TidBits

By H.V.O.

Perhaps we of the press in Eastland county have been negligent in not reporting adequately on one action of a recent 91st District grand jury that deserves general and serious attention.

The grand jury of the February term unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the Texas Legislature to delay passage of a proposed new Penal Code until the next session of the Legislature in 1973.

The contention of the grand jury was that enactment of a code of such general, far-reaching and fundamental revision of the state's criminal statutes should not be done hastily, but should wait until all interested parties have had time to study it thoroughly and there is a general public understanding of what it provides.

Even a cursory examination of the recommendations of the commission which drew up the code and offered it to the Legislature in revision of the present criminal laws compels agreement with the view. The draft contains some 500 pages and represents, in the words of Henry Wade, Dallas criminal district attorney, "a total redrafting of Texas Penal Law in which nearly every statue is altered substantially."

A document of that magnitude and fundamental character certainly demands that it be given the most deliberate and careful study. Once it is enacted it will be with us forever — or practically so. This is especially true when, as the Wade analysis makes clear, it effectually writes a blanket clemency into Texas anti-crime statutes and reduces the penalties for some of the most heinous crimes to little more than those now provided for major misdemeanors.

District Attorney Emory Walton at Eastland has furnished a digest of the Wade critique and a copy of the grand jury resolution along with some comments of his own that make interesting, even startling reading.

It is difficult to understand motives that would take advantage of the public pre-occupation with taxes and other national, state and local problems so insistent now, to push such a wholesale liberation of our Criminal Code through the Legislature, but that seems to be just what has been attempted.

County Agent Tells Lions About New Grasses

Adaptability of new grasses introduced to this area was discussed by County Agent De Gordon for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the White Elephant Tuesday.

Bill Walters was program chairman and introduced Gordon who emphasized first that "There are no 'miracle' grasses" and that each has its individual weak and strong points.

He told of Kleingrass 75, wintergreen Harding and Coast-cross Bermuda, all three of which have been tested and are being introduced to this area. The three have been found to be highly productive in tests and the wintergreen is the only perrenial winter grass. There are presently some 50,000 to 60,000 acres of coastal bermuda in this county, he said.

President J. B. Arther presided and guests included George Fields, Mike Siebert, Tilman Harbin (recently retired and moved back here) and Incoming Club Sweetheart Sarah Brewer. Emory Walton will have the program next week.

Light Bulb Sale Chairman Bill Leslie reported that all members are urged to be ready for the Tuesday, April 20, sale to begin at 5 p.m. with headquarters to be at the Waiters gazebo. Six teams are set to canvass the town and offer the packages of eight bulbs each at $2.25.

Band Banquet Saturday, Spring Concert Monday

By PAUL WALLACE

The Eastland Bands have been extremely busy the last few weeks with U.I.L. concert and sight-reading contest. the Sweetwater Music Festival, the Cisco Jr. High Music Festival, and the coming Spring Concert, Band Banquet, and Concert at Six Flags Over Texas. So much has happen that our reporting to the newspaper was overlooked in order to focus all or our attention toward the music.

The Sweetwater Music Festival was March 6th and the Maverick Band played a fine concert of three selections. "Men of Music" by K. L. King was used for the marchi and "Britannia" by John Edmunds was used for the class A selection. The class AA selection was "Chant and Jubilo" by Dr. Francis McBeth. This contest is used as a trial contest by most band directors in their preparation for the state's U.I.L. concert and sight-reading contest. The Maverick band received a IIIrd division in concert playing and a IInd division in the sight-reading contest.

The U.I.L. contest and Sight-reading contest was Friday March 26th at Cisco Jr. College. Eastland, due to the enrollment and distance from the contest site, fell heir to the first band to perform in the contest. The band played very well in the concert yet did not impress the three judges enough for the first division award, as they were given a IInd division. The concert selections were changed somewhat after the Sweetwater Festival results, Dr. M. L. Daniels (Head of the Music Dept. at ACC) has written a March called "Concert March" which is not a published work at present, and the Maverick Band used this number as their warm-up march. "Britannia" by John Edmunds and Dr. Francis McBeth's "Chant and Jubilo" were used as the other two selections respectively. In the sight-reading the band did an adequate performance but due to several mistakes were awarded a IIIrd division.

