SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATE —

Hershel Jones Tells Voters His Feelings About School

Having placed my name on the ballot for election to the school board, I would like to take this opportunity to acquaint the citizens of our school district with some facts about myself and to ask for your support.

As most people know, I have lived in Spearman all my life, graduated from Spearman High School, and have taken a great deal of interest in our school system.

Being 37 years of age, I feel that I have enough wisdom yet enough youthful vigor to do a good job.

Having been associated with a successful business for the last 10 years, I feel that I have learned enough about business to do the job, and our schools should be run in a business like manner. Although schools seldom make money, money saved in one place may be spent in another place where it is badly needed.

My wife has taught school for eight years in three different school systems. Consequently, I feel that I have a pretty good idea about the teacher's problems and what should be expected of our teachers.

Every year a good education becomes more and more important to the youth of our community. Our grandparents got by and prospered on a grade school education, our sons and daughters must be at least prepared for college competition and not be listed on the rolls of drop-outs. The biggest reason for drop-outs at the college level is that the student isn't prepared in high school for the additional work load imposed by most of the better colleges. Spearman Schools are well on their way toward this goal, but the job is not over yet. We must continually improve our system or we are lost. To stand still is to fail. We must stay abreast or ahead of other schools.

Schools are for our children, not for the parents. They are the ones that need to be considered first and foremost before voting on any issue that arises. Is it good for the student? How many will it effect? Can we afford NOT to progress, not can we afford to progress. To student welfare, I pledge my vote every time.

At the beginning of school next fall I will have three children enrolled in the Spearman Schools. It is my obligation to them and other children like them that compels me to run for this position. Most of us can't leave our children with great wealth and the material things in life, but God willing, we can at least leave them a good education which is longer lasting and more valuable in the end. My goal is simple, the best Class AA school in the State of Texas.

THE WAY I SEE IT

Robert Cordes, Pastor
Oslo & Faith Lutheran

So many view sin as outward acts instead of an inward moral condition of separation from God. Sin is more than just breaking rules, or cheating, swearing, jealous or coveting etc. Sin is failing to love perfectly.

If we loved God above all things, we would think & live differently. Love is the keeping of God's law. But none of us puts God first and loves to serve Him above anything else. So we stand guilty of breaking God's law.

Adam & Eve were to love God but listened to Satan and thought God was withholding power. Adam & Eve lusted after this power and so sinned.

Sin is now a condition in each of us. It is a relationship between God and man that has been broken. Man, unless he is born again of Water and the Spirit as John 3:5 states, is lost. Left to ourselves, we are in rebellion against God. We are lost.

John 6:35 finds Jesus saying, "I am the bread of life. He who eats (believes) in me has eternal life. Read whole chapter 6 of John. Whoever does not believe Jesus is the way to God still abides in sin.

No wonder during Sunday School and Sunday morning worship time, one sees the streets full of children playing. Or mothers & dads working in the lawn, or in fields or taking care of cattle. There is no love of God above other things. Our area has hundred who have other loves than God. TV, Dollars, jobs, or pleasures rate above God.

This is the result of the condition of sin in us. Unless Jesus Christ can cleanse us, we will die with this lack of love. And any one—yes any one—who is outside of Jesus as The Way will die with the guilt of sin upon their soul. It means eternal hell, separation from God.

Examine your sins. They aren't only individual deeds but a condition that only God in Christ could change. Now is the day of Salvation. Examine your life—and how loveless it is toward God. Repent & come to Him.

-EDITORIAL PAGE-

From somewhere there is a saying "Nothing is too good for the kids."

The young people of Spearman and Hansford County are extremely lucky to be living in a town and county where this seems to be the attitude of most of the adults.

If there was ever a doubt about the adults feeling this way, it should have been dispelled Monday night when local people shelled out over $34,000 cool dollars to buy the junior livestock show entries.

We have watched the show prices from counties all over the territory and the averages on local barrows and steers were as much and sometimes more than were paid in other areas for the champions.

