SCORE DEAD IN HURRICANE SURVEY SHOWS

By United Press

HOUSTON, July 26.—Over a score of persons dead or missing and damage estimated in terms of millions of dollars were reported today from the hurricane-swept section of the Texas coast. Nine of the 21 persons were known dead.

Fear was expressed others may be dead in small communities which have been cut off from communication since yesterday.

The known dead included one at Texas City, one at Sargent, one at Freeport, one at Hereford and five at Morales.

Most of the deaths and property damage was accredited to a giant tidal wave that accompanied the hurricane when it struck slightly north of Corpus Christi and swept inland.

One Candidate Files His Expense Account as Follows

After each election we are confronted with items such as the following, although this one, from an exchange, seems to be even more amusing than usual: A candidate for office filed the following expense account:

"Lost four months sleep and 20 days canvasing, lost 1,360 hours of sleep thinking about the elections, lost 40 acres of corn and a crop of sweet potatoes, lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal combat with an opponent. Donated one beef, four goats and five sheep to a barbecue. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, five calico dresses, five dolls and 13 baby rattles. Kissed 126 babies, kindled 14 kitchen fires, put up eight stoves, cut 14 cords of wood, carried 24 buckets of water, gathered seven wagon loads of corn, pulled 475 bundles of fodder, walked 4,000 miles, shook hands with 9,080; told 10,000 lies; attended 26 revivals, was baptized twice by immersion and once by sprinkling; contributed $50 to foreign missions, made love to nine grass widows, got dog bit 19 times and got h—— beat out of me at the election."

Weather permitting the rally will be held on the south side of the courthouse lawn where ample provisions will be made to accomodate the crowd. Sound amplifying equipment will be installed.

Should it rain the meeting will be moved into one of the commodious district court rooms, where electric fans will be used to keep the room cool.

Judge Chastain is completing a strenuous speaking campaign, having recently spoken at Breckenridge, Desdemona and other places. By United Press

CHICAGO, July 26—A 67-year-old widower, in whose home federal agents claimed the features of John Dillinger were altered by means of plastic surgery, leaped 19 floors to his death from the department of justice offices here.

The suspect, James J. Probasco, leaped from a window of an anteroom while waiting to be questioned in connection with disguising Dillinger's features.

Samuel P. Cowley, assistant to the chief of the government Dillinger man-hunters here, said his agents had obtained information the man arranged for the surgical work on Dillinger.

Blanton's Friends See Him As Victor At Polls Saturday

Following a campaign speaking schedule beginning Monday afternoon at Palo Pinto, Congressman Thomas L. Blanton has spoken this week at points in Palo Pinto, Stephens and Taylor counties.

At each of the places where he has appeared this week Congressman Blanton has spoken to unusually large audiences. Ae Breckenridge, the home of one of his opponents, more than 2,500 people were present to hear his address. At Eastland, Stephenville, Comanche, Hamilton and other places where he spoke at earlier dates, big crowds greeted him, according to information sent Blanton headquarters.

Information received from each of the 12 counties in the 17th congressional district gives assurances of a Blanton vote Saturday sufficiently heavy to put him far out in the lead of his opponents.

Last year plowing under cotton—this year dusting it over. Here a Stearman "cotton duster" plane spreads death at 100 miles an hour to the boll weevil, roaring over a field near Hughes, Ark., in the Mississippi Delta. In one dive across the field the pilot leaves a film of arsenate of lead across the cotton plants. The dusting is done early in the morning, so that the poison is assimilated by the dew, which is drunk by the weevil. With reduced acreage under the AAA program, growers are seeking maximum production.

Eastland Voters To Vote At Two Boxes Saturday

Eastland voters Saturday for the first time will cast their ballots in two boxes instead of one, owing to the creation of Precinct No. 27 by the county commissioners recently.

Owing to a misinterpretation of the division line of precinct 1 and 27, the latter created by the county commissioners last August, some voters may be classified in the wrong precinct.

Voters residing east of Daugherty, the north and south street in front of the city hall, including those that live on the east side of the street, should cast their vote in Precinct Box 27, which will be in the basement floor of the courthouse, Justice of the Peace Milton Newman's court room, where Jim Cheatham will be the presiding judge.

Voters residing west of Daugherty, including those on the west side of the street, should cast their votes in Precinct Box 1, at the City Hall, where Homer Brelsford Jr., will officiate.

The division lines in detail as described by county commissioners at the creation of the new box are as follows:

The new precinct which was created last August, is number 27.

Precinct 27 imaginary line runs north from Daugherty avenue to the Texas & Pacific railroad track, thence east with said track to Eastland and Breckenridge paved road and then north to the county line.

Precinct 1's division line goes east to the Eastland and Carbon paved road, then in a generally northern direction to points which intersect Daugherty street in Eastland, then north with Daugherty to the Texas & Pacific tracks after which the line runs east with the track to where it is crossed by paved road leading from Eastland to Breckenridge, after which it extends to the county line.

The assasination of Chancellor Dollfuss plus today's determination to maintain Austrian independence led to circulation of scare rumors about troop movements and impending disasters.

The floor of the stock exchange was active.

Forecasts for today offered hope of relief, as cooler weather and more showers were predicted in Chicago, Omaha, Topeka, Oklahoma City, Kansas City and portions of Texas.

Weather experts looked for possibility of relief from two sources, the Texas hurricane and a high pressure area from out of the northwest.

WAR CLOUDS ARE HOVERING OVER EUROPE

Several Nations Rush Troops To Their Frontiers As Trouble Brews.

By United Press

Mussolini sent 40,000 troops to the Austrian frontier today as all Europe remembering Sarajevo and 1914, watched the Nazi unrest in Austria with dismay and apprehension.

Mussolini telegraphed Vienna his pledge Austria's independence must be preserved.

Czecho-Slovakian forces were reported being strengthening on that country's frontier.

The German frontier was blocked by the Berlin government to prevent an influx of German Nazis into Austria that might prove the spark to set off the powder keg.

As Chancellor Dollfuss lay dead Nazis started an uprising in Styria with heavy fighting in progress.

Anton Rintelen, Austrian minister to Rome, who was accused of inspiring the Nazi uprising, committed suicide.

France offered to join Italy and England if necessary. Britain left the initiative to Italy for the present but could be counted on for support.

Diplomats of the three powers began consultations in their capitals to decide on a course of action.

Hitler, in southern Germany, was not far from the Austrian frontier and kept close watch on events.

Switzerland doubled its guard on the Austrian frontier today. This country is sending a protest to morrow to Berlin against the shipment of German munitions into Austria through Switzerland.

By United Press

VIENNA, July 26.—Austrian troops battled Nazis in the province of Upper Styria and other parts of the country today as the government made a drive against terrorists.

Police announced between 15 and 20 soldiers were killed in action in Styria, where the main fighting was in progress. No figures were given for Nazi casualties. They were expected to be as great or greater.

At Deutschlandburg police announced six dead and 12 seriously wounded when troops recaptured the town from Nazis, who seized it last night after announcement of the assassination of Dollfuss.

Three deaths were reported at Steinz, which the military captured after severe fighting. The villages of Broesing and Ebyiswald still were in the hands of the Nazis, police said.

Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, vice chancellor and leader of the fascist army, arrived by airplane from Venice and took command of his 250,000 men. It was believed that he might emerge as the country's dictator.

Twenty Years Ago —And Today

Twenty years ago today newspapers of the country heralded the Austrian crisis which precipitated the World war:

"Austria Breaks with Servia."

"Russia Mobilizing Her Army."

"Austrian Minister Recalled."

"War Peril Hovers Over Europe."

Newspapers pictured today Austria's second great crisis:

"Austrian Nazis Kill Dollfuss."

"Italian Army, Navy Planes, Ready to Act."

"Nazi War Cloud Covers Europe."

