RITCHIE FLAYS RELEASE OF PRISONERS

SUSPECTS IN LYNCHING FREED AT HEARING; CROWDS CHEER

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30. — The release of four suspects in the Princess Anne lynching brought from Governor Albert C. Ritchie a critical statement on the manner in which their liberty was restored.

The four—William H. Thompson, Irving Adkins, William Hearn and William S. McQuay—were freed late yesterday at a habeas corpus hearing before Judges John R. Pattison and Robert F. Duer at Princess Anne.

No Evidence Offered

The hearing lasted only eight minutes during which the prisoners' counsel claimed there were no warrants, no commitments and no witnesses for the state and State's Attorney John B. Robins said he had no evidence to present. Chief Judge Pattison handed down the decision.

The prisoners and their escort, Harry C. Martin, warden of the Baltimore city jail, where the former had been held, were received with loud acclaim from the large crowd around the courthouse as they rode into town.

The arrests had been made early Tuesday by the state militia at the order of Governor Ritchie and at the request of William Preston Lane, jr., attorney general of Maryland, after county officials refused to act.

Governor Ritchie in his statement declared state officials had not received any notice that habeas corpus proceedings had been started adding "I do not believe that any was intended to be given." He also criticized the early date of the hearing.

WARDEN TELLS OF HIS RECEPTION

(The reception and acclaim by the residents of Princess Anne, where he had taken four suspects for a hearing yesterday were described to the Baltimore Sun and the Associated Press by Harry C. Martin, Warden of the Baltimore city jail, after his return to Baltimore today.)

BY HARRY C. MARTIN

I left Princess Anne yesterday afternoon with the cheering of thousands of eastern shoremen ringing in my ears. It was not until the two cars in which I had taken the prisoners to Princess Anne arrived in Salisbury, about 13 miles north, that a procession of dozens of ma-

VARIOUS OBSERVANCES OF 'TURKEY DAY' ARE SEEN HERE

With a bounteous harvest, improved business conditions and the community generally enjoying an above-average health record, Lubbock, grateful, today observed that most distinctive of American holidays—Thanksgiving Day—in a variety of manners.

Beginning with religious services this morning and merging, after mid-day sessions with "turkey and all the trimmin's", John Citizen, his wife and family were left various methods of holiday making and, in most cases, seized the opportunity.

Most important football game of Texas Technological college's current season was destined to attract a great throng, some members of which traveled 200 or more miles to be on the sidelines when Coach Cawthon's Scarlet and Black eleven engage the Purple of Kansas State. Led by their mentor, Alvin 'Bo' McMillin, one-time All-American quarterback, the giant- gridsters from the home state of Carrie Nation planned to offer plenty of action against a Tech team which, in its last endeavor, squelched Baylor's Bears by a 13-0 tally.

Many To Amarillo

A special train, bearing 353 high school students, parents and other fans, steamed out of the Lubbock yards shortly after 9 o'clock, bound for Amarillo and the traditional Lubbock High-Amarillo High grid tilt. The train was due to arrive in Amarillo at 11:30 and to reach Lubbock on the return trip at 9:30 tonight.

Lubbock theaters—all five of them—vied with each other to offer the best in cinema entertainment for the holiday crowds and previews, beginning at midnight Wednesday, drew large crowds.

Dancing was scheduled for tonight at Hotel Lubbock, where Frank Carr and his Royal Palms orchestra from Hollywood are to preside over a benefit gallop sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars. At Hotel Hilton Ross Edwards, Lubbock pioneer, will be host to three dancing clubs in a private affair and his own orchestra will furnish the music. Sled Allen's Auditorium, featuring Ned Bradley and his Varsity band, will also sponsor a public dance.

Union Services Held

Three hundred persons, representing various religious denominations of the city, gathered at First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock this morning to hear the Rev. Joseph O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, in Lubbock's tenth un-

Troops Called Out To Check Tickets

OKLAHOMA CTY., Nov. 30 (AP)—Governor William H. Murray disclosed today that a mysterious order by him calling national guard troops to duty at the University of Oklahoma's football stadium for this afternoon's Oklahoma-Oklahoma Aggie game was for the purpose of checking the ticket sales.

The governor's order calling out battery B, 189th field artillery, Chickasha guard unit, declared a military zone 25 feet around each gate and ticket booth at the stadium and directed that the troops take charge of ticket sales and the collection of tickets.

EIGHT MORE PAY SPEEDING FINES

Eight persons had paid fines of $5 each for speeding this morning, to 10 o'clock, Randolph Rampy, police sergeant, said. Although no additional summonses had been recorded at the police station, police were continuing a drive against speeders and other traffic law violators.

Collections of fines Wednesday for traffic law violations exceeded $160, and dozens of persons receiving summonses from traffic policemen had not reported at the station.

Most of the fines were for speeding, and others included over-running stop signs and making illegal turns.

Plainsclothes men in private automobiles are on duty both day and night. They are arresting persons who drive trucks faster than 20 miles an hour and automobiles faster than 30 miles an hour. Initial fine for speeding is $5, and double that for the second offense.

1621 --- THANKSGIVING --- 1933

BY BRUCE CATTON

THEY went to church, that day, in Plymouth town,
To thank God for His goodness. For they had Known hunger, pain and want, gone thinly clad
Through iron winter, thrown the gauntlet down
To death himself, and let him take his toll;
And now they had won through. . . . And so they prayed
Their word of thanks, and stood up unafraid
And faced the future with undaunted soul.

TODAY we too look back upon a road
Blood-stained and dark, haunted by panic fears;
And we, too, thank our God, because He showed,
Beyond the gloom and dusk of barren years,
Beyond the memories of pain and sorrow
—The dawning of a glorious tomorrow!

GUARDSMEN IN GEORGIA ARE MOBILIZED

NEGRO FACING DEATH FOR ATTACK SOUGHT BY IRED CROWD

(By The Associated Press)

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 30.—The Milledgeville company of the Georgia National Guard assembled in their armory early today after state prison farm officials had received a report that a mob from north Georgia was en route here to seize a negro under death sentence for attacking a white woman.

The troops were awaiting instructions from Governor Eugene Talmadge in Atlanta.

Protection Asked

The home of Superintendent B. H. Dunaway of the prison farm said the report of the mob came from Governor Talmadge by telephone from Atlanta. Attorneys for the negro appealed to the governor for protection.

The negro, Mack James, was sentenced to be electrocuted tomorrow but an appeal to the state supreme court automatically stayed the sentence.

There were no definite reports from other quarters respecting a mob.

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR GETS PUBLIC REBUKE FOR LYNCHING VIEW

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30—A public rebuke for the governor of California to which the name of former President Herbert Hoover was signed, today intensified the cross-fire of criticism over the San Jose lynching of the kidnap-slayers of Brooke L. Hart.

Governor James Rolph, jr., who was censured for his approval of the lynching in a statement signed by Mr. Hoover and other prominent San Francisco district residents, said in Sacramento he had not decided whether to reply.

"State Disgrace"

The statement, issued through J. W. Mailliard, jr., president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, declared "the very spirit of government has been violated and the state has been disgraced in the eyes of the world by a brutal outburst of primitive lust for vengeance."

Laudation of the mob violence, it added, "particularly when coming from the chief executive of the state, undermines the very foundations upon which the state and all civilized society is built . . ."

Private funeral services for Thurmond and Holmes, victims of the mob violence, were held in San Jose yesterday. Thurmond's body was buried in the same cemetery which holds the remains of Hart. Holmes' body was cremated.

Equality Demand Is Held Not Radical

MEXICO, D. F., Nov. 30. (AP)—Ambassador Josephus Daniels declared in a speech prepared for delivery as a Thanksgiving address to the American colony today that the demand of the people for equality of opportunity is not radicalism.

It is, he said, "divine dissatisfaction with unjust conditions and unfair policies of government and of industry."

LIVING COSTS AND WAGES SHOW GAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The worker is earning slightly more per week than he was in July, with less exertion, but his wages will not purchase as much because of a rise in the cost of living monthly statistics compiled by the national industrial conference board show.

The recovery in industrial production and in employment was pronounced between March, and the summer peak of production reached in July, but since then indices of industrial production show some recession.

Employment since July, however, has not only been maintained, but increased, by shortening hours of work under the N. R. A. codes, and average weekly wages have gained a trifle since the summer peak of industrial output.

Lindberghs Not To Fly Across Ocean

PORTO PRAIA, Cape Verdes Islands, Nov. 30 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off today for Bathurst, capital of Gambia, in the big seaplane which brought them here Monday.

From Gambia, a small British colony just north of Dakar, Senegal, they planned to continue to Portuguese Guinea. Dakar is about 400 miles from here.

It was reported today that Colonel Lindbergh had given up plans for a trans-Oceanic return flight to the United States. Instead, it was said, he and Mrs. Lindbergh will return to London and proceed to America by ship.

Calm Reigns After Lynching Of Negro

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 30 (AP)—A Thanksgiving calm rested today on St. Joseph where Tuesday night a mob battered its way into the Buchanan county jail, seized and lynched Lloyd Warner 19-year-old negro accused of a criminal attack upon a young white girl.

An investigation, ordered by Gov. Guy B. Park, proceeded. William O. Sawyers, an assistant attorney general, was in charge. Police and other law enforcement agencies were gathering evidence which probably will be presented to the December grand jury.

Large Judgment Is Granted In Temple

BELTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The largest judgment on record in Bell county district court was rendered by District Judge Few Brewster for $148,905.71 in favor of E. E. Williams and associates. The judgment resulted from a suit to recover the unpaid purchase price of the Telegram Publishing company of Temple, which was sold in 1929 to Ward C. Mayborn, Frank W. Mayborn and Theodore W. Mayborn, stockholders in the publishing company, defendants in the suit.

BOTTLE OF HOT SOUP AND A PLUCKY GIRL PREVENT TRAGEDY

(By The Associated Press)

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 30 — A plucky girl and a bottle of hot soup helped turn possible tragedy into a real Thanksgiving for nine passengers of a plane that came down last night in Lake St. Clair.

The girl, Kathleen Smith of Chicago, hostess on an American Airways plane, opened the door and shivered neck-deep in icy water while aiding the passengers to a safe perch atop the wings.

Soup Bottle Salvaged

The soup, which bobbed up from the cabin in a vacuum bottle, was salvaged eagerly and warmed chilled bodies during the wait for rescuers from the nearby Canadian shore.

But neither the girl nor the soup, the passengers agreed after they had been given medical attention at Riverside, deserved all the praise in the fortunate escape.

They raised a cheer for Pilot Dean Smith of Summit, N. J., and the way he "pancaked" his plane flat against the ice-encrusted lake in the darkness so that the wings kept it from going down, though the body broke through.

Wait For Rescuers

They waited, many drenched and all suffering from the cold, for 20 minutes while the rescue party in boats cut a channel through the ice.

