MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. P.

Buford O. Brown, editor of the Vernon Record, is a man of vision. He would give Texas the best schools enjoyed by the people of any state and the best highways to be found anywhere. Speaking of the road bond election in Clay county, Editor Brown says in his Record: "Clay county proposes to vote $2,000,000 for highway building. It is announced that the county expects to receive Federal and State aid to the amount of $1,000,000, providing a fund ample for constructing permanent highways over the main-traveled routes in the county. It his become evident to men in Clay county that one only way to keep from dropping out of the race for commercial advancement is to build good roads. Without these the various communities in a county become so many semi-isolated centers of humanity, working under all the disadvantages of such isolation and its unwelcome results upon young life. Because of sandy soil it is not questioned that insofar as the greater part of Wilbarger county is concerned, the only way good roads can ever be had is to build them of concrete. Every day this is put off means a loss in money, and a greater loss in the fibre of citizenship. Some day Texas will sell the prison farms; some day Texas will sell or junk the penitentiary plants; some day the 3,000 convicts will be utilized as road builders; some day the state will manufacture thé cement needed in the construction of public highways. "On with the battle."

Former State Senator Tom W. Perkins is the publisher of the McKinney Courier-Gazette. Collin is one of the rich black land counties. Editor Perkins is responsible for this one: "Collin county raised a splendid crop of onions this year. Especially was the yield good in the McKinney and Princeton communities. At the opening of the season the onions brought from $1.00 to $1.14 cents per bushel. But as the season advanced the bottom dropped out, so to speak, and nice large onions sold for as low as 30 and 40 cents per bushel. However, the price has climbed upward again, and $1.00 per bushel is now being paid for onions. Many car loads of onions were shipped from Collin county." There is a day coming when millions of acres of land in the Wichita river valley as well as the prairie land adjoining will be under irrigation and then this section of Texas will be able to supply the cities of the southwest as well as the cities of the north with the finest vegetables as well as fruits and berries grown under American skies. This isn't a prediction. Northwest Texas has the climate, the soil, the cheap lands, the transportation facilities and the markets of America are accessible.

Amos J. Mitchell of Wichita Falls is for a tariff on oil importations. The Dallas News does not take kindly to the proposition. Its editor made light of the subject. Mr. Mitchell seized his pen or his typewriter and the following appeared in the News of Monday: "To The News: The writer who feel reasonable pride in the fact that he is neither a democrat nor republican in the sense of indorsing or condemning blindly, policies of, or statements by members of either party, is surprised and dismayed to read your editor, "Floods of Mexican Oil," in your issue of this date. Being one of the many thousands of Texas oil producers and others whose livelihood depends directly upon the oil industry, it is a plain statement of fact to say that the inference in your editorial carries to your readers an impression which is incorrect, unfair and prejudicial to the oil fraternity of whom you number among your regular readers. The fact is that the oil business is grievously distressed and threatened with permanent ruin. The big menace to the trade in Mexico capable, even now, of producing one-half as much crude oil as is the United States and potential production far in excess of our domestic output. The oil producer asks for fair play, reasonable and consistent consideration. We are entitled to a protective day. Oil can be produced in Mexico for less than one-half the cost of producing in the United States. It is the writer's opinion that Mexico is justly entitled to the export duty which has been imposed. Oil is practically the only immediate source of income which the nation has. It is to be hoped that Obregon will firmly maintain the position he has taken on the matter of export duty. Yours truly." H. N. P. is not a champion of a high tariff wall around America. He is not a champion of free trade. He is for a tariff or revenue only. If the products of the American factories and mills are to be protected then H. N. P. believes the raw products or materials produced under Texas skies are entitled to their share of protection whenever they come in competition with the products or raw materials of foreign countries.

Mrs. Bertha Ross of Wilbarger county is superintendent of the Department of the County Fair given over to relics of pioneer days. She has all the curios and relics on display. Included are old guns, lanterns, pictures of early days, men and scenes, needle handiwork of pioneer women, a spinning wheel and a $1,000,000 bond issued by the Confederate Government in the days when the Planters Republic was in flower. J. Doan built the first house in Wilbarger county. Mrs. Ross is his daughter and claims the distinction of being the first white child in the county. Pioneer life was the life of the rugged and the brave. Why shouldn't these

ARTICLE 27 IS HELD NOT RETROACTIVE

Mexican Supreme Court Decides Case in Favor of Texas Company in Holding Measure Not Binding.

Decision Regarded by Some Oil Operators as Setting Precedent and Clarifying Questions in Dispute

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Officials of the Mexican department of commerce and industry have been enjoined by the supreme court from denouncing rights to oil lands held by the Texas company prior to May 1, 1917. This decision, handed down last night by a unanimous vote of the court, possibly sets a precedent for the courts action in dealing with nearly 150 cases calling into question the effect of article 27 of the Mexican constitution.

The Texas company appealed to the court for an amparo, or preliminary certificate issued to the holder of the land claim, pending the issuance of pre-emption papers. This action was taken to prevent the government from denouncing claims held by the company. If the other oil companies which have brought similar actions are victorious, it is generally believed that the decisions will constitute the court's definition of article 27, and its interpretation of that article as being non-retroactive in its effects, and that claims to oil lands held before May 1, 1917, cannot be questioned.

All Judges Concur.

Justice Adolfo Arias prepared the decision, in which his colleagues concurred. When court opened yesterday and discussions were begun, Justice Arias was the first to speak and he mphatically championed the Texas company's contentions, asserting that the denouncement in question was in direct violation of article 14 of the Mexican constitution. This article states that "no law shall be given retroactive effect to the prejudice of any person whatsoever." He also was emphatic in stating that the nationalization of petroleum deposits under article 27 of the constitution must not be made retroactive so that it would apply to lands legally acquired under the mining law as itt sood previous to May 1, 1917. That law declared that oil was a part of the soil wherever found.

Arguments by the justices during the day were mainly in support of this position.

Establishes Ruling.

Newspapers here generally believe the decision handed down last night is of far-raching importance, and virtually establishes a ruling by Mexico's highest judicial tribune as to the non-retroactivity of Article 27. In some quarters, however, there was doubt today that the decision was as definite in that respects as reports would indicate. Several local oil men declared they would withhold their opinion until careful reading disclosed the exact phraseology of the court's decision regarding sub-soil rights on lands held both in fee and by lease.

There is no doubt how-ever, that the action of the supreme court will have a salutary effect in indicating at last the government is making a serious effort to clear up controversial questions.

An appeal for an injunction in a case similar to that brought by the Texas company was taken up by the court today, the Mexican Gulf company being the plaintiff in the action.

Americans Silent.

Heads of American oil companies who are conferring with government officials here declined last night to comment on the decision and they were silent as to their conference yes-

FIRE DESTROYS THREE BALLOONS OF U. S. NAVY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Dirigible balloon D-6, the largest American aircraft of its type, the blimp H-1 and Kite balloon AP were destroyed by fire which also razed the hangar today at the Rockaway Point naval air station. An explosion of gasoline, from an unknown cause, started the blaze. Although a number of men were in the hangar, only one man was slightly burned.

Secretary Denby recently ordered all activities at the air station to cease tomorrow. It was understood the D-6 was being prepared for transportaiton to the new hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., built to receive the ill-fated ZR-2 recently destroyed in England.

Unofficial estimates placed the loss at $500,000.

EXPLOSION KILLS AND INJURES 16

By Associated Press.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Aug. 31.—Eleven dead miners were brought to the surface of the Harco mine from a depth of 445 feet, and 1000 feet from the mouth of the mine at 6 o'clock tonight. The entire number were entombed this afternoon when a dynamite charge in a new coal bed penetrated an old walled room, providing means of escape of black damp, which it is believed, killed the miners.

Seven men who escaped the explosion, but are suffering from the effect of black damp were taken to local hospitals. It is believed they will recover.

The mine will be sealed tomorrow by state authorities, who will issue a permit after an investigation, authorizing the continuance of operations.

FARMERS BUREAU GETS FEDERAL AID

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING ASSOCIATION RECEIVES $31,000,000 FROM GOVERNMENT.

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31.—Farmers co-operative marketing associations have received loans totalling $31,000,000 from the war finance corporation, Carl Williams of the American Cotton Growers' association said here today upon his return from Washington.

Credits for the same association aggregating $9,000,000 are being obtained from New York banking interests, in addition, Mr. Williams said.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—Franklin M. Smith, 45, an oil man, formerly of Joplin, Mo., was instantly killed today when he fell from an upper floor of a bank building to a roof several stories below. Just before the fall he was seen in an office on the sixteenth floor. His wife and daughter are in Springfield, Mo.

DALLAS OFFICERS NOT INVESTIGATING ACTIVITIES OF KLAN

Special to the Record News.

DALLA, Aug. 31.—Local officers are not investigating the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, according to assertions made today by several officers.

Grady Niblo, assistant United States disriett atorney and F. M. Spencer, in charge of the bureau of investigation, both said that they had received no orders to conduct such a probe.

CASUALTIES IN BELFAST NUMBER 15

Although Rest of Ireland Observes Truce Between Fighting Factions, One City Disorderly.

Wednesday's Renewal of Terror Reign Results in Six More Deaths; Stores and Shops Close.

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Although the truce between the discordant factions is being completely observed throughout the remainder of Ireland, Belfast again today experienced another period of terror from gunmen and snipers. As a result the death list was augmented by six, while thirty persons were injured, many of them seriously.

Today's casualties bring the total death toll for the three days of rioting to fifteen. There probably have been one hundred persons more or less seriously injured, of whom numbers were non-combatants who recklessly had ventured into the streets which were being swept by fire from rifle and revolver.

With some quiet intervals, resulting from the police putting snipers to flight, shooting persisted at various sections of the city from early morning until late this evening. Sometimes it became so dangerous as to necessitate the suspension of the tramway service. Many workers were unable to reach their places of employment and returned to their homes, while shopkeepers did not dare to open their stores. In some of the disturbed districts manufactories were compelled to close for the day, while owing to the failure to open the shops the streets presented a deserted appearance.

RUMOR MEXICO IS SEEKING YANK TO REBUILD RAILWAYS

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—The credit of $2,500,000 just extended by the Baldwin Locomotive company, through its president Samuel M. Vauclain, to the Mexican government, is to be utilized as a start toward solving the railroad problem—one of the most difficult faced by the Obregon administration. It will be used to purchase rolling stock and construction material for the national railways.

All of the lines under federal operation have deteriorated during the extensive periods of revolution until their rehabilitation is now a matter of millions of dollars, requiring administrative genuius. Instances of graft running into hundreds of millions are alleged to have been uncovered by the present board of directors. Ramon P. Denegri, who is the personal representative of President Obregon on the board, recently declared that the lines had lost by graft more than $300,000,000 during the past ten months.

As a result the lines are said to be lamentably inefficient now and the transportation problem is causing endless worry to merchants and shippers. The ports of entry such as Vera Cruz, Tampico, and Laredo have been congested but, according to authentic reports, the situation is gradually clearing and freight which has been lying on wharves or in railroad yards for months is now being shipped with some semblance of regularity.

A rumor which cannot be substantiated here is that the Mexican government is desirious of securing the services of a practical American railroad administrator who will act in an advisory capacity to the Mexican board of directors.

RAIL CHIEFS SAY FARMERS AS WELL OFF AS OTHERS

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Agriculture is in no more serious plight than other industries as a result of the present depression, four vice presidents of Western railroads declared today before the interstate commerce commission at its hearing on the question of reducing freight rates on grain and hay. Freight rates, the witnesses declared today before the interstate commerce commission at its hearing on the question of reducing freight rates on grain and hay. Freight rates, the witnesses declared, have but little effect on business generally and advances in rates have never resulted in a reduction of traffic. Grain producers have made no appeals to the roads for reduced freight rates, they added, all such appeals having come from governmental officials or agencies.

The appearance of the vice presidents after the carriers had placed traffic experts and statisticians on the stand was unexpected and made it necessary to continue the taking of testimony tomorrow.

ASK GOVERNOR FOR MILITIAMEN TO KEEP ORDER

By Associated Press.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 31.—Conditions in and near Concord, an importantt textile center are again beyond conrol of the city and county authorities. Governor Morrison was advised late today by Sheriff Cary Spears and Mayor J. B. Womble, of Concord. The governor was requested to order the return of state troops to the posts from which they were withdrawn a few days ago.

URGE FEDERAL TROOPS BE RUSHED INTO LOGAN COUNTY TO STOP FIGHT

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Logan authorities tonight sent a telegram to Washington stating that unless troops were sent at once the county would be attacked by between 4,000 and 6,000 men. Sheriff Chafin at the same time issued the following statement to newspaper men:

"There has been more or less continuous firing on four points of the line today. The points are Beech Creek, Blair, Crooked Creek and Mill Creek."

"Casualties, according to the best reports we can obtain, were limited to three in the defensive, or Logan county forces. John Gore, deputy sheriff, was killed. We have not received identification of the other two, one was a McDowell man; the other from Logan county. We have received no information as to the number killed on the opposing side. We know of one miner who was shot when striking at our men. The most serious fighting was reported from the vicinity of Blair. At all points our forces advanced one mile in the Blair district, but were driven back. In the Beech Creek district they advanced one mile and they also were turned back. The furtherest advance was in the Pesk's Hill district, where they advanced two miles along Hewitt creek. Here we also drove them back.

"We have 1,200 men and have arranged for reinforcements from various points including Bluefield, Williamson, McDowell and Huntington.

"I have heard nothing of the fate of the deputies held prisoners, but I fear for them. This is all I can say at this time."

The announcement that an appeal had been made to the federal government to hasten despatch of troops was announced by officials at the court house, while the sheriff was talking to the newspaper men.

Ask State Help.

These reports reached Logan and Sheriff Don Chafin sent a hurried call for help to the sheriffs of neighboring counties and to Governor Morgan.

Two companies of the state police and a number of volunteers were quickly despatched from Mingo county to Logan while some two hundred or three hundred deputy sheriffs were hastily enrolled in McDowell county and sent to Logan under Sheriff Bill Hatfield. These forces hurried to the mountain range separating the union and non-union fields and the state police early Sunday came in contact with a body of men marching toward ogan. In the fight which followed, four men were killed.

News of the encounter only added to the seriousness of the situation.

From all over the southern part of the state, miners were reported as hurrying to join the forces at Jeffery. This movement was continuing today and tonight it was estimated that fully 5,000, if not more men, were in the region.

CRYSTAL FALLS MOURNS LOSS OF NEW "JUZGADO"

Special to the Record News.

CRYSTAL FALLS, Texas, Aug. 31.—Yesterday was the day the town's bastile was completed and the proud contractor turned over the finished job to the satisfied village representatives who received it with considerable admiration and appreciation of its formidable and fearsome appearance, but today—today is another day—and the town must call in the contractor to build another "juzgado" for that one is gone, left at 8:30 a. m. when two sticks of dynamite were exploded in its yet unoccupied interior.

