CONNOR MURDER SUSPECT JAILED CRAZED LOCKNEY MOTHER RUNS AMUCK

KILLS ONE CHILD HURTS ANOTHER THEN CUTS SELF

TEMPORARY DERANGEMENT OF MIND IS GIVEN AS CAUSE

(Special to the Daily Journal)
LOCKNEY, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Seddia Moore, wife of a Floyd county farmer, slashed the throats of her two children, one 3 years old, and the other 6, then attempted to commit suicide by cutting her own throat with a razor in the home of her brother, five miles south of here Saturday morning about 10:30 o'clock.
The older child died before members of the family in another part of the house, could reach here, but the other child and the mother have a fighting chance to recover, according to attending physicians, who said late Friday through the night, she probably Saturday night that if Mrs. Moore would recover. The condition of the younger child is very favorable for recovery, physicians said.
Think Mind Was Deranged
Temporary mental derangement, brought on by constant brooding over the condition of her husband, who is now in California undergoing treatment, under specialists, and worry claiming to be the cause of the derangement, were given as the cause of the deed.
Mrs. Moore was in the home of her brother, Ed Pratt, with whom she has been living for about a year during her husband's absence, and, according to a report, she called her two children into a small room in the back part of the house, where the tragedy was enacted unknown to members of Mr. Pratt's family until screams of the injured children arose there.
Brother Sees Tragedy
Mr. Pratt said that as he rushed into the room, he saw his sister slash her throat with the razor, and fall to the floor beside the two prostrate children.
The woman recounted the tragedy in incoherent statements as she hung to the head of the bed, and, claiming to be friends who visited her that "she was sorry her children had to suffer so," but at a late hour had made no definite statement as to the cause of her actions.
Pratt said his sister had been under a delusion for several days that someone was attempting to kidnap the children. Their father, W. Moore, a cripple, is in a California hospital. The family had lived in Lockney for several years. During the past 12 months they had made their home with Mrs. Moore's brother.

Millionaire Charles Garland And His Love Farm

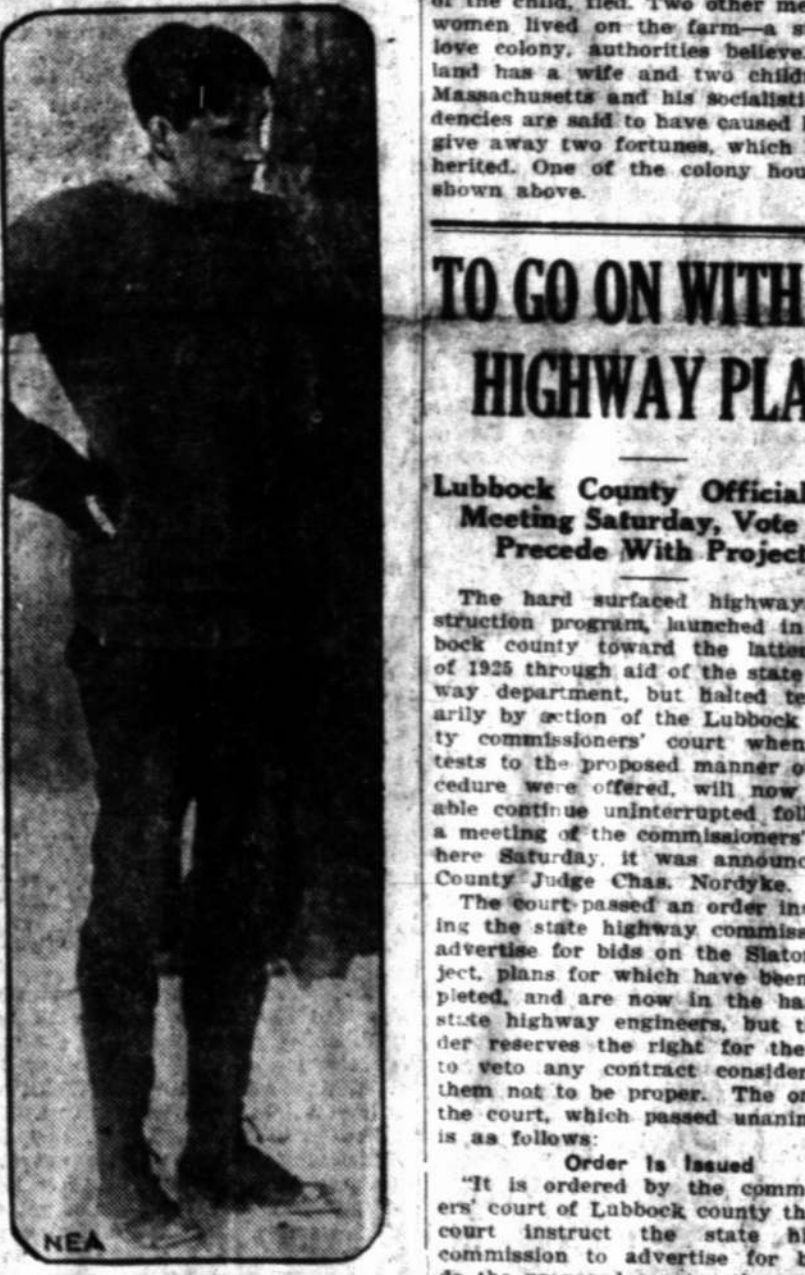

A new-born baby died at April Farm, a socialist colony near Allentown, Pennsylvania, Charles Garland, (Boston) millionaire radical and leader of the colony, signed certificates to the effect that he was father and physician to the child. He was arrested on statutory charges and Bettim Hovey, named in the warrant as mother of the child, fled. Two other men and women lived on the farm—a strange love colony, authorities believe. Garland has a wife and two children in Massachusetts and his socialist tendencies are said to have caused him to give away two fortunes, which he inherited. One of the colony houses is shown above.

MARTIN JURORS FAIL TO AGREE

Vote Stands Eight to Four to Convict Denton Man Is Unofficial Report

(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Jan. 16.—The W. A. Martin trial jury was discharged on a verdict of disagreement tonight after 20 hours of deliberation. According to unofficial statements, the vote never swung toward a verdict in either direction, being eight for conviction and four for acquittal practically the whole time.
Martin was charged specifically with robbery with firearms of A. H. Knox, cashier of the Krum Farmers & Merchants bank, on June 9, 1925. The family had lived in Lockney for several years. During the past 12 months they had made their home with Mrs. Moore's brother.
The state, represented by W. H. Tolbert, assistant district attorney of Tarrant county, Elbert Hooper, Denton county attorney, and Mark McClellan, former adjutant general and special prosecutor, attempted to show that Martin had been traced from Denton to Krum on the day of the robbery and hired a car for a percentage of the spoils. The defense offered an alibi, claiming Martin was in Denton at the time of the robbery. Martin already is under 99 years sentence for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff R. B. Parsons at Denton, having been convicted in Dallas on charge of venue.
Last Night in Fort Worth
Tonight was Martin's last night in Fort Worth for some time. He will be removed tomorrow to Belton, where he will be placed on trial Monday morning in connection with Holland bank robbery last year.
Henry C. Burnett, former County Clerk of Childress county, who suddenly disappeared from his home recently, is being sought throughout West Texas as a result of a $25,000 shortage in county funds uncovered by a grand jury investigation at Childress Thursday, according to an announcement at the office of Sheriff H. L. Johnston, here Saturday.
Sheriff John Conpton, of Childress county, and Deputy W. R. Merchant, left here Saturday morning after spending Friday night here in connection with the manhunt. They took with them an automobile that was driven from Childress by Burnett. The car had been stored at a local battery station on the night of December 23, the manager of the station told officers.
No clue as to the whereabouts of Burnett had been found late Saturday night. The Childress officers said he was accompanied by a woman companion.
BILLY ROSS, OF THE SOUTHWESTERN, was accompanied by W. R. Arnold, of the Southeast ward community; Douglas Pounds, of Acuff; and Pete Curraway, of Wolfarth, were among the business visitors here Saturday.

PERRY WILSON, WHO FIRST SAID HE WAS ROBBED AND BEATEN ON POST ROAD, DENIES STATEMENTS

J. F. FRYE, LOCAL TIRE MAN, SAYS YOUTH IS SAME BOY WHO WAS WITH TULIA AUTO DEALER JUST BEFORE MYSTERIOUS DEATH; GUILT DENIED

Perry Wilson, member of a prominent Randall county family, who first claimed to have been attacked, beaten and robbed by two unidentified white men on the highway between Southland and Post Thursday night is held in the county jail here for investigation in connection with the brutal murder of Fred Connor, well known automobile dealer of Tulia, last July, and when taken before J. F. Frye, local business man and long friend of the Connor family, who saw Connor and his companion here shortly before the tragedy, was identified as the man who was traveling with Connor when the two passed through here enroute to Tulia from Abilene.
He was brought here Saturday in the custody of Sheriff Ben Stewart, of Garza county, who after an investigation of the report of young Wilson as to the alleged attack upon him, showed an inclination to disbelieve the greater part of the story. Only a few minor scratches were found on his head, none of which would have caused much pain, officers said after an examination.
Under grilling at the hands of officers, led by County Attorney Owen McWhorter, Wilson refuted statements made to Garza county officials Friday in connection with the attack claimed to have been made upon him, and issued a blanket denial of all reports. He said that he was on the highway in the hope that some passing motorist would give him a lift in his effort to reach his home near Canyon.
Statements Fail To Coincide
Suspicious of officers who are investigating the case, Wilson refused to give a statement until mid-night. Wilson's statements in connection with his home and place of employment did not coincide. He was questioned some in regard to the case Saturday afternoon, but refused to discuss the matter, and the questioning, led by County Attorney Owen W. McWhorter, continued until mid-night Saturday night. The youth steadfastly refused to answer questions in connection with the case.
He was taken before Mr. Frye, who has repeatedly stated that he could identify the man who was with Connor at the time his car was serviced at his filling station here the evening before Connor's body was found. "He is the man," Mr. Frye told officers.
Finger Prints Are Probed
While Wilson was being severely grilled at the hands of officers, efforts were under way in the fingerprint department supervised by Mrs. Turner to PAGE 8, COL. 1. PLEASE

Painting Contract Let On Courthouse And Jail Buildings

The repainting and redecorating job on the Lubbock county courthouse and jail building, bids on which were received by the commissioners' court of the county Saturday, was awarded to H. P. Lehr, local paint contractor, it was announced by County Judge Chas. Nordyke Saturday evening. Mr. Lehr's bid was $1,623, including all labor and material.
The bids, of which there were six, ranged from the one accepted, which was the lowest, to $2,350, with a difference of approximately $500 between the bid accepted and the next lowest, the announcement said.
The work includes repainting and redecorating of the entire interior of the two buildings, including walls, ceilings and woodwork, the latter to be refinished outside. Everything except movable furniture in the building will be reworked, the specifications provide.
Mr. Lehr has already made bond for the job, and work will be started within the next few days. Judge Nordyke said.

COOLIDGE MAY BE GIVEN CONTROL OF MINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—After President Coolidge had been attacked and defended today in the Senate for enactment in the anthracite suspension an appeal was put forward that would give him full authority to bring about a resumption of mining.
It was the form of a joint resolution by Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, and would empower the president to seize the mines, fix the price of anthracite at the mines as well as wages of employees, and compensate the mine owners.
At the request of the author the measure was sent to the Interstate Commerce commission. The running fire of discussion as to whether the president can do anything now indicated rather widespread opposition to any such legislation.

Ma Gets Her Pen In Hand And Prisoners Are Aided Thereby

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—One condition of pardon, one furlough and three furlough extensions were granted today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.
E. A. Augurnot, sentenced from Potter County for bigamy, term not stated, was recipient of the conditional pardon. Clemency was recommended by the district attorney, who expressed doubt of guilt, by the sheriff, all members of the jury and a large number of other Potter county citizens.
BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 16. (AP)—Three Rio Grande Delta attorneys will participate in the Interstate Commerce commission hearing of oral arguments on the part of the Southern Pacific Lines to expend its San Antonio and Arkansas Pass Road in the Rio Grande Delta from Falfurrias. The hearing opens in Washington January 22.
Mayor A. B. Cole, of Brownsville, will represent Brownsville and Harlingen, and W. R. Montgomery, of Edinburg, will represent various Hidalgo county towns, all intervenors in favor of the granting of the application.
W. W. JOHNSON, OF THE McChung community, was a Lubbock business visitor on Saturday.

Auto Accident In City Puts Man In Hospital, Injured

D. Caldwell, well known local man, is in the West Texas Hospital here with injuries, the extent of which has not yet been determined, and Jack Tubbs is held in the city jail for questioning, as the result of an automobile accident in the business district of Lubbock about midnight Saturday night.
Caldwell sustained a back injury that has caused paralysis in his hips and lower limbs, but hospital attendants told the Daily Journal early this morning that it would not be known whether the injury will be permanent pending further developments.
The injured man was pinned under the machine when it overturned on the pavement.

If Dan Doesn't Run Irwin Will Contest For Texas Position

DALLAS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Representative T. K. Irwin, of Dallas, announced today that he would be a candidate for attorney general, provided Attorney General Dan Moody does not run for reelection. He said he would open his campaign in Huntsville at an early date.
Irwin gained statewide fame in the last legislature for his fight on alleged abuses in the state penitentiary system. He was a member of the house prison investigating committee. In the legislature he was a Ferguson supporter, voting and working for the Ferguson amnesty measure. Lately he has been a leader in demand for a special session of the legislature, growing out of the highway controversy.
SHERIFF A. B. STEWART, OF Garza county, was conferring with Lubbock county peace officers yesterday.

Slow Rainfall Hits Much of Texas Says Report Last Night

DALLAS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Slow rainfall with a gradual drop in temperatures was reported in the sections surrounding Wichita Falls, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, and Dallas Saturday night. Rain fell steadily all day at the points mentioned, while drizzles were reported at numerous other points in all parts of the state.
A steady downpour during the day at Georgetown ran the recorded precipitation, there to three inches and early tonight there was no indication of abatement. With both the north and south forks of the San Gabriel River, which converge at the city limits, showing a five-foot stage. The rain was the heaviest in two years.
At San Angelo it began raining at nine a. m. Saturday and late in the afternoon more than half-inch had fallen with the downpour continuing into the night.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

Senator Moses again attacked the world court proposal. Agriculture legislation was advised in both senate and house.
Governor Pinchot talked prohibition questions over with Secretary Hauser.
Senator Copeland introduced a resolution for seizure of the anthracite mines.
President Coolidge's tariff commission policies were assailed by Senator Norris.
The house approved debt settlements with Belgium, Rumania, Estonia, Latvia and Czechoslovakia.
The Watson-Parker railroad labor bill continued before the senate interstate commerce commission.
Senator LaFollette asked the senate to obtain state department information concerning recognition of Mexico.
The senate finance committee voted to reduce the surtax rates and for repeal of the inheritance tax.

Harry Meyers, Local Man Once Irving Berlin's Buddy; He Tells Of Early Days Of Songster King

Twenty three years ago, in the City of New York, two young boys were buddies—

They ran around with the same name, liked the same things and shared each other's joys and sorrows, just the same as many boys of Lubbock do today.

Those two boys are now separated by many miles, and which stretch across half the world, and one of them is Irving Berlin, the man who for years has been writing America's song hits. The other is Harry Meyers, of Lubbock, manager of the Jarrett Fashion shop.

Likes To Think Of Berlin Naturally Mr. Meyers likes to look back on the days when he and his friend—and they still friends stay through through the years they have been parted—enjoyed their boyhood days, but he rarely has much to say about it. The Daily Journal, however, has Mr. Meyers' story, and here it is:

Mr. Meyers, a Pennsylvania, moved to New York and became acquainted with Irving Berlin, then known as his real name, when he was a boy. He became chummy and, with other boys some of whom now have their names in the lights of Broadway as America's leading lightbulb favorites, used to get together over on the Old East Side of Gotham, and play harmonica and sing until far into the night. Even then Issie Baline was a favorite singer, even though it was just among his boy friends.

Had No Singing Voice "He hasn't any voice," Mr. Meyers recalls. "He never did have any. But he had then and still has the personality which it takes to put over popular music. Many a night we used to gather on the synagogue steps, over on the old East Side, and play and sing until the neighbors three water on us and got so mad that we had to stop."

The name and fame of "Little Issie Baline" spread over the East Side of Gotham and before long the boy was brought to the attention of "Nigger Mike" Salter, who operated a notorious dance hall and cabaret on Pell street, in the heart of New York's China Town. Salter, a famous Bowery character, hired "Little Issie" to sing and sing to his motley crew of customers. That was Issie's first public appearance as a musician—and he liked it.

Seeing the popularity of the little Jewish boy Jimmy Kelly, who ran a place even more notorious than was "Nigger Mike's," hired him to come to his dance hall, located on Doyer street, in the same China Town section. "Little Issie" went and with him went popularity.

Began Song Writing Gradually he expanded in his work and before long began writing popular songs. "Dorando," written in 1918, following the Olympic games, was the first song, and it took New York by storm. It had as its theme the incident in the Olympic games when Dorando, the Italian marathon star, fell just before the finish of the race, leading the field with only a few yards to go of victory. He was picked up and carried across the finish line by his countrymen. Just a few steps ahead of Johnny Hayes, the little red-headed Irish American, running under the colors of the United States. The song was the upshot of the protest which arose over Dorando being carried over the line. Mr. Meyers remembers the words and the tune of the song and can sing it—after a fashion.

As his popularity grew, and he began singing in the theaters and writing song hits after song hit, Baline changed his name to Irving Berlin, and by this cognomen he is known to America's popular song fans.

Is Rich Man Now Along with popularity came success and today "Little Issie Baline" is worth between five and seven millions in his own name. The country was started the other day with the announcement of his marriage, at thirty-seven, to Miss Elin Mackay daughter of the telegraph magnate, Clarence Mackay, one of the elite of America's "social four-hundred" and a close personal friend of the Vanderbilt family. The couple, as everyone knows, is now honey-mooning in Europe.

Berlin, and the name, by the way, is not pronounced as is the capital of Germany, but has the accent on the first syllable. Mr. Meyers says, is one of the most democratic of Broadway's favorites. He is not the son of a Jewish rabbi, as press reports stated, but is an orthodox Jew despite his marriage by a civil authority, to a member of the Catholic church.

Meyers Knows Celebrities of Mr. Meyers, who was once in the song publishing business in New York knows many other Broadway celebrities and belongs to the "Roxax club," the roster of which contains the names of many stage favorites. Mr. Meyers and Berlin were both charter members of the organization, which is still in organization and which was founded in 1916.

In addition to Berlin other prominent members of the club who were boyhood friends of Meyers and Berlin, are Eddie Cantor, Zeigfeld Folies star and the principal character in "Kid Boots," the great production of three seasons ago; Archie Gottler, who wrote "America, I Love You"; "I'm Glad My Wife Is in Europe" and many other song successes; and "George Price, one of the leading vaudeville attractions on the Big Time circuit. Mr. Meyers came to West Texas in 1916 and with a reputation of a star amateur lightweight boxer, has been prominent in officiating boxing and wrestling matches all over West Texas. He has also been active in theatrical productions and has been a great aid in the West Texas Little Theatre movement. He came to Lubbock several months ago as manager of the Jarrett Fashion shop.

