Bronchos Face Crucial Battle In Turkey Game Friday

TURKEY INVADES BRONC'S CORRAL

BRONCHOS MUST WIN FRIDAY GAME TO STAY IN DISTRICT RACE.

The terrible Turks from Turkey High School will invade the pastures of the Clarendon High School Bronchos Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the College Park, for what will be the most crucial contest thus far on the Broncho schedule. Should the Bronchos lose this game and the Memphis Cyclones defeat the Shamrock Irish as they are doped to do, they will be out of the running so far as any hope for District honors are concerned. But to defeat the Turks Friday will insure the Maroon and White players another crack at the rambling Cyclones. Should this game become a reality it is likely that the Bronchos will journey to the Hall county capitol on November 11, for the championship scrap. But at present the Bronchos will forget the Memphis game and will devote a full 60 minutes tomorrow to the removal of the Turkey eleven from their championship path.

The defeat of last Friday has not made the dispositios of the fighting Bronchos any too amiable this week and the whole squad have "blood in their eyes" which bodes no good for their next opponents. The flaws which were so evident in the Memphis game have been ironed out with several new men being placed in the line-up which will face the Turks. The changes constitute the switching of Nichols to tackle of the defense, Langford to guard, Elery Watson to guard, and Reid to full on defense. The team will be without the services of Mike Baird, regular half, who sustained a severe shoulder injury which will keep this star on the side line the remainder of the year. Andis has recovered from his injury received in last Friday's encounter and will be ready to take his place in the starting eleven.

The Turks boast of the outstanding individual football star in this part of the country in the person of Captain Colvin, a big and powerful back of over 200 pounds and 6 feet 2 inches tall. Colvin has been the whole show in the games Turkey has played this year, being a man no team has been successful in stopping. So far this year they have been beaten twice, once by McLean and the other time by the Memphis Cyclones. The Turks defeated Wellington, and lost to Memphis only by their inability to kick for their extra points after touchdown, being beaten 27 to 25. They knocked Estelline off last week by a score of 33 to 0, when the best Clarendon could do was to eke out an 18 to 6 win from the Cubs.

There were three reasons responsible for last week's loss, these being failure of the Clarendon line to charge, poor generalship, and the breaks of the game which permitted three touchdowns to be scored by Memphis from three blocked punts. These all have been remedied, and the Bronchos are going after the championship now with more determination than ever before. They are on top of the district chase and are working hard for another chance at the Memphis aggregation. The Bronchos have the better team and deserve the support of all the Clarendon fans, for they can and will defeat the Memphis Cyclones for the championship if they win from the Turkey Turks tomorrow afternoon. Be there and show the boys that you believe in them.

LIONS CELEBRATE EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

LIONS AND LADIES SPEND HILARIOUS EVENING MAKING FUN.

One of the most successful events staged by the Lions of this city in some years was that evening of entertainment held Tuesday of this week as this organization celebrated its eighth birthday in a style fitting the age of a youngster of this many years, Horns, rattles, serpentine streamers, surprise explosions, balloons and still other surprises kept the evening stirred and the participants in excellent humor as the evening progressed to a close.

The initial part of the program was a presentation of the evening by the Boss Lion, who shortly reviewed the work of the Lions and urged that continued effort be put forth to continue as many years in the future as they have lived in the past.

Following the removal of the meal through the usual means used, the program was finally turned to the toastmaster of the evening, who handled the program from this point forward without the slightest hitch in any of the poceedings. Lion Porter was one of the eight charter members of the club who were present eight years ago when the club was organized and recalled some of the many things done on the evening of the first meeting of the Clarendon Lions Club.

The first musical event of the evening was the presentation of an instrumental trio composed of Mmes. G. L. Boykin and F. L. Stallings and Miss Fray Stallings. This trio played three numbers in two groups and were very well received.

Lion District Governor Sam M. Braswell was with the club as an official visitor and was called to the floor, where he addressed the gathering using "The National Bank of Citizenship" as his subject for discussion. Each individual member was called to account for having an account with this bank whether or not he had made deposits.

Every citizen has an account from the time he is born and the organization of service clubs of all natures is helping to let all men pay their debt to this bank and to set aside a reserve for future use. The opportunity is here for the use of the clubs and the membership was asked the question, "What are you going to do with it?"

Boss Lion Rathjen was next introduced and sang a couple of vocal numbers that much delighted the club and the members present. The first rendered was "In the Land of Love with the Song Birds," and the second was "When It's Spring Time in the Rockies." He was also well received.

A slight shift in the outlined program was next in line, with a presentation to Lion Sam E. Allison of a gift from the Lions as their sign of appreciation for the work he has done here in the three years he has been with the Lions. The fact that Lion Allison was going back to the city recently left by Lion McKee called for a great deal of merriment and some repartee on this particular event. Lion McKee presented the Lion a splendid gladstone bag from the club.

Lion Allison responded by stating that he interpreted this as a sign that he must be traveling and that he should be asked to return to Clarendon at some time in the future.

The closing event of the evening was a balloon blowing contest, each member having a balloon of large capacity which he or she was to blow to the largest extent without bursting. A suitable prize was offered for each one filling the requirements to the best of their ability.

Mrs. Boykin was accorded the winner of the women's contest and was given a prize that was guaranteed to change the facial expression on a moment's notice. The transformation was accomplished with a false face which proved to be the prize.

The prize for the men was awarded W. H. Patrick after a series of measures had been made by the toastmaster to decide which of them had the largest balloon. This prize was a package which exploded a number of times revealing still another package and further explosions. A last package revealed a large green snake and a final series of explosions much to the consternation of the recipient of the prize.

The meeting was then turned to the Boss Lion, who called on Mrs. B. G. Smith as president of the Business and Professional Women's Club and on Dr. B. L. Jenkins as president of the Rotary Club as the special guests of the occasion. Each of them expressed their appreciation at being with the Lions and extended their assistance in making the Lions Club grow and prosper in the years ahead as has been done in the years past. Other guests were called to the floor but none of them cared to add further remarks to those already made.

Adjournment came with the singing of America.

KERBOW INSTALLS RADIOLA STUDIO IN STORE BALCONY

The first radio demonstration booth for the city of Clarendon has recently been completed by the H. C. Kerbow & Sons Hardware and Furniture Store. So great has been the need for a radio studio in the Radio department of the firm that one has been installed on the balcony of the store. The new feature will no doubt be well received by any person who wishes for a demonstration in home-like surroundings. The studio is situated where street and store noises will in no way interfere with the reception of the radio programs.

The furniture and rug department of the firm has furnished the demonstration studio with suitable furnishings which make a most pleasing appearance to the prospective buyers. So well have the acoustics of the booth been worked out that the brilliance of the tone of the instrument is recorded perfectly.

Mr. Kerbow is to be complimented on his efforts to maintain the maximum of service for his customers.

LITTLE WORK BEING DONE BY DISTRICT COURT HERE

Very little has been done by the sessions of the District Court now in session here other than the disposition of two cases. In the case, Donley county vs C. L. Benson, the court ruled the judgement favoring the county. No motion for a new trial or an appeal has been made as late as Thursday morning by the defendant. The case State of Texas vs Robert Mahaffey for liquor violatio resulted in the young defendant receiving a five year suspended sentence. The time at the present is being taken up by an arson case involving the State of Texas vs Roy Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Heckle Starks transacted business in Channing Friday.

Mrs. W. L. Crane of Amarillo, was an attendant on the Reciprocity program Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Long of Arkansas City, who has been visiting her father, W. B. Jordan, returned to her home Monday, accompanied by her father.

Among those attending the concert by the Mexican orchestra in Amarillo Friday evening were: Mrs. Joe Goldston, Mrs. Rolle Bromley, Mrs. Charles Trent, Miss Mildred Martin, Miss Maye Lumpkin, Miss Anna Bourland and Miss Lotta Bourland.

First Play To Be Given Tuesday

The first presentation of the Little Theater for the present season is to be held on Tuesday evening of next week, according to advices received from the director, Mrs. Rita Foster Stocking. Work has been going forward on the production for a week, with all characters doing their part toward making this the success that it should be.

A new cast has been chosen for this presentation, and all appear to be fitted for the places given them. "Peg O' My Heart' is a comedy with the plot laid in England and has many phases on the stage, it is being brought to Clarendon for its first presentation and is calculated to keep the audience in roars all through the time of the play.

