Wolves Stun Stamford 13-0

By PHIL RIDDLE

Anyone making the trek to Stamford Friday evening, was treated to one of the finest high school football games ever as the Colorado City Wolves defeated the Bulldogs of Stamford by a 13-0 score.

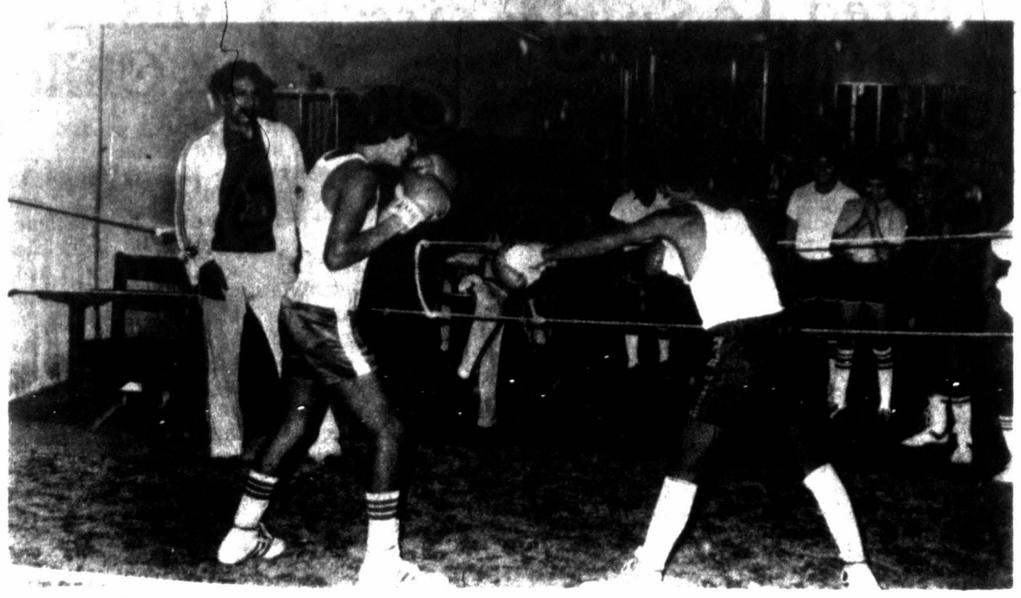

As the low tally indicates, it was a defensive battle from the outset.

When the Bulldogs first took the ball, it looked as if they would be content to grind out a few yards each play and wait for a defensive miscue on the part of the Wolves. The mistake never came the 'Dogs' way. They did, however, seek out a pair of first downs early in the first quarter before the Wolves defense shut them down and forced a Stamford punt.

The Colorado City offense had the ball only three plays before they, too, had to give up the ball.

Following the C-City punt, the Bulldogs were setting up shop on the Wolves 45 yard stripe. Stamford quarterback, Ted Scarborough, tossed a pass a little too close to defender Mike Scott and Scott took his

Water Amendment Fails In State Voting

Two of the seven proposed amendments of the Texas Constitution which were voted on Tuesday did not pass, the water conservation and budget management amendments.

Commentary on why the water amendment that was voted on did not pass, was that people throughout Texas thought it to be too sectional, only good for West Texas. But according to specialists, they are forecasting by the year 2,000 there will be an estimated 20 million persons in Texas as compared to the present population of 14 million and with the present water consumption, there will not be enough water to accommodate that many people.

Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter commented that this was the second time an amendment of this nature failed and hopefully it will be evident to the legislature that they will need a good plan and say this is what we need and sell it. In order to sell something, you must believe in it.

Some 453 voters in Mitchell County turned out to the polls to cast their decisions with the following results:

Precinct one had 178 voters with 68 for amendment one and 106 against; 129 for amendment two and 47 against; 41 for amendment three and 134 against; 120 for amendment four and 57 against; 122 for amendment five and 54 against; 112 for amendment six and 62 against and 113 for amendment seven and 63 against.

Precinct two had 57 voters with 18 for amendment one and 34 against; 38 for amendment 38 and 15 against; eight for amendment three and 41 against; 26 for amendment four and 26 against; 44 for amendment five and 14 against; 29 for amendment six and 20 against and 31 for amendment seven and 21 against.