Adults go all out in Spearman to provide as good as possible for the youths, the school and its many programs are first class, the churches all emphasize youth activities. There is scouting, Little League baseball, a swimming pool, a teen-age club, picture shows, a high ratio of cars per teen-ager and we hear even the police are not too hard on those parking.

In comparing the advantages for the youth here against what is offered in other small and large towns, Spearman is not such a bad place to live.

Also, we are happy to report that apparently the young people appreciate what is done for them. Problems among young people are relatively unknown here.

In fact, a look at the many accomplishments of the young people of the town and county show that we are getting a rather good return on our investment.

There are very few counties that can point to as many accomplishments in as many varied fields as Hansford County.

We hope this mutual admiration society can exist for a long time. Both adults and youths will benefit.

The Narrow Way

—Narrowest street in Yugoslavia is believed to be eight-yard-long Ferari Street in the Dalmatian town of Tribanj. It is paved, has street lights—and is just 18 inches wide.

Second narrowest is the town of Vodice, also in Dalmatia. It is 50 yards long and 38 inches wide.

April is Cancer Month.

We Must Vote —

Voting has always been an important civic function, but with the two recent changes in the political picture in Texas and the nation, it becomes even more important for those of us in the sparsely populated Panhandle.

With the advent of the free vote, Texas is going to have more block voting in the cities. Across the nation this vote has tended to follow the liberal, or more government services lines of thinking.

Second, the apparent break by labor with the Democratic party is going to put more pressure on the liberal wing of that party and liberal Republicans to pass the laws wanted by labor, thereby gaining the labor support.

To counter these two political changes this area, which stands to lose most, must put every vote it can in the ballot box to make our voice as strong as possible. The ballot box is the strongest voice the lawmakers hear.

We must counter the liberal vote because with the cities in control of the state government the tax money will be spent where the votes are. Those of us in the rural areas will be paying more taxes and seeing the money spent in and around the cities.

In the labor picture we are purchasers of manufactured products. Any gains made by labor in government will increase our costs and decrease our income. Why? Because labor wants higher wages, which will increase the cost of products we buy; and lower living expenses, which will force down the price we receive for food and fiber.

With elected officials having more and more control of our lives, it is important we keep as much control as possible of these officials.

LIBERAL VOTE GAIN IN STATE UNCERTAIN

As the free registration period for Texas voters came to an end it was estimated that 400,000 had been added to the list of qualified voters. More than 40,000 of them are in Tarrant County. These figures will provide an interesting basis for political speculation, but the situation is one that cannot be described with a high degree of accuracy.

It is likely to be considered generally that these new voters will add to the liberal strength in Texas. Probably they will, but there are some factors which make it difficult to guess the extent of liberal influence.

Those who registered in the free period are ones who did not pay their poll taxes or get exemption certificates in the regular period. The free registration period was provided by law in a special session of the Legislature after a federal court ruled that the Texas requirement of a poll tax payment as a qualification for voting was invalid.

The new registrants cannot, however, be described too generally as people who usually do not pay poll taxes. During the poll tax paying period the constitutionality of the poll tax as a requirement for qualification already was being challenged in the court. There was an expectation, at least by some people, that it would be outlawed and that payment would not be required. Undoubtedly some who ordinarily pay poll taxes—nobody can say how many—did not pay for that reason, then registered when they had a chance.

Then there always are some who pay poll taxes some years and do not pay in other years, depending to some extent on the prospects of issues to be settled at the polls. They can change their minds after it is too late and wish they had qualified. When politics begins to warm up intersects in voting increases. It has been warming up, and controversy over the registration was one of the things that helped develop heat. This time there was another chance for the ones who missed in the regular period.

The unproved but probably true feeling that there are more liberals than conservatives among people who ordinarily do not pay poll taxes would lead to a conclusion that the liberal strength in Texas had made a big gain. Very likely it has made a net gain, but some unusual circumstances must hold down the estimate of that gain.

Day by Day

by Day McClellan

I like the little Associated Press story I saw in an area paper the other day headlined "Hallmark of Brainwashing." It was datelined Louisville and told of a woman who called the public library there and asked for tips on how to write a thank-you note.

