Tahoka Building In 1963 Near Million

Nearly 1 million dollars in construction in the City of Tahoka has been recorded within the town during 1963, with permits issued totaling $957,097.00.

With at least four new homes just outside of City limits, the 1 million dollar mark in construction was surpassed. This figure includes the construction of the new high school building now underway, additions and remodeling of existing school buildings, which accounts for nearly half the total, or $474,000.00.

Since Oct. 11, permits totaling $574,358.00 have been issued, and slightly over $100,000 of this is for new home construction, additions and remodeling of homes.

Permits since that date were issued to Higginbotham Bartlett Co. for the construction of the Elmer Spores home, the Fred B. Hegi home, and for an addition to the A. R. Milliken home; O. B. Corley, new home; R. K. Gandy, new home; Dub Hendrick, permanent trailer house; R. G. Wright, addition; Otis Hillhouse, addition to home; Carroll Edwards, addition to home; Junior Marrett, addition to home.

One new home, now nearly completed outside of the City limits begun within the last quarter, is that being built by R. A. Taylor in the Roberts Addition.

Mrs. George (Ora Lulu) Short, 84 year old Lynn county pioneer, died Thursday at 9:00 p. m. in Tahoka Hospital after an illness of over five years.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church in Tahoka with Rev. Aubrey White, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Born Feb. 10, 1879 in Fayetteville, Ark., Miss Ora Lulu Caton was married to the late George Short on Jan. 24, 1902 in Jones county. The couple came to Lynn county in 1907 from there and settled in the old T-Bar community where Mr. Short became one of Lynn's early-day cowboys.

The children attended the T-Bar school until Mr. and Mrs. Short moved three miles north of Tahoka about 1924. There they lived for over 30 years moving to town about six years ago when both were in ill health.

Mrs. Short was a long time member of the Methodist Church. She was preceded in death by her husband in 1961 and by a son, Tom Short, in 1953.

Opening New Road Near New Home

A new dirt road will be opened west of New Home from a point three miles west of that town at the Garland Peak home, south two miles, to serve five or six families in the area who have been using a turn-row.

L. K. Nelson, commissioner of Precinct 4, has secured easements for the new road this week.

Mrs. H. B. McCord, Jr. underwent an appendectomy Friday in Tahoka Hospital. She was released Tuesday.

Lubbock Boosters Coming Today

A group of about 30 Lubbock business men and civic leaders will visit Tahoka and O'Donnell today, Friday, seeking support in their bid for the new state school for the mentally retarded.

This is the fourth of a series of such trips by chartered bus to towns in the Lubbock area. The group will be in Tahoka at 1:45 p. m. and at O'Donnell at 2:45. Other towns being visited on this trip are Lorenzo, Slaton, Post, and Lamesa.

Coffee and refreshments will be served the group headed by B. E. Rushing Jr., chairman of a special Lubbock Chamber of Commerce committee seeking to obtain the school for Lubbock.

Three other such trips have netted about 85 resolutions from area chambers of commerce, city and county governments, and civic and professional organizations.

Some 34 cities and towns in West Texas have indicated they will bid for the new state school for the mentally retarded that was authorized for the area west of the 100th meridian by the last state legislature.

The couple came to Lynn county in 1916 from Snyder, and raised their family here. He has been retired for a number of years, but once farmed and later was in business in Tahoka. Mrs. Cathcart passed away a year ago, on January 3, 1963. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

As a young man, Mr. Cathcart lived at Eddy, McLennan county, and was well acquainted with the late Tom Connolly, long-time U. S. Senator from Texas.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Pace of Santa Ana, Calif., Mrs. Myrtle Hardy of San Angelo, and Mrs. Janell Fleming of Roswell, N. M.; four sons, Ivan, Bill, and Coy, all of Tahoka, and Robert of Dallas; one brother, Lynn Cathcart of Grapevine; 18 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. Farmers Still Trying To End Harvest Of '63 Cotton Crop

Cotton Demonstration Results Made Public

Results of the cotton variety demonstration carried out this past year on the Bertice Askew farm at Wells were announced this week by Mr. Askew and County Agent Bill Griffin.

The test included four varieties of cotton, 4.8 acres in each plot, 12 rows east and west a mile long, planted 10 pounds to the acre.

The cotton was planted on June 3 and harvested on November 29, on Amarillo fine sandy loam, previously in cotton. Each plot was deep plowed 8 to 10 inches deep, skip-rowed, with one-fourth of the ground left blank. No fertilizer was used. Rain fall during the growing season was 9.1 inches, nearly all of which came during June.

Following are the results:
Western: Produced 260 pounds of lint per acre, 29.25 percent turn-out, middling light spot 29-32 inch, micronaire test 4.0. The loan card value per pound was 29.34 cents, and the gross value per acre was $76.28.

Qualla-10: 214 pounds per acre, 26.03 percent turn-out, middling light spot 29-32 and 15-16, 4.0 micronaire, $29.56 per pound, $63.26 per acre.

