IS A BREAK COMING?

Farmers 'Waiting' For Labor's Move

Area farmers are just "sitting and waiting" for the next move by the United States Department of Labor, according to Elvon De Vaney, of the Western Texas Farm Labor Association in Muleshoe.

After meeting with Assistant Secretary of Labor, Jerry Holleman may be thinking because of protests from all corners.

The trio, W. A. Harden of Muleshoe, Melborn Jones of Farwell and Donald Kimball of Wildorado, made the trip to the national capital and met with Labor representatives.

Holleman gave his reasons for interpreting the law (Public Law 78) the way he did, but emphasized that his interpretations were not final, pending on the reasons he received from objectors to the interpretations.

(Farmers have been urged to write to Holleman to give their reasons for opposing the regulations.)

Holleman then asked for a 20-day delay in announcing any further interpretations of the law. It is hoped that at that time he will relax the stipulations a bit from the original interpretations.

The Assistant Labor Secretary had been scheduled to speak to area farmers on Feb. 11, but because of the delay, rescheduled a meeting in Midland for Feb. 28.

DeVaney said that Holleman would be in Albuquerque, N.M. on Feb. 8, and that he planned to hear him there.

"We're just waiting until he tells us what to do next," said DeVaney. "He got the stick, and will use it to suit himself."

It was the feeling, though, that Holleman may be "calling off his hounds" to some extent. "I think he may help us out a little," DeVaney said, saying that the use of Mexican Nationals in cotton trailers or the declaration of undue hardship more readily might be the areas the Labor department would relax the Bracero ruling.

Hinkson In Withdrawal From Race

Frank Hinkson of Lazbuddie said this week that he is withdrawing his name for the race for United States Representative, 18th District.

Hinkson gave his reasons as lack of organization, and said that he was throwing his support to fellow Republican Jack Seale of Amarillo, who was to be his opponent for the Republican nomination.

"I'm not selling out to Seale," Hinkson told the Muleshoe Journal. "But I've talked with him several times. His viewpoints are about the same as mine, so there's no use bumping our heads together."

Hinkson indicated that he would work toward the election of Seale on the Republican ticket.

"Texas definitely needs the two-party system," the Lazbuddie cattleman said. "Freedom of choice is the biggest thing in life, from the spiritual to political," he said.

Hinkson, who first entered the race because he was "fed up with liberalism in the Democratic party," said he wasn't going to quit what he had started out to do.

Asked whether he might make another attempt for a public office, Hinkson replied "Yes, I might. I'll know a little more about it the next time."

Other county officials, seeking re-election, are also unopposed. They are County Clerk (Hazel Gilbreath), County Treasurer (Edith Witt) and Justice of the Peace, precinct one (Joe D. Vaughn).

For District Judge, to fill the seat being given up by Judge E. A. Bills after a number of years, Pat Boone, Jr. is unopposed.

BLASTS AID, SOCIALISM

Lauck In Warning At Chamber Fete

By BILL ELLIS
Journal Editor

Chester (Lum) Lauck gave the people of Muleshoe a lot of laughs but more important, a lot of serious ideas to consider at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night.

Burton Rites Were Conducted January 26

Funeral services were conducted last Friday for Kenneth Charles Burton, 48, a resident of Bailey County since 1929.

Burton passed away Friday morning. He is survived by his wife, Barbara, three children, Mrs. Roy Clift of Muleshoe, Sheryl and Darrell Burton of the home.

Also surviving is his mother, Mrs. Lella Burton of Port Huene, Calif., and three sisters, Mrs. R. B. Parsons, Tulsa; Mrs. Ruth Needham, and Miss Paulina Burton, of Port Huene, Calif., and one grandchild.

Born in Guthrie Center, Iowa, Burton lived in Castro County before moving to Muleshoe. He was a trucking and heavy equipment operator.

Services were held at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. J. Frank Peery officiating. Burial was in Muleshoe cemetery.

Pall bearers were Bill Maddox, Arnold Gross, Aloys Burge, Hugh Truman, Theo Actkinson, John Mock, Gail Gibson and D. J. Gage. Honorary pall bearers were Spencer Beavers, Phelps Murrell, Davis Anderson, T. L. Timmons, Ray Edwards, Tom Berry, James Macha, W. Q. Casey, Cecil Atchley, Chester Anderson, Frank Snyder, Lusky Green and Jay Burge.

Three Way Man Is Injured Sat.

J. B. (Jim) Cunningham, who farms 31 miles southwest of Muleshoe in the Three Way vicinity suffered a compound fracture of the wrist and elbow and face lacerations when he came in contact with the power shaft on a stalk shredder.

The mishap, last Saturday morning, was witnessed by a neighbor Don Carpenter, who brought Cunningham to West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe for treatment.

Mrs. White In A 'Thank You'

Mrs. Marie White of the Decorations Committee for the Chamber of Commerce banquet said she wished to thank everyone who donated lamps and helped in other ways for the committee.

Others working on decorations were Mrs. Mary Reed, Mrs. W.B. McSpadden and Mrs. Phylis Beavers.

appeared before a near-capacity crowd at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria, and punctuated his words of wisdom with the kind of humor that made him world-famous as half of the radio-motion picture team of Lum and Abner for a quarter of a century.

Now an executive assistant with Continental Oil Co. in Houston, Lauck says he enjoys going places and meeting people all over the country. And, as evidenced Monday night, people enjoy meeting him.

"Nothing is too big for you to accomplish," he told the Chamber members and guests. "We should take pride in doing for ourselves. It's plain good business to work," he said.

Lauck said that he had no ax to grind on the question of Federal aid to education, but hastened to add that he hated to see another of our "freedomers" disappear. "There's no such thing as something for nothing," he warned.

With Federal aid to education, our school system would cost us about 2 times as much as it does today, he said, predicting that our tax dollar would gain a return of about 40 cents by the time all the bureaus were taken care of.

"What happened to free enterprise in farming?" Lauck asked. "The government tells you farmers what to plant, how much to plant, and then pay you what it wants to. Not much freedom there," he said.

Lauck said that the trend toward socialism is a dangerous thing, stating that he felt, however, that the country was beginning to get on the right road, and that he wasn't near as alarmed as he was a few years ago.

Poll Tax Receipts High

Approximately 2,000 poll tax receipts were purchased by county voters, according to a preliminary estimate by Bailey County Tax Assessor-Collector Dess Stafford.

The total was considered very good, likely a record for the county in a non-presidential election year.

The tax office began the sale of 1962 license plates today (Feb. 1).

national debt, Lauck said he wondered what kind of legacy we were leaving our children and future generations. "They are entitled to inherit this republic intact and unmortgaged!" he said.

"The trouble with our representatives in Washington is that they think more about the next election than they do about the next generation, Lauck jibed. "We've got too many 'Democrats' and 'Republicans' and not enough 'United States' representatives," he said.

Lauck encouraged the gathering to start at the precinct level in working for better government, and work up.

Special entertainment was furnished by the Imperial Discho quartet, composed of Tye Young, Jack Young, Doyle Trapp and Roy Young.

Dr. Ray Santos served as master of ceremonies, and kept the program on a lively note.

Tribute was paid to the retiring directors by 1961 Chamber president Robert Alford. Those men are W. B. LeVeque, Roy Whit, Norman Thomas and John Crow.

DRIVER-LESS RANCHERO GOES ON RAMPAGE

Rash of Accidents Leaves One Dead, Three Injured

A Farwell man was killed Wednesday night when his pickup truck hit a tree between Farwell and Lariat about 8:30 p.m.

Services are pending for Bernise Ray Roberts, 40, who is survived by sons Douglas and Bill and daughter, Mrs. Don Stone, and his wife, all of Farwell.

A rear tire blowout was believed to be the cause of the accident. A rash of accidents during the past few days in Bailey County has left at least three persons injured and considerable property damage.

At West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe is Mrs. Troy Cheek of Route 2, Muleshoe, who was injured when the 1952 Chrysler she was driving collided with a 1958 Ford pickup driven by Billy Fields, also of Route 2.

Mrs. Cheek sustained a broken collar bone and face lacerations. She was enroute to the grocery store at West Camp to get eggs for a cake she was baking.

Fields was checked for injury and released. The accident occurred at a blind country intersection in the West Camp area.

Two persons were injured Monday night in a two-car accident a mile east of the state line on Farm Road 1760. A car driven by Ray Defries, attempting to come on to the road, was struck by a car driven by a Mr. Powers.

TWO HOSPITALIZED
Two persons from the Defries car were hospitalized in a Clovis hospital.

David E. Wyer was uninjured Monday morning when his 1958 GMC pickup ran into the back an International truck-trailer loaded with pipe. Wyer was driving east against the blinding early-morning sun when the accident happened.

City police have investigated a total of 13 accidents since the first of the month, although property damage has been the extent thus far, with no injuries.

Probably the strangest accident of the week happened last Sunday afternoon, and my go down as the freak accident of the year in Muleshoe.

A driver-less 1959 Ford Ranchero plowed through a city power pole and proceeded to smash through a garage wall. And the person held responsible didn't even own the automobile.

Clinton Dillard, who had the Ford pickup on trial, had it stall on him near the Dinner Bell Restaurant Sunday afternoon. The key had been lost and it was being started by direct wiring.

Dillard got out and started the Ranchero, but it had been left in gear and started to gain momentum. He was prevented from getting back in the Ranchero by a telephone pole, which knocked him down.

SHEARS POLE
The pick-up proceeded across the Dinner Bell parking lot threaded between two objects located near the alley, sheared off a telephone pole, and continued across a street where it smashed into the side of the garage at the John Mills residence, 1538 West Ave. B.

