Holiday Shopping Is Funny When You Go Beyond Your Depth

BY CHARLES NORMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—Shopping for presents you can't afford is lots of fun.

For years I was content to plunge boldly into department store crowds, battling my way to counters to make a few modest purchases.

This year I shopped for presents other people are giving. I am ready to report it is less of a strain and more economical.

When you shop in the higher brackets, the path to the counter is clear.

You don't buy anything—at least, I didn't—for reasons that will be obvious.

The first place I went into was a famous Fifth Avenue jeweler's. A clerk took a ring from the safe very ceremoniously, with the other clerks standing at attention, like setters pointing.

"The finest large emerald in the open market," said the clerk waiting on me.

The market is still open. This is why—

"How much?" I asked bluntly when I had looked long enough.

"Two hundred and fifty thousand," said the clerk. When the saw the expression on my face he suavely suggested a more modest number, like a diamond bracelet that was only $20,000, although he added quickly that he had one that cost $40,000 if I cared to look at it.

"Not today," I said, and made for the street. What—look at $20,000 bracelets after seeing that $250,000 emerald ring? What did the clerk take me for?

After that I went around in a trance. To be sure, once in a while I quailed under a supercilious clerk's gaze when I thought he had guessed

Landon No Candidate In 1940; Says He Would Reject Honor If Offered By Republicans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas said today he would not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940 and would not accept the nomination should it be offered to him.

The 1936 nominee made the announcement to newspapermen upon arrival here for the Gridiron club, a newspapermen's organization, dinner.

Landon emphasized, however, that his statement did not mean he was withdrawing from politics.

"I am taking this step so I can be more active in Republican party affairs," he said.

Soon after he reached the capitol the governor was invited by a White House secretary, by telephone, to visit President Roosevelt at 4:30 this afternoon.

The purpose of the conference of the two opponents in last year's presidential election was not immediately disclosed.

Action On Railway Problem Is Asked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 — President Roosevelt said today the Interstate Commerce commission should seek to preserve the solvency of the nation's railroads with a view to retining them under private management and private ownership.

Discussin gthe financial situation of the carriers at a press conference, the president sai dthe quicker a final determination was reached on the roads' application for higher freight rates the better it would be all around.

Avoid Federal Ownership

He said he wanted to avoid government ownership but at the same time, he reminded railroad receiverships could not continue without some steps being taken to adjust their financial set-up.

Asked if a government subsidy was planned, he said that question was working toward straight state socialism and once that was started the same probably would be done with oil and other industries.

Mr. Roosevelt said the administration had no definite plan to help the railroads, adding the Interstate Commerce commission was the only federal agency authorized to deal with the problem.

Asked About Loans

Asked if the Reconstruction Finance corporation was planning more loans to railroads, the president said he had discussed that with Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman, Wednesday only in relation to one or two roads which seem to need a very small amount of temporary financing.

He shook his head whe nasked if the post of federal coordinator of railroads was to be revived.

Describing the railroad situation as the most difficult faced by the nation, the president recalled a 1934

First Airmail Leaves Today

Ninety-four pounds of mail consisting of 4,372 separate pieces of mail were aboard this morning when the first airmail plane ever to leave Lubbock took off from Municipal airport.

The plane, with Hal P. Henning of Dallas at the controls, was scheduled to reach Houston at noon today after pickups at Sweetwater and Ranger.

Plan Feeder Lines

The pickup tests are sponsored by the postoffice department and individual airlines in connection with announced plan to establish "feeder" airmail lines where the prospective volume of business justifies.

Postmaster Amos Howard, Mail Supt. John R. Green and a crew of four clerks worked until 6 o'clock this morning preparing the mail for the first flight. Those assisting in the work were Lee Fields, Elmer Potts, Glenn Ridge and Arch Harper.

Hand-Stamped Twice

The job was time-taking because all the pieces were hand-stamped twice. One of the stampings was for cancellation, and was done by hand to insure that the imprint would be clear. The other stamping was with a rubber "cachet" which marked each item as being part of the first airmail flight from Lubbock. Covers of that type were explained as being of particular value to stamp collectors.