New Producer At Mound Lake

Cities Service Oil Company has announced the completion of a new producer, its No. 3-Lindsley in the Mound Lake Fusselman field just over the line in Terry county and northwest of West Point.

The well was completed to flow 480 barrels of 38.9 gravity oil daily through 16-64-inch choke through perforations at 11,228 to 11,233 feet.

Location is in Section 45, block E, ELARR survey, a half mile north of the discovery well in the four-well field. The field is adjacent to the Oscar Roberts ranch.

In the meantime, Gould Drilling Co. of Midland has plugged as a dry hole its No. 1 Heck test north-east of Wilson after core tests at 4,800-903 feet. Floyd Heck says he has some post holes for sale.

The Lone Star No. 1 Cody Bragg test at West Point early this week was reported at 8,828 feet in lime. This test is three quarters of a mile east of West Point gin in Section 10, Block X, ELARR Survey.

C. D. Uzzle Is Buried Thursday

C. D. Uzzle, 77 year old retired farmer, died Tuesday at 11:00 p. m. in Tahoka Hospital, where he had been in critical condition for about two weeks.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 2:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka with Rev. James Efrid, pastor, and Rev. Joe Webb, pastor of the Sweet Street Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Born Nov. 27, 1886 in Red River county, Texas, Mr. Uzzle was married to Willie Maud Davis Nov. 2, 1907 in Paris, Texas. They came to Lynn county in December, 1923 from Hill county and farmed until moving to Tahoka in 1956. Mrs. Uzzle died in September, 1957.

Mr. Uzzle was a member of the Baptist Church and was a deacon of the Redwine Baptist Church.

Survivors include two sons, City Secretary Milton Uzzle of Tahoka and Rev. Charles J. Uzzle, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Mobeetie; one brother, E. R. Uzzle of Colorado City; two sisters, Mrs. G. A. Watson of Hillsboro and Mrs. Annie Cardwell of Bossier City, La.; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were J. Dudley Martin, W. L. News, Jack Miller, Elbert Crawford, Ronald Sherrill and W. H. Eady. Honorary pallbearers included J. D. Polk, Grady Gore, G. C. Watson, R. T. Luttrell, Wes Luttrell, Floyd Reese, J. W. Gardenhire, Joe Brewer, Darus Sumrow and Everton Nevill.

Mrs. H. W. Pennington, a medical patient at Tahoka Hospital, was released last Friday.

Completion of the 1963 crop harvest was delayed again Sunday by a two-inch snow that brought 15 inch of moisture, and only a few farmers had been able to get back in the fields by Wednesday.

Although most farmers have completed machining cotton, there is still some cotton in many fields, especially in the north half of the county.

Last week end prior to the snow, much cotton was harvested, and a few favorable days would see the crop gathering completed.

The snow Sunday night brought the precipitation in Tahoka to .62 inch for the month of December.

This brings the total for the year in Tahoka to 19.23 inches, nearly a half inch above the 40-year average. However, much of the moisture came at times when not needed. In fact, many dryland farmers consider themselves fortunate to have made a crop at all as spring rains were late and then many crops were washed out or hailed out and had to be replanted.

Mrs. D. C. Davis Dies Thursday

Mrs. D. C. Davis, 86, died Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock and funeral services were pending at White Funeral Home.

A resident of Lynn county and Tahoka since 1925, Mrs. Davis had this week been released from Tahoka Hospital to go to the home of a son in Lubbock. She had been in failing health for some time.

Born Miss Nina Lorena Madding on Dec. 25, 1877 in Kentucky, she celebrated her 86th birthday Christmas Day while hospitalized in Tahoka.

She was married to David Crockett Davis on her birthday, Dec. 25, 1899 in Desdemona and they celebrated their 63rd anniversary in 1962 before Mr. Davis passed away, on April 29, 1963. They came to Lynn county in 1925 from Crosbyton where they farmed and bought property about a mile north of Tahoka. The couple lived there many years before moving to town.

Mrs. Davis was a member of the Methodist Church.

Construction On New School Plant Begins To Take Shape

Steel beams on three sides of the existing high school building are giving shape to the new high school plant and a new face is beginning to take its place on the campus.

This is made possible by the large new building wrapping around three sides of the high school building constructed in 1927, by the addition to the school cafeteria at South Elementary and the addition to the vocational agriculture building north of the high school plant.

A definite completion date for the cafeteria addition has not been made, but Supt. Otis Spears said it is hoped the new kitchen will be in use by Feb. 1. Contractors at first thought it would be completed by the end of the Christmas holidays, but shipment of materials and other complications made it impossible. However, only the interior has not been completed.

The agriculture addition is not quite as far along as the cafeteria as roofing material will not arrive for another month, but progress is continuing on it as well.

The new face of the high school and junior high school plants is beginning to be apparent, as beams have been set into place on the south, east and north sides of the three-story high school. The new building, constructed entirely on ground floor, is also making progress. Walls are going up on the west end of the building and were approximately five feet high on Wednesday morning. Weather has prevented all of the floors being poured in the new building, but was expected to be completed by the end of the week if good weather continues.

