For '83 Budget...

House Considers Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brushing aside budget blueprints proposed by Democratic liberals, the House is shifting its attention to a conservative California Republican's spending plan that attempts to eliminate deficits immediately.

The House headed for a vote today on a proposal by Rep. John H. Rousselot to balance the budget next year with large cuts in domestic spending. The plan also anticipated tax revenues considerably higher than those in forecasts by congressional zconomists.

Regardless of the outcome of the vote on Rousselot's plan, the big battles are still to come when the House takes up the budget proposals drafted by top Democrats and Republicans, the ones President Reagan and House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. are focusing on.

Under the parliamentary procedures adopted for the budget debate, the House is voting separately on each of seven spending plans.

The rules are weighted in favor of the competing Democratic and Republican leadership plans.

As the legislators waded through budget plans, Reagan and O'Neill traded jabs Monday over a proposal for a $23.3 billion reduction in Medicare over three years in the GOP budget outline.

"This massive and devastating cut will increase the out-of-pocket medical costs of 29 million Americans," the speaker said.

"It is now obvious that his (Reagan's) promises on Medicare are no more reliable than his promises not to cut Social Security," O'Neill added.

Reagan replied that O'Neill was engaging in "sheer political demagoguery."

Administration and House Republican officials have argued that the Medicare savings would come from controlling hospital costs, not from cutting recipients' benefits.

Meanwhile, Reagan was to meet with the Republican congressional leadership today before taking off for a six-day trip to California.

During nearly nine hours of debate Monday, the House rejected on a 225-181 vote a "pay as you go" proposal by Rep. George Miller, D-Calif., that projected a budget surplus in 1985. It contained a requirement that spending increase above 1982 levels be accompanied by either a cut elsewhere in the budget or higher taxes.

The House then rejected, 268-152, an alternative proposed by liberal Democrats led by Rep. David R. Obey, D-Wis. That plan included a balanced budget in 1985, with much higher tax increases and defense reductions than either O'Neill or Reagan support, and increased spending for domestic programs.

Also rejected, 322-86, was a proposal by members of the Congressional Black Caucus, that, too, included a balanced budget in 1985. In addition, it called for higher taxes than either the Republican or Democratic plan, deeper reductions in defense, and it restored the cuts in social programs Congress voted a year ago.

Grandmother Indicted

HOUSTON (AP) — Grand jurors have indicted an 82-year-old grandmother who says she grew marijuana in her backyard to treat her arthritis.

A Harris County grand jury Monday charged Laura Clark with possession of marijuana. Mrs. Clark, who is free on $1,000 bond, will be arraigned June 4 in state court.

"I'm sure there are a lot of (elderly people) with arthritis. I would think it was unusual if many of them used marijuana to treat it. Usually they to go doctors," said prosecutor Alan McAghan.

Space Cool Colonization

HOUSTON (AP) — President Reagan will commit the United States to establishing a permanent orbiting space station by the end of the decade and colonizing outer space, a television station reports.

In a copyright story Monday night, KHOU-TV said Reagan will outline his goals in a major policy statement after the space shuttle Columbia completes its fourth mission.

KHOU said the president will wait at Edwards Air Force Base in California for the shuttle landing, now scheduled for July 4.

The president's goal will be to establish a major orbiting space station by 1990, a semi-permanent station as early as 1984 and to redouble efforts to get Western private and government operations into space, the television station said, quoting unnamed sources in the White House and National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Pope To Visit Britain

LONDON (AP) — Pope John Paul II is going ahead with his historic visit to Britain this weekend despite the Falkland Islands fighting, Roman Catholic Church officials here say.

But Vatican officials said the pope may shorten his visit — the first ever by a pope to Britain — and cancel meetings with Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and other British political leaders to emphasize the "religious and pastoral nature" of the trip.

Archbishop Derek Worlock of Liverpool, who returned to London from Rome Monday night, said the pope would arrive Friday as scheduled.

"The visit is on and the pope is looking forward to being with us," he said. "He still yearns for peace, but he is coming to share our life as it is. He has no last minute reservations."

Wins Stay Of Execution

HOUSTON (AP) — A Death Row inmate, who had been sentenced to die today for fatally poisoning his 8-year-old son with Halloween candy, has won another stay of execution.

The execution of Ronald O'Bryan was postponed indefinitely May 17 by State District Judge Michael T. McSpaden on a motion by defense attorneys.

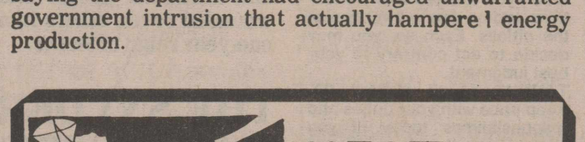

The motion challenged the way some prospective jurors were disqualilfied during O'Bryan's 1975 trial, defense lawyer Stanley Schneider said Monday.

O'Bryan, 37, previously appealed his case through the courts to the U.S. Supreme Court, but was rejected at every level. His only previous execution date since then, Aug. 8, 1980, was also stayed after attorneys asked for more time to file a new appeal.

Plan Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's plan to dismantle the Energy Department faces what may be insurmountable obstacles in Congress, where even time is on the side of the proposal's opponents.

The president unveiled his long-awaited plan Monday, saying the department had encouraged unwarranted government intrusion that actually hampere 1 energy production.

Israelis Shoot Down Fighters

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli warplanes shot down two Syrian MiG fighters over Lebanon today, the military command said. It said the Israeli planes had been on patrol and returned safely to base.

The Syrian government in Damascus said two of its planes were "hit" in the clash. Lebanese government sources said one plane crashed north of Beirut, but the pilot bailed out and was hospitalized. The fate of the other pilot was not known.

Syria keeps a 22,000-man army in Lebanon to police the armistice that ended the 1975-76 civil war.

Israel frequently flies reconnaissance missions over Lebanon and has been massing troops on its northern border with Lebanon for weeks in preparation for a possible strike at Palestine Liberation Organization targets.

The United States helped mediate a truce between Israel and the PLO last July but the cease-fire has been steadily eroding.

Today's air battle was the first reported over Lebanon since April 21, when Israel claimed it downed two Syrian MiG-23s during a raid on Palestinian guerrilla bases.

By unofficial count, Israel has shot down 25 Syrian planes since the 1973 Mideast war.

State Department envoy Morris Draper left Israel for Washington today following a round of talks aimed at bolstering the cease-fire along the Israeli-Lebanese border.

Israeli officials said Draper was told that Israeli will react sharply to any Palestinian attack against the Jewish state or its citizens abroad.

House Acts, Senate Delays Tax Appeal

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Quick House committee approval of a constitutional amendment abolishing the state property tax could put the proposal to the full House today, but the Senate delayed action on a similar measure.

The Senate Education Committee suspended action on various proposals to do away with the tax, which had funded construction at smaller state universities, after Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, invoked parliamentary procedures in a plan to embarrass Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements scheduled the special session of the Legislature, which began Monday, specifically to abolish the tax and make a one-time appropriation for current construction projects at colleges which do not have access to the Permanent University Fund.

The 10-cent state property tax is still on the books, but it has not been collected since the 1979 Legislature virtually killed it by setting a .0001 percent assessment ratio. However, it would take a constitutional amendment to repeal the tax because it was established in the Texas Constitution.

Clements called the special session after Midwestern State University sued for collection of the tax.

Senate Education Committee Chairman Pete Snelson, D-Midland, rescheduled Monday's meeting for Wednesday afternoon after Mauzy "tagged" the four Senate bills, thereby requiring 48 hours public notice before their consideration.

"We wanted to orchestrate a point of view that this is nothing but a very skillful and cynical political move by a politician who is trying to put himself in a more favorable light between now and November," said Mauzy after the hearing, in a reference to Clements, who is up for re-election this year.

Earlier Monday, the House Constitutional Amendment Committee voted 7-1 for an amendment abolishing the tax.