The noise of the explosion brought the town to the unanimous conclusion that the town bank was being robbed and the makings of a posse quickly assembled and almost as quickly dissolved.

The mystery is yet unsolved.

MORE HOUSES NECESSARY TO FILL CONTRACT

Chamber of Commerce Appeals for Additional Facilities for Employes of Gulf Companies.

"More houses will be necessary if we carry out our contract with the Gulf people and locate their men here at reasonable prices," declared T. B. Noble, president of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon.

"We have agreed with about 22 of their officials as to a location and all are satisfied.

"But half done," is not going to be enough. We need about a dozen more houses to place all.

"I hope the property owners of Wichita Falls realize the value of this move in the stabilizing of their property values, and make it possible for it to be carried out on schedule. The coming of this company's North Texas headquarters means as much to this city as another railroad.

"I hope that property owners with houses which they will rent will telephone either my office or the Chamber of Commerce so that we can get this matter settled."

RECOVER BODY OF MAXFIELD

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The body of Commander Louis H. Maxfield, commanding officer of the American naval contingent, who was killed in the ZR-2 wreck, has been recovered, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Hull.

HULL, Aug. 31.—Three more bodis were recovered from the wreckage of the ZR-2 late today, making a total of twenty-two recovered since the accident. One of the three was identified as that of Flying Officer V. H. Wicks. The body which was washed ashore this morning was later identified as that of Sergeant J. W. Mason, of the Royal air force.

PROMINENT CLUB WOMAN IS DEAD

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Mary K. Craig, prominent club woman of Texas died at her home today at the age of seventy-nine. She suffered a fall several days ago which, it is believed, hastened her death.

Mrs. Craig was a native of Jackson, Miss., coming to Texas 42 years ago, and settling at Paris. Later she came to Dallas and had been engaged in teaching.

CONTINUE HOSTILITIES IN AREA OF STRIKE

By Associated Press.

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Hostilities continued today between forces of armed men who had been collecting on the eastern slope of Spruce fork ridge and the thousand or more deputy sheriffs and volunteers who had been called to the aid of officers of Logan county. Despite President Harding's proclamation asking the armed men to disperse and not violate the law one deputy sheriff was killed, another is missing and one of their men lost his life when outposts clashed at widely separated points.

Additional reports received by Sheriff Don Chafin of Logan county, and Sheriff Bill Hatfield, of McDowell county, were to the efect that three other men had been killed in an encounter at Mills Creek. That report, however, lacks oficial confirmation.

Other developments of the late afternoon included the announcement that the invaders had advanced their lines two miles during the day and on the Logan sector were only four miles from the county forces.

At Peck's Mill, headquarters of the McDowell men, six miles of rough mountain country, were said to separate the outposts. Through this wild section scouting parties from both sides passed during the day, and while details were lacking it was assumed that the casualties were caused when they came in contact with one another. Surgeons and nurses were sent to Peck's Mill, where a field hospital was established late in the afternoon. Other hospitals, it was said, would be ready before tomorrow.

Sheriff Chafin and Sheriff Hatfield made a tour of the front before night fall and it was expected that upon their return the exact position of the opposing forces would be made known.

The little country town of Logan was the scene of intense activity. Volunteers continued to come in from all over the southern part of the state. Women of the county served them with food and hot coffee while trained military men organized them into service units and hurried them to the front. Everywhere the gravity of the situation was recognized but there was a note of optimism from the men who leaned on their rifles in the street to the women who worked in the improvised canteens.

CORRESPONDENT SEES FIGHTING FROM GUN NEST

By Associated Press.

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Hidden in a machine gun nest, a correspondent of the Associated Press, aided by field glasses, today viewed the fighting along Crooked creek. The nest was part of the Logan county defenses and the gun was manned by deputy sheriffs. Men constantly were seen scurrying about the mountain passes of the Aja county of

APPROPRIATION BILLS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Neff Affixes Signature to Eleemosynary Institution, Rural Schools and Emergency Measures.

Home for Dependent Children Not to Open Because Allowance Vetoed by Chief Executive.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 31.—The eleemosynary institutions appropriations bill, the rural school aid bill and the emergency appropriattions bills were signed by Governor Neff late today.

In approving the eleemosynary bill the governor vetoed items amounting to $623,760 for the next ttwo years. The bill as passed by he legislature carried $3,248,220 for the first year and $3,065,055 for the second year.

The contingent fund added by the free conference committee amounting to $277,500 for each of the next two years was stricken out by the governor. This amendment was added by the committee to be worked under the Pope amendment. The Pope amendment provided that all funds shall be expended only as appropriated. This fund gave the institution heads the right to expend it for emergencies without consent of the board of control. As finally singed the bill carries the Pope amendment minus the contingent fund fixed by the free conference committee.

The other items cut out by the governor were of minor importance and covered all institutions. They were for the most part appropriations for repairs and improvements, none of which amounted to a large sum.

The home for neglected and dependent children at Waco will not open until September 1, 1922 on account of the governor's veto. He vetoed all but $720 of the appropriation for the first year amounting to $45,380. The second year is left intact.

The rural school aid bill carried $1,500,000 for the first year and $1,000,000 for the second year. The governor signed the bill in the presence of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, superintendent of education; Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, and others.

The bill appropriating $60,000 for a new building at the state orphans home at Corsicana was also signed by the governor.

The emergency appropriation bill carried $575,375 of which the governor struck out two minor items amounting to $4,850.

The educational and departmenental appropriations bill are still before the governor. He said that he would probably sign them tomorrow.

TARIFF HAS LAST INNING IN SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Tariff questions had their last inning for several weeks before the senate finance committee today, and the committee made ready to take up the house revenue bill tomorrow.

The tax measure will hold the center of the stage until final committee action has been taken and it is ready for the senate. Leaders said today it would be possible to complete committee action in two weeks. The committee, under present plans, intends to work on taxes wholly behind closed doors.

INFORMATION OF PROPERTY IS REQUESTED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Recommendation that provision be made in forthcoming negotiations with Germany and Austria, to enable the alien property custodian to obtain information from those countries for use in litigation pending in this country over property seized by the government during the war, was made to President Harding today by Colonel Thomas W. Miller, the custodian. It is necessary in the best interests of the government, Colonel Miller said, that American agents be afforded facilities in both Germany and Austria for clearing up matters for former enemy owners and particularly with regard to a number of cases now pending before the courts.

Formation of a policy to govern the ultimate disposition of seized German and Austrian property was discussed with the president, Colonel Miller recommending the withholding of enemy property until satisfaction is made in connection with the $400,000,000 in American claims against Germany.

ASKS CITY TO BAR CARS FROM SPACE

Protesting the practice of service car drivers in parking their cars and calling for passengers on the space between Seventh and Eighth streets, near the Union depot, J. W. Mote, Fort Worth & Denver trainmaster, appeared before an adjourned session of the city council Wednesday afternoon with the assertion that the railroad company may see fit to fence off the ground unless the city bar the service car operators from this territory. Mr. Mote declared that the ground is reserved for citizens who wish to park their cars there while waiting for friends on incoming trains. He also declared that the drivers disturb the slumber of patrons who are trying to sleep on Pullman cars on the tracks.

Members of the city council agreed that the practice was an annoyance, but asserted that the railway company permitted one company to operate a stand there and that to bar others would be rank discrimination.

Two councilmen declared that it is well known that a high railroad official owns a large block of stock in a local auto livery company and that it believed to be through his influence the big objection is being made to prevent service cars being operated from the grounds immediately contiguous to the depot. Although no action was taken on the matter, councilmen declared that a full investigation of the situation will be made before any action is taken.

"We have good local men driving service cars and they have as much right to all the business they can honestly get as any other firm or individual," one of the councilmen said.

T. J. Coleman was granted permission to remove gasoline pumps from 607 and 609 Ohio streets.

FIND AUTO ABANDONED IN BRUSH

Surrounded by numberless bottles, some of which gave off the odor of liquor and other evidences of wild revelry, a Ford touring car, believed to be one recently stolen from W. W. Linnville, 1204 Denver street, was found Wednesday by Deputy Constable W. A. Miles and Pat Garrett. The automobile, according to the report of the finders, was well hidden by a thick growth of underbrush and could not be seen at a distance of 25 feet on either side.

The car was found near the little Wichita River about a mile and a half north of the 77 club lake, the officers said.

The car and other paraphernalia nearby indicated that it had been there several days, officers reported. Mr. Linnville's car was stolen during an extended absence and was not missed until his return Tuesday. Neighbors reported to Mr. Linnville that his garage door had been open for at least two weeks prior to his return.

Mr. Linnville was not notified in time Wednesday to be snown the car. Officers, however, were confident that it was his property.

Belief that the car was stolen by joy riders who transpored liquor to the place and returned in other machines, was expressed by officers.

SOLDIER DEAD ARRIVES HERE FOR INTERMENT

The body of Thomas L. Ford, member of the 142nd infantry, Thirty-sixth division, who met death on the battlefield while serving with the American expeditionary forces in France, arrived here at 10:45 o'clock Wednesday night.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church, the Rev. J. T. Pinkston, assistant pastor, officiating.

Burial will be at Riverside cemetery, under the auspices of Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion, who are to take charge of the body at the church.

BUSINESS IS SLOWLY PICKING UP

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Indications of a broad general business recovery throughout the country are still lacking, according to the review of financial and economic conditions during August, issued tonight by the federal reserve board.

"Slight improvement," the board said, "in some branches of foreign trade, fairly good agricultural yields and enlargement of manufacturing situation is not such as to forecast any extensive or immediate revival of business in a large sense."

Heavy movement of agricultural products to markets hastened by a revival of a fair export demand, the board declared, was the outstanding economic activity of the month.

Deterioration of some crops, it added, notably cotton, had modified the agricultural outlook, but cost readjustments in many agricultural lines was approaching a point where it was possible that some crops would show good returns.

"There are indications of increasing employment in various manufacturing industries, but taken as a whole the employment situation for the month of August appears to show but little change from the preceeding month," the report said. In the agricultural sections there was a decided drop in the demand for farm labor.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

men and women and their deeds be preserved in the archives of the west?

B. F. Bennett of Abilene, district manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is touring the west. He says he finds crop conditions excellent and no evidence of the pessisism which is afflicting northern or eastern cities or other sections of the American union. "Some of the boys have given up and retired from the game but I believe that there is as much money in the catle business as there ever was," said A. A. Barnard, cattleman of Madison, Kansas and executive committeeman of the Kansas State Live Stock Association, who has been visiting his ranch southeast of Amarillo, Barnard reports that conditions in Kansas are fine and that there is a better feeling throughout the country in regard to conditions as a whole. He predicted that there would soon be a general revival of activity in all lines of business." God hates a quitter. Texans are not quitters. Men of the west are not quitters. Red blooded Americans are not quitters. There are rainbows of promise in American skies and slowly but steadily this old land of ours is settling down to stability and permanent prosperity. This is the way it is writen in the book of destiny and this is the way men who are not afraid of their shadows and not afraid of hard work are interpreting the signs of the time.

Charles A. Barker is the Flotorial Representative from Grayson and Collin counties. Barker was and is a retrencher; he voted for retrenchment and reduction of taxes all along the line. This is his defi to his critics: "In the mater of the proposed cut of salaries of the professors in the various educational institutions of the State, I will take the instance of the university professors. Prior to 1920 they received approximately $3,500 for nine months' work. They were permited to teach in the summer if they so desired, and made around $1,000 for this three months' work. During the war these salaries were raised to $4,000 per year, and they still had three months of their own in the summer. Now, the appropriation bill first presented offered to place these salaries at $5,000. The 'cut,' about which so much has been said is the proposed amount of $1,000 brought out in the appropriation bill. These men teach less than three hours per day and under the circumstances I am still of the opinion that the $4,000 at which the 'retrenchers' fixed the salaries is enough for them. The 'retrenchers' finally lost in a considerable degree, yet were ablye to do the State some good, and I believe will put the people all over the state to thinking seriously about where the money is going. I would not be afraid to defend my stand before the people anywhere in Texas. Governor Neff is right when he says there is entirely too much 'overhead' expense, and it is up to the people to get behind their legislators and not let those who are personally interested have all of the say so when the legislature meets." Now what are the aforesaid critics going to do about it?

URGE FEDERAL TROOPS BE RUSHED INTO LOGAN COUNTY TO STOP FIGHT

Boone. During the correspondent's stay he saw two members of the opposing foe fall after being shot and the gunners told him they saw two men go down prior to his arrival.

The Crooked creek line extended three miles on the ridge between Logan county and Boone. To get to it from Logan the route was over two miles of level country and up a steep path four miles long, over which reinforcements toiled carrying ammunition and provisions. The machine nest was about in the middle of the lines. It overlooked a valley below.

A mile distant were several buildings which protected the bands of armed men as they made an attempt to outflank county officers and get behind the ridge.

Time and time again they tried to accomplish that, but at each attempt the machine gun and rifle fire drove them back.

On another occasion a band of about fifty men came down the road between the buildings. A heavy fire from the ridge, however, caused them hastily to retreat, carrying four or five of their comrades on their shoulders. The machine gunners previously had been instructed not to fire at certain houses in the valley below where it was reported a woman, child and old man could be seen in the roadway during lulls in the firing.

On both sides of the nest constant firing could be heard, indicating that the deputies, forming flanks on both sides, were in contact with the opposing bands. A courier from the left flank reported that a machine gun had been located on the other side, but that the gunners had been either driven away or wounded.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PREPARES FOR ACTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The federal government stood ready tonight to act in West Virginia should tomorrow's reports show lack of compliance with President Harding's proclamation calling on all persons engaged in "unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings" to return to their homes.

Two regiments of troops of a thousand men each, one at Camp Sherman, Ohio, and the other at Camp Dix, N. J., were in readiness to move into the state on a moment's notice, war department officials said.

A proclamation declaring martial law in five West Virginia counties has been drawn up and signed by the President, ready for promulgation.

Officials, however, remained still hopeful tonight that neither of these steps would be necessary, although their spirit of optimism had been lowered during the day by dispatches from the disturbed area telling of clashes between bands of armed men and state authorities and containing no indication of a disposition to comply with the President's proclamation.

Not Since Civil War.

Decision as to whether the federal government will order troops into the state and declare martial law—a step which has not been taken in any state since the days immediately following the civil war—will depend on conditions as reported by Brigadier General Bandholtz at noon tomorrow, the hour fixed as a limit by President Harding. General Bandholtz left Washington late today and on arriving in Charleston early tomorrow will begin a survey of the situation.

The declaration of military rule and the use of troops to enforce it, if found to be necessary by General Bandholtz, it was stated, will be confined to Kanawha, Fayette, Boone, Logan and Mingo counties, comprising a section in the southwestern part of the state and embracing Charleston, the state capital.

Reports from several points in the disturbed area were forwarded to Secretary Weeks by Governor Morgan during the day. They said that the armed men resented orders to disperse, declaring they would force the government to declare martial law and threatening to blow up troop trains in the event soldiers were sent into the state.