Cleve Littlepage, school board president, and Spears said that as soon as some rooms are completed in the new plant, classes will begin in them to allow the contractor to begin remodeling work on the existing high school building, which will be converted into a junior high school.

Reshuffling of classes, as soon as construction permits, will begin on the third floor to allow remodeling to begin and will move down by floors as new class-rooms are available.

A new heating system will be installed soon for the new high school plant and the old high school building, but the new system in the old building cannot be put into use until spring.

The contract completion date of the entire program is Sept. 1. This will also include the remodeling of North Elementary school, which will be done during the summer months.

Joyce Dewbre, assistant librarian at Wayland Baptist College, was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McCleskey Will Be Honored On 50th Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey of Grassland will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, January 5, from 2:00 until 5:00 p. m. at the home of their son, C. O. McCleskey, who lives three miles north of Central Church on the Grassland-Slaton road, when friends are invited to call on them.

Residents of Lynn county for 20 years, the McCleskeys now live on the old R. B. McCord farm, just north of Grassland, which they bought in 1950.

Both were born and reared in Erath county. Mrs. McCleskey is the former Addie Sparks, born on October 16, 1898, near Lipan. Her father died when she was seven, and five years later her mother married M. J. McCleskey, an uncle of the man who was to become her husband.

W. G. McCleskey was born at near-by Patillo on August 3, 1892.

They were married on January 4, 1914, in a buggy right out in the middle of the road six miles west of Lipan. Mrs. McCleskey laughingly says they planned it that way. They knew a preacher was going to be coming down that road en route to marry another couple, so they just went down the road and waited for him to come along. A sister and another couple witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. McCleskey farmed there until 1923, and then they moved out to Rotan, Fisher county, and farmed there until April, 1943, when they moved to Lynn county. They lived on several places in the eastern part of Lynn until they bought the McCord place in 1950 a half mile north of Grassland.

John King, Dallas attorney, spent Christmas here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert King.

MR. AND MRS. THURMAN WELLS OF O'DONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Wells, Pioneers Of County, Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Wells of O'Donnell, well-known Lynn county pioneers, were honored on their Golden Wedding anniversary on December 22 by their children and grandchildren when a host of friends called during a reception in O'Donnell community center.

Mr. Wells came to Tahoka 60 years ago. Mrs. Wells came here 53 years ago. He has been with Higginbotham - Bartlett Co. 52 years, and the couple has lived in O'Donnell 46 years.

Mrs. Wells is the former Laura Bell Burleson, daughter of the late J. B. and Laura Burleson, who was born at Brenham, Washington county. She came to Tahoka in 1910 with her parents and attended the Tahoka schools. She was married here on December 24, 1913, to Thurman Wells by County Judge Joe Stokes. Among those present at the ceremony were Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. George Small.

The J. S. Wells family came here in 1903 from Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, and Mr. Wells bought the first store, built the first Tahoka gin, and was Lynn county sheriff from 1906 until 1910.

Thurman, one of the sons, graduated from Tahoka High School in 1910, and in 1911 went to work for Higginbotham Bartlett Lumber Co.

When the firm opened a house in O'Donnell in 1917, Thurman built the yard there and the house they still live in. He has been manager of the firm at O'Donnell ever since. In years of service, Mr. Wells has been in the same business longer than any man in Lynn county.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells are long time members of the Methodist Church, in which they are still active, and have been active in every facet of O'Donnell civic and community life as well. He served on the city council many years. He is the only remaining charter member in O'Donnell Rotary Club.

The Wells have two daughters and three grandchildren. Mrs. W. G. (Beverly) McKnight and daughter, Diane, of Commerce; and Mrs. J. L. (Jim Ellen) Adams and two sons, Jay and James Thurman, of San Angelo.

Those included in the house party were: Mrs. Paul Gooch, Mrs. Naymon Everett, Mrs. H. B. Brewer, Mrs. J. L. Shoemaker, Mrs. Glen Allen, Mrs. A. W. Gibbs, Mrs. Roy Everett, Mrs. John Eiter, Mrs. H. C. CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of our friends for the prayers, food, visits, calls, cards and flowers received during the last four weeks since Jarrell's accident. We especially want to thank Dr. Thomas, Dr. Prohl and all the staff at Tahoka Hospital for the wonderful care and treatment Jarrell received. Also we express sincere thanks to those of you who sat up the first few nights and to the Robert Edwards' for looking after Wayne. To Rev. Eiford for his many visits to the hospital; his prayers and those of the First Baptist Church who were so faithful in their prayers for Jarrell's complete recovery. We also extend our deepest gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bray and all the employees at Bray Chevrolet for all the many wonderful things they have done. To Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harmon and the employees at Poka-Lambro for making it possible for me to be away from my office to be with Jarrell during his stay at the hospital.