Rep. Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin, was the dissenter on the House committee. Mrs. Delco wants to keep the tax, but reduce it to three cents. She said the tax is still needed to pay for construction at the 17 campuses and vowed to offer floor amendments to provide some kind of permanent funding for the schools.

She said she decided not to fight the repeal in committee because, "This train is well-greased and on the tracks."

The measure passed by the House committee simply eliminates the tax and forgives taxes that accrued between 1979 and the current action.

In the Senate, the proposals range from simple repeal of the tax with a suggestion that the regular session of the Legislature consider a permanent fund, to a proposal that would keep the tax in effect until the Legislature acts on a permanent funding source for the schools.

Persons interested in aerobics classes should note that these classes will start Tuesday and they should contact the student services office for details about registering.

Ask Us

Q.—Has the water district been conducting cloud-seeding operations in the last two weeks?

A.—Yes. Colorado River Municipal Water District has been seeding some clouds as they approached watersheds of its lakes. However, they lay off of clouds known to contain turbulence.

Thunderstorms Are On Schedule

Local Civil Defense forces had their sleep interrupted again last night, as thunderstorms made their nightly appearance, but it was mostly mere rain punctuated by lightning and thunder.

The rain clouds moved in from the west, putting an inch of moisture in the official gauge at the city water plant. The rains were heavier west of town, ranging up near the two-inch mark, but lighter to the northwest. Civil Defense officials kept a close watch on Deep Creek, but it never approached flood stage.

Less than half an inch fell on the upper reaches of the Deep Creek watershed. Bill Jones reported .32 inch in his gauge at Fluvanna.

There was better news from Lake J. B. Thomas, where .60 inch fell overnight. The Colorado River was flowing about 6½ feet and Bull Creek was flowing about 3½ feet into the lake at mid-morning, and more showers were falling in the area. Lake Thomas had gained another 1,000 acre feet of water since Monday morning's report and there were hopes for more. Lake Thomas' vertical rise for the past three days was 1.25 feet.

Lightning was suspected as the cause of three early-morning fires, two in the oilfields. Snyder firemen responded to a tank fire at the Texaco plant near the north county line and another five miles west of Ira. They encountered difficulty in getting to these fires because of weather and high water. A house fire which caused little damage was reported in east Snyder.

Snyder's rainfall was approaching the record for a single month. The current total for May is 9.89 inches, and the record is 10.60 inches set in September of 1932. The previous record for May was 7.34 set in 1950.

Severe thunderstorms continued their relentless assaults on most sections of the state today, dumping heavy rain and spawning several tornado funnel clouds.

A flash flood warning was issued for Dallas, Tarrant and Denton Counties early today after heavy thunderstorms moved into the area. Some street flooding was reported at Haltom City, the National Weather Service said.

A tornado was sighted early today by San Angelo police about 10 miles northwest of San Angelo. There were no reports of injuries although winds gusted to 44 mph as a line of heavy thunderstorms passed through the San Angelo area.

Another tornado dipped into a grain field near Blossom in Northeast Texas. There were no reports of injuries.

A possible tornado was sighted northwest of Lamesa in Dawson County.

There were unconfirmed sightings of funnel clouds near Big Spring and in north Dallas. A funnel cloud was sighted northwest of Stanton, but it retreated back into storm clouds without touching down, authorities said.

Large hail, some up to the size of golf balls, fell in northern Midland County and at Stanton. Some wind damage was reported at Andrews.

Street flooding was reported early today at Abilene. Lake Abilene was running over its spillway with the water flowing into Elm Creek which runs through Abilene.

Numerous severe thunderstorm warnings were issued during the night and early today.

Showers and thunderstorms continued early today in the Concho Valley and in North Texas and Northeast Texas. Skies were mostly cloudy around the state except in extreme South Texas where skies were clear.

Early morning temperatures were in the 50s in the Panhandle and in the 60s and 70s over the rest of the state.

The SDN Column

There's a world's fair going on in Knoxville, Tenn., and it has been confronted with mixed reviews, to put it mildly. There were those during the planning stage who questioned whether Knoxville could do it. Some doubted that it was a large enough city to put on a world's fair. Knoxville is only slightly larger than Lubbock, and is much smaller than Nashville or Memphis. Why, some of the critics asked, should a Tennessee-style world's fair be held in Knoxville?

Then there was a streak of "bad press" over housing. Stories came out of Knoxville about apartment dwellers being evicted so that landlords could rent their apartments at much higher rates by the day or week during the world's fair.

Then came opening day, with reports that many of the exhibit pavilions were not ready.

But Knoxville opened its world's fair anyway. We have been pondering whether to try to see it. At one time, we thought we surely would. Later, we became less enthusiastic about it but we have not ruled it out completely.

We talked to Murray Anne Ray, who, along with her husband, Jim, and their children, went up to Knoxville a few days after the fair opened. She said they enjoyed the trip, although she did not call the Knoxville fair "sensational." There are interesting things to see, she says, but there are problems. If you get hungry in the fairgrounds, you likely will have to stand in line a while to get food. Also, she says the Ray family made a mistake in their planning. They went by plane and had reservations in a hotel at the airport.

"We made a mistake by not renting a car," says Murray Anne.

Of course, if you drive up, or get accommodations closer to the fairgrounds, this would not be so important.

But taxi fares are pretty high.

As for the exhibits, she said the China pavilion is tops. We encountered a similar reaction the other day from another group down in East Texas that went to the Knoxville fair early.

One thing the critics may have done is ease the lodging problem. Reports are that a lot of people who made advance reservations are changing their plans, leaving their motel and hotel rooms available for others. So, if you decide you want to go, chances are better now that you can find lodging.

Subcommittee Hears Education Suggestions

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Teachers must receive classroom training just as a physician gets medical training, says Dean Corrigan, dean of education at Texas A&M University.

Corrigan offered 11 recommendations to a subcommittee Monday to cope with a "looming disaster which threatens the intellectual future of the state of Texas."

He said the the Legislature should resist efforts to give college graduates in math and science "on the job" training to make up for teacher shortages in those specialties in public schools.

Corrigan also said emergency teaching certificates "as they now exist" should be eliminated and, if necessary, the state should tap the $3 billion public school fund to double the teacher pay hike received in the current biennium.

President Sally Wiedemann of the Association of Texas Professional Educators said "perennial financial neglect" of teachers is the major reason those with experience leave the classroom,

Corrigan and Mrs. Weidemann testified before a subcommittee on educational personnel, which is considering how to persuade qualified people to become teachers. The subcommittee has considered trying to hold onto good teachers by sharing them with private industry and also launching a "public image" campaign to restore or improve confidence in public education.

Corrigan said putting people into classrooms without training would "demean the profession of teaching and show a lack of understanding of the kind of knowledge and skills needed by elementary and secondary school teachers. I'm sure the medical profession would never accept such a recommendation."

He said a subcommittee of the Governor's Task Force on Higher Education was considering such a proposal.

Corrigan said student teaching is an "integral part" of all state and nationally approved teacher education programs.

"To propose that people who lack essential 'entry level' professional requirements be placed in classrooms is to invite the kind of failure which will further erode the public's confidence in the teaching profession," he said.

"The truth is that for many teachers today the rewards are few, morale is low and a large number of the best teachers are considering bailing out," Corrigan said, and he added:

"The most vivid truth which the people of Texas must realize and do something about is that if we do not prepare good teachers we are not going to have good doctors, lawyers, or engineers or musicians."

The subcommittee previously held public hearings in Lubbock, Dallas and Houston, and will report to the Select Committee on Public Education, which is expected to make recommendations to the 1983 Legislature.

Following the death of Lenin in 1924, rivalry between Trotsky and Stalin became acute, and in 1929 Trotsky was exiled to Turkestan. He was later deported and took up residence in Turkey, before seeking asylum in Mexico.

