Texas Shrimp Season Closed June 1-July 15

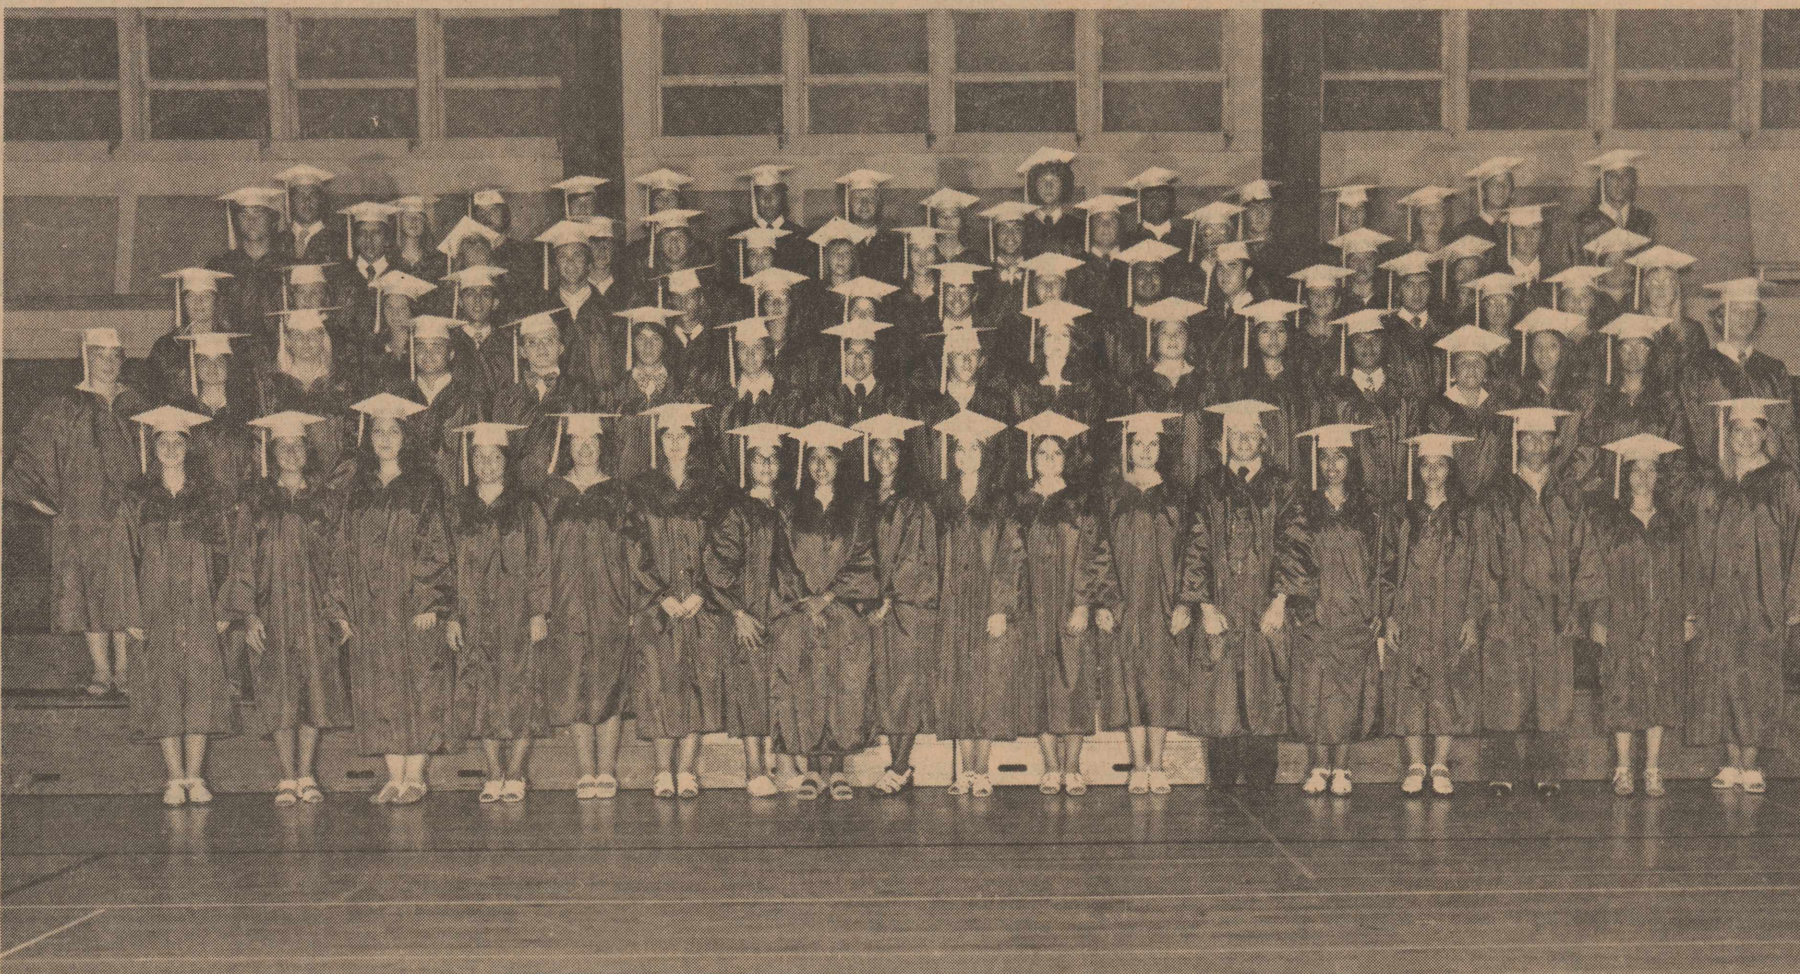

AUSTIN -- In anticipation of the annual migration of brown shrimp from Texas bays into the Gulf of Mexico, Parks and Wildlife Department executive director Clayton Garrison has announced the closing of the Gulf shrimp season from June 1 to July 15.