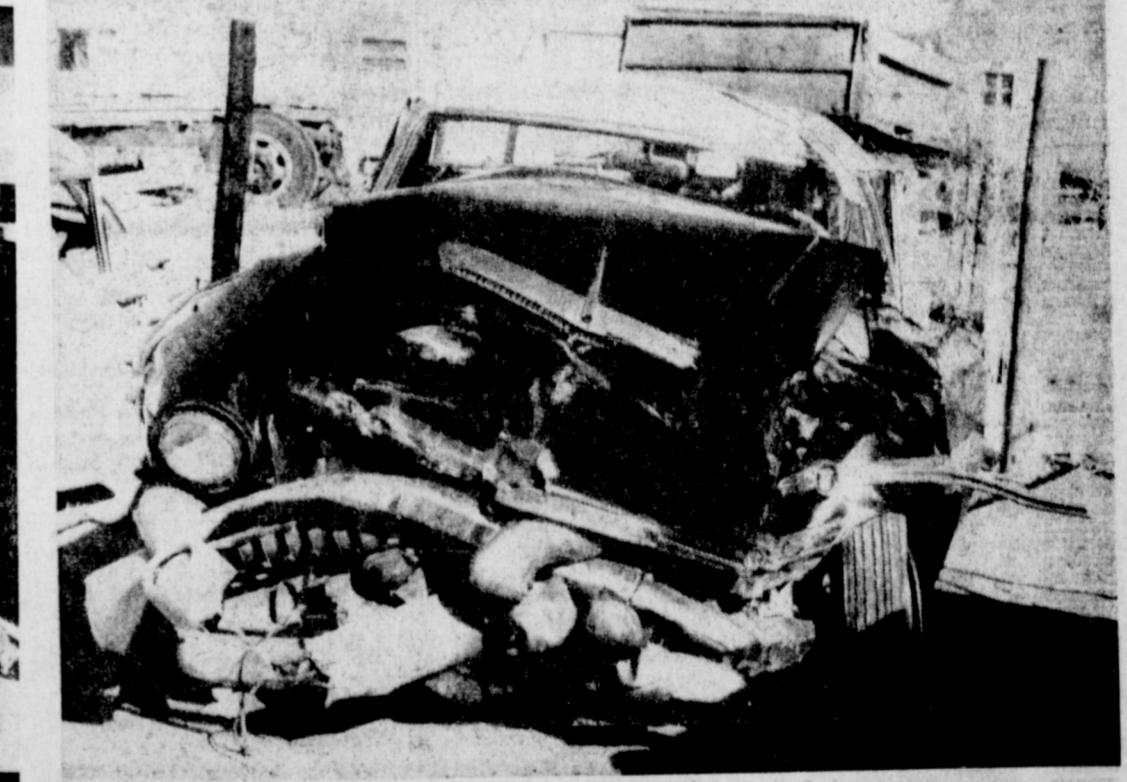

Minor damage was done to a pickup belonging to Mills which was parked inside the garage.

A "runaway Ranchero" sheared the above telephone pole (arrow points to stump), but this didn't stop it.

Ranchero finally was halted by garage belonging to John Mills, 1538 West Ave. B. The pick-up became a runaway when it was started in gear from the outside. (Journal Photos and engravings.)

One of the cars involved in the accident near State Line on West Camp highway, which hospitalized two persons. Three major wrecks in three days left one dead, several injured. (Journal photo and engraving.)

Fashion Experts Foresee Trends

RUFFLES — "Yes, but ruffles do not necessarily make a silly, fluttery Bill e Burke type of dress. If done right, they can adorn in a soignée rather than a sweet fashion, and I think we'll be having more of that sort of thing."

FIT—"Close to the body but never pasted to it."

HEMLINES—"They will be an individual matter, short for most people, longer for some but never as long as Simmetta in Italy would like to see them be."

COSTUME DRESS — "With rapid travel and so many a r conditioned places, the world is about the same temperature the year 'round. Little coats and jackets over dresses are ideal these days, and will continue to be."

FURS—"They will be to strong for they are women's best means of flattery. They will often be used as accessories instead of jewelry. Yes, zebra and leopard prints will continue to be good next year."

PLEATS AND FLARE — "I have no feeling about them one way or another."

COLLARS AND SLEEVES — "Minimum of these, there will be as much exposure as possible."

Color expert Madge Wilson says about:

PLAIDS — "There is a tendency to be more conservative. Backgrounds will be in color but the block will be white or black."

"NOTHING" COLORS—"Favorites, accessory colors will be neutral grays, heathers, vicunas instead of olive, putty and oatmeal hues we now have."

PARIS HUES—"The European market is copying us, in fact behind us. We are not going to go back to the dark tone hues they are using."

Ruby Semler has these comments about fabrics:

CHIFFONS—"They are gradually losing out, shouldn't be too important by next year."

CREPES—"We'll see more of these with refinements such as nubby weaves."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By COY GARRETT

By managing ranges to get maximum sustained forage production, ranchers are able to increase beef production. In recent years they have developed many important practices, each using those which fit his own operations.

Some of the most common practices such as proper stocking, deferred grazing, range re-seeding, and fencing for even cattle distribution have become routine range operations.

PROGRAMS STARTED

Water conservation has become increasingly important during the past years. Water is the chief factor limiting forage and livestock production. In order to hold the water when it does fall and utilize it for best results, it has been necessary to initiate several new practices.

These include the practice of installing net wire diversions on shallow depressions above gullies, overfalls and at end of existing structures to introduce further spreading.

Other new practices include the use of spreader dikes designed to slow down water and let it soak in as it moves down slope. Water holding stock dams located to impound water from extensive watersheds usually supply cattle with water the year 'round.

All of these enabling practices are designed to conserve precious moisture. Brush control is another practice that has proven beneficial by increasing production from 50 to 70 per cent.

MOIST YEARS BEST

Both chemical and mechanical controls are employed. Best control is realized during moist years when brush is making good growth.

conservation rancher uses these conservation tools to wisely manage his range so that sustained high level forage production can be maintained.

In times of severe drought he can readily adjust to the needs of his range for continued improvement and protection.

Technicians of the local work unit of the Soil Conservation Service are available to help ranchers and stockmen with range management and can be contacted at the Soil Conservation Service office.

Feb. 4-10 Declared Farm Bureau Week

AUSTIN — Governor Price Daniel has proclaimed the week of Feb. 4-10 "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas and has called upon citizens of the state to cooperate in the recognition and observance of the week "to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

Membership drive activities by county Farm Bureaus over the state will be concentrated during the special week, according to Millard Shivers of Waco, Texas Farm Bureau Org. director.

A big chairman's rally Jan. 23 in Austin kicked off the state farm organization's membership drive for 1962. The TFB, largest farm organization in the state and fourth largest in the nation, had 82,362 members in 1961. Objective of this year's membership drive activities is to reach a new record in membership for the tenth consecutive year.

In his proclamation, Gov. Daniel described agriculture as "vital to the economic well-being of our State and Nation," and pointed out that more than one-third of all people in Texas derive their livelihood directly or indirectly from agriculture.

"The abundance of food and fiber, produced ever more economically by an increasingly efficient agricultural industry, helps assure our citizens of the highest standard of living in the world," he declared.

Continuing, Daniel said: "The farmers and ranchers of Texas, through their organized efforts, have campaigned by democratic procedures for a voice in the affairs of the State and for improvements in the economy and government of Texas.

"These organized groups recognize the necessity and supreme importance of having an informed, prosperous and organized agriculture in our State.

"THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim February 4-10, 1962, as FARM BUREAU WEEK in Texas, and urge our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effort to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

Modern Mold Dramatizes Waldorf Apple Salad

The world-famous Waldorf Salad now is found in as many versions as there are cooks, but the original combination of sweet and tangy apple chunks, rich, crunchy walnut bits, crisp and cool celery strips remains the flavorful basis for this family-favorite salad. This modern interpretation catches these basic ingredients in a handsome molded tower of gelatin, fluffed with whipped cream and mayonnaise. Bright bits of Washington State Red Delicious or Winesap apples peek through the gelatin to create a "show-piece" salad for luncheon, dinner, or buffet serving.

Jellied Waldorf Mousse

- 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
 - 1 cup hot water
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 1 1/2 cups diced, unpeeled Washington Red Delicious or Winesap apples
 - 1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
 - 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until thick and syrupy. Blend mayonnaise and gelatin until smooth, then add diced Washington apples, celery and nutmeats. Fold whipped cream into gelatin mixture. Turn into 1 quart mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold onto salad greens. Serves 8.

Williams Reconsiders; Will Seek Re-election

Glen Williams, County Judge of Bailey County, told the Muleshoe Journal today that he has reconsidered and will be a candidate for re-election at the May 5 primary.

Judge Williams' statement follows:

"I am taking this opportunity to announce that, after much serious and prayerful consideration, I have decided to become a candidate for re-election as County Judge and Ex-officio School Superintendent of Bailey County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

"Recently, as most of you know, I made the statement that I did not plan to run again. My wife and I had discussed our personal affairs and decided at that time that it might be best for us to retire from public office and devote our time to other things. However, developments since that time have made it appear otherwise. I was never exactly satisfied with that decision because I feel very deeply about one's duties, responsibilities and opportunities for public service.