Mrs. Chichester, an English woman of middle age, is played by Miss Anna Moores; Ethel, a daughter of Mrs. Chichester is played by Mrs. Manley Ozier. Alaric, the pampered son of the household, is played by Winfield Mosely. Christian Brent, a difficult role, is taken by Ira Merchant. Peg, the heroine of the play, is being taken by Miss Eunice Johnson. Montgomery Hawkes, the guardian of Peg, is played by Loyd Stallings. Sir Gerald, otherwise known as Jerry, is taken by Ernest Kent. Jarvis' part is played by D. R. Davis and Bennett, the maid, is played by Miss Ruth Price.

The proceeds from the play will be used to assist in paying for the cost of the curtain placed in the auditorium of the college by this organization at the opening of the Little Theater season last year.

LEGION PLANNING FOR ARMISTICE DAY

USUAL PROGRAM OF ORGANIZATION TO BE HELD SUNDAY, NOV. 9TH.

The usual program of the American Legion will be held in this city this year on the evening of November 9th at the Methodist Church. On this occasion, as in years past, special mention will be given to suggestions for celebrating this day in a manner that will be most fitting for the twelfth anniversary of the signing of that paper which made the close of the great war only a matter of from.

The Methodist Church has been chosen for the place of meeting this year since it is the largest auditorium in the city. Other churches of the city will in all probability call off their evening services on that date to allow all their members the privilege of attending the program and taking some active part in it.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. Special music for the evening is being arranged by the Methodist Choir of this city, with other musicians being called in to assist in the presentation.

The initial annoucement of the Red Cross Roll Call will be made at this evening's program and an appeal will be made to help as never before. Other features and numbers on the program will be worked out at later meetings of the committee which has this matter in charge.

SIMS PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION WANT PAPERS

The Sims Parent-Teacher's Association kindly reqests the citizens of the city to place all the old papers and magazines, which would ordinarily be thrown away, on their front porch each Monday morning where such bundle will be picked up by members of the parent teachers organization. The funds derived from the sale of large quantities of the paper will be used to further the projects undertaken by the Sims Parent-Teachers Association.

Just place the papers where they may be seen from the street and in a position where they will not blow away, and the ladies will gather them each Monday morning.

Mr. John Beverley of Pampa, was greeting old friends on our streets Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. C. W. Gallaway left Friday for Clinton, Okla., where she will visit for a time with her sister, Mrs. V. J. Drew, while Dr. Gallaway is transacting business in El Paso.

LOCAL PASTOR INTERESTS CLUB

REV. L. L. SWAN TELLS INTERESTING STORIES TO ROTARIANS FRI. NOON.

The members of the local Rotary Club were most interestingly entertained last Friday noon at their regular luncheon period when they were told of the unique habits and customs of the residents of the great country of India. Probably India is the least known of country in the entire world and the remarks which were given by Rev. Swan were of more than ordinary interest to the listeners. The time allotted to the local Rector was taken up with his personal experiences as well as observations during the time he resided in the vast land of shadow and mystery. Rev. Swan spent several years in India and is well equipped to tell of the conditions and habits of the British Empire. So well was his talk received by the Rotarians that the entire membership voiced their approval and requested that he again be a guest of the group and tell other experiences of his marvelous life.

The guests of the day were Doss Palmer and Arthur Parker and each of the gentlemen expressed their delight with being allowed to meet with the Rotarians and partake of their hospitality. The two visitors also complimented the club for the part it has played and is playing in the advancement of the projects for the betterment of the city of Clarendon.

The appointment of three members of the Rotary Club to be represented in the Little Theatre Board of Directors, was tabled for the time being and will probably be announced at the next regular meeting.

After the announcement concerning the program for the succeeding Friday the club was adjourned as usual with the song service.

BRONCHOS BOW BEFORE MEMPHIS

CYCLONES UPSET DOPE AND WIN GAME BY TAKING BREAKS IN THIRD PERIOD

The Memphis Cyclones gave the championship hopes of the Clarendon High School Bronchos a severe jolt on the local gridiron last Friday afternoon when they scored four touchdowns and one extra point in the first seven minutes of the second half to win the crucial game of the season by a score of 31 to 25. The Memphis team rose to unheard of heights for that few minutes Friday afternoon, and completely swept the powerful but over confident Bronchos from their feet, after trailing 13 to 6 at the half. But within a few seconds after the second half opened the outlook of an apparent victory over the ancient rivals changed as if by magic into an unlooked for rout of the Bronchos. Three blocked punts, two of which resulted in runs of 30 yards for touchdowns, and the third a run of 25 yards to the 2 yard line where it was plunged over. More damage was added in this scoring spree when Captain Hammonds of Memphis climaxed his sensational ball toting when he started a spectacular jaunt on his own 45 yard yard line and ended untouched across the Bronchos goal line.

The marvelous playing on the part of Captain Dick Nichols of the Bronchos partly offset the threats of the Memphis trio of star backs, Hammonds, Stargel, and Pearson. Even with his team three touchdowns behind he never gave up, and almost single handed kept the rampaging Cyclones from crossing the local goal line at will. It was this plucky Broncho that supplied the spark which carried the Bronchos across the Memphis goal two times in the final period when the Maroon and White cause was so surely lost. The Clarendon line was shattered and torn into great holes throughout the afternoon as the flashing Memphis backs shot through them repeatedly time after time for substantial gains before being dragged down by the Broncho secondary defense. Reid played a nice defensive game as well as receiving forward passes in a sensational manner. Hudson, Martin and Behrens also turned in creditable games on the defense. Bourland turned in a very poor game as quarterback, which cost the locals many yards, and played a large part in bringing on the first defeat suffered by the locals. In the third period with the score 13 to 6 favoring the Bronchos, fourth down and three yards to go, in their own territory Bourland elected to try for first down in the heavy sand which failed by yards, instead of kicking out of danger. From this juncture it was but a matter of a few plays until Memphis had scored. Had the Bronchos punted, in all probability one or more of the Memphis scores would have been prevented and a tie or win for the locals would have been the outcome. In other instances, a successful running drive was stopped cold when the Clarendon quarterback stopped this method of advancement and lost the ball on incomplete passes.

The Bronchos started off with a rush when in the first few minutes of play Watson made a beautiful dive which blocked a Memphis punt behind the goal line and Behrens recovered for the first touchdown of the game. Try for point failed. The Cyclones quickly launched a sensational running attack of their own featuring Captain Hammonds, Pearson and Stargel which scored a touchdown and tied up the score at the end of the first quarter. The Bronchos again outclassed their opponents from Hall County in the second period with a powerful drive by Captain Nichols which gained the advantage for the locals at the end of the first half 13 to 6, incidentally the extra point registered was the first made by the Bronchos this year from placement, Baird making a perfect kick.

LOCAL GINS RE-PORT 2314 BALES

ENTIRE COUNTY GINNING REPORT IS APPROXIMATELY 7707 BALES TO WED.

Delayed for some three weeks by unfavorable weather conditions the cotton gins of the county are again running at a steady rate and have ginned approximately 7707 bales up to Wednesday afternoon, according to a survey made by the Clarendon News at that time. All the gins are running almost to capacity, with steady streams of cotton wagons flowing to each. It is expected that the 10,000 bale mark for the county will be reached in the next few days.

The four gins located in Clarendon have an aggregate total of 2314 bales ginned with the Goldston gin adding some 419 bales and the Ashtola gin ginning 650 additional bales of cotton, and the two Lelia Lake gins contributing 1204 more bales to the total. The Hedley gins with the McKnight gin add approximately 3120 additional bales to make the grand total for the county thus far 7707 bales, with the prospect that the total will run in excess of 10,000 bales for the county before the passing of next week.

When a farmer in Donley County can raise a thousand bushels of sweet potatoes from five acres, without irrigation and in a year like 1930, it is another proof of the efficacy of diversified crops for safety and a mighty blow to the theory of heavy cotton acreage. Farm relief is mostly with the farmers themselves—and some have solved the problem in a small way. Others will follow in 1931.