The Texas Shrimp Conservation Act provides for a mandatory 45-day closed season during the migration and the Parks and Wildlife Commission has the authority to move the season forward or backward.

According to department coastal fisheries personnel who monitor the growth and abundance of juvenile shrimp in the coastal bays, there are several distinct size groups of brown shrimp still in the bays. This indicates an extended period of emigration of the juvenile shrimp from the bays to the Gulf.

Some of the larger shrimp on the lower Texas Coast have already begun their migration, but there are still greater numbers of very small shrimp in the Laguna Madre and other South Texas bays which will leave in June.

1974 GRADUATING CLASS-- Last Thursday night was an important occasion for the young people shown above who received their diplomas as members of the graduating class of Rockport-Fulton High School in impressive commencement ceremonies. Listed alphabetically at the right are the names of the graduating seniors.

Due to rain, the commencement exercises were held in the gymnasium instead of at the stadium but this move failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the graduating class or the pride of their parents attending the ceremonies.

Girls' Fight Erupts Into Disturbance

Thursday, the last day of school, ended as being an exciting one for approximately 100 Junior High students and a headache for Sheriff's and Rockport Police Dept. personnel.

Sheriff Robert Hewes announced that what started out as a fight at a drive-in eating place between two young girls, ended up in an angry, roadblocking crowd of approximately 100 Junior High students, Sheriff's deputies and Rockport Police Department units were called to the scene to control the crowd.

Deputy Sheriff, Mike Webb apprehended the two fighting juvenile females and one juvenile male who interfered in Deputy Webb's lawful discharge of duties.

Sheriff's deputies and assisting Rockport police quelled the crowd and students were instructed to leave the blocked road leading to the Junior High and to return to their classes.

TOP SCHOLARS -- Russell Hanes Morrison, valedictorian, and Carolyn Sue Hawes, salutatorian, finished first and second in scholastic accomplishments among the 1974 graduating seniors at Rockport-Fulton High School.

Riding Association Youth Rodeo Success

Aransas County Riding Association kicked off their 7th annual Youth Rodeo Saturday morning with a parade down Austin Street.

D. M. Meador, parade marshal, headed the parade, followed by the mascot's float, which was followed by floats from local and surrounding organizations.

Winner for the best decorated float was from the city of Seguin. The winner for the most original float was Aransas County.

Swimmers Cautioned On Stingrays

Sheriff Robert Hewes advises visiting swimmers to be careful while swimming in areas which are not normally designated as such. He stated that during the past two weeks, three stingray incidents have occurred in the Lamar and Fulton waterfront areas.

Deputy Sheriff Ronnie Valdez interviewed several local veteran fishermen and all agreed on the fact that stingrays do not like to be around areas where swimmers congregate, and that they are just as afraid of us as we are of them.

Stingray accidents are always very painful, and in most cases, the victim has to be transported to a hospital with the stingray attached. Visitors may inquire from local hotels, motels and trailer inns as to the areas best suited for swimming.

Sheriff's Department. Honorable mentions were awarded for all the floats.

The results from a very successful rodeo were as follows: first place winners only.

Jr. Poles: Susan Mash; Sr. Poles: Robin Chamrod; Sr. Ribbon Roping: Lynn Young; Showmanship: Rhonda Smothers; Figure 8 Barrels: Rhonda Smothers;

Sr. Cloverleaf Barrels: Lynn Young; Jr. Cloverleaf Barrels: Rhonda Smothers; Girls Breakaway: Belinda Wheat; Tiedown Roping: Chuck Sutton; Broncos: Chuck Sutton; Bulls: Pat Buldlom, and the winner for all-around was Rhonda Smothers from Corpus Christi.

The club and its members would like to thank the local merchants for their donations.

The merchants are as follows: Arkel's National Bank, Commercial Motor Co., Aransas Pass, Harper Real Estate, Key Allegro Dev. and Sales, Casterline Fish Co.,

Itchner Real Estate, Frank Miller, Kline's Cafe, Jackson Seafood Co., Live Oak State Bank, T. L. Matlock, Marine-land Inc.,

Racing Board Meets Here

Leonard Von Dohlen of Gollad, president of the Racing Board of Texas, presided over a two day meeting at Key Allegro Inn May 27 and 28. This was their regularly scheduled quarterly meeting and the selection of Rockport was prompted by the Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet Committee. The committee is seeking to encourage more and more organizations to hold their meetings and conventions in this area.

A majority of the fourteen couples brought their children with them and combined business with pleasure, some staying through the Memorial Day holiday. The Board was so pleased with the area that they voted to hold their next quarterly meeting again in Rockport.

Joe Meyers was in charge of the reception given by the Red Carpet Committee Saturday night. Attending from Rockport were Joe Hugenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, Steve Yates, Dr. and Mrs. Ron Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Don Milks, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jenkins.

Hitchhikers Take Costly Ride

Two men trying to find rides to Brownsville had their trip cut short and their money taken at knife-point last week.

An Aransas County sheriff's office spokesman said that the Brownsville pair, Robles Quinones and Angel Vasquez, met three men in a tavern and agreed to hold the three men to take them to Brownsville.

