C. Overton to restrain A. W. Jackson and J. B. Maxey from constructing business buildings on the northwest corner of the intersection of Broadway and Avenue Q.

It is alleged that this building site, located in the Overton addition, originally was restricted for residences exclusively. A permanent injunction is sought against Mr. Jackson, as owner, and Mr. Maxey, contractor, to prevent them from completing the business houses. Construction has already begun.

Overton charges that business buildings will damage the residence owners in that section.

Building Permits Get $4650 Boost

Building permits for the city of Lubbock were given a boost of $4,650 this morning as two residential building permits were issued from the city offices.

The year's total now stands at $1,558,718 for 246 permits, and April's total is $434,100 for 44 permits.

One permit of $4,250 was granted today to Owens and Porter for the construction of a home at 2105 27th street for L. O. Balding, and another for $400 was issued to I. G. Woods for the construction of a residence at 1701 Avenue D.

BABE RUTHS ARE AT HOME TODAY

Bambino All Thrilled at 11-Room Home

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—The Babe Ruths were at home today in their 11-room apartment on Riverside Drive.

Two young girls will live with them, as will also Mrs. Ruth's mother and two brothers.

Ruth pointed with pride to a pretty room with twin beds that had been prepared for Dorothy Helen Ruth, his 8-year-old adopted daughter, and Julia Marshall Hodgson, Mrs. Ruth's 12-year-old daughter by a former marriage.

"I suppose those two girls will fight for the bed next the window just like baseball players do," said Ruth.

PARTY MAKES KINDLING OF STRUCTURES

MYSTERY SURROUNDS IDENTITY OF MEN MAKING RAID

GASTONIA, N. C., April 18—Etrike headquarters of the National Textile Workers Union, from which union organizers have been directing a strike at the Loray mill was demolished today by a band of masked men.

A relief store, established by the union next door to the headquarters building also was destroyed.

So far as could be learned, nobody was injured, although reports told of several fist fights and the firing of scattered shots.

County and national guard officers, who are guarding the mill property, said they had no clues as to the perpertrators. Union leaders, including Fred Erwin Beal, organizer for the National Textile Workers Union, who called the strike and who has been directing it, and George Pershing, staff employee of the Daily Worker, New York Communist organ, could not be located.

Persons who saw the crowd of men make kindling wood of the two buildings said they numbered several dozen. All wore white masks.

The strike at Loray mill, owned and operated by the Manville-Jenckes Company of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, was called three weeks ago. On the first day disorders, which threatened to turn

KIWANIS CHIEF SPEAKS IN CITY

LUBBOCK CLUB WILL FOSTER NEW GROUP AT BIG SPRING

A talk on "Building Kiwanis Clubs", by Walter C. Humpton, of Boston, field representative of Kiwanis International, and another talk, on "Chain Stores," by Jack T. Parsons, manager of the J. C. Penney company store, featured the regular luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Kiwanis club today.

Humpton is in this section for the purpose of "building" new Kiwanis clubs, reporting to the club here that yesterday, at Big Spring, a club of 51 charter members was organized. This club is being sponsored by the Lubbock club.

"I have heard about this country being different from any other part of the country, in every corner of the nation," Humpton said, "and have long wanted to come out here. Now that I am here, I am wonderfully surprised. It's really my first look at the great open spaces. The potential field for Kiwanis clubs in West Texas has not yet been touched, and I want to make this district the largest and strongest in the United States." Humpton was introduced to the club by W. C. Rylander, Kiwanis district lieutenant-governor.

Garrard in Charge

Tom Garrard was in charge of the program, which included two piano solos by Bob Stevenson and the talk by Jack Parsons.

"The chain store idea is not new", Parsons said. "It dates back to as early as 1640 when the Hudson Trading posts were established in the northeast. In general, as we now know it, however, it started only a few years ago, when F. W. Woolworth, having some slow-moving

PLANS FLIGHT OVER PACIFIC

BRITISH ACE SEEKS $28,000 PRIZE FOR PACIFIC JUMP

(By Central Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., April 18.—A non-stop flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokio, Japan, will be attempted by Lieut. Harold Bromley, former British wartime flyer, as soon as weather conditions permit. Backed by Tacoma capital, Bromley as just completed the purchase of his plane.

The plane, to be named the "City of Tacoma," is the big Lockhead-Vega monoplane designed for Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins' Antarctic expedition, and is now under construction at Burbank, Cal. It is powered by a Wright J-6 motor of 335 horsepower, capable of giving the flyer a speed of 150 miles per hour. It is entirely of wooden construction and is excedingly buoyant in water.

Fuel Supply.

Bromley plans to carry 700 gallons of gasoline, with a special reserve of 75 gallons. This he expects to be enough for 1,000 miles more than he intends to cover. A special device has been installed to allow the tanks to be emptied and closed in 15 seconds in case of emergency, and to lighten the plane enough so that it will float.

The plane will be equipped with the same radio that Martin Jensen used in the Dole flight from Oakland to Hawaii, and it will be in constant touch with the half dozen government radio station on the Great Circle route he intends to follow.

In planning the trip during the last year, Bromley has taken safety into consideration at every point. Following the Great Circle route, over the 4,700 miles, he will be over the Aleutian islands much of the time, within easy gliding distance in case of trouble. Only for a short time will he be over open water. He is planning to cover the distance inside of 35 hours.

At 16 Bromley enlisted in the Canadian army, and saw active service as a machine gunner at the battles of Somme, Ypres and Vimy Ridge. Three years after he landed in France he was transferred to the Royal Air force, at Hastings, where he received a thorough course in flying and navigation. He is now a holder of United States department of commerce licenses, with over 1,000

GOOD WILL PARTY RETURNS TO CITY

The Lubbock good will delegation to Oklahoma City returned shortly after noon today. Approximately 300 Texans and Southwest Oklahomans made up a special train over the Quanah, Acme and Pacific lines from Floydada, southern terminus, to the Oklahoma capital, celebrating the recently installed train service to the north and east.

In the Lubbock pullman, one of the train's nine cars, were 25 local business men and two citizens of Lovington, New Mexico, under the leadership of George P. Kuykendall.

The party left Oklahoma City last night following a round of entertainment climaxed last night by a banquet at which the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce was host to 600 persons.

State Senator Pink L. Parrish, Lubbock, represented his city on a varied program.

MYSTERY MALADY TAKES BIG TOLL

Four Deaths, Much Illness Caused by Disease

MELBOURNE, Ont., April 18 (AP)—Stringent health regulations went into effect in Elkfrid township today where residents are alarmed over a mysterious disease that has caused four deaths and much illness.

School sessions, church services entertainments and public funerals were ordered suspended by the board of health. Persons ill with the disease were ordered quarantined.

Although the nature of the malady has not been determined, its symptoms were said to indicate black diphtheria.

CORSICANA, Texas, April 18 (AP)—While returning from a church meeting, W. E. Williams, 71, was struck by a Southern Pacific train and killed here last night.

SCIENCE SOON MAY REGULATE OUR SIZE

EXPERIMENTATION MAY EVOLVE SUPER MEN IN INTELLECT

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 (AP)—Tools that science is making to change human beings were described at the annual meeting of the American philosophical society today by Dr. Oscar Riddle, of Carnegie Institution, Cold Spring Harbor, N.Y.

Changes forecast are increased stature, types of men specially resistant to disease, men with "'overlowering intellect," and a 'new and mellow tint to every outlook upon life."

Expected to control size is the hormone of the pituitary gland, an organ common to men and animals. After describing how feeding it to salamanders and rats nearly doubles their size, Dr. Riddle said:

"In these cases very large stature is a gift within the power of the experimentalist who is learning the use and special power of a specific hormone even while this substance is obtainable only in a very crude form. But this internal secretion is of much significance, since active and able attempts are now being made to isolate it in pure form; and because, when that is accomplished, this product will unquestionably and immediately be used to increase the growth of human beings. The medical profession will doubtless use it us; but there is much reason to exus; but there is much reason to expect that with this agent the physician, or perhaps the experimentalist, will also be able to add a cubit or two to the stature of the offspring of all of us."

CHURCH WON'T SELL ITS LOTS

NAZARENES DECIDE TO RETAIN PROPERTY ON AVENUE Q

The church board of the First Nazarene church last night voted to decline the sale of the church property, corner of 14th street and Avenue Q, as a site for a proposed $200,000 hospital for Lubbock.

The rapid increase in value of Avenue Q property and the fact that the lots will make an ideal location for a new church building were given as the reasons for declining the sale.

A contract was made between the church board and a hospital board composed of eleven Lubbock and South Plains citizens, last September for the sale of the property at a consideration of $25,000. The contract expired April 1, the church board granting an extension until last night. As no action had been taken until that time, the contract automatically became ineffective.

Announcement was made today that the Nazarene church planned to complete its church building on the site and to construct an open air pulpit between the church and

Several Narrowly Escape Injuries

Two carloads of Lubbock young people narrowly escaped injury last night when both of the cars overturned between here and Crosbyton.

One car containing several boy and students of Tech college overturned between Ralls and Crosbyton. The occupants of the car were only slightly injured.

Another car, containing five boys some of whom attend Tech college, capsized at a corner two miles east of Ralls. No serious injuries were reported.

Both groups were enroute to the opening of the Silver Falls dance hall and skating rink.

One Of 'Gamblers' Is Caught, Fined

One of the five men who escaped Sunday after having been arrested by Deputy Constable R. B. Yancy on charges of gambling, this morning pleaded guilty to the charges and paid a fine of $1 and costs. It developed that he had no connections with the fight in which several of the men and Yancy participated, after they had attacked the officer.

The others have not been arrested.

