Acre Transfer Turned Down By Farmers

Lamb County cotton farmers do not wish to sell their cotton acreages to cotton farmers in other counties.

Last week, cotton farmers in this county voted down the proposal 975 to 581. There were 1559 votes cast in the referendum with three thrown out.

A "yes" vote by a two-third majority would have been necessary to permit transfer of acreages to other counties in Texas.

Balloting started May 16 and ended May 25. Ballots were mailed out to all known cotton producers.

Total cotton allotment for Lamb County comes to 186,624 acres.

Results of the referendum will not affect the transfer of upland cotton allotments from one farm to another within the same county and it will not affect transfers across county lines from one farm to another owned or controlled by the same person.

Both of these kinds of transfers are already provided by law.

The "no" vote here means that cotton allotments from this county to another county will not be made during 1967 upland cotton year.

Another referendum will be held here next year.

Over the state, 19 additional counties approved the cotton transfer and will be added to those already allowing transfers.

Community Weight-Lift Program Set

A community weight-lifting program is scheduled to start here June 14 for ages 12 and up with no maximum age.

Classes will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. in the apparatus room of the high school gym.

Coach Don Beck announced that barbells of all sizes will be used and classes will be taught by a qualified instructor.

Entire community is invited to participate.

Weight lifting only will be taught. Beck added that the school will not be responsible for any injuries.

SO YOU THOUGHT IT WAS HOT

When the temperature climbed to 98 officially here and over 100 degrees in some places Tuesday, folks longed for cooler weather. Well, here's a picture to cool you off, taken in February, 1963, of Cindy Jones, then 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Jones. Cindy was eating a "snow cone" in zero weather.

Lions Helped Children See, Hear, Feel Better

Because there is an Olton Lions Club... Nineteen children of this area can see a little better.

Many others feel a little better.

These facts were brought out Tuesday in an annual report of the club's activities.

A. D. Adams, treasurer of the club, noted that local Lions spent more than $2,300 on projects in the past 12 months, much of it going to help children in one way or another.

That amount of money was about what the club took in from its various projects, making it truly a non-profit, service organization.

Adams told the group at its regular meeting at the Legion Hall that the club's money was spent this way:

Nineteen pairs of glasses were purchased for needy youngsters.

One hearing aid, donated to the club by a citizen, was repaired and given to a child.

All 45 members of the club donated $10 each to the Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

A community sign board at the school was installed at a cost of about $500.

Insurance for a bus for the Boy Scouts was purchased by the club.

The OHS band was given a feed.

A total of $750 was earmarked for the financing of the foreign exchange project.

Eight of the club members gave a day of their time to serve at the annual barbecue at Halfway Research Station.

The group, headed by Lion Boss Joe Turner in 1965-66, earned its money for projects through many activities, including:

*A broom sale which netted about $230.

*Light bulb sale, $200.

*Halloween Candy Sale, $250.

*Annual Lions Carnival, $800.

*The minstrel, "Cotton Pickers Jam-boree," $350.

*A box supper, $150.

*A play by high school students with proceeds to the foreign exchange student program, $160.

And at the end of the program, a new Lion Boss, Charles Polk, summed it up by saying: "I think we had a great record last year."

He then turned to the man who preceded him, Joe Turner, and asked if he had anything to add.

Joe had nothing to say, but the rest of the group did.

They stood as one and applauded his leadership during the past year.

ESCAPES INJURY AS TRAILER FLIPS

Child Caught In Sudden Twister

A 2-year-old child escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon in a 55-foot trailer home which was overturned by an apparent twister six miles northeast of Nazareth.

The child, Danette Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burgess, was asleep in the trailer when the big wind hit.

The parents were nearby, watching helplessly as the sudden wind lifted the trailer onto its back, wheels to the sky.

Little Danette was thrown from one side of the trailer to the other, but suffered only a small bruise on her forehead.

A small dog in the trailer with her also was pitched about, but was not hurt.

Jolene and Fred Burgess, formerly of Olton, and two other daughters, Sherry, 9, and Janice, 5, were outside when the twister hit.

Fred was on a tractor in a nearby field and Mrs. Burgess was working in the garden. Sherry jumped from the trailer hitch just before the mobile home overturned. Janice was near her mother in the garden, playing with some pet rabbits the Burgesses had penned up.

Mrs. Burgess got to the trailer first, and found Danette had come through the storm unhurt.

Three or four cotton trailers in the vicinity also were blown over by the sudden wind.

C-CA To Publicize Olton In Brochure

Directors OK Project

Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture directors Tuesday authorized the printing of a new brochure advertising the town.

"We want people to know why Olton is a good place to live and what we have to offer," President Ralph Glover said.

The brochure will be prepared by Bill Turner, editor-publisher of the Enterprise, and printed by Wayne Moore, Wayne's Printing.

Turner met with the board of directors Tuesday morning and showed the group samples of brochures from other cities.

The board settled on a pocket-size brochure, 4-inch by 9-inch, which would fit a standard No. 10 envelope, handy to give to visitors or mail to someone in another town.

The Chamber expects to spend about $400 on the brochure, getting 2,000 copies with color on the front and back.

"We are going to tell the story of why Olton is a nice place to live," said Turner. "We have a lot of things going for us... good schools, excellent churches, a fine recreational facility at Olton Recreation Center, and most of all, friendly people."

The brochures will be made available to service stations, restaurants and other firms who have opportunities to pass them out among visitors to the town.