The trip instead was detoured to a rural road in the southern part of the county where the three men pulled a knife and forced Quinones and Vasquez to hand over $170.

Quinones suffered a minor cut on the arm, the sheriff's office spokesman said.

Arrested in connection with the robbery by Aransas County Sheriff's Deputies, Mike Webb and Ronnie Valdez and Texas Ranger Jim Peters were Adolpho T. Lee and Joe Rodriguez, both of Aransas Pass.

Lee and Rodriguez were each placed under a $7,500 bond by Justice of Peace Lawrence Miller, Precinct 1. A third man is being sought by local law enforcement agencies.

Sheriff's Dept. Wins Award

Determined to win an award, Sheriff Robert Hewes, Chief Deputy E. Stautzenberger and deputies Mike Webb, Donald Beard and Ronnie Valdez accumulated what little of duty time they had and began to build a float which was awarded "Most Original" in Saturday's Aransas County Riding Association parade.

The idea for the design of the float was originated by Sheriff Hewes. He took the word "Pigs", which peace officers are sometimes called, and turned it into "Pride, Integrity, Cuts and Service."

The red, white and blue decorated float was captioned by the phrase "Pigs are Beautiful" and followed by the meaning of the letters in the word "Pigs."

The signs for the float were painted by Jackson Signs, the trailer was offered by Carlos Solis, and the two pigs used for display were offered by L.J. Simmons.

The sight was truly one which would have made any officer proud to view.

Highway Work To Cost $335,000

AUSTIN -- The Texas Highway Commission today approved construction of additional surfacing on highway sections in Aransas, Refugio and San Patricio Counties.

The work is part of a statewide effort to improve safety and convenience to the motorist and, also, to help prevent costly roadway damage from severe weather.

The projects are:

-- In Aransas County on State Highway 35 from the Copano Bay Causeway northward to the Refugio County line, a distance of 11.8 miles, at a cost of $335,000.

-- In Refugio County on SH 35 from the Refugio County line northward to the Calhoun County line, a distance of 13.8 miles.

-- In Refugio County on US Highway 77 from the San Patricio County line to Woodsboro, a distance of 9.5 miles.

-- In San Patricio County from Crockett Avenue in Sinton southeastward and southwestward to Portland, 17 miles. Estimated cost of the projects is $2 million.

Plan Oil Well South of Town

On May 31 there was a special meeting of the Commissioners Court with the following members present: John D. Wendell, County Judge; Erie Eller, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; Wanda Sparks, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; Raymond Owens, Commissioner Precinct No. 3 and Ruby Hart, County Clerk.

Lawrence G. Edwards, executive vice president of Energy Search, Inc., met with the Court in regard to proposed well to be drilled on State Tract 221. The company wants to use the county road in City by the Sea Subdivision, and stated that if the road was damaged by the heavy equipment, same would be rebuilt. It was voted to permit them to use the road but the road must be kept in repair and rebuilt in accordance to county specifications.

Came on for discussion the matter of increasing the price to the City of Rockport of jail meals and lock-up fee from $2.50 to $3.00 per day. It was voted to increase same.

Came on for consideration the matter of repairs needed on county house at Radar site. A proposal was received for making necessary repairs. The court requested the Judge to ask for another bid. Matter left pending.

District Clerk Agnes "Tony" Harden asked that the budget be amended to take care of changes in salaries. It was voted to amend the budget to take care of change in salaries for all departments.

It was voted to increase the hours for extra help in the County and District Clerk's offices to 700 hours each for the year 1975.

Plant a Tree In 1974

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., in an interview by a member of the C of C staff, has listed "planting a palm or shade tree" as the top priority need for a beautification drive in Rockport. Continuation of tropical planting and general improvements starting with Liberty Street were second and third listings from Falk.

In an effort to better our community the C of C has contacted some permanent residents of Rockport seeking suggestions for beautification and improvements. Our winter tourists and local citizens have concluded "trees are our best answer".

Mrs. Patty McArdle, past president of Rockport Home and Garden Club states, "I would like to see more tropical planting. 2. Shade trees (live oak) in our Navigation Park. 3. More Clean Up on a regular basis."

Mrs. Sis Harper, past president of Key Allegro Women's Club, brings our downtown City Park to our attention. Our park needs "a water fountain, improvement of cabannas (painting, repairing) nicer and more play ground equipment."

"Clean Up Rockport, keep it clean like it was a decade ago," Mrs. Harper states.

"Tropical planting is native, requires no further attention or care and could be a project for every club, church and organization as well as families," suggest our interested citizens.

Compliments and credit were given to the First National Bank for taking a big step for improvement of the downtown area and they serve as a good example for others. Rockport Home and Garden Club has done a superb job in their endeavor to beautify the ski basin. Many observations have been made of the decided difference and the beauty of these areas, report our Rockport people.

The Chamber of Commerce is especially grateful to Mrs. Lee Pruett of Fulton for the donation of three palm trees planted recently in front of the Chamber building.

In 1974 C of C says "Plant A Tree".

Drug Users Rob Roaten's

Sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning, one or more persons broke the glass in one of the front doors at Roaten's Drug Store, entered the place and stole a small quantity of narcotic drugs.

It was reported that among the drugs taken were codeine and demerol tablets and methadone tablets and liquid.

Chief of Police James Craig-mille, City patrolman Robert McCormick and Sgt. Joe Hinojosa began an investigation of the burglary Tuesday morning, assisted by Sheriff Bob Hewes.

Preliminary investigation indicated that only narcotic drugs were taken.

Following the investigation by local authorities, federal law enforcement officers were notified.

