

'Old Fashioned' Parents And Jet Age Youths

BY AMY TURNER

What do you do when your child says you're "old fashioned or square?"

According to Dr. O. H. Jones, a panelist at a "We The Parents" meeting here Monday night, that's just part of the course.

"Of course, I'm not old fashioned or square," Dr. Jones quickly noted, "but I expect my children to call me that."

Jones' answer was given in response to one of numerous questions put to the panel by Mrs. Billy Smith Jr., moderator, during the first session of the parents' study course.

The Monday night meeting was concerned primarily with the social life of pre and early teens and questions ranged widely from health to TV to drive-in movies.

Mrs. Ed Thompson, president of the local PTA, stressed that the series of meetings is being held, not so much to "set up rules" but to give Olton parents a common ground for communication and exchange of ideas.

One of the first questions put to the panel asked if parents are rushing their children out of childhood.

Mrs. J. D. Lancaster, panelist, agreed that this is the trend.

"We're living in a faster world," Mrs. Lancaster commented, "and I wonder if we are trying to relive our lives through our children."

"We're so anxious for the next phase and we want our children to be better than the rest," she added, "Sometimes I think we push them into social activities that they don't even want."

Another panelist, J. D. Lancaster, Main Street Church of Christ minister, pointed out that a parent has an obligation to set an example for his child, saying:

"The Bible tells us that."

Lancaster also said that the stability that a child gets, he will get from the home.

"We should also teach them to have convictions," he said, "even if they differ from ours."

He noted that most parents are "guilty" of wanting a child to "do as I say."

security is the "big thing" with children. He said that parents should let a child know what is expected of him.

Turning to the subject of driving, Carl McClure, panelist, Olton Junior High principal, quoted from a study made in the state of Idaho which seemed to prove that driving can have an adverse effect on grades.

Concerning driver's education in the schools, McClure had this to say:

"It can be of some value but the child's attitude is the most important factor and this comes from the parents."

"I think that driver's training in school is not necessary," he added.

The junior high principal expanded on this subject, saying he thinks driver's training is taking up valuable time in the school day that should be used for other subjects.

Dr. Jones pointed out that the physical changes in an adolescent add to his insecurity.

"It's really quite a trying time and it is wise to give them time to get acquainted with themselves. They need more rest," he said.

Mrs. Lancaster spoke on the school grouping of children according to age, saying:

"This tends to do away with their individuality. We don't know how to get away from this and the home has the opportunity here to encourage each child's ability."

McClure took the next round on TV and drive-in movies, saying that television has good value and children learn a lot. "Some good, some not."

He added that, in his opinion, one hour of TV per night is "plenty," but that each parent must decide this question.

On the drive-in, McClure had this to say: "It depends on the movie and who they go with and on what night they go."

Mrs. Lancaster recommended pre-marriage counseling for teens, saying that a lot of early marriages occur because of a lack of communication between parents and child.

She also said that children who date earlier will want to marry earlier.

age to begin dating would be about 15 or 16 years of age, depending on the child.

On the subject of steady dating, he said "No" in the early teens. In the late teens, he said "I see no great harm."

Should social life, meaning boy-girl parties, be eliminated or restricted in the early teens in view of the added physical stress present at this time?

This question was directed to the doctor on the panel and Dr. Jones answered thus: "No, not eliminated. Early teens have to have parties with mixed groups. This is what it's all about and it is the best thing for them."

Next Monday night's meeting, set 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria, will concern personal appearance.

A panel is again scheduled and plans call for it to include two high school students, two recent college graduates, a physical education teacher and a home economics teacher.

Junior and senior high students are invited to attend.

Salvation Army Sets Olton Service Unit

Local Fund Campaign Is Scheduled Friday

If a man is hungry or needs help, he needs it now and not tomorrow.... This is the basic idea behind a Salvation Army service unit committee set up here last week.

The unit will serve the Olton and Spade area by helping local and transient people and assisting in emergency cases.

A service unit worker stressed that the committee here would not take the place of any welfare work now being done but would rather assist with welfare work.

Heading the local committee will be Basil Sherman with C. H. McClure as vice-chairman.

Gene Trotter will serve as treasurer and Edsie Hackler will be welfare secretary.

Other members of the committee are E. E. Burrows, Homer Whisenand, B. C. Kelley, the Rev. John Lewis, the Rev. Cecil Hardaway and J. D. Lancaster, minister.

In the past, this area has been under the Salvation Army at Littlefield.

