Cage Is Before Jury

Tells Tale Of Crumbled Empire

DALLAS (UP)—Jovial Ben-Jack Cage, whose appearance looked a barrage of subpoenas, continued with his tale of how an empire crumbled before the Dallas county grand jury today.

Cage spent nearly four hours with the special grand jury Tuesday, giving it information he promised would send his enemies leaping from windows.

Before he entered the jury room, his popularity was affirmed by four subpoenas ordering him to appear before various investigative bodies, including the Internal Revenue Service.

Cage, who also must stand trial on charges of embezzling $600,000 from his ICT Insurance Co., returned to the jury room at 1:30 p.m. today to continue testimony on the collapse of the firm.

He is expected to spend the rest of the week with the Dallas grand jury.

His trial was to open today, but his attorney, M. R. Iron, and District Attorney Henry Wade said they would ask for a delay in order to continue his grand jury obligations.

He was handed subpoenas, by four groups, including:

1. Federal income tax agents, who have ordered Cage to appear Sept. 16 in the Dallas office to discuss back taxes.
2. The House of Representatives' special investigating committee, who ordered the promoter to Austin for testimony as soon as possible, probably next week.
3. The Travis county grand jury, Austin District Attorney Les Procter and Rep. Reagan Huffman of Marshall, head of the House committee, are to work out plans to divide Cage's time in Austin.
4. Master of Chancery Renee Allred, who represents state liquidator J. D. Wheeler, who is in charge of the remaining assets on the sprawling empire Cage built.

In addition, two federal postal inspectors were on hand to make date with Cage, and an agent of the Securities Exchange Commission also greeted him.

The smiling promoter issued a statement which said almost exactly the same thing he said when he arrived from Mexico City last month.

Welfare Index Needs Place For Storage

The need for a building in which to store furniture to be given to families whose homes are burned was stressed at the meeting of the Welfare Index at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the City Commission Room.

Ray Duncan, president, stated that a one- or two-room building the Index could rent is needed for a permanent storage place for the furniture. Joe Tooley, Index coordinator, stated a service club is willing to pick up furniture and repair it, if a storage place can be found.

Duncan named Weldon Carter chairman of a committee to investigate possible buildings, with Mrs. Mary Musgrave and Mrs. Nina Spoonmore to assist him.

During the meeting, Duncan explained the purpose of the index, which is to coordinate the welfare activities of various organizations in Pampa so duplication of such activities can be avoided. Tooley, explained his job as coordinator, and requested that any organization giving aid to a family call him so he may record it or "index" it. He named Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier as chairman of the file on families needing baskets for Thanksgiving and those receiving them. He urged that any group giving a Thanksgiving basket to call Mrs. Kretzmeier, and stated that any organization desiring a name of a family needing a basket should also call Mrs. Kretzmeier. Mrs. Kretzmeier will be assisted by Mrs. W. J. Ladd.

Mrs. Spoonmore suggested that organizations belonging to the Index report at meetings on welfare activities of the member organizations.

Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, executive director of the Red Cross, stressed the need in Pampa for wheel chairs and hospital beds, and urged clubs to undertake the buying of one for a project. She also stated that people need to remember that the Red Cross handles aid to servicemen, the Salvation Army, aid to transients, and the American Legion and VFW, aid to veterans.

Next meeting of the Index will be the second Tuesday in December.

US Decision On More Aid For Anti-Soviet Nations May Come

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—U.S. officials said today decisions on possible new moves to aid anti-Communist nations in the Middle East may be in the works.

However, they said one of the decisions won't be for the United States to take the final plunge of full membership in the five-nation Baghdad Pact despite new Turkish pressure to get the United States to sign up.

The officials said the decisions may grow out of important meetings to be held here during the next few days.

Loy W. Henderson, the State Department's ace Middle Eastern trouble shooter, was scheduled to return to Washington today from a Middle Eastern fact-finding mission prompted by Syria's sudden pro-Soviet shift. Henderson will report his findings to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other top level American officials.

Henderson has been conferring with leaders in Turkey, Jordan, Iraq, and Lebanon on possible ways to slow down Syria's Communist trend. He left Syria and Egypt off of his Middle Eastern itinerary choosing instead to talk with Syria's neighbors.

A likely outcome of the American policy review set off by Syria's pro-Soviet maneuvering is some new expression of American cooperation and support for Middle Eastern nations willing to maintain their independence against subversion or aggression.

Turkey has raised anew the possibility of the United States formally signing up as a full member of the Baghdad pact. The United States so far has avoided full membership in the pact with Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, Iran and Britain.

The United States is practically a member, participating in the pact's military, economic and anti-subversion planning activities. The United States also is purging large amounts of military and economic aid into Middle Eastern states opposing Communism.

Rodeo Board Gives Report On Show

The Top of Texas Rodeo Association Board of Directors played host to the committee chairman of the recent rodeo here at a dinner meeting at Poole's Steak House last night.

Movies of the Top of Texas rodeo were shown and a partial report of the show's finances were made by Bob Andis, president. The report came from preliminary figures which indicated that this year's attendance, some 21,000 paid, was about the same as last year.

However, Andis pointed out, there were more cowboys entered and about $1,000 more in entry fees was taken in.

The audit of this rodeo's status will not be complete until Oct. 22 when the association will meet to elect 11 new directors, Andis said.

Commission OK's Fire Hose Bids

The contract for supplying 4,000 feet of fire hose to the local fire department was awarded to Quaker Rubber Corporation of Dallas by the City Commission yesterday following the opening of bids at 10 a.m.

The city purchased 1,000 feet of 1 1/2 inch fire hose, complete with fittings, and a total of 3,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose, also complete with fittings, from the firm. The hose is to be decon covered and the total price of the hose was $4,700.

The firm is to deliver the hose within two weeks and it will be used on the new fire trucks and also as replacement on other trucks.

Following the acceptance of the bid yesterday the commission advised without taking up other business.

45-50 Freight Cars Derailed

Between 45 and 50 Santa Fe freight cars were derailed around 8 this morning some 7 miles east of Higgins near the Oklahoma line. Shortly before noon today, local agents were still not sure of all the details, but thought that there were no injuries.

The eastbound freight came through Pampa at 5:52 a.m. today. The accident occurred at the Goodwin siding, east of Higgins, and it was thought to be caused by a melted journal which let one wheel drop.

The main line has been tied up by the wreck and officials had no estimate this morning how long traffic would be halted.

Enrollment In Schools Completed

School days for Gray County children began in earnest today with all schools winding up enrollment and "getting down to books."

While enrollment figures from over the county were incomplete, B. R. Nuckols, county school superintendent, said that at least two rural elementary schools showed a "surprising gain" in enrollment.

Hopkins elementary school, which was expected to lose five or six students, gained two from 81 last year to 83. Grandview elementary school, which had an enrollment of 19 at the beginning of last year, recorded 25 this time.

Enrollment figures from other schools were not complete today, but Nuckols said that they should be in within a few days.

CofC Committee, Teachers To Meet

The public relations committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce is to meet tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the chamber office with the executive committee of the Pampa Classroom Teachers Association.

Plans will be made for a get-acquainted reception for new Pampa school teachers.

Bob Hamilton, program chairman for the teachers and Coy Palmer, chairman of the public relations committee, will be in charge of the meeting.

A date for the reception will be set and details worked out.

Governor Grants Execution Stay

AUSTIN (UP)—Gov. Price Daniel Tuesday granted a 10-day stay of execution to John Wright, a Bell county Negro who was to die early this morning for the rape of a white housewife.

The Governor granted the stay upon recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

West Waiting For Reds' Arms Reply

By WILLIAM C. SEXTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—The West waited today for the official Soviet reply to the Western "final offer" disarmament package plan amid warning hopes that the Kremlin would move to break the stalemate in the London disarmament talks.

The Western proposal was put forward at last Thursday's session. It was promptly and angrily denied by Zorin. But a Soviet spokesman said Zorin's condemnation of the plan was "preliminary" and not the official Russian reply.

But there was little hope that the Kremlin would make any move to break the deadlock. There have been strong indications the Russians would prefer to throw the issue into the lap of the U.N. General Assembly where they feel they could win the support of the "neutral" Afro-Asian bloc.

President Eisenhower told a press conference in Washington Tuesday that the next move is up to the Soviets. But he said such a move "does not seem to be particularly likely."

Jet Plane Hits Homes; Pilot Dies

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A flaming jet fighter plane plunged into a residential district late Tuesday, killing the pilot and destroying two homes.

Eight residents of the fire-riddled homes escaped death only by their providential absence when the plane crashed into suburban Berkeley near the Lambert-St. Louis airport.

Killed was Navy Lt. John R. Renshaw, 28, a test pilot, who came here from the naval air test center at Patuxent River, Md., to pick up and return a McDonnell Aircraft Corp. Demon jet.

The ship wavered, according to witnesses, before it reached an altitude of 500 feet. Then it started down as though out of control. It struck the street in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meyer after shearing off the top of a tree. Then it bounced into the Meyer house, continuing into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider and their three children.

Harry Fields, who was watching television across the street, looked out the window when he heard the shrill characteristic whistle of an approaching jet.

"It came out of the sky like a bolt of lightning," Fields said, "and it was just as destructive. Both those frame houses were engulfed by flames seconds after it hit."

Local Dentist To Attend Convention

Dr. H. H. Hicks, Pampa dentist, left yesterday for Rome, Italy, to attend the International Dental Congress.

Dr. Hicks is to meet Mrs. Hicks and his son, Kent, who has been on a tour of Europe. He is expected to return about Sept. 22.