ALL HAIL SHERIFF HOLMES OF BAYLOR

Place the face of Sheriff Arch Holmes of Baylor county in the picture. Two youthful ruffians raided the First National bank of Seymour. Well, the sheriff caught the trail. He had a running gun fight with the hijackers. He shot one into submission and the other threw up his hands and surrendered. All the money was recovered. All the loot was recovered. A fine arsenal of shotguns, rifles and pistols was taken over by the sheriff. He placed his captives behind the bars.

They had prison records.

One had been convicted in Stephens and Taylor counties and sentenced to 15 years for three robberies and a theft. He was admitted to prison Nov. 25, 1932. His pay, who hails from Oklahoma, is believed to be an ex-convict. Send the flowers to the dashing sheriff of Baylor in the City of Seymour away in the head waters of the Brazos river.

He got "his man." No, he got "his men."

Of course, they are headed for the state penitentiary. They perpetrated a robbery with firearms, and hijackers who used firearms should be placed where firearms are not within easy reach. There should be no maudlin sympathy in Texas about these raiders of the highways and the ranges.

Speaking more to the point, Mr. John Citizen is reminded that law enforcement is a burning issue in this commonwealth. There is a state nominating primary July 28. Texas should have a state police force. Rangers and highway patrolmen who are free from political control or direction should be the state police guardians of all the people of this commonwealth. In addition, bank robbers and murders should be given the limit by the jurors who pass upon their cases in the trial courts. Law enforcement is an issue that cannot be kicked asid. Modern police patrol should come at the next session of the Texas legislature and politicians should not have the naming of those selected to guard and protect life and property in the land of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston.

The manufacturers of electrical appliances are taking the lead in the art of selling, and every line of business should follow the example set by them. First, they know that only quality can stand the light of continuous newspaper advertising. Second, they realize that the public knows that advertised goods are the cheapest in the long run, as their durability makes them the most economical. So the electrical appliance people keep on advertising and keep on sellnig.

There seems to be a growing demand by the people for protection against ill-considered legislation.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY

"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE TERRY comes to New York determined to show her home town, Marburg, and especially AMY JACKSON that she can make a success of her life. Amy has been her best friend until HOWARD JACKSON broke the engagement Jane had forced upon him and married Amy.

In New York Jane obtains a position in a real estate office and soon is making a large income. She has an affair with ROGER THORPE, married, but tires of him. When he offers to bear the expense of their child she contemptuously dismisses him. Amy takes the baby, named NANCY, promising never to reveal its parentage.

When America enters the World War Howard enlists in the aviation corps and goes to a training camp in Texas. His mother comes to stay with Amy and little Nancy. Amy confides to MARY JACKSON that she is expecting a child of her own.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXI

WALKING with Alice made Amy think of Jane, because she and Jane had so often taken this same path. Watching Alice with Nancy reminded Amy of Jane, too, and with a kinder feeling than she had had in the summer. Now and then Mary spoke of Jane, reported something Miss Rosa had told her, something glittering and spectacular. Jane was head of a special committee of business women to sell Liberty Bonds. Jane was making speeches on the steps of the Public Library. Jane's business was growing. She meant to enlarge her offices. Everything was to Jane's importance and success. Amy listened with an amused twinkle. She could perfectly see Jane swanking around, playing her part with dashing conviction, but she felt no tingle of envy. But when one day late in November, Mary said that Jane was coming to stay with her aunt for the holidays Amy only commented absently: "That'll please Miss Rosa," and thought no more about it.

The holidays this year meant only to Amy that Howard was sure of his leave for that time.

With Howard's coming in view Amy first went through her house like a stern and captious stranger, and then, with lists beside her began a series of renovations.

She planned her meals, too, of the dishes Howard liked best. "And if," she said to Mary, "the Food Administration comes along and puts me in jail for it, I'm not going to use a single substitute while Howard's here."

"Go ahead," replied Mary. "I'll aid and abet you and go to jail with you if it's necessary." Presently she added: "Rosa would like us to come to her for Christmas dinner, but I told her we wouldn't think of it."

"I'd rather have no dinner at all than go out anywhere."

MARY answered hesitatingly: "Amy—how would it be if I went to Rosa's that day—and let you and Howard be to yourselves? And I could take Nancy—"

"Oh, you make me feel a pig! Do I seem to be trying to crowd you out? Oh no, Mary, please. You belong here. And I want you. It would spoil everything if you went out—and I wouldn't like to send Nancy away either. Especially to Miss Rosa's, while Jane's there—" she went on quickly — "Jane doesn't care much for children, and she rubbed me the wrong way the only time she ever saw Nancy. Very foolish of me, I suppose, but she—well, she said that Nancy wasn't a pretty child and I resented it. I keep on resenting it, too, in a small-minded maternal way."

"Why Amy, you of all people let a chance remark like that rankle so! Does it matter what Jane thinks?"

"Oh no, it doesn't, of course. Not really. But if anyone had told you Howard was a plain little boy would you have been pleased?"

"I'd have been as mad as hops."

"There—you see? And even if it wasn't any question of exposing Nancy to Jane's comments, I wouldn't have you go anywhere else for Christmas for the world."

There was such earnestness and sincerity in her voice that Mary Jackson smiled with gratification. "It's very sweet to have you say that. But truthfully, it doesn't matter so vitally to me to spend the time with Howard as it does you. Ever since he's been grown I've trained myself to be contented just to know that he's well and happy somewhere, even when he's not with me. It saves such a lot of emotional wear and tear on both of us."

Amy shook her head doubtfully. "I don't believe I'll ever feel that way about my son," she said.

If she had not had so many things to do Amy could hardly have existed through the last weeks before Howard came.

HER beauty bloomed in expectance. Sometimes Mary Jackson and her mother spoke of it. There was something beyond reality in it. Her eyes did not see them but only her great happiness, her mouth was curved and red and soft, her skin was translucently fair. She was luminous, radiant, waiting. In the very last days she did not talk very much. She was with Howard as he took his way toward her. She knew the hour when he started, the moment of each stop, just where his train would be every mile of the way.

And then, miracle, he was there! Tall and strong, cold from the keen winter outside, but with a living and hearty cold that is akin to heat, dropping his cap, his gloves on the floor, smothering her against his greatcoat, holding her, saying her name—"Amy, Amy—Amy—Amy!" telling her all that she needed to know in that one word.

"Oh, but let me look at you!" she said, drawing away a little, but holding him tight. "Why, I do believe you've grown! And what a proud, elegant uniform! And the wings! Oh Howard—you're grand!"

He could say nothing but her name, and he had tears in his eyes like a child wanting consolation. Finally he stammered: "It was too long. I felt as if all this—and you—didn't exist any more. That I'd never see you again."

After his mother and Nancy came in he found coherence, but all of them were too excited and over-wrought to do much but begin sentences and leave them half spoken, forgetting what they meant to say in the overwhelming joy of reunion.

Howard sat on the sofa between Mary and Amy, Nancy on his knees. "Everything looks so wonderful!" he kept exclaiming. "Here it is, just as I dreamed about it! It's all real!"

LATER in the evening people began to come to see Howard—Professor Ellert first of all, beaming at him, lamenting his own age that he could not enlist, working out schemes to get Howard another step in rank—"It's largely pulling the right wires, my boy,"—fingering Howard's insignia covetously and unwilling to say a word about college affairs or anything but the army and the war. Professor and Mrs. Lowe came in and the Dean and two or three more of the faculty with their wives. Amy noted that the men were obsessed by the war, but that the women listened with a sort of futile angry impatience. She was glad when they were all gone and Mary, yawning, had kissed her son and gone to bed.

Then Amy and Howard sat down before the fire, her head on his shoulder, their hands clasped. "While I'm here and when we're alone," he said, "we're going to pretend that it's just as always. I don't want to talk about airplanes or guns or soldiers with you, Amy. I want just my wife and my home. Let's forget everything else."

"Tell me one thing first. Is there any chance that you'll be sent over, any time soon? I don't want that in the background, threatening me. If it's there, I'd rather face it."