"Then too, scores of people, men and women, from all parts of the county, and from all walks of life, including businessmen, farmers, laborers, spanish and colored people, have spoken their disappointment that I might not run again; and many, many of them have requested me to reconsider. I love Bailey County, and the people of Bailey County. I am interested in her progress and welfare, and therefore I have decided that if I can be of further service to the people of Bailey County I will be happy to do so.

"The office of County Judge is one of many duties, and tremendous responsibilities. The County Judge is Ex-officio Superintendent of the schools of the county. He is Judge of both the County Civil and Criminal Courts. He is Judge of the Probate Court and the Juvenile Court. He is the presiding member of the Commissioners' Court. In addition to these official functions there are many other duties too numerous to mention, each of which involve grave responsibilities, and affect many people.

GOP Nominees Announce For Primary Election

Republican primaries will be held on May 5, the same day as Democratic primaries.

Harold Sneed has announced for re-election as county chairman; Mrs. T. R. White, for re-election as vice-chairman, of county Republicans.

D. L. Morrison, Jr., is nominee for Precinct 1A Chairman; George W. Thompson, Precinct 1 chairman; Clarence E. Main, Precinct 2 chairman for the Republicans.

"I believe that my background of experience and years of public service should qualify me to assume the responsibilities and discharge the duties of office more efficiently in the future than I have been able to in the past. I deeply appreciate your fine support and cooperation, and I thank you kindly for it. In the event you should re-elect me to this important office I promise that I will serve you faithfully, that I will maintain the personal conduct of this office on the high and honorable plain that it should enjoy, and that I will give you the highest type of leadership of which I am capable.

"I earnestly solicit your support and cooperation in the forth coming campaign.

Respectfully yours,
Glen Williams (Signed)

Mullettes Take Giant Step Toward Defense of Title

Muleshoe High School's Mullettes have taken a giant stride toward the defense of their district 2-AA basketball championship.

The Muleshoe girls won two more games during the week, to post a 7-0 record with just 3 games remaining to be played, two of them at home.

"We're in real good position now," Coach Louis Powers admitted following the win at Abernathy Tuesday. "If we can't win it now, we don't deserve to," he said.

The Muleshoe coach pointed out that his cagers had a rough time ahead should they win district, with three good teams currently battling it out for the title.

The Mullettes scored their sixth district win at Lockney last Friday, a 43-37 decision, as the second half of district play began. They led throughout the game, 10-6 after one period, 24-16 at halftime and 33-30 at the three-quarter mark.

Trudy Davis' 20 points sparked the win, with Mary Wedel's 17 as able backing. Karen Ashton led the Lockney girls with 15 points.

At Abernathy Tuesday night, Muleshoe came up with a good performance in downing the home team, 51-43. The Mullettes opened fast for a 16-10 first quarter lead.

but had that trimmed to three at halftime, 29-25.

The Locas increased their advantage to eight points as the third quarter ended, 43-35, and played on an even keel the last eight minutes, maintaining their eight-point margin.

Mary Wedel took scoring honors for Muleshoe, with 22 points. Ira Lee Inman had one of her biggest scoring nights, sinking 18 points for runnerup, and Trudy Davis had to settle for third at 11.

Johnnie Johnson's 26 points gave her game honors, but that was one honor Muleshoe didn't mind giving the home club.

Friday the Mullettes take time off from district wars to battle Friona in a practice tilt at home. They'll be out to avenge a previous loss suffered at Friona.

Next Tuesday, they will host Floydada, in a game that could clinch the district championship. Olton is the only team with any kind of chance at challenging for the title. They are now 5-2 after beating Lockney Tuesday, 45-38.

NOW HOPE TO BREAK EVEN Two Losses Drop Mules Out Of District Running

The Muleshoe Mules, knocked completely out of the district 2-AA title picture by two stinging road defeats, can settle down now and hope for a break-even district record for the season.

And, while the Mules would have to win each of their remaining three games to post a 5-5 district mark, that isn't out of the question, since they already hold victories over two of the teams.

The third team, Floydada, which was given a battle by the Mules when the teams met in Floydada, Muleshoe could play the spoiler when the teams met in Floydada, role in this game, since the Whirlwinds are currently tied for the league lead with Lockney.

Lockney kept in the thick of things by downing Muleshoe, 67-35 in a game at Lockney last Friday. The nonant - minded Longhorns jumped out in front 16-10, increased that to 37-18 at the half and Muleshoe was never in the game after that.

The high-scoring trio of Lavon Baughman, Ronnie Kidd and Ronnie Belt led Lockney, all scoring in double figures. Dick Allison's 16 points were the best the Mules could muster.

SWC's Hotshot For 1962 Should Be TCU's Gibbs

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

The glamor boy, the big guy of Southwest Conference football next fall is due to be Guy (Sonny) Gibbs of Texas Christian.

Gibbs is 6 feet 7, weighs 235 pounds, can throw a football a mile, can get a first down almost by just falling forward. He is the tallest fellow ever to play quarterback in any class of football. He is just what the pros want—big enough to look over the field and able to throw the ball with defenders hanging all over him.

Gibbs is what is known in collegiate football as a redshirt. He missed out on his first varsity season because of scholastic ineligibility. But since he had five years in which to get four of football, including his freshman year, he will be playing next fall although his class already has graduated, thus making him eligible for the professional draft of this year.

Robert C. Goodwin, Director of the Department's Bureau of Employment Security, said the action will permit employers to offer to individual workers the option to work at a piece rate of not less than 24 cents a carton coupled with a guarantee of $1 an hour, or not less than a flat rate of $1 an hour. The option as to the method of payment will rest with individual workers.

But the Christians took a lustrous licking from Rice, which had been smothered by Texas. They lost Texas Tech, which had taken a hefty wallop from Texas. They lost to Baylor, which had been run out of the park by Texas. They lost of Arkansas and Arkansas was whammed by Texas.

The word got out that Texas Christian didn't play football against anybody but the best. "I think maybe we took those beatings because we didn't take the opposition seriously enough from thinking about beating top teams," mused Gibbs.

But Sonny doesn't think this will prevail in 1962. Texas Christian has 27 lettermen along with a couple of lettermen of 1960 who didn't make it in 1961—halfback

Amarillo Couple Receives International Design Award

Robert McKenzie and partner, Mrs. Catherine D. Buck, of McKenzie Studios in Amarillo, received the 1962 International Design Award in the Printed Fabric Division January 7 in Chicago. The award was made at the American Institute of Interior Designers International Design Awards Dinner in the Great Hall of the Pick-Congress Hotel.

McKenzie and Mrs. Buck are the only designers in this five-state area ever to receive an award in any division of the A.I.D. Competition.

Awards were formerly based on national competition only, and in May, 1960, McKenzie Studio was presented with a national award of merit by A.I.D. in Los Angeles.

The award presented recently in Chicago, was based on International competition, and was presented for a group of hand-printed linens, selected for the development of five motifs applied to three different background creating interplay of different variations of a theme allowing designers to suit individual requirements.

Only eight fabric-division awards were presented in the international competition. This year's competition included more than 650 entries. One winner in the fabric division was from Italy.

The purpose of the awards is to "make known to the consumer public what the market offers in good design, and to commend the designers and manufacturers who have created these outstanding designs and products which contribute to the advancement of the field of interior design and decoration."

McKenzie Studios, whose wholesale operations includes sales to interior decorators and dealers in most of the 50 states, blossomed from a small beginning. Bob McKenzie started trying with the idea of silk-screen printing as a hobby nearly 20 years ago at his home. With a background in art as a former student at West Texas State College, he started applying some of his designs to the silk screen process on fabrics. After a great deal of trial and error, he hit on combinations of inks and fabrics that achieved good results.

He met Catherine Buck, a designer-partner for the first time at her church in Amarillo. Mrs. Buck, a native of Minnesota, became intrigued with McKenzie's fabric printing. She developed an interest in art partly by accident and quite late. She began studying art after her marriage when she suddenly began to lose her hearing. "When I was in group of people, all talking, I would sit and draw caricatures, because I couldn't hear them," she explains. Transplanted to Amarillo when her engineer-husband was transferred by General Electric Mrs. Buck arrived with a background in art and her hearing much improved, following a reconstruction operation at Mayo Clinic.

She taught textile painting at the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo for awhile, and joined McKenzie in 1950. Today, partners McKenzie and Mrs. Buck have two studios, one of the second floor of Mrs. Buck's home, and the other in their downtown Amarillo offices where the silk-screen hand processing is done.

Many homes, offices and other business establishments west of the Mississippi now have window drapery with McKenzie designs.

The derrick design on the draperies of The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation Auditorium in the Annex of The First National Bank Building in Amarillo provides an interesting example of the custom work McKenzie Studios have produced since the early 1950's.

Though the tendency has been to specialize in designs which express the spirit of the Southwest, in recent years, stock patterns have been expanded with French, Oriental, and Early American designs.

Most designs are reproduced on linen, which McKenzie has found to be most successful for this type of silk-screen reproduction.

When the business was still in its infancy, McKenzie printed his linen with stock designs produced by Mrs. Buck and himself. The promotion prompted orders from several states east of the Mississippi.

Both McKenzie and Mrs. Buck love the Southwest. The culture of this "new, new country, so beautiful" inspires many of the designs, Mrs. Buck says.

The fact that this beautiful work comes from "Amarillo" still comes as a big surprise to some customers, especially those from eastern markets.

Mrs. Buck contends that the very fact that other designs have made McKenzie works more original. It is true that they have had limited opportunities to copy the designs of others. And they like it this way.

U.S. Government Has Big Texas Investment

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—(AP)—The government has an investment of $57 billion in land and improvements throughout the 50 states. A good hunk of the property is in Texas.

