The wrecked car above is symbolic of the increasing incidence of traffic accidents, and what can be done to protect the lives of drivers—particularly in Colorado City. Local Jaycees this afternoon are concluding the "Jaycee Seat Belt Clinic," in front of Civic House, where the safety devices are on sale. Installation by trained Jaycees, which takes about 20 minutes, is free. The belts meet or surpass all safety standards for such devices. The Jaycees, since Friday, have sold and installed over 200 of the belts.

FREE INSTALLATION AT CIVIC HOUSE

Seat Belt Clinic Will End Today

The Colorado City Jaycee Seat Belt Clinic ends today. Local Jaycees began official sales and installation of automobile safety seat belts Friday.

The Jaycee "clinic" will be conducted in front of Civic House through this afternoon. The impact belts, of nylon and steel, are on "bargain price" sale at $6 the belt, $12 the pair, plus tax, far less than normal prices for approved belts. Installation by trained Jaycees is free, and takes only about 20 minutes.

Rev. Alan Conley, All Saints Episcopal Vicar, and a Jaycee, estimated that about 250 of the belts will be sold through today. He said most of the belts will be installed on the spot.

Conley said the belts can be installed on any car—except 1959 Cadillacs, which have steel plates in the seats which prevent installation. He said no 1959 Cadillacs have been through the clinic yet, but if any do come, the owners can buy belts, and ask a Cadillac dealer to install them.

Installation is relatively simple. In most late-model cars, holes are provided in the floorboards especially for seat belt fixtures. In other, and older, model cars, two small holes must be punched in the floor for each belt. The belt holders (bolts) are secured with metal plates, one on each side of the floor. The belts are not secured to the frame of a car, as studies indicate that better support is made when the belts are secured to the more yielding floorboard metal. Frames

E. McGuire, Local Pioneer, Is Dead at 84

Ewell McGuire, Mitchell County resident for 71 years died in Root Memorial Hospital here Monday morning.

McGuire, 84, had been ill for some time.

Born in Hamilton County, October 30, 1877, he came to Mitchell County in 1891. He farmed in Buford Community.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, and the Masonic Lodge.

Funeral services were in Buford Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Former pastor Rev. Roy Havens, of Snyder, and Rev. Everett Yielding, of Laredo, officiated.

Palbearers were members of the Masonic Lodge.

Burial was in the Colorado City cemetery, under direction of Kiker and Son funeral home. Masonic rites were conducted at graveside.

McGuire is survived by one brother, Tom, of Midland, and two sisters, Mrs. Mae Holt and Mrs. Della Stell, both of Colo-which are stiff, tend to crack under sudden pressure, while the thinner floor metal will "give," but not "give way."

A has been shown that, when an accident happens, most injuries are caused when the driver or passenger is thrown either against the dash, the back of the front seat, or is hurled through the windshield or out a door. Proper seat belts will prevent all these possibilities, in most cases.

The Jaycees wish to emphasize that even the most careful driver can have an accident. Not all drivers are careful drivers.

"Seat belts are one measure of protection no one who drives should do without," Conley said.

Cornell University statistics indicate that the possibility of traffic accident injuries is considerably reduced if approved belts are worn.

Conley emphasized that "seat belts are effective only when they are worn, not when drivers sit on them."

Several studies reveal that there would be 35 percent fewer fatal and serious injuries in traffic accidents—5,000 fewer deaths—per year, if every car in the U. S. were equipped with the impact belts.

Anyone wanting information about seat belts should go to Civic House, or call any Jaycee, Conley said. The local Chamber of Commerce office also has information.

INJURED WOMAN'S CONDITION BETTER

Wofford Fund Reaches $373

Contributions to the fund for a seriously-injured Midland woman's hospital and nursing bills here have reached $373.

Rev. Darris Egger said Friday that about $250 of the money has been used to pay for special nurses who have attended the woman, Mrs. Rosa N. Wofford. About $50 has gone to help pay hospital bills. The remainder had not been used Saturday.

Mrs. C. B. Jones, Mrs. Wofford's mother, said her daughter's condition is now greatly improved, and she may be discharged from Root Memorial Hospital in a few days, unless complications set in. She will still be immobilized in a body cast, however, during recovery.

Mrs. Wofford's neck was broken in two places over a month ago when her car struck a concrete abutment east of Colorado City. She had been in critical condition for several weeks.

Center, Pool To Close This Week

The summer program at City Recreation Center will close Thursday, at 4:30 p. m., according to Mrs. Dick Wistrand, recreation director.

