Buyers Better Shop Today; New Taxes Effective Tomorrow

TREMENDOUS LIST OF ARTICLES TO COST MORE TUESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 20—Today is the last tax-free day for matches, automobiles, candy, radios, face powder, yachts and all the tremendous list of articles brought into the federal government's revenue raising net by the new, emergency, tax law.

Anybody who has been waiting to buy, perhaps expecting prices to drop some more, had better do some hurried shopping, for a nice percentage probably will be found added to all price tags on taxed items by tomorrow.

After tonight the movies (except those where you get in for 40 cents or less) will cost more, so will telegrams and long distance calls, while bank checks will cost two cents a piece.

It will not be necessary however, to stick three-cents stamps onto letters until next month.

LUBBOCK TO PAY SHARE OF TAXES

Uncle Sam through the recently enacted tax measure to balance the budget, will gather from the pocketbooks of John Public, Lubbock, $8,000 to $10,000 a month, or from $100,000 to $125,000 a year, based on a preliminary survey among some of the dealers of the articles to be taxed.

The figures are estimates as there is no way to determine what the exact amount will be.

Some manufacturers have announced to jobbers and dealers they will absorb the tax on candies, cosmetics, fountain juices and the like. Most of the taxes collected will be at this source, through the manufacturer or the wholesale jobber, leaving the retailer out of the picture except to add the tax to the cost if the maker does not take up the tax.

Messages Taxed

A. O. Thomas, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, estimates his office here will handle enough long distance messages to pay Uncle Sam $1,000 a month. The call taxes are to be billed as separate items on the customer's bill each month. Tax items for calls will be: 10 cents for calls from 50 cents to $1; 15 cents for calls from $1 to $2, and 20 cents for calls over $2.

Through the Lubbock exchange, on calls relayed from other points on the South Plains, an additional

DEMOCRATS TO BE ASKED TO HELP CAUSE

BONUS SEEKERS FIND THEMSELVES WITH VAGUE OBJECTIVE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Stripped of an immediate objective by defeat of the bonus-payment bill, leaders of the vast veterans army camped here concentrated today on organizing ex-service men for election day action, making tentative overtures to the Democratic party.

Finding the 62 senators who voted down their bill a rather diffuse target, the legislative committee of the army aligned itself against President Hoover and the Republican party.

To Query Demos

Last night it voted to query all Democratic presidential possibilities on their views about the bonus and other veterans' questions, at same time directing letters to all posts of the American Legion and other ex-service men's organizations, informing them an effort "to place a bonus plank in the Republican platform was laughed down and filed in the waste basket. Think it over, men."

"Remember November," was the significant slogan line attached to these letters. Bearing in mind the possibility that neither the Democratic convention nor the nominee chosen there might given them any comfort, these political steersmen of the ex-soldiers started formulating a "platform" of their own.

Still rather nebulous today, the platform had one definite plank; Repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. The general idea is that, failing Democratic support, the soldiers should give their vote to some third party movement.

Size In Doubt

The exact size of the army, somewhere around 20,000, was much in doubt today. Many "veteran" members were taking French leave but new contingents were pouring in and an aggressive recruiting drive aided by the wide-spread word that the army was gathering abundant food, appeared to be bearing some results.

The lack of an immediate objective, however, was helping stir friction in the ranks.

Walter W. Waters, the present commander-in-chief, last night asked police to arrest Richard Lamb, 35, of Dallas, leader of the Texas contingent, saying his status as an ex-service man was questioned. He was held on an "investigation" charge.

SEEK SLAYERS OF GANGSTER

LINDY INTERMEDIATOR ONE OF ONES HUNTED IN GANG SLAYING

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 20—Vannie Higgins, who got careless, is dead and the police are hunting "rats."

"The rats!" said Vannie Higgins, who was one-two-three among the big names of gangland until guns erased him yesterday, "they even tried to wipe out my family."

There wasn't much time to talk, for he had been shot four times. One bullet passed through his abdomen; but just before he died yesterday several hours after he was fired upon by mobsters, he said:

"I ain't saying who did it. I'll take care of them."

But he died, and the police are trying to "take care of them."

They sought three men today for questioning. One of them is Salvy Spitale, whom Col. Charles A. Lindbergh named as an intermediary in the baby case. The others who police hope may know something about the Higgins murder are "Tough Willie" McCabe and William Bailey, one of Higgins' "boys."

Higgins, who posed as a fisherman but who was reputed to be a power in the liquor racket, was shot down early yesterday by eight men who opened fire on him, his wife and their eight-year-old daughter on a Brooklyn street. One bullet narrowly missed the child as her father, bleeding from fatal wounds, ran from the attackers' fire only to collapse a moment later.

Higgins was in his early thirties.

Police held two theories. One was that Higgins had attempted to grab some of the beer business on the Jersey side of the river and had been killed for it. The other linked the murder with earlier crimes in which were the murders of Augie Pisano and others rooting back to the Frankie Yale coterie of several years ago.

TIRES STOLEN FROM AUTOS

TWO ARE CHARGED IN COLLISION SUNDAY; OTHERS ARRESTED

A woman reported to police late Sunday that a spare automobile tire had been stolen at the swimming pool in City park, and another person informed police a tire had been taken at Texas avenue and Sixteenth street.

Two men, one 51 and the other 53 years old, were arrested by a motorcycle policeman, following collision of an automobile, in which they were riding, with another car between Texas Avenue and Avenue J on Sixteenth street late Sunday. The men were charged with drunkenness. Three other white men were arrested for drunkenness Sunday.

A man was taken into custody for reckless driving Sunday, released on his own recognizance, and reported at police headquarters this morning.

A negro woman, arrested for drunkenness late Sunday, had been cut on the body with a knife. The injuries were not serious, police said. Another negro woman was arrested, for disturbing the peace, and a negro man was held on the same charge.

Sunday was Juneteenth, and police indicated the number of arrests of negroes was small, in view

Suspect Identified In Texas Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 20 (AP)—A. B. Cooper, Oklahoma Bankers' association detective, announced today H. D. Little, held at Guthrie for murder, had been identified as one of the participants in the $7,930 robbery of the First National bank of Shamrock, Texas, March 4.

Three witnesses named Little, Cooper said.

TWO PERSONS DROWN

HUTCHINSON, Kas., June 20 (AP)—Two persons drowned in Arkansas river sand pits here over the week-end. Arthur Johnson, 14, was caught in a whirlpool late yesterday. Edward Hughes, 17, drowned Saturday.

MAN CONFESSES BRUTAL MURDER OF HIS MOTHER

DALLAS, June 20 (AP)—A sanity hearing probably will be conducted in the near future for Yancey Lewis, who yesterday executed a deliberate plan to end the life of his mother, Mrs. Lula Lewis, 55, the widow of the late Federal Judge Yancey Lewis, who was chloroformed and beaten with a stool at their home here.

The 34-year-old Yale graduate sat in the office of District Attorney William McCraw today and related to newspapermen and authorities the details of his self-conceived scheme to kill his mother, Lewis has been charged with murder.

"For some time I have realized we were approaching the end of the Lewis estate," he said. "It was apparent our funds would soon be exhausted and we would have to disposed of our home and other personal property."

"But that was only for her longevity," he said. "After her death I would be the sole heir."

PROBLEMS ARE TACKLED BY CONGRESS

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO FINISH WORK AND QUIT SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 20—Congress pitched in today to clear up its remaining big legislative problems, with the definite intention of ringing down a final curtain Saturday on this history making session.

Of all the extraordinary tasks congress has been engaged in since last December to aid the government and the people in a period of great stress, just two remained to be active on finally: Slashing federal expenditures and providing some clear-cut federal relief for the unemployed. Both questions were tackled today.

Vote Is Sought

The national economy bill was brought back to the house for settlement of a final difficulty. A vote was sought on whether to stick by the proposition of reducing government salaries by a flat percentage or to yield to the furlough plan asked by President Hoover and adopted by the senate.

The senate tackled a still harder problem in the relief question. The bill under debate was the Wagner, Democratic, proposal for $1,500,000,000 increase in the reconstruction corporation's borrowing power and $500,000,000 bond issue for public works.

Backing the president's objection to new bonds, administration senators sought to eliminate the last provision, but Republican independents were demanding that the bonds be increased to five billions. The Democratic draft was generally expected to win, but a later adjustment will be necessary with the house, which passed the $2,300,000,000 Garner relief bill, denounced by Mr. Hoover as a "gigantic pork barrel."

Moore Kills Boom For Vice-President

TRENTON, N. J. June 20. (AP)—A. Harry Moore said today he would rather be governor of New Jersey than vice president of the United States.

Apparently disregarding entirely reports that his friend, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, may propose him as a "dark horse" candidate for the vice presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention in Chicago next week, Governor Moore said today he is not interested in the vice-presidential boom.

Wright Convicted In Fee Extortion

SAN ANTONIO, June 20 (AP)—Found guilty of robbery by assault with firearms in connection with the extortion of $75,000 from R. W. Morrison, millionaire rail magnate, on May 17, 1930, Nile Will Wright was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment by a jury in 94th district court here today.

"Cyclone" Davis, Active In Politics Since 1884, Brings Campaign To City

ANGULAR VETERAN OF MANY ELECTIONS IS TO TALK HERE

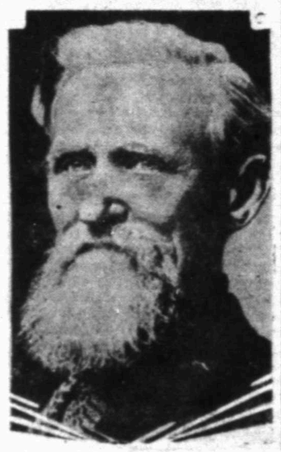

BY BOB McCALL
Journal Staff Writer

The tall, angular, black-frocked veteran of political campaigns who has been known as "Cyclone" since he engaged in a debate in the Kentucky capitol at Frankfort in March, 1894, is in Lubbock. He is J. H. Davis of Sulphur Springs. He will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in the district criminal courtroom in the courthouse in the interest of his candidacy for congressman-at-large from place No. 2.