Tech Faculty Enjoys Party At Local Club Last Friday Evening

Between ninety and one hundred guests enjoyed the lovely party Friday evening at the country club from eight to eleven.

A varied program commemorating the birthday of Robert Burns was thoroughly enjoyed and Prof. Wagborne who was in charge is to be congratulated for the interesting affair.

Scottish poems were read by Mr. Harrison and Miss Pirtle was a scream in the story of a journey recorded by her, taken by the faculty members, that was very clever.

An impromptu musical program directed by Prof. Wagborne was exceptionally entertaining and the Virginia Reel was danced to music by Prof. Wagborne and Miss Pirtle.

In the dining room lavender shades prevailed in decorations, gowns and refreshments, and plate favors of thistle, the Scotch flower, was appreciated.

Twenty guests at a time were served tea and coffee, poured by Mrs. Miller and Miss McGee, and "Scotties" cakes, cheese straws, frozen fruit salad in heather color and tiny sticks of lavender and pink candies made the tempting plate.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meador were present and extended the courtesies of the Country club to the Tech Faculty club. Senator and Mrs. Bledsoe, Mr. Upshaw and Mr. Jarrott of Amarillo were guests that delighted the club with their presence.

Mrs. Miller was general arranger, Mrs. Eagan, Mrs. Stangel, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Gates, Miss Boone and Miss McGee.

Clever cut-outs of Scottish verses decided dinner partners.

The dining table was beautiful with the silver tea service. Silver candlesticks with candles tied with big bows of lavender tulle. After refreshments, all gathered around the piano and enjoyed old songs and familiar airs.

I am glad to make the announcement of the following new books that have been received at the Library. This is a gift from a well known citizen, that is much appreciated and these will be very valuable books for the patrons of the Library. The collection is unique in that it deals with modern religious thought, but the romance is so thrilling and the story so well written, in such that the reader is fascinated throughout.

Sidney Watson is an English author, who died just recently, and the majority of these books are imported from London.

Mary Tinker, Mrs. S. C. Wilson, Mrs. H. A. Davidson, Mrs. W. A. Bowen, Mrs. E. L. Klett, Mrs. T. W. Thomas, Mrs. L. B. Wright, Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Mrs. G. M. Cooky, Mrs. J. F. Bacon, Mrs. F. Maddox, Mrs. M. F. Hillburn, Mrs. C. J. Wagner, Mrs. O. F. Sennabaugh, Mrs. A. W. McKee, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Mrs. W. B. Atkins, Mrs. J. L. Raitiff, Mrs. C. F. J. Stephens, Mrs. Jett Smyth and Mrs. L. C. Ellis.

Mrs. Bledsoe Honors Two Ladies With An Informal Gathering

Mrs. Bledsoe was pleasing hostess Wednesday evening at a bridge dinner, honoring Miss McCreary and Miss Whitley, members of the Tech faculty.

Beautiful red carnations helped to make the house more alluring and a color scheme of red and black. Tech colors, was carried out in the dinner.

The special feature of the lovely dinner menu was Singapore Salad and after this bridge was enjoyed. Hand-painted score cards with Spanish characters dressed in red sashes and scarves helped to further the college color scheme.

Mrs. Doak received a hand-painted pin tray for high score and Mrs. Du-honey received a hand-painted telephone pad for low.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Doak, Miss McCreary, Miss Whitley, Mrs. Wagoner, Miss Stafford, Mrs. W. Dooney, Dr. Patton, Dr. Phleger, Mr. Galbraith and Senator Bledsoe.

Merry Bidders Meet Friday With Two Of Members For Party

The Merry Bidders' club had an exceptionally enjoyable party Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Spikes and Mrs. E. P. Norwood at the latter's apartment on Main.

Floral decorations with roses and carnations were used advantageously throughout the rooms, that lent beauty and color.

Five tables were arranged for the game and interest was at its zenith during the entire time. Dainty candies were passed during the play.

A most tempting and delicious salad course was served to Mesdames Chipley, Nislar, W. R. Spencer, Denton, Campbell, Barr, Stevens, Friend, Maddox, Temple, Ellis, Wedemeyer, Probst, Allen, Swain, Garrison, Faye Sawyer, Add Clark, Trinkle, Moore and Bob Murray.

Cotter's Club Has Pleasant Time With Mr. and Mrs. Jarrott

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vickers on 12th, Mr. and Mrs. John Jarrott, received the Cotter's Club and a few guests. The hospitality of the charming hostess made the evening a very pleasant one, and games were never more fascinating.

Members, Mr. Wagborne delighted with piano selections, and was accompanied for several of the numbers.

Maxey Home Scene Of Party; Pleasant Time Is Reported

Mrs. F. A. Norman, Mrs. Walter Royalty and Mrs. J. E. Maxey entertained quite lavishly Friday, when two lovely 42 parties were given at the beautiful colonial home of the latter.

In the living room pink carnations and pink roses together with potted plants were used for decorations while the dining room was lovely and fragrant in the dining room.

In the afternoon Mrs. W. B. Atkins, Mrs. Rosella Rushing and Mrs. S. L. Miller graciously assisted the hostesses, while in the evening Mrs. Rushing and her daughter Miss Dorothy aided by Mrs. Homer Maxey assisted.

Hand-made roses and jangals in pink and yellow adorned the plate that bore the dainty refreshments of chicken salad, buttered celery sandwiches, cheese and pimento balls made with carrots topped with parsley, fruit cake, coffee with whipped cream and mints.

Stevens Class Meets With Mrs. Ferguson On Friday Afternoon

A meeting of the Stephens Memorial Sunday school class was held Friday afternoon at the home of the teacher, Mrs. W. S. Ferguson, 1516 16th street.

Potted, blooming poinsettias added color and beauty to the room, and a large attendance was present. Teachers from other classes of the Presbyterian church were also guests.

Mrs. W. O. Stevens And Visitor Go To Post For Week-End

Mrs. W. O. Stevens is in Post where she will spend the week with relatives and friends. She will be a guest at a series of parties honoring Mrs. J. P. Williams of Mineral Wells, who is also a pleasant visitor there.

Ide-A-While Bridge Club Sessions With Mrs. Barrier Thursday

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Paul Barrier delightfully entertained the Ide-A-While Bridge club.

Horn Residence Is Scene Of A Silver Tea For Tech YWCA

Members of the Y. W. C. A. Staff feel that the Silver Tea given Friday afternoon at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Horn, was a tremendous success financially, and visitors were very numerous during the entire afternoon.

Library Development In Texas During 1925 Shows Many Forward Steps; County And Tech Libraries Here Are Included

Texas has been very fortunate in 1925 in its library development. Four lovely library buildings have been completed. One of the most noteworthy events on the acceptance by the City Commissioners of Beaumont of a building to be remodeled into a library building and the agreement to vote annually a tax equivalent to $1 per capita for the maintenance of the library. Beaumont is thus the first city in Texas to put into effect the recommendation of the American Library Association that one dollar per capita be allowed for the support of every public library.

Another forward step in library progress is the recommendation of the State Committee on Classification and Application that high school libraries in Texas adopt the standards for library organization and equipment for secondary schools as proposed by the Joint Committee of the American Library Association and the National Educational Association. Among the other requirements in this recommendation is the employment of a professional librarian. It is up to each school to determine whether it will adopt this recommendation or not.

In reply to a request from the Library Journal of New York for the outstanding library events in Texas, Miss Octavia F. Rogan, State Librarian, summarized them as follows:

C. I. A. Students Plan To Walk More And Ride Less; Milady Must Keep Her Figure, They Say, And Reducing Is All The Rage

Always show the greatest alteration among first year students as a result. Seniors, on the other hand, like salads, vegetables, doughnuts and coffee. Miss Alken considers these safe and sane.

For those who find themselves succumbing to the combined forces of temptation and hunger during the first few days of their new era of eating, the C. I. A. dietitian advises eating fruit.

One hundred gallons of milk a day are used at Lowry Hall for approximately five hundred students. A pint a day may be tipped with impunity, according to the dietitian.

Candy, butter whipped cream, ice cream—these are the demons to be fought by the grim weapon of self-control. And never have they been so temptingly displayed in the various campus stores as since the advent of 1925.

Bulky foods, she avers, such as lettuce, spinach, cabbage, carrots, fruits and succulent vegetables should form the main items of diet for those women inclined toward a balloon effect.

Meanwhile the war in behalf of dapper figures shows little indication of lessening. Those whose corpulence is not concealed by the none too flowing folds of a blue chambray uniform have lifted their voices in a shout of "We will fight pounds to the death; starvation rather than avoidpou!"

News Notes From Seventh District Texas Federation Of Women's Clubs

Mrs. N. B. Price, president of Seventh District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, has returned to her home in Lubbock, filled with enthusiasm for the work and with hopes high for the very best of District conventions to be held in Childress, April 18, 20 and 21.

The board meeting will be held the afternoon of the 19th and a high tea will be given the board members immediately following. Presidents' evening on Monday evening, with the business beginning Tuesday morning.

branch library buildings in Houston; the erection and equipment of Goose Creek branch library building of Harris County Library, the building being a gift at an estimated cost between $4,000 and $10,000; plans accepted for a $49,000 building for the College of Industrial Arts, Denton; top floor of the new State Teachers College at Nacogdoches planned and equipped for a library in the main building of the Technological College at Lubbock, which opened in the fall; the settlement of the Beaumont controversy by means of which this city accepts a building from the late Captain Tyrrell meeting the condition of the donor's heirs that the city levy annually a tax which will be equivalent to the A. L. A. recommendation of $1.00 per capita; Lubbock County voted a county library to open early in 1926; the recommendation of the State Committee on Classification and application that High School Libraries in Texas adopt the Certain "Standard Library Organization and Equipment for Secondary Schools of different sizes," Texas being the first State in the south to make this recommendation; the inauguration of "News Notes," a quarterly bulletin of the Texas Library Association, by the past President Mrs. Maud D. Sullivan of El Paso; the gift of Mrs. Miriam Luther Stark to the University of Texas of $150,000 in cash with a provision that from time to time she will turn over some of her rare books and manuscripts, the estimated value of the total amount of her gift, including many art treasures, is believed to be one-half million and one million dollars.

Another step taken in library progress is the recommendation of the State Committee on Classification and Application that high school libraries in Texas adopt the standards for library organization and equipment for secondary schools as proposed by the Joint Committee of the American Library Association and the National Educational Association. Among the other requirements in this recommendation is the employment of a professional librarian. It is up to each school to determine whether it will adopt this recommendation or not.

In reply to a request from the Library Journal of New York for the outstanding library events in Texas, Miss Octavia F. Rogan, State Librarian, summarized them as follows:

Always show the greatest alteration among first year students as a result. Seniors, on the other hand, like salads, vegetables, doughnuts and coffee. Miss Alken considers these safe and sane.

For those who find themselves succumbing to the combined forces of temptation and hunger during the first few days of their new era of eating, the C. I. A. dietitian advises eating fruit.

One hundred gallons of milk a day are used at Lowry Hall for approximately five hundred students. A pint a day may be tipped with impunity, according to the dietitian.

Candy, butter whipped cream, ice cream—these are the demons to be fought by the grim weapon of self-control. And never have they been so temptingly displayed in the various campus stores as since the advent of 1925.

Bulky foods, she avers, such as lettuce, spinach, cabbage, carrots, fruits and succulent vegetables should form the main items of diet for those women inclined toward a balloon effect.

Meanwhile the war in behalf of dapper figures shows little indication of lessening. Those whose corpulence is not concealed by the none too flowing folds of a blue chambray uniform have lifted their voices in a shout of "We will fight pounds to the death; starvation rather than avoidpou!"

Mrs. W. C. Martin, of Dallas, state chairman of press and publicity, is perfecting a plan whereby a prize will be offered in each district of the Texas Federation, for the best feature article with a woman of that district as the subject. The writer must be a club woman, but the subject need not be. An added incentive for writing is that all prize-winners will be considered eligible to become "Pen-women," an honor much sought.

The articles will appear each month in the Texas Federation News. A prize is being offered again for the best year book, and it is hoped that the seventh district may carry the convention in Childress.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, of Canyon, is chairman of the program committee, with Mrs. W. B. Horvath of Childress as local member. These two will have entire charge of all programs except Fine Arts evening.

Just where the convention is to be held has not been decided, as Childress has so many lovely places to offer, and it is so hard to choose.

During Mrs. Price's brief visit to Childress she held a conference with representatives of the different departments of the Women's Department, in which many plans were laid for the success of the convention.

off the honor. To enter the lists the year book must be 7 1/2 by 7 inches, must contain Art, Federation Day and a year-day program, and names of the town and district must be placed on the back of the yearbook.

SEVERAL NEW DISTRICT CHAIRMEN APPOINTED

Mrs. W. E. Davis Sr., of Childress, is chairman of the Department of Gardens; and Mrs. Q. S. Barrett, of Childress, is chairman of Arts, Crafts and Pottery. Mrs. Dana Harmon Trent, of Lubbock, has been chosen as district chairman of Music. Mrs. Trent was recently appointed district chairman from the Texas Federation of Music clubs, and her work there and in the seventh district, T. F. W. C. will fit in nicely.

Only one department chairman is given each district by the Texas Federation, and that honor has been given Mrs. L. A. Wells, of Amarillo. She has been made chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources and is extremely well fitted for the work.

DELINQUENT DUES MUST BE PAID IMMEDIATELY

A plea is made by the state officials begging that delinquent dues be paid at once. This is imperative, as only those clubs whose state and district dues are paid are eligible to be listed in the new year book.

All material for the new year book must be assembled in a short time, and every club is asked to complete and correct the roster, and send to Mrs. C. M. Holt, Seventh District, Lubbock, Texas.

NEWS FROM THE CLUBS OF THE SEVENTH DISTRICT

The Athenaeum club, of Amarillo, recently gave an original program under the direction of Mrs. I. E. Cole, which was especially delightful. These programs feature each year's work, and are the means of each member finding out just what she can do. Two of the poems were of such excellence that they were published. All the members responded except three who were unable to attend the meeting.

The Women's Department club, of Childress, is delving confidently into high finance this year, having accumulated a debt of $2500. Most of the amount has been placed in lots, and the club women hope to profit by the rise in value.

The Delphian club, of Lubbock held an art exhibit Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, which was well patronized, not only by the people of Lubbock, but by the entire South Plains. The exhibit shown was sent out by Mrs. Carrie McLeod Grandhouse, of Fort Worth, and contains paintings by Texas artists, early Texas pottery and early American pottery. Many pictures and articles of interest were loaned by Lubbock people, also.

Let me again ask the co-operation of the clubs in sending news, and impress this fact that this column is for the distribution of news, and will be just what the clubs of the district make it.

THE FAMOUS BROWNFIELD BAND PUTS HORNS ON SHELF

BROWNFIELD, Tex., Jan. 16.—Brownfield's famous municipal band has been forced to disorganize. The organization of musicians, which has been one of the prides of the plains in musical circles is no more. The musicians have put away their horns and Director John S. Powell has put his baton away.

At the regular meeting of the organization recently the decision to disband was made by the musicians, due to the fact that there was no cooperation between the citizens of the city, and the Chamber of Commerce as far as the band was concerned. The musicians did not like the idea of quitting—but there wasn't anything else for them to do. At least that is their side of it.

Both Men Were Rebels
Both Coss and Torres were active in the revolution of Adolfo de La Huerta against the government of President Obregon. They have been in this country two or three years.
The immigration authorities explained that Torres had been taken in charge after he exceeded the six months' period allowed visiting aliens to remain in this country.
Torres demanded a hearing and on December 5, 1925, was granted sixty days within which to go to Cuba. Cuban officials refused to permit his entry and there was no alternative but to deport him to Mexico. The sixty day permit was circulated by the department of labor after it was notified by the Cuban government that Torres would not be permitted to land on the island it was declared.
Entered At El Paso
Friends of Coss declared today he entered this country at El Paso, had paid the head tax and complied with all immigration regulations. It was not known whether he had declared himself a political refugee. If he complied with the regulations he should be an immigrant, legally admitted, his friends contended.
Persons who have declared themselves political refugees whose life would be endangered if returned to their own country cannot be deported, it was said.
Friends of Coss said he would contest deportation. Their first effort would be to get him at liberty under bond.

DEAN LEIDIGH TO ADDRESS FARMERS SHORT COURSE

The International Harvester company in cooperation with the Lubbock chamber of commerce, the county agricultural and home demonstration agents, and the school of agriculture of the Tech will conduct a short course for the farmers of Lubbock county at Lubbock Jan. 28 and 29 inclusive. The course will be held at the First Baptist church and both morning and night courses will be given. Farmers and their families attending will be served meals at the church during the course.
The course will consist of lectures and motion pictures on farming and home making subjects. The International Harvester company is sending two men and a woman as lecturers, and Dean Leidigh of the school of agriculture will appear on the program. Prof. C. H. Matney is one on a committee on illustrative material. Students in the school of agriculture will be required to attend.

SENATORS BATTLE OVER PRO-LAW SATURDAY; MORRIS SHEPPARD HAS FLOOR IN DEFENSE OF DRY ACTS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The sixth anniversary of the ratification of the 18th amendment today was made the occasion for a prohibition fight today in the senate today with opponents of the Volstead act replying vigorously to claims of improved conditions in the country since the dry law became effective.
The debate was opened early in the afternoon by Senator Jones, republican, Washington, who defended the enforcement act and before it ended the night was well under way and the senate chamber had become almost deserted, only eight or 10 senators being on hand.
Sheppard Defends Pro Laws
Senators Jones and Sheppard, democrat, Texas, a dry leader, carried the burden of defending prohibition with the assistance occasionally of Senator Fess, republican, Ohio. Senators Edge, republican, New Jersey; Bruce, democrat, Maryland, and Broussard, democrat, Louisiana, moved vigorously to the offensive.
Sharp exchanges were frequent. Senator Fess said he wanted to amend the Volstead act, but only to make it more stringent, and that amendments to that end would be offered in due time. Senator Broussard wanted to know if the Ohio senator favored capital punishment for violations of the Volstead act.
Apparently some senators understood him to say that he would, but later he denied this, saying he thought the inquiry was as to whether he favored capital punishment for any crime.
"The record of what you said will show," retorted Senator Broussard, who declared Senator Fess was advocating a return to the ancient custom of hanging a man for stealing a loaf of bread.
Gary's Case Cited
When Senator Sheppard in his period anniversary address quoted Judge Elbert H. Gary, of the United States Steel corporation, as saying prohibition was a good thing, Senator Bruce inquired if Judge Gary did not drink himself, adding that it had been so stated without substantial denial.
"If Judge Gary the only man the senator knows who is in favor of prohibition for other people and drinks liquor himself," inquired Senator Broussard, democrat, South Carolina.
"I sometimes doubt that anybody conscientiously is in favor of prohibition except the senators from Texas and Washington," Senator Bruce replied.
Senators Sheppard and Jones drew a picture of marked economic and social improvement under prohibition, but Senator Edge painted a very different one. He declared the condi-

COOKS WHO LEARN BY RADIO WILL GRADUATE

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16 (AP).—A graduating class that numbers thousands of women, who will wear headsets and house dresses instead of the conventional cap and gown, will receive diplomas in a radio cooking school next Wednesday.
They have been close attendants of their radio sets from November 6 to December 15 while 12 broadcasting stations conducted the school.
Graduation was dependent upon preparing a certain number of recipes. Members of the class ranged in ages from 14 to 59, and one 59-year-old student will receive her first diploma. Special graduation exercises will be conducted and diplomas will be dispatched by mail to all those passing examinations.
Stations which have conducted the school are: WHT, Chicago; KFI, Los Angeles; WPT, Philadelphia; WGB, Buffalo; WEAR, Cleveland; WWJL, Detroit; WDAF, Kansas City and WCCO, St. Paul.