Meanwhile, "business as usual" proceeded at Roaten's despite the broken glass in one of the front doors which was to be replaced as quickly as a glazer could be summoned to the store.

Cindy Lynn Kowalik, age 14 months, receives her very own savings account bank book showing a deposit of $500 from James H. Sorenson, Jr., president of First National Bank, as Cindy's mother, Mrs. Andrew M. Kowalik, looks on. Cindy was winner of the top award in a feature event of the bank's opening activities last week. There were six other awards of $50 savings accounts during the week.

Child Fourteen Months Old Wins $500 Savings Account

Cindy Lynn Kowalik, 14 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Kowalik, Broadway and Sixth, Fulton, was winner of the $500 savings account awarded last Friday by First National Bank as a feature of its week-long new building dedication activities.

Cindy Lynn, with the assistance of her mother, received her savings pass book with its brand new $500 deposit entry Monday from James H. Sorenson, Jr., bank president.

During opening week six other savings accounts for $50 each were awarded, two each day with the awards being made morning and afternoon.

Winners were Lucretia Ann Lewis, age 9, of 740 S. Mathis, Rockport; Margaret Solis, age 10, of Myrtle Lane, Peninsula Oaks, Rockport; Roger Marshall Bennett, age 2, of 702 Heron, Rockport; Billy Washko, age 10, of 828 Pine St., Rockport; Bruce Pate, 510 Fourth St., Rockport, and Teresa Lynn Steele, age 1 1/2, of Third and Cactus, Fulton.

Entries were limited to young people 17 years of age and younger, who were permitted to submit as many as one entry each day. Relatives, usually parents or grandparents, submitted entries for the very young. Approximately 2,500 entries were received.

Sorenson pointed out that the savings account feature of the new building opening was in keeping with the bank's long-time program designed to encourage parents, grandparents and other relatives to start savings accounts for children at an early age.

"For several years we have promoted this program with newspaper advertisements, especially at Christmas. We feel that a savings account provides an ideal method of encouraging the habit of thrift, and to provide some elements of an early education in business. Also, a savings account maintained through the years can provide money for college, a business career or marriage", he added.

The dedication program for the new bank building at No. 1 Broadway Plaza ended Saturday evening with a "family" party for members of the staff, directors, stockholders and their spouses, as well as a number of county, city and state officials and out-of-town bankers with whom First National has regular business dealings.

Starting with a ribbon cutting ceremony last Monday morning, open house was held at the bank throughout the week during banking hours. Refreshments were served each day and there was a continuing program of organ music.

Visitors were given "behind the scenes" tours on request and the first group tour was Wednesday afternoon for a Rockport-Fulton High School Home Maker class with its teacher, Frances Mutchler. Robert D. Mosier, Jr. executive vice president, conducted the tour.

This week the first of a series of art events is being presented in the bank's lobby. Jack Sanders of Key Allegro, is conducting a one-man show of his paintings.

Mrs. Gladys Gibson, chairman of the bank's art committee, is planning a series of shows to include displays of artifacts, photographs and printed or written material concerning the early history of Rockport and Texas, as well as additional small shows of the work of local artists.

Motor Coach Rally June 7 Through 9

According to some theologians there are only two lies that can be told and still allow you to get into heaven. One is to lie about the size of a fish you caught (or one that got away) and the other, how many miles to the gallon your motor home gets.

Motor home owners coming this weekend to the Lone Star Chapter of the FMCA will use up both lies with little effort. Some 35 to 40 motor homes will assemble for a 3 day rally of fun and frolic at Ramada Camp-In.

It used to be that "camping" meant back-packing a bedroll and canteen plus a toothbrush, canned beans and sterno. These days the loosely defined term includes making do with something like a $65,000 Bluebird motor home which on the virgin shores of some far lake, still provides the elegant living comfort of a suburban condominium.

Somewhere between these two extremes you will find the rank and file of assorted rigs, family parties climbing in and out of some camping equipment like so many happy ants and just as eternally hungry.

Advance reservations indicate a larger than usual "rally" will take place June 7, 8, and 9. The Red Carpet Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will provide doughnuts and coffee Saturday morning to the campers along with a wealth of advertising material about our local area and urge them to return often.

Scout Barbecue Real Success

John Leslie, Scout Commissioner for Rockport, who handled the selling and taking of tickets for the Boy Scout barbecue states that the barbecue was a real success thanks to several reasons:

Over 800 local citizens purchased tickets and came by and had a big meal; a dozen or so leaders worked most of the night before and all day Saturday preparing and dispensing food; also the mothers and others who made the potato salad and cooked the beans.

Dr. H.F. Elliot acted as coordinator of the Saturday staff. Scouts from all three local troops worked for two weeks on presale of tickets. A record number of tickets were sold by Robert Tillson, member of Troop 281 (he sold 130 tickets). Many other Scouts did real well in their sales also. Scouts also served in serving line, assisting people who needed help carrying plates.

The osprey, or fish hawk, is one of our best known and best liked birds of prey. Just about everyone knows that he eats fish almost exclusively, so the uninformed hunter and the poultry raising farmer are not constantly trying to kill him in the mistaken belief that they are protecting their beloved quail and sacred poultry. The big broadwinged hawks that they do shoot so energetically rarely, if ever, do more than throw a scare into game birds or chickens. These hawks normally feed on rodents, lizards, and snakes -- even if most people do call them "chicken" hawks.