"Tell me," she asked, "does it have to rhyme like the ones you buy in card shops?"

Even the brainwashers of Hallmark know that to be correct, thank-you notes are blank on the inside so you can do your part. That's pretty clever headlining though.

Here's a thought. A hill is not too hard to climb, taken one step at a time; one step is not too much to take; one try is not too hard to make; one step, one try, one song, one smile will shortly stretch into a mile, and everything worthwhile was done by small steps, taken one by one. To reach the goal you started for, take one step more.

Let me share with you this recipe for Congo Bars. It calls for chocolate chips but I used butterscotch ones. They're quite good either way though.

CONGO BARS

- 1 box brown sugar
- 12 oz. pkg. chocolate chips
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups flour
- 3 tps. baking powder
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter and sugar; add eggs. Sift flour, baking powder, and soda and add to first mixture. Stir in pecans and vanilla. Spread in greased 10" x 13" pan. Sprinkle chips on top (or they can be mixed in) pressing in lightly. Bake 35 minutes at 325 degrees. Cool before cutting in bars.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

By Linda Webb
Home Demonstration Agent

For the girls who are interested in what's new in the fashion world for this spring.

Soft simplicity in fashion puts focus on fabrics and colors. Textured fabrics are still news, as are contrasts-dark on pale or textured areas alternated with smooth.

Sheers achieve an important transparent look with coolness and femininity. Seen together are sheer fabrics with matching heavier fabrics in the same pattern.

The young set has put its approval on the scrambled patterns of dots and stripes, florals and plaids. The "in" prints are calicos, baby florals, geometric and petite paisleys.

It's the year of the dress, as it replaces the suit in importance, in a variety of looks, sometimes under matching fitted coats. Suits, then, are taking to the costume look. Dresses with perky jackets or skirt-blouse-coat ensembles are taking prominence.

Sportswear takes on many moods to fit the tempo and needs of any age group. In pants, lengths are decisive, but not shapes. They skim the knee or skirt the ankle, but ignore anything in between. The ankle-touching designs include a wide range of pants---straight, cuffed or belled; on the side are bermuda-length patio pants, and above the knee culottes.

Here are a few tips on prolonging the life of washable garments through proper handling:--Sort garments as to color, type of fabrics, and the way in which they are made. Don't overload your washing machine. Don't damage or weaken fabric by twisting or wringing. Use the type of washing product suitable to the garment being washed, and use the amount recommended on the package. Avoid adding bleach directly on the garments. Always dilute the bleach water according to directions. Place small, lightweight items in a mesh bag to keep them from being twisted or damaged during washings. Close zippers and fasten hooks or supporters so they will not catch on other articles during washing. Use correct water temperature for the type of fabric you are washing, and select the correct length of time for the washing cycle. Allow the clothes to be thoroughly rinsed. Don't overload the dryer. Select correct drying time and temperature for the fabrics you are drying.

Cleanliness at home (or away) helps prevent illness. Germs live from hand to mouth; so, it's safety first to wash off the germs with soap and water, especially now that several diseases are sweeping our community. Extra care in cleanliness could help your family escape these illnesses.

THE LAST NOTE: Our theory is that the trouble really started when we began calling them teenagers instead of young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Calder of New York City were in Spearman on business last week and were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tracy.

"I saw it in The Plainsman."

Interest in Good Livestock Leads FFA Youth into Hog Business

An interest in livestock and some stock show earnings have launched Glenn Blodgett into what he hopes will be part of his life's work, raising good livestock.

Blodgett, a junior in Spearman High School and Future Farmer of America member, added to his show honors here Monday when he showed both the grand champion steer and grand champion barrow of the county junior show.

This show was just one of several the young stockman has been in this year. He has done well in all of them.

He has shown barrows and steers in the Amarillo, Fort Worth and Houston junior stock shows this winter. He also showed some breeding stock in the National and Southwestern Duroc Congress in San Antonio a few weeks ago.

His steers and barrows have placed well in all the shows and he came off with a top prize showing against professional breeders in the Duroc Congress.