A populist before he was a Democrat, "Cyclone" Davis began campaigning on a national scale in 1884, when he toured the country as a supporter of Grover Cleveland. He said this morning he had campaigned in every state except Rhode Island, Connecticut, and Vermont, and had been in those.

Once Newspaper Man

Davis was a newspaper owner for 17 years. He was a co-organizer of the Texas Press association. Davis' first campaigning in Texas was for

BOY IS KICKED BY A HORSE

VICTIM REPORTED IN SERIOUS CONDITION THIS MORNING

Kicked by a horse, Joe Ivey, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ivey, living 16 miles north of Levelland, was in a serious condition at Lubbock saintarium this morning. He was injured about 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the barnyard at his home.

X-ray photographs at the sanitarium, to which he was taken soon after the accident, revealed a fractured skull, broken frontal bone and several broken facial bones. The left side of the boy's face was caved in, the left eye was injured and the sinuses were ruptured. The mare's hoof had opened a half-moon about five inches long and to the bones. Pieces of bone were removed from his face this morning.

When the accident occurred, Mr. Ivey was away from home and the boy's mother took him to Levelland where first aid treatment was administered. J. P. Potts, county judge, brought the boy to Lubbock, arriving here before noon.

Amelia Greeted On Return To America

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam, the first woman to pilot an airplane across the Atlantic, returned home today to receive the plaudits of her fellow countrymen.

It was just a month ago today that Mrs. Putnam took off on her solo flight which ended in Ireland, where she was forced down in a pasture by a faulty exhaust manifold which had threatened her plane with fire during almost the whole journey.

THIRD CAPONE IS ARRESTED

ANOTHER OF GANGSTER BROTHERS HELD IN BOMBING OUTRAGE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 20—Another Capone figured in the newspaper headlines today—Albert Capone, third of four surviving brothers, two of whom, Al and Ralph, have made gangland history in Chicago.

Albert was questioned by police in Cicero in connection with an attempt early yesterday to bomb the home of Mayor Joseph G. Cerny, whose election last April was hailed as a death blow to the rule of the Capone gang in Cicero's affairs.

None Is Hurt

The bomb, hurled from a passing automobile, failed to strike its intended mark but ripped a hole in the sidewalk in front of the mayor's residence. Mayor Cerny and his wife were spending the week-end in South Haven, Mich., at the time, and the only occupants of the place were Mrs. Cerny's sister, Miss Rose Novak, and her chum, Miss Mildred Hanus. Neither was hurt.

Chief of Police John L. Sullivan, who was "farmed" to turbulent Cicero by the Chicago police department, led a squad of men to a hotel where Al Capone once maintained an armored apartment and arrested Albert Capone and 11 other suspects. The police were uncertain as to the motive for the attempted bomb outrage. They believed, however, it was either the work of communists, who have been refused permission to hold meetings in the suburb, or that it was done by gamblers whose establishments have been closed by Mayor Cerny's administration.

Man Stabs Father Though A Mistake

SAN ANTONIO, June 20 (AP)—Mistaking his father for an intruder, J. D. Grona, 43, today severely stabbed Paul Grona, 72, according to police.

The younger Grona said he was starting out on the back porch when he heard some one shuffling through the kitchen in the dark. Grona seized an ice pick from the top of an ice box, and as they met in the darkness ,stabbed his father in the abdomen, thinking him a burglar.

NOT TO ATTEND

AUSTIN, June 20 (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling, a delegate-at-large to the national Democratic convention, decided today he could not attend the Chicago sessions.

AIMEE'S HUBBY PREPARES TO DEFEND HIMSELF IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 20—Investigations, threats and counter threats having marked the warming-up stages of the trial, David Hutton, choir singer-husband of Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, the evangelist, was called into court today to defend himself in a $200,000 breach of promise action brought by Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, a nurse.

The evangelist, who announced she "intends to stick by Dave through thick and thin," will be unable to attend the court sessions. She is in a sanitarium with an illness she developed during a recent tour of Central America. So serious is her illness regarded, plans are to keep all details of the trial from her.

Suit was filed by Miss St. Pierre last September after the marriage of the singer to the evangelist. The nurse was moved to file the suit, she said, after hearing a radio broadcast made by Hutton during a wedding breakfast after his elopement with the evangelist in which he referred to Mrs. Hutton as "the best little wife in the world." Miss St. Pierre alleged she was betrayed under promise of marriage.

EMPIRE STATE FOCAL POINT IN POLITICS

ROOSEVELT LOOKS TO HIS HOME STATE FOR WINNING BALLOTS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 20.—New York with her 94 votes became the sudden focal point of Democratic preconvention skirmishing here today as leaders of Gov. Roosevelt looked to the Empire State to make a choice for him in the quarrel with Alfred E. Smith.

The Roosevelt captains say the New York decision, expected to be announced soon after the arrival of the delegation heads here Wednesday, will put their man "over the top."

Sure Of Victory

James A. Farley of New York, head of the newly-established Roosevelt camp here, won't comment on the probable dicision in his state but he smiles and insists "Roosevelt will win on the first ballot—I mean that."

But there are about as many claims as there are candidacies in Democracy's swiftly gathering convention conflict on this historic battleground and a lot of milling around is in prospect before the gavel falls next Monday.

The prohibition dispute which divided the recent Republican conclave is losing the spotlight to the presidential race among the Democrats.

Friends of Roosevelt are snapping up the repeal substitute rejected by the Republicans as their banner for the 1932 campaign. This proposes submission of a repeal amendment to the states with control of the

Two Men Charged In Extortion Plot

SULPHUR SPRINGS, June 20 (AP)—Charges had been filed today against Henry Wilson, 25, and J. B. Webb, 55, for an attempt to extort $3,000 from Mrs. Sidney Greaves, welthy Cumby woman. Both waived preliminary hearings.

Officers said Wilson made a full confession in which he exonerated Webb.

Mrs. Greaves received a letter Thursday threatening the kidnaping of her son, Jack, unless the money was left at a place near Cumby Saturday. She notified officers, who did in the woods near the designated place while she and her son left a dummy package there. Wilson and Webb were arrested near the scene.

CITY DADS WILL DECIDE FATE OF MONKEY, JAILED AFTER BITING BOY

Patrick, a monkey who was given that name because he was born on St. Patrick's day, was in a cell at city jail this morning, and 6-year-old John Frye was at home, handicapped in his playing by Patrick's bite on the right leg and scratches on both legs.

City commission was to meet in a called session at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at City hall to hear Dr. G. G. Castleberry , 1711 Main street, owner of the monkey, attempt to show cause why the animal should not be killed as a nuisance.

The Frye boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Frye, 1714 Broadway, was playing in the yard of his home early Saturday night when he was bitten by the monkey, who had escaped from a pen at the Castleberry residence, on the opposite side of the block, police reported. The boy's mother said the monkey grasped the boy from behind, and bit and scratched him. A woman living at the Frye home, a hospital employe, gave the boy emergency treatment.

FATHER ALONE TODAY AFTER EXPLOSION

WIFE AND ONE CHILD DIE SUNDAY; TWO KILLED SATURDAY

A jobless laborer, A. L. Scott, was alone today, without the 25-year-old wife and three small daughters who were alive before a can of kerosene exploded in the mother's hands at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at their one-room home in Hockley county.

Burned from head to foot, 13-month-old Lena Belle Scott died at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, 30 minutes after being received at Lubbock sanitarium; Billy Faye, 3 years old, died at 10:30 p. m. Saturday; Ruby Mae, 7 years old, at 4:20 o'clock Sunday morning, and their mother at 5:30 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Scott and the children were alone in the tiny frame house, half a mile north of Roundup, when the mother began to kindle a fire in the stove to cook some eggs for the children, Smouldering fire she did not know was in the stove evidently ignited a small amount of kerosene which she poured into the stove.

C. C. Scott, her brother-in-law, saw the house aflame, saw the mother carry and lead her children into the yard, and fight the fire on their clothing with her bare hands. Her hands, arms, face, chest, and abdomen were seared, as she tried to save the lives of her tiny daughters.

Funeral services for the four will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Anton, and burial will be there.

POISONING IS FEARED HERE

SWOLLEN CANS TAKEN FROM BUILDING BY NEEDY PERSONS

City authocities this morning feared ptomaine poisoning and other ailments would result from consumption of canned goods which white persons, Mexicans, and negroes took without authority, but evidently in good faith, from a frame building adjacent to quarters of the Wooten Grocery company, a wholesale firm, at 720 Texas avenue Sunday.

The goods were in the "swell house," a place for storing cans which have swollen, usually as a result of spoiling of contents, Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe explained. When a considerable quantity of the worthless merchandise has accumulated, it is destroyed.

Police said some one had taken cans from the "swell house" without permission, word had spread that the "food" was being given away, and men, women, and children came to carry away the cans, some lugging whole boxes of them. The needy who swarmed about the "swell house" evidently thought the contents could be eaten safely, the merchandise being discarded because of spoiled wrappers on the cans, the police chief said.

It was late Sunday afternoon before police learned of the situation. Tiny children, old men, and other persons (most of the day) carried away the canned goods, which police were informed included sardines, salmon, and mackerel, particularly dangerous when spoiled.

Prohibition Agents Go On Trial Today

DALLAS, June 20 (AP)—N. D. Heaton and L. C. Smith, prohibition agents, went on trial in federal court here today in connection with the slaying of Marion McGlothlin April 8.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

TANTRUMS CURED

"Dr. Myers: I read this evening's article about the mother whose son goes into tantrums over the least trifle, and am offering her my experiment which we carried out on my own son. He is now 5 1-2 years old, and ever since he was 1 1-2 years old would go into tantrums over everything.