YES, SOMETHING MUST BE DONE

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP)—Chief No Flesh, 88, and Chief Eagle Thunder, somewhat younger, have developed a weakness for baths and silk underwear. The Izaak Walton League is concerned.

Bert F. Bell of Rapid City, S. D., who is looking after the Indians is perplexed, too. The chiefs were brought from the Sioux reservation to beat tomtoms and that sort of thing for the Izaak Walton League show now going on.

"Since coming here, they bathe two and three times daily," Bell said. "They would rather recline in shiny white tubs than eat. We don't mind that so much. The trouble is they want new suits of underwear after every bath."

Something, said Bell, has got to be done about it.

Al Will Not Attend Jefferson Day Fete

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—The New York World said today that former Governor Alfred E. Smith had declined to attend the annual Jefferson Day dinner of the National Democratic club here on Saturday. His decision, said the newspaper, was due to a desire to kep in the background of the political picture.

Smith, however, was expected to attend a joint meeting tomorrow of the executive and advisory committees of the democratic national committee, called by John J. Raskob, national chairman, to discuss ways to wipe out the party's deficit, amounting approximately to $1,100,000.

MOTHER'S BID FOR CLEMENCY IS UNAVAILING

GOVERNOR IMPRESSED BUT INACTIVE ON PLEAS

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 18.—Governor Moody will not stop the electrocution of Robert F. Blake, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Huntsville tonight, he said at noon.

Two brothers, the mother and wife of the condemned man, pleaded with the governor for more than an hour. When they left the governor's office the women were almost hysterical and the brothers were greatly agitated.

Governor Moody was so moved by the appeal that he refused to see anyone after the interview. He sent word to newspaper men, through his secretary, Pat Dougherty, that he would not commute the death sentence.

L. M. Blake of Dallas, Robert's brother, said he felt sure the governor would not take any action.

EXECUTION SET SOON AFTER MIDNIGHT

HUNTSVILLE, April 18 (AP)—Pacing his small cell nervously, Robert Blake today clung to a thread of hope that Governor Dan Moody would intervene in his electrocution scheduled for shortly after midnight tonight.

SOLONS WILL QUIZ SLAYING

DEKING CASE ECHOED BY ORDER FROM LEGISLATURE

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—Three angles of prohibition poked their way from the tangle of bills and resolutions in the legislature today.

One dealt with the Deking case at Aurora, in which Mrs. Lillian Deking was slain by a deputy sheriff during a dry raid; another demanded a test of the federal government's right to regulate manufacture and sale of any alcoholic preparations other than intoxicating beverages; the third aimed at amending the state law to permit manufacture, transportation and sale of two-percent malt tonics for which federal permits have been issued.

Drys voted with wets in the house of representatives to approve, 81 to 50, a resolution to create a special committee to investigate the Deking killing.

The second action centered around the Green resolution which directs the attorney general of Illinois to open a court battle of state rights in the regulation of medicinal liquors, sacramental wines, industrial alcohol and non intoxicating beverages.

The house committee on judiciary yesterday approved the Green resolution, 18 to 5. Should the house

THROWS FOE'S BIKE IN CREEK

Boys Fuss and Fight; One Loses His Bicycle

Schoing a school boy fight on the K Carter school grounds Monday, a local 11 year old youth took his opponent's bicycle and threw it into a creek north of the city.

This "spite" act was uncovered yesterday when a San Angelo salesman noticed the handle bars of the bicycle protruding above the surface of the water. He recovered the bicycle and turned it over to county officers.

SOCIETY'S MOST DANGEROUS MENACE—MOONSHINE

YOUNG COUPLE, BOTTLE AND AUTOMOBILE CONSTITUTE PERIL TO MODERN LIFE, SAYS CHICAGO SCHOOL CHIEF

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 18.—Edward J. Tobin, superintendent of Coow county schools, believes "a young couple, a bottle of moonshine and an automobile are the most dangerous quartet that can be concocted for destruction of society."

Superintendent Tobin is one of six men, prominent in education in Cook county, acting as jurors in the coroner's investigation of George Lux's death Sunday after a round of roadhouses with several other young men and girls. In a statement he attributed the death and conditions leading to it, to prohibition.

His views were epitomized in six paragraphs, as follows:

About 70 percent of the young men of 19 to 25 years of age accept as the regular standard recreation party, an auto ride, dancing and a bottle of gin or moonshine.

About 50 to 60 percent of the girls above 17 years of age accept this code.

In pre-Volstead days the bottle never aspired to dictate the social habits of our young people. It does today.

A young couple, a bottle of moonshine and an automobile are the most dangerous quartet that can be concocted for the destruction of human society.

Families and homes originate from early association of young people of both sexes. A home or a family tied with a bottle of bootleg has a foundation in quicksand.

The bottle is a by-product of prohibition. Either the bottle as one of the trio has got to go, or its ancestor, prohibition, must go.

Prof. S. N. Stevens, of the department of phychology at Northwestern, another member of the jury, expressed opinion that no one factor is responsible for present

REBELS FUSE STRENGTH

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 18.—Concentration of rebels at Navojoa, southern Sonora, was reported to Chapultepec Castle today by General Calles, federal generalissimo.

General Calles said he was moving his headquarters to San Blas, Sinaloa, and federal troops would engage the rebels at Navojoa as quickly as they could be moved up.

Necessity of repairing bridges, rail lines, and a possible delay to allow General Almazan's army of the north time to penetrate northern Sonora, it was believed here, would delay General Calles' advance.

REBEL CHIEF SURRENDERS

JUAREZ, Mex., April 18 (AP).—The rebel general, Francisco Enriquez, who participated in the battle of Jiminez, surrendered last night to General Juan A. Almazan, chief of the northern Mexican federal army, it was announced today.

General Almazan said Enriquez would not be executed, but would be treated as a prisoner of war.

TWO UNEXPECTED ATTACKS BY REBELS

JUAREZ, Mex., April 18 (AP).—Two unexpected rebel attacks in distant sections of northern Mexico today had delayed further concentration of Mexican federal troops for the campaign against insurgents in Sonora. No details of either encounter were available.

General Juan A. Almazan, commander of the northern Mexican federal army, had been awaiting arrival of his cavalry under Gen. Eulogio Ortiz before proceeding into Sonora through Pulpito Pass. Reports said Ortiz had been halted temporarily by an insurgent attack in western Coahuila, a state previously thought freed of revolutionists.

At the same time the loyal army's advance guard had its first skirmish at Pulpito Pass, through which the federals must advance as they traverse Sierra Madre into Sonora.

General Ortiz already had his cavalry aboard trains for the trip to Juarez when he heard of rebel activity in Coahuila. Immediately he detrained his troops and began investigations, dispatching a detachment toward the troubled area.

Service Counts

Parsons stated that chain stores are doing only 15 per cent of the business in America and that the number of any chain is not what counts. "What everybody is calling for is service."

George P. Kuykendall announced to the club that the trip of Lubbockites who just returned from Oklahoma City brought back considerable publicity assets obtaining there and the memories of a most successful trip. "Out of the 25 men on the special Pullman from Lubbock," he stated, "Eighteen of them belonged to the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, ten being Kiwanians and eight Rotarians. This is merely to show that these two civic clubs are always active in things going on for the good of the town."

Dean A. F. Ledbigh, as president of the club, presided, about 85 members and visitors being present.

into serious riots, caused national guardsmen to be ordered to the scene.

Attack Without Warning

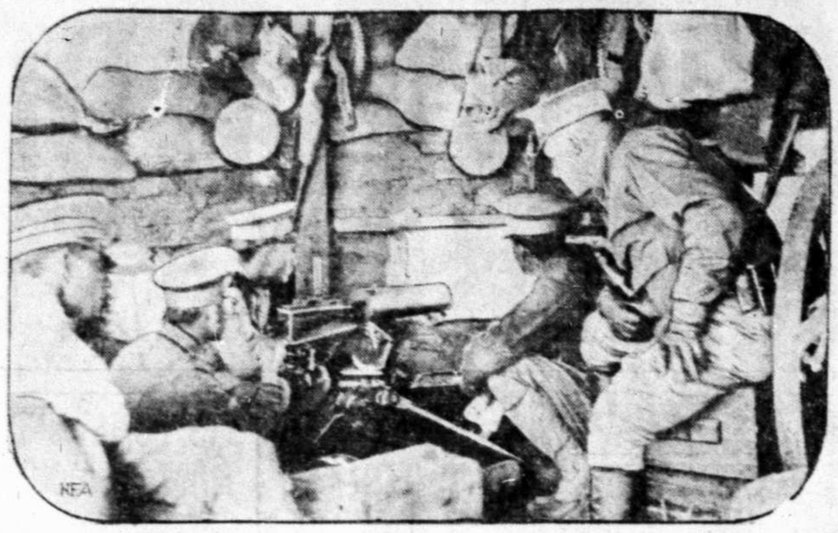

The attack started without warning about 2 a. m. The headquarters building and the grocery store were located just off the property of the mill company. National guardsmen at the Loray mill five blocks distant were awakened by the crash of axes and hammers, breaking plate glass windows in the store and hacking down walls of the headquarters.

For a short time after the attack started the guardsmen could not locate the trouble. A number of shots were fired about the mill, apparently to give the alarm.

Major Paul R. Younts, executive officer, and Captain E. C. Boyette, jr., commanding the Hornet's nest riflemen, were the first officers to reach the scene. They sent an urgent call for guardsmen to Major S. B. Dolly, in command of the troops.

Ten persons who said they were sleeping in the union headquarters at the time of the attack were arrested by the troops. Later three others were arrested, but two soon were released.

WILL REVIVE INDICTMENT ON WURZBACH

GOVERNMENT APPEALS FROM DISMISSAL OF CHARGES

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The department of justice has authorized the United States district attorney for the western district of Texas to appeal from the dismissal of an indictment against Representative Harry M. Wurzbach, charged with violating section 118 of the criminal code prohibiting any member of congress or government employee from soliciting contributions for political purposes.