GENERAL FRANCISCO COSS, ONCE LEADER OF MEXICAN REBELS, IS HELD IN BEXAR COUNTY BASTILE

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 16.—While General Francisco Coss, former ranking military officer of the Carranzista army was being held in Bexar County jail by immigration authorities it was learned here today that General Manuel Demitro Torres, who was deported several days ago, had been taken to Torreon to be tried by a Mexican court.
The charge against General Torres was not known here but Captain William M. Hanson, inspection in charge of the 32nd district, immigration service, declared that Torres was arrested at the international line on the bridge between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo by Mexican officials, who said they were to take him to Torreon for trial.

No Bond Available
Coss still was held in jail in default of bond. Captain Hanson said arrangements for bond were being made and that he was confident Coss would be released from confinement in a day or two. The bond would be $500, he said.
All efforts of newspaper men to talk with Coss failed. It was declared to be contrary to the regulations of the immigration service to permit aliens being held to be interviewed.

Angelo Geologists Form Organization

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 16 (AP).—Fifty-two geologists, consulting with those of the major companies, organized the West Texas Geological Society at a dinner held at the St. Angelo hotel here Saturday. Headquarters for the society will be in San Angelo.
Dr. J. W. Beede, chief geologist for the Dixie Oil company, inc. in west Texas, was elected president and V. E. Cottingham, holding a similar position with the Roxana Petroleum company, was elected vice president. Miss H. T. Kniker, paleontologist with Ricker & Dodson, was elected secretary-treasurer.

For Success and Happiness

Lubbock Building & Loan Association

A fitting tribute to Benjamin Franklin, America's foremost advocate of Thrift, National Thrift Week starts with his birthday, Sunday, January 17. Monday is "National Thrift Day" and is designated to show that Thrift is not miserly; that real thrift shows the reward of good judgment.

Remember that the cardinal principle of thrift is not so much the saving, as spending and investing wisely. The rules for successful and happy life govern a place for spending and a place for giving.
Many persons have a mistaken conception of real thrift . . . Thrift is not a "penny-pinching" proposition but one of good common sense . . . Invest your money wisely, invest for the future, invest where your money is safe, where it will continually work for you.
We, the Lubbock Building and Loan Association, a home company, composed of home men and capital have one of the best and safest and most profitable investments that you can make—and the money stays here.
This institution has always made a 10% dividend, compounded semi-annually.
We have the welfare of this vicinity at heart—and have furnished our citizens a safe place for their savings.

FOUND AT LAST--- THE AVERAGE AMERICAN CITIZEN

MAN YOU'VE HEARD SO MUCH ABOUT LIVES IN TINY INDIANA TOWN

BY ROY J. GIBBONS

WHITEHALL, Ind., Jan. 16.—At last—that Average American Citizen you have heard so much about has been found.

He lives in this remote village of 50 inhabitants, eight miles from a railroad line.

He pays $3 a month rent for his home. He is married and has four children. He believes in God and says this country is the best in the world.

His name is Cecil Alfred Johnson. Besides being the closest resident to the national center of population, Johnson qualifies closely in all the characteristics the U. S. Census Bureau says the Average American Citizen must have.

The center of population of the United States is a big tree 1.9 miles west of Whitehall. Mathematicians have figured it out to a hair's breadth. It shifts from year to year. Johnson lives little more than a mile from the exact center.

What He Should Earn

The Average American should earn $2150. Johnson earns $2100.

The Average American should be about 26 years old and weigh 148½ pounds. His complexion should be "intermediate." He should be a mechanic.

Johnson is 28 and has four children instead of the required three, but the rest of the data fits him like a glove. Even his complexion and that of his wife fit the census requirements exactly.

Mrs. Average American is supposed to be a few months under 25. Mrs. Johnson is 25. Her height, weight and complexion are almost identical with those arrived at by the census bureau—statistics that were arrived at after examination of 2000 subjects whose forefathers had been Americans for three generations.

Farming ranks second to mechanical trades in the bureau's list of gainful occupations. Johnson has been a farmer, too, and right now occasionally pitches in when a neighbor needs a hand.

The chief aim of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson is to rear their children to useful citizenship. Neither has any use for rouge, powder or short skirts.

"The girls ought to rub some of the paint off so a fellow can see what he's getting," says Johnson.

Defends Prohibition

Johnson upholds the dry law and does not believe in its modification in the slightest degree.

"I've taken a drink or two," he says, "but liquor does no good. I guess we can get along without it. Besides there's too many automobiles nowadays."

Johnson, while he fails to get a kick out of politics, thinks President Coolidge is making good, although Johnson is a Democrat at heart.

And here is his philosophy of life:

"I only want money enough to get along on. What's money anyhow? I just want to lay away a little for a rainy day.

"I want the children to have a chance. That's why I live in this small town. I could make more money in a city.

"Success is not money. Success is having friends. I'd rather have my friends the 50 people who live in Whitehall than go to a city and slave for riches or fame.

"If you have friends and they love you and you love them, why, man, that's living."

Forecasting Of Farm Crop Prices To Be Next Subject For Research By Scientists, Oklahoma Man Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Prediction that forecasting of farm crop prices will be the next great subject for scientific investigation and research by the United States government, was made in a speech delivered here Thursday by Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, secretary of the Oklahoma Farmers-Stockman. Williams was to speak at the National Cooperative Marketing conference here.

"This is the only action that is likely to provide a permanent solution of the surplus question," Williams said. "When I think about the problem of the so-called surplus of farm crops, I sometimes wonder whether what we know about agricultural economics does not stand today in about the same rank with our knowledge of medicine in the seventeenth century," Williams said.

"In those days the symptom was observed and thought to be the disease. The symptom was treated, the disease ignored and sometimes the patient died, in which case the hand of God was clearly seen in the whole matter. "I suggest that the existence of a surplus in a symptom and not the disease itself. The disease is the lack of knowledge on the part of the farmers of America as to how much they should produce to actually meet the demands of the nation for food and clothing. It can be cured only by education of the individual farmers themselves.

"We might pass some sort of export law. We might protect home products behind a tariff wall. We might sell the existing surpluses for what they will bring. But neither the farmer, nor his politically-minded friends nor the ultimate consumer would ever be satisfied with any possible accomplishment of government in this regard. The final result would likely be still more burdensome surpluses and an increasing political strife between city and country which could not fail to harm both.

Cause of Surplus
"Surpluses exist because the farmers have been taught for generations that the only way for them to get more is to grow more. In practice they grow more and they get less. A reduction of three acres per man in the average of cotton in the south in 1925 would have put into the pockets of southern farmers at least $160,000,000 more than they actually did get for the larger crop and would have still furnished all the cotton that the world can conveniently use before another crop is picked and marketed.
"It is time for farmers to stop the old theory and take up the new, which is, that the way to get more is to do exactly what every city manufacturer does—produce what the consuming public needs and in the quantity needed."

Remedy Suggested
This could be done suggested Williams, by educating the farmer to next year's prospective price. "I think of new year's acreage in terms of 'Science has made long strides in recent years," he said, "toward estimating the affect of prices and prospective acreage. From the price this year, it is now possible to forecast accurately the acreage of next year and by other methods, to approximate the total yields and prospective prices of next year."

The government itself is now forecasting crop prices for as much as two years in advance and in a general way with such remarkable accuracy that any hog raiser anywhere can intelligently plan his business. It will not be long before similar forecasts can be issued for most of the staple crops.

RESTING PLACE OF PIONEER LEFT TO TRAMPS

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—The crack of the sutler's whip was music to W. M. McKee, Fort Worth pioneer, who married Miss Helen Daggett, member of the family of E. M. Daggett, whose portrait recently removed from the city manager's office here, caused an agitation that has not yet subsided.

Loving the old trails and old ways, McKee never became reconciled to advent of the iron horse, roaring and puffing across the prairies to which the sutler's train brought food, clothing and arms in the days when trains were not.

When the Texas and Pacific half a century ago bound Fort Worth to the effete East with bands of steel, McKee averted his face in disgust. Days picturesque and romantic, for him, were over. He sought a quiet nook in a little draw north of the city and built of native stone a resting place as far from the iron monster as he could place it. When he died he was buried there; his wife sleeping beside him. A little courtyard walled with the same stone guarded his mausoleum.

But progress had not done. There came other railroads. To the left of him the steel gang pierced the prairie to the northwest, laying rails of the Fort Worth and Denver City. To the right strode men plying rod and chain to mete out the path of the Rock Island. His stone retreat was girt with noisy steel.
Relatives and friends of the pioneer couple consulted, bowed to the inevitable and took up the bodies, reintering them in an established cemetery. The abandoned tomb was given over to bat and owl.

Yet in its very desolation the rock shelter became desirable again. Once more it housed restless souls, unbound by progress and convention. Vagabondia recognized a hostelry convenient to its path. It became a banquet hall for tramps, where mulligans might be enjoyed in peace and security from the elements.
The smoke of many feast fires has blackened the walls of the former charnel house. Cryptic signatures are cut into stone, the strange guests' register at a hotel Bohemia. The wanderer has found a caravansary in the desert of civilization.

A NEW TEACHER WILL BE IN charge of the first grade at K. Carter school, beginning with tomorrow morning. The addition this faculty of the school was made due to the heavy increase in the enrollment since the first of the school year. The new teacher will meet her classes in the morning sessions.

"We-el-l, you can kiss me just once."

"Top ho, Earl Blop, I hear you son is a college student."

PERSHING ON WAY BACK TO UNITED STATES

ARICA, Chile, Jan. 16. (AP)—General Pershing is returning to the United States without much hope that his successor, Major General Lanister, due in a few days, will soon see affairs so shape themselves that a plebiscite can be carried out in Arica and Tacna. He is said to feel that failure can be the only result unless there is a decided change in the conduct of the Chilean residents of this territory to bring about which a restraining influence by the representatives of their governments seems necessary.

President Coolidge's denial of Chile's appeal leaves the situation just as it was a month ago when the Chileans before appealing, frankly sought to end the plebiscite by withdrawing from the plebiscite commission. Rappings laid down by General Pershing, to which there was such a vehement objection on the part of the Chilean representative.

THE CIVIL CASE OF J. I. NOAH, versus Elmo Wall, which has been going on in District court for the past two days, was continued until tomorrow. Much new evidence is expected to be forthcoming tomorrow, court attaches say. The suit is on a college dormitory.

RAIN HALTS TEXAS OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

OAK CLIFF HIGH CAGER STARS JOIN LONGHORN BASKETEERS

FINAL ROUND IS SLATED FOR SUNDAY

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Play in the fifth Texas Open Golf Tournament was interrupted by rain today for the first time in the history of the event, and heavy downpour forced postponement until tomorrow of the final 36-hole round.

The rainfall ceased shortly after noon, but not until the torrents had flooded the Brackenridge park municipal links, leaving three inches of water on the temporary greens and as much in some of the traps. Men were put to work this afternoon getting the course in the best possible shape for Sunday, and tournament enthusiasts announced that play would start in the morning unless rain was falling at teeing off time, 9 o'clock.

Unfavorable weather tomorrow would prevent settling the question of the 1926 title until Monday.

Thirteen threesome had started down the fairways in a drible before the real storm broke and play for the day was called off at 10:45. The rain washed away, at least temporarily, the worries of young Harry Cooper, Dallas pro, who won the Los Angeles open last Sunday. He had gone three holes for 5-4-8, five strokes over par. The day's rest also gave Joe Kirkwood, of Australia, and William McWhorter, of Chicago, a chance to get into better form. The former had had luck yesterday, scoring 151 and "Smiling Bill" being handicapped by a slight flu attack. He finished yesterday with 152.

Records of Friday will stand. MacDonald Smith, of New York, is prime favorite for the title by reason of his 69-69-138 card of Friday, but he is being crowded by Bobby Cruickshank, of Chicago, with 141, and Geo. Howdin, of Cincinnati, the "dark horse" and Jack Burke, of Houston, both of whom scored 142 in the first 36 holes.

Extermination Of Deer Is Feared At Three Rivers

THREE RIVERS, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—Within 40 years it is predicted by sportsmen here, no deer will be left in this territory. This section has long been regarded as one of the best hunting grounds in the state.

During the past season more than 200 slain deer have been brought into or carried through Three Rivers, a count kept by a local sportsman shows. Many of the deer, he said, were killed by hunters from various parts of the state and were taken home, but hunters here who failed to get their limit were few.

Progress in agricultural development has resulted in scattering the game, especially deer, which are not nearly as numerous as in the previous season, hunters said.

SAM LANGFORD IS SUPPLIED WITH BLUDGEONS

Elton (Sam) Langford, Lubbock's own contribution to the major leagues, has some new bats and he aims to make merry with them at the expense of American league hurlers throughout the coming campaign.

And judging from the way Sam has handled the horsehide in every league that he has visited Herb Pennock, Walter Johnson and some of the rest of the fingers in Dan Johnson's circuit had better look out. And the same applies to Urban (Red) Faber, who recently had his tonsils cut out in an endeavor to add a little strength to his already good right arm.

To Leave About Feb. 1st.

Some time back Sam ordered some bats. Yes—they're Louisville Sluggers, of course, and he has 'em safely put away in the kitchen of the Busy Bee cafe for seasoning—not to be removed until he grabs a rattler for Georgetown, his old home, somewhere around the first of February.

He plans to go to the old home town, get around some home cooking and hobnob with the natives before leaving for New Orleans, where the Red Sox, the club which purchased him Dec. 26, in the Western circuit, will train. The Southwestern university line, at Georgetown, will get into training about the first of February, and Sam figures to don a rubber sweat shirt and work out with the college boys so he'll be in tip-top shape when he joins Leo Foh's outfit in the Crescent City. And when he does join the Sox, he'll then tell that's a story that will be told later.

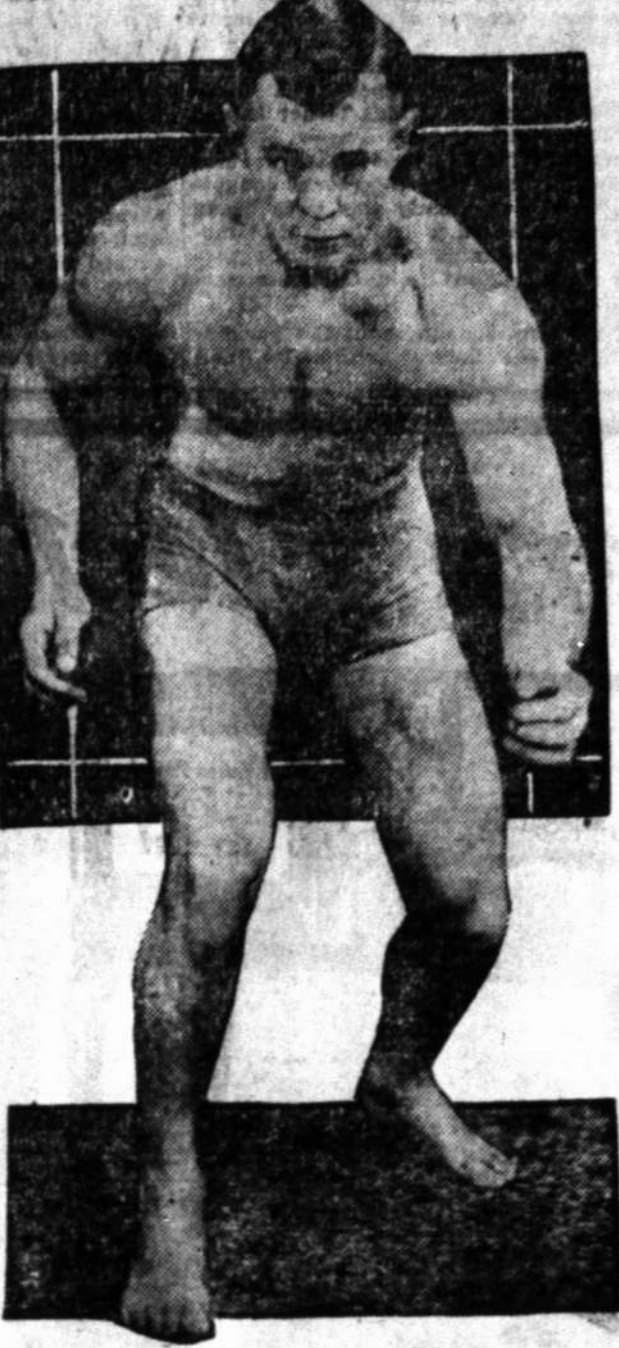

is His Second Call.

This year will not be Sam's first shot at the big-time, he having joined the New York Yankees following his appearance here in 1922. However, this will be his first real shot at a chance to stick, because when he was first sold into fast company he had only one year of professional baseball, and that in Class D circuit, under his belt.

But anyway, Sam has some new bludgeons—and if he doesn't make the one ring in the American league at Jolly old Boston, it'll be because the same in the vicinity of the Bean Center just won't ring.

Here's Chance to Win $5000

Step this way all you wrestling wizards! That is, if you're interested in winning 5000 smackers. For money belongs to you—providing you can throw Mr. Joe Malcewicz, mighty matman of Utica, N. Y. Malcewicz has this sum posted in Boston promotion. It has been posted for several months, and though the big Polo has taken on some tough grapplers of late, he still has the $5000. There are no strings to Malcewicz's offer, either. He bars no one, not even the stellar Stecher or the Hon. Mr. Lewis. Malcewicz is the exponent of the terrible reverse flying mare, a hold developed as a break and counter for the headlock. It consists of allowing an opponent to secure a headlock. Malcewicz then grasps the rival about the waist, hoisting him over backward to the mat.

PROPOSAL OF SKIPPER SLED TO JOIN SPUDDERS IS HAILED WITH DELIGHT BY WRITERS AND FANS

News is now being noised about through the state of the probability that skipper Sled Allen, veteran baseball man, is to go to the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league the coming season, and evidently the contemplated actions of the local man are meeting with a great deal of favor among fans and participants in the class A circuit.

Flem R. Hall, writing in the Star-Telegram pays high tribute to Sled, not only as a baseball man, but cites him as of the highest type of citizen, saying that if he signs with the Spudders as contemplated, the action will bring back to the Texas league one of the best known and most colorful catchers ever to perform in the Lone Star state.