With the establishment of the local service unit, members of the Salvation Army will cease solicitations in Olton.

Instead, an annual fund-raising campaign will be held here.

The first such campaign will kick off with coffee at 8:30 a.m. Friday Jan. 29 at Ideal Cafe.

Campaign Chairmen will be Eldon Franks and Sherman.

Johnny Clark Jr. will handle the school solicitation and mail appeal will be made to rural areas. One-third of the money collected in the Olton area will remain here for local use under the jurisdiction of the local committee.

Remainder of the money will be sent to division headquarters for state services. However, if this area should run short of funds, additional money would be sent here.

Approximately 90 cents out of each dollar contributed to Salvation Army remains in the State and is used for actual welfare work.

All those assisting in the fund-raising campaign are urged by the local committee to be present at the Friday coffee.

Workers include Percy Parsons, Walter Struve, Bruce Hackler, Charles Polk, James Galagher, Kenneth Campbell, Mrs. Tom Smith, Mrs. Joe Chester, Bill Kelley, Ralph Glover, Charles Sullivan, Oleta Richardson, Bill Richardson, Ellen Small, Gwen Turner, Betty Truelock, Jolene Givens, Lillie Mae Silcott, Doug Jones, Ruby Lee Sherman, George Caddel, D. M. Holt, E. E. Burrows, Homer Whisenand, V. L. Smith, bob Duncan, Lester Thompson, B. C. Cooner, A. D. Adams, Ivin Wozencraft, Mrs. Nora McLain, Mrs. Nettie Mae Hall, Major James, W. G. Volunteers Make Tracks

Once around the track in record time... At least that's the way Olton volunteers handled the matter of getting sand on Olton High School's new track.

According to Elmer Moore, school business manager, all of the sand necessary for the base on the track was hauled from the Sandhills in one and a half days last Friday and Saturday.

Moore pointed out that a commercial estimate for constructing the track was set at about $16,000.

However, due to the large amount of volunteer work done locally, the track will actually cost less than half that figure.

Next step will be topping which will come from Strawn.

Moore said the topping to be used here is known as "Red Dog" and is one of the best.

He also noted that Olton's track, after it is completed, will meet olympic standards.

It is expected that the district track meet and possibly one or two others will be held here in March and April.

Among those helping with the sand hauling were O. E. Patterson, Charles Polk, Garner Ball, Charley Giles, Owen Jones, Don Huguley, A. G. Huguley, William DeBerry, W. F. Williamson, Rex Sherry, A. J. Spain, Bob Copeland and Roy Neal Burrow.

Moore also expressed appreciation to Cloys Fancher, A. C. Light and Garland De Prang, who loaned trucks, and to Dub Hall and Delmer Givens, who organized the work.

Auto Tags Will Have New Look

The new look is the word in 1965 automobile tags which will go on sale here Monday Feb. 1.

For the first time in the history of the state, the tags will bear three letters and three numerals.

Olton's lettered prefix and numerals will be BZY 10 to 999 and BZX 500 to 999.

Commercial and truck tags will not be changed in appearance and will contain two letters and four numerals.

According to Marcelle Lovelless at Lovelless Appliance, where the tags may be purchased, the state just apparently ran out of two-letter combinations.

Mrs. Lovelless said she would sell approximately 1,500 passenger car tags here.

So instead of watching their "P's and Q's", Olton residents will have to start watching their "Y's and X's".

Employment

Office Opens

Need a job? Need a new employee? Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture may have the answer for you. The Chamber is offering a new service in the form of an employment agency to people of the Olton area.

According to Lester Thompson, C-CA director, anyone may place their application at the Chamber office for any type of work.

There is no age limit and applicants may include anyone from high school age on. Persons seeking employees are asked to check with the office.

No charge will be made to any one using the service. C-CA office hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

SATURDAY DEADLINE

Poll Tax Receipts Down

With deadline only two days away, the sale of poll tax receipts in Olton and in the county is reported to be moving slowly. City hall reports here showed 110 receipts as of Wednesday. At this time last year, 562 had been sold at city hall.

In the county, a little more than 1,500 receipts have been received this year against a total of 3,172 at this time last year.

Olton voters are reminded that they will elect two school board members, two city councilmen and a mayor this year.

Poll tax receipts will be necessary to vote in these elections.

Mothers' March

Slated Feb. 4

The Olton Mothers' March for the March of Dimes will be held Thursday Feb. 4 with the business drive in the early afternoon and the house-to-house canvass starting at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Andrew Stroebel, representing the Bykota Study Club, is in charge of the Mothers' March.