The cost of the 2,703,591.5 acres and 29,293 buildings that the government owns or controls in Texas is estimated at $2,339,940,000.

A report by the House Government Operations Committee of which Rep. Jack Brooks, Beaumont is a member, shows that government holdings in Texas rank fourth in value among all the states.

California is first with $5.3 billion; Washington state and Tennessee, mainly because of giant atomic installations, are second and third, respectively, with $2.9 billion and $2.5 billion.

Defense properties account for the biggest portion of federal holdings in Texas. Military land alone totals 710,543 acres acquired for $1,753,512. The Interior Department, with Big Bend National Park under its jurisdiction, accounts for a sizeable part of the remaining government acreage.

The Army controls 533,371 acres in Texas, owning 413,732 outright and leasing the balance. Its cost: $608 million. The Air Force has 143,373 acres, of which 93,394 are owned outright. Cost: $934 million. The Navy, which owns 16,201 of the 23,793 acres it controls, has invested $211 million in the property.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

Texans were much in evidence at a recent launching in Baltimore, at which Mrs. Douglas W. Maclay, Houston, served as sponsor.

The ship, the S.S. Brinton Lykes, a 11,340-ton cargo-passenger carrier, was built by the Bethlehem Steel Co. at its Sparrows Point Yard.

Mrs. Maclay is a granddaughter of one of the brothers who founded the Lykes line in Galveston in 1908.

Members of Congress and Navy and Maritime Administration officials accompanied Mrs. Maclay and her husband from Washington to Baltimore in special buses.

The launching was witnessed by Mrs. Maclay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Lykes Jr., also of Houston. He is a senior vice president of the Lykes Company.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Champ Clark received a majority of the votes at a Democratic national convention but he didn't receive the presidential nomination. The two-thirds rule was in effect and William Jennings Bryan put up such a fight against some of the elements backing the Missourian that the nomination eventually went to Woodrow Wilson. The nomination virtually meant the presidency as that was 1912, year that Theodore Roosevelt split Republican vote by organizing the Progressive Party.

Not long after the election—(so a traveling man who visited Piggott, Ark., related to my friend Herschel Petter, the druggist, and he told me the story)—Bryan was in a city in Clark's Congressional district for a lecture. It was Sunday night and the silver-tongued orator was to speak on a religious subject.

A crowded house greeted him. Many were supporters of Clark and when Bryan rose to speak, someone called out in a hostile tone, "Tell us about the Baltimore convention!"

There was murmur which meant that the heckler had struck a favorable chord. Bryan flushed and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, if you do not object to such a topic on Sunday, I will be happy to oblige the gentleman."

He then launched into a justification of his position and soon the entire audience was standing and cheering.

Patrick Henry—Webster—Prestiss—Ingersoll—Grady—Bryan

— such is the roll of American orators.

Heywood Brown, who chronicled the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, said that when Carpentier—older, lighter, conceded no chance—entered the ring, he was cheered but Dempsey was not. To have done so (Brown declared) would have been like cheering Niagara Falls when a man was about to go over it in a barrel.

by ANN GRAHAM HELP PREVENT COLDS

This word comes from Extension foods and nutrition specialists. They point out that menus rich in foods containing these vitamins—plus general good nutrition—provide resistance to all types of bacterial infections, as well as the common cold.

Vitamins A and C are effective in preventing the invasion of cold germs since they help the linings of the nasal passages to resist bacteria. Vitamin A also helps improve the eye's ability to adjust to light and dark, and aids in preventing "night blindness".

Children need vitamin A for optimum growth, and vitamin C formation and quick healing of burns and wounds.

Among best sources of the vitamins are dark green leafy and yellow vegetables, citrus fruits, tomatoes, raw cabbage, milk, butter, eggs and cheese, potatoes, strawberries and cantaloupes.

Witnesses Hold Circuit Meet

W. R. Thomas, of Brooklyn, New York, closed out a three day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, Sunday, in Fair Park Coliseum, Lubbock, when he spoke to 923 persons on the subject: "Uniting Men in a Split-up World."

In speaking to the 18 congregation assembly, Thomas said: "Unity! The celestial heavens have it. Man does not have it. Man will attain it when God's will is done on earth like it is in heaven."

The theme of the assembly was to "Assist One Another to Do God's Will."

Boyd Lowery, presiding minister of the Muleshoe Congregation of Witnesses, said the assembly was designed to aid the witnesses to be more efficient in their house to house visitation, calling back on interest found and caring for it with home Bible service.

Foreign Policy Inconsistency Shows Up In Role In Congo

While Moscow takes over Africa, the popular cry is: Everyone knows the Communists; leave them to the police and the FBI—and to our forces abroad. But do we really know the enemy?

Take a look at us in the Congo. Bear in mind the U. N. Secretary's repeated selection of anti-U. S. representatives there—and our supine acceptance. Recall that we pressed for sterner measures by U. N. military conscripts, for more bloodshed, to force President Moise Tshombe's anti-Communist Katanga province into "coalition" with—domination by—the already-Red "central government" of Cyrille Adoula.

Witness now our official thirst for the imminent fall of Tshombe's forces, bringing to a more-than-sorry climax the fumbblings of the U. S. Department of State and its United Nations associates.

But formally, the U. S. now seeks a cease fire. Simultaneously, General U. Thant of Burma, argues that the international organization "would suffer a serious setback if a cease fire was proclaimed." The catch in the U. S. position hides in our "minimum conditions": negotiate!

ALREADY A SETBACK

Whatever Secretary Thant's motive, the plain fact is that the U. N.—by way of its African military excursion—has already suffered about as major a setback as can be pictured. Fifteen thousand wellfed and equipped troops representing the big and medium Western powers were not scheduled to be stood off so long by perhaps two-thirds that number of untrained, undisciplined and ill-equipped Africans.

The U. N. is not in the business

POLICE PREVENT A THEFT

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Not everyday does someone drop in at the Lincoln Police Station to borrow a pair of handcuffs.

But Asst. Chief W. H. Manchester was understanding when the request came from a pair of newly weds.

"They're trying to steal me," the bride explained. College friends planned to separate the bride and groom as a prank.

of practicing violence. It is the dove of peace personified! It is dedicated to justice and, flatly, to the U. S. principle of national "self-determination".

Besides, it is not committed to almost exclusive investment of American funds in turning West-oriented real estate over to the Kremlin. But this is what it has accomplished, with the help of Soviet-minded U. N. agents appointed by its Secretary—and the 75 per cent of the total bill paid by the USA. Three-quarters of the membership, including those behind the Iron Curtain, declined to be "assessed" one nickel. The rest, with one or two exceptions, contributed tokens.

Elsewhere in Africa we exposed ourselves to the bitterness of a NATO partner by advancing a U. N. resolution to investigate Angola, based on the charge that hundreds of colonialists were being tortured and murdered by the Portuguese who have held this largest African territory for five centuries. Yet, clear-cut evidence shows the brutalities to have been perpetrated chiefly by Moscow-trained Czech terrorists under a carefully organized plan hatched in and refined by the Kremlin.

WE'RE IN REVERSE

Abruptly reversing our relations with Portugal, we are now in the news belatedly begging those two-faced Indian apostles of peace at any price—"passive resistance"—Nehru and Menon, to negotiate with, instead of seizing by force of arms, the three tiny Indian seaside enclaves held by Portugal for some 400 years. But the pleas for peace by the peaceful have gone unheeded. United Nations troops are definitely not there, "restoring order."

By contrast, we have long sided with the French in Algeria. Here is a situation hardly comparable—for this Arab slice of the North African littoral was not annexed until 1842, recently enough that native feeling still runs high, through memories of "independence" that are all too fresh.

In the Congo, we're making ourselves look really silly by constant use of the term "secessionists", as if the Congolese federation had shown any more cohesion than that applied by Belgian rule, and as though there weren't a dozen or more so-called nations, chiefly in the African scheme, that are not only infinitesimal, but without comparable means of support. And generally breaking away from "natural" ties.

We might reflect on our own history: secession of the 13 colonies from the British Crown. Altogether, the world must wonder about the irrationality and inconsistency that has characterized U. S. foreign "policy". But even unprincipled expediency has gone awry in our treatment of Katanga, for we have not only interfered in the internal affairs of another nation, but paid for the privilege of handing it over to our one real enemy—Soviet Russia.

WHAT JUSTIFICATION

And as to the United Nations, what is there in the Charter to justify this sort of violence and why is it that we must commence in darkest Africa? Who murdered and literally, chopped up the 13 Italian air crewmen? Not the Katangans, but the forces of the central government. Who raped by the score, including missionaries? Why are we supporting the U. N. and the imposition of military force? The answer is: simply to force the one state in the Congo that has had an anti-Communist record to join the Reds.