Other Writers Join Chorus.

Other sports writers over the state have joined in the chorus of congratulations to Manager Fred Brainerd and Spudder officials for their efforts to secure the services of the well known trainer of young pitchers, but it was stated by skipper Sled Saturday that he has not yet signed with the Spudders, and will not sign pending a conference of manager Brainerd and the president of the club some time before the first of February.

The skipper is frank to admit that the proposition has not yet reached the proximity of actual terms, and says that it is not his intention to leave amateur ball on the South Plains. His plans to join the Spudders during the training season, if proper agreement can be made, but has expressed the wish to return here toward the first part of April, after which he will again be active in the amateur field here.

Denver Tourney Recalled.

In connection with amateur ball, it is of much interest to local fans that the people of Denver, and other localities have not yet forgotten the performances of the Lubbock club in winning final honors in the tenth annual tournament held at Denver last summer.

In an article appearing in the New Year's edition of the Denver Post, which paper sponsors the tournament annually, the writer, speaking retrospectively of 1925, again brings vividly to mind the fight offered by "a little town down in the Panhandle of Texas" during the tournament, and recounts in no uncertain terms that the team managed by skipper Sled was by far the best all around ball club offered in the competition.

"The team grew better the more it played," the article states, "and at the finish was probably the second best team that every played in the tournament. A few critics were almost inclined to put it on par with the great Rapid City, S. D. club, winner in 1920."

Underhill Lauded.

The writer is high in his praise of the work of Vernon Underhill, whom he styles as the 19-year-old wizard, in opposing Lyle Bigbee, pitcher for Paro, and former Philadelphia Athletic twirler.

And this again brings on more talk for young Underhill is now being sought by professional clubs, from class D to the Majors, the highest that any ball player can go. On the heels of the recent announcement that the Wichita Falls Spudders are making a bid for Underhill, comes a second request from Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, seeking information about the youngster. Griffith is insistent that Underhill be given a trial with the Senators the coming spring.

Billy Evans Says

ERNIE JOHNSON'S SMALL HANDS CAUSE OF HIS DROP BACK TO MINORS

Ernie Johnson, utility infielder of the New York Americans, is to go back to the minors as player manager of a Pacific coast league club.

Strangely enough he came from just such a berth when he joined the Chicago White Sox. At that time he managed and played short for Salt Lake City.

Undoubtedly a bad pair of hands kept Johnson from being a big league star. In baseball, bad hands have a rather peculiar significance. For instance, small hands are bad hands in baseball.

When a player is spoken of as having a great pair of hands, it can be taken for granted they are large. Big hands are a distinct advantage in baseball. They tend to make the player a much surer fielder.

Few major league ball players have smaller hands than Ernie Johnson. Small hands as a rule cause a player to have the costly fault of juggling hard hit ground balls. That was Johnson.

Johnson is a smart ball player. He is fast, a good baserunner and a mighty dangerous man at the plate. He's tough in the pinch.

PINCH HITTER ROLE

While Johnson at various times filled in as substitute for short intervals, his greatest asset was the ability to hit in a pinch. For the past two years he earned most of his salary in that capacity.

Season before last, Johnson, in a run of 15 times at bat as pinch hitter, managed to get the ball safely a dozen times. That's close to a record.

Last year, while not so successful, his pinch hitting average was still considerably better than his mark as a regular player. On four different occasions in games in which I umpired, I saw him come through, twice for doubles and as many times for home runs.

I once asked Johnson if he had any pet theories on pinch hitting.

"The only one is to hit the cripple. Work the pitcher, get him in the hole, and knowing he is going to try to come over with the next one, take a healthy swing if it is anywhere near the plate."

In Johnson's opinion too many pinch hitters fail to do the very thing that are sent to the plate for—hit. Getting the pitcher in the hole, instead of whaling away at the cripple they start to think about a base on ball.

VISITING GOLFER WILL EXHIBIT SKILL

Whenever a man shoots eighteen holes on a strange course just two strokes above par he's a pretty fair golfer!

At least that is the consensus of opinion among Lubbock devotees of the Scotch pastime.

Douglas Herring, formerly of Waterloo, is a pretty fair sort of a golfer, because that's what he did here three days ago, on the country club links. Anybody who has been reading about Texas golf tournaments during the past several years will greet the name of Douglas Herring as that of an old friend for he has consistently finished in the money whenever he has teed-off in a big come one, come all, golf gathering.

He Contests Local Dubs.

Mr. Herring, who is now calling Amarillo home, dropped into town the other day and met up with his old friend Horace Nelms, who, Dame Rumor has it, is somewhat of a golf bug himself. With an afternoon open they made for the links, taking with them Ross Allison McWhorter, and made up what the local talent expected would be a pleasant three-some. After teeing off on number one, however, it was plain to be seen that Messrs. McWhorter and Nelms were going to be treated to a few fine points of the game—free—for nothing.

Mr. Herring, who by the way had never played on cotton seed greens before, hung up a 74 on eighteen holes. While Messrs. McWhorter and Nelms refused to make a statement concerning their scores it is believed that the visitor finished a little better than they did. Par on the course is 74.

Mr. Herring, who now represents the India Rubber company in Amarillo, will give an exhibition on the country club links this afternoon. It is expected that Henry McLaerty, Duke Germany, John Pennell and some of the other local Bobby Joneses and Jay Kirkwoods, will be on hand to get a few new ideas on golf and how she is did.

T. C. U. Christians Avenge Defeat Of Centenary 35 to 13

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16. (AP)—T. C. U. turned the tables on the Centenary Gentlemen here tonight and avenged their defeat of Friday night by soundly trouncing the Louisianians, 35 to 13. The Horned Frogs got away to a flying start and amassed eleven points before the visitors were able to locate

PROSPECTS FOR FUTURE LOOM BRIGHT

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—Joe King and "Ox" Higgins, Dallas, who were important factors in winning of the state high school basketball championship in 1923 and 1924 by Dallas Oak Cliff high school, are now members of the Texas university Longhorn court squad. They are playing their first year of college basketball and before finishing their college careers, likely will be instrumental in bringing a southwest conference basketball title to Texas university.

King is a member of the first string five, being equally at home at forward or guard. King is a splendid shot and a wonderful dribbler; he is experiencing considerable trouble, however, in getting on to Coach "Doc" Stewart's system of play which practically bans dribbling.

Higgins is a substitute guard, but is certain to see enough action to win his letter. He is fast, powerful and tenacious. If Higgins had a bit keener eye for the hoop, he probably would be a member of the first quintet.

Dallas is well represented on the basketball squad, as Johnny Estes, former Dallas Forest avenue student, is a member of the first string combination. Just now Estes is handicapped by a sprained ankle, but he is certain to appear regularly in the starting lineup within the near future. Estes was captain and star of the 1925 freshman quintet and is one of the most promising young players in the conference. He does everything well, and has an astounding amount of endurance.

King, Higgins and Estes won their letters in football last fall, and are being counted on to render valuable service on the 1926 eleven by Coach Stewart.

King, substitute quarterback of '25, is expected to be the first string quarterback in 1926, though he will have to best out Ed Euselar, Beaumont, captain of the 1925 freshman eleven and a most capable gridster. King knows football and knows how to get the best out of the team under his call.

Higgins, outstanding tackle of the Longhorns this past fall when playing his first season for the Steers, should win all-conference honors next fall. In 1925, he was handicapped by illness and was 15 pounds below normal weight.

Estes, brilliant young halfback who served in the substitute role in '25, is practically certain to be a regular in 1926.

GIANTS ARE DEFEATED

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 16. (AP)—After trailing for three periods the Coral Gables Collectives today defeated the New York Giants 14 to 13, in a professional football game.

There really is no more difficult role in baseball than that of the pinch hitter.

In these days of specialists it is the desire of every manager that he have a competent right and left-handed batter to use in the pinch.

Tanked suddenly from the bench, with no opportunity to look over a few pitches, facing some star pitcher going at top speed, in a tense situation, the pinch hitting job is far from an enviable one.

Using a pinch hitter is a pure gamble. However, the success or failure of the pinch hitter can make the manager look like a wise guy or a dab.

Optimists suggesters are not good pinch hitters. It is doubtful if Babe Ruth would ever shine in such a role. The slugger likes to swing and is generally a sucker for a wise pitcher because of his anxiety to hit.

Batters with a good eye, the faculty of waiting the pitcher out and then taking advantage of it by whaling away at the cripple, as in Ernie Johnson, make the best pinch hitters.

"Red" Grange's Bears Beat Los Angeles 17-7

LOS ANGELES, Coliseum, Jan. 16. (AP)—Harold (Red) Grange's Chicago Bears defeated the Los Angeles Tigers, 17 to 7, here today in the West's first professional football game. The galloping ghost of Illinois was probably outshone, however, by the leader of the western team, George Wilson, University of Washington star.

Fears Mother Would Not Believe Him So Man Kills Himself

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Fearing his mother would doubt a story that pickpockets had relieved him of his cash and order him from home, caused Marion Moore, 36, of Abbeville, to attempt suicide today, police said, at Royal and Canal streets. Moore was registering a robbery complaint to a traffic policeman when he swallowed a small portion of poison. Hospital authorities say his condition is not serious.

FORMER SOLON TO BE GOOD JAIL BIRD

(By Associated Press) ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—Prisoner number 21,516, former Congressman W. S. Longley, of Kentucky, tonight had served the first day of a two-year sentence in the Atlanta federal prison, imposed upon him for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

Accompanied by Roy B. Williams, chief United States marshal, for the eastern district of Kentucky, the former congressman arrived here early today. Brief formalities of "checking in" were quickly completed and Longley lost his identity behind a prison number and became one of the inmates of the gray walled prison.

To Make Good Record
"I am going to do my best to make a good record," said the prisoner, as the gates were closed on him, "and I have not given up hope of getting my situation clear up before long."

With two other defendants the former congressman was convicted for conspiracy to violate the prohibition act for the alleged removal of 12,000 cases of whiskey from the Bell of Anderson distillery, near Lawrenceburg, Ky., two years ago.

State Is Ready For Highway Hearing On Monday, Says Moody

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—The state will be ready Monday morning when hearing on defendants' pleas of privilege in the state's $241,000 highway suit against the Hoffman Construction company, Eastland, is called in the 53rd district court here, Attorney General Dan Moody said late today. Individual defendants and the defendant company contend they must be sued in counties of residence and not in Travis County.

Should the pleas be denied by Judge George Calhoun, the state will seek to have the case go to trial on its merits.

RADIO TEST SUIT TO COME UP FOR FIRST TIME

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The right of the federal government to regulate the use of the air for broadcasting by radio stations was brought to the test for the first time today with the receipt in Chicago of orders from Attorney General Sargent to prosecute the Zenith Radio Corporation, operators of station WJAZ, for usurping a wave length assigned to a Canadian station, but which is not in use.

The Zenith station, assigned a wave length of 322.4 meters by the government, in its efforts to prevent congestion of the air, early this week began broadcasting on a length of 328.5 meters, which, under international agreement, is assigned to a Canadian station.

This was done without the permission of the federal authorities, and brought prompt action from Washington, District Attorney E. A. Olson tonight said. The offenders would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, if there is any law to fit the case, he said.

Government officials pointed out that due to the rapid increase in the number of broadcasting stations, it will be necessary to check this first attempt to ignore the right of the government to assign wave lengths.

Littlefield Girl Dies Enroute Here

Edna Mae McKnight, aged eight, who died while being brought to Lubbock for treatment Friday, was buried yesterday in her home in Littlefield. According to information issued by Hogan and Burrus, local morticians, the child was suffering from leakage of the heart, which proved fatal before medical aid could be reached in Lubbock.

The child is the daughter of the operator of a Littlefield hotel. Funeral services were held in the Lamb county city yesterday.

Nebraska Senator Attacks Coolidge For Appointments

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—President Coolidge was charged in the Senate today by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, with violating the laws of the land through secret understanding with his appointees to independent commissions.

Speaking in behalf of resolutions for the investigation of the tariff commission, Senator Norris declared that the President belonged to the group that believed the commission should be used for partisan purposes, and that he had used his high office to misconstrue the letter and spirit of the tariff.

Cheer—in these vaudeville shows, everything depends upon the girl's clothes.
Nuts—Not much to depend upon.

PERRY WILSON IS HELD BY LOCAL OFFICIALS

Tom Cannon to establish further identification. Finger prints had been taken from the car in which Conner is believed to have been killed. The findings of Mrs. Cannon had not been disclosed at a late hour Saturday night.

Some of Wilson's stories in connection with the alleged attack on him, or with his whereabouts at the time of the Conner murder coincide in the least. Attorney McWhorter said Saturday night. He claims to have been employed as a cook in the Amarillo Hotel at the time of Conner's death. Information received at the office of Attorney McWhorter Saturday night from the management of the Amarillo institution is directly contrary to this statement. Records there, however, disclose the fact that a man by the same name was in the employ of the hotel in August. Conner was killed the night of July 14, 1925.

Conner's body was found on the edge of the Lubbock-Amarillo highway about twelve miles south of Tulsa, his home, on the morning of July 17, and postmortem examination revealed that he had either been killed and thrown from the car while it was in motion, or slugged, thrown out and left to die. Between $400 and $500 in currency, which he is known to have been carrying after closing a deal for an automobile that day, had been taken from his pockets.

Automobile tracks near the scene indicated that the slayer had turned back south after the deed, and officers throughout West Texas joined in the man hunt. The blood-spattered car in which Conner and an unknown young man was seen here the evening before he was killed was found the following day at Slaton.

Several reports were later picked up in various parts of the state, but all established innocence.

Wilson will be held here in the county jail pending further investigation of the case, officers said.

East Texas School People In Session

GREENVILLE, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—In the presence of probably one of the greatest gatherings of Texas educators ever assembled in the state for a similar occasion, S. H. Whitely was installed as president of the East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce this afternoon.

Martin can not be tried here again for some months, it appears, the criminal docket being full until some time in March. After all cases now pending are disposed of, he will be brought back here for retrial on the charge which today resulted in a disagreement. It was announced by Tolbert tonight.

Appeal Is Filed

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—W. A. Martin, on trial at Fort Worth on charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the daylight holdup of the Krum bank last June, today filed in the court of criminal appeals an appeal of a murder life sentence. Martin was sentenced from Dallas county to 99 years for murder in connection with slaying Aug. 6, 1925, in Denton county, of R. E. Parsons, Denton peace officer. On Martin's application the case was tried in Dallas, rather than in Denton county.

TO GO ON WITH HIGHWAY PLANS

latter part of the coming week. A period of two weeks is required for the advertising procedure.

Plans Are Explained
Plans on the Slaton project, which is one of the four proposed in this county, call for the laying of caliche on the highway between Lubbock and Slaton, with half of the expense to be borne by the state and the other half by the county. State funds for the four projects have already been set aside in the amount of $200,000, and have been available for some time.

The program was halted by recent action of the court here in protesting what was charged as full supervision over contract awards by the state, the court here demanding that it have equal voice with the state in the award.

Plans on the Slaton project have been given final approval of the state department, and the laying of dirt is expected to get under way within a period of 30 or 40 days.

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—Application of the Abilene and Southern Railway for discontinuance of the operation of the motor cars on the line, was granted today by the Texas Railroad commission. The company lost $26,000 last year through motor car operation. J. B. Shackerford, general freight and passenger agent, testified at the hearing Thursday.

FARMERS' SHORT COURSE IS TO BE BIG AFFAIR IS OPINION OF HEAD OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

INVITATIONS TO BIG MEETING TO BE HELD LATE THIS MONTH ARE BEING ISSUED TO CITIZENS ALL OVER SOUTH PLAINS

The farmers' short course which the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring for January 28 and 29 bids fair to be one of the most important meetings of its kind ever held in this section, according to W. B. Atkins, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Invitations have been extended to all South Plains citizens in Lubbock and surrounding counties to attend the meetings when three experienced out-of-town speakers and four local men will address the audience on diversified farming which is expected to be of much benefit to South Plains farmers. A number of letters have been received from county agents, Chamber of Commerce secretaries and other men in surrounding counties stating that a number of farmers would attend the short course from their locality.

People interested. D. E. Eaton, county agent and Miss Lela B. DuBose, home demonstration agent of Lubbock county stated today that the people of this county are intensely interested in the educational meeting and that a good attendance from the rural districts of Lubbock county could be depended upon.

All the committees to make local arrangements and to see that a good attendance is assured for the meeting, have been appointed by D. F. Eaton, executive chairman who reports all committees except two have met and are hard at work.

Committee Meets. The school committee composed of M. H. Duncan, Lubbock, chairman; P. F. Brown, Lubbock; C. L. Sone, Slaton; H. J. Jackson, Idalou; Robert E. Lee, Shallowater; Lee Fulton, Wolffarth; A. J. Ammons, Lubbock, met this morning. All the school children of this county will be given an opportunity to attend the meeting according to action taken by the committee.

The women's committee which will arrange for the program for the ladies and will be responsible for a good attendance of the housewives was appointed yesterday with Mrs. W. H. Bledson, of Lubbock, as chairman. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. Ed. Schroeder, Wolffarth; Mrs.

C. C. Wicker, Slaton; Mrs. Geo. Hall, Slaton; Mrs. R. E. Lee, County Line; Mrs. Geo. L. Yates, Idalou; Mrs. T. R. Kincaid, Shallowater; Mrs. Frank Bledson, Becton; Mrs. P. G. Boyd, Lubbock; Mrs. W. O. Shelley, Lubbock; and Miss Lela B. DuBose, Lubbock.

METHODISTS PLAN DISTRICT MEET HERE TUESDAY

The district stewards of the Lubbock district, Methodist Episcopal Church South, will meet in annual session here Tuesday, it was announced Saturday by Rev. D. B. Doak, Presiding Elder of the Lubbock district.

Plans are now underway for the entertainment of the visitors at a luncheon that probably will be held in the basement of the Leader building. Rev. Doak is now completing arrangements for this, and hopes to have one of the ladies organizations of the city to serve the luncheon.

The Lubbock district is composed of thirteen counties, and each pastoral charge in the district is expected to have representation at the meeting. Arrangements are being made to care for approximately 60 people.

General matters of business will come before the body for discussion, the most of which are of a routine nature, such as fixing the salary for the presiding elder, and other district officials, but several addresses that will be of much interest are being planned.

DEEL RIO—James A. Dunn, 32 brakeman, was killed at noon Saturday in a fall from a Southern Pacific freight train 30 miles west of Deel Rio. He lost his balance on the moving train and was run over after he hit the track.

San Antonio Plans Big Paving Program

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Twenty-eight San Antonio streets are to be asphalt-paved this year as result of the $1,000,000 bond issue which recently was put on the market. This paving will increase the city's total mileage of asphalt from 210 miles to about 235, the city engineer's office estimated. These 28 thoroughfares now are of gravel.

In addition, the city will continue to replace old iron span and wooden bridges over the San Antonio river, which winds sinuously through the heart of the city. Three concrete bridges will take their places. A similar number were replaced last year.