A telegram signed by members of the West Virginia delegation which conferred yesterday with Secretary Weeks, reached the war department late today from Charleston.

Men Rush to Zone.

"The committee calling on you yesterday just returned to Charleston," the message said, "and find miners from practically every camp in the Kanawha-Fayette-Boone section rushing to Logan-Boone line. We personally saw several men on our return with the high-powered rifles in automobiles rushing to the troubled zone. The governor is just advised from Logan that firing is taking place at the top of the mountain near the Logan-Boone line. State is rushing reinforcements to that point from every available station. Miners openly state, according to reports to Governor, they will not obey the President's proclamation. Necessary that federal troops be sent at once if loss of life is to be avoided. More than five thousand men under arms close to Boone-Logan line and more on their way.

AGREED JUDGMENT IN SUIT FOR COMMISSION

An agreed judgment of $1,000 was entered by Special Judge Aiken in the 78th district court Wednesday in the suit of Park Gray vs. L. P. Douglass, for commission. The plaintiff asked $3,000.

Chauncey and Greenwood were attorneys for the plaintiff and Carrigan, Montgomery, Britain and Morgan for the defendant. The suit grew out of a sale of a lease of 120 acres near Fowlkes.

MOTHER GOOSE TEA TO BE HELD FRIDAY

A Mother Goose tea to be given in the basement of the First Baptist church on the evening of Friday, September 16, was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Walter S. Robertson, chairman of the entertainment program.

A novelty program is being prepared for the occasion, the proceeds are to be turned into the treasury of the Day Nursery.

BOARD SETS SCHOOL TAX RATE AT 75C

The city school tax rate for 1921 was set at 75 cents on the hundred dollars' valuation at a meeting of the school board held Wednesday night. This tax will return a total of approximately $260,000, which is approximately $40,000 more than was collected from last year's taxes. The taxes are collected on the same property valuations as are accepted by the city and county.

After considerable discussion of bids received for the contract to build a four-room brick school building in the Bowie addition, the board voted unanimously to reject all bids. The building committee was, however, instructed to meet with contractors for a further discussion in the hope of reaching more agreeable terms. Board members declared that the bids, which ranged from about $12,000 to $14,500 were all too high.

W. W. Brown, business manager of the city schools, was appointed a committee to make arrangements for housing the students of the Bowie addition until a suitable building can be erected.

An oil burner was ordered installed in the place of the coal burner engine for steam heating apparatus of the San Jacinto school building.

The following resolution was passed by the board: Be it resolved, that no student shall be exempted from examinations who makes a final average of less than 90 in his subjects or conduct. No student, who is absent from school for more than five days in a term can be exempted unless he or she is prevented from attending on account of sickness and in the case of sickness satisfactory information must be furnished the principal that the pupil was prevented by sickness and that the work missed by the student has been satisfactorily completed."

Superintendent Lee Clark, who returned Wednesday from attending courses at the University of Texas leading to the degree of Master of Arts, attended the meeting.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS RETURNS TO NORMAL

Fall buying on the part of retailers all over the country indicate that business conditions are almost returned to normal, M. Harris, proprietor of the Railroad Wreck store, declared Wednesday on his return from a buying tour of eastern and northern markets.

ARTICLE 27 IS HELD NOT RESTROACTIVE

terday with President Obregon and Adolfo de la Huerta, secretary of the treasury. President Obregon stated last night that his conversation with the oil men was brief and extremely cordial. He added that the decision of the supreme court was merely coincidental with the visit of the Americans and was not influenced by their arrival in this city. These conferences between the petroleum executives and secretary de la Huerta continued today.

The suit decided yesterday was brought by the Texas company in 1919 following the denouncement of rights held by that company on a parcel of land at Zacamixtla, south of Tampico. Orders for such denouncement had been issued under the provisions of a decree issued by President Carranza on August 8, 1918, which called upon oil companies to manifest their holdings.

The Texas company failed to make such a manifest, and the land was declared forfeited. The company sought to establish its legal right against such action by the government.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS HOPEFUL OF AGREEMENT.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Administration officials were hopeful today that the decision of the Mexican supreme court, handed down yesterday in the case of the Texas company, would remove one of the principal difficulties between the United States and Mexico in the negotiations involved in the recognition of the latter.

No official advices had been received at the state department today and officils there waited for these in order to study carefully the exact text of the court's opinion before commenting officially.

While this decision involved the legal recognition of American rights only in oil properties, it was believed that it might establish a precedent under which agricultural and other American interests would be given the same recognition by the Mexican government.

In that event, it was explained, the principal stumbling block between the two governments in diplomatic negotiations for recognition would be removed and a new basis for continuance of diplomatic exchanges might be found.

Before any such move is made, however, it will be necessary to make a careful analysis of the definition given by the court to the word "retroactive." If the word as defined by the Mexican court is found to be equivalent in every respect to its American usage and sense, it was intimated that the court's action then would have an important and far-reaching bearing in connection with the question of determining American rights in Mexico as involved in the matter of recognition.

AMERICANS DECLINE TO MAKE COMMENT

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Local representatives of American oil companies, declined today to express opinions concerning the action of the supreme court Tuesday night in unanimously granting an injunction to the Texas company enjoining the Mexican department of commerce and industry from denouncing rights to oil lands held by the Texas company prior to May 1, 1917. They said they preferred not to give their opinions until the text of the formal decision of the court is published, which probably will be within ten days.

It was the general sentiment here, however, that the non-retroactivity of article 27 of the Mexican constitution has been definitely decided by the decision, and that supporting the supreme court's decision is President Obregon's reiteration that the famous article 27 never was construed by his government as being retroactive.

The question most frequently asked was what would be the attitude of the United States toward recognition of Mexico if the supreme courts action is construed as the final word on the retroactivity of article 27. Persons who are not considered optimistic and several newspapers opposed to the government asserted today that the United states department probably would maintain itts insisence that President Obregon sign a treaty, inasmuch as the supreme courts action, or even a congressional enactment might be subject to revision or modification by any succeeding administration. One newspaper, the Omega, pointed out that the supreme court two years ago, declared article 27 was retroactive. It is a matter of record that the Mexican foreign office, six months ago officially informed the American embassy here that the article was retroactive.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Lamb Pie—Cut a number of very thin slices from a cold roast of lamb and lay a thin slice of bacon on each meat slice. Mince enough cold boiled ham or cooked bacon to make one-half cup. Add three-quarters of a cup of fine, dry crumbs, a grated onion, one-quarter cup of finely mixed celery, a teaspoon of minced parsely, pepper, a desert spoon of sugar and a beaten egg. Mix well, and if the mixture is too stiff, add a tablespoon of cream.

Spread a little of this on each slice of the meat and roll it tightly. Have a dish lined with the crust, and lay the rolls of meat in. When the pie is full, pour in one and one-half cups of thin cream, brown or tomato sauce. Cover and bake one and one-half hours, part of the time covered. A little butter may be added, though the bacon should make the pie sufficiently rich.

Baked Cucumbers—Take two large yellow cucumbers, cut in halves lengthways, and remove the skin and seeds. Oil over, and fit into a baking pan. Have ready a savory stuffing made of one and one-half cups of crumbs, a grated onion, one-quarter cup of finely minced boiled liver, a lumb of butter, pepper, salt, a little sugar, a beaten egg and one-quarter of a cup of heavy cream.

Fill the halved cucumbers and dust the tops with a little grated cheese. Bake, covered, for eight minutes, then uncover and cook until tender, not soft, and lightly browned.

Jellied Consomme—One beef cube, one envelope gelatin, one cup cold water, two cups boiling water, seasoning to taste. Dissolve the cube in the boiling water and the gelatin in the cold water. Soak (five minutes.) Mix the two together and add the salt, stirring until dissolved. Strain into molds, first dipped in cold water, and chill.

TWO GOOD SALADS.

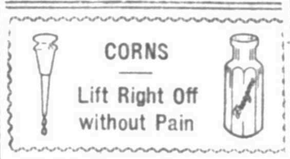

Cucumber Salad—Pare a long, firm cucumber. With a fork make nine or ten lengthwise incisions at equal distances, so that the cucumber will have deep scores or incisions about one-quarter inch apart. Then place the cucumber on a bed of lettuce leaves. With a knife cut in thin slices crosswise, taking pains not to cut quite through each slice. The cucumber will then present an appearance very much like an ear of corn. Sprinkle with French dressing and dot with paprika or finely chopped parsley.

Potato and Nasturtium Salad—Rub inside of bowl with a bit of garlic. Mix two cups potato cubes with four tablespoons finely chopped gherkins, one-half cup tender nasturtium shoots, which have been cut into small pieces, and one tablespoon pickled nasturtium seeds. Mix with three tablespoons oil, two tablespoons vinegar and salt and pepper to taste. Arrange in a mound on a salad plate, sprinkle lightly with chopped parsley and garnish with a wreath of nasturtium leaves and blossoms.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE STORY OF THE EMPTY CAR.

Carefully, very carefully, had she played her cards, after the young couple's arrival in Wellsburg. She had been circumspect, almost distant, in her manner to her employer. And never by word or deed referred to the past. What she had done, however, was to make good at her work to such an extent that before long Ned found that he was absolutely dependent on Arline for most things in his office. This was a clever turn.

Instead of becoming chummy with his family, she kept herself to herself, and finally completely disarmed Ned of any suspicions concerning her true state of mind by announcing her engagement to another man.

It was only after this announcement that thingse began to change between the two. Arline, as an engaged girl, told him little things in strict confidence, of course. Things which took him into the recesses of her heart, her girlish, wondering heart. Occasionally, he, in turn, would speak of passing things that troubled him. Never dreaming but what they were mere friendly all right, now, for Arline was far removed from him.

At times she would speak of his weary look, letting him see that in spite of all she still felt an interest in him. At first this had puzzled Ned, irritated him and finally pleased him.

The day he announced Cherry's decision to go into business again Arline had taken his hands in hers and looked up into his eyes, oh, so sympathetically, even as a sister would have done. And Ned had succumbed to her gentle voice and told her of his grief at his wife's decision. There had followed days when they were forced to be thrown together on long motor trips on business to other towns. And this, too, had given the girl her opening. She never missed an opportunity.

The day when Cherry had seen the empty automobile had been the one when Arline had believed that Fate had helped her finally to win her man back.

A raging headache had caused Ned to be tender, to insist that they stop and bathe the aching members in crystal clear water from a nearby spring. They had lingered and he had bathed her head and ordered her to lie down for a while until she felt better.

In this manner, Arline, with her large eyes fixed mournfully on him had explained that she had been overcome by what had happened the night before. It had awakened the old love within her. Ned had never known that she once loved him, of course, and it was not her fault that she had. A girl couldn't control those things.

In the end, he had held her hands and told her how unhappy he was at her confession. That he knew what she must have gone through when he fell in love and married another girl. Comforting her as much as possible much to Arline's delight.

That scene had lingered in the man's mind. He had felt sincerely sorry for Arline and made up his mind that the best thing to do would be to have her give up her work with him for everybody's sake. When she announced her trip home he breathed a sigh of relief—and planned to write to her and explain things as soon as she was gone.

We couldn't. Our stock is New. But what she really wanted was the same amount of comfort, the same amount of style, and the same wearing qualities. She hated to part with the old ones without being sure of getting those qualities again.

She took a pair of these natty, Black Kid Pumps with smart Baby Louis heels because they felt as comfortable even as the old ones she was wearing.

Styles change—we keep our stock new enough to be interesting—the reliable quality never varies. Perfect style is never possible without perfect fit and comfort. You can't be stylish unless you feel right.

STRUGGLES AGAINST SEA FROM DAYS OF 1492.

Plans for the ZR-2 recalls to a New York writer the various attempts made to cross the Atlantic beginning with the voyage of Christopher Columbus in 1492 and culminating in the successful flight of the R-34 in July two years ago. The latter has been called the apex of man's four centuries of struggle to master the elements and mysteries of ocean and air.

Eleven years ago, in September, 1910, the ocean greyhound, Mauretania, steamed from Southampton, England, to New York in four days, 10 hours and 41 minutes, a sea record that never has been broken. June 14, 1919, Captain John Alcock and Whitten Brown, British aviators, started from St. Johns, N. F., in a biplane and flew across the Atlantic, 1,900 miles on that route, landing at Clifden, Ireland, the next day after 16 hours and 12 minutes in the air. Alcock was killed in an air mishap the following December in France. The R-34's time was 108 hours and 12 minutes. Columbus was 70 days in reaching San Salvador from Palos, Spain.

For more than 300 years, dating from the time of Columbus, ocean navigation made little progress. The same method of propulsion that drove the Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria across "the great and unknown deep," sail power, was in universal use until 1819, when the American steamship Savannah, propelled by steam, demonstrated a new mode of travel between Europe and America.

It was just 100 years after the sailing of the Savannah that the three successful air flights across the wide expanse of the Atlantic were achieved, one in a hydroairplane, another in a biplane, and, finally, the third in a dirigible balloon. The hydroairplane, known as the NC-4 one of four United States naval machines, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Albert C. Reed, left Trepassey, N. F., May 16, 1919, and reached Horta, in the Azores, in 15 hours and 18 minutes, having traversed the 1,200 miles at an average speed of 78.4 knots. Later it flew to Portugal.

Prior to the three successful flights alluded to, previous attempts had been made to negotiate "the big pond" through the air. The earliest of these was made by Walter Wellman, American journalist and explorer, and Melvin Vaniman, October 15, 1910, in a dirigible balloon called the "America." They started from Atlantic City, N. J., with a crew of four men, including an Englishman, an Australian and two Americans. Their objective was any point on the coast of England, Ireland or France to which the wind might carry them.

After having been in the air three days and nights, sailing 1,010 miles and tossed about by adverse winds, the party was picked up by the steamship Trent, 375 miles east of Cape Hatteras, half way between New York and Bermuda. The dirigible was abandoned at sea.

Harry G. Hawker, a British aviator, and Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Grieve, of the British navy, a heavier-than-air machine, started from St. Johns, N. F., May 18, 1919, on a nonstop flight to Ireland. The attempt was regarded generally as the most daring of them all up to that time. Hawker and Grieve, after many hours of peril in the air and struggling against stormy conditions, were rescued in mid-ocean by the Danish steamship, Mary, May 19. Hawker was killed July 12, 1921, when the gasoline tank on his machine exploded while he was making a landing at Hendon (England) flying field.

All these modern efforts to conquer the Atlantic aloft, as well as below, stand out in striking contrast to the slow progress made in ocean navigation during the preceding 427 years. The era of sails had continued without particular improvement from the days of Columbus until 1819, when the Savannah, a vessel of 350 tons, with a length of 100 ft. crossed from Savannah, Ga., to Liverpool in 25 days. Her engines, however were purely auxiliary; she was equipped with full sail power, and when the wind was fair or the sea too rough for steaming the paddle wheels were unrigged and hauled to the deck.