On March 27th Paul Wallace director of bands in Eastland had the opportunity to attend an all day band clinic at A. C.C. with Dr. Francis McBeth being the clinician. "It was one of the most inspiring days I have ever had in school, and I received information on how to perform "Concert March" and "Chant and Jubilo" directly from the composers." It has been Mr. Wallace's desire to know as many composers as he possibly can personally, and through his attendance at clinics, festivals, and contests he has accomplished this goal in band literature.

The Cisco Jr. High Music Festival is the largest contest on the Jr. High level in Texas. This year there were 71 bands to compete in the contest and sight-reading contest. The bands were given division ratings of I. II.III, IV. and V, with I being the best rating and V being the lowest. Many bands were given IIIrd and IVth divisions this year as the judging was consistently hard. The Eastland Jr. High Band was given a IInd division in both concert playing and sight-reading.

At the Cisco Music Festival the students are given the opportunity to play graded solos and in ensembles. The Eastland band students (6th, 7th, and 8th grades) were given 21 first division awards, 40 second divisions, and 6 third divisions, with no fourth or fifth divisions.

The next big event will be the band banquet April 17 at the Elementary School Cafetorium. The high school band students and the junior high band students, and their parents are welcome to attend. The cost will be $2.00 per person with the food and program being potentially the best to be had. Catering the meal will be Vance Godby's of Fort Worth and the program will include Wiley Peebles as speaker plus entertainment.

On April 19 the bands will present their spring concert in the Eastland High School auditorium. The time will be 8 p.m. and Paul Wallace said that the program will be short. All three bands will perform, the cadet (6th grade), Jr. High, and Maverick bands.

The Maverick band is looking forward to their concert playing contest at Six Flags over Texas on May 7th where they will perform Dr. Daniels "Concert March" and Vanclay Nelhybel's "Festivo."

This is a very short account of the countless hours that have been spent by the 130 students enrolled in the band department and time will be taken to recognize the indivi-daul efforts of those outstanding first division winners.

Mrs. Inzer To Be P-TO Speaker

There will be a P-TO meeting, Tuesday, April 20, at 3:30 p. m. in the Eastland Elementary Cafetorium.

The program will be "Your Child, and a Healthy Personality", by Mrs. H. C. Inzer.

There will be an installation of officers, led by Mrs. Guy Patterson.

The Cadet Band will preform, directed by Paul Wallace.

One very important fact to be considered is that the new code, if enacted, would throw such a tremendous burden of interpretive decision upon the state's judicial system that orderly process would be thrown into chaos and law enforcement set back many years. It is not enough for the Legislature to enact a criminal statute; every such statute must endure a long and painful process of judicial definition before it is finally workable.

Any delay in court procedures works to the advantage of the accused and the congestion that a new code of the sort would create would offer what Wade calls a "garden" of opportunity to the criminal.

This is still to speak of the encouragement that wholesale reduction of penalties and a greater leniency in delement.

As examples, the proposed new code would abolish the death penalty for such serious crimes as aggravated rape, aggravated robbery and kidnaping. Rape by force would carry a maximum sentence of 12 years in the penitentiary, as also would robbery not involving serious bodily injury or use of a deadly weapon, an dthe sale of heroin, first offense.

Even more startling is the fact that in the manner that the proposed code is written felonies of the first degree — such as murder with malice, rape and robbery — would involve an authorized minimum punishment of $1!

There are numerous other provisions relating to defense, etc., which would smooth the road to crime and actually establish it as a profitable profession in our society.

Even if the proposed code were a reasonable and effective revision of our state's criminal laws it enactment should be approached with caution. It is too fundamental in its effects and nobody can possibly foresee what disruptive influences it might have upon the processes of law enforcement in the state.

The grand jury's resolution was wise. It is better to make haste slowly than to fall over a cliff in our haste to find solutions to problems in no wise as serious as the remedies proposed.