It is only at times like these that one really appreciates living in such a nice place as Tahoka and only now do we fully realize just how many wonderful friends we have. To each of you goes our sincere thanks and our heartfelt prayers for a wonderful and prosperous New Year.—Jarrell, Becky and Wayne Thurman. 1tp.

GRASSLAND NEWS

(Mrs. O. H. Hoover)

I wonder if we Americans ever stop to think how fortunate we are to be able to live in this land of the free and home of the brave. I know it's not perfect, but how blessed we are to be able to worship as we please and to be able to express our opinions, to have enough to eat and to enjoy good warm houses.

Let us in this New Year of 1964 give thanks to God for giving us all these things and resolve to be better citizens and share our abundance with the less fortunate of this world.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Any attempt in this column to discuss military strategy would be most fallacious. Yet, there does appear to be a plan on which it might be well for the Congress to study.

It seems that every time there is talk of bringing home the bulk of the American troops garrisoned in West Germany, the German government officially expresses great alarm. The C.W. Harder Russians, they infer, just over the line, may invade.

There is a question whether all the combined NATO forces in Europe could prevent the Russian armed hordes from moving across Germany in a few days. This can only be answered by the military men competent to assay fire power, defensive strength and all of these technical matters.

And recently there was quite a dramatic test performance in flying thousands of troops into Germany from American bases in a few hours. Whether this is practical in the event hostilities should break out is again a technical question.

However, there does seem quite a question as to whether or not U.S. forces are in Germany primarily to protect the German soil, or the German economy. Big military payrolls and supply purchases are a boost to any economy. In addition, the report of the committee on non-essential governmental expenditures needed by Senator Harry Byrd points out that the armed forces overseas are employing currently 160,000 foreign nationals. A little over 50,000 are employed in Japan, 21 thousand in France, 77,619 are employed in West Germany.

Actually, they are indirectly employed. The actual job handling out is by the German government, with the U.S. meeting the payroll.

Now in a nation of 56 million people, almost 78,000 jobs are an important item. The impact on the German economy is equal to what would result if in the United States 271,000 additional jobs came into being.

To give a better range, this hypothetical 271 thousand plus jobs is almost equal to the employment by the nation's third largest corporation, Ford Motor Co. It is almost twice the number of jobs supplied by the six biggest meat packers.

Thus, there is no question this causes alarm in Bonn.

But it would seem the big question is whether alarm is caused by considerations of economic power, or firepower.

Hence, this is a question that Congress could well investigate. As is well known, there are currently attempts to use the armed forces for sociological experiments, and a variety of other projects totally unrelated to the chief business of a military force.

It would be interesting to see what a Congressional study of the situation, provided the nations top military men are not muzzled, would find out about the situation.

Cotton Acreage Release Changes

Lubbock — Changes in Texas Release and Reapportionment program for 1964, made by the State ASC Committee, have been announced to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and may result in the High Plains area getting a larger share of released cotton acreage. The 23 counties in Plains Cotton Growers' territory received 91,684 acres of cotton under this program in 1963.

Under this program farmers who do not wish to plant all of their allotted cotton acreage can release the unwanted portion to their County ASC Committee for reapportionment to farmers who request additional acres. After reapportionment within the county, excess acres are turned to the State Committee for distribution within the zone in which the acres were released.

Final date for releasing acreage, and for requesting additional acreage, was set for March 4, 1964 in Zone 2, which covers all of the High Plains area. It is important that area farmers understand that requests for reapportioned acres must be filed with county ASC Committees before that date. Reapportioning of the acres will take place on March 25 in Zone 2. Corresponding dates for Zone 1, which lies in South and Southeast Texas, are February 4 and February 25.

The two zones were slightly rearranged for 1964, with Zone 2 losing 11 counties and adding three others. Angelina, San Augustine and Sabine counties were added to Zone 2. Taken out of Zone 2 and added to Zone 1 were Schleicher, Sutton, Menard, Humble, Mason, Llano, Gillespie, Blanco, Burnet, Williamson and Milam counties.

Other changes in the 1964 program deal with limitations placed on the number of acres a county or individual farm is eligible to receive under the program. Briefly, the limitations state this:

1. No county or individual farm can be given reapportioned acreage that will bring total acres in cotton to more than 50% of the total land in cultivation, nor can a county's base allotment be increased by more than 50%.
2. No farm can receive reapportioned acres unless at least 75% of that farm's effective 1963 cotton allotment was planted or unless failure to plant the allotment can be explained by weather conditions, illness, or other good cause beyond the farmer's control.
3. Farms with less than 15 acres base cotton allotment are limited to a 100% increase or an increase to a total of 15 acres, whichever is greater.
4. Farms with from 15 to 24 acres base allotment are limited to an increase of 100% or an increase to a total of 37½ acres, whichever is greater.
5. Farms with 25 or more acres of base allotment are limited to an increase of 50% of that base allotment.