The first real transatlantic voyages by steam power were undertaken by the steamships Sirius and Great Western. The Sirius left England April 4, 1838, and was followed four days later, by the Great Western. They arrived in New York Harbor within 24 hours of each other, the Sirius completing the trip in 18 days and the Great Western in 14.

The century that followed the voyage of the Savannah, however, produced ocean liners as broad as the little pioneer was long. The Leviathan, for instance, one of the largest of modern steamships, is 920 feet long, 100 feet broad, [illegible] registered tonnage of 54,282.

[illegible] involving [illegible] Government [illegible] contract [illegible] ZR-2 occasioned little comment, remarks the air editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The nearest parallel, in recent months, was the explosion of an exhibition dirigible over Chicago July 21, 1919. The wreckage fell through the skylight of a bank building and 13 persons were killed.

May 28, 1921, the United States ambulance airplane Eagle left Langley Field for Washington. A severe electrical storm swept the path of the flight, and when the plane failed to arrive at its destination a search was ordered, which revealed the fact that it had crashed to the ground at Indian Head, Md., and that all seven passengers had perished.

The Eagle was the largest airplane in the Army Aviation Service.

July 10, 1921, a large crowd gathered at Langlin Field, near Moundsville, W. Va., to witness the departure of a large bombing plane en route from Dayton, Ohio, to Washington. The plane rose but a few feet when it became unmanageable and, crashing into the crowd, exploded.

Five persons were killed almost instantly, many others were injured, a number of them seriously, and a score of automobiles were wrecked.

August 24, 1921, the ZR-2, the world's greatest dirigible, crumpled and fell into the Humber river at Hull, England. Forty-four men, 17 of them Americans, lost their lives. The ZR-2, built in England, was to have become the property of the United States government.

RICE WILL MEET SHORTAGE CAUSED BY POTATO DECREASE.

The prospective shortage of the potato crop makes possible a good demand for the rice crop as a substitute for potatoes. Rice can be made to meet the shortage suggests the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. The prospective crop of 33,500,000 bushels of rough rice is equal to 931,000,000 pounds of cleaned rice, and to this must be added comparatively large stocks derived from the extraordinarily large crop of 1920. Cuba, also, which usually receives large imports of rice from this and other countries, has stocks of this cereal that are greater than the ordinary ones.

Consumption of foods was affected variously by the requirements of armies and navies during the war and by the course of prices since the war began, and a per capita consumption of such foods in the near future can perhaps be better estimated if based on the more steady conditions that preceded the war than on the erratic ones that followed them. At the per capita consumption of 7 pounds of rice in the United States in 1905-1914 for all purposes before the war, the population this year would require 760,000,000 pounds, or 171,000,000 pounds less than this year's crop alone, to say nothing of unusual stocks. There are, however, ways of disposing of the surplus besides finding export markets or piling up domestic stocks.

When the potato crop is short, rice is an acceptable substitute food, and one that may naturally be drawn upon partly to counterbalance the potato deficiency. The forecast of the potato crop of this year, made for August 1, is only 316,000,000 bushels, while the consumption, at the per capita rate of 3.8 bushels for 1905-1914, for all purposes, would be 412,500,000 bushels, so that the prospective deficiency, apart from such imports as may be made, is 96,500,000 bushels. The imports of potatoes have never equaled 14,000,000 bushels in one year. Rice may naturally help to fill this void of approximately 100,000,000 bushels of potatoes in the food supply.

It has been noticed, also, that wheat is to some extent a substitute for potatoes in food economy, when their price is high. The expected wheat surplus of this country has dwindled as the season has advanced. The official estimate of production was reduced by more than 50,000,000 bushels of this future surplus when during July, and, at the per capita consumption of 6.21 bushels for 1905-1914 for all purposes, the remaining crop, as forecast for August 1, provides an export of 83,000,000 bushels under average food conditions. Part of this may be taken as a substitute for potatoes, if price permits. At any rate, the elements of the situation invite a larger rice and wheat consumption than usual during the crop year 1921-1922, to be determined by relative prices.

A WAVE OF OPTIMISM.

Heavy grain and row crops are reported from most of West Texas in the crop and business Review printed by the Dallas News. Business men look for improved business at once. Cotton is very short due to reduced acreage and poor conditions. Vast corn and feed crops are welcomed by the producers of cattle and hogs. Cotton picking will be done as the staple is ready to pick. Building activities have been resumed in many cities and towns. Rains of the week have been of material benefit. All the Panhandle and Plains counties are harvesting feed stuff and corn is made. There is less than half a crop in many of the great cotton producing countries in Central Texas. A wave of optimism is said to be sweeping over the southwest. There is work to be done and labor to do it. Grand Old Texas.

CHAINS ARE BARRED.

Governor Neff is to be congratulated. Chains as a means of punishment of convicts have been barred from the Texas penitentiary and prison farms. Governor Neff says he has the evidence to show that convicts had been the victims of inhuman whipping. This is Texas. Texans are civilized. Texans are progressive. Texans demand the punishment of criminals and the eradication of crimes, but Texans are not savages and they should not tolerate the methods of punishment or torture that were employed by Siberian guards in the days of the Romanoffs.

WHY DO THEY WEAR MASKS?

Masked men in the city of Corsicana served notice upon all idle men "to get out of town." Of course it would have been more human to have given employment to the idlers. There are five million men idle in America and they are not vags. Idlers who are parasites and incorrigible loafers are not entitled to sympathy but men who are out of work and are willing to work are entitled to respect as well as sympathy. Are all the masked men perfect men, infallible men, spotless men, God-and-home-loving-men? If they are why do they wear masks

Rippling Rhymes

THE TWO CARS.

I have two cars that keep me broke; one is a gem, and one a joke. One cost enough to buy a farm, and it is but a false alarm. A modern wagon, fine and fair, with all the modern doodads there; it gleams and glitters in the sun, but, ah, the blamed thing will not run. It will not spin, it will not toil; its cylinders are pumping oil, it will not start unless it's primed, the timer's wrong when it is timed and it along the road it swings, it's always breaking costly springs. My other car is red with rust, but, gee, she surely throws the dust! She clanks and rattles when she runs, her pistons sound like sawed off guns, but when I hand her out the gas, you'll have to bump if you would pass. She looks as though she'd fall apart the next time she is asked to start, but when I back from the shed she fairly pants to surge ahead; month after month she snorts along, with nothing broken, nothing wrong. And I remark to my nine sons, "The good car is the car that runs. The auto men talk wildly well, they try to bind us with a spell; their cars have this, and that, and which all refinements rare and rich, with mirrored doors and baggage racks—but when we get right down to tacks, to chewing gum and hot cross-buns, the good car is the car that runs."—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

FOR LAW AND LIBERTY

President Harding may declare martial law in Virginia and send the regulars there to uphold the law. Mine owners employ armed gunmen to do their bidding. Many of the miners are gunmen and go about heavily armed. If the regulars are sent to West Virginia, all the gunmen, hired and otherwise, should be disarmed and they should be jailed if they refuse to surrender their arms. There should be one law for all in America and this the statute law of the land. And all men who refuse to bow to the written law of the land should be compelled to bow to it or take the consequences. There should be no personal vengeance or unwritten law. This is a land of law and liberty and not a land of loot and license; but government is just strong as the people are who make it; just as weak as the people who tolerate law violations.

President Harding will call a conference on unemployment next month. It is said that there are five million men idle in America. In Germany the government knows how to go about it. All Germans are employed. Of course they are working long hours and for low wages but they are working and Germany is coming back. Even Josephus Daniels admits it.

American business relations are to be resumed with Germany without delay. Who was it that said the trade dollar is without a trade conscience or a memory? He told a great truth.

THE RULING PASSION.

Ignatz Jacob Jacobowski,
Once a Russian of some power,
Kin of Grand Duke Heresshowski,
Ivan Ruric Romanowski,
Lankuished in a lonely tower.

Placed there by the Bolsheviki,
Stripped of all his worldly wealth,
In that tower damp and leaky,
Where the rats were wild and squeaky,
Ignatz worried for his health.

Then he saw how Leon Trotzky,
In an earnest search for pelf,
Had a large cool million gotzky,
At the looting game myself."
So he broke out of prison,
Grew large whiskers on his cheeks;
When a few round suns had arisen,
A complete disguise was lent—
And he joined the Bolsheviks.

Ignatz looted and he looted,
He robbed gristmills, stores and banks;
When he'd stored away a million,
He aspired to half a billion—
Never once did he say "Thanks."

He was rich beyond all measure.
In his own steam yacht he sat.
He invoiced his wondrous treasure
And he mummured oft with pleasure,
"Trotzky never will get that."

AN UNDESIRABLE HANGER-ON

Who's Who

LORD RAWLINSON.

Despite the fact that the Russian Bolsheviki are begging help from Great Britain to relieve their terrible

t h r e y continue their plots against the pence and security of British famine at home, possessions i n Asia. Just now Lenine is working in conjunction with the Turkish Nationalists under Kemal Pasha to arouse all the various races o f Central Asia for an invasion of India.

All this adds to the worries and responsibilities of Lord Rawlinson, who is at the head of that mingled army of British and native troops in India, numbering at the very most a quarter of a million men.

General Rawlinson served with great distinction during the World War. When the war began he was a major general, in command of the Third division. He was cited for his brilliant work at Neuve Chapelle in March, 1915. In the spring of 1916 he was given command of the British Fourth army, and was in charge of the whole battle front when the Germans retreated from the Somme. He was British military representative at the supreme war council in Versailles, which picked General Foch to command the allied armies. During the last year of the war he was in command of the British Fifth army.

Rawlinson was at the siege of Ladysmith, South Africa, and served as aid to Kitchener in the Soudan campaign. He entered the Sixtieth King's royal rifles in 1884, at the age of twenty and three years later was with Sir Frederick Roberts, commander-in-chief in India.

General Rawlinson was created a baron in 1919.

Breakfast Stories

Smith was telling me that he and his wife were not on speaking terms. I expressed my surprise, for I had always thought them the happiest and most affectionate of pairs, and asked him what had caused the trouble.

"Well, you see," said Smith, "I wrote her a letter the other day that started out like this, 'I take my typewriter in hand to write you a few lines,' and my wife thought I meant the girl instead of the machine.'"

"I'm waiting for my wife," said the bold, bad man to an attractive young woman he met in a department store.

"Yes?"

"Are you shopping?"

"No."

"Have you any particular place to go just now?"

"No."

"Couldn't we—es—become better acquainted?"

"We could, but I don't think it will be necessary if you behave yourself. I'm the store detective."

One day early last spring the manager of a baseball team lined up his men and said: "All you fellows who have been in vaudeville during the winter step forward."

"Now, boys," he said to them, "I want you to bear in mind one thing. You are on the diamond not on the stage now, so when you make a hit and the audience applauds it, don't stop to bow on your way to first base."

NEGROES TALK IRISH TONGUE

Nothing astonishes American visitors to the West Indies more than the speech of the negroes. Naturally it takes its tone from the language of the people who used to be their masters. In Cuba and in Porto Rico they speak Spanish, and on the islands of Haiti and Martinique, French; in Jamaica and in other British islands the negro speaks with a cockney accent. In Montserrat, which Irish planters peopled in the seventeenth century, all of the descendants of the former slaves have a strong brogue.

Not very long ago, says Sir Frederick Treves in the Cradle of the Deep, a British ship dropped anchor in the main harbor of the island, and an Irishman among the passengers, leaning over the rail, accosted a sooty negro who had come alongside with fruit to sell.

"Oi say, Cuffey," he cried, "phwat's the chance for a live lad to get a job ashore?"

"Faith, Yer Honor," answered the negro, "if its wurruk yer after, yez can foind it in gobs for the lookin'. An' Oi'll be thankin' ye not to be callin' me Cuffey. Mulca-ahy's me name; Patrick Mulca-ahy."

"Mulca-ahy! Saints in hivven! D'ye mane to tell me yer an Oirishman?"

"As good a wan as yerself."

"Wurra, furra! An' how long've ye been wurrukin here?"

"Foive years, come St. Patrick's day."

"Ye don't tell me! Foive years! An' in that toime ye've turned as black as me hat! On me sowl, if Oi stay long enough to make me fortune and go on back to Clonee with it, 'twill take some m'ghty soft pershuadin' to get Maggie Murphy to marry me, an' she not bein' able to tell me from any nayger!"—Youth's Companion.

By C. F. CARTER

As a native of New England, and one familiar with the habits of the bull moose and the black bear, we wish earnestly to ask some one of you native Texas fans three questions this morning, namely:

1. WHAT KIND OF AN ANIMAL IS A SPUDDER, ANYWAY?

2. DOES HE BITE OR DOES HE SCRATCH?

3. CAN HE LICK A PANTHER?

Never mind, you don't have to answer. A native of the Lone Star state just dropped in while we were pecking the typewriter, and took it upon himself to answer all three questions for us, as follows:

1.—A SPUDDER IS A FEROCIOUS BIPED COMMON IN OIL FIELDS AND THE GENERAL NEIGHBORHOOD OF CITIES THAT FAITH BUILT.

2.—HE DOES NOT BITE, NEITHER DOES HE SCRATCH. HE SWINGS ALL THE WAY FROM HIS TAIL WITH A CLUB ! !

3.—NINE PANTHERS TOGETHER HAVE LESS FEROCITY THAN ONE OUTRAGED SPUDDER!

And, by golly, we believe the old boy's right! For the Wichita Falls Spudders, shaking those wicked war clubs and howling wildly for more raw meat, tore headlong into the Fort Worth Panthers yesterday afternoon; pounded Joe Pate, premier hurler of the league, for 9 hits and a total of 15 bases, and romped away with the opening game of the BIG SERIES 6 to 3.

More than 5000 fans, including a battalion from Wichita Falls, turned out to witness the grapple—and when Jake Miller in the opening frame with two Spudders on the bags drove the ball out of the park over that deep center field fence, pandemonium was crowned king at the Airdome and the Palace! And when Carl Stoecker announced at the end of the Spudders' half of the first that 5000 Fort Worth fans were watching the game, Red Phillips' voice rose in a mighty roar:

"Most of 'em sick, ain't they?"

Boy, they MUST have been sick! To sit there, and see inning after inning pass, while Uncle Jimmy Sewell and Jack Hollingsworth kept the hits of their sluggers scattered, and bit by bit the Spudders increased their lead. To spend the afternoon in that Fort Worth grandstand watching a "weak road team," a "bunch of bush leaguers," pour it on the Clawin' Cats!

A Big Day for Jake Miller

Jake Miller got back in the game with a vengeance, driving out a circuit blow, a triple and a single out of four trips to the platter. Jake's homer brought in three tallies, his three-bagger scored another, and his single paved the way for a fourth Spudder marker—enough all told for Jake to enable him to beat the Cats almost single-handed.