Anyone interested — and every citizen should be — would be well advised to read Mr. Wade's analysis of the proposed bill with Mr. Walton's comments. I believe most of those who do so will be startled at the extent and degree of liberality in the proposed new code.

Your Problems are our Business--

. . . or at least some of them are. For example, we Americans can't get along without the aotomobile. As a consequence, we have problems some of which may be very grave and expensive. So we look to insurance—which is strictly Amerijan—for what relief it will affort. It can't so've all of our troubles, but over the years, it has saved our customers an untold amount of money by simply having the kind of insurance that paid off when needed. Are you adequately insured?

H.D. DEMONSTRATION DAY SET FOR APRIL 19 IN EASTLAND

Highlights for the annual Eastland County Home Demonstration Day activities include tours of Victor Cornelius' Company, Aztec Trailor Manufacturing Plant, House of Webster Manufacturing Co., and a noon luncheon on Monday, April 19th.

Luncheon speaker will be Katharyn Duff, Assistant Editor and Page One Columnist for Abilene Reporter-News. Miss Duff, who is widely known, has been associated with the newspaper since October, 1943, working in various areas. She has done much political writing covering several sessions of the Texas Legislature for Harte-Hanks newspapers, various campaigns and state and national political conventions including the 1969 Chicago Democratic Convention. Awards include first place winner, Texas Associated Press contests for news features (on West Texas Water developments) and for women's writing when serving as society editor. Miss Duff also won the National Thomas L. Stokes Award in 1961 for best writing in the field of conservations with series on West Texas salt water pollution problems—this before pollution was a popular subject.

Hale, of Carbon, Mrs. Zelma Lusk of Eastland, Mrs. Albert Hendricks, of Kokomo, who are members of the H. D. Interest in Grandfather Clocks Revives

Fairhope, Ala. — Emperor Clock Company of Fairhope, Alabama has succeeded in generating a revival of interest in the traditional grandfather clock. The renaissance began just two years ago.

"General acceptance of grandfather clock ownership has been nation-wide," reports George Fowler, President. "Sales have been so good that it pushes production to meet the demand. It appears that the traditional grandfather clocks are a national status symbol," Fowler added.

"Grandfather clocks are among the most treasured furniture pieces handed down as heirlooms from generation to generation. They grow in value and survive the changes of time," Fowler said. "The Emperor Clock Company enhances the beauty and charm of cherished grandfather clocks is thus reduced to a popular price range," Fowler stated.

Wood, cut from solid mahogany and walnut, under the skill of southern furniture craftsmen, and movements imported from West Germany, give Emperor Grandfather Clocks a warm, rich beauty and lasting dependability as a time-keeping instrument.

Each clock features the well-known Westminster Chimes. Other models offer a choice of the Westminster, Whittington or St. Michael Chimes.

Emperor Clock Company not only sells assembled, unfinished cases without movements, and completely finished clocks with movements, but "do-it-yourself" kits for building your own grandfather clock. Emperor Clock, in addition, offers detailed blueprint plans of each model at a nominal cost.

CONVERSATIONS on CARPETING

By Pete Brashier

DO IT YOURSELF

Pete Brashier

The "Do it yourself" craze has been with us for a long time. But never before have homeowners & apartment dwellers been more interested in "Do it yourself" decorating. More and more people seem to want to "get involved" in creating attractive and comfortable places to live.

The advent of the carpet tile was a dream come true for the "Do it yourself" decorator. Carpeting an entire room has become an easy task thanks to these foam-backed, self-adhesive squares. Available in 12 inch, (occasionally 18 inch) squares, these carpet tiles offer a wide range of attractive colors to choose from.

Carpet tiles aren't difficult to install. They can be layed directly over old flooring, but be sure the floor is clean, smooth, and free of wax. A pair of scissors or a common utility knife can be used for cutting the squares to fit around moldings, registers, and other odd shaped areas.