Wurzbach, who was charged with accepting contributions while he was seeking election a sa representative from the fourteenth congressional district, filed a demurer to the indictment which was upheld by the district court.

The court held the words "for any political purpose whatever" in section 118 of the criminal code were not intended by congress to include such cases as Wurzbach's. The court ruled further that if congress did intend that words "for any political purpose whatever" should cover such political cases as that of Wurzbach, "then that statute in question to that extent is probably unconstitutional."

The department authorized an appeal on grounds the section of the criminal code in question is not an attempt to regulate conduct of primary elections, but to declare unlawful certain acts "when performed by senators and representatives in congress or officers or employees of the United States."

In announcing the Wurzbach case would be appealed the department said it considered it important that the validity and meaning of federal statutes relating to soliciting or receiving of funds for any political purpose by members of congress or other persons in the employ of the United States should be settled definitely by the highest court of the United States.

conditions in the moral and social life of youth.

A statement issued by the Women's Christian Temperance Union in connection with the results of the inquest said the facts brought to light about drinking parties among young persons "only prove the truth of the principle on which the W. C. T. U. has been operating with respect to the young people for many years.

"Public interest in temperance education has been overshadowed by public interest in the assault on prohibition, but it is valuable to note that the National Education association and its own department of superintendence both have recentley adopted resolutions pledging the educators of the country to a more active interest in educating the children and students of the country in the effects of alcohol.

"Temperance education among the young people of America is being carried out on a broader scale and with more intensity than ever before. Reports coming to the National Woman's Christian temperance Union from educators all over the country indicate such education generally is being carried out even more effectively than in pre-prohibition days."

Dr. Herman Bundesen, coroner, told a parent-teacher association the great majority of Chicago's school children were clean, wholesome, untouched by immorality or drinking.

"Only one in a thousand of our children goes wrong—one tenth of one per cent—a small number on the whole," he said.

of drugs, would not allow it. The youth's 24th birthday is tomorrow.

Blake believed the odds were against him in the fight and his family waged for his life. They feared Bob Silver's escape after his sentence had been commuted would react against his chances for commutation.

"He said he would not grant a further reprieve," Blake stated; "that if he took any action whatever he would commute my brother to life imprisonment."

Became Drug Addict

Blake laid his brother's plight to narcotics. He said that while he was a student in the Amarillo high school he became an addict and quit his studies to obtain a job in order to purchase drugs.

"We are not convinced he committed the crime he has been convicted of, either," Blake said. "There was only circumstantial evidence against him. The pistol that fired the fatal bullet belong to another man."

Auto Abandoned Here

Blake was convicted of the murder of Fred Connor, a Tulia, Swisher county, automobile salesman. Robbery was the theory of the state. Connor's body was found along the highway, and his automobile was abandoned in Lubbock. Blake was not arrested for some time after the alleged crime was committed.

Governor Moody has granted Blake three reprieves while he investigated the case. Blake's mother is Mrs. J. H. Blake of Amarillo, and the other brother is W. L. Blake of Amarillo.

WASHINGTON ROUTED BY ATHLETICS IN FIRST AFFRAY

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The east is thawing out, and the scheduled baseball openings along the Atlantic Seaboard may yet be held, as witness the promising start in Washington yesterday. The Senators went through openin- frills for the entertainment of President Hoover and a small gathering of paying guests.

Walter Johnson made his managerial debut in Washington by tagging the venerable Sad Sam Jones for mound duty against Mr. McGillicuddy's choice, Carrol Yerkes, lately of Portland, Ore., and Hatboro, Pa. They were both wrong. Walter more than Connie. By way of correcting his initial blunder, Professor McGillicuddy sent for Eddie Rommel as the Big Train shuffled E. Garland Braxton into the line of fire.

Athletics Win, 5 to 4

The Athletics led by 5 to 4 as the second-choice boxmen settled into position after the second inning, but continued their familiarity with senatorial pitching, or throwing, until the margin had become 13 to 4 at the end of the fifth. Adolph Liska halted the outrage at this point, but the Mackmen gave no ground and the score remained stationary through to the finish.

President Hoover, free to depart after throwing out the first ball, remained to watch the discomfiture of his hosts until the ultimate put-out had been recorded.

Averill Gets Homer

Detroit poured a dose of shellac down the throats of the Cleveland Indians to the tune of 15 to 3 notwithstanding Mr. Earl Averill's second home run in two days of major league effort. The San Francsico strong man now leads both leagues in circuit blows, regardless of anything Mr. Ruth may do to alter the situation in games to come.

Dan Howley urged his St. Louis troop on to its second straight triumph over the White Sox in the remainder American League skirmish. The score was 5 to 3. Alvin Crowder outpitched Grady Adkins and George Connally.

The National League spotlight remained upon Wrigley Field. The full power of Cub bats, diverted from Grimes' head until too near the finish in the opener on Tuesday, struck Remy Kremer where it hurt yesterday. The result was a Pirate rout, 13 to 2.

The Reds came to life against Sherdel at Cincinnati, and evened matters in the Cardinal series by winning, 8 to 3; Jim Bottomley collected his first home run off Pete Donohue, who held the invaders safe all afternoon.

The hospital board, of which H. C. Cagle, of Buffalo Gap, is chairman, will meet in the near future to determine if another hospital site is to be purchased, according to the Rev. S. H. Erwin, pastor of the Nazarene church and vice-president of the hospital board.

The Rev. Mr. Erwin intimated today that since much interest had been shown in the hospital project it probably would be carried to completion. Ten local and several out-of-town physicians had already signed up to occupy the building and $50,000 had been pledged to the hospital fund, he reports.

The hospital board represented five different religious denominations. It was organized last September when the hospital project was first launched.

HELEN WILLS AND MISS COLLETT URSURP BIG INTEREST

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 18.—With feminine athletics usurping the spot light hitherto held by men, the second American invasion of European golf links and tennis courts of this year is under way. Helen Wills and Glenna Collett are the leading figures in the contingent which sailed last night, with mere males, such as "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, Tommy Armour and George Von Elm, playing minor roles.

To Miss Wills it seems more important that an American artist is on her way to London for an exhibit of her works in a Bond street gallery than that the queen of the world's tennis courts is in quest of fresh triumphs at Wimbledon. She found considerable cause for apprehension in the coming display although favorable comments by New York critics have lightened the burden. On the courts she is sure of a good reception.

Rumors that a presentation at the court of St. James will be on the program of Miss Wills' visit to Europe was a forbidden subject before she sailed while the all-important question of "when" in regard to the handsome diamond engagement ring she is wearing. She refused to discuss the first while her answer to all questions about the wedding date was "I honestly haven't decided."

SINGER TO BE HERE FRIDAY

MISS VAN GORDON TO USE OWN PLANE IN MAKING JOURNEY

Cyrena Van Gordon, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera company, who is to sing in Lubbock on Friday evening, will likely make the hop from Denton to Lubbock tomorrow in her own airplane, which she uses in making lengthy jumps between engagements.

Arrangements have been made at the college for suspension of the rule forbidding airplanes to land on the campus, and Miss Van Gordon's plane will land there, according to information received from the college today.

Miss Van Gordon's appearance is the last number of the Tech Artists' course. As a concert singer of high artistic merit, Miss Van Gordon promises to be the high mark of the season. She is a singer of the Mary Garden school of operatic singers, being one of the first American young women to gain the place of prima donna. Her youth, held first a prediction of her failure, has proved her most effective ally to her mezzo-contralto voice.

Took Woman Half Hour To Find She Was Not Shot

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP) — It was half an hour before Mrs. Mariam Bamberger found she had not shot herself with a clothes hanger.

Mrs. Bamberger, whose husband, Dr. Arrie Bamberger, is a Chicago surgeon, stepped into a clothes closet and fumbled around in the dark for a dress. In the course of her fumbling, her hand clutched her husband's coat in which was a pistol, and the weapon was discharged. At the same instant, a swinging coathanger struck Mrs. Bamberger in the back.

She cried, "I'm shot," and fainted.

Her husband, taking her word for it, called police. Their records show it was an hour later before they determined that a noise and a clothes hanger had caused the misunderstanding.

GORDON NOW LIKE A NEW MAN SINCE HE TOOK SARGON

"Words cannot express the good I derived from Sargon," recently declared B. H. Gordon, southwestern representative of Dodd Mead & Co., one of the largest school book publishing houses in America.

B. H. GORDON

"I was in a terribly run-down condition and suffered constantly from stomach trouble. My kidneys gave me so much trouble I had to get up or ten times every night. I was underweight and had so little strength I could attend to no business at all that required physical exertion. Treatments and medicines consistently failed to help me.

"I talked with several people who had taken Sargon. They were so enthusiastic over the medicine I decided to try it. I was greatly surprised by the actual results. I am like a new person. I am no longer troubled with my kidneys, and I sleep like a child. I relish my meals and everything agrees with me. I have gained ten pounds and attend to my every duty without tiring.

"Sargon is wonderful and I would tell everybody in the world about it if I could."

Mr. Gordon maintains offices in the Gunter Bldg., San Antonio. He is one of the foremost authorities on educational matters in the Southwest.

Sargon may be obtained in Lubbock from the City Drug Stores; and in Slaton from the City Drug Store. (Adv.)

The airplane tallies were distributed from a miniature air port. High score in the games was made by Miss Marguerite Whipp and Miss Ethel Mae Whipp scored low.

A salad course was served to Misses Geneva Jo Adamson, Elizabeth Bolton, Frances Hardy, Ethel Mae and Marguerite Whipp, Alleen Wells, Ruby Lee Brooks, Ora Jane Little, Lorna Arrington and Mrs. Heath.