Blodgett has the reserve champion gilt of the Duroc show and a boar he was showing placed fifth in its class.

He sold his prize gilt for $950, a record, and his boar for $405 in the San Antonio sale. Some breeders told him later that if he had been known and older, there were few FFA boys in the show, the gilt would probably have sold for more.

The youth has only been a hog breeder for a year. He started last year after he made some money showing steers and barrows as an FFA project.

"I decided to start with hogs because you can get started quicker. There are the big litters and two litters a year."

To start he bought his gilts at the Oklahoma Duroc Congress and bred them to a prize boar at Hart. His hogs have the champion Sooner Design Lad bloodlines.

From his start he now has six sows and gilts and he plans to expand his pig operation and show in more hog shows so his stock will be known well enough to get top prices.

Blodgett is not giving up his show steers but he admits that he likes showing barrows better than steers.

He feels by raising his own barrows and showing them in different shows, this will help advertise his breeding stock, also.

Blodgett says the business is not all big prices and profit. Shortly after selling the two hogs in San Antonio, he attended the Duroc Congress in Oklahoma and purchased the champion gilt of the show for $700.

He says a breeder has to continually improve his stock if he is going to compete.

Later this year Blodgett plans to take some hogs to the National Duroc Congress in Athens, Ohio. He will do some selling and buying there.

On the gate of the notorious Dachau, death camp, the Nazi wrote "Work makes men free."

The youth has some steers on wheat and two quarterhorse mares. He also wants to raise registered cattle, but that will probably have to wait until after college.

He puts in about six hours per day, two hours before school and four or more after, with his hogs.

"Before shows we put in eight or 10 hours everyday," he said.

He doesn't think the work is too much, but he does admit it makes keeping up in school a task, especially during football season when he doesn't get to the hog farm until after six p.m. and during show seasons when he is on the show circuit.

In the next year, Blodgett hopes to earn his FFA American Farmer degree. This takes a farming operation valued at more than $5,000.

Blodgett credits his ag teacher, Jerry Felder, with getting him interested in showing hogs and then helping him select some good stock to start his herd.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blodgett, he plans to attend Texas Tech and study animal science.

"I think I would like to be a vet, but I know I will study animal science. I don't like farming, just raising good livestock," he commented.

$34,291.18 SPENT—

Record Sale Highlights Hansford Stock Show

Hansford County individuals and businessmen paid $34,291.18 for 98 head of steers, barrows and lambs shown in the annual Hansford County Junior Livestock Show here Monday.

It was a record sale for the growing show and the young feeders and their sponsors were all smiles with the results. Forty steers brought $25,288.37 for a 75¢ per pound average, 17 lambs sold for $2,453.03 for a $1.46 average and 41 barrows sold for $8,549.76 for a 75¢ average.

Glenn Blodgett led the Spearman Future Farmers of America Chapter in a new sweep of the grand and reserve championships of the show. Spearman FFA members showed five of the six grand and reserve champions of the show.

Blodgett showed the grand champion steer and barrow of the show. Blodgett's champion steer was a Hereford bred by R.H. Holland of Canada.

The barrow was one raised by Blodgett from his own herd. Ricky Hendricks showed the champion lamb of the show. Gail Beck had the reserve champion barrow. Charles Gilliam had the reserve champion barrow.

The only champion ribbon to escape the Spearman FFA boys was the reserve champion steer ribbon. It went to V.B. Morris of the Gruver FFA who showed a crossbred steer.

Hansford Implement purchased the champion steer for $1 per pound and the champion barrow for $1.50 per pound. Spearman Super Service paid $2 per pound for Ricky Hendrick's champion lamb.

Cluck Feed Lot of Gruver paid $1.05 for the reserve champion steer. Louis Schnell Electric paid 80 cents for the reserve champion barrow and North Plains Truck and Implement paid 80 cents for the reserve champion lamb.

The Hansford County buyers have always been noted for paying more for some animals placing down in the show and this year was no exception.

The last place animals in the lamb sale brought the highest per pound price. KTM Drilling paid $3 per pound for a 65 pound lamb showed by Ronnie TeBeest.