Smith said he decided to alight after engine trouble added to difficulties already raised by strong head winds which had plagued him all the way from Buffalo and a rapidly-diminishing gasoline supply.

The passengers were Mrs. I. O. Cole and her son James L., of Rochester, N. Y.; R. H. Brown of Detroit; V. S. White of Oak Park, Ill.; T. K. Thalen of Gross Pointe Park, Mich.; Mrs. H. L. Pratt of Newton Centre, Mass.; R. H. Pearsall of Elgin, Ill.; Fred A. Holtz of Elkhart, Ind.; and George E. Conde, of Flint, Mich.

Man To Serve Life Term For Slaying

LIVINGSTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—J. A. Duce today awaited transfer to the state penitentiary to begin serving a life sentence for shooting his wife, Mrs. Effie Duce, 32, last January.

The 32-year-old east Texas logging contractor admitted slaying his wife and, after kissing her farewell, hiding her body in a hog wallow. Duce claimed to have shot his wife when she threatened him with a butcherknife.

SCOUT CAMP PLANNED

Boy Scout leaders, boys at least 13 years old and men, will go to the South Plains Area council Boy Scout camp, 2 1-2 miles southwest of Post, Friday for a training course encampment, which will end at noon Saturday. Those attending are expected to bring prepared lunches or food to be cooked there for Friday noon. The other three meals will be prepared for the camp as a whole, cost of the food being prorated.

AMERICAN COURT OF JUSTICE SEEN

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Encouraged by cordial responses from the representatives of eleven governments to its resolutions urging establishment of a court of justice for the Americas, the Pan American round tables of Texas has addressed a communication to the president of Uruguay to press the project for consideration at the forthcoming Pan American conference in Montevideo.

During the present year, according to Mrs. Florence T. Griswold, director general of the Pan American round tables, the group dispatched to various governments in the Americas its oft-adopted resolution advocating creation of an American court of justice. The organization proposed a tribunal "where the great spiritual ideals of each country are respected and all questions of dispute involving inter-American interest may be tranquilly and satisfactorily settled and in this way more freely demonstrate our complete freedom of thought and action, dignifying the republics of the western hemisphere by removing the necessity for submitting problems American to foreign tribunals."

Pardoned Convict Is Arrested Again

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Ike E. Musil, who was serving a life term under the habitual criminal act when given a conditional pardon recently by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, is in the Tom Green county jail here today on an old federal charge of robbery of the Rowena postoffice in 1931.

The arrest at Ballinger yesterday was made by Texas Rangers James M. Robbins and John Williams. W. L. Holmsley, U. S. Deputy Marshal at Abilene, said he would come here tomorrow to take charge of the prisoner.

MILLER DEATH CLUE SOUGHT

NOTORIOUS DESPERADO FOUND MURDERED IN ROADSIDE DITCH

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—Admittedly without clues or theories, police and agents of the United States department of justice today sought the slayers of Verne Miller, notorious mid-western desperado, whose battered body was found on the outskirts of the city late Wednesday.

The body of the man who had been sought as the machine gunner in the slaying of four officers and a prisoner at the Kansas City Union station last June 17, was found in a roadside ditch, nude and trussed up with blankets. Identification was by fingerprints.

An examination of the body established the time of death as 18 to 24 hours before the body was found.

Detectives sought a possible link between the slaying of Miller and the slaying early Sunday of Abe Axler and Eddie Fletcher, New York and Detroit police characters, whose bodies, bearing numerous bullet wounds, were found in an automobile near a north side suburb. It was known by the police that a famous killer—possibly Miller—was brought to Detroit to slay Axler and Fletcher.

It was determined that Miller had been killed by a blunt instrument which was used to beat in his skull and that his body had been transported by automobile to the outskirts of the city and there rolled into a ditch.

Canadian Soldier Claimed By Death

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 30 (AP)—Sir Arthur Currie, 57, commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps in France and principal and vice chancellor of McGill university since 1920, died here early today.

Sir Arthur was taken to a hospital Nov. 7 suffering from blockade of a blood vessel in the midbrain. Pneumonia developed Sunday.

METHODISTS KEEP BAN ON TOBACCO

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30 (AP)—Enemies of tobacco have won their fight and southern Methodist clergymen who have taken the cloth since 1914 must continue to deny themselves the privilege of smoking and chewing.

A group of Atlanta ministers sought to have the general conference of the church remove the tobacco ban that was invoked 19 years ago.

They contended it is antiquated and of no purpose, and for a time it looked as if their efforts might be successful. They took the formal step of introducing a resolution before the north Georgia conference to propose abolition to the general conference.

A special committee saw things as did the Atlantans and recommended that the resolution be passed.

But all of that was without reckoning with the rank and file of the north Georgia delegation. The issue came to a vote before the conference and was tabled under an avalanche of anti-tobacco ballots.

The ban is not ex post facto in nature. Clergymen, who were using tobacco before its adoption, are permitted to do as they like about observance.

Suicide Interrupts Prayer At Dinner

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 30. (AP)—Ten dinner guests were seated at the table in the home of Ben Johnson, 52, periodical dealer, and grace was being said by the host.

"We thank thee, O Lord, for these gifts which we are about to receive—"

A shot rang out. The guests, raising their heads, saw Johnson slump to the floor with a revolver in his hand. Police said he had shot himself. He died a few hours later in a hospital.

MAN SLAIN AT DANCE

LONGVIEW, Nov. 30 (AP)—H. J. Satterwhite, 35, was killed by an unidentified man at a dance hall early today. G. R. Latham, deputy constable, and a special ranger were holding a witness. The shooting followed an argument over a ticket.

FDR SETS ASIDE FIRST THANKSGIVING AS THE PRESIDENT FOR HIS FAMILY

(By The Associated Press)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 30—Franklin D. Roosevelt spent his first Thanksgiving today as president of the United States and it was set aside for his family and the children of this foundation.

It was down here on Pine mountain that Mr. Roosevelt issued the proclamation for Thanksgiving and it was here yesterday that he indicated satisfaction with his recovery program and announced it would be continued.

The secretary of agriculture, Henry Wallace, and Mrs. Wallace were the only official visitors here today and they were present as a part of the family with President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Last night the president completed his official talks in a brief meeting with Eugene Black, governor of the Federal Reserve board, and Henry Bruere, federal credit coordinator.

It amounted to a quick check up on the progress of business and the availability of credit for industry and agriculture. So far as any question about the managed currency campaign was concerned in the attitude of these two financial leaders of the government it was set aside by Black's declaration that he was "fighting" to put through the program.

On the eve of Thanksgiving Mr. Roosevelt sent out a message through a talk to the boys of the civilian conservation corps in camp here that he wanted this work to continue

AS ACTING SECRETARY OF TREASURY, MORGENTHAU HAS OWN "BRAIN TRUST"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Henry Morgenthau, jr., in 10 days as acting secretary has named six advisors whom old-time treasury officials are dubbing an "inner cabinet" and "Morgenthau's brain trust."

Swiftly, Morgenthau has fortified himself with the personally chosen half-dozen to advise him in treasury functions. They are being paid out of special funds voted by congress for emergency banking activities.

The list includes Herbert Gaston, special assistant to Morgenthau and press supervisor; Herman Oliphant, legal advisor; Earle Bailie, fiscal advisor; Tom K. Smith, banking advisor; William H. McReynold, administrative advisor and Professor Roswell Magill, tax advisor.

Just what relation these will bear to those now filling offices with similar duties still is a question. But in the case of Smith, for example, Morgenthau told newsmen that bankers desiring to appeal from rulings of J. F. T. O'Connor, currency comptroller, before the acting secretary makes his decision, would be given a hearing by Smith.

Magill, of Columbia university, will advise Morgenthau on income tax matters.

Also, Morgenthau explained that fiscal and administrative duties ordinarily falling to him as undersecretary, would be

Juvenile Court To Rule On Negro Lad

Released on his own recognizance after police arrested him Wednesday morning and he admitted entering two Lubbock homes, a 13-year-old negro will be transferred to custody of county juvenile court Friday.

A Mrs. Walker, living on Twenty-third street, identified the suspect as the prowler who entered her home late in October. She said she had drawn a gun on the boy when he entered her home, but that he escaped.

The other burglary was of the W. L. Presley residence at 1709 Twenty-fourth street. A purse, containing $1.63, was stolen there last Friday night.

Radio Application Is Sent In By City

Application for a permit to operate the Lubbock police radio station, KGZW, was mailed to the federal radio commission late Wednesday.

Tests made yesterday with the short wave broadcasting station and with receiving equipment in a department automobile were satisfactory, it was said. What was described as a "flutter" in the reception could be tuned out, it was believed.

City Manager W. H. Rodgers, who said application to operate the station had been mailed, said he did not know how promptly the request would be considered by the radio commission.

The station, assembled here, operates on 2458 kilocycles.

U. S. PLAN FOR FARMERS TOLD

DR. BRADFORD KNAPP EXPLAINS RENTALS FOR COTTON LAND

The Farm Adjustment administration program as announced Wednesday was along the line of the program of the National Cotton Parity Price committee which met in Washington recently with Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and George Peek, director of the Agricultural Adjustment act, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, said last night. Dr. Knapp was a member of the committee.

Yesterday Dr. Knapp, speaking before the Rotary-Kiwanis joint luncheon, discussed his trip to Washington and explained some of the purposes of the committee's program.

Knapp Makes Explanation

"From the dispatch, I think the announcement was along the line of the committee's work," Dr. Knapp said. "We tried to get higher rates for the cotton rental. From the prices per acre quoted, it looks like we did.

"There is a sliding scale for reduction in acreage. The net reduction was first set at 40 per cent. We induced a sliding scale of from 35 to 45 per cent. That will mean that the smaller acreage men will be able to reduce only 35 to 40 per cent and the man with a larger acreage 40 and 45 per cent."

Carry-over Is Large

The nation has a 10,000,000 bale carry-over at this time, Dr. Knapp said. The government hopes by August 31, 1935, to have this surplus reduced to half that figure, what it was prior to the world war.

At the same time, this figure is expected to put cotton on a parity of 14.9 cents per pound. In other words, by the time the carry-over is what was normally the total prior to 1917 and 1918, the price of cotton will be around 14.9 cents a pound, making the farmer's dollar equal in purchasing power to dollars of other classes of producers.

660,000 Have Options

The government owns 2,400,000 bales of cotton on which 660,000 farmers have options at six cents a pound. The committee, Dr. Knapp said, induced the department of agriculture to hold off this cotton from the market and to advance cotton farmers with options four cents a pound.

Dumping of the cotton will be gradual by the department so as not to jeopardize the market. Checks for the four cent option payment will probably be sent out from Washington before Christmas, Dr. Knapp added.