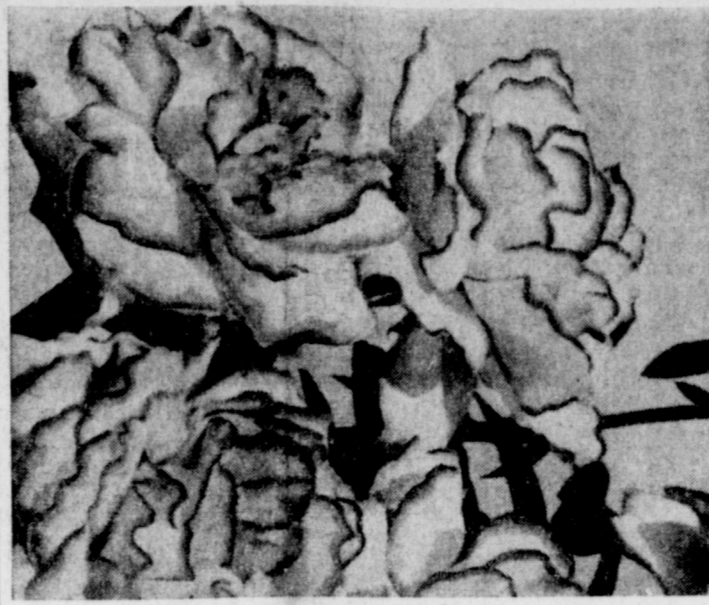

Where else in the world have U. N. troops committed violence—or even been put in action? In just about one place of any consequence—the Gaza Strip, touched by Egypt and flanked by Israel. I covered most of its rim, interviewing troop commanders and consulting the UNEF Commander-in-Chief and the heads of the Mixed Armistic Commissioners, who "settle" border disputes.

The consensus was that the United Nations Emergency Forces—UNEF—as they are called, did not fire a shot aimed at a human target.

In a nutshell, America and United Nations policies have departed almost imperceptibly from one injunction: "Be nice to the Communists—don't hurt their feelings."

"Speaker Sam" Rose Dedicated To Beloved Texas Congressman

The late, great Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Texas, served his nation more than twice as long as any Speaker of the House of Representatives in the history of the United States. Newest hybrid the Speaker Sam promises parallel endearing qualities to rose rose gardens of America.

If Speaker Sam rose reigns as long over tri-color horticultural winners as his illustrious namesake presided over congressional halls, the Texas rose introducers will not be surprised.

Peace rose, natural parent of Speaker Sam, historically since the San Francisco peace conference has been No. 1 in the hearts of rose lovers in the United States and Europe.

Carrying same dark leathery foliage and strong thick stem as the Peace rose, this "newest for 1962" Rose bears immense, very pale yellow - centered flowers most remarkable for vividly baned red edge of each heavy petal. Home arrangement experts at

Local Credit Outlook Termed "Excellent"

An "excellent outlook for agricultural credit in 1962 for an eight-county area of the High Plains has been forecast by an official of the Plainview Production Credit Association, in a report of 1961 activities of the agricultural credit organization made this week.

"Credit outlook for 1962 is excellent," Olan Alexander, general manager of the Plainview Production Credit Association, stated. "Our farmers in this area made one of the best crops in history and are in the best financial position they have been in a long time."

Alexander said that most of them are investing profits in land and new equipment and expanding their farming operations. "We are expecting to loan between forty and forty-five million dollars during 1962," Alexander said.

The Plainview Production Credit Association, the nation's largest in loan volume, had one of its brightest years in 1961. Loan volume totaled $37,000,000 which was then an all-time record for the association.

Number of loans increased from 1,355 in 1960 to 1,589 in 1961. Association stockholders increased from 1,685 in 1960 to 1,742 in 1961.

The association has loaned $206,912,900 to area farmers and ranchers in its 28-year history.

The home-owned and operated Plainview Production Credit Association provides short and intermediate-term agricultural credit in Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Floyd counties. Alexander pointed out that the $37,000,000 in loans made by the association in 1961 represents new money put into circulation in the area, providing a healthy boost to the area's economy.

Ample loan funds are available from the nation's commercial money market through the Intermediate Credit Bank in Houston, discount agency for all 36 associations in Texas.

"Our association has but one reason for its existence and that is to serve as a dependable agricultural credit source," Alexander explained. He pointed out that the association's directors, two of whom are members of the loan committee and farmers and ranchers themselves, are thoroughly familiar with agricultural conditions and problems throughout the area.

"We want to help each of our borrowers make more money in his operation through the application of sound credit practices," he said.

Central office of the association is in Plainview and field offices are operated in Friona, Dimmitt, Tulia, Silvertown, Muleshoe, Littlefield and Floydada.

Serving on the board of directors are President L. R. Durham of Plainview, president; Henry Hayes of Plainview, vice president and D. S. Anderson of Muleshoe, Grady Shepard of Hale Center and Don Garrison of Silvertown, directors.

Postal Deficit Seen As Subsidy To Businesses

WASHINGTON—Benjamin Franklin's ghost must write at what's happened to his postal service.

Thirty Franklin took over a colonial postal service operating at a deficit. It lost 678 pounds 7 shillings 2 pence between August 1753 and August 1756. Not much by today's standards with the Post Office losing $900 million a year.

Within a few years, Franklin devised ways to operate the service at a profit. Between August 1761 and January 1764, there was a surplus of 2,070 pounds 12 shillings 3 pence.

The postal service stimulated business and trade then just as it does today.

There was no reason to subsidize business by giving away the postal services—at less than cost.

The same holds true today. Three out of every four letters, parcels, pamphlets, circulars, and magazines delivered by the Post Office are dropped into the mail by businesses.

There's no good reason today, either, to subsidize businesses with postal deficits at the cost of all taxpayers.

Yet the accumulated postal deficit World War II through 1960 amounted to $7.4 billion. Add close to another billion dollars for 1961. Without that deficit there would be no need for the Administration to seek a $300 billion ceiling for the national debt.

It's a rare occasion when anyone urges the government to "charge this to me; stop making the taxpayers foot the bill." This is happening, however, with postal rates.

The majority of businessmen don't want subsidies, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says. The Chamber is urging Congress to make the Post Office self supporting.

Our Contemporaries' Views on Farm Labor Situation

MIGRATORY FARM LABOR has been "administered into oblivion" by the U.S. Department of Labor, a cotton farmer wrote in a letter to the Dallas Morning News.

His view is supported by ranchmen, farmers and others struggling with regulations, red tape and rising costs. Egged on by unionists, they say, Labor Department officials are forcing farmers to mechanize and eliminate the very jobs they are trying to gain. At the same time, they are depriving Mexico and thousands of its citizens of income.

More than 200 growers on Jan. 16 protested regulations at a Washington meeting. They elected C. B. Ray, El Paso, chairman of National Farm Labor Users Committee.

WORKERS FROM Mexico have long been a primary source of farm labor in Texas and other states of the Southwest, including California. During and since World War II, this source increased in importance as Negro and white workers left rural areas for cities.

Mexican nationals were glad to work at wages that became low, in comparison with industrial wages in the United States, but were high, in comparison with what the same workers could earn in Mexico. So anxious were they to work here that they risked drowning and the guns of the border patrol to swim the Rio Grande, thus inspiring the nickname "wetbacks." Bracero—meaning simply worker—is the name commonly used for Mexican nationals who enter the U.S. legally.

MIGRATORY WORK is no bed of roses, no matter who does it or where. Living standards, sanitation, educational facilities, sociological conditions often were bad, though no worse in many cases than where the migratory workers originated. Novels and movies, such as John Steinbeck's famed "Grapes of Wrath," aroused indignation—much of it justified, some grossly exaggerated.

Social workers, often aided by employers, sought to improve conditions. Labor unions tried, largely unsuccessfully, to organize the migrants. Congress passed laws giving the federal Department of Labor broad regulatory powers, now the chief center for contention.

Struggling to comply, Texas ranchmen, cotton farmers, and other employers have built better housing, paid higher wages and coped with endless rulings. Each year, they have used fewer Mexican nationals and bought more mechanical cotton pickers and other labor-replacing machines.

"HIRE American citizens," they were told by unionists and government officials. Practically unanimously, rural employers say it is impossible to find local citizens to do "stoop labor" required with crops and livestock. It is too easy for U.S. citizens to get on relief rolls or secure employment compensation to be interested in farm work at wages that can be afforded, employers contend.

Ray, executive vice-president, El Paso Valley Cotton Association, wrote Labor Secy. Arthur Goldberg recently as follows:

"On Oct. 23, 1961, we made application to the Texas Employment Commission for 180 farm hands general at 75c an hour, housing and utilities furnished, and for 40 ranch hands general at $120 per month plus room and board. We offered to advance a portion of the transportation for qualified workers. After a 10-day period during which our order was circulated by the Texas Employment Commission there was only one applicant. The applicant presented himself at our office, was interviewed and placed with one of our members. We thought we had a deal, but before actually beginning work, the employe learned that "Mexicans" were also working on this farm, and, in his own words, refused to work with Mexicans."

"During Oct. 14-Oct. 22, inclusive, the association ran ads on nine separate days in the local daily newspapers seeking 100 cotton-picking-machine operators at an open wage. This was an emergency situation and our members were willing to pay any reasonable amount necessary to place any willing and qualified applicant. Actually we received 13 inquiries. Of these we placed six immediately. Two others were actually placed but, for reasons unknown to us, failed to report for work. Three of those inquiries were actually employed in other industries and the remaining three were considered not qualified for this type of work, even with proper training."

NEW REGULATIONS are now proposed by Asst. Labor Secy. Jerry R. Holleman, former head of AFL-CIO in Texas. No employer can hire a Mexican national for more than 180 days in one calendar year, under these proposed regulations. Mexican nationals cannot operate power-driven harvesting, planting or cultivating equipment.

Housing regulations were made far more stringent last fall, and compliance was required in less time than was feasible, employers say.

The latest regulations are a "time bomb" that eventually will end the use of braceros. The "temporary" and "powerdriven" restrictions will eliminate 10,000 to 20,000 job opportunities in Texas, alone, it is estimated.

"This is a hell of a thing to say," an agricultural leader told The News, "but if I were Khrushchev and wanted to put U.S. agriculture out of business—as he well may want to do because that's one of the places where the United States is really a long way ahead of Russia—could think of no better way to go about it than the Goldberg-Holleman method."