The highest selling steer was one shown by Dee Green of Gruver and it sold for $1.10 to KTM Drilling Co.

Frank Sokolosky of Panhandle A&M College judged the barrows and lambs. H.M. Breedlove, Vice President of the Farmers State Bank in Clarendon, judged the steers. Archa Morse, Preston Smith and Marvin Wilson auctioned the animals.

The placings, prices and buyers for the sale were:

Services will be conducted by the Rev. Wayland Murray, pastor, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery in Pampa under the direction of Carmichael-Whately Funeral Directors.

The 20-month-old child may have had spinal meningitis, an attending physician said this week. Cultures were sent to the Dallas Diagnostic Laboratory to ascertain the cause of death, but at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday the results had not been reported by the laboratory.

The child died in Hansford Hospital Monday afternoon shortly after his parents had taken him to the doctor. He had had cold symptoms for two days.

Preventative medication has been administered to all persons who have been in contact with the child recently, the doctor said.

Surviving besides the parents, are a brother, Randy Allen, sisters, Janet Lynn and Gwendlyn Kay and a stepsister, Judy Ann Bush, all of the home, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Hollis and Mr. and Mrs. Edrick Smith of Pampa.

March 27-April 2 National FHA Week

National FHA Week, March 27 through April 2, will be observed by 600,000 high school youth across the nation who are members of the Future Homemakers of America.

This national youth organization of home economics students in junior and senior high schools provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to the science of homemaking.

The FHA Chapter in Spearman has arranged a busy schedule of activities in observance of National FHA Week. These activities are designed to focus public attention on the objectives and accomplishments of FHA in meeting the responsibilities of today and preparing for the challenges of tomorrow.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Hudson and Mrs. Claudine Clark, FHA Chapter

Advisers, these young people carry out a program of work

COLLEGE AND PERSONAL GROWTH

Going to college will broaden and deepen your knowledge, interests, and appreciation. You will have the opportunity to take some subjects rarely or never offered in high school, such as psychology, philosophy, philology and sociology, and to study more deeply others begun in high mathematics, music and art.

Your studies and your association with serious students and scholarly teachers will be very stimulating.

JEST A MINUTE

Stretching is considered an aid to health, but it doesn't seem to help truth any.

designed to improve personal, family, and community living. The program includes nine major projects under the headings of: Individuality Counts; Good Health-A Valuable Asset; Jobs, Careers, and You; Morals and Manners Matter; Good Family Relations Through Communications; Citizenship Challenges You; Your Neighbors Near and Far; Make Your Money Behave; and Leisure Time-Constructive Time.

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self supporting organization, officially sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association. High School home economics teachers serve as advisers to the 11,900 local chapters.

President of the FHA Chapter in Spearman is Susan Hutchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Hutchison.

Wayland College Offers Liberal Arts Education

Wayland Literary and Technical Institution was chartered by the State of Texas in 1908. Two years later the name was changed to Wayland Baptist College. The reason for the name change was the college became part of the system of institution supported by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Wayland Baptist College of Plainview is an institution for higher learning, open to all races and dedicated to education in liberal arts program seeks to mobilize a students appreciation of his culture heritage.

The purposes of Wayland College are as follows: as. To provide basic knowledge in major areas of natural sciences, social sciences, religion and fine arts.

b. To offer partial or complete training for certain vocations in the fields of religion, education and business.

c. To emphasize the spiritual and intellectual qualities that reflect the hallmark of the cultured Christian.

Students who attend Wayland pay only part of the cost for their education. They pay only 55% of the actual expense. The remaining 45% is provided by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The tuition is $18.00 per semester hour.

GI Assistance Begins June 1, Waco Office Says

The VA Regional Office in Waco has had hundreds of inquiries about the education benefits under the new GI bill since it was signed by President Johnson according to Jack Coker, Manager.

But, he said, necessary application forms and instructions for administration of the educational benefits won't be available in his office until mid-April. Until then, Mr. Coker said, his office cannot process any applications.

He pointed out that the bill does not go into effect until June 1, and no veterans will be paid for time spent in school before that date.