Paul Steffler, street commissioner, stated that $500,000 will be expended this year on San Antonio streets.

Committee Plans Big Attendance At Short Course

The public schools committee of the I. H. C. agricultural short course that is to be held here January 28 and 29, through co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and the International Harvester company, met in the Chamber of Commerce offices here Saturday, and outlined a program of procedure whereby virtually every rural resident in the county will be given a special invitation to attend the two day session.

The committee, headed by M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the Lubbock public school system, is composed of the following men, all of whom were in attendance at the meeting: P. F. Brown, county superintendent, Lubbock; C. L. Sone, Slaton; H. J. Jackson, Idalou; Robert E. Lee, Shallowater; Lee Fulton, Wolffarth; and A. J. Ammons, Lubbock.

The committee will send out letters to the superintendent or principal of every school, rural or otherwise, in Lubbock's trade territory, urging that the meeting be announced to all children, who in turn will be asked to convey the message to their parents.

The short course program is attracting the attention of many people throughout the South Plains, and carries features that are of much interest, not only to the farmer, but to the banker and business man as well. It will be offered absolutely free, and will be held in the basement of the Baptist church here.

TEXAS SOON MAY ENTER FEDERAL REGISTRATION

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Texas may get into the registration area of the United States, W. H. Lackey, special agent of the United States bureau of census, said here today. Lackey is in Austin conferring with officials of the state board of health relative to plans for conducting a registration test in Texas by the federal government this spring.

Tentative plans call for an intensive statewide birth and death registration campaign by the board of health for several months. After this the test will be made by the bureau of census to determine if 90 per cent of state births and deaths are recorded. If this test, which consists of information obtained by the census bureau from various independent sources, proves successful, Texas will be admitted into the registration area. It will be of great advantage to the state, Lackey and health officials claim.

"At present seven cities in Texas are included in the death registration area, while fully 25 other cities are eligible to admission," Mr. Lackey said. "Any city containing a population of 10,000 inhabitants or more may secure a test for admission upon request. However, it is more desirable that the state as a whole be included in the registration area, and while Texas may not pass that test this year, a trial will boost registration to the extent that possibly the next trial carry her over the top."

"There are 31 states in the birth registration area and 39 states in the death area. The government slogan in every state within this area by 1930. It is confidently hoped that Texas will be one of the next states to reach this goal."

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

THE NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE CAPITALS OF EUROPE

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 16. (AP)—David Lloyd George's quick abandonment of his vacation under sunny Mediterranean skies to hasten to the bedside of Miss Megan, his favorite child, who is now convalescing from an appendicitis operation, is only another example of the close attachment between the two.

The former premier and his youngest and only unmarried daughter are almost inseparable companions. Megan, who is about 25, is his staunchest supporter and his constant companion in London and on his political campaigns.

An American army officer here knows, to his embarrassment, of Miss Megan's constancy to her father. The young major met her at a dance and received permission to call her on the telephone.

He boasted of this to friends, but when he telephoned Megan was busy with her father. Again he phoned, she was still busy. Every day for a week he rang her up, his brother officers watched his efforts with growing smiles.

Finally, like a good soldier, he admitted defeat and retired from the field. What chance, after all, he asked, had a mere major against the dynamic and magnetic personality of David Lloyd George.

Miss Elsie Mackay, one of England's pioneers in aviation for women, has been elected a member of the advisory committee of pilots for the British air league, and intends to devote more time to aeronautics in 1926 than ever before. She was granted a pilot's certificate in August, 1922, and was the first woman in England to own her own airplane.

Miss Mackay, who is the third daughter of Lord Inchcape, chairman of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation company, for several years has been using her airplane for business purposes as well as pleasure. She never does "stunts." She is an artist as well as a flyer, and has supervised the interior decorating of many of the ships of her father's line.

Theater managers are waging a campaign against "theatre cough," an epidemic which seems to have swept London this winter, adding to the difficulties of actors and singers and the discomfort of theatre patrons. One manager is serving free cough lozenges to patrons in an effort to reduce the noise from coughing.

The managers say that the coughing nuisance is much more noticeable in houses producing serious dramas than in the revue or musical comedy theatres. Farces also are said to be keeping the cough epidemic at a minimum.

Among the serious productions, Sybil Thornley is credited with having silenced the "theatre cough" during the scene depicting the death of Katharine by her impressive presentation of this role.

Artificial rain is being provided to keep famous Ascot race course always in good condition. The daily Mail publishes an account of the new watering system and adds that owners of horses need fear no longer that hard going after a dry spell will hurt their peditionary forces and presented to the city of Paris after the inter-allied games in 1919, is proving to be a "white elephant." That is the state of affairs. This paper says the reputation of Royal Ascot, as the finest course in the world now will be absolutely assured.

Several miles of pipes are to be laid in shallow trenches on both sides of the course with hydrants at intervals to which a special spraying apparatus will be attached when watering is necessary. The showers will reach every part of the track and insure the turf receiving a gentle yet thorough soaking. The new system will be in operation before the next meeting at Ascot.

Lady Betty Fielding, youngest daughter of the Earl of Denbigh, has joined the ranks of the aristocrats who have "gone into trade" and is selling "banjolets" at a shop in Bond street. The "banjolets" is a cross between a banjo and a ukulele and has come into special favor in London because the Prince of Wales likes the instrument and has learned to play it.

Lady Betty avers she likes business and that she finds it more interesting than doing nothing on a small income. Before entering the business world she went first to a commercial school and learned shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping. She made a visit to Washington, where she worked as personal secretary to Lady Isabella Howard, her cousin. When she returned to London she took a job in a financial room but gave that up to manage the musical instrument shop in Bond street.

The Earl of Denbigh is a large land owner, but like others who possess large estates has felt the pressure of taxes.

The modern girl is turning from mannish modes, if the new spring styles now displayed in London are a true indication. A reversion to the Victorian era is the most noticeable trend. There will be fewer tweed suits and low heeled shoes for women seen in London than in 1925, and in place of the severe tweeds it is expected the best dressed women will wear silk coats decorated with narrow taffeta flounces.

Old fashioned "quilting" is to be used in beams of dresses and coats. Materials of flowered patterns and spotted muslins are already on view.

For evening gowns there will be a free use of tulle chiffon and lace, while for garden parties and similar functions there will be shaded geometric frocks, tightly pleated and draping effects, but also on millinery and accessories for silk stockings.

Many London mothers are objecting to a ruling by officials of the health department that children may not be vaccinated against smallpox without written permission from the male parent. While women thought they had obtained equal rights with their husbands over their children, they find that the health officials do not share that view and still recognize the man as head of the house and sole master of the children.

PARIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Pershing Stadium, erected by the American ex-military of France, president of the athletic federation of France, who says the stadium is costing more each year in repairs and upkeep than it brings in from various athletic organizations which rent it for their competitions.

M. Reichel has contributed a signed article to Le Figaro, in which he says that during 1924 the stadium cost 400,000 francs for necessary repairs and improvements and sixty thousand for upkeep. He asserts that the stadium was built so hurriedly that safety was sacrificed to speed and it was not long before the concrete began to crack and repairs were necessary to make the stands safe.

The stadium was built by soldiers of the A. E. F., five thousand men working at top speed for a few weeks.

Evidences have been received in Paris that King Rama VII the new ruler of Siam, has not forgotten the days when he was a student at the Sorbonne.

When the new king, formerly Prince Pradjadhipok, succeeded to the throne on the death of his brother, Rama VI, two months ago, his old landlady in Paris, "Mother Ondjelle" sent him a message of congratulation. King Rama replied by sending her a considerable gift of money and conferring on her a title of Siamese nobility. "Mother Ondjelle" thus has become an "Encouragement" and is entitled to take a place near the throne whenever she visits the capital of Siam.

Prince Pradjadhipok was a well known figure around the Sorbonne during the year before the war, and Latin quarter haunts saw much of him.

If there is one man in this city of bon ton who worries not at all about his personal appearance and sartorial turnout it is the Premier Aristide Briand. His friends assert that the only time the Premier is correctly dressed is when he dons evening clothes, in which costume it is difficult to go wrong. However, it is pointed out that other French leaders, M. Poincaré and M. Herriot, for instance, find it possible to make mistakes even in the wearing of formal dress.

In his street clothes Premier Briand might be taken for a retired banker or an impecunious country doctor. "How do you like this raglan?" he asked some friends accompanying him on a channel packet which was taking him to England for a diplomatic conference. His companions, diplomatic attaches, maintain a diplomatic silence. But the premier only grinned and added: "I bought it at a department store, ready-made, two years ago. It cost only 250 francs."

In American money, the premier's overcoat cost about $10.

The recent floods have produced abundant illustration of the fact that the first household article which the French man rescues when his home is threatened with inundation is the mattress. Strangely enough, the bicycle comes second.

Hardly an exception to this order was noted by a correspondent who watched boatmen moving the inhabitants from one of the Paris suburbs. The women were dry eyed and stern visaged as they were taken from their flooded homes, but obviously were laboring under great emotional stress. "This is getting monotonous," said one woman who was forced to move to escape the floods in 1910, 1920 and 1924. "This sort of thing might be bearable once in 50 years, but four times in 15 years is a little too much."

The Paris winter season is being criticized by a warm controversy over the question of white or black waistcoat with evening dress. The younger men, most of whom take their cue from London, are taking the part of the white waistcoat, and are wearing it even with dinner jacket, as well as with full evening dress.

There is plenty of opposition to this innovation, for it is new to Paris. The older generation, especially the staid old gentry represented by Raymond Poincaré, seem to think a white waistcoat an immoral invention, comparable to extreme decadence in a woman's evening gown. Nothing but black around the abdomen will do for these conservatives.

President Doumergue it is noted, wears white with his "soup and fish" but most of the other leaders in political life stick to the black vest for forms of evening dress, particularly the socialist deputies, with whom the wearing of the black waistcoat seems to be almost as much a point of doctrine as the wearing of black shirts among the fascists.

BERLIN, Jan. 17. (AP)—Twelve of the most attractive women in Sologne have been appointed municipal hostesses, their duty being to see that foreign visitors of note enjoy their stay in the city.

When he was invited on his selection of guides, who it was said, would distract the attention of men visitors from the historical beauties of the city, the burgomaster replied that although the hostesses are undoubtedly beautiful they are neither dumb nor frivolous. Some of them speak seven languages, he said, while all speak at least English, French and Italian in addition to German. They have been trained in a school for hostesses.

The burgomaster admitted that most of them are widows.

Although the Hohenzollern princes are no longer so rigidly bound by convention as in the days when their house ruled Germany, one among them keeps constantly in the public eye, by the manner in which he exceeds his kinsmen in eccentric conduct. He is Prince Joachim Albrecht Von Hohenzollern, a second cousin of the former Kaiser, who is known as the "red Prince" not for the radical nature of his political views, but for his unconventional behaviour and democratic inclinations.

The Prince shocked his family first by marrying a bourgeois actress, Marie Sutzer, and after her death he married again, this time taking Lily Stockhammer, an Austrian divorcee, for his bride.

Prince Joachim Albrecht is indiscriminate in his attendance at social functions. His presence at the reception of the German actors equity for Fernin Gemler, the French actor producer, is still much discussed, while no less talk was caused by his "audacity" at this affair in sitting next to Philip Scheidemann, the socialist leader who was chancellor after the revolution and proclaimed the republic from the steps of the reichstag.

The Princess is no more conventional than her husband. She takes part each year in the public dance competitions at Baden-Baden and more than once has won first prize.

A former barber from Essen, weighing only 135 pounds is astonishing Berlin audiences by strong man feats which recall Sandow and Breitbart in their palmy days. He is Karl Gorris, 21 years old.

Among his stunts are driving nails through three half inch planks with his bare hands; bending iron bars into fantastic shapes and biting through wood. Riding in a truck he pulls a trailer containing sixteen men by a chain gripped in his teeth.

MAY WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR SHERIFF

T. E. May, Chief of Police of the city of Lubbock, who just a few days ago announced his candidacy for sheriff to succeed H. L. (Bud) Johnston, has withdrawn from the race, he told the Daily Journal Saturday, bringing the political situation in this county to a point that should bring serious thought to the minds of those in whose hands rests the responsibility of election of public officials—the qualified voters.

Chief May assigned as his main reason for withdrawing a charge that law enforcement officers are working under a very severe handicap in their efforts to keep down lawlessness, especially as this lawlessness is related to enforcement of the prohibition laws, by virtue of the enactment by the recent state legislature of a statute prohibiting search and seizure without warrant signed by proper officials. He also charged that the stand taken by the Governor of Texas in releasing state prisoners in such large numbers works against law enforcement, both from the standpoint of turning convicted men loose on society, and on the general morale of law enforcement machinery.

"A peace officer, and especially a sheriff, must necessarily go to more or less expense personally in apprehending law violators," the chief said, "and when he goes to this personal expense, brings the alleged violator to the bar of justice, occasionally getting a conviction, it is exceptionally hard on his disposition to have this man turned back on society at the hands of one person after twelve qualified voters, assisted by a judge, have found the man guilty."

The Chief gave as another reason for withdrawing from the race the fact that he had and will have in the future, complete co-operation of city officials in his efforts as a city peace officer, and that he believes he can just as efficiently serve the public in the capacity of Chief of Police as he can in the sheriff's office.

He entered the race, he said, only after many local people had insisted that he do so, and he expressed thanks to those people for their confidence in him and their efforts in his behalf during the time he was in the race.

He closed with the remark that "it is certainly time the public is opening their eyes to what is going on around them, for it is certainly no encouragement for a peace officer to slare his life away when he cannot show any results for his labors."

Pure Bred Seed Sold To Farmers By Farm Bureau

The Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association has just finished up the distribution of 2,500 bushels of tested and pedigreed cotton seed to farmers in this district. It was announced here Saturday by R. E. Overstreet, who is in charge of activities of the Farm Bureau in the district of which Lubbock county is a part.

The seed were of Kash, Acala and Mebane varieties, and were sold to farmers at actual cost to the association. Mr. Overstreet said, as a part of the program of the organization to assist in the pure seed campaign that was started here last year.

Ribbons To Be Given To Texas Farm Club

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16. — More than 5,000 ribbons will be sent to various county agents throughout the state by the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, to be distributed among the members of the various boys and girls' clubs who expect to visit the Stock show.

Members of the boys' and girls' clubs will be the guest of the Stock show, March 8, each receiving a guest ribbon furnished by the show.

More and more each year the show advances in prominence in the matter of boys' and girls' club work. Numerous classes are provided in the livestock division and other sections of the show.

One of the big points of interest for the visiting youngsters will be the magnificent agricultural exhibits that will be assembled from many sections of the state.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH TO CONDUCT REVIVAL

The First Baptist church of this city will conduct a revival campaign beginning the latter part of February and the first of March. Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist church of Abilene, will be our preacher for the meetings. Dr. Jenkins is one of the outstanding pastor-evangelists of all the South and we are fortunate in securing his services for the meetings.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Corner 16th and Ave. J.

Then most beautiful sight from a pulpit is a whole family seated together in a pew. The church services is not a convention, that a family should send a delegate. Now wouldn't it be a fine thing if every church family would round up the whole bunch and all go together today to their respective churches? Suppose you try it and see if the preacher does not preach as one set on fire with holy zeal. All church doors of our city swing wide open to the whole family—enter in and worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

Our Bible school begins at 9:45 a. m., with Mr. Edward Townsend, superintendent. There is a class for you where you will receive helpful instruction and a happy fellowship. The pastor will have for his sermon theme at 11:00 a. m., "How Shall We Know the Christ?" The Junior and Intermediate Endeavors meet at 3:00 p. m. The seniors at 6:30 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will speak to the theme, "The Significance of the Pulpit and the Power of Its Message." The choir under the direction of Mrs. Dana Harmon-Trent will furnish special music at each service. The male quartet will sing at the night service. We extend to the general public a most cordial welcome at all services. Come and bring your friends. We will be looking for you.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Broadway and Ave. M.
Rev. E. E. White, Pastor.

A professional man wants to know the type of man we should support in the coming primary. This question will be answered by the pastor at the First Methodist church in the opening remarks at the service Sunday night. The hour of worship is 7:30 p. m. In the sermon of the evening hour those attending will have an opportunity to hear what Amos had to say. Read it for yourself and then be present at the service.

At the morning hour, 10:55, the subject is "The Place and Influence of the Church in the Life of the World." A timely sermon upon a timely subject. Junior church of children between the ages of 6 and 12, conducted by Mrs. Richardson at the same hour. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Increased attendance expected. Teachers, officers and pupils are making special plans for an ever growing Sunday school.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Corner Ave. N and 14th.

Jack M. Lewis, Pastor.

Regular services will be held during the day at the First Presbyterian church.

Sunday school begins promptly at 9:45 and a most cordial welcome is extended to everyone to be present during the services of this hour.

At the eleven o'clock hour the pastor will preach, using as the theme of his sermon, "Through Trial to Triumph." Special music will be furnished by the choir at the morning service.

Great interest is being manifested by the church in its initial efforts for the New Year and it is hoped that everyone in the church will fall in with the efforts that are now being put forth.

At 3:30 in the afternoon there will be a very important meeting of the officers of the church. Every official as well as other members are urged to be present at this meeting.

At 5:45 the senior Christian Endeavor has arranged for a lunch to be served in the basement of the church to the young people of the church. This will be followed by a very splendid program which has been arranged by the committee from the Christian Endeavor.

At 7:30 the pastor will endeavor to answer the question, "How Can I Secure the Largest Return from the Efforts I Put Forth in my Association with others during the present year?" This promises to be productive of much interest to those who will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend.

South Carolina School Man Here

On Tour Of State

D. W. Watkins, assistant director of the extension department of the Clemson College, in South Carolina, is due to arrive here Sunday on a tour of Texas studying methods used in extension departments of state schools, it was announced here Saturday by David F. Eaton, county farm agent, who will accompany Mr. Watkins on trips to various places that he will want to visit while here.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENTS OF TEXAS

universities and colleges are recognized as predominant in the field, and have set a mark of efficiency that is the envy of all schools engaged in similar work.

Mr. Watkins will leave here probably Tuesday, after trips to various places in this vicinity and will be accompanied by Mr. Eaton to Amarillo from where they will go to Dallas to attend the annual district meeting of farm agents and home demonstration agents.

The situation in Texas is being studied by Mr. Watkins with a view of improving the extension department of his school.

WORLD COURT IS ARGUED BEFORE SENATE

RESOLUTION TO DEPRIVE QUESTION OF EARLY HEARING FAILS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—An effort to deprive the world court proposal of its proposition of priority before the Senate failed today and when Monday's session begins, the court resolution will remain the first order of business.

Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, who made the only speech on the subject today, sought to produce a legislative situation giving a general legislation the right of way on Monday, but on motion of Senator Len Root, republican, Wisconsin, the Senate voted to keep the court issue in its position of vantage.

Moses Attacks Plan

Delivering a prepared address, Senator Moses attacked the world court as a "league court." "It not only is a creature of the League of Nations," he said, "but the law and apologist for the league as well."

