During the course of this discussion City Attorney Richard Hatch told the council and district officials that one of

The Pirate baseball team will open its season tomorrow night at 7 p.m., against the Sinton team, at Sinton.

According to Coach "Sonny" Watkins, practice started on March 15, with 25 boys reporting, of which six were lettermen from last year's squad. These were Martin Garcia, pitcher; Bobby Edwards, first base; Ray Brown, left field; Jerry Hill, short stop; Mike Jeffers, pitcher; and Jay Doegey, center field.

Probable starters for tomorrow night's game are Garcia, p; Jeffers, c; Brown, 1b; Hill, 2b; Eugene Solis, ss; Donald Glass, 3b; Doegey, cf; Gary Stryker, rf; and George Thornton, lf.

On the squad, besides those already mentioned, are Dennis Davenport, Dicky Drummond, Chris Edwards, Phil Howard, Leo Huerta, Randy Itschner, Mike Lane, Ezequiel Lopez, Richard McMakin, Jody Rouquette, Jim Russell, Robert Spielman, Joe Torres, David Vevra, and John Wall, and Bobby Edwards.

the means used by the San Patricio Water District to induce Taft to use water from the district was the inference, by the San Patricio district, that unless Taft took the water it might not be able to get it later, as San Patricio would have sold it to Rockport.

Hatch argued that the City of Rockport could obtain water from San Patricio, which, members of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District said was perfectly true.

However, they pointed out that in such case, the whole cost of the pipeline necessary to bring water to Rockport would have to borne by property owners within the city limits, where, the assessed valuation is only a little over $3,000,000. District officials thought that this might be outside the financial capabilities of the city.

District officials told councilmen that in a recent conference with San Patricio officials, these officials had indicated that their district was much interested in building a treatment plant to serve this area with treated water, and that if this was done, it would cost about $881,000 from the estimated cost of a permanent supply here.

However, this would still leave in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 in costs that would have to be borne by the city, if it wanted to have its private water supply, without dealing with the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District.

Mayor Hollis Collum asked Harold Picton, chairman of the conservation district, where the money for a survey of water needs had been obtained, and stated that he was completely unaware that a county-wide election had been held, approving the bonds for this purpose two years ago.

In other business, councilmen appointed a Board of Equalization, consisting of George Dickey, J. P. Hanway, and Thomas Rogers.

Changes were also made in election officials for the city election, due to the fact that some appointed earlier had left the city.

Those who will handle the April 6 election now are Mrs. Alvin Brundrett, Mrs. Olivia Zambrana, Mrs. Allen Johnson, Byron T. Hardeman and Mrs. Elbert Mundine.

A request by Police Chief Robert Hewes for 39 yield and one stop signs, to be installed at various locations throughout the city was approved, and councilmen also authorized the taking of applications for a patrolman to aid Hewes in policing the city. Such applications must be in the hands of City Secretary Mrs. Mary Lake Segler not later than April 10.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young made space flight history Tuesday by skillfully maneuvering their space ship, the Molly Brown during its three orbits of the earth. After 4 hours, 54 minutes, and 81,000 miles, the astronauts hit the general target area in the Atlantic Ocean, but missed the bull's eye by 50 to 60 nautical miles. Grissom and Young were quickly picked up by helicopter after their capsule landed and taken to the aircraft carrier Intrepid.

Aransas Pass Church to Present Sacred Music

The Episcopal Church of Our Saviors in Aransas Pass, will present the Choir from St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Houston in a concert of sacred music Saturday evening at 7:30, March 27.

After a singing of the traditional Evensong Service, the choir will present the "Requiem" of Gabriel Faure. According to the Vicar of Our Saviour Church, The Rev. James P. Giddings, this work is singularly appropriate for performance during the Lenten period, and is of such a length that it can be used in the conduct of a liturgical service. It has been said that this is the only Requiem composed since Mozart that is suitable both for concert performance and for liturgical use in the church.

The St. Thomas Choir will be under the direction of Mr. John W. Moseley, B. Mus., M.S.M., who is the organist and choirmaster there. He was in Aransas Pass in December to play the Dedicatory Recital on the church's new Allen organ.