There are 210,000 post-Korean Conflict veterans in Texas and 26,500 are expected to take advantage of the educational provisions of the new GI bill (Public Law 89-358) in its first year.

Coker suggested veterans interested in going to school first check on the entrance requirements of the schools they hope to attend.

While waiting for the VA

office to get set up, Coker said, prospective students could also look into the possibility of getting loans, scholarship and part-time jobs to supplement VA payments.

The new GI bill will make monthly payments to veterans going to colleges, universities, high schools, vocational, business and correspondence schools based on one month of school for each month of active duty up to 36 months.

Payments will be $100 for single men, $125 for married men and $150 for men with two dependents. They will be prorated for students taking less than a full course load.

Veterans must have more than 180 days of active duty, any part of which was on or after February 1, 1955. They will have eight years from their last discharge from active duty to complete courses, but the first cutoff date is not until March 3, 1974.

Seniors Set Annual Play April 28

The Senior play characters consist of Agnes Martyn-Ginger Schneider, Bob-Darrel Adkison, Marilee-Bethany Donnell, Gracie-Genie Warren, Miss Lydia-Linda Bengel, Henry Turner-Kenneth Shufeldt, Doris-Nelda Archer, Sammie-Harrel Adkison, Begonia-Ann Jackson and Nico-demus-Janie Kirkland. The name of the play is "A Ready Made Family". It is a farce in three acts by Jay Tobias. Romance blooms between a middle-aged couple, a widow and widower, but their children try to interfere. Mr. Worley Smith is the director. It is scheduled to be presented the 28th of April.

Choir Rates High; Now Will Compete at PAMC

The Spearman High School Choir appearing at the U.I.L. Contest for the first time made a tremendous showing by receiving a first place rating from all three judges. The three contest numbers were: "He Watching Over All the World", "The Last Words of David", and "Alleluia". Spearman and Phillips were the only choirs attending to receive first place ratings.

The choir will appear for the third time at the PAMC Festival in Goodwell March 30.

For the last two years Spearman has received Most Outstanding Choir and will be trying hard to receive the honor again this year.

If you take a minute to check our list of winning vehicle identification numbers, you may know how it feels this week.

The contest's in its last week. So hurry. Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past six weeks. Every week 72 winners were posted on the showroom wall.

You may have missed your number before.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number.

Contest Rules: Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Hurry. Buick's $1,000,000 Sweepstakes is in its last week.

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Fluitt, a friend of Charles Milner, minister of the local congregation, has been a Church of Christ minister for seven years.

He extended an invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Post Office Announces

Fee Increase

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates will become effective March 26, 1966 Acting Postmaster Elmon Jacobs said today.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increase will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in Fiscal Year 1965.

Fees for money orders, registry and C.O.D. were last changed in 1961; insurance and certified mail in 1957.

The fee changes, announced in the January 11th Federal Register and confirmed in the register on February 25th, are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the Postmaster General.

The increases include: Money Order Fees: Domestic and international money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents.

Registry Fees: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C.O.D. Fees: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

Tim Lackey from Goodwell is spending spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lackey.

Clean-up Week Set

By Chamber

Next week, March 28-April 2 has been designated by the Spearman Chamber of Commerce as Clean-Up Week in Spearman.

The organization is urging every individual home and business owner to join in the drive and help give our town a clean face for the Easter holidays and the coming summer.

A schedule of cleaning up has been made.

Monday will be the day for downtown streets, alleys and playgrounds.

Tuesday is safety, health and fire prevention day. Everyone is urged to clean-up homes, schools, business buildings of rubbish, check for fire hazards and do away with potential breeding places for rodents and insects, and check all garbage cans and rubbish areas.

Wednesday is Paint-up, Repair Day. Persons are urged to paint and repair their homes, buildings, porches, fences and other out buildings should not be overlooked.

Thursday will be yard and vacant lot day. This is the day for cleaning yards, gardens and alleys and preparing gardens for planting.

Friday is pick-up and industrial day. Have all rubbish, litter and debris ready for the trucks.

Saturday is the final pick-up day.