"I honestly don't know, darling. Nobody can tell a thing. My work seems to be going all right and I may be kept right at it indefinitely, or I might be ordered up to the Long Island camp—that's where they give the final training, you know—and even if I go there I might be kept right on as an instructor—or I might get overseas orders. I won't say a word, or do a thing to try to stay in Texas. It wouldn't be decent. I've been seeing too many fellows who seem to think this war is a great chance to wangle something slick for themselves, and not a war at all. I do my stuff the best I know, and if the orders come—well, they come. There's the whole truth, Amy darling, and the minute I know anything else I'll tell you. And now let's forget it. My time with you is too precious to spoil. I want to have every bit of it, taste it, feel it, look at it, this room with a fire and flowers—these walls safe around us, and you, my very own, with me. I've starved with longing for you."

HAS PROVEN HIS ABILITY AS A PUBLIC OFFICIAL

Much has been said pro and con during the campaign for Flotor Representative of the 107th District, consisting of Eastland County a Callahan County. But no man or women can be fair and challe Donald Kinnaird's honest efforts to render a valuable and worth wh public service since he was elected a member of the Eastland City Co mission and elevated to the office of Mayor by his colleagues.

Donald Kinnaird is respected by his fellow members of the boa His judgment in all civic and city government affairs has always be sound and constructive. Wherever a major problem comes before h jurisdiction he is quick to grasp the issue and satisfy it to the full a vantage of the City of Eastland.

Donald Kinnaird has gone through the hardest period of depressi and reconstruction that has even been thrust upon a public official. Th City of Eastland has profited by having such a man as Donald Kinnai as its Mayor. He has given the people of Eastland a most economi operation of government affairs that has not only kept up the efficien of every department but has saved many dollars for the taxpayers.

Donald Kinnaird's close contact with the CWA and other gover ment work projects has made it possible to give labor an opportuni to exist. It has made it possible for the citizens to drive down well graded side streets, which has also made the city take on an attitude attractiveness.

Donald Kinnaird is a worker and never shirks from the duties im posed upon him. He is generous in his civic service, he is willing in h diligence to keep the City of Eastland in the foreground for progres He is a friend to labor, and lends a ready ear to all problems of all pe ple regardless of their station in business or personal life.

When the recent Gas controversy was at its heights, Donald Ki naird assumed the leadership and tempered emotional excitement wi common sense judgment and asked his people to give the City Commi sion an opportunity to study every angle of the demands being mad upon the commission. In this he used the utmost good judgment an with such an attitude it eliminated the danger of a too hasty actio which would endanger the best interests of the community.

It is unfair to accuse Donald Kinnaird of "playing" with Utilities because there isn't any truth in it. He is obligated to neither. Donal Kinnaird and his fellow Commissioners have been working for many months with the officials of the present Gas Company to reduce the Ga Rates. Before any applications for a franchise from another company was presented Donald Kinnaird and his Commission associates had had an agreement with the Lone Star Gas officials that the rate would be reduced. This was done and to Donald Kinnaird goes the credit as well as to his fellow Commissioners.

Today Donald Kinnaird is enjoying the happy thought that his people are getting their gas at 50 cents per thousand. This condition came about not through Kinnaird's influence but by voluntary action of the Lone Star Gas Company. The fight between the two gas companies is not to Donald Kinnaird's credit, but the reduction in the first gas rate instance is due directly to his activity.

In conclusion, Donald Kinnaird is due the vote and influence of the citizens of Eastland. He has made Eastland a good Mayor and he will make the 107th District the best Representative. He is honest, fair and impartial. He has the ability to handle the problems of the State which are so vital. Under his Mayorship Eastland has gone forward and the citizens have profited by his leadership. This is one time that the citizenship can show their appreciation and gratitude for the excellent work he has done by voting for him and give him the opportunity to render a still greater service.

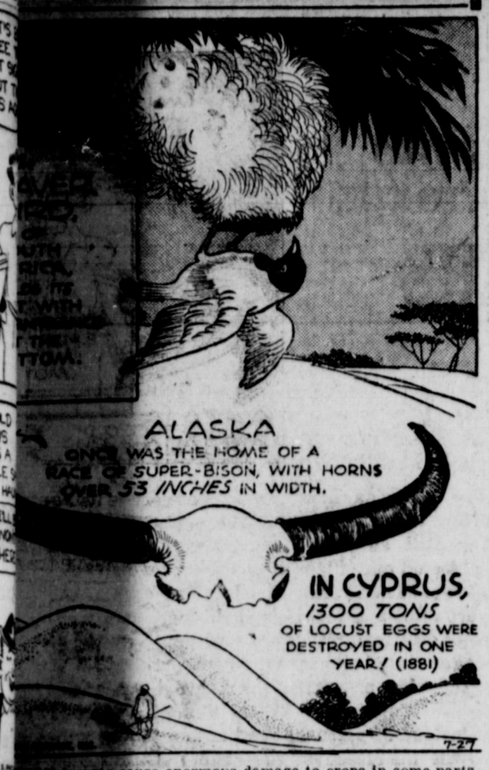

Donald Kinnaird has no intentions of knocking the bottom out of anything if he is elected. His cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce of Eastland as well as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is too well known and he is one representative that would not take offense at wires that he may receive regarding questions that are vital to his constituents. He is a man that would consider that when a body of representative citizens such as the Chambers of Commerce over the State or any other civic or lay group, take the trouble to take an interest in legislative bills that there must be a reason for it, and at least give it consideration. But Donald Kinnaird is a man that has the courage of his convictions and the common sense judgment to carry them out for the best interests of all people rather than for the classes.

Vote for Donald L. Kinnaird Saturday

Let's have service rather than humor! Let's have concentration rather than radicalism! Let's put our faith in the man that has proven his ability! He is the logical man!

TAXIS EMULATE CLOCKS

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn.— It may be in violation of the alarm clock code, but private taxi owners in the mountainous seitions near here early each day honk their horns as they drive to the end of their routes, then turn back and pick up the awakened passengers for rides to nearby factories. A honk in front of each regular passenger's home does the trick, obviating the necessity for alarm clocks.

Emergency Loan Office Established In This County

There has been established at Nemir building, corner of Patterson and Lamar streets, in Eastland, an office where applications for Emergency Feed Loans will be received, Field Supervisor Murrah Nolte, announced today.

Applications for loans will be accepted from farmers and stockmen for the purchase of feed for farm and range livestock and to plant forage crops in Eastland county, which has been designated as emergency drouth area. Walter Gray is in charge of the local office and the county committee consists of M. Newman, L. Y. Morris, F. J. Stubblefield and H. E. Driscoll, ex-officio member.

In discussing the regulations the field supervisor pointed out that applications can be accepted only from applicants who have no means or other sources of credit enabling them to undertake the production of a forage crop or crops or to purchase feed for their livestock.

Loans will be advanced in monthly installments, with a supplemental application neccessary for each month's requirements.

The lien securing the promissory note given will be subject to non-disturbance agreement to be executed by lien holders, if any, who must agree to take no steps to enforce the payment or collection of any claim against the borrower nor dispossess him of any property until Jan. 1, 1936.

Applications must be submitted to the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan committee for Eastland county in which the applicant's livestock is located or forage crops to be planted.

20,000,000 Hours Of Employment Back Of Ward's Big Sale

It has been estimated that 20,000,000 hours of employment were required to fill Wards' orders for their August Furniture sale. In terms of 40-hour weeks, the time used amounts to 500,000 weeks. This means that it would take one man, working 40 hours a week, 9,615 years to make the furniture ordered for this sale.

Henry Davenport Seeking Office of Commissioner

Henry Davenport, who has been commissioner from Precinct 1 for the past 18 months, is running for re-election to that office this year.

Mr. Davenport has let the people know, through personal contact, newspaper advertising and circulars distributed at meetings of various kinds, that he is a candidate, running on his record for the past 18 months as commissioner.

He has pointed out that when he went into office there was a total of outstanding warrants and invoices of $19,000 that had been left by the previous commissioner, but that he had been able, in 18 months to pay off $14,976 of this amount, and at the same time carry on the work he was expected to do.