M.J. & Joshi Samuel...Missionaries

2 Missionaries Visit

M. J. and Joshi Samuel of Bhimavaram, India were in Snyder May 13-20 visiting members of the East Side Church of Christ. The Samuels oversee the Donald Earl Browning School of Preaching and the Church of Christ English Medium School of 200 students.

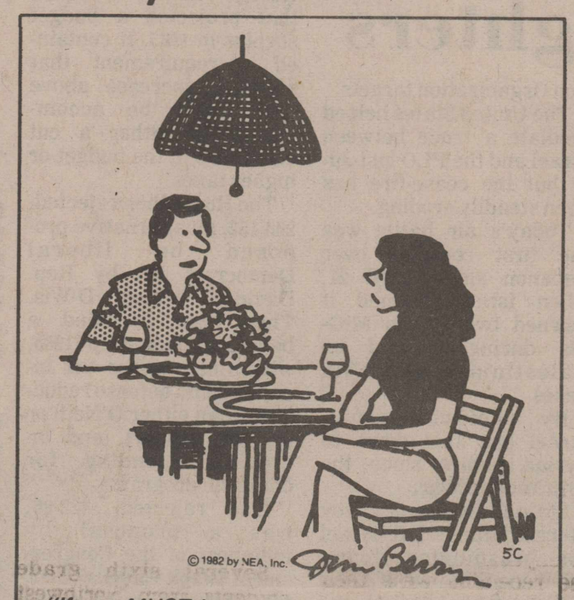

They also do mission work with the Hindus living in a 40 mile radius of Bhimavaram. In the past nine years they have converted over 8,000 people and started 87 congregations of the Church of Christ.

The East Side supports them in this work and the East Side elders oversee their work. They are assisted by the Girard Church of Christ, Mertzen Church of Christ, Canyon Church of Christ, Lakewood Church of Christ in Denver, Colo., the Church of Christ in Rockville, Maryland, and the Church of Christ in Arlington, Virginia.

Don Browning of Canyon, a former minister at East Side, has been taking a group with him for six weeks each year for the past nine years and helping Samuel in his work in India.

Samuel spoke to the East Side congregation May 16 and Joshi spoke to the women of the church May 19, on their lives and work in India. During their visit here they stayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McCormick.

by erma bombeck

I think women have done all we can do for jogging. We've taken a simple sport of throwing on a pair of boxer shorts and white T-shirt to run around the neighborhood, and elevated it to couture status.

We've coordinated shoes to match the shorts, stripes in the shirt to match the headband, warm-up trousers and jackets with designs that belong on a Paris runway.

And that's only what we wear in the supermarkets to shop in. Who knows what the ones who run wear.

Frankly, I was glad when tennis fizzled out. It must have taken us six or seven years to turn that sport around. Remember those plain mid-thigh white dresses and boring gym shoes? I had one outfit that never failed to stir attention wherever I went. It was pale pink and the shoes picked up that same shade in the shoestrings. The cap was like a little bonnet with a visor. Even the panties had little ruffles on them and a cute saying. All I needed was a sweatband to match the bootie sox with the little balls over the heel. I finally found both in a sporting goods store on the west side of town. The salesperson said, "How's your racket? In the market for a new one?"

I said, "Are you crazy? I don't even play tennis. This outfit is for picking up my child at school in the afternoon."

As for golf, remember when people went to the matches to watch the game? Then women came along and jazzed it up with short skirts, bright T-shirts and great-looking sun hats. But like everything else, I got bored wearing that silly short skirt and cut-out glove to the beauty shop every week.

Men don't understand it. They think fashion and sports don't mix. The other morning I came down to breakfast in a lavender leotard, pink tights, yellow headband and fiesta-striped warm-up socks crushed just below my knees.

My husband had just come in from jogging and was wearing white boxer shorts just above the knee like he had just run off the set of "Chariots of Fire."

"I give up," he said. "What are you supposed to be and where is your treat bag?"

"Don't be cute," I said, sipping my coffee, "this is my aerobics outfit."

"Aerobics?" he said. "I didn't know you exercised."

"Don't be naive," I said. "I'm dressed to drop off the sweeper to be fixed!"

Sam Raborn To Attend Symposium

Sam Raborn, Snyder High School Student, has been selected to attend the annual Texas Energy Science Symposium for High Schools on June 1-4 at the University of Texas in Austin.

He will be accompanied by Roy Burk, SHS science teacher.

The symposium, in its 22nd year, is expected to attract more than 500 students and their teachers who will hear scientists and engineers discuss energy-related topics.

Participants will spend two afternoons touring the science laboratories at the university.

Among the facilities they will see is the Texas Experimental Tokamak (TEXT), a national facility for fusion research built and operated for the Department of Energy by the UT Fusion Research Center.

The symposium is sponsored jointly by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, which is made up of 10 investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas, including Texas Electric Service Co. The foundation was created in 1957 for the advancement of knowledge of energy through scientific and educational activities.

If you replace your central electric air conditioner with one that's more efficient, Texas Electric will pay you a bonus of $80 per ton.

Not only that, you'll save on your electric bill as well. For example, a high-efficiency 3-ton unit will save you about $160 a year.

This equipment costs more initially, but the bonus from Texas Electric plus the savings on your electric bill will make up the difference in just a few years.

If enough people buy high-efficiency equipment, summer peak load growth will be slowed — and so will the need to build new generating plants. In the long run, this will help hold down everyone's electric bill.

Before you replace your old air conditioner, ask your dealer about central air conditioners, heat pumps, and window units that qualify for this program.

Matinees Set At Theater

In order for our children to enjoy wholesome entertainment this summer, the Cinema, in conjunction with 12 area merchants, are sponsoring a plan to let the children attend the movies for only 50 cents.

For 13 consecutive Wednesdays, beginning tomorrow, the Cinema will have two matinee shows; the first to play at 12:30 and the second to play at 3:00. Admission to these shows will be 50 cents if the person attending has a coupon, and $1.00 if they do not have a coupon, with no age limit.

In today's paper, you will find a coupon for admittance to Wednesday's show, Black Beauty. From today on, the coupons must be picked up at one of the participating merchant's stores. The coupons will be in only one merchant's store each week during the summer. The store which will have the coupons will be announced a week ahead of the show so the coupons may be picked up during that week.

The following merchants have agreed to participate in the Summer Show Special: Allsup's, Anthony's, Everybody's Thriftway, Fenton's Dad and Lad, K Mart, Lota' Burger, J.C. Penney, Perry's, Piggly Wiggly, Pizza Inn, Snyder Daily News, and TG&Y. Watch The Snyder Daily News for the announcement of where to pick up your coupon.

Special Session Request Noted

State Senator Ray Farabee has requested the Governor to include in his call for the special session, a constitutional amendment that he filed today to allow the sale of almost $220 million worth of State Water Development Bonds at current market interest rates.

The bonds were authorized to be issued several years ago, but have not been sold because the market rates for bonds of this type has been higher than the bond rate authorized by the constitution.

Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby joined Farabee in requesting inclusion of the measure, stating "This will be of immediate help to small and medium sized communities of the state. It will enable them to finance projects at lower interest rates than they could obtain without state involvement."

"Proceeds from the bond sale will be used not only to increase the quantity of water available to Texans but the quality of our water as well," Farabee pointed out.

"Communities downstream from water quality projects will benefit from cleaner water requiring less treatment for their use."

If passed by the legislature, the amendment will be submitted to the voters in the general election Nov. 2, 1982.

The amendment has broad support in the senate. Besides the author, senator Farabee, there currently 10 co-sponsors of the proposal, representing both rural and urban areas.

They include senators, Roy Blake, Chet Brooks, Kent Caperton, Lloyd Doggett, Bob Glasgow, Ed Howard, Tati Santiestaban, Bill Sarpalius, E. L. Short and Pete Snelson.