Pictures will be used liberally in the pamphlet and text will tell of the town's history, business structure and agricultural industry.

Vital statistics, like population growth, building, acres under cultivation, irrigation, utility connections, also will be covered.

Plans for the brochure highlighted a regular meeting of the C-CA board.

In other action, the board made plans to hold a coffee for businessmen and farmers.

A committee of Walter Struve, Lester Thompson and Doug Jones was appointed to work out details for the coffee.

1925 Brochure Showed Land Worth $20 To $60 Per Acre

How would you like to buy an acre of improved land around Olton for $30?

This was one of the figures quoted in a 1925 brochure on Olton put out by the Olton Chamber of Commerce.

This year, the C-CA plans a new Olton brochure.

Comparisons may be interesting.

The land values mentioned above, for example, were set in the 1925 booklet as $20 to $30 per acre for unimproved land and from $30 to $60 per acre for improved property.

At that time, Olton boasted three church buildings. In addition to the new denominations with churches here, the buildings of those three are today a far cry from the 1925 units.

School building facilities and instruction have also undergone quite a change.

The student of 1925 coming back to Olton for the first time in 1966 might not recognize the old school.

Many new courses have also been added.

Who would have thought of driver's training in 1925?

Of course, there's always "readin', rittin' and rithmetic" -- or is there? Try some "new math" on for size.

And if you don't quite get that readin' stuff the first time around, they don't whack you over the head anymore--they have a special class designed just for you.

As for rittin'... well, it's still there, less a lot of circle-drawing exercises. After all, nearly everybody has a typewriter today.

Some of the "new fangled" stuff might be scoffed at, but try matching wits with one of these kids.

Farming, of course, was played up in the 1925 brochure just as it probably will be in 1966.

King Cotton is still around, even if his crown has slipped a bit. One thing, for sure, his royal court of crops has certainly increased with new ones being tried in this area all the time.

Corn is one good example. The 1925 brochure had this to say:

"Corn is a proven staple crop in Lamb County though it is a conceded fact that the Plains cannot grow corn commercially."

Oh, yeah?

On cotton, the brochure estimated the number of bales ginned in the county during four years like this:

1922 --- 2,075

1923 --- 2,937

1924 --- 10,735

1925 --- 15,000

Last year, this county came close to 200,000 bales.

The fertility of the soil around Olton is compared in the brochure to that of "the Magic Valley along the Rio Grande. The advantage is with the Olton country, in that abundant crop yields are annually produced without irrigation."

Think about that the next time you go out to change the water.

"Mild winters, cool summers and glorious autumn--" well, some things just don't change.

Neither do the people.

"And should we tell you nothing except that 90 per cent of the population of Lamb County are home owners, God fearing and Church going people, then we would feel sure that a majority of those who read this far would have a desire to see and know more of OLTON in LAMB COUNTY."

ORC Approves Draft Plan

Olton Recreation Center directors Monday night ruled that all ORC dues in the future must be paid by annual payment or bank draft only.

The board, in a regular monthly meeting, said the move is being made to standardize the club's system of collecting dues.

THE LEO SMITH HOME

They Made It 'Washable'

BY SUE CANNON

The Leo Smiths' new home, located south of town, is built for a family of three boys who are living at home, one daughter who is working in Amarillo, and another son who is in the service.

With the three boys, Gregory, 13, Craig, 11, and Mark, 9, at home, Mrs. Smith says she built her home to be "washable."

The entry is done in a Spanish decor, with aqua walls and a terrazzo floor. The den, just off the entry hall to the west, is the "family" room. Here the television is built into a bookcase wall, next to a beautiful gray-colored brick fireplace.

The ceiling features false beams of stained wood and on the south wall, a huge nine-foot sail fish is mounted. Leo caught the fish in Acapulco, Mex., about three years ago.

There is a lovely silver antique "chocolate pot" which is about 78 years old, and has a special place in the bookcase.

In one corner of the den stands a gun-case which belongs to their son, Steven, who is an instructor at Ft. Lee, Va.

At the south end of the den is the dining area with a lovely built-in china closet.

The kitchen, featuring stained birch wood cabinets, has a snack bar which divides the work area of the kitchen from a small dinette room.

Mrs. Smith chose white appliances for her kitchen and the snack bar has a white tile table top, as does her "kitchen desk", which she says has been in constant use.

The formal living room is just to the left of the entry hall and continues the Spanish decor with a lovely satin covered couch and several big comfortable chairs. The record player also here indicates a lot of use.

"The family uses it, but I run the boys out when they come in with their dirty work clothes," Mrs. Smith laughingly comments.

South of the living room is a hall which leads into the boys' "back bathroom" which is done in white with stained birch cabinet work. The utility room which connects to the South end of the bathroom, is done in white and has birch cabinets with a pantry at the west end of the room.

The house is carpeted throughout with aqua floor covering, except the entry hall and den. The walls are done in a soft aqua color.

The second bath is done in white with beige and is just down the hall from the boys' room which is a large room containing the boys beds, two twin-size beds and a full bed which Mrs. Smith refinished in maple. Each of the boys has an unusual saving bank, in the shape of a bull. Mrs. Smith says she intends to add a coral touch to the boys room later. There are three large closets in the room.

Steven's room is just across the hall from the main bath and has gold bedspreads on the twin-size beds and gold drapes.

Now that Steven is in the service, this room serves as guest room. Mrs. Smith also refinished the bedroom suite for this room.

