A LETTER FROM SANTA

He'll See You Soon!

EDITOR'S NOTE - Old St. Nickolas has decided he'd save you and himself some trouble this year, so he figured out a way to see and talk to just about everybody. He asked the newspaper to print this letter:

Dear Kids:

I want to see everybody this year, so I've worked out a system with the merchants there in Littlefield to get it done.

They've fixed it up so that I can stay in Littlefield two days and they seem to be rolling out the red carpet for me - and for you too!

I'll be arriving there at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The fire boys say they're gonna escort me to town. We'll ride up Phelps Avenue on the fire truck to the courthouse and then back downtown again.

I hope they won't make that ride too long, because I'll be anxious to get out and start talking with you. You're going to love my candy this year, and I'll have plenty of it.

Even if I don't get to talk to you during my two days visit I'd still like you to write me again this year. You know, there's less chance for slip-ups if you get it down in black-and-white.

So if you'll just address your letters to me, care of the News-Leader, the folks down there will put your letter in the paper and then send it on to me.

See you Friday!

Love,
Santa Claus

Three factors contribute to this year's lower production. The sun and rain this year did not always come at the proper times. Hail storms cut total output further as many a farmer lost some of his crop. The third biting blow was an early frost which prevented some cotton from finishing out.

One bright spot in all the reports came from Burks Gin south of Littlefield. John Burks of this gin reports that his area's cotton had an extra rain this summer that the rest did not get, and the grades are very good.

Lions Are Rated 5th In State AAA

Today's the day. All the football excitement which can accompany Littlefield's first play-off venture in 10 years--and the first here since 1949--comes to a climax on Turkey Day at 2 p.m.

That's the kick-off time for the bi-district battle between the 3-AAA Champion Wildcats and the 4-AAA winner, the unbeaten Vernon Lions.

Pandemonium will reach a peak at 10 a.m. this morning at the high school gymnasium when Coach George Kirk's Wildcats will be the toast of the town at a pep rally.

The Wildcats will have their work cut out for them, because in Vernon, they face the 5th-ranked Class AAA team in the state.

And in Ed Marsh, the Lion quarterback, the Cats face one of Texas' most highly touted signal-callers.

The six-foot, 200-pound Marsh is rated by many as the best AAA quarterback in the state. Against Brownwood last Friday night, Marsh carried the ball 24 times for 123 yards and completed four of eight passes for 71 yards in leading Vernon to a 28-15 victory.

Over the year, Marsh has scored 10 times and ranks high in the Class AAA scoring parade. He has completed 20 of 46 passes for 354 yards during the season.

Another top scorer for the Lions is HB Joe Eggen, who has tallied seven times. The 175-pound youngster runs the century in 10 flat and is rated a fine blocker.

The other halfback, Ed Spradlin, is a 183-pound boy who excels on sweeps and as a pass receiver.

Fullback is 150-pound Rick Kinniburgh, who runs the off tackle play to perfection.

Another boy cited as outstanding for the Lions is Split End Mike McCauley, 155-pounder who runs the 100 in 9.8. He is the Lions' long-ball receiver.

Ronnie Rickman, 180 pound offensive center, is tabbed as "a fine one" and the entire Vernon team is described by Coach Kirk as "very hard hitting."

In the first quarter of the Brownwood game, the Vernon hitting was so tough that Brownwood lost several of its best players due to injuries, Coach Kirk said.

Coach Pat Pattison of Vernon used a large number of defenses, including "The Eagle," which he made famous while leading the Lubbock High West-erners to two state championships in the 1950's.

QB Marsh drew raves from the Amarillo daily newspaper this week. They named him the top AAA back of the week.

But the Wildcats had an honoree of their own, Mike Gris-som had his finest night of the year against the Lakeview Chil-drens, scoring four times, and was

5,000 Fans Are Expected

A record crowd of 5,000 fans is expected to converge on Wild-cat Stadium today when Little-field's 1966 Fighting Wildcats take on the unbeaten Vernon Lions in the first round of the state football play-offs.

The Thanksgiving Day clash begins at 2 p.m., but gates will open at 12:15 to allow the crowd to begin taking seats.

All 2,118 reserved seats at the stadium were gone early Monday morning as spectators lined up for blocks to get tickets at the school tax office.

Of the 2,118, a total of 1,059 was sent to Vernon, where they went at a brisk pace. Vernon fans chartered four big buses for the game and many other came by car, spending the night here Wednesday night.

To take care of the huge crowd, Supt. Paul Manning brought in about 1,000 seats in temporary bleachers. Wildcat Stadium's normal capacity is 3,200.

So it's fairly certain that those 4,200 seats will be filled and it appeared Wednesday that several hundred spectators will have to settle for "standing room only."

General admission tickets will be available at the gate when it opens at 12:15.

"We'll sell tickets just as long as we have the space to get people in," Supt. Manning said.

Several trailers will be brought in and parked alongside the west stands. Folding chairs will be placed on them to seat some parents of Wildcat gridders who were unable to get reserved seats.

CLAYTON TOPS CONTEST

John Clayton III, Littlefield, came through with a winner in last week's football contest by missing only two guesses, the Tech game and the tie of Boston and Kansas City.

The tie breaker had to be used to divide the contestants clamoring for second position. Ray Ivey, Rt. 2, Littlefield came in second best there, and Joyce Latimer, St. Rt. 2, Littlefield, took third.