Precinct three had 115 voters with 52 for amendment one and 59 against; 92 for amendment two and 20 against; 27 for amendment three and 85 against; 62 for amendment four and 50 against; 74 for amendment five and 39 against; 72 for amendment six and 41 against and 66 for amendment seven and 45 against.

Precinct four had 71 voters with 16 for amendment one and 52 against; 40 for amendment two and 31 against; five for amendment three and 64 against; 25 for amendment four and 46 against; 47 for amendment five and 22 against; 32 for amendment six and 37 against and 40 for amendment seven and 28 against.

Precinct seven had 18 voters with seven for amendment one and 11 against; 14 for amendment two and three against; two for amendment three and 12 against; 10 for amendment four and seven against; 11 for amendment five and five against; 12 for amendment six and five against and 16 for amendment seven and two against.

There were 14 absentee voters with three for amendment one and 11 against; 11 for amendment two and thee against; two for amendment three and 12 against; seven for amendment four and seven against; eight for amendment five and six against; seven for amendment six and seven against and nine for amendment seven and five against.

On a local level, Mitchell County voters approved amendments two, four, five, six and seven, but state wide, amendments three and four failed and all the others passed.

Colorado High School Band To Compete In State Competition

The Colorado High School Wolves' Band has reached the maximum goal of any competitive student, the opportunity to compete in state competition.

Tuesday, the CHS Band brought home the First Division marching title from the University Interscholastic League (UIL) Marching Contest held in Abilene.

They competed against bands from Stamford, Wylie, Merkel, Clyde, Breckenridge and Childress, according to Band Director Bill Shipp.

Shipp stated, "Up until three years ago, this would have been the biggest achievement a band could have made, but UIL decided to have a state competition in which one band from a region would be selected to compete and Wednesday, our band was chosen. We are very happy and honored because this is the ultimate goal," he added.

They will travel to Austin on November 23 and 24 to compete against a large number of bands for the state title.

In conclusion, Shipp stated, "We are all very excited and the kids worked very hard in the past eight weeks preparing for this contest and we will continue, because they have set a very high goal and are willing to give it what it takes to be winners."

CHRISTY MORENO was crowned "Fiesta Day Queen" during ceremonies held at the St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Loraine Sunday, October 31 as she raised a total of $1,600. Coordinator of the activities, Manuella Pantoja, stated a grand total of $2,569.43 was raised for the church and $972 was raised at Sunday's activities. Patty Munoz, another contestant, raised $569 and Christina Vasquez raised $400.43. Mrs. Pantoja stated this was the first "Fiesta Day" held since 1965 and the response was excellent.

Burnett Is New Representative

State Representative Dick Burnett, of San Angelo, expressed satisfaction with the redistricting plan from the Texas House of Representatives approved by the Legislative Redistricting Board last Wednesday.

The district of Mitchell, Coke, Sterling and Tom Green Counties comprise a strong rural business district, Representative Burnett stated.

I feel that the cities of Colorado City, Robert Lee, Bronte, Stering City and San Angelo have a strong committment led only to farming, ranching and the oil industries that the conservative ideologies swear with, Burnett commented.

However, he added, this new district will not be in effect until January of 1983. While I'm eager to get busy serving the interest of Mitchell, Coke and Sterling as well as Tom Green Counties, Representative Burnett said, I still have the responsibility to

Mrs. K. McMillian Sponsors A Child From Yogyakarta

A very special commitment has been made by Mrs. K. McMillan of Colorado City, a commitment to give better health, an education, and friendship to a desperately poor child overseas. Through Foster Parents Plan, she is sponsoring Sri Wintoro in Yogyakarta and giving both the child and family the financial support and social services they need for a better life.

Foster Parents Plan is a non-profit international service agency. It has no political or religious affiliation.

Mrs. McMillan and Sri are getting acquainted through letters. Foster Parents Plan has also sent a photograph of the Foster Child and a case history telling all about the child and family; their living conditions, health, and special needs. A new picture and a Progress Report each year will update the many good things happening to the child because of this sponsorship help.

The sponsorship funds Mrs. McMillan is sending for Sri are helping to provide additional food and clothing as well as an education and any needed medical or dental care. The child's entire family is assisted through the services available at the Plan Field Office. Whenever the neighborhood has special needs, Plan staff members work with community people to accomplish their project.