The choir will number over 30 singing voices, and will be accompanied by organ. The program will be open to the public without charge. A free will offering will be received.

New Mathematics To Be Taught Here

Elementary schools in the local system will start teaching a new mathematics course next September, according to an announcement made today. Decision to do this was made after a two-year study in which teachers familiarized with the "new math," Thomas E. Dannelly, director of instruction said.

During this time teachers participated in an in-service training program learning new methods of teaching, new terminology, and a new organization of the curriculum. Following this period of study, a committee reviewed several programs offered by publishing companies before selecting one for use in the local schools.

The program selected retains much of the traditional mathematics, Dannelly said, while introducing new mathematical concepts, and will provide students with an orderly transition.

On March 29-30, Mina Marie Miller, education consultant of the Laidlaw Publishing Co., whose program was adopted, will explain the program further at noon on Monday, and with all elementary school teachers Monday afternoon from 3:30 until 5 o'clock.

During these meetings she will demonstrate to teachers how to organize their entire program, and what students are expected to learn each year, as well as how to present the new material.

Tuesday she will visit the various elementary schools and meet with teachers in grade level meetings, giving them the same information.

School Library Open One Night Each Week

The high school library was opened one night this past week in answer to a student request for more library research time, according to Mrs. Lloyd Branch, librarian.

Before the library was opened, she said, a poll revealed that approximately half the students in high school would welcome such an opportunity.

On the opening night, 66 students were present, and their response to the opportunity was so sincere, Mrs. Branch said, that the school administration has approved opening each Thursday night from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Senator Ralph Yarborough will be the featured speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Sea Gun Sports Inn Restaurant Saturday night, at which Rockport's Young Man of the Year will be named, and Chamber of Commerce officers installed.

New officers for the year are Miss Lola L. Bonner, a local attorney, president; John Ross, assistant manager of Central Power and Light Co., first vice president; Mrs. James A. Jarboe, public relations council for Aransas Natural Gas, second vice president; and Charles LaBounty, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank, treasurer. All of them were re-elected by acclamation at the February meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Five new directors will take office at the same time. They are C. E. Frenzel, of Frenzel Motors; Edward Harper, Key Allegro Development and Sales Co.; Jerre Ledbetter, inkeeper at Sea Gun Sports Inn; D. H. Roberts, in charge of the Lamar plant of Tenneco Oil Co.; and James H. Sorenson, Jr. executive vice president of the First National Bank of Rockport.

Also, this year, for the first time, the Chamber of Commerce will honor Rockport's man of the year. Nominations for this were made by various civic organizations in the area, and the work of obtaining these nominations was carried out by a Chamber committee, headed by Roberts, who presented the names to the board of directors, who then voted secretly for the man of their choice. His name will be announced at the banquet, and he will be presented with a token as an expression of the Chamber's gratitude for the outstanding work he has done.

Gordon Stanley At Marineland Sets Some Sort of Record

Gordon Stanley out at Marineland set some sort of record recently, for it took three years of arm-twisting by a customer before he would agree to part with a brand new 1941 motor he had in stock.

If this sounds unusual there's a reason, for there's quite a story behind this motor. It had apparently been sold to the Armed Forces and never used. When acquired by Marineland three years ago, it was still in the original carton.

The City of Corpus Christi got it from the U.S. Naval Base with Bureau of Ships markings on the carton. A Marineland customer, who lived in Corpus Christi, had obtained the motor and sold it to Gordon and his partner, Charles Maslonka.

Gordon used the 9.7 h.p. 1941 Model as a conversation piece for three years, finally, after much prodding by Fred Earnest, sold the motor to him. The motor had corks in the spark plug holes, Stanley said, and his main trouble in making it ready to go was in obtaining the right-sized spark plugs, which he finally did.

ROCKPORT STUDENTS STUDY GEOGRAPHY

Third grade students at Rockport Elementary, under supervision of Mrs. John Haynes, Mrs. Acie Martin, Mrs. Fred James and Mrs. Simon Lee Sorenson been studying the geography of messages.