Another reservation to the court resolution was offered by Senator Frazier, republican, North Dakota. It would propose establishment of an international "police of the sea" and destruction of all other armed naval craft and would set forth that American adhesion would be conditional upon the "police of the sea" operating to the satisfaction of the United States.

FARM RELIEF IS TAKEN UP BY CONGRESS

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF SOME PRODUCTS IS RECENT URGE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Farm relief legislation continued to claim considerable attention today in Congress.

Direct government control of grain and other products was proposed in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Frazier, republican, North Dakota, and one presented in the House by Representative Little, democrat, Kansas. Though dissimilar the measures both are intended to relieve the farmer of violent prices and to sale of surplus crops.

Calls For $100,000

Senator Frazier's bill would appropriate $100,000 to create a federal agricultural marketing board to handle corn, wheat and cotton. Representative Little's proposal seeks to set aside $100,000,000 for a revolving fund to be used by the government to establish bonded elevators, store wheat in them, and sell it, at home and abroad, at prices calculated to bring the growers fair returns.

The House agricultural committee construed hearings, John F. Wallace and Harvey Ingham, Des Moines, editors, endorsed the Dickinson bill, which would form a federal export board and levy an equalization tax for disposition of surplus crops. They declared the food supply of the nation was being menaced by agricultural depression.

HOUSTON—Resources of the Texas

Building and Loan Associations have jumped from $34,000,000 to approximately $50,000,000 within the last year. I. Friedlander, Houston, president of the Texas League of building and loan association, announced Saturday.

Mr. Friedlander also gave notice that the first board meeting of the year of the association would be held in Dallas on January 23, at which time work of the organization for the year will be planned.

DALLAS—The president of the Dallas Art Association was authorized Saturday to appoint a committee of ten, empowered to petition the necessary funds for the permanent art museum and institute for Dallas. Desire for an art institute and museum and this city has arisen from the need of properly housing the many valuable art treasures held here.

Editorials

POLITICIANS AND IDOLS: Those who detect defects in the present crop of politicians—national and local—are wont to place the blame upon the politicians themselves if the public has lost confidence in them.

One such critic supports his general indictment against the seekers after public office with a comparison of the public attitude toward the politician today, twenty-five years ago and a half century ago.

Speaking of hats—Representative St. George, Tucker of Virginia had his blown off a few days ago, going down Pennsylvania avenue. In it was a speech Tucker had prepared, denouncing the appropriation of money to enable prohibition agents to buy liquor.

Col. Cheney, chief military aide at the White House, used to be one of the principal ornaments at all functions there. Now there's a scandal about him.

SPUR TO INVENTION: As industrial activity always causes a great stir among inventors, the fact that the 1925 rush at the United States Patent Office was previously unequalled gives one a fair idea of the height to which the industrial barometer scaled last year.

Patent rights were issued last year on 46,540 inventions in this country, or twice as many as were granted in 1920, and more than in all other countries combined.

Congress enacted the first patent law in 1790, but the present and more comprehensive law dates from 1836. In the 135 years which have elapsed since patent No. 1 was issued, 1,500,000 inventions have been patented in this country.

Perhaps the reason for the larger number of patents here is a greater need for new inventions. Although fiction pictures the inventor as an impractical dreamer toying with the unheard-of, the vast majority of all American inventions are the fulfillment of the needs of industry, commerce and society.

Observation does not mean merely seeing things, but seeing them in the light of other facts and reaching intelligent conclusions from them.

Now Comes Target Practice

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BARBARA HAWLEY, 25 jilts her fiance, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Telegraph to use life. Adventure begins at the roadhouse where a prominent man kills himself. By a red scarf Barbara connects LYDIA STACY, wealthy widow, with the case.

Mrs. Stacy likes Bruce. He repeats her advanced to the Telegraph and DREW McDERMOTT, editor of the Telegraph, that Vale Acres, Bruce's realty firm, is crooked. As though to bear this out, Manners, Bruce's partner absconds.

Bruce weds VIOLETTA CRANBY, factory girl. Barbara, who unknowingly helped the match through her "lovelorn" column, is left just a little bitter by this. She plunges into her work. At a convention she sees Manners and has him arrested. He implicates Bruce. By confronting Mrs. Stacy with the red scarf Barbara persuades her to testify for Bruce and this wins his acquittal.

McDermott's daughter, Fancy who shares Barbara's apartment weds Jerome Ball, man about town, and goes to Chicago. Barbara, lonely, is further depressed when a child is born to Violetta and Bruce.

She accepts a job on "Footlights," a New York theatrical magazine, and on arriving in New York calls up BOB JEFFRIES, former police reporter of the Telegraph.

She and Bob go to a show and in passing the Footlights office Barbara asks if HARVEY CHRIS, TOPHER, dramatic writer, whose name was signed to the letter offering her the position, has his office there. Bob tells her Christopher seldom sees the office, as he writes most of his stuff in the Adirondacks or at Palm Beach.

Barbara accepts a job offered in a letter from Harvey Christopher, dramatic critic of the Footlights Magazine in New York. After getting a little apartment in New York she calls up Bob Jeffries, newspaper man who was her friend as police reporter on the Telegraph, and invites him over to dinner.

SPINSTERHOOD

apartment. She paused to glance at the gray-stone front of the building, with its New York air of compactness and sophistication.

"No, indeed, I wouldn't miss the fun for anything in the world," Barbara's eyes were shining over the plump chicken, the crisp lettuce. "This is going to be a perfect dinner."

"You do beat all," said the woman, her eyes wide. "You act as if you like messing around in the kitchen."

"Oh, there's nothing like that," laughed Barbara. "We're just good friends."

"But I've proved a woman can have a man friend," said Barbara. "This one has stood by me for a long, long time. Neither of us is the marrying sort."

The maid shrugged her shoulders and went away. It was seven o'clock before Barbara thought of dinner. Then she fried eggs and bacon, made a salad and sat impulsively Barbara opened the door further. "Maybe I shall need help. Anyhow, it's a good day to have someone to talk to. Come in."

SPINSTERHOOD

"I love dinners by candlelight," she commented to the woman. "Candles make the room so homey, and besides, they make every woman look twice as pretty as she really is. And that is always important."

"I haven't any folks," answered Barbara, on her way to the door.

"The idea of my leaving New York when I've just found it!" she said to the maid, without bothering to explain the remark.

"Oh, thank you, miss, but I'll have to be going home before then. I'll go along now."

Barbara dressed slowly and carefully. The heat of the kitchen had brought out a fresher color in her cheeks.

At seven o'clock she went out into the living room and looked at the table. Every detail seemed perfect. She brought a match and lit the candles, her face eager in the flare of light that rose from their yellow flame.

He was drawing after him into the room a pretty girl whose red hair curled crisply at either side from beneath her tight little blue felt hat.

GOOD LESSON

Had you ever noticed the cheery nature of many of those who are unfortunate or handicapped physically. Not to attract attention to their disabilities, but to encourage someone else, more or less fortunate than them, we wish to cite a few instances which we are all familiar with, but probably have not viewed in just the light of this editorial. We know of no finer example of making good under adverse conditions than that of Hamer E. Minor of Plainview. Evermore here points to this successful young business man with pride. He found a job that he could do, did it cheerfully and well. Now he has one of the largest magazine subscription agencies in America. You never find him out of sorts. Bob Fletcher, before the World War, blessed with a physique which was found only rarely, another Plainview boy is making good at Roswell, N. Mex. STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

STOVEPIPE HAT MUCH IN EVIDENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

By CHARLES P. STEWART, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—One thing this season's White House social functions have proven is that the plug hat is far from obsolete.

That is to say, it's still affected by an overwhelming majority of the president's civilian callers. Of course the army and navy men wear their uniform headgear. With few exceptions the members of the diplomatic corps are uniformed, too, mostly with cocked hats and some with waving plumes like an old-fashioned bears.

Right then Tucker delivered a speech all right, but it was impromptu. Wayne B. Wheeler grinned fustianly when he heard about it.

Col. Cheney, chief military aide at the White House, used to be one of the principal ornaments at all functions there. Now there's a scandal about him.

All during the New Year's reception one of the front bottoms on his full dress uniform coat was unbuttoned. Nobody noticed it at the time, but a photograph of him, standing in the receiving line alongside the Coolidges, subsequently revealed it.

At seven o'clock Barbara went out into the living room and looked at the table. Every detail seemed perfect. She brought a match and lit the candles.

Now Go On With The Story CHAPTER XLVIII On Saturday, Barbara reached home early in the afternoon. This was a new pleasure, after the long Saturday afternoons at the Telegraph office with football scores to be taken by telephone or a pile of lovelorn mail to be handled.

A maid who worked about the building was sweeping the living room when Barbara entered. The windows were open and dust covers had been thrown over the upholstered furniture.

Barbara went out to the kitchen and inspected the tiny refrigerator. Then she made a list of groceries and went out to market. At the little French bakery she bought rolls and pastries, at the butcher shop a fat chicken for roasting and green vegetables at the grocer's.

"You'll have more than you can carry, miss," said a good-natured clerk, as he tied up her parcels. "Can't we send the things over for you?" Barbara shook her head. "No, thank you. I'd rather take them."

She made several trips, laying the packages on the kitchen table between journeys. "Lord's sake, miss, you must be going to have a party!" remarked the maid, staring at the increasing pile. "Not exactly," Barbara answered. "Just dinner for three, but I want it to be very nice. It's my first entertaining in my new apartment."

down to eat at the kitchen table, where she could watch the light flickering in the skyscrapers. The hum of Broadway was always audible, and the sense of life swarming close about the building was strong.

Barbara ate heartily, running into the living room now and then to look out at the busy street. Then she washed the dishes and began to make salad dressing. Several other dishes that could be prepared ahead of time were standing in the refrigerator when she took off her apron at midnight and went to the front of the house.

Every light in the little apartment was burning. Barbara sank into a chair and smiled at her domain. While she sat there, the telephone bell rang. "Miss Hawley," said a woman's voice, "I hope I didn't disturb you, I did not realize how late it was till after I'd given your number. Just thought I'd call you up and see whether you were lonely on this first night in the new apartment. It's rather a ghastly feeling, sometimes."

Barbara answered brightly. She had caught a note in the woman's voice that suggested tears. "I'm quite all right, thank you: In fact I've been preparing for company dinner tomorrow."

"They talked for a few minutes, Barbara hung up, puzzled at the solicited interest of Miss Funnival and at her evident morose humor. The next day was rainy and cold. Taxicabs skidded past in driving sheets of rain, and the gutters of the apartment building ran rivers.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Cotton Markets

NEW YORK COTTON

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The cotton market was featured today by continued firmness on near months March contracts sold up to 29.50 or 29 points net higher, and within 3 points of the best price touching on the advance in late November. They closed at 26.46, or 215 points over the price of October, compared with a difference of 264 points at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at net advances of four to sixteen points.

The market opened steady at an advance of four to thirteen points and soon showed net gains of seven to twenty points on covering, promoted by steadiness in Liverpool, reports of continued good demand for cotton cloths in Manchester from India and China, and encouraging week end reviews of the domestic goods market. This early advance attracted week end buyers and the market advanced to 26.46, or 215 points over the price of October, compared with a difference of 264 points at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at net advances of four to sixteen points.

vanced 12 to 17 points from the lows, but eased off some in the final trading the close showing net gains of five to eight points except for July which closed unchanged from yesterday.

The start was uneven January gaining 8 points and May five, while March lost 2 points and the other months were unchanged. After gaining 9 to 11 points in the early trading prices eased off six to twelve points with January trading at 30.28, March at 19.72 and May at 19.22. These were the low points of the day.

Prices rallied again in the last half hour of trading on a renewal of covering by near month shorts and January advanced to 26.45, twelve points up from the lows. The close was a little under the high of the day.

The liquidation of the near positions continued to be the feature of the market and prices for the near positions were advanced owing to continued covering by shorts. The strength of the near position carried the whole list up in sympathy. A continued good demand for spots also was a supporting influence.

Exports for the day totalled 46,742 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON GOODS

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Cotton goods were steady to firm in the gray goods division today. Raw silk was irregular abroad and about steady here. Printed silks in new designs sold more freely. Wool goods were quiet, with the men's trade war awaiting fall openings scheduled to begin in some instances next week. Linens were in better demand.

Livestock Prices

FORT WORTH CATTLE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 15.—Steady to nominal conditions appeared in the cattle trade of the livestock market today. Cattle receipts were very limited, but a good supply of calves were on hand. The count called for 700 head of cattle and 1,000 calves.

The hog trading was steady with receipts around 700 head. No fresh sheep receipts were here and that branch of the market was nominal.

Stocks And Money

NEW YORK STOCKS

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Reactionary price tendencies again predominated in today's brief session of the stock market, which was featured by a renewal of selling pressure against the motor shares. Trading was in relatively heavy volume, the day's sales running just short of a million shares. The sharp break yesterday resulted ed in a rather heavy accumulation of overnight selling orders, the execution of which gave opening prices a heavy tone. When these had been disposed of, operators on the long side attempted to rally the general list by bidding up some of the eastern rails and a few industrial specialties. The rally, which was aided by the timid bear traders failed to hold and prices sold off again in the last hour. Final quotations disclosed considerable irregularity, both the industrial and rail averages showing slight reactions on the quotations on the day.

Selling of the motors based on the theory that the stiff competition and increased sales effort, necessary to maintain the heavy production scheduled in 1925 would result in decreased earnings. Hudson as in was free support in further speculation of disappointment over the failure of the directors to increase the dividend, the stock closing 2 7/8 points lower at 104 1/2, after having sold as low as 107 1/2. Nash Motors and General Motors, Studebaker, White, Willys-Overland, and Jordan yielded fractionally.

Mack Trucks closed a point higher. U. S. Steel, which was pressed for sale in large blocks yesterday, received better support, closing 5-8 higher, closing at 113 1/2.

Persistent accumulation of Associated Oil, which touched a new record high at 52, was associated with reports that two powerful groups were seeking control of the company. U. S. Rubber advanced three points on what appeared to be a running-in of the short interest.

Atchafalpa, Baltimore and Ohio, Katy common, New York Central and Texas and Pacific advanced a point or more in the early trading, but the gains were reduced or curtailed. Norfolk and Western in which special developments are believed to be pending, showed a point higher.

Foreign exchanges trading quiet, with no important changes in rates. Demand sterling ruled 4.85 11-16 and French francs around 3.76 1/2. Japanese yen touched the highest price in about three years at 44 5-8.

SUGAR REPORT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—With no sales reported, raw sugar remained unchanged today at 4.11 for Cuban duty paid.

A steadier undertone developed in raw sugar futures, due principally to buying by the houses with Wall Street connections. The close was unchanged to two points net higher. January closed 2.35; March 2.29; May 2.51; July 2.62; September 2.72.

The refined sugar market was quiet and unchanged at 5.00 to 5.20 for fine granulated.

REPORT OIL SALE

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Private dispatches received in Wall Street from Tulsa state that Independent Oil and Gas has bought half interest in about 1,900 acres in Lyon county, Kansas, for $250,000, of which $150,000 was cash, the balance to be paid in oil.

COFFEE FUTURES

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A further reaction occurred in coffee futures

today owing to the slight easier ruling of Rio exchange and reports that Rio shippers were finding a less active demand in Europe. The market opened ten points lower to one point higher and sold off to 17.60 for May with the close easy at a net decline of 16 to 25 points. Sales were estimated at 22,000. Closing quotations: January 17.55, March 17.55, May 17.50, July 17.47, September 17.12, December 16.99.

Spot coffee quiet, Rio 74, 18 1/2 to 18 1/2, Santos 48 24.

Grain Markets

SAN ANGELO WOOL

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 16.—The first reported wool sale in Texas in 1926 was made here today when the Wool Growers' Central Storage company disposed of the last of its 1925 accumulation—116,000 pounds of short fall fleeces and 14,000 of long spring clips. S. D. Ranier, of Llano, was the buyer for Farnsworth, Stevenson & Co., Boston. Prices were withheld. It was estimated that 2 1/2 to 3 million pounds of short wool one half the state's production, remains unsold.

CHICAGO GRAIN

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Corn received much of the blame today for weakness of wheat and of other grain as well. Agitation to promote higher prices was reported in various places as having largely spent its force. The market closed heavy 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents net lower, May 1.13 3-8 to 1.12 1/2, and July 1.09 1/2 to 1.09 3-8. Corn finished 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents down, oats 3-8 to 1/2 3/4-5 cent off, and provisions varying from forty cents to seven cents advance.

In the corn market, advice regarding legislation were construed as bearish. Furthermore, corn receipts were of liberal volume. Oats followed corn.

Most of the provision list was firm as a result of buying on eastern accounts.

"Missing Link" Is Missing, Woman Lecturer Claims

HOUSTON, Jan. 16.—Search for "the missing link" futile because "there is no missing link," Mrs. Laura S. Wood, lecturer for the Theosophical society, declares.

She told an audience composed of Houston people that "the life that was in the dinosaur is today occupying a body of another form. The old form is extinct," she said, "but the life that was in it has never died."

"It is not necessary to have a 'missing link,'" she asserted, "because the life principle is separate from the form and only occupies form for the purpose of gaining experience necessary to unfoldment."

"Occultists say there are seven animals which merge into the human, of which the dog, the horse and the elephant are three. It is thought also that the monkey is included, but strangely enough, there is uncertainty about it, although some materialists contend that the monkey is the stepping stone to the human.

"Materialistic science concerns itself with form and does not separate it from the life principle. Occultism stresses the life principle as the permanent thing and says that forms are but vehicles through which the life, which is of God, functions in the evolving of unfolding process.

"Christianity is right when it says that God created, in the mind of the Solar Logos, which we call God, was conceived all that ever was and will be in our solar system. His thought created the archetypes in higher planes and evolution is the process of reproducing these types in the lower planes. Those forms which more nearly approach the archetype endure, the others disappear."

TAX COMPROMISE EFFECTED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Senate republicans and democrats on the finance committee compromised their differences on tax reduction today and ordered by unanimous vote, a report of the House revenue bill to the Senate with considerable modifications.

The compromise, which involved principally further reductions in the surtax rates and repeal of the inheritance tax, increased the total reduction provided by the House measure for this year from $300,000,000 to $800,000,000, and cleared the way for early passage of the bill by the Senate.

Chairman Smead said he would report the measure to the Senate on Tuesday but would hold up its consideration for a couple of days, at least, if the cloture rule was invoked to permit an early vote on the world court.

Compromise Satisfactory. Spokesmen of the two parties in the Senate expressed satisfaction with the compromise and declared a final vote on the bill by the Senate early in February was almost certain.

The agreement came suddenly and the committee concluded its consideration of the bill in a cordial spirit, ending its work within two weeks after the bill was first taken up. The committee established a new record in the consideration of revenue legislation.

The following changes in the House bill were voted today: Further reduction on surtax rates applying on incomes between $25,000 and $100,000.

Repeal of the inheritance tax. Repeal of the present alcohol levies which the House had voted to cut in half.