"I tried everything until recently when a neighbor suggested that when he again got into a tantrum to just tell him to keep right on. I tried that method; as soon as his tantrum began I would go to him and say 'a little louder; harder, go on, hurry up', etc., and, say, he stopped right then and there. He now is cured—the swiftest cure I ever heard of.

"I think this other mother can cure her son in the same way. Here's hoping she does. Please print this so she will read it."

As a rule this scheme will work provided, of course, all the rest of the family fall in line. The sudden change of the mother from solicitude to apparent enjoyment of the child's foolishness shocked him. Not every parent will be able to carry this plan through effectively: nor will every child respond so well. In case it fails it will add to the child's rage. A safer way perhaps, but less dramatic and slower, is for all the adults to freeze themselves into icicles that won't melt while any emotional storm is on. All this seems so easy to tell but very hard to do.

Another mother writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have a year old baby that simply will not play by herself. I set her on the floor with her toys and she starts crying the minute I leave her side. She keeps on crying until she is picked up. About a month ago she was sick for two weeks. She was nursed all day long. There doesn't seem anything the matter with her now."

Answer: Hundreds of mothers are confronted by the problem you describe. We parents nearly always spoil the young child while he is sick, particularly while he is recuperating. We suffer so much in anxiety that we can hardly desist from doing anything to give him momentary comfort, in spite of our judgment to the contrary.

To help your child will cost you a good deal more suffering and self-conquering; but you know that you are thinking of her happiness next month, next year, ten years from now. Therefore, you are going to write out a program which you will follow to the minute by the clock, with so many minutes for each of several periods a day when baby will be comfortably placed on the floor or in a pen with her toys. During that period of, say, 20 minutes (later extended), you will make yourself busy or you will seem to be busy, not going to the child until the clock commands you (and don't tamper with the time-piece), no matter how much she cries. Just act as if you don't hear or see her during this time. After a few days you will get results.

Before beginning this program better plan to neglect all things else and be sure you have ample sleep, even an afternoon nap, if possible. And good wishes to you, Mother.

The fake giraffe gave all the bunch a laugh and Duncy had a hunch that they could have a lot of fun if more fake heads were found.

Said he, "Let's to the clown tent go. Somebody there is bound to know if there are any heads that we can play with, hanging 'round."

"That's not a bad idea, son! And we are always in for fun. You lead the way." We'll follow and I hope that we have luck.

"I've seen false faces that were great and I, for one, won't hesitate to try one on. I only hope that my head won't get stuck."

So Duncy led them to the tent and right inside they promptly went. A friendly clown was half asleep. They roused him very quick.

One told him what they planned to do. Said he, "That's fine! I'll help you, too. I have a couple false heads that I'm sure you'll think are slick."

One of them was a pussy cat. One Tiny said, "Gee! I like that. Please let me put it on my head. I'll bet you all will smile.

"I'd like to walk around in it and act real funny for a bit. I'll promise that I'll let the others try it after while."

"Go right ahead," the fat clown said. "Just slip it on your little head." The Tiny did and my but he was funny as could be.

Another head was then brought out. It made the Tinies laugh and shout. Said Windy, "That's the strangest one I ever hope to see."

"It's an old lady," someone cried. "I'm going to stick my head inside and give you all another chance to laugh until you ache."

Then, as his wee head slid right in, the kind old clown began to grin. Said he, "It is a fine fit and a funny sight you make."

Mrs. Carney is the former Miss Edith Dane, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Dane of Vernon. She and Mr. Carney were married Saturday evening in the Vernon First Methodist church with Rev. C. M. Pearce officiating.

Miss Janet Andrews of Fort Worth and Miss Ruth Siddons of Denton were the bride's attendants. John T. Gilchrist of Vernon was best man. Betty Ruth Berry, niece of Mr. Carney and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Berry of Fort Worth, was the flower girl.

The bride is a former student in Clarendon college and at North Texas State Teachers college in Denton. She has been teaching in Oklaunion.

Mr. Carney is the son of J. A. Carney of Vernon. He and his bride came through Lubbock en route to New Mexico where they are to spend the next two weeks at Ruidoso.

Mrs. Hubbard Enjoys Study In Colony

Mrs. Chester Hubbard, who is studying at the Texas Artists colony at San Angelo, is enjoying all of the courtesies that are being extended to the artists and also attending classes in landscape, portrait and figure, she writes. Mrs. Hubbard was a guest at a breakfast one day last week given by Mrs. H. J. Chamberlin in her outdoor living room.

HUTCHINS OPENS LAW OFFICE

Loyalty Society Has Election Meet

An election of officers featured a meeting of the Loyalty club during the week-end with Mrs. D. N. Lacewell, 2218 16th street. Mrs. Ed Lowrey was elected president of the society with Mrs. Jack Slover as vice-president; Mrs. L. J. Akers, secretary; Mrs. Roche Newton, treasurer, and Mrs. J. A. Hood, reporter.

Out-Of-Town Pair Has Wedding Here

Miss Florence Hendricks and Hugh Adair of Amarillo were married Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic church here with the Rev. G. A. Boeckman officiating. Only members of the couples' families were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Adair left Saturday evening for New Orleans and Galveston on their honeymoon and will return to Amarillo to reside. He is with the transportation department of the Santa Fe railroad and is formerly of Terre Haute, Ind.

Mrs. Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hendricks of Amarillo, is the sister of E. E. Hendricks, 2003 27th street, this city. She has resided in the Panhandle most of her life, graduated from Amarillo high school and attended school in Chicago and at the University of Fairbanks in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hendricks who were here for the wedding, are remaining for a visit with their son, E. E. Hendricks. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mattingly of Amarillo were here for the wedding, also. Mrs. Mattingly is the sister of Mrs. Adair.

Young Women Back From Conference

Misses Dorothy Robertson and Daisy Jean Puckett returned Sunday from Ceta canyon, where they had been attending a conference of young people in the Christian church during the last week. Miss Robertson was elected editor of the Youth Conference Call, a camp magazine.

Poor Rich Girl

Legend of "the poor little rich girl" comes to life in the story of Eleanor Frances McDonald, seven, shown here with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Stuart, at Philadelphia. Eleanor, heiress to the $3,000,000 fortune of her grandfather, the late Francis J. McDonald, millionaire Philadelphia shipbuilder, has been having a hard time getting someone to pay her tuition at school. Her parents were divorced and her mother remarried. A Philadelphia judge has given the child into her mother's custody and ordered her father to pay for her schooling.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The old expression sometimes used in social circles when a man is being considered for a bridge party or spelling bee, to-wit: "Oh, he's just one of those dumb athletes," can't very well be applied to individuals making up the Texas Tech athletic show cast. Returns from the administration building show that only .018868 per cent of the athletes who attended the spring term of school failed to pass the required number of hous. In other words, fifty-two out of fifty-three bona fide students of the football department passed their work and will be eligible to try out for varsity positions next fall.

You will face more or less grave difficulties in finding another set of athletes, who must give at least half their time to the gridiron, whose grades stack up with those registered by the future Matadors. An intellectual bunch, you say. Now if they can play football like they can pass work . . .

It may interest you to know that Professors Cawthon, Smith and Morgan put in quite a lot of valuable time and worry over the scholastic responsibilities of their athletes. They know that is the first thing. Unless an athlete passes his school work, he is of no earthly good to the team. Even his presence around the camp has a degrading effect on the rest of the squadsmen, good though he may be at heaving, booting or toting the leather. So you've got to hand the coaches some credit for driving their boys through the classrooms as well as over the gridiron.

The first annual President's Cup tournament for Lubbock Country club members was a fizzle, as such. The fault lies at the doors of two parties—the instigators and the players. Less than a dozen players of the forty-odd who are members in more or less good standing completed the 72-hole tournament in the order planned. Eighteen holes were to be played each day for four days beginning last Thursday.

The tournament committee failed to consider the fact that all or a greater percentage of members could or would find time to play 18 holes every day for four consecutive days. That's fault number 1. Members of the club, however, should have found it posible to get out every day to play, even before and after office hours. With one breath they complain of the depression and of not having anything to do, and with the next next they lament the fact that they've no time to play golf. The sun rises early these days and sets late. There's time to play nine holes before eight and another nine after six. But how glad we are that our golf game is so poor as not to warrant our playing that early and that late.

The Tech coaching school, which opens for a ten-day run on July 11, will mean a reunion for three former all-state team mates. Coach Binford of McPherson college, Coach Bryant of Liberal High school and Coach Bennett of Haviland High school, all of Kansas, are three of the four crack cinderpath artists who won the Kansas State track championship in 1922. They will be here for the coaching school. Binford is already here, a student in Tech's summer session. Beside being a good coach, we are informed he's a real golfer, a southpaw with a cross-arm stroke.

Just one of those old-fashioned beautiful friendships, writes Bill Braucher of NEA and the Morning Avalanche, seems to have ripened into love between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds. Baseball writers in the National league are wondering how two clubs in the same league suddenly became so fond of each other. The facts, placed on the table, show these returns:

The Cards traded Taylor Douthit to the Reds for Wally Roettger—then sold Roettger back to the Reds. The Cards sold Andy High to the Reds.

The Cards traded Chick Hafey to the Reds for Benny Frey and Harvey Hendrick—and sold Frey and Hendrick back to the Reds. The Reds have Routhit, Roettger, High, Hafey, Frey and Hendrick, but the Cards haven't a single player to show for their end of the bargain.

Proceeding further, other intimate connections between the two clubs are discovered. Columbus, of the American association, a Cardinal farm, has received Shortstop Bluege and Outfielder Cullop from the Reds.

This lovely sentiment of the Cards for the Reds did not become apparent until the Cards purchased the Columbus club from the Reds between the seasons of 1930 and 1931. Did the Cards pay for the Columbus club with these deals? Try and find out!