"This may not be the complete solution to the water problem," said Farabee, "But it is a start and it can be done immediately. I hope that the Governor, the legislature and the citizens of the state will join me in beginning to take action to meet the pressing water problems facing Texas."

Firemen Put Out 3 Fires

Snyder firemen were called to three fires in space of ten minutes around 1 a.m. this morning.

At 12:54 a.m., a caller reported a house fire at the M. R. Gladson residence at 105 36th St. When they arrived, fire officals discovered a small blaze in a storage room attached to the west side of the house. The fire was quickly extinguished and damages to the house were minor.

While enroute to the fire on 36th St., the local firemen were also called to the scene of a tank battery fire at the Texaco refinery north of Snyder on Texas 208. No injuries or major damages to the plant were reported but firefighters stayed on the scene of the blaze until 5:20 a.m.

Ten minutes later, at 1:08 a.m., a caller reported another tank battery fire about 5 miles west of Ira on a Calley and Fowler Production lease. Firemen located the fire but were prevented from reaching the battery by high water in creeks surrounding the fire scene. They abandonded attempts to reach this fire around 2:45 a.m.

Local Police Arrest Two

Snyder police arrested two persons on felony warrants from Howard County yesterday afternoon.

Police recieved a call from a local doctors office about four suspicious subjects around 4 p.m. Monday.

Officers arrested one of the female subjects around 5:45 p.m. and one of the men around 6:35 p.m. after discovering outstanding warrants against the pair for burglary of a habitation.

County Judge Returns Home

Locally Joe Rhodes Has Been Doing Business Since 1945

Joe Rhodes, owner of Joe's Radiator Service, began his automotive and radiator repair profession in 1945. Since that time his reputation has grown and folks know that whether the job is general repair or radiator work, Joe will do the job right.

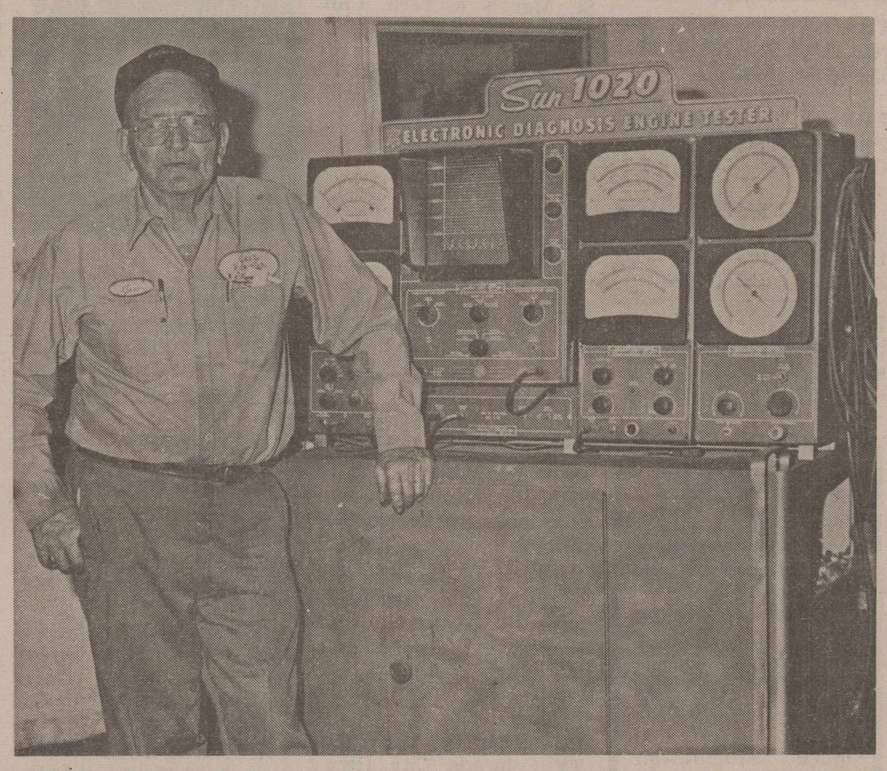

Joe does all types of automotive repair, including overhauls, brake work, transmission work and, of course, he can fix the radiator or cooling system on your car.

The radiator repair offered by Rhodes includes not only automotive, but also large commercial and industrial radiators.

With summer months upon us, it's time to get your radiator checked to make sure it is in good condition for the warm days to come. Vacation time is here also, and radiator problems sure can ruin a nice trip.

We all know how hard it is to do without a car when it is broken down. The folks at Joe's Radiator Service realize this too. That's why they will put forth every effort to finish a repair job just as soon as possible. The shop is open Monday through Friday, so you can take you vehicle in during the week.

It is nice to know of an automotive repair service you can depend on when you need it, and Joe's Radiator Service is just such a place, Joe offers good, honest, personal service-and that says a lot these days. Go by 2013 College Avenue and meet Joe, you'll be glad you did.

Snyder Brick & Stone Moving To New Location, Expanding

Snyder Brick and Stone will still be on the old Colorado City Highway, but they are moving two blocks north. They have outgrown their facilities in their present location. The new place of business will have more room for expanding and display area.

This is the time of the year when folks begin thinking about home improvement projects. Snyder Brick and Stone is a company that specializes in products to make your home more beautiful and efficient.

Snyder Brick and Stone now carries the popular haydite blocks. They have a very large inventory in stock for your building needs. These blocks are perfect for foundations, fences, buildings or setting mobile homes.

Snyder Brick and Stone also has in stock a large selection of cultured stone veneer from California. This man-made stone is both beautiful and durable. These stones are great for "do it yourself" beautification in both exterior and interior use. There is a wide range of colors and this stone is non-combustible for use around woodstoves and fireplaces.

Snyder Brick and Stone, located south of the coliseum on the old Colorado City Hwy., has a complete line of fireplace material. They have several different sizes and types for every price range.

If it's brick that you need, they have colors that are new to this area. There are many sample patterns from which to choose. Brick and stone are excellent insulating materials.

Whether you are fixing up the old place or building a new one, call Snyder Brick and Stone at 573-2288 for your building material needs. Since they are in the process of moving, if you can't get an answer at the above number, call Luann Thompson at 573-8938. They apologize for the inconvience, but once they are established in their new location, it will be worth the move.

Found Space For 8 Bathrooms

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Finding space for the eight bathrooms was a major task, says Darlene Holmes, surveying renovation of the late-Victorian and Queen Anne-style house in Mobile's historic district.

But it's been done. Now Mrs. Holmes has spaces for the claw-footed tubs, pedestal sinks, and commodes — some under staircases — in the house that opens this summer as the port city's first "bed 'n' breakfast" inn.

The European-type facilities are popular in historical districts in other cities in this country, and are considered distinct from the traditional boarding house.

The spirit and demure face of Molly Young, the elder sister of Mrs. Holmes's grandmother, are the house trademarks: the name, "Molly Young's Bed 'n' Breakfast Inn."

"She was accidentally shot at age 18 by her little brother who was playing with a Civil War pistol," Mrs. Holmes related. "She's buried in Tudor Cemetery at Houlka, Miss.

"We're going to put her face on our menus and little church fans."

Mrs. Holmes, a 33-year-old with auburn hair and an inspiring laugh, said it had taken two years to talk her husband, David, into this project.

He's a city fireman with a sideline in fire alarms.

Upstairs, three double rooms and a single will provide accommodations for overnighters who visit the historic district or have business in the area. The second-floor rooms with 11½-foot ceilings will feature Victorian furnishings.

"It's not my livelihood, so I won't have to be exorbitant in my fees," she said. She divides her times between her husband, three children, church and coaching volleyball and basketball.

"I try to make the time organized so that no one is slighted," she said.

Soon to be added to the house, built in 1901, are stainedglass windows in strategic areas.

3 Sessions On Microwave Set

A series of three microwave demonstrations will be conducted in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Co. office building.

Various local appliance dealers will provide a variety of microwave ovens which hopefully will help consumers understand and use the microwave appliances more effectively.