NEW WORLD POWERS

Walter Lippman views a changing world: "We are in the 1960s, and we must search our minds lest we accept unexamined the assumptions of the postwar years. The paramount theme of the 1940s was the necessity of American intervention to save European civilization from destruction. The paramount theme of the 1950s was to consolidate the western world against the onset of revolutionary communism. The paramount theme of this decade as we know it thus far is that we are emerging from a two-power world and entering one where there are many powers."

PLANNED SOCIETY

Senator Strom Thurmond writes: "To a communist the life of any individual is not worth much because it is society—the planned society—which counts most. To an American who cherishes freedom and individual rights, a life is indeed dear, even where deep political differences exist. Under the American system, we settle our differences at the ballot box. Under the communist system, ideological differences are settled with a bloodbath, individually and collectively. This is just one of many reasons why we cannot continue to tolerate the communist ideology, especially in our own midst."

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends, and they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

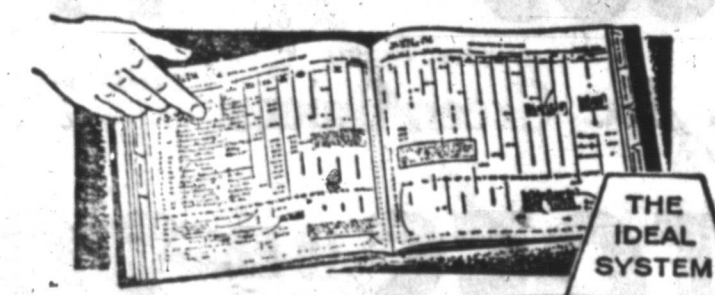

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

PICTURED UNDER CONSTRUCTION at Southwestern Public Service Company's Plant X, in Lamb County, Texas, is a 210,000 kilowatt generator. The largest unit ever installed on the company's system, the huge turbo-generator will go into service in mid-1964. Southwestern Public Service Company has announced that 1964 will be a record year for investment in construction and new facilities, with $30,222,000 budgeted for improvements.

Southwestern Public Service Co. Is Planning Huge Expansion During 1964

Southwestern Public Service Company's plans for 1964 call for the largest one year investment in new facilities in its history, it has been announced by A. R. Watson, President and General Manager of the electric light and power company.

Watson revealed today (Thursday) that the company has investment plans for new equipment and construction of $30,222,000 for this year.

"The 1964 improvement and construction budget is nearly 31% higher than our record years for construction, which were 1953 and 1963, and is evidence of our continuing confidence in the growth of this region," Watson said in his announcement.

The major item in the company's 1964 construction program will be an accelerated schedule of work on the second unit of Cunningham Station, located west of Hobbs, New Mexico. Originally scheduled for completion in 1966, the continued growth of the area has resulted in this timetable on this 210,000 kilowatt unit being advanced a full year, and it is now scheduled to be in service in mid-1965.

Still another major generating plant addition is the 4th turbo-generator at Plant X, in Lamb County, Texas. This 210,000 kilowatt unit, the largest single machine ever installed on Southwestern's system, will go into service in mid-1964.

"With our present generating capability being a little over one million kilowatts, and additions which total 420,000 kilowatts being planned for the next two years, it is apparent that we see our biggest period of growth still ahead of us. This, of course, means that this area must also be looking forward to its greatest growth period, because we install new facilities only because we see they will be needed, and we must be ready in advance of the hour of need," Watson pointed out.

Directly related to the construction of the generation facilities in 1964 is the building of a two hundred thirty thousand volt transmission line linking Plant X and Cunningham Station. This line will be the first constructed by the company to operate at 230,000 volts, although some segments of the present transmission system, which are operating at 115,000 volts, have been built for easy adaptation to the higher voltage.

The company's ultimate goal is the operation of a 230,000 volt "backbone" transmission system extending from Borger to the Pecos Valley region of New Mexico. The result of doubling the transmission line voltage is that the line will then carry four times as much power.

The 230,000 volt transmission line construction scheduled for this year also calls for a new 230,000 volt line to Lubbock. This will make it possible for the Lubbock area to receive power at the new higher voltage and guarantee even better service in that region.

In addition to the transmission grid, which ties together all of the company's plants, the generating facilities of the larger stations, Plant X, Cunningham and Nichols Station, near Amarillo, are directly controlled by an automatic dispatching system, which electronically determines the most efficient generating units to be operated. The dispatching system also computes the share of the load which other plants should be carrying, on the basis of costs, and then these loads are assigned to the plants by direct communication from the load dispatching center in Amarillo.

"There are several other important factors which make it possible for our rates to our

MR. AND MRS. I. L. FOSTER VISITING RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Foster, who formerly operated Wayside Store north of town, were here Tuesday visiting her sister, Mrs. Glen Medlin, and old friends.

They had been in Lubbock visiting a son, James Foster and wife, the former Miss Betty Huddleston, and two children. James is now plant manager for Lubbock Packing Co.

They left to visit a daughter, Dorothy Fulkerson, and husband, Charles, in Odessa.