The master bedroom boasts a huge king-sized bed, with Spanish style furniture. The magnificent double chest and mirror enhance one entire wall and the bed has tables and lamps on either side with a chest on the south wall completing the decor.

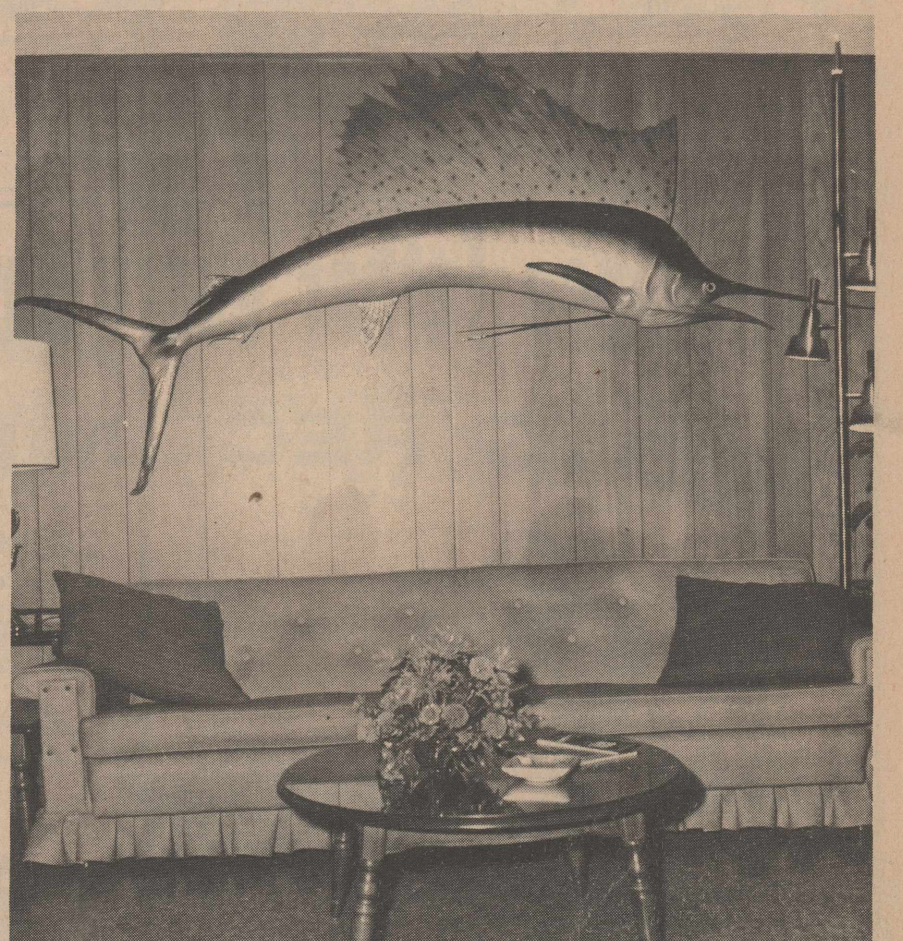

Mrs. Smith commented that she had a large picture ordered to go up over the bed and "hope some day to have every thing like she'd like it, now."

Just off the master bedroom is Mrs. Smith's dressing room, done in beautiful shades of pink, with white fixtures and walls.

The Smiths have only recently moved into their new house but just by looking through the lovely home, one can tell it was built to be "liveable", not just "washable."

MRS. LEO SMITH is pictured in the kitchen of their new home. The cabinet work is done in stained birch with white appliances.

Parent Problem

What some of us parents don't seem to realize is that we owe our youngsters more than the kids have sense enough to ask for. This editorial was prompted by a letter from an unhappy teenager. Here is the letter, word for misspelled word:

"If I ever had my way with this town I would change a lot of things. Take for example, there would be things for us young people to do like more parties.

"But the old people around here have to have their way, so they turned around and complain cause we get in trouble, but you sure don't see them trying to do very much about it.

"That is way so many girls get pregnant and have to get married at the years between 14 and 18 or even have kids at them ages.

"There is also the reasons for these young kids or boys going to jail for the main reason nothing to do.

"There is alot of kids in this town who will agree.

"So you old people get busy and do something instead of always complaining, cause your daughter or son as got in trouble. One who know"

Our first reaction to such a letter is to tell the writer to bake a cake, scrub a floor, join a club-- and learn how to spell and write a sentence. But such an answer has become as hackneyed as the there's-nothing-to-do complaint.

The problem is not in the answer itself. It's a good answer. When a 16-year-old tells you she's liable to get pregnant because there's nothing else to do, it seems perfectly valid to suggest any number of alternatives, including cold showers.

But the kid should get advice from her parents, not from Ann Landers or some other newspaper writer.

It is easy for us old crocks to tell our youngsters about all the things WE did when we were young. But they couldn't care less and why should they?

We can remember our parents telling us about chopping wood and hauling ice. They might as well have told us to go shoe a horse. The point is, things change. Adults change them, but holler foul when their youngsters reflect these changes.

The big thing kids have today is wheels.

If a boy doesn't have almost unlimited use of a car, he is nothing. He can't get a date, for gosh sakes, Dad. Parents don't want a nothing for a son. What would the neighbors say? So Junior is turned loose on the streets and highways to go where?

THAT is the problem. Too many parents don't know where Junior and Susie have gone.

The kids have a rolling motel room, snug and private, courtesy of Ma and Pa, and hours to kill.

Take a look at the traffic accident statistics.

Then look at the various statistics which reflect the pitfalls of early marriages.