Education is considered essential in order to improve the quality of life. Therefore, all children who are old enough must attend school. The chance to attend school frequently depends on the help of a Foster Parent. Vocational training and skills' development are usually made available to older members of a child's family. These opportunities and small-scale income producing projects are significant in enabling the poor to help themselves.

Agent Says Fall Application Of Fertlizers Has Advantage

Fall application of fertilizers for next year's crop has some real advantages over waiting until next spring. Bob Benson Mitchell County Extension agent identifies some of the factors in favor of the practice.

Of first importance, it is proven that phosphorus, potassium and other plant nutrients are relatively immobile in our clay loams. When fall applied, they stay there ready for plant use next year. Except on sandy soils, fall-applied nitrogen loss is negligible. Research with grain sorghum shows equal yield response from fall and spring application on the heavier soils.

Any time after corn, sorghum or cotton harvest is a good time to fertilize. Presently, our soil moisture conditions are favorable for ammonia application and retention. If you are concerned about residue decompsotion, the present combination of warm soil, moisture and the addition of nitrogen are in your favor.

Now that much of the fertilizer is custom applied in bulk with heavy equipment, there is elss equipment, there is less danger of compaction in the fall. Good weather generally prevails making the job easier for all concerned. Availability of materials and equipment is a distinct advantage, and quite possibly, there may be price incentives now versus the price next spring. Talk to your dealer about price.

The kind and amount of fertilizer needed an best be determined by having a soil test made and interpreted in light of research that has been conducted in your area. Benson points out that the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory has recently added considerable equipment to improve soil testing. In addition, to determining nitrate nitrogen, six other tests are routinely made. The micronutrients, zinc, iron and manganese are made on request.

Prompt attention can be given soil samples received in the fall, but it may take a little longer next January or February. Information on how to collect and mail soil samples can be obtained from the office of the county Extension agent.

LONE WOLF ELECTRIC CO-OP
Salutes

Cynthia Ann Barnes

When Cynthia Ann Barnes began working for Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative in August, 1979, she was hired as a part-time employee to do general office work. Cynthia certainly proved she could do that work, and more, and now she's the system's receptionist - full time.

Cynthia is a graduate of Colorado City High School and has a degree in general business from Western Texas College.

The receptionist says the best thing about her job is that it provides her the opportunity to help members. "I especially enjoy working with elderly people," says Cynthia, who is a member of the First Assembly of God Church.

We at Lone Wolf EC are grateful for fine folks like Cynthia Barnes!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Recently I received material from a Senator on Social Security including the $122 Minimum benefits. Some Senators and Congressmen are running scared. They don't want to know their own economic policies they voted minimum benefits to be discontinued and reinstated them. Do we really need to re-elect those who are so uncertain?

The Social Security Act of 1935 originally provided income for the retired 65 year old worker; provided a program of unemployment compensation; aid for maternal and child-health service, medical care for the crippled children; welfare for the destitute elderly and the blind.

Years later Congress added the $122 Minimum benefit, it was originally a welfare plan for those whose wages were too low or jobs too few to qualify for social security. There are several programs that can provide the truly needy elderly with a much higher level of support than the $122 a month given by minimum benefit. When you hear that poor old Uncle Ned really needs the $122, you are not hearing the full truth. SSI, food stamps, medicare and aid from other programs were to improve and replace the minimum benefits.

There are 450,000 double dippers who are retired from federal government jobs, many receive $16,000 a year from federal pensions, who worked just enough quarters to receive the minimum benefits, qualifyig for an unearned extra $122 payment meant for the very poor. There are 300,000 getting the $122 benefit whose spouses are still employed and drawing an average of $21,000 a year at their jobs. A great many are drawing the unearned benefits either are not poor or the needy could draw higher benefits from other programs.

This is why President Reagan tried to get this outdated and expensive welfare cut from the regular social security. The elderly did not understand the issue from the O'Neillocrats, liberals in Congress and the news media. Whatever happens to SS, Reagan has shrewedly appointed O'Neill; Senate Majority leader Howard Baker to get a task force to conceive a plan that assures fiscal integerity of SS. O'Neil has shot down others ideas, can he come up with a constructive idea of his own? Two can play.

Unless you write your congressmen to cut out this $122 minimum benefits, they will go right on handing out checks to double dippers who are better off than the workers whose SS payments support them thus causing bankrupcy to your Social Security.