Three contestants chose Texas Tech for an upset but did not do as well on other games.

This week's contest closed on Wednesday evening to allow contestants to guess on games being played Thursday.

$3,400 Total In SA Drive

Annual Stock-In Festival Scheduled Friday, Saturday

Pick up your Christmas list in the old shopping bag and smile, smile, smile.

The Christmas shopping season starts Friday in Littlefield.

Merchants are offering a fine array of gift items to shoppers throughout the area during the annual Christmas Stock-In Festival Friday and Saturday.

Santa Claus will make his annual visit to Littlefield both days, arriving Friday morning at 10 a.m., via a city fire truck.

He'll spend two hours of each day at the building which formerly housed Pioneer Gas. The rest of the time he'll be roaming the town, seeking out youngsters to talk with them and pass out free candy.

Littlefield will have Christmas in the air both days. Christmas music will be played in downtown Littlefield each day, and Christmas lights will go on for the first time Thursday night at the same time street lights go on.

A number of stores will be staying open later for the Christmas season beginning Friday.

A Christmas window decorating contest is already underway here, and entries still are being taken by the Ministerial Alliance, sponsor of the contest.

Also scheduled is the annual Home Decorating Contest, sponsored by Littlefield Woman's Club.

So for fun, fine gift selection, Santa Claus and all that goes with the opening of the Christmas season, Littlefield is spreading out its welcome mat to the entire area beginning Friday.

Five Entered In Window Event

Five groups thus far have entered Littlefield's annual Christmas Window Decorating Contest, and contest chairman, Rev. Brian Engel Wednesday invited others to join the project.

"So far we have about six or seven windows lined up," said Rev. Engel, "but we expect more."

Three prizes will be given in the event and judging is scheduled to take place in mid-December.

Pastor Engel said that all window decorations should be completed by the second week in December.

The event is sponsored by the Littlefield Ministerial Alliance.

BAKED TURKEY-HEN DRESSING

"I have found your dressing is no better than the bread you put in it. If you use your left over bread in the dressing, it will carry over the old-bread taste in your dressing. I use equal parts of homemade cornbread and homemade biscuits."

CORNBREAD

2 eggs, well beaten, add 1 cup of buttermilk, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Dissolve this in egg and milk mixture. 1 cup corn meal, 1/2 cup of flour, if needed add more cornmeal and 3 tablespoons shortening. Bake in hot greased pan with cornmeal sprinkled in bottom.

BISCUITS

1 cup of buttermilk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons shortening. Add flour, do not make biscuit dough too stiff, or the bread will be dry, roll out, cut, and bake.

Double the above recipes for the dressing. Cool bread a little, crumble both breads in a large pan. Add 8 eggs, 2 teaspoons sage or less, chopped onion, add liquid from baked turkey or hen to make the dressing about the same consistency as the cornbread was before baking, this will make the dressing moist after baking. Add salt to taste. Bake until done, about 45 minutes to 1 hour at 350 degrees or until thoroughly cooked.

DEAR EDITOR

Open Letter To Chick Simmons

Dear Chick:

I've known you since you were just a youngster. Our acquaintance has not been a close one, therefore, I have not had opportunity to know of the questions in your mind regarding your service in the Navy, and especially on Dec. 7th, 1941.

You ask "who won?" Chick, it has been said of war that no one wins. Yet, I am not wholly in agreement with that idea.

There comes a time in all our lives, whether individually or nationally, when we must stand up for our freedoms and rights. Since the beginning of time there has always been the battle between good and evil. Our first responsibility is to determine on which of these two sides our cause consists. I sincerely believe that our cause was on the side of good. So, as you ask, "who won?", I say that "I won." I, and millions like me. Because of the courage and sacrifices of the thousands like you, I live in a country of freedom and independence.

Chick, this morning I attended a church worship. We worshipped God as best we knew. We were not disturbed, nor molested in any way. The church I attended was the one that I, by studying God's word, chose to attend. No one has ever been given the authority to forbid my worshipping at this place. Therefore, as a result of your efforts and sacrifices, and those like you, I can say, "I won."

No longer ago than Nov. 8th, I enjoyed the privilege of voting in a public election. I had the right to help choose those elected to places of responsibility in our government. Yes, I can even help select our next president himself. My voice is heard in high places. Yes, Chick, I and millions like me can say "I won."

This great nation of these United States was bought with the courage and blood of the likes of you. From the hardships of the founding fathers through the fight of Independence with General George Washington, Davy Crockett, and his buddies at the Alamo and countless others, has come the privileges that we enjoy and have today. Yes, Chick, "we won."

True, we people fail to recognize our debt of gratitude to you men. I suppose that ingratitude in itself is one of our freedoms. We know that people can't help being people. Do you remember that the people of Israel were showing their thoughtlessness and ingratitude to God almost by the time their deliverance was accomplished?

We don't show the respect that we should for our veterans, I'm sorry to say. Neither are we properly respectful of our national holidays. But, believe me, Chick, we are grateful, more so than we express, for the great country that you and your buddies have preserved for us - - yes, "we won!"