The osprey has such a tremendous range and is so easy to identify that he is recognized almost instantly from Alaska to Greenland to Bermuda and South America. It may be, however, that the kids growing up now and all future generations may have trouble identifying this beautiful bird -- if they ever see one. He is becoming quite rare and is listed as an endangered species. The reason for this is that he ingests so much DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides in the fish that he eats that his egg shells are so soft that they are broken before they can hatch.

The osprey has a wingspread of 54 to 72 inches and flies with a characteristic "break" or bend in his wings that is reminiscent of the frigate bird. His upper parts are brownish and the crown is streaked with black. He has a black stripe through his eye that extends down on to his neck. His underparts are white with a tendency to brownish streaks that is more noticeable in the female. His outer toes are reversible so that the talons can become paired. This lets him have two talons in front and two behind so that he gets a better grip on a slippery fish.

His fishing technique is a spectacular performance. He sails around over the water from 23 to 100 feet high looking for his prey. When he sights a fish he hovers on heavily beating wings, then plunges down like a feathered spearhead. He rarely misses. He catches the fish in his talons, rises from the water, and flies a few feet. He then just pauses in the air and shakes the water from his plumage much as a Labrador retriever does when he comes ashore. As he flies away he shifts the fish so that it heads into the direction of flight and will furnish the least wind resistance, and away he goes to his nest or feeding perch. This is a beautiful performance -- I have spent hours watching an osprey feeding. While there are reported instances of ospreys eating frogs, snakes, ducks, crows, night herons, and other birds, but these occurrences are extremely rare. He is a fish eater.

Since it is well known that the osprey eats fish almost exclusively, he does have a bad reputation with a lot of fishermen because they look on him as a competitor, but this is rarely the case. Along our Gulf coast he does catch a speckled trout once in a while, but for every trout he catches he'll eat a dozen mullet, and even this is not his principal catch. In coastal waters he catches and eats more salt water catfish or "hardheads" than anything else. I don't think any will begrudge him those tasty morsels. In some of our northwestern states he does eat a good many trout and salmon, but even so, how many fish can a 21 to 24 inch bird eat a day? Not enough, I would think, to make him a serious threat to fish life. He can become quite a problem when he starts feeding in a hatchery pond. When he starts this there is nothing to do but get rid of the bird.

The osprey is rare enough that the Parks and Wildlife Department would like to have a report of every bird sighted in the state. If you should see an osprey, or better yet, a pair of osprey please report it to the address below. This is especially important if you observe the birds in the same general location over a period of time. It might indicate a nest in the area. Report the number of birds seen, the location as exactly as you can, and the date to: L.D. Nuckles, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 715 South Bronte, Rockport, Texas 78382, Telephone (512) 729-2315. We'd surely appreciate it.

Revised Credit Law In Texas Recognizes Women

COLLEGE STATION --- Household purse strings unwound for Texas women recently with changes in credit legislation, according to one authority.

In Texas, women 18 years or older, can no longer be denied credit solely on the basis of sex or marital status, Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, explained.

"Legal rights of women are being recognized as equal to those of men, and this law is responsible for that trend," the specialist observed.

She outlined implications of the revised law.

"In 1973, the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Consumer Credit Code to prohibit a credit grantor from denying an individual credit or loans in his or her name--or from restricting or limiting the credit granted--solely on the basis of sex.

"This gives a woman, 18 years or older, the right to apply for and get credit in her own name, if she meets the financial requirements of the credit grantor.

"Meeting those depends on her ability to be responsible for her own debts.

"This usually means having a regular income, stability in employment and residence, a checking account and references," Mrs. Myers said.

The specialist discussed how variations in individual marital status can affect credit even with new legislation.

"The single, young woman who has never had credit may have a problem in establishing credit.

"A parent or some other responsible adult may have to guarantee the account at first.

"Credit is established once the account is handled properly for a sufficient time."

Although the married woman now has the legal right to credit in her own name, most firms usually prefer to handle the account as a family account, Mrs. Myers said.

"It's less expensive to service one account instead of two.

"However, most firms will open an account for the married woman on request, if she meets the credit requirements. Still, some firms may include her husband's name in parenthesis for identity purposes."

Married women may encounter credit problems if credit reporting agencies are slow to make separate reports for husband and wife, the specialist noted.

"For instance, if a married woman applies for credit in her own name, and the reporting agency shows no separate record on her, it could cause a refusal of credit.

"A visit to the reporting agency and then the firm's credit manager can help straighten out the matter, if the woman meets all the other credit requirements."

Other credit situations involve widows, divorced or separated women.

"The widow usually has no problem in changing accounts to her name if the family has a good record of payment and her financial position meets the firm's requirements, Mrs. Myers said.

"A divorced woman who had accounts in her husband's name may have to reapply for accounts in her name.

"In general she must follow the same guidelines for establishing credit as a single woman.

"If she had accounts in her name as a married woman, she simply might have her marital status changed on their records after discussing the accounts with her creditors.

"The divorced woman, in any case, would be wise to consult each firm and change previous accounts that were family accounts or accounts in her husband's name," Mrs. Myers suggested.

Women who are separated, but not divorced, have the most difficult time with credit, the specialist said.

"Some firms suspend additional credit during this time, because funds may be tied up until a divorce is final.

"This may affect the credit records and impair future credit.

"The firm's credit policy will determine what a separated woman can do."

beneficial changes" recently in the rights of women, especially married women, Mrs. Myers said that more firms are realizing they can give credit to married women in Texas with complete legal security, since married women now can be sued in the same manner as their husbands.

The specialist also cited changing economic factors and "continued liberalized credit policies of most firms" as other reasons for changes in current business practices.

CANCER--June 21 to July 22--Complete one project before moving on to another. You will then feel free to undertake the next exciting challenge.