Municipal swimming pool, at Ruddick Park, will close for the year Sunday, August 26, at 6 p. m.

The community center Kindergarten will open September 18. Hours will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., Mrs. Wistrand said.

The fund was begun when it was discovered that the young divorcee had no money, or insurance, to cover her hospitalization.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones, of Tyler, who have been here since the accident, have not been financially able to pay for more than a small part of their daughter's care.

Jones, a concrete contractor, had been out of work for most of the past year and a half, but has secured some employment in this area in the past few weeks.

His wife said Friday "The people of this city have been kinder to my daughter, and to ourselves, than any others could have been."

She said several townspeople have taken Mrs. Wofford's young son Dennis on picnics, swimming parties, and through their kindness, have helped relieve his tension and worry. Other city residents gave him clothes.

Wayne Shawn, of the City National Bank, who has been handling the contributions, said several persons, who themselves have had high hospital bills this year, have made contributions.

A group of children, in a First Methodist Church Sunday school class, contributed $5—in pennies, nickels and dimes.

One man, who has recently recovered from an expensive illness, contributed a dollar—all he could spare. He lives on a pension.

Shawn said most of the contributions have been from Colorado City residents. He indicated that more contributions are needed.

WEEVILS CAUSING SOME DAMAGE

Hot Weather Blamed For Cotton Shedding

Heavy shedding of small cotton forms (bolts) is reported in the county this week, due to hot dry weather, according to Buddy C. Logsdon, County Agricultural Agent.

"Bolt weevil populations continue to increase and cause serious losses, especially in later cotton and in irrigated fields," Logsdon said.

"Growers should watch their weevil buildups closely at this time," he continued, "to prevent damage to larger bolls, resulting from extremely large late-season adult emergence."

Otherwise, insect activity has remained nearly static. Logsdon said extension service personnel reported an increase in moth and egg laying activity, as compared to last week.

The local agent said "all cotton producers should check their fields closely and begin bollworm control, before the worms become large and heavy losses have occurred."

"Plant terminals should first be checked for the presence of small worms and eggs," he continued, "and control begun when 4 to 5 small worms plus eggs are found per 100 terminals."

Logsdon said "If no eggs or worms are found in the terminal growth, farmers should be sure to look for them down on the bracts of larger squares, in the blooms and on the bolls, since hot weather often drives the moths down into the plant for egg laying."

The tobacco budworm, an insect, extremely hard to control has not been found in samples taken throughout this area, in any significant number. In areas where the tobacco budworm is known to be a problem, control is not affected until late in the season.

Damage to cotton from the cotton leafworm, cabbage looper and beet armyworm has been observed in many fields in Mitchell County, Logsdon said.

"Normally," he said, "cotton plants can lose 25 to 50 percent of their leaf tissue without any effect on cotton yield or quality, depending on the stage of maturity."

"But control should be started as soon as serious ragging is observed," he added.

12 PERCENT EARNINGS LOSS

Gas Price Wars Blamed In Cosden Income Drop

Cosden Petroleum Corp., including its affiliate in Colorado City, ColTex Petroleum, reported a 12 percent drop in net income for this fiscal year's first quarter.

"During the first quarter of the current fiscal year sales were increased but retail gasoline prices were continued in our sales territories, resulting in earnings below expectations," R. L. Tollett, company president, said.

The reportable net income of Cosden was $1,016,657—12 percent less than earned in the same period in 1961, but the same as reported for the first quarter of 1960.

During the first quarter of 1961, Tollett said, the company received $217,606 in non-recurring royalty income from license agreements.

"When that amount is eliminated, our earnings will be about the same as a year ago," he said.

Shareholders were paid a quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share, as they did last year. The next quarterly amount, Tollett said, would be in the same amount. It will be paid September 28.

The sale of Cosden to W. R. Grace & Co. is still pending.

Area Agriculture To Be Studied

A tour of Mitchell County farms, a look at show animals, a study of water conservation problems, and a barbecue are planned by a joint group of local chamber of commerce men and soil conservation officials for September 6—next Thursday.

According to Alan V. Sheppard, Work Unit Conservationist at the Soil Conservation Service unit here, the tour is being planned to give the group an overall look at area agriculture, its problems, and what is being done or should be done, to solve water problems.

A steering committee, headed by Sheppard, met Wednesday to begin final plans for the farm tour.

Plans are to conduct the tour in school buses. The tour of area farms, is expected to last about three hours, including a coffee stop in Lorraine. Underground irrigation pipelines, and irrigated crops, are to be seen while in the Lorraine area. The tour will also cover the area of the Lone Wolf Watershed.