So lift up your head, Chick Simmons, stand tall. Stand tall and proud and survey this wonderful country that you have helped to preserve. Let your bosom swell with pride when you see old Glory hoisted to the breeze and thank God that it's neither the "Rising Sun," the "German Swastika" or (as yet) the "Hammer and Sickle." Look upon its people as they go about enjoying the freedoms that you fought for. Yes, you and your buddies have given us these things.

Did you know that the Lord himself said that, "It's more blessed to give than receive." Yes, you and yours gave us these things. How we use or abuse them is our responsibility.

Chick, I hope that as you survey these things in this light that you can come to the conclusion that, "I, Chick Simmons, won because I gave so much to so many."

Gratefully your friend,
R.C. Blevins

A Tradition

To the Editor:

Dear Bill and Amy - - - as you have seen already you won't get rid of the Meltons by changing papers.

The Littlefield paper is a tradition at our house.

Back in the 30's during the depression, our mailman left a note saying: The County Wide News, one year subscription for 2 doz. eggs, of which we had plenty. We were getting two cases per day.

I didn't count the year, but we have never missed a subscription.
Congratulations Bill on your two issues. They were very good.

GIANT SYNTHETICS PRODUCERS ARE TAKING COTTON'S MARKETS

HOW CAN 500,000 FARMERS FIGHT BACK?

The Farmers' Answer: 'Expand Research & Promotion'

With huge research and promotion expenditures, synthetic fiber firms rapidly are taking cotton's markets. As a result, the carryover is at an all-time record. Acreage is the lowest since 1872—down 30 per cent on the average for 1966.

But farmers have developed a way to fight back. It enables them to pool their resources to mount a hard-hitting research and promotion program to save cotton markets, acreage, and income.

Self-Help Plan Brings Beltwide Acclaim, Support

The farmer-originated plan gives growers an opportunity to vote, in a Beltwide referendum, on establishing a uniform assessment of $1.00 per bale for expanded research and promotion. Thousands of growers and 61 cotton organizations have endorsed this approach—overwhelmingly. The press is praising farmers for their efforts to help themselves.

We Compliment Cotton Farmers On Their Business Approach

Clearly, the plan is based on hard and sound thinking. All projects must be initiated by grower trustees elected by cotton producer organizations. Other provisions give equal assurance of farmer direction and control. Any individual farmer who does not want to participate can have his money refunded.

We recognize that cotton is the economic lifeblood of our business and our community. We are happy to offer any assistance we can give our farmer friends as they work for approval in the referendum.

We Wholeheartedly Endorse Your Plan for GREATER MARKETS, ACREAGE, PROFITS

Bobby Measells New Cage Coach

By NILAH RODGERS

WHITHARRAL--The Whitharral Panthers lost their bid for the 1-B District crown when they lost to Three-Way 44-0 there Friday night. Three-Way will represent the district in the state play-offs.

The boys had their first basketball practice session Monday with a match scheduled with Ropesville Tuesday for both the boys and girls.

Bobby Measells is the new cage coach coming to Whitharral following a successful season on the Texas Tech basketball team. He was an All-State guard at Seminole before entering Tech.

He replaces Billy Thetford whose resignation was effective following the Three-Way game.

Girls A cagers to into the season with a 1-2 scrimmage record, losing to Lazbuddie twice, first by 15 points, then 12 points, and defeating Christ the King, 82-19. Leading scorer thus far is Paula Reding.

Anton Girls Top Lazbuddie

In two thrilling contests, the Anton A and B girls snatched two victories from Lazbuddie Monday night.

The B girls, led by Gene Ann Herrin with 13 points, snatched the first game 26-25.

Victory in the second game hung in the balance until the closing five seconds, when Rita Monroe dumped in the final bucket to put the A girls out front, 41-39.

The Lazbuddie sextet put on a strong fourth quarter surge that put them out front by 4 points but Anton rallied enough to take the game at the final buzzer.

Kathy Roberts with 18 points and Thelma Bell, with 17, led scoring honors for the winners and Carol Walker tallied 19 for the losers.

Pep Teams Take Four Losses

Monday night the Spade girls ran past Pep, 39-9, and the Spade boys team performed similarly, 50-26.

Tuesday night Pep fared little better as the boys B team lost 78-16 to Lubbock Christian High School and the A team took a 99-44 drubbing.

Part of the difference in the score for the boys can be accounted for by the fact that all the starters were lost on fouls during the game, stated Ernest Dyke, coach for Pep.

named AAA back of the week by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. The Wildcats went through their pad workout Tuesday, then worked out in shorts Wednesday.

"We have several who are limping and being treated," said Coach Kirk, "but we expect them to be ready for the game." Grissom, who rushed for 195 yards in 12 carries against Lakeview, hurt an ankle slightly but should come around by game time.

Others nursing slight ailments are Danny Lambeth, who picked up 119 yards on 18 rushes against Lakeview; Rick Klobner, Catfish Danglefield and Joe Ross.

Nevill Manning again led the Cat defense last week, getting in on 14 tackles. Kevin Hutson was another brilliant defender, coming up 12 tackles.

Mike Lumsden was cited as the Cat's top blocker in the Lakeview game, followed by Phillip Pace.

The Wildcats have scored 237 points and given up 112 in their 9-1 season, while Vernon has tallied 263 and given up 58. The Cats' only loss was to Tulsa, 15-14, a team beaten by Vernon, 24-6.