Even though the regulations prove to be less explosive than employers says, Mexicans may have to find work at home and the end may be near for hand labor on Texas farms and ranches. Men are making machines replace them. —Dallas Morning News

Unique Business Opens In Amarillo

A unique new Amarillo business is currently holding its formal opening. The Furniture Galleries of Amarillo, at Fifth and Grant Street, on the Plaza of the Santa Fe Depot, has 10,000 square feet of showroom space, not including four offices. A dozen lines of furniture and several distinctive lines of lamps and accessories are displayed for the first time in the Tri-State Area. Names such as Henredon, Baker, Dunbar, Oxford-Kent, Salterini, and B. L. Marble are included for custom order at the galleries.

C. Lane McAfee, president of The Furniture Galleries is housed in what was originally the Kimball-Amarillo warehouse. Remodeling has been going on since June, 1961, and the old building has taken on a surprisingly elegant look, inside and out. The outside brick walls have been painted a gun-metal gray. An impressive entrance with big white columns on either side of the steps helps to reflect a stately look for this one-time warehouse. Inside the building, peripheral brick walls have been painted to harmonize with pre-planned gallery settings. Four offices are located in the center of the showroom floor, and new carpeting and tile work completely covers the showroom and office floors. Sliding backdrops of various paneling and wallpaper designs are used to separate galleries of furniture.

The Furniture Galleries is open to the public, dealers, accredited decorators and architects. Directors are C. Lane McAfee, president; R. C. Neely, Jr., J. F. Tollson and Jake H. Harrison. Frances Ward, A.I.D., is in charge of Interior Design for The Furniture Galleries.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS

Canada Has Worst Foreign Policy: Canadian Cold Fronts

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses foreign policy this week, or cold weather, it's hard to tell which.

Dear editor: People are always talking about the United States' foreign policy, especially when they can't figure out the answers to all our domestic problems, but as far as I'm concerned the country with the worst foreign policy on earth is Canada.

It's those Canadian cold fronts Canada is always pushing down on the United States, that's what I'm talking about.

When the forecast announces a Canadian front is heading this way, you can expect the worst. I know we can produce some cold spells on our own, a low can develop in one part of the country and sweep cold air down on another, or however it works, but when it comes to the really jolting cold waves, Canada has us beat. There's a weather gap between our cold and Canada's that makes the missile gap look tame. In fact, so many cold fronts have been coming out of Canada

Worker Called on to Make More, Pay Debt

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Can the economy grow fast enough and individuals and corporations prosper enough to give President Kennedy a balanced budget?

President Kennedy put Americans on notice in his State of the Union message he expects them to make more money in the next year or so.

He needs this income increase to get the tax collections that would turn this year's budget deficit into balanced books in fiscal 1963, starting July 1, despite the rise in expenditures called for in his proposals to Congress covering old and new federal programs.

Chief gains in Treasury collections must come from taxes on individual income and corporate income. Since by and large the rates will be the same, more income from greater prosperity is the expectation if the budget balance is achieved.

And times will have to be good indeed. The nation already was well-prepared for a budget expenditures in excess of $92 billion. Since revenues in the current fiscal year are currently estimated at $82 billion, these will have to rise more than $10 billion to do the balancing trick.

President Kennedy obviously thinks the economy can grow that much. Many businessmen have gone along with this prediction. Only a minority sees chances it may not. Perhaps the largest number prefers to wait and see.

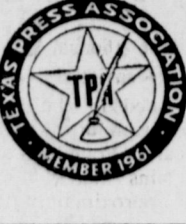

Most current statistics show the economy as a whole on the up-beat, with a lull now and then, since last March. The momentum in the industrial sector was picking up at the end of 1961. The

Politics And The Extension Service

PRESIDENT EARL RUDDER of Texas A&M College takes an eminently correct position in saying that Texas county agriculture agents will not be used to promote farm policies and ideals of the administration. Clearly and firmly he says: "As long as I am president of Texas A&M, the extension service and its county agents are not going to promote anyone's pet philosophy, program or ideology."

President Rudder's statement follows the recent declaration of U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman that the extension service must enlarge its role and enter what he termed "the long-neglected area of public policy." In plain language this means that the county agents are expected to get into politics—to help sell whatever line the administration in power chooses to take.

Over the more than 35 years of its existence, the extension service has found it necessary to walk a chalkline, and it has been fairly successful in doing so. It was set up as a co-operative endeavor involving the federal government, the land grant colleges and the counties, with the avowed purpose of carrying technical knowledge to the farms and making agricultural practices more efficient. Its agents have had the function of explaining the multifarious farm programs of recent years to those affected by them, but it has tried to refrain from becoming advocate and promoter of such programs.

THIS IS A DIFFICULT stance to maintain, and no doubt there have been individual deviations on one side or another. But to plunge the whole system into politics, to make it an instrument and a salesman of whatever farm policies might be cooked up in Washington, would greatly impair its effectiveness and the respect in which it is held, and could lead to its destruction.

Actually, despite the nominal partnership arrangement, the federal government holds the whip hand over the service because of its financial participation in it. If Washington chooses to crack the whip, Mr. Rudder may not find it easy to maintain his position that county agents will "explain but not promote." Here is another example of the fact that what the federal government subsidizes it is able to control, and that the temptation to do so is too strong to be permanently resisted.

Research Hothouse Produces Big "Crop"

One thousand and ten strains and varieties of sesame were planted in the sesame breeding program at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1961. These strains made a total population of approximately two hundred and forty-three thousand plants.

One hundred and eighty-five plants were selected from the two hundred and forty-three thousand in the breeding nursery during October 1961. A few hand crosses were made in the nursery during the summer between desirable shattering plants and paper shell nonshattering types. Seed from these crosses will be planted in the 1962 nursery.

The new greenhouse, a gift of the Jim Hill Estate at Hereford, Texas will permit acceleration of the sesame breeding program. The objective of the sesame breeding program is to develop high yielding, nonshattering varieties that can be harvested with a grain combine. Dr. Earl H. Collier, Chief Agronomist at the Foundation said.

1962 Supports Announced For 3 Farm Crops

Price support levels for 1962 crops of cotton, peanuts, rice and honey have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The minimum national average support price for upland cotton will be 31.88 cents per pound, gross weight, the same as last year. This reflects approximately 82 per cent of the current parity price. For extra long staple cotton, the price will be 53.17 cents per pound, net weight, and 63 per cent of current parity price.

In the event the minimum level of support for upland or extra long staple as required by law on the basis of parity as of the beginning of the marketing year is higher than the level announced, the level of support will be increased accordingly, the secretary said.

The minimum national average support price for peanuts will be $221 per ton, the same as for 1961 and it reflects 85 per cent of parity price on January 1.

The support level for rice was set at the same level as 1961, $4.71 per hundredweight, and is dependent on a favorable vote by producers in the upcoming rice marketing quota referendum set for January 23. If quotas are approved by two-thirds of the voters, producers who comply with acreage allotments and marketing quotas will be eligible for support on their 1962 production. If quotas are not approved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition to eligibility for price support at 50 per cent of the parity level.

The support price for honey was set at 11.2 cents a pound. The same as the 1961 rate but substantially above the 1960 level, and reflects 74 per cent of the January 1962 parity price adjusted to a 60-pound container basis. The support announced applies to honey marketed during the 1962 season, which begins on April 1.

Farmers And Ranchers Are Warned of Tax

A majority of farmers and ranchers in this area must pay a federal self-employment tax for 1961, John J. Sloan, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Lubbock Texas, revealed today.

He said the rate of self-employment tax for the taxable year of 1961 is 4 1/2 percent, and is in addition to any income tax payable.

Under the federal Social Security law, the IRS representative said, Social Security taxes are paid by employees and their employers, and the self-employment tax must be paid by persons who are self-employed. These taxes are to pay old-age, survivors and disability benefits under the federal Social Security program.

He explained a self-employed person is one who operates his own business, and that a farmer or rancher who operates a farm or ranch, either on his own land or land rented from someone else, is therefore considered self-employed. This is true, he said, even though he may employ someone else to the work and does not live on the farm or ranch himself.

He reminded farmers they must file federal income tax returns and pay any self-employment tax due, even though they owe no income tax.

Ordinarily, he added, no self-employment tax is due unless net amounts to $400 or more for the year.

However, he continued, farmers who have actual net earnings from the operation of their farms of less than $400 may, under certain circumstances, elect to pay the self-employment tax and may qualify to receive benefits under the Social Security system.

Farmers with tax questions should have a copy of the free "Tax Guide." The Guide is available from Agricultural agents, or from the IRS office located at 1600 Nineteenth Street, Lubbock.

College Station, Because of the change in character of the grain sorghum crop due to the adoption of new varieties, U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a proposal to revise the Official Grain Standards of the United States for grain sorghum.

The proposed changes include the elimination of the class Red Grain Sorghums and all the subclasses in the classes of Yellow Grain and White Grain Sorghums. Since the new varieties and hybrids are heavier than the old ones, it is proposed that the test weight per bushel be raised from 55 to 58 pounds for No. 1, from 53 to 56 for No. 2, from 51 to 54 for No. 3 and from 49 to 51 for No. 4.

Also, in order to provide for better keeping quality, a proposal has been made to lower moisture content from 14 to 13 per cent for No. 1, from 15 to 14 for No. 2 and from 16 to 15 for No. 3. It is also proposed to eliminate dockage and substitute a factor for fine foreign material in the grade table. Alternative proposals provide for dockage as now applied and a special grade "Tough" instead of moisture as a grading factor.

