Red Offer To Join Axis In '40 Revealed

Hitler Refused To Pay Price Asked By Joe Stalin

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—The United States uncorked a major propaganda blow against Russia today by officially revealing a Soviet offer in 1940 to join the German-Italian-Japanese Axis at a price Adolf Hitler refused to pay.

Already the government's "Voice of America" shortwave radio, is pouring into Russia and the rest of Europe the factual story told in a fat volume of long-secret German foreign office records suddenly published by the State department.

Details Are Disclosed

The book's 362 pages disclose the minutest details of the two-year Moscow-Berlin honeymoon which began when the men who now rule Russia negotiated a non-aggression pact with Hitler and which ended with Hitler's treacherous attack on Russia June 22, 1941.

It gives the deals which led to the 1939 friendship treaty as well as the texts of the then top secret additions under which Germany and Russia carved Poland and northeastern Europe into spheres of influence or outright control.

And it tells how Premier Stalin demanded, without even getting an answer, a free hand in Finland, a military base near the Dardenelles and a dominant voice in the oil-rich Middle East in return for a four-power Axis.

Captured By Americans

The State department volume was published last night after months or discussion among top officials here as to what disposition should be made of the documents which were captured by American forces when Berlin fell and which Russia fought successfully to exclude from the Nuernberg war crimes trial.

Among informed authorities there is no doubt that the personal decision of Secretary of State Marshall for publication now was made in the light of the intensified propaganda campaign which Russia has been waging against the United States.

This country's propaganda intent appears plainly to be to counter Russian charges of American "imperialism" and "domination" abroad with evidence to show the kind of game Russia was playing.

The high point of Russo-Ger-

Ex-Governors Are In Runoff

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22 (AP) — Two former governors—Earl K. Long, brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, and Sam H. Jones, who defeated Long for the office in 1940—will fight it out for the governorship in Louisiana's second Democratic primary February 24.

The two arch political foes topped a field of four in Tuesday's first primary on basis of returns from most of the state's precincts.

Complete, unofficial returns from 1297 of 1878 boxes gave Long 164,976 votes, and Jones 102,383. Appeals Judge Robert F. Kennon was third with 82,134 and Rep. James H. Morrison (D-La) last with 94,564.

Will Not Be Altered

Observers said retruns from unreported precincts, would not alter the positions of the candidates.

In one-party Louisiana, victory in a second primary amounts to election.

That the runoff will be a bitter, no-holds-barred contest was indicated in the windup of Jones' and Long's first primary campaigns.

Rep. James Domengeaux (D-La), a Jones supporter, accused Long last week of evading income taxes on $250,000 "illegal income." Long promptly filed suit for $1,000,000 against Jones, Domengeaux, and two New Orleans newspaper publishers, charging they had conspired to defame him.

45-Hour Work Week Urged

"Female Sex Retreating Toward Maternal Image Of Past"

Dress Designer Says Women Favor New Look To Hide Their Failure As Wives And Mothers

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22—A new angle on the New Look came today from designer Ilyana. She says women dress that way to hide their failure as wives and mothers.

Petticoats, ruffles, camisoles, corsets, padded hips, full bosoms and flannel nighties, she says, are nothing but psychological symbols of modern women's admission of failure as a female.

Addressing a meeting of the Beverly Hills chapter of War Wives, the Budapest-born Ilyana declared:

"The female sex is universally retreating toward a great, swollen maternal image of the past. Clothes are sex symbols. Our mothers and grandmothers seem to hold the key to successful marriage and motherhood far better than we, so like little girls we are dressing up in their clothes and pretending to be our own maternal forbears."

Mrs. Harold Dreyfus in private life, happily married and with an 11-months-old daughter, Ilyana isn't against the New Look. In fact, she claims, she started designing feminine apparel in the old mode two years before Christian Dior clicked with his hippy, elongated styles. She says her ideas were too radical for New York, so she headed west. As have hundreds of others, she found no difficulty selling bizarre Hollywood.

But she has a defense for her sex, too:

"In all fairness to women, the atomic bomb has fastened upon the female subconscious far more terrifyingly than upon the male, for it is the greatest threat known to child-bearing and the survival of the human race. Most modern women do not feel that they have the survival power shown by women of the past in the face of disas-

Overtime Pay Proposed For Extra 5 Hours

AFL Chief Offers Idea For Beating Inflation Threat

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—AFL President William Green proposed today management and labor voluntarily set up a 45-hour work week on an overtime pay basis as a means of producing more goods and helping to beat inflation.

The 74-year-old labor leader told the Senate banking committee that labor would consider the extra work hours if Congress, in turn, would approve an effective means for halting the price spiral.

Extra Hour Daily

This would include most of the 10-point anti-inflation program recommended to Congress by President Truman, except standby authority to control wages, Green said in a prepared statement.

Green suggested an extra hour of work a day. He told a reporter that this would mean an increase from the present 40 hour work week in most industries to 45 hours, with labor receiving time and one half pay for the extra five hours.

"I offer this suggestion as a practical recommendation of the ways in which employers and workers could jointly make a contribution to the anti-inflation fight," Green said in his statement.

He estimated that 16,000,000 workers now employed in manufacturing would provide an additional 8,000,000 "manhours of production per day" under his proposal.

Session Set Tonight

Tonight the committee will hold an overtime session in an effort to speed a decision on legislation designed to check inflation. Representatives of the grain industry are listed as witnesses.

President Truman has asked for hold-in-reserve power to reimpose wage-price controls and rationing on a selective basis if he considers such a step necessary.

The AFL traditionally has opposed peacetime federal controls but Green said in a New Year's statement:

Icy Wave Roars In

No Relief For East In Sight

(By The United Press)

The U. S. weather bureau warned today that the cold wave sweeping eastward across the country was being "reinforced" by intensely cold air from Canada and would develop into the most prolonged spell of cold weather this winter.

The prediction came as city and state officials throughout the midwest were making all-out efforts to combat a critical shortage of fuel oil that had forced the closing of many public buildings and caused families to double up with friends and relatives.

More And More Cold

"All we can see ahead of us is extremely cold weather for as far as we can forecast," an expert at the Chicago bureau said.

He said that the frigid weather was being formed in the Canadian Yukon from which it rolled southwards into the United States.

"Some parts of central Canada are down to 50 below zero today and the cold air already has pushed the mercury down to 30 below in some parts of the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys," he said.

"The leading edge of the cold wave crossed the Ohio river valley early this morning and should arrive at the Atlantic coast either tonight or tomorrow.

May Endanger Crops

"It will cover most of the southeastern part of the nation and may even push far enough into Florida to endanger the citrus fruit crop again."

Light snow was forecast for scattered sections of the middle west and east today but no serious storms were expected to de-

BLUNT CHALLENGE SENT STASSEN

Proof Of Charges Sought By Pauley

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Harold E. Stassen was confronted today with a blunt challenge to prove his speculation charges against Edwin W. Pauley—or retract them—when the two meet in a showdown session before Senate investigators tomorrow.

Stassen's only comment on Pauley's challenge was a terse statement that "I will be fully prepared when I go before the committee."

Says Reputation Damaged

The Republican presidential hopeful was accused by Pauley last night of doing "irreparable" harm to his (Pauley's) reputation through "false statements" about his commodity transactions.

Pauley, who is soon to step out as special assistant to the Secretary of Army, demanded that the Senate appropriations subcommittee on speculation force Stassen to prove his allegations that:

1. Pauley moved in and out of the market in correct sequence with the pattern of government food purchases.

2. He received and profited from "inside" information on government buying plans.

3. He got advance information on these plans from federal officials.

Hurls Latest Blast

The wealthy west coast oilman, who has admitted making almost $1,000,000 speculating in commodities, hurled his latest blast against Stassen in a letter to Sen. Homer Ferguson, (R., Mich.) chairman of the speculation subcommittee.

Pleading for a chance to "clear my name," Pauley told the senator:

"Since Mr. Stassen has already stated under oath that he has never named a name or made a charge until he was ready to prove it in court . . . it may, I believe, be readily assumed that he will experience no undue difficulty or delay in providing the data requested."

"As the accused," said Pauley, "I have the right to be confronted with the evidence which allegedly supports the charge."

Stassen was advised of Pauley's demands last night in Chattanooga, Tenn., and authorized a spokesman to issue the I-will-be-prepared statement.

Vandals Busy Again In City

Vandals who hurled rocks through at least three automobile windshields or window glasses Wednesday night were being sought this morning by police—and car owners.

Motorists who had made such complaints were Claude Key of 2113 Thirtieth, Mrs. Brooks Hamilton of 2505 Twenty-third, and Charles Kellyeof 2214 Eighteenth.

Kelly said his windshield was broken, the others informed investivators windows of their cars had been smashed.

While on the subject of rocks, one was flung completely through the wall of a residence at 2603 North First in the night, Wade Sumrow reported to police.

Plan Special Efforts

Police, referring back to several reports of such vandalism last July when large pieces of concrete were used to smash windshields here, were planning special efforts to protect motorists and to determine identity of those responsible.

In each instance, cars figuring in the latest reports were parked on the street.

Vandals last summer — later a repeat performance was staged in Amarillo — rode along Lubbock streets and hurled concrete frag-

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22. — Jacqueline Horner, 15-year-old Hollywood prodigy and actress who ran away from her piano practice, was held as a ward of the juvenile court today while authorities checked back over the events of her eight-day stolen holiday.

The pert, attractive youngster, former star of the Broadway production "Swan Song," fought back tears when she told officers, "I'll run away again when they return me home." But at other times she laughed as she described her escape from long hours of piano practice and stern parental discipline.

She said she financed her trip by bus from Los Angeles with $32

Ruthless Drive By Red Russia Said To Blame

Statesman Claims Communists Seek Full Domination

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 22—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Soviet Russia is making a ruthless drive to dominate Europe and that he believed continuance of this policy by any one power will lead to another war.

"If the policy is pursued of trying to dominate Europe by any one power, by whatever means, direct or indirect," Bevin said, "we are driven to the conclusion that it will inevitably lead again to another war."

Time To Consolidate

The foreign secretary proclaimed Britain's right to organize "kindred souls" of western Europe, saying:

"I believe the time is ripe for the consolidation of western Europe."

Bevin said Russia's reaction to the Marshall plan has unmasked her desire to control western as well as eastern Europe.

"The Marshall program has brought to light vividly what must have been under the surface all along," he asserted.

Cut Off From World

Bevin said nations in the Russian sphere have been cut off from the world and turned "into an exclusive, self-contained bloc under the control of Moscow and the common Communist party."

He hinted at possibly a closer international organization of western European states in these words:

"We are entitled to organize kindred souls in the east."

Bevin recalled the scene when the Paris conference of three foreign ministers on the Marshall plan broke up in anger last July and said:

Threat By Molotov

"Mr. Molotov threatened both ourselves and France that we would have to look out for squalls if we went on with the European recovery program. My answer was that Great Britain had been accustomed to threats, that we would have them and that they would not move us from doing what we believe to be right."

The foreign secretary said the cominform was organized by Russia and her satellites as a result of that disagreement.

"One of the first objects of Soviet and Communist policy is to prevent the European recovery program from succeeding," he said, "but I do not see why I should be a party to keeping Europe in chaos and distress."

This provoked a scene in the House involving the two Communist members, Willie Gallacher and Philip Piratin.

"Give us the facts," Piratin

Three Aboard Missing C-47

DENVER, Jan. 22. (U.P.)—Air and ground mountain disaster groups searched today for a C-47 two-engined transport plane, with three men aboard, believed down somewhere in the rugged, snow-covered Rocky mountains west of Denver.

The airplane, en route from Denver to Grand Junction, Colo., was last heard from by the Denver and Cheyenne, Wyo., airports at 4.22 p. m. yesterday, 20 minutes after taking off. At that time the pilot, identified by the Civil Air patrol as Fred Snavely of Kansas City, Mo., said the plane had just hit a "terrific downdraft."

The two other passengers in the plane were identified as Warren Lungstrom, also of Kansas City, and Rolff Brown, Denver. Snavely and Lungstrom were Civil Aeronautics administration men on a business trip.

CAA officals at Stapleton field, Denver, said their computations located the plane then somewhere near Barthoad pass. The pass, more than 11,000 feet high, is about 60 miles west of Denver. Over it runs all-weather highway 40. Surrounding peaks tower more than 13,000 feet.

The search was conducted from

Jacobs, whose career as a promoter in the past 25 years was climaxed yesterday when Louis became the champion to hold his title the longest in history, said in an interview that "Joe and I are going to bow out together."

Louis surpassed the 10 year, 212 days of championship held by John L. Sullivan yesterday.

Moderate Cold Wave Headed For Texas

(By The United Press)

A moderate cold wave was headed for Texas today to replace the comparatively mild temperatures which prevailed over most of the state yesterday and early today.

The U. S. Weather bureau said, however, that the new cold front did not appear to be as severe as the one which brought the season's worst weather over the past week end.

Temperatures in the middle 20's were forecast for tonight in the Panhandle.

Derailment Delays T-P Train Traffic

DEMOS WILL DO SOME CHOPPING

GOP To Swing Axe At Truman Budget

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Congressional Republicans moved in with axes today against President Truman's budget, while House Democrats laid plans to do some chopping of their own on the GOP tax reduction bill.

The budget-cutting task was assigned to the 102-man Senate-House committee set up two years ago to clamp a ceiling on federal expenditures.

Doughton Has Job

The tax-pruning job was in the hands of Rep. Doughton (D-NC), top minority member of the House ways and means committee which is backing the GOP measure to cut between $5,600,000,000 and $6,500,000,000 from the national tax bill.

Doughton told reporters he has drafted a plan to trim taxes only $4,000,000,000 — but by following the general lines of the Republican legislation rather than the substitute urged by President Truman.

The President has suggested a $40 a person "cost of living" tax cut to be made up by an excess profits levy on corporations.

However, both Doughton and ways and means Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) propose an increase of $100 in the present $500 personal exemption, thereby striking an estimated 6,000,000 low income persons from the tax rolls.

Both, too, call for general application of the community property principle which allows husbands and wives to split family income for tax reporting. They differ only in percentage cuts.

Colin F. Stam, head of the joint congressional committee on taxation, told Knutson's ways and means group yesterday that it now looks as though personal incomes may reach $209,000,000,000 this year and that government revenues during the next two years may be $4,000,000,000 more than Mr. Truman figured.

He said this country should be prepared for any national emergency.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22. (U.P.)—Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes today signed a final divorce decree for Actress Laraine Day, clearing the way for her to remarry Brooklyn baseball manager Leo (Lippy) Durocher.

Truman Jokes About Politics

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—President Truman said today he is sure there will be an announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in advance of the party's convention.

The President, in a gay mood, refused at his weekly news conference to let correspondents pin him down on the man he has in mind.

Third-Party Mentioned

In any event, he said there will be one before the Democratic national convention, which opens in Philadelphia July 12.

Someone suggested that he had used the word "one." Mr. Truman replied that everybody in the United States has a right to be a candidate in either party.

"Or a third party?" asked a reporter.

Or a third party ticket, the President said.

Laughs At Question

He laughted loudly but said he had no comment when he was asked whether Henry A. Wallace might follow the example of A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and line up with the Democrats.

Whitney endorsed the President Tuesday after his first White House call since he threatened to work for Mr. Truman's defeat after the railroad strike in 1946.