Class Gathers After 30 Years By Ida Baird

The thirty year ago class that of 1951 was recognized and Lowell Richardson, member of the class was emcee and called the ten members who were present to the front and each told what had happened in their lives these thirty years. These members were Lowell Richardson, Barbara Pierce Bennett, Peggy Beaty Harmon, Betty Horton Pugh, Mary Rose Templeton Bowen, Marcia Versley, Billy Joe Martin, Max Shepherd, Inez Stephenson Stewart and Kenneth Merket. One of their members, Thomas Bob Long, now deceased, was missed.

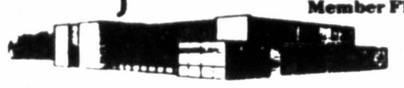

During their part of the program, Peggy Harmon told about their senior trip to New Orleans and Mary Rose Bowen gave some of the school yells that were popular in the 1950's.

In the business session, T. C. Wilson of the 1910 class, was declared the oldest and earliest class recognized. Betty Jane Pugh from Florida and Jackie Richey Holman had traveled the farthest distance. Betty Jane was recognized as Coming Home Queen. Also recognized was H. E. Charles who was principal and coach in 1931-32. Moore expressed appreciation to the lunchroom women for the fine meal and to the student council for decorations in the hall.

Patsy Beaty Walker chairman of the nominating committee, recommended Ronnie Blair for 1982 president and his wife, Debbie as secretary. They were elected by acclamation.

George Martin gave the benediction and several left for class reunions held that afternoon.

Q. Just what should be included in a tune-up, and how often should I perform one?

A. It's good practice to follow your owner's manual for frequency of tune-up. A thorough tune-up would include a compression test. The ignition system should also be thoroughly tested, including coil voltage output, sparkplug cables, insulation and gap. For cars made prior to 1975 with conventional ignition systems, the breaker points and condenser should be checked and replaced if necessary. The distributor cap should be checked for cracks, burning or other wear. Ignition timing is important and necessary to distributor adjustments. Finally, all air and fuel filters should be replaced if dirty, carburetor adjustments should be made, and emission control valves, hydraulic valves and shock absorbers should be inspected.

Butler Reads Scriptures

Loraine Baptist women met at the church at 2:30 p.m., Monday for their regular meeting. Mrs. T. L. Holman presided and announced the subject of study, "Needed: Evangelism and Church Development Missionaries."

Mrs. Clara Butler read scriptures and the prayer calendar and Mrs. Holman led the prayer for missionaries for the day. Those assisting in giving the program were Mmes. Bernice Hallmark, Charlie Harris, Frances Porter, Pauline Smiley and Harvey Leach.

It was found that evangelism and church missionaries are needed urgently in foreign countries and 84 new foreign missionaries were appointed in July by the foreign mission board, the most ever appointed.

Their needs are many, both spiritual and physical. In Korea, where more than 20,000 people accepted Christ in 1980, nationals and missionaries are asking that field evangelist come to help bring these new Christians into the churches and to train them.

Countries of French speaking West Africa need field evangelists. There and in other places of the world, the doors are open now, but they could be closed within several years. Missionaries who served in Vietnam urged Southern Baptists to send out field evangelists while the doors were open. In April 1975, when South Vietnam fell, the doors were closed and we could no longer send missionaries. Too little too late.

During the business, a goal of $1,500 was set for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. Also announced was the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions has been set for Nov. 29-Dec. 6 and the Foreign Mission book review will be on Nov. 19 at the church beginning at 9 a.m. A covered dish meal will be served at noon. Mrs. Bob Manning of Westbrook, will review the book.

What Can I Ask?

Lord, I cannot ask to be made fearless
in such a world as ours,
For only a fool could be unafraid.
I cannot ask to be made absolutely certain of how things should go,
For no human can assume infallibility.
I cannot even ask to be exempt from perplexity,
For life is marked by the process of trial and error.
I cannot expect deliverance from pressure and tension,
from conflicts engendered by human differences,
from problems created by our own blundering.
What can I ask?
Steadiness — to hang on to hope in spite of my fears.
Openness —
to listen to other voices from other rooms, in spite of their strangeness.
Commitment —
to those things in which I believe,
to affirm them in the face of opposition.
I can ask for those things, O God,
for I know I badly need them.
And I know you have promised them
In Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

interception and returned it to the midfield mark.