BANNER CROP YEAR LOOMS

JONES ASSERTS PLAINS AREA HEADED FOR GOOD YIELDS

The South Plains of Texas will have a banner crop year—one of the best in its history—was the prophecy yesterday of Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state agricultural experiment station, east of the city.

Following an intensive diagnosis of all of the conditions determining crop production, based on what has happened in previous years, Mr. Jones stated that the South Plains should feel optimistic and cheery over the present crop outlook.

The five major factors figuring in the outlook for crop production—soil moisture, temperature, rainfall, frost, and early planting—all are conducive this year to a bumper yield, Mr. Jones said.

He reports that many insects were killed by the cold during February and that the soil moisture has been good and is now in good shape for seed bed preparation. The heavy rainfall of March indicates a wet April, according to years past. Mr. Jones pointed out that there was little fear of a killing frost after this time.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As all the hail fell out of sight, the Tinies clapped with all their might, and shouted, "Thank you, Thunder Man! That big hailstorm was grand. But, what's the use of making hail? It drops to earth to no avail. Why you don't simply let it rain, we do not understand."

"Well," said the Thunder Man, "let's see. The answer's simple as can be. You must admit folks like a change, so hail is not in vain. Instead of raindrops all the time, I send them hail and chilly clime. And, after all, that just keeps folks from getting tired of rain."

This explanation seemed real flat, but they all let it go at that. Then Scouty said, "I'd like to see some lightning flash on high. Please make it zigzag here and there, but not enough to bring a scare. It's really very pretty when it lights up all the sky."

"No sooner said than done, my lad. In fact I will be very glad to grant your simple little wish," the Thunder Man replied. "But, at the same time I must make it pour and thunder till you shake. I'll promise [illegible] hurt you, so you mustn't run and hide."

He was [illegible] ods to and fro, and said, "The next thing that you know we'll have a wondrous rainstorm like you've never seen before." The thunder crashed and lightning broke. It really wasn't any joke. "Oh, stop the rain," wee Clowny cried. "We'll never ask for it."

The rain then stopped. The bunch was glad. The storm had really been quite bad. Just at this moment two small stars cried loudly, "That's not right. You shouldn't make it rain like that. It makes our shining very flat. Please keep your clouds away so we can stand out good and bright."

(The Tinymites take another trip in the next story.)

HARD WATER, PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER

Such greasy hands!
Hard water won't clean them

HARD water can't do much with greasy hands. Of course, you use lots of soap. You try to get a thick lather. But the water is too hard; it combines with the soap and forms a scum. How can you expect to clean greasy hands in that water?

There is a way. Use Melo. Sprinkle a little in the basin. Water softened with Melo makes a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. Soft water and soap and lots of lather; grease won't stay long on your hands. Get a can of Melo at your grocer's today.

"I was determined to have a Clear Skin"

A CLEAR, smooth, lovely skin bespeaks rich, red blood. It is Nature's outward reflection of the condition within you.

Men and women, both justly covet admiration. Everyone can expect such satisfaction to its fullest extent if they are the possessors of a clear unblemished skin.

If you are unfortunate in having skin blemishes, pimples, boils, eczema—you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It gives to Nature what it needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, the body's power of resistance to infection and disease is raised. Your appetite improves; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You sleep soundly. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. S.S.S. helps Nature build red-blood-cells.

Take S.S.S. daily at mealtime. Seek energy, vitality, and a clear skin, through the great blood tonic which is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years. All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

WITH SNOWDRIFT . . . IT'S ALMOST AS EASY TO BAKE COOKIES AS TO EAT THEM • Fresh-baked, oven-browned . . . too good to last very long; but fortunately, almost as easy to bake as to eat . . . when made with Snowdrift. And here's a recipe to prove it to you:

DROP COOKIES

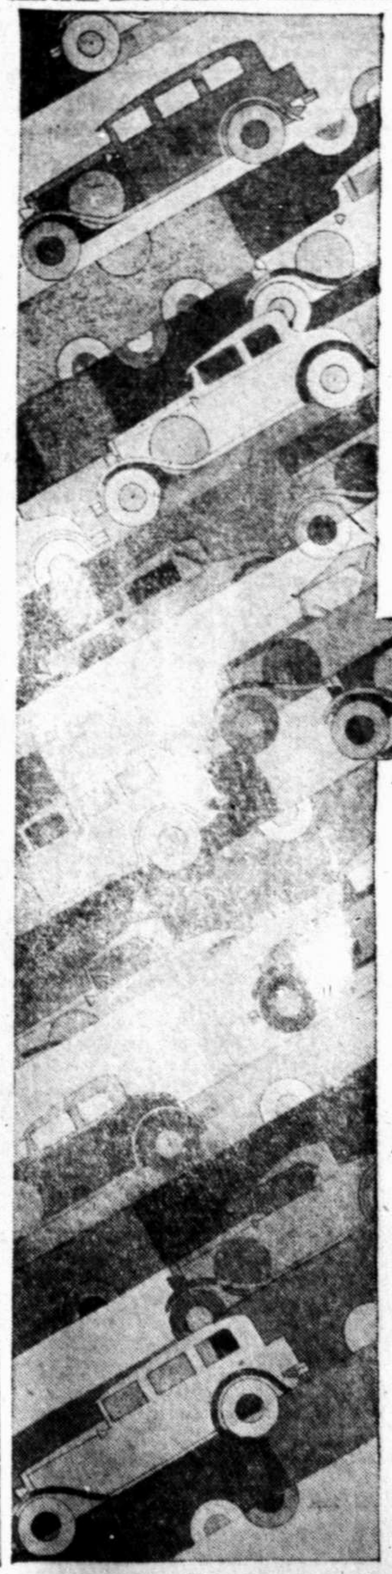

6 Tablespoons Snowdrift • ¾ Cup Sugar
3 Tablespoons Milk • 1½ Cup Flour • 1 Teaspoon Flavoring
1 Egg, Beaten • 2 Teaspoons Baking Powder • ¼ Teaspoon Salt

Mix together thoroughly the Snowdrift and sugar. Add egg, milk and flavoring, which have been beaten together. Add sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Beat until smooth. Drop by teaspoons on a shallow baking pan or sheet, placing the cookies two inches apart. Bake for ten minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) This makes two dozen cookies.

That's all there is to it! All because Snowdrift is so creamy that it stirs into your sugar and flour in almost no time at all. You see we cream it for you, before we pack it in its air-tight tins.

It Cost Taylor $25,000 To Knock Out Tom Murray

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 18 (AP)—It cost Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute "Terror," $25,000 to knock out Tommy Murray, Philadelphian, in the first round of their scheduled 10 round fight Tuesday night.

In flooring his opponent, Taylor fractured his left thumb. He will be out of the ring at least a month and has cancelled bouts against Tony Canzoneri in New York, May 5, and Kid Chocolate at Boston, which carried a guarantee of $25,000.

CRITICIZE SOVIET

BERLIN (AP)—This year's diplomatic dinner at the Soviet embassy included such an elaborate menu of many fine wines and liquers and so much rich plate that social democratic editors have made sarcastic comparisons of the banquet with the soviet's criticism of extravagance on the part of moneyed classes in "capitalistic countries."

SHREVEPORT AGGREGATION ROUTS SPUDS

EXCELLENT PITCHING FEATURES TWO OF OPENING GAMES

(By Associated Press)

Some 50,000 fans who turned out for the opening of the Texas League race yesterday were rewarded with sparkling exhibitions in three of the four games played. The weather was perfect, and most of the mayors exhibited fair control.

Houston, defending champion, got away to a winning start by batting out Beaumont, 5 to 3, in a 10-inning affair that christened the Shippers' new park. Martin's screaming homer in the extra frame proved decisive. For nine innings, it was a pitchers' battle between Wachtel, veteran spitballer obtained by Houston from Fort Worth, and Elmer Hanson, Exporter mound ace.

Cubs Shade Indians

Pratt's hustling Waco Cubs shaded San Antonio, 1 to 0, in another hard fought game before crowded stands at the Alamo City. Caldwell held the Indians to five hits, while Messenger limited the Cubs to six.

Sterling mound work by Barnabe, veteran southpaw, featured the season inaugural at Dallas, in which the rebuilt Steer machine made 14,000 fans happy by whipping Fort Worth, 7 to 2. Barnabe, accounted the star of the Marine corps, held the Cats to seven blows. Harrington gave the Aztmen one of their runs with a homer in the ninth.

Sports Rout Wichita

The only debacle of the day was the 14 to 4 rout of the muchly-feared Wichita Falls Spudders by Shreveport in the Louisiana city. Another home crowd was made happy when the Sport Shooters pounded four Spudder pitchers for 18 safeties, including a goodly number of extra base clouts. Brown went the route for the Sports, and, although gauged for 12 safeties, kept them scattered.

Although attendance figures were not available, due to the fact they are kept secret until each city has had its opening day, it was believed the estimated 14,000 at Dallas topped the list. Fort Worth will have its opening today, when Dallas hops over to the neighboring city. Other games will be played as yesterday, with Waco at San Antonio, Wichita Falls at Shreveport, and Houston at Beaumont.

CLARENCE DEMAR SPRINT FAVORITE

BOSTON, April 18 (AP)—Six times a winner of the Boston marathon, Clarence Demar, 40 year old Melrose sprinter, today is again a favorite among 210 runners scheduled to leave Hopkinton tomorrow for the race to Boston, 26 miles and 385 yards.

A victor first in 1911 and the first man to breast the tape in five of the last seven races, Demar may be going over the course the last time. He has hinted as much, and he is to be married in the fall. As things stand, however, he holds the world's record for the course, two hours, 18 minutes and 10 seconds.