Arthur Brisbane is a brilliant writer, which makes it the more unfortunate that he has a warped viewpoint about prohibition and is high in the ranks of those who use every effort to discredit this greatest achievement of the American people. A few days back he began a tirade on deaths in the nation from alcoholism with the phrase "under prohibition" so many deaths, etc. He failed to quote the lowered death rate over the nation at large and the lengthened span of life in America, "under porhibition." It is most unfortunate that appetites of brilliant people often control their statements and becloud their logic. Mr. Brisbane is unsafe in moral leadership.

Cutting off of the "West Texan" trains to and from Dallas and Amarillo each day by the Fort Worth & Denver railroad has been authorized and the new schedules go into effect soon. General Passenger Agent Fred Daggett of the Denver, visited the leading towns along the route some several weeks ago and presented the situation to the chambers of commerce and asked their co-operation in securing the approval of the rail commission to drop the daily service each way of the "West Texan," which will leave us the old regular two trains each way daily. The train nearest the "West Texan" schedule will have its time modified to meet the needs of this section, and a consolidated service thoroughly adequate will be maintained. Railroads are just like other concerns; when business is dull they must effect reductions in operating costs and it is pointed out that the "West Texan" cost annually near a quarter of a million dollars. Mr. Daggett assured patrons of the road that when better business was present and justified the return of the train they would be glad to put it on again. Frankly, the railroads are facing lots of unfair competition on the part of busses, who are using the state highways to compete with the trains. It is becoming a serious problem for the railroads—and the public as well.

NO JOB AT ALL TO PICK 'EM

A big executive told us this: "When I find a department head making notes, laying out plans, getting things in order for the future, I feel that his department is safe. But when I find a man whose notion of paradise is an eternal place on the company's payroll, I know it's time to get the ax.

"The first man is going to get more of my money because the money will be well invested. The second man is going to get less and less of my money, because I classify him as a cumulative preferred nuisance."—"Spinal Colyums."

WILL DO MORE GOOD

The best "Buy at Home" editorials ever written, are the advertisements of live merchants in their own home papers, and as long as business men of the small cities and towns continue to patronize their own paper they will not have to worry seriously about the competition of catalog houses. It's when the merchants stop advertising that the catalog houses get in their effective work.

A good example as to how the plan of the mail order houses works, is to be seen in the activities at the first of each year. New catalogs are scattered over the country and mid-winter sales are conducted to get what cash may have been left over from Christmas. Usually the mail order houses beat the merchants to the January Clearance sales. Then again in April the catalog houses stage a spring sale, this being a mid-season time when the merchants are not advertising heavily. Again in July the merchants are advertising light in most places and again the mail order fellows get in their work.

During the fall most catalog houses go easy on advertising. The local merchants are going after holiday business with a vengeance at that time of the year and the mail order houses know that it would be a waste of money to try and combat that kind of competition. However, as soon as the Christmas drive is over, the catalog house again comes out in the open, because it knows the merchant intends to rest from advertising for awhile.

If merchants could only learn to advertise steadily, even though they have to cut down the size of their space some times and if they would constantly keep their names before the people of their community, they would give the mail order house real competition and would do more good than all the "Buy at Home" editorials that might be written.—The N. E. A Bulletin

BEHOLD THE HEN

Did you ever stop to think—that hard times mean nothing to a hen?

She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs, regardless of what the newspapers say about conditions.

If the ground is hard, she scratches harder.

If it's dry she digs deeper.

If she strikes a rock, she digs around it.

But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits, as well as tender broilers.

Did you ever see a pessimistic hen?

Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface?

Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard?

Not on your life!

She saves her breath for digging and her cackle for eggs.—Selected.

OLD FOLKS AT COLLEGE

It is inspiring to see people 50 or 60 years of age graduating from college; people who kept their yearning for knowledge alive until conditions would permit them to go back to school.

It is inspiring to see doctors, lawyers, dentists—all professional people—reading up on the very latest cases, precedents, discoveries and techniques in their lines. A doctor away from his practice a year, we are informed, almost has to start over.

The desire to know more, to attempt more, to achieve more, marks the difference between the career-man and the barnacle-man.

Of course there is the fellow who knew everything and did everything thirty years ago. It has been your pleasure to meet him, for he lives in every town. He is the original Barnacle Bill.—"Spinal Colyums."

PROHIBITION WILL BE ABANDONED

From the American Union Insurance Magazine: When wives enjoy having husbands who spend their pay checks in the saloon. When children prefer a drunken, abusive father. When railroads decide to employ drinking men as engineers. When life insurance companies consider steady drinkers as better risks than total abstainers. When banks and business corporations advertise for clerks and bookkeepers who are habitual drinkers. When athletes who train on beer and wine beat total abstainers. When superintendents post the sign. "Tipplers and Drinking Men Wanted" at the gates of the factories. When credit men decide to class a "rumhound" and "boozer" as a better risk than a sober man. When doctors tell their patients that a hard drinker has a better chance to pull through a serious operation than a total abstainer. When great automobile corporations are willing to assist in placing a saloon at every crossroad, so their customers can get as tipsy as they please and smash up as many cars as possible.

Texas Will Show At World Fair

In addition to Texas, nine states announced this week that plans for their representation at the Chicago Worlds Fair with state buildings and extensive exhibits were rapidly maturing. These include Louisiana, Iowa, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Ohio.

The Texas World's Fair Commission, appointed by the Governor to insure Texas participation in the Fair, will hold a special meeting at Austin November 7th, when definite plans for exhibits and for financing will be made.

Other great national Fairs in which Texas has been represented include the New Orleans Exposition in 1884; Columbia World's Fair at Chicago, 1893; Trans-Mississippi Exposition at Omaha 1898; and World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904. The Texas exhibit at New Orleans was small but very creditable. Unfortunately the state exhibit at the first great World's Fair a Chicago in 1893 was never completed and was disappointing. At Omaha in 1898, however, the State had a wonderful exhibit and won first prize for the best state display. Texas had a fine building at St. Louis in 1904, John H. Kirby of Houston was president of the state commission and L. J. Wortham general manager.

SECOND CROP OF CRAB APPLES IS NEW HERE

While there has been some discussion of the growth of a second crop of several varieties of field produce this season, there has been little said of second crops of fruit. D. O. Stallings brought a small branch into the News office the fore part of this week from an apple tree in his back yard, showing a number of crab apples. These apples formed a part of a second crop found on this tree, the first being those which grew an ripened the middle portion of the summer. The apples were small, but were ripened and ready for use. The first crop ripened and was used the latter part of July, while the second crop of blossoms was on the tree. Not more than a couple of gallons of the second crop are on the tree, while two bushels or more were to be found in the first crop of the season.

Cold weather is motor-punishing weather... Now, more than ever, you need the extra protection of this DE-WAXED, EASY-STARTING OIL

CONOCO

In cold weather motors usually are hard to start, but Conoco Germ-Processed oil actually makes starting easier!

There are two good reasons for this.

First: Germ-Processed oil is thoroughly dewaxed and does not congeal at low temperatures. Second: Germ-Processed oil does not drain away during periods of motor idleness.

The initial "turning over" process is made easier by the protective lubricating film which is on duty before you touch the starter. The usual 40% to 60% of motor wear occurring during the starting period is greatly reduced. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil gives you safe starting—and quick starting, even at zero temperatures.

Change now to this new oil. Use it all winter for motor safety and economy. You always will find Germ-Processed Motor Oil at stations bearing the Conoco Red Triangle.

STRENGTHENED HIS ENTIRE SYSTEM

"ARGOTANE HAS MADE A NEW MAN OF ME AND RELIEVED ME OF MY TROUBLE."

"Since Argotane relieved me of my troubles I just can't help praising it to everybody," said J. T. South of Lubbock, Texas. Mr. South is a well known ginner in this part of the state and owns and operates the J. T. South Gin Company.

"For several years," he continued, "I have suffered from stomach disorder and a general run-down condition. I had very little appetite and three of four hours after eating, gas would form and cramp my stomach so that nothing would relieve me of the agony, I was in a weak condition and was tired and worn out and didn't feel like doing my work. I had a severe case of constipation and had severe headaches."

"My first bottle of Argotane seemed to hit the spot and I have been getting better ever since. I can eat with a relish and eat anything and everything I want. I don't have any trouble with gas, my stomach is toned up and I feel better in every way than I have for a long time. Argotane has saved me a lot of suffering and money and has made a new man of me. I want my friends to know about it."