Each lesson will be presented at 2 p. m. and will be repeated at 7:30 p. m. the same day.

The first lesson will be held May 27. Kathryn Roberts, Scurry County Extension Agent, will present this lesson on basic microwaving. It will include the use and care, maintenance, safety and general use of the microwave.

The second lesson will be presented Tuesday, June 1, by Marilyn Barnes, representing Nunn Electric of Lubbock. She will demonstrate the browner as well as other features.

The third lesson is set for Tuesday, June 8, with Greg Smith of Amarillo Hardware in charge. He will demonstrate the convection-microwave oven.

Several different types and models of microwaves will be available at each session.

Due to the limited space in the Reddy Room, those wishing to attend are asked to make reservations by calling the county extension office at 573-5423 in advance.

Women Have Sewn Quilt

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Thirty-seven women have spent six months sewing a "peace quilt" they will present to officials at the Soviet Embassy in Washington this week.

"It's a gesture ordinary citizens can make," said Diane Jones, one of the women who worked on the 7-by-9-foot quilt. "We don't want to destroy each other in nuclear wars. We want peace."

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The Professor has been away on a sabbatical for some time, but is back with us again. Here is a hand he just showed to the student with the explanation that it is rather simple, but most interesting.

He pointed out that East would have had no trouble making four spades if he had been allowed to play it.

Then he pointed out that with a spade lead South would wrap up five hearts, but with a club lead the defense could set South two tricks.

Finally, he asked the student this question. "My partner opened the deuce of clubs. You can see that we could have set South two tricks. How did it happen that we only set him one trick?"

"Did your partner make a mistake?" asked the student.

"No, and I didn't either, although my play cost us a trick," replied the Professor.

The student was then able to work out how the defense had gone. See if you can do the same.

The Prof took his ace of clubs and proceeded to cash his ace of diamonds before giving the club ruff.

As he explained, if he had simply led the nine of clubs at trick two the chances were that West would have tried to put him in with a spade. South then would have taken his ace, drawn trumps and made his 11-trick contract.

HOW TO WIN AT THE LOSING GAME DIET CENTER 573-8583

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

More than 10,000 food products confront you at the supermarket. Stretching food dollars in today's well-stocked market can be a challenge, particularly for those on tight budgets. Grocery products are designed to get your attention and trigger impulsive buying.

Diet Center makes the following suggestions to ease the strain on your food dollar:

• Shop the outside aisles of your grocery store where you will find fresh fruits and vegetables, lean red meats, poultry, fish and dairy products.

• Make a list and stick to it!

• Check your newspaper for "specials." At these prices you may be able to buy meat cuts that are normally beyond your budget.

• Select lean cuts of meat, poultry and fish that provide the most for your money.

Fresh foods in season will be the highest in flavor, quality and nutrition. They are often priced lower than the prepackaged equivalents.

Include fresh foods in your list that require preparation; they are more nutritious and less expensive.

By using these ideas, Diet Center guarantees you will purchase nutritious food, reduce your waistline and grocery bill.

KEY FIGURES IN SERIES -- Snyder's Tigers open bi-district playoff action in Lubbock today, taking on the Estacado Matadors at 4 p.m. Above, two of the central figures in the best-of-three series will be Snyder pitcher-thirdbaseman John Wilson (left), who takes a 10-1 mound record into the game; and Estacado shortstop Hector Limon, who bats a hefty .578. (SDN Staff Photos)

Tigers Do Battle Today, Challenge Matadors At 4

LUBBOCK -- Snyder's Tigers hope to utilize the same ingrediants that have earned them 16 straight wins as they take on 1981 state finalist Lubbock Estacado in Game One of a best-of-three bi-district playoff series here today.

Game time is 4 o'clock at Estacado Field. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The Tigers, in claiming a sixth straight district championship, put together a combination of good pitching, strong hitting and near flawless defense this year. The melding led to a 24-5 season record, including 16 straight wins.

Snyder can use all of it against the highly touted Matadors, who are looking for a second consecutive state tournament berth.

The Mats are led by two-time all-city selection Hector Limon, a standout shortstop who earned all-state honors as a junior. Limon will no doubt duplicate that honor this season as he is batting an awesome .578, which includes 41 runs batted in and 10 homeruns. He is joined by three other all-city choices, pitchers Wayne Dotson and Joe Benavidez and centerfielder Danny Griffin.

Dotson, who will get the start for Lubbock today, is 11-1 from the mound, boasting a 1.24 ERA and 102 strikeouts in 68¾ innings. From the plate, the junior is hitting .333 with a pair of home runs.

Benavidez, who is expected to pitch when the series moves to Snyder on Friday, is 9-1 with a .90 ERA. He's Lubbock's second leading hitter with a .550 average and 31 RBI. Griffin bats .343 and has knocked two homers this season.

The foursome, with strong help from their teammates, have fashioned a 23-3 record, 12 straight victories and eight wins by the 10-run rule.

The Tigers have also been impressive offensively. Snyder's starting nine puts together a team average of .339 (.355 district). The top six of the batting order hits at a .386 clip; .411 in district play.

Senior catcher Jesse Hernandez leads the group, batting .500 for the season with two home runs. Leftfielder Perry Echols is hitting .402 (.452 district) with one homer. Other top hitters include pitcher-thirdbaseman John Wilson, .396 (.514-d) with a home run; first baseman Barry Davis, .365 (.364-d) with six homers; designated hitter Britt Vincent, .342 (.385-d), with one home run; and Brent Roemisch, .312 (.341-d), with four home runs.

Davis leads in RBI with 19, followed by Vincent with 14, Echols 13, Hernandez 11, Roemisch 10 and Wilson 6. Second baseman David Rios, .288 (.333-d) has nine RBI.

Other Tiger starters are centerfielder Curtis Gafford, .175 (.143-d), and rightfielder Casey Peterson, .271 (.250-d).

Snyder will counter Dotson today with Wilson, 10-1. Wilson has an ERA of 1.43 and has 90 strikeouts in 73 innings. Tommy Gressett, 4-1 with a 2.39 ERA, will get the nod Friday. Left-hander Gerald Don Hicks, 8-1, 2.33 ERA, is also available.

Chiles Riled; Rangers Talk

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - A news conference scheduled today by Texas Rangers officials followed lengthy meetings called by owner Eddie Chiles with team management, coaches and players Monday in the wake of heavy losses.

Rangers executive vice president Eddie Robinson announced the press conference for 1:30 p.m. at Arlington Stadium. More team meetings were also planned, he said.

The team has lost 21 of its last 26 games, with the latest defeat on Sunday.

"The meetings were fruitful, and I am not at liberty to say what went on at them," Robinson said in a telephone interview Monday night from his Fort Worth home. "There will be (more) meetings tomorrow."

Asked whether personnel changes were decided at the meetings, Robinson said, "I really can't say what went on."

Manager Don Zimmer had speculated that he or Robinson might be fired as a result of the team's poor performance.

"I'm going to three meetings, but I couldn't begin to tell you what they're about," Zimmer said before Monday's meetings. "But we know something has to be done."

Zimmer said he thought about the possibility of being fired.

"But who hasn't thought about it?" he said.

Chiles had imposed a strict news blackout around meetings with Zimmer, his staff and players. The owner alerted Arlington Stadium security to keep the media away from the Ranger offices. The first talks were with Zimmer and Robinson.

That talk preceded separate conferences with the Rangers coaching staff and team Monday afternoon.

"I've put a news blackout on the whole situation," Chiles said earlier from his home in Fort Worth. "I don't want any reporters or media anywhere around the meetings."

The first meeting was at Robinson's office and the others followed at Zimmer's office and the players' lounge adjacent to the club house.

The Rangers suffered a painful 5-3 loss to the Kansas City Royals. Chiles had earlier expressed his displeasure at the team's losses.

But Chiles described the meeting as a "work session."