'Value Days' Letters Are Sent Out

Letters were sent out of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce office today to all local retail stores announcing details of the second in a series of Pampa "Value Days" which have been set for Oct. 24-26.

At that time stores will feature special values.

A sub-committee composed of Charlie Cook, Morris Silver and Leon Gilbert met with E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, yesterday to map details.

Some 63,000 duplicate coupon tickets have been ordered and will be in the participating stores during the three days for a drawing. Shoppers do not have to buy anything in the stores to receive tickets, however, to qualify they must be over 18 and present at the drawing.

The drawing is to be in front of the La Nora theater at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 26. The winner will receive a $250 color television set.

Wedgeworth urged all interested retail stores to call or write the chamber office. Entry fee for the stores is $10 which will cover expenses and buy the TV set.

Bad Brakes Blamed In Train Wreck

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UP)—The engineer of the train that killed at least 178 persons Sunday in the worst wreck in peacetime history said today its air brakes were defective—or perhaps sabotaged.

Garnish Lurch said he applied the brakes twice as the train headed into "death curve" outside the hill town of Kendal. The brakes had no effect, and air pressure with 54 deaths.

Stolen Car Is Burned; Parts Taken

The person or persons who stole a 1955 Ford from in front of 1307 Williston sometime last night apparently needed parts to repair a similar car.

La. Dennis Roan of the police department reported today that the Ford was missing the front bumper, entire grill, right headlight assembly and the spare tire when located.

The car, owned by the Humble Pipeline Company, was reported stolen at 7:35 this morning by Frank Robinson, 1307 Williston. At approximately 8:30, the car was located by other Humble employees north of town near Highway 70.

Earlier the fire department had received an alarm at 6:58 a.m. to the scene and had extinguished a fire in the interior of the car. Firemen reported that the interior received heavy damage.

Investigation by Roan revealed that the car had been seen at the spot, about one mile north of town, at about 3 a.m. by two employees of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company. The fire was discovered by W. R. Dunn, 1432 N. Russell, as he was plowing in a nearby field, Roan reported.

Two large wrenches, valued at approximately $100 each, were left in the car, Roan stated.

Late this morning Roan and Chief Jim Conner were attempting to obtain fingerprints and other evidence from the car.

Near Record Death Toll For Holiday

By UNITED PRESS

A near record 443 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend, a final count showed today.

The United Press counted a total accidental death toll of 624 during the holiday period from 6 p.m. last Friday through midnight Monday. In addition to the highway deaths, 87 persons drowned and 81 were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said "we are deeply disappointed" in the high traffic toll, which was only 10 short of the Labor Day holiday record set in 1951.

The council had estimated 420 traffic fatalities for the three-day weekend, and had hoped the toll could be held as low as 375, the average for a similar non-holiday period in September.

California had the worst traffic record with 54 deaths.

Marshals Will Lead Students To Class

By UNITED PRESS

A few Negroes were expected to try to attend classes at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., today, but armed troops stood guard at the school in defiance of a federal judge's second order to integrate classes "forthwith."

Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies issued his order after conducting a four-minute hearing asked by the school board to clarify the situation, in which Gov. Orval Faubus had placed National Guardsmen around the school to bar Negroes from attending classes.

After the troops went on duty Tuesday, Faubus said he had placed them at Central High School to "preserve the peace of the community and protect its citizens."

In issuing his order, Davies said he would take Faubus "at his word" to protect all citizens and preserve the peace.

Says Will Keep Troops

Some of the nine Negroes registered to attend will be on hand for classes, in view of ruling, said Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Faubus, who said Tuesday night he had no plans to remove the 50 guardsmen from around the school, will announce any change in his plans at a press conference.

Racially integrated classes became a reality Tuesday in the biggest truly "deep South" city to date, Greensboro, N.C., and little trouble was expected today when four Negroes will begin classes in Charlotte, N.C. and one reports for classes in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Taunts and threats greeted the five Negro children who entered Greensboro's elementary and junior high school Tuesday, but there was no violence. It was a historic day for the Carolina city of 100,000.

Movie Stars Want Trip To Witness Stand

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Scandal-smear movie stars today pleaded for a chance to follow actress Maureen O'Hara and singer Dorothy Dandridge in denying on the witness stand spicy tidbits printed about them in Confidential magazine.

The prosecution Tuesday turned the Confidential criminal libel trial into a stellar attraction by putting Irish-tempered Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge, a Negro stage-screen star, on the witness stand. Miss O'Hara angrily denied cuddling in a theater with a "Latin lover" and Miss Dandridge was just as angry in denying she made love in the woods with a band leader.

It marked the first time in nearly five weeks of testimony that big name personalities had been called upon to testify. The testimony was hailed as a victory for the entertainment industry in its fight against the so-called scandal magazines.

Stars Volunteer

Prosecutor William Ritzel said he could produce more "first-hand" evidence that Confidential and Whisper magazines created lies to sensationalize stories. As the trial resumed today, he said he was debating whether to follow up his attack against defense testimony by calling other top stars.

"Many Hollywood stars named in Confidential's yarns have written and telephoned me asking to go on the stand to tell their stories," Ritzel said. "Most of them appear anxious to go on the witness stand."

Miss O'Hara and the Negro entertainer probably gave the most crucial performances of their careers in answering embarrassing questions calmly and holding their own under rigorous cross-examination by the defense. Defense attorney Arthur Crowley has dared the prosecution to call celebrity witnesses so "I can make them admit stories about them we're true."

Fifth Denials

Miss O'Hara was asked point blank if she had made love with Mexican businessman Enrique Parra in the loges of Grauman's Chinese Theater. "Never," she answered sharply.

First Pay TV Program Turns Back Clock

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (UP)—The nation's first pay television program turned back the clock today to the early days of video.

Curious neighbors crowded into the living rooms of some of the 300 customers who Tuesday paid to see the movies "Pajama Game" and "Mississippi Gambler" on their TV sets.

"I'm going to take steps to keep my home from becoming a movie theater," one customer complained. "This is as bad as the early days of TV."

Another TV'er, interior decorator Ronald Darrah, said, "I like movies, and this is the answer. You can stay home and see them." Darrah said "Pajama Game" came over clearer than TV films available from Tulsa.

Movie exhibitors from across the nation and a representative of J. Arthur Rank Studios of England joined townspeople to watch the historic projection through a plate glass window at the Lyric Theater. The movies ran continuously as in the theater.

Some movie men said they didn't think the project would be successful while the movie chain sponsoring the "telemovies" said they thought it would inspire people to see more movies.

The northeastern Oklahoma oil refining town of 28,000 was decorated with banners across the streets which read "Bartlesville, the first telemovie city in the world."

Telemovie was circulated through the city on the initial 300 sets receiving it by wires from a projection booth at the theater. Customers pay $9.50 a month to see a package of 13 first run and about the same number of re-run films. A switch is attached to their regular TV sets which does not hinder watching regular network programs.

Fourth Patrolman Is Hired

The fourth school zone patrolman began his duties this morning at Sam Houston Elementary School.

The fourth patrolman, hired by the police department on a part-time basis to patrol at the schools, is T. C. Bates, 805 S. Somerville, Jim Conner, chief of police reported today.

Three other men began duties yesterday at three elementary schools. They were Alvin D. Fish, J. L. Bartlett and D. E. Bradford.

The men are working at Horace Mann Elementary School, Woodrow Wilson Elementary School and Baker Elementary School.

This is the first year that part-time patrolmen have been used to work at the elementary schools. Conner stated that the lack of personnel to work all of the schools with regular officers resulted in the hiring of the four men to work at the schools in the morning and evening of each school day.

Traffic regulation at Lamar Elementary School and at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School is being handled by the policemen at the present time, Conner reported.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
On Monday, Ellen's mother got a letter from her brother saying, "Dad will undergo the surgery. We'll both have to get together on this financially..."

On Tuesday she sent Ellen to bed for impertinence. She cried, "Get upstairs this minute! The idea of calling me mean for not sending your skirt to the cleaner!"

But this punishment produced no politeness in Ellen. Quite the opposite. At supper, she went out of her way to show disdain for her mother by pretending not to hear when she was told to clear the table.

After Ellen had sullenly retired without a good night, her mother felt terribly discouraged and tired. Then, quite suddenly, her sense of depression lifted. She put down her sewing and went up to Ellen's room.

There, after explaining her obligation to help pay for grandpa's surgery, she said "I was unreasonable to you this afternoon not because of anything you did, but having to ask daddy for the money because I've been so unhappy at it. It doesn't seem fair to him. When you accused me of being unfair to you, too, it seemed to me that I was a disappointment to everybody in my family."

Ellen readily understood her mother's self-reproach. She made an immediate, sympathetic offer of $3 in savings to help with the cost of grandpa's surgery.

Usually, when we don't know what to do about a child's difficult behavior, it's because we need to know a little more about ourselves.

Some lovely day we parents will be as clear about our need for self-understanding as psychiatrists are about theirs.

Listen to what I heard Dr. Lewis B. Hill tell the annual conference of the American Group Psychotherapy Association the other day. Himself a noted psychoanalyst, Dr. Hill said:

"When the therapist becomes preoccupied with what to do about his patient, this is usually evidence that he is defending himself against the necessary understanding of his own contribution to the impasse. When the question of what to do becomes pressing, the therapist's first answer is to review his own conflicts and tensions."

The basis for this girl's lovely hair is a salon permanent that creates the look of naturally curly hair. It entirely eliminates that "permanented" look.