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

ONE PRESCRIPTION MADE FAMILY DOCTOR FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

for ANY BABY

WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

The Electric Man Shows You a Delightful New Breakfast Method

"Through the use of electric toasters, waffle irons, percolators, egg boilers, electric grills and many other small appliances, the task of cooking breakfast has been made thoroughly enjoyable.

"And now, with the new Home Comfort rate, the low cost of operation adds another advantage to the electrically-prepared breakfast.

"You see, this new schedule of rates makes all service over the first 45 kilowatt-hours, for a five-room house, cost only 4c per kilowatt-hour—3c where service is also used for heating or cooking.

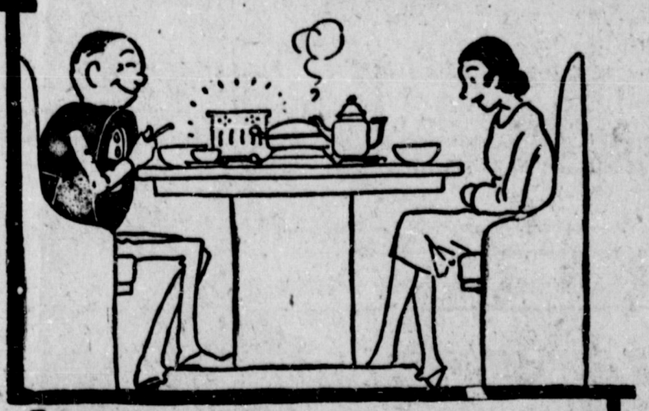

"Just think of the possibilities of this new rate. All the service you want to use, and yet your bill will always be quite moderate, compared with other necessities of the home.

"Next week I'm going to tell you about the advantages of this new schedule in connection with your lighting problems, and I'm sure you'll get some ideas from my suggestions."

COTTON CO-OP NEWS

ENTIRE COTTON BELT ACCEPTING THE CO-OP MARKETING PROGRAM

There are still growers, as well as some bankers and business men who have not, as yet, grasped the expanse of the cotton cooperative marketing movement. Some are yet treating it in the light of a local or county movement, while others have grasped the significance of it as a Statewide undertaking. The program goes further. It not only covers the entire cotton belt in the assembly of the commodity, but is international in its relations to marketing.

The cotton cooperative marketing movement has been sweeping all other cotton growing states of the South in a manner similar to its progress throughout Texas. Without exception every state reports most substantial gains over any previous year, with a tremendous membership increase noted. Cotton growers of Texas are joining hands with cotton growers of the Carolinas, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and Louisiana. Cotton growers of these states are likewise joining hands with Texas growers.

They are all united for a similar purpose. They are all affiliated through their State associations with the American Cotton Cooperative Association. It is one big movement. It is gaining headway. It is making progress. Cotton growers of the South are uniting, one with another, as they are within the confines of the State of Texas.

Texas produced 34,285,000 pounds of dairy products in 1929, exclusive of 5,683,000 gallons of ice cream.

MRS. ESTES ONLY WEIGHED 62 LBS.

"I have been in bad health for the past 15 years and for the past 8 years I haven't been able to do any of my house work. In fact most of that time I was hardly able to stand on my feet.

MRS. THOMAS ESTES

"I gradually fell off in weight from 135 down to 62 pounds and was nothing but skin and bones. I had no appetite and the little food I did eat just had to be forced down; then I would suffer agony from it with griping pains in the pit of my stomach, in my right side and in the small of my back. My heart would get so weak and would flutter so fast at times it would frighten me. I would have terrible smothering spells and would have to gasp for breath.

"My circulation was bad. I would feel chilly at times, and again great beads of sweat would stand out over my forehead, and I would get blind and dizzy too.

"Yes, I suffered from chronic constipation for years and also had a very bad, inactive liver. Often times I had bilious attacks which would make me deathly ill. During the past five years I don't believe I had a single night of good restful sleep. My nervous system was surely a wreck. I couldn't stand for strangers or even my neighbors to come into my house. Nothing in the way of medicines or treatments ever did me any good. In fact my condition was so bad none of my neighbors thought I would ever get well.

"Finally I decided to try Sargon. I've taken 15 bottles of Sargon and about 7 bottles of the Pills. Well, it just acted like a miracle in my case. I actually gained 63 pounds in weight. As I said before, I only weighed 62 pounds when I started on it and now I weigh 125 pounds and feel just like a woman made all over again. I have regained all my strength and energy and am doing all my house work. I can hardly wait from one meal to another.

"The Sargon Pills have cured me of bilious attacks and constipation. They are so wonderful I now feel I would like to tell the whole world about Sargon and the Pills. My friends and neighbors are all talking about my wonderful recovery and I will praise Sargon as long as I live. I believe it has saved my life."

TOLD HE MUST DIE MAN FINDS LIFE IN CRAZY WATER

DEPUTY SHERIFF WANTS WORLD TO KNOW HIS CRAZY STORY.

In the year of 1923 I was living at Altus, Okla., I was confined to my bed with a complication of diseases. It was diagnosed by different ones as Bright's disease, Paralysis, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and a dead liver.

When it was decided to take me to Mineral Wells, the doctors did not believe that I would live to get there, and the doctors in Mineral Wells when I arrived did not think that there was any chance for me to recover.

I drank Crazy Water for four months and was, so far as I can tell, completely well. I gained 94 pounds in weight and took a job as deputy sheriff which necessitated my being on my feet from eight to twelve hours every day, and often-times doing a lot of night work.

Crazy Water certainly pulled me out of the grave.

Our Weekly Church Chat

"The Ministry of the Church"

In the apostolic church, God raised up those who were, like their divine Master, to be ministers, or servants, to others. "And He gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists, and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering unto the building up of the body of Christ till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ," (Eph. 4:11-13).

Thus, to some, supernatural gifts were imparted, which was essential in the establishment of the Christian system, but when the church was set up, the work was to be carried on by the natural abilities of it's members, supplemented, of course, by divine help. "Having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophecy according to the proportion of our faith; or ministry, let us give ourselves to our ministry; or he that teacheth, to his teaching; or he that exhorteth to his exhorting," etc. (Rom. 12:6-8). Each member, according to his ability is to help in the work of the ministry. In Christ's church, sinecurism must have no place. All should use their gifts, some to the ministry of the word, others to the diaconate, the work of the Bible-school teaching, visitation, tract-disturbing and in countless other ways, "Unto the building up of the body of Christ."

The Jerusalem Church is worthy of special mention because it bears the distinction of having been the first Church of Christ. In our next few Sunday morning messages we want to present some of the out-standing facts about the church, it's program, membership, elders, deacons, worship, and mission. The first of this series will be presented next Lord's Day, the subject being, "The Church At Jerusalem". Sin is the only thing that will separate man from God eternally. Many sins are mentioned in the Bible and Sunday we want to preach about the greatest sin, "The Sin Worse Than Crucifying Christ, Or God Is Not Mocked." Come let us reason together," and let us study some of God's fixed laws.

W. E. Ferrell. Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

Entertain With Hallowe'en Party

The most elaborate affair of the early fall season was the entertaining of the district telephone operators by members of the Numero Hagme El Favor Club or in other words by our local "Number Please with a Smile" girls.

This entertainment was held in the commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith with Miss Elma Smith as acting hostess.

Clever invitations had been mailed earlier with seventy-five guests representing the towns of Childress, Memphis, Shamrock, Groom, Panhandle, Claude, Wellington, Estelline. Goodnight and Newlin, responding.

The home had been neatly and elaborately decorated with Hallowe'en motifs and characters. The "Chamber of Honors" which occupied the entire upper story was the spookiest of all spook places and the evening was not complete without a visit through this chamber.

The spacious lawn was strung with lights and here Hallowe'en games and contests were held while strains from the Saxophone of Mr. Gus Stephenson, accompanied by Miss Bernice Lafon was wafted on the breeze to make complete a perfect evening of entertainment.

Spanish Tea Colorful Affair

One of the most elaborately planned affairs in the history of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary was observed by members of the Belle Bennett Circle and Circle Number Three when they entertained ladies of the Methodist Church and members of the executive board of all church organizations of the city with a Spanish Tea at the Woman's Club room, Wednesday afternoon.

Upon arrival the guests were greeted by Senoras Tom Goldston, Fred Buntin, Carrie Weidman, Y. E. McAdams, and Elba Ballew all in colorful costumds featuring black mantillas.