The Colorado City offense once again got only three plays before punting the pigskin back to the Stamford bunch. The Bulldogs took over on the Colorado City 44.

The 'Dogs began a long march and it seemed that they had the Wolves on the run as they ripped off three first downs and worked the ball down to the C.C. 27 yard line.

A third and 17 pass from Scarborough to Wayne Crenshaw ricocheted off the shoulder pads of the receiver into the waiting hands of Mike Scott. Scott returned his second interception 50 yards to the Stamford 23.

Once again the offense could sustain nothing and were forced to give the ball back to the Bulldogs.

Stamford's first down saw Randy McPhaul, Randy Uselton and Scott Free beat their blocks and meet in the back field to stop tailback Tony Gardner for a two yard loss.

Two more tries at the middle of the Wolves defensive line net Stamford but one yard and they again dropped into punt formation.

The pass from center was fumbled by the kicker and he was given no time to recover as Tom Rees, Scott Free and Dane Powell smothered him.

Opening the second quarter, the Wolves were still having trouble with the tough Bulldog defense and were once again faced with a punting situation. Punter Dennis Heredia kicked the ball into the endzone for a touch back.

The next Stamford possession was marked by pressure applied by the Colorado City defensive line, namely Todd Neff and Randy McPhaul. These two shut down the Stamford running game and caused incompletion after incompletion by being in the Bulldog backfield.

The Wolves took over on the C.C. 36 and began to look as if something might be stirring in the offensive stew pot. Running right and left with Victor Jackson doing most of the work, the Wolves completely fooled the Bulldogs with a simple off-tackle run by Mike Scott who turned it into a thirty yard touchdown run. The point after was successful and the Wolves led 7-0 with only :48 left in the first half.

The half finally ended after the referee for reasons known only to himself, put thirteen seconds back on the game clock after time had expired in the half.

The Wolves returned to the field to the Strains of "Rocky" from the Colorado City Band and the confidence was almost tangible as they set up for the second half.

The Wolves started from their own 35 yard line and ran up a first down before they were shut down by the Stamford defense. The Stamford possession saw the Wolves defense shine brighter than ever as Free, Neff, Uselton, Stacey Tarter, Heredia and Dalton Maddox completely stifled the Stamford offense at every turn.

When the Colorado City boys took over, only two plays were needed to once again strike pay-dirt. Jeff Hammonds slipped through the middle of the Bulldog line and rambled for 75 yards to the Stamford one yard line.

Hammonds scored on a keeper on the very next play. The PAT was no good but the score stood at 13-0 in favor of the Wolves.

The defense stood and fought the rest of the game as the Bulldogs tried in vain to come up with some points.

The Wolves victory keeps them in the thick of the district 7-AAA race and sets up a key match-up next week as the Wolves travel to Breckenridge to play the Buckaroos.

VICTOR JACKSON (20) runs for daylight with the help of his two big buddies. Jackson's running and the blocking of these two linemen were very integral parts in the Wolves 13-0 shut-out of Stamford in Bulldog Stadium last Friday evening.

Freshmen Wolves' Defeat Clyde In Satisfying Victory Of 24-6

Colorado High School Freshmen Wolves' team Coach Raymond Zamarippa gave the following comments on the past two Freshmen games against Clyde and Stamford.

He said, when they played Clyde here the Wolves downed them 24-6 and this was a satisfying victory for them as Clyde had beat them 46-6 the previous week. Another reason it was such a good victory, added Zamarippa, was this was the first time the Clyde team had been defeated in the last two years.

The Wolves played exceptionally well and were in control of the entire game. At the end of the half, the Wolves had them down 18-0 and the next scores were in the third quarter when the Wolves made another touchdown. Clyde scored their only score of the game during this quarter also.

As for the game Thursday night, our defense was fantastic and our offense did exceptionally well, as they defeated the Stamford Bulldogs 40-6.

All the Wolves' scores came in the first half, with two touchdowns on pass interceptions by the defense, two touchdowns on passes and two touchdowns on drives. Two extra points were made by successful kicks and one came on an extra point run, added Zamarippa.

The only score the Bulldogs made was in the third quarter, when they intercepted a pass and made a long run.

All I can say, stated Zamarippa, is "they did a fantastic and super job and have a lot to be proud of."