Parents Watch As Man Leaps To His Doom

Prisoner Dies A Suicide Early Today About The Time Noose Was To Have Circled Neck

(By The Associated Press)

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 10—Douglas Van Vlack borrowed death today to cheat the gallows.

He died a suicide at 12:35 a. m. (M.S.T.), at about the hour he would have been hanged, fatally injuring himself four hours before his date with the executioner.

Parents See Death Leap

His parents, who had come from their Tacoma, Wash., home to bid him farewell, saw him leap 30 feet from the side of a cell to add his life to the three he had taken two years ago.

Dr. G. H. Wahle, prison physician, said:

"Death was caused by a broken neck, probably a fractured skull, internal hemorrhages and other injuries. He did not regain consciousness."

Violence Marks End

Thus did shocking violence mark the end of the 33-year-old former University of Washington business student just as it marked the trail that sent him to the death-house. That trail started on the Tacoma street from which, Nov. 23, 1935, he abducted 22-year-old Mildred Hook, his former wife.

Two police officers who sought to halt him met death, one killed outright and the other dying of the Tacoman's bullets the following Dec. 8—two years ago Wednesday. In quick succession Van Vlack ran his car into a ditch, forced Miss Hook to spend the cold night with him in a culvert, then shot her.

Found Beside Highway

On Nov. 26 officers found him, cold and exhausted, beside the highway. Extraordinary legal maneuvers that voided two previous execution dates staved off capital punishment for two years and 15 days.

Van Vlack jumped at 7:50 o'clock last night from a cellhouse beam to the concrete floor a few minutes after he had kissed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Vlack, goodbye.

Widely Known Physician Of West Texas Death Victim

Dr. C. L. Root of Colorado, widely known West Texas physician, died early this morning at Baptist sanitarium in Abilene after a long illness, according to word received by his nephew, T. C. Root, professor of economics and business administration at Texas Technological college.

Dr. Root had visited in Lubbock on many occasions. The nephew here and several others planned to attend funeral services to be held in Colorado, Texas, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Surviving Dr. Root are his widow; two daughters, Maxine and Julia Mae; a son, Charles; a sister, Mrs. Will Asher of Liberty Hill, Texas; and two brothers, J. E. Root of Abilene and Paul Root of Granger.

Mercury Slumps To 17 Degrees Today But Begins To Climb

Cold continued early today, mercury slumping to 17 degrees a brief time after midnight and climbing to only 2½ degrees at 10 o'clock.

Bleakness was not relieved by general conditions. The sky was completely overcast, the ceiling was 1,200 feet, and visibility was 12 miles.

The barometer at 6:30 o'clock was steady at 30.36. A southeast wind registered three miles an hour.

Maximum temperature in the 12-hour period preceding 6:30 o'clock was 26 degrees.

Two Men Are Killed As Auto Speeds Through Safety Zone

DETROIT, Dec. 10. (AP)—For the second time within 36 hours, an automobile sped through an occupied street car safety zone today, killing two men.

The victims of today's accident, in which the driver fled, were Nicholas Braich, 39, and Leon Ochedowski, 47.

Soil Erosion Is Fast Ruining Lands, Says Federal Expert

(By The Associated Press)

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 10 — Soil erosion is ruining America's farmland's faster than the government can replace them with newly irrigated areas," U. S. Reclamation Commissioner John C. Page said today.

In a speech prepared for ceremonies preceding opening of bids for the contract to complete the $126,000,000 Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia river, which he described as "the key structure of the greatest single irrigation project of history," Page declared:

"Irrigation must stop when all the waters available in the west for use by feasible projects are utilized. It cannot be permitted to stop short of that time. This limit may be reached all too soon."

Of an increasing need for western farm lands, Page said:

"Our construction program cannot make new lands available fast enough to take care of the demand arising from those driven from their homes in other areas."

The great plains drouth, he said, had driven 100,000 families from their homes, many of them westward in search of land

Huge Spending Plan Of WPA Made Public

Hopkins Says Expenditures To Be Hiked $23,000,000 Month; Rolls Will Be Enlarged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Increased unemployment forced the administration today to expand WPA spending by $23,000,000 a month, despite presidential economy plans.