He pointed out that he had had favorable weather during his term in office during which he could maintain roads at a minimum expense, which partly accounted for his being able to pay off so much of the old nidebtedness, but economy measures, without slighting any roads had accounted for the rest.

He urges the people not to listen to any 11th hour propaganda that might be put out against him, but to let his record of 18 months be compared with that of any commissioner and then vote according to one's convictions.

A Tennessee professor says the people are getting harder to fool. But still not so hard as to quit voting for the wrong candidates.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Hardin-Simmons Bandmaster Elected

ABILENE, Texas—The position of conductor of the Cowbow Band and director of the school of band music at Hardin-Simmons university, vacant since June 1, has been filled by the appointment of Marion B. McClure, former player, assistant director, and composer with the band.

Selection of McClure, who was chosen over a field of more than 100 applicants from every section of the United States, became certain Friday, when he wired his acceptance from Chicago, where he is now studying.

McClure holds B. A. and B. Mus. degrees and has done work toward the M. Mus. degree. He is now studying arranging, conducting, and instrumental music with Howard Hansen of the Eastman School of Music, and Carl Busch, eminent band director.

For four years a member of the band he will now direct, McClure made all important tours with the organization while he was in the university. When still a freshman, he was selected as one of the 25 chosen from a band membership of 100 to make the concert tour of Europe. He has also played with the band in New York, Chicago, Boston, and other large cities.

Many of the musical arrangements used by the band have been his and he has done stage sketches for several appearances. Although a young man, McClure has been studying and taking active part in band and orchestra music for nearly 20 years. He began the playing of instruments in the band when he was 11 years old, and has been engaged in that work continuously since.

TO MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

When a candidate offers himself for re-election there should be a record of service behind him to stand upon. I ask the people of Eastland County to review in their minds just the kind of service that I have rendered you as your Sheriff. I am proud of it, naturally because I know that I have given the people the kind of protection worthy of honest criticism. My deputy associates have been with me throughout my term of office. During my tenure of office I have confined all of my activities to the office of Sheriff which job I was elected to perform. Regardless of any rumors that may broadcast either with malicious or honest intentions I have never interfered not even suggested in any manner or form the conduct of any other public office in Eastland County or elsewhere. MY JOB IS A RESPONSIBLE AND BIG ONE. IF PROPERLY ATTENDED TO THERE IS NO TIME TO "MEDDLE" WITH THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF OTHER OFFICIAL DEPARTMENTS OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT. I HAVE BEEN BUSY ATTENDING TO MY OWN JOB AND LOOKING OUT AFTER THE PEOPLE'S INTERESTS AS A PEACE OFFICER WHICH I PLEDGE TO CONTINUE TO DO AS LONG AS I AM YOUR SHERIFF.

I earnestly and sincerely ask your vote and support in the coming primary on my record as a peace officer and on my record as a citizen of your county.

Pledging Myself to Service!

Since becoming your County Judge, I have at no time considered or referred to the office as MINE but merely felt that you placed me in YOUR office to serve you at your will. Every citizen of the county, regardless of race, color or creed or station in life has been extended every courtesy and the utmost consideration by your humble servant—which was no more than you were entitled to. Frankly, I believe Eastland County needs a man for County Judge at this time who is qualified, honest, stands for strict economy, knows your needs, interested in your many problems and has had executive experience. I am making this race solely on my record and qualifications. If you feel that they are such as will justify your support and influence I shall be deeply grateful to you for same. If you re-elect me, it will be my constant aim and earnest endeavor to serve you in such a way that you will never have cause to regret supporting me.

Sincerely hoping that I may have the pleasure of seeing you personally during the campaign and thanking you for any consideration given my candidacy, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

V. V. Cooper Is Making Strong Bid For Voters' Favor

V. V. Cooper, who is making the race for county commissioner of precinct No. 1, was the commissioner in that precinct for a number of years before the present incumbent and points with pride to his achievements while in office.

Mr. Cooper says, "I believe in maintaining good roads at the least possible cost which will serve the greatest number of people. I believe that a laborer should be paid wages that will enable him to support his family properly. I will give every consideration to the old, poor and needy of the county who are not otherwise provided for. I will co-operate with the teachers and parents of the schools in my precinct, as I have in the past, in bettering the roads leading to the schools and also grading and maintaining the school grounds. I favor giving reductions in tax values wherever and whenever justifiable."

Concerning the extravagance with which he has been charged, Mr. Cooper has this to say: "The indebtedness that accrued against this precinct was unavoidable because they were, in the main, caused by acts of God. One rain in June, 1932, washed out fifty-six bridges and culverts which of necessity had to be replaced immediately at a cost of $4,000. Then again in the same year the old bridge on Colony creek at the Panhandle lease had to be replaced with an 80-foot steel span and the wooden bridge on the Ranger-Thurber road in the east end of the county burned and had to be replaced, the two bridges costing a total of about $4,500. Furthermore, the state highway department required the widening of highways Nos. 1 and No. 67 through Eastland county, the obtaining of right-of-ways, rebuilding of fences, building of culverts for which cost approximately $15,000. While all this expenditure was unlooked for and unprovided for, I did have the satisfaction of seeing that the money for labor went into the hands of many of our needy and worthy citizens."

Cecil Lotief Wants To Serve People of His District Again

Cecil A. Lotief of Cross Plains, present flotorial representative from Eastland and Callahan counties, is again a candidate for the position to which the voters of the two counties elected him in 1932.

Representative Lotief has served the people of his district in the regular session of the legislature and in the special session which was called by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson last fall. During his term in office he has made a splendid record, voting on all measures as he thought would be to the best advantage of his constituency.

He is running for re-election on a platform of conscientious representation of the people and not the special "classes." He has ever been a friend of the common people and has fought vigorously all legislation that he deemed would be in the favor of privileged interests to the detriment of the people as a whole.

It is upon this record in the house, which he points to with justifiable pride, that he is seeking re-election to the position in order that he may continue to serve the people and to serve them to even better advantage through the experience and knowledge that he has gaind while a member of the lower house throughout one whole term during which much was accomplished by both houses.

Turner Collie Is Without Opposition

Turner M. Collie, county clerk, is one of three county officers who has no opponent this year and is certain of election. Being unopposed he has not been actively campaigning in the interest of his race, but he is thankful to the voters of the entire county for the vote given him at the last election and he is expressing this appreciation for their support in today's political edition of this paper.

The fact that three candidates, Collie, Tom Haley and Lewis Crossley have no onponent speaks well for all, as the candidates fought shy of these offices. All three are now serving first terms.

Montana Prepares For Roosevelt Visit

HELENA, Mont.— Montanans are dusting off the old "Welcome" mat and preparing to give President F. D. Roosevelt a warm reception.

It is understood here that the presidential party will visit Glacier National Park and the Fort Peck Dam project—both in Montana—following the President's trip to Hawaii.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana played the missionary role in selling Montana's scenic wonders to the President.

Lewis Crossley Is Unopposed For the Office He Holds

Lewis Crossley, district clerk, is running again this year for the office he has held for one term. In 1932 he announced for the office and polled one of the largest votes of any candidate for office who had an opponent.

This year he is running for the office, without an opponent. In another section of the paper will be found his advertisement, which he placed in the political edition merely to acquaint the voters of the county with the fact that he was in the race. Although not opposed he solicits the vote of the people again this year.

T.C. Williams Is Seeking Job As Superintendent

T. C. Williams, candidate for County School Superintendent, favors:

Maintaining the already established rural schools, unless a community wants to change.

Placing all the children above the 5th grade in the rural schools in the larger schools. Keeping the primary grades of the smaller schools in the home school. Employing for these grades nothing but experienced and well trained teachers.

Building up communities instead of tearing them down. More harmony and more cooperation between the larger and the smaller schools. Making a place for beginning teachers. Supporting the Junior Colleges of Eastland county.

Cooperating with the State Department of Education in promoting the right kind of progressive educational programs. Equal educational opportunities and advantages for all children regardless of where the child lives.