Interested persons may also submit written data, views or arguments to the Director, Grain Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C. not later than February 15, 1962.

Farmers May Join Tour To Washington

Texas Farmers Union's state president, Jay Naman, announced today that Texas farmers will have the opportunity to join the annual Washington bus trip leaving Texas for Washington, February 1st for a five-day visit in the nation's capital. The bus, originating in Lubbock, will pick up passengers from different areas in Texas as it travels across the state, and after stop-overs in Mississippi and Alabama en route, will arrive in Washington on Sunday, Feb. 4th.

The purpose of this bus trip is to give Texas farmers an opportunity to see first-hand the operation of the Department of Agriculture, and the behind-the-scenes activity in the Congress. Bus trippers will have the opportunity to visit with their Congressmen and which will be considered during this session, and express their viewpoint on the grass roots opinion regarding farm legislation. Some Congressmen, who have voted against necessary farm legislation in the past, may be surprised to see that their former constituents are "looking over their shoulders", president Naman said.

National Farmers Union has planned a busy schedule for the Washington bus trippers, including two days of sightseeing around the capital and other entertainment. The Farmers Union legislative office in Washington will act as host and brief the Texans on the legislation affecting farmers, which is up for consideration in this session of Congress.

Grain Sign-Up Starts March 5

Producers who wish to comply with the 1962 feed grain program will sign up between February 5 and March 30, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Provisions of the 1962 program are very similar to those for 1961. One change is that idle and fallow land for the years 1959 and 1960 will be considered in the soil conserving base for farms. This will give less flexibility in the use of land diverted from feed grains, explains Bates.

Payment rates for diverted acres will be in line with those for 1961 because support prices for feed grains have been set at identical levels. The rates are again based on the normal production of the farm times the county support rate. The minimum acreage reduction (from the 1959-60 base) is 20 percent, which will earn a payment based on 50 percent of the local support price. For diversion of between 20 and 40 percent the payment will be figured at 60 percent of the local support price.

Barley, which was not included in last year's program because of late passage of legislation, is included in the 1962 program. A producer may elect to participate in barley reduction independent of the other crops. If he wishes to comply on barley alone, however, he must stay within his 1959-60 base on corn and grain sorghum if he wants to receive price supports. On the other hand, if he wishes to comply on the corn and grain sorghum he must not exceed his base acreage for barley.

Proposal Made To Revise U.S. Grain Standards

College Station, Because of the change in character of the grain sorghum crop due to the adoption of new varieties, U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a proposal to revise the Official Grain Standards of the United States for grain sorghum.

The proposed changes include the elimination of the class Red Grain Sorghums and all the subclasses in the classes of Yellow Grain and White Grain Sorghums. Since the new varieties and hybrids are heavier than the old ones, it is proposed that the test weight per bushel be raised from 55 to 58 pounds for No. 1, from 53 to 56 for No. 2, from 51 to 54 for No. 3 and from 49 to 51 for No. 4.

Alternative proposals provide for dockage as now applied and a special grade "Tough" instead of moisture as a grading factor.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The pomegranate, a once-popular but now rare fruit, may be about to state a comeback as the perfect fruit for fallout shelters.

This pear-sized Asian fruit brought to America by colonists must be picked apart, piece by tedious piece, to be eaten. It takes a long time to polish one off, and that may have been the cause of its decline in popular esteem.

But now the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, albeit tongue in cheek, is recommending pomegranates for fallout shelters—the bush to screen the entrance, and the fruit for nourishment and make-work.

Farm Facts

Average yield of honey per colony of bees in the U. S. for the years 1950 through 1960 was 44.8 pounds. Yield per colony in 1960 was 47.9 pounds, as compared with 45.5 pounds in 1959.

The honey crop last year, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was the third largest on record. More than 260 million pounds were produced by 5.4 million colonies. In 1952, production of honey totaled a record 272 million pounds.

Domestic consumption of honey averages about 20 million gallons a year. Thousands of pounds are used in making breads and cookies and in ice cream.

Although 500,000 persons keep bees in the U. S., 80% of the colonies belong to about 50,000 beekeepers, 1,000 of whom depend on bees for their livelihood. The latter group controls about two-fifths of the colonies. About three-fourths of the annual crop comes from cultivated alfalfa, buckwheat, clovers, cotton, and oranges.

Honey was of great importance as an article of diet for the ancients, being almost the only available source of sugar. It also was valued highly for its medicinal properties, particularly as an antiseptic.

BUSINESS WORLD

Last Year's Cotton Had High Lint Yield

The past year wasn't that cotton growers in many Texas counties would classify as a good one, but for the state as a whole, lint yields were the second highest on record, 348 pounds an acre. Thus, low yields in some areas were offset by record yields in others.

Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist, in his 1961 annual report highlights some of the past year's achievements. He said the 7-Step Cotton Committee, working on all levels, continued to be a major factor in the progress made by the producers of the state's most important crop. Since the program, initiated 16 years ago by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has been operating, lint yields have climbed from 134 pounds an acre to 1961's 348 pounds. But perhaps of equal or even more importance have been the changes in production and harvesting, ginning and soil management practices.

The specialist reported that an estimated $68 million plus was saved last year in harvest costs through the use of machines—33,089 stripper harvesters and 4,782 spindle pickers. Harvesting machinery doesn't come cheap, the specialist said, as verified by the expenditure of over $32 million in 1961 alone for new picking and stripping machines.

Growers saved another $27.7 million in labor costs through the use of 50,605 rotary hoe equipped tractors and chemicals for weed and grass control. Spot-spraying of Johnson Grass was used on approximately a quarter million acres of cotton in 163 counties and spot-spraying of the same pest with water carried chemicals was used on 136,700 acres. Lateral oiling saved up to $25 an acre on hoe bills and was used on more than 86,000 acres in 75 counties.

Defoliants or desiccants were used on 61,555 farms in 170 counties to prepare cotton for machine harvesting. The use of moisture meters, a recent introduction, expanded rapidly and 136 were used in 41 counties as an aid in quality improvement.

Last year, county agents in 207 counties assisted producers with all phases of the 7-Step Program. County program building committees were also active in planning county work and emphasis in many counties was placed on the use of cotton burs for soil improvement and to reduce fire hazards. Burs were spread on 17,306 farms in 126 counties. A few years ago burs were commonly burned as waste. A ton of burs contains about $7.50 worth of plant nutrients and their application has raised lint yields by as much as 25 per cent.

A team of extension specialists—cotton, entomologist, cotton gin, and at times others—was used to carry educational information to the counties. The team conducted 157 meetings attended by 13,252 producers. County agents in their follow-up work held almost 2,100 meetings with an attendance of approximately 53,000. County agents and committees also enjoyed the cooperation of newspapers, radio and television stations for getting needed information to producers and supplied them with more than 2,100 stories, 2,250 radio and 39 television programs.

Cotton is still the state's most important crop and the progress made has materially aided the entire economy of Texas, the specialist concluded.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Again, we hope that by the time you read this, Texas law will allow farmers to appeal natural gas rates before the Railroad Commission. It also appears that several farmers, who have been in Austin for the first time during a legislative session know that it is not always safe to assume that the person elected to represent them can take care of things without advice and support from the people back home.

Farm Bureau, on the above subject, and many others in the past, has urged people to see the importance of wiring, calling or writing their representatives to support or oppose pending legislation. The gas users association has worked locally getting individual support, and we hope they will be successful. Senator Andy Rogers is sticking by his guns with our people on this one, and deserves commendation for his hard work.

Farm to Market road funds were put under a safety provision by SB 1 early in this special session. This bill, among other things, provides that such funds will remain in Farm to Market road designation even if future governors veto current use of money for new construction. Farm to Market roads have been babies of Farm Bureau from their inception to the present time.

Here is a quote from Bill and Promotion for TFB in Facts for You: "Extension Service and Political Solutions—Secretary of Agriculture Freeman has stated to the world in a Washington speech that the extension service can no longer hope to avoid educational activities in the field of political solutions to the farm problem. County Farm Bureau leaders will want to have a very definite understanding with local extension agents regarding this most important announcement". We know of one specific case, and there are surely many similar ones, in which a college boy is having to stay home and help his father farm because of new

A.M.A. Attacks Medical Aid Plans

The president-elect of the American Medical Association accused the Kennedy administration of "playing politics" with its medical care for the aged proposals, in an interview recently.

Furthermore, avowed Dr. George M. Fisher. "There's no need for passage of the King-Anderson Bill or one of its similar type." The Utah urologist, who takes office in June as head of the powerful AMA, ticked off these reasons why he believes the federal government should stay out of direct medical aid programs—the Kerr-Mills Act is already in effect to provide medical care for the aged; the effectiveness of the voluntary health insurance system and the responsibility of families.

Asked why the administration is pushing for medical care bill when one is already working, Dr. Fisher replied, "You know that we are not to act as well as we are in an election year. Let's just settle for that."

Dr. Fisher described the King-Anderson Bill, which would be financed through the social security, as the "Opening wedge to socialized medicine." He commented that "The AMA has never been opposed to Social Security but we are opposed to tying on (a medical care bill) to the Social Security system." It amounts to taxation for all whether some persons need it or not, under a central bureaucracy, he said.

He doubted that the bill will pass and indicated that the current Congress apparently is adopting a more conservative attitude.

"If true, this conservatism should be carried over in the efforts on the King-Anderson Bill," he added.