California Negro Does Big Business In City With Spiritual Advice To Patients

A Los Angeles negro, "W. L. Gamble, B. T., D. D., Spiritual Advisor," was doing a "land office business" here until medical men dealt themselves into the game today by swearing out a county court complaint charging the visitor with practice of medicine without license.

Bond of $600 was set by County Judge Walter Davies after Gamble, 37, had pleaded innocent of the charge, which was sworn to by a negro physician, J. A. Chatman.

The charge recited that he treated Sarah Jones, a negro woman. The woman told officials he recommended a special kind of comb by which, she said she was informed, she could "comb out my high blood pressure."

County Attorney John Steele said some sort of pills also were held by authorities in connection with the case, and said Gamble also is believed to have prescribed a special kind of belt for ellevviation of various pains and aches.

His professional card, Steele said, reads:

"Office hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Why not be happy? See Dr. W. L. Gamble, B. T., D. D., Spiritual Advisor. Will help you solve your problems. Will cure you of things you were not born with. Will make you happy and successful and help you out of trouble. Sunday by Appointment. All information given strictly confidential. Phone AD 60130, Los Angeles, Calif. 1317 East 41st Street."

The visitor had put up here about a week, at a negro hotel, officials said. Business was rushing, they learned.

$25 Dress Just As Fashionable As $100 Garment, Stylists Say

BY BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—An eight-piece trousseau that cost just under $160 proved the point yesterday for popular priced dress manufacturers of the New York Dress institute.

The dress that sells for $25—and 92 per cent of all American-made dresses do, the institute said—can be just as up-to-the-minute fashionable as the one that sells for more than $100.

Silk prints and shantungs, woolen bolero suits with swinging skirts and cottons with handsome dressmaker detail appeared the biggest values for the money in the "dollars and sense" showing which included more than 200 costumes.

Costumes Average $20

The trousseau included a wool "going away" suit, a sheer navy afternoon dress, a flaring black skirt and striped shirtwaist, a gingham dress ready for a resort honeymoon and breakfast in the bungalow later, a black taffetta cocktail dress, a taffeta evening dress, a sheer negligee and a truly beach honeymoon sun dress complete with matching stole. The costumes cost an average of $20 each. And the white satin that preceeded the honeymoon was also less than $25—long sleeves, full gathered skirt and all.

Highlights Of Show

Some of the highlights of the two-hour show:

A black faille suit with full skirt, snugly buttoned bolero, black and white polka-dot cummerbund and a bustle bow behind.

A ginger colored shantung dress with self buttons, a tiny high collar, elbow sleeves and a full swinging skirt.

Printed silk with short sleeves, a bow under the chin and a full skirt of unpressed pleats.

Bright navy wool suit with a double-breasted waist - length jacket and flared skirt.

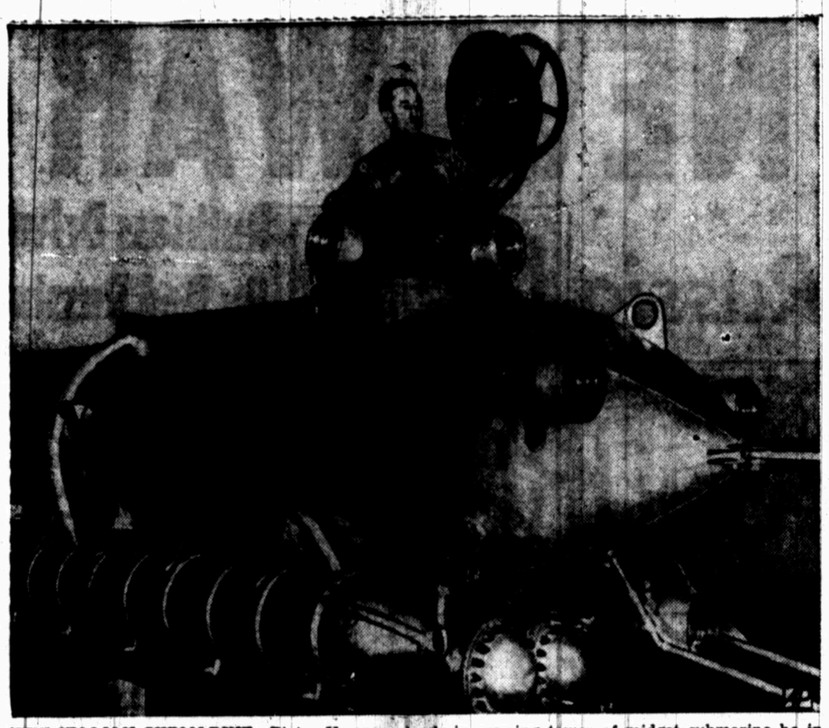

A beach to cocktails dress of natural colored cotton printed like a blue china plate, with a narrow strapped bare shoulder top and a fitted bolero to dress it up.

A brown butcher linen skirt flaring below an aqua jacket made to look like at least $50 with all over white braid applique.

The manufacturers had their best feet forward, but the differences between superb value and just good inexpensive dresses pointed to a few tips for buyers. Generally speaking the simpler the lines, the more nearly a dress looks like its expensive neighbor. The dress with little or no trimming in most instances has put that money into better style.

It is only for the construction of the fronts of houses that permission has to be obtained in Portugal.

War Dead Arrive In New York City Port

Two South Plains soldiers, Sgt. Elbert D. Scott of Lubbock and Sgt. William R. Overman of Brownfield, were among 99 Texas war dead aboard the U. S. Army transport "Corporal Eric G. Gibson" when it docked at New York Wednesday with the remains of 1,753 American servicemen, most of them killed during the Normandy beachhead, according to a list released by the Army.

Sgt. Scott, a member of the U. S. Air Force, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Scott, 2802 Ruby street, Lubbock. Next-of-kin of Sgt. Overman was listed as John H. Overman, route 1, Brownfield.

The bodies of both South Plains soldiers were returned from the United States Military cemetery at LaCambe, France, near historic Omaha Beach where so many American servicemen died in the early days of the invasion of the continent. The two local men will be sent from New York to the regional distribution center at Fort Worth, the Army announced, and a period of from one to four weeks will elapse before the bodies reach their home-towns for final interment.

Next-of-kin will be notified by the Army at a later date that the bodies are being brought to their final resting place under soldier escort, the Army said.

The war dead aboard the "Corporal Eric G. Gibson" was the third group to be returned to the United States from Europe since the initiation of the War Dead return program last October. The first funeral ship to return war dead from Europe was the "Joseph V. Connoly" which brought back about 6,200 remains in mid-October of 1947. The "Robert F. Burns" returned about 4,200 war dead from Europe in November of 1947.

Voters, Candidates Must Sign A Pledge

Georgia Democratic Committeemen Adopt Ruling Supporting Racial Segregation

(By The United Press)

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., Jan. 22—The Democratic Executive committee of Johnson county disclosed here today that voters and candidates in a coming primary election must sign pledges stating that they favor the white primary and racial segregation and oppose Communism and the FEPC.

Committee Chairman W. C. Brinson said the following pledge will be presented to prospective voters and candidates.

FEPC Opposed

1. I favor the county-unit system now existing in the state of Georgia.
2. I favor the white primary.
3. I favor preservation of segregation for the races as now exists in Georgia.
4. I oppose Communism.
5. I oppose any organization that seeks to destroy the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Georgia.
6. I oppose enactment into law the rules and regulations as promulgated by the Federal Employment Practice Committee.
7. I will support the nominees of this primary in the general election.

Voters must sign the pledge before they will be allowed to cast a ballot, Brinson said, and candidates must sign before they can qualify to run.

In past years Georgia Democratic Executive committees have required only a pledge to support nominees as a requirement for primary voting.

Palestine Partition Timetable Complicated By British Stand

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 22. (AP)—Britain's refusal to give the Jews a beach-head in Palestine by February 1 for "substantial immigration" disrupted today the timetable laid down by the United Nations assembly for the partition of the Holy Land.

Confronted with the British intention to retain "undivided control over the whole of Palestine" until they surrender their mandate, the five-member Palestine Partition commission turned to drafting a report to the Security council recording the first failure in the assembly partition scheme.

India Problem Arises

A new complication appeared, meanwhile, in the Indian-Pakistan dispute. Pakistan submitted a letter to the Security council saying that her conflict with India had reached a "very acute crisis" and that Pakistan might have to take "military action" if the Security council does not act quickly.

Secret negotiations between the disputing countries and Fernand Van Langenhove, of Belgium, council president, were reported to have broken down yesterday.

British Stand Explained

Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Britain, stated his government's position on Palestine at a secret meeting with the Palestine commission yesterday. He stressed that Britain is willing to cooperate with the U. N. but that Britain felt an uncontrolled influx of immigrants into Palestine beginning Feb. 1 would jeopardize an already delicate situation.

The The assembly, in its partition plan approved Nov. 29, asked Britain to use her "best endeavors" to evacuate, at least by Feb. 1, a seaport and hinterland adequate for "substantial immigration" into the proposed Jewish country.

Nickel Cup Of Java Is Declared Doomed

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 22 (U.P.)

A nickel cup of coffee costs cafe owners six and one-half cents, says George L. Wensel of Austin, Tex., a Texas restaurant consultant.

Wensel told a group of Topeka cafe proprietors yesterday that the nickel cup of coffee must go if cafe owners want to break even.

He declared that price hikes also are necessary for pie, the 50-cent luncheon plate and chicken fried steak. He recommended holding the price line on other food items.

Wholesale Prices Of Citrus Fruit Rise

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Florida orange and grapefruit prices rose as much as $1 a box today in the wholesale market here in anticipation of a possible shortage during the proposed seven-day embargo on citrus fruit shipments from that state.

The Florida Citrus commission Monday announced that all shipments of fresh citrus would be banned for seven days beginning at midnight Thursday, to keep frost damaged fruit from reaching northern markets.

Wholesale prices advanced slightly following the commission's announcement. Today's sharper price jump was attributed by a spokesman for a retail grocery chain to reports of rain in Florida which could cut down shipments immediately preceding the embargo.

Most market observers agreed that the embargo should make the citrus prices tend upward, but said there was little likelihood it would result in a real shortage. Today's prices are said to be around $6 a box for Indian River oranges and $4.75 for Interior fruit.

The New York Department of Markets said the embargo should not cause a serious shortage because "the average retail store is loaded with citrus fruits and if there were none to be bought at wholesale for a week it wouldn't have a serious effect."

House Passes Claims Bills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill for the payment of $5,000 to Mrs. Mae H. Fitzgerald of Mineral Wells, Tex., in settlement of a claim growing out of an accident which involved an army truck.

The measure says the accident occurred Nov. 4, 1944, near Davis, Okla., when the army vehicle turned around in the middle of a highway and blocked the road in such a position that no lights were showing to the oncoming traffic. Mrs. Fitzgerald's car hit the truck and she was injured.

Another Claim Filed

Payment of $2,032 to Hardy H. Bryant of Beaumont, Tex., in settlement of a claim for delivery of mail is provided in another bill passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Hardy said in his claim that he found he had to make more trips daily than was represented to him when he contracted for the job.

The House also passed a bill granting lawful admission into this country of Edgar Edwards, a native of Canada, who now lives in Dallas, and is employed as an engineer by an automatic sprinkler company.

Arab Villagers Pay For Riot Damages

JERUSALEM, Jan. 22. (AP)—The little Arab village of Salameh gave the British army £1,000 ($4,000) last week because Arabs burned an army truck and made the driver and a companion walk to nearby Jaffa in their underwear, the British announced today. The army gave the money back for use in Salameh's schools.

Thoughtful Mission Miss Will Get Free Trip To Mississippi

MISSION, Jan. 22. (U.P.)—The twinkling brown eyes of nine-year-old Ophelia Perz were gleaming today.

Ophelia is getting ready to start an Alice In Wonderland adventure.

She Gets Invitation

Two weeks ago she wrote the Greenville, Miss., Chamber of Commerce for information for her fifth grade geography class.

In concluding her letter, she wrote: "By the way, we have a citrus fiesta here, why don't you come and visit me then?"

The Greenville chamber officials were stumped. They politely explained they wouldn't be able to come to Mission.

"But we'd like for you to visit us," they added, "and we're making the arrangements."

Reception Planned

Arrangements were being completed today for Ophelia to be flown to Greenville. She and her aunt, Mrs. Jacobo Garza, will be guests of the city for a week.

Governor Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi promised to entertain the dark-haired girl and Greenville is preparing a big reception.

All details have not been ironed out, but the Mission Chamber of Commerce promised Ophelia she would board a plane for the 1,000-mile adventure trip one day this week.

"Oh," Ophelia sighed. "I'll have so much to tell my geography class."

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employes, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employes by an arbitration board early in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employes, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7 per cent of all railroad switchmen, the other 93 per cent being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employes in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employes, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employes, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employes.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employes than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employes represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (prewar) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Ward-warmed homes are homes of comfort

WARD FLOOR FURNACE

CONVENIENT... At the beginning of the heating season the center section of the WARD FLOOR FURNACE register is lifted out and the pilot is lighted. This is practically the only attention the furnace requires. When warmth is desired, a turn of the key starts the furnace in operation.

HEALTHFUL... WARD FURNACES are vented. Products of combustion are carried outside. Normal humidity is preserved. There can be no unhealthful dampness in the athosphere... no sweating walls, no foggy windows. No smelly closeness that brings on a dull, drowsy feeling.

SAFE... The burner is in a hermetically sealed combustion chamber. There are no exposed flames. Room air never contacts the flame. Oxygen for combustion is drawn from outside, not from the rooms. The atmosphere is kept fresh and clean.

CLEAN... There is no dirt or muss about a WARD FLOOR FURNACE. No trips to the basement... no messy fuel to handle, no ashes to carry. No smoke, dirt or soot can get into the curtains, drapes, wallpaper and furnishings. Ward heat is clean heat.

ECONOMICAL... A WARD FLOOR FURNACE is kind to the pocketbook. It uses only enough gas to preserve the warmth level as desired. WARD'S principle of circulation draws the room air through the furnace 3 to 6 times an hour. No long pipe runs to cause heat losses, because the furnace hangs beneath the floor and pours its pleasant warmth directly into the room.

COMFORTABLE... A WARD FLOOR FURNACE spreads the warmth from floor to ceiling, and into all four corners. No hot heads and cold feet... no chilly corners or frigid floors ... and no "south pole spots"... in a WARD WARMED home.

GUARANTEED... Ten Year Guarantee: The combustion chamber of every Ward Floor Furnace is guaranteed for a period of ten years against burning out or failure of any kind under proper use and care.

Attorney Is Club Speaker

Legislation begins at home, according to E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, who addressed a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday noon. A nation whose government is not in the hands of the people is not to be trusted, he said.

After briefly sketching the histories of the times peoples of France and England took control of their governments, the young attorney reminded that the Declaration of Independence and Constitution of the United States set forth the rights of the individual. When a people do not exercise these given rights, they lose control of the government and its policies lie in the hands of dictators, he pointed out.

Legislation begins at home, but it should begin with a thorough analysis of the subject to be covered, the speaker suggested. When one has a matter of legislation to be brought up, he should first get advice from public officials or private attorneys who will help him, through sound technical advice, to realize what its effects and ultimate end may be.

Miss Leona Gelin, program chairman, presided and introduced the speaker. The program was under direction of the legislative committee with Mrs. Mabel Chapman, chairman, Mrs. Gertrude Hubbard, Miss Helen Carr and Miss Margaret West.