Laying carpet tiles makes good budget sense because you do away with costly installation charges. If an area of your carpet becomes damaged, simply remove those tiles and substitute new ones. If you're a wanderer, carpet tiles make sense for you too. When you move, just pick up your carpeting and take it with you.

Would you like to try your hand at "Do it yourself" decorating? Stop in soon and see our large selection of easy-to-install carpet tiles.

THE GORDON SPOT

By County Agent DEE GORDON

Pork producers have been asking many questions about the state wide quarantine on hogs. The Texas Animal Health Commission has ordered a 60-day restriction on the movement of swine in Texas, effective March 29, to control hog cholera.

There is no reason for consumers to be alarmed. The action was taken not because of new cut breaks of hog Cholera, but the quarantine was placed to help eradicate hog cholera from our state. Similar action has been taken in other states that are now free of cholera. It is causing some inconvenience for pork producers.

The movement of all feeder and breeder swine within the state will be allowed only by permits issued after inspection of the herd from which they originate.

Hogs for slaughter can be moved to a packing house or to a public market without inspection and without written permits. All hogs leaving the farm without a permit must be headed for slaughter. Once at the market they can't be legally taken home or sold as feeders.

Jerry Loaghin of the Texas Animal Health Commission will be working in Eastland County every Tuesday. He will inspect herds and issue written permits to move feeder and breeding swine. Any hog producer who expects to move or sell breeding feeder hogs may leave their name at my office and I will give the list to Mr. Loaghin each Tuesday. He said he would not be here on April 13, but would be in Eastland County each Tuesday there after.

About 25 people brought ornamental problems to the plant diagnostic clinic April 6. Many questions were ask about lawn management.

Good management, including fertilizing, mowing and watering, will be even more important in the weeks ahead so far as the home lawn is concerned. Under the current weather conditions, low moisture and climbing temperatures, the job ahead could be a real toughy.

Turf requires adequate amount of plant food if it is to stay green and maintain growth under drouth conditions. Water requirements necessarily will have to be increased to take care of the lack of rainfall. And under watering should be avoided if at all possible. Soak the soil to a depth of several inches at each watering; thus maintaining a good turf. In the long run, the amount of water used will be no more and may be less then when light sprinkling of the lawn is practiced.

Lawns should receive an application of a complete fertilizer in the spring about the time growth begins and another in the fall a month ahead of the first frost. During the summer, an application of nitrogen every 30 to 40 days will keep the lawn green and growing and the ground covered.

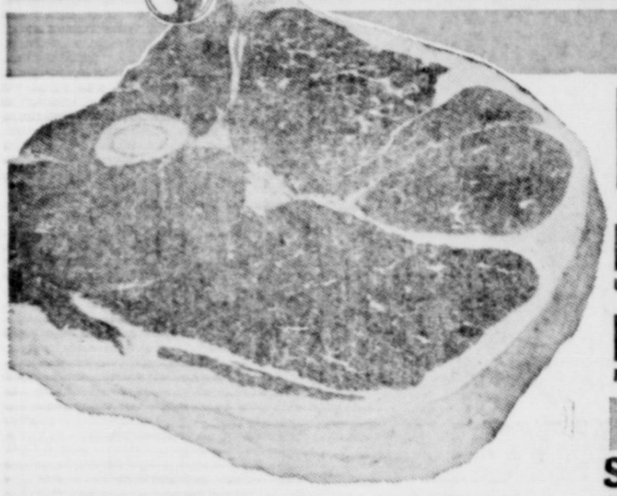

Nitrogen is the key element in turf production. It produces vegetative growth and gives the plant a deep green color. Phosphorus stimulates development of a good root system and potassium affects the phyciological processes of the plant.

A deficiency of nitrogen causes stunted plant growth and the condition often referred to as "firing." Slow growth results from the lack of phosphorus and a shortage of potassium causes the entire plant to "dry up" and take on a brownish color.

The lack of water can cause many of the same symptoms and when coupled with deficient plant nutrients, the stand of lawn grass may be lost. Do not mow too short. A longer turf is insulation against heat, and gives protection against possible damage from the sun.