The group—directors of the Soil Conservation District, members of the SCS office, the chamber agriculture committee—plans to begin the tour at 8:30 a. m. September 6, and return by noon.

The board of supervisors of this Soil Conservation District will meet Monday to pinpoint the route of the tour.

Members of the board are M. A. Dunnahoo, chairman, Alfred R. Carey, vice-chairman, W. W. Hester, secretary, Warren Anderson, and Rex T. McKenney.

Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee members are J. D. Hill, chairman, R. J. Hoback, Harold Hester, Travis Turner, Royce Beights, R. A. Carey, and James Kelley.

Following the tour, a free barbecue for the group, and local residents, is planned.

The barbecue will be at the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative's Cafeteria. The meat will be prepared by Clyde Buckalew.

The barbecue, which the planners emphasize will not be followed by speeches, will be

★—WEATHER

A Friday series of showers gave City residents respite from a hot dry spell. It wasn't much—16 inch in Friday afternoon and evening spotty showers—but it helped.

Colorado City has had 1.65 inches of rain so far in August.

The Friday showers produced a low temperature of 78 degrees, lowest minimum temperature since 28 inches in showers dropped the mercury to 68 degrees August 11.

The county has been in a 100 degree heat wave most of the summer, but the maximum temperatures have been around 2-3 degrees "colder" for the past two weeks.

Champion

Barbara Jackson, as the picture plainly shows, is a champion cowgirl. What's more, she lives in Colorado City, where she won out over many other girls in the selection of the Overall Top Cowgirl of the 1962 Colorado City Junior Rodeo. There were more than 100 contestants in the two-night rodeo last week, and Barbara, and a Sterling City boy, Freddie Fields, were given identical hand-made breast harnesses for their championship efforts, overall, and silver-and-gold belt buckles for winning their respective classes—13-15 year olds. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. (Shorty) Jackson, city.

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

MET TWO PERFECTLY ADORABLE gentlemen this week, brothers D. M. and B. F. LOGAN. The two are the last surviving members of the S. H. Logan family.

Their ages, 84 and 86, do not dampen their good spirits. The record camera has a cord burned out on its flash this week, and all pictures, if taken inside, must be taken by time exposure. To take such a picture, the subjects and the camera must be perfectly still, so a blur will not be caught in the negative.

Had a good laugh, along with the brothers and their wives, when BENJAMIN FRANKLIN LOGAN, or simply B. F., had a little difficulty keeping his chin from quivering. . . . But the picture was good, and the quiver showed not at all. It was a very stately pose, showing the true dignity of these honorable gentlemen . . .

IT'S A REAL TREAT for local ladies . . . to have their hair styled by an operator who has styled the hair of such notables as LUCILLE BALL, DOROTHY MALONE and JANET BLAIR.

He's the operator known as "MR. JACK" to his customers and friends. His official name is JACK GENTRY, operator for VOGUE BEAUTY SHOP. He has previously worked at the NEIMAN-MARCUS SALON in Dallas and the famed GODCHAUX BEAUTY SALON in New Orleans.

Gentry is the son of Mrs. Zena Gentry, 102 E. 7th St. He is nephew of PEGGY (Mrs. Leon) Jenkins . . .

THE BEST WEST TEXAS product this corner has seen in a long time is the pretty little miss from our neighboring community, Loraine . . .

She's CARLIA BRITTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Britton.

Carlia is drum majorette this year for the Loraine High School Bulldog Band. She makes quite a striking figure in her snowy-white majorette uniform with the glittering gold bib and trim.

And she's backed by four other beautiful Loraine misses, twirlers NANCY COFFEY, LORETTA TARTT, JOYCE LYNN FURLOW and SHERY GRAHAM. They're attired in suits identical to that of Miss Britton, but in contrasting deep, bold black, with the same shiny gold bib, trim and cuffs . . .

THE APPEARANCE of majorettes and cheerleaders reminds us that "that time" is not far off. And, from the looks of the Colorado High Wolves during practice session, this should prove to be a good year . . . They looked awfully big and brawny in their red and white practice uniforms.

But if everyone understands the game of football as well as I . . . the game is lost. Whether it is the fact that the game moves too fast, the procedure is difficult to understand or it is just too far away for me to see what is really going on . . . the true value of a football game is lost to me.

I hope the other fans know what's going on and are yelling at the right time, for when they yell, I yell . . . sure hope they're not yelling just because I yell . . .