The guests were seated and there soon appeared other Senoras who rendered a most pleasing and entertaining program under the supervision of Senoras Lillian Brady, consisting of the following numbers:

Trio—La Seirllana — Senoras Boykin, Loyd Stallings and Senoritas Fray Stallings.

Vocal Solo—Marcatta— Senora Rolle Bromley.

Piano Solo—Spanish Fantasy—Senorita Fray Stallings.

Vocal Solo—Hasta Manana—Senora Loyd Stallings.

Violin Solo—Sfrostuita—Senora Boykin.

Whistlig Solo—La Mona—Senora Lester Schull, accompanied at piano by Senorita Zell Rodgers.

Trio—La Poloma — Senoras Boykin, Loyd Stallings and Senorita Fray Stallings.

Picturesque indeed was the arrangement of the interior of the Club room, one would think they had been seated in the heart of a Spanish Castle during an elaborate fiesta. A trellis entertained with vines and flowers served as a background with wall draperies of Spanish scarfs and tapestries. Baskets and vases of bright red dahlias and zinnias added to the colorful scheme while parakeets chirped their glad welcome to the large gathering.

Map Shows Great Tracts of University Land

There are fewer acres by two and a half sections in the four counties of Shelby, Sabine, San Augustine and Nacogdoches, blocked off on the map, than there are in the combined holdings of the University of Texas in 17 counties, the accompanying map portrays. The map illustrates one of the reasons of submitting the university land amendment on November 4. The university holdings pay nothing now to county development, whereas it is claimed that exemption of four such counties as those shown in the map would be rank injustice and discrimination. The amendment would correct the present status.

One could hide the state of Delaware with its 2,370 square miles and almost three-fourths of Rhode Island with its 1,248 square miles in university holdings. One could hide each of these counties in university holdings in Crockett alone, amounting to 356,480 acres—Caldwell, Galveston, Gregg, Hood, Madison, Marion, Orange, Titus and Waller. Dealing with smaller counties, Camp, Aransas, Delta, Somerville, Morris, Raines or Rockwall could be placed within the university acreage in Crockett and be bounded by university lands.

Bronchos Suffer First Defeat Friday 31-25

Memphis Cyclones Beat Bronchos

BY BENTON SMITH
Tattler Sport Staff

The Clarendon Bronchos suffered the first defeat of the season Friday at the hands of their old rivals, the Memphis Cyclones. The Bronchos scored the first touchdown of the game when Watson blocked a Memphis punt behind the goal and Behrens recovered. The Bronchs failed to make the extra point. Nichols fought his way through the Cyclone line and broke up Kunkler's place kick for the extra point. The second quarter saw the Bronchos score again when Behrens recovered a Memphis fumble and after a 15 yard pass from Nichols to Behrens, Nichols goes over for a touchdown. PEPPY PEPPER'S ACTIVE AT GAME

Oh, People! We had a pep rally last Thursday night on the old school campus that was grand, simply grand! Nearly all of the students came and did we yell? We had a big bon-fire that we circled around and yelled all the good old school favorites until we could yell no more. Don't think for a minute that we quit, though Oh—no. We had a parade that was so large we had to march in three lines. We were all so happy and thrilled over the coming game that we certainly put forth our best. We intended to encourage the boys but it is difficult to say that we helped. Anyway, we went home with the pleasant idea that we would win.

Friday we were all so excited and inattentive to lessons that our classes were dismissed early. We rushed to the field and spent the extra time cheering the Bronchos. At every game we think we yell better, but we know we did Friday, for look whom we were playing! However, we did get rather weak toward the end of the game, but why shouldn't we.

At the half Memphis formed an M facing Clarendon and gave yells, then they changed the M to face Memphis and repeated their stunt. When they left the field, we marched in single file behind horses with riders representing Memphis and Clarendon High Schools to the goal posts. There we stopped until the two horses met and the school representatives shook hands. As they rode from the field we marched in military style to the center of the field and formed a square. Some accomodating lads brought a table out and set in the middle of the square. No one could tell what was on the table as it was covered with a sheet and Memphis was very surprised when they discovered, as the cover was removed by the leaders, that it was our little mascot with an armful of balloons. As we finished our stunt and left the field she let the balloons go and gave courteous bows to Clarendon and Memphis. When we reached our side of the field, the local photographer took our picture.

It was in the last half of the game that Memphis made the touchdowns that won the game for them. In this half our boys also made two touchdowns and we pep squad girls yelled for and hoped for and prayed for the one touchdown that could have won the game for us.

We tried to be good sports by not crying over the loss of the game and by going to town on cars in the same fashion and counting score. To further our friendliness toward Memphis we gave a party that night to which a large number of Memphis supporters stayed. There were no hard feelings expressed and we had a very enjoyable time.

Bill Word spent Sunday with Henry Wilder at Pampa.

Mary Naylor visited relatives in Pampa Sunday.

Louise Lewis of Lelia Lake, spent Friday afternoon with friends here and attended the Memphis-Clarendon football game.

Last Wednesday a class meeting was called to select our rings, so in a few weeks, the Seniors will be wearing these, another insigna of the class.