Littlefield has averaged 237 yards rushing per game for the season, while Vernon's average has been 177. In the air, the Lions have a 59-yard game average, while the Cats have picked up 27 per game.

Girl Wrestlers Highlight Card

Peggy Allen and Kay Noble, rated among the top 20 lady wrestlers in the nation, will appear on Saturday night's wrestling card at the Littlefield Sports Arena.

Dandy Dan Miller will open the card against the Black Raider, and Terry Funk will take on Prof. Tanaka in a grudge match.

Last week, Ricky Romero finished K. O. Yates in six minutes in a one fall match. The Batman pinned Alex Perez after 13 minutes.

The tag team match saw Terry Funk pin Prof. Tanaka in 12 minutes with a spinning toe hold, but the Batman was put out of commission on the second fall after four minutes of the second fall. Since he was unable to return for the third fall, the match went to Alex Perez and Prof. Tanaka.

Whitharral Downs Amherst

Monday night, the Whitharral girls jumped into the win column with a 51-48 win over Amherst. Mary Jane Pence was high for the winners with 25 points and her teammates accounted for the rest with Paula Reding counting 15 and Judy Wade 11.

Kathy Clayton was high for Amherst with 31 points.

Springlake Boys Lose Openers

The Springlake basketball varsity hosted Abernathy on Monday night and Floydada Tuesday night, but both visitors went home with wins.

Abernathy took the Monday night tilt 75-44 and Floydada had a little tougher time in posting an 87-65 victory. Logan Armstrong is leadingscorer so far with 13 and 20 points in the two contests.

The team so far is short on experience and height, with the tallest man being five feet 11 inches, Coach Dallas Clynch explained, but he also feels the team is showing great improvement.

The Springlake girls team took care of Abernathy Monday night in a 78-55 win at Springlake. Susan Britton led scoring honors with 24 and Anita O'Hair followed close behind with 23. On Tuesday night the team outshot Floydada, 55-36.

A Student Says This Year Has Been "RIGHT"

BY KIM HARP

Exciting, a blast, stupendous, cool, terrific, neat, supercalifragilisticexpialidous? All year long I've been looking for the best word to describe this year. Out of the hundreds of thousands of words in our vocabulary there are probably thousands which could be used, but I now think of one, in particular, "right". This is a "right" year. "Right" may be used as an adjective, adverb, noun, or interjection. Its versatility may be applied to our student body. The ability to excel in more than two or three areas is rare for a school our size, but we manage to excel in so many scholastic activities that there will not be enough room for me to list them here.

As sophomores and juniors we, the seniors of LHS, noticed that the school spirit was sagging or leaning a little to the underside. We have tried to "right" this year to make it straight, tall, and steady.

This year is "right" and right is defined in the dictionary as meaning true, just, honorable, and fitting. True to us in the sense that the student body, especially our football team, is loyal and will not let the school down. Just in that the efforts put forth by the students have been rewarded and will continue to be rewarded. Honorable as we may hold our heads proud always. Yes, and it is fitting this this should be the year outstanding accomplishments in LHS.

I was one of the first students to ever put a foot into our new building and I will be in the first graduating class that has spent the full three years in 10th Street LHS. A long time ago our class was told that it could make our senior year the best year that ever happened in LHS. I think we've been working for that ever since.

Our adult leaders said in August, "Well, this is your year, take it, and mold it, paint it, spit and polish it, or chip it, crack it and let it rot. It's yours now and we'll try to guide you, but you must make the decision."

Twelve years can pass too quickly. At the beginning the time will never end, but at the end, where did the time go? I believe that in our principal's office there's a clock that goes ever so much faster than our normal watches and that it is by its time that the twelve years are determined.

Mixed emotions will not let me decide whether I am glad to be finishing high school and starting college or not. I am truly sad about leaving; in fact, I had almost decided to flunk this year (which is still not entirely impossible since the Six Weeks Tests seemed a bit harder than usual) but I remembered that it is "right" after twelve years to leave the school, the senior title and the last bit of childhood behind. Most of the seniors are looking forward to their emancipation with a tinge of regret.

Thursday (today) will be one of the most important and exciting days Littlefield has ever seen. Our men, and we love 'em every one, will be up against a tough, and determined team, but what's tougher and more determined than a Wildcat? Certainly not a lion. Why lions are even afraid of mice--or is that elephants? Either way our team will do its best and the Wildcat's best is the BEST!!!

For a long time there has been an invisible star hanging above LHS which nobody has dared reach for. This year the LHS student body not only reached for that star, but touched it and lit its white shine (with maroon trim). Now the radiance of that star is embedded in each of our hearts. It's our duty now to spread that shine to the rest of the world, when in May, Seniors, we get thrown out of the nest.

So far this year has been double plus "right", but three months doesn't make a school year. A lot can happen in six months. Let's see that it does.

Signs of more "Spirit 66-67" have appeared already. The basketball players, interscholastic league competitors, and others have expressed their enthusiasm for the future. The LHS speedster has gotten into the passing lane and will not slow down or yield, so all other traffic is advised to watch out and stay clear.

Another definition of "right" is "well done". So for the first part of the year to every sophomore, each junior, and the Senior Class a big "WELL DONE!!!!"

A Wildcat Says It Has Taken All To Do It

BY NEVILL MANNING

The "surprising" Littlefield Wildcats, as most of the sports writers have referred to them this year, have surprised more than just people. The Fighting Wildcats picked by pre-season polls not to finish above fourth place in District 3AAA, have now completed district play undefeated and now wear the District 3AAA crown.