Their other son, Dr. John Foster and wife, who are now located at Ranger, where he is veterinarian and has his own clinic and is doing well.

The Fosters own and operate a store, cabins and boat dock at Kingsland on Granite Shoals Lake, and say they have a fine business, a beautiful spot for fishing and recreation.

Since building their resort, the town of Kingsland has grown tremendously and comes right up to their resort property. In fact, a new bank building is being erected across the street from their store.

Mrs. L. H. Shelton, mother of Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Medlin, accompanied the Fosters to Tahoka and Mrs. Shelton will remain here in LaVoy's Nursing Home, at least for a while.

customers for electric service to not have to be raised. One of these is the fact that our customers are using more electricity, which makes it possible for us to use larger and more efficient equipment. Our employees are due a measure of credit for these low rates, too, for in 1963, operating expenses and maintenance took a lower percentage of gross revenues than they did the previous year, and it is efforts like this which overcome the rising costs of many of the things necessary to our business, and make it possible to keep our rates low," Watson concluded.

300 Farm Record Keepers Wanted

College Station—As a farm or ranch operator, would you like to join as a select group of cooperators with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in a mail-in record keeping project?

The Service's farm management specialists, with Rex Kennedy serving as coordinator, has issued a call for 300 volunteers who would like to participate in the year-long record project. Kennedy says for the past two years about 50 cooperators have been under the program and that results have been good. The program utilizes the electronic computers at Texas A&M University and makes it possible for the specialists to do a faster and more thorough job.

Kennedy points out that the results of the past two years clearly indicate weaknesses in year-to-year income and expenses, management operations; especially as they relate to costs, yields, machinery and labor utilization. He adds that the past experience has caused the specialists to strongly recommend enterprise accounting, although it is not mandatory for the new cooperators.

Here's what the new cooperators will furnish the specialists at Texas A&M—a beginning inventory, monthly expense and income records (mailed in each month), and an ending inventory. At the end of the year, the specialists will supply the cooperator with a detailed analysis of the year's record. This analysis will be provided in time for use in connection with tax reporting, Kennedy says.

The material submitted by the cooperators will be treated as confidential information and only summaries or averages without identification of individuals will be used by the specialists in their work. Summaries of the records will be available on request any time during the year, says Kennedy.

If you would like to participate in this mail-in farm or ranch accounting program, the size or type of your operation makes no difference, you are advised to contact the local county agent at once. He can supply detailed information and the selection will be largely on a first come basis, Kennedy adds.

Lynn County Setting For Novel By Harvey Smith

Harley Smith of Odessa, formerly of Petty and Tahoka, is author of a newly published historical novel, "Buried Colts," setting for much of which is Lynn county in the early days.

On December 15, Harley was honored with an autograph party at the large ranch home of Mrs. Bessye Cowden Ward of Odessa on the large F-Bar ranch, sponsored by the Texas Permian Basin Historical Society. Monte Hale, the movie star from Hollywood, furnished the music for the occasion.

"Buried Colts" is a story about a half-Comanche cowboy by the name of Jim Caldwell, who grew up on a Texas ranch but was forced to return to the Comanche Nation and again take up the habits he had not lived since early childhood.

Much of the setting for the story is around the Tahoka lakes, the

$365,000 Spent In Lynn County For Cigarettes

New York, Jan. 1—The furor over the new reports linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer and other ailments brings up the question of cigarette consumption in Lynn county.

How much do local people smoke, compared with people in other areas? What effect have previous health warnings had on the amount of smoking done in the county?

Judging from the latest figures on cigarette sales in the area, there has been no noticeable cutback. As a matter of fact, local residents are consuming more than they ever did.

The average user in Lynn county is smoking about 7 percent more than he did 10 years ago.

The tobacco industry was successful in allaying the fears that arose, after the health issue was originally raised, by coming out with filter-tip cigarettes which, it said, would remove the objectionable elements from the smoke.

The net result was that sales continued rising, after a very brief decline. They have now reached the point where per-capita consumption in the United States is at an all-time high.

Resident of Lynn county, in the past year, smoked some 1,238,000 packs of cigarettes, according to a breakdown of regional statistics, released by the tobacco industry.

This was equivalent to 172 packs a year for every local person over the age of 14.

By way of comparison, the average for this group throughout the United States as a whole was 201 packs a year and, in the West South Central States, 164 packs.

The reports that have been released by various committees and research teams, showing higher death rates among heavy smokers, have not bothered the industry.

Salt Lakes near Petty and over into New Mexico.

Harley says he gleaned much of the material from his late grandfather, Brooks Smith of Tahoka, who knew the Indian well in his last great strife for freedom and hunted wild deer, antelope and turkey on the Staked Plains of Texas back in the early days.

The book sells for $3.57, including tax and postage, and may be ordered through The News or by writing to Harley Smith, P. O. Box 6118, Odessa, Texas.

Incidentally, the author's father, O. S. Smith, who was seriously injured several weeks ago in an accident at Cross Plains, is doing fine and has bought a home next door to Harley in Odessa.

as much as might have been expected.