High educational ideals, fairness, patience, professional and business courtesy in all dealings. He believes that a government is safer the closer it is to the people, and earnestly solicits your support from now until and on election day.

SANDUSKY, O.—Louis A. and August C. Schultz, brothers, are rivals for control of the Democratic party in Erie County.

IN MAKING THIS LAST APPEAL TO THE

I, BEFORE Saturday's election, most respectfully urge and request that a careful investigation and due consideration be given my past record as your Commissioner concerning things which directly affected our citizenship, a few of which I desire to mention as follows: The system of lateral roads and the manner which they were built and maintained throughout the entire precinct; my untiring efforts in providing work for our citizens and at a reasonable wage; my wholehearted co-operation in favor of adjusting and rightly reducing properties for able purposes; my position in demanding that County and School Funds be secured by guilt-edge securties instead of personal bond and my eagerness to give aid to the distressed of the county in providing absolute necessities of life.

If YOU see fit to elect me your Commissioner it will be my purpose to carry out these policies as far as possible and practicable, and trusting that they meet with your approval, I most earnestly solicit your support on next Saturday, July 28th.

Yours very sincerely,

Qualifications For Voting In The Primaries

The qualification of voters is the crux of the election laws of Texas, under which the Democratic primary will be conducted Saturday.

The voter must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, a resident of the county in which he offers to vote for six months and must have paid a poll tax, if subject thereto, prior to Feb. 1 preceding the election, or have obtained an exemption certificate if one is required.

Persons between 21 and 60 are required to pay poll taxes. In order for a person to obtain an exemption certificate to vote in the primary this year he must have become 21 after Jan. 1, 1933, or must have been 60 on Jan. 1, 1933. Only poll tax receipts dated "1933" can be used in the election this year. The current receipts were levied for 1933 although they were obtainable until Feb. 1,1 934.

The young man or woman who becomes 21 by Saturday can vote Saturday.

E. A. RINGOLD
Candidate for
REPRESENTATIVE
Eastland County

Presents the following platform for the consideration of the voters:

I favor fewer laws and better obeyance of the ones we have. I favor the reduction of taxes by reducing the cost of government; abolishing unnecessary offices and reducing the number of employees to what is necessary to do efficient work. I favor an income tax for the support of public schools and take some of the burden off real estate.

I favor the exemption of homesteads up to $3,000.00 value from ad valorem taxes except for school and city purposes. I favor an old age pension of $15.00 per month for needy people above 65 years of age. I favor the continuance of $16.00 per capita of school apportionment and the adjustment of teachers' salaries in order that no teacher receive a salary less than $60.00 per month.

I favor a flat rate of registration of automobiles of $3.00 on light cars and $5.00 on heavy cars, and all car and truck money to go to the county for the building and maintenance of county roads.

I favor the federal and state government using its credit to help every American citizen to own their homes, lending them money at low rate of interest and allowing from twenty to twenty-five years for the re-payment of same. I believe we should provide more work for the unemployed, thereby taking them off of direct relief.

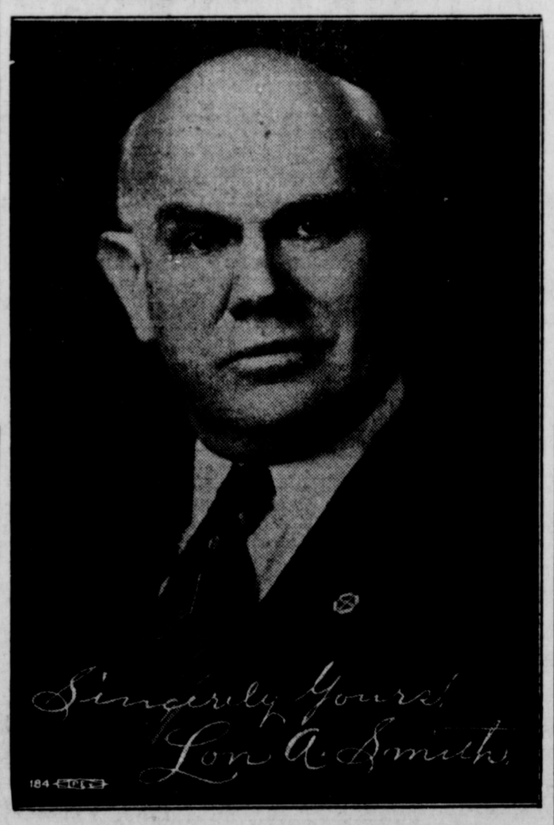

I believe labor should be paid wages that will enable them to properly support their families. I favor a law that will enable countries, cities and school districts to adjust their present bonded indebtedness to what they are able to pay and that they never be allowed to bond themselves for more than 10 per cent of their taxable value.

If elected your representative, I promise to be on the job at all times and to do my best to be of service to Eastland County.

YOUR VOTE WILL BE APPRECIATED SATURDAY

B. E. McGlamery Is Candidate For Another Term

B. E. (Bert) McGlamery, county school superintendent and candidate for re-election, is running for the office again this year on the record he has made as a county superintendent.

In his campaign he is pointing out that during his administration, through cooperation with the state department of education, state aid for the county has been doubled, the increase being from 14,000 to $29,000, this in spite of the fact that he has been in office during trying times.

He also points out that under his administration $12,000 in federal aid has been received by the county to extend school terms and standard of teaching has been raised through teachers attending school and reading literature about their profession and methods of teaching.

He points out that the county school superintendent's office has become a clearing house for all schools in the county where their business is transacted.

Ed T. Cox of Eastland, probably one of the best known men in Eastland County, is a candidate for representative from the 106th district, a race that has six other candidates opposing him.

Mr. Cox has been actively engaged in the civic interests of Eastland County for years and has been one of the leaders of the county democratic organization.

For some time he has been serving as chairman of the County Democratic committee.

He is campaigning for the legislative post he seeks on a platform which calls for economies in government that the tax burden of the citizens of the entire state, and especially his district, might be lessened. He is also advocating efficiency in all public offices, and is particularly fitted, by his knowledge of affairs and conditions over the legislative district, to serve the people with the utmost efficiency.

What Would Happen If George B. Terrell Should Be Elected?

Now that the legal fiction of a Dallas "George B. Terrell" no longer exists, and Jefferson Baker is back in his own proper title, there are a couple of things about which one might wonder. Consider:

1. The true George B. Terrell has been declared "sole owner of his name." The name is on on the ballot for state office, filed by Mr. Baker, who held it by legal assent for a little while. Now, if by chance "George B. Terrell" were nominated to the office, could the man to whom the name legally belongs come in and claim the office? That, and its possibilities, offers ground for reflection.

2. The democratic state committee collected $100 before it put the name "George B. Terrell" on the ballot. The name is still on, and cannot be taken off, since the ballots are printed. If Mr. Baker tries to get his $100 back, on the ground that he can't benefit, no matter how many votes are cast for Terrell, what could be done about it? "George B. Terrell" might be entitled to the $100, but in strict legal interpretation, nobody else would be.

Suppose though, it was decided to pay back the filing fee, and a check were made out for $100 to "George B. Terrell." Then Mr. Baker, no longer privileged to use the name, would have to decide what to do with the check.

There was at the Austin newspaper office recently an amusing passage by someone who represented himself as "George B. Terrell" the candidate's publicity man. The spokesman invited the newspaper to send a reporter around to Mr. Terrell's room and interview the candidate. He gently was asked to invite the candidate to come up and get acquainted at the newspaper office. He agreed to that; but a little later he phoned back that this candidate didn't care to talk to the newspapers, and would "have his say when the votes are counted."

Newspaper workers were pretty strongly convinced the emissary was the candidate himself, engaged on a "build-up" of a campaign publicity play, and that he decided he'd rather miss the story than to give away the fact that he'd already been up in a sort of "third person" capacity.

Politics has strange developments; but the Baker-Terrell name business hasn't been surpassed by many of them.

Judge C.L. Garrett Is Asking Another Term In the Office

Efficiency and service, combined with courtesy and fair treatment to all is the record and has been used throughout the campaign by Judge Clyde L. Garrett, seeking to serve the county again in the capacity of county judge.