Cloches To Cap New Soft Waves

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The continuing influence of Chanel in fashion has had its effects on hair styles, too. This fall, short to medium hair styles will have the soft look.

About the only way a girl can achieve a soft and casual hairdo that will stay in place is with a permanent. Knowing this, one well-known house has developed a permanent wave that is the ultimate in softness. With it, a girl can have any hairdo she pleases without the look of a permanent.

She will leave the salon with hair that is soft and manageable, that falls easily into place, that forms curls readily when she sets it. She'll be relieved of the drudgery of setting her hair every night or every other night. With this new permanent, she can set her hair just once a week when she shampoos it.

Under this fall's turbans and cloches, the soft hairdo with the definite line will be the prettiest. It's also the one that won't be flattened easily by a close-fitting hat.

Later, I sought out Dr. Hill to say, "That quotation applies to parents and children as well as to therapists, and patients, does it not?" "Yes," said Dr. Hill with enthusiasm, "Yes indeed."

Bride-Elect Feted With Courtesies

Mmes. H. T. Gantz, S. S. Gantz, and Miss Maurine Jones of Beaumont entertained with a coffee on Friday morning at 306 E. Browning, honoring Miss Clorieta Gale Herring, bride-elect of Phillip Waldemar Hansen.

The guest of honor and her mother were presented corsages by the hostesses; Miss Herring's corsage was of tallman roses and Mrs. Herring's was fashioned with deep pink roses.

The living room was adorned with a variety of summer flowers. A white linen cloth covered the coffee table, which was centered with a fruit tree surrounded by a variety of fruits in a crystal bowl. At one end of the table, Miss Dorothea Gantz presided at the silver coffee service. Mrs. Donald Moen was guest registrar. Mrs. Hallie Gantz of Tulsa, Okla., was an out-of-town guest.

Pre-nuptial courtesies were given for Miss Herring in her hometown of Franklin, La., before the wedding party came to Pampa, where the ceremony will be performed on Sept. 6.

Mmes. Paul Ache and Donald Lilly, friends of the bride-elect entertained with a kitchen shower. The party was given in the parlors of the First Methodist Church, Franklin.

Misses Gail Zimmerman and Sylvia Hoy were hostesses for a miscellaneous shower given in the Zimmerman home in Franklin.

PERRYTON — Mrs. Millard Kennedy was honored recently with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Wendell Russell.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Mmes. May Pattison, Earl Enterline, Don Enterline, Wendell Russell, Lloyd McGarraugh, and Miss Kathy Ferguson.

Miss Ferguson registered the guests. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and appointed in crystal. Mrs. McGarraugh presided at the lunch service.

Approximately thirty-five guests called or sent gifts during the afternoon.

The curvy coat and the shorter jacket are making fur fashion news this fall. Great coat (left) in black Persian lamb has deep dolman sleeves to create a curved look at the top of the coat. Sleeves are a part of the fall cape back. Flat pockets are bound in velvet. Hip bone jacket in autumn haze mink (center) has curvy fullness at top that tapers down and becomes narrow. Half-belt is set in at bottom of jacket. Luxurious jacket of white beaver offers the opulence of fur trim on fur (right). It's bordered in dark ranch mink. Sleeves are cut dolman style. Miss LaFon Wed To Claude Brown

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — Miss Patsy LaFon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee LaFon, 4223 Redondo Beach Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Montgomery, Lefors, became the bride of Claude Brown, Lefors, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown, Sandy, Ore., on August 8 at 9:15 p.m. in Buddy's Cafe, Lefors.

Rev. Wesley Daniel performed the ceremony for the single-ting service.

The bride was attired in a white sheath dress made of interwoven cotton and rayon with a metallic gold thread also interwoven featuring a large bow in the back. White and gold accessories complemented the dress.

Mrs. Buddy Montgomery served her niece as matron of honor and was dressed in a blue ballerina dress with white accessories.

Buddy Montgomery was best man.

The couple spent their honeymoon touring to points in Oklahoma and are now at home in Lefors, where the bridegroom is employed by Ray Chastain.

Greater Opulence And New Silhouettes Is Fall's Full Of Fashion Fur Story

NEW YORK (NEA) — Greater luxury and new silhouettes, new coat and jacket lengths pack this fall's fur story full of fashion. When you start trimming fur with fur, the result is real opulence. And that's just what designers have done. Black Persian is bordered with lynx; white beaver is trimmed with ranch mink; brown Persian gets a crushable mink collar. And black fur seal takes on added elegance with a standing collar of chinchilla.

There are four silhouettes getting a lot of attention from fur designers: the barrel, the oval, the dolman and the widened box. These all tend to narrow down from upper curves and are seen in several lengths: fingertip, full length, seven-eighths and three-quarter.

The shorter jacket is making its own fashion way with shorter sleeves and softer collars. And there's more softness in a front closing of velvet or satin tied into a bow.

Big, soft collars are a part of the new look of upper width in fur fashions this year. Yokes with shirring or tucking, dropped shoulders and the crushable collar all lend importance to top styling. Tailored lines are modified and curved with easy grace in nearly all silhouettes.

Mink and beaver (the latter either clipped or unclipped), seal and Persian lamb, broadtail processed lamb, chinchilla and lynx, river otter and mole all appear and reappear as fur fashions this autumn, either full length or as luxurious trim.

This year, there's more black-dyed mink than ever before. Much of it is used for stunning jackets and stoles.

Eisenhowers Set Newport Vacation

By JAMES R. WHELAN United Press Staff Correspondent NEWPORT, R.I. (UP)—This fabled capital of international society today becomes the vacation playground of the nation's No. 1 couple, President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. But the city awaited their arrival with typical New England restraint. Delayed by a late congressional adjournment, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower were scheduled to land at the Quonset Point Naval Air Station before noon and then sail across picturesque Narragansett Bay to Newport to begin their vacation. Navigating across the bay in the Presidential yacht, "Barbara Anne," was eased by the departure Tuesday of three aircraft carriers from Quonset and some 30 destroyers from Newport. The yacht, her brass and canvas-shrouded decks gleaming, has made several trial runs. Mrs. Eisenhower, still convalescing from her recent operation, will disembark at the summer White House on Coaster's Harbor Island. The President will continue to Government Landing and join a motorcade for the short drive to the old Colony House at Washington Square in the heart of the city. There, on a platform beneath the balcony where George Washington welcomed Rochambeau and his 7,000-man French expeditionary force aiding in the revolution, dignitaries will welcome the President to Newport. Expected to head up the list of some 200 dignitaries on the stand are Sens. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), and Reps. Joseph Martin (R-Mass.), Almer J. Ferand (D-R.I.), John E. Fogarty (D-R.I.), and Mayor John J. Sullivan. After the brief ceremony, the President will be driven to Coaster's Harbor Island, a one-time pauper's asylum now occupied by headquarters of the mammoth Newport Naval Base and the Naval War College. At the base, Eisenhower will be "piped aboard" through eight side boys in a colorful, traditional naval ceremony. Weather permitting, the President is expected to test the tough Newport Country Club course for the first time this afternoon.

"ROAD" RULES—The need for greater safety on U.S. waterways has led to the introduction in the House of Representatives of three identical bills. Boating experts have warned for years that stiffer regulations would be enacted if skippers failed to obey the simple rules of water "roads." Diagrams above show the correct thing to do in four common situations. The new bills, still pending, strike at "reckless or negligent" boat operation.

Jettliner From Russia Heads For US

LONDON (UP) — A TU104 jettliner, first Russian plane to visit the United States in 20 years, streaked over the Atlantic today carrying 40 Soviet U.N. delegates. The two-engine, silver-painted plane flew here from Moscow today, then took off for the United States after a brief stopover. It is expected to reach McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., at about 6:30 p.m. e.d.t. Despite Soviet protests, the plane was routed to McGuire—recently the reception center for Hungarian victims of the Russians arriving as refugees in the United States—because jet planes are barred from New York's commercial airports. In addition to its passengers and a six-man Russian crew, the plane carried three British navigators on the Moscow-London leg of the journey. It will pick up American navigators at Goose Bay, Labrador. The jet is piloted by B. P. Bugayev, a veteran Soviet airline pilot who has logged more than 625,000 miles in the air. Other crewmen are: copilot, I. V. Orlovets; 3rd pilot, Peter Deyatov; navigator, N. F. Nesov; radio operator, N. S. Metelkin, and 2nd radio operator, N. A. Kozlov. The last Russian plane to land in the United States was a single-engine Nant-25, piloted by Mikhail Gromov, which set a long-distance record of 7,140 miles in a pioneering flight over the North Pole in 1937. The Nant landed in San Jacinto, Calif. The plane is one of two Soviet jet airliners that will fly U.N. delegation members to the forthcoming General Assembly. The Russians twice requested permission to land at Idlewild Airport in New York, but the requests were rejected.

ORDER (Continued From Page One) integration crisis, seven Negroes walked down Foley Hill from the Negro section of town to study with 750 whites. The scene was orderly. Youngsters Are Stoned A shower of beer cans, rocks, bottles and shouted threats greeted 17 Negro youngsters who registered Tuesday at the formerly all-white Sturgis, Ky., high school, also the scene of violence last year, but the Negroes stayed in school. At Horse Cave, Ky., about 100 Negroes registered without trouble, along with 800 whites, in a new consolidated school. Integration of classes went smoothly in Ozark, Ark., a small community in the northwest corner of the state. But in Birmingham, Ala., six Negro families decided against enrolling their children in all-white schools, pending a school board ruling on their petitions due Friday. Negro Judge Aaron of nearby Springdale was in the hospital after being kidnapped, beaten, stabbed and emasculated Monday by a group of white men who he said told him "this is what will happen when they integrate the schools in Birmingham."