Agreement on House action for repealing the gift tax.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS Measured By Public Utilities

A glance backward and a look ahead which business men always take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas has been making progress during 1925. It shows that the prospect for further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is seen the progress of the several essential public services upon which growth and achievement have depended.

The service of Light and Power in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which the development of the past year could not have been accomplished. In the outlook for the present New Year this company is expecting to be a major factor in the building of this community to still better service to the people.

The service of Light and Power and the growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and ambitions, if they are right, are identical.

LOCAL BANKERS TO DISCUSS AUTO MEN'S PROBLEMS

EVERY MEMBER URGED TO ATTEND MEETING OF NEW YEAR

Plans are going forward for one of the best programs in the history of the South Plains Automobile Dealers association, when the organization holds its regular monthly meeting here Monday night, it was announced here Saturday by Harry Morris, of the Lubbock Auto company, who is in charge of the program.

O. L. Slaton, president of the First National bank, of this city, and France Baker, of the Citizens National bank, also of Lubbock, will appear on the program, and will give their views on prospects for the new year, the announcement said. These two men, both of whom are well versed in the financial world and its trends, will have a message worth while for all automobile men, for they will discuss the relationship between the banks and the individual automobile dealer.

Various other problems, common to both lines of business, will also be discussed, and problems that are of special significance to the automobile industry.

As this is the first meeting of the association in 1926, an appeal has gone out from the committee in charge of arrangements, that every member of the association be in attendance, and a special invitation is extended to out-of-town dealers. A great program is ahead of the association for the new year.

Members of the program committee were rather hesitant in disclosing features of the program beyond the fact that the two banker friends of the association will speak, but they intimated that they also have something else in store for attendees that, to say the least, will be out of the ordinary.

The meeting will be held at the Tech cafe, beginning at 7:30 Monday evening.

THRILLING STORY MARKS RISE OF DONOVAN

Joseph S. Donovan, Studebaker dealer in Boston, has just retired from business with a clear million dollars—and back of that is an interesting story.

Donovan began working at the age of 11 in a carpet factory. He earned a dollar and a half a week. Three years later while employed in the railroad shops at Depew, New York, he boasted to his companions that some day he would have a million dollars and that when he got it, he would devote the rest of his life to play and travel. It was a joke to the other boys but to Joe it was a goal seriously set and vigorously pursued.

Nevertheless when he arrived in Boston eleven years later, he had had a lot of experience as a soldier in the Spanish-American war and he was a good automobile mechanic—but he had only $6 in cash. A year later he had acquired a second hand car and was driving it for rental. Two years later he was buying and selling used cars. Finally in 1911, he became a sub-dealer for Studebaker in Boston and was at last on the high road toward the million.

It took him fourteen years to get it, but now that it is safely in hand, he has carried out his boyhood promise, turned over business cares to others and set out to enjoy life.

In turning over control of the organization which he built up to George W. Sweet, former assistant sales manager of the Studebaker Corporation of America, and Gerald M. Sullivan, who has been selling Studebakers in Los Angeles, Mr. Donovan said:

"All my success financially I owe to Studebaker, and to my determination to live well within my means. By working hard myself, I have been able to keep my organization going at high speed.

"Now that I am going to quit work and play, let it be known I'm not in the market for a Rolls-Royce. I'll stick to the Studebaker.

"Advice to boys? Well, don't be afraid to take under jobs, that's where you really learn the business. Keep eyes off the clock and don't get lost in the shuffle. By willingness to do more than is asked of you and a display of plenty of initiative, you won't be lost.

When A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker organization, asked Mr. Donovan what reason could be assigned for his quitting business at 45, he said:

"Tell them I'm going to golf in Flor-

American Capital To Solve U. S. Shortage Of Rubber, Is Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Solution of the rubber problem lies in investment of American capital in plantations, chiefly in foreign countries, Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, told the house commerce committee today.

"The American people will make the necessary investments in these far-off countries only if they feel assured of sympathetic support from their own government," he said, "and in my opinion our government should do everything within its power, consistent with its foreign policies, to encourage such investments."

ROYALTY AT HOME FROM MEETING IN DETROIT

Walter W. Royalty, of the Royalty Motor company, South Plains distributor of Dodge Bros. products, is entering the new year full of pep and enthusiasm, and predicts for this section of the state one of the most prosperous years in its history of the country, following his return here a few days ago from Detroit where he had been to attend the annual international meeting of Dodge dealers and distributors.

Mr. Royalty left here January 4 and joined the Texas-Oklahoma special convention train, a fifteen coach all-steel train, at Kansas City.

Every part of the three day program was something worth while, Mr. Royalty said, but he was especially pleased with an opportunity to make an inspection trip through the Dodge and Graham Brothers factories, and gained much information that will be of great benefit to him in handling the products.

The trip, following closely on the heels of the announcement of big reductions in all models of Dodge products, was doubly enjoyable and Mr. Royalty is looking forward to the biggest volume of business he has ever enjoyed here.

In the winter, fish in Maine in the spring, sail the Atlantic in the summer and hunt in Canada in the fall.

HUDSON-ESSEX SET NEW HIGH MARK DURING 1925

Hudson-Essex has just closed the most successful year in its history. The quarter million mark in production was passed, which is said by Hudson officials to be the largest volume of six cylinder cars ever made in a year by any manufacturer.

Not only have Hudson-Essex sales been sensationally good in the United States, but the demand for them in foreign countries is reported as largely increased. In Great Britain, the Essex is widely spoken of as one of the year's most successful cars, with sales running far ahead of any other American six.

In Canada the growth of Hudson-Essex popularity has been much ahead even of the showing in the United States, while South America, Africa, Australia, Europe and the Orient have come strongly ahead.

"The reasons behind such a world-wide growth must be interesting to the man who is considering the investment of his money in a car," said Hub Jones, distributor in the Lubbock area. "When the whole world agrees that a product is exceptionally good, the fact becomes hard to dodge.

"Hudson and Essex appeal because they offer a basic value which any man can understand. They specialize in so-called 'features' of construction, but in great basic value. The more informed a motorist becomes on just what makes up an automobile, and the cost of an automobile, the more he is attracted by the Hudson-Essex values.

"That is true in the United States or anywhere else, and that is why Hudson-Essex has won so immense a following in the year now closing."

Alaska Wonders Over Two Hermits Who Are Shunning Everybody

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 16. (AP)—Believed to have $75,000 concealed in a cache, two Alaskans of the Iditarod district are, virtually starving, shunned by their neighbors and suspected by officers, Alex Gunderson, who arrived here yesterday from that region reported.

Though officers and neighbors suspect them of being responsible for a recent robbery they have no direct evidence and would be unable to convict. The outcasts are in dire poverty and eke out a bare existence by killing wild game, Gunderson said.

Welch Started Grape Juice Making To Keep Down Booze Drinking

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 16. (AP)—A desire to supplant "the cup of devils" with "the fruit of the vine" in his church communion led Dr. Charles E. Welch to produce unfermented grape juice in 1869. It is related in his will, just admitted to probate here.

Dr. Welch, who amassed a fortune from the manufacture of grape juice, died recently at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Julia Frosley Welch, the widow, receives the bulk of the real property as well as funds for personal expenses, for unusual needs, and for use in benevolent work. The remainder of the estate, which runs into millions of dollars is divided between four sons and a daughter, except for minor bequests to other relatives and to faithful employees and friends.

Nicaragua Will Not Receive Recognition

SAN SALVADOR, Jan. 16. (AP)—Salvador and Guatemala, it is said, will not recognize the government of Nicaragua in case Emiliano Chamorro assumes the executive power in place of Carlos Zolorzano, who has resigned the presidency of the republic.

A dispatch from Guatemala, City says the foreign minister has declared that Guatemala will not recognize Nicaragua with Chamorro at its head. The foreign minister of Salvador has sent a note to Nicaragua of a similar nature.

1926 To Be Best Year Since War Ranchman Predicts

ULVALDE, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—George A. Kennedy, ranchman and Uvalde banker, has a hunch, he said, that 1926 will be "the most prosperous in several, possibly since before the World War."

Speaking largely from the standpoint of the Texas stockman, he said "these good rains we had had will run out up into February and the grazing will be good. Livestock conditions are excellent and the ranchmen who have their pastures stocked are fortunate, for young stuff is going to be hard to get. There is going to be a big shortage and prices necessarily must remain firm.

"There is a demand for sheep and goats and many of our ranchmen are stocking with sheep. If they are handled right, the profit is good from sheep raising. I am told mohair is bringing the same price as last year. That sounds good for the goat men.

"The banks are in good condition and have plenty of money. If a man has the security, he can get the money. I think the man who will get good stock, look after it and diversify his crops can do well in this section. It is one of the best stock raising sections in the country and has advantages over other sections. We have a fine climate, and plenty of water can be obtained at shallow depths. There is plenty of farm land at reasonable prices. Look for more development throughout this section.

U. S. Marshall Gets Judgment Rendered Against Him Today

DALLAS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Judgment of $900 in favor of Mrs. Mary McVey and Peter McVey was rendered in federal court here late Thursday against Sam L. Gross, United States Marshall, and the Fidelity Deposits company of Maryland. Plaintiffs asked $2,800 damages for the death of Mrs. Margaret Zelmert, mother of Mrs. McVey, alleged to have been killed when struck by an automobile driven by William Hightower, deputy marshal. The Fidelity company was surety on Gross' bond.

Price Reduction In Studebakers Is Received Here

Official notice of substantial reduction in all Studebaker closed models has been received from manager of the Dallas branch of the Studebaker Corporation by William D. Cullum, local dealer. Mr. Cullum told the Daily Journal Saturday.

The prices took effect Friday, January 14, and were explained by a telegram which follows:

"Reduction of one hundred dollars, effective January 14, on each of the following models: Standard Mohair Sedan, Standard Wool sedan, Big-5 passenger sedan, Big-7 passenger sedan, Big Club coupe, Big Brookham and Big Berlin."

"These prices bring Studebaker down within the reach of the most humble auto owner," Mr. Cullum said, "giving them an opportunity to own and be in a class with the most pretentious, at a very moderate price."

Mr. Cullum said he is looking forward to 1926 as one of the best years in the history of the automobile industry.

LOCKNEY HAS BIG YEAR DURING 1925

(Special to The Journal)

LOCKNEY, Texas, Jan. 16.—A report received by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce indicates that Lockney has made great strides in civic development in 1925. Three new buildings were constructed at a cost of $75,000. One of the largest auto buildings in West Texas has been constructed by the Lockney Auto company, costing approximately $30,000. Building permits for the city of Lockney were $220,900.

1926 bids fair to be an even better year than 1925 for Lockney in the way of improvements. The Santa Fe now has under way the construction of a new depot at the foot of Main street which will be completed about April 1st. The Texas Utilities company will have the street lights installed within two weeks time, and this lighting system will give Lockney a light on every corner in the city. The street from the new Santa Fe depot to the proposed Ft. Worth and Denver station will be paved, and plans are now being perfected to install a sewer system at an early date.

Famous Dairy Cow Owned At Lockney

LOCKNEY, Texas, Jan. 16. Lockney claims one of the champion butter cows of West Texas. She is Brownless Golden Lad and is a direct descendant of one of the world famous Jersey. She is owned by Jim W. Baggett who says that she averages 60 pounds of butter the year round, and made her owner $1 per day in 1925. Baggett says that she is not for sale and that her calves bring a very fancy price.

John Drew, At Age Of 73, Plans To Return To Stage As Soon As He Can Find Suitable Part; Is Veteran Actor

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—His love of the theater unyielding in its demands, John Drew, a leading exponent of polite comedy, classical and modern, is planning to return to the stage as soon as he can find a suitable vehicle.

The actor has no special play in mind other than "a good one," and, perhaps, one of the type which made him famous as a "gay cavalier and the centering figure" of social life. Meanwhile, Drew is living a life of leisure. He has left his home in East Hampton, Long Island, for a Broadway hotel during the theatrical season. Here, he greets his friends and is a familiar figure in the surroundings he likes best.

"Tell you about some of the things that have happened in my past," he laughed, repeating the question of an interviewer. "Why I have been here long enough for everyone to know about my past. At least, I hope so. Let's talk about the present and the future."

Then he told what he thought of many of the actors and actresses now starting on Broadway, and made it plain he was not to be listed among those who believe all the good plays were those of the past.

"We have many fine actors and there will be more in the future," he said. "But there are no more Booths and Jeffersons have been born, so far as I can see."

"To name a few of those that I think are very good are Ann Harding, Jane Cowl, Laurette Taylor, Ina Claire, Madge Kennedy and Noel Coward. There are others, of course."

He is greatly interested in the careers of John, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore, children of his sister, Georgia Drew, and Maurice Barrymore, but, being John Drew, he declined to "brag about the family," as he expressed it.

"I like 'The Vortex,' 'The Last of Mrs. Cheyne,' 'The Green Hat' and 'Stolen Fruit,'" he resumed. "I thought Cyril Maude was very good in 'These Charming People,' and before the season is over I expect to see some more good plays."

"The Masked Ball" was the play in which Drew first starred—Maude Adams shared honors with him—but all his productions he likes best "Rose-Mary" and "Second in Command."

This he admitted before noticing that he had broken his resolution not to talk about the past.

The actor's last long stay in a Broadway production was in "The Circle," two years ago. Mrs. Leslie Carter appeared opposite him. Last year, he played a week in the revival of Pinero's "Trelawney of the Wells."

Drew is in his seventy-third year, but he carries himself erect, his face is ruddy and his voice is the same as of old. He has given up his favorite exercise, horseback riding, because of trouble with his eyes. His eyesight is good enough, however, to permit him to do much reading.

When the interviewer was ready to leave, Drew insisted on holding his coat.

"It's a sure sign a man is growing old," he said, "when he declines to let someone hold his coat for him."

Excavation Costs Too High; Hunt For Treasures Halted

LODI, Calif., Jan. 16. (AP)—The high cost of modern excavating work brought to an end here last night a search for a buried treasure of $60,000 in gold. Ernest and J. E. Threlton, of Oakland, started out on Monday with a map and a steam shovel and for three days have been in quest of the hidden treasure they say their father had buried.

The men say their father buried the gold near the Woodridge bridge 42 years ago after he had made a "stake" in real estate. The father died last summer and left a will in which they were directed to a house in Sacramento where the will said they "would find something valuable."

Investigation disclosed a sealed bottle containing a map and instructions to find the buried gold. Directions to the spot hinted about location of three tanks which could not be found. After several weeks investigation the men hired a steam shovel and began excavating.

The cost of $75 a day was prohibitive and search was abandoned.

GRAHAM ELEVATOR IS ENLARGED IN 1925

(Special to The Journal)

GRAHAM, Texas, Jan. 16.—One indication of the progress of Graham during 1925 is the enlargement of the Graham Mill and Elevator company at a cost of $60,000, the construction of the Graham hospital at a cost of approximately $50,000, and the Presbyterian church, costing $40,000. Graham has informed the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Two road projects have been carried out successfully during the year. A bond issue for $400,000 was voted, which with federal aid will give the district $750,000 for road work in precinct No. 1. Work has already been started on the right of way from the Jack county line to Graham, and it is expected that this road will be completed during 1926. The commissioner's report has also promised to spend $50,000 on lateral roads in this district.

The other road project is the new road at Gordon Mountain. This is in Palo Pinto county, but Graham has had it put in good condition and cars can now travel it without difficulty. This opens a big trade territory for Graham.

T. T. George, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, states that although it has been a dry year that crops around Graham have been good. The Graham gens have handled more cotton than last year, and the small grains have given a fair yield. The Chamber of Commerce is now perfecting a plan to create a loan fund for the farmers in order that they may buy better livestock, seed, etc.

SAN ANGELO TRIO FEELS IRE OF COURT

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Ana Fisher, J. M. (Buck) Weaver, Ted Looper and Mason Compton were sentenced to three days in jail and were fined $100 each by Judge J. F. Sutton, in Tom Green county district court here late Tuesday for contempt of court. It was held that they urged Evelyn Bushee to leave town and aided her in hiding to prevent testifying before the grand jury by which she had been summoned as a witness in a felony investigation.

Judge Sutton sentenced B. C. Sawyer to jail and fined him $50 for refusing to make satisfactory answers to grand jurors' questions. After three days confinement Sawyer talked and was released.

LEGION MEN WILL START CAMPAIGN FOR MARE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 16. (AP)—Owner of the "Old Gray Mare" the ditty made famous by American Soldiers during the World War will be determined by a membership campaign between the Oklahoma and Texas departments of the American legion. Troops of each state claim that the song originated with them.

A challenge will be radio cast from here formally at midnight, tonight to the Texas department by James Hatcher, of Chickasha, past department commander of the Oklahoma legion. Bids for the campaign have already been agreed upon. The state having the largest number of members thirty days before the national convention in Philadelphia next fall will be declared the owner of "The Old Gray Mare." The animal around which the song

Mystery Surrounds Facts Of Film Now Being Manufactured

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 16. (AP)—For the first time in the history of moving pictures a feature film is being made here without announcing the name of any of the players appearing in it or any of the production details.

The feature is a mystery play, and its future success on the screen, producers believe, depends absolutely on secrecy as to its making. Strict rules were issued barring visitors, including those of other studios, from the sets, and requiring that all visitors and actresses refrain from revealing their characters.

Only the producers and directors know the identity of the cast or where the sequences are being filmed.

WACO.—Bayline University's total in the endowment campaign was boosted to $98,351 today when a gift of $5,000 from W. G. Compton, graduate of 1914, now residing at Shreveport, was reported.

Al Smith Reiterates His Remarks Concerning Retirement To Private Life; Speculation In Gotham Rife

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16. — Reiteration by Governor Smith of announcement that he will retire to private life at the end of his present term next January has thrown a bombshell into state politics.

What effect his decision will have on the national campaign in 1928 is a question receiving much attention by political followers. In many quarters it is felt that his chances for the Democratic presidential nomination have been enhanced and that his announcement refers only to state offices.

Asked Co-operation
Shortly after Mayor Wetker, of New York, had been elected, chiefly through the vigorous support of the governor, he made a tour of several southern cities, in which he pleaded for co-operation between the southern democracy and Tammany Hall.

Speculation Is Rife.
Democratic and Republican followers also are busy speculating on the effect his retirement will have on the fortunes of their respective parties in the next gubernatorial election.

McLaughlin Boomed.
The spotlight, so far as the next Democratic candidate for governor is concerned, has been thrown on George V. McLaughlin who recently resigned as state banking commissioner to become police commissioner of New York City under Mayor Walker.

Trucking Corporation Before He Accepted
Just what business Governor Smith plans to enter is not disclosed. He was president of the United States Trucking corporation before he accepted the governorship for the second time.

CHURCH LEADERS PLAN TOUR OF FOUR STATES

DALLAS, Jan. 16. (AP)—A moderatorial tour to be undertaken by national leaders of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., includes Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. The church leaders making the tour will be headed by Rev. Charles E. Erdman of Princeton, N. J., moderator of the Presbyterian General assembly.