The Wildcats now have a 9-1 record and a clean 6-0 district slate. After a season as the Wildcats have had, it would seem a rest would be in store for them, but this cannot be, for the Bi-District Championship is up for grabs today, Thanksgiving Day at 2 p.m. in the Wildcat Stadium. Here the Littlefield maroon and white will square off against the maroon and white Lions from Vernon.

Vernon, under Head Coach Pat Patterson, is undefeated in ten outings. Last week they were rated Number 4 in State, and this week they should rise in the ratings after knocking off Number 2, Brownwood, the defending State Champions.

The Lions have had victories over Tulsa 24-6, Canyon 24-6, Quahah 28-6, and Wichita Falls Hirsch 13-0, among others.

The Lions attack is led by all-state quarterback, Ed Marsh, acclaimed by many coaches as the best quarterback in the state in any division. The 185 pounder is a triple threat with this consistent punting, elusive running, and superb passing. Vernon also has a 195 pound halfback in the order of Joe Muggins, rugged as well as an elusive runner.

The Lions are about the same size as the Wildcats, give or take a little. As all of us know this is the most important game the Wildcats have played this season. More than 6,000 fans are expected to pack the home stadium on Thanksgiving Day. The game will be a thriller.

Now I would like to take time off and talk as a Littlefield Wildcat and for the Littlefield Wildcats to the Student Body, townspeople, Quarterback Club, band, choir, and other loyal supporters of the Wildcats. Before I go further let me make it clear to you that this is not just my personal opinion, but the opinion of the 1966 3AAA District Champs. This season has been greater for us than we, the football players, can ever put into words. Our success is due to many reasons all of which I could not name, but I'll try to name a few of the major ones. We as a football team have worked hard in our endeavors to be a winner. We have many sacrifices to make. Long hair and late night are just a few of them. We are all exceptional. There are no jealousies or dissensions among us. Just lasting team, just lasting team. We all have two things in common: a desire to compete and determination to win.

The above things have come about naturally in our coaches, Coach Manning, Coach Wilkins, Coach Walker, Coach Elliott, and Coach Wilkerson. More than just amazing football team, they directed us in the discipline of the game. Sure, they taught us to block, run, pass, and "hurl". They taught us that little bit which means so much. They've portrayed to us the basic fundamentals of Dedication, determination, responsibility, courtesy, humility, and reverence are just a few.

All the Wildcats have admiration for all of these. They have done a dour job. We as Wildcats benefited much from their influence. Not only are football coaches, but good citizens. They have us to become more of a Kirk team, "solid as a rock".

And last, but not least, come to our school. Without the loyal and support of our townspeople, Student Body we could not have accomplished near as much. We say to the people that we deeply appreciate your presence at the your telegrams, and all encouragement you give to us.

To our fellow students so much. Their efforts have had a tremendous effect on our winning record. We say that the pep-rally tremendous in getting us up for games. We could not have gotten without the owe so much credit to leaders, student council, choir, and Student Body. We know this kind of support and support will come through the year in celebration, making this the year Littlefield has ever known. To the fans, townspeople, Student Body, band, choir, her loyal organizations have one thing more. "We only hope that as proud of us as we are of you!"

AMY'S ADLIBS

LITERARY MICE

By Amy Turner

IT'S BEEN A rather long and trying week, what with the mice and all around the house. Let anyone misunderstand, this is not to imply that The Publisher is a rat because I plainly said "mice."

Of course it all started with the missing key to my typewriter case which was not really just missing at all but obviously stolen.

This brought up the problem of just where would a man be likely to hide such a key... certainly not in any of the logical places like in the bottom of the sugar bowl or under the towels in the linen closet.

The missing key was finally located, of all places, in a pocket of the suspect's trousers. Needless to say, this small triumph took place about 1:39 a.m. when all, save one, were fast asleep.

I MUST ADMIT it took a while to get this column typed, bit by bit, night after night.

But I felt rather secure after wrapping three towels around the typewriter, grabbing a flashlight and hiding behind an overcoat in the back of the closet.

Unfortunately I looked up to see it standing at the closet door asking me what in the world I was doing in the middle of the night crawling around the closet with a flashlight.

With great dignity, I stood up and explained that it should be obvious that there were some literary mice running loose and I was seeking them out.

It seemed to work out rather well until breakfast the next morning when The Publisher was still mumbling about mice and the 13-year-old daughter noted:

"If there are mice in this house, then I'm leaving!"

I explained to her that they were very intelligent, even literary mice and, being a logical child, she said: "Oh, well, that's different."

I'LL NEVER UNDERSTAND men because at this point, The Publisher, for some unknown reason, jumped out of his chair and yelled: "Women!"

Then the 8-year-old son, who always agrees with The Publisher, jumped up ON his chair and yelled: "Women!"

Not to be left out of the act, the 7-year-old daughter calmly looked up from her oatmeal and asked:

"Would someone please pass the toast and I think you're all nuts."

I RUSHED for the child psychology books because I felt there must be some hidden significance here but those books never seem to have the really important things in them.

For example, when someone asks her did she have an unhappy childhood, will she have to say that no one would pass her the toast and she's hated bread ever since?