WRECK
(Continued From Page One) sure in the system fell off to zero. "Someone either disengaged the angle cock in one of the coaches or the air hose broke because of mechanical defects," Lurch said. "I gave three long blasts of the whistle to warn the thousands of excursionists that something was wrong up front. Suddenly, there was a loud sound, as if the heavens had fallen, and when I looked back my train was an unforgettable wreck." Nine of the train's 12 cars jumped the track. Several of them tumbled into a ravine and broke up on the rocks. The train, headed here from the resort town of Montego Bay, was bringing some 1,500 Roman Catholics home from a weekend excursion when it jumped the tracks.

Pampans To Attend Water Authority Meet

Pampa will be represented at a meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority in Lubbock next Monday by its two directors, Fred Thompson and Clinton Evans, and by Mayor Lynn Boyd and City Commissioner R. K. Parsley. This will be the first meeting attended by the newly-appointed directors from Pampa. The two men were appointed by the City Commission last week to represent Pampa in the authority. Pampa recently rejoined the authority following an election in which the voters of Pampa expressed a desire to rejoin the authority. The re-entry by Pampa was made following the abandonment by the CRMWA of a plan to secure private financing. Pampa dropped out of the authority in 1955 when private financing would have made the cost of water supplied to Pampa excessive. Under present plans, the authority is attempting to obtain federal financing to build the dam, to be located 12 miles west of Borger, and the water distribution system.

New Jury Commission Starts Work

A three-man jury commission met at 9 this morning to select a jury panel for the next two terms of County Court. Those making up the commission include Kirk Duncan, Charles Cousin of McLean and Ott Shewmaker, Duncan and Shewmaker are both of Pampa. The docket for the next session of Gray County Court will be called Oct. 7, Judge Parker said yesterday afternoon. All non-jury cases will be tried the remainder of that week, while the jury cases will begin Oct. 14. Both civil and criminal cases will be tried. In selection of a jury panel, at least one Negro must be included. Women must be on the jury panel, Parker explained.

Boy Scouts To Begin Fund Drive

A Boy Scout Independent Finance Committee is now being organized over the Adobe Walls Council, the Pampa scout office announced this morning. The Santa Fe District Finance chairman is Gerald Simms of Pampa. Those in other towns include Hugh Wilson, Canadian; Ed Daugherty, Miami; Emmanuel Swab, Higgins; and Alvis Tabor, general solicitation chairman in the Panhandle. Finance chairman for the Panhandle plus chairmen for Groom and White Deer have not yet been chosen. Scouts will participate in the coordinated campaign this year with a simultaneous kick-off breakfast on Oct. 8. A district-wide training meeting for finance men in the Santa Fe district will be held Monday evening in the Palm Room of Pampa City Hall. Each committee chairman will bring his special guest chairman, arrangements chairman, prospects and rating chairman, publicity chairman and audit chairman to the meeting. The Council Finance committee will conduct the training session for those attending.

'Miss America' Pageant Will Wiggle Into View Saturday

By WILLIAM EWALD United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP) — The Miss America pageant, a kind of Ed Sullivan show with legs, wiggles into view this Saturday night. And according to Doug Edwards, who'll be calling the play for CBS-TV in a special 90-minute telecast, home peckers this year will get a slicker program than when ABC-TV was handling the proceedings. ABC-TV had beamed the pageant the past three years. "I've seen kinescopes of the ABC shows," said Edwards today. "And I think we can do a better job. We'll have more camera placements and we're going to try to improve the sound." An Evesdropper "The whole trouble in past years was that TV—although not quite an unmixed guest—was not quite a real guest either. TV was kind of an eavesdropper. It had poor vantage points for its cameras, for example, which is pretty absurd when you consider it's the eyes of 20 million people." This September, for the first time, TV will have its anchor platform right in the audience. It'll be about 15 feet high and 15 rows back in the audience. Edwards and a co-spieler, Bess Meyerson, will occupy the perch along with a camera. Miss Meyerson is a former Miss America herself. There will also be a CBS camera on stage, two on the main ramp and another in the audience. The large old-fashioned microphones which often obliterated the girls will be removed this year and thin pencil mikes substituted. All Ad-Lib "The tough thing about working a show like this, of course, is that it's 90-minutes of ad-lib," observed Edwards. "And we can't have any kind of rehearsal because we don't know what acts will be on the air." There are 51 beauties engaged in the Atlantic City joust this year and their talents come in almost as many varieties as a l.a.m.i. Twelve girls plan to give dramatic readings, 13 will sing, seven will tackle instruments, nine will dance, two will sing and read, two

Spahn Hurls 41st Shutout As Braves Drop Chicago

Yankees Widen Gap With 2-0 Win Over Baltimore

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Southpaw Warren Spahn, with another National League record under his belt, is shaping up more and more as the logical choice to pitch the opening World Series game for the Milwaukee Braves.

The 36-year-old Spahn, who began his major league career 15 years ago, under Casey Stengel—the man he probably will be trying to beat a month from now—registered his 41st shutout by blanking the Chicago Cubs, 8-0, on six hits Tuesday.

That gave Spahn the league record for total lifetime shutouts by a left handed pitcher. It also gave him 18 victories for the season and made him a good bet to embellish another 20 mark he holds. He is the only southpaw in the history of the circuit who has won 20 games in seven different seasons and now it looks as if he is going to make it eight.

The Braves thereby maintained their comfortable 8½ game lead over the second place Cardinals, who crushed the Redlegs, 14-4. The Phillies defeated the Dodgers, 3-2, in 12 innings and the Giants beat the Pirates, 4-3 in 12 innings.

Over in the American League, the Yankees increased their lead to 5½ games with a 2-0 triumph over the Orioles, while the Tigers scored an 11-inning 3-2 victory over the White Sox in the only other game scheduled.

The Cards shelled Joe Nuxhall for four runs in the first inning and Raul Sanchez for four more in the second as they rapped out 14 hits, including a homer by Del Ennis. Hal Smith led the onslaught by driving in four runs while Ennis and pitcher Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell each drove in three. Ex-Dodger Chico Fernandez tripled in the 12th inning and scored the winning run for the Phillies on Willie Jones sacrifice fly. Don Drysdale of the Dodgers nursed a 2-0 lead until Harry Anderson tied the score with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Dick Farrell, who relieved starter Jack Sanford in the eighth and pitched four hitless innings before retiring for a pinch hitter, was credited with his seventh win. The Giants won their 12-inning game from the Pirates when Ray Jablonski's sacrifice fly brought in Danny O'Connell. Valmy Thomas sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the ninth. Prior to the Willie Mays and O'Connell had halloped two-run homers. Stu Miller was the winner and Bob Smith the loser.

Sal Maglie made his first appearance for the Yankees in helping them nail down their victory against the Orioles. The winner was Tom Sturdivant but he yielded to Maglie in the ninth after George Kell opened with his third single of the game. Maglie gave up one more hit but retired the last three batters.

Mickey Mantle went hitless in four times up, dropping to .370, six points behind Ted Williams.

Al Kaline blasted his 21st home run in the 11th inning off Gerry Staley to sink the White Sox. Walt Droppo put Chicago ahead with a homer in the ninth and Detroit tied the score in the bottom of the frame on a walk, a sacrifice and Ray Boone's pinch single.

The game will be watched with keen interest. The bulk of the division's 191 teams will be in action this week and with most of the district favorites playing warmup games, there are some exceptions to this rule. Included among the top-notch competitions on tap are these involving highly-regarded teams:

Melrose, N.M. at Farwell, Hale Center vs. powerful AA Lockney, Seagraves at Morton, Merkel at Ranger, Big Lake vs. Ozona, Sonora at Alpine, Goldthwaite at Hamilton, Crowell vs. Seymour, Paducah vs. Childress, Holliday vs. Burk Burnett, Rockwall vs. Mesquite, Linden vs. Gilmer, Glen Rose at Granbury, Mart at Texas, Hull Daisetta at Newton, Tomball at Katy and Bishop vs. Taft.

Fullmer Set To Baffle Vejar

WEST JORDAN, Utah (UP)—Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer risks his No. 1 rating tonight against clever Chilo Vejar in a scheduled 10-round bout in Fullmer's home town.

The clash between Fullmer and the Stamford, Conn., fighter will be out of doors in the West Jordan Arena.

Stocky, bull-necked Fullmer is a slight favorite at 3-1 because of his aggressive style and his more impressive ring record. Some 5,000 fans are expected to pack the arena.

The Utah fighter is expected to tip the scales at 155 pounds, while his opponent expects to weigh in at 152.

The bout is Fullmer's second since he lost the title back to Sugar Ray Robinson in Chicago on May 1. In the one bout after the return match with Robinson, Fullmer decided Ralph Tiger Jones in June.

Fullmer has a record of 41 wins and four losses. He has been stopped once by Sugar Ray Robinson in the return bout for the crown.

Austin College Names Coach

SHERMAN, Tex. (UP)—James Self has been named assistant football coach at Austin College, where he lettered for three years at halfback.

Self recently completed a two-year stretch in the armed forces. He said he would attend classes, working toward a bachelor's degree, while coaching. He played high school football at Wichita Falls.