Cowman Welcomes Sheep To Ranges; Breaks Precedent

FORT DAVIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The ghosts of old time cowmen who waged relentless war on the sheepmen a half century ago must have stalked indignantly when the head of a cattle organization recently welcomed the coming of more sheep to what has for years been the militant home of the cow.

J. W. Merrill, president of the Highland Hereford association, believes the westward march of sheep will actually improve the range for cattle because sheep will eat the weeds that cattle refuse. Until now, the Highland Hereford country has been restricted to cattle almost by constitutional amendment, but sheepmen have pushed steadily into the territory this year in search of good range.

W. B. Mitchell and 50 other members of the Highland Hereford association have placed their cattle at the top rank of feeder stock in the nation, until now their calves command a premium over those from other sections.

Just now the range on his ranch is almost perfect and winter feeding will not be necessary, Mr. Mitchell said.

Morgan Loan To Be Paid In Currency

ROME, Nov. 30 (AP)—Interest on the Italian government's Morgan loan, amounting to $3,000,000 and due December 1, will be paid in paper dollars, it was learned today.

The interest instalment due June 1 was paid in the same way, but many financial groups believed an arrangement had been made for meeting the next instalment in gold.

The $100,000,000 Morgan loan contains a gold clause, but Italian governmental officials contend that since the loan was contracted in New York under American laws, the gold clause is not obligatory.

Lubbock Football Season Reaches Climax Today

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

How it looks today:
Texas, 7; Texas A. & M., 20
Tulsa, 20; Arkansas, 13.
Colgate, 30; Brown, 13.
Lubbock High, 7; Amarillo, 12.
Kansas State, 20; Texas Tech, 6.

• • •

The above prognostications are not our own. They are set down according to dope, and personalities are left out. Except in one instance, we're not going to meddle with the dope bucket. But we have a hunch that Kansas State is not going to beat Tech a couple of touchdowns. In fact, our hunch goes further than that. It tells us Kansas State isn't going to win by even one touchdown. Moreover, we have that pre-season prediction to follow:

Kansas State, 7; Texas Tech, 13.

MORE SCORES?

We have another hunch, somewhat overshadowed by the above, that there will be more scoring than the preceding paragiraffe portends. Kansas State brings a pretty hot offensive team to Lubbock, because Coach Bo McMillin does not believe in concentrating on defense. He is unlike Harry Kipke of Michigan and Andy Kerr of Colgate, and others who spieled their pieces during the Tech coaching school and in numerous publications. Colonel McMillin has written for the public prints some very caustic deliberations treating with offense and defense.

• • •

Texas Tech, on the other hand, has spent a lot of time working on its defense, but with offense as the ultimate objective. While the theory is that a strong defensive team stands a better chance for the "breaks" of the game, you will see very little punting on second and third down by the Matadors this afternoon. "If we can hold that ball," opines Coach Cawthon, "we also can hold the Aggies. His theory holds water, because it is obvious that a team will not pile up many points while the opposition is holding the pigskin. Texas Tech's defense, as we have pointed out before, is as powerful, if not more so, than Texas Tech's defense of 1932, while the offense is lacking in power by several degrees.

• • •

We charge you, gentle reader, to take time off from watching the progress of the ball this afternoon and focus an optic on the blocking and interference, which is the most beautiful part of a football game. Members of the Matador team in particular will be blocking for all they're worth today. In the first place, it is highly essential if they hope to hold the score down and get places. Secondly, they have the added incentive of personal reward. Since the season started, various silver and gold and bronze medals, cups, plaques and statuettes have been on display in the trophy room, each with a legend: "To the player who makes the most tackles," or "For the best blocker," or "For the player who blocks the most kicks," etc. There are about thirteen of these trophies. The Matadors will be waging individual battles this afternoon for those trophies.

TROUBLE AT BUTLER

Judging from the manner in which the Westerners have gone about their work during recent days, they're going to give the Sandies plenty of trouble at Butler Field today. The Sandies are proud of their Butler Field tradition, which is about all they have to fight for today, and they're always hotted up for Lubbock.

• • •

It wouldn't make us at all mad to see the above dope calculation go haywire today. It's going to be a fighting bunch of Westerners that take the field this afternoon, but we're afraid to alter the contents of the dope bucket.

• • •

HOW ABOUT THAT "V"?

Just 24 hours more for you to get that All-American selection in, and make a bid for part of that five-dollar bill this department is going to split between three football fans. Jot down your selections and mail or bring them in before noon tomorrow.

LAMESA TO MEET MATADOR TODAY

MATADOR, Nov. 30.—(Special)—The Matador and Lamesa High school teams will battle it out for the District 2, Class B championship here today before what promised to be the largest crowd of the season.

Matador has had an exceptionally successful season this fall mowing down all opposition in its class, holding the class A Childress high to a scoreless deadlock, and playing Electra to a close 20-12 decision.

Lamesa two weeks ago won the title in the southern half of the district, defeating the strong Spur Bulldogs, 38-0.

With stores closing for the holiday and a large delegation of fans expected from Lamesa, a record crowd is anticipated for the game.

KANSAS STATE TEAM MEETS MATADORS

BIG CROWD EXPECTED FOR FINAL GAME ON TECH'S SCHEDULE

The battle lines of football will be drawn for the last skirmish of the 1933 season at Texas Tech field this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, finding the Kansas State Wildcats invading the stronghold of the Texas Tech Matadors.

Because of the record and recognized ability of their opponents, today's conflict is considered the banner football event of the year for the Matadors. It climaxes the season for both teams, and the collegiate football careers of about two dozen gridders.

Aggies Welcomed

Coach Alvin "Bo" McMillan and his Kansas Aggie forces arrived last night, having worked out en route at an Amarillo gridiron yesterday afternoon. A huge crowd of students and townspeople were at the Santa Fe station to bid them welcome.

In their final workout yesterday, the Matadors mixed tears with perspiration, the seniors working out in a group aside from the others under the careful and strangely soft-voiced direction of Head Coach Pete Cawthon. Each senior gridder was put through his paces, and Coach Cawthon paid vocal tribute to each of them. It needed little more to put fighting hearts into them.

Big Crowd Expected

The largest crowd of the season is expected to witness today's game, in which at least two all-American football candidates will be playing their final games. The Aggies, led by "Ramming Ralph" Graham, high scorer of the Big Six conference, are expected to put on a football show calculated to keep the fans on their feet. In the words of Tech Coaches Cawthon and Smith, who have twice scouted the Kansas team:

"Kansas State will send to Lubbock the best football team ever to appear here."

All-American footballers will trod the soil at Matador field this afternoon. Critics all over are of the opinion that Captain Graham, leading scorer in the Big Six, is worthy of first team honors. Kansas State's only defeat, that of Nebraska for the Big Six championship, is the only barrier in Graham's way.

And Mr. Russell

Rating close to Graham is Dougal Russell, who mounted football's ladder of fame when he ran wild against the University of Oklahoma in the Aggies' last game. A halfback of recognized ability and speed, Russell is expected to be a big figure in the Wildcat offense this afternoon.

Coached by one of the most unique figures in the game, Bo McMillin, who twice won all-American honors while playing at Centre college, the Aggies will present a type of offense and defense here this afternoon that, to follow, requires an alert mind and an all-seeing eye. Seven variations of offensive formation are used by the Aggies, and there is no need to suggest that plenty of deception is mixed with speed and power.

Five-Man Backfield

Coach McMillin has at Kansas State what is known as a five-man backfield. The backfield itself is never stationary, but the men shift their positions in apparently haphazard style, now one, now the other playing a certain position. But the "system," Coach McMillin's own, has proved successful — successful to the point of winning runner up honors in the Big Six conference this season.

The "five-man" backfield (sometimes it's a six-man backfield) is formed by a lineman dropping back to a wingback position, similar to the single wingback formation that is an offshoot of the Warner system. McMillin's offensive is based largely on the wingback system.

Indications are that McMillin will start his best and heaviest team this afternoon. That being the case, the total weight of the Wildcat lineup will be approximately 2,067 pounds—a 1,329-pound forward wall and a 738-pound backfield.

Shock Troops Start

Against this moving mountain of brawn and brain Coach Pete Cawthon plans to start his "shock troops," or "defensive team." According to his announcement last night, he will throw 1,853 pounds of Matador against more than a ton of Wildcat. It is not foolish to predict that not long after the opening kick-off, a wholesale substitution will be made from the Matador bench.

Cawthon's starting team today is comprised of youngsters, all of whom are expected back next season. In the backfield, Marion Harris and D. M. McElroy will do most of the leather lugging, if any, with J. V. Beauchamp and Ted Wilson calling signals and backing up the line, respectively. McElroy is a ball-toter with imposing potentialities, and if he's "right" today, he'll kotow to nobody.

They Finish Today

A dozen seniors from each school, or approximately that many, will be winding up their collegiate gridiron careers today. Most of Kansas State's starting men are seniors. When the Tech regulars take the field, nearly all of them will be taking it for the last time. Aubrey Butts, Yancy Price and Lefty Sollis, due to take the halfback and fullback positions, are seniors. In the line, Captain Elva Baker, Matt Hitchcock, Toby Greer, Lacy Turner, Esly Harris, Clarence Young, Benny McWilliams and Whacker Barton, if the latter is physically able to play, are winding up their careers at Texas Tech.

Seniors finishing competition for Kansas State are Graham, Russell, Bushby, Morgan, Doll, Weller, Blaine, McNeal, Wertzberger, Harter, Forbes and Hanson.

While the Aggies rate several points higher in national statistics, being, on paper, a two-touchdown favorite at least, the Tech gridders appear keyed up to fever pitch over the game, realizing that in victory would lie nation-wide renown. As the betting goes, Tech supporters are asking from seven to fourteen points.

Aggies To Meet Steers In Game

ANNUAL BATTLE TO BE ON KYLE FIELD AT COLLEGE STATION

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gridiron warriors of Texas A. & M. and the University of Texas clash at Kyle field today in their annual battle for supremacy.

In the fortieth encounter between football teams representing the two institutions, the Aggies appeared to have a slight edge.

Aggies Have Chance

A victory over the Longhorns would give the Aggies a chance at the Southwest conference championship, in the event Arkansas should be required to forfeit some of the games it won because of having used an ineligible player.

The Aggies have won two games and lost two in conference competition so far this season, while the Longhorns are definitely out of the picture with three losses and only two wins.

Both teams wind up their 1933 season in today's game.

Weather prospects were for a fast, dry field and a clear day which was expected to bring some 25,000 fans to watch the old rivals fight it out.

HOUSTON RACE MEET OPENS

BIG TIME PROGRAM IS CARDED AT THE NEW EPSOM DOWNS

HOUSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Big time horse racing came to South Texas today, with thousands of persons heading for Epsom Downs, large new racing plant near Houston, to witness the start of a 27-day meet.