During the week several visitors demonstrated various methods by which these are sent and received.

C. E. McElveen gave a talk on moving picture shows, and gave each pupil a piece of film thus enabling them to see the size of a picture before it is projected on the screen.

Shelley Roatan talked to the children about his hobby, ham radio, and showed them a number of pieces of the equipment he uses. The fact that with this equipment he can talk to people all around the world caused much excitement among the students, and they were very interested in the method he uses to call other radio operators.

Mrs. E. Shank demonstrated the use of a walkie-talkie, and the children enjoyed listening to a conversation between him in the building and Mrs. Sorenson on the outside. This method of communication has a range of about five miles, Mrs. Shank said.

Sheriff Joe Earl Hunt gave an interesting demonstration on use of radio for law enforcement.

M. A. Rowan explained post office operations and the need for constant improvements in handling mail. He also showed "When The Mail Stopped," a film showing sorting, collecting, transporting and final delivery of the mail.

Diseases due to dietary deficiencies are rare in the U. S.

Shrimp Landings Drop Slightly

Landings of headless shrimp at Texas ports in February amounted to 1,689,000 pounds. This was slightly below January landings, according to U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service Statistician Ormon H.

Farley, but still 300,000 pounds greater than the same month last year.

Current landings consisted of 60 per cent pink shrimp from the Campeche Banks, 22 per cent white shrimp from waters off the north Texas and Spatheastern Louisiana coasts, and 18 per cent brown shrimp from adjacent waters and the high seas off Mexico.

The Brownsville-Port Isabel area accounted for about 56% of the total in February, Farley said, and 72 per cent in January, with the Aransas Pass-Rockport area in second place each month.

The following were the landings at the principal ports, with a comparison of the landings for the first two months of the year as compared with the same period a year ago:

Port Arthur-Sabine area, 112,500 pounds in February, with 130,600 pounds for January and February, 1965, as compared with 68,100 pounds for the same period in 1964.

Galveston - Seabrook area, 36,800 pounds, 74,400 pounds, 67,700 pounds.

Matagorda - Palacios area: 4300 pounds, 11,700 pounds, 20,300 pounds.

Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift area: 15,100 pounds, 49,400 pounds, 24,900 pounds.

Aransas Pass - Rockport

area: 356,400 pounds, 703,600 pounds, and 643,400 pounds.

Brownsville - Port Isabel area: 1,110,400 pounds, 2,530,400 pounds, and 2,100,500 pounds.

Totals, all ports: 1,689,900 pounds 3,648,400 pounds and 3,154,200 pounds.

Trawlers from Texas ports made short, broken trips, Farley said, as weather conditions were highly unsettled during February.

The white shrimp fishery was fairly active from Aransas Pass northward and concentrated in the area around Sabine Pass. Vessels fishing for brown shrimp were largely confined to waters beyond the 23-fathom curve, and from Freeport southward to the distant Tuxpam area on the high seas off Mexico.

The pink shrimp fishery was very active, Farley stated, with an enormous number of Florida and Texas vessels working the Campeche Banks.

The oyster fishery produced about 400,000 pounds of good quality meats in February, a decrease of about 38 per cent compared to February, 1964.

However, he said, public reefs are still producing exceptionally well considering the past record production year and the ever-increasing number of dredge units operating in the fishery. Meat yields ranged from 2 to 2 1/2 gallons per Texas barrel of 290 pounds of shell stock.

Blue crab landings were extremely light, with the four producing plants reporting only 60,000 pounds of live crabs.

Finfish landings amounted to 175,000 pounds during February, as the smaller snapper vessels were confined to port by rough weather, or only made short, broken trips.

Rockport Yacht And Supply To Be On TV Friday

Rockport Yacht and Supply will be the subject of a TV show Friday night, after KRIS TV crews have been occupied in filming the operations of the business. The script of the show, which will appear at 6 p.m. and at 10 p.m. Friday is as follows:

Something new has been added recently to the city of Rockport, and the Channel 6 cameras visited the city this month to bring you another story of a growing area industry.