Shamrock To Open Season Against McLean Friday Night

By CHARLES CULLIN
Pampa News Sports Editor
The Shamrock Irishmen begin the 1957 grid season with a young and untried team. The Irish finished last season with a shattered 1-8-1 record, scoring their only win over non-conference Lefors.

In his first year at Shamrock, Coach Bill Lalicker has 11 lettermen returning, with graduation taking the toll of 13 from the 1956 squad.

Coach Lalicker admits that he is in a building process at Shamrock, with young and inexperienced boys. He added though, that they were doing fine and coming along in good shape. He stated that the spirit of the team was the best it had been in ten years.

The Irish open away from home against McLean Friday night, a team also trying to recover from a bad year in 1956. McLean finished last season with a 1-9 record, but expect to field a better team this year.

As for the opener, Lalicker said

Mantle, Williams Duel Postponed

NEW YORK (UP)—A scheduled pre-game home run duel between Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle tonight has been postponed, but the two sluggers will continue their battle for the American League batting crown in a game between the Red Sox and Yankees.

Williams and Mantle had been slated to take a dozen swings each before tonight's game for a prize of $1,000, with the money going to the winner's favorite charity.

The event was postponed until Sept. 20, however, because Williams is nursing a cold, and Mantle a painful case of shin splints. Both are expected to be in the lineup tonight, however.

Mantle went hitless in four trips against the Orioles Tuesday, his average dipping to .370, six points behind Williams.

Wrestling Results

Art Nelson downed Danny O'Shocker in the main event Monday night in the Sportsman Club wrestling. Nelson took the match with the first and third falls.

In the semi-final, the Great Bolo won over Big Train Clements through a disqualification. Bolo had the first fall of the two-out-three match, when Clements was disqualified in the second by the referee.

In the first event Tommy Phelps was defeated by Wiener in the one-fall tussle.

The wrestling is held at the Sportsman Club each Monday evening at 8:30.

Rain Slows SW Practice

By UNITED PRESS
Rain forced one Southwest Conference football squad indoors Tuesday and the practice schedule of another was changed to give players more time to eat.

Coach Jack Mitchell said University of Arkansas practice sessions will open 30 minutes earlier in order to give players more show time. "We've got to get some weight on these boys," he said.

Mitchell said the Pockers will run through a scrimmage Saturday.

Johnson Hurls Leafs To Win

By UNITED PRESS
Don Johnson's clutch pitching has provided the Toronto Maple Leafs with another day of life in their quest of the International League pennant.

The 30-year-old veteran of 12 baseball seasons continually hurled his way out of trouble Tuesday night to lead Toronto to a vital 2-1 victory over the league-leading Buffalo Bisons. With less than a week remaining in the campaign, the Leafs now trail Buffalo by a game and a half.

Johnson, in winning his 16th game against seven losses, yielded 10 hits. Rip Coleman went all the way for the Bisons, dropping his fourth decision.

Rochester's Dick Ricketts set back Montreal on four hits to win the seven-inning opener, 4-3. In the nightcap, the Royals crashed two homers to even the night's work with an 8-3 triumph.

In other action, Columbus whipped Richmond, 9-5, with Bob Kuzava gaining his seventh victory in eight decisions and Havana defeated Miami, 6-1, behind the sixth hit pitching of Joe Hatten.

Six Top O' Texas Teams Open '57 Grid Season Friday Night

Football fans in the Top o' Texas will see the 1957 grid season get underway Friday night when three games, composed of teams from AA, A, and B, will be played in the area.

While Deer will host the Groom Tigers in a game that should prove to be one of the closest contested of the evening, Groom ranks at the top of District 1-B, while the Bucks of White Deer will be a strong contender in 1-A.

The Groom Tigers were 1956 district champions, losing on penalties in the higher playoffs to Wheeler in a 7-7 tie. Sparking the backfield for the Tigers in Friday night's tilt will be Melvin Britten, Johnny Eschle, Eldon Jones and Willard Fence.

On the White Deer side, the Bucks should be stronger than they were last year. Coach Otis Holiday stated that they would field a more experienced team, with better size than they had last season. In 1956 the Bucks finished third in District 1-A behind Stinnett and Panhandle. Strength in the backfield will be Burns, Essary, Hill and Powell.

Canadian vs. Wheeler
In another opener Friday night, the Wheeler Mustangs will host the Canadian Wildcats. The Mustangs compiled a 9-2-1 record in 1956, going all the way to drop Happy in the conference "B" regional contest. The champs are expected to be strong again this year.

Althea Has Lost Popularity While Trying For Grand Slam

Althea Gibson, Wimbledon's first Negro champion shooting for a grand slam in the U.S. championship, is regarded in tennis circles today as an unfortunate combination of Greta Garbo and Jackie Robinson.

A deliberately poor and unwilling mixer, Althea leaves no doubt in anybody's mind that she prefers to be left alone. And a campaign which started out as a racial crusade has clothed her in haughty arrogance and a thinly veiled hostility to the world in general.

She will not be a popular champion simply because of her "I am the queen" attitude.

Has Cold Indifference
Althea has not, at any time, gone out of her way to make friends or even accept the overtures made in her direction. A year ago, before her Wimbledon victory, you might have attributed this to shyness. But her most ardent supporters make no such claims any more since her world travels, her triumph at Wimbledon and her audience with Queen Elizabeth.

Wearing her air of superiority as if born with royalty's divine right, the girl whose garage attendant father once tried to train her to be a woman boxer has alienated would-be friends with her cold indifference.

She has snubbed interviewers with a callous courtesy. She has failed to appear for scheduled interviews, including those with two important national magazines, and has autocritically sent various members of her family to fill in for her at the last minute on television shows.

Answers Who Questions
When she does hold still for an interview, she shows a quite obvious displeasure and lack of cooperation. One of her favorite methods is to answer a question with a question whose tone borders on insult or, at the least, insolence.

The tennis world, being a social by-product, is not accustomed to this lack of graciousness in its champions. Particularly in view of the fact that Althea cannot be regarded as one of the truly greats.

Zulueta Upset By Nevarez

JUAREZ, Mexico (UP)—Alfredo Nevarez, a shifty counterpuncher from Chihuahua, Mexico, upset third-ranked lightweight contender Orlando Zulueta Tuesday night in their 10-round battle in the Juarez Bull Ring.

There were no knockdowns. Nevarez, 132½, used superior speed to pile up points against the 134-pound Cuban in the early rounds on his way to a unanimous decision.

Zulueta began pressing late in the fight and the ninth-ranked Nevarez turned to a wicked counterpunch to cement his victory.

Some 6,000 pleased fans gave both fighters a standing ovation after the bout.

Stinnett Launches State Title Defense With Weaker Team

By UNITED PRESS
The Stinnett Rattlers, who have lost only one out of the last 30 games, open defense of their state Class A schoolboy football championship as the prep grid season gets under way with 146 games in that division.

Coach Don Seymour's Rattlers, whose only blemishes over the past two seasons has been a state finals loss to Deer Park in 1955 and a tie with Hollis, Okla. in the 1956 season opener, don't appear to be as big a threat this season, but still are a potent outfit.

The entire starting backfield and both ends are gone from the club, but Seymour has his line from tackle to tackle intact and that should continue to make the club tough defensively. The Rattlers open against Clarendon Friday night at Stinnett and the

By UNITED PRESS
Don Johnson's clutch pitching has provided the Toronto Maple Leafs with another day of life in their quest of the International League pennant.

The 30-year-old veteran of 12 baseball seasons continually hurled his way out of trouble Tuesday night to lead Toronto to a vital 2-1 victory over the league-leading Buffalo Bisons. With less than a week remaining in the campaign, the Leafs now trail Buffalo by a game and a half.

Johnson, in winning his 16th game against seven losses, yielded 10 hits. Rip Coleman went all the way for the Bisons, dropping his fourth decision.

Rochester's Dick Ricketts set back Montreal on four hits to win the seven-inning opener, 4-3. In the nightcap, the Royals crashed two homers to even the night's work with an 8-3 triumph.

In other action, Columbus whipped Richmond, 9-5, with Bob Kuzava gaining his seventh victory in eight decisions and Havana defeated Miami, 6-1, behind the sixth hit pitching of Joe Hatten.

Jury Trial Is A Right

During all the discussion over the so-called civil rights bill, there's been a lot of talk about the Senate's amendment to guarantee jury trials in contempt cases.

That great confused general of the Army, President Eisenhower, was quite concerned that the courts were to be handicapped by a requirement that a jury trial be assured to persons charged with contempt by failure to obey court orders.

Jenner points out that "the weight of precedent is against jury trials in contempt cases." And we have heard a number of legal lights who contend jury trials in contempt cases would limit the power of the courts.

There was a definite intent to limit the power of the courts, by those who wrote the Constitution, Article III, Section 2, says in part: "The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury."

If you, dear reader, wonder why the Constitution's authors wrote the requirement into the nation's basic document, just go back to the Declaration of Independence. One of the many complaints the American colonists had against George III was "for depriving us, in many cases of the benefits of trial by jury."

The argument that "precedent is against jury trials in contempt cases" is like arguing that since most persons at one time or other violate the speed laws, it is all right to disregard the laws.

Judges are human and therefore are subject to the same errors of judgment of other mortals. If a judge makes a bad ruling and then can enforce it with a criminal contempt order, not subject to examination, all manner of injustice can result.

A man accused of contempt for failing to obey an order of the court should have the right to a jury trial will not assure that he will not go to jail, but an unjust judge will be more careful of his rulings if he knows his rulings will be subject to review by a jury.

We will be doing nothing to improve civil rights of the Negroes in the South, if in so doing we further eliminate the civil rights of all other individuals.