It is convinced that the public wants to smoke and will continue doing so. As to the "evidence," it claims it is purely statistical and doesn't constitute proof.

The cost of this pleasant pastime, while it isn't very great at the per-pack level, becomes considerable when figured on an annual basis.

Cigarette smokers in the United States spent close to $7 billion in that direction last year, the reports show.

In Lynn county, the cost came to $365,000, or about $51 per local smoker.

1964 Outlook For Farming Good

College Station—Texas farmers and ranchmen with the necessary resources—land, capital, labor and the managerial ability to combine them into an efficiently operating unit—should have a good year in 1964, believes John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Here are his reasons. Economic activity for the nation is expected to continue at a high level during 1964. Consumer incomes after taxes are running about 5 percent above 1962 now and further gains are expected in 1964. Too, automobile sales, home building, appliance sales are expected to register further gains as are expenditures for new plants and equipment.

Expenditures for goods and services by federal, state and local governments will increase in 1964 and they now account for about a fifth of the gross national product, McHaney explains.

He points out, however, that the general economic activity will depend to a great extent upon the timing and extent of the proposed tax cut.

The domestic market for agricultural products looks good, says the economist. The immediate outlook for agricultural exports is about the best ever, he adds. Total exports of farm products for 1963-64 is likely to be near $6 billion if the proposed grain sales to Soviet bloc countries materialize.

Farm output continues to rise and 1963 is expected to set a record high for the sixth consecutive year. With average growing conditions, farm output in '64 will remain high and could set a new record, says McHaney.

The cost-price squeeze will still be an important factor in farm income, but with so many farmers also doing off-farm work, per capita personal income of all people living on farms from all sources is expected to be near the 1963 record level.

The outlook calls for further increases in farm assets, chiefly due to the continued rise in farm land values. Though farm debts also continue to increase, the equities of farmers and other farm property owners are increasing at a faster rate, says McHaney.

MOVED TO RISING STAR

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rudd have moved to Rising Star, where they have bought a stock farm, and E. M. hopes to get a little relief from his sinus trouble. They have rented the farm north of New Home where they have lived for 18 years to their son, Marlow, and son-in-law, Nick Ford.

Screwworm Cases Are Decreasing

Mission — The number of screw worm infestations being detected in the Southwest is steadily declining and screwworm eradication workers are marshalling all available forces to overwhelm the livestock pest this winter and bring about eradication.

Texas farmers and ranchers have been detecting less than 100 cases per week; at the same time, production and release of sterile screwworm flies is reaching all-time high proportions. Last week, nearly 150 million flies were released.

During November, livestock producers in 84 Texas counties reported 860 screwworm cases. During the same month last year, 2,710 infestations—from 163 counties—were recorded.

Cold weather has apparently driven most of the native screwworm flies into the South Texas Plains area where they can normally survive the winter, program officials said. They expect, however, that occasional cases will occur outside of this "overwintering area."

A further reduction in screwworm cases because of high sterile fly production and weather unfavorable for screwworm survival, should speed the arrival of the day when the insect will be extinct in the Southwest, eradication workers declare. Assistance from farmers and ranchers, who treat livestock wounds and infestations and report screwworm cases, will allow that time to come even faster, they said.

PAT HUTCHISONS ARE VISITORS IN TAHOKA

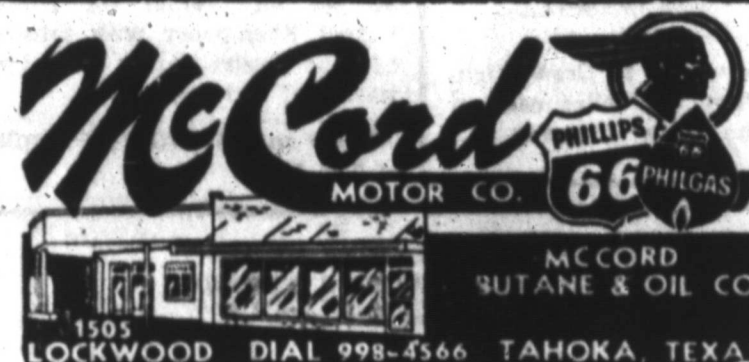

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hutchison of Denver City and their son Paxton and wife of Fort Worth visited here Friday with the Dr. K. E. Durhams. All are former Tahoka residents.

Pat now represents Southwestern Life Insurance Co. in Denver City, and Mrs. Hutchison teaches in the schools there. Pat says that after 15 years teaching the second grade here and at Denver City, his wife has finally advanced to the third grade.

Paxton is the IBM man for the Radio and Television Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, and his wife of six months teaches in the White Settlement schools of suburban Fort Worth.

Old Man 1963, battered and worn from trying times of success and failure, happiness and sorrow, has passed on. And, with great expectation we have welcomed the New Young Fellow 1964, and we hope he brings health, happiness and prosperity to all of you.