"I'm not firing anybody," he said. "I've said some things I wish I hadn't said. The more I've thought about it, the more I've analyzed it this weekend, the more I realize we have a lot to do to get things straightened out."

Seaver Still Struggles; Houston Blanked Again

by The Associated Press

Tom Seaver, for years one of the best pitchers in baseball, is baffled. Things have never gone so wrong for so long.

"I've been pitching poorly for almost two months," Seaver said Monday night after being bombed by the Philadelphia Phillies. "I don't think I've ever pitched this badly for this long of a time."

Seaver gave up seven runs on nine hits in five innings, absorbing his sixth loss in seven decisions as the Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds 9-1. The victory was Philadelphia's third in a row, while the Reds lost for the sixth straight time.

Bo Diaz drove in three runs and homered to back Steve Carlton in his first victory over Cincinnati since May 19, 1980.

In the rest of Monday night's National League action, San Diego defeated Chicago 8-2, New York downed Atlanta 5-3, Montreal blanked Houston 2-0, St. Louis shut out San Francisco 6-0 and Pittsburgh routed Los Angeles 9-3.

Seaver was 14-2 last season and finished second in the NL Cy Young balloting to Fernando Valenzuela, and he says he hasn't a clue to his terrible start.

Carlton, 5-6, spaced four hits over eight innings with three walks and three strikeouts before getting last-inning relief help from Warren Brusstar.

Expos 2, Astros 0

Montreal won its fourth in a row with a pair of unearned runs, and Bill Gullickson and Woody Fryman teamed on an eight-hit shutout.

The Expos scored both their runs in the sixth inning on an error by first baseman Denny Walling and Al Oliver's run-scoring single. Gullickson held the lead until walking the first man in the ninth, and Fryman finished up.

The Astros now have gone scoreless in the past 21 innings and have lost three in a row.

Mets 5, Braves 3

Ellis Valentine drove in his first two runs of the season with a two-run homer, and New York extended its winning streak to three games behind the pitching of Pat Zachry and Neil Allen.

Valentine's homer staked Zachry to a 2-1 lead in the fourth inning, and the Mets right-hander handcuffed the Braves until the eighth when he yielded a run on three hits.

Lakers To Play Sixers And Are Glad Of It

by The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers, who have spent more time waiting than playing during the National Basketball Association playoffs, are glad they will face the Philadelphia 76ers in the championship series.

The Lakers don't necessarily believe the 76ers are an easier opponent than the Boston Celtics would have been. It's just that Los Angeles has been preparing longer for Philadelphia.

"I really didn't care who we played," said Lakers Coach Pat Riley. "But we had been gearing up to play Philadelphia ever since they took a 3-1 series lead. We knew it was a real possibility that we'd be playing the Sixers Sunday in the first game, so all our preparations were in that direction. I'm just relieved that their series is over."

If the 76ers could have beaten Boston in the fifth or sixth game of their Eastern Conference final series last week, the championship series would have started last Sunday. But on that day, Philadelphia, which collapsed against Boston a year ago after taking a 3-1 lead, had to play a seventh game, which it won, 120-106 at Boston for its fourth and clinching victory.

Now, the opener of the final series will be Thursday, 12 days since the Lakers finished a four-game sweep of San Antonio in the Western Conference final series.

"I can't afford to worry about a layoff," Riley said. "We just have to keep working. We have veteran ballplayers and a layoff won't affect them as much as it would affect a younger team.

"The players are bored and just want to play. It's been so long since we played I just hope we remember how."

The Lakers, who beat Philadelphia in six games in the 1980 championship series, have showed in this year's playoffs why they had the best regular-season record (58-24) in the Western Conference.

Los Angeles beat Phoenix and San Antonio, with four-game sweeps each time, to become the first team in NBA history to capture two straight best-of-seven series without a loss.

The NBA record for consecutive playoff victories is nine, set by the Minneapolis Lakers, who won the last game of the 1949 playoffs and the first eight of the 1950 postseason. The eight 1950 victories included a one-game division tiebreaker, three two-game series sweeps and a triumph in the first game of the best-of-seven finals.

Los Angeles also set a record for consecutive road playoff victories with six straight, dating back to the last game of the 1980 series against the 76ers.

Hoyt Shows Stuff; Buzzes Royals, 3-1

by The Associated Press

Being the winningest pitcher in the major leagues with the league's best earned run average doesn't keep a pitcher immune to criticism. Just ask Chicago's LaMarr Hoyt.

The rap against Hoyt is that his teammates have been overly generous in run production. In his last five starts before Monday night the White Sox had scored 52 runs.

That changed Monday night when Chicago eked out a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals. The 27-year-old right-hander scattered eight hits and struck out eight to register his ninth straight victory of the season.

Hoyt said he felt he needed to win a tight game to prove something to his detractors.

"To a point, yes," said Hoyt, who boasts a 1.45 ERA. "(Paul) Splittorff threw well and I thought it was going to be a 1-0 game."

In other American League action, Cleveland blasted Minnesota 9-2 and Baltimore edged Toronto 7-5. California at Boston was rained out.

Splittorff, 2-4, was coasting along until the sixth inning when the White Sox scored three runs. Greg Luzinksi drove in one with a single and Tom Paciorek singled in two more.

Hoyt's shutout bid ended with two outs in the ninth when Hal McRae and Cesar Geronimo hit back-to-back doubles.

He now has 14 straight victories dating back to last season, three short of the American League record of 17 set by Johnny Allen of Cleveland in 1936-37 and equaled by Dave McNally of Baltimore in 1968-69.

The major league mark of 24 straight victories was established by Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants in 1936-37.

SWC Track...

Error Indicates Times Faster

HOUSTON (AP) - Athletic officials say because someone made "an honest mistake" most of the times recorded in a Southwest Conference track meet here May 14-15 were off by .05 of a second.

Mike Takaha, an administrative assistant to Universty of Houston track Coach Tom Tellez, said the volunteer official interpreting the "Accutrack" timing system apparently used the wrong reference point and added 5 percent of a second to most times.

Some times were correct, but conference officials said most athletes ended up with better times - including one whose adjusted time became an SWC record.

Tom Turbiville, an SWC spokesman, said the new times would become official and SWC track coaches were being sent a revised listing. The new times also will be used in determining seedings in next week's NCAA championships at Provo, Utah.

Takaha said times in only three of 12 running events during the two-day event remained the same after an extensive review was completed over the weekend.

The times of Houston's Stanley Floyd, who won the 100 meters in 10.32, and Arkansas' Randy Stephens, winner of the 1,500 in 3:44.10, and Pat Vaughn, winner of the 10,000 in 29:26.16, were unchanged.

Houston's Cletus Clark benefitted from the change, having his record-tying 13.74 victory in the 110-meter high hurdles, changed to a SWC record 13.68.

The Accutrack system does not show a numerical readout of the times as athletes cross the finish line, Takaha said. Instead, officials must interpret a photo taken of the finish and compare it with a series of dots on the side of the photo.

"It's really not an uncommon mistake," Takaha said. "There is a series of dots and times at the side for each .10 and a bigger dot for each .05. Occasionally, people will use the wrong dot."

Two other records were broken in the running events at the meet, then adjusted even lower after the review.

Annulment Denied

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - A state district court judge on Monday refused to grant a request by professional golfer Jan Stephenson for an annulment of her marriage to Larry Colb.

Colb contested the annulment and the judge said the fate of the couple's marriage will be decided during a trial.

In documents filed last month, Stephenson, 30, charged that Colb used "fraud and duress" to get her to marry him. But Colb rejected the charges in legal papers filed last week and asked the judge to reject the annulment request.

Stephenson, according to court documents, requested the annulment after learning on April 3 she had a common-law marriage with Eddie Bossler.

Donated For Transplant...

Fletcher Isn't Wasting Money

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — In the wake of an unflattering newspaper story, Michael Fletcher says he didn't mean all his comments about how he and his wife Anne would use left-over donations after meeting her heart transplant costs.