The Rockport Yacht and Supply Co., which has been building commercial fishing boats for some time, has received an order, and is now building a new kind of steel trawler for use in the swirling waters near the Amazon River in French Guiana.

Administrative Manager John Mitchell, like all the employees of the company, was eager to talk about the new fleet of boats, and show our reporter around the yard. Any growing business must have its office staff and the Rockport Yacht and Supply Co. is no exception. The office crew of the company are just as proud as anyone of the new crafts, and well they should be.

In all, the company has 106 full time employees. The president of the firm is T. Noah Smith, who unfortunately was not able to be there the day our reporter was on the scene. The officer manager is Bob Ayers and chief engineer for the firm is Albert Silchenstedt. Silchenstedt designed the boats, and will be the first to say that it is a long way from his drawing board to the actual launching of the craft. The designer was asked to build a faster and sturdier boat than the conventional shrimp trawler; a large order, but the results can speak for themselves.

Henderson's Portion Pak, Inc. placed on order with the company for 15 of the steel trawlers. The company, which is among the world's largest operators of shrimp trawlers, was having difficulty with the old type trawler being used in the strong and unpredictable currents near the coast of French Guiana. Rockport Yacht and Supply rose to the challenge. Construction began, and the first three vessels were launched and sailed to Cayenne, French Guiana last November.

Facilities to build the steel shrimpers were already available when the new building began, but it was necessary to hire more employees. Under Silchenstedt's direction, the trawlers are carefully constructed. Experienced welders, carpenters and electricians are used for the actual building, which takes place both inside and out of the yacht hanger. A Rockport contractor, John Beasley, does the sand blasting and the painting of the hulls. Every hull gets three coats of inorganic zinc and then a series of other coatings to a thickness of 12 to 15 mils on the sides and bottom. Silchenstedt designed a new v-bottom, 20 foot beam hull to give the craft its needed sturdiness. The trawler will carry a capacity of 50 tons of ice.

The inside appearance of the boats is more like that of a pleasure craft than a fishing boat. There are berths for the captain, mate, and four crew members, and the vessel is equipped with a toilet and a shower. She is outfitted with electronics equipment and a depth recorder is mounted on the port bulkhead.

Our reporter was fortunate to be on hand for the departure of three of the finished vessels for French Guiana. Excitement mounted the dock as the Debutante, The Dutchess, and The Countess were given last minute checks, including a thrust check to determine the power of its engines, before setting sail.

Work all but halted at the Rockport Yacht and Supply Company, as the workers took a last look at the fruits of their labors sailing out into the bay. As one member of the office staff put it, "I can't help but feel a certain pride. It's as if Major Donald C. Meek, retired from the United States Air Force, has recently joined the sales force at Commercial Motor Company, it was announced by W. E. Boekne, president, this week.

Major Meek, who lives with his family in Rockport, will represent the company in the Rockport-Fulton area. Prior to being recalled to active duty in 1947 Meek was associated with the Ford Dealership in Greencastle, Ind.

Meek, a command pilot, enlisted in the Army Air Corps in October 1942 and became an aerial gunner. He went through aviation flying training as a flying sergeant, and was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation in September 1944. IT'S ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER IN WORLD'S FAIR PAVILIONS

"Fair is Fair" by Richard Rogers is the Official Song of the New York World's Fair.

A fine title—even if Rodgers wasn't referring to fact that it's always fair weather inside the air conditioned pavilions of the Fair. And most of these pavilions are air conditioned by gas.

Regardless of how large or how hot the day, comfort is commonplace and complaints about the heat belong to those treading their way between pavilions. For gas air conditioning with its controlled humidity is one of the accomplishments of this age.

Within the 646 acres of the Fair are functioning the greatest variety of gas air conditioning installations ever assembled anywhere.