This was the second large meet in Texas since racing under the pari-mutuel system of wagering became legal three months ago. For 35 years prior to that time horse race betting had been outlawed from the Lone Star state. The first big meet after the legalization of wagering was at Arlington Downs, mid-way between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Fergusons Invited

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, who signed the bill permitting the return of racing to Texas, and her husband, James E. Ferguson, were invited to be honor guests at the Epsom Downs inaugural. The days feature event, the Thanksgiving day handicap, was in the governor's honor.

A. C. I. King entry, Mr. Sponge, was made the favorite in the main event by handicappers. Chances of Sheldon Fairbanks Gold Step, with Earl Porter up, also were regarded highly notwithstanding that the Fairbanks entry was top weighted at 124 pounds. Trinchera, owned by J. C. Worden, had been the favorite but Worden yesterday pulled the horse from the list of entries because of a 130-pound impost.

Seven Races Carded

The handicap was over a six furlong route and carried a purse of $2,500, added. It was for two-year-olds and upward. The days purses aggregated $6,400. Seven races were carded.

Epsom Downs, named for the famous track in England, was built at a cost of approximately $500,000 on land which was a pasture eight weeks ago.

The track is claimed to be one of the fastest in the nation. The grandstand seats 8,000 and 20,000 more could be accommodated on the terrace in front. A spacious club house also has been provided.

Lou Smith, who has had experience at Rockingham and other eastern tracks, is general manager of Epsom Downs. The meet is being sponsored by the Texas Breeders and Racing association of which Edward J. Hussion, Houston political leader, is president. However, the plant was built with outside capital.

Moving pictures displaying in their principal scenes the uniforms of the Austro-Hungarian army are prohibited in Transylvania, Benat, and Bucovina.

WINTERS WINS TOSS

WINTERS, Nov. 30. (AP)—A left-handed toss of a coin by Coach Clyde Pratt yesterday afternoon in the lobby of a Brownwood hotel, won for his Winters Blizzards the championship of district 13-B. A youth, noted for his good luck, brought up from San Saba by Supt. Campbell failed to call the winner for the eastern half into the district title.

FANS OFFERED VARIED GRID MENU TODAY

TRADITIONAL CLASHES ARE SCHEDULED IN ALL SECTIONS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—While much of the traditional glory of Thanksgiving day as the day when football championships are decided has been lost in recent years, the national schedule today still takes in a great array of games.

At least two championships hang on the result of today's clashes in the Southeastern and Rocky Mountain conferences. The east, while its greatest teams remain idle until Saturday, offers such famous battles as the 40-year-old Pennsylvania-Cornell affair, Brown vs. Colgate and Pittsburgh vs. Carnegie. The midwest presents a promising intersectional struggle, Nebraska against Oregon State, and the Pacific coast headlines the St. Mary's-Oregon clash.

Title Is At Stake

The Rocky mountain conference, which saw Utah's Indians ousted from the lead this season for the first time in years, winds up with two games which may decide the title it in a tie. Denver and Colorado Aggies, each with five victories and one tie on their records, face Colorado and Utah respectively. If either loses or ties while the other wins that team loses the title as well, and things look rather bad for the Aggies. Utah, beaten only by Denver, remains one of the strongest teams in the conference and will be hard to beat.

In the Southeastern group, Alabama faces Vanderbilt and must win to clinch the championship. The Crimson Tide appears to outrank Louisiana State but the Tigers still are unbeaten. Tennessee, hanging on the heels of these two unbeaten leaders, meets Kentucky in another outstanding game and with a victory may get into the running.

Traditional Games Set

The Southern program takes in several other important games but traditions more than tities go to make them the big ones of the season. Among these are Virginia Poly-Virginia Military, Virginia-North Carolina and Loyola-Centenary.

While Nebraska, already crowned Big Six champion, begins its new rivalry against the Oregon State Beavers, Kansas winds up the conference season against the weak Missouri team, Kansas State ventures into Texas to face Texas Tech and Oklahoma meets Oklahoma Aggies.

The Southwest conference, with the race still open until a decision is made about Arkansas' use of an ineligible player, continues with Texas meeting Texas A. and M. The Aggies, with two victories and as many defeats, may get up there if Arkansas is ruled out and Texas Christian and Baylor both are beaten Saturday. Arkansas, which ended its conference season with four victories and one loss, plays Tulsa today.

Gaels Face Oregon

An individual duel on the Pacific coast may turn out to be as interesting as the St. Mary's-Oregon team clash. George (Ice-House) Wilson, the Gaels' star back, and "Iron Mike" Mukulak, Oregon's all-western back are expected to supply most of the fireworks. A second outstanding game on the west coast sends Washington State against U.C.L.A.

It's the "big game" tradition more than anything else that makes the Penn-Cornell and Brown-Colgate games in the eastern important this year but Pittsburgh, beaten only once, may turn up among the leading teams of the section if the Panthers beat Carnegie and something happens to Army and Princeton, the unbeaten leaders, when they meet Notre Dame and Yale Saturday.

The West Virginia-Washington and Jefferson game is another affair of tradition but there may be something more when St. Thomas, a small team which has kept its record clear, meets Davis and Elkins, which was upset by St. Vincent last week.

Over 322,356,476 pounds of smoking and chewing tobacco were consumed in this country during 1932.

Lubbock Police Quiet Wrestler

COPS DRAW GUNS AND ENTER RING; HEINZ BEATS KOPECKY

Although the rapidly improving Tommy "Sunshine" Heinz, popular local wrestler, won the third and decisive fall over Joe Kopecky, noted grappler of Houston, ringsiders were willing to concede the second fall of the main event at last night's wrestling show to the city police, who clambered in the ring to quash what might have turned into a riot.

When Kopecky, who had taken the first fall, chose to mix it with Referee Bo Sexton and refused to leave the ring after the second fall, officers climbed in with drawn guns and threatening words, and escorted Kopecky to the dressing room. This extra bit of entertainment came during the course of events that led up to Heins' upset victory over the brilliant but aging contestant from the canebrakes.

A La Dempsey

They came back for the second fall, the towering Kopecky sneering his way through a booing crowd. After about six minutes of rough and ready grappling, during which Kopecky would scamper to the ropes every time Heinz fixed a dangerous hold, Heinz got what might have been the fearful "Indian death lock," with which he defeated Dick Kanthe last week. But it was near the ropes, and Kopecky jumped through. There followed a slight altercation between Referee Bo Sexton and Kopecky, the latter making the sad mistake of trying to mix it with a former pugilist who hasn't forgotten. The fans closed in, but Heinz went to the rescue, grabbed Kopecky's arm, and flung him three times to the mat, smothering him with a scissors for the second fall.

As they came apart, Kopecky, not having learned his lesson, lunged at Referee Sexton again. There will be a slight pause while Sexton lands a salvo of crack shots at Kopecky's jaw. Then a clinch, and the furious Kopecky meant business. Two officers of the law clambored in, along with a dozen ringworms, brandishing chairs in the general direction of Kopecky's noggin. With an officer on each side, uttering threatening words into Kopecky's shell-like ears, he was escorted from the ring, advised to be a good boy or go to the bastile. He chose to be a good boy, but this unscheduled battle was widely acclaimed.

They came back peaceful enough, although it was plain to see that Kopecky's rage was simmering within him. He was not careful enough, and Heinz, who is nobody's ordinary palooka himself, instead, a classy wrestler who has never been defeated here nor in many other places, pinned him for the third and decisive fall after seven and a half minutes of grappling.

Almost stealing the show, until the second round of the Heinz-Kopecky battle, Andy Tremaine, the very popular young footballer from Tucson, the lad with the beautiful physique and powerful muscles, fought that strong man artist, Professor Dick Kanthe.

Tremaine, who meets Joe Kopecky tonight in Amarillo, finally fell before the powerful blows and unyielding holds of Kanthe, but not until he had matched blow for blow and hold for hold with the man probably twice his age and experience. Billed as the "strongest man in the world in his weight," Kanthe may be just that, but he is a few pounds away from Tremaine's weight, and the "Tucson Thunderbolt" gave the "professor all he could handle. Just when it appeared that Tremaine, visibly tired, was getting the best of the bout, what with a series of body slams and head locks, Kanthe twisted around after a third slam, raised Tremaine high in the air, swung him around and blasted him against the floor, then falling for a body smother and a victory after 27 minutes of a scheduled 30-minute bout.

As they came up, Kanthe took a swing at Referee Sexton, but he did not take a second poke, because Sexton's return poke changed his mind. He was booed as he left the ring, and the crowd cheered Tremaine lustily. He's a big favorite here.

Substituting for Lobo Brown of Amarillo in the prelim, the 46-year-old Claude Swindell, of Lincoln, Neb., former coach at the University of Nebraska, wallowed through a 15-minute, no-fall bout with Dave Reynolds, a clean-limbed lightweight from Cincinnati. It was a slow and uninteresting match, no punishment being meted out, each grappler playing it easy and taking his time.

Kopecky, pupil of the late Pet Brown, was taking part in his first fight since returning to these parts after a national tour. Evidently expecting something of a set-up in the young and innocent Heinz, Kopecky started in with grim determination to wind up the main event in a short time. He met a lad who, although not as well known, matched everything the veteran possessed. It was a smart bit of grappling that gave Kopecky the first fall. Heinz had resorted to his favorite method of tiring his opponent, a series of body blocks which sent Kopecky sprawling three times. On the third time, however, he caught one of Tom's flying legs, twisted and got a reverse toe-hold, a semi-"Japanese crab," and combined it with a hammer lock to win the fall.

RAMBLERS LEAVE FOR ARMY CLASH

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 30 (AP)—Coach Hunk Anderson and 36 of his weary Notre Dame football players headed for New York and their annual classic with the undefeated Army today.

Several of the players were injured, including Fullback Don Elser and Hugh Devore, star end, but the Ramblers were on edge for the battle. The team will go direct to Rye, New York, and headquarter at the Westchester Country club until just before game time.

In an effort to supply a winning spark, Coach Anderson will start John "Red" Tobin at fullback against Army. Although a halfback, Tobin has been given the battering half post.

SANDIES MEET WESTERNERS IN COMBAT

BUTLER FIELD TO BE SCENE OF ANNUAL CLASH TODAY

(Special to The Journal)

AMARILLO, Nov. 30—The Lubbock Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies were ready to battle it out for gridiron honors on historic Butler Field this afternoon in one of the outstanding Thanksgiving high school games of the state. The Westerners came to town early Wednesday, and went through a tapering off drill at Butler Field.

"My boys are all in fine physical fettle," said Coach Weldon Chapman, "with the exception of Fullback Weymond Newton, who has a badly bruised probscis, relic of the Plainview game."

No Eight-Man Line

Asked if he would play an eight-man line against the Sandies, who will be handicapped by the absence of their passing ace, Captain Corbitt, Coach Chapman replied that he still considered the Amarillo secondary to be packed with dynamite.