The business of his office has been efficiently handled throughout his term of office and service has been rendered to everyone at all times.

Progress has been noticeable under his administration and all the records of his office have been kept in accordance with the law and will bear out any examination to determine his fitness to serve the people again.

Though the times have been strenuous throughout the world and the nation, Judge Garrett has been able to handle all the business of his office in a manner that would have been a credit to a county judge in even better times, and at the same time has been able to effect economies that have made savings to the taxpayers without causing any sacrifices upon the part of the citizenship.

It is upon this record as a county official that he is seeking reelection to the office he has proved he can occupy to the advantage of the people.

Ringold Campaign Slogan 'More Work Less Direct Relief'

E. A. Ringold of Ranger, the last to file for a place on the 1934 ballot, as a candidate for representative in the Texas Legislature from the 106th representative district, announces his candidacy for representative. That Mr. Ringold is prominent in his home community was evidenced by his unanimous selection as Ranger's representative, and later county administrator of the CWA organization, which position he held until politics deposed him.

Now he is asking the voters to send him as Eastland county's legislative representative, believing more practical knowledge and less technicalities in our state affairs are necessary, he is making the race on a business platform.

In addition to his campaign slogan, "More Work and Less Direct Relief," Ringold favors "Fewer Laws and Better Enforcement of those on the Statute Books," as well as a more economical state administration. Here is the platform on which he is making the race:

To the Citizens of Ranger and Eastland County,

My Friends and My Neighbors:

"I have lived among you for 15 years; have tried at all times to help in every worthwhile cause that meant for a better community. If you approve of the kind of citizen I am and feel that I am capable of representing you in the state legislature, I will be profoundly grateful for your support and will do my best to be of service to Eastland county.

In asking for this ofice, I am not unmindful of the fact that the law-making body is one of the most important offices in the state and should be filled by capable men who have the interest of all the people at heart.

"I am 55 years old. Was reared on a farm in Grenada county, Mississippi. Am now, and have always been a Democrat. I have lived in Eastland county 15 years. Am a property owner and taxpayer in Ranger."

Mr. Ringold is well known, not only in Ranger but over the entire county. He has met hundreds of voters personally and has made a number of speeches in the interest of his candidacy.

Ten-Year-Old Letter May Win Estate

By United Press

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Because she saved a letter received ten years ago, Mrs. Velma Storrie of Perrin, Tex., probably will inherit the estate left by her uncle, Martin V. Storrie.

Storrie died last February without leaving a will. Public Administrator H. A. Koch took charge of the estate and began a search for relatives. He recently located the niece in Texas.

Mrs. Storrie forwarded a letter received from her uncle in 1924 while he was mining in the Sierra range east of here. In it he stated "when I am called to the happy hunting grounds I want you to have all my earthly belongings."

Koch filed the letter in superior court as Storrie's will. The estate was listed as "less than $1,000" in value.

TO THE VOTERS:

Even my best friends come to me and say, "Donald, you're the poorest speaker I ever heard, and it's unfair to you to be judged by our listeners as a man that is not useful as a public servant." That really sums my conclusions and always has as far as being a public speaker is concerned. But in political campaigns, a man is supposed to get on the stand and do the best he can as far as oratory is concerned. I'll admit my weakness and embarrassment and frankly tell you that I had rather advance my ideas and carry them out for the best interests of the people at the place of service than to parade myself n front of a big crowd to try and make a "showing."

I am like lots of folks at a picture show, or a big gathering out in front of a polished orator or a funny story teller. I get all excited one minute, when the scene is tense, or sob a little when the scene is sad. Sway with the orator both in sentiment and excitement and laugh my head off when a funny story is told. That's human nature, I suppose, and I am just human. I frankly tell you good people that the beginning of this campaign was filled with those very experiences that I have had in the past and I tried to do my best, but I can't be like the other fellow, each must have his own individuality. I have found that out and trust that you won't judge my attempts to be a politician as to my real qualifications to render you the best service as your Representative from the 107th Flotorial District.

I have had three and a half years in Oklahoma University. I am an ex-service man, and went through the World War which was destined to save democracy. I am proud of the former, and do not brag about the latter. It was only my duty and I gave everything my country asked of me to do my part.

For 15 years I have resided in Eastland. I selected my vocation when I came to Eastland and have never wavered from the ideal of my business choice. I have never failed to be ready to the call of civic and personal service to my community, without expecting or receiving any compensation for my services. No man or woman living in my community during my residence will challenge my loyalty to them.

I am at present chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the city of Eastland. This is gratuitious service without compensation. I am a member of the Eastland County Reconciliation Board which also is a service without renumeration. This Board is designated to adjust farm loans.

I have been accused of favoring class legislation and particularly of being sponsored by certain Utilities. I challenge any man to prove that statement, and deem it the most unjust political propaganda that can be charged up to any man who has been as loyal to his community as I have during my 15 years in Eastland. Let me add just a word about the Gas controversy between two corporations that are now seeking control of the field in this and other communities. I did not bring this controversy on, neither am I responsible for it. I happened to be Mayor of Eastland, and it came to me and my fellow commissioners just as it did to the people of this community and that of our neighbor community. We were asked for a franchise. I, as Mayor of Eastland, have been accused of deliberately evading meetings designated by others than myself. This is not true. I had every reason not to be at those meetings and my fellow Commissioners will answer that reason to any person that will ask them. I do not owe either corporation an apology and neither did I neglect my duty to the people that serve. I trust that the people will not be swayed by venomous attacks upon me by those who just will not give a fair consideration as to my honest service which I again challenge any person to deny and prove.

I consider the beginning of this campaign a political bantering which seemed to develop into a controversy as to whether a man was a citizen if born in a foreign country or born in the United States.

My State under the National constitution cannot prohibit any legal citizen from holding a state office and I recognize and respect the Constitution as to Nationality whether adopted or by birth and their privilege to hold any office of public trust. I do not challenge that right, and say it honestly and with every consideration to whom ever my opponent may be, and to the people.

I want to briefly tell the voters of the 107th District that this campaign for your Representative has simmered down to who can render you the best service as your Representative. I have a definate platform which I appeal to you to consider above personal projudice, or emotional statements that may have been made in stump speeches by me or my opponents. I pledge you my honest efforts to serve you faithfully and honestly. I have no defence against those who would brand me as dishonest or that would accuse me of accepting special favors from certain classes, except my record. I must depend upon the voters to vindicate such baseless charges against me. I have never accepted a dishonest dollar, and have given my service free to the civic and charatable enterprises of the community. That is my cherished heritage, and if any man accuses me to the contrary then the courts are his refuge and I should be indicted, prosecuted and convicted for the violation against decent society.

Please give me just a little more time and consider the platform below upon which I stand, with that I leave it to you my friends. If I must accept defeat upon these principles then I bow in humble modesty to the will of the voters without malice or temperamental abuse and pledge my support in the future to good government and every honest endeavor of those who guide its destiny . . . IF YOU VOTE FOR ME I GUARANTEE THAT YOU WILL NOT REGRET IT.

MY PLATFORM—

—asks for his first public office, that of County Judge of Eastland County. He bases his request, first and foremost, upon his own qualifications. He spent the early part of his life upon the farm. He worked his way through high school and the University of Texas, taught in both rural and city schools, and at the age of 30 entered the private practice of law, in which profession he has been engaged in Eastland for fifteen years, during which time he has had wide experience, both in business and law, which will be valuable to him in discharging the duties of the office he seeks.

He asks the citizens of Eastland County to take into consideration the fact that his opponent and good friend has held this office for three terms, and is now asking for the fourth term. Since it has ever been considered Democratic and fair to pass political offices around to qualified citizens after a reasonable term in office, and believing that his qualifications equal or exceed those of his opponent, he earnestly solicits your vote and influence on July 28th. He will endeavor to show his appreciation by diligently striving to be the best County Judge Eastland County has ever had.