LOCAL TEAMS SPLIT EVEN ON SUNDAY

GARZA GOLFERS NOSE OUT McMILLAN'S PLAYERS HERE

Lubbock golf teams split even in South Plains league activity yesterday, losing a match at home and winning one away from home. Lubbock Country club took a 11 to 9 victory at Slaton on the Santa Fe course while the Meadowbrook team was being nosed out by Post here.

With a snappy 71, one over par, Jimmie Samson of the Post delegation, took medal honors and defeated Sid Thrash, No. 2 man on the local team, as one of the telling blows in the 12 to 11 defeat handed the Lubbock Meadowbrook team. The game was played on the local course.

Charles Quails, former West Texas champion and captain of the Post team, defeated Bill McMillan, Meadowbrook captain and manager, on all three points.

Jess Lockhart of Meadowbrook lost to Collier of Post, 2 to 1. George Samson defeated Harvey on all three counts but Lane Denson turned the tables in the next match by downing Jack Samson, 3 to 0, and in another spurt, D. A. Dowell defeated Brown, 3 to 0. Robert Bryant tied Stewart, 1 and 1, and Neil Vanzant walloped Clyde Hundley, 3 to 0, in the final match.

Slaughter Right

Jo Dick Slaughter was right on the first nine at Slaton for a 34, two under par, the result of two birdies and an eagle. He slipped on the second round, however, with a 40 and lost the round, winning the match over J. A. Reynolds, Slaton's No. 1 man, 2 to 1.

John Edmisson shot a neat 76 to defeat Lewis, 3 to 0, winning both nines and the eighteen. Ross McWhorter failed to report for his match with Peavy and lost by default, all three points counting against him.

V. O. Jennings swept his three-point match with Ramsey and Bays. Bryant defeated Cates, 3 to 0, giving Lubbock a good lead at the half-way mark.

O. J. Pelty, Lubbock, lost three points to Butler of Slaton, and Windy Watkins halved the second nine wth Carter to lose only two points. E. T. Daniels and Nicholson halved their match all the way through, winding up in a scoreless deadlock.

HUBBERS LOSE TO ANTON

LOCALS DROP SECOND GAME IN TWO DAYS TO ANTON TEAM

For the second time in two days, the Lubbock Hubbers were defeated Sunday by the Anton baseball team. The score was 10 to 9, Anton scoring in its half of the tenth inning for the victory. The game was played on the Anton field.

On Saturday afternoon the teams played a delayed game at Merrill Park, Anton winning a 4 to 3 decision. Yesterday's defeat was the third of the season in twelve starts for the locals and the first time this season the Hubbers have lost two consecutive games.

Cecil Thompson, local high school flash, went down for his first defeat of the season yesterday. Lemons and Davidson led the Lubbock attack, each getting four hits in five times up.

VARSITY REGATTA SCHEDULED TODAY

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—The biggest college naval battle of the year, due to break out late today along a four-mile stretch of old man river found the intersectional rivalry sharply drawn once more, with Cornell and Syracuse, ancient rivals, ready to fire their varsity big shells against the challenges of California and Washington.

The non-combatants as well as those commanding the eight collegiate fleets on the Hudson were pretty well agreed the winner of the feature engagement would be found among these four powerful, experienced boatloads.

Among other varsity entries in the main battle, Navy, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Massachusetts Tech, in about that order, were conceded no more than an outside chance to explode a surprise torpedo among the favorites.

SANTONE WINS OVER STEERS

EXPORTERS CLING TO LEAD IN LEAGUE PENNANT RACE

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas league pennant race was enlivened yesterday with a brief spurt by the homeless San Antonio Indians.

The Tribe's headquarters at league park burned Saturday, leaving the boys in the same sad condition that drove the Shreveport club to Tyler. But with Longview occupied now by fugitives from Wichita Falls, there was nothing much left for the Indians but the choice between Arp and Overton. They elected, accordingly, to stay at home and play at the Brackenridge High school park.

At that, yesterday's triumph was something along the order of a high school ball game. The visiting Dallas Steers stumbled into the ninth trailing 4 to 10, drove two pitchers to the showers with five runs, then faded for a 10-9 loss as Cy Smith came to the rescue.

Beaumont Holds Lead

With a split season vote drawing nearer, the Beaumont Exporters slung grimly to their three-game lead over the league by taking Tyler 8 to 5 in ten innings. Fred Tauby hit a homer with two on base after Steengrafe of the Sports had passed Easterling to get to him.

The Houston Buffs kept the pace by Mauling Longview 10 to 1 behind the neat pitching of Ralph Judd.

At Galveston the Buccaneers got away to a five-run lead in the first for what eventually became a 6-1 victory over Fort Worth.

DALLAS GIRL, 13, FAVORED ENTRY IN GOLF MATCH

WICHITA FALLS, June 20. (AP)—Betty Jameson, not much past the age for playing with dolls, was among the favored entrants today as the second annual tournament of the Texas Women's Municipal golf association opened here.

The 13-year-old Dallas municipal champion faced a field including Mrs. George Huckaby, fellow-townswoman and runner-up in last year's state tournament; Mrs. W. T. Stafford, whom she defeated recently in Dallas, and Mrs. W. H. Kay and Mrs. Harry C. Scott of Houston.

WIMBLEDON NET TOURNEY OPENS

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 20. (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis tournament, officially known as the British championships, opens today with eleven Americans facing the best players of Europe and Australia.

The entry of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody made it almost a foregone conclusion that at least the women's singles crown will go to the United States. Another Californian, Ellsworth Vines, the youthful American champion, is ranked among the favorites in men's singles and Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn are considered the outstanding doubles team.

Europe has high hopes of taking the women's doubles and mixed doubles and stands an even chance or more of knocking the favored Americans clear out of the picture in the other events.

California is considering ground courses in aviation for all secondary school students.

RACE IS CLOSE IN NATIONAL

CUBS IDLE BUT GAIN GROUND; REDS ARE FAR BEHIND

By HERBERT W. BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Take a medium-sized blanket, put it over the National league field and the only clubs that might be left out in the cold would be the first place Chicago Cubs and the last-place Cincinnati Reds.

Cold figures would put it this way: The Boston Braves, in second place, lead Pittsburgh's Pirates by one game, with the Phillies, Brooklyn, St. Louis and New York in a virtual tie for fourth place, two games behind the Pirates.

Cubs Gain Ground

The Cubs, idle yesterday, nevertheless gained ground, their lead going to three and a half games when the Braves succumbed to Silas Johnson and the Reds, 5-0.

Singles by Paul Waner and Pie Traylor in the eighth drove in two runs and gave the Pirates a 2-1 decision over Brooklyn with Heinie Meine chalking up a pitching victory over William Watson Clark. The Cardinals trounced the Giants, 7-0, behind Tex Carleton's two-hit pitching.

The New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to seven and a half games as John Allen blanked Chicago on three singles, 1-0.

Split Twin Bill

Philadelphia split even with St. Louis, winning the second game 6-3, after dropping the opener, 3-2 in 10 innings. Jimmy Foxx clouted his 26th homer in the second.

Cleveland went into third place, displacing Washington, by tripping Boston twice, 9-3, and 6-3, while Washington was dropping an 8-5 decision to Detroit.

FIGHTERS ARE POLISHED UP FOR BATTLE

CHAMPION IS SLIGHT FAVORITE TO WIN OVER SAILOR

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—The training grind is over for Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey.

They've polished up their weapons and built up strength, stamina and speed through six weeks of intensive work. Now they're ready for their 15-round battle for the heavyweight championship tomorrow night.

Schmeling Favored

Most experts expect the fight to go the limit. The betting remained extremely light today with Champion Max still favored at 6 to 5.

Schmeing wound up his training at Kingston, N. Y., with a five-round workout against three sparring partners yesterday and left a crowd of 3,000 fully convinced he is in top form for his title defense.

At Orangeburg, N. Y., another capacity crowd saw Sharkey box four easy rounds before breaking camp and heading for New York. The challenger weighed 203 pounds after the workout and probably will tip the beam at that poundage, heaviest of his career.

Schmeling has been down as low as 188 pounds recently, but probably will scale 190 or more for the fight.

Advance calculations point to one of the best heavyweight duels in recent years.

For Glory Only

Sharkey can gain nothing but glory—and the title—under any circumstances for his share of the gate receipts is only 10 per cent, hardly enough to cover his training expenses.

Sailor Jack will be facing a vastly improved fighter tomorrow. Max has learned fast in the last two years. Maxie was an impressive fighter a year ago when he stopped young Stribling in 15 rounds in his first title defense. And he has advanced several strides since then.

BOSTON RED SOX, LEFT AT POST IN LEAGUE RACE, WITHOUT PILOT TODAY

BOSTON, June 20. (AP)—The buffeted Boston Red Sox, left at the post in the American league, were without a pilot today. Manager John "Shauno" Collins resigned after suffering 46 defeats against 11 victories this season.

The former White Sox star, who tasted the fruits of ascendency as a member of pennant-winning Chicago teams in 1917 and 1919, wired President Bob Quinn from Cleveland yesterday that he felt he could no longer go on with a club that so often lost.

Marty McManus, aggressive second baseman, was named as acting manager until Quinn decides on a permanent pilot.

Quinn said the news was a surprise; that he had "no inkling" of the feelings of Collins. He said he gave him "every opportunity to reconsider."

"I know 'Shauno' has been having a hard time," said Quinn, "but I wonder how many people think I have enjoyed myself lately."

Collins, the fifth manager to come and go during the nine-year Quinn regime, was one of the few players to emerge unsullied from the "Black Sox" scandal of 1919.

Thought For Today

Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people.—Deuteronomy 32:43.

O'er the trackless past somewhere lie the lost days of our tropic youth.
—Bret Harte.