Olton Man 'Zips' Salesman

What's in a name? Absolutely nothing... that is, if you know your zip code and box number.

Elmer Houston, Thompson Chevrolet, proved this point recently after a discussion with a traveling salesman. It seems Houston gave the salesman a post card with only this address printed on it:

Box 367, 79064. Without the benefit of any name of any sort, the card was mailed from Commerce at 2 p.m. Jan. 19 and received here at noon Jan. 21.

Houston said he is saving the card to show the salesman next time he comes to Olton, since it was mailed with this message: "Bet you don't get this."

TONS OF DIRT -- AND WORK! -- Olton coach Walter Bryan takes a long look at tons of sand delivered by volunteers to the new Olton track last week. Volunteers pitched in to help get the track in shape for the coming season, and at the same time, save the school quite a bit of money.

Tough Session Ahead

Now in session, organized and ready to go, the Texas Legislature is getting down to business. On the schedule are some controversial matters that probably cannot be postponed or sidestepped.

The Federal courts have said that the Legislature must restrict by early August for purposes of congressional and legislative representation or the job will be taken out of the lawmakers hands.

It is doubtful if this will set well with some lawmakers who would be redistricted out of a job. However, it appears that Texas must do the job, along with other states who had had representation on any basis other than population.

Education has been put on a priority basis by Governor Connally, who is calling for a greatly boosted spending program for higher education and another boost in the public schools budget to pay for the $45 monthly salary raise which will call for a $34 million boost in the state budget. If this is not enough to occupy the legislators, several other thorny bills are on the calendar.

Ready to be introduced is a bill which will legalize horse racing in Texas and another to legalize liquor by the drink. The horse racing bill may have a good chance of passing in this session. If not, some feel that it is a cinch to sail through two years from now when big city legislators hold the voting control in both House and Senate.

Liquor by the drink forces are not so well organized or financed but the chances seem fairly good that some sort of bill will pass this year. If not, certainly two years from now.

All in all, it appears that the members of the Texas Legislature are going to earn their money this year.

PHILOSOPHER

Viet Nam Is Like Farming

(Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his Careless Weed Farm on Running Water Draw turns his thought to Viet Nam this week.)

Dear Editor:

Speaking of Viet Nam, I don't even know which direction the place is from here and as for not knowing what's going on over there, I can hold my own with anybody, but after seeing the place mentioned at least half a dozen times in nearly every newspaper that has turned up out here on the Careless Weed farm for the past six months, it began to dawn on me that it must be important that we do something about it, although me and the State Department are a little hazy on what.

At any rate, I was surprised last night when I read that some official in Washington said the "situation in Viet Nam is a mess and we ought to pull out."

I do not understand this type of thinking. What I mean is, without going into the merits of whether we ought to pull out, I can't understand the reasoning of a man who says we ought to pull out because it's a mess and we don't know what to do with it.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

Do you think it is wrong for a married woman of 23 to go to a dance with her sister and brother-in-law?
 I love to dance and can't see any harm in going with my family. My husband works out of town and doesn't approve of my going to dances. Instead of arguing over the issue, we decided to have you settle it.

I have talked to her about this and even bought a book on clever party tricks, but nothing has helped.

I'm rather quiet and can't compete with these men who know "how to win friends and influence people."

I'd like to know how to keep my wife by my side on these evenings out?

Sober Sam

Dear Bebe:

There's no harm in going anywhere with your family. It's what you do when you get there that counts! Respect your husband's wishes. This is one of the personal liberties that a woman sacrifices for the man she marries.

Try this: Pick out the most attractive woman in the room and be as attentive to her as you know how.

Your wife will be at your side in no time flat if you show her that you're alive and kicking.

Dear Amy:

My wife and I have been married for twenty years. We couldn't have any children of our own and so, over the years, we adopted two girls. I have always been devoted and faithful to my family.

I just read your column in our local paper and the answers you gave were so sensible that I thought maybe you could help me.

I'm the mother of 4 boys, ages 18, 16, 14, and 6 mos. Every time one of them is unhappy, I can't stand it and get severe headaches.

The oldest wanted to join the navy; we signed for him. He's now unhappy in the service. He wanted to marry a Wave at 18; we signed for him. I now worry if he is happily married. He always wanted things he was too young for--for instance, he got his first car at 12. I just haven't learned to say "NO" to anything any of my boys wanted.