I discussed it with The Publisher but he just said to ask mice since they were so intelligent.

AT ANY RATE I have a feeling the mice will soon leave us since The Publisher initiated the following conversation only this morning:

"I am a busy man."

"Yes, dear."

"I need my sleep."

"Yes, dear."

"The mice have to go."

"Yes, dear."

"Do you suppose they might type during the day instead of the middle of the night if the typewriter case were left open?"

"I'm sure of it, dear."

DEAR EDITOR

He Says Thanks

Dear Sir:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your help in getting my views before the public during the recent campaign.

When the Congress convenes I will be doing everything possible to see that the residents of the 18th District are aware of my position on every issue which comes before the House of Representatives.

I am looking forward to working with you in every way possible to see that the citizens of the Panhandle are kept informed of the actions of their government.

Sincerely,
Bob Price

Real Pleased

Dear Bill:

Best wishes to the Turners for a highly successful venture at Littlefield!

We were real pleased to learn that your new place of endeavor lets us remain as neighbors. When you told us sometime ago about considering a new opportunity, we were afraid we might be losing you from the area, so we're glad to learn this is not the case.

We are not now receiving the Littlefield papers, and in order to "keep up with the Turners" we would like to-if you see fit to put us on an exchange basis. As always, you'll be getting the bad end of the trade, but you should be used to that.

Regards,
Bill Ellis

OWNER'S REPORT

Re-Runs And Computers

By Bill Turner

WHEN TELEVISION came along, it was a great thing.

But some things which have happened lately make me wonder about the marvel of the ages, or as some people put it, "the idiot box."

One of the big events of the football year --- the Notre Dame-Michigan State game--- was put on as a re-run.

Now that shouldn't upset a fellow, really, but if you're a football fan, it isn't much fun watching a hashed-over version of something about which you already know the outcomes.

It would have been all right if everybody had just kept quiet about how the game came out. Then you could watch it and get all the thrill out of being kept in suspense about the final score.

It was almost like one of my jokes---it was spoiled before I got to the punch line.

One of the fellows here at the office mentioned Saturday afternoon that he sure wanted to get home by 5 p.m. so he could see the ND-MSU game.

Before you knew it, one of the girls popped up and declared: "What for? It ended in a tie."

It was a death blow.

Phooey on re-runs.

IT WAS JUST about the same way on the election returns.

The man on TV said Tower had won. But how could that be? The polls had closed only 30 minutes ago and down at the place where I voted, the fellow said they'd be counting ballots until way up in the night.

Late that night we called the election judge and asked, "How did Tower and Carr come out here?"

"Too early to tell... we're still counting," came the reply.

But TV had already declared Tower the winner.

THE NEWS-LEADER office used to be mobbed election nights. But lately, almost no one comes down to see how things are going. Instead we phone home to ask the TV watchers who won.

You can't knock the computers. Their forecasts are always right, except when some dumb human being feeds them wrong.

But they are too fast for our old-fashioned taste.

Losers should be let down more easily. It must be heck to hear you're beat even before your relatives' votes are counted. And winners should have more time to savor the coming victory. It's not so much fun to win the ballgame in the first three minutes when you have to play out the remaining 57 or lose your humble image.

As for spectators, the computers eliminate all the excitement and suspense.

And a guy loses another reason to stay downtown late.

Phooey on progress.

THROUGH THE YEARS

10 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader, Thursday, November 22, 1956)

The ballot for the December 11 water-sewer bond vote and election officials were approved this week by the city commission.

The ballot itself will carry three propositions, all of which must be passed if the entire $1,700,000 in improvements is to go through according to the city.

The referendum on upland cotton marketing quotas, to be held throughout cotton-producing areas on December 11, will be the eleventh vote of its kind. Doyle Turner, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said this week.

The first vote on cotton marketing quotas was held in March, 1938, and the last previous cotton referendum was in December, 1955. In the last vote, 93 percent of the farmers voting expressed approval of using the quotas for the 1956 cotton crop. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting must favor quotas before they may continue in effect.

25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader, Thursday, November 27, 1941)

To date the Lamb County farmers have received $268,946.79 in 1941 Cotton Parity payments; this amount is covered by 2,538 checks.

The undefeated and untied Brownfield Cubs with another district football trophy within their grasp, will trot out on Seely field at 2:30 this afternoon with high hopes of making short work of Coach Abe Murphy's Littlefield Wildcats, the only hurdle that remains between them and the championship.

Littlefield, who was tied with Slaton for the North Zone title, was awarded same by the district executive committee which met at Levelland Monday night and therefore were designated to play Brownfield, the south zone champions for the district title.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Connally: No Promises On Teacher Pay

By Larry Fuhrmann

Our State Capitol Correspondent

ALTHOUGH COMMITTING his "full cooperation and full assistance" to the cause of public education, Governor Connally has told members of the Texas State Teachers Association that he can make no promises concerning the pay raise being requested by the organization.

The teachers organization is calling for monthly raises of $61 to $100, designed to bring Texas teachers' salaries up to the national average.

The Upper Room

"Although the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them, saying, 'Peace be with you!' (John 20:26, NEB)

For more than half a century, the sparkling, warm-hearted people of Chile have won my deepest admiration. In 1928, I knew a young man whose capacity to keep his peace under any circumstance was admirable. In the church and in business, he has been given positions of trust because in Christ he is master of himself.