Even Birds Check With Mrs. Hagar

Even the birds she observes have heard about Mrs. Jack Hagar, Rockport's internationally-known birdwatcher, and strange species traveling through apparently report to her, although they sometimes lose their lives in the attempt. At any rate, that was the way it looked Wednesday morning when the first grove-billed ani to be seen in these parts for many years was hit by a car as it consorted with a flock of grackles along the road side in front of Mrs. Hagar's home. There have been anis here in the past, Mrs. Hagar said, but these Mexican birds rarely travel far north of the border, where they are sometimes referred to as black parrots. They're not really parrots at all, but a close relation of the cuckoo tribe the paisano or roadrunner. Anis are such peculiar and unique birds that when seen singly or in flocks of their own kind they can hardly be mistaken for anything else. They are the only long, slender, black birds in this area with long tails, short wings, and a huge bill, three or four times the size other birds of the same size sport. And, in regions where they nest, observers have observed equally unusual nesting habits, two or three pairs using the same nest, in which they may lay as many as 15 or 20 eggs, all the members of all the pairs taking turns to incubate. The bird that Mrs. Hagar has, which was retrieved by some neighboring children, is a slender, graceful one, about the size of the grackles that are so prevalent in this area at this time of the year, and the feathers on its back and neck are edged with a dull, iridescent bronze green, not seen when observed through glasses.

In South and Central America, where anis are more common, it is also known as the black witch and tickbird, the last coming from its habit of eating ticks that infest cattle.

VFW POST HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

At its regular meeting Tuesday night, Commander Charles Garrett asked all members to be thinking about nomination of new officers, which will take place at the next meeting on April 13, 1965.

Quartermaster H. C. Mullinax reported on the financial condition of the local post. He also reported that 145 memberships have been transmitted to national headquarters.

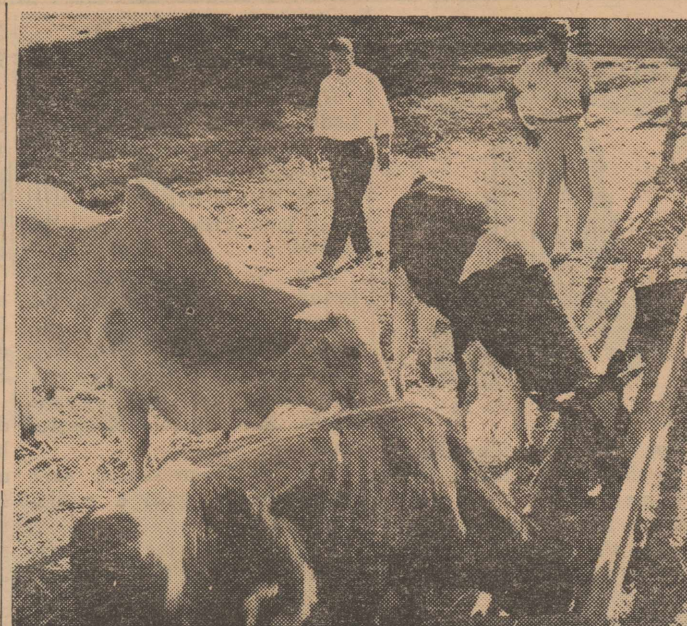

Post Service Officer J. W. Hunt will be out of town for about five days and he reported on the telegram from the local post to President Johnson, objecting to the closing of the VA hospitals.

Under unfinished business, various items were discussed, one was the erection of a new sign for the front of the building and it was decided to wait until the rebuilding project was completed.

A report was heard from Commander Garrett on the start of the Boy Scout camping area by members of the post. Also heard was a report of the beauty contest by Adjutant Bob Hewes. All post projects that are due have been sent to Austin.

Under new business, the post discussed the Lite-a-Bike program and a decision was made to wait until near the start of the new school year. Commander Garrett will present the Explorer Scouts with their charter on the 29th of March, 1965, at the VFW Hall. All VFW members are urged to attend.

Several items have been offered to the post for use by citizens of the community. These include a hospital bed and a pair of crutches. It was unanimously decided to accept these gifts along with any other that the post might be able to distribute to the needy. The meeting was closed with a prayer by acting chaplain, Green McGehee.