Among our friends, there is a young married couple that visited us quite often. The woman is quite attractive and I was drawn to her. I visited her alone one afternoon and attempted to make love to her. She was shocked and ordered me to leave her home.

Since this incident, this young couple has never paid us a social call again.

My wife noticed this and called them to find out what was wrong. The woman was quite cordial and led my wife to believe that there was nothing wrong, however my wife feels that she must have done or said something to hurt their feelings. I can't bring myself to tell her the real reason why we lost their friendship.

Should I tell my wife the truth or play dumb?
 A Foolish Husband

Dear Foolish:

You don't have to play dumb. You are! If your wife is the type who can forgive and forget, come clean. If not, you will have to live with your conscience. . . and I hope you have profited by your stupid mistake.

Mrs. Miserable

Dear Mrs. Miserable: I certainly hope all mothers don't go through what you describe. The happiness you want to enjoy from your children can only be achieved by doing for them what is necessary for their physical, mental and moral well being. Overdoing and not being able to say "NO" results in their inability to grow up and become responsible adults. Raising four boys isn't easy, but if you raise them right, they will be happy and so will you.

Dear Amy:

Every time my wife and I go to a social function or a party, she immediately forgets I'm alive. She goes to the man who is the center of attraction and there she stays until it's time to leave.

Auto Wreck, Break-In Are Reported

Olton Police Chief Emmett Burrows reported one auto accident in the city limits.

The accident occurred in front of Sluder's Texaco when a 1957 Ford station wagon, driven by Short Whitley, and a 1959 Chevrolet, driven by Judy Dennis Ringwald, collided.

Both vehicles were traveling north on the highway. No injuries were reported and damages were estimated at $300 to each car.

An unlocked door was discovered at the Shamrock station by Harvey Castleberry, night-watchman, early Friday morning. It was not known whether the door had blown open or whether the building had been entered. Nothing was reported missing from the business.

GRANDDAUGHTER VISITS

Miss Jeanie Nipper of Odessa spent the weekend in the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Starritt. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nipper and friends Evelyn Boyd and Linda arrived Sunday to visit and return their daughter home to Odessa.

The Gene Trotter home was broken into last Sunday night according to Burrows. Entry was gained through a window and nothing was reported missing.

The Trotters, returning home entered the house through the front door and reportedly heard someone leaving by the back door.

Matches, which had apparently been used for light, were scattered over the floor.