LEO--July 23 to Aug. 22--Financial transactions are favored this week. But you must not act in haste in any circumstances. Carefully weigh the possible results of your action.

VIRGO--Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--Stop working long enough to plan a vacation. You need and deserve one. Your outlook will improve with a refreshing change of scenery.

LIBRA--Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--Think twice before putting your name on the dotted line. Even though confusion seems to reign at the present time, you can look forward to a leveling off period very soon.

SCORPIO--Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--Don't permit a personality clash with someone to hamper your good times. A tendency to feel resentment because of your dependency on others should be avoided.

SAGITTARIUS--Nov. 23 to Dec. 21--If you can't say something nice about someone, then for heavens sake, say nothing at all. Your image is weakened in the eyes of others when you criticize.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Pesticides have been blamed for fish kills and upsetting the reproduction cycles of various birds, but in meeting agricultural and health needs in Texas they are a way of life.

Man's need for food and fiber is increasing with the population, says the State Health Department, and advancing technology is helping today's farmers and ranchers meet the demands.

Eighty-four per cent of Texas land is devoted to agriculture, and the industry adds $7.3 billion to the Texas economy. Vegetables, milk, fruits, nuts, honey, natural fibers, meat, eggs, grain—all bear the Texas brand. But wrestling them from the soil is not easy. Texans are affected by the age-old problems of weather, rodents, insects and weeds. Among the conditions influencing the work of these farmers and ranchers is a relatively new condition: ecological awareness.

If man is to raise sufficient foodstuffs, it has become apparent that fertilizers and pesticides are necessary in their production, it is obvious also that public health considerations must be given to such measures as fly and mosquito control and protection of warehoused foodstuffs.

And, it has become equally apparent that strict controls are necessary for the application and use of pesticides.

A bulletin from the United States Environmental Protection Agency has a statement on pesticides:

"Pesticides are of great benefit to man. They have saved millions of lives through control of disease-carrying insects. They have minimized catastrophic crop damage by insects, weeds, plant diseases, rodents and other pests, preserved valuable forest and parkland from insect destruction, and protected households against damaging beetles, moths and other bugs. Generally, they have provided a higher quality of life for man.

"However, pest control chemicals are poisons that, if used improperly or without sufficient knowledge of their side effects, can endanger man and animals due to their toxicity. In addition, potential future hazards to human health and wildlife can be created by residues from some long-lived pesticides that may build up in the food chain and cause widespread contamination of the environment."

The Texas State Department of Health has long had a hand in the environmental monitoring of pesticide levels and operates a pesticides laboratory at San Benito. While pesticide levels in the environment are greatest near the areas of use, they have been found in the Antarctic and other areas far from the points of application.

One federal insecticide Act dates back to 1910, but it was superseded by the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act of 1947. In 1970 authority was transferred from the U. S. Department of Agriculture to the Environmental Protection Agency when the EPA was established. Protection of the consumer against harmful residues in food is guided by two agencies. EPA sets the tolerance levels and the Food and Drug Administration has responsibility of enforcement. The Health Department has a Food and Drug Division.

In 1971, efforts were begun to remove many pesticides from the market based on potential future hazards to man and the environment.

Still another step was taken with the Federal Environmental Pesticide Control Act of 1972. This law requires the proper application of pesticides to assure greater protection of man and the environment. It extends federal registration and regulation to all pesticides, including those distributed or used within a state. All provisions of the law must be in effect by October, 1976.

The law establishes procedures—plus penalties for violations—in many areas, including: proper use and classification of registered pesticides; certification of applicators using restricted pesticides; registration of pesticide manufacturers; procedures for storage and disposal of pesticide containers; and authority for experimental use of pesticides. States may authorize limited registrations for pesticides intended for special local needs.

Under the federal guidelines, Texas must come up with a workable plan for implementing the federal law. Taking the lead in this is the Texas Department of Agriculture, with assistance from the State Health Department, Texas A&M University and Parks and Wildlife Department. One of the major items, a state plan for certifying applicators to use pesticides for restricted uses, may be drawn up by this fall for submission to the Legislature.

Under the new law, the State will examine and certify all users of restricted pesticides. The Structural Pest Control Board in Texas now certifies pest control operators.

A drive to teach 40 million illiterates to read is underway in Pakistan.

Dupnik, McCutcheon Wed

Miss Darlene Marie McCutcheon and David Allen Dupnik, both of Rockport, were married on Friday, April 19, at 7 p.m. at the Church of Christ in Bayside. J. L. Wright, minister, performed the double ring ceremony. Two arrangements of white gladioli and carnations tied with yellow ribbons decorated the church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William C. McCutcheon of Bayside and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs.

Ben F. Dupnik of Rockport. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal empire gown of Venice lace and organza with a crystal pleated flounced skirt and bodice. Her headpiece was a chapel length mantilla bordered with lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations and baby's breath centered with an orchid tied with yellow streamers.

Miss Rhonda Lynn McCutcheon of Bayside, sister of bride, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow formal empire gown with an overlay of white lace and a yellow picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white daisies tied with yellow ribbons.

Walter Cassel of Rockport was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McCutcheon wore a light blue A-line dress and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Dupnik wore a pink A-line dress and white orchid corsage.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was decorated with a bouquet of spring flowers. A three-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served with sherbet punch, mints and nuts. Mrs. Thomas L. Havens, sister of the bride, served.

Following a honeymoon in Colorado, the couple will live in Rockport. The bride is employed at ARADMAC, NAS, in Corpus Christi and the groom is with Lloyd W. Richardson Construction Company in Aransas Pass.