Guests were Mesdames James O. Smith, Austin, Maurine Bachman and H. A. Anderson.

Dr. Mary Leone McNeff, director, announced a rehearsal of the choral club for Tuesday night at South Plains Music store.

Fifty-nine were in attendance.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Man Finds His Wife Changed During War Years From Good Companion Into Fearful Recluse

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have been marired 15 years. My wife is 35 and I am 40. She claims she loves me dearly and I've always loved her; but on my return from overseas two years ago I was much-disappointed to find she had changed. She was a nervous wreck and still is.

Before I went to war we were the best of companions. We went everywhere together, gave parties, mixed with our friends and saw lots of people. Now she won't go anywhere with me. She avoids crowds and won't see people, including our friends.

She stays home all day by herself and lately I notice she is getting neglectful of her appearance and the housework. She says she gets weak spells while working and has to lie down. She also says everything seems unreal, as if she were living in another world.

I find I dread to come home in the evenings, as her whole discourse is about her ailments. I too am tired and feel nervous many evenings, but I never complain. And here of late, because of the home situation, I've done something I never dreamed I would do. I know it's wrong, but I feel driven to it.

SWEET SECRETARY SOLACES HIM NOW

I HAVE been seeing my secretary, a sweet girl, 30, who is always in good spirits and believes in enjoying life. She feels sorry for my wife but says she will never change and when I get a divorce she will marry me. As to that, I've never even told the girl I love her, and I can't bring myself to leave my wife.

I have tried to be a good husband. I don't drink or gamble; I have given her a nice home, a car, everything her heart desires, and I have been true to her until recently. She doesn't suspect I have been out with my secretary when I get home late.

I have taken her to several doctors, all of whom say she is in perfect health. In fact, one doctor told her a baby would cure her nervousness, but she says a child would only make her more nervous. Now I have an offer to work in another city; and maybe the change would help my wife. Also, I would no longer see the girl. What should I do? I am so confused. Please advise me.

Signed S. R.

WIFE IS REALLY CRITICALLY ILL

DEAR S. R.: Apparently the examining physicians didn't delve very deeply into the story of your wife's distress. Her symptoms you mention are as pronounced in general significance as, say, a chronic fever temperature or bleeding stomach ulcers would be.

They clearly indicate emotional illness, potentially as destructive of general health as, say, an onslaught of tuberculosis or cancer. The cause should be psychiatrically probed and alleviated.

In all such cases, the seeds of illness are planted in childhood; but many persons thus incipiently handicapped are never overtaken by the lurking threat if they have the good fortune to live a consistently sheltered existence in adult years, in relation to a closely devoted protective companion who represents security and leadership to them.

Thus while your war-induced separation from your wife can't be construed as the primary cause of her serious condition, it is definitely probable that the experience—one of inner loneliness and sustained anxiety for your welfare—fertilized the seeds of latent illness into the open: into mind-darkening, waking nightmare proportions. In which state you found her on your return.

HER CASE isn't hopeless per se. Your secretary, a buzzard of sorts, is peddling wishful thinking in line with her own scheming purposes, in stating that view. And while on the subject of her, my advice is to solve that problem—of propinquity-proffering temptation—by giving her notice to find another job. Wave her off and devote your whole mind to being tender and true to your wife in this crisis.

Owing to the fact that you do sincerely cherish your wife and would do all in your power to restore her to health and good companionship, there is much reason to hope for her full recovery, inasmuch as psychiatric therapy has a growing history of effectiveness in healing such illness as hers.

The only hurdle is the comparative scarcity of psychiatric resources. I am not sure there are such in your community; hence I suggest you write to Dr. George S. Stevenson, medical director, National Committee for Mental Hygiene, 1790 Broadway, New York City, for steering information or a reference list of such specialists thereabouts.

Federal Anti-Lynching Law Has Opposition Of Southern Solons

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—There's been a lynching in this country every year since 1882.

There have been 44 lynchings since 1936. There was one last year. Almost all those lynched have been negroes. Most lynchings were in the South.

Federal Law Proposed

From time to time there's been talk in Congress of passing an anti--lynch law to let the federal government, instead of the states, punish lynching.

Congress now is talking of such a law. Once again it may not go beyond talking.

Since 1900 more than 200 bills have been offered in Congress to make lynching a federal crime. Most died quietly of inattention.

Several times a committee has approved such a bill and sent it up to the full House or Senate for a vote.

Even when the House passed it, southern Senators managed to kill it when it came before the Senate for a vote. The last time was in 1938.

Hearings Held

Right now a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary committee is holding hearings on three anti-lynching bills.

If it approves one of them and sends it up to the full Senate, the southerners probably will try to kill it again.

The arguments for and against an anti-lynching law center around the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution, sections 1 and 5.

Section 1 says no state shall "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

(Lynching deprives a person of due process of law: Trial by jury).

Section 5 says Congress can pass any laws necessary to be sure that Section 1 works.

The main argument against an anti-lynching law is this: It would be unconstitutional by giving the federal government power to interfere in a state's own problems.

This argument is based on the 10th amendment to the Constitution which says that the powers not given to the United States by the Constitution belong to the states.

Committee's Report

The President's special committee on civil rights says in part in its recent report:

"The communities in which lynchings occur tend to condone the crime. Punishment of lynchers is not accepted as the responsibility of state or local governments in these communities.

"The almost complete immunity from punishment enjoyed by lynchers is merely a striking form of the broad and general immunity from punishment enjoyed by whites in many communities for less extreme offenses against negroes.

"Moreover, lynching is the ultimate threat by which his inferior status is driven home to the negro . . .

"The threat of lynching always hangs over the head of the southern negro; the knowledge that a misinterpreted word or action can lead to his death is a dreadful burden."

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—A suspected Texas bank robber being held in Los Angeles said today he does not blame the war buddy policeman who turned him in when he went to him for advice.

Both On Okinawa

Hooper told a reporter that he was considering the advice when police, called by Thomas, arrested him as Hooper, Thomas and Mrs. Thomas went out to dinner. Hooper and Thomas had served together on Okinawa during the war.

Hooper said he and a brother, John, robbed the bank in what was intended to be "one last job to finance going straight."

Jester Lists Accomplishments During First Year In Office

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Beauford H. Jester has started his second year as governor after radio-cataloguing for Texans accomplishments of the state government during the first year of his administration.

In a report to the people broadcast over half a dozen radio stations last night, Jester noted that the Legislature "very graciously" enacted into law 21 of the 27 recommendations he made to it in his message, nearly a year ago.

No New Taxes Imposed

After listing forward steps taken during the past year, he emphasized a familiar note:

"All these things which I have reported to you were accomplished without imposing additional taxes upon our people."

Among the accomplishments of his first year in office, Jester emphasized these:

Provision for the largest appropriations for public school education and teachers' salaries in the history of Texas, and appointment of a commission (the Gilmer-Aiken committee) to make a long range study of all public school problems, including future financing.

Efforts to protect the public schools' billion dollar interest in the tidelands by securing federal legislation giving title to Texas and other states.

Prison Problems Met

Doubling of the appropriations for eleemosynary institutions; the opening of two new hospitals for tuberculosis patients; establishment of a new home and school for feebleminded children and senile women; establishment of the Brady Correctional institution for negro girls.

Close attention to prison problems, with increased appropriations and administrative changes, and appointment of a commission to study juvenile delinquency and the training school set-up.

Detailed checking of all clemency applications, notification of local law enforcement officers of clemencies pending for persons convicted in their areas, and tightening of restrictions on restorations of operator's licenses for persons convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Aid For Needy Provided

Promotion of highway safety through study in conferences, adoption of the uniform traffic code, addition of 200 highway patrolmen.

Road contracts awards totalling 70 million dollars and plans for bringing farm-to-market road mileage up to 7,500.

Raising to the constitutional limit old age assistance, aid for the needy blind and dependent children.

Development of a disaster relief plan; fire prevention emphasis; reorganization of the National guard and creation of the State guard reserve as a backlog of home security in case the National guard is called into federal service.

Statewide hospital need survey, with provision for 800 new hospital beds in rural areas.

Encouragement of water resource studies and water conservation; permanent organization of the good neighbor commission; a new approach to the problem of redistricting the state.

Classroom Council Schedules Banquet

The Lubbock Classroom Teachers council will hold its annual banquet tonight at 6:30 o'clock in Hotel Lubbock, with Miss Marie Ernst of St. Louis, president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of the National Education association, as the principal speaker of the evening.

Miss Ernst, who is recognized as an authority in the field of teacher retirement in her state of Missouri, was elected president of the Department of Classroom Teachers at a convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in July, 1947.

In addition to being active in work of her local association and the Missouri State Teachers association, her national experience includes membership in the NEA committee on tax education and school finance, Core committee on ethics, consultant on the NEA defense commission and director of the south central region of the Department of Classroom Teachers.

Tonight's program will include music by a string trio composed of L. L. Stoelzing, violinist, Patsy Gibbs, cellist, and Frances Gibbs, violinist. J. H. Penn, baritone, will present a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Penn at the piano.

A. B. Reese, president of the council, will be master of ceremonies for the evening. Other officers of the council include Norman Heath, vice president; Mrs. Novelle Newsom, secretary; and Miss Martha Mathis, treasurer.

Officers Of Rice Group Re-Elected

BEAUMONT, Jan. 22 (AP)—All officers of the Texas Rice Improvement association were re-elected at an annual meeting here yesterday.

They were: Clyde Dishman of Beaumont, president; A. H. Boyt, Beaumont, vice president, and Directors J. E. Broussard, Beaumont; H. R. Hunsucker, Beaumont; N. O. Banfield, Richmond; M. W. Mauritz, Ganado; E. V. Boyt, Devers; E. L. Nolte, Anahuac, and David Winterman, Eagle Lake.

THEY'RE YOUNG, BUT ON THEIR WEIGH TO BIG THINGS—England and the U. S. A. have rival entries in the havyweight infant sweepstakes. Mrs. Russell Roegner, left, above, of Danville, Ill., gave birth to twin sons whose combined weight was 18 pounds, eight and a half ounces, believed to be a record for twins. Terry Tim, left, tipped the scales at nine pounds, six and a half ounces, while brother Jerry Jim registered nine pounds, two ounces. England's entry is 16-months-old Melvin Goodswen, right, of Ashford. He weighs twice as much as most babies of his age. Because he eats so much and grows so fast, his mother has applied for extra food and clothing ration coupons.

Motorists Warned Of Dangers From Gas

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Motorists and commercial drivers were warned today by State Health Officer George W. Cox to check up on the exhaust systems of their automobiles to lessen the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning during winter weather.

The greatest cause of carbon monoxide deaths, said Dr. Cox, is the practice of warming up a car in a closed garage.

He listed leaks from manifold connections, cracked manifolds, defective mufflers, leaks from loose muffler connections and leaks from hot air heater connections as sources of danger.

Headaches occurring over long drives may be an indication that carbon monoxide is leaking into the car, Dr. Cox added.

Houston Man Denied Habeas Corpus Writ

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Jan. 22 (AP)—William Schaftsall, 29, today was denied a writ of habeas corpus for his release from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, where he is serving a five-fear term on a Dyer act charge.

Schaftsall's petition was denied by Judge Alfred P. Murrah at a hearing in federal court here.

The prisoner, whose home was listed as Houston, Tex., was received at the Leavenworth prison last Oct. 19 to serve the sentence imposed at Tyler, Tex.

Among the points on which he sought the writ was his contention that he was held incommunicado by local authorities in Great Falls, Mont., following his arrest there April 23, 1947, on a federal warrant from Texas, without being given the opportunity of obtaining an attorneey.

Wrong Pronunciation Cost Autoist $125

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 22 (AP)—The difference between "ate" and "eight" was more than a matter of a few letters here today for Fred E. Carlson. It cost him $125.

Charged in police court with drunken driving, Carlson said he told arresting officers who asked if he had been drinking that he "had ate."

The officers reported he said he "had just had eight."

Police Judge Frank Hale found with the policemen.

Intruder More Like Bull In China Shop

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—This intruder didn't give himself a ghost of a chance.

Not only did he pick a house where 11 state policemen were quartered, but in entering a window upset a stack of dishes and then fled leaving behind his jacket conveniently bearing his name and address. His name was not disclosed.

NO STEER-IRISH CLASH

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns will not play Notre Dame in football next season, says Athletic Director Dana X. Bible of the University of Texas.

Bible said there are no negotiations in progress to book a game with the Irish, nor have there been any.

Workers End Strike In German Cities

FRANKFURT, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Two hundred thousand German workers returned to their jobs today following a 24-hour hunger protest strike but there still remained the threat of a general strike in the western zones if food conditions do not improve within 48 hours.

British authorities reported that 100,000 workers in Cologne reported at 6 a. m. Another 70,000 returned to work in Nuernberg, leaving only 1,000 on strike at Wiesbaden, the capital of Hesse.

The strikers went back to their jobs on expectation that an emergency food collection law will be passed tomorrow.

Selective Service Training Launched

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Men who would form the nucleus of a draft organization in any military emergency are being called into regional meetings for brief training periods, the office of Selective Service records disclosed today.

The first such meeting, Colonel Daniel Omer said, is now going on at Fort Benning, Ga., in the Third army area.

Similar conferences will be held in the next five months in the other army areas, including Fort Sam Houston, Tex., Fourth army, in February.

Loan Association Renames Officers

Knox T. Thomas was re-elected president, Amos H. Howard was named chairman of the board, and Geo. W. Spining was elevated to the post of vice president and treasurer, at the annual meeting of the board of First Federal Savings and Loan association here, it was announced yesterday.

Other actions of the board included naming Mrs. Pearl Smith as secretary, and Weldon Gibbs as assistant secretary. The board reviewed reports showing increased assets and expanded operations during the year that was described as one of the best in the association's history, the announcement said.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the most of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Writer Tells Story Of Journey Into Soviet Sector Of Berlin

By ANN STRINGER
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—I wanted to find out what happens to an American after dark in the Soviet sector of Berlin where arrests of Americans are supposed to be increasing these days.

So one midnight this week I drove 15 miles through the unlighted, bombed-out streets of Berlin with an American photographer to the Berlin Mitte Police Precinct station, one of the biggest and busiest in Berlin.

Followed By Agent

We didn't know at first that inside the Russian sector we were followed by the German chief criminal investigation officer, the top man immediately below the Russian safety officer in authority. We found out about that later.

The single light in front of the station was our beacon and the only glimmer in the darkness of the street. We climbed two flights of unlighted steps and pulled aside the ragged green curtain which served for a door.

Headquarters was tiny and cold. We were greeted with surprise and a request for credentials. Then the German police immediately became warm and friendly.

One was a former prisoner in America. At once he began asking how he could join the American army or navy and go to Greece. He believed that the Americans are recruiting Germans to strengthen our "capitalistic armies" supporting the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan.

This picture is a popular Russian-sponsored belief among the Germans in Berlin.

Join Raid Party

The night desk captain told us his men usually bring in about 300 persons for various reasons during his shift. He asked if we would like to go along with a raiding party.

We said yes, quick. No Americans before had ever gone with German police on a raid in the Soviet area of Germany.

The captain said they would be looking for black marketeers, juvenile delinquents, ladies of the evening and just plain Germans who had left their papers in their other clothes.

We climbed into a rattle-trap open German truck with eight uniformed patrolmen and set off. Our first stop was the Friedrichstrasse railroad and subway station near Unter Den Linden in the heart of the city.