The Spudders trained their seige guns on Joe Pate right at the start, while the famous Fort Worth infield, dreading those swinging Spudder bats, began to boot the pill. Allen grounded out to Haley as a starter, but Buddy Tanner reached first safely when Topper Rigney kicked Buddy's hot smash to short. Tex came through with a single to center, and Buddy pulled up at second. Danny Clark fouled out to Haley, and then the rejuvenated Jake Miller toted his yellow willow to the plate. Jake let two bad ones go by, and Pate stuck the third ball in the slot. Jake swung all the way from his feet—and when last seen, the ball was headed toward a section of Fort Worth remote from the ball park; over the center field fence, and far away. Griggs hit to Rigney who again booted the apple, and Cecil was safe at first. Caddy Works went out, however, Hoffman to Kraft. But the Spuds had made one glorious start, with a three-run lead.

Red Josefson was out in uniform, the wire operator stated, but Salm did not use the sorrel topped outfielder. Perhaps Red needed a rest after a long railroad trip. At any rate as it turned out, the Sqipper didn't require Red's services yesterday; he'll be there, however, when needed.

Uncle Jim Starts for the Spuds

Uncle Jimmy Sewell started on the hill for the Spudders, and Fort Worth got one tally back off Jim in their half of the first. Chick Taylor was walked and went to second when Ziggy Sears, another cripple come to life for the BIG SERIES, busted a single to center. Stellbauer forced Sears at second, Tanner to Clark, Chink going to third, and coming home when Clarence Kraft singled to right. Sewell struck out Dutch Hoffman, and walked Haley, filling the bases. Rigney ended the inning by forcing Haley at second, Clark to Tanner.

Pate and Uncle Jimmy Sewell turned all bat-swingers back scoreless in the second and third, but the Cats pushed another lonely one over in their half of the fourth.

Possum Moore opened the frame with a center field single, and reached second when Jim walked Pate. Skipper Salm at this point decided the situation was sufficiently serious to merit a yell for help. Uncle Jimmy accordingly received the beckoning thumb, and Holly took up the load. Kitchens, trying to catch Possum off second, made a wild peg to center field, and Moore stretched his lead into occupancy of third base. Chink Taylor flied out to Jake in left field, and Moore scored after the catch. Holly struck out Ziggy Sears, and Tanner took care of Stellbauer's grounder for the third out.

A one-run lead didn't look quite large enough, so the future Dixie Champs belted in another in the sixth, thusly:

Tex McDonald hit a stinger, but the darn line drive stuck in Kraft's glove. Danny Clark then singled to right, and crossed the plate when Jake Miller got hold of another of Pate's southpaw slants and belted it to center for three sacks. Griggs and Works both died on strikes, Joe Pate getting real peevish over Jake's dirty work.

Two More Runs in Eighth

But still a two-run lead didn't look so big considering the reputation the Cats have acquired through some clever press agent work this season—so the Spudders poured it on 'em for a couple more runs in the eighth, to-wit, namely:

Clark was thrown out by Huffman, and then Jake Miller released a single to center, his third wallop of the afternoon. Griggs, still smarting from that strike-out in the sixth, hammered a two-bagger to right, sending Jake to third. Caddy Works, just as mad as Cecil for the same reason, promptly pasted a hot single to left that scored both Jake and Cecil. Caddy also rubbed it in by stealing second, but Kitchens swung at a third one, and Pate threw out Holly.

The Cats made a desperate effort to score enough to win in the ninth, but the punch wasn't there, and Holly was. After Sears had fanned, Bill Stellbauer got his only blow of the day, a center field single, and went to second when Kraft singled to left. Haley doubled to right, scoring Bill, but the best Topper Rigney could produce was a fly to Allen that ended the battle.

In the language of the ancient Latin poet, Whoozis Whatzus, the boys gave 'em the raspberry—and today, gang, we will pour it upon them some more, will we not? Yea, verily, my chudren, even so, even so some more. [illegible] called at 4 o'clock

BOB, TEX AND DAN HOLDING LEAD IN AIRDOME VOTING

Bescher, McDonald and Clark continued to hold first claim in the hearts of local fans for places on any all-star Texas league team, the Airdome patrons yesterday polling a heavy vote for these three Spudders in Stoecker's balloting contest. Mutt Williams held his two-vote lead over Holly as the niftiest twirler in the loop, while Frank Kitchens is still the popular choice for backstop on the mythical team.

The standing of the leaders, as the Airdome fans voted yesterday, is as follows:

Clark	93
Rigney	64
Kraft	60

OUTSIDE EVENTS TO BE DROPPED DURING GOLF TITLE PLAY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Plans for international team matches for the Walker cup in connection with the amateur golf championship at St. Louis next month have been abandoned, the United States Gold association announced today. The annual match between Canadian and American teams also has been dropped.

The program for the amateur event is so extensive that it has been decided to give up any thought of the international matches. There have been two matches between Canada and the United States, both won by the latter, by 12 to 3 in 1919 and 10 to 4 in 1920.

The Walker cup first was donated last year, but has not been in competition. Rules governing play for the cup are similar to those of the Davis cup in tennis.

WILSON AND DOWNEY BEGIN TO EASE UP IN TRAINING ACTIVITIES

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Johnny Wilson and Bryan Downey, approaching what their trainers regard as perfect condition for their bout for the middleweight title, today began t curtain their training program.

Wilson's workouts hereafter will be limited to an hour a day. Yesterday after three rounds each with two sparring partners he weighed 159 1-2 and said he expected to be three pounds under the weight limit of 160 when he weighs in before the fight next oMnday.

Both Wilson and Downey express confidence that doubt as to the middleweight title raised by their recent bout at Cleveland would be settled quickly at Tex Rickard's Jersey City arena. Wilson predicts that the bout will not last more than six rounds. Downey says he is certain he will win, but is not so specific.

NAME M'MILLAN COACH OF CENTER

Special to the Record News.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—Alva "Bo" McMillan, Fort Worth boy and star quarterback for the "Praying Colonels" of Center College, Kentucky, will succeed Charlie Moran as mentor of the Colonels next year, according to information received here today by Gus King, former end of the Center team and close friend to Moran.

Moran has been offered positions with several eastern teams and expects to accept one of them. McMillan is reported to have already made tentative plans to coach the team.

STANDING IN DAVE PAUL BAT AND BALL LEAGUE

Walter Salm provided the big sensation yesterday in Dave Paul's contest to determine what Spudder shall grab Dave's silver bat and silver baseball. Walter's friends, after a week of quiet work, suddenly walked in on Dave yesterday with an even 500 ballots for the Spudder pilot, and handed them to the Eighth street jeweler with a little note reading:

"Walter Salm may not be the best after-dinner companion in the United States when he's got worries on his mind—but he took nothing but the Waco franchise and gave Wichita Falls a wonderful ball club. It's results we're after and Salm got 'em!"

Darned, if those fans didn't say a mouthful at that! The results last night follow:

DALLAS AND BEARS MAY MEET IN POST SEASON GRAPPLE

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 31.—A post-season series between the Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, league clubs as the baseball feature of the centennial celebration in Mexico City the latter part of September is assured if the management of the exposition will guarantee the expenses of the two teams.

Jess Hassell, president of the Dallas club and acting for the San Antonio club, is awaiting acceptance of these terms by Bruno Newman, manager of the celebration who at the instance of Wilbur Keith of Dallas issued an invitation to the clubs last week to play the series.

MISS AMERICA TRIES FOR SPEED BOAT RECORD.

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 31.—Miss America I, driven by "Gar" Wood in her trial for the one-mile speed boat championship of North America here today, registered an average of 74.87 miles an hour in six one-mile dashes, three upstream and three down. Her record made last year is 76.655.

Her fastest mile today was 76.676 made in her second dash down stream.

MOTORS WIN CLOSE GAME FROM UNIVERSITY CLUB.

The Motor Supply team of the Twilight league won a hard-fought five-inning game from the University club nine last evening, 2 to 1. Davidson and Williams hooked up in a pitchers' duel, "Dave" holding the University club to two singles, while three one-base clouts were all the Motors were able to gather from Williams. Each team made one error, which counted heavily in the only runs scored.

DISRESPECT FOR LAW MANIFEST MAINLY BY CORPORATIONS AND WEALTHY, DAUGHERTY ASSERTS

Special to the Record News.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—In his first public speech since assuming the office of Attorney General of the United States, Henry M. Daugherty today addressed the American Bar association in national convention on "Respect for law." He said:

"I know it is often said that this is the wealthiest and at the same time the more materialistic age in the world. That is true in a certain sense, but it is also true that the common wealth of the age is well as the summital of individual wealth furnishes the opportunity for the achievements that have been accomplished. Our schools and colleges, our libraries, our homes of comfort, our means of transportation and communication, and all other means of enjoyment in life, are physical conditions necessary for spiritual as contrasted with material upbuilding.

"The right of property on the one hand, of life, of liberty, of the pursuit of happiness on the other, are not antagonistic and hostile, to be set off in terms of opposition. Material wealth is the handmaid of spiritual achievement—that is, of intellectual, social and moral achievement. All progress is conditions on the principle of conservation. Conservation, not preservation as it is usually termed, of the wealth of world, whether it be in the realm of the material or spiritual, is conditioned on the supremacy of the law. If there is one fact that history teaches above another, it is that the rights incident to wealth and the rights furnishing the opportunity to enjoy spiritual, intellectual, moral and social things are conditioned upon the supremacy of the law.

Law Not Undermined.

"The supremacy of the law, though challenged, is not unearmined by the ordinary criminal who commits murder, robbery, larceny, etc. To the contrary, every occurrence of crimes of this sort tends to impress upon society the profound importance of the supremacy of the law and its vigorous enforcement. The supremacy of the law is and has been challenged mainly in that class of legislation where there exists a difference of opinion as to governmental policy in enacting the legislation in question.

"Disrespect for law has manifested itself in the past mainly by large corporations or aggregations of wealth, commonly known as big business, and by labor organizations in relations to such business. I am not much in favor of new nostrums and panaceas to cure the ills of the body politic, but I venture to make the following suggestions:

"First, it is an undisputed fact that the public have a right to know the quarrel is about tin every actual or threatened strike or lockout, and similar controversies.

"Second, there should be some definite agencies in government for ascertaining these facts fully and making an impartial finding by those specially qualified both by temperament and training to do this particular kind of work; and such finding should be reported so that it will be a reliable source of knowledge to which students and publicists and statesmen can resort.

"Third, compulsory jurisdiction over these two factors to compel them to submit to an inquiry of this sort is not only desirable but just.

"Fourth, at present our study of this question has not been sufficiently thorough to warrant legislation compelling the acceptance of such findings by the parties thereto. Therefore, the jurisdiction of the proper agency should be obligatory upon the parties to submit to the investigation; the acceptance of the finding by the parties should be voluntary.

"Fifth, the experience of the past shows that in most cases full, accurate, reliable publicity has been sufficient to compel an adjustment of these cases. Public sentiment is a controlling factor, and it is important, in justice to both of the parties, that it should depend upon something more accurate than successful propaganda.

"Sixth. In the court of time knowledge of the nature and causes of these controversies derived in this way may crystallize public sentiment to the extent that laws can be enacted, making such controversies impossible.

"From the standpoint of the government, the only sound view is that of law enforcement. Whatever differences of opinion exist in the views as to the wisdom of some of these laws can be of no concern to the agencies for law enforcement. The executive department cannot make the laws. It is equally true that it cannot nullify laws. To refuse or to neglect to enforce a valid enactment of the legislative department of government, or to enforce it mechanically or half-heartedly or to wink at its violation, is without justification on any sound theory of government. Those who ask it or expect it not only contribute to lawlessness but destroy the basis upon which their own security rests. Our safety and happiness lies in obedience to law by every man, woman and child within the domain of our republic, and no one can undermine respect for law without being, to that extent, an enemy to law and orderly government.

"I am opposed to any system of government in which the rights of any individual or group of individuals depend upon the whim or caprice or temperamental attitude of any public officials. If any citizens dislikes the law under which he is living, his relief is through the legislative department of government, and not through those who, under the construction, have the sworn duty of enforcing the law. As a citizen cannot choose what laws he will obey, so, liekwise, those charged with law enforcement cannot choose what laws they will enforce. The only sound position for those who favor respect for law to take is that those charged with law enforcement must enforce all the laws, and all good citizens must obey all the laws; neither can exercise any right of choice in this matter without placing themselves above the law. It is the part of faithful officials to enforce and the part of good citizens to obey them.

Duty to Obey Law.

"The fathers did not claim infallibility for the rule of the majority. They provided against hasty or inconsiderate action by a system of checks and balances, by the doctrine of the separation of powers, and by making the two branches of the legislature as well as the executive, agencies in law making. In view of these constitutional safeguards, there can be no excuse for any person within the domain of this republic to hold its laws in contempt, to disobey them himself or countenance others to acts of disobedience to them, on the ground that the rights of the minority have been disregarded. It is the duty of the minority as well as the majority to obey the law. My experience in the last few months as head of the law enforcing department of the government has carried to me the conviction that those things should be said to the general public. I consider the reputable American lawyer everywhere a part of the department of justic and expect him to give to both the department and the public advice and support, to the end that the law may be universally understood and uniformly enforced.

"If laws are obnoxious to the people it is their province to repeal them. Until they are repealed they must be observed and enforced without fear or favor.

"The government will endure on the rock of law enforcement; or it will perish in the quicksands of lawlessness.

"Those who do not believe in our government and the enforcement of our laws should go to a country which gives them their peculiar liberty.

"To those who come to our shores to take advantage of American opportunities it is becoming to wave the hand of welcome. But it is our duty to warn them to stay away unless they intend to observe our customs and obey our laws.

"My duty is clear. As long as I am the responsible head of hte department of justice the law will be enforced with all the power possessed by the government which I am at liberty to call to my command.

ARRESTED HAULING BIG HOOCH STILL

MAN APPREHENDED WITH WAGON FULL OF APPARATUS ARRAIGNED.

Arrested Thursday morning at 4 o'clock just as he was entering the city over the Ohio street river bridge, driving a large touring car and trailing a heavy farm wagon, T. E. Hays was arraigned Thursday before federal authorities Wednesday on a charge of possessiong and transporting a distilling aparatus for the purpose of manufacturing whiskey. His bond was set at $750.

The man, according to officers, was accompanied by his wife and a small child. The distilling aparatus was in the wagon and well hidden under mattresses, quilts and other articles.

The automobile is being held pending advice from the United States district attorney.

PROSECUTOR TO ASSIST CITY FORCE

"There's a hot time coming in the police court for some of our citizens," was the declaration of one officer Wednesday when it was announced that John M. Martin, former assistant county attorney and experienced prosecuting attorney has agreed to assist City Attorney T. M. Mann for the purpose of clearing the corporation court docket of numerous cases now awaiting trial.