And then decide which is more risky, driving or parking?

Sometimes the little big-shot tire-squealers and the short-skirted hair-in-the-faces bug us.

But most of the time, the disdain should be reserved for the parents who don't give their kids anything except the keys to the car and to the house.

We know mothers who have lied to Junior's teacher to keep the little angel from facing the music. The teachers know they are getting the baloney, but what can they do?

And Junior appreciates Ma's loving concern-- but does he respect her?

Youngsters not only need guidance, they want it. But they are human and immature and they are going to run to the end of the leash.

The parent who is too busy or too lazy to jerk the rope is asking for trouble.

Our letter-writing friend says the old folks should build the kids a three-ring amusement palace.

This one needs a lot more than that and we hope the parents give it before it is too late.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

IF IT'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR L.B.J. . . .

Dear Amy: My husband comes from the deep south. Once a week, he calls his folks long distance and all they talk about is the weather. They never call him!

He doesn't eat white bread, only hot rolls, hot biscuits, hot corn bread and hot cereals. He likes to sit in his favorite chair in broad daylight with a big light on.

I would not mind all this but he is a poor provider. Please give me your advice.

Discouraged

Dear Discouraged: If economizing is your kick, suggest that he talk about the weather via the U.S. mails . . . and there's nothing wrong with putting the heat on white bread in place of more costlier goodies.

Lastly, if the President can shut off the lights in his house (the White House, that is) when he thinks it's wasteful, your husband can, too!

Dear G.K.: If I have erred in your eyes, let it be so. But I feel that the couple in question should fulfill man's laws before reuniting.

Dear Amy: I am twelve years old and feel very neglected. For instance: My father always has fun with my brother or lets him do something special. He plays games with him, but whenever I want to join in, he gets real mad and tells me to go clean my room . . . even if it is spotless.

Mother, on the other hand, is a school teacher, but she always thinks my brother and father come first (also the school papers). I can understand her work at school would come first, but everytime I ask to do something, she'll get up real quick, rush to her papers and say, "Sorry, I have work to do. Maybe later."

They won't let me go anywhere with a friend. Why, I can't even ride a bike with other kids if my parents don't want me riding. And when they want to go somewhere, they dump me off at my cousins or unload me at friends where I'm bored to tears.

Cinderella Jr.

Dear Cinderella: If you are not suffering from an acute case of jealousy, clip your letter and my reply and put them with mother's papers. While she is working out her students' problems, she can't help open her eyes to yours.

Address all letters to: AMY ADAMS c/o THIS NEWSPAPER For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Do Something For Someone

BY ALBERT SCHWEITZER

It is not enough merely to exist. It's not enough to say "I'm earning enough to live on and to support my family. I do my work well. I'm a good husband. I'm a good father. I'm a good church-goer." That's all very well, but you must do something more.

Seek always to do some good, somewhere.

Every man has to seek in his own way to make his own self more noble and to realize his own true worth. You must give some time to your fellow men. Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who have need of a man's help, something for which you get no pay but the privilege of performing a service.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Bill--Could you send me the pictures you took of me? I would appreciate it kindly. This place down here is really different. This Airborne Training is really rank. This Leadership school is rank also, but I think it will pay off tho! They really go over us. My training is now with the 106 recoilless rifle on a jeep. Our unit is probably going over the 'pond' about October. Hope not tho! This Airborne jump school really excites me. We've been in a plane like we'll jump from and how the jump takes place etc. Well, guess best close. Got work to do and all.

He is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and the University of Alabama, where he was a member of the Crimson Tide football team - (The No. 3 team in the Nation for the 1952 Season and No. 6 for the 1953 Season). This team won the Southeastern Conference two years in succession and played in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., Jan. 1, 1953 when Cummings scored the touchdown that broke the All Time Orange Bowl Scoring Record, which still stands. The following year, Jan. 1, 1954 they played in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, and Cummings was one of two picked by the opposing team as the "Outstanding Cotton Bowl Opponents". Cummings was elected King of the Campus at the University of Alabama.

While in the U. S. Service he played football and also ran the high hurdles. In football he was picked on the "U. S. All Army Team" and played in his third Bowl game - The Charity Bowl. In high hurdles in track he won the third Army and Eastern Division of the United States and then competed in the National All Army meet in Compton, Calif., but failed to place.

Cummings played professional football in the Canadian Football League with the Ottawa Roughriders until he received a broken knee, following which, he was employed as coach in Nevada. While serving as head coach in Nevada, his Basic High School football team won state championship in 1960.

After receiving his Master's Degree in school administration from West Texas State University in 1964, Cummings moved to Anton as high school principal. He has been working on his Doctor's Degree at Texas Tech since moving to Anton.

Cummings, his wife Marion and their two small daughters, Georgia Lee, 6, and Jana Lynn, 2, live at East 5th and Coke in Anton. The Cummings are active in school, city and church activities.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Halfway Still Out In Front, Downs Parsons, Straw Gin

Halfway's Babe Ruth team remained at the top of the league this week, defeating Parsons 12-5 and downing Straw Gin twice, 20-8 and 18-13.

One of the games with Straw Gin was a makeup from May 28 and in another makeup game, Parsons downed Earth 21-13. In another game with Parsons Tuesday night, Earth came out on top 22-10.

In Friday night's game, Earth took another victory over Jack Straw Gin, 18-16.

Here are details of the games:

HALFWAY 18, JACK STRAW GIN 13

Scheduled for May 28, rained out, played June 4.)