Samuel Insull

American business has not in years offered as spectacular a tragedy as that of Samuel Insull.

More than half a century ago Insull came to America from England, the poor boy of tradition, eager to seek his fortune in the growing new land.

His rise was fast and dazzling. The industrial and financial empire that he put together kept on growing, extending itself, throwing out tentacles about new plants, becoming the very epitome of those peculiarly American combinations of physical properties, financial resources and credit. Insull's own fortune was rated at $100,000,000; any list, however brief, of the behind-the-scenes rulers of America would inevitably have included his name.

And now he is going back to England. His properties have gone into receivership, he has lost all of his own fortune in a futile effort to save them, he has some $10,000,000 of debts and his personal income is a modest pension voted at the last minute by directors of his former companies. He is 73 years old.

Here, if ever, were success and failure on the grand scale. Few Americans ever rose higher than Insull, few ever fell faster or harder. And there is something extremely significant about the whole story.

Insull came in at a time of expansion. Everything was getting bigger, everywhere there were new fields to explore and exploit, new worlds to conquer. America was growing beyond all bounds, and the clever and ambitious could grow with her.

But it seems, now that we look at it, that an era has closed. Things grew too fast, too big, perhaps; the giants who were lifted up by the process have been cast down; and the lusty, exhuberant hurly-burly of youth, in which such things are possible, has ended.

A kind of maturity has come to us: a sober, rather dismal kind, just now, marked by contraction instead of expansion. And the aging man who is going back to England to live on his pension is a victim of the passing of the nation's youth.

Flapper Fanny

The new tax bill must have taxed Congress' energy.

That Girl on Broadway says the most independent man in the world is the flag-pole painter who follows his job so he won't have anybody over him.

Considering that there were no movies to teach them how to make love, the older generation did pretty well.

Pipe this gem from The Literary Digest:

"The editor stood at the pearly gate,
His face was worn and old;
He meekly asked of the man of fate
Admission to the fold.
'What have you done,' St. Peter asked,
'To seek admission here?'
'Oh, I ran a country printing plant
On earth for many a year.'
The gate swung open sharply
As St. Peter touched a bell.
'Come in', he said, 'and take a harp,
You've had enough of—er—trouble!'"

That's true to life, all right, all right, but The Plainsman takes this opportunity to make the following answer:

The editor stood at Hades' gates,
Carefree, and grinning, too.
"And what," the Devil inquired of him,
"Is so darn funny to you?"
The editor laughed as the flames leaped high,
Then said, "I'll tell you, chief.
After what I've been through
In the newspaper game,
This is sure gonna be a relief!"

WHILE there is little or no indication that a decision will be reached soon, the Lubbock county commissioners court has before it for consideration a petition asking for discontinuation of county farm and home demonstration work.

On the petition appear the names of something over 800 citizens of Lubbock county—most all of them residents of the rural areas. It was started out something like a couple of months ago and about two weeks ago was presented to the commission for its ruling.

This column is ever of the opinion that citizens have a right to be heard in public matters and have the inalienable right to present their opinions to our governing bodies.

This column is also of the opinion that every possible economy should be made in the handling of our public affairs—from the precinct to the national capitol.

But this column is also of the opinion that economy may be carried so far as to become costly and uneconomical—and it believes that the will of the majority, rather than that of a few, be followed in all public lines.

BECAUSE The Plainsman considers the work of county farm and home demonstration agents essential to the good of this and every other agricultural county, he hopes county commissioners will weigh carefully the proposition before voting—if they ever do—to discontinue it.

Further than that, he hopes that a broader expression will be secured from rural people before the will of no more than one-twentieth of the rural population is permitted to prevail.

It may be that a majority of the farmers and their wives are willing to see farm and home demonstration work go by the boards.

If so, then the commissioners court, by all means, should discontinue it.

But the point in question, as we see it, is: just how does the majority feel about the problem?

When that question is answered commissioners will know how to justly act—but not before.

THERE is little doubt in the mind of The Plainsman that economies can be instituted in the departments of farm and home demonstration agents. Cuts can be made, here and there; salaries may be reduced as they have been in practically every line of private business, and this column agrees that in times like these assistance may be dispensed with, even though the assistant does not receive his entire salary from the county.

But when one starts out to entirely do away with a public department which has functioned efficiently and helpfully for years just because it looks like the act will save a few dollars—that is treading on dangerous soil. It offers the danger of becoming 'penny wise and pound foolish'.

Before passing on, The Plainsman would further point out that the problem of what to do about the county agents is a rural—not an urban problem.

It is the farmers and their wives who should be looked to for advice in this matter—not the 'street corner farmer' and the town-residing landlord.

Urban people, if they will be fair, will agree that the will of the rural population—and the rural population alone—should decide the question and they'll keep 'hands off' in the matter.

W. T. WAGGONER, one of the grand old men of West Texas cow and oil business, made us all think of the days of three years ago when he dug down in his jeans and brought forth $10,000 to send the Old Gray Mare band to Chicago.

Ten thousand bucks is a lot of dough any time.

It is more than that today.

But W. T. Waggoner, who has made a vast fortune in Texas, forgot about the depression; forgot that it isn't as easy to pick up ten grand today as it used to be. He just "hauled off and done it."

Somebody commented that he'd "have done a lot better if he'd given the $10,000 to some worthy relief organization," but there The Plainsman disagrees.

If more people would spend money as they spent it three years ago; if more people forgot the depression and just 'went and done it' with their extra cash, there wouldn't be such a big need for worthy relief organizations.

Great Network Of Dry Organizations Took Back Seat At Republican Convention But Heads Active Just The Same

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

CHICAGO, June 20—So much was heard about the wets and the noise they made during the Republican convention that you may have wondered whether there were any visible signs of the great network of dry organizations which first put prohibition in the constitution and has kept it there since.

Dutcher

There were, although diligent search was required to find dry headquarters. Most of the big shots in the prohibition movement were here as super-strategists for the National Prohibition Board of Strategy, which is a super-organization of all the dry organizations especially formed to fight off the wets in 1932.

At least a score of nationally known officials and working members of that board were active in the wet-dry fight which raged over the Republican platform plank.

Not Even a Sign!

HEADQUARTERS was established in two modest hotel rooms in one of the older hotels within the Loop, many blocks away from convention headquarters and the hotels which housed the big delegations. One of the dry leaders had known the assistant manager of the hotel, so there they went. These rooms were used only for meeting places and conference rooms. No attempt was made to attract the presence of delegates or the public.

The drys didn't even erect a sign in the downstairs jobby. In fact, as one dry lady explained, the only reason they had a headquarters at all was that "they didn't want to meet for discussion in each others' bedrooms because they were both men and women and that wouldn't be desirable."

There was no question that the hotel bill would be paid, but neither was there any attempt to deny that most dry leaders yearned for the good old days when millions flowed freely into their coffers. Only a few weeks ago the board of strategy put on, with the anticipated cooperation of Sunday schools and churches everywhere, a drive for "a million dimes," which meant $100,000, with the slogan "Dry dimes will beat wet dollars." The result was a disappointment, although enough dimes came in to pay rent and other expenses for a while.

The Bantam Bishop

BISHOP James Cannon, Jr., the little bantam from Virginia who has been so busy fighting in congressional hearing rooms, the newspapers and ecclesiastical councils for the last few years, was one of the most active strategists. He doesn't use any more the crutches which he used to brandish when under fire and now seems to walk with ease. He preferred to avoid the limelight at Chicago.

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Ohio appeared to be a dominant force in the group. He is a tall, heavy man who gives an impression of force, a business man who has operated the Anti-Saloon League's publishing house at Westerville and, like so many other business men, recalls better days—especially those days before the Anti-Saloon League bank went bust.

Cherrington, whom many drys used to think would fill the shoes of Wayne B. Wheeler, is chairman of the strategy board, head of the World League Against Alcoholism and boss of the endowed educational section of the league.

The Dry Platform Plea

HE was the principal dry speaker before the Republican platform committee, arguing, like the others, that prohibition was not a political issue, that the constitution should not be monkeyed with except in the existing constitutional method. Let Congress act when ready, Cherrington urged.

Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, an elderly veteran in the cause who remains spry and jolly and always grins at adversity, is executive secretary of the strategy board, which has headquarters in Washington.

He is the one who tried to raise the million dimes. He was often to be seen around the lobbies of convention headquarters, always willing to pose—even with leaders of obscure wet organizations—when the photographers desired.

Miss Young Drys

MORE gaunt and worried was General Superintendent F. Scott McBride of the league, a country preacher type whose misfortune has resembled that of Herbert Hoover in that he took office in time to serve through the depression.

The others were also veterans of the pre-prohibition fights. You missed the younger generation of drys. The sad fact was that the younger generation in Chicago seemed to be marching and hollering with the wets.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene" "Normal Diet," "List of Books on," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Indigestion and Constipatio for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

REACTION OF TWINS

Any number of interesting questions arise concerning twins, especially similar twins.

Dr. Clendening

For instance, if such twins having nearly exactly the same hereditary make-up are separated early in life and live under the influence of different environments, will their minds and tastes react in the same fashion?

The interest of the question can be illustrated by the question of color. It is probable that each of us lives in a perfectly individual sensory world. What I call blue may be the same, in general, as what you call blue. But if my visual apparatus were by some magic suddenly transferred to you, the world which would greet you would probably puzzle you a great deal. You would say, "Well, that object is an American flag, all right, but the place where the blue ought to be certainly is the queerest blue I ever saw."

Such divergences probably are due to differences in the arrangements of rods and cones or nerve fibers too subtle to be detected.

But so far as twins are concerned their visual apparatus is so nearly the same that they choose exactly the same shades of color. For clothes, for instance. The exactly same shade hits them. We always think it's the mother who dresses them the same, but the habit persists into adult life after they have outgrown parental authority.