Mr. Martin declared that he will start Work Thursday morning and means to clear the docket of all cases waiting trial before he rests. He, however, said that he would reserve enough time for his private practice to care for all criminal cases he has in the district courts.

Mr. Martin was for two years assistant county attorney of Wichita Falls and prior to coming to this city was county attorney of Cottle county.

Phe appointment of an assistant for the purpose of handling the numerous cases on the docket was determined several days ago by the city council on the recommendation of Police Commissioner Fitts.

Mr. Fitts declared that in addition to being a vast amount of value to the city in that it will be of great assistance of ridding the community of undesirable characters, that the move will net the city a revenue which will more than pay the salary of the prosecutor. Mr. Fitts asserted that City Attorney Mann has a vast amount of routine legal matters at present to occupy his ime and is thus hindered by lack of time from seeing hat al cases are brought to trial.

WISE DOVES HUNT PLACE OF HIDING

WITH SEASON OPENING AND NIMRODS OUT, BIRDS DUE FOR SLAUGHTER.

It's a wise dove that knows its own nest today if purchases of shotgun shells and gun oils and other essentials to a day's hunt are any indication of the crowds who are to participate in the opening of the hunting season, according to the opinion of local sporting goods dealers. Veteran sportsmen declare that prospects indicate a plentiful bag this season for any hunter who can lay claim to even mediocre ability as a wing shot and are preparing to go forth with the expectancy of reaching the bag limit of fifteen early in the day.

Warning was issued to Wichita Falls sportsmen that a hunting license is required for all who go outside Wichita county to hunt. The license can be obtained at the county clerk's office.

Although the opening of the hunting season on other game is from 45 to 60 days off, sportsmen declare that good hunting is expected for all kinds of game birds during the fall and winter.

PROTEST REVOLT IN NICARAGUA

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Aug. 31.—The Honduran government and the unionist party leaders, says a dispatch from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, have joined in a protest against the revolutionary movement in Nicaragua. Prominent Nicaraguan liberals also are condemning the movement.

SUGGESTS "HUSKIES" FIND WORK

"If some of these fellows realized how well they would look in a pair of overalls and doing any kind of honest labor they could get to earn money you wouldn't hear so many huskies complaining that they can't get work and their families are about to go hungry," Police Chief Morgan declared Wednesday while in conversation with Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary of the Welfare Council.

Chief Morgan declared that he knew of a skilled tradesman in this city, who, because work in his "trade" is scarce, refuses to hunt a job picking cotton or some other form of equally honest and honorable labor.

"And although I don't want to see his family suffer, he can get just as hungry as he chooses without any further aid from me," the chief declared.

Mrs. Ousley reported that on Wednesday morning she was asked by a man for food for his family. She declared that she had been feeding them for several days and that investigation revealed that the man had been offered a job picking cotton. The man was told, she said, that his family will be cared for temporarily, but that the welfare council isn't authorized to feed healthy men, who are refusing to accept work when it is offered.

COURSE FOR SCOUTS WILL BEGIN SEPT. 8

A ten week's training course for scout leaders and men interested leading boys to be given under the direction of a committee of scoutmasters appointed by Scout Executive Taylor will start September 8, according to H. B. White, chairman of the committee in charge. With Mr. White on this committee are Scoutmasters Jess McLary, Warren Dale, C. B. Garrett and A. B. Thompson.

Plans for the course include a thorough treatment of boys work from the standoints of psychology of the boys co-operation in the boy's home life and practical suggestions in dealing with problems of leadership confronting leaders. It is announced that this course is not exclusively for scout masters but is intended for all men interested in boy's work whether they be Sunday school teachers, day school teachers or business men.

This course will be worked out along laboratory lines, meaning that each lecture will be followed by practical problems in boy leadership, according to Mr. White.

For the time being the meetings, starting with the first one September 8, will be held in the gymnasium of the Floral Heights Methodist church.

A football schedule for local scout troops will be worked out by a committee appointed by Scout Executive Taylor Tuesday night. There are eight boys scout troops, out of the thirteen here, expected to put teams in the field. Troop 6 and Troop 1 will hook up a week from next Saturday on the Junior High school grounds.

This will probably be the first game of the season to be played by any team in Wichita Falls. Troop 6 is being coached by Assistant Scoutmaster Allred, a former member of a gob football tam. Troop 1 will be coached by E. O. May, star tackle on Wesley college team.

DRUNKENNESS CAUSES MOST OF ARRESTS

Charges of drunkenness, vagrancy and disturbing the peace constituted the majority of alleged offense for which approximately 270 arrests were made during the month of August, according to the incomplete report Wednesday night of Jules Ehlers, assistant corporation clerk.

Eighty-three of the charges were booked against citizens for violations of traffic ordinances and include wrong parking, open cutouts and speeding.

The fines imposed during the month showed a total of $1,755.50.

About 30 or 40 arrests made for the purpose of police investigations, which are not numbered unless a charge results from the arrest are not included in the total of 270, according to officials.

CITY CONNECTS NEW 5,000 GALLON PUMP

WITH ADDITIONAL FACILITIES, AMPLE SUPPLY NOW ASSURED.

With the tying in of the new 5,000,000-gallon water pump, recently installed, the water department is in better position to furnish all the water needed on any occasion than in the past four or five years, it was announced Wednesday. The new pump arrived several weeks ago, work of installation immediately begun.

Officials report that approximately nine miles of new mains have been laid and 60 new water plugs installed during the past year. Officials also announced that they plan to extend their lines to other sections of the city as soon as funds permit.

VOTE BONUS OFFERED IN AUTO CONTEST

Candidates in the Record News great automobile and prize campaign are now facing the biggest and best vote getting opportunity they will ever have. Until October 1st, 7 p. m. every $30 worth of subscriptions turned in earns a bonus of 100,000 extra votes over and above all regular votes. And after the first club has been turned in, pro rata number will be given on all portions of the second club. This is, if the second club was not completed and one-half of its amount, $15.00, turned in, the candidate would receive 50,000 extra votes.

Practically every candidate has declared that she will obtain at least a club—some say they will be able to complete two or three, possibly more.

The big offer closes October 1st, promptly at 7 p. m.

Four short weeks from then—on October 29th, the campaign closes. That is why every candidate should do her best NOW. The winning votes may be obtained during this offer.

Speaking of Automobiles.

How many of us yearn for one of them every time we get tired of staying in one place and wish istead that we could get "Out" somewhere?

How often have you wished you could climb right in a car of your own, shove the gears in high, and, in a few minutes, enjoy a change of climate?

Of course, all this is assuming that you, dear reader, haven't an automobile of your own.

Because if you haven't it is just possible that you wish you had!

And you can!

How would a Haynes touring car, fully equipped, right up to the last minute motor instructions, the snappy, dashing lines—how would that car suit you?

Or, maybe, you would prefer a smart looking Studebaker, one of the latest 1921 models, possibly you like a Maxwell, an Overland, or Ford?

NO MONEY PLEASE; we want to give you one of these cars absolutely free. Without a single cost to you.

Or, would you like a nice sweet tone Victor talking machine or an attractive floor lamp? Most anything you could want is offered in the Record News' big $10,000 automobile and prize campaign just started.

Tremendous Interest.

Surely you have heard about the stupendous distribution of gifts that is to take place under the auspices of this newspaper on October 29th? Every body is talking about it; there is hardly a young woman in this entire section who isn't excited over the prospects of winning a beautiful automobile.

And if you could spend a day at the campaign office in the Record News building you would see, with your own eyes the marvelous enthusiasm that the great prize offer has aroused. Nominations continue to come in all day long; in the mails and in person.

But maybe your nomination isn't in yet; you have probably hesitated for some reason or other.

There are five fully equipped motor cars to be given away. Five young women will get them. Who? Nobody knows.

But—you can be one of them if you want to. All it takes is a little energy on your part. Isn't an automobile worth that?

Votes Come Rapidly.

It is a simple matter to enter. Just sign your name on the nomination blank, and that starts you with 2,000 votes free. Thousands of additional votes will be yours when you let your friends know that they will be helping you to win by subscribing to the Record News. On your first subscription you will get 10,000 votes free, too, besides the regular votes.

If you want to enjoy life this fall by skimming about in a bright new automobile of your own, make the beginning now. Don't wait until someone else nominates you. Make sure by doing it yourself. Then you will be on the way to success before others get started. Let others be late with their work, but don't let it happen to you.

Receipt books are now ready for candidates who wish to lose no time in getting started. Candidates wishing one or more of these may at once obtain them by calling at the campaign office in the Record News building.

Be Careful in Marking Stubs.

In taking subscriptions candidates should exercise extreme care in marking stubs, a little care on the part of candidates marking stubs will produce much better results, and no time will be lost in re-issuing votes.

DOG FINDS HIS MASTER'S LOST WALLET

Policeman J. E. White declares himself deeper than ever in debt to his trained dog and constant companion "Joe."

Tuesday Policeman White says, he had occasion to spend several minutes in conversation with a local business men. During that time he sat in a deep, capacious and well cushioned chair.

When he started to leave the office, Mr. White declares that his dog rushed back to the chair which he had been occuping and began trying to push his muzzle into one side of the cushion of the chair.

Examination was reported to reveal that Mr. White's purse, containing $27 in currency had slipped from his pocket and was lodged deep in a crevice of the chair.

"Why but for Joe it might have been months before the money was ever found and then no one would have had the slightest idea as to whom it belonged," Patrolman White said as he petted once more the devoted dog, hovering, as always, at his knees.

U. S. REFUSES POOLING AID FOR RUSSIANS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The delegates representing Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan, who are members of the sub-committee, today appeared to be disappointed over the refusal of the American relief administration to pool its work with the general plan of relief which the committee hopes to work out. After hearing Mr. Brown's explanation of the relief administration's attitude, the committee adopted a resolution recommending to the various governments that they authorize immediate co-ordination of all plans now under way.

Mr. Brown took no official note of this resolution.

SEYMOUR WILL BUILD COTTON PROTECTO PLANT

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Aug. 31.—Through the efforts of the Baylor County Farm Bureau a cotton protecto plant has been secured for Seymour and work will begin immediately upon its erection. The site will be on the England & McDaniel tract of land adjoining the compress and will cost about $6000. It is claimed that by the use of this chemical treatment cotton can be handled with very little danger from fire and country damage will be eliminated. The charges for this treatment will be $1.00 per bale. This plant is one of thirty-four to be erected in the state by the International Cotton Protecting Co. of Chicago.

NERVOUS FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Werner tells how they Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Camden, N. J.—"Before my baby was born I was run down and weak, had pains in my back and stomach, was very nervous and would have fainting spells. I certainly suffered awfully with those nervous fainting spells. I did not know anyone at times and used to scream. A doctor treated me but did not seem to do much good. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change and could do my work without pain and was cured of those nervous spells. Now I have a nice baby girl and had an easy time at birth, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. WILLIAM C. WERNER, 1216 Van Hook St., Camden, N. J.

When a wife finds her energies are flagging, she is weak, nervous, suffers from backache, the "blues" she should build her system up at once by taking that standard woman's medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as did Mrs. Werner.

If there is anything about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

WHEAT MAKES GAINS AFTER OPENING LOW

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Wheat made an exciting finish today. Houses with export connection took the surplus out of the market on the break and later when the extent of export business at the seaboard was given out, shorts started a covering movement which carried prices sharply higher. The class in wheat found prices 1⅜ to 2¼c up; corn ¼ to 1 higher; oats ¼ lower to ¼ higher.

There was considerable pressure early but offerings were readily absorbed and prices advanced readily to above yesterday's finish.

Corn also recovered during the latter part of the session from early losses. Export demand was brisk with liberal sales to the east from here.

Oats declined early but rallied sharply later.

Provisions were weaker and lower liquidation in January lard a feature. The lower cotton market had somewhat of a depressing effect. Support was light and selling scattered.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—After opening at an advance of one to five points coffee features eased off slightly under scattered liquidation. Otherwise, there was very little selling and the more active positions sold ten to 17 points net higher with December touching 7.23 on reports of a firmer tone in the cost and freight market and talk of a better spot demand. December closed at 7.20 with the general market closing at a net advance of 11 to 15 points. Sales were estimated at about 34,000 bags: September 6.85; October, 6.96; December, 7.20; January, 7.33; March, 7.58; May, 7.76; July, 7.98.

Spot coffee was reported firm at 7⅝ for Rio 7s, and 10 1-2 to 11 1-2 for Santos 4s.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Raw sugar was steady and unchanged at 4.61 to 4.86 for centrifugal.

Raw sugar futures eased off early in sympathy with an easier trend to refined, but rallied on expectations of an increased demand for refined at the lower level, and closed steady at 2 points advance to 5 decline. September closed at 2.93; December 2.57; March 2.45; and May 2.50.

In refined, all refiners came to the 5.90 basis for fine granulated while demand was slow.

Refined sugar futures were dull and nominal closing unchanged to 10 points net lower.

AN UNDESIRABLE HABIT.

Mr. Brown bought a parrot. He was told it was a good talker and would soon repeat anything spoken in its presence. Several weeks later, however, he returned with it to the shop.

"What's the matter with it?" asked the dealer.

"W-w-w-why" said Mr. Brown, "the s-s-silly c-creature s-s-s-stutters!"—Houston Post.

STOCKS LOSE UNDER BEAR AGGRESSION

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The stock market today forfeited a considerable part of its recent substantial recovery. This was attributed to the absence of new constructive forces which provoked a renewal of bearish aggressions.

Contrary to promises yesterday, the money market developed greater firmness. The official rate for call loans opened at 5 per cent and increased to 5½ per cent in the final hour.

Additional July statements of railroad earnings were mainly favorable, but investment transportations were unresponsive, especially the Hill group and leading coalers. Other deterrent factors included a survey of general business conditions which indicated that stabtilization of prices was still in progress, especially as applying to the steel industry. Sales amounted to 535,000 shares.

Buying of British and French bills to cover September maturities as well as speculative accounts imparted variable strength to foreign exchanges.

Liberty bonds were firmer and trading in bonds almost as a whole widened, with recoveries in some of the local tractions. Various railway convertibles rose from large fractions to 1½ points. Sales (par value) $9,700,000.

ASSERTS IS LAST CIVIL WAR VET HEAD OF "HOME"

By Associated Press.

MILFORD, Neb., Aug. 29.—Hale and hearty at 77 years, a veteran of the Civil war through a patriotic "fib" and now with the responsibility of 268 comrade-survivors of that same struggle on his shoulders, J. O. Moore, commandment of the Nebraska Soldiers' and Sailors' home here, pursues his daily tasks with comradeship and economy his twin watchwords.

Commandmant Moore's duties are varied and numerous, from nurse at times to diplomatic interloper in the petty fusses and domestic financial and family misunderstandings, but he loves his work, he says, and asked which part he likes best replies "Every bit of it." More than sixty of his enrollment are wives of veteran inmates.