"I will," said Coach Chapman, "not play an eight-man line."

No title is at stake in today's battle unless Borger does the unexpected and defeats Pampa today in another Turkey Day game, but the Lubbock-Amarillo game, oldest engagement in the district, is and always will be a classic.

With Lubbock sending a large delegation on a special Santa Fe train, and interest aflame locally, a record crowd is forecast for this year's renewal of the Turkey Day series.

During Coach Chapman's regime at Lubbock high, his teams have won one game with Amarillo, and have been set back twice, in both instances on Butler field, where the Sandies have never suffered defeat.

Beat Them Here

In 1931 a favored Westerner squad invaded the stretches of Butler field only to be repulsed by the fury of a Sandie team, 25-2, in a battle of mud-larks. A few days later, with the district 1 race in a three-way deadlock, Amarillo came to Lubbock, and fell before the steady touchdown march of a Westerner team out for vengeance. Last year the Westerners lost, again on the sacred soil of Butler field, 7-0, after a wickedly contested game.

Coach Chapman's starting backfield today will probably include Rayburn Hale at the field general post, Captain Rufus "Red" Ryan and Jesse Granbury at the wingbacks, and Weymond Newton, fullback.

Charles Calhoun, who has seen considerable duty this season, is classified as a general replacement and might play either at end or halfback.

The line is rather heavy as high school forward walls go. G. B. Wimberly, of 200 pound draft, is a big bruising tackle, and his running mate, Edgar "Red" Doherty has played a smashing game all fall.

A quartet of boys, all weighing around 160 pounds, have shared the duties at the guard positions. Squarehead Barnes, Woodrow Aycock Country Phillips, or James Rodgers —any of this group may be called regular guards.

SALES REVEAL EXPANSION

ACTIVE DEMAND SEEN IN WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CHANNELS

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—"An active demand for merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels of distribution," says the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, "and a substantial reduction in bank and commercial indebtedness were important developments in the eleventh federal reserve district during the past month."

The review reveals that sales of department stores in larger cities reflected an expansion of 21 per cent over the previous month. This, the review continues, was larger than seasonal, and five per cent in excess of those a year ago.

Sales Are Larger

Distribution of merchandise at wholesale was well-sustained as compared with September, and all reporting lines showed sales considerably larger than in October last year. Consumer buying in rural sections has continued in substantial volume. Collections reflected large increases over the previous month, representing payments on both current and carry-over accounts. Debits to individual accounts at banks in principal centers were 12 per cent greater than in September, and exceeded those of October, 1932, by 15 per cent.

Further increases in the production of some crops in this district were indicated by the November 1 report of the department of agriculture. The most important improvement again occurred in cotton, the district's major cash crop, which was increased 174,000 bales in October, and the current estimate is only slightly lower than last year's production. The larger returns from this year's crop, due both to the higher prices and to receipts from the Agricultural Adjustment administration, have aided in the liquidation of indebtedness and have stimulated the demand for goods.

Drouth Affects Feed

While feed crops were affected adversely by the summer drouth, production in most instances was well in line with the average harvest. Small grains made poor growth prior to November 1 but have shown some improvement since the recent rains. The condition of ranges over a large area declined duirng October due to the lack of moisture, and livestock suffered a shrinkage on account of the poor pasturage While the recent rains have partially corrected the situation, and prospects for winter ranges are now more favorable, additional moisture would be very beneficial. Market prices for cattle have continued downward.

Coincident with the marketing of crops, the deposits of member banks evidenced a sharp increase during October. The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks rose to $622,963,000, which represents a gain of $34,858,000 over September, and an increase of $20,057,000 over October last year. Reflecting in part the large volume of deposits, the reserves of member banks at the federal reserve bank increased from $79,014,000 on October 15 to $85,163,000 on November 15, and on the latter date they were $39,993,000 greater than a year ago.

Loans Show Decline

Federal Reserve bank loans to member banks amounted to only $1,027,000 on November 15, as compared with $2,258,000 a month earlier and $7,729,000 on the corresponding date in 1932. The actual circulation of Federal Reserve currency reflected a further seasonal expansion during the month. The loans and investments of member banks showed a substantial increase between October 11 and November 8.

After declining during the two preceding months, construction activity turned upward in October. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities was 18 per cent larger than in September and slightly greater than a year ago.

HURT BUILDING FENCE

SUDAN, (Special)—Venetha Miller, of Baileyboro, west of here, was painfully injured while assisting his father in building a fence on their farm. In rounding a corner the crow bar he was using slipped, letting the wire out through the youth's leg. He was treated here for the injuries and is recovering.

Did Thanksgiving Originate With The Pilgrims? Yes, But Idea Reaches Back To Early Egyptians

SOME FORM OF GIVING THANKS KNOWN IN ALL THE AGES

"Oh Neith, mother of Ra, this day we thank thee..." Ancient Egyptians thus prayed in their observance of a feast similar to Thanksgiving. Offerings of corn and wine were laid at the feet of the gods in thanksgiving for bountiful harvests.

An Ancient Festival

And along the corridor of time has come the custom, century by century, people by people. The Greeks and Romans feasted and made merry at the end of the harvest.

In the British Isles the Feast of Ingathering was established in early days, being known in England as Harvest Home and in Scotland as Mell Supper, and entire communities gathered to harvest the last of the year's crop with singing and games and celebrative feasting.

Something akin to Thanksgiving is told of in the Book of Deuteronomy: "Thou shalt observe the feast of the tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine."

Japanese in Niiname-sai mark the harvest. More than 2,500 years ago the emperor of Japan took the first of the rice harvest as an offering to the imperial shrine. And on November 23 of this year the same rites were observed.

Traced To Pilgrims

Americans trace Thanksgiving to the Pilgrim Fathers and their first harvest festival in 1621. Three days of feasting and merry-making established an American precedent.

On February 22, 1631, the Massachusetts Bay colony observed a day of thanks for being saved from starvation by the arrival of a ship load of provisions.

Nearly a century and a half later, the chaplains of Congress recommended that December 30, 1778, be set apart as a day of general thanksgiving.

Other thanksgiving days in succeeding years were fixed for various times in the last three months of the year; George Washington assigned the day to Thursday, November 26, 1789.

Established By Lincoln

The present date was established by President Abraham Lincoln who proclaimed the fourth Thursday of November in 1864 as Thanksgiving day.

It was his intention to inaugurate an annual custom, but it was almost abandoned the following year as a result of his assassination. The nation was steeped in gloom, war weary and with sagging spirit, but the second Thanksgiving was observed.

The custom was continued. Year after year the President has proclaimed a day of thanksgiving. Year after year, no matter what gloom has stalked the world, it has been observed.

Some form of giving thanks for harvests has been known to almost all the peoples of the world in all ages. The ancient Egyptians offered corn and wine to their gods; the Japanese, following a 2,500-year-old custom, lay rice on a shrine; the Greeks and Romans feasted. The custom of making a joyful occasion of the last of the harvest activities was established early in England and Scotland. America traces Thanksgiving day to the harvest festival observed by the Pilgrims in 1621.

CHRISTMAS SEALS TO BE SOLD HERE

The Lubbock County Children's council Friday will begin sale of Christmas seals issued for aid of tubercular patients, Mrs. Joe H. Smith, a member of the council, announced late Wednesday.

The stamps this season are in black and orange with the figures in silhouette. They sell for a penny each and the proceeds will be used in combatting and treating tuberculosis.

Sixty per cent of the proceeds will be used in local work.

The sale will be conducted through the council and through the schools. It is probable that the stamps will be on sale at several down-town points.

While there is a decrease in general in the spread of tuberculosis, there is an increase among people under twenty-one years of age, particularly among women, having it, Mrs. Smith said.

SEPARATED BY LAW, COUPLE RIDES FERRY

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont. Nov. 30 (AP)—Husband and wife, yet separated by the law, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hampshire ride the ferryboat "Agoming" between the American and the Canadian Saults.

Nearly every night the ferry crew and the passengers see them—a young couple, sitting quietly, holding hands in a corner of the public cabin. They sit together thus for many trips each time they meet.

Young Hampshire boards the boat first on the American side; he is an American citizen. Mrs. Hampshire, who is a Canadian, meets him at the end of the passage and they cross, back and forth, until the ferry's last trip at night.

The husband was deported from Canada to the United States. The wife, who is not an American citizen, is barred from the United States.

So they meet on the ferry and hold hands—that is within the law.

Touhy Gangsters To Waive Extradition

ST. PAUL, Nov. 30 (AP)—Roger Touhy and three associated will waive extradition to Chicago where they are wanted on charges of kidnaping John "Jake the Barber" factor, their counsel announced in police court today.

Pleas of not guilty were entered for Touhy, Eddie McFadden, Willie Sharkey, and Gustav Schafer after fugitive warrants accusing them of Factor's $70,000 abduction last July, were read.

"The defendants," said Thomas McMeekin, who, with William Scott Stewart, defended the men in the William Hamm, jr., kidnaping of which they were acquitted Tuesday by a federal court jury, "are ready and anxious to return to Illinois."

TECH STUDES ARE OFF OF BONFIRES

Texas Technological college students have tabooed bonfires and agreed to pay for the last one.

The student body in a called convocation in the gymnasium Wednesday morning unanimously adopted two resolutions, presented by Ray Moore, president of the student council, which had adopted the resolutions Tuesday night.

After being addressed by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college, regarding the situation, the students accepted a resolution providing that each student should be assessed 7 cents, that amount to be deducted from his breakage fee deposit, to satisfy claims of about $125. The claims grew out of over enthusiasm of students gathering fuel for a recent bonfire.

The other resolution abolished bonfires in favor of events better reflecting the spirit of the campus.

The blaze resulting in the claims was preliminary to the Texas Tech-Simmons university football game Armistice Day.

Cheers and band music closed the convocation.

This Is Tough

MILWAUKEE—Milwaukee school teachers received the following communication from Milton C. Potter, superintendent of public instruction:

"It is a well approved corporate principle that officers and employes in the same corporation should not borrow from or lend to each other. Somewhat similar principle applies, with especial force these days, to the giving and receiving of gifts—particularly from children."

It means that teacher may no longer accept luscious red apples.

HALIFAX, N. S.—Martha Kelly was puzzled by the loss of a needle from her sewing basket and didn't suspect her pet kitten until she observed the usually spry animal acting very languidly. She investigated and found the needle sticking from the kitten's throat. She pulled on the needle and out it came, followed by almost a yard of thread.

CHICAGO—To avoid stomach aches, laugh.

ONE SURE WAY TO END COUGHS AND COLDS

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which sooth and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflamation, while the creosote goes onto the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion—(Adv).

Paying For A 'Crime'

A man walked into a hardware store in Sunbury, Pa., recently and told the storekeeper that he would like to settle up for a very old debt.