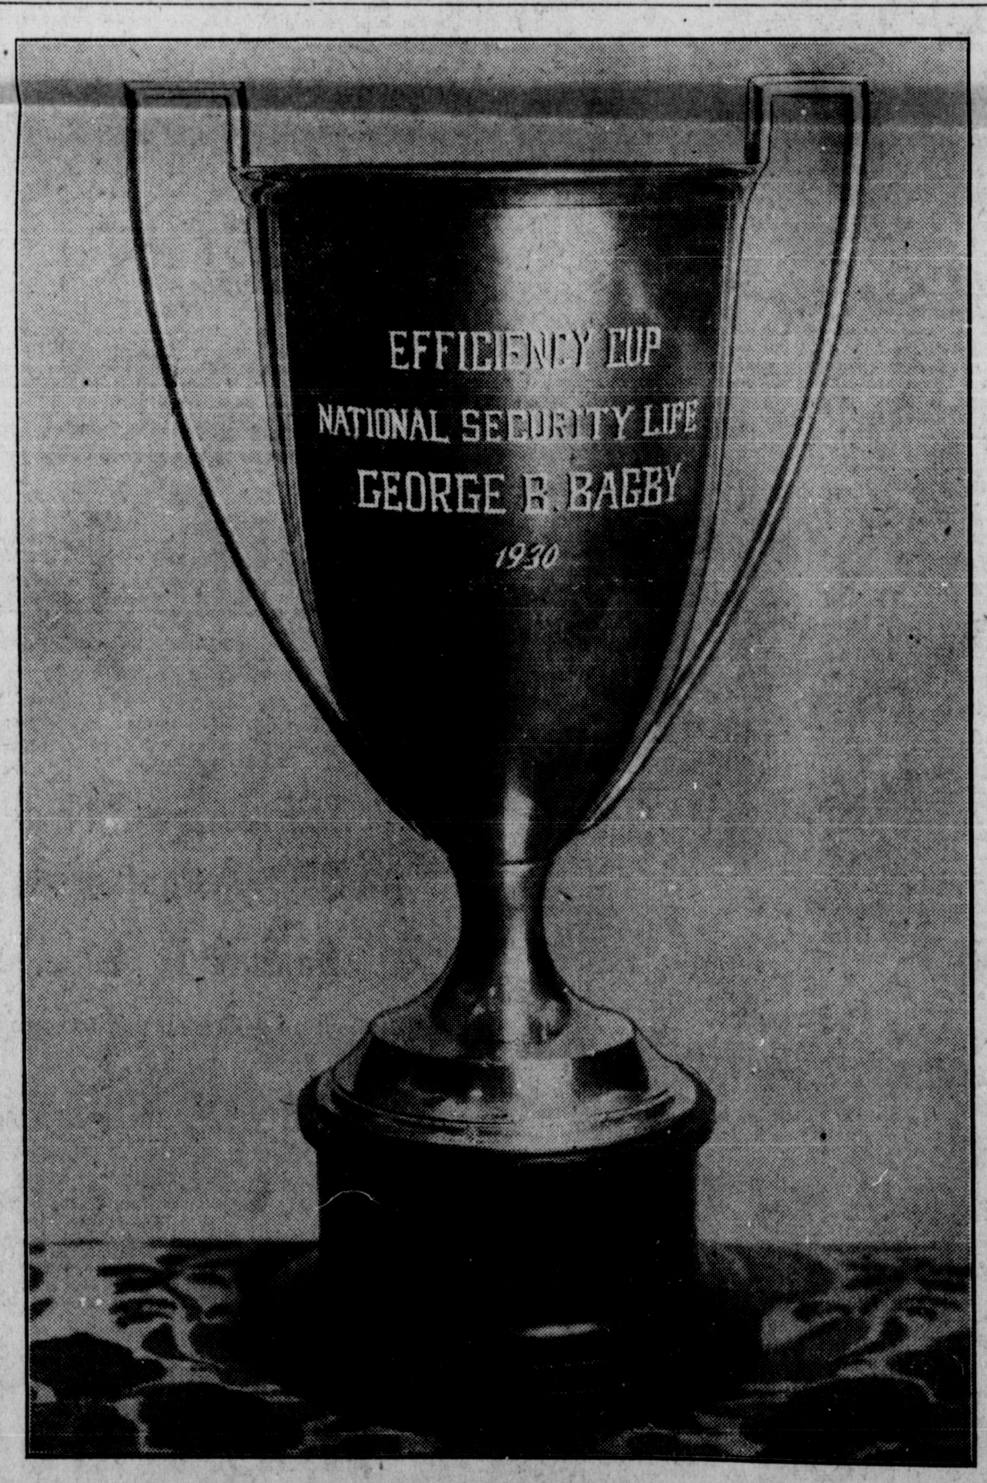

Joe Francis Vineyard and Margaret Hill of Amarillo spent the week-end with Delphia Bones.

Elizabeth Kemp and Carrole Holder spent Saturday in Amarillo.

Clarendon Insurance Man Wins Trophy Showing Him Most Efficient In Entire Organization

The above is an actual photograph of the efficiency cup of the National Security Life Insurance Company.

This cup was officially presented to George B. Bagby of Clarendon, Texas, at the Home Office of the Company last week for being the most efficient representative in the company's entire organization.

This is a deserved compliment to Mr. Bagby and his many friends in this section will be pleased that he has received this recognition. This award is a tribute to his ability and success as a life underwriter.

At the request of F. E. Chamberlain, a Director of the National Security Life, this cup will be on display for a short time at the Donley County State Bank, so that friends of Mr. Bagby may examine this trophy.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

Everywhere in town you can hear the question "What was the matter with the Bronchos Friday? Why did they let Memphis beat them?" One had better say "What is the matter with the people of Clarendon?" Why is it that they are 100 per cent backers when the Bronchos win and 0 per cent backers when they lose? Why is it that a month ago people said such things as this: "Say you know the Bronchos are a grand team; they will win the district championship" and now: "That was the rottenest game I ever saw in my life Friday." Memphis did nothing but make a complete jackass of the whole team. Football fans, it begins to look like you have no faith in the team; it begins to look like you are the poorest set of fans that a town ever possessed. Why don't you brace up and take it on the chin? Far better to remain silent than to censure the team at an unfortunate time like this. The Bronchos know what beat them last Friday and they have no use for the football fan who can't stand to take a beating. People, instead of criticizing them why don't you give them a handshake, and a grin, and help them bear their already too heavy burden? Football fans let's be fair to the Bronchos and contribute our part. Let's beat Turkey and then —let's beat Memphis.

OUR CAPTAIN, DICK NICHOLS

This fighting Broncho carried the load of the locals through the whole game. and was easily the outstanding star of the game, making two touchdowns, and always making a threat when carrying or passing the ball.

Students, last Friday you missed the greatest moment in your football life, if you failed to watch Dick Nichols play. Did you ever turn your eyes from the man carrying the ball and see the rest of the game? If you did you can well remember how old big Nichols fought like a tiger. He exhibited a brand of football playing that is seldom seen in this town. He played hard and he fought hard until that last whistle blew, never giving up hope. That is the kind of football that deserves praise. He is indeed, worthy of being captain of the Bronchos.

Dick started his football career with the Clarendon Junior High Colts in 1926. The last two years, he has lettered on the Broncho team. This year he was unanimously elected captain, a position which his faithful service has awarded him. We can truly say he is a "man". It is a cinch that the boy won't ever have to give an excuse for living.

HOME E. CLUBS MEET HERE SAT.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM ENTIRE PANHANDLE MEET AND ELECT FOR YEAR.

The Home Economics Clubs of the Panhandle met here Friday for the purpose of organizing a district club. The representatives from all thirty-three towns did not come, but there were about fifty who did.

As this is the first district club ever organized for the Panhandle, there was much enthusiasm aroused as to the meetings and programs for the year. After the program for the morning had been completed, the following officers were elected for the year.

President—Pauline Sanford —Clarendon.

Vice-President—Barbara Smith —Amarillo.

Secretary Treasurer—Boppe Appling—McLean.

Parliamentarian — Ada Mae Owens—Clarendon.

It was decided that each town will have two votes on all business matters, and each club will take as many delegates as possible to the meetings. Other matters arising in the interest of the individual clubs and members were discussed, voted on, or decided, and the meeting adjourned at 12:00 for lunch.

At one o'clock the delegates again assembled in the auditorium and an interesting program was enjoyed. The presidents from each club gave a discussion of their club programs and suggestions for raising money for clubs. This was presided over by the Shamrock President, Laverne Taylor.

At two-thirty the Home Economics Department was open for a social hour. Every out-of-town delegate observed very closely our department and we are proud to say they thought it one of the most complete and attracive departments of the Panhandle.

This hour was presided over by the girls alone, as Miss Helen Beck was in charge of a business meeting of the teachers and officers.

The department was decorated in Hallowe'en colors and emblems. The refreshments were also attractively carried out in the orange and black scheme.

They decided that there was to be only three meetings during the early fall, one in mid-winter, and one in the spring. There will also be the clothing contest in Lubbock in May.

The next meeting will be held in Amarillo the first Saturday in December. The meeting for the spring will be in Memphis, the first Saturday in March, 1931.

The following is the program of the entire day:

District Meeting of Panhandle H. E. Clubs, Clarendon, Texas, October 25, 1930.

KITTY SPEED ENTERTAINS WITH FOOTBALL PARTY

At the beautiful new home of her parents, Kitty Speed entertained last Friday evening with a delightful party for the Memphis and Clarendon football boys and pep squads. As the merry crowd began to gather, all hard feelings and grief. that was received over the game earlier in the afternoon, was put aside and everyone entered into the games with much pep and enthusiasm. Bridge, forty-two, dancing and "gossiping" was enjoyed until a late hour.

Palo Duro Literary Society

Last Wednesday night, on time for once. the members of the Palo Duro Society met and had an unusually interesting program. The secretary-treasurer read the minutes, tried to collect more dues, and almost succeeded in getting several fines paid—almost.

One of the first numbers of the program was a reading by Eunice Johnson. Several hearty laughs were resultant of her presentation of "Minnie Goes Skating" and the next number was given.

For next time, Lena Manley is going to give a piano solo. Lena is one of the out-of-town students and her part on the program has aroused much interest among the Palo Durians. It seems as though our entire program is going to be given by out-of-town students, for Nola Gordon, graduate of Cordell, Oklahoma High School has consented to give a short story.

Alpha Delta Psi

Think of it! Twenty-two attended the meeting last Wednesday night. Who says we are not growing And whats more—our programs are improving. Ruth Dunn gave quite an interesting history of our American flag. Marue Trostle gave the cleverest reading yet, entitled "In the Pantry." I wonder if most of us haven't worn the same shoe the little boy in the pantry wore? He had strict orders not to eat the pie on the pantry shelf. How badly, he wanted to, but still he wanted to go to heaven, yet it seemed that everyone he could think of would never reach the gate, and he figured heaven would be rather lonely with only God for company, so he prefered to eat the pie. And the entire group left laughing at Helen Slaters jokes.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ENJOY ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

The fourth and fifth grades met in their regular weekly assembly Tuesday morning at 8:45.

Miss Sample, who has spent nine years in Egypt, gave a very interesting talk on the habits and customs of the Egyptain people.

Miss Sample is always welcome at our assembly meetings for the pupils know that each time she comes she will give them an interesting program.

Mr. Gus Stevenson accompanied by Miss Delphia Bones favored the third, fourth and fifth grade pupils of South Ward school with a musical program Wednesday at the assembly period. It was heartily received by the pupils and one of the best treats they have had this year.