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

GARDEN-FRESH vegetables must have tasted too salty, all over town and country, at noon Thursday and Friday. Poor Jeff is dead. Tears spilled like crazy right into the peas and okra at our house. Enough tears probably fell in pink tissues here and there to end the drought—could this government have caught and de-salted 'em.

If you're one of the sophisticates—one of those hard-boiled eggs who decry soap operas as "low brow"—then you probably couldn't care less. But all us loyal fans of "As the World Turns" are draggin' around with smiles half-mast.

Oh, poor Jeff Baker is dead!
On a rain-swept street he sped
While taking Penny home to greet her Ma.
Poor Jeff, he didn't make it
Lordy Lord, how can we take it?
Jeff is dead. It oughta be against the law!

TIME MAG, devoting half a page to the untimely departure of Penny's husband Jeff, explains solemnly (for Time) that he was "written out" for the "good of the story." Mark Rydell, who played Jeff Baker in the 12:30 p. m. serial show nearly EVERYBODY watches, is a former student of Julliard School of Music, New York. He had, Time writes, become a problem both in character and in real life. In character he was getting "too stable" in his happiness and reformed behavior pattern.

In real life, he was always dashing off for two weeks at the time to realize his ambition to direct TV shows. That, in spite of $50,000 a year he was being paid for being Jeff.

Time can, rationalize away the cruel and sudden end of Jeff, all it wants to. Most viewers refuse to be consoled.

IT WAS ALL some of us could do to keep from wiring flowers to the funeral. Or mailing Rosemary Printz (who plays the part of Penny) a sympathy card. Non-watchers would just never understand.

"With all the REAL problems in this world, how can you get so involved, so tensed up about some silly IMAGINARY troubles?" one dignified anti-soap-opera campaigner asked, once.

WELL, FRIEND, those imaginary troubles in America's favorite soap "soberas" can be kinda comforting to think about in the face of bomb testings, moon races, talks at Geneva, talks by Barry Goldwater, election fights, party fights, in-fights, out-fights, and maybe tomorrow's world fights as the world churns.

At least "As the World Turns" offers natural solutions for every day emotions most of us earth-bound holders of the average I. Q. degree can half-way understand. Which is more than can be said for any apparent solution to the REAL emotions growing out of the current crisis at the Berlin Wall.

WHAT THIS WORLD needs is a good international soap opera. Give everybody everywhere enough pure Love of Life to use as the Guiding Light during this Secret Storm era of conflict in the age-old Search for Tomorrow while humanity faces The Edge of Night... As the World Turns... and nobody will have time to drop a bomb, make a bomb, or even make a speech. Utopia will come. Nobody will be willing to miss the next episode.

ROB AND MARY POST are back home from Sterling, Colorado, where they went to join Mary's original family in celebration of her mother's 85th birthday. Mary's mother, Mrs. Nolia C. Thorpe, is a frequent visitor in the Post home here and is one of those living proofs that charm doesn't come in cans, jars, or even tender years. It comes in the inner glow ladies like Mrs. Thorpe usually wear.

There for the 85th celebration were Mary's sisters, Mrs. Charles Greene of New Hampshire; Mrs. J. H. Rutz of Whittier, California; and Mrs. Harold Turner of Sterling, Colorado. That made it an interstate party.

SAW MARGUERITE AINSWORTH (Mrs. Pete) and asked after the Ainsworth daughters. Found that Gaye, her husband Preston Jones, and their little daughter "Mo" have been recent guests in the Ainsworth home here on Chestnut St. Preston is a student of Baylor's Paul Baker in the famous Dallas Theater Center, and is set for good roles this autumn.

Pete and Marguerite recently baby-sat daughter Connie's son and daughter while Connie and her husband Dr. Bill Hampton welcomed a new baby son to their home in Houston, where he is taking further specialist training. Sandra Ainsworth, third daughter, is now with a public relations firm in Big D. She's the journalism grad, Texas U., and a former society desk writer for Dallas News.

TERRACE ROOM at the Baker was scene of an informal coffee, Thursday morning, of a group of glamorous gals getting girded to revitalize the Girl Scouts in C. City and Loraine. Hostesses were Mrs. Austin McCloud (nee Mary Ann Kelley) and Margaret Sparks (Mrs. Ben).

Very special guests for the hour were Judy Kincaid and Karen Fugate, both of Silver where Girl Scouts are a credit to their community and to this county. Judy went to National Girl Scout Round-up in Button Bay, Vermont, this summer! She and Karen both wore their uniforms to the morning coffee.