He also says he isn't really spending his weekends partying.

Just how much money will be left remained unclear. Drives conducted here and at Peoria, Ill., the Fletchers' home town, along with smaller efforts by relatives in Texas and Masschusetts, raised more than $104,000.

Mrs. Fletcher, whose heart condition was related to her pregnancy, underwent the transplant operation on April 10 and remains hospitalized, recuperating.

For a time doctors had said it was uncertain she would survive long enough for a donor to be found. And the couple was broke, facing costs estimated eventually to total between $50,000 and $100,000, including a $37,500 deposit the University of Arizona medical center was requiring.

With broadcasters and newspapers following the medical drama closely here and in Illinois, donations poured in — the largest $2,000 and the smallest a $2 roll of coins from an elderly woman.

Tucson area people contributed $40,000, though the couple was unknown before arriving for the surgery and though heart transplants with their high costs are performed here with some frequency.

On Sunday, the Arizona Daily Star published an interview with Michael Fletcher quoting him as saying that the couple plans to use some of the money to pay living expenses, to buy a mobile home and a lot for it, furnishings and possible a new car.

In that interview, Fletcher told the Star he visits his wife each weekday in the hospital but likes to party on the weekends. "When I get my new address, you can tell all the single women they can come over there," he added in the Star interview. "She doesn't care. We have a real open marriage."

But in a subsequent interview the Star published on Monday, Fletcher, who is 20, described himself as an "easygoing guy" who "cracks jokes a lot" and said he didn't mean all those comments to be taken seriously. Some, he said, were "totally wrong."

The Star and its writer said it stood by the original story as accurate and documented.

Program director John Stevens said officials at radio station KAIR, one of the prime backers of the fund-raising effort, "are taking steps to insure that these funds are protected and used for legitimate expenses."

KAIR also made public on Monday copies of a March 31 letter Fletcher signed confirming to a University Hospital official, "I agree to allow any money in the Anne Fletcher Fund not used for Anne's expenses to revert to you to establish future funds for financially needy heart transplant patients ...."

Investigator Les Turner of the Pima County attorney's office said a preliminary investigation has been started.

With federal insurance from Fletcher's military service expected to pay some of the now-estimated $92,000 medical costs, Fletcher said it appeared there may be as much as $34,000 in left-over donations, the Star reported. It said that, based on other cases of federal insurance, the leftover could be as much as $80,000.

Whether the fund-raising drives restricted the use of the donations or pledged any excess to use for others in similar straits remained unclear. Apparently some statements did and others didn't. Some said any extra money would go to the Fletchers' son, now 6 months.

But, Fletcher told the Star, the couple won't use the money in a way that was unintended by those who gave it — though, he said, "if we wanted, we could go down and draw out $10,000 and go to Hawaii.

"We could, but we won't" he said, adding that their living costs are medically related since Mrs. Fletcher must remain in Tucson for outpatient care for the next six months.

The Fletchers were married 15 days after they first met — Michael, 17 at the time, proposed in less than 24 hours. Both were at Fort Jackson, S.C., on military assignment — Michael in basic training with the Army and Anne there for Army Reserve training.

She went absent without leave for the ceremony and subsequently served a few days in a military correctional facility. She got a discharge three months later.

Eight days after the wedding, Michael was sent to Korea for a year. There, he told the Star, he "did a lot of partying" and wrote Anne only four letters. He also lived with a woman most of that year and didn't want to return when the time was up.

And he said that, as a mail room clerk, he ordered television and stereo sets from the United States and sold them illicitly in Korea, the Star reported.

Once back home, with Anne eight months pregnant, he was charged with selling drugs and went AWOL. Arrested, he drew a dishonorable discharge last September — two weeks before the birth of their son, Roy Michael. The discharge is under appeal.

Few Are Aware Of Highway Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only 6 percent of all Americans are aware of the federal Highway Trust Fund — which collected $6.3 billion from them last year for road and bridge projects — according to a recent poll conducted for a highway research group, The Road Information Program (TRIP).

Just 3 percent of the poll's respondents correctly identified the federal gasoline tax rate as 4 cents per gallon and most believed the rate was higher, with responses ranging up to 36 cents per gallon.

"The Highway Trust Fund is virtually the only source of federal road funding. But now we're discovering that Americans have no idea just how much they're paying into the fund, why they're paying, or how the money is being used," said Donald S. Knight, executive director of TRIP, a nonprofit highway research agency funded by highway-related businesses.

The Highway Trust Fund finances road projects with tax revenues collected on the sale of motor fuel; certain trucks, trailers and buses; tires, tubes and tread rubber; truck parts; and lubricating oil.

A lack of public understanding, together with lagging motor-fuel sales, is the main reason road programs are suffering repair funding shortfalls, according to Knight.

"In the 1970s we saw dramatic shifts in user-fee collections for road upkeep," he said.

Living Will Asserts The Right to Die

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

(Feb. 26, 1976)

DEAR ABBY: Last year you had something in your column about the Living Will. I'm sorry to say I didn't pay much attention to it then, but I am interested in it now. Exactly what is it? And how can I get one?

I am Jewish. Is it against my religion? Is it "euthanasia" or mercy killing?

DAVID G. IN BOSTON

DEAR DAVID: The Living Will is a document stating that should you fall victim to a terminal illness from which there is no hope for your recovery, you instruct your physician not to prolong your life by artificial means, such as machines, tubes, pumps and so forth.

Copies of this document may be given to your physician, clergyman, lawyer and to as many family members and/or friends as you desire. To sign such a document, you must be 18 years or older and of sound mind. (If at any time you wish to revoke the document, you are free to do so.) The Jewish view of the Living Will is as follows: It is not "euthanasia" — or mercy killing! There is a clear distinction between actively killing a person and "allowing him to die."

According to Jewish Law, when a person suffers irreversible brain damage and can no longer recite a "bracha" — a blessing to praise God — or perform a "mitzvah" — an act to help his fellow man — he is considered a "vegetable" and there is nothing to "save." It is thus an act of compassion to spare the family the suffering, anguish and expense of artificially prolonging the breathing and heartbeat when death is inevitable.

The Living Will does not give anyone permission to end the life of another in a "mercy-killing" manner. It is simply a document that one signs, stating that he (or she) does not want to have his (or her) life prolonged artificially after his physician decides that there is no hope for recovery.

I have signed such a document. You may get one by writing to the Society for the Right to Die, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019. The document is free, but please send a few dollars (it's tax-deductible) for the cost of printing and mailing the document to you. I sent $10 for five documents and have given one to my physician, clergyman, lawyer and two members of my family.

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of age differences: I was 33 and contemplating divorce when I fell in love with a beautiful young girl. She was very mature and I judged her to be about 19, so it never occurred to me to ask her how old she was. After going together for three months, she said she was having a birthday. On that day I asked her how old she was. She said 16!

I felt sick, frightened and confused, but I didn't call it off. When her family learned that I was 33, and not yet divorced, three of her seven brothers threatened me and her father pulled a gun on me!

My divorce came through and we were married when she turned 18. Today, I am 39, and she is 22. We have two beautiful children and another on the way. And our love is just as strong today as it was when she was sweet 16 and I was 33.

CLIFF D. IN INGLEWOOD, CALIF.

DEAR CLIFF: Thanks for the romantic tale with the storybook ending. You were lucky. Falling in love with a minor can be hazardous to one's health — especially when the girl has seven brothers and a gun-totin' father.

Bankruptcy Judge Will Not Release Cryts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A federal bankruptcy judge has turned down Missouri farmer Wayne Cryts' request to be released from a jail in Arkansas, saying Cryts holds the key to freeing himself.

"He can do so by telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," Judge Charles Baker said Monday. Baker ruled that Cryts "has planted the seeds of sedition" and must "harvest the bittersweet bounty of his own folly" by staying in jail.