The WPA employment rolls, now totaling 1,575,000 persons, will be enlarged to provide jobs for an additional 350,000 persons.

Hopkins Announces Plans

The announcement was made by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins last night shortly before he left for a physical checkup at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.

The proposed expansion was reported to be slightly higher than earlier WPA estimates of the winter's relief peak, but Hopkins said it could be handled within his budget.

For the year ending next June 30, WPA has been allotted $1,275,000,000. It has been spending about $100,000,000 a month, and has $775,000,000 left. The increased expenditures can be carried on for a while within that appropriation.

Should Increase Number

Hopkins declared, however, that there was no implication in his announcement as to the number of people who should be employed this winter." He said he was not considering at this time any request for additional funds.

"I simply say that on the basis of the realities of the present situation," Hopkins added, "we think the requirements of the relief problem so far as employable people are concerned indicate we should increase our number by 350,000."

Simultaneously with Hopkins' announcement an upswing in sentiment for more relief spending appeared in congress.

Rep. Ellenbogen (D-Pa) proposed the appropriation of another $500,000,000 for relief funds, and Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) disclosed he was studying the possibility that additional funds might be needed.

China Ignores Jap Warning

(By The Associated Press)

A furious general assault was launched against besieged Nanking today by 100,000 Japanese troops when stubborn defenders of the walled Chinese capital city ignored an ultimatum to surrender.

A Japanese spokesman declared Nanking was "in the process of falling," and Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatches to Tokyo said Japanese troops already were pouring in the city through its captured southeastern gate.

Capture Is Reported

The Japanese reported the capture of Purple mountain dominating Nanking. Chinese positions on the promontory previously had repelled a Japanese frontal attack on the city.

No word came from the 16 United States nationals in Nanking. The United States gunboat Panay, on which 15 to 17 Americans sought safety, reported communication with the inside of the city was severed.

In Tokyo, a foreign office spokesman said a full statement would be issued on Japan's future policy in China after the anticipated fall of Nanking.

Once Famous Floradora Girl Wants To See Old Broadway

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—A frail little woman of 64, who was one of the famous Floradora girls in the '90s, was anxious today to "go back and see Broadway" after claiming a $16,000 surprise inheritance left by her husband whom she divorced 41 years ago.

She was Mrs. Margaret B. Reeves who was located yesterday through relief records. Her divorced husband, Willie H. Reeves, 77, died Sunday, leaving her his entire estate.

LABORATORY SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — Senator Connally (D-Tex) introduced today an amendment to the farm bill authorizing government expenditure of $250,000 in cooperation with the first state that would put up an equal amount for a cotton research laboratory.

Help Bring Her Joy By Aiding In The Goodfellows' Drive!

Real Merry Christmas For All Needy Kiddies Of Lubbock Is Goal Of Goodfellows' Drive

THE 1937 drive to assure a real Merry Christmas for every underprivileged boy and girl in Lubbock is under way!

The Goodfellows, an organization of Lubbock citizens banded together to play Santa Claus to youngsters who otherwise would be missed or slighted, are riding again—riding after $1,200 so there'll be no empty stockings here this year.

Come on along!

Judging from last year's experience, when approximately 2,000 boys and girls in 800 families were given a rousing Christmas they otherwise would not have had, there's plenty to be done. Considering Lubbock's population gain during the year, about 2,500 kiddie in 900 families will have to be cared for by the Goodfellows this year.

First job facing the organization is locating each and every underprivileged boy and girl from one year through 14 years residing within the corporate limits of Lubbock. Race, color and creed do not matter. The Goodfellows want all the poor boys and girls and are calling upon the public to help out.

Here is a blank to be used in helping the Goodfellows find the boys and girls. If you know any, fill out the blank and mail it to Chief Goodfellow, P. O. Box 491, as directed in the blank.

Your Chance To Aid Goodfellows

To assist Goodfellows in locating all kiddies whom Santa Claus might fail to visit, Lubbock citizens have been urged by Chief Goodfellow to clip the coupon below, fill it out, and forward to:

CHIEF GOODFELLOW
P. O. Box 491
Lubbock, Texas

Please tell Santa Claus to visit the children in the following Lubbock families:

Family name .....