New VA Office Location Told

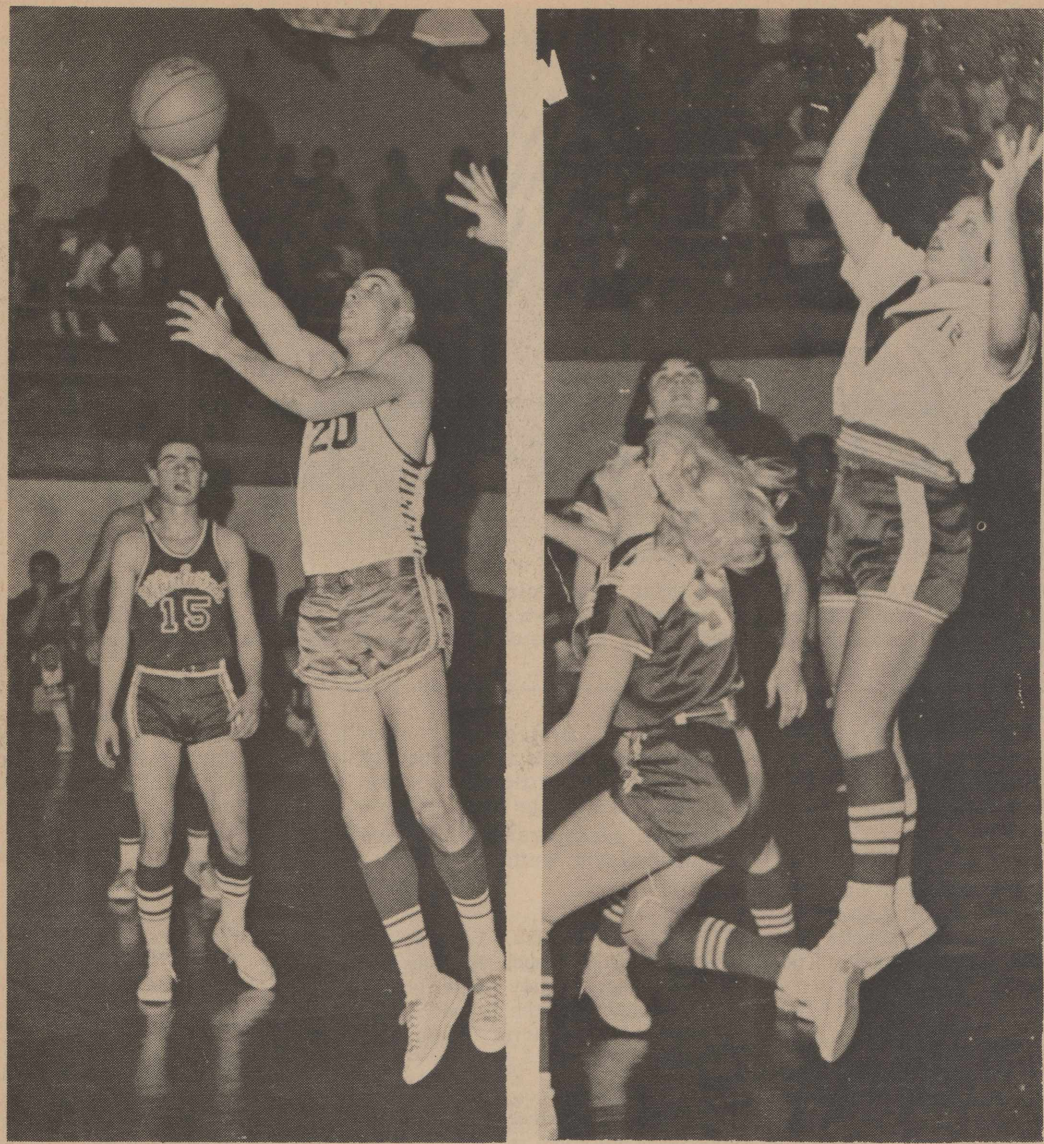

Veterans are advised to bring all forms connected with disability, schooling or other matters to this office for assistance in filling them out as forms mailed to Waco, nearest regional office, will take considerable time to correct.

Certain VA functions will remain at Lubbock, including the outpatient clinic.

All Veterans Administration work in Lamb County will now go through the office of C. L. Walker, county services officer for the VA, Littlefield.

This announcement comes after the closing of the Lubbock Veterans Administration Regional Office recently.

Walker's office is located downstairs in the Lamb County court house.

Both Olton teams continue their quest for wins here Friday night, taking on teams from Abernathy in district competition. The girls play at 7 p.m. and the boys meet immediately thereafter.

Next Tuesday night, Olton teams will travel to Floydada for a pair of games.

Sherry Caddel scored 31 points to lead the Fillies to their win at Lockney, 51-48. Olton came from a 26-21 half-time deficit to a 36-33 third quarter lead and maintained it for a three point win.

Karen Hipp tallied 13 and Susan Norfleet seven to aid the Olton cause. Laura Akin paced the defense with eight rebounds while Kathie Kidd had four and Renay Berry three.

The Mustangs were even with the Longhorns at the half, 19-19, then managed a two-point lead at the end of three quarters, 35-33.

But Lockney rolled from behind for a 57-50 win, paced by Bob Kropp's 17 points.

For Olton, Jerry LaFrance and Charles Church each had 14, while Joe Priest tallied eight and Darryl Glover and Dennis Givens, six each.

At Dimmitt Tuesday night, the Fillies lost their game, 51-32, as Sherry Caddel scored 16, Karen Hipp 13 and Susan Norfleet three.

Laura Akin led the rebounders with seven, while Kathie Kidd had five.

The Mustangs lost to the Dimmitt Bobcats, 63-39, despite putting on one of their best performances of the year, according to the Coach Lester Ramsey. LaFrance led the Ponies with 13 points, while Church had 11. Priest and Givens had six each, and Glover three.

LABOR SAVING ? See For Yourself !

Would you ever believe you could get 175-80 pound bags of fertilizer in just one TIDE Tilt-Box? You sure can. Count them. Using Tide's Tilt-Box you don't have to handle a single bag. . . simply open a gate and fill your fertilizer applicator in minutes. Labor saving? I'll say it is!

HOW TIDE'S TILT-BOX SERVES YOU:

Tide's TILT-BOX, pictured above, is an air-tight, all weather container. It keeps your fertilizer dry, fresh, and free-flowing. This TILT-BOX puts 14,000 pounds of fertilizer where you want it. . . at the most convenient location to the field and high enough to make loading any type of application equipment easy.