Thirty-one years ago, when the man was a small boy, he wanted a sled. Lacking the money to buy it, he calmly had taken one from the store; a sled valued at 75 cents.

Ever since then, this had preyed on his mind, so finally he went in to settle up—and, after some discussion, relieved his conscience by paying the storekeeper $2.25.

It is hard to read this story without wishing for more facts about it. Did the youngster who took the sled 31 years ago get as much fun out of it as he had hoped? Did the pangs of conscience that afflicted him afterward counterbalance the ache of unsatisfied desire he would have felt if he had not taken it?

A youngster who wants a sled and can't get one is a pathetic spectacle. This long-forgotten "crime" somehow is one that is very easy to understand.

If there aren't enough 'drumsticks' and 'pulley bones' to go 'round and the kids cannot be cajoled into taking a wing, just rechristen it the 'Blue Eagle Bone'.

Then they'll fight over it!

THIS being Thanksgiving Day, we would be ungrateful, wouldn't we, if we didn't pause somewhere along the line and offer serious gratitude for whatever blessings we may have had, or, for whatever other troubles we might have have had but that we somehow missed.

In this regard The Plainsman offers a prayer, written at his request by Rev. Marshall Rhew, director of religious education and assistant pastor of First Methodist church.

Under the caption 'A Plainsman's Prayer Of Thanksgiving', Mr. Rhew, who is one of the most promising young ministers in the state, has written as follows:

O God, our Father;
We, thy people,
Are grateful for our heritage;
Grateful that a small band
Of our fathers, because
Of the joy and gratitude
In their hearts,
Honored Thy Name with a
Great festival on Thanksgiving.

We, the people,
Of these great South Plains
Bow before Thee this day,
Thankful for the increase
Of our good earth;
Thankful for a season of
Clean air and warm sunshine.

We do not know why
We are so bountifully
Blessed while others suffer.
Today we bow our heads
With Thee and mourn
For all those who suffer—
For all those who have
Neither the bread for the body
Nor the bread for the soul.

May our Thanksgiving
Go further than our own tables.
Help us to realize that
When one perishes we all perish,
And that our civilization can
Rise no higher than the Least fortunate among us.
In the Name of Him
Who lived that a new day
And a new Kingdom might
Be realized in this world,
We pray. Amen.

WHILE it may sound smugly complacent, it is a fact that not one of us is so badly off today that he couldn't be in a worse condition.

No matter what has happened to us in the year just past, it could have been worse.

We do well to take cognizance of the fact and thank Divine Providence for mercy and for wisdom.

It won't be a real Thanksgiving Day unless we do.

THANKSGIVING Day always has an added meaning to The Plainsman—as it probably does to many another long suffering soul. It means the end of the football season (except, of course, the great intersectional 'battles of a century') and likewise the end of a lot of useless conversation during business hours.

After football season's over we occasionally can get a phone line out of the office when we're trying to call someone about something important and there's nobody breaking into the day by asking the result of the Dingbat-Whoozis game in Oshkosh.

So in salutation of the close of another grid year and dedicated to all the broken bones and torn ligaments, The Plainsman offers this jewel of literature:

AFTER TODAY
(THANK HEAVEN!)
The tumult and the shouting dies,
The linemen and the backs depart,
Forgot, the game's great sacrifice
The battered sub—bones pulled apart!

It Looks Like Curtains For 15-Cent Meal And The Cheap After-Dinner Stogie; Cafe Checks Hiked Under New Code

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—The five-course dinner for 15 cents is seriously threatened. And the cheap after-dinner stogie.

Restaurant checks must soak the customer at least twice the cost of the food to the proprietor, under the restaurant code about to be submitted to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

And the cigar industry insists that what this country needs is no more two-for - five - cent cigars.

Dutcher

* * *

The provisions which would mark up the average selling price of food 100 per cent above the average food cost and mark up each dish at least 40 per cent would not affect most of the 300,000 restaurants which already operate on some such basis.

But they would hit the cheap restaurants where millions—largely white-collar workers already harassed by rising prices—must eat. So those clauses may be knocked out to protect clients of the "quick-and-dirties." There'll be a good fight on them, anyway.

The cigar code forbids sale of more than three cigars for a dime. About 5 per cent of the cigar business is in cigars costing a nickel or less, compared with 47 per cent five years ago.

Fewer than 5,000,000,000 cigars were made here last year, as against 8,000,000,000, in 1920. About 55 per cent are machine-made.

Everyone admits the old-fashioned cigarmaker is doomed. But if its miserably paid workers are to be bettered, the industry says, there can be no more two-for-fives. It adds the quaint argument that weeds so vile drive many cigar smokers to cigarets.

Thanks—for Nothing

Gen. Blanton Winship, our chief adviser to Liberia, who helped devise a plan which would place the black republic under an American dictator, held the longest of all State Department press conferences—and the funniest.

Correspondents were avid for Russian news. Undersecretary Phillips gave them some, then introduced Winship to tell them all about Liberia.

Winship monologued for nearly half an hour. Then he paused an instant for breath and reached for more notes.

"Thanks, general," yelled the correspondents—and piled as one man out through the door, while Winship stood with open mouth.

Ride 'Em Cowboy!

Hollywood cowboys have formed a union and demand recognition under the movie code. They name themselves the Riding Actors' Association of Hollywood, comprising "Russian Cossacks, Riffs, Arabs, Hindoos, American Indians, Mexican Rurales, Canadian Mounties, and top-cavalrymen of many nations—Chinese, German Uhlans, French Hussars and Bengal Lancers" and "a number of English horsemen and flat-saddle riders and, most important, the American cowboys—the men who have put the punch in pictures for 25 years."

They describe themselves as "the greatest and most versatile horsemen of all time" and assert "the physical hardships they have endured to gain their education dwarf into insignificance those of any other line of human endeavor."

"We, who, through the years, have lent color, clean remarks, and climactic action to the American motion picture—more than any other human factor—elevating the standards of all film plays and lifting them out of the mire of sex nonsense," the communication says, "are the most misrepresented and the most unrepresented of all the numerous elements that go to make up the cinema-producing fabric."

What do the boys want? Casting and supervision by horse experts. Also, minimum wage of $5 or $7.50, with rented costumes, and $25 a day for speaking parts.

Livestock Trading Is Reported Slow

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Although some lambs and calves are moving, livestock trading in West Texas is slow. The biggest percentage of lambs has moved out. Average prices are 3 cents for heifer calves and 4 cents a pound for steer calves; with mutton lambs going at 4 1-2 cents.

Cattle in West Texas are in worse condition than they have been in several years, according to Hez Williams, county livestock inspector. The old grass has been exhausted and the new grass is too short for any stock except sheep. The driest year in many is now showing its effects in the absence of long grass, and many cattlemen are facing a heavy feed bill.

The Big Bend country, owing to unusually good range conditions, is seeing the greatest rush of ranchmen seeking grass that it ever experienced. Every place that has wolf proof fencing is in demand. Leasing started at 20 cents an acre yearly and has advanced to a half dollar. Little pasture remains for lease. Ranchmen in the Big Bend are reported to be asking 4 cents for heifer calves and 5 cents for steers but finding no takers.

With 'Whiz' BARRY

Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP) — Wood, Wood, and Woods. That's a trio of state officials who keep the newspaper reporters on their p's and q's all the time, especially since many committees have started investigating men and issues. It's hard for the reporters, well drilled as they are, to keep the chairman of the state highway commission, the chairman of the game, fish, and oyster commission and the state superintendent of public instruction straight. It does not mean that the Woods and Woodses are guilty of wrong-doing and need to be kept in the straight and narrow path. Far from that!

The difficluty is to keep in mind that the chairman of the highway commission is John Wood (not Woods;) the superintendent of public instruction L. A. Woods (not Wood), and the chairman of the game, fish and oyster commission A. E. Wood (not Woods).

Isn't that complicating? in safeguarding newspaper accuracy it is a real problem!

When Whirligig first went to work on a newspaper, the city editor said: "Of all things, remember to spell a person's name correctly and get his initials right; if there is anything that gets us into real trouble it is carelessness in reporting a person's name, initials, and surname." That is elementary if you stop to think a moment. It is human nature. If one sees his name in a newspaper he wants it, and the given name or initials spelled correctly.

Confusing At Times

With so many Woods and Woodses in the state capitol, it is confusing at times. Once upon a time one of Superintendent Woods men came to the press room and a question was asked about putting an "s" on his name. He explained it in a manner that Whirligig has had no trouble since in identifying each of the trio. He said, "always remember that the state superintendent of public instruction is a forest—more than one tree—and that the two others merely are single trees." That's a pretty good safety mark; something that will keep one straight when reporting news concerning the Woods and the Woodses.

World's Only Woman Air Major

Nadezhda Sumarokova, Soviet Air Major, is the only woman in the world who is commander in military aviation service.

Even in modern Russia, where women work shoulder to shoulder with men, it was only through the intervention of President Mikhail Kalinin that Sumarokova was allowed to enter the military aviation school at Yegoryevsk. Graduating from the military aviation school, and later from the Technical Aviation School at Leningrad, Sumarokova became an authority on equipping heavy-type airplanes for scientific and student flying, invented several important aviation devices and organized Russia's first "Flying Laboratory."

Now Major Sumarokova is Chief of the Special Service Department of Moscow's experimental military flying station. She has 50 aviators working under her command. Much of her time is devoted to scientific research work.

RETAIL SALES ON INCREASE

SUBSTANTIAL GAIN IS SHOWN IN OCTOBER OVER SEPTEMBER

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30. (AP)—Despite the report of a decline in farm purchasing power, October retail and wholesale trade in the tenth Federal Reserve district showed substantial increase over September, the Kansas City Federal Reserve bank announced today.

October retail sales increased 8.9 per cent over September and, as usual, were the largest for any month since July. The gain for the month was the largest reported since 1925, and compared favorably with the normal increase of 7.5 per cent, and with the exceptional decline of 1.7 per cent recorded for October, 1932.

Cumulative Sales Less

However, cumulative sales for the 10 months of 1933 were 5.6 per cent less than in the corresponding period last year, the bank reported. Merchants' stocks were 4 per cent heavier than at this time last year.

In the wholesale division, a 2 per cent gain over September and a 6.2 per cent increase over October, 1932, were reported. Hardware, drugs and dry goods made the best showing, while groceries and furniture sales dropped slightly.

The insurance field was particularly bright. The value of policies written during October increased 4.9 per cent over September.

While activity in the building trades remained relatively quiet, an increase of 31 per cent in the value of permits issued last month was reported by the bank.

Flour, Cement Gain

In the production lines, flour, and cement showed gains over September, while crude petroleum declined. Grain marketing, excluding corn, was especially light and live stock sales, although seasonably large, were below normal. Prices of both grains and livestock declined during the month. Beef prices declined to the lowest level in 25 years or over, the bank reported.