Jack Straw Gin was held scoreless in the first two innings as Halfway began their scoring spree. In the bottom of the second, Halfway made hay from the walks, errors and hit batsman and scored seven runs on only two hits.

In the top of the third, J. S. G's Gary Cooper led off with a single. Then with two out, Johnny Lewis slammed a triple to score Cooper. Tony George rapped a sharp hit down the third base line which Lewis was unable to dodge and a rally quickly snuffed.

Halfway wasn't ready to show mercy on their victims as they scored 10 runs on only two hits.

In the fourth, the Gin boys tallied five-courtesy walks and errors.

In the 5th, they added two more as Danny Collins collected his second single. One more run scored in the sixth when Pat Trotter singled and Pete Gonzales sacrificed him home.

At the top of the seventh, Halfway was 18- J. S. G. 9. Relief pitcher, Guy Ballard, tripled and scored as Mark Chitwood reached first on an error. Tony George tripled and stole home. Barry Cowart walked, stole around to third and scored on an error by the third baseman. Final score Halfway 18-Jack Straw Gin 13. Winning pitcher was Selo Garcia, loser was Tony George.

Halfway continued its winning rampage Monday night, soundly trouncing Jack Straw Gin.

It was the same old story of capitalizing on walks and errors as they took a three-run lead in the top of the first on only one hit, a single by Randy Gaither. The home town boys tied it up in the bottom of the inning with singles by Mark Chitwood and Tony George and a double by Johnny Lewis.

In the second it was still even as both teams were three up and three down.

In the third Halfway scored five runs on hits by Randy Gaither, Charlie Fraga and Roger Pinkerton. The Ginners scored one on a walk to Chitwood who scored on a fielder's choice. In the fifth, Lewis, George, Mickey Crowder and Alonzo Springer collected singles for the Gin and the score was Halfway 9, J. S. G. 7.

In the seventh inning, Halfway finished the massacre—adding eight more runs on three hits. Winning pitcher was Mark Gaither, loser Keith Neinst.

EARTH 22, PARSONS' 10

Earth hosted Jack Straw Gin Friday night and handed their visitors their third defeat, 18-16.

Straw scored first with one run in the second when Robert Charles Davis walked and Pat Trotter singled him home.

Each team had a long third frame. Straw had five walks before Carroll Blackwell singled. Blackwell later scored on an error by the second baseman.

Earth's Freddie Helms reached first on an error with Tony Barton laying down a single. Terry Bridge cleaned the bases with a homer. Danny Boone walked. James Hood singled and all were safe when Kelly O'Hair reached first on a fielder's choice. Three more runners reached first via walks when Helms hit a fly to short-stop and Straw turned in a triple play when runners at second and third failed to tag up.

In the fourth, Davis and Tony George collected singles for Straw and Hood, Johnny Eagle and Helms for Earth. At the end of the fourth, it was Earth, 11, and Straw, 9.

HALFWAY 12 - PARSONS 5

Halfway downed Parsons 12-5 Thursday night with Halfway scoring five runs in the bottom of the first inning from one hit, a single by Joe Longoria.

In the second, Parsons took advantage of two errors to score three runs after Willie Sheffield and Jason Latimer had drawn walks and Mack Lancaster was safe at first on a fielder's choice. Halfway slapped back the same way, adding two runs via walks and errors.

Charles A. McClain tripled and Latimer was safe at second on a ball lost by the first baseman. McClain scored on the play. At the end of the third, it was Halfway 7, Parsons 4.

In the fourth, Halfway's Roger Pinkerton singled, stole around to third and pitcher Longoria singled him home. Longoria advanced on a wild pitch and Clarence Sismore walked. Lanne Cook walked to load the bases. Longoria stole home and Selo Garcia singled to score Sismore making it Halfway 10, Parsons, 4.

In the fifth, McClain was safe on a two-base error and Latimer singled to score Parsons' final run.

Halfway picked up two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth on singles by Randy Gaither, Charlie Fraga and James Pinkerton.

In the final frame, Earth's Helms singled, Tony Barton walked and Terry Bridge singled home the runners with his fourth hit in four times at bat. O'Hair was safe on first and Sanderson doubled home the final run. Winning Pitcher was Jason Latimer, loser was Bobby Cummings.

EARTH 22, PARSONS' 10

IN Tuesday night's game between Earth and Parsons Funeral Home, the home team took a second inning lead 4-1. Joe Schultz and Willie Sheffield collected singles with Jimmy Ferguson drawing a base on balls. Schultz stole home. Pete Rivera walked and an error by the second baseman scored two runs and put Mike Parsons on first. Rivera stole home for the fourth run.

In the fifth, Straw failed to score although Trotter collected a single. Earth scored four runs on only one hit, a single by Eagle.

In the sixth, the ginners took the lead on walks and hits by Mark Chitwood, Davis, Mickey Crowder and George's two run triple. Earth failed to score although Barton tripled.

In the seventh, it was three up, three down for Straw and Earth wrapped it up when Jess Robles walked. Kelly O'Hair was safe on an error and Terry Houtchin was safe on a fielder's choice that scored Robles. O'Hair scored on a fly ball and Helms singled. Tony Barton then drove in the winning run, Earth taking the game, 18-16.

Earth's Tony Barton doubled in the third and scored on Kelly O'Hair's single. Terry Bridge was on with a fielder's choice but a pop foul to Ferguson resulted in an unassisted double play.