PRESCRIPTION MIX FERTILIZER

Tide takes soil samples from your land, and sends them to an independent testing laboratory free of charge, to determine exactly what your soil contains. Then your fertilizer is mixed from high analysis raw materials to fit your exact requirements. Because it is made "on order", your fertilizer is fresh, dry and free-flowing.

ECONOMICAL

Ease of handling fertilizer in Tide equipment reduces cost. . . saves time and labor. One man can fill an applicator or spreader with Tide fertilizer in 2 or 3 minutes simply by opening a gate. With "prescription-mix", you buy only the nitrogen phosphate, and potash your soil tests shows you need. High analysis fertilizer cuts material handling costs. No bags to handle (unless you want it bagged) and storage is no problem, as Tide's Tilt-Box holding 14,000 pounds, provides air-tight delivery and storage at the end of the row.

TIDE SERVICES

Tide grower services and products are planned to save time and labor. . . help take the guess-work out of farming. Agricultural Consultants, free soil tests, and Tide's custom-designed, weather-proof, delivery and storage equipment, cut your production costs. TRY TIDE. . . you'll be glad you did.

Symbol of Quality

Only the BEST . . . is fit to be TIDE

Hair Heads Heart Gifts

The appointment of Laus Hair as the Heart Association Memorial Gifts chairman of the Texas Heart Association's Olton city activities was announced today by Robert H. Mitchell, M.D., president of the State Association. Hair will serve the entire city, receiving memorial gifts which will be used to support programs aimed at conquering this nation's number one health problem -- heart diseases.

Contributions mailed to him at Olton State Bank will be acknowledged to the bereaved family and a receipt sent to the donor.

Hair explained that more deaths result from heart diseases in Texas than from all other causes combined.

The Heart Fund, a large part of which is the income from Memorial Gifts, is now in its 16th year. More than $100,000, 000 has been provided by the Heart Association for the conquest of diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

Social Security Representative To Be In Olton

The Social Security Administration reminded residents this week that regardless of an employee's age, an employer must report an employee's earnings and pay the social security tax if that employee earns as much as $50 cash in a three-month period.

Room and board do not count in this figure.

Baby sitting for a son or daughter does not count toward social security coverage. For those under 21 years of age, work for parents does not count either.

All self-employed baby-sitters, those who work in their own homes, who have net earnings of $400 or more must file tax returns and pay social security tax.

A social security representative will be in Olton at the city hall Feb. 10 at 9:30 a.m.

SISTER VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Black of Odessa spent a few days last week in the home of C. C. Black,

75 Attend Firemen's Appreciation Dinner

About 75 persons were on hand Tuesday night as Olton volunteer firemen sponsored an appreciation dinner at Hamill's Restaurant.

A. C. Black, captain and fire marshal at Lubbock, was speaker of the evening.

"I have always held volunteer firemen in the highest esteem," Black said. "In a town like yours, they're the only ones who can put a stop to a fire."

"In Lubbock, we are paid to be firemen and if the pay check ceases, we quit," Black added. "That's why I never cease to be amazed at the dedication shown by volunteer firemen such as you have here in Olton."

Following Black's talk, he showed color slides of the state fire school held each summer at Texas A&M.

The program was introduced by Tom Smith, who is in his 13th year as fire chief here. Emcee was Bub Holt, secretary-treasurer of the volunteer fire department.

Other officers of the volunteer firemen are Harold Jordan, assistant fire chief; and Bailey Hair, Joe Chester and Percy Parsons, captains.

Holt recognized several long-time members of the department, including Eldon Franks, Marshall Stone, Howard Hall, Tom Smith and W. B. Smith.

Missionaries To Visit Here

Missionaries Bryan and Cecile Mock, appointed by the Assemblies of God to Venezuela, South America, will be speaking at Assembly of God Church here on Sunday morning Feb. 7 from 9:45 through 12:00 noon, announces Pastor Rev. Donald B. Martin.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mock spent four years in South America previously and are now engaged in visiting the various churches of the denomination while on customary furlough.

"Altogether," the emcee said, "these men have put in some 130-140 years of service in the department."

Several guests were introduced by Holt, among them city councilmen Doug Jones, Charles Jones and Bill Kemp, water superintendent W. F. Williamson, city secretary Bernice Smith, city clerk Billie Hall, Enterprise editor Bill Turner, city judge W. B. Smith, police chief Emmett Burrows, night officer Harvey Castleberry, and deputy sheriff Homer Whisenand.