Grady Owen Seeks Re-Election to the Office He Holds

Grady Owen, criminal district attorney of Eastland county, is seeking reelection to the office he has held for the past two years, with his campaign based on the record he has made while in the office.

Before being elected to the office he was an assistant under the administration of Joe Jones, and gained much knowledge of criminal law while acting in that capacity.

While in office he claims the distinction of having law violations decrease in the past two years, due largely to his attention to the duties of the office, and has tried a greater percentage of cases.

During his term in office he has had only one sentence reversed, and that on a technicality.

Since he has been criminal district attorney and while an assistant in the office he has prepared approximately 1,500 indictments and has never had one returned as defective.

He has made a study of the duties of the district attorney's office in connection with efficient enforcement of the law.

Grady Owen has been a resident of Eastland County the greater portion of the time since 1893 and is an ex-service man, having served two years in the army overseas during the World War.

Claiborne Eldridge Gives Platform In His Race For Office

To the Voters of Eastland County:

I am making my last appeal for your support next Saturday. I have made a great effort to see each and every one of you but of course that is almost impossible. So I am using this method of telling you how very much I would appreciate your vote and influence.

I came to Eastland County in 1903. I lived nineteen years at Gorman and eleven years at Carbon. My education was obtained in the rural schools and Hankins Normal College. I began teaching in 1910. I have been teaching continuously since then with the exception of the time I served my country during the war.

As the larger portion of my life has been spent in the rural schools, I am sure I know rural schools and their needs. It is evident that there are certain needs peculiar to the rural school and that the curriculum should be built tround those needs. The same curriculum is not exactly suited to both city and rural schools. This does not mean that there could not exist a fine spirit of fellowship and cooperation between them so that in transferring from one to the other the pupil would fit in to his environment with little hindrance to his progress.

We all agree that larger school units are more efficient. But I believe rural schools should be allowed the same freedom of action enjoyed by the larger schools. I believe these centers should be maintained, whenever possible, in the rural schools where the large majority of their boys and girls expect to live. Their education should be adapted to their needs, and their community spirit should be built up and kept intact in order to have a happy and prosperous people. In doing this you are helping to improve business conditions in general.

The office of County Superintendent is primarily a rural job and should be filled by one who is in sympathy with and has a vision for a great system of rural schools. If I am elected your Superintendent it shall be my aim to carry out these policies to the best of my ability. At the same time I want to give assurance that my office will at all times be at the service of the larger schools in helping in whatever way possible to solve their many problems.

I have never before asked for any public office. So let's try a rural school man just once, and I assure you that no one will appreciate it more than I.

Sincerely yours,
CLAIBORNE ELDRIDGE.

CINCINNATI.—"Polly" for 50 years the pet parrot of Mrs. Bertha Hering Robinson, 72, was buried at the foot of her mistress' grave in Vine Street cemetery to carry out a wish expressed in Mrs. Robinson's will. When the testament was probated, it was found that she had stipulated her pet be chloroformed and, "if the rules of the cemetery permit," buried at the foot of her grave.

W.D.R. Owen Is Candidate For County Judge

W. D. R. Owen, candidate for county judge and who solicits the votes of Eastland County citizens at the polls Saturday, has been a citizen of the county about 41 years. He was reared on a farm, attended the rural schools of the county and studied law at the State University.

Mr. Owen, being of a family of meager means, worked as a young man as a railroad section hand and at other manual labor to earn money with which to educate himself. He later taught school and then was admitted to the bar and for the past 18 years has been racticing law, 15 of these years have been spent in practice in Eastland County courts.

Experts Studying Old Indian Mounds

By United Press

M'COOK, Neb.—Efforts are being made by Nebraska archaeologists to determine whether the ancient tribes that left crude lodges to crumble and be covered along the Medicine, Red Willow and Republican rivers, are ancestral to the Pawnees, who were here when the white men came.

A. T. Hill, of Lincoln, is making good progress in his search through the fragmentary bits of pottery, left by the Indians, which may substitute, or disprove, his theory that these ancient tribes preceded the Pawnees, and were driven away by them.

With Hill are Dr. Waldo R. Wedell, University of California; George F. Lamb, Prof. Everet C. Harte, an artist; and Lard Wolfe, a student achaeologist, all of Lincoln. They are working on a site spotted originally by John Howe, of Stockville, Neb.

All the archaeologists hope that studies of the Stockville ruins and of others in the Republican territory will give up the secret of the identity of the people who once inhabited the lodges.

Sheriff Foster Is A Candidate For The Office Again

Virge Foster, sheriff of Eastland county, with a record of service behind him to which he can point during his campaign, is again a candidate for that important office.

During his tenure in office, Sheriff Foster has confined all of his activities to the office of sheriff, to which position he was elected by the people of the county. He has pointed out in his campaign that he has never interferred with or even suggested in any manner the conduct of any other public office in Eastland county or elsewhere, but has put in all his time attending to the duties of the sheriff's office.

The job is a responsible one and a big one, if properly attended to, Sheriff Foster has pointed out, and he has not been interested in the responsibilities of other offices or departments of the county government.

All the deputies now serving under Sheriff Foster have been with him throughout his term of office, which is a manifestation of the respect his subordinates have for him both as a man and as a sheriff.

In his campaign the candidate has not been a mud-slinger, but has earnestly solicited the votes and support of the voters, using his record in office and his reputation as a citizen of the county as his main campaign talking points.

Henry V. Davenport

The group of taxpayers and citizens who are paying for this space decided t... vestigate his record for expenditures and accomplishments when compared t... records of other holders of the same office.

THEIR FINDINGS WERE HIGHLY PLEASING FROM EVERY ANGLE ... THEY VERY HIGHLY RECOMMEND THAT HE BE GIVEN A SECOND TERM!

TWO YEARS AGO HENRY V. DAVENPORT promised that if elected he would give us an econ... administration—he was elected—he has kept his promise and here are the records:

EXPENDITURES

FORMER COMMISSIONER

The record shows that the available money for this precinct for a 10-year period under the former Commissioner, was an approximate average of $32,000.00 a year. For the two-year term preceeding his election to office, the record shows that in 1931 the Commissioner had in the Road and Bridge Fund, $39,483.37 and in addition issued $5,953.97 in deficiency warrants, making a total of $45,437.34 spent in 1931. In 1932 he had in the fund $24,090.94 and issued $9,091.47 in deficiency warrants making a total of $33,182.41 spent in 1932 up to October, at which time the Commissioners Court and the bank refused to allow any further large expenditures in this princinct.

PRESENT COMMISSIONER

On the first of January, 1933, when H. V. Davenport went into office there was a debt of $18,671.17 in deficiency warrants, and machinery warrants left from the former administration for him to pay. His allotment of money for the Road and Bridge Fund for that year was only $18,996.07, and for the year 1934 his allotment in the Road and Bridge Fund was only $15,006.14, making a total for the two years of $34,002.21. To June 1, 1934, he has paid on these debts, $13,837.96 plus $1,138.11 in interest on same, making a total of $14,967.33, which only left him $19,025.88 with which to meet all the expenses of the precinct for the two-year period, or $8,512.93 per year.

Whatever may be their fate in the Democratic primary election July 28, they cannot forget their campaign speeches on law and order by the time the legislature meets.

Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow brought the recurrent proposal of a central crime bureau to the fore. Bank robbers and candidates will keep it there. Texas may obtain action on the proposal even before the candidates espousing it can be elected and inaugurted in office.

Language of the Texas campaign stump has added a few words during the 1934 political sweepstakes. Noteworthy is the phrase "straw-grabber." Its use is becoming increasingly popular with candidates.

The lexicographer might define it: A—A politician in Texas who conducts his campaign by gossiping about his opponents rather than by discussing basic problems of government. B—A candidate for public office who wheedles for votes with bombast and fantastic promises.. C—One who proposes to cut a whetstone with a razor, employ a steam roller to crack a nut.