A pair of twins who had not seen each other for 10 years arranged a meeting in New York. Each tried to fix himself up by getting some new clothes. When they faced one another each had on a gray suit of the same shade and only slight differences in pattern, and a maroon necktie. The neckties had been purchased at the same store, out of the same lot.

Another set of twins, who were orphaned, had been brought up by an aunt to whom they were devoted. On her birthday one sent her a present from Boston, where he lived, and one a present from Kansas City. The presents were absolutely identical. They had not even so much as reminded each other by letter of their foster mother's approaching birthday.

On the contrary, Koch studied a pair of conjoined (Siamese) twins and found that on an association test they gave only 8 per cent identical responsive words. The conditions of such a test, however, are sufficiently artifical that they may not represent instictive reactions.

What does marriage do to a person? "My twin dresses to please her husband, now, in a gaudier manner than she used to dress. She thinks I have changed for the better, which is consoling. I am not so sure she has changed for the better. I liked her taste better before she was married." (From a statement made to Nathaniel Hirsch, and printed in his book "Twins," Harvard University Press.)

O. J. "What is a good hand lotion?"

Answer. The simpler, the better. Glycerin and rosewater, equal parts, for instance.

THE CAPITOL WHIRLIGIG

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, June 20. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling's principal political friends were favorable to the July Democratic primary ballot carrying the resubmission of the prohibition. That attitude indicates they believe interest aroused by the repeal issue will enhance Governor Sterling's chances of reelection by attracting more of his friends to the polls than partisans of the other candidates.

Maybe they are right. Maybe they are wrong. The tally sheets will tell.

HOBBY PLEASED

Former Governor W. P. Hobby of Houston was especially pleased with the State Democratic executive committee's decision to mix the prohibition repeal issue in the July primary. He was on the sidelines directing the movement. Mrs. Hobby was there doing her part, the two of them plainly more interested in bringing out the Sterling vote than in what Texas Democrats think of the prohibition amendment.

JIM DOESN'T OBJECT

Frank Putnam of Houston, wet candidate for governor, was a spectator and said he was pleased prohibition would be submitted to the voters. Former Governor James E. Ferguson, chief campaign manager for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, in her gubernatorial candidacy, said he did not object to having the primary voters express themselves with reference to resubmission.

POLITICALLY MINDED

J. E. Kilday, Weaver Moore and I. Friedlander, all of Houston, holding proxies of absent committeemen, made vigorous speeches for the resubmission idea. W. M. Cleaves of Houston, member of the committee, opposed submission of the proposition. Houston is taking more interest in Texas politics, apparently than any other section. A Houstonian is Governor; W. O. Huggins of Houston, is chairman of the State Democratic executive committee; another Houstonian is a candidate for Governor and four Houstonians are candidates for congressman-at-large places. Former Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe, Douglas W. McGregor, V. I. Cargile and John L. Meany. Holcombe is running for Place 2 while the other three Houstonians are aspirants to Place 3.

PROSPEROUS SEASON

The Democratic executive committee has had a prosperous season. There were seventy-three candidates for state office who paid the $100 filing fee each, piling up a fund of $7,300. Thirty nine hundred dollars were paid in by congressman-at-large candidates.

In filing for places, the at-large candidates divided the field unwittingly about as even as it could be split three ways. There are eleven candidates for Place two and fourteen each for the other two places.

Many cities have passed laws requiring all their employes to move within the city limits. Next thing we know, they'll be requiring each one to come to work every day.

FIELD EDITOR MOVES HERE

GANTZ WILL DIRECT CO-OP ACTIVITIES IN THIS REGION

H. L. Gantz, field editor of Farm and Ranch for the last five years, has moved to Lubbock and will be in charge of the organization's activities of the Lubbock district of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, N. H. Payne, manager, has announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Gantz have moved to 2114 19th street.

The new worker has been in public work for the past 24 years, confining himself mostly to educational work. He was for 12 years a rural school teacher and for four terms, or eight years, Comanche county superintendent of schools. The past five years he has been with Farm and Ranch.

"The problems of the farmer and those of his children, both from an educational and economic point of view, have stimulated me to give much study to the distinctive problems of organization through which farming may be made more remunerative and farm life more worth living," Mr. Gantz said.

During the eight years Mr. Gantz was county superintendent of Comanche county, the schools there became well known throughout the state for their substantial organization and efficiency. In recognition of this work the county superintendents of the state conferred three honors upon Mr. Gantz.

While field editor of Farm and Ranch Mr. Gantz assumed the direction of a community program, fostered by the magazine, in which provisions were made for farming communities to give a study of their own problems. As a result of his work more than 200 community clubs were formed in the southwest.

Bankruptcy Claim Is Made By Julian

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 20. (AP)—Financial affairs of C. C. Julian, California and Oklahoma oil and mining promotor, who has built vast enterprises and saw them fall, were in hands of a referee in bankruptcy here today.

Under indictment with more than 50 others for mail fraud in connection with operation of the $3,000,000 C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties company here, Julian has filed a petition for voluntary bankruptcy in federal court here, listing liabilities of $3,057,436.53 and no assets.

Rates, Rules and Requirements of Classified Advertising Of The Lubbock Daily Journal (Afternoon)
Lubbock Morning Avalanche (Morning)
Sunday Avalanche-Journal (Sunday Morning)

All classified advertising will appear in both the Morning and Afternoon papers—both papers counting one insertion. All classified advertising is printed in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche first and the Daily Journal of the same date, no classified originating in the afternoon paper.

Classified for Sunday's issue will appear in the Avalanche-Journal counting one insertion, as this paper is sent to all subscribers of both the afternoon and morning papers.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL Combined Rates:

Minimum words per insertion, 10.
One insertion, per word 4c
Two insertions, per word 6c
Three insertions, per word 7c
Seven insertions, per word 12c
Thirty insertions, per word 45c

These rates are for consecutive insertions only. Additional consecutive insertions over 30 times, of 1½c per word each.

All out-of-town ads. received by mail must be Cash with order. No exceptions.

PHONE 13 or 14

Our experienced ad taker will receive your ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for our patrons and for one day only.

No advertisements accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specified number of insertions must be given.

We reserve the right to place an advertisement under the proper classification and reject unclean or objectionable copy.

Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rate.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors, or any unintentional error that may occur, further than to correct it next issue after it is brought to their attention. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

Classified Advertising accepted until 5:30 p. m. on week days, and 6:30 p. m. on Saturdays, and all advertising received after 5:30 p. m. will be placed under "Too Late To Classify."

For classified display advertising information—

PHONE 13 or 14

TO DISCONTINUE AN AD

Notice to Discontinue an Ad must be given after 8 a. m. and before 5 p. m., to some member of the Classified Advertising Department. We cannot be responsible for notices given before or after these hours, and to a member of some other Department.

Read the Classified Ads very carefully. Then pick out some phrase (one to six words), in one of the ads on the classified pages, that you think describes your interpretation of the cartoon, the best. Write your title in the space directly under the cartoon, and attach copy of ad. from which you extracted the title, along with your name and address. The titles will be judged every day, and the best one, each day, will receive two tickets to Lindsey Theater to see "Thunder Below", the second best will receive two tickets to the Palace Theater to "Rider Of Death Valley."

BRING OR MAIL YOUR TITLE N-O-W TO THE CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT, AVALANCHE-JOURNAL. Titles accepted until 6 p. m., Monday, June 20th.

NOTICE OF BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE
In the District Court of the United States For the Northern District of Texas In The Matter of McCormack Company Inc., Bankrupt No. 1440 In Bankruptcy.
OFFICE OF REFEREE
Lubbock, Texas, June 11 1932
Notice is hereby given that McCormack Company, Inc., of the County of Lubbock and District aforesaid on the 18th day of June, 1932, file in the Clerk's office of said Court, at Lubbock, a petition setting up that he has been heretofore duly adjudged a bankrupt under the act of Congress approved July 1, 1898, that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the Court touching his bankruptcy and praying for a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate in bankruptcy save such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.
On considering the above mentioned petition, it is ordered that any creditor who has proved his claim and other parties in interest, if they desire to oppose the discharge prayed for in said petition, shall on or before the 18th day of July, 1932 file with the Referee for the Lubbock Division of said district, a notice in writing of their opposition to a discharge to the above entitled cause.
W. D. CURAND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

ASK JAPAN OF REVENUES

STIMSON POINTS OUT CONFISCATION OF CHINESE FUNDS

TOKYO, June 20. (AP)—The question of confiscation of Chinese customs revenues in Manchuria by Henry Pu-Yi's government has been called to the attention of Japanese Ambassador Debuchi at Washington by Secretary of State Stimson, it was learned from an official quarter here today.

Secretary Stimson, this source said, called the ambassador's attention to American consular reports from Manchuria describing efforts of the Pu-Yi government to establish a customs autonomy there and assume control of all Chinese customs offices, including that at Dairen, which is on Japanese leased territory.

Threat Is Seen

The British ambassador, Sir Francis Lindley, also visited the foreign office here and discussed the same situation. It was understood the powers fear the matter threatens the integrity of the Chinese maritime customs, by which a large portion of China's foreign indebtedness is secured.

The foreign office here takes the attitude that the situation does not justify the powers in reproaching Japan in any way. Japan disclaims all responsibility in the matter and all intention of interfering.

Japan, like America and Great Britain, is a creditor of China, a government spokesman said, and is interested that the service on its Chinese credits be secured on the customs. But she is confident, he said, that the Pu-Yi government, although claiming a customs autonomy, would continue somehow to pay Manchuria's share of the debt services.

The question reached a crisis because the Pu-Yi regime demanded that all customs collected at Dairen be remitted to Changchun instead of to Nanking, where they were paid in entirety up to May 31. The Changchun regime charged that the refusal of the Chinese government at Nanking to negotiate the question made the compromise which Changchun offered impossible.