PARIS (AP)—The Frederick Chopin association is making arrangements to transfer the remains of the great composer to the Wawel of Gracow, the pantheon of Poland. Chopin was born in Mazovia in 1810 but lived in Paris after attaining his majority.

HELEN INVADES EUROPE WITH NEW MATE

GIRLS LEAVE TODAY FOR FOREIGN BATTLES

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18 (AP)—Crusaders of the modern era, two charming girls sally forth today in an effort to conquer the tennis world.

Helen Wills, queen of the courts, this year will have as her aide, Edith Cross, who stroked her way from obscurity to third national ranking in one season.

The two misses, chosen to represent the United States in play in Holland, France, Germany and England, leave today for Europe.

They will strive for the women's championship of France, the grass court title at Beckingham, England, and the all-English championship at Wimbledon.

New to Miss Cross

In the campaign abroad, Miss Wills will be treading familiar ground but to her partner it will be a new experience. Last year, the Berkeley girl brushed aside all opposition with a brand of play that brought her the all-English championship, which practically amounts to the world's title. She completed the 1928 season with a rout of the most formidable field assembled in years at Forest Hills, N. Y., in the national events.

Miss Cross' rise to stardom was phenomenal. A year ago she virtually was unknown outside of San Francisco but her sterling play in the big eastern tournaments won her instant notice.

Practice Together

Living across San Francisco bay from each other, the girls have been practicing together steadily since last fall. In the doubles they present a smooth working combination that observers believe will be difficult to overcome. Both have strengthened their singles game by playing against the men stars in this section.

When Helen left for Europe last year she wore a diamond on the third finger of her left hand, but she said it didn't mean a thing. This year, however, the ring admittedly has a significance and she leaves behind one who is particularly interested in the progress of her invasion. He is Frederick S. Moody, jr., of San Francisco, to whom Miss Wills' engagement was announced a few months ago.

Fails To Redeem Leadville Mine

DENVER, April 18 (AP)—Mrs. H. A. W. Tabor had failed late today to redeem the historic Matchless mine at Leadville, the last vestige of the vast estate of the late Senator Tabor of Colorado, despite her assurances this morning that a $16,000 mortgage on the property would be paid.

The Matchless mine, which yielded Tabor more than $10,000,000, has not paid in recent years but Mrs. Tabor still believes it to be rich.

The widow resolutely refused to divulge what efforts she was making to pay the mortgage, but she reiterated that the payment would be made and the mine would remain in her possession.

$1,000,000 CONSULATE

SHANGHAI (AP)—The new United States consulate here, part of a world wide plan provided by congress last year, will cost nearly $1,000,000. The design calls for two towers fashioned on the lines of the tower over Independence Hall in Philadelphia. The site fronts on the Whangpoo river.

ATHLETES OUT TO SET NEW DISTRICT MARKS

RECORD ENTRY LIST DUE FOR MEET IN CITY FRIDAY

The bark of the starter's gun Friday afternoon will start the annual assault on track and field records of district two of the Interscholastic league when athletes from 17 counties gather here for their two day fracas on the Tech field.

A number of record holders will be back this year to uphold their marks of previous years while promising frist year men bid fair to smash the records chalked up by their predecessors.

A change in league ruling allowing the winners of the first four places in county meets to compete in the district scramble has given indications of a record number of entries in the meet this year. LAUGHS from the DIAMOND
by Billy Evans

Baseball lost a real charcater when Bill Byron decided to give up umpiring for the less strenuous business of master steamfitter. Byron, by the way, is one of those fellows who never will need a benefit in his behalf. He has invested his savings and profits in Detroit real estate and is comfortably fixed. He still has the old love for the game and always makes it a point to drop in on the American League umpires when they are working Detroit.

When Byron was a member of the National League staff, he had plenty of arguments with John McGraw, one being a pugilistic encounter. The decision was a draw, I believe. However, if you should ask McGraw what kind of an umpire Byron was, I am sure he would say something like this: "He was a mighty good one, called 'em as he saw 'em and was always welcome on the road."

No manager can possibly pay an umpire a greater tribute than to say he likes to have him on the road. In other words, that means he regards the official as anything but a "homer."

I shall never forget an interleague series I worked with Byron in which New York was one of the contending teams. It was a hotly contested affair, featuring many close plays, and, as a result, both of us were having our troubles trying to satisfy the rival players and managers.

It seems that early in life, Byron, while learning the art of steam fitting, suffered an injury to the first finger on his right hand, if memory serves me correctly, causing it to be amputated at the first joint. Now McGraw has a keen mind and a mighty observing pair of eyes. Possibly he had noticed the loss of part of the finger before and was waiting his opportunity. I am inclined to believe that it was on the spur of the moment, in the midst of a heated argument, that McGraw made the discovery as Byron shook the finger in his face.

Very often when it seems you are on the losing side of an argument, one shifts to personalities in an effort to make a showing. McGraw, realizing he wasn't getting anywhere with his protest, sought to get under Byron's skin with a different line of stuff. As Byron shook his right hand in McGraw's face, the manager of the Giants with a sneer, remarked:

"I suppose you lost that finger picking pockets."

"No," replied Byron, equal to the occasion. "I wore that finger down pointing it toward the exit signs and usually for your benefit. You are through for the day, and the finger is probably a trifle shorter than when we started."

And Byron pointed majestically toward an exit sign in center field.

LOCALS HAVE CINCH TO WIN GOAT SERES

TECH AGAIN RESERVES BATTING SPREE UNTIL FIFTH

Daniel Baker Hill Billies were again the victims of a fifth inning batting spree Wednesday as the Tech Matadors chose this round to do all their tallying and score a 6 to 0 shutout over the Brownwood aggregation in the second of a three game series. It was the second triumph in a row for the cohorts of Grady Higginbotham, giving the locals a cinch to take the series.

For the second time in two days, the Matadors waited until the fifth inning to do their scoring, jumping on the offerings of White, lanky Billy right hander, and taking advantage of the visitors' miscues to score six runs and thereby win another ball game from Herman Clark's nine.

Backed by sparkling play in the field, Red Howell, veteran curve ball ace of the Matador staff, held the Goats helpless with his slants breaking in all directions. Howell limited the visitors to four bingles, two of which were of the scratch variety. Three of these safeties were credited to Hunter, Hill Billy lead-off man. Seven Goats were retired via the strikeout route.

That Fifth Inning

White pitched a winning brand of ball for the visitors but was given loose support by his mates. Three hits bunched in the fifth inning, coupled with two errors and a base on balls gave the Matadors all their runs in the "lucky fifth." Peterson, first up, grounded out. Hodges smashed a screaming single to left which Hunter allowed to get away and the Tech catcher completed the circuit for the locals' first tally. Howell reached first on Smith's muff and Rigney walked. Waller hit a hot one to Graham and the Billy third sacker fumbled, Howell and Rigney scored on Dewitt's short single to center. With two runners still on the sacks, Marshall picked out one to his lacking and smashed it over the head of the Daniel Baker left fielder for a homer, scoring three more runs. Taylor grounded out to Miller and Brothers flew out to center to end the run-around.

Billies Threaten

Only in the third inning did the Billies threaten seriously. Hunter led off with his second hit of the day, a single to left. Miller walked and was foirced at second by La Sage. Hunter going to third. Howel set back the clean-up hitters by forcing Jones to pop to Rigney and taking Broad's slow roller for the third out.

Television Record To Oust Newspaper

MILWAUKEE, April 18 (AP)—William Allen White expressed belief here last night that the day ultimately will come when newspapers will be displaced by television records delivered at one's front door like milk.

The Kansas editor, advanced this opinion in an address entitled: "Recollections of a Country Editor."

PREACHER BANQUETS CONGREGATION

* * * * * * * * * * *

YES, THERE'S A CATCH TO IT. FEED WAS FOR STARTING OF CHURCH BUILDING DRIVE

(Special to The Journal)

CROSBYTON, April 18—It is usually the Methodist preacher who is loking for a free chicken dinner, but seldom does a preacher invite the entire congregation of his church to eat with him, as was the case here, last night when Rev. T. M. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Crosbyton, acted as host, at a free church banquet. There must be a catch somewhere, such entertaining is usually in the reverse order.

The way to a man's heart is through his stomach, maintained the popular host, and once again this adage held true, for at the proper time on the program of the evening the church building campaign was launched, the initial drive for the $22,000 needed for the new home of the Methodist congregation of this city, was off to a fine start. Practically one-half of the cost of construction was subscribed to by those present. The building committee of the church felt confident that the $22,000 goal would be reached within the next few days.

This project is the second move towards the church building campaign of Crosbyton so far this year. The contract for the new $21,000 Baptist church was let less than a month ago.

Thought For Today

Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labor that I had labored to do; and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.—Eccl. 2:11.

A cock, having found a pearl, said that a grain of corn would be of more value to him.—Pierre Leroux.

A Legacy

Every man would like to be able to leave his children a comfortable fortune on his death. There is a great satisfaction in being able to feel that one's family will never be pinched for money.

But there is another kind of legacy a man can leave—a kind that is much rarer, yet infinitely more satisfying.

Into New York the other day there came, on a visit, a bright-eyed, smiling little lady of 77—who, for all that she is not rich, received from her father one of the finest bequests a woman could wish for.

She is the daughter of Stephen Collins Foster, who wrote such songs as "Swanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home" and the like. And while she has never collected a cent in royalties on these songs, which are sung and played in every town in the United States, the old songs are working for her, nevertheless. Never does she hear a snatch of one of them that it does not bring her father back to her. She shares in the music that a nation loves; is almost a part of it.

That is her legacy. It has given her a happy life; and no man can possibly give his children anything more than that.