Street address .....

No. of boys .....

Ages of boys .....

No. of girls .....

Ages of girls .....

If you don't want to go to that trouble, bring the filled out blank to The Avalanche-Journal, 1211-13 Texas avenue, and leave it with a young lady at the counter. She'll turn it over to members of the Junior Welfare league, in charge of that part of the drive, and they'll do the rest.

The big job, of course, is raising that $1,200. Without it there can be no Merry Christmas for poor little boys and girls, so-o:

Mail your contribution to Chief Goodfellow, P. O. Box 491, or bring it to The Avalanche-Journal. Anything from 25 cents on up will be appreciated. Checks should be made out to Chief Goodfellow, if used in lieu of cash.

Let's get the job done now!

Dad's Gift? Why Not Make It A "Different" Year For Him?

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

How about something different in dad's sock this year?

Of course he expects the usual staples, but he likes his surprises as well as any other kid. To make him happy, make his eyes pop out with gifts he didn't expect.

The list of possibilities, as any Christmas shopper quickly will observe, is virtually endless.

However, one of the most popular present for pop this year seems to be the electric razor. Maybe he says he doesn't want one of those "newfangled" things, but let him get hold of one. He'll be like a kid with a new toy, and most of those who have become electric razor addicts swear by them.

Then of course there are razors of other types. If he already has one, he needs a spare. Then, of course, razor blades are like stockings for sister. There can't be too many of them.

Those able to spend more liberally also may do well to consider a movie camera. Motion picture making is described as being one of the most

Cruel Bandits Are Captured After Killing

Wounded Woman Crawls Over Snow To Carry News Of Death And Robbery Of Her Husband

(By The Associated Press)

CRETE, Ill., Dec. 10 — Two men named by a farmwife as the robbers who killed her husband and then shot her in an attempt to cover their identities were seized today.

Sheriff's deputies from Will and Cook counties, who quickly organized a hunt for the gunmen after the ruthless slaying last night, took John Jellica, 33, into custody at his home in Whiting, Ind., and later arrested Mike Munjas, 45, at his Indiana Harbor, Ind., home.

Both Men Confess

Capt. John Surdukowski of the Whiting police said the farmwife, Mrs. Hulda Pansa, 38, identified them as the robbers and that both had confessed.

Mrs. Pansa told the story of the slaying after crawling and staggering a half mile over a snow-swept road in near zero weather.

Her husband, Edward Pansa, 45, was shot to death last night as he lay on a sofa in his home with hands bound, pleading for his life. The robbers then walked to the bedroom into which they had pushed Mrs. Pansa, shot her in the head and left her for dead.

Is Partly Paralyzed

Partly paralyzed by the bullet, the woman made her way to the home of her brother-in-law. He had her removed to a Chicago Heights hospital.

Mrs. Pansa said the two men, whom her husband recognized, visited the farm earlier in the day, returned shortly before dark, pulled guns and demanded $2,000 in "inheritance money" which, they said, she had received recently. Enraged when told she did not have it, the robbers hit the farmer over the head, bound him and then ransacked the house, finding $77.

Plans To Pare Costs Offered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — A senate committee considered two suggestions today for cutting the labor costs of home building—employment for a guaranteed period and profit-sharing for workers.

The possibility of giving carpenters, bricklayers and other building tradesmen some guaranteed, year-round compensation has been widely discussed as one method of bringing down the daily wage rates paid such workers.

Want Definite Return

Proponents have contended that labor would be willing to work at a lower daily rate if it were assured of a definite yearly return.

Charles G. Meyer, a Bayside, L. I., building operator, suggested that labor might be cut in on the profits from large building projects "for the life of the projects." He said this would tend to increase the responsibility of labor unions.

Weather Threatens To Play Crop Control Role Of Own

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — The weather threatens to play a crop control role all its own in the winter wheat belt next year.

Weather bureau officials said today signs of a new drouth were appearing in the Great Plains region, where the bulk of the bread grain is grown.