Public addresses will be delivered at Waxahatchie, Dallas, Fort Worth, Tulsa, Okla., Wichita, Kans., St. Joseph, Mo., and Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Erdman will arrive at Waxahatchie Monday, January 18, and will speak there Monday morning at a service arranged for the community and Trinity university, which is sponsored by the denomination.

San Antonio Cops Can Use Guns So Robberies Scarce
SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Down here in the shadow of the old Alamo, folks generally and the police in particular, have a reputation for being quick on the draw and quicker on the trigger. But San Antonio with a population of more than 200,000 and a police department of 193, has not had a major robbery in five years.

The remarkable absence of gunmen safe blowers and others of that portion of the population is accredited to the fact that there are 25 men on the force who are expert pistol shots. The whole force, including the marksmanship medal-holding Chief T. O. Miller, engage in pistol practice at regular intervals. It is said that if officers were beaten on the "draw," they would hand over their weapons in disgust.

The 193 persons of the force, which includes matrons and other attaches, patrol an area of approximately fifty square miles.

Eccentricities Of Millionaire Leader Of Socialist Colony Further Revealed By Virtue Of His Giving Away Fortune

(By Associated Press.)
ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 16. — The eccentricities of Charles Garland, promoter of April Farm, an alleged free love colony, were further revealed today with the information that he had inherited and given away a second fortune within recent years.

A member of the colony, who requested that his name be not used, told about it.

Garland started the colony in 1920, when he refused to accept a $1,000,000 legacy by his father. Later, however, he accepted the inheritance and gave it to the American Fund for Public Service.

The second legacy of $500,000, the April Farm member said, came to Garland through his grandfather's estate. Garland at once placed this in the trusteeship of the American Fund for Personal Service, which concerns itself with individuals who have provided their qualifications for a career, but who lack funds.

Garland retained a place on the board of directors of this fund of which A. J. Musty, of New York, is chairman.

Already, the April Farm spokesman said, this fund has assisted many struggling young artists, sculptors and authors in the furtherance of their studies. Included among them is a promising young negro poet now completing his education in Europe.

Reporters were unable to reach Garland for confirmation of the story.

Catholics Pray For Ill Church Official

BRUSSELS, Jan. 16. (AP) — Prayers in every Catholic Church throughout the kingdom of Belgium were ordained this morning for the return to health of Cardinal Mercier, as the primate's condition, following his recent operation, is acknowledged by doctors to be critical. Pupils in the Catholic schools will pray every morning before the opening of classes for his recovery.

A storm of criticism has broken out in the press over the manner in which the cardinal's real condition has been withheld from the public. The newspapers severely scold the medical men concerned and declared the people should have been told the truth immediately.

UTILITIES HEAD IS OPTIMISTIC IN COMING YEAR

The Texas Utilities company which occupied its new offices here at the corner of 19th street and Avenue K last Monday, is looking forward to one of the best years in the history of the institution in West Texas, and is making its plans accordingly to Hubert L. Allen, district manager of the firm, who told the Daily Journal Saturday that plans are proceeding as fast as possible on the program that will formally open the new quarters to the public.

The office equipment in the building, though all of it is not yet arranged, as planned, marks the building as one of the prettiest, and most artistically arranged in this city. Some work is yet to be done in this department, however, before the opening program.

The ice factory, which is housed in the rear end of the building, will be one of the most complete in West Texas, and surpasses in capacity even the plant at the power station in the eastern part of the city. The up-town plant is to be equipped with every modern convenience known in the manufacture of ice, but work of installing certain parts of this has not yet been completed.

Work is now under way on laying pavement in the alleys to the east and south of the building, and the vacant plot between the north and east wings of the structure is to be made into a flower garden and grass lawn, in the center of which a water fountain will be erected. Through this plot will be driveways leading to and from the ice service station that will be maintained at the plant.

Pending completion of this and many other details that are essential in the beautification program for the building and plot, the announcement of the formal opening is being withheld, as it is the plan of Mr. Allen to have everything in absolute readiness before the public is invited to inspect the plant. It probably will be thirty days before the opening, Mr. Allen said Saturday.

CITIES OF SILVER LIE HIDDEN IN TEXAS HILLS

ALPINE, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—Silent cities of silver lie hidden in the rugged mountains of this Southwest Texas section, little known yet, probably pioneers of a great industry.

They are called "silver" and "silent" because a majority of their inhabitants spend their waking hours burrowing far beneath the surface for quicksilver. The shimmering liquid metal is their life.

Tetliqua and Waldron, 80 miles from a railroad, are villages of a deathly silence, yet their men are as busy as ants, boring into the mountains for a blood-red substance which many years ago the Indians thought was good only for war paint.

A new mine about to open may bring the quicksilver production of this state to first rank in the United States. Texas is now second. One company has produced $10,000,000 worth in the last 25 years.

The residents of these strange little towns are Mexicans and Indians. While the men are away at the mines, the women remain in their adobe huts, especially during the long hot summers. The quiet of the lonesome towns is unbroken and they appear deserted.

Occasionally an Indian woman comes forth with two rawhide bags hanging from a pole across her shoulders. This quaint method of carrying water indicates how primitive is the life of these towns.

There is no laughter, no music, no flowers, nothing but the silence. This was pierced momentarily last summer when a Mexican miner married a girl of Waldron village. From a Sunday dawn until late at night, the wedding celebration progressed with Spanish fervor. Notwithstanding the heat of an August day, the guests, many from Mexico, danced on through the hours. The next morning the miners returned to the hills and silence returned to the villages.

In contrast with the quiet of the villages, is the beaverlike activity in the mountains for the cinnabar ore from which quicksilver is extracted. One of the mines contains an immense cavern, access to which is gained by a 50 foot ladder placed there many years ago by Indians who used the ore for war paint. The bluffs hereabouts contain many Indian pictographs painted in red.

Lockney People Plan To Attend Short Course Meet

LOCKNEY, Jan. 16. (AP)—Many Lockney farmers will attend the farmer's short course which will be held in Lubbock January 28 and 29, according to E. S. Shoaf, secretary of the Lockney chamber of commerce. Shoaf said: "The farmers are vitally interested in diversified farming, and as the course at Lubbock deals with every phase of diversified farming the farmers are going to avail themselves of this great opportunity, and take advantage of the educational program." About fifty farmers from Lockney and Floyd county will attend according to Shoaf.

BRAY MOTOR COMPANY

FORDS SET RECORD REGISTRATION IN COUNTY

Ford cars, including all models of passenger vehicles totalled 57 per cent of all automobile registrations during the first six months of 1925 in Lubbock county, figures compiled by W. E. Malcolm, Ford Motor company factory representative from the records of county tax collector L. F. Holland, showed. The figures were explained before the semi-monthly meeting of the Lubbock Auto company officials and employees here Friday.

The records showed further that Ford trucks took a percentage of 72 of all trucks registered in this county. Figures from other counties in this territory show even a little higher percentage, both on pleasure cars and trucks.

Figures compiled by Mr. Malcolm for pleasure cars in five other counties surrounding here are as follows: Hale county, 57 per cent; Garza 51 per cent; Hockley, 73; Lynn, 66; and Cochran set a perfect figure at 100 per cent. The general average for the six counties is 72.5 per cent on all passenger vehicles. Trucks in all the counties show a still heavier percentage of Ford products.

Mr. Malcolm was here in the interest of Ford National Display Week, which closed simultaneously throughout the United States Saturday, and in connection with this, rumors from the Ford Motor company plant at Detroit are to the effect that the Highland Park plant, suburb of Detroit, which formerly has been used for automobile construction is to be converted into an accessory department exclusively. The plant covers an area of 85 acres, and, according to the rumors, has much equipment that is now in keeping with the requirements of the automobile king.

It is understood that Mr. Ford plans to manufacture in the accessory department such articles as windshield wipers, heavy curtains, top boot and automatic windshield wipers, the Ford snubber unit, a patented process, bumpers, and various other pieces of equipment.

These specialties are not "extras" but have been so designed by Ford engineers to become actually a part of the car. Stamped with the trade mark of the company in its familiar script, the equipment has the identity of genuine Ford parts, and is to be held to the same standard of quality as the car itself.

The introduction of these specialties conflict in no way with the company's policy of refraining from dictating to a purchaser the amount of equipment he must buy with his car. Those to whom economy is the principal consideration will in the future as in the past, be able to purchase Ford cars in which the standard equipment will include only those features essential to satisfactory operation.

Students attending the Tech from Dawson county met Tuesday evening and organized the Dawson county club, the first and only county club in the institution. Although there are 12 students in the Tech from this county, only nine were present at the first meeting. The club has made application for a page in the annual, and will probably be the only county club in the year book. It will meet every

CIVILIAN CLUB AND CADETS TO FORM RIFLE CLUB

That there is a possibility of the co-operation of Lubbock citizens and the Tech cadet corps in the organization of a rifle club was disclosed this week by Lieut. H. E. Killin, who states that at least 25 Lubbock men are interested in the formation of such a club. A club combining the two groups would make it possible for all equipment, other than that belonging to the government, to be used in common. Especially would this be advantageous in the selection of a rifle range.

This organization will probably be completed by the end of January, according to Lieut. Killin. The civilian club has already sent out inquiries for equipment and an order will be placed soon. The riflemen have two ranges sites in view and the most suitable of the two will be selected.

The co-operation of the civilian club will be of great benefit to the cadets, inasmuch as it will insure a better range for the practice, better competition that will create interest in the work, and better equipment, with which to work. If present plans are carried out without delay, it is expected that practice in long range firing will be under way by spring.

An effort is being made by Lieut. Killin to establish an indoor range at the college for the benefit of the cadets. The civilian club has an indoor range down town. Both organizations are showing a great deal of interest in the plan of cooperation.

MEMPHIS HAS BIG YEAR DURING 1925

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 16.—1925 has proved to be a year of civic improvement for Memphis. Approximately 100 new residences have been built and 799 front feet of modern brick buildings have been erected during the year.

Some of the buildings constructed during the past year are the Masonic building, costing $55,000; the Harrison building, at a cost of $12,000; and the residences of S. L. Seage, C. A. Powell, W. S. Cress and Sam Foxhall, each costing $10,000.

The city also carried a bond issue of $50,000 for street paving and improvements. This will include the paving of 40 blocks in the residence section and several blocks and alleys of the business district.

The Memphis Telephone company will install new equipment in the local exchange during 1926, using the new flashlight system instead of the old ringing type. Work has already been started on a new modern hotel, costing $40,000. Memphis has informed the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers and Starts Work of New Year

Y. M. C. A. work for the coming months of the term, was started off with a bang last Sunday afternoon in the first meeting of the term. The meeting had been announced as a business meeting and the program was adhered to. Some five or six different items of importance were acted upon during the hour, the most important, perhaps, being the election of officers for the Y.

Eugens Jordan, who has been chairman of the executive committee of the Y, was elected president. Mr. Jordan is an experienced worker in the Y. M. C. A. and he is worthy of the post. Trostle, who has also been active in the work since it was instituted here, was elected vice president.

Ned Camp was elected secretary. Camp has been acting in that capacity since the beginning of the work, and will go right on in that office.

The meeting proper was opened with a prayer by Mr. Street. Dr. Read was in the chair, prior to the election of officers, and among other items stressed by him was the fact that Tech needs a paid Y worker and that Tech can get one. Mr. Casham, who is now with the Austin college at Sherman, has agreed to take the position for three thousand a year. This includes, however, his work as general secretary of athletes in the college, a position which he is very capable of holding.

Three objectives were stressed for the Tech Y for this year. First in rank, perhaps, is the employment bureau system. This will provide free service to Tech students in getting employment, and will be of untold benefit.

Planned programs, instructive and interesting, will be presented at each meeting and a program committee is at work seeing that this is cared for. Joint meeting with the Y. W. will be held at appropriate times, so putting the work of the two organizations on a common basis.

Of especial interest was Dr. Read's announcement that on Feb. 8, 9 and 10 a very prominent speaker, in the person of Henry P. Van Dusen, will be here to speak before the students of the school, but especially for Y work. Mr. Van Dusen is a Y worker of repute and Tech is fortunate to have him here.

Meetings will continue, as in the past, of alternative Sundays, at 3 p. m. On Thursday, Jan. 28, a joint meeting with the Lubbock Hi Y will be held.

Brady, chairman of the athletic committee, was authorized to purchase eight basketball jerseys for the Y, thus added impetus to the athletic movement already inaugurated.

The meeting was adjourned until Sunday, Jan. 24.

Stangel Selects Jersey and Holstein Breeds of Cattle

Mr. Stangel, professor of animal husbandry of the Tech, left Lubbock

Monday, Jan. 8, for various places in the state for the purpose of visiting dairy herds with a view to selecting foundation stock for the college dairy. He visited herds at Fort Worth, Dallas, Rockdale and College Station and made several selections of both Jersey and Holstein cattle. Deals for the purchase of Jersey cattle have been made and these will be brought to Lubbock as soon as an extension of an electric line can be made to the dairy barn.

Mr. Stangel while in Dallas attended the meeting of the Jersey cattle club of Dallas. He also visited the modern poultry farm of C. C. Harrison at Fort Worth for the purpose of examining poultry houses built by the James Mfg. company.

In designating himself as "Republican (progressive)" Senator La Follette provides a reservation that may mean much. — Pittsburgh-Gazette-Times.

POULTRY EXHIBIT AT MEMPHIS IS STARTING

Special to the Journal. MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 16.—The Fourth Annual Hall County District Poultry show will be held in Memphis, January 14, 15 and 16 in the old Masonic hall. The poultry industry is growing rapidly in Hall county, and it is expected that more interest will be manifested in the show this year than heretofore.

Walter Burton of Arlington, Texas, will judge the show, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce states that he is one of the best poultry judges in the Southwest.

Chas. Williams, president of the association, will enter at least 500 birds this year. Chickens are being sent out from the Chamber of Commerce daily.

Local Tire Firm Sets Sales Record For West Texas

The Lubbock Tire company, under the very able management of W. H. and J. B. Logan, brothers, who just a few months ago opened here, established high mark in sales for the entire territory in Texas west of Fort Worth, during the last six months of 1925, according to advices received here Saturday from the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, whose products they handle.

The demand for Goodyear products is steadily on the increase here. Mr. Logan told the Daily Journal, and he said that the firm has entered contract with the Goodyear people for 1926, when they expect even greater strides forward. The new contract was closed through J. N. Pritchett, factory representative who was here last week.

Mixed Choral Club Organized Last Tuesday

A mixed choral club under the direction of W. R. Wagborne was organized Tuesday, Jan. 12. The following officers were elected: John Burroughs, president; Ruth Officer, secretary; Newman Casey, vice president; C. Cummings, treasurer; and Joane Kirkland, librarian. There were 23 members present. Two committees on membership were appointed, one consisting of Billie Pearl Eubanks as chairman, assisted by Maude Dee Skeen and Lucille Davis, the other consisting of Grady Moore as chairman with Henry P. Cooper and Newman Casey assisting him. These committees have already reported several new members, and there is a probability of 40 or 70 members in the near future. Several members of the faculty are interested. Rehearsals are held once a week, Tuesday afternoon from 4-5:30. A small fee of 25 cents is charged for admittance. The club is now ready to begin real work and expects to produce an operetta soon.

TECH TEXTILE MILLS PRODUCE 1ST SPECIMENS

DALLAS NEWS DECLARES TEXTILE MILLS ARE UP-TO-DATE

The textile mills of the Texas Technological college turned out their first specimens of cloth this week in the form of woven material. Simultaneously with this report, the Dallas Morning News carried a story in the issue of January 8, calling attention to the completeness of the mills at the Tech. The following is an excerpt from the story:

"When the machinery now being installed in the technical building of Texas Technological college has been placed in operation, the college will have one of the most complete and up-to-date textile mills in the country and will be able to turn out finished products of every description from the raw cotton or wool.

"Articles of manufacture will consist of cotton goods of all kinds, such as are produced by the big mills of Dallas or other points in the State and the students of textile engineering will be taught all details of the mill work from the ground up, so that when they have completed the course each will be thoroughly equipped to take charge of a textile mill and superintend its operations.

"Installation of machinery in this building will be completed early in January, it is hoped by the college authorities, although several carloads are yet to arrive. Much of the heavy equipment already has been placed in position and the classes of students are in session daily. E. W. Camp, who came to Texas Tech from the famous Georgia Tech, is in charge and is at present supervising the purchase and installation of the machinery.

"Graduates in the textile department of the college will have the degree of technical engineer conferred upon them and will be fully equipped to assume responsible positions at cotton mills throughout the state and country, such as superintendent and manager, and with the rapid growth of the industry in Texas and the Southwest it is believed that not many of them will have to leave the state to find positions.

"The textile engineering building now being fitted up as a miniature cotton mill, also contains a number of classrooms and offices. It is the second largest building on the college campus and the first unit of the engineering group of buildings, containing a floor area of approximately 27,000 feet. The machinery is costing $150,000, although only $100,000 was appropriated by the state for the purpose. The balance of $50,000 representing the investment in machinery was donated by manufacturers from whom the purchases were made. All of the mill machinery is of the latest and most approved design, including a wool knitting machine. Among the products that will be turned out will be cotton and silk hosiery, that will sell on any market, all forms of cotton fabric, as well as woolen goods, some of which will have a silk stripe.

PROF. WAGHORNE WRITES NEW SONG FOR TECH COLLEGE

MAY BECOME OFFICIAL COLLEGE SONG IN FUTURE

The first step toward adopting a college song for the Texas Tech will probably be taken in the near future when Prof. W. R. Wagborne of the department of music introduces to the faculty and student body a song of his own composition, which is entitled, "Glory to Alma Mater." The words are being printed this week and it is probable that the song will be sung in assembly on next Monday morning.

Prof. Wagborne has composed this song for use in the college, and if it meets with the approval of the faculty and student body, it will be adopted as the official college song. The music, which is a rousing march, was written last July, but the words were not composed until the holiday vacation, and this is the first announcement that has been made of the complete composition. Although Mr. Wagborne has not suggested its adoption as the official song of the Tech, it will receive much consideration at this time. Mr. Wagborne is still working at his selection of songs to be sung in the

COUNTY ATTORNEY OWEN McWHORTER WILL RUN FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

County Attorney Owen W. McWhorter, who is completing his fourth year as public prosecutor for the county of Lubbock, will enter the primaries in July of this year as a candidate for District Attorney for the 12nd Judicial District, he told the Daily Journal today. Lubbeck, Hockley, Crosby and Cochran counties comprise this district.

Mr. McWhorter was born and raised in Lubbock county, is a graduate of the local public school system, and a product of the University of Texas school of law. While yet a student he made his first bid for public office deal of training as a state's prosecutor. Although Mr. McWhorter announces no definite platform in making his formal announcement as a candidate for District Attorney he stated that he would continue to support the activities of the peace officers, both county and city, throughout the district.

He says, however, that the suspended sentence law, which oftentimes permits a guilty matured defendant to go scot-free, has been abused in many parts of the state and if elected will favor the decision of a suspended sentence only in such cases which have as the accused a defendant of decided immaturity age and discretion.

He further stated that he would ask the support of the voters of the district only upon his past record as a public prosecutor.