In the fourth Earth scored five runs on four hits. Terry Houtchin walked, Freddie Helms was hit by a pitch and Bobby Cummings singled to load the bases. Steve Sanderson, pitcher, aided his own case with a triple scoring all three runners. Gil Vining walked and Barton singled to load the bases. O'Hair forced Barton and drove in another run. Terry Bridge singled to score run number 5.

In the fifth, Earth assaulted the home team with seven runs. Helms, Cummings, and Barton collected singles—Helms and Cummings two each—a double by Steve Sanderson and a triple by Roy Rivera.

In the bottom of the fifth P.F.H. scored five runs. Walks to Mack Lancaster, Charles McClain, and Green loaded the bases. A fielder's choice put Schultz on first but also scored a run. Willie Sheffield singled to drive in runs number 2 and 3. Sheffield scored as Ferguson doubled. Rivera drew a walk and Jr. Sheffield singled home the fifth run.

In the sixth, Parsons added one run on a double by McClain and a single by Green. Earth still had scoring fever and added five runs. James Good led off with a ground rule double and O'Hair tripled for the first run. Bridge walked and Johnny Eagle singled to score a run. Helms was at first on a fielder's choice and Bridge scored. An error by the second baseman put Cummings on first and scored two runs.

In the final frame, Earth made it 22 to 10 as three runs scored on two hits. With the bases loaded, a sharp line drive, with a major league catch by Mike Parsons ended the onslaught.

The home team failed to score in the bottom of the seventh. Winning pitcher was Steve Sanderson, loser was Joe Schultz.

In the second, Olton picked up two runs on three hits—consecutive singles by Jimmy Ferguson, Mack Lancaster, and Pete Rivera followed by a sacrifice fly and a single by Junior Sheffield. Then it was a quick three up, three down for the Earth team.

In the third, P. F. H. scored two runs on walks and steals. Earth slapped back hard with six runs, the result of a triple by Freddie Helms, two doubles—courtesy Bridge and Danny Boone, a single by Roy Rivers and two runners safe on base via errors.

At the bottom of the fourth, it was Earth 9 P. F. H. 5 with Bridge,

WINTER - SPRING 1966

THE FRONTIER REAPPEARS

Land that hasn't been for sale for perhaps a hundred years was suddenly opened for public purchase this month.

Galaxie Land Corporation, with headquarters in Kingsland, has secured thousands of acres of what was formerly individually-owned giant ranches from the heirs of the original landowners.

This natural wonderland is called Royal Oaks and is located above Kingsland, where the Llano and mighty Colorado rivers join and pour into picturesque constant-level Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, formerly named Lake Granite Shoals.

The land is now being subdivided into tracts of all sizes, with sensible restrictions. Purchasers may choose from a waterfront lot to a Ranchette of 3 acres or more. Every lot or Ranchette has access to full lake facilities, including boat ramp and launching privileges.

O. E. Ainsworth, long-time Kingsland developer and president of Galaxie Land Corporation, pointed out that the land currently being developed was not available for generations.

"Indians used to roam these blue-bonnet covered hills," Mr. Ainsworth said. "And when the white man drove the last of the Indians away he established huge ranches numbering thousands of acres each. This became great cattle country.

"But after several generations, the heirs of the original owners live in other cities. It is difficult to work a ranch from a distance, and not profitable. We have obtained this acreage from these landowners and now are making it available for the first time.

"We call it the Reappearing Frontier," he continued. "It vanished once, long ago, when the white man built his fences. For awhile now, it is reappearing—but only as long as the land is available.

"Soon it will begin vanishing again as new property owners pick up their deeds. And with it will vanish the opportunity—for many people—to own a part of it. We urge every interested potential property owner to contact us immediately."

INSTEAD OF DREAMING OF PARADISE, NEW LANDOWNERS LIVE IN IT—A picturesque view of beautiful blue Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, where fishermen take out the big ones and water enthusiasts enjoy their boats and skis.

THIS IS THE MAGNIFICENT VIEW you will see from the terrace of the Highland Lakes Recreation Center. It's a wide panorama provided by the beautiful Hill Country. Lake Lyndon B. Johnson is nearby, with Packsaddle Mountain in the background, the entire valley circled by the blue hills.

Recreation Club Will Feature Marina, Golf, Tennis, Rifle

A club with full recreational facilities—including an 18-hole PGA golf course—will be built on a portion of Royal Oaks Estates.

Known as The Highland Lakes Recreational Center, it will be located on the old Haywood Ranch. Directly across the lake—on another portion of the Haywood Ranch—is the house and grounds used by President Lyndon B. Johnson when he is at the lake.

Club facilities will include a club house with dining facilities, bridge and tea rooms and meeting facilities for both large and small groups. Also an Olympic size swimming pool with wading pools for tiny tots will be constructed.

Ben Hogan was advisor to the architect on construction of the PGA golf course. Mr. Hogan is also a charter member of the Center.

A marina will be included, as well as several Little League ball fields. A rifle and skeet range are in the plans, plus a tennis and volley ball court area, riding stable, and miniature golf course.

Five hundred families have purchased charter memberships in the club and that phase has been closed out. Their participation enabled the Center to be financed through a long term loan by the Farmers Home Administration.

Associate memberships are now available at $200.00 per family. Associate members will enjoy full Center facilities although not actually participating in club ownership.

Emphasis of the club is on family activity. You may find yourself one day watching another family nearby—the First Family—as the President of the United States motors in and out in his boat, chats with his lake visitors or climbs into his Amphicar (land-water vehicle) which he enjoys driving.