Son-In-Law Of Brundretts Puts Out Oil Fire

John Haseman, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Brundrett was instrumental in extinguishing the oil well fire at Southern Minerals Road, near Upriver Road in Corpus Christi this past weekend, and Bill Walraven, Caller reporter, told about in this manner:

To start a new business in the oil industry would ordinarily take a lot of equipment and financial backing, but two local men launched a new business this week with a borrowed suit and a shovel.

The borrowed suit was an asbestos fire protective suit. The shovel was used to dig up a valve hidden by sand kicked up by a wild burning well.

John Haseman, a local petroleum engineering consultant, and his cousin, Gerald Rogers, owner of Tubo-Kut Wireline Service, have been talking for weeks about plans to open up a blowout control and oilwell firefighting service. When the Southern Community Gas Co. well blew out and caught fire Saturday afternoon on Southern Minerals Road near Upriver Road, the partners warned to the opportunity.

The fire had been roaring for about 24 hours before Haseman and Rogers received clearance from Sheridan C. Lewis, Southern Community president, to attempt to kill the well.

The job took three hours. "The well exploded so suddenly that the crew had no opportunity to turn off a valve on a blowout preventer which would have shut the gas off," Haseman said.

SPORTSMEN ELECT—

Fred Christilles.

In taking office, Eckman said:

"Our organization believes in conservation of fish and other wildlife, and that all natural resources should be so used as to benefit the most people.

"To this end," Eckman continued, "the taking of fish should be regulated just like other natural resources such as oil, gas, sulphur, shell, etc."

"We do not oppose commercial fishing, we want our recreational area conserved for the benefit of the most people. We do not oppose the taking of shell, but do insist that our local reefs be protected against dredging and advocate that all dredging be done in such manner as protect, as far as possible, the feeding and nursery places of fish and oysters."

Eckman said: "We have enjoyed harmonious relations with the commercial fishermen's organization and with the personnel of the Parks and Wildlife Department, and we hope that these good men will continue to meet with us."

"Since our area is not suited for large industry," Eckman said, "we believe that our greatest natural resource is recreational. Upon careful reflection, we believe all business men will agree."

"We are confident that our entire area has benefited from our efforts. Our organization will grow and we hope all who are interested in conservation of our fast diminishing resources will join us."

Goose Tatum At Corpus Christi Coliseum, Mar. 26

They play almost every night, they're in top shape and they have perfected a bag of comedy tricks that compares favorably to the Harlem Globetrotters at their best. This is the recommendation of veteran press agent Frank J. Lee as he brings Reece (Goose) Tatum and the Harlem Roadkings into the Coliseum in Corpus Christi, Friday, March 26, for a basketball exhibition with their tour mates known as the New York Olympians.

The doors open a 7 p.m. Tatum and his comedy team gets to work at 7:30 p.m. and the game starts at 8:00.

The veteran Tatum is still an agile laugh-producer and a star basketball player. With him on tour now is his 23-year-old son, known as Goose Junior. Others on the squad include Showboat Buckner, Bill Bell, Mose Montgomery, Charlie Riley, Ramon Wilkinson, Ray Clay, Bryce Vann and Henry Brown. A good half-time show is promised.

Minnesota boasts the greatest water area of any state.

FISH TALK IS TAPED

A Harlingen junior high school student chose, as his project for a science fair, the recording of fish sounds.

On a recent trip to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Marine Laboratory in Rockport, the student, with the help of L. D. Nuckles, Information and Education Officer, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, recorded sounds of the fish in the 12 large aquaria maintained in the laboratory lobby.

A group of small sheepshead proved to be the star performers. They "talked" all the time, but the chatter became an excited bedlam when they were fed.

Redfish and drum made a few noises, but black bass would only "talk" when an offering of chopped shrimp was placed in the tank.

When the hydrophone was lowered into the tank where a small octopus was tending her eggs, she immediately investigated and appeared to like what she saw. Wrapping her arms around the waterproof mike she cradled it tenderly, but in a dead silence. Not one sound was recorded in her tank.

The student said that he had tried to record black bass being fed in a hatchery, but the voracious bass kept trying to eat the hydrophone.