LOCAL CRIME

of the customary celebrating.

A 32-year-old man arested Saturin the downtown section for drunkenness broke a half-gallon container of whisky when approached by police, they reported.

Eleven youths caught at City swimming pool early Saturday morning appeared in corporation court this morning on charges of trespassing. Judge J. T. Inmon fined each $5 and suspended payment 60 days pending good behavior.

MONKEY HELD

Sunday morning, police went to the Castleberry home, where Patrick was back in his cage, with orders from Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe not to come back without the monkey. Policemen George Eubank and H. B. Brown returned with Patrick, secure in City Attorney E. L. Klett's counsel that the only way to handle the case seemed to be to decide whether or not the pet was a nuisance.

Patrick was put in a cell in city jail, and the policemen believed he would remain a captive there. He looked over the place, however, found more freedom than the department had intended to extend him, and leaped off a top bunk while half a dozen bluecoats scattered.

This morning, sober of face, Patrick sat on an arm-like projection in a cell, his chain attached to a bar. Doctor and Mrs. Castleberry had instructed police what, and particularly what not, to feed Patrick.

The night desk sergeant's report of prisoners in jail included "Mr. Monkey."

Castleberry said the monkey was harmless, although he often disliked children as he had been teased by them. Police Chief Metcalfe said.

The Frye boy was bitten on the thigh, just above the knee. He will not undergo anti-rabies treatment unless the condition of the monkey indicates danger of hydrophobia, Mrs. Frye said.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS June 20 (AP) — The cotton market experienced a quiet but fairly steady opening. Liverpool cables were worse than due but first trades here showed losses of 1 to 3 points. As New York opened firmer and the stock market showed improvement at the start the market soon rallied. The improvement was helped by what were considered more favorable textile statistics for May than looked for. July traded up to 5.18, October to 5.38 and December to 5.53, or 3 to 5 points up from the opening figures and two points above Saturday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was steady and near the highs.

The textile statistics for May showed 79.3 per cent of production against 49.9 in April and 71 in May of last year.

The market ruled steady although somewhat quiet all morning, in sympathy with firmer stocks and because of rather too dry weather in the western belt. July traded up 5.24, or 22 points above the early lows, while October advanced to 5.43 and December to 5.57, or 6 to 8 points above the early lows.

Near mid-session prices eased 3 points from the highs on a little realizing but the undertone continued steady.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 20. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 1-2 higher on steady Liverpool cables and further showers in the eastern belt.

Although there was some July liquidation, trade interests seemed to want that month at prevailing differences and the market held fairly steady early. By the end of the first half hour, July had sold up from 5.12 to 5.18 and December from 5.53 to 5.57, with active months showing net advances of about 5 to 6 points.

While trading was not active prices showed continued steadiness later in the morning. Spot houses continued buyers of July against sales of later months and there was a scattering demand for the later deliveries which seemed to be promoted by steadiness in wheat and stock. At midday July was ruling around 5.20 and December 5.60, or about 5 points above Saturday's closing quotations.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, June 20 (AP) — Cotton futures opened steady: July 5.13; Oct. 5.35; Dec. 5.51; Jan. 5.59-offered; March 5.72-bid; May 5.87-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady: July 5.12; Oct. 5.39; Dec. 5.54; Jan. 5.63; March 5.77; May 5.93.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 20. (AP)—Decided upturns in grain values took place here early today, influenced by an unexpected rise in Liverpool wheat quotations and by unfavorable domestic harvest conditions. Heavy downpours in Kansas were reported. Opening 3-4 to 1 3-8 higher, Chicago wheat futures advanced further. Corn starated 3-8 to 7-8 up and continued to mount.

MERCURY STILL HIGH

The maximum temperature here Sunday was less than 100 degrees for the first time in four days. Sunday's high mark was 97 degrees, the state experiment substation reported. The mercury had climbed to 100, 100, and 101 Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, respectively.

CRIMINAL DOCKET FACED

Trial of a criminal docket was to be continued in 72d district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr this afternoon. A 72d district grand jury reconvened this morning.

E. D. Jenkins pleaded guilty of forgery, before Judge Pharr this morning, and received a three-year suspended sentence.

The canvasback, an American fresh-water duck, is regarded as superior to all others for food.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)— Financial markets began the new week in a quiet but hopeful manner.

Stocks, bonds and principal commodities generally worked higher although the share market eased off somewhat after midday, as wheat slid back a little from its best levels.

Rail issues led the slow upturn in shares and utilities joined the movement. Issues up a point or two included New York Central, New Haven, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Pacific Telephone, ublic Service of N. J., Consolidated Gas, U. S. Steel, Duont, Air Reduction, Case, Pullman, Eastman and United Fruit. American Telephone advanced a fraction.

NEW TAXES

$1,000 will be collected, it was estimated.

Leased wires will pay a charge of five per cent.

The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies will bill the tax on charge accounts at the end of the month, showing the tax for each item. On cash messages the money will be collected in advance. Charge accounts are for business houses.

Postal announced a tax of one cent for messages costing up to 20 cents, with one cent added for each 20 cents from 30 cents to $2.49. Cable messages and radiograms will have a 10-cent tax added.

Automobile accessories and parts have taxes ranging in rate from 2 to 15 per cent. Lubbock dealers do an estimated business of $250,000 in these lines and their tax will run from $5,000 on up per year.

Tires To Contribute

Tires and tubes will contribute a large portion of the total. It is estimated there are 200,000 tires per year sold in Lubbock. Based on an average weight of 20 pounds to the tire and 5 pounds to the tube, car owners will pay 50 cents more for tires and 20 cents for tubes. Uncle Sam will probably receive $20,000 annually from this source.

Radio dealers estimate 350 sets are sold annually in Lubbock. The average tax will be $4 per set, or $1,400 a year.

Electric refrigerator units disposed of in Lubbock will run around 250 each year. The 5 per cent tax is expected to add from $10 to $13 per unit to the cost, or $3,000 to $3,500 annually.

Beauty shops and barber shops, especially the former, have a tax on cosmetics to meet. From this item an additional $2,200 is to come Russell Morrison estimated.

Druggists state there are about 25 places in Lubbock, including drug stores, where cosmetics are sold. This item in drug stores forms a large portion of the business, approximately one third or more. It is believed the total will run $18,000 annually.

Automobile taxes likewise will contribute largely to the fund. In the lighter cars the tax, not including bumpers, tires and tubes, is estimated from $13.55 to $19.15 per car, manufacturer's price. Heavier cars will run $30 to $40 per car. With the cost of accessories included it is expected the cost will run from $25 to $50 per car and in the higher priced cars, $60 or more. There were nearly 500 passenger cars and 100 commercial cars sold in Lubbock last year. Dealers do not think the increase will apply to cars now in stock, but only to new cars received.

Utilities Taxed

The amount of taxes to be paid by utility companies was not definitely known, both H. L. Allen of the Texas Utilities company and City Manager W. H. Rodgers stated. The tax is 3 per cent.

The local theaters are meeting the tax for admissions of over 40 cents by reducing their rates to come within the non-taxed figures, it was stated by theater officials today.

Sporting goods, firearms and shells, cameras, matches, etc., are included in the taxable goods.

Soda fountain syrups have a small tax. Jewelry items also are included.

As far as Sidney Mason, deputy internal revenue collector is aware, no additional men will be employed to collect these taxes in this area.

Two Persons Killed When Car Overturns

EL PASO, June 20 (AP)—Robert Thompson, 24, and Madeline Smith, 20, were killed yesterday when the automobile in which they were returning from a dance overturned near El Paso. Arthur Fullan, jr., driving the car, suffered a skull fracture. Doctors said his recovery was doubtful. Bentley Ryan and Eleanor Wolfe were slightly injured.

Man 90 Years Old Goes Under Knife

M. Green, 1624 15th street, who will be 90 years old in September, is the oldest person to have undergone an operation at West Texas hospital and he is "doing nicely", according to reports from that institution. Mr. Green has been in the hospital since last Wednesday when the operation was performed and in a few more days it is thought that he will be able to receive company.

Two sons, P. O. and J. A. Green, returned to their homes in Dallas today after having been at Mr. Green's bedside.

Mrs. Green and one daughter, Mrs. H. D. Stanley, reside here. The Greens are pioneers of Lubbock county.

VOTERS ACT ON PROHIBITION

MINNESOTA PRIMARY WILL TAKE UP THE WET-DRY ISSUE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20. (AP)—Prohibition occupied a prominent position in the foreground of today's primary election as Minnesotans marked the longest ballot in the history of the state to reduce the record field of eighty-eight aspirants for congressional office to nine for each of three parties—Republican, Democrat and Farmer-Labor.

Because the state's reapportionment act was held invalid by the United States supreme court, nominees were being chosen at large, not by districts. The state is entitled to nine representatives.

Most For Repeal

More than sixty of the candidates advocated either repeal of prohibition or modification. Only one Democrat of twenty-one candidates was listed as favorable to the dry cause by the Minnesota Board of Strategy, an organization of dry groups. Five of thirty-five Farmer-Laborites and seven of 32 Republicans were catalogued as drys. In addition 12 Republicans were listed as being favorable to prohibition although committed to proposals for resubmission of the question.

Republicans also selected a nominee for governor from two candidates, Earle Brown and Franklin Ellsworth, both of Minneapolis. Democrats had an internal struggle to settle involving control of the state party organization.

"CYCLONE" DAVIS

As compared to political campaigns, "more lethargy" prevails in today's races, although a recent spirit has injected new vitality into current campaigns, the Cyclone said.

Why has some of the lethargy been dissipated? Because of conditions in which the common people find themselves, he said; because of "the collapse of all lines of industry; agriculture is in the worst fix it ever has been in," and agricultural prosperity is the basis of all prosperity.