There Will Always Be More Cars And TVs...But Never More Land

When land rises in value, it is responding to the law of supply and demand. There will always be more cars . . . more homes . . . more television sets — but there will never be more land.

A booming population must utilize the land that is available.

Theodore Roosevelt said about land: "Every person who invests in well selected real estate in a growing section of a prosperous community adopts the surest and safest method of becoming independent, for Real Estate is the basis of all wealth."

DEATH BENEFIT IS OFFERED TO OWNERS

Galaxie Land Corporation has created a special benefit for purchasers of new tracts of land in the Highland Lakes area.

They have termed it a "Death Benefit Feature." It is not an insurance policy, but it does provide that in the event of the death of the purchaser, no further payments will be required of the family. The property will automatically be deeded to the family at no further cost.

The only qualifying factor necessary to obtain this unique feature is that the purchaser shall have paid in at least 30% of the purchase price of the land.

Lake Granite Shoals Named for President

The Lower Colorado River Authority recently changed the name of the most famous of the Highland Lakes—Granite Shoals—to the name of its most famous "visitor"—Lyndon B. Johnson.

But President Johnson is more than a casual visitor to this constant-level lake alive with fish. He has a cabin on the lake and spends several weekends there every year.

Recently he took Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara boating on the lake. Many other of the President's famous visitors have enjoyed the blue water.

A letter from the Authority's board of directors to the President read, "Insofar as the men and women of LCRA are concerned, you have been our friend for many years and have made many contributions to the development of this organization and its accomplishments in serving the people of Central Texas with flood control, the conservation of water for useful purposes, and low cost electricity.

The letter noted that the Alvin J. Wirtz dam, which created the lake, was dedicated by Mr. Johnson.

A resolution adopted by the authority's directors recalled Mr. Johnson said when he was a U.S. Senator, "Of all endeavors on which I have worked in public life, I am proudest of the accomplishments in developing the Lower Colorado River," where the lake is located.

The lake is 50 miles from the LBJ Ranch.

Lake Lyndon B. Johnson has 6,300 surface acres and is 22 miles long. Wirtz Dam is 100 feet tall and 4,816 feet long.

On the lake's northern extremity is located a federal fish hatchery which constantly provides new stocks for the Highland Lakes. As it winds its way 20 miles through canyons of the Hill Country it is broken by numerous coves and outstanding "bass holes."

Because it is constant-level, it is an ideal lake for summer cottages or permanent homesites.

Shopping Center Ribbons Are Cut

A $200,000 Highland Lakes shopping center at Kingsland serving a 20-mile area is being completed, according to President W. F. McCasland.

Shopping center chairman is C. A. Barnett. M. F. Wright and O. E. Ainsworth are vice presidents and Austin attorney John B. Selman is secretary.

The 25-acre center has eight tenants including Western Auto, Kingsland department store and postoffice, with a supermarket and variety store now under construction.

Town Has Changed—Fish, Water Same

If you wanted to go fishing at Kingsland fifty years ago you had to go about it the hard way . . . and thousands of people did.

You first went to a town that had a railroad depot from which you could catch a train to Kingsland. The ride was rough and tiring. When you finally arrived, you would stay at the Antlers Hotel without many of today's modern conveniences . . . and fish in the beautiful clear waters. The waters, in fact, are about the only thing that hasn't changed much at Kingsland.

No more trains go to Kingsland.

But automobiles do . . . by spots for weekend cottages."

The magazine describes the drive from Marble Falls as beautiful, and explains how visitors and natives alike enjoy pausing at the roadside park for a long look at Kingsland and the lake spread out below, with history-rich Packsaddle Mountain in the distance. Viewers look out across one of President Lyndon B. Johnson's ranches which extends down to the shore, just across from town.

The magazine continues, "Couples who have traveled and lived all over the world say they have found that 'just right' spot at Kingsland. There are oak and mesquite

Magazine Lauds Lake Area

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an excerpt from a story which appeared in a recent issue of the statewide edition of Texas Co-Op Power Magazine.)

"Placid lagoons, craggy cliffs, fascinating wildlife, and lazy pastoral scenes in the Highland Lakes appear with every bend of the crazily-winding series of reservoirs.

"Dams along the Colorado River in Central Texas have created Buchanan, Inks, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls, Travis, Austin and Town

Lakes — stairstepping them through the Hill Country for more than 150 miles.

"A virtual water wonderland with miles and miles of waterfront has resulted. With only partial commercial development of the lakes finished, visitors can enjoy full facilities for boating, swimming, fishing and camping, or the family can just pick a spot and rough it.

"There are, of course, public boat ramps, swimming areas, fishing and camping grounds as well—most in and near Austin.

"First of the series of lakes is Buchanan, which is 32 miles long and 8 miles wide, with 23,000 surface acres. This lake, surrounded by granite mountains, was completed in 1938 and has more than 79 resorts, with boat docks, air strips, restaurants, clubs and camps.

"Below Lake Buchanan, running three miles long and a mile wide is Inks Lake. This is a constant level lake with excellent facilities for boating and skiing. Featured attraction on the lake is Inks State Park, with 200 acres of hills, lagoons, and beaches.