Before the war, the Friedrichstrasse was a hangout for hoodlums, panhandlers and prostitutes. It still is. We found Germans sleeping, their heads on their arms, at crude wooden tables. There was a bar, where some girls were sipping vile German "pop."

One of our police sergeants recognized a frowzy redheard as an habitue. Two other girls rigidly turned their faces away when the photographer focused his camera on them. We were there 10 minutes. When we left he had eight new passengers.

Two were girls between 15 and 22, including the redhead. Two were older women without proper papers. Two were young men, black marketeers in cigarettes and crumpled candy bars.

They were booked and questioned at the station and that was where we met the German criminal investigation chief, a tall darkeyed, well-fed and warmly-dressed man in a black Homburg followed by a black police dog.

Agent Enters

He bustled into the room, ignoring us, and ordered the police into an adjoining room. We could hear phone calls being made. After a few minutes they all returned.

An officer asked if we had cleared our visit with Russian press liaison. We had not. This is it, we told ourselves. This is what happens to Americans in the Soviet zone of Berlin at midnight.

But then the big chief suddenly seemed to see us for the first time. He rushed over, smiling, and introduced us to his dog. Then he reared back to strict attention and stated in a loud lecture platform voice:

"Of course, any member of the Allied press is welcome to come into any part of the Russian sector at any time."

We presumed he meant welcome to leave, too. We took a long, deep breath, practically a collective one. We thanked him.

Then we took our notes, our cameras and our departure—hurriedly.

If tension was the new order of the day, they had had a beautiful chance to arrest us. We felt the experiment did not require giving them too much of an opportunity.

STRIKES BONANZA — Mike Maiorana, 12-year-old "prospector" examines his remaining 14 coins after giving gold pieces to a bulldozer driver and excavators that came to his rescue in Monterey, Calif., when "claim jumpers" almost got away with his "strike" of a can of 37 gold coins. Mairana's find is part of the $6,000 in $20 gold pieces that was purportedly buried by Will Martin, wealthy pioneer, over 50 years ago. The $20 gold pieces date back to the 1880s.

The wild stock from which domestic lemon trees were produced is believed to be a native of the Northwest Provinces of India.

Trucks, Cars Pile Up In Fog At Waco

WACO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Automobile repairmen were hard at work today repairing more than $5,000 damage to about 28 automobiles and trucks involved in a series of accidents here yesterday during a heavy fog.

Omer Miller of Waco was injured when struck by a truck as he stepped from his car after it collided with another.

Fourteen of the collisions occurred on the Brazos river bridge when a car skidded into a side of the bridge, causing following vehicles to collide one after another.

A similar series of collisions occurred on the 18th street viaduct when a car skidded into a side of the structure and following cars were unable to stop before crashing into the wreck.

GROMYKO MOVING UP

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, soon will move from modest quarters in a brown brick apartment house to a mansion on Park Avenue, formerly the residence of the late Percy Pyne, financier. It has 32 rooms, including 12 baths, and an assessed valuation of $320,000.

Tokyo Exposition Plans Being Made

TOKYO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Japan's first large postwar expositon will be held next year at the Ise Grand shrines — center of Japanese Shintoism — in southwestern Honshu, Kyodo News agency reports.

The exhibition will open March 20 and continue a month. Kyodo said it will exhibit local products of Mie prefecture, where the shrines are located, and "furnish visitors with the opportunity of seeing Japan's peaceful reconstruction."

How Mr. Parker gets good telephone service

Mr. Parker just got the telephone he and his family have been waiting for. He wanted an individual line because the Parkers do a lot of telephoning. But no individual lines were available because of shortages, so he took a party line instead.

Now Mr. Parker is wondering . . . "A party line . . . hum-m-m . . . what kind of service . . .?"

Party-line service is good service. It's simply a service you share with neighbors and they share with you. Of course, you can't call while someone else is using the line, but on the other hand, no one else can call while you're using it, either—so it's "even Stephen"!

Party-line service is best when conversations are kept reasonably short so everyone has a chance to call—or be called. A little thoughtfulness of the other fellow, a little practice of the golden rule do wonders on a party line.

One of these days, when we've provided service for everyone waiting and there's enough equipment, we'll be around with those individual lines Mr. Parker and hundreds of other folks would like to have.

New Palestine Riot Reported

JERUSALEM, Jan. 22 (AP)—Hagana, Jewish militia, said it attacked the Arab village of Yazur and killed 12 Arabs today after seven Jewish settlement police were slain at a roadblock at the edge of town.

Yazur is about five miles south of Tel Aviv on the main road to Jerusalem. Officials confirmed the Hanana report that seven Jewish settlement police were shot or stabbed to death and said four others were wounded there. They reported only three of the Arab attackers killed.

Casualties Total 951

Hagana said the Arabs who did not fall in the battle at the roadblocks were driven into Yazur and the village was surrounded.

The official account said a light truck was stopped by the roadblock and set afire. Hagana reported the truck was leading a convoy which halted some distance away. The Arabs attacked in another truck, the organization said, and were repelled by mortar and automatic fire.

Today's causalties boosted to 951 the unofficial count of violent dead in Arab-Jewish fighting since the United Nations decided Nov. 29 to partition the Holy Land.

The Chicago Motor Club sponsors automobile driver training classes in 105 schools in the Chicago area. The classes are destined to teach beginners the fundamental rules of safe driving. The schools participating in the experiment are located in Illinois and across the state line in Indiana.

Texas Guard Backing Grant For Armories

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Texas National guard is urging support of proposed federal legislation appropriating $50,000,000 a year for 10 years for armories throughout the nation.

In a statement issued yesterday, the guard said the state actually owns all or part of only four installations in Texas—Camp Mabry at Austin, Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells, Camp Hulen at Palacios and at Houston.

Other guard units are housed in stables and barns on fair grounds in old city halls, warehouses, or nearby army camps or air bases.

"Generally, these federal facilities are much too far from town to attract new recruits," the statement said.

It noted that the legislature's appropriation for armories does not provide for construction, and mostly is being used for security measures to protect government property.

T. C. Root Speaker At 20-30 Meeting

Speaking before a dinner meeting of Lubbock 20-30 club last night at Lubbock hotel, T. C. Root, administrative assistant to the president at Texas Technological college, said the year 1948 promises to be one of the more outstanding years in the history of the United States, with the national elections, the Marshall Plan, the cold war with Russia and inflation occupying the spotlight for the next few months.

On world peace, Root said that he believed that we will hear less concerning the possibility of war with Russia. Russia isn't as likely to tread on our toes since she has found out that we will stand up for our rights ond beliefs, he said.

The speaker praised a movement in Atlanta, Ga., called "Peace In Our Block," in which the people were trying to iron out difficulties with the persons living next to them. "If we clean up our own back yards, we are taking a big step toward the eventual solution to a lasting world peace," he added.

Charles Nelson, Lubbock delegate to the Monahans 20-30 convention last weekend, reported that the mid-summer West Texas district convention of 20-30 clubs would be held in Lubbock during July. At the Monahans convention, Bill Raymond, immediate past president of the Lubbock clubs, was named governor of sub-district 2 of the West Texas district.

The remainder of the meeting was taken up with discussions of club business and reports from the various working committees. Next week's meeting was named as "gripe night" so that club members can iron out objectionable features of meetings and other club activities.

New Look Prices To Go Up Next Summer

DALLAS, Jan. 22. (AP)—That New Look next summer will cost the women from 10 to 15 per cent more than their old clothes last summer, officials of the American Fashion association predicted today.

Fall prices will be still higher, officials of the association meeting here this week warned.

Whether milady sews her own frock, buys in a bargain basement or in an elite salon, it will be a pretty penny higher. The fashion experts pointed out that higher fabric prices, rising labor costs and changing styles, with fuller, longer skirts, ruffles and trims, were to blame.

GREATEST READERS

Americans read more newspapers than the people of any other country, with more than 40 per cent of the population over ten years old buying papers here.

Americans In Berlin Point Out All Do Not Play Black Market

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—"It must be the other guy he means."

That was one quick reaction abroad to a recent account in this column by a "Berlin Charley" of how American men and women take part in Germany's black market.

A letter from a newspaper colleague in the German capital reports that "Berlin Charley's" cynical picture "raised indignant flushes as well as embarrassed blushes" over there.

Many Are Innocent

The indignant flushes, he said, were on the faces of the Americans in Germany who aren't in the black market and haven't resorted to the tactics the Nazis once used themselves to plunder occupied countries.

Presumably the "embarrassed blushes" belonged to those who are playing the black market.

My colleague objected, however, that accounts like that given by "Berlin Charley" failed to mention the thousands of conscientious American military government employes in Germany who never made a dishonest dollar.

He said, "a high military government official, commenting on the latest black market investigation which is now being conducted by Judge E. Earle Rives of Greensboro, N. C., as a special representative of Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall, observed:

In Every Country

"'Of course, there's a black market here, as everywhere else in Europe, and many Americans are in it. So are other nationalities. But it seems to me that I've also heard about a black market in the United States—in automobiles and other things—and that's in the richest country in the world.

"'We have 150,000 Americans in Germany—a country beset by privation and want, where millions of people, distrusting their currency, offer fantastic prices for food and cigarets. Temptation is great—greater than any ever known in the U. S. But there are thousands of Americans in Germany who never yielded to temptation, and it can be proved that the crime rate here is lower than for a comparable number of people in America.'

"There are thousands of people here, Hal, who work seven days a week at their job. There are tens of thousands who, out of their own pockets, are feeding German families—and we don't mean tossing a chocolate bar to a fraulein for favors."

The human brain is exceeded in size only by those of elephants and whales.

$21,450 Cash Left By Victim Of Fire

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 22 (AP)—An official count of currency found in the bedroom of George Wenninger, 84, who was fatally burned in a fire at his home Tuesday, revealed that the aged man left $21,450 in cash.

Earlier an unverified reports were that about $200,000 had been discovered.

Police said Wenninger's bed caught fire and the man, who was bed-ridden, could not move to escape the flames. Neighbors rescued him but he died yesterday in a San Antonio hospital.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, E. Wenninger, San Antonio, and W. C. Wenninger, Snyder, Tex.; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Thelma Littlejohn, Fort Worth.

Bing, Dotty And Bob Expected To Hit "Road" Again In 1948

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—You can bet that Bing, Dotty and Bob will be hitting the "road" again before 1948 is out.

Each time the tri-starred film is made, the series is reported at an end. "Road to Rio" was announced as the absolutely final one. But it is doing so well at the theaters that there is already talk of a repeat.

Crosby legends are the most persistent of all in Hollywood. Recently he was reported (1) to be entering the hospital for a checkup; (2) to be suffering from virus X. He told me he knew nothing about either story. "I feel fine," he said.

He's Still Hopeful

Bing is still hopeful that something can be worked out with Petrillo so that his transcribed air show can continue. "It's a tough break—just when the program was getting its stride," he remarked. He's back in Hollywood for more scenes of "Conn. Yankee" . . .

Ingrid Bergman leaves for England and Alfred Hitchcock's "Under Capricorn" on April 11. Neither her daughter nor her husband will accompany her. Before leaving, she has some more work on "Joan of Arc" (final title) . . .

Laraine Day and Zachary Scott are reported set for a comedy, "My Dear Secretary," Charles Martin's independent film . . . Don't put any bets on MGM going through with the Jolson sequel . . .

Betty Hutton, whose "Perils of Pauline" award possibilities were first mentioned here, is getting added support for an academy nomination. Van Johnson has promised a vote and says he knows others who feel the same way . . .

Capsule reviews: "If Winter Comes" (MGM) and "I Walk Alone" (PAR) vie for the title of the least probable films of the new year.

AID PLAN MODIFICATIONS URGED

Hoover Proposing Six-Point Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 — The six-point "constructive modification" of the European recovery plan proposed by Herbert Hoover to separate "charity from business," brought pledges of careful study today from a trio of senators.

The former President declared in a letter to Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the foreign relations committee that "we should help to the full extent which does not weaken our own economy." But he cautioned that "the only safe road for us is not to over-export."

Reduced Outlay Urged

Furthermore, Hoover said it would be "unwise" to make "even a moral commitment" to carry out the full four-year Marshall plan program. And he suggested that the $6,800,000,000 recommended outlay for the first 15 months of the plan be reduced.

Declaring that up to $3,000,000,000 in food, coal, fertilizers and cotton might be extended as "gifts," Hoover proposed that Congress "define some general principles of distinction between gifts and loans."

To these and other suggestions, three members of the foreign relations group immediately promised "careful consideration." They are Senators Wiley (R-Wis), George (D-Ga) and Smith (R-NJ). Vandenberg has made it a policy not to discuss any proposals made to the committee, and Senator Connally (Tex), the top Democrat, said he had no immediate comment.

Wants Bi-Partisan Plan

Among House foreign affairs committee members Rep. Herter (R-Mass), author of a controversial plan to administer the program, said he is "gratified" that Hoover agrees with the type of organization Herter proposes.

Hoover recommended that the program be administered by a bi-partisan commission, as contrasted with the administration's proposal to set up a single administrator subject to policy decisions by the Secretary of State.

Final Ruling Sought In University Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 22 (U.P.) Capitol sources speculated today that the state attorney general might ask to have Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher admitted to the University of Oklahoma until a negro law school for her is finally established.

This possibility arose as time grew near for Fred Hansen, assistant attorney general, to suggest a final ruling in the Fisher case to District Judge Justin Hinshaw of Cleveland county. Hansen was to submit his recommendation today in Norman.

Hansen would not comment on the speculation except to say, "there may be some conflict."

It was believed the suggestion of temporary enrollment in O. U. might be made to clear the state's skirts with the U. S. Supreme court, which has ordered Oklahoma to provide equal facilities for Mrs. Fisher as soon as for members of any other group in the state.

Meanwhile, the state regents for higher education proceeded with plans to establish the new law school in the State Senate committee rooms in the capitol building.

Philadelphia once had a law forbidding the sale of coal in the city limits.

Eight Days Remain To Pay Poll Taxes

Eight business days remain after today for purchase of poll taxes or issuance of certificates of exemption—and lines were steadily applying for each today.

Poll taxes were paid by 540 persons at the courthouse Wednesday and were being paid briskly at Slaton also, said J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, bringing the total to an estimated 11,500 poll tax receipts and exemptions in Lubbock county.

Booths will be set up Monday through the Saturday, Jan. 31, deadline to assist in the last-minute rush to qualify persons to vote in this year's elections, Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce had announced earlier. They will be in three schools here.

Rites Pending For Heart Attack Victim

Funeral arrangements had not been made early this afternoon for Bert Ortega, 57, of 108 Ave. K, who died about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night after suffering a heart attack at Sled Allen's wrestling arena.

He was rushed to Lubbock Memorial hospital in a Rix ambulance, but was pronounced dead upon arrival.

His body was taken to Rix Funeral home.

Witnesses said Ortega was seated near the rear of the arena when he suddenly fell over. He was removed to the outside for arrival of the ambulance. A wrestling event was in progress at the time.

Teachers Told Wages Not Chief Trouble

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 22 (AP) Dr. S. M. Brown, school superintendent at Tyler, Texas, told a meeting of educators here yesterday that the teaching profession should clean house from within and make the business attractive enough to draw recruits.

The teachers are meeting in Oklahoma City for a two-day conference to discuss recruiting and improving teaching standards.

"Working conditions, not salaries, are running people away from teaching," declared Ruth Armstrong, president of the Arkansas Classroom Teachers association.