The government is needed to help in such matters, however, as public health, aid to medical Nationally, 1961 bond sales were 4 percent above 1960, and at the same time, redemptions were 10 percent below 1960.

I BELIEVE IN GOD

By T. G. Craft
I believe in God the Father, Almighty, the Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord.

These words are taken from the Apostle's creed. They express the universal beliefs of all Christians. On them we build the Christian faith. Without God man would be a lonely and lost creature in an endless universe.

Man can feel secure when he knows that God created the universe. If God is the Creator of all things, man feels secure in this world and in the world to come. The universe and life have meaning only if God is Creator.

Man is not so interested in the eternal past as he is in the eternal future. It matters less to know from whence we come than where we are going. Life is like an isthmus that connects two eternities, the past and the present to the future. Since mortal life must end at the gates of death we are concerned about the eternal future. Where do we go from here? is the question that all men ask and seek an answer. When we embark on a new adventure all the gates of death, we want to know where we are going.

Science and the scientists do not hold the answer to man's destiny. Only Jesus Christ, the unaccepted scientist by many, holds the answer to man's eternal destiny. If we believe in God and His Son, Jesus Christ, and resign our lives to the will of God we shall have no worries about the future.

Out of the dim and dark past man was brought forth in love. Out of the night and midnight man came forth conceived in love. Love begets life and the life is in the hands of the loving heavenly Father. Let us trust him to the light of men. The future is keep us in death and in the future as we trust him for the present. Eternal life is another kind of life, but it too, like all life, came from God. I do believe in God.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN. — A highway policy matter which has plagued both Houses of the Legislature for 10 years was settled when the House of Representatives passed a Farm-to-Market road bill introduced by Sen. Neville Colon of Navasota and Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler.

Senate already had approved the bill by a 26-2 vote. At first, it looked like the House Agriculture Subcommittee, dominated by rural representatives, would succeed in pushing through a modified version of the bill by Rep. Max Carraker of Roby. His proposal was to space out the switch of funds from farm-to-market road construction to maintenance over 10 years.

House Agriculture Committee approved Carraker's bill unanimously until Gov. Price Daniel attended a final hearing with President J. H. West of the Texas Farm Bureau, Executive Vice President Callan Graham of the Texas Good Roads Association, Highway Chairman Herb Petry Jr. and a dozen members of the County Judges and Commissioners Association.

After their urging, the House Agriculture Committee reversed its original decision and voted 10-9 to table Carraker's version and submit the Colon bill, which reduces the annual appropriation for rural road construction by about $17,500,000.

When the Farm-to-Market road bill becomes effective about May 1, it will make these provisions:

- Restoration of the $15,000,000 appropriation from general State taxes to the Colon-Briscoe farm-to-market road program for the year starting Sept. 1, 1962.

- A flat instruction for the State Highway Department to build $23,000,000 worth of newly-designated farm-to-market roads a year from now on, using the $15,000,000, plus Federal aid of $10,000,000 a year.

- Allocation of half the surplus in the road bond assumption fund—which comes from one-fourth of the gasoline sales tax—to roads in the State system. That will be $17,500,000 the first year, gradually increasing as gasoline sales tax revenues rise.

- Freeing an equal $17,500,000 in the State Highway Fund, now being used for rural road maintenance, for construction and improvement of secondary and primary highways.

- Application of the balance in the farm-to-market road fund (between $17,500,000 and $20,000,000 in the 1962-63 fiscal year) toward improvement of existing FM roads, which need some 11,000 miles of repairs.

- Agreement by the State Highway Commission to raise its goal from 35,000 to 50,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

This legislation accomplishes the long-time goal of the Highway Commission and Good Roads Association: To give annual construction boosts—starting at $17,500,000 a year—to the highways in the State system above the F-M classification and below the Interstate classification.

WHERE'S THE MONEY COMING FROM? — Gov. Price Daniel's proposals that the 57th Legislature approve appropriations of $300,000 for tourist advertising, $100,000 expansion in the juvenile parole system and $150,000 for the repair to the San Jacinto Monument seemed to be in danger when Rep. James M. Cotton of Weatherford got the House to endorse appropriation of $220,000 for special session expenses.

According to the State Comptroller's estimate, this would leave less than $300,000 for the governor's projects. But Governor Daniel pouched with Speaker James A. Turman and Senator Charles Herring, as well as State Treasurer Jesse James.

He reported that James' first report on anticipated income from the Escheat Enforcement Act, submitted since the Comptroller made his estimate, lists more than $2,000,000 in reports tabulated to date.

"I have asked the Comptroller to consider this," Daniel said, "and I believe it will be possible for him to raise his estimate enough to take care of the recommendations before the Legislature. The Senate Finance Committee came up with a compromise bill authorizing $200,000 for tourist advertising, $75,000 for monument repairs, $65,000 for the juvenile parole system, plus $79,000 for monument repairs, $65,000 for the juvenile parole system, plus $79,000 for a marine laboratory at Seabrook.

DORMITORY SUITS ANSWER ED—Two motions to dismiss a dormitory integration case involving the University of Texas were filed in the U. S. District Court at Austin.

First one was filed by Attorney General Will Wilson, whose office requires him to represent the state university in court. Second came from Edward Clark and Franklin W. Denius of Austin and Leon Jaworski of Houston, attorneys employed by UT's board of regents.

Board Chairman Thornton Hardie of El Paso said the regents hired additional attorneys since Wilson is a candidate for governor and may be unable to give the case the attention it deserves. Wilson referred to Hardie's statement as "arrogant," and vowed he'll defend the case as his constitutional duty.

Integration suit was filed in November by three Negro students at the University. They asked that racial segregation in university dormitories be abolished with "all deliberate speed."

LOCAL PROBLEMS PRESSING

—Several legislators who voted to adjourn the second day of the special session have decided to stick around awhile since the governor opened the session for local bills.

Bills considered most pressing include water bills—such as one to create an Alice Water Authority, one to authorize construction of a water treatment plant for Lubbock and six other communities which participate in the Canadian Municipal River Water Authority.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress presented a bill to allow purchasers of gas for irrigation from utility companies right to seek rate regulation from the Railroad Commission, as cities do. Rogers said companies selling irrigation gas often charge farmers a higher rate than set in nearby towns.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson told the Supreme Court that if it sustains riparian irrigation rights for Spanish and Mexican land grants on the lower Rio Grande, "the vast orchards of the Lower Rio Grande River will die from lack of water because the upstream riparian can, in times of shortage, absolutely deprive the downstream owner of the right to water."

GOV. PRICE DANIEL recently signed a proclamation designating Feb. 4-10 as "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas. County Farm Bureaus over the state will be conducting membership drives during the special week in their effort to reach a new state record membership for the tenth consecutive year. Present at the signing of the proclamation were, left to right, Millard Shivers of Waco, Texas Farm Bureau Organization director; the Governor; Anita Louise Koop of Edna, Texas Farm Bureau queen; and J.H. West of Bishop, president of the state farm organization.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

HISTORY OF WILLS

Courts see that your intention or "will" as to property is carried out after you die. Before then you may revoke or change it any time.

The passing of property to heirs is one of man's oldest transactions. As far back as the Egyptian, Assyrian, and Jewish civilizations, we have wills written and witnessed on papyrus, clay tablets, etc. In one will an early testator left some of his property to his wife and named a guardian for this child.

The Hammurabi code (2100 B.C.) permitted a father by deed to favor his son.

Under early Roman law the head of a house could tell the patrician assembly his wishes, but later Roman law favored a written will to keep the testator's plans secret until death. It also favored having a firm record of his wishes, not resting on memory.

By 2100 A.D. England, where we got our law of wills, was quite well advanced: The church courts (like our probate courts) supervised disposition of property according to a "testament" of how the testator wanted his property to go.

Church courts supervised personal property (movables like armor or personal effects); land was passed on by wills which the king's court handled. Hence today we speak of "last will and testament" since English courts came to pass on both real and personal property, so that one court could handle the whole estate.

English church courts had "executors" who carried out one's testament. To die "intestate" (without a testament) was almost like dying unconfessed. Sometimes the church in the interests of a man's soul could give some of the man's goods to others besides his family. Then, as now, some property had to be left to the surviving wife and children.

By the time of the American colonies, the laws were well settled, and law courts, rather than church courts, administered and distributed estates here.

SHRIMP BLOW IN

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A hurricane is not an ill wind in every respect. At least they blow some good to shrimp fishermen, who report their catches pick up sharply after a hurricane and that the tons of freshwater dumped into the sea by the storm make the shrimp grow faster.

The Great Wall of China, begun 2,000 years ago, may be the only man-made feature on earth visible to an observer on the moon.

Pvt. Boleyn To Alaska For A Maneuver

Army PFC Harvey Boleyn, son of Hubert D. Boleyn, Bula, is scheduled to participate with other personnel from the 9th Infantry in Exercise Great Bear, a joint U. S. — Canadian winter maneuver in Alaska, Feb. 12-21.

The exercise will test cold weather military doctrine and the ability of the two allied armies to work together as a fighting team. Exercise Great Bear will be conducted in the vicinity of Tanacross and Eielson Air Force Base, one of the most rugged areas over which an Alaskan maneuver has ever been held. Principle terrain features in the 3,200 square-mile maneuver area are the heavily forested lowlands of the Tanana river valley and mountains, which range as high as 4,000 feet, converging on both sides of the valley.

Boleyn, a rifleman in the infantry's Company C at Fort Wainwright, Alaska, entered the Army in March 1960 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. The 19-year-old soldier attended Bula High School.