It is forever paying dividends. The little lady's visit to New York the other day was occasioned by the fact that she had been invited to be guest of honor at a big party given in the gilded Ritz Hotel by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

"And what do you suppose?" she said excitedly to a reporter afterward. "When I came in they all clapped me and wanted me to make a speech before I got a chance to sit down!"

There are other dividends, too. She strolls down a street—and, like as not, from the first house she passes there come the strains of "Swanee River," painstakingly rendered by some unskilled pianist to whom that old folksong is one of the things that make life easier and the world more companionable. And this, every time, brings before her the image of her father—"all he thought of," she explains "was me—and our happiness."

Things like that are the most precious legacies on earth. Money can do a great deal to smooth out the rough places in life, but memories can do a great deal more. A child whose home was a haven of love and happiness will have echoes of that love and that happiness to draw on, decades later, as long as life lasts. What if misfortune, hard times, poverty, may come later? Bitterness and utter hopelessness are always held at a distance by the remembrance of old days and old ways.

And that, probably, is the great redeeming feature of a world that sometimes seems very heartless and cruel. Things born of kindness and love are immortal. They remain as long as anyone can use them. Their fortunate possessor can draw on them without limit.

Work to leave money to your children, by all means. But remember that there is another kind of legacy that is far more valuable.

Flying

If aviation in this country develops with anything like the speed that the leaders in the industry are predicting—and there isn't any very good reason for thinking it will not—we are going to see a growth that will surprise us.

Here's a sample. Chicago is going to hold a great international exposition in 1934. And aviation leaders are predicting now that Chicago's hotels will not be overcrowded, no matter how great the throngs that go to see it. Why? Because, they say, aviation will be so far developed by that time that visitors will stop in cities like Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis and St. Louis, if they cannot find accommodations in Chicago, and will fly back and forth to the exposition daily.

That sounds almost incredible. Yet it is, obviously, quite within the realm of possibilities. The airplane may yet work as profound a change in our social and economic organization as the automobile has done.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says she is sure for that bunch of fellows who have been over to Oklahoma on that good will tour. She says that good will tour is better than great stacks of money when it comes to building a city. (But she admits that it takes plenty of money, too.)

* * *

Good will trips are splendid town builders, and the boys who have been on the trip to Oklahoma, along with delegations from other towns of the South Plains, will do a good turn for their portion of Texas in building friendship with the people of Oklahoma and points enroute.

* * *

Lubbock is the big city point of the South Plains, and it is the important point between El Paso and Oklahoma City. True there are many good towns between these two places, but there is always an outstanding point that towers above all the others and none will deny that Lubbock is that point. It has not just happened that way either. There is a reason. For nearly forty years people have been building Lubbock. It has not been any before breakfast spell. It has taken perseverence, grit and determination to stay in Lubbock, and build.

Men who have been here all this time can tell of the many hardships they endured. The awful inconvenience of living far away from railroad facilities, from commercial centers, the make-shifts for homes, and the expense of educating their families, and many other things that enter into life, to make Lubbock the city she is today.

* * *

Friendship has been a big portion of the elements that have been worked into the mortar and brick that has built this city. Always it has been the friendly spot of the South Plains. The people who put down their tents here forty years ago were of that type of people who were broad in their views, who were willing for others to go forward and prosper, and with that bigness in their disposition that encouraged others to come, join them, and others came; they caught the spirit of progress and development, and were soon helping to broadcast the invitation to others to come, and they have come, and we have the Lubbock of today.

That Man on Avenue Q is from Oklahoma, and he says it was the friendliness of a Lubbock citizen who talked with him some years ago that brought him this way, and he has been glad ever since that he met this man from Lubbock. Good will tours do good, and good will expressed by individuals everywhere does good. People take special notice of people who are always saying kind things and are backing their home town and the community in which they live.

* * *

Friendship brought many good things to this country and it has been the important element that has built Lubbock; it was through the friendliness of neighboring counties and towns of the South Plains that the Texas Technological college was located in Lubbock. The committee realized that with so many neighboring towns pulling for its location at Lubbock, that there need be no uneasiness about its future. And their judgment seems to have been well backed up. See what a wonderful progress it has made, and the great future that stands out before it.

Friendship has built pretty homes in Lubbock. It has built fine churches. It has been the means of paving miles of streets in the city, and it will build many more. It has built a wonderful school system in Lubbock that is atracting nation-wide attention, and is bringing many hundreds of families to Lubbock every year, who are joining in the program of good will, and will help to make Lubbock a city of forty thousand people in five years.

* * *

Towns do not happen, they are built. This has been the slogan in Lubbock. This city has been built. It did not just happen. Other cities have had an equal opportunity to build, but have not used it. Selfishness will not even start to build a town, to say nothing of making it a city of fifty or a hundred thousand.

Convicts Declare They Wrecked Train

EASTLAND, Texas, April 18 (AP)—The Eastland county grand jury will convene Monday in special session to investigate a statement by two penitentiary inmates that they were responsible for a train collision at Dothan, Eastland county, in 1923, that caused the death of seven persons.

The convicts, Fred Jordan and Henry Schussler, were charged with murder yesterday after they told District Attorney Joe Jones of Eastland county that they caused the accident.

The men said they threw a switch on the Texas and Pacific tracks at Dothan in anger at being put off a train.

Secretary Of War Good, Branded As "Mere Politician," Turns Into Efficient Cabinet Executive; He's Active

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The Hon James W. Good, who has some times been called "Sunny Jim" and is now secretary of war, has made a good enough impression during his first few weeks as a cabinet member to gag those of his critics who insisted he was only a mere politician.

There were some in the War Department who thought it would be fine for the army to have a secretary who new Congress so well and Hoover so well. Then there were others who thought it was too bad that the job should be given as a political reward and that politicians should be cared for elsewhere. At this writing, however, both groups seem to agree that Mr. Good is a nice fellow, intelligent and anxious to work, and quite able.

They say Good has put more personality into the job, that he is more given to making his own decisions, that he answers more letters himself, that he has given a more unusual touch to routine letters and that before long he is going to know his whole department inside out.

Progressives Worried

Good has acted as counsel for one or two electric power companies and as secretary of war is a member of the Federal Power Commission, a combination which worries the progressives. But unless he gives someone an opportunity to charge him with favoritism to the power interests the growing suspicion is that he will be "a good secretary of war."

Incidentally, there was some question in Good's own family as to his ability to swing the job. When his 11-year-old son Robert heard about it he came running in with a pair of boxing gloves and demanded: "Well, if you're going to be secretary of war, let's see if you can fight!"

Army officers are impressed with his promptness in making decisions. One such decision concerned the policy of shifting heads of branches in the department. Good decided it was best for efficiency if these heads were changed every four years. General Amos Fries, the red hunting chief of the Chemical Warfare Service had had that job nearly years and would have been glad to have stayed on. Chemical interests over the country brought pressure on Good, seeking his retention. But Good ignored them and turned the job over to Colonel Harry L. Gilchrist.

The critics ought to admit that Good is a least an extraordinarily effective politician. He had charge of the Republican congressional campaign of 1920, worked for Coolidge officially in 1924 and was western manager for Hoover in 1928. He always did a workmanlike job.

And he was far from unprepared for his cabinet post. Originally he was "just a farm boy" in Iowa, where he owns four farms today. When he entered Coe College he enrolled in Company C of the Iowa National Guard—"just to get the benefit of the discipline," he says.

In Congress he was for 10 years a member of the appropriations committee and for more than two years chairman of it. He was chairman when the committee had the tremendous post-war job of slashing war-time appropriations and he had always studied the War Department's needs and problems along with others.

Likes Horseback Riding

Good plays golf when he gets the time, but he reminisces fondly of old days when he rode horseback on the farm.

"A country boy never gets away from his affection for farms," he told your correspondent. "He develops an attachment for domestic animals that always stays with him."

"Is there any particular domestic animal you're especially fond of?" he was asked.

"No, I'm fond of all of them."

"Don't you like cows better than horses, or vice versa?"

"No, just the same—and sheep, too.

"There's nothing more interesting than the barnyard!"

Flashes Of Life

(By The Associated Press)

Junior Club, Plan

NEW YORK — Children of wealthy summer residents of Long Island are to have their own country club, which in the words of Mrs. H. P. Davison, the sponsor, will avoid the unhealthy and usual influences of clubs for adults. All jazz will be eliminated. There will be facilities for golf, tennis, baseball, football and other sports with professional instruction. Boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 16 will be eligible but must be approved as to moral and personal character by a committee of parents. A 60-acre property at Wheatley Hills has been acquired for $100,000.

Smokes Are Cheap

NEW YORK — Rockbottom prices for smokes are threatened by David A. Schulte unless a price war ends within two months. Even millionaires are smoking 20 cent cigarettes for 12 1-2 cents now, he said at the annual meeting of his company. He blamed chain grocery stores.

Tough Luck, Betty

GLENDALE, Calif.—It has been away, home again and away again with Betty Compson of the screen. She had a a tiff with her hubby, James Cruze, film director. As he explained it: "She just moved out and she just moved back home. That's all there is to it." And now illness has compelled her to go to a sanitarium.

He's Ineligible

SOMERVILLE, Mass.—Connie Maboney, strong man gymnasium trainer and heavyweight lifter who runs marathons for exercises, is ineligible for a job as a city laborer. The state civil service commission has noted that he has a bunion.

Jewels Stolen

NEW YORK — Mrs. David Bancroft, wife of the ball player has informed the police that a handbag containing $8,500 in bonds and $5,000 worth of jewels has been stolen from her hotel room.

What Is To Be Next

NEW YORK—Now comes the self-winding wrist watch. Some jigger or other goes into action wit hthe natural movement of the arm. A corporation has been formed to market it.