Helen Rodgers visited in Claude Sunday.

Are The Students Receiving Just Treatment

The last of life for which the first was made."
"'Grow old along with me;
The best is yet to be—

As beautiful as the young people consider the thought in this verse, taken from a poem of a notable English poet and with as much thoughtful consideration of the future as they have, they are absolutely firm in their conviction that youth is the best time for fun and frolic. Of course, fun can be carried to the extreme as well as any other phrase of life; but does it not seem to you that this world would be much more wonderful if we would all take off our pessimistic masks and don a set of smiling features? In that happy little chorus about the little trouble it takes to grin is expressed the password which contrasts "living" and "existence." Mere existence, going from one task to another with a dogged "guess I'd better do it since I'll get fired if I dont air is the poorest substitute for life that I know of. ow of.

Living cannot be described. Poets tried to express their tempestuous feeling in verse, musicians in musical compositions, artists in portraits and landscapes, sculptors in stone. Nature chose the human being for her representation of the true method of living. Review in your mind the biographical study of those artists. The poet did not rest until he was satisfied with his verse, the artist painted, wiped out, painted again until each tree, each flower, each item of the picture held that vibrant, thrilling quality of reality. So with the composer, so with the sculptor, so with nature.

We human beings have been endowed with a wonderous and marvelous advantage over the inanimate, or perhaps the endowment is a disadvantage. The lovely face of the artists' portrait can never distort itself into a frowning and disheartened image; it will always remain constant in its loveliness. Not so with the visage of nature's composition. The face of the human being is so often twisted into extraordinary shapes—kind, then destitute of pity; loving, then burning with impetuous hate; sanguine then despairing, desconsolate, forlorn.

So it comes to the task of bringing a smile to the lips and cheer in the heart of our fellow beings. One small, yet quite significant fraction of this work pertains to the school students. Their work, their problems, their joys, their sorrows, their fun, all work together to form their lives. Each class of emotion is a conjugate of the other. Let one be lost and immediately that life shows the effect. A uniform and balanced ratio of emotions is required to produce a normal life.

One of the major phases in the schools along the social lines is the party. Young people will have their parties and should have them. "All work and no play makes the student lose his sense of humor. Of course, out side amusements may afford him pleasure, but to make any society, any union, or any club a success, there must be a social element. Do you not think that a few school parties or dances during the year would empart to the student the knowledge that life is not all work? Besides developing a student socially, preparing him for the social affairs in which he will engage as an adult, giving him poise, grace and ability to hold up his end of the social conversation, the school parties afford reasonable and healthful amusement and add interest to the life of the school. As one author says "A social program increases acquaintanceships among students. Adding to the number of friends one has in school means making just so many more contacts with the school and its life, and so many more ties.

But where shall the party be held? That, parents and townspeople, is the questioning obstacle. It would be impossible to improve upon Mr. McKown's discussion in which he says "A gymnasium is quite a proper place for a school party occasionally, however, the school board very short-sightedly refuses permission to hold school parties in it. This means that the students must rent a hall, thereby increasing the expense and inconvenience. It sometimes happens, too, that some shortsighted local association objects to having dances in the school building, or the principal refuses to let the gymnasium be used for a party on the ground that it damages the floor. The best place in the world to hold a school party is in the school building under school auspices."

You see by this that it is not merely the students, who see their side of the argument; there are many others who think similarly to this author. It is a well known fact that some years back, a high school class abused its privileges when entertaining in the gymnasium by painting the walls with their refreshments—maroon and white ice cream. Because of their thoughtlessness, the succeeding classes have been refused the use of the room for social purposes.

Since there is available to the classes no home large enough in which to entertain, the students necessarily have to select from those buildings that can be rented. When the news spreads that such and such a class is giving a dance at such and such a hotel or at this or that public hall, "oh's" and "ah's' of horror, astonishment and disapproval arise. In the first place, the idea of "mere children" giving a dance is absolutely preposterous—and at a public place. Since the school has no place in which to entertain to offer the student, the natural result would be a public hall and as to the age, we've been growing up for years while you thought we were mere babies. Nearly all high school students are determined to dance. Consequently it is a question of whether the parents and others interested in the student body "will shut their eyes to this demand and let the youths dance at questionable places, or provide properly conducted opportunities for the expression of this play instinct."

If the people of the town could only talk to the students of the schools they might have their eyes opened. We, the students of Clarendon High School and Clarendon Junior College are not eager to entertain in the public rooms, in fact we would be exceedingly proud of a club room that we could truly call our own. Look at the case from our point of view. We can not have the gymnasium; we have no room large enough to accomodate even one class. Last year we had a party in the dining room of the girls dormitory that was successful as far as the entertainment was concened, but guess what kind of floors we had—concrete. Now anyone should know what it sounds like to have about eighty students on the floor with half of the chairs being moved about at the same time. It sounds even worse than a herd of elephants. Besides the inconvenience as to the noise, dancing is prohibited, and you have just read that so absolutely true article of Mr. McKown which says that high school students are determined to dance. Unless satisfaction is received at school socials, the students go outside for satisfying amusements; then their actions are severely critizised by the town people. If the associations opposed to dancing in the school would look upon the question fairly, they would probably have very little or nothing to say about it. The question is not whether or not they should dance, but where?

SENIOR CLASS

The Seniors, peppy as usual accepted unanimously the report of the committee that was appointed to select a motto, colors, flower, and yell. We, the industrious Seniors, chose as our motto "If we rest, we rust." Our selection of colors was pink and green with a pink rose as the flower. To express our pep and vivaciousness we picked the following yell:

"We're the Seniors of C. H. S.
We're the leaders and we'll always be.
We're not surpassed by any in fame.
We're striving hard to uphold our name.
We lead in looks.
We lead in books.
We lead in everv respect.
We are going to rise.
We are going to analyze.
We are the class with intellect."

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Messers Joe Goldston and Clyde Price met with the Junior Class last Thursday morning to see about the Junior pins and also about the invitations for graduation for next year.

Some of the invitations of other schools were displayed of Mr. Price; but on discussing the matter, the class decided the better plan would be to wait until later before any contracts for invitations were signed.

Mr. Goldston gave a pleasing description of the class pin and it is very probable that the emblem will be like that of the two previous class pins. The Juniors were very enthusiastic about their pins and most of the students put in their order for them at that meeting.

SOUTH OF SOUTH WARD

EXAM WEEK IS CAUSE OF WORRY

I sigh deeply as I take my pen in hand for five open books are before me. How I lothe them. Thev are as devils come to destroy all my joys of life. The teachers say I must review them; but when we ask the teachers what are the most important points we only get some sarcastic remark about, "Don't be surprised at anything I ask you."

With the approach of the nine weeks exams, a worried, solemn, look appears on the faces of the students. A quiet hush, broken only by the turning of an occasional leaf of a book or the ringing of the period bell settles in a pall-like manner over all. During exam week, I once actually saw a girl with high heels tiptoeing! Other astonishing things have been seen. Students that have not been seen studying or taking a book home to study since the end of the term last year, now simply burden themselves with heavy books and are seen in the farthierest corner of the library with a studious look on their faces. Blue, black and brown covered books, are piled high on all sides of them, half conceal their expressions of deep thought.

During exam week, I think our local theatre owner should close his doors and put black crepe draperies over his signboards. What student could resist going to see that devistating Great Garbo and that romantic John Gilbert when all they have to do is "just review!"

The temptation of going to the show is often too great. and they promise themselves that if they go to the show tonight "that they will get up early in the morning (usually five o'clock) and finish their review." Such high-flown intentions often end in getting up just in time to get to school the next morning.

To complain about an examination is one of the first things that a student learns. He may be an "A" student, but the very thought of taking an exam is so distasteful to the average student that the inevitable grunt will present itself in some form. That Mr. Clark does not give fair examinations is irrevocable (with the exception of the few students who pass.) That Miss Headrick sometimes extends her originality in giving exams too far is unquestionable. That any or all of the other teachers use unfair means of giving exams is a well known fact.