Frank Gotch was one of the greatest wrestlers of all time.

COMMITTED. U. S. forces (25,000 men, backed up by 7th Fleet) are now more deeply committed than ever to defend South Vietnam in face of increasing Communist pressure. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara points to a map, showing how Geneva Conference of 1954 ended post-war revolt against French regime, splitting French Indo China into North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. U. S. was not a signatory to Geneva pact, but has used its influence to contain Communists in this area of foment.

GOOD NEIGHBOR CLUB

Mrs. Sherman Mundine and Mrs. J. H. May will entertain the Good Neighbor Club at the IOOF Hall in Rockport, Wednesday, March 31, at 2 p.m. The club decided to make laprobes for its work project this year.

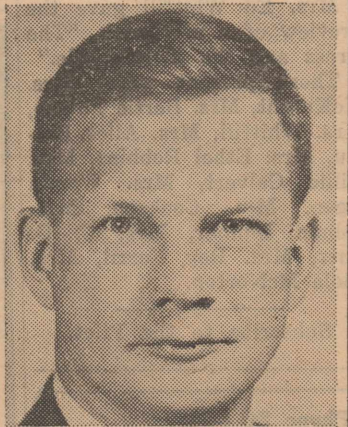

JANET BADGER GAS MEET

President Sue Clark called the meeting to order at 6:30 on Wednesday, March 17. Margie McNorton read the Scripture and Sue Clark led in prayer. Business was discussed. The GAs voted to name our intermediate group "Janet Badger GAs."

Kitty Davenport presented the program, "Forward Stepping." The meeting was dismissed with prayer led by Linda Brisbin.

Also present, were Patsy Rush, Cathy Thibadoux, Kathy Bauer, Junie Ledbetter and leader, Mrs. Washburn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schleider, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rouquette and sons, spent the weekend in the Valley, and attended the livestock show in Mercedes Saturday night.

RURAL LINK.

To establish a liaison between rural areas and all agencies of the Federal Government, the Department of Agriculture has appointed Robert Lewis as administrator of the New Rural Community Development Service. Eros is the God of Love.

This new 175,000-kilowatt addition to Nueces Bay Power Station, Corpus Christi, features the latest in modern equipment to supply you with dependable, economical electric service. The power supply available to South Texans from the entire interconnected CPL system now totals 1,236,000 kilowatts.

Built to Your Order- For Better Electrical Living

Consider this: Our customers used almost three times as much electricity last year as they used ten years before. Each South Texas home, on the average, has increased its use of electricity from 1,869 kilowatt hours, in 1954, to 4,445 kilowatt hours last year. During that time the price of electricity has been going down, even while most other prices have been going up. The average price of a kilowatt hour last year was 24 per cent lower than it was in 1954.

That's a good measure of South Texas' progress. The tremendous increases in the use of electricity show that South Texans are living better in their homes; that they are working more efficiently in their jobs; that they are using modern methods on farms and ranches; and that they are producing more in industrial plants.

That's where the giant new electric generating unit at Nueces Bay Power Station comes in. It's part of a continuing CPL expansion program — a program designed to make sure that growing, progressing South Texas will continue to have all the dependable, low-cost power it needs.

Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

No matter how you look at it, this car makes a lot of sense.

If you're interested in value (and who isn't), the eleven features above give you a good idea why more intermediate-size car buyers are thinking Chevelle.

If you're looking for a wide power choice, Chevelle starts out with a standard 120-hp Six, an ideal city performer. After that you may order from a variety of engines that turn it into an even greater highway performer.

Room? Large door openings. Wide curved side windows for extra shoulder room. Great front and rear leg room. Those four, five or six passengers have it made. And so do you. Chevelle may seat like a big car but it handles like a smaller car.

Comfort? Thick wall-to-wall carpeting in Malibu models. Foam-cushioned seats. Easy-to-read instrument panel. The whole interior looks like those in cars costing far more.

Come on down to our showroom and take a drive soon. Chevelle begins to make even more sense after you've gone a couple of miles.