"A classroom teacher can't sell the profession to her pupils because they can see for themselves what a heavy load we have."

South Plains Stock Show Group To Meet

A general chairman will be named and other arrangements made for the 15th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show here March 22-24 at an executive committee meeting in the city hall council chamber at 10 o'clock Friday morning, Vernice Ford, present chairman, said today.

The committee is composed of about 50 members, most of them representing luncheon clubs the chamber of commerce and the junior chamber.

Matters to be considered by the committee, Ford said, will include recommendations of the show advisory committee that premiums be increased about $100 above the approximately $700 paid last year.

The chairman explained the chief monetary value of the show to the exhibitor is the auction sale the final day. Livestock sold there invariably has brought premiums above market prices which, in previous shows, have totaled several thousand dollars.

As in the past, the show will include competitive divisions for calves, pigs and sheep exhibited by 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members in about 25 counties of the area. The exact territory from which entries are to be accepted still is to be determined.

Dr. Robert T. Canon in eye, ear, nose and throat work at the hospital.

Although he had become inactive in most organizations before his death, Dr. Standefer's offices and memberships had included: Former president of Lubbock Kiwanis club; former president of Lubbock Civic Music association; former president of Lubbock Country club and still a member when he died; former director in Panhandle-South Plains Fair association; charter member of the Matador club, in which he was one of the most enthusiastic workers; 32nd degree Mason; former steward in the First Methodist church; member of West Texas Museum association, and Knights Templar. He formerly was active in the American Legion. His medical affiliations included the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society, Panhandle-Plains Medical society and the American Medical association. Phi Beta Pi was his medical fraternity.

Aided Tech Students

Dr. Standefer had aided many boys financially in attending Texas Technological college.

Dr. and Mrs. Standefer moved to Lubbock in March, 1924, after construction of some of Texas Tech's buildings had been started —having decided previously they would live wherever Texas Tech was located. They moved here from Valley Mills.

He was born in Meridian, Bosque county, Oct. 20, 1893. His early schooling was in Meridian public schools. He attended Meridian college, a Methodist junior college, and in 1910 enrolled in Baylor university at Waco. In 1911 and 1912 he attended the University of Texas at Austin and a year later entered the University of Texas medical school at Galveston, where he graduated in May, 1917.

Entered Military Service

Two months after his graduation from medical school, he entered military service. Nov. 1, 1917, he and Miss Jimmie Lomax were married.

He spent two years in service, more than half of which was in overseas duty. He entered as a lieutenant, then was a captain.

He first visited Lubbock in 1917, when he came here to muster in the Lubbock National Guard troops for World war service.

He returned from overseas duty in 1919 and received his discharge from the Army at Fort Worth, July 3, 1919.

After leaving service, he did post-graduate work at Tulane university and at different times later did further study for his professional work. In 1934, he and Dr. O. W. English spent three months at the University of Vienna.

Blow At Russia

man collaboration, the new publication shows, was reached in the summer of 1940 when Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was recorded in German memoranda as having "expressed the warmest congratulations of the Soviet government on the splendid success of the German armed forces" which then were smashing the free nations of western Europe.

It was later that year, after Russia had become alarmed by the new three-power pact among Italy, Germany and Japan, that the question arose of Russia's making the Axis a four-way hookup.

The deal was suggested to Molotov by Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop during Molotov's famous visit to Berlin in November. Ribbentrop offered two secret agreements which would have had the effect of dividing Europe, Asia and Africa among the four powers, excluding America and Britain from those continents and assuring the Soviet union of control of the Dardenelles.

Wanted Wider Sphere

Later, in a note sent to Berlin from Moscow by German Ambassador Count Von Der Schulenburg, Molotov offered to conclude such a pact provided a wider Soviet sphere was guaranteed.

The Russian demand covered inclusion of Finland in this sphere, a Soviet-Bulgarian mutual assistance pact, a Russian land and sea base within range of the Dardenelles and flat assurance that the "area south of Batum and Baku in the general direction of the Persian gulf is recognized as the center of the aspirations of the Soviet union."

Hitler's government never replied to these proposals. Instead, documents from the German secret files showed that on Dec. 18, 1940, Hitler ordered his armies to prepare "to crush Soviet Russia in a quick campaign even before the conclusion of the war against England."

Navy Reservists In Lubbock Get Paid

Wednesday was pay day for the Lubbock organized unit of the Naval Reserve and the total quarterly pay roll amounted to $6,-640.84.

Those present at the Wednesday night weekly meeting in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college received pay, and those who were not present may go to the Naval Reserve recruiting office, room 204 federal building, to receive pay, said Lt. Marvin Hunter, who has charge of the recruiting office.

Fourteen officers and 152 enlisted men were on the list to receive pay. There had been two previous pay days since the organized unit was formed.

Feb. 7 has been set as date for a dinner of the unit, to be conducted at Hotel Lubbock. All in the unit who wish are to contribute one day's pay, which will go into the recreation fund to pay for the dinner dance and later recreational activities.

Translation Mistake Prompts UN Laughter

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 22 (U.P.)—It was just a slip of the tongue, but it was so appropriate that United Nations delegates had to laugh.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko, speaking in Russian, had just given the UN Disarmament commission a long lecture on the "reduction of armaments."

But when the translator Robert Bernstein began to turn Gromyko's Russian into English, he referred to a "reduction of arguments."

Gromyko led in the laughter, and then complimented Bernstein, an American, for being the best translator of Russian that UN had.

Earl Brown Named New Auburn Mentor

AUBURN, Ala., Jan. 22 (AP) — Auburn's weeks-long search for a head football coach ended today with the naming of Earl M. Brown, Canisius college mentor and former Notre Dame star, to the post.

Salary terms were not disclosed.

Brown succeeds Carl M. Voyles, whose contract was bought up by the school after the 1947 season, when the Auburn football team won two games and lost seven. Voyles was named head coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers of the All-American Pro Football conference by Branch Rickey yesterday.

Indian, Reputed To Be 137, Succumbs

SAN PATRICIO, N. M., Jan. 22 (AP)—Francisco Saiz, Navajo Indian reputed to be 137 years old, died here last night.

A girl reporter, Miss Mary Nell Taeger of the Ruidoso, N. M., Weekly News, recently interviewed Saiz and checked his story with pioneer residents. At that time she said she was convinced of his age. She reported he was still active, attended to his personal needs, and ate three hearty meals a day with his third set of natural teeth.

Selection Of New City Manager Expected To Be Announced Within Next Few Days

Confidence that the city commission will be able to announce a new city manager within the next few days was expressed by Mayor C. A. Bestwick this morning after an executive commission session.

No immediate hint was given by the mayor or commissioners as to who might be under consideration.

The meeting was devoted, as scheduled, the mayor said, to a study of formal applicants and other possibilities for the job. Some of the "possibilities," he explained, are not applicants, but probably would be interested, if approached.

Expects No Difficulty

"The commission has gone carefully through the list of availabilities and has agreed upon those we want to consider," Mayor Bestwick said. "The list includes some thoroughly competent men. I anticipate no difficulty in reaching an agreement upon a manager who will be thoroughly satisfactory to the citizenship of Lubbock."

While members of the commission would not say when they expect to announce an appointment, indications were it will be not later than next week, with an outside possibility it might be Sunday.

Expectation is that Homer A. Hunter, resigning city manager, will remain with his successor about a week so as to break him into his new duties.

Forgiveness Looms For Baseball Stars

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22 (AP)—Reports that Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler is agreeable to a peace treaty with the reformed Mexican league today cheered a penitent band of American players under suspension for succumbing to the lure of Pasquel pesos two years ago.

An unquestionable source close to Chandler's plush Cincinnati office yesterday termed "obvious" the purpose of current conferences in Mexico City between Walter Melbry, secretary of baseball, and Alejandro Aguila Reyes, commissioner of the Mexican league.

And, the source added, should amicable relations be restored, the outlawed players probably would be welcomed back to organized baseball without having to serve out the rest of their five-year suspensions.

Informed his suspension for "jumping" to the Mexican league in 1946 might be lifted, Mickey Owen, former Brooklyn catcher, said at his home at Willard, Mo.:

"I'll be glad to get rid of the stigma of baseball outlaw, even if I never play again. I'll just sit tight and hope that nothing happens to keep me from being reinstated now."

"I've certainly learned my lesson and I'm really hot to get back into organized baseball," said Big Bill (Buck) Tanner, 21-year-old fireball righthander who deserted Montreal of the International league to play for Mexico City.

Jorge Pasquel, millionaire sportsman and importer, led the raid on American diamond talent in 1946 with sky-high-figured contracts. Many players soon quit in disgust, however, with loud complaints about such things as playing field conditions and modes of travel.

Among the players who went south of the border—and felt the sting of Commissioner Chandler's jolting penalty—were three members of the St. Louis Cardinals, pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin and second baseman Lou Klein; four New York Giants, infielders Nap Reyes and George Hausmann, outfielder Danny Gardella and pitcher Ace Adams, and another Brooklyn Dodger, outfielder Louis Olmo.

Twenty-Year-Old Ex-Champ And Minister Enter Gloves Bouts

A 20-year-old ex-champ and a minister, just 17, were the latest additions today to a growing array of promising young fighters who may make the Feb. 2-3-4-5 regional Golden Gloves tournament here one of the greatest fight fests in Lubbock's history.

In 1945 in the Lubbock tournament it took Dwayne Vaughn, now 20, just one minute and twenty-one seconds of the first round to knock out Grady Haynes of Seymour to win the featherweight title. He went to Ft. Worth and the state tournament and was decisioned by Lloyd Densman of Waco who, in the finals, lost to Donald Frye of Houston by decision.

This Tahokan will be entered in the same division with Bill Henderson, the Levelland larruper, who, in the meantime, has made quite a name for himself in the ring.

The second "find" is unusual in that he is both a minister of the gospel, and a good fighter, too.

In seven fights Rev. Randall Hinkle of Tahoka has lost but one, and that by decision. The winner of that fight, a Clovis, N. M., boy later fought his way through the Golden Gloves to the national tournament in Chicago.

The Tahoka pastor, who as all District 6-A center played a prominent part in the destinies of the Tahoka high Bulldogs afield last fall as they won the district football championship, will enter the middleweight division here next month.

The Rev. Mr. Hinkle stands 5-10, is an affable brunet with a boyish smile much like that to be found on the boyish face of Lonnie Balch, the Lubbock boy, who also will fight in that division.

Jim Foust, Tahoka High school athletic director, said Wednesday four or five of his best schoolboy fighters would enter the tournament's novice division.

The annual Golden Gloves tournament is sponsored jointly by the Avalanche-Journal and Texas Tech.

Sponsors Wednesday pointed out the shortness of time left for entry into the tournaments. Those planning to enter should do so immediately.

Cage Tournament At Dailville Underway

DAILVILLE, Jan. 22 (AP) — Nineteen Texas high school teams were to compete in the "little basketball tournament" opening here today and continuing through Saturday.

Sale Of Baseball Tickets Is Begun

Box seat reservations made by local baseball fans are now available for all Lubbock Hubber home games and persons holding these reservations may pick them up at the Hub Clothing store any time.

Sam Rosenthal, ailing owner of the Hubbers, announced yesterday that box seat holders could pick up the precious ducats at once and that reserved seats also would go on sale at once. The ailing ball club owner, weak from his illness, but cheered by reports that the fans were pulling for him, said that the reserved seat tickets also could be obtained at the Hub store.

"Unfortunately for several spectators, no new box seats will be available this year," Rosenthal declared. "But reserved seats will go on sale immediately and will provide the next best seats in the Hubber park. We have had a lot of requests for box seats, more than we could fill even if other holders had turned them in, but past year holders have the first choice."

Bowling Scores

Hackel's bowling team upset the league-leading Southwestern Public Service five last night in the Ladies Commercial league, but the Service keglers held onto first place.

Hackel's won two out of three matches, as did all winners. Hemphill-Wells upset the second place Home Lumber and Supply and the Larrymore Dance Studio five gained ground by winning from Grollman's team. The Westerner Cafe went into a tie with Glassman's five by beating their opponents.

High scorers for the night included Margaret Buckner, 196-495; Nora Lee, 177-491; Ann Owen, 172-477; Bertha Thomas, 175-471; Flo Christensen, 165-474; Zelma Zimmerman, 173-471; Vera Cleary, 170-466.

Westerners In Pampa Tonight

Pampa's Harvesters, undefeated in 17 consecutive games this season, lay their record on the line tonight on their home court against an upsurging Lubbock High school quintet, a cage crew determined to erase the Amarillo defeat and make a battle of the District 1-AA race.

The Westerners, who appeared impressive in pre-conference play, lost a long lead—and the ball game—to Amarillo last week, going down before a minor hurricane of Golden Sandies, 34-31. It was the first defeat in the first conference game for the Westerners and they must give a better account of themselves tonight.

Dropped Two On Road

During the early season tussles, the Westerners scratched the win column with victories over such quintets as Big Spring, Abilene, Sudan and Ysleta. In turn, they dropped two road battles to El Paso cagers. Then came the Amarillo licking.

In an effort, apparently, to inject a more pungent floor attack, Coach Harvey Dunn has shifted Richard Herchenroeder and Virgil Johnson to guard posts. Jim Wilson and Jack Alderson will alternate at the pivot position, while Billy Max Henry and Charles Galey will round out the courtmen at forwards.

Others Making Trip

The rest of the squad destined to make the trip, which was started this morning from the high school building, included Bob Schmidt, Bob Swain, Doral Sandlin, Sam Davis and Blair Hankins.

Harvester fortunes are in the hands of Clifton McNeely, former All-America cager with Texas Wesleyan, who has directed the Pampa court crew to two major tournament victories. The Harvesters won the Childress and Spearman clinics, before turning in a defeat of Borger in their initial conference clash.

The Top O' Texas cagers have clipped the netting at a rate of 40 to 50 points in each game this year and rate strong odds to come out on top again tonight. Both teams are expected to keep the mesh swinging and a free-scoring battle is predicted.

The Lubbock squad will leave Pampa for Borger, where Friday night they will meet the Bulldogs in the third conference game. And Saturday night the Westerners will play host to the Brownfield Cubs on the home court.

Probable starting lineups:

Lubbock	Pos.	Pampa
Henry	F	Davis
Galey	F	Miller
Alderson	C	King
Herchenroeder	G	Hernandez
Johnson	G	Laffoon

"Mad Russian" Loses Mat Go To LaBelle

Josef Stalin must have spent an uncomfortable night Wednesday, especially if he received any sort of a communique from Sled Allen's wrestling arena, where Leon "The Mad Russian" Kirilenko was bileld as the opponent for American-born Pierre LaBelle.

Stalin's blood pressure must have gone up enough points to win a close District 1-AA basketball game, if he learned that Leon dropped two consecutive falls to LaBelle. Of course, it did happen and an overflow crowd cheered the victory heartily.

LaBelle took plenty of punishment in the first fall, but won on Referee Jimmy McEwen's decision, the little referee giving the fall to LaBelle on Kirilenko's failure to break a hold. LaBelle came back to win the second fall on a reverse crab.

Perpetual badman Al Getz could do no better than an even break in his three falls with Gordon Hassel, but both wrestlers gave the crowd sufficient entertainment for the entire evening. Getz took the first go in 37 minutes with a Japanese crab, while Hassel won the second in 14 minutes on a flying head scissors. The third fall ended in a draw after four minutes.