The crop, they said, is starting the winter with a shorter moisture supply than last winter. The deficiency is particularly marked in the "dust bowl" region of western Nebraska, western Kansas, eastern Colorado, western Oklahoma, and the Panhandle of Texas, they said.

House Leaders Confident Of Big Victory

Compulsory Marketing Quotas On Wheat Also Expected To Be Placed Back In Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 —House chieftains, openly confident of victory, held their forces in line for a final vote late today on the long-debated crop control program.

They expected not only to pass the bill by a comfortable margin but to reinstate compulsory marketing quotas on wheat, leaving the measure substantially the form drafted by the agriculture committee.

New Delays In Senate

New delays in senate debate, however, created doubts that the farm legislation could be enacted during the special session. Senate leaders virtually gave up hope of a vote this week.

Before the final house roll call, Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the agriculture committee granted two hours of debate on a substitute bill to guarantee each farmer a cash income equal to his cost of production.

The substitute, offered by Rep. Massingale (D-Okla), would forbid purchases of farm commodities at less than the amount required to produce them. Even its supporters had little hope of success.

Regulate Size Of Crops

The administration program would seek to regulate the size of major crops by restricting the amount marketed. A majority of farmers receiving federal payments for their cooperation would have to approve the restrictions.

The tentative decision of the house early this week to eliminate wheat marketing quotas was one of two principal changes made in the bill during debate. The other would deny soil conservation payments to farmers who planted dairy feed crops on acreage withdrawn from soil-depleting crops.

Senate debate was slowed yesterday by a long discussion on the farm bill's tobacco sections, which had been expected to produce little argument.

Vote Early Next Week

Democratic Leader Barkley said he hoped to get a final vote by Monday or Tuesday.

A vote early next week, however, would leave only a week before adjournment during which a joint senate-house committee could settle conflicts between the two measures.

House approval of the farm bill would clear the decks for next week's scrap on the wage-hour measure—the second major point on the president's special session program.

Democratic leaders were trying to work out an agreement between northern and southern members to develop a more united front against Republican opposition.

A caucus yesterday produced a tentative agreement between the two factions to stand together on a compromise bill permitting a lower minimum wage in the south than in the north.

The labor committee approved an amendment to put administration of the measure under a single man in the labor department instead of under an independent board.

The third measure which leaders still hoped to pass before Christmas—the housing bill—was being considered by house and senate committees.

Drys Win More Territory In Liquor Battle Of November

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP) — The wet-dry battle for more Texas territory in November brought a 7 to 3 victory for dry forces, the liquor board reported today.

In local option elections, beer was outlawed in Bosque, Cottle and Young counties. One precinct each in Montgomery, Houston and Wilbarger counties voted beer out and a Newton county precinct made sale of all alcoholic beverages illegal.

The wets won victories in King and Upton counties where retention of beer was the question and a similar victory was scored in a Wilbarger county precinct.

Pair Charged For Slaying

PRYOR, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—Murder charges were filed here against Mrs. Della Hubbard, 29, and Roy Kinion, 35, a neighbor farmer, in the death of the woman's 50-year-old husband, Ralph Hubbard, County Attorney H. A. Kehn said.

The charge alleging the two "acting conjointly" caused Hubbard's death Saturday night by beating him into unconsciousness and then drowning him, was filed in the court of W. F. Graham, Pryor justice of the peace, Kehn said. Mrs. Hubbard and Kinion were held in the Mayes county jail here.

Earlier, Kehn revealed the widow named Kinion as her husband's alleged assailant and he had been arrested at Hubbard's funeral Thursday afternoon.

Kehn said Mrs. Hubbard made the statement after a deputy took her to a funeral parlor where her husband's services were to be held.

Authorities said Kinion was married and the father of several children.

The county attorney said Mrs. Hubbard told him Kinion came to the Hubbard home Saturday night, called Hubbard outside, hit him on the head with a club and dragged him to a nearby ravine, where Hubbard's body was found Monday face down in about two inches of water.

Kehn did not disclose whether the woman had told him by what circumstances she knew of the alleged attack.