Hankering

Hank Bumps Through 'Promenading' Session

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME — Soccer generally is considered Italy's national sport, followed by wanking the dead on motor scooters, the sipping of Campari (an alcoholic cough medicine), and the singing of snatches of arias, in that order.

Mention is seldom made of what I am sure is truly the national sport of Italians — promenading. All Italians who are able to walk promenade every day. Their favorite hours are those between five and nine, and during that time millions of them are on the sidewalks and streets. They appear to be headed for nowhere and are in no hurry to get there.

No matter what city one is in, it's the same. It's as if a well-regulated horde of locusts moved across the land each day at an appointed hour. They move from houses and shops in droves and promenade until the spirit moves them to stop.

Country folk are just as great promenaders as the urban population. The absence of sidewalks in villages too small to have them, discourages them not a bit. They take to the roads, three and four abreast, and there is no use for the motorist to try to honk them aside. When the sun begins to set, the highways and byways belong to them and they are reluctant to yield an inch of it.

The young men walk to stare at the young girls, which they do with an encompassing glance that begins at the ankle and, like a playing searchlight, sweeps upward to the top of the head.

The young girls go to be stared at by the young men, and seem to enjoy being optically measured from head to toe.

As I am always on the look-out for new sports, I have become a promenader, and have persuaded Mary to join in with me. It's a simple sport. Practically no training is required. I promenaded about as well the first time I tried it as I did the fiftieth time.

It's probably the most economical sport of them all. No special equipment is required for men. The girls floss up a bit, but this only adds to the pageantry of the sport as a whole. I usually just wear slacks, a blouse shirt and a pair of espadrilles, if that's the way to spell those rope - a-ted shoes that cost 75 cents here and give a hundred dollars worth of comfort.

Promenading has only a few rules, one of them being that players must bump into one another when given a reasonable chance. It isn't considered sporting to make an effort to get out of the way of another group of promenaders. There is no official scoring, but a player is expected to make a mental note of rival promenaders he jostled, forced to step off the curb, or ran directly into with a worthwhile thump. A score of 80 during an evening is considered par or threatens.

Mary and I have developed into quite a formidable twosome. With arms linked, and heads bowed, we scored 93 last evening. And we could make it 93 1/2 if we wanted to count the four - year - old boy we sent spinning off the sidewalk.

Editor, I note with interest that the City Commission has called an open meeting for Sept. 17 to consider the City Budget for the coming year.

This should be an important meeting in view of the fact that our former city manager displayed the financial distress signal and to bear out this distress point of view one of our City Fathers voiced the opinion that the City Commission should turn their pay, meager as it is, back to the City Treasurer in order that some of

BETTER JOBS

Why Prices Go Up And Up

The following letter from John P. Murray, Pastor Bethel Lutheran Church, Lyford, Texas, discusses my contention that there are two primary causes for prices going up and up. The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Hollis: In your recent article in the Harlingen (Texas) Star you suggest that the high cost of living is due to the two primary causes. One is taxes. The other is due to wage increases asked and obtained by labor. Labor has not always been above reproach in its attitudes and activities, but it behooves us to join in the chorus which tries to make labor the scape-goat for all our economic ills.

I note that you mention, "Primary Causes". Evidently you have in mind some other factors also. There are, of course, other factors involved. A recent report just published by the President's Council of Economic Advisors indicates what some of those other factors are. "Between 1952 and 1957, interest (received by persons) went up 51 per cent; wages, salaries, bonuses, etc., rose by 27 per cent."

The UP released a statement by a United States Senator on July 7 in which he stated that the argument of one of our largest industries that higher wages had forced a significant price increase was "a lot of plain, unadulterated nonsense." He further added that since 1945 this particular industry's income had increased $3 for every $1 in added labor costs. He also added that this industry had raised its profits 186 per cent in the last ten years, after taxes.

As you say, the worker, too, is a consumer, and instead of contracting we ought to seek to broaden our consumer base in the interest of a healthy economy. Those who criticize high wages for labor perhaps ought to be willing to offer to trade economic status with the laboring man. Labor, generally speaking, has not been getting too much of the economic pump.

JOHN P. MURRAY

MY ANSWER Rev. Murray evidently did not read my article under the heading "Why Prices Go Up and Up" very carefully. I specifically said "wages established by strikes or threats of strikes where the employees get an increase due to the threat of a strike on a non-democratic market". Wages established by all employees without the threat of strikes can never go too high. They do not cause prices to go up.

Would Rev. Murray contend that monopolies protected by laws do not cause prices to go up? If he does give one instance. His letter seems to imply that he thinks high profits are the cause of higher prices. They are if they are because of a monopoly supported by the government. They are not if they are the result of efficiently supplying a service people are benefited by buying.

High wages and high profits under a truly free market economy are selling the workers and the owners of capital what work they want more people to do and where they want more capital to be invested. Wages and profits are thus an automatic guide as to what material things should be decreased or increased. If they are low they are saying produce less, if high, produce more.

Lower Prices High profits, not made as a result of special privilege laws, lowers prices. They add to the wealth of the world. Every person that buys their product has their life enriched. Furthermore, when these profits are invested in tools the owners have to compete in getting employees and thus raise real wages and have to compete in selling their product and thus reduce prices and profits and wages can never be too high under a free economy.

The public is under obligation to men like Rev. Murray for thinking publicly on this important question as to why prices rise. The more the matter is frankly discussed the sooner we will correct the cause and the better off we all will be.

The City employees in the lower paid bracket could get a slight boost in their pay check. Of course, such action would be like a drowning man grabbing at a straw or we might say they gaged at a gnat and swallowed a whale.

The question arises, who of our City employees are most deserving? Well, I did some checking and here is what I found. Employees in the lower paid bracket working in the City Hall, faithful on the job for from six to 15 years, work 48 hours a week. These unfortunate employees must stay on the job while other employees take Saturday afternoon off.

Yes, Mr. Citizen, you should attend the budget hearing. If you can't attend, send your wife.

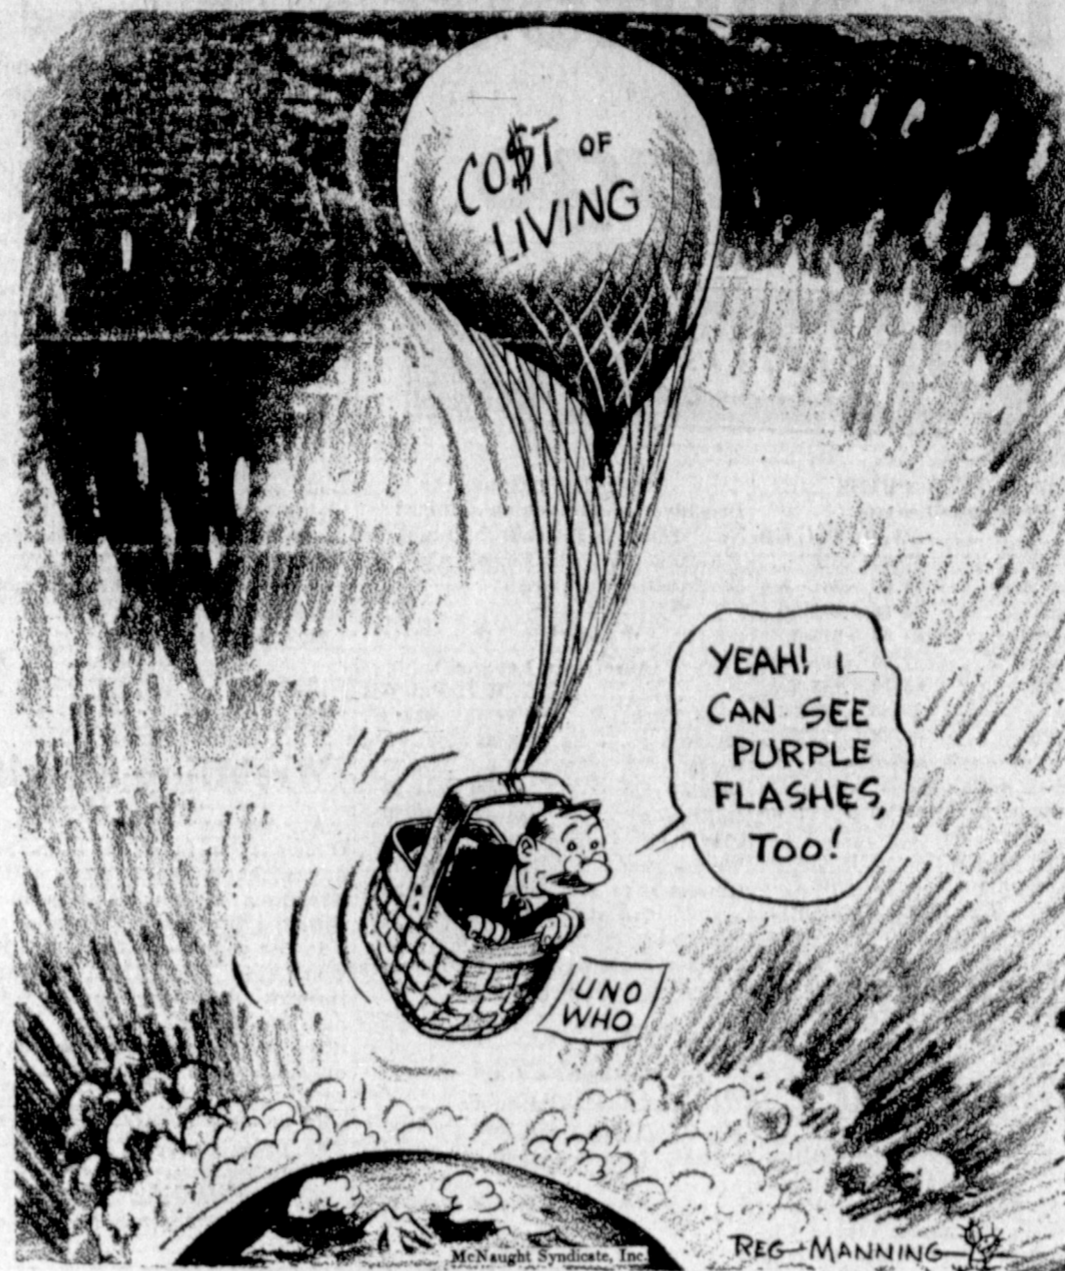

The following are some of the questions that may be asked. (1) Why drill more water wells at the present, when the City can produce two million gallons a day over consumption? (2) Why should a Board of City Development tax levied be imposed on an overburdened taxpayer? (3) The City Charter provides for a three cent per $100 levy as a library fund. The levy and the City Budget provided $6,688.28 for the Library Fund. The record shows $19,176.67 paid out of the Library Fund. How did this money get into the Library Fund? Ask your commissioner to explain.