Dory Funk got the best of George Lopez in the curtain-raiser, the Indiana grappler winning in 17 minutes with a straight crab. This bout produced the best wrestling of the evening.

Farwell And Shallowater Rule Favorites In Whiteface Play

WHITEFACE, Jan. 22 (Special)—Farwell, regional cage semi-finalist, and the Mustangs of Shallowater High school today ruled as favorites to fight their way into the finals of the Whiteface basketball tournament which gets under way during the afternoon.

Farwell went to the regional semi-finals last year, and most of the players who took their team through this championship course are back and ready for action in this tournament.

Shallowater has had a long string of successes against teams in all classes this season. The Mustangs appear to be indefatigable as they romped over Wilson high Tuesday night, 63-29, and on Wednesday night handed New Home a 57-47 thumping as one of their star sharpshooters, Derrel Murphy hit the meshes for 25 points.

There are others among the boys teams entering this tourney which have been driving hard all season along the victory trail. Meadow, Whiteface, Bula, Anton, Three Way, Morton, all have been playing exceptionally good basketball.

Among the girls' teams entering the tourney is Stanton, the state semi-finalist last year, and several of those players who sparked this 1947 drive are back. Anton, too, is strong, and has players who are already being hailed as probable all-state.

Farwell and Bula girls open tourney play Thursday at 1 p.m. to be followed by Smyer and Meadow, two strong boys' teams, at 2 p.m.

Two of the teams entering come from Class A schools, one from Levelland, the other from Morton. However, the Levelland team is its second, or B five.

TWO GAMES CARDED

Two basketball games are slated at Senior High school gymnasium Friday night, officials have announced, with the Central Junior High quint battling two Lubbock Boys club fives. The "Midget" tussle is carded at 7 p. m. and a "Junior" tilt is set for 8 p. m.

Tickets will be priced at 15 and 25 cents, E. J. Lowrey reported.

ANTON LEGION WINS

ANTON, Jan. 22 (Special)—The Anton Legion beat the Spade Independents, 53-38, in a game played in the high school gym here last night. Horace Byerley, with 19 points, paced Anton, while Homer Hall had 11 for Spade. The Anton Legion B team also won, licking the Saunders Motor company five, 63-41, with Vernon Belcher scoring 12 points for Anton.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

There's nothing wrong with athletics in Lubbock that a good sports arena wouldn't correct, an arena large enough to accommodate the crowds desiring to see boxing, wrestling, hockey, indoor rodeos, tennis, basketball and other sports.

Mind you, we've heard of the new municipal auditorium and sports center. We think it is a wonderful idea and one which will mean much to the growing center of West Texas, but we also would like to see a separate arena not run by the city fathers. Not that they don't have the best interests of the sports fan at heart; they do. The only rub is that a private arena, operated by a good promoter, would provide better sports entertainment in the long run.

The advantage of having a separate sports arena is obvious. First, an independent promoter would have to hustle, knowing that his income depended on his operation of the arena. Secondly, there would be no conflict between two groups of people desiring the arena the same night. Third, a greater variety of athletic events more often could be offered to the public.

Those are some of the principal points. A large, not necessarily centrally located athletic plant is needed, where crowds could come, park and be seated comfortably. In addition to wrestling, good boxing cards, both amateur and pro, could be offered. And with a wealth of fight material right here in Lubbock and the South Plains, there is no reason why a steady fight crowd could not be built up.

Professional basketball, occasionally, would be a sellout, while both the Westerners and the Red Raiders would be able to provide accommodations for the crowds not now able to see them play. It is not outside the realm of possibility to have such tennis stars as Bobby Riggs, Jack Kramer, Don Budge and others in the city, if they could be assured of a good crowd.

Indoor rodeos should be easy to promote in this area and would provide plenty of entertainment for a crowd that probably would jam the arena walls. While ice hockey, after proper introduction, might well go over with a resounding bang.

These are just a few of the sports that could be offered to West Texas and South Plains men and women regularly during the fall, winter and spring. Moreover, such sport events would bring a continual flow of trade to this city, a trade that would boost the already high amount of business done here. It may be a dream, but if it is, wake us up gently; we enjoy the effects of the pipe.

Sport bigwigs of New York City last night dined and honored three particular boxers, giving one of boxing's better awards, the Edward J. Neil Memorial, to Gus Lesnevich as the man who did most for boxing in 1947. Ring Magazine, represented by Pres. Nat Fleischer, gave three awards during the evening: one to Lesnevich as "boxer of the year," another to Jersey Joe Walcott for "outstanding performance" and the third to LaVern Roach as "rookie of the year."

Smoke from that pipe dream a few paragraphs ahead of this might be making our head spin, but we'd like to make a prediction. If Roach continues his clean life and continues up the ladder, we'll take even odds that some day he will be the recipient of the Neil award. Remember, also, that Middleweight Tony Zale won the award a year ago because of his title defense against Rocky Graziano, who also was present at the dinner.

Owls Skin By Aggies 49-47

(By The United Press)

Rice was one step out of the Southwest conference cellar today at the expense of Texas A. & M., which lost a 49-47 spine-tingler to the Owls at Houston last night.

It was the first conference victory for Rice and the fifth consecutive loop loss for A. & M.

The only other conference team to see action last night was Arkansas, which beat Alabama, 42 to 35, in a non-circuit battle at Memphis, Tenn. The Razorbacks, tied with Texas and Baylor for the conference lead, go outside again tonight to meet Arkansas State college at Jonesboro, Ark.

No conference games are scheduled until Saturday when Rice and Baylor meet at Waco.

Rice was ahead only by one point—25 to 24—at halftime. The Owls stretched their lead to 10 points with three minutes to go. Then fireworks began. The Aggies exploded into action and, in a minute of bedlam, had tied the score at 45-all.

As the seconds ticked away, center Bill Tom of Rice, who led the evening's scoring parade with 23 points, sank two field goals, the last one with 15 seconds to go, to put Rice in front, 49-45. That was the count at the final whistle, but a foul had been called on Rice and Bill Batey, Aggie forward, connected with two free throws after the regulation time was over to close the cap to two points.

HOUSTON COACH RESIGNS

Standing Room Only For Golden Gloves

The Standing Room Only sign—so far as reserved seats in the Texas Tech gym for the regional Golden Gloves bouts are concerned—was hung out yesterday by Tech Athletic Director Morley Jennings.

Jennings said that every reserved seat in the gym had been sold and that there had been even a slight ovrsale. Not a single available reserved seat, numbering between 430 and 440 for each night, remains for sale.

Instead, 1600 to 1700 general admission tickets will be put on sale each night of the fights, with the sale not starting until 7 p.m. These tickets will admit purchasers to good seats on the side of the Tech gym on a first-come, first-served basis.

Jennings emphasized that many of these seats provided as good a view of the ring activity as the reserved seats.

In addition to the nightly sale of general admission tickets, an advance sale of these tickets would be made at the Tech athletic office in the gymnasium beginning Jan. 30. Persons are advised also that while an advance sale is being made, these are not reserved seats.

Feller Again Is To Get Highest Salary

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22 (AP)—Bob Feller started house-hunting today after signing a 1948 contract which Cleveland Indians President Bill Veeck maintained would continue him as baseball's highest paid performer.

As usual, terms of the agreement were not announced, but Veeck said the strikeout king could make as much as last year's $87,000, and added that "with a phenomenal year he can make a couple of dollars more."

Base Pay About Same

The Tribe president described a "phenomenal year" as a season that would draw about 1,750,000 cash customers.

Feller's base pay is to remain "about the same," a figure estimated at $40,000, but his bonuses are to begin at a higher attendance mark and cover a wider scale of total paid admissions.

Last year he more than doubled his base pay with bonus money that began at 750,000 and ended at 1,250,000 paid admissions. The Indians drew a total home paid attendance of 1,521,978 last year.

Veeck did not disclose at what attendance figure Feller would begin to draw a bonus, but it was believed to be 1,000,000. The maximum attendance figure at which the ace hurler would reap profits was estimated at 1,750,000.

Veeck stoutly maintained that Feller's total earnings would exceed that of Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugger who was reported to have signed for $80,000 recently. Joe DiMaggio inked a New York contract that was said to call for $70,000.

West Texas Softball Loop Plans Progress

Winter's air, balmed somewhat by a warm breeze yesterday, brought forth additional discussion of the proposed West Texas Softball league and there was every indication that the loop would become reality before the baseball teams left for spring training camp.

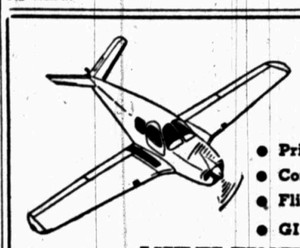

The proposed loop, which would involve at least eight West Texas communities, will be discussed at a meeting Sunday in the Settles Hotel at Big Spring. Ralph J. Bumpass, secretary of the infant circuit, said that the meeting would begin at 3 p. m.

Plans for the organization of the proposed league will be made Sunday afternoon, with approval of tentative schedule dates, team sites, finances and other matters under discussion.

Representatives of Abilene, Big Spring, Crane, Lubbock, Midland, Monahans, Odessa and San Angelo will be present for the meeting. These towns are expected to form the personnel of the loop, which will have, as one of its principal tenets, the encouragement of amateur softball.

Bumpass also stated that it is the intention of the founders to have the biggest softball league of its kind.

Petrillo Defends His Rulings In Labor Committee Hearing

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. — James C. Petrillo once remarked that "these damn unions will ruin the country." That was when Little Caesar, wearing a set of corns, was caught on the 17th floor in an elevator strike.

Proving that the president of the American Federation of Musicians isn't always consistent. Like yesterday. Caesar, feeling no pain anywhere, sat before the House Labor committee to defend himself for telling his piccolo players and fiddlers they can't make any more phonograph records. Or appear on television and FM network broadcasts.

Nattily Dressed

There he was, in a new brown suit and striped tie, posing for the television boys. Of course, Petrillo wasn't violating any contract by fiddling or tootling. But let it be said, for the sake of accuracy, that he whistled a couple of times.

Particularly at some of the questions the committee fired at him.

Rep. Wint Smith of Kansas leaned into his microphone and asked the Boss of the Treble Clef how he would feel if somebody organized a band and went around making non-union records. Petrillo blinked into the lights, rubbed his hands and said he wouldn't feel so good. In fact he'd call a meeting of the board of directors right away. But, he said, he wanted to put Congress straight on a couple of things.

He and his drummers and oboe players aren't mad at the people who make records, he said. Not particularly. It's the fact that 20 per cent of the records that go to the radio stations and juke boxes don't bring the musicians back any more money. They get paid their union scale for drumming or oboeing, and nothing more. But the records, he said, are played over and over again on the air and in the juke boxes.

Musician's Life Hard

Becoming a musician, he added, pointing straight at Mr. Smith, isn't easy. Even a flute player has to have a good musical education. Sometimes it takes him years to reach the big league in music. And then he doesn't last long.

Fifteen years maybe. He runs out of wind and doesn't look too pretty in a tuxedo with that bay window out front and no hair. So what goes on? He becomes a former musician, working in a butcher shop or digging ditches. With those sensitive hands. And, Caesar said, pounding his desk, with this canned stuff on the market it happens sooner than that, more often than not.

Rep. Tom Owens said he'd like a word.

"I'm from Illinois, too," he began.

"How do you do," said Petrillo.

Petrillo Stumped

"Now," said Owens, "about this business of not letting an orchestra play on both FM and standard broadcasting — let's get that straight. Aren't we a little silly? Is it possible to play FM and standard on your radio at the same time?

Petrillo said he'd be darned if he knew. Between running a union and trotting around to congressional hearings he was too busy to try it out.

Owens then recalled that Caesar had said earlier that people don't have any money these days . . .

"Do you mean to say that you dispute the figures given out by the President of the United States?" The gentleman from Illinois shouted.

Petrillo said he guessed he'd better take that back. Mr. Truman, he remembered, plays the piano and may want to join the union some day.

Growers Protesting Retroactive Ruling

HARLINGEN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Rio Grande Valley citrus and vegetable growers will protest a ruling ordering retroactive collection of social security and unemployment taxes on wages paid packing plant workers, W. R. Denies, assistant manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers association, has announced.

Denies said the ruling by the Internal Revenue bureau makes the social security tax, one per cent on employers and one per cent on employes, retroactive to last October and the three percent unemployment tax retroactive to Jan. 1, 1947.

The association official said he expected the annual convention of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable association now meeting in San Francisco to appeal from the retroactive phase of the ruling.

Psychological Tests Results Revealed

Subjects 4,000 Miles Apart In Telepathic Experiments

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—Results of any experiment with cards, purportedly showing that the human mind can send and receive impulses as far as 4,000 miles, were announced today by the Duke university parapsychologists.

A parapsychologist is one who believes in extra-sensory perception, or that the human mind can affect the behavior of physical things—such as dice or cards.

ESP Unlimited

The experiment was conducted by Dr. J. B. Rhine and Elizabeth A. McMahan at Duke with Dr. Karlo Marchesi, a physician in Zagreb, Yugoslavia. Briefly, the experiment was the shuffling of cards at Duke, and the calling of them by Dr. Marchesi in Zagreb.

Dr. Rhin, reporting in the journal of parapsychology, said Dr. Marchesi called 354 runs, thereby obtaining 89 hits "more than the chance expectation."

This proved, according to Dr. Rhine, that extrasensory perception was operating. He added:

"The principal value of this experiment lies in the fact that significant results were obtained over a 4,000-mile disance, the greatest over which ESP has been tested. It gives added evidence that ESP is not limited by space."

Exceeds Chance Results

The card-calling began every day at 4 p. m., CST, and at that moment, Yugoslavia time, Dr. Marchesi was concentrating in his Zagreb office.

In all, there were 354 runs. A run is a group of trials, usually the successive calling of a deck of 25 cards or symbols.

Dr. Marchesi had an average of 5.25 hits for each time a 25-card deck was run, and his total was 89 more than could be expected by chance, according to Dr. Rhine.

Weather Insignificant

At Dr. Marchesi's suggestion, the effect of weather conditions on naming the cards so far away also was investigated.

Each day, as he guessed what cards were being turned up, Dr. Marchesi noted on the back of his score card just what the weather conditions were.

"The trends are not significant," Dr. Rhine reported, but the data suggest that there may be a falling-off of scoring rate with the rise of humidity."

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Adv.

REDS FOMENT RIOTS IN GERMANY

More Shipments Of Food Are Sought

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Gen. Lucius B. Clay, American military commander in Germany, said today Communists were using the acute food situation in Germany as an excuse to foment disorder.

Clay arrived here today from Germany. He was accompanied by Robert Murphy, his special political adviser. They will confer with State department officials and report to Congress on the German political situation.

More Food Needed

As a move to counteract unrest in Germany, Clay said that he would recommend to Congress that it appropriate additional money to increase food shipments to Germany.

Clay said the food shortage in Germany is responsible for a wave of strikes and demonstrations which has swept the American and British zones.

"The food shortage is most acute in the Ruhr," Clay said.

The Communists are using this as an excuse to spread disorder, he said.

Ration Increase Sought

"It doesn't take much to give the Communists a chance to go to work," Clay said.

"I will ask Congress to increase the German ration," Clay said in response to a reporter's question.

This would be done by increasing the appropriation for Germany under the Army department's budget.

"I hope we will be able to increase food shipments to Germany soon," Clay said. "A better ration will bring more productive work by the Germans and speed general European recovery."