His charges declare he is one of the few remaining warriors of the civil war to hold such a post, and will probably be the last. Mr. Moore has no thought of retiring although he does get a trifle worried when instances come up which bring to face the fact that the law has been amended so as to admit heads of the institution who were not veterans of the Civil war.

Age is a point of great rivalry at the old soldiers home but if anyone should look up the commandant's record, they would find out that it makes him four years older than his family Bible or birth certificate. Which brings about the commandant's war history.

When the Civil war broke out and he wanted to enlist there seemed little possibility of success—he at seventeen with a crippled hand, suffered in an accident years before. Physicians refused him and be watched his father go to war before him.

Finally he struck upon a plan. He volunteered and persuaded a friend of his, Joe Witters, a youth of big stature and health, to step forward when his name was called for physical examination. He rose, with a little patrotic "fib" about his age, worked and in 1862, J. O. Moore enrolled as a member of Company 5, 126th Pennsylvania infantry.

And now, in Commandant Moore's opinion, he is yet serving for his enlistment, jokingly remarking that he is "probably suffering for his falsehood of earlier days."

RAISE WRECKAGE OF ILL-FATED BRITISH BALLOON

By Associated Press.

HULL, Eng., Aug. 30.—Virtually all of the wreckage of the ZR-2 which fell into the Humber river last week, has now been raised.

The body of Quartermaster Sergeant Greener of the Royal air force, was washed ashore this morning in the river near Brough, six miles west of Hull.

Sanction has been given by the Hull corporation for the American bodies to lie in state in any of the public buildings while awaiting transportation to America.

HOWDEN, Eng., Aug. 30.—American and British airmen from the airdrome near here and civilians from the surrounding countryside will assemble at the church here at noon tomorrow to pay a last tribute in a memorial service to the men who lost their lives in the ZR-2 disaster. Some 300 airmen will march from the airdrome, a mile and a half away, to the village, and it is presumed many civilians will join them. A band is being sent from New York and it is probable British military detachments will be sent from neighboring posts.

Thursday there will be another memorial service in Hull on a much bigger scale.

USE TOY VILLAGE IN FIGHTING T. B. AMONG KIDDIES

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—In a little toy village, 25 miles from the heart of the city and 350 feet above its level, Detroit is doing something diffrent in the fight against the white plague. It is a hard fight, but a happy one, for the children who are given care there do not find a grim atmosphere but one that keeps alive the romance of childhood.

At a cost of $45,000, the city had just completed and opened a colony that might have come to life out of a nursery book. On the gables of three quant dormitories and an administration building are painted the images of Mother Goose, Pied Piper, Old King Cole and the Old Woman in the Shoe. Little Red Riding Hood also is here, of course, and on one gable, the cow is jumping over the moon.

During the present summer, 100 children are enjoying abundance of food, fresh air, rest and sunlight, and by the time these youngsters go back to their slum homes, 100 incipient cases of tuberculosis will have been cured and a telling blow will have been struck at the plague in its most vulnerable spheres—the child.

Between May and November 1, the period during which the village will be operated, children from the congested district will receive, in addition to treatment, regular schooling. They are in charge of a trained nurse who is assisted by three other nurses and four instructors in physical education.

The toy village has its own light plant and other modern afcilities. It is situated on a tract of 900 acres on which the city will erect a complete tuberculosis infirmary to cost $2,500,000. This plant, when completed, will rank among the world's best, and is expected to make Detroit the mecca of students of tuberculosis prevention. Recently, a Chinese physician visited the village.

The children's colony is the outgrowth of a tent village conducted in the summer of 1920, when 150 children were treated. This experiment was so successful that it was decided to replace it with permanent buildings.

All funds for operation of the colony are provided from the municipal treasury.

MUST BE A GREAT SIGHT.

A captain of an Atlantic liner was bothered by a woman passenger who was always inquiring about the possibility of seeing a whale. A dozen times a day she besought him to have her called if one hove in sight. "But madam," the captain asked her rather impatiently, after long suffering in silence, "why are you so eager to see a whale?"

"Captain," she answered, "my desire in life is to see a whale blubber. It must be very impressive to watch such an enormous creature cry."—Harper's Magazine.

"Miss Budlong's reported remarks are certainly indiscreet. They do not represent the entire Christian viewpoint. Still she has a right to her own views. Girls can smoke and still be serious and do a lot of good in this world. The same, of course, applies to women. In fact, they often do more good than our modest grandmother did.

"These extreme fashions of present days do much to lower woman's standard in the eyes of the very men some women wish to attract. But leave the girls alone and they'll come out all right."

Those views, as expressed by the Rev. Paynter, are held by very few of the other Harvard theologians. The prevailing opinions as brought out by a canvass, were more in accordance with that of the Rev. Chester A. Drummond, of New Orleans, who, like Miss Budlong, is a Unitarian.

"I am actually shocked at such liberal views being expressed by any member of the clergy," he stated. "Such a controversy could not help but arise from such an unqualified statement from a member of the clergy. Radical styles are bad enough, but cigarette smoking by girls approved? Quite impossible!"

COTTON LOSES SHARPLY AFTER OPENING WEAK

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—There was a sensational break in the cotton market right after the opening this morning. January sold off to 15.90 within the first fifteen minutes of trading or a full cent below yesterday's closing quotation and other months showed losses ranging from 85 to 98 points. Sharp rallies followed but were not fully maintained, with January closing at 16.25, and the general market steady at a net decline of 52 to 75 points.

Liverpool was a little better than due and the market here opened steady to a decline of 13 points, but quickly became exceedingly active and excited. The effort to liquidate long contracts after the rapid advance of the past two weeks and before publication of the bureau appeared to be general and for a time offerings were overwhelming. October broke to 15.70 and December to 16.00, before sufficient buyers were found to absorb the most urgent offerings. A rally of some 45 to 65 points followed and carried December up to 16.55 and January to 16.56 but this met a renewal of liquidation which carried prices back to within 15 or 20 points of the low, and late fluctuations were nervous and irregular. There were reports of showers in Texas, but generally speaking no change in the bullish average of crop news. Local brokers attributed the break chiefly to selling in an overbought market accompanied by apprehensions of increased spot offerings should tomorrow's official crop figure fail to stimulate fresh buying and there was some talk around the ring that a further advance in cotton goods might check the demand for consumption. Two more private crop reports were issued, one placing the condition at 5.51, and the indicated crop at 7,905,700 bales while the other placed the condition at only 46, the lowest figure so far mentioned.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31.—A violent decline resulted in the cotton market today from the large volume of liquidation that came from the long side. Momentarily, on the first call, there were advances of ten to fifteen points which carried stronger positions tto new high levels for the season, but within a few minutes a terrific melting away of values came about and before the end of the first hour, prices were 75 to 80 points down from the level of yesterday's close and almost a cent a pound down from high levels of the opening. October traded up to 16.25 and dropped to 15.30.

This early slump was the widest fluctuations of the day, the market getting some steadiness from very low private bureau reports on conditions which brought in new buying orders, but no pronounced strength was on display and only partial recoveries in price were made. Toward midday prices were only about 25 to 30 points yesterday's finals, but later they fell off and on the close the list showed net losses on the session of 49 to 57 points. October winding up at 15.55. The better opening was caused at a higher Liverpool market than expected and recovery from the first slump of the day was due to a private bureau report on condition of only 46.0 per cent of normal, the lowest condition estimate yet made.

SCIENTISTS STUDY SINKING OF SOUTH SEA CORAL REEFS

By Associated Press.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 30—The coral reefs of the South Seas, may graduate from their position as mere contributors of local color to fiction and take a place in the annals of science as factors in settling the age old problem of the subsidence of the Pacific ocean.

This is the opinion of Dr. W. H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan, who left here recently on an exploration tour of the South Seas under the auspices of the United States and Japanese governments with the view of casting light upon the subsidence or thinking of the Pacific bed.

He said that his investigations of the structure and depth of the romance-tinged reefs would seek to prove or disapprove the subsidence theories evolved by Charles Darwin and James D. Danna, noted scientists who toured the world separately in sailing vessels at about the same time years ago. Each arrived at approximately the same theory—that the atolls or coral islands, rising from the depths of the sea and forming lagoons, surrounded by reefs of coral, were built up gradually while the Pacific bed sand thousands of feet.

Recently Professor R. A. Daly of Harvard University expressed the theory that when the great glaciers of the ice age covered Europe and northern North America, they took so much water from the ocean in the formation of the countless millions of tons of ice, that the ocean level dropped about forty fathoms. Consequently the waves cut cliffs and terraces much lower than those which had xiested. When the glaciers melted, the water returned to the ocean, flooded shores and dammed river mouths. These actions are sufficient, Professor Daly contended, to account for many evidences of the subsidence of the ocean floor.

Dr. Hobbs said the question could be settled only by boring deeply into a coral atoll and into a barrier reef. He said one of his chief problems would be to find a suitable atoll. He said the Japanese government hopes to place a warship at his disposal to examine coral formations in the West California islands.

From Manila, Dr. Hobbs will leave on the United States minesweeper Bittern to study islands about the Philippines, particularly in the Sulu and Celebes seas.

CATTLE SELL LOWER ON FT. WORTH MART

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 31.—In most respects the cattle market was steady today, but the beef steers trade was draggy in the face of light receipts and some sales were at lower rates. Cows, heifers and yearlings met with a very fair demand and were unchanged. Calves averaged steady. One car of strictly choice calves brought $7.00. The top on steers was $5.15. Receipts amounted to 3000 head of cattle and 3000 calves.

Early hog sales were around 25c lower, but the close was 25c to 40c down and slow at the decline. A shipper paid $8.60 for two cars and two loads went to packers at $7.75 to $8.35. Pigs sold at $6.00@7.00; the market being 25c lower. Hog receipts reached 2000 head.

Around 2000 head of sheep arrived. The market was steady with the recent decline. Good wethers brought $4.35. Quotations:

Cattle: Beeves, $2.50@5.50; stockers, $2.50@4.50; cows, $2.00@3.50; canners, $1.00@2.00; heifers, $3.00@4.50; bulls, $2.00@2.75; calves, $2.00@7.00; yearlings, $3.00@6.75.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
STATE OF TEXAS
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon John Paul Hogan and E. H. Smith by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 23rd day of August, A. D., 1921 in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 11438-C wherein, Cordelia Gertrude Dutton Campbell is plaintiff and John Paul Hogan, John T. Overby and E. H. Smith are defendants and said petition alleging that about June 23, 1919, defendant John Paul Hogan, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his four promissory notes, each in the principal sum of $2650.00 due one, two, three and four years after date respectively, each bearing interest from date until paid at the rate of 6 per cent per annum payable annually, in Wichita Falls, and providing the usual 10 per cent attorney fee if sued upon. That said notes were given as a part of the purchase price of 260 acres of land out of the Harvey Cox 960-acre survey known as Abstract No. 67, Certificate No. 318, Patent No. 118, Volume No. 115, which said property was by plaintiff's deed in writing conveyed to defendant John Paul Hogan, June 23, 1919, recorded in Vol. 63, page 74, Deed Records Archer County, Texas. That note No. 1 of said series of notes due on June 23, 1920, has been paid and discharged, but Note No. 2 of said series of notes due June 23, 1921, is past due and unpaid and that the interest on note, 2, 3 and 4, due June 23, 1920, is past due and unpaid, and interest on note due June 23, 1921, is past due and unpaid that plaintiff has exercised her option to declare all of said notes due, payable and mature. That though often requested to pay same defendants have failed and refused to pay same to plaintiff's damage $10,000.00. That because of these facts plaintiff has been compelled to place said note in the hands of attorneys for collection, etc.

That John T. Overby and E. H. Smith and each of them, claim some right title and interest in and to said property, but whatever interest is owned by said defendants is inferior to the claim and lien of plaintiff and is subject to said vendor's lien owned by plaitiff.

Wherefore plaintiff sues, prays that defendants John Paul Hogan and E. H. Smith be cited by publication herein, as the law directs, for judgment against the defendant, John Paul Hogan for her debt, principal, interest and attorneys fees with foreclosure of her vendor's lien as against all defendants; for cost of suit and general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 26th day of August, A. D., 1921.

TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon Joe Beck by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth District court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 13th day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 11413-C wherein Mrs. Mollie Beck is plaintiff and Joe Beck is defendant and said petition alleging that plaintiff has resided in the State of Texas for twelve months and six months prior to this suit. That plaintiff and defendant married January 1st, 1919, and separated January 16th, 1921. That defendant left county carrying with him mortgaged property: that defendant was cross, cruel and inhuman towards plaintiff and on account of said cruel conduct, and defendant taking property not his own, greatly humiliated plaintiff and rendered living together insupportable. Plaintiff asks that the marriage be dissolved and her former name, Mrs. Mollie Asher be restored to her.

Herein fail not, but have before said court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 31st day of August, A. D., 1921.

TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. S. Gault by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 16th day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 11391-C wherein M. D. Walker is plaintiff and J. S. Gault, H. H. Haggard, James A. Smith and J. E. Culver, are defendants and said petition alleging that on or about May 28th, 1919, for a valuable consideration, the defendant, J. S. Gault, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff two certain promissory, vendor's lien notes described as follows: Each dated May 28, 1919. Note No. 2 being in the amount of $600 due on or before 15 months after date, bearing interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, payable semi annually, and providing for attorney's fees; Note No. 3, being in the amount of $1000.00 due on or before 24 months after date, bearing interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent and providing for attorney's fees. That said notes contain a provision that if same are placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, an additional 10 per cent on the principal and interest then due, shall be added as attorney's fees. That said notes were given as part of the purchase price for the following described real property, situated in Wichita County, Texas, to-wit: Lot No. 12 in Block No. 31 of the Floral Heights Addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas. Plaintiff alleges that the defendant, J. S. Gault has failed and refused to record the conveyance from M. D. Walker to J. S. Gault and the defendant, J. S. Gault is hereby given notice to produce said original deed from M. D. Walker to J. S. Gault upon the trial of this case or secondary evidence will be introduced to prove its contents. That the defendants, H. H. Haggard, James A. Smith, J. E. Culver are claiming some kind or character of interest in said property, the extent of which is unknown to plaintiff, and plaintiff further shows to the court that any kind or character of interest which the said Haggard, Smith and Culver may have or claim in and to said property, is subject to and inferior to the vendor's lien retained by plaintiff in said property. That the plaintiff is the present legal holder and owner of said notes and that said notes are past due and unpaid and that Gault is legally liable to plaintiff for the amount of said note with interest and attorney's fees: that the defendant Gault although often requested has hitherto failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damages in the sum of $2400.

Wherefore plaintiff sues, prays for service upon each of the defendants, for judgment against the defendant, J. S. Gault for his debt, interest and attorney's fees, for all costs of suit, and for judgment of this court disposing of any interest or claim that the defendants, Haggard, Smith and Culver may have in said property above described, for foreclosure of his vendor's lien upon the above described land and that same be ordered sold according to law, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 30th day of August, A. D., 1921.