We on the Plains have many things for which to be thankful as this new year begins—the finest people in the world, some measure of prosperity, a fine land for farming, little crime and juvenile delinquency, excellent schools and churches, and neighbors who are real friends in time of trouble.

These things are nice to contemplate as we go about working up our income tax figures, totaling up the financial profits and losses of the past year, taking inventories, filling out social security and withholding tax forms, and making out checks and checks and checks.

One Christmas present we received, as we imagine some of you did, too, was a packet of Bluebonnet seed "to help beautify Texas," sent us by Governor John Connally. Even if this is a little political salve, we think it was a nice gesture from the Governor. Now we can plant them, and next summer point out that the flowers were the gift of our Governor.

One Christmas card we failed to mention last week was from our old friend Coach Bill Haralson, and family, now of Houston. Bill, write us a little bit about what and how you are doing. We'll ever remember Bill and Betty for the fine job they did with our kids in the local schools—and a lot of other local people will, too!

Bruce D. Johnson of Dallas, Southwest representative of Independent Newspaper Market, Inc., which has headquarters in New York City, was an interesting visitor of The News last week. His firm is the go-between that sells advertising for The News and a selected group of small newspapers over the nation to national advertisers such as automobile manufacturers, oil companies, etc. Bruce sort of amazed us at the information he had on Tahoka and Lynn county which he presents to advertising representatives of national distributors. For instance, he has Lynn county rated as one of the top markets, per capita, in the nation. He has us rated 10th in national cotton production, eighth in Southwestern grain sorghum production, high in bank deposits per capita, farm and home ownership, farm machinery sales, and buying power.

best he had ever seen, took a copy for his files, and suggested we send more of them to national manufacturers.

Texas got some very bad publicity through the assassination of President Kennedy in our state. But, we are now getting some favorable publicity by the centering of world attention on the LBJ Ranch down near Johnson City. And, President Johnson and his family are doing a lot to sell themselves and Texas to the nation and the world. For one thing, he is putting over the impression he is a man of the soil, of common weal, a man who can, perhaps, understand the problems of little people. But, Texas' first man in the presidency has some rough problems ahead.

A visitor to Tahoka last week who has lived in the North and East pointed out that there is much unjustified criticism and prejudice against Texas and the South and Southwest.

Barber Ben Lumpkins is getting some kidding about the size of his new son, born Christmas Eve. The baby weighed five pounds, nine ounces at birth. Ben weighs 268 pounds.

As one haggard New Year's Eve celebrant said the morning after, "Give me an aspirin but don't slam the lid."—Clipped.

A Fable?
Once upon a time in the not too distant past, there was an industrious ant. He worked all day in the fields cutting grass and taking it home to store for the winter while his neighbor, a grass-hopper, sat singing in the sun, watching the ant work.

Winter came and the cold winds blew and the ant remained in his warm house, surrounded by his grass. But then it came to pass that the industrious ant had violated the Federal Farm Law of The Land. So he was fined $137.75 for overharvesting grass and the grass was confiscated and the grasshopper received it for his free food stamps and lived happily ever after.

Here's another Boyce House Texas tall-tale: Moisture once got so scarce in southwest Texas they had to put stamps on letters with paper clips.

And here's another:
"Whew!" said the stranger at a party. "Look at that long, lanky girl!"
"She used to be long and lanky," commented his host. "Nowadays she's tall and stately. They just struck oil on her old man's place."

And another:
A dead Chinese was brought to Judge Roy Bean by a constable who wanted to know what to do about the apparent murder. The body was searched and $33.20 and a small pistol were found in the Chinaman's pocket. The Judge pondered a moment. He couldn't recall any law against killing a Chinaman, so the deceased was fined exactly $33.20 for carrying concealed weapons.

Horses Are Where The People Are

College Station—The horses of Texas are moving from the ranges and farms to the cities, says Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Today horses are found predominantly where the people of the state are concentrated, he says.

The specialist points out that while horse numbers in Texas and the U. S. as a whole, show a decline, the ones that remain are being concentrated in certain areas. With the exception of the large cattle ranches which use horses for working cattle, the primary concentration of horses is near the metropolitan areas of the state. The counties with the largest numbers are: Kleberg, Harris, Tarrant, Washington, and Brazoria.

The specialist says that riding stables, 4-H Horse Clubs and just owning a horse, have become popular with the city dwellers of the state.

Texans' love for horses made them worth 31 million dollars, an amount larger than our farm value of hogs, or goats, or even mohair production, says Uvacek.

Miss Berta Hill of Seguin visited here briefly during the Christmas holidays and in Lubbock with her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle. She was accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Mullins of Seguin, a former citizen of Tahoka, who visited in Lubbock with a sister. Mr. and Mrs. Mullins left here 22 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClellan and two children of Ruidoso, N. M., spent last week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClellan.

The last few pounds that go on the beef animal are the most costly for the producer. As cattle become more highly finished, the daily gain decreases and the feed required per pound of gain increases.

Butter not intended for immediate use should be kept in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator.