Labor Party Still Compromised, Said

LONDON, April 18 (AP)—Political circles opposed to Ramsay MacDonald and the labor party today charged that although the farmer premier had "thrown overboard" Philip Snowden, his repudiation had failed to clear a situation compromising for his party.

MacDonald, in a speech in the commons last night, disclaimed any intention of "repudiating" the Balfour note or other British debt covenants. Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the labor cabinet, had said the labor party held itself open to do so. MacDonald said, however, the agreements were subject to revision.

THE WEATHER

Cloudy

OKLAHOMA and Texas: Cloudy tonight and Friday. Moderate to fresh southerly winds on the coast.

ARKANSAS: Mostly cloudy and unsettled tonight and Friday; probably rain tonight.

LOUISIANA: Increasing cloudiness tonight and Friday. Light to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

Long Will Carry Battle To Stump

BATON ROUGE, La., April 18 (AP)—Preceding every major battle of his political career, Governor Huey P. Long has carried his cause before the people on the stump. His friends today said the impeachment case against him would be no exception.

The governor has not announced an itinerary, but sponsors of the administration said the next month would see him on a speaking tour throughout Louisiana. Mass meetings are planned in principal cities before the date of the governor's trial by the senate.

Governor Long apparently has given up hope of stemming the tide of impeachment in the house, where testimony has been taken on more than a dozen of the 19 counts contained in resolutions of impeachment charging general misconduct and threatened high crime.

Brownfield After Delivery Service

BROWNFIELD, April 18.—An inspection has just been completed by a representative of the post ofice department, for the purpose of reporting upon the city's application for free city delivery. His inspection revealed that Brownfield should be credited with sixty per cent upon sidewalks and one hundred per cent upon street markers and house numbers and under it were entitled to one carrier. There is however an active interest being manifested by property owners toward the construction of more sidewalks and if present plans are carried to completion several thousand additional feet of walks wil lbe available within the next few months and will entitle the town to two carriers. Building activity is greater than any other year within the last five and arrangements are under way to place four sub-divisions on the market.

POETS NO LONGER STARVE IN GARRETS

NEW YORK, April 18—The vogue for the sophisticated and ironic in poetry and verse has bred a new group of poets who have substituted pleasant Connecticut country homes for candle-lit garrets. I know one or two who actually own town cars.

Nor are they given to poetic affectations. You will not find them eating their hearts out in darkened corners, but will discover them engaging quips about the Algonquin round table. Among the males there are several who could pose for ads showing what "the well-dressed man should wear."

And just a few weeks ago Dorothy Parker had most of Hollywood bidding for her services. Miss Parker, by the way, is quite representative of what this new group is aiming toward. Not only is she a poet of merit; but Manhatan's outstanding wisecracker as well. She is, perhaps, one of the city's most quoted gagsters.

Sam Hoffenstein is another. He is a tall, slender, well-groomed young man who may be found in his ample apartment reclining on a chaise longue. He wears spats, trick ties, and is somewhat of a beau brummel. His verse is biting and trenchantand he is among the best sellers.

Edna St. Vincent Millay, who pioneered, now lives in an elaborate country estate. Her first editions bring fat prices and her collections of poems continue year in and year out to have a great demand.

Even among the more "serious" poets, a change can be found. James Roarty, for instance, is a successful advertising man on the side and lives upon a rolling Connecticut farm. Genevieve Taggart, who is a model craftsman, finds it possible to spend a year abroad gathering material for a biography. Helene Mullins can afford very cunning bouffant dresses and trips gaily at literary fetes. Norma Millay, who happens to be Edna's sister, is far too smartly dressed to suggest the garret variety of poet.

Jumping the continent to the Pacific coast, one could find Robinson Jeffers living what might be considered the "poetic life." In Carmel, overlooking the Pacific, he lives in a little stone house which he built himself. Jeffers, by the way, is a poet to be reckoned with. And is just beginning to get the attention he well deserves.

And there's Edwin Arlington Robinson, who is looked upon by many as our "poet laureate." His "Tristram" was a book of the month when it appeared and sold by the tens of thousands.

And so it goes.

Meanwhile, however, the last of the Greenwich Village poets gather of Monday nights at the Grub Street Club and snout their verses at each other. Spring being the poet's season, it's possible to forgive some of them for their literary sins. It's even posible to be kind. For, after all, they dotry. And some of them mean it.

But the new generation of poets are quite content to live comfortably and even well—even if they have to go to work to afford poetry. Matthew Josephson, who wrote the Zola biography, is a typical case. When first I encountered him he was a "customer's man"in a Wall Street broker's firm while contributing lyrical prose to the poetry magazines.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

IN ACTIVE TUBERCULOSIS TAKE ALL PRECAUTIONS NOT TO INFECT FAMILY

Precautions Against Infection

"In the first stages of tuberculosis where there is a temperature but the sputum is negative, is it necessary to scald the patient's dishes? And what about the bed clothing and personal laundry? I want to know about this so as to safeguard the health of the rest of the family. A."

Yes, all precautions should be taken against infecting the rest of the family, where there is active tuberculosis. A. While one examination of the sputum might not disclose tuberculosis bacili, the next specimen might have it.

All the patient's clothing, including the bed clothes, should be boiled or steamed, separate from the rest of the family's laundry, and handled as little as possible when dry.

Tuberculosis can be successfully treated in the home, but it has to be done by methods similar to those used in the sanitarium, and the caretaker must know those methods. If she doesn't, she should, if possible, visit a sanitarium, or go to the health department and ask for instructions for home care.

For several reasons it is better for the patient to be in a sanitarium, for there he is given an intelligent knowledge of the disease, learns what he can expect to happen, so he won't be panic stricken when he may, be worse on certain days, etc.; he is where others have similar interests and is not tempted to overdo himself; he is not allowed any visitors for any length of time who will excite or worry him, etc.

Tuberculosis is a curable disease, but to be cured, the doctor must have full co-operation from the patient, and also from his relatives and friends.

We have an article on the subject, which goes into the diet, etc., and gives a list of books on the subject written by authorities for the layman. This will be helpful to you

"My mother is bothered with gas on her stomach, can eat but certain foods, and does not enjoy anything she eats. The weak spells she has are alarming to us all. What is the cause of gas and belching? She is 70 years old, and seemingly in good health, except for these spells of belching and gas, which leave her extremely weak.

"Large bruised spots have come on her arms and hands, and she also has a place on her nose which worries her. The spots on the hands disappear, but in a few weeks they are as bad as ever. MRS. E."

Gas in the intestines can arise from many conditions, Mrs. E.—reflexly from inflammations of the organs connected with the intestinal tract, such as the appendix or gall bladder, or reflexly from infections elsewhere, or to nervousness. Or it may be due directly to wrong diet—excess of starches and sugars, especially, are apt to cause gas. And excess protein may cause putrefaction and gas.

Hemorrhages under the skin and mucous membranes may be symptoms of scurvy, Mrs. E. The bruised looking spots on her arms and hands may be hemorrhagic spots, and if they are, they might indicate that she has scurvy. This indicates lack of the anti-scurvy vitamin in her diet. I suggest you send for our article on Balanced Diet. Of course, your mother, at her age, should have a simple diet, and the quantity has to be lessened considerably from what it was when she was younger.

Take your mother to a physician for a check-up. The spot which bothers her on her nose must be watched.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

MAGNITUDE OF TASK IN TAKING 1930 CENSUS OUTLINED

BY WILLIAM M. STEWART
Director, Federal Census

(William Mott Stewart, was born at Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 2, 1861. He attended the public schools of Maryland and District of Columbia and holds degrees from Columbian (now George Washington) university. Admitted to the bar in 1884, he practiced in District of Columbia, Maryland, and Michigan. He became connected with the census of manufacturers in 1880 and has been director of the federal census since 1921.)

History records no other instance in which the population has increased so rapidly as in the United States.

Some 3,000 years ago King David set out to number the people of Isreael and Judah. It took nine months and 20 days to make the count, and the returns showed 1,300,000 "valiant men that drew the sword."

At the beginning of our own national existence, we took a census approximately equal in magnitude to that taken by King David. The United States marshals, to whom the task was assigned, were allowed 13 months for the enumeration, and returned a total population of a little less than 4,000,000. The census of population was established as a decenial event by the consitution of the United States, and is the only current statistical inquiry which rests on such fundamental legal authority.

Prior to 1790, the date of the first census of the United States, little had been done in any country toward establishing a regular periodic census of population. Since that date, the nations of the world have been developing methods and machinery that make possible a speedy counting of the people and the accumulation at the same time of a vast amount of data regarding educational, social, and economic conditions. The development of modern statistical methods has probably gone farther in the United States than in any other country, and the director of the census is required in one month to enumerate 120,000,000 people and to obtain extensive information for about 6,250,000 farms, 14,000 mines and quarries, and more than 100,000 irrigation and drainage projects.

The population of continental United States is now increasing at the rate of about 1,400,000 persons per year, or approximately one person every 23 seconds.

STOCK PRICES POINT HIGHER

ADAMS EXPRESS SETS NEW HIGH RECORD WITH OPENING

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 18—Stock prices pointed higher at the opening of today's market. Adams Express opened 3 3-4 points higher at 704, a new high record. Initial gains of a point or more were recorded by Johns Manville, General Electric, National Dairy Products, Crosley Radio and Union Carbide. U. S. Steel, common, Radio and Anaconda improved fractionally on opening sales.

Indications of easing credit, coupled with expectations of a substantial decrease in brokers' loans had a bullish effect.

Steel was again in brisk demand, Bethlehem opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 112 1-2 and then moved up to 114 1-4, highest price since the "war Brides."

New peak prices for the year were established by Hershey Chocolate, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Marmon Motors and Union Oil of California.

Coppers rallied briskly on belief the price had been stabilized. Calumet & Arizona advancing 2 points while Anaconda and others in that group advanced a point or so.