Federal Reserve bank clearings increased 16.2 per cent over September and 11 per cent over October, 1932.

LYNCHING CASE

After Dr. Thompson (William ...hompson, a prisoner) had tele...ed Judge Duer from Easton on ... way to Princess Anne and told ... that we would be a little late ... arriving I was uncertain of the ...eption we would get at the court...use. When we finally arrived in Princess Anne, I admit that for sixty ...conds I thought my goose was ...oked.

Crowd At Courthouse

There was a large crowd in front ... the courthouse that cheered continuously while our cars went slowly up the street to the steps of the building where the hearing was to be held. Some of the people jumped on the running boards of both our machines, and I didn't know whether they were going to turn them over or try to get the prisoners.

After we got out of the machines, Mr. Thompson raised his hands and told the crowd, "the warden is my guest, and anyone who lays a hand on him will be my enemy for life."

After the doctor had made that statement the whole crowd let up one yell—which was still resounding when we went into the courthouse for the hearing.

Soldiers Defended

After the four men had been released, there were so many cheers that I finally got up on the table and told the crowd that the people of Baltimore were not such a bad lot and that if the commander-in-chief had ordered the soldiers to come down on the eastern shore, they should not blame the men, but should blame the man who gave the order.

With that, another cheer went up and applause and praise rang through the room even after our party had left the court.

When I reached the steps, the car in front of the courthouse moved again, and it was ten minutes before I was able to reach my machine, because of the crowds. Pocket cameras held by the citizens themselves continued clicking as they insisted that we pose for pictures.

Car Decorated

When I got into my machine, I found it was decorated with American flags — two in front near the headlights and four stuck in the windows, so that when we started forward we could hardly see through the glasses.

Just before I left the town, a letter signed by some of the prominent citizens of the town was handed to me. It follows:

Mr. Harry C. Martin, warden, Baltimore city jail, while at Princess Anne, Md.

November 29, 1933.

Dear Sir:

"This is a testimonial from the people of the eastern shore to express our appreciation of the manner in which you treated the men that were arrested by units of the state militia and state police yesterday, taken to Salisbury and later turned over to you in Baltimore. Our reception at the courthouse at Princess Anne today shows that the people of this section can be trusted to respect law and order when properly applied.

"You will always be welcome to the eastern shore just as often as you have the opportunity to visit us.

"Respectfully,

"Citizens of the eastern shore."

TERRY COUNTY MEN SEEK UNTANGLING OF RELIEF PROGRAM; DUGGAN TO AID

A plea for assistance in untangling a tieup of their relief program as first authorized by the CWA, was made Wednesday to State Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, by a Terry county delegation headed by County Judge Jay Barret, in Lubbock Wednesday. The delegation of five came over by appointment to meet the senator who was here on business.

"We put the matter before Senator Duggan and he promised to do all he could to assist us," Judge Barret said following the meeting. "He seemed to think that he could help us.

"We had nearly 700 men at work on roads in the county, 694 to be exact. Then we received a message Tuesday saying we could use only 155 men.

"We have in Terry county about 800 farmers that did not make a thing this year. Somebody has to look after them. If our cotton crop and our corn crop had been anywhere near what they should have been, we would be all right."

The building program, which had the approval of the CWA according to Judge Barret, included four projects: A road west from Meadow and into the state highway south; the Lamesa highway from Brownfield to the Dawson county capital; highway 137 to Seagraves, a part of the state project and some work south of Brownfield.

On the basis of the proposed program the county bought about 100 fresnos, a dozen or so plows and other equipment. The total amount that was to have been spent in the county on construction work, was estimated at around $100,000.

Accompanying Judge Barret were: W. E. Hinson, P. L. Cook and L. L. Brock, county commissioners, and J. E. Shelton, chamber of commerce secretary at Brownfield.

THANKSGIVING

ion Thanksgiving day services. Principal point in Mr. Haymes sermon was that the spirit of Thanksgiving should be carried the year 'round by the true Christian and not generally expressed upon only one day.

Preceding the sermon there was an invocation by the Rev. A. W. Gordon, pastor of Asbury Methodist church; Jacque Lewis sang a solo and Dr. Jack M. Lewis, host pastor, read the scripture lesson taken from two Psalms of Thanksgiving. The choir sang as a hymn of praise and gratefulness, "Praise Ye the Lord".

"Unusual Blessings" Stressed

The sermon text was chosen from a verse in Colossians, "Maintain your zest for prayer by Thanksgiving", (Moffet). "We American people are the recipients of continual blessings," said Rev. Mr. Haymes. There are so many people—so many things for which we should be thankful. Our parents, our children, our neighbors and friends, the doctors, the preachers, the merchants, the bankers, the farmers are accepted as a matter of course. We have indeed been blind as to what constitutes happiness and to the continual blessings that pour into our lives."

"The fundamental essential in giving thanks is the recognition of the personality of God," said the Methodist minister. Our prayers should not only be those of petition but of communion with the Father," he concluded.

Offering To Charity

An offering was made to be given to some local charitable cause. The benediction was said by Dr. James M. Gordon.

The service was sponsored by the Lubbock Ministers' association. Rev. Walter P. Jennings, First Christian pastor and president of the association, presided.

Communicants of St. Joseph's Catholic church gathered at 7 o'clock this morning with Rev. Father George L. J. Schneider saying mass. Members of the Christian Science church had their own services at 11 o'clock.

Reunion Is Held

Graduates and former students of Kansas State Agricultural college had a reunion and luncheon at noon at Hotel Hilton. Many of the former 'Wildcats' trekked across the Plains for many miles to see their team in action against the Matadors and to hob-nob around the luncheon table.

Over the South Plains area high school football games offered entertainment. Chief of the school-boy clashes is the one scheduled at Matador this afternoon between Lamesa and Matador. Winner will be Class B champion of District 3.

another year. He also made it known yesterday that he intended to ask for more public works funds to continue the job-making campaign of this program.

There were two Thanksgiving dinners today for the president. At noon he and Mrs. Roosevelt and immediate members of the family sat about the festive table at the little White House on Pine mountain.

Tonight he goes to the new Georgia hall of the foundation to sit, as usual, with the children patients here and their guests at the dinner table.

A 35-pound turkey from 96-year-old Mrs. Eliza Manry of Goggins, Ga., was selected as the prize of the many birds sent here for the Thanksgiving day festival.

But every one of this community and state had some part in the presidential Thanksgiving day observance. The boys of the Civilian Conservation corps had a big cake ready and the women of Waycross, Ga., women's club supplied the Georgia decorations of pine cones, autumn leaves and other native pieces.

Corpse Of Drowned Wichitan Is Found

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The body of Earl Cook, 22, who drowned in Diversion lake Nov. 18 when he attempted to swim from a sinking boat to shore, was found yesterday in deep water where searchers had dragged for it.

Cook was in a boat with two Wichita Falls men hunting for three Wichita Falls women who were on the lake late at night when the craft struck a snag. After staying with the boat for some minutes, he left the men and started toward shore. He sank within 20 feet of his goal.

The women were found several hours later.

RAIL RATES CUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Western railroads will join Friday in a general reduction of fares, bringing down the cost of rail transporation to the lowest level in years, officials of the Southern Pacific company announced here today.

In addition to the fare cuts, amounting to 25 per cent and more in some cases, the Pullman surcharge of one third the present rate will be removed in territory west of the Mississippi river, it was announced. Practically all classes of fares will be reduced.

SHERIFF IS SOUGHT

OLNEY, Nov. 30 (AP)—Officers here were asked today to try to locate Sheriff Boss Johnson of Sulphur, Okla., who was reported to have left there Monday morning to take charge of a prisoner held here. A deputy accompanied him, according to information received here. Officers said the sheriff's wife had telephoned him repeatedly here since Tuesday, asking for him. Olney officers said they have heard nothing from Johnson.

SUSPECT IS MOVED

TEMPLE, Nov. 30. (AP)—Will Querner, charged with murder in connection with the beating to death of Dr. A. M. Clifford, Temple veterinarian, was back in the Bell county jail today. Sheriff George Zivley having returned him from an Austin jail where he had been taken for safe keeping.

Denied bond, Querner awaits grand jury action at the regular January term.

World Wheat Total Set At Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The world wheat crop was estimated by the Agriculture department today to be about 220,000,000 bushels under last year excluding Russian and Chinese output.

Shipments from Russia to date, the department said, have been but slightly larger than that of the corresponding period last year. The department added it did not seem likely that the total 1933 shipments would greatly exceed previous shipments.

The new world crop, including the Russian shipments and accounted for stocks as of July 1, was estimated at 4,380,000,000 bushels, compared with 4,487,000,000 for last year.

The gasoline tax in United States has increased 7000 per cent in the last 14 years.

MAN IS JAILED IN SWINDLING

WANTED IN NEW YORK AND CALIFORNIA, IS HELD IN FT. WORTH

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30.—Noble John Moore, alias Jackie Noble, alias Harry Murphy, was charged here today in connection with swindles amounting to thousands of dollars in New York and Los Angeles.

In a complaint filed with United States Commissioner Lois Newam by Federal District Attorney Clyde Eastus, the man was charged under the name of Moore alias Noble with being a fugitive from New York on a mail fraud charge in connection with the $140,000 swindle of John H. Calahan in December, 1930. Eastus said Moore also forfeited a $10,000 bond in New York.

Second Complaint Filed

The other complaint filed in Justice J. R. Faulkner's court charges the man under the name of Noble with being a fugitive from justice in California. He was charged with grand theft in Los Angeles in connection with a $7,000 swindle, the complaint alleged. The charge was in connection with a swindle perpetrated on William F. Farrell.

No Baskets Today — For the second time since there has been a Salvation Army in Lubbock, no Thanksgiving basket dinners was today given the needy of the city, according to Captain W. T. Wilson, commandant.

"Everybody is out picking cotton and working and we do not have any one to take care of," Captain Wilson said. "We have the usual demands for clothing and bedding.

"We are getting ready for Christmas. There will be a lot of work to be done by that time, as cotton picking will be over."

The army, Captain Wilson said, is expecting a heavy demand for aid in the late winter months when the savings of those who have been working will have become exhausted.

Cars Collide—An automobile collision occurred at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday. A Chevrolet coupe driven by H. D. Phillips of Lubbock and a DeSoto coupe piloted by Bill Evetts of Southland were in the collision. None was reported hurt.

* * *

Ragland Boy Not Hurt — An 11-year-old son of Mrs. C. C. Ragland, 1620 Eighteenth street, was not hurt in a collision here Wednesday morning, and was not an occupant of the car driven by his mother, she said, in correcting a news report. A 4-year-old son of Mrs. O. L. Peterman of near Lubbock, driver of the other car, was injured slightly. The erroneous news report was based on a police report which listed the "Ragland boy" as injured.