Relics Are Shown At Local Museum

A series of exhibits and lectures extending through May of next year has been announced by the West Texas Museum association and will be presented in the museum on the campus of Texas Technological college.

An exhibit placed in the museum this week by Miss Vivian Johnson, head professor of home economics education, includes a 100-year-old trunk lined with a newspaper giving an account of the senate session at which Texas independence was recognized.

Brass studded nails were used in construction of the trunk, which is of cowhide, and the hand-made lock is fastened on with hand-made nails. Date of making was established by the lining of newspaper, a copy of the Times of Hartford, Conn., dated March 11, 1837. The newspaper contains an account of Van Buren's inaugural address, and a copy of a letter by Andrew Jackson.

The exhibit also includes a patchwork quilt which has been used much of the time since it was made approximately 103 years ago and in which pieces of silk and velvet still are intact. A hand-made wooden picture frame fastened with wooden pegs and in which is a picture enlarged from one made in 1859, a doll chest of the period 1860-70, two tintypes, and quilt pieces of the log cabin design more than 100 years old are included in the exhibit which will remain on display until after Christmas.

Program for remainder of the year includes: Dec. 12-25, prints from Association of American Artists, by Art Institute; Jan. 8-17, imported dolls exhibit, by Mabel D. Erwin; Jan. 22-31, metal work, Miss Martye Poindexter; Feb. 5-14, leather work, and hobbies; Feb. 19-28, puzzles, Dr. R. A. Studhalter; March 5-14, old maps, Miss Elizabeth H. West; March 20, lecture by Dr. R. S. Underwood on "Beyond the Moon"; March 27, motion picture of plains wild flowers, W. G. McMillan; April 3, lecture by Dr. Ronald W. Douglass on "Seasonal Aspects of Bird Life"; April 15-29, Young-Hunter exhibit of paintings and portraits by Art institute; April 30-May 9, local wild flowers, Dr. Studhalter; May 3, shearing, spinning and weaving, Miss Erwin; May 16-30, soap carvings, Miss Poindexter; May 14-23, plants poisonous to livestock, Dr. W. L. Read.

George Berry Named Chairman Of Salvation Army's Drive

Committee was named with George Berry as chairman Thursday afternoon to make preparations for the Salvation Army's annual Christmas drive, according to Capt. John G. Churchill, commandant here.

Other members of the committee are: Joseph R. Griggs, George W. Dupree, W. B. Irvin and Carter Hatton.

Approximately 100 baskets of food will be given to needy families this Christmas, said Capt. Churchill. A plan is being formulated to contact every person wishing to make donations.

So urgent is this cause that Churchill postponed his scheduled trip to Amarillo for the Texas Social Workers conference to remain here and assist in the drive, he said.

Freddie Again Up In Court

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. (AP)—Freddie Bartholomew's adopted mother, Myllicent Bartholomew, who also is his aunt, today won complete control of the young star's interests and affairs.

The youngster's parents, Cecil and Lillian Bartholomew, caused their son and his aunt to come into court to press their demand that a bank be continued as guardian of his estate, but the court held for the aunt.

Public Expression

And, for the first time, there came a public expression from Freddie on the merits of a court order which gives a portion of his salary to his family.

An account of the hearing could be briefly told were it not for Freddie's adult-like testimony. The court asked Freddie his opinion of the guardianship.

"I would like my aunt to have full control of the estate," he testified in characteristically precise English.

"My reason is very aptly illustrated by the fact," he continued, "that while my aunt had charge of my affairs once before for a little over a year, she saved $20,000, but since the other parties have taken over the estate, it has depleted very rapidly."

Provide For Sisters

The court asked the 13-year-old Englishman whether he wished his family to share in his earnings.

"I would like very much to have my sisters provided for, so they may have their schooling," he told the court, "but I think father is well able to take care of himself."

Freddie nodded and smiled to his parents, but did not converse with them other than to reply to his mother, who asked him why he was limping.

"I had an argument with the stairs and the stairs won," said he, explaining his ankle.

Bids For Construction Of A Modern Building To Be Open

Bids for the construction of a modern building expected to cost approximately $80,000 were to be opened this afternoon in the office of B. H. Hays, superintendent of Cooper Rural High school at Woodrow.