OTHER GUESTS were Gwen Wistrand (Mrs. Dick) Mrs. Jim Edison, Corkey Shimer (Mrs. John), Jean Holbert (Mrs. Bill), Doris Carter (Mrs. Bill) Nita Rhode (Mrs. Oscar) who has always been a Girl Scout enthusiast, Pat Kelley (Mrs. Jimmie) and Mrs. George Fugate (Mary) of Silver.

Also on the Scout leadership committees are Mrs. Larry Kinard, Mrs. Jim Lacy, Mrs. Dwight Tomb, and Mrs. John Chinn. Re-organization of troops here is to begin next month, with definite announcements coming up.

CORKY SHIMER was saying that she'd had company from London, England. An English college student Jane Lufman visited the Shimer home last week. She accompanied her friends Ann and Sam Perkins, niece and nephew of Corky, in a cross-continent trip from Chicago to San Francisco and the travelers stopped here. Ann Perkins and Jane became friends when Ann was studying in England. Right now, Ann's doing further graduate study at the University of Chicago.

BILLIE AND DON HENDERSON of Oak St. and their daughters Donna and Debbie are seeing "Six Flags" this. See CONVERSATION Page 7

week during their just-before school vacation trip... Saw the Garretts, J. C. and Betty (Grubbs) lunching out with their two tall sons. Betty was saying, in answer to inquiry, that Walter Grubbs of Washington, D. C. will be in the Lubbock office of George Mahon, come October, for his usual autumn assignment in Texas as our Congressman's assistant.

OUR CONGRESSMAN, by the way, has been in these parts during the ten-day recess of the national House of Representatives. With his wife Helen, George flew down from Washington Friday of last week for a little vacation and visit to Helen's sister Mrs. W. W. Rhode of Hickory St.

Joining her parents here Saturday was daughter Daphne, who is Mrs. Duncan Holt of Houston; her son George Mahon Holt, and little daughters Betsy and Debbie. The family departed C. City yesterday (Saturday) after what the Congressman admitted was a fairly expensive sudden whim on his part to "just rest a bit and play with the grandchildren a lot."

FAMILY OF LATE SAM H. LOGAN

D. M. and B. F. Logan Last Surviving Family Members

D. M. Logan and B. F. Logan are the last surviving members of the family of the late Sam H. and Mary A. Logan, pioneers who moved from Centreville, Ala. to Mitchell County, Texas, in 1896.

The family left Centreville by covered wagon. D. M. and another brother left the family in East Texas to work for the Santa Fe railroad. B. F., his parents and a sister made the remaining distance of the journey without them.

B. F. and his family later moved to Coahoma, in Howard County. He was manager of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Company there for 24 years. After his retirement from the lumber business, they moved to Lubbock, and 2 years later to Big Spring, where they now reside.

D. M. joined his family in West Texas 2 years after he and his brother had left the family troupe for railroad work. He worked for the T. & P. Railway in the Big Spring area for 38 years. After leaving railroad work, he opened a feed store in Colorado City. He operated this business for a number of years, until his retirement. He and his wife are residents of 704 E. 5th St.

D. M. Logan was born Sept. 18, 1876. B. F. was born 2 years later, Nov. 15, 1878.

D. M. was married June 29, 1902, to Lou Delsie Morton. They are parents to 2 sons and 2 daughters, Vernon Logan of Lamesa, Mrs. Rollins Clark of Dallas, James Logan of Tucson, Ariz. and Mrs. Curtis Erwin, Jr. of Stanton. They have 9 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren.

B. F. was married in October, 1922, to Mable Hood. They are parents of 4 sons and 1 daughter, Benjamin F. Logan, Jr., of Summit, N. J., Russell H. Logan of Irving, Homer H. Logan of Lubbock, Sam H. Logan of Odessa and Mrs. Leon D. Peterson of Farmington, N. M. They have 11 grandchildren.

B. F. has a wide collection of fiddles. He was once what is termed an "old time fiddler." He also wrote gospel songs. His collection includes some very old and very valuable antique fiddles.

B. F. was recently present at a 50-year membership award by the Masonic Grand Lodge and the Coahoma Masonic Lodge.

Our Sincere Thanks . . .

for the help given our daughter, Rosa Nadine Wofford. Thanks to the doctors, those dedicated men whose hands and minds were touched by God to pull her through. The marvelous attendance the nurses gave her. The kitchen help who showed their love and kindness by their thoughtful prayers and the little rose buds everyday.

Last but not least the Root Hospital office staff, the little Candy Strippers, and that swell guy, George. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts. You shall never be forgotten.