Some German farmers also are hoarding food, Clay said, but the wave of strikes may have one beneficial effect—prod them into releasing their food.

ments, then sped away.

Police also were investigating a burglary of West Texas Equipment company, at 1610 Fourth. Thirty dollars worth of stamps, $4 in change, and a letter opener, two mechanical pencils, a cutting torch attachment and this, and a four-inch electric drill were reported taken.

Police said a 17-year-old Idalou student, Donald Ray Joiner, was fined $55 for speeding 85 miles an hour and $15 for negligent collision after a chase and collision at 8:12 p. m. Wednesday.

Patrolmen said the youth apparently put on his brakes in attempting to pass another vehicle, a truck, at 118 East Broadway, skidded, hit the truck, skidded 82 steps and hit gasoline pumps in McClain service station—damaging his car, the truck and the pumps.

Fines Are Paid

The $70 in fines were paid, officials said, and the youth was released.

A 33-year-old Mexican who had been held briefly in connection with the shooting of Frank Aragon, 52, another Mexican, was released pending further investigation, police said. The victim indicated he would not file charges, only wanted the younger man to assist in payment of hospital bills. Aragon was not seriously injured.

J. W. Gray of 1921 Ave. O notified police of theft of a new Studebaker truck, license NJ 6963, from 1917 Ave. O.

Theft of a motor scooter was reported by Kenneth Tapp, who said it was valued at $300. A rear compartment contained a coat, cap and gloves. Billie Blanton of 1504 Ave. E reported theft of a $38 bicycle. Both thefts occurred at Junior High school, complainants said.

John Q. Hannah of Lubbock reported theft of four thresher wheels and three drilling bits from North Second street between Aves. S and Sherman.

Young Actress

gained by pawning a diamond studded, piano shaped pendant given to her by Actress Helen Hayes. She said she used some of the money for an upswept hairdo to make her look older.

"And I was wearing a sweater, too," she added. "I always look 19 or 20 in a sweater."

Police also held Seaman Second Class Wallace Wells, 19, whom police found early yesterday in a hotel room with Jacqueline, and Mrs. Gloria Jean Costello Milles, 22, a former night-club photographer, whom Jacqueline met on her bus ride to San Francisco.

"Like A Brother"

"I was just looking after her, like a big brother," Wells said.

Police Inspector Joe Norton said he believed they were telling the truth. "They seem like nice kids," he commented.

Jacqueline said she ran away from home because she was "tired of practicing the piano eight hours a day."

"I was tired of being exhibited like a trained animal," she said. "I wanted friends my own age. I thought it would be fun to be on my own."

Condition Of Youth Considered Serious

Harold Rogers, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rogers of north of Idalou, remained unconscious and was considered serious in condition early this afternoon in West Texas hospital.

He suffered a fractured skull in a motorcycle accident north of Idalou between 5:30 and 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

He apparently overturned or fell from the motorcycle and was knocked unconscious. H. R. Roye, who lives nearby, found him and brought him to West Texas hospital, where he remained unconscious late Wednesday night.

The youth is a student at Idalou High school.

MINOR RALLY STAGED

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Stocks staged a minor rally today after the industrial group had sagged to a further new low since mid-June 1947. The rally wiped out part of the earlier losses.

Southern Pacific gained a point and Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Illinois Central scored fractional advances. Chrysler regained a cent after an extreme decline of 1½. Hudson and Studebaker were firmer.

Republic Steel had a small gain but Bethlehem, Crucible, U. S. Steel and Youngstown were off minor amounts late in the day.

Coca-Cola and Amerada Corp. down 3⅛ and 3¾ respectively, held onto their losses. Skelley lost 2 in the oils where Deep Rock and Standard of California each lost a point and Standard (N. J.) was down ¾. Douglas Aircraft, Lone Star Cement, Deere and Co., American Tobacco B, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Liggett and Myers and Phelps Dodge were down a point or more each.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Cotton futures sold off sharply today for the second consecutive day under preasure of heavy general liquidation and scattered hedging. The market in later dealings developed a firmer trend on mill buying and some replacement demand.

Prices earlier had shown losses extending to $2.50 a bale but later were about $1.50 a bale above the lows of the day.

Traders ascribed the reaction to fears that the Marshall foreign aid program will be pared and its operations so delayed that cotton exports will not benefit greatly for the current season.

Cotton closed strong.

shouted. Gallacher sprang to his feet and said: "I dispute it" when Bevin said there had been politically inspired strikes in France.

Evolution of the Yalta decisions, Bevin told the House, "reveals a policy on the part of the Soviet union to use all means in their power to get Communist control on eastern Europe and, as it now appears, in the west as well."

"We have seen the game played out in Poland, Bulgaria, Hungary and more recently in Romania and, from information in our possession, other attempts may be made elsewhere," he said.

"Yet all the evidence is that she is not satisfied with this tremendous expansion.

"It has been quite clear, I think, that the Communist process goes ruthlessly on in each country. It therefore matters little how we temporize and maybe appease, and try to make arrangements."

ter. Here again we reach into the past for a legendary or real strength through fashions of a sturdier age."

WOMEN'S HATS WILL HAVE "NEW LOOK"

PARIS, Jan. 22 (AP) — Women's hats are going to have the New Look too—something like pancake or a subdued mushroom.

The new models, French designers say, are intended to go with the longer dresses now being worn. They also will necessitate a new hair-do—featuring an upsweep and bangs.

The year's first new collection of spring hats was shown last night by Gilbert Orcel, one of this fashion capital's leading millinery designers. The preferred shape was pancake, which in some models was puffed up a little so that it resembled a somewhat tired toadstool. Cloche and toque shapes also were featured.

An impressive number of American buyers at the showing said they were delighted—which may mean that the new hats will sweep the United States as completely as did the New Look in dresses. And the new hair-do will have to be an integral part of this hat revolution.

The back-of-the-head hat appears to be a thing of the past. Models in the new collection either were tilted jauntily to the front and side or set soberly, smack on top of the head. All are secured by rope-thick velvet rouleu.

Rough chip or Milan straw was mainly used but rich satin or faille also were employed for both the cloche and toque shapes.

The New York weather bureau reported that 37.6 inches of snow have fallen in the New York metropolitan area this winter, the most since 47.1 inches fell in the winter of 1904-05.

Fear Rising Death Toll

Safety officials feared the prolonged cold would raise the nation's toll of 92 deaths attributed directly or indirectly to the bad weather. Seventy-four persons died in fires caused by overheated stoves and furnaces during the past nine days. Sixteen others froze to death and two died of over-exertion.

The worst tragedy occurred yesterday when a mother and her four children died in a fire which destroyed their farm home near Little Falls, Minn. Officials said the fire that killed Mrs. May Anderson and her children was caused by an overheated stove.

Kiwanis Club Hears Agricultural Expert Describe Work Accomplished In Arabia

A program of research, demonstration and education in agriculture in Saudi Arabia was discussed by K. J. Edwards, former district extension service agent in this territory, now director of the U. S. agricultural committee in Arabia, in an address before the Kiwanis club luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock.

Edwards, who is in this country seeking 20 additional men to open four new projects in Arabia, presented the project as a major step in betterment of world relations, since Arabia is in the midst of the world's trouble zone.

King Backs Project

The project, he said, has the full support of King Ibn Saud, described as a very colorful, yet very human and democratic individual. The Arabian government, with an income from vast oil resources, is paying for the program, but has the full cooperation of the Arabian-American Oil company and the United States government through the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The program is designed to help the people to help themselves, and it is believed that success of the agricultural program will in a large measure quiet the nomadic tendencies in the population, and stabilize them on the land.

Late Member Eulogized

Edwards was introduced by W. L. Stangel, program chairman. L. E. (Jack) Davis, club president, was in the chair, with invocation by M. Norvel Young.

Tribute was paid to the life and work of Dr. Fred W. Standefer, past president of the Kiwanis club here, who died early today, in a brief eulogy by Dr. Allen T. Stewart, long time friend of the doctor. The eulogy was followed by a prayer by Dr. Jack M. Lewis as club members stood with bowed heads.

Hospital Releases Victim Of Accident

Examination at West Texas hospital this morning showed Stephen Howard Williams, 58, of 113 North Uvalde had suffered fracture of the socket for his right hip when struck by an automobile on the east rim of the canyon on East Broadway at 10 o'clock Wednesday night. He also suffered cuts and bruises.

Williams is at his home. He was taken to the hospital Wednesday night in a Plains ambulance.

Homer T. Dodds, 44, Acuff grocery store owner was driver of the light coach which struck Williams. Texas Highway patrolmen were told he was driving approximately 25 miles an hour, his lights on dim to meet an approaching car. Williams was crossing the highway.

Thieves Take Food, Leave Beer Alone

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Just to illustrate how valuable food is getting these days—

Burglars broke into the storage room of a private club in the Oak Cliff area of Dallas and took three and one-half cases of eggs, with a total value of about $60.

Several hundred cases of beer, lying right alongside the eggs, were not touched.

Tourists from the United States spent about $214,000,000 in Canada last year.

Upon many occasions during the time we were wandering about overseas, it occurred to us that it would be mighty fine if every American had to spend a little time in a foreign country every few years. The net result would be a much greater appreciation of the U. S. A. and the inestimable value of American citizenship.

If someone were to drop down here from Mars, with, of course, the ability to understand our language, he could listen to any group of us any time and think we were living in the worst imaginable country on the globe.

He might even think, while cocking an ear to our criticisms, that a bloody revolution is "just around the corner."

We aren't taking up the cudgels against the citizen's criticizing the government, or any officials there-of. That is part and parcel of Americanism and is at least partly responsible for our country's being what it is today.

But we would like to go on record as saying that if there are 65 other nations in the world today, there are 65 worse places to live than the U. S.

That's something all of us would do well to ponder on occasion.

YOUR more or less humble servant has written something like 40 columns of articles about the current situation in various parts of Europe, but never gotten around to saying anything about a place that struck us as having great possibilities as a haven for tired business men and their even more exhausted wives. That is the isolated little Portuguese city on the Island of Terciera, in the Azores, which lies about 800 or so air miles off the coast of Portugal.

Your Uncle Sam'l has an Army Air Transport Command station on Terciera, name of Lagens Field, and our plane sat down there both going and coming from Europe. Seven miles from our ATC installation, commanded by Col. John W. Warren, formerly of Kelly and Brooks Fields in San Antonio, is the little city of Praia, pronounced "Pryor." Its 5,000 souls live in an aura of 400 years ago.

With the exception of our Army cars, about 15 in number, and a handful of jeeps, there is no motor transport on Terciera and never has been.

The natives, of Portuguese extraction, work oxen in their small, well terraced and carefully tended fields. Praia is an old world city of great charm and very narrow streets which are hilly.

The writer has never seen a cleaner, neater town than Praia, nor a quieter, sleepier one.

It would be a marvelous place to recuperate from a nervous breakdown, in case you're planning on having one.

THE things you can buy in Praia for very little, indeed, are practically out of this world, as the boys say.

Swiss watches of intricate design and beautiful works; tweeds from Scotland; laces from various parts of Europe; leather goods from Portugal and Cordova; jewelry from Amsterdam and elsewhere, along with linens from various parts of the old world can be picked up for what to the American is a song.

The most frequently used medium of monetary exchange in Praia is the "escooder," as our young men call them, or the "escudo," as they really are. A buck American will get you $4.25 worth of "escooders" and what you can do with that much dough in Praia is practically disgraceful.

Fellow name of Edmund Cabral, who blushingly admits to being the best retail and manufacturing jeweler (he does it all by hand) in the world, as well as a watch repairman par excellence, gave us a regular chamber of commerce going over about the Azores in general and Praia in particular.

His graceful and delicate handiwork in the way of rings, bracelets, bangles, brooches, etc., would set Mrs. Lubbock's heart to racing and Edmund knows the history of his islands so well you'd think he was on hand to greet Columbus and his merry men when they landed there something like 452 years ago.

When things settle down in the world again, some smart American capital and operation could make any of the several cities in the Azores (spelled "Acores" over there) a great tourist Mecca.

Any weary soul looking for a nice place in which to do nothing couldn't pick a quieter, more peaceful spot than Praia.

Although the number of Americans attached to Lagens Field is small, as military installations go, our young men in uniform have brought to Praia its greatest period of boom business, so the natives like Americans very much.

See you there, maybe, in about 1952!

HAVE you gotten your poll tax receipt yet; or, if you're eligible, have you secured your exemption receipt?

This year is a big, "all out" political year. During the twelve-month we have just entered Texas citizens will be called up to express opinion by ballot on at least five occasions—more in the event of special elections.

A poll tax receipt costs only a dollar six-bits, which won't even buy a good steak these days, or eight gallons of gasoline. An exemption receipt "don't cost nuthin.," except a few minutes time which most people eligible for exemptions have plenty of.

Get set to vote.

Don't say you won't get eligible to exert the right of citizenship because you "don't believe in the poll tax." You probably don't like the income tax, either, but you pay it.

The right to vote is a valuable thing from many standpoints, not the least of which is the right to scratch thunder out of candidates you don't like.

The Plainsman will get his $1.75 worth out of the right to scratch the names of "Beautiful Beauford" Jester, "What-Price" Daniel and "Golden Boy" Shivers, even if they don't have any opposition.

Everybody in West Texas should get a poll tax or exemption receipt just to be able to pay their disrespects to those guys in return for the kicks in the teeth they gave us last August when ordered to do so by the University Gang!

LUBBOCK can well be proud of the never-ending procession of new buildings, or modernized older ones, such as the new home of the "Kuykendalderson" Chevrolet and the remodeled Baldridge bakery. But let it be known, too, that some of our neighboring cities are slicking up, too.

Outstanding among numerous improvements The Plainsman has seen over the area recently are the remodeled home of Eddie Warren's Dispatch, at Post, and the attractive new Esquire cafe, in Brownfield.

The Dispatch office is the slickest newspaper layout we've seen in West Texas and the Esquire cafe, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones, is not guilty of too much exaggeration in claiming to be "the most modern" layout of its kind West of Dallas."

BY DREW PEARSON: FARMERS' UNION BOSS WANTS TESTIMONY FROM PRESIDENT

General Accounting Office Unearths RFC Deals

WASHINGTON.—James Patton, rugged boss of the National Farmers' Union, urged President Truman to walk up to Congress some day just like any other American citizen and lay his views before a congressional committee.

PEARSON

"What you ought to do sometime," snorted the Colorado farm leader, "is take your hat in hand, walk up Pennsylvania avenue, go before a congressional committee and say, 'gentlemen, I am here to testify in the people's interest'."

The President smiled and shook his head.

"My most effective weapon," he disagreed, "is to stand before a mike and talk to the people."

"If you want to win the next election," persisted Patton, "you have to do more than talk. You have to dramatize your views. Instead of strolling on the White House lawn, stroll up Pennsylvania avenue with a purpose. It would be the first time since Jefferson that a President appeared personally before a congressional committee."

"Well," admitted Truman, "that would be rather dramatic."

More Rent Control

Washington's best friend of the real estate interests, gruff-talking Sen. Harry Cain, has been given the paradoxical chore of drafting a new rent-control law. An outspoken foe of rent control, a Senate subcommittee gave him the assignment of drafting the new bill. Immediately he hustled over to see Senate Boss Robert Taft.

"Let me get this clear," rasped Cain, "do you want legislation continuing rent controls?"

"Yes," said Taft.