Union Carbide, in which a stock split-up was recently approved by shareholders, jumped nearly 5 points.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables unchanged at $4.85 7-16.

ENGLISH ASK PROHIBITION

MOVEMENT FOR LOCAL OPTION IN BRITAIN GAINING HEADWAY

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 18—H. C. Heath, general secretary of the United Kingdom Temperance Alliance, issued a statement today on the status of the prohibition movement in the general elections.

Heath is a leader of an alliance of 20 national and semi-national temperance organization throughout England and Wales. The organizations, for the first time in British history, are fighting side by side in an electoral campaign in an effort to place as many persons as possible in parliament pledged to support a national local option bill.

Heath said election of Herbert Hoover had done more than anything since the local option of election of 1908 to help the cause of prohibition in England. He declared Mr. Hoover's "election on a platform of strict enforcement of the American prohibition laws" had created a tremendous impression on this side of the Atlantic.

"We are pursuing virtually the same tactics here the Anti-Saloon League folowed in America years ago," he said. "We are asking each candidate to answer yes or no to this question 'if elected will you support a local option measure including an option for no license at all?' We judge where to throw our united support according to the way the questions are answered."

WHEAT MARKET IS DOWN ON OPENING

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP)—Wheat underwent a setback today due largely to failure of Liverpool quotations to respond to yesterday's advance. Favorable weather for the domestic crop tended also to ease wheat values.

Opening 3-8 to 7-8 off, Chicago wheat afterward sagged further. Corn and oats were relatively firm, with corn starting at 1-2 off to 1-4 up and later holding near initial figures. Provisions held steady.

FIRST COTTON TRADES LOSE

LOWER CABLES, ARID WEATHER MAP ARE GIVEN BLAME

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, April 18—First trades on the cotton market here showed losses of 6 to 7 points attributed to lower cables than due and a dry weather map.

A slight rally set in, but was wiped out on prospects for continued good weather, July dropping to 19.54. October to 19.38 and December to 19.95, or 8 to 9 points under yesterday's close.

Trading was fairly active and selling liberal.

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 5 to 12 points under liquidation coupled with selling on favorable weather news and easy cables.

Some trade buying was reported on the decline, but demand otherwise was attributed chiefly to covering. The market was under considerable pressure with prices showing net declines of about 10 to 13 points at the end of the first half hour.

Selling stop prices off to 19.56 for July and 19.61 for December, or about 10 to 12 points below yesterday's close. Offerings then tapered off and the market was quiet later, with the tone steadier on some trade buying of near months and covering. At midday prices showed rallies of a few points from the lowest.

EXECUTIVE VIEWS VARY

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CONGRESS, HOOVER LOOM SHARPLY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP).—Conflict between President Hoover and members of his party in the senate on three important proposals and between the senate and house on at least one appeared certain today as the two chambers swung into legislative activity.

Decision of the senate agriculture committee to introduce its bill today including an optional export debenture provision emphasized possibility of a sharp difference between the chambers. The plan had been definitely excluded from the bill which was before the house.

This difference in congress on advisability of including a debenture provision in the general farm relief bill is believed by many republican leaders to an issue to which the president and the senate may find themselves in disagreement.

Although the executive has adhered to his "hands off" policy, and no word on the administration's view of the debenture plan has been given, Mr. Hoover is regarded in some quarters as placing his main reliance in farm relief discussion in the house.

Other Differences Seen.

That is only one of the differences which observers profess to see in the making between the president and the senate. Republicans in the senate are divided on the national origin clause of the Immigration Act, which Mr. Hoover wants congress to suspend, and on the desire of the president to have tariff revision limited principally to agricultural schedules.

Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, has drafted a bill to meet the presidential suggestion for a suspension of national origins provision, but Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, has served notice of a fight against such a move.

Senafor Reed also has declared against any attempt at "limited" tariff revision. He announced he would not consider himself bound to any limited tariff program and would support moves for upward revision of any rates regarded as necessary.

Thus the president finds himself facing a fight with leaders of his party in the east on immigration and the tariff and, while supported on these two issues by western republicans, apparently finds them at odds with him on farm relief.

Grain Men Oppose Plan On Farm Aid

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., April 18 (AP).—Addressing the Western Grain Dealers' association meeting here today, Charles Quinn, secretary of the National Grain Dealers' Association, indicated that his association was opposed to the farm relief bill before congress.

Delegates expressed the opinion that resolutions would be adopted tomorrow calling the attention of congress to defects in the measure as seen by the grain men.

Suffering Of 9 Years Now Ended

Prominent Farmers Wife Had Tried Every Kind of Treatment She Could Hear of But Got No Relief Until She Took Orgatone.

"Orgatone has really worked wonders in my wife's case," said J. H. Capps, residing on rural route 2, Lubbock, Texas, while in Bowen's Drug Store a few days ago. Mr. Capps is one of the best known farmers in this entire section of Texas.

"For almost nine years," continued Mr. Capps, "my wife suffered with indigestion and dyspepsia, and during the past four months especially after she had an attack of influenza she had been growing steadily weaker and hardly able to get around at all. She had tried everything imaginable, with no results until I got Orgatone on the recommendation of a personal friend who had used it with good results. She had been suffering with very bad kidney trouble and pains from the small of her back and it was almost impossible for her to get a good night's sleep, we tried doctors, but she continued to suffer. Her stomach would cramp and bloat something awful, after eating and she had severe headaches. Her nerves seemed to give way and she had been nuable to get sufficient rest and sleep.

"But it is all different now, since she was induced to try Orgatone, and after taking three bottles, I can truthfully say she feels better in every way than she has in at least nine years. Her sleep is sound and restful and, it ies such a relief to be able to eat what she wants without suffering those terrible pains afterward. We feel very grateful and am only too glad to tell others about the medicine that has done so much for my wife."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile prepraation and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by Bowen's Drug Store, unider the personal direction of a special orgatone representative. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price, $1.25 for one bottle or $6.25 for six bottles.

ASKS RELEASE FROM 'LIVING DEATH'

OKLAHOMA INDIAN, NOW IN FRENCH LEGION PRISON, PLEADS TO U. S. FOR AID

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 18.—A story of suffering in a French Foreign Legion prison at Orleansville, Algiers, was told in a letter purportedly written by Frank O'Brien Oklahoma Indian, received today by Mayor Walter C. Dean of Oklahoma City.

O'Brien, who became a doughboy soon after the United States entered the World War, had been reported killed on a French battle field.

In the letter, scribbled in confused sentences, the writer said he lost his memory at Chateau Thierry, in which battle he was wounded, but explained "my memory come back just a little enough to tell—."

The letter said O'Brien's father was a "Big Red Man" in the Miller Brothers 101 ranch show of Ponca City. Writing that after being discharged from the army he shipped as a sailor, the letter did not mention his first connection with the French Foreign Legion. Apparently he left a ship at Singapore and wandered through French Indo-China, later joining the Foreign Legion and being sent into the deserts of Oran.

How he became a prisoner was not explained.

The author of the letter repeats that he is "Oklahoma Boy," "true American," "never before live far from home like 13 years." He remembers that he enlisted for the World War in Denver. He asks that his American citizenship be proved to the French government and efforts made to liberate him from "A Living Death."

Banks Should Be Ashamed to Permit Robbery, Said

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., April 18 (AP).—Bank robbers are showing lack of originality, using the methods of "Grandfather's Day," the executive council of the American Bankers' Association in session here was told today.

The declaration came in a report of the association's protective committee which further said banks robbed or defrauded now have themselves mostly to blame.

FLORIDA WARS ON FRUIT FLY

OMNIVEROUS INSECT IS TARGET OF FIGHT THROUGHT STATE

(By Associated Press)

ORLANDO, Fla., April 18.—Vigorous control already having been applied and four companies of state troops ordered mobilized to reinforce the quarantine, Florida officials felt more confident today they would be able to exterminate the Mediterranean fruit fly within an area now infested.

Discovery several days ago of the pest in an area approximately 12 miles north and south and six miles east and west in Orange and parts of Lake and [illegible] counties moved the state plant board and federal inspectors to set into motion machinery for eradication.

A strict quarantine was clamped on the infested area, and no shipments of fruits and vegetables will be allowed from that section. Clean-up work was started in the groves, fruits being destroyed with quick lime and trees sprayed.

The fly, which originally came from West Africa, is virtually omniverous so far as fruits and vegetables are concerned, only a few varieties not appealing to its taste. Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo said it would infest 71 of 80 varieties of fruits and vegetables grown in Florida. This is its first appearance on the North American continent. How it came to reach Florida is not known.

ENGINEERS TO PRESENT SHOW

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR ANNUAL EVENT HERE SATURDAY

Virtually everything is in readiness for the first annual Engineers' Show to be held at Tech College all day Saturday, reports from the college today indicated.

With all of the program arranged, students of the engineering department are busy working out details for the show, which promises to be one of the most complete demonstrations of this kind ever to be presented by an enginering department.

About a score of visitors from hte Tri-State Technical society are expected to attend the show and officials of the department here are anxious for a record crowd.

With students on hand to explain each piece of equipment and machinery and to conduct special tests for the visitors, demonstrations will be given by every division of the department, including civil engineering, geology, architecture, drawing, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, and textile engineering.

GLAMORGAN, Wales (AP).—The education committee of this town decided not to nominate any of their students for fighting services of the British empire. They held that boys should not be chosen for training in the destruction of human life.

LADIES! LADIES!

How many times have you said you liked your permanent, except that the ends were not curly enough?

The Croqulnole

—is famous for its ringlet ends and loose flowing wave, which is as natural as human hands can make it. While we admit that the permanent wave machine cannot give a wave alone, it takes an experienced operator to finish the work as it should be done.