Baker sent Cryts to the Pope County Jail in Russellville on April 28 for civil contempt of court. Cryts refused to say who helped him remove 31,000 bushels of soybeans from a grain elevator. Cryts stored the beans in the elevator, and although they were tied up in bankruptcy proceedings, he said they belonged to him.

"Mr. Cryts is in jail to make him testify," Baker said.

He denied a motion for temporary release and a motion to set bail so Cryts could be freed while his case is appealed. The appeal has been assigned to U.S. District Judge G. Thomas Eisele of Little Rock. No hearing date has been set.

Cryts, 35, of Puxico, Mo., and others took the grain July 22, 1981, from an elevator in Bernie, Mo., in defiance of a court order. Five months earlier, Cryts and others had seized the soybeans from an elevator at Ristine, Mo. The elevator was owned by the James family of Corning. The family had filed a petition in bankruptcy court.

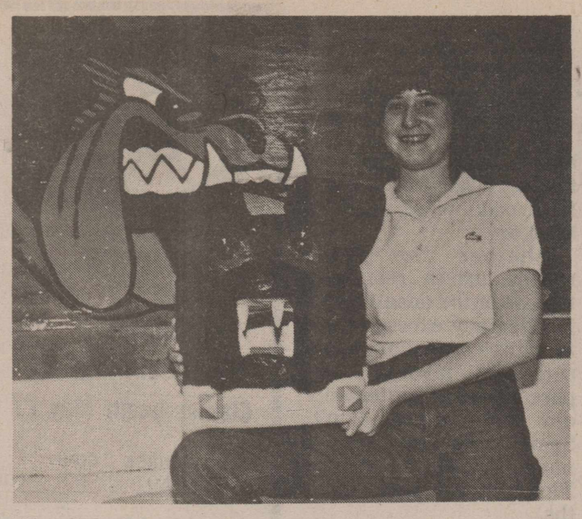

Baker ordered the beans sold and the money invested until the final ownership could be determined. The American Agriculture Movement, of which Cryts is a national vice president, says the struggle is over property rights.

Baker freed Cryts from jail last week so he could testify in Washington in congressional hearings on proposals to change the bankruptcy laws.

Attorney F.Lee Bailey of Boston asked Baker to free Cryts until June 1 when Cryts' wife, father and two others must appear at a hearing before Baker, or until the U.S. Supreme Court decides the constitutionality of the federal Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978.

"Cryts has chosen to thumb his nose at this court, his fellow farmers, the other unfortunate citizens who are owed money by the debtor and the taxpayers who must cover his unpaid loan," Baker said. Cryts borrowed money from the Commodity Credit Corp. on the beans at Ristine. The loan has been declared in default.

Spray Pecans Around June 1

Indications are that the best time to spray pecan trees here for pecan nut casebearers will be around June 1, Billy Roach, county extension agent, has advised.

Roach said he had received several calls concerning the best time for applying the first cover spray for this insect in Scurry County.

This date is approximately one week later than normal. Nut entry by the casebearers should begin about June 1, so insecticide applications should be at about this time for good control, Roach said,

The casebearer is the most destructive pecan pest in Texas and the first generation can inflict heavy damage to the pecan crop. A first generation pecan nut casebearer can destroy a whole cluster of pecans. Usually the second generation casebearer (42 days later) is not as destructive.

Pesticides recommended for the control of the pecan nut casebearer are Malathion, Guthion, Sevin and Zolone. Homeowners may want to include a fungicide such as Benomyl for scab control and NZN should be added for growth and control of rosette.

A good mixture for the homeowner would be four tablespoons Zolone, three tablespoons Benomyl, and six teaspoons NZN for three gallons of water. Other insecticides may be substituted for Zolone according to manufacturers' label recommendations.

The most important part of this mixture of course is the insecticide for the control of the pecan nut casebearer. The other ingredients can be added at the discretion of the homeowner. However, the timing should be delayed until June 1.

Seven Men Are Injured

MILESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Seven men were injured, two of them seriously, when a spark from a swimming pool pump touched off an explosion at a Sheraton Inn motel, officials say.

Saturday's blast originated in the motel's filter room, located next to a guest room and overlooking the pool. It blew out one wall, shifted others and shattered glass nearby.

About 80 people, including guests and employees, were evacuated.

A maintenance man, two employees and four guests suffered first- and second-degree burns, mostly on their faces and arms.

Fire officials said a tank of chlorine leaked and the gas apparently was ignited when a maintenance man turned the pump on.

Regulations Available In Vietnamese

DENVER (AP) — Colorado fishing regulations are now available in Vietnamese.

The Colorado Division of Wildlife has issued a special printing of the state regulations to help Southeast Asian refugees who have settled in the state comply with the law.

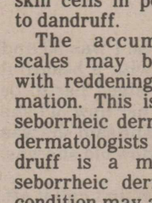

Kathi Demarest, a district wildlife manager, suggested the printing after noting that new Colorado residents from Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos often violated state fishing regulations or even took ducks from city ponds.

Relations Are Severed

DACCA, Bangladesh (AP) — The government said Sunday that Bangladesh was severing political, diplomatic and economic relations with Zaire to protest its decision to reestablish diplomatic relations with Israel.

A foreign office statement condemned Zaire's decision, saying it "came as shock to the government and people of Bangladesh."

The statement said Bangladesh, a predominantly Moslem country, was severing the diplomatic ties because of its "total commitment to the cause of the Palestinians."

Dealing with dandruff

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 66-year-old man and have a problem with dandruff, if that is what it is. It started in 1975 after I had an operation on my neck to cut out bone spurs to relieve pressure on nerves. The dandruff has gotten worse ever since. I have tried everything I can think of, even the old lye soap we used to make. I read your column every day and am hoping you can help me.

DEAR READER — It is important to know what you have. There are differences in opinion about dandruff. Some specialists think it is just the normal shedding of the scales of skin. When the cells are in very small clumps they are so small we don't see them and are not bothered by them. If the cells clump together to form a large flake, they are visible and embarrassing to some people. There does seem to be a more rapid turnover or increased loss of skin cells in people subject to dandruff.

The accumulation of scales may be associated with reddening and inflammation. This is then called seborrheic dermatitis. Some dermatologists think dandruff is a mild form of seborrheic dermatitis. This condition may also spread to the face or folds of skin on the body causing reddened areas covered with dandruff-like scales. And in some cases psoriasis may resemble seborrheic dermatitis.

Assuming you do have dandruff the most important thing to do is shampoo regularly, every day or even twice a day if need be in order to eliminate oiliness and the accumulated shedding cells. You may get better results by wetting your hair, covering it with plastic wrap or a shower cap to retain moisture and letting it soak for an hour before shampooing. That will soften the scales and make it easier to wash them off. Frequent washing will not damage or cause you to lose hair.

You may want to use a shampoo containing selenium sulfide part of the time. If this program doesn't work, see your doctor to be sure what you are treating and for further treatment.

Meanwhile I am sending you The Health Letter number 12-6, Hair Care, that includes problems of hair loss and treatment. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 40-year-old female. Six months ago my lung collapsed. My surgeon inserted a chest tube for four days, then I went home. The day I returned home it happened again and another chest tube was inserted for 10 more days. It healed and I came home.

Two weeks ago it happened again and I had to have another chest tube inserted. My doctor said the next time he will operate and put a patch on it. Do you know anything I can do to prevent it from collapsing again?

DEAR READER — There is not much you can do. The lung collapses because a small hole develops at the surface of the lung. This often happens because the tissue is thinned into a small blister. When the blister breaks the air in your lung leaks out into the space between your lungs and the chest wall. We call it a pneumothorax.

The tube helps to let the air escape. The lung is collapsed or partially collapsed. The hole heals and the lung expands. If there is an area where there are several blisters the section is sometimes removed by surgery or the area patched to the chest wall.