Now, let's take a look at the water situation. According to the auditor's report, only 85 per cent of the water pumped into our lines is accounted for. Where does this 15 per cent go? These and many more problems will be answered and discussed in the City Commission Room on the morning of Sept. 17. If you can't be there, send a proxy.

Breaking Maj. Simons' Record

Fair Enough

Labor Leader Hires Criminals To Picket

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — I want to make it absolutely clear that the William Lurye who was Dave Dubinsky's paid, professional picket in New York when he was murdered in May, 1949, had been a burglar in Chicago and a lifer in the Pontiac - Joliet prison system. They were one and the same. The fingerprints prove it. Dubinsky immediately disowned his martyr-racketeer when I braced him with the police record during the secret sessions of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in Chicago, early in August. This was the queerest reputation of a hero that I have ever seen.

Dubinsky had foamed at the mouth in print against "open-shop assassins" at the time of the murder. But the only place in Chicago where I was confident that a file would be kept of his official publication was his own Chicago union headquarters. Dave would not help me out. In fact, he said he doubted that this office kept a file. The sheet is called "Justice." But I was determined to get a reproduction and poke it down his gullet. So I got it from the Library of Congress and it indicates he had no reason to disown Lurye.

Dubinsky poses as a holy man and a gallant enemy of the very type of hoodlums who have prospered by his accommodation. Lurye was one such. Sam Berger, recently resigned from the presidency of Dubinsky's truckers local, is another. Berger is Johnny Dio's friend and collaborator in rackets. Dave now squawks that he did not know Dio was a hoodlum. But I say he had official reports on his own desk from his own people years ago proving just that. He won't deny that to me. But to get down to cases in Lurye:

Dubinsky raised his voice, he waved his hands and he cried that Lurye was not his man. Why, the fellow was just a picket for one of his locals in a scap with employers who were sending hot cargo through his picket lines (as they had a legal right to do, even in New York). Then somebody caught Lurye in a phone booth and cut him up so badly that he died next day in St. Vincent's Hospital, close by.

Dubinsky and his sub-Fuehrers called out 65,000 American workers for a political funeral demonstration which cost them all a full day's pay, tied up the entire industry a whole day and put the provided $6,688.28 for the Library Fund. The record shows $19,176.67 paid out of the Library Fund. How did this money get into the Library Fund? Ask your commissioner to explain.

Now, let's take a look at the water situation. According to the auditor's report, only 85 per cent of the water pumped into our lines is accounted for. Where does this 15 per cent go? These and many more problems will be answered and discussed in the City Commission Room on the morning of Sept. 17. If you can't be there, send a proxy.

COMMENTARY ON LOANS TO "WIN" POLAND

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

When the liner Batory, pride of the Polish communist passenger fleet, put into Copenhagen, Denmark, on a Baltic cruise, 15 passengers quit the ship to seek political asylum. Another 10 or so Poles are also reported to have seized the occasion to skip to freedom. Incidents such as this afford Poles their only opportunity to cast a vote on the merits of living under communism. The former skipper of the Batory was the first to seize the opportunity. He found asylum in Britain several years ago.

The Eisenhower administration has succeeded in persuading itself that the current brand of Polish communism exemplified by Wladyslaw Gomulka, the party boss, represents a "softer" type than the parent soviet product. The Washington psychologists think they ought to encourage these supposed tendencies in order to promote alienation of Poland from Russia.

In pursuance of this theory, $5 million dollars in American loans for food and machinery have been extended Poland this year. The last instalment being a 4.6 million dollar credit given as recently as Aug. 25.

The Poles who jumped ship in Denmark are much better informed than is the Eisenhower administration about the prospects of winning Poland away from communism and soviet orientation and convert it into a free country sympathetic to the west. In their judgment, the chance of this strategy succeeding is precisely nil. If they could see any hope for the future they would stay in Poland, instead of ducking out at the first chance.

Nevertheless, we expect that if the deep thinkers in Washington have their way, a good many million more American dollars will be lavished on Poland before there is any similar recognition by our government.

NO STRINGS ON JIMMY

(N.Y. Daily News)

James R. Hoffa's televised tussles with the McClellan racket probe committee leave us thinking in bewilderment about the Teamsters Union rank and file.

These fellows and girls allow Jimmy to borrow union funds without interest or collateral, and to repay or not as he pleases. When some of Jimmy's investments of union money go sour, you hear not a squawk from his followers.

If some local grows discontented with its officials, Hoffa puts it into his or a colleague's vest pocket under a trusteeship arrangement, instead of permitting a change in the local's management—and still no complaints arise from the rank and file.

We can only conclude that these folks are one of two things: (a) the most generous, goodhearted, long-suffering creatures in America the beautiful, or (b) a bunch of clunks who are either too ignorant or too cowardly to insist on running their own union as free Americans.

P.S. to Sen. McClellan: After the well-earned recess which your committee plans to take, Senator, how about putting Walter P. Reuther at the top of your agenda? Reuther's political finaglings and his savage strike and attempted boycott against the Kohler plumbing supply company have been crying for investigation for years.

Cab Driver — Where shall I drive now (speaking to his fare huddled in a corner, comfortably wrapped in a stupor). Inebriate — Just go around the block.

Cab Driver — That's all I've been doing for an hour. Inebriate — So that's what's making me so dizzy. Turn around and go the other way.

McClellan's Effort To Stop Hoffa Fails

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The McClellan Committee's effort to prevent the election of James R. Hoffa as the next president of the Teamsters' Union has failed.

If the discredited Detroit — he has been arrested 17 times and convicted three times on minor charges — is not sidetracked by the Congressional revelations, the labor leaders themselves must unseat him. So far, they have shown no heart to tangle with the burly and belligerent Hoffa.

With the exception of Senators McClellan and Ives, the Senate investigators showed unusual deference to the handsome and nattily attired Hoffa. Two members visited with him in a friendly talk during one luncheon recess. Save for Ives, the Republican members were quite subdued in questioning the outstanding Republican in labor ranks.

Senator Pat McNamara, a Democratic labor figure from Detroit, was strangely silent.

HOFFA'S FAILING MEMORY — In fact, Senator McClellan became exasperated with digressive interruptions by his colleagues on an important matter. He felt that they were wasting time, and preventing him from exposing Hoffa's intimate relations with Johnny Dioguardo, New York gangster, through tape recordings of their telephone conversations.

These invisible and mechanical witnesses shattered Hoffa's aplomb and nonchalance. They tied him with a convicted extortionist who had double-crossed the unions he was supposed to represent in wage negotiations with employers. But the employment as evidence of tapped telephone wires is repugnant to union men, as well as to many other people.

McClellan finally had to close the hearings in disgust at Hoffa's repeated failure to remember details of his operations, or what Ives called his "excellent forgettery."

McCLELLAN MAY YET BLOCK HOFFA'S ELECTION — Due to these delays and digressions, McClellan was unable to exploit the most serious charges against Hoffa over television. They involved 48 "questionable actions," consisting largely of using union funds for personal profit. Thousands of letters to the McClellan Committee show that it was this kind of cheating which aroused the sharpest resentment against Dave Beck among union members and their wives.

But the McClellan indictment, as not nearly so effective as it would read in his drawing monotone, was have been. If it had been brought out through televised questioning of a red - faced and squirming Hoffa. Moreover, it was so lengthy that only the largest metropolitan newspapers could publish it in full. Ironically, a strike reinforced by the teamsters prevented publication of Detroit newspapers during this period.

The hearings left no doubt in the minds of unprejudiced observers that Hoffa is not qualified to head the nation's largest and most influential union, since it can make or break any strike. But they also left Hoffa with a tactical victory that may enable him to succeed Beck at the October election.

McClellan, however, may make another attempt to block Hoffa's elevation at September hearings.

POSSIBLE RETALIATION — On September 24, the Teamsters' Union must face charges of misconduct filed against it by the Ethical Practices Committee of the AFL-CIO. Under strict interpretation of its new code, Hoffa's organization should be expelled by the Executive Committee because of his alliance with "crooks and racketeers."

But Hoffa has promised to "purge" himself. Moreover, his judges' great fear is that he might retaliate against punishment by withdrawing the teamsters from the parent organization. He might also take with him powerful groups in the building trades and transportation fields.