Shower Honors Miss Pamela Little

The home of Mrs. James Bracht was the scene of a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Pamela Little, bride-elect of Rodney King, on the evening of May 23.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Bracht, Mrs. Pete Tedder and Mrs. Jim Little. An arrangement of spring flowers and the bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white were used to complement the serving table.

Cake and punch were served by Miss Laurie Little and Miss Jeannie Kleypas. Miss Sandy Little assisted her sister with her gifts.

Approximately 30 guests enjoyed the evening including the honoree's mother, Mrs. O. P. Little.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hamblin and Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Alle-mang attended the graduation of their granddaughter, Kay Kinsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinsey, from Carroll High School May 28. Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moore announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Diana Lynn, to Dewain Harrist Eller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Eller of Rockport.

Miss Moore is a graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School and has attended Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos and Texas A & I in Kingsville.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School
and Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde.

The wedding will take place
July 26 at the First Baptist Church of Rockport.

Small price increase in the next few months.
Industrial profits are expected to be good this year, in part because of increased value of inventories.

McCracken anticipates the possibility of a short but sharp depression either late this year or during the early months of 1975.

As to stock market prospects, McCracken reported that cash reserves of institutional funds are at a record high. While these funds may not enter the stock market in the near future, they will later. Also, he said, more cash is available for investment by mutual funds. Stock market yield percentages to prices currently are at a record high, McCracken pointed out.

While he predicted automobile firms will be showing decreased earnings, he anticipates higher earnings will be recorded in the next year by chemicals, foods, banks, insurance firms and railroads.

designs and home decorating

tiful items that could be purchased.

Speaker Discusses Economic Situation

A review of the current economic situation with emphasis on financial problems and stock market trends was given by William R. McCracken, account executive with the Corpus Christi office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club May 29 at Ramada Inn.

Basically, he said, worldwide inflation was caused by a too-rapid monetary expansion by virtually all of the industrial countries at the same time.

Contributing factors included adverse weather which stimulated higher food prices and the oil embargo with its sharply increased prices set by Arab countries.

World-wide, McCracken said, the United States ranked fourth as a contributor to inflation, with Japan in first place followed by Great Britain and Italy.

He estimated that high interest rates will continue for another six months with the possibility that rates may go to 12 or 13 per cent before a decline sets in.

McCracken pointed out that high interest rates have resulted in heavy withdrawal of savings. This has resulted in a scarcity of money to finance construction.

Because of greatly improved prospects for farm production both in the United States and in Russia, McCracken anticipates lower retail food prices. With gasoline prices up about 30 per cent and fuel prices up some 40 per cent, he anticipates a leveling off of these prices although there may be some additional

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

No one food is more versatile than the potato. The small, fresh potato is now appearing at the vegetable markets.

Potatoes with Sour Cream

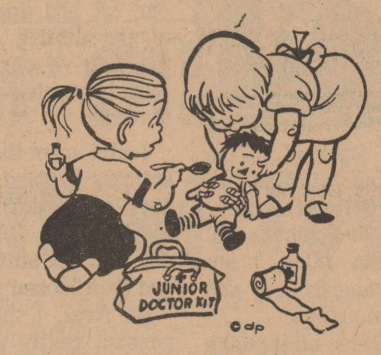

15 new potatoes
1 egg
1/4 c wine vinegar
1 t dry mustard
1 T sugar
1/2 t salt
1 T flour
1/4 t pepper
1/2 c water
1 c sour cream

Cook potatoes until tender. While potatoes are cooking, make the following sauce: Beat the egg in top of double boiler, add vinegar slowly, beating hard. Mix sugar, mustard, flour, pepper, salt, and water. Add to egg and vinegar mixture. Cook over boiling water until sauce thickens, remove from heat and stir in the sour cream. Pour hot sauce over hot, peeled potatoes. Sprinkle with paprika.

Parsley Buttered Balls

During your vacation to the beach or lake this summer an interesting pastime might be a study of the clouds day by day.

For example, very high cirrus clouds will often indicate the approach of a warm front, which brings with it rain. But the higher the typical summer cumulus clouds, separated white puffs moving gently along in a summer sky, the better the weather is likely to be.

If the sky is cloudless with barometer high and steady and wind from the west, then good weather should be ahead. If the typical summer cumulus clouds form low to the ground and get even lower, then rain will probably occur during the day.

The summer cloud puffs are formed as air rises and contracts, thereby increasing the percentage of moisture in the air. When it increases enough, the moisture changes into tiny particles, which change the air to visible air—a cloud. If this occurs low to the surface of the earth, it's an indication that the moisture content of the air is great—thus a greater chance of rain from the clouds during the day.

We Wish to Say "Thanks"

Ingleside Round-Up Set for June 6-8

Ingleside Round-Up Queen.

Saturday evening will come to an end with a western dance held at the V. F. W. Hall featuring Jay West and the New Country Stars. Admission is $5 per couple and $3 for stag.

Sunday morning the String Mott riding club will hold their horse show at the String Mott Riding Area on Hwy. 35 between Gregory and Aransas Pass.

During the day Saturday a Flea Market will be held in the downtown area by the Ingleside Garden Club. The Flea Market will consist of Arts and Crafts, plants, clothing and other items. Money earned will be donated to the Live Oak Park.

The Ingleside Women's Club will have a Homemade Ice Cream stand also being sold in the downtown area, on Saturday.

Library Summer Reading Program

Registration for the summer reading program at Aransas County Public Library will begin Friday, June 7 from 10 a.m. to noon. The theme of this year's program is "Balancing Around the World".