Peace is not a Christmas gift beautifully wrapped. Peace is an active and a perfect peace of the soul. It is the harvest of the spirit, and to reap a harvest we need to plant.

We ask, why did Jesus not tell us plainly how to achieve peace? Did He not? He showed us the way to peace through His Gethsemane. We cannot conceive the magnitude of His suffering; but all of us do have deep experiences that change our lives, experiences that provide us a glimpse into the great reality of Jesus' peace.

If we would achieve peace, we need to become more like Jesus. We need a closer walk with Him.

PRAYER: Loving Father, help us to reflect the peace of Jesus. May He live in us and say to us, as He did to His disciples when He showed them His hands and side, "Peace be with you." In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: If we would achieve peace, we must learn the way of Jesus.

--Ethel S. Carhart / THE UPPER ROOM

MEMBERS of the Valley Farm Workers Assistance Committee of Austin spent the night at the Capitol recently in an all-night vigil supporting the Rio Grande Valley strike and a minimum wage. The vigil kicked off a food, clothing and money drive for the farm workers.

A NEW ADDITION to the University of Texas skyline is soon to begin competition with the tower as final plans are approved by Regents for a $15-million academic complex. The structure will be built on what is now the intramural field and men's tennis courts, near Memorial Stadium.

The complex will include several buildings --a 14-story dormitory for 1,800 women, a 10-story dormitory for 1,200 men, classrooms, faculty offices, an auditorium, and parlments for residence counselors.

FORMER BRAZILIAN PRESIDENT Juscelino Kubitschek would like to see an alliance between all countries of the Western Hemisphere "in order to make Latin America one of the world's great powers." Kubitschek told an overflow crowd at the University that development of Latin America's economics and politics "will involve a great continental solidarity."

"The whole of Latin America is economically handicapped by single-crop or single-production," he said.

TO THOSE OF YOU interested in keeping up with the activities of that controversial group called the SDA (Students for a Democratic Society):

They called it "Gentle Thursday," and it had the greatest following of any SDS project on the UT campus. It wasn't a protest, just a day to be gentle, a day to love everybody, a day when the SDS girls supposedly had the right to kiss any fraternity man they came upon.

The day was warm and clear, and the West Hall lawn was covered with "everybody and his balloon and cat." Literally. It was no private affair, with as many as 250 sitting it out on the lawn with the members of SDS. Some shared sandwiches and cigarettes, and others gave free philosophy.

But the "gentle" atmosphere didn't extend into Waggoner Hall, when the question of "How would we have won World War II if groups like the SDS had refused to fight?" was brought up. With two SDS members about, the atmosphere was anything but gentle. Incidentally, the question was never answered.

Growers Get Facts On Vote

About $70 million was spent last year for promotion of man-made fibers. That compares to $4 million spent to promote cotton.

This was brought out by Dr. James Kirby as he explained provisions of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act in a meeting at the Heart of Texas Fairgrounds at Waco. Kirby is an Extension marketing and policy economist at Texas A & M University and one of a team of Extension specialists holding educational meetings on the Act attempting to explain both sides of the issue.

Kirby said research expenditures by the man-made fiber industry last year were $135 million compared with total cotton research funds of just over $25 million.

He pointed out the Act provides for a $1 a bale check-off for cotton growers--the money refundable on written request. The money would be used for research and promotion of cotton products. Cotton growers will vote in the referendum December 5-9 to accept or reject the proposal.

Kirby gave several favoring and opposing points of view on the referendum.

He said those who oppose the Research and Promotion Act say that legislation which forces cotton handlers to deduct one dollar per bale is a potentially dangerous policy and restricts a farmer's freedom of choice. He said those who support the act say that the farmer can get a full refund of the dollar a bale if he does not wish to support the program. They say this gives the farmer a choice.

Kirby said those who oppose the Act say it gives too much authority to the Secretary of Agriculture. He said those who support the Act say the Secretary's authority would be much less than he has under some 30 other marketing programs that now involve research and promotion.

Kirby explained that since 1960 a research and promotion campaign has been carried on by the National Cotton Council. It has been financed by a one dollar a bale voluntary contribution by growers. Contributions last year amounted to $2.5 million. If all growers had contributed one dollar a bale, he said, the total would have been about $15 million for Up-land cotton. Kirby said the Cotton Council has had problems of collecting funds, an irregular total income, and disproportionate contributions.

Kirby told the group, "The decision you make in the referendum requires an answer to two basic questions:

"First, do you think research and promotion aimed at increasing the sale of your cotton is the proper method to use to get a greater share of the fiber market?"

"Second, if you believe increased emphasis on research and promotion will benefit cotton sales, then is the organization of cotton producers as proposed in the Cotton Research and Promotion Act acceptable to you as a way to raise the money?"

Kirby said purpose of the Extension meetings is educational--not to say whether the proposed check-off is good or bad--but to present the facts and let growers make their own decision.

First Thanksgiving In 1621 Became Nationwide In 1864

Did you know that Thanksgiving didn't become a nation-wide observance until 1864? It's a fact! And this is just one of the many surprising facts about our traditional American holiday.

The first Thanksgiving was held in December of 1621, when Governor William Bradford of the Plymouth Colony appointed a day of celebration and sent four men out to shoot wild turkeys and other fowl.