ORGANIZED LABOR COULD DISINTEGRATE INTO RIVAL CLIQUES — Thus, the AFL-CIO faces its most serious crisis in its two-year history, especially as there has been no real merger at local levels. If it disciplines Hoffa and his followers in order to prove to Congress and the public that it intends to "clean house," it may signal the breakup of the "one great union."

Organized labor would then disintegrate into several feuding, hostile and rival cliques — the AFL-CIO remnants, the Hoffa rebels and John L. Lewis' coal miners and allies. Such a dissolution would precipitate a dangerous crisis for industry, labor and the national economy.

BID FOR A SMILE

A Negro porter in one of the popular Kansas City clubs, recently divorced, approached a reporter in the clubrooms and remarked: "If you like to win but think you can't win, you'll lose. You'll lose if you think you'll lose, you'll lose if you think you'll lose, and I ain't seen a single line about it in the paper yet, an' it been mo' two weeks."

Reporter (trying to look serious) — Well, Rastus, that's strange. Porter — Can't you all put it in the paper now? "Taint as how I care to get people know about but don't you know, boss, that I meet a lot of outlaws or better men, if it ain't you? You've got to think long to sign."

THINK If you think you are beaten, you are; if you think you dare not, you don't. If you like to win but think you can't win, you won't. If you think you will lose, you've lost; for you have already lost. Success begins with a fellow's will: It's all in the state of mind. If you think you are outclassed, you are: You've got to think like a champion before you can ever win a prize. If you think you are outclassed, you are: You've got to think like a champion before you can ever win a prize. If you think you are outclassed, you are: You've got to think like a champion before you can ever win a prize. If you think you are outclassed, you are: You've got to think like a champion before you can ever win a prize.

Actress Goes Back Before Court On Charge Of DWI

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Gail Russell, film town's tough luck girl, goes to court next month to face a drunk driving rap — her second such tussle with the law in the past four years.

"You have to take the bitter with the better in this business," she bristles. Beauty shrugged philosophically. "It's unfortunate that these things happen, but a person must face up to them."

Gail makes no excuses for herself. Last July 4 she rammed her car into a restaurant at four in the morning, injuring an employee and herself.

She failed to pass the sobriety tests.

Charge Dismissed
A drunk driving charge against her was dismissed Jan. 27, 1954, but she was fined $150 after pleading guilty to a drunk charge.

"My morale is high," she said with a wan smile. "All you need is a little sunshine and a pat on the back now and then."

"And I've been getting lots of pats on the back in letters from people all over the country. They don't ask for photographs or anything. They just want me to know they're pulling for me. My friends here in Hollywood have been wonderful, too—especially those who have been through trouble like this themselves."

The willowy 32-year-old charmer was in the throes of a come-back when the accident occurred.

She After months in a sanitarium, and a bout with hepatitis, Gail had returned to film-making following a four-year layoff. She starred with Randolph Scott in "Seven Men From Now" and won a supporting role in "Tattered Dress."

She's scheduled to begin a new movie, "Film - Film," in two weeks.

"I wish I could just stay with acting and forget the rest of my life," Gail said wistfully. "I'm taking singing lessons for the new picture, and after that I may do another film at MGM."

THREE ACRES ON THE MOVE—The largest log ever transported on the Tennessee River is pictured on Pickwick Lake, about 215 miles from its starting point, Paducah, Ky. The tow of 24 barges, loaded with grain, scrap iron and steel is en route from Paducah to Knoxville, Tenn. The 24 barges, in a formation 100 feet wide, cover an area of approximately 126,000 square feet or almost three acres. The tow is being pushed by a diesel tow boat, the Robin. (In river parlance, a tow is a formation of barges pushed, not pulled, by a tow boat). The 3,200-horsepower Robin is the most powerful boat on the Tennessee River. A big tow such as this is not unusual for the Mississippi River, but for the Tennessee it is an all-time record.

British Women Turn To Bust Surgery

LONDON (UP) — Hundreds of British women have turned to surgery for a smaller rather than larger bustline. Dr. Patrick Clarkson, senior surgeon at a Basingstoke plastic surgery center, said in an article in the medical journal that some operations to reduce busts are being financed by Britain's free state health service. "An increasing number of women are dissatisfied with what they have got," Clarkson wrote. "A bust which is wide of the currently fashionable mark is a serious social, economic and psychological disadvantage to a woman in the professional classes." Clarkson said a woman's feelings about an over-developed bust may adversely affect her whole adjustment to life. "I consider it entirely reasonable and proper medicine that such feelings should be offered relief by surgery," he said. Clarkson, one of Britain's top plastic surgeons, said many British women no longer are content with special bras and other artificial aids when surgery can give them figures that need no disguise.

EATING OUT OF HER HAND—Little girls such as Melissa Arnold, 5, have a way of getting just about anybody or anything to eat out of their hands. The goose inhabits a pond behind the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission Building in Little Rock. A popular place for family outings, the pond is fine for photographic reflections, too. It makes a pretty picture whether you look at it right-side-up or upside-down.

Zzyzy Ztamp Ztudioz Co. Iz Last Word In N.Y. Lizting

By DOC QUIGG United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP) — The last listing in the Manhattan phone book is the Zzyzy Ztamp Ztudioz Co. This calls for a call. But when you dial the number, you hear the receiver unhook and then there's silence. Finally, I couldn't stand it any longer: "Look, Zzyzy, say something, will you? Don't sit there in silence in your studio. Zpeak!" "Zure," said a male voice. "You want something?" "What sort of ztampz do you zell?" I asked. "Ztampz that ztickum on 'em." "Zilly!" I said. "Who zays zo?" "I zay zo." The Last Word "Ztop," the man said tiredly. "You got me in zitchez." "Okazy," I said. "Zo what?—I mean, zo what's with this Zzyzy?" "It's our real name. Pronounced zee-zee. Gets us absolutely last on any listing. We're in all five phone books of the New York City boroughs, also in two on Long Island, and in Newark, Newark Suburban, Jersey City, Westchester... and we're ready to spread out farther. Even the name may grow. May put another 'Z' in front of it. We're the last word in stamps. The last word—get it!" "Yes, yes. But do you get a lot of crazy calls, like mine? And why don't you answer when you pick up the phone?" "We not only get a lot of nuisance calls, we get a lot of long distance nuisance calls. This listing has been in the phone books five years, and the telephone company makes more money on it than we do. I've had a lot of calls from people don't say a word. So I decided not to either." "You have the same number in all those phone books?" "Yes, and soon we may take in all big cities around here — Philadelphia, Boston... and eventually I hope to be throughout the country with the same number." It's Zo Ztamp "Well, what's this stamp business?" "It's stamp - size photographs that we make from a picture or a drawing of themselves that people send in. We take the head and make stamps from it and usually put a design around it. For instance, we have a heart - shaped design for weddings. Also we get requests for animals and houses and baby pictures on stamps." "What does a person do with the stamps?" "Put 'em on your letters, greeting cards, calling cards, get-well cards. They're about the size of an airmail stamp. Your friends and relations would like your picture. A letter is not complete without the final touch, which is the Zzyzyzy. Incidentally, the abbreviation of Zzyzyzy is ZZ. Why don't you have some made up for yourself?" "Because my face looks awful," I said. "Well, we can do something different. We had one guy with the back of his head made instead of the front." "That's for me. Just what I need," I said. "Right. Be Zzyzyzying you." "Zo long. And the back of my head to you." LOS ANGELES — Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa, on being told the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee brought new charges against him based on Senate Rackets Committee disclosures: "I can't imagine what new charges they claim. I'm not prepared to say anything about them. How can I deny what I don't know anything about?"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service The unlucky expert buttonholed me. As usual something horrible had happened to him. This time it was duplicate and the unlucky expert was West. Here is his sad story. "My partner opened one no-trump. South overcalled with two diamonds and I jumped to four hearts. We were not playing the transfer bid. "North and East passed and South mumbled something that sounded like five clubs. He repeated the bid and I doubled. North went five diamonds and my partner passed. I toyed with the idea of doubling five diamonds; my opponents were vulnerable and we were not and my partner had opened one no-trump. On the other hand he had not doubled five diamonds and South just had to have a tremendous freak. I went to five hearts. North bid six diamonds and now my partner was ready with the double.

BERLIN — Soviet military engineer G. I. Pokrovski, quoted by the East German news agency ADN on Russia's claim of having tested an intercontinental ballistic missile: "Essential quality of the modern missile is its extreme accuracy of aim. Possible errors are expected to be not larger than six to 12 miles." A greyhound hunts by sight instead of scent, because it is fast enough to keep the game in view.

Quotes In The News

CHICAGO (UP) — People who worry how fast liquids move around in a bubble can rest easy now. Engineers at the Illinois Institute of Technology hope shortly to perfect an apparatus capable of measuring the speed of fluid inside a bubble. CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UP) — The Wathan Flying Service said someone took a $1,060 automatic pilot Saturday while employees of the service were "gassing." The workers were outside the building, putting gasoline into a plane. WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) believes United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther "might be happier" in Russia. At first, Goldwater said the world would be better off if Reuther had stayed in Russia on a trip he made there in the 1930's. Then he admitted his statement was meant "facetiously." "But he did spend some time in Russia and I thought perhaps with his beliefs, he might be happier over there," Goldwater said. Goldwater, a member of the peared Sunday on the NBC television program, "Meet the Press." He said "I don't trust Reuther because of his socialist beliefs." "I don't want a socialist heading up our labor movements," Goldwater said.