Readers will receive balloons and countries of the world stickers to place on their map of the world for each approved book read. Ten such books entitles the reader to a "certificate" at the end of the program, August 7.

The library staff hopes that a number of elementary and Jr. high students will complete the "World Tour". Emphasis will be placed on reading levels and book content rather than the number of books read.

Del Edwards will present a 30 minute Magic Act during the registration. Mrs. Edwards will assist Mr. Edwards with the Magic Act at 11 a.m. Children visiting in the area and those who wish to register for the summer reading program are invited to attend.

Mrs. H. A. Naquin will present the stories for the Story Hour at the Library June 6 at 10:30 to 11 a.m. Preschool and elementary children are invited to this event.

Evening TOPS Present Awards

Monthly awards for the Rockport Tops Club #493 was the business as well as the program for the evening with Faye Cowdrey, leader, presiding.

The losers for the month were Bessie Dawes, Bertha Ormand, Myrtle McLester, Beulah Dedmon, Cleo Townsend, Theo Johnson, Bumpie Bosarge, Gladys Mullin, Betty Jean Ward, Julie Keller, Bernita Kinsey, Judy Von Huevel, Faye Cowdrey and Thelma Sours.

Bertha Ormand was the queen for the week and Nina Cowdrey runner-up.

Cleo Townsend won the Ha-Ha fund and the TOPS member, who was working to succeed in buttoning the belt on a skirt, accomplished the goal -- the button now goes into the button-hole.

The group brought "slim and trim" recipes to be discussed and when names were drawn to see who would win the recipes and the recipe file to put them in, Faye Cowdrey was the lucky winner. Bernita Kinsey gave some pointers on many ways to have nourishing food but a slimming menu.

Eighteen members answered roll call on May 28 and 12 1/4 lbs. were lost.

The evening TOPS Club welcomes all who are interested to come visit and get acquainted with the program. They meet at Wagley's Office Building every Tuesday evening with weigh-in from 6 until 6:40 p.m. and business and program from 7 until 8 p.m.

Pam Hutchins Is Honored

Miss Pam Hutchins, a May graduate of Rockport - Fulton High School, was recently honored at a formal luncheon given by Mrs. Kyle Vick, Jr. and Mrs. Robert E. Crawford.

Presented with an orchid corsage, Miss Hutchins greeted guests at the home of Mrs. Crawford.

The senior class colors of hot pink, purple and poppy red were carried out in the table appointments and decorations.

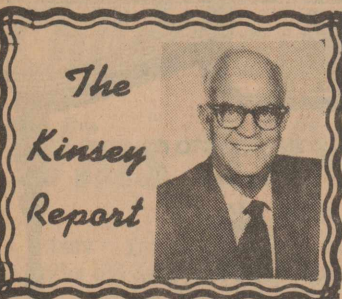

Draped in an Irish linen tablecloth, the luncheon table was accented by a floral arrangement of spring flowers in the chosen colors.

Hand decorated sea shells served as name card holders for the guests.

At the conclusion, the hostesses presented each guest with a box of stationery with her name on the letterhead.

Those honoring Miss Hutchins were Misses: Molly Jackson, Cheryl Vermillion, Pam Rowan, Lisa Hill, Jean Heffel, Jeri Smith, Renee La Bounty and Carolyn Hawes.

Artichokes were first cultivated in the 15th century in Italy.

Unlike L.D. Nuckles of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, who writes the interesting column, "Outdoors 'n' things," for the Pilot, I am more of an "indoors" guy and am no expert on nature.

But in living here after years in Chicago and by having the opportunity to observe so much more of the wonders of nature, I am slowly learning a few things.

For example, one evening last week, for the first time in my life I saw a possum "playing possum," acting like he was dead and using this technique as a defensive tactic.

It happened like this: both our cat and dog hurried to one of the sliding glass doors at the rear of our home and obviously wanted to get out onto the patio.

I slid open the door and both animals scooted out and immediately stood over a lifeless-looking baby possum. Both the dog and cat sniffed the possum and then looked puzzled.

At first, I thought the little possum really was dead and I gave some thought to burying him, but my wife said, "I'll bet he's playing possum."

So I carefully picked up the possum by his tail and carried him to a spot outside our fenced in back yard. He lay motionless all the time I stood nearby which must have been at least 20 minutes. Finally, I went back into the house.

The next morning, I went out to check and the possum was gone. I can't swear that he got up and walked away but that's what I think happened -- and I hope I'm right.

The night before, I wondered how to find out if he was alive but I sure wasn't about to try to listen for a heartbeat.

Letter to the Editor

An Open Letter To The People Of Rockport:

Last week at Memorial Park I was appalled by the vast amount of trash littered everywhere. I counted over 100 paper cups and candy wrappers on the ground around the concession stand. Within 10 feet of the concession stand were 6 empty garbage cans. My own ball team members threw their gum wrappers on the ground. It takes less effort and cost to put trash in a can than it does to drop it on the ground and have to clean it up later.

Here are some tips that might help keep our park clean:

1) Garbage can must be emptied on a regular basis, and especially after heavy use weekends and ball games.

2) Little League and Softball team managers stress to your teams not to drop cups and candy wrappers on the ground.

3) Ball players don't allow your team mates and friends to litter.

4) Parents and spectators set an example for your kids. Please don't litter.

In my opinion, there is no need for there to be one cup or one piece of litter on the ground. Everyone can help and keep Memorial Park clean and useable for everybody. It's OUR park - let's take care of it.

Sincerely,
Ed Hegen