The Pilgrims had come ashore from the Mayflower on Dec. 21, 1620. The winter that followed had been heart-breaking; half of the entire band had perished of disease, hunger and exposure. But the following March, two Algonquin speaking Indians, Samoset from the Pennaquid tribe and Squanto from the Wampanoag tribe, befriended the remaining group, gave them Indian corn seed--telling them to plant "when the oak leaves are as big as mouse-ears," and to catch fish to fertilize the soil. Thus the seeds were sown for the first Thanksgiving harvest.

It was a warm and bright summer, and the crops grew and thrived. When autumn arrived, the three log warehouses were filled with provisions--the harvest of 20 acres of corn, and 6 acres of wheat, rye, barley and peas.

Governor Bradford thought it fitting to celebrate and give thanks for their good fortune and a formal invitation was issued to Massasoit, grand sachem of the Pokanoket Indians to join them in a feast of Thanksgiving. Massasoit arrived with 90 of his followers and stayed for three days of feasting!

Thanksgiving days following harvests later came to be celebrated throughout the New England Colonies but on different and varying days. George Washington proclaimed November 26, 1789, as the first national Thanksgiving Day in honor of the new constitution; but the custom continued to vary widely among the states--kept alive only by the proclamations of local governors.

It was a woman, Sarah Josepha Hale, however, who first suggested that Thanksgiving should be a national patriotic holiday. She was the editor of the popular woman's magazine called "Godey's Lady's Book," and for almost 20 years she campaigned through editorials and letters to the President, state governors and other influential persons.

Finally, Sarah Hale was able to win the support of President Abraham Lincoln. In the third year of the Civil War, he believed that the Union had been saved; he therefore proclaimed a national day of thanksgiving to be celebrated on Thursday, November 26--naming the last Thursday in November as the day to be observed each year.

Today the occasion is still a time for giving thanks with reverent prayers, flower decorations and a turkey feast.

But while it is wild and domestic turkey that is traditional in the United States for Thanksgiving, in Japan a similar holiday of thanks is celebrated each year on November 23rd with visits to shrines and candy and pots of hot ceremonial tea.

The colorfully-clad natives on the island of Sardinia, on the other hand, meet at the end of the harvest season in August to offer their thanks in the Festival of the Savior. At sundown a solemn procession of people proceed to Church for prayer and to give thanks. Within a few days after the festival, the hunting season starts!

In Bavaria at the thanksgiving festivals, which take place each year at the end of the harvest season, natives dress in traditional attire and perform folk dances which go back to the 13th and 14th centuries. It doesn't matter if you choose to celebrate Thanksgiving in the typical American fashion with domestic and wild turkey, or with colorful folk dances, or with hot ceremonial tea--just as long as the spirit remains, making the holiday one of the year's most eagerly awaited and universally enjoyed.

Harvest Festival Held By Whitharral PTA

By NILAH RODGERS

WHITHARRAL -- School royalty was the crowning attraction of the PTA Harvest Festival Saturday night at the Whitharral schools.

Claudia Wade and Terry Rodgers became high school queen and king, Mary Ann Vasquez and Joe Paul Tedder were named junior high queen and king, and Terri Howard and Bud Reding reigned over grade school.

Gary Chavez, David Thetford and Jerry de la Garza carried the crowns.

Carolyn Benton, Lisa Claiborn and Stacy Pelfrey were train bearers for the royalty.

Princess and prince for Miss Graham's first grade were Kim White and Mitchell Grant. Mary Torres and Albert Torres represented Mrs. Robinson's first grade.

Prince and princess for the other grades were Ronnie Davis and Lana Dukatnik, second grade; Lupe Coronado and Kathy Thetford, third; and Mike Grant and Debbie Williams, fourth grade.

Others in the royal court from junior high were Beth Pelfrey and Ruben Martinez, sixth grade; and Alice Davilla and John Garcia, eighth.

In high school Christina Estorga and Rex Avery from the freshman delegation, Margaret Fagan and Ramon Vasquez, junior delegation, and Mary Jane Pence and Walter Caldwell, senior delegation completed representation.

Flower girls were Teresa Davis and Kay Minter.

Sharon Wade narrated the pageant while Gayle Burrus was at the piano. Pages were Charlotte Caldwell and Judy Wade. Ann Denney and Shari Throckmorton ushered.

Before the coronation each grade had a carnival booth. Ring tossing, pitching pennies, a cake walk, basketball toss, marriage booth, sponge throw, spook house and country store were some of the attractions.

The PTA served hamburgers, coffee, cold drinks, doughnuts, brownies and cupcakes throughout the evening. Mrs. Don Avery, PTA proxy, reports a profit of about $150 for the evening.

Proceeds from the festival will help pay for the blazers for the traveling squad of the football and basketball teams. The jackets cost $18.75 each with the total coming to $500 or $600.

A talent show in March will raise more money for the project.

COTTONS DIPPED in light starch solutions are less apt to soil easily; also, stains wash out more readily. Try the starch treatment for tablecloths and play clothes.

SAVE THE little plastic pill containers after they have been emptied. They can be filled with catsup, mustard, relish, and the like, and placed in the children's lunch boxes.

WHEN YOU advance the temperature control on your generator, tie a piece of ribbon to the door handle a hard-to-miss reminder to set the control later.