You are hereby commanded to summon Fay Petroleum Company by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 9th day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11331-C wherein, W. H. Worthington is plaintiff and Fay Petroleum Company is defendant and said petition alleging: That on July 20, 1921, the defendant was the owner or reputed owner of a certain oil and gas lease and an oil well located thereon, to-wit: 20 acres oil and gas lease in the Tex-Homa field in Wichita County, Texas, known as the Tandy lease, being located about 11 miles north of Wichita Falls, Texas, and west of the railroad track, also one derrick, one 500 barrel wooden tank, two strings of casing, one string being 6 -8-inch and the other 5 3-8-inch. That by virtue of a verbal contract entered into by plaintiff and defendant, said defendant agreed to pay this plaintiff the sum of $3.50 per day from the 1st day of April, 1921. That plaintiff is still working for defendant and that defendant is now indebted to plaintiff in the principal sum of $455.00 and though often requested have failed and refused to pay plaintiff to his damage $500.00. That on July 20, 1921, plaintiff made and filed his laborer's lien in County Clerk's office in Wichita County, Texas, as required by law against the above described property to secure the payment of his debt. That said property is of the value of $1000.00.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited by publication to appear at the next regular term of this court and answer herein for judgment against defendant for his debt in the sum of $500.00 for foreclosure of his lien, cost of suit, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 22nd day of August, A. D., 1921.

Know ye that W. E. Wilson, Administrator of the estate of said J. H. McLean, deceased, has filed in the County Court of Wichita County his final account of the conditions of said estate, together with an application to be discharged as Administrator thereof, which will be heard by our said court on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, at the court house of said Wichita County in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, at which time and place all persons interested in said estate are required to appear and contest said final account and application, if they see proper.

Witness W. T. Harris, Clerk of the County Court of Wichita County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at my office in Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 17th day of August, A. D., 1921.

W. T. HARRIS, Clerk
County Court Wichita County, Texas.
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

FIRE DESTROYS 'SCOTTY'S LAKE STREET HOME

Fire of undertermined origin at 1:45 o'clock this morning destroyed the home of H. T. Scott, beter known as "Scotty," at 302 Lake street. The furnishing were destroyed also.

Mr. Scott repotred to firemen that he and his family were asleep and were awekened at 1:40 oclock by flames and smoke. The entire rear section of the four-room house was ablaze.

Following a recent shooting in this city, "Scotty" received a mysterious telephone call instructing him to leave the city before sunset.

BARS USE OF UNIFORMS.

BERLIN, Aug. 31—President Ebert has issued a decree forbidding persons not belonging to the army to wear uniforms. Breaches of the regulation are punishable by a fine of from 500 to 10,000 marks and six months' imprisonment.

3-IN-1
OIL-GAS-POTASH.

One or all three may be discovered in the same well. Mitchell county, Texas, is in the Permian red bed formation, similar to that of Electra and Burkburnett, with their long-lived wells. The first three wells drilled in Mitchell county hit the oil. Two of these wells are seven miles apart. Mitchell county has thick beds of salt and gypsum. The great potash beds near Stassfurt, Germany, were discovered in salt mining. The United States imports 80 per cent of its potash. United States Geological Bulletin, issued June 7, says:

"Two oil companies boring 80 miles apart in Western Texas, report salt strata of nearly same geological age and general character as potash-bearing beds of Western Europe of at least the richness of potash deposits of Alsace and Germany. Thickness unknown, however. Even if deposits in these two wells are not commercially valuable, richer deposits may be found elsewhere. The potash area, at any rate, is large."

I own 8,000 acres leases in solid body, want capital to join me in development on liberal terms. I own oil and gas leases in Eastland, Shackelford, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Howard, Mitchell, Scurry and Brewster counties, Texas. My prices are attractive.

WILBARGER COTTON NOW BEING PICKED

VERNON, Aug. 31.—R. F. McRobbin has returned from South Texas. Cotton in that section is literally demolished. Farmers have been planting corn in that part of the state.

County Frank O'Neal received a letter signed K. K. K. telling him that he must conform more closely with the law or he will be waited upon in a manner that he will not soon forget.

C. B. Blalock has returned from Lorena, where the farmers have plenty of corn, sweet potatoes and peas and where there is no cotton to speak of but the saw mills are running full blast.

Cotton picking in Wilbarger county is beginning in earnest. Gins are being just put in order and wagons loaded with cotton are beginning their pilgrimmages to town. Pickers are plentiful. Prices started at 30 cents a hundred pounds but have increased generally to 31.

Watermelons are still coming into market; the crop has been unusually good. Prospects are excellent for an enormous feed crop. Maize has headed out wonderfully.

"Vernon Day" at the Wilbarger County Fair was largely attended and all business houses closed from two to six o'clock. There is a big racing and amusing program, including a wild west show. A band from the city of Mexico supplies the music and there is a program of athletic sports of the very best.

Announcement is made to the Moore hospital will be ready for occupancy Sept. 17. Building and equipment are modern. There are nine rooms for patrons and two wards, one of which will accommodate five patrons and the other eight.

A number of farms have been sold in the vicinity and a dozen modern residences are being constructed or the contracts have been let. Interest in the road bond issue election is very great and the leading business men of city and county are for the proposition.

Country in all directions from Vernon report heavy rains of late.

J. R. Carlisle of Wichita Falls and Miss Ella Porter were married Monday at the home of Rev. E. L. Moore, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Dale of Wichita Falls spent the week-end with parents, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible]. Mrs. Dale is still visiting in Vernon.

Bond for rural schools has been appropriated. The previous [illegible] Culver here was $18,-000, but it is likely that the appropriation this year will be less as the law makers reduced the appropriation.

Rev. R. A. Copeland of Denton won 101 converts in the revival meeting which closed at Farmers' Valley Saturday night. Pioneers say it was the greatest in the history of the community.

Travel to Wichita Falls from Vernon is somewhat tedious. The worst stretch of road is around between Electra and Iowa Park. This, on account of paving in progress between Electra and Iowa Park.

Sheriff W. A. Ish has issued a warning for the people to lock their doors securely during the county fair, for the reason "that many transients will be here and it is likely that many undesirables will drift into town." On account of the fair the city is crowded with visitors and the directors are very hopeful that it will be a financial success. They know it will be a success from all other viewpoints.

SAYS FAMILY SAT UP WITH HIM ALL NIGHT

"When a man has spent hundreds of dollars like I have for medicines and treatments that do him no good and then gets entire relief by taking a few bottles of Tanlac, it's time for him to talk for the benefit of others," said C. W. Goodman of Delvalle, Texas.

"I just can't describe the way I used to suffer from acute attacks of indigestion. The last spell I had the folks had to sit up with me all night and gave me everything they knew about, but in spite of it all it looked like I couldn't live. After one of these attacks would pass off I would be so weak I wouldn't be able to work for three or four days. I lived on raw eggs for four months and lost weight until I weighed only one hundred and five pounds. I spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and went to health resorts, but nothing did me any good.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel like a new man. I eat anything I want to and never have an attack of indigestion. I feel a 100% better than I have in 15 or 20 years, and I think Tanlac is the best medicine ever made."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkburnett by West End Drug Store, and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

ASK ME

Melissa.—Francis Ford has disappeared from the visible realm of screendom for many moons. He is no longer acting, but is now a full-fledged director. Address him, Francis Ford Film Company, Francis Ford Studios, 3040 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif.

George A. K.—Yes, I also believe that if Ralph Graves keeps up the good work he has been doing he will soon become a star. He scored his greatest success in "Dream Street," a D. W. Griffith production. He is now at work on "Kindred of the Dust" with Miriam Cooper in the lead.

Marie—Gladys Walton is married to Frank Ladenie. Yes, we think she is a very sweet girl and she is a promising little star. Peggy Hyland is the latest star to join the ranks of brides. She recently became the wife of Fred Grenville. Jean Paige is 23 years old. Address Priscilla Dean at University Studio, Universal City, Calif.

R. S. Stanton.—No, I have not heard that Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran are playing together again. The last I heard was that Lee Moran completed a picture alone. Betty Blythe is 5 feet, 8 inches in height. Pearl White has red hair although she wears a blonde wig in all of her pictures. Dell Boone is the wife of Niles Welch and is 27 years old.

Nan.—No, Nan, it is not true that Naomi Childers is to leave the screen. Where under the sun did you ever hear that? Charles Meredith was Constance Talmadge's leading man in "The Perfect Woman." Alice Lake and Marie Prevost are both 23 years old. Lila Lee has seen 20 summers.

Hart Trouble—At the conclusion of many screen dramas with William S. Hart more than one villain or desperado became afflicted with heart trouble. So the rumor that William S. Hart would desert the screen worried you, eh? Well, it needn't. From reliable sources I received word that Mr. Hart is now at work on a new picture called "White Oak."

Georgia.—Priscilla Dean is married to Wheler Oakman. Wheeler is also an actor. Priscilla is at present working on "Conflict," while her husband is busy in the leading role in "Slippy McGee." Thomas Meighan hails from the smoky city—Pittsburgh. Dorothy Phillips is a "Marylander" by birth.

Beatrice.—Well, Bea, somehow the foreport of your name sounds foreign. Yes, it is true that George Loan Tucker died. A few months preceding his unfortunate death, he completed "Ladies Must Live" with Betty Compson. Agnes Ayres' first starring vehicle will be "Take It or Leave It."

Haidee.—Fanny Hurst is still writing for the screen. "Superman" is her latest offering. It is scheduled to be followed by "Back Pay," in which Matt Moore and Seena Owen head the cast. I wonder who is Owen's Seena "Back Pay." That's an enigma for the brilliant.

A GLEAM OF INTELLIGENCE.

"Daughter, there are times when that sapheaded suitor of yours shows a gleam of intelligence."

"Yes, father?"

"He has just informed me that he is going to take a business trip to Canada and would like to show the strength of his devotion for you by executing any little—ahem—private commission I may have in mind."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FIX LIMITS FOR VOTING BOXES HERE

Limits for the new voting boxes for the city, seven in number, will be recommended to the commissioners' court as follows: It was decided Wednesday by Irvan Deaton and M. L. Tittle, composing the sub-committee to which the matter was referred late Tuesday:

No. 1—Beginning at Sixth and Lamar, south on Lamar to Seventh, west on Seventh to Travis, south on Travis to Valley tracks, northeast along Valley tracks to Denver tracks, north on Denver tracks to Sixth, west on Sixth to Lamar.

No. 2—Sixth and Lamar, west on Sixth to Broad, south on Broad to Valley tracks, east to Lamar, north on Lamar to Sixth.

No. 11—All of North Wichita.

No. 12—Beginning at interstetion of city limits with river, south and southwest along boundary line to Seymour road, east along Seymour road and Tenth street to Brook, north on Brook to Wichita river.

No. 13—Beginning at Sixth and Brook, south on Brook to Valley tracks, west along Valley tracks to Broad, north on Broad to Sixth, west on Sixth to Brook.

15—All of district north and east of Denver tracks to river and city limits.

No. 16—Beginning at Tenth and Brook, west on Tenth to Monroe, south on Monroe to Valley tracks, east along Valley tracks to Book, north to Brook to Tenth.

No. 17—Beginning at Tenth and Monroe, west of Tenth to Fairview addition line, south on said line to Avenue M, east along Avenue M to Monroe, north on Monroe to Tenth.

No. 18—Beginning at Avenue M and Monroe, west on Avenue M to Seymour road, along road to city limits south and east to Downing road, north on Downing road to Avenue M and Monroe.

No. 19—Beginning at Sixth and Brook, east on Sixth to Denver tracks, north along tracks to river, west along river to Brook, south on Brook to Sixth.

No. 20—Beginning at intersection of Valley tracks and Downing road, south on Downing road to city limits, along boundary line to Scott, north on Scott and west on Valley tracks to place of beginning.

No. 21—Between Denver and Valley tracks, west to Scott and south to city limits.

BALLAST TRACK TO ABILENE

Ballasting of the entire mileage of the Wichita Valley railroad, from Wichita Falls to Abilene, is among the extensions being carried on by that road, something like 20 miles of track being completed this side of Stamford. This work will be carried on, local officials state, until the roadbed will compare with any in the state.

A reported discovery of an excellent gravel pit near the right of way on the Wichita Valley, which if it bears out reports railroad men say expedite the ballasting is being inspected by a special party of Denver and Valley officials including S. A. Covington, general superintendent of the Denver and O. E. Maern, superintendent of the Valley. According to reports this pit is of exceptional quality and is easily accessible.

OIL EXHIBIT TO BE MADE AT FAIRS

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 31.—Word was received by the exhibit department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today that an exhaustive oil and mineral exhibit is now being collected by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, and that the same will be sent to the All West Texas Fair at Abilene, the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition at Waco, the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport and the South Texas State Fair at Houston, forming a part of the All West Texas exhibit.

J. E. Temple Peters, secretary at Ranger, is collecting the exhibit.

NURSE WAS NOT WIFE OF KINKEAD

DOCUMENTS SHOW THAT CORPORATION LAWYER AND WOMAN WERE LOVERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Filing of several documents in the Supreme court, Manhattan, brought to light today the allegations in the divorce suit begun last May by Olivia M. Stone, former Cincinnati nurse, now in Raymond street jail awaiting trial for the murder, August 5, of Ellis Guy Kinkead, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati.

With the divorce affidavit of Miss Stone and the answer filed by Kinkead were several letters alleged to have been written by the attorney to the nurse, and one from her to him, in which she is said to justify his claim that she never was his wife.

The papers were submited last May 20 to Justice Edward G. Whitaker, Manhattan, who denied $2,000 a year alimony and $1,000 counsel fees to Miss Stone. The case, however, had been placed on the calendar and would have been reached early this fall.

According to the complaint Miss Stone was married to Kinkead at Atlantic City, May 28, 1918. A summons and complaint had been served upon Kinkead last April 23 at his office in New York. Attorneys had been retained by the latter.

In her affidavit Miss Stone declared that after her marriage she and Kinkead went to Cincinnati to live. August 21, 1919, she alleged, Kinkead left Cincinnati in company with another woman, named Marie L. Gormeley, now Kinkead's widow, and she was unable to locate his whereabouts until July, 1920, when she learned he was living in this city.

Attached to the affidavit there is a copy of a letter purporting to have been writen by Kinkead, not dated, and received by Miss Stone July 2, 1918, which read:

"Dear: It is very important to me at least to have a communication with you this week. Let me know if you can arrange it. Yours, with usual love, ELLIS."

WICHITA FALLS WILL BE STUDIED THIS YEAR

School children of Texas in a short time will be learning about Wichita Falls, its industries, resources and handsome buildings, from pictures in the pages of the Brigham and McFarlane 'Essentials of Geography," accepted state text book, from the request made by Wynne Lay, former teacher in the high school here, for the American Book company, of Dallas, in a letter to the local Chamber of Commerce. The request was answered with several photographs showing a birds eye view and several other views of the business section of Wichita Falls.