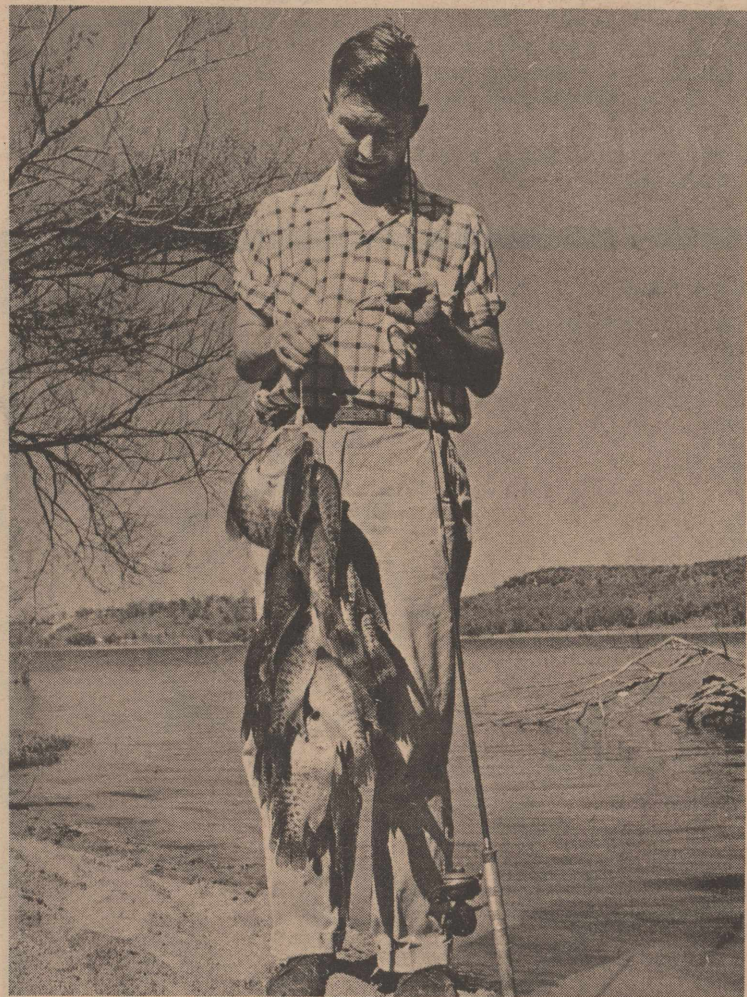

"Next in line is Lake Granite Shoals, (recently renamed Lake Lyndon B. Johnson), 22 miles of water meandering through the canyons of Burnet and Llano counties. A federal fish hatchery, which continually restocks the lake, makes this lake a 'good fishin' hole.'

"One of the most popular of the Highland Lakes is Lake Marble Falls, held in by the 90-foot high Max Starcke Dam."

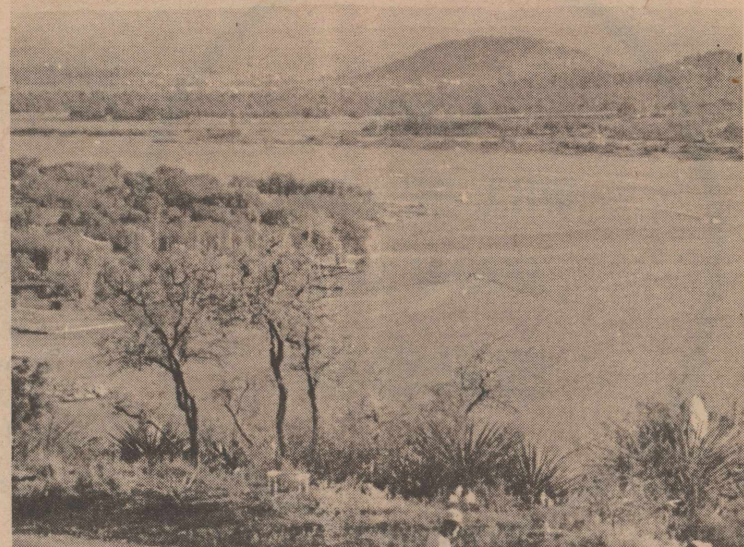

Bluebonnet Country Lures the Tourists

The Land along the Llano is known as Bluebonnet Country. Each year millions of the blue flowers with white tips spring from the earth to form a carpet that blends with the blue sky, interspersed with Indian Paintbrushes and wildflowers of every color of the rainbow.

And each year the Highland Lakes Tourist Association sponsors the Bluebonnet Trail, which draws thousands of sightseers into the Highland Lakes country.

FISH BY THE DOZENS—To catch a dozen fish on Lake Lyndon B. Johnson is easy, most ardent fishermen have discovered. The constant level lake is well stocked and bass holes are numerous. (Photo courtesy Parks & Wildlife Dept.)

VIEW FROM THE TOP—Lake Lyndon B. Johnson is known as the President's Lake. It's easy to see why the nation's busy Chief Executive would enjoy this magnificent countryside and call it home.

the thousands. Many of them are pulling boats. Every car is loaded with people excited about what they will soon do at Kingsland. It has become, according to Texas Parade Magazine, "probably the 'boomiest' community in the Lone Star State."

Kingsland's growth has been phenomenal. Says the magazine, "It's fairly bursting with newcomers from far and near—a breed of water-loving, recreation-minded folks looking for ideal retirement groves and hillsides of wild flowers that run the cycle from bluebonnets to blendings of yellows and reds. Whether these people live on lots or the little 'ranchettes' that are becoming increasingly popular, they see an abundance of deer, wild turkey, dove and quail. There's no "off-season" for Kingslanders, for this is a part of the Texas Hill Country considered to be among the most healthful climates found anywhere in the vast Southwest."