"What kind of bill do you want?" Cain asked, bewildered.

"I can't say, Harry," replied Taft. "That is up to you."

So the senator who doesn't believe in rent control has been given the job—without guidance from the party bosses—to draft a bill continuing rent control. He will have to work fast. The present weakened rent-control bill expires February 29. Meanwhile, Senators Sparkman of Alabama and Myers of Pennsylvania, Democrats, have introduced rent-control bills with teeth.

FOR years Jesse Jones' Reconstruction Finance corporation was the one and only government agency not subject to scrutiny by the government accounting office. Lindsay Warren, eagle-eyed comptroller general and boss of the general accounting office did his best to have his auditors examine Jesse's books, but Jesse's pull on Capitol Hill was so strong that he remained exempt.

Now, however, Comptroller General finally has been able to probe certain operations by RFC subsidiaries. Simultaneously, indefatigable Congressman George Bender of Cleveland, Ohio, is planning to air certain deals that the general accounting office has unearthed. Here is the first:

The Andrews steel plant of Newport, Ky., is located along the Ohio river where it needs costly repairs every time the river is flooded. In 1942 it was owned by Lehman brothers, the New York banking firm, which sold it in 1943 to Paul Angell and Charles Stamm of Chicago, who had scarcely moved in before they threatened to close down unless the government took the plant over.

The Defense Plant corporation, a subsidiary of Jesse Jones' RFC, sent its assistant vice president, T. W. Atkins, to inspect the plant. He reported that it was run down, needed repairs and that no more than $472,890.68 of the total inventory was worth purchasing.

"It seems rather like economic suicide to carry on operations at Andrews steel," Atkins reported.

Who Was In The Woodpile?

However, Atkins was overruled. Someone up above took over the plant at terms virtually dictated by the company — namely $395,976 in management fees, $320,087 for repairs and $97,500 for office rental.

Atkins protested that the management fee was excessive and most of the repairs superfluous. But again he was overruled.

Later the Ohio river flooded the plant for nine days, just as Atkins predicted, costing the government $230,601 in damages. On top of this Defense Plant corporation purchased the inventory of the plant for $808,028.

As a result of all this, the plant did not reach capacity production until after V-E day. And shortly thereafter, the owners, Stamm and Angell wanted the plant and inventory back again. In fact they became so insistent that they threatened to assess storage charges if the government did not turn things back.

Finally without letting anyone else bid, the inventory was sold back to Stamm and Angell at the ridiculously low price of $313,559. It had cost the government $808,028.

All in all the taxpayers lost $2,000,000 and got nothing in return for putting the plant into running order.

So alert Congressman Bender wants to see who at the top was responsible.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN quietly called in his best friends on the House ways and means committee the other day to build up as much tax opposition as possible against bull-headed Chairman Harold Knutson of Minnesota.

The three ranking Democrats on the committee—Congressmen Robert Doughton of North Carolina, Jere Cooper of Tennessee and John Dingell of Michigan—were summoned urgently to the White House.

In forceful language, the President called upon them to throw their full weight behind his proposal for a $40 individual tax cut, to be paid out of increased corporation taxes. The value of government bonds must be maintained, he stressed, by paying off as much as possible on the public debt. That is the reason high-profit corporations must be taxed higher, he explained. Otherwise it would be impossible to give tax relief to the little fellows who need it most.

Truman argued that shifting $3,200,000,000 of the tax load from private individuals to big corporations would do nothing but lop off some excess profits. It would reach only into the heavy-profit field, he argued, affecting less than 25,000 of 100,000 corporations.

The President warned his callers to keep mum and let him make any statement to the press. Neither he nor the congressmen released anything.

Not On The Grounds Of Incompatibility

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WHAT'S the most important thing in the world to a woman?

MILLETT

For all too many women, it's a house. Not just any house. HER house. One that is just as good, or better, than the houses of her friends.

To such a woman, a house isn't just a house. It's a picture, and nothing should spoil its effect.

To make the picture perfect, and keep it that way, such a woman will spend every cent she can lay her hands on; she'll contrive and plan and scheme to have everything necessary.

That house is her background, and therein lies its importance. She figures that if her house looks like something out of a woman's magazine, and if it is kept always in shining order, it will win for her the envy, the admiration, and the respect she must have.

ADMIRATION REPAYS

IN another woman's admiring glance at her perfect living room, she is amply repaid for keeping her husband's nose to the grindstone for years so that she could make and keep her picture house perfect. She is repaid for all the work and worry that went into each purchase made.

And there are more women of this type today than you might guess. Unhappy, uncertain women, trying to win an enviable place for themselves in their little worlds by creating and maintaining a "perfect house."

The increase announced yesterday and effective Feb. 1 will bring the company's price to $2.75 a barrel, 10 cents above posted prices of major buyers. President J. D. Wrather, jr., said the increase was a "bonus."

Self-Named Thought Police Endanger American Liberty

WASHINGTON — The self-appointed Thought Police are on the loose again. Their attack this time is directed against a textbook on economics used in many of the leading universities of the country.

CHILDS

The attack began with the National Economic council, whose head, Merwin K. Hart, has been one of the principal American supporters of Spain's dictator, Franco. It took the form of a so-called review of the book—"The Elements of Economics," by Prof. Lorie Tarshis of Stanford university.

The review twists the meaning of the book to try to show that its author supports the government-spending theories of the late Lord Keynes. Therefore, the review concludes, the book must be subversive and un-American.

Wide circulation of this review through the mails was only the first step. In Arkansas, an American Legion post and something called the Arkansas Free Enterprise association have taken the next step. That is to demand an investigation of the textbook, which is used in economics classes at the University of Arkansas.

President Lewis W. Jones of the university replied that he thought the sanest procedure would be to submit the book to an impartial group capable of judging it, such as the American Economics association. He added that he saw nothing subversive or suspicious in the text, which he considered a thoroughly objective study of the economic system.

Freedom Endangered

Here is a pattern of behavior that endangers fundamental American freedoms of speech and thought. The concept of Thought Police, whether amateur or professional, is repugnant to free Americans.

The American Legion recently held here in Washington a counter-subversive seminar. Seventy-five representatives from Legion posts around the country attended the three-day session. They heard lectures by a number of so-called experts on Communism. It is interesting, incidentally, that among these experts are several men who were once Communists. Having at one time embraced a totalitarian faith, they now make a profession of denouncing it.

Seven state Legion organizations have held or will hold such seminars, taking their cue from the national organization. Both Georgia and Indiana have just had two-day sessions on subversion.

If one is to judge from the speech made by Georgia's Rep. James C. Davis at the meeting in Atlanta, it was given over entirely to the subversion of Communism. They might well have devoted part of their time to such home-grown subversion as the Ku Klux Klan. It is a fairly safe guess that there are more klansmen than Communists in Georgia.

Training Legionnaires to "spot and counter" subversive activities, as National Commander James F. O'Neil put it, is a hazardous business. The FBI gives its agents months of instruction in these matters, and they are told to avoid any possible infringement of fundamental rights of speech and thought. Yet here we have amateurs turned loose after two days to do something on their own.

An example of what this can mean occurred in California. At about the time the Legion was holding its counter-subversive seminar in Washington twenty-five men wearing legion hats bearing the insignia of Glendale, Cal., Post No. 127 invaded the meeting of a Democratic club and demanded that it break up immediately.

A slight error had been made. The club was duly chartered by the county Democratic Central committee. In the midst of the indignation and the corresponding embarrassment that followed, state Legion Commander Harry L. Foster condemned the act.

"THE rights of free speech and assembly," he said, and it these words in every Legion hall, might be a good idea to frame "are part of our cherished Bill of Rights and we of the Legion should be the first to insist on these rights. Should there be an unlawful meeting, it should be reported to the duly constituted civil authorities for their action."

U.S. milk production increased from about 20,841,000 quarts in 1889 to about 55,688,000 quarts in 1946.

Today's Journal Editorial

LET US BE TRUTHFUL!

Three hundred eighty-seven years ago today there was born in England a child who, upon reaching manhood, became known—and today still is remembered—As Sir Francis Bacon.

A man of letters in his own right, Bacon was a "big leaguer" in his day. But he wasn't the "all-time all-timer" one might think from the fact that he is more remembered today than other writers of his era whose talents were greater than his own.

Someone, somewhere down the line, got out the story that "there never was a William Shakespeare;" that "Bacon wrote all Shakespeare's stuff under the pen name of the non-existent Bard of Avon." Despite the fact that most, if not all, the world's outstanding authorities on Shakespearean literature have branded the story as completely false, the tale persists that "Bacon was Shakespeare, and Shakespeare was nobody."

The Journal, definitely, is not an authority on Shakespeare, or, for that matter, on topics Baconian.

To be perfectly honest about it all, we feel there are many questions of considerable more importance than whether Bacon, or Shakespeare, wrote "Hamlet," and all the rest of the works which have contributed so much to English letters.

But assuming that Shakespearean authorities are right and that Bacon wasn't Shakespeare in literary disguise, the anniversary of Sir Francis' birth today proves that a false story, no matter how expertly and publicly combatted, can never be entirely corrected.

Let's all tell the truth as often as we can!

Attlee Rejects Proposal For Meeting With Premier Stalin

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Britain's Socialist Prime Minister, Clement Attlee, used just one crisp sentence yesterday in rejecting a proposal in the House of Commons that he organize a meeting with President Truman, Premier Stalin and the heads of other Allied states in an effort to prevent further deterioration of the international situation. Said Mr. Attlee:

"While I am anxious to take any steps which might lead to improvement of the international situation, I do not feel that a conference of this kind would be likely to advance matters at present."

Reds Wage Offensive

Naturally one looks sympathetically on all legitimate efforts to further peace. However, this proposal by a member of Parliament strikes me (and apparently struck Mr. Attlee) as indicating a misunderstanding of the exact nature of the conflict between Russian and the Western Allies. Since that lack of understanding is widespread it's well that we take a look at it.

Why wouldn't such a conference "be likely to advance matters at present"? Well, the cold fact is that Soviet Russia is in process of waging an offensive against the Democracies for the spread of Communism, and hasn't the slightest idea of abandoning it. This column has emphasized that point before, but it takes a lot of repeating. So let's pin it down again.

We are in the midst of the world revolution which the Bolshevists projected when they won their revolt in 1947 and established a Soviet regime in Russia. A couple of years later they set up the Comintern, or General staff for world revolution, which was active until 1943 when Moscow announced that it was being abolished. The recently created Cominform, which comprises the Communist parties of nine European countries and was organized under direction of Russia, is widely believed to be in effect a revival of the Comintern. It's immediate object is announced as defeat of the Marshall plan for rehabilitation of Western Europe—a defeat which would advance the Red cause immeasurably.

How War Started

Don't forget that the last World war was precipitated when Moscow signed a non-aggression pact with Hitler, and they agreed in advance to divide Poland between them. Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop testified at his war crimes trial at Neurnberg that Moscow also offered to join Hitler against the Western Allies, but said that the Russian price was too much. Anyway the war started, but Hitler became suspicious of Moscow's intentions and attacked Russia.

The war created the European chaos which was exactly suited to the spread of Communism. Even before the conflict ended, Russia was busy establishing Communist governments in eastern European countries occupied by Soviet troops. As a matter of fact most of the Red advance was achieved by the time peace came. Since then Moscow has been consolidating that ground and laying plans for conquest of Western Europe.

The Twice-Told Tale

Do you think that the Soviet Union is going to halt her world revolution at this crucial stage? Not by a jug full! She is going to fight the Marshall plan with everything she has, and not until that plan has succeeded, and made Western Europe safe, will any conference among the Big Four chiefs of state be worth a moment's consideration. As a matter of fact any overtures by the Western Democracies now would look like appeasement and would do more harm than good.

So there's the twice-told tale, and if necessary this column will tell it again, because our security depends on recognition of these facts.

Cooper High School To Get PA System

A public address system for the Cooper High School auditorium will be formally presented in a ceremony at the school at 7 p. m. Friday. The equipment is a gift from members of the junior and senior classes.

The ceremony will be followed by a basketball game between the Cooper High school girls' team and a girl's team from Shallowater, a district 7-B contest. Boys' teams of the respective schools also will play a regular conference game.

Speakers for the presentation ceremony will be Roy Boyd, Lubbock county school superintendent, and Rep. Preston E. Smith, representative of the 119th district.

A representative from the junior and senior classes will make the presentation, with Wilbur Lemon, president of the Cooper School board, accepting on behalf of the school.

Death Penalty Asked In Rushing Trial

JASPER, Jan. 22 (AP)—District Attorney Robert W. Hillin said he would ask the death penalty when Clayton H. Rushing, 26, goes on trial here today in the flat iron slaying of his father, step-mother and half-brother.

Rushing will be tried first in the death of his half-brother, Woodrow Wilson Rushing, 12.

The battered bodies of the Rushing family were found in their farm home near here several weeks ago. A blood splattered flat iron was found in one of the bedrooms.

TAXES:

An Accounting Problem

Income is determined by account. So, accounting is at the root of income taxation.

Naturally, business has always turned to Certified Public Accountants for aid in preparing its income tax reports, and for assistance in settling disputed tax items with the government.

The government, too, welcomes the aid of CPAs in explaining to taxpayers the accounting requirements involved — as evidenced by the fact that the Treasury Department authorizes CPAs to represent clients in tax proceedings.

By assisting in the prompt payment of the right amount of taxes—corporate or individual—Certified Public Accountants help to reduce the cost of paying and collecting—the Nation's taxes.

Incumbent Member Of Congress Has Advantage Over Opponent

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

This is a tip to anybody planning to unseat a congressman.

Several Texans have announced recently that they are going to run against incumbent congressmen. The inference is that they plan to win.

Takes Lots Of Doing

Well, it can be done; it has been done. But it takes a lot of doing. If the incumbent doesn't have all the advantages, he has most of them.

The Hatch act notwithstanding, a pretty good machine is built by the congressman with appointments to postmaster and rural route delivery positions.

Although the law prohibits political activity by these employes, congressmen do not make enemies of the men they appoint to post-office jobs.

Another hill to buck if you want to run against the present congressman from your district is the franking privilege.

With the franking privilege, members can mail anything which they deem "official business" or which has appeared in the Congressional Record. Congressmen are allotted 25,000 envelopes per month for mailing documents. They can get more. Some do.

There is no law that keeps congressmen from making campaign speeches on the floor of the House or Senate. Once they have done it they can mail it to constituents absolutely free. Their name is on the envelope and in as many places as they wish to put it in the speech.

Has Other Advantages

Printing of such speeches is furnished by the government printing office at cost, which is at a price no commercial firm could touch.

Remember, if you're running against a congressman your printing is done only by commercial firms.

Remember, too, that the congressman has a pretty good office staff which spends much time working for the boss' re-election. The government doesn't pay you for campaign aides if you're trying to unseat a congressman.

And this is important: People who contribute money to political campaigns know all the above little angles. And they consider it good business to back a winner.

Pioneer Resident Of Bonham Passes Away

Survivors include his widow, 10 children, 23 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

More than half of British merchant ship tonnage was lost during World War II.

Telephone Workers Seek Wage Increase

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP) — The Southwestern Bell Telephone company will be presented with wage increase demands for 3,000 Dallas telephone workers before March 1, Ray Hackney, Texas chief of the Communications Workers of America union, has announced.

Hackney said the amount of increases sought is under discussion in Washington where chief negotiators from the independent union's various districts are meeting.

The union contract expires May 17.