* * *

Lorenzo Boy Hurt—Weldon Malone, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Malone of Lorenzo, was received at Lubbock sanitarium at 8:40 p. m. Wednesday, after suffering in broken left leg in a fall while playing.

ONE FOUND GUILTY

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Nov. 30 (AP)—After three hours of deliberation, a jury in district court found Jack Layman, of Albuquerque, guilty of murder in the second degree and acquitted his brother, Johnny Layman, and brother-in-law, Charles Spencer.

The three were on trial here nearly a week for the slaying of William Meador, deputy sheriff of Torrance county, at Mountainair last July.

DRIVE TO GAME

M. E. Parker, a Texas Technological college graduate of 1933; C. O. Daniels, a former student, and Orval Smith drove by automobile from Iraan, Pecos county, a distance of 250 miles, to attend today's Kansas State Wildcat-Texas Tech Matador football clash.

SENTENCES SUSPENDED

Suspended sentences of 4 and 2 years respectively were imposed upon J. P. Seeds and J. W. Davis in trials in 99th district court Wednesday afternoon for forgery. Judge Clark M. Mullican recessed for Thanksgiving day.

Canning Quota Set By Santone Buyer

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Approximately $20,000 worth of cutter cattle from 22 counties in the San Antonio territory are assigned as quotas for slaughter in the first take for beef canning for the unemployed, according to quotas announced by F. D. Lown, purchasing agent for the government.

The total is 1,891 head, and at an average weight of 600 pounds, and the minimum price of $1.75 per 100 pounds for cutter cows, the total would be worth $19,855.50 to the growers. In some cases the price may go above the minimum.

Tully Garner Goes To Job At Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Tully C. Garner, son of Vice-President John N. Garner, self-styled "poor old country banker," has moved to Houston to begin his duties as vice president and treasurer of the newly formed Production Credit corporation.

"I'm awfully sorry to have to leave that old town of Uvalde," the banker said as he and Mrs. Garner settled themselves in Houston. "I hope I can enjoy myself here as much as I did in Uvalde. You see, I lived there all of my life—32 years."

Barrow And Woman Reported Indicted

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Dallas News says Clyde Barrow, west Dallas desperado, and Bonnie Parker, his woman companion, were indicted Tuesday by the Dallas county grand jury on charges of murder for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Davis of Fort Worth.

The grand jury delivered two indictments to District Judge Noland G. Williams but Judge Williams said the jury requested names of the persons be kept secret, as they had not been arrested.

W. D. Jones, 17, former traveling companion of Barrow who made a lengthy statement to officers last week, blaming the killing on Barrow, was charged with murder last week for Davis' death.

Billie Mace, sister of Bonnie Parker, who was held in jail here for questioning, appeared before the grand jury.

BIG RALLY HELD

Texas Tech's Matadors were cheered as possibly the largest crowd to attend a college pep rally here assembled about the Lubbock hotel.

There were no speeches. The students were led in the college's yells by Head Cheer Leader Bill Stubbs and Gene Loper, the frosh cheer leader. Matador band played. Avenue K between Broadway and Main street was roped off for the meeting.

No Namesake for You, Judge

Mrs. Ben Chapman, pretty wife of the New York Yankees' star outfielder, doesn't agree with the idea of raising a family and naming the first son after Judge William M. Walker of Birmingham, Ala. This novel suggestion by the judge, shown here conferring with Mrs. Chapman in his court, failed to effect a reconciliation, after the Chapmans had debated the matter in a court anteroom. So the wife continues her suit for separate maintenance.

FREED IN ROBBERY

WHEELER, Nov. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Maxine Triplett, indicted as a principal in the robbery of the First State bank of Mobeetie last May 4 was acquitted here yesterday.

Testimony showed that she drove an automobile for her husband, William A. Triplett, and Jack Shields when they looted the bank of about $1,200. Triplett was slain by bankers as he fled. Shields was sentenced to 20 years.

Under the new Michigan motor law a person who fails to pay an automobile accident judgment against him may never drive a car again in Michigan.

WOMAN IS KILLED

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—Miss Lyotes Haddock, 21, of Terrell, was killed last night in an automobile collision in East Dallas while en route here to take part in a rehearsal for the wedding of two friends Thursday.

EX-OFFICIAL SENTENCED

DENTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—R. L. West, who served 14 years as district clerk here, retiring at the end of 1932, was convicted in district court Wednesday on a charge of misappropriating trust funds while clerk. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

POULTRY SHOW SET FRIDAY

THIRD ANNUAL EVENT AT POST CONTINUES THROUGH SATURDAY

POST, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Everything was in readiness today for the third annual Post Poultry show sponsored by the vocational agricultural classes of the local high school, it was said by C. J. Van Zandt, instructor of the work. The show will be held Friday and Saturday.

The birds will be shown in the Connell Chevrolet building near the Santa Fe station. Winners are expected to be entered in the annual Panhandle-Plains poultry show at Slaton, January 3-5, 1934.

Prizes Offered

Cash and merchandise amounting to $55 have been offered as prizes for the show. The Connell Chevrolet company is offering $2.50 for the best cock bird in the show.

Post merchants engaged in produce and feed businesses are feeding the birds while in the display rooms. The Post Chamber of Commerce has arranged for transportation for the coops which were obtained from the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

Fifteen high schools in this section with vocational work have been invited to send poultry judging teams here for a contest. Students in vocational work at Texas Tech, under the direction of C. Luker, instructor, will be in charge of this contest. Mr. Luker is expected to have most of his 16 students here for the judging.

Bailie, in working on fiscal matters, is giving especial thought to December's nearly billion-dollar financing problem.

NEW IN MOUSETRAPS

DILLON, Mont. (AP)—Inspection of an empty jail here disclosed a new kind of mousetrap, supposedly invented by a former prisoner. A piece of cheese on the end of a stick stuck in the back of a tin can was the bait. As soon as the mouse nibbled on the cheese a system of rubber bands let go, releasing the lid of the can and imprisoning the rodent.

CHARTER PLAN IS STUDIED

PUBLIC SENTIMENT IS SOUNDED ON HOME RULE AMENDMENT

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP)—Slow at first to realize possible advantages of the new county government home rule amendment, many of the larger Texas counties have sounded out public sentiment on the proposition to consolidate duplicate offices, abolish useless jobs and abolish the fee system.

One of them, El Paso county, has gone even farther and has reached the step where the charter commission, of urban, rural, labor and big business representation, began studying the first draft of a charter.

To Submit Charter

Civil service for appointed county employes, consolidation of duplicating offices, abolition of certain positions, substitution of salaries for elected officers for the fee system and economies in county government likely will be included in the charter there. Sponsors hope to submit the charter for adoption in next year's elections.

The situation in other counties of at least 2,000 population.

Harris — Circulators of petitions for precinct and county conventions have almost enough signatures to start. Proponents contend that the saving to the county would be about $100,000.

Bexar—Although the majority of San Antonio officials and county office holders approved the plan, no official action taken.

Petitions Being Signed

Tarrant — Signatures to petitions calling for precinct conventions are mounting rapidly. Proponents hope to have some sort of new government in effect by Jan. 1, 1935. Probability of changes had stopped temporarily political activity.

Dallas — Many discussions held but no immediate prospect of precinct or county conventions. Committee named to consider.

Galveston — Taxpayers association passed up home rule because chamber of commerce named committee to study the matter.

Grayson — Failure to determine whether it would be wise to risk running the campaign into Democratic primaries next summer was delayed action. However, plans are being considered by men representing every section of the county. Grayson's vote was by large majority in favor of the constitutional amendment.

Travis—Nothing done.

McLennan — Nothing done.

Hidalgo — Nothing done.

Held Unworkable

Jefferson — Home rule is generally regarded as unworkable because of location of two large cities — a situation which exists in no other Texas county. Beaumont and Port Arthur operate under different systems of government.

The law providing for increased efficiency in the governmental makeup of the county, passed by the last legislature, called for precinct and county conventions. The latter would select a drafting commission which would complete a charter. Upon completion, it would be published and five public hearings would be held. On written request of the commission, the county commissioners would call an election for submission of the charter to a vote.

Upon its adoption, any proposal to consolidate or merge the government of a governmental agency or entity, or any division or function thereof, with the government of the county for administration, must be submitted to another vote of the electorate.

Substitution Allowed

Under constitutional provisions, a charter may provide for continuance of a commissioners' court or provide for a governing body otherwise constituted which must be elective.

A charter could provide for organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the duties and compensation of those administering the affairs. It could provide for the compensation of judges of county courts and justices of the peace on a salary basis instead of with fees. The office of justice of the peace could be made elective or appointive. District and county attorneys also could be paid on a salary basis.

Broad powers could be given to consolidate or abolish any office or department and fix the compensation for service, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office.

Amendments Possible

A charter could be amended by a majority vote of the electorate of the county.

Subject to limitations, charters may provide that the governmental or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer may be effected, however, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the electorate and is acceptable to a majority of the voters of each unit.

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. GIBSON TO BE ARRANGED; HEART ATTACK FATAL

Funeral arrangements were to be completed today for Mrs. T. P. Gibson, 73, a pioneer Lubbock resident who died unexpectedly about 8 o'clock Wednesday night of a heart attack. She had suffered abdominal pains yesterday and was treated by a physician.

Mr. Gibson, who was in Mineral Wells with their daughter, Mrs. Steve Lee, attending Mr. Lee who is ill, was expected to reach Lubbock during the day. The family reside at 1502 Avenue J.

Others Are Present

Mrs. Gibson was lying across a bed, talking to members of the family, when she suffered the attack. She died before a doctor arrived. Others in the room were her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clyde Gibson, and three granddaughters, Ruby, Mary Ruth, and Lenier Gibson.

Mrs. Gibson, who had lived on the South Plains about 30 years, also was survived by her son, Clyde Gibson; one other grandchild, Donald, one sister, Mrs. J. W. Bounds of Pasadena, Calif., and several neices, including Mrs. Ella Simpson.

Burial arrangements will be made by Sanders Funeral home.

FATHER PUTS OK ON POLICE DRIVE

K. N. Clapp, a prominent Lubbock cotton broker, helped the morale of weary whistle-blowing, beckoning policemen, in a concerted drive against traffic law violators, in a letter Wednesday to Chief of Police Wiley L. Metcalfe. A $5-check accompanied the letter.

The check was in payment of a fine for Mr. Clapp's daughter, Miss Ellen K. Clapp, who had received a summons for speeding.

Mr. Clapp said he believed "having this deducted in instalments from her allowance will cause her to budget more time to transportation. If she is turned in again, please make it ten dollars."

The last paragraph was:

"Here is wishing you success in your campaign for sane driving—'pour it on 'em.' If I can walk and drive the streets of Lubbock without having my adam's apple turn two flip-flops per block, the satisfaction thereof will be cheap at five dollars."