As distressing as conditions are in Texas, the major status of agriculture in the state has helped to keep Texas from the extremity of conditions prevalent in many states, the Cyclone opined. Farmers usually can find enough to eat, if they have nothing else, he said.

Raps Hoover, Mellon

What did he think about Hoover?

"There's only one man in public life—no, he's exiled now—that I have more contempt for than Hoover, and that man is Mellon," said the old campaigner, irritation in his voice. Mellon, Davis asserted, went to England for the "express purpose" of cancelling Great Britain's debts to the United States.

Congress is assuming indebtedness at a rate of forty million dollars a day, the Cyclone declared, and "finally unloads on us."

"The world has built a financial pyramid, and has spread the debts until it got top heavy and tumbled," continued the colorful campaigner, and civilization is in danger of being crushed.

Enormous loans to foreign nations in the Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover administrations were made so Wall Street could get back its loans, Davis charged.

The Democratic party has an excellent chance to elect the next president, Davis said he believed. Roosevelt and McAdoo would be the best vote-getting team in his opinion. He likes John Garner but does not believe the Texan has a ghost of a show even if nominated. Davis said his widespread campaigning had taught him that northern and eastern states are so prejudiced against a southern presidential nominee that his chance of election is remote.

The candidate for congressman-at-large said he believed a return to standard coinage of both silver and gold necessary to the United States' welfare.

Equal coinage of silver and gold was a major plank in the platform of the National Farmers alliance, which Davis represented in a debate with Watt Hardin, attorney general of Kentucky, in which the name "Cyclone" was gained. The alliance also advocated a graduated income tax, an experimental rural postal delivery system, and election of United States senatrs by a direct vote of the people.

A prepared statement by Davis indicates he favors immediate completion of payment of adjusted service certificates.

Cambric derives its name from Cambrai, France where such goods were first made.

POLICE BLOCK HITLERITES

SEVERAL HUNDRED OF NAZIS ARRESTED IN WEEK-END FIGHTS

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 20—Adolph Hitler's national socialists, blossomed out again in bright new uniforms under authority of a decree from the new German cabinet, got the worst of it in several battles with state police in southern and western Germany over the week-end.

Several hundred of them were arrested, state police confiscated the long-forbidden uniforms and many were injured in the fights that took place.

Nazis Arrested

In Munich, Bavaria, where the state government forbade the wearing of the uniforms in spite of the Berlin cabnet's decree, 470 Nazis were arrested and their regalia confiscated when the police broke up what was to have been a huge demonstraton.

Thousands of the Hitler men their new uniforms hidden under coats, assembled on the country roads early yesterday morning and attempted to invade the city. Their aim was to reach Brown house, their headquarters, and to demonstrate in front of the residence of the Bavarian premier, Heinrich Held.

In the state diet elections in Hesse, however, the Hitlerites raised their 27 seats to 32 but failed by one seat to obtain enough strength to assure control of the diet, with their allies.

At Elberfeld 16 were injured in a clash between Nazis and communists.

NEW YORK VOTES

liquor traffic to be returned to the states in event of repeal.

In the melee over the presidency, the ancient two-thirds nomination rule of the Democrats is up again for its customary round of speculation. There seem to be well-founded reports that some high in the Roosevelt council would eliminate this rule in favor of a majority nomination if their candidate goes over the majority line and a deadlock ensues.

Near Majority

Today, Roosevelt had 563 pledged and claimed votes. Indiana's 30 will be picked late in the day or tomorrow. A majority of the convention is 578 and two-thirds is 770.

The whirl of preconvention activity has brought decisions on many routine affairs. For Roosevelt, it was announced that Arthur F. Mullen, Nebraska's hard fisted national committeeman, would be the floor manager and John Mack of New York the nominating speaker. Mack placed Roosevelt in nomination twenty-two years ago for his first public office—state senator.

For Governor Ritchie of Maryland, it was announced by his campaign manager, Robert B. Ennis, of Baltimore, that Senator Tydings of Maryland would place the governor in nomination and that Richard F. Cleveland, of Baltimore, son of the former president, would make a seconding speech.

William G. McAdoo, a leader of the advocates of Speaker Garner, is due here tomorrow or Wednesday to join in an active campaign. Senator Tom Connally of Texas already has been named as the man to nominate the speaker.

Successful Revival Reported At Post

Rev. J. F. Nix, pastor of the First Baptist church at Clovis, N. M., visited in Lubbock briefly today en route to his home from Post where he has been holding a revival meeting. He reported a successful revival, thirty-five additions being received in the church.

A Baptismal service at Two Draw lake Sunday climaxed the revival. Twenty-five people were baptized.

Rev. Fred Swank of Abilene led the singing at the meeting.

Rev. Nix has been pastor at Clovis for the last ten years. During that time he has married more than 1,000 couples, he reported today. The majority of them have been in the past two years, he said.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

Aspirants for offices of 72d district attorney and judge are scheduled to speak tonight at Mount Blanco. Lubbock county and 72d district candidates are to appear Tuesday night at Grovesville.

"B. C." Relieves Your Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C.," 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. PRO QUESTION IS INJECTED

ALL CANDIDATES ARE BEING ASKED TO GIVE STAND

BY R. W. BARRY.
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 20. (AP)—The prohibition questionnaire stage of the Texas state political campaign has been reached. Candidates for state, district and county offices—from governor to public weigher—are being asked by the prohibition forces how they stand about current clamor for repeal or modification of the Eighteenth amendment.

The Texas Woman's Christian Temperance union, through its president, Mrs. Claude De Van Watts of Austin, has issued what it called a "declaration of war," appealing to the white ribbon forces to "vote dry."

Oratory Expected

Presence in the Texas Democratic primary of next July 23 of the issue whether congress should be asked to resubmit the Eighteenth amendment to conventions of the various states for an expression on retention is expected to precipitate a flow of oratory unsurpassed since the old "saloon days."

The W. C. T. U. was not favorably impressed by the state Democratic executive committee's action in bringing the proposal of resubmission into the light. Mrs. Watts accused the proponents of that move with "high-handed methods."

The situation seems to be a peculiar one, because some of the state's most ardent advocates of prohibition in other days, if not in present times, looked with favor on the idea of letting the Democrats say whether they prefer a referendum under congress' mandate.

Hobby Favors Vote

Former Governor William P. Hobby of Houston, chief executive when Texas achieved her statutory prohibition in 1918, quietly campaigned for the Democratic primary expression on the subject. He is an ardent advocate of reelection of Governor R. S. Sterling.

Carl Estes of Tyler, another Sterling partisan interested probably above everything else—politically—in getting him returned to the executive office for a second term, sponsored the move before the committee to obtain an expression on the matter of resubmission in the July primary.

He reaffirmed his allegiance to the prohibition cause and said when congress did resubmit the proposition, if it should vote for a referendum, he would advocate retention of the amendment, but he declared Texas Democrats were entitled to say whether the matter should be referred again to the states.

Governor Sterling has not publicly said how he felt about mixing the resubmission matter in the party primary. He did say that the proposal was not an affair of his. He stated that he was interested exclusively in furthering his own campaign for reelection to the exclusion of everything else. He said he expected to receive votes from persons on both sides of the Eighteenth amendment agitation.

Ferguson Indifferent

Former Governor James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, also an ex-governor, who is campaigning in behalf of his wife's current candidacy for the chief executiveship, to all appearances is indifferent about the part prohibition might play in the primary.

Likewise other candidates for the governorship, and aspirants to other state offices have exhibited little or no concern.

Frank Putnam of Houston, candidate for governor, is an advocate of outright repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. He ran on that platform two years ago.

AMHERST, June 20.—(Special)—F. A. Loyd, president of the Amherst school board, resigned the office at a regular meeting of the board.

Detective Arrested When Veteran Dies

MARION, N. C., June 20. (AP)—Louis Chiapetta, Houston, Tex., bonus marcher who was shot in the abdomen as he slept in a box car here Friday en route home from Washington, died early today.

W. B. Banks, southern railway detective who was named by Chiapetta's comrades as the man who shot the veteran, was arrested and today was placed under $10,000 bond. He refused to make a statement.

IS LOWEST BIDDER

CROSBYTON, June 20. (Special) Huddleston and Work, local contractors were lowest bidders on a job in Childress county at bidding before the state highway commission. The job is 12 miles long. The concern has three other state jobs now going including one in Cochran and one in Lubbock county.

A Great Guy

NEW YORK—Trooper, the Statue of Liberty dog, has been laid at rest with a military funeral in the shadow of the uplifted torch on Bedloe's Island. For years he helped the soldiers show off the statue to visitors. He was only a mongrel, but, says Sergt. James P. Boyce, "he was a great guy."

Flying Grandma

TORONTO—Mrs. Foster H. Bain, the original "flying grandmother," believes more grandmas ought to take up flying. She said so when she stopped here en route by air from Newark, N. J., to a university class reunion at Madison, Wis. "Older women have leisure," she said, "and they usually have no dependents."

Favors France

CHICAGO—There's a man on Long Island who thinks Joseph I. France should lead a third party to work for the welfare "of all the people." Soon after the former Maryland senator was ejected from the platform of the G. O. P. convention, he received the new party suggestion in a wire signed "Richard Knaust, Copeague."

Clubs A La U. S.

STOCKHOLM—Night clubs a la United States have Swedish solons worried. They stay open till dawn, with jazz ruling supreme. Now the riksdag is considering a bill to make curfew ring at 1 a. m.

INSTALLS EQUIPMENT

LITTLEFIELD, June 20. (Special)—J. T. Bellomy, owner of a feed mill, has installed new machinery and is now operating the plant. He recently built some buildings on his lots near the postoffice and is occupying them with his business.

AMHERST, June 20. (Special) Troop 36 of boy scouts here has been reorganized, Lynn Smith acting scoutmaster, Sid Morris, Slate and D. L. Britt are the troop committeemen.