In the rush of candidates for popular issues and programs on which to ride into public office, the entire field has overlooked a good bet. Crime, law enforcement, old age pensions, tax reductions, lobbies, special taxes, schools—all these have been paraded before the voter. The edges of some are a little tatttered from over use.

No one has urged means of lowering the annual toll of deaths taken by automobiles. Within the past 10 years six times as many Americans were killed by motor accidents as by battle in the World War.

Texas stands 12th in automobile death ranks. Last year 1,220 persons were killed by automobile. The year before 1,031 died in automobile accidents. The injured number fully 10 times those figures. Clyde Barrow and his ilk, with all their machine guns, shotguns and six-shooters, do not even approach those totals. Motor vehicle accidents in 1932 took nearly as many lives as suicides and homicides combined.

There was a national total of 31,000 motor vehicles fatalities in 1933, or an average rate of 21.7 deaths per 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumed. In Texas, motor vehicles deaths on the gasoline basis was less than 18.

Candidates probably have different answers. The National Saftey Council, which makes a study of such things, answers thus: "States with drivers' license laws requiring an examination and administered by a strong central authority have had greater succes in preventing motor vehicle fatalities than have states without such laws. The National Safety Council's study of these laws demonstrated that automobile deaths in the license law states following the passage of such laws were 30 per cent lower than they would have been if their accidents had increased at the same rate as in the non-license states."

Centennial Is Now Assured Is General Belief

CORSICANA, Texas.—If there was ever a question in the mind of any Texan as to whether or not a giant exhibition would be held in 1936, that doubt has been dispelled.

This is the opinion of Will H. Mayes, Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Centennial commission, here the first of the week attending a meeting of the commissioners.

"Prior to the organization meeting of the commission in Austin on June 6 my mail indicated that a considerable portion of the public had grave doubt as to whether or not the State would be able to stage the exhibition. Following that meeting there has been a radical change in the viewpoint. Now all the mail is optimistic. All are making suggestions. Those towns having historical shrines near them are indicating active preparation to participate."

Mr. Mayes for more a quarter of a century was himself an active newspaper editor and publisher, and a former president of the Texas Press association. His ability to gauge public sentiment is recognized in all sections.

"There was a gradual change in the public viewpoint," Mr. Mayes said, "from the day the legislature made its appropriation for the preliminary work of the commission. The people then began to realize that the Centennial idea was not ballyhoo, but the presentation of a great plan which had gotten so far along as to command legislative approval.

"Now with the commission having announced a definite working plan for those cities desiring to secure the central exhibition, with it having been made plain what those locations having historic shrines are expected to do to have their share in the Centennial, everybody has a job, a definite goal, and can go to work.

"In no movement have I ever witnessed this early as much favorable sentiment as has been crystallized in the last few weeks. Everybody wants to help. Everybody wants a part. It will be the job, as I understand it, of the publicity committee to give these folks a job. The service of every loyal Texas is needed. The personal interest of all is wanted because this exhibition must be all-Texan and for all its citizens.

"It now is generally recognized that the Centennial will benefit all Texas. There isn't a hamlet but that will benefit. We want the people to understand this, but at the same time to know that the historical, the cultural, the artistic and the religious life of Texas through the last stirring century will be paramounted."

Mr. Mayes in connection with the historical side of the exhibition pointed out that the plan committee in its Corsicana report provided that an authentic and comprehensive history of Texas be written and that it "assemble data for an unbiased chronicle of the events, forces and influences, not only military and political, but in every field of human endeavor."

It provided for a number of worthy celebrations during Centennial year in those places famous in Texas history by reason of military, political or cultural events. It also provided that the main exhibition be all-Texas in its proportions; that the participation of all those Nations under whom Texas has lived be asked to participate. Thus it is expected that the glorious history of the State will be paramounted at all times in every phase of the great exhibition, plans for which now are actively under way in all sections.

Consider These Reasons Why You Should Vote For

FOR OUR NEXT REPRESENTATIVE FROM EASTLAND COUNTY

He has been active as the Collector of Taxes for the City of Ranger or for the Ranger Independent School District for the past fifteen years and the records show that he has operated the system economically year after year.

He has observed valuations decreasing annually, which valuations are out of Ratio now to the indebtedness owed by the people of Eastland County. The statement in the box in this advertisement showing in detail the heavy burden now existing.

Within the next two years these debts must be dealt with and may become serious—especially to our schools.

Mr. Ringold's experience qualifies him for this place, he understands the problems that are to be faced, both from the taxpayer's and from the collector's standpoint. It is very essential that Eastland County have a man with these qualifications.

Mr. Ringold has served on the County Relief Board for the past year and understands the needs of the county from this angle.

Mr. Ringold has given much of his time in going to Austin with others and pleading before the Relief Board of the State in behalf of the needs of his home county.

We know that his work was instrumental in getting Eastland County's aid raised from $8,000 to $25,000, out of which the entire county was benefitted.

E. A. Ringold has always been fair to both capital and labor and holds the confidence of both, can and will serve both with justice to all alike.

Local politics are full of charges and claims for the offices they seek. Much is said about the need for the office. Efficiency is an important rider to need homever, and should be considered seriously by the voters. In the instance of local politics however they are all entitled to consideration of the voters as they are "home folks." The selection or choice remains entirely of how many supporters the candidates themselves can gather within their fold.

In the aggregate of important public offices, the greatest of all are the five that means more to the people and their interest than any other office in the lot. Your United States Senator, your United States Congressman, your State Senator, your State Representative and your county commissioner. These offices represent the true web that holds the destiny of the country in their hands. No other office up to the President is as important as these. They are the ones that the people can well afford to concentrate more upon than any other. They should be men of the highest integrity. They should have a knowledge of business. They should be men of high character and men that have the qualifications of being able to think and act. These offices tell the county officials, the governor and the president what to do. Yet they are evidently the most neglected offices of all by the people. That neglect has cost the taxpayers millions of dollars in the past. Unless more concentration and interest is taken by the people in the selections for these offices than has in the past, it will cost many millions more. They handle the taxpayers money, they make the laws, they give orders. The power of either of them is wider than any government official. When the voters go to the polls Saturday, it is well to look over the ballot carefully before taking the pencil and scratching out names. Somebody else can advocate, but remember it is the above officers that have the only right to say "yes" or "no." Don't let oratory and other things detract your mind from selecting the most important officers in public service.

Perfume is what wins men, a professor at Michigan State Normal college tells girls. Especially the perfume that comes from the kitchen.

Abilene Planning Big Tennis Tourney On August 2, 3, 4

ABILENE.—Plans have been completed for the first annual West Texas Tennis tournament to be held in Abilene Aug. 2, 3, 4. Eleven good courts will be available for the meet, and Abilene Christian College and Hardin and Simmons University have offered the use of their dormitories for the incoming contestants.

We have arranged for three cups to be awarded to the winners. Abilene Christian College has donated the trophy for the singles champion and two trophies have been arranged for to present to each member of the winning doubles team. Balls will be furnished to the contestants.

We have already received letters from several who plan on entering, and there appears to be an outstanding group of West Texas players who will compete. W. B. Clinton of San Angelo, former University of Texas star; Jim Adkins of Georgetown, another Texas U. star; and Leo Brady who has recently returned to Abilene from eastern competition playing for the university will all be on hand. Russ Holland of Brady; Steve Latham of Mason; and Dan Steakley of Sweetwater have sent word that they will compete.

Others who are expected to enter are Andy Moore, former Texas Conference Champion; Willard Foster, winner of the '34 Abilene City meets Curtis Traweek, Lone Star conference champion; and M. M. Ballard, tennis coach at Hardin and Simmons.

With invitations sent to over 100 players, a large entry is expected. Entrance fees are $1 for singles, and $1.50 for doubles teams. The tournament is open to the public—any may enter. All entries must be in the hands of the general director by midnight July 31.

PARIS.—A novel form of mental exercise has been discovered by the Jesuit Clavius, who has calculated that there are 585,261,767,384,976,664,000 combinations of the alphabet. Jesuit Clavius was inspired to work out this problem after hearing that someone had attempted to count the number of letters in the Bible.