The week terminates with students of only two classes; those who have a look of simple contentment on their faces, and those students whose face is seen the look of despondence.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND NOTES

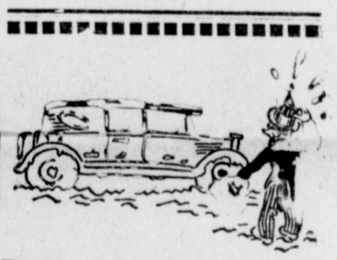

The Clarendon High School Band wishes to thank the Clarendon News for the editorial and articles that were placed in last week's issue concerning them. We hope that the editorial will cause more people to subscribe to the band fund. The article on the front page gave the organization a splendid boost. It also made many people aware of the fact that the boys have been on the job.

The band is ready to furnish music at any time. The boys have never failed to show up in sufficient number to play where they were asked. When a lighter grade of music is desired, the orchestra is also ready to play. It will be remembered by many that the orchestra appeared on the Sunday programs during the summer. Since that time it has grown in size and at present consists of 15 members.

FOOTBALL SKETCHES WILL BE FEATURE EACH WEEK

Beginning with this issue of The Tattler, one and perhaps a number of the football squad will have sketches each week with their pictures which will introduce the football players of this year's team to the citizens of the city and county. In this issue the picture and sketch is of Dick Nichols, captain of the Bronchos and one of the mainstays of this year's splendid team.

Others will be in from time to time, watch for them. We suggest that the interested parties collect these pictures so a complete file of he players may be kept after the present season.

TO ALL AFFILIATED CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

GENTLEMEN:

A constitutional amendment to tax the university lands for county purposes will be voted on November 4th. These lands are not now taxed for any purpose. This amendment was unanimously endorsed by the Abilene Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and by the Executive Board of the organization at the Sweetwater meeting, October 11th.

This whole-hearted endorsement is active, not passive. Something can be done about it. Its adoption removes a tremendous burden from seventeen West Texas counties. We want you to vote for the amendment and get others to vote for it.

These 2,000,320 tax free acres comprise 10 per cent of the total area of the seventeen counties effected, ranging as high at 29 per cent in Andrews County. These lands, since the discovery of oil, have built the permanent fund of the University to $16,032,650. The amendment provides that the tax values shall be set by the State Tax Board and that the resulting taxes shall be paid from the state treasury to the several counties for county purposes only.

Please notify us as to the action taken by your Chamber of Commerce to further this just cause.

Yours very truly.
CHAS. E. COMBES, President.

Bronchos Bow—

players and fans in a daze. Memphis received the ball in the Broncs' territory after Bourland failed to kick out of danger on the fourth down. A 15 yard penalty set the Cyclones back temporarily, but on the next play Hammonds showed his heels to the whole Broncho team and scored the second touchdown for the Memphis squad. The lead still remained in Clarendon's possession 13 to 12 when Memphis was smothered on the attempt for extra point. Clarendon received and after three successive losses a punt was blocked and Pearson recovered and scampered across the Maroon and White line for the second score of the period and rested the lead from the Bronchos 19 to 13. Clarendon again received and again losses made the Bronchos punt, which was again blocked, and Hammonds raced across the line again to make the score 25 to 13. The Bronchos received again and the third successive punt was blocked and recovered by Stargel who was finally pulled down on the Broncho 2 yard line where Hammonds quickly drove over for the fifth Memphis score which made the count stand at 31 to 13, favoring Memphis. The remaining few minutes proved uneventful. The last quarter found the Bronchos again a determined team, and a few minutes later a Memphis punt was blocked and Reid recovered and trotted over the goal line to make the score 31 to 19. A long drive aided by passes to Reid placed the ball near the Memphis line from where Captain Nichols powered the ball over for the tenth touchdown of the contest making the score 31 to 25. The Bronchos hurled passes all over the lot in the final few minutes of the game in a feverish attempt to tie the game, but too few made contact with Clarendon receivers to count, and the game ended with the ball in mid field in the Bronchos possession.

Clarendon made 13 first downs while Memphis was amassing 12 first downs. Clarendon punted 8 times for an average of 20 yards. Memphis punted 10 times for an average of 16 yards.

AN AMERICAN INSTITUTION ABROAD

We read so many life stories of American "captains of industry" who have risen from their original positions as office boys or shop workers to their present high state that we do not realize how much scientific business education has contributed to this generation of financiers. Yet schools that train men for business life flourish throughout the country, and they are no longer confined to the United States. Recently France opened an advanced school for business administration, the first of its kind in Europe.

The French school, which is patterned after the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, will be conducted under the auspices of the Paris Chamber of Commerce. Pierre Lemy, former Vice-President of the Chamber, and Pierre Joly, Dean of the new school, journeyed all over the United States and large European countries before they selected the Harvard school as the desired model. The curriculm is similar to that at Harvard. Although the school is built to accommodate 100 students, only 35 will be admitted the first year.

Sponsors of the school are eager to see produced a group of economic experts who will contribute to the nation's business stability. M. Lemy, during his visit to this country, was much impressed by the administration of our Department of Commerce, which is described as "an institution essentially dynamic, directed by bsiness men in a business spirit."

W. B. Donham, Dean of the Harvard school, was a guest of honor and speaker at the formal opening of the French school, and the American Ambassador, Walter Edge, was also present.

LITTLE MOTHERS

Among the things which school girls may learn which will be of value in years to come is the needs of the pre-school child and how they may be helped and protected. Also, these little mothers may learn all these things which are bad for babies:

Soothing syrups, patent medicines or any medicine unless ordered by a physician.

Kissing a baby on the mouth.

Sucking an empty bottle.

Irregular or too frequent feeding.

Sneezing or coughing in the baby's face.

Spitting on a cloth to remove dirt from baby's face.

Allowing any sick person to take care of the baby.

Dirty bottles, dirty floor, dirty playthings.

Romping with baby at bed time.

Flies or mosquitoes to have access to baby at any time.

Bright light shining in eyes.

Thumb sucking and "pacifiers" spoil the natural shape of the mouth, push upper jaw forward, push lower lip downward, deform roof of the mouth and interfere with breathing, carry dirt into the mouth.

The American Red Cross in Action

A class in Life-Saving at one of the 1930 Red Cross institutes. Here are learned all the rules of water safety—protection for self and others.

Wreckage at Frost, Texas, from a 1930-model tornado. Almost as soon as the twister had roared over the horizon the Red Cross was on the job with food, clothing, medicine and organized relief.

A recent Red Cross demonstration of artificial respiration. The prone pressure method has proved its efficacy in thousands of cases of drowning, electrocution, and suffocation.

What does the Red Cross do? What makes its call—in the words of President Hoover—so "mandatory upon the heart of the Nation?"

The Red Cross job is big. In a single year the expenditure, community, national and international, runs to nearly $10,000,000. Often it is higher. Every day the call upon the Red Cross grows more urgent.

What do the figures show—those mute, cold statistics that tell but half the story of Service? They show:

More than 450,000 First Aid certificates have been issued; more than 300,000 individuals instructed in Life Saving.

Assistance extended in a single year to the victims of 75 disasters in 40 states.

50,000 nurses on the roll of the Red Cross; 800 nurses in public health work, 88 in itinerant activities, 1500 teaching home hygiene and care of the sick.

120,000 children and adults taught nutrition each month.

Service of the kind that is beyond the scope of Government to 30,000 disabled World War veterans and the 245,000 men of the regular Army and Navy.

10,000 families being assisted by Civilian Home Service.

7,000,000 members of the Junior Red Cross corresponding with Juniors in foreign lands, thus furthering the cause of international understanding; cheering the sick, brightening school rooms, learning ideals of service for others.

Half a million volunteer workers—exemplifying the very heart and spirit of the Red Cross—making 3,000,000 surgical dressings, 210,000 garments, 190,000 Braille pages for the fingers of the blind in twelve months.

16,200 Chapters and Branches engaged in this service program made possible by the annually-tendered support of more than 4,000,000 adult members.

Look at the pictures on this page. Multiply the incidents according to the above figures. Watch each precious membership dollar as it stretches to meet the increasing demands. Then ask yourself, "What shall MY PART be?"

All happy at the most recent of the annual parties for disabled war veterans on the White House lawn in Washington! Veterans and enlisted men of Army and Navy, whether sound or otherwise, are grateful for Red Cross service.

These school girls enjoy the periodical checking of height, weight and teeth by the Red Cross public health nurse.

This little fellow is getting a running start in life, for the mother has been taught in a Red Cross class of Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.