It will provide another modern educational plant of the type which has made Lubbock rural school system a model for the entire southwest.

Eleven contractors will offer bids, said a representative of Haynes and Strange, architects.

WPA Grant Included

Funds for the building were furnished by an original bond issue of $40,000, and a second issue of $6,000 to match a Works Progress administration grant totaling $36,900, said Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county school superintendent.

The second issue was made necessary because of insufficiency of the $40,000 to match the federal grant.

To Be L-Shaped

Situated on a 28-acre campus, one-fourth mile south of the Woodrow school building, the new building will be built in L-shape with 8 rooms in either wing, and a gymnasium and auditorium in the center. It will be of brick and tile with cast stone finish, and heated by steam radiators.

Twelve of the 16 rooms will be classrooms. In addition to the combination auditorium and gymnasium there will be an agriculture and science laboratory, a home making department room and a study hall.

Santa Claus Will Visit Old Negro Woman Because Son Chooses Jail Sentence

SEATTLE, Dec. 10. (AP)—Santa Claus will visit an old negro woman in Billings, Mont., because her son, Herbert Johnson, 30, chose to spend his own Christmas in jail here.

Johnson, fined $250 for state liquor law violations, had the money to pay his fine and go free. Instead, he said: "I want my old mother to have some Christmas. She won't have any if I pay that fine. I'm going to stay in jail and send her that fine money." He said his mother is Mrs. Lillian Johnson of Billings.

Johnson must spend 83 days in jail.

Sixteenth Burglary Of His Store Trying On Patience

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10. (AP)—The sixteenth burglary of his grocery store within a year today pushed the patience of Jake Gold near the breaking point.

Burglars last night took hams, soft drinks, a cigaret vending machine and other wares valued together at $150 bringing Gold's total losses from break-ins at approximately $2,000, he said.

"I have complained to the police but they tell me they haven't enough men to watch the store," Gold expostulated.

Richest Girl In World Takes Course In Hoofing From The "Mayor Of Harlem"

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP) — The "richest girl in the world" today wound up a one-week course in hoofing with one of the best—and richest—tap-dancers in the world.

The girl, of course, is Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, the former Doris Duke, and the dancer is Bill (Bojangles) Robinson, dusky buck-and-wing luminary and unofficial mayor of Harlem.

As Mrs. Cromwell left for Honolulu it became known that every afternoon for the last week, in strictest secrecy, she spent two hours on the dance floor of Broadway's Cotton club learning terpsichorean tricks from the maestro.

An Apt Pupil

And Robinson pronounced her an apt pupil.

It started when Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell dropped in to the club where Robinson is playing.

She invited Bill over to their table and he offered lessons—quite a concession, since he doesn't teach at any price and consents to coach only Eleanor Powell, Fred Astaire and Shirley Temple.

So, for the next six days, Mrs. Cromwell drove up in her Suenberg as Robinson drove up in his Dusenberg—he's getting $3,500 a week—and went to dancing school behind locked doors.

She wouldn't comment as she left for the west today.

Robinson was sworn to secrecy,

DORIS DUKE CROMWELL

and was preoccupied with sending a Chirstmas present to one of his friends—Shirley Temple.

Child Courts Being Closed

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague said today he's going to close the juvenile courts and correctional agencies for children in Jersey City, N. J., "because they're no good."

His system of keeping children out of the hands of police and out of courtrooms is better for the very young, he said. If they don't learn a lesson by reasonable methods outside institutions, the end of a strap can teach them, the mayor asserted.

He outlined his system in an invitation appearance before the New York joint legislative committee on law enforcement. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, who appeared last week, had said:

Need Same Thing

"I don't know what laws Mayor Hague has over there in New Jersey or whether he has any laws. But we need the same thing."

Hague said his system, in operation for seven years, prohibits arrests and courtroom arraignments, and is working "almost perfectly" now. No policeman is allowed to arrest a child. Instead he takes the child into custody and a complaint is forwarded to the juvenile research bureau. The child's family is notified and a hearing, if required, is held informally in a school building.

When it comes to second or third offenders, Hague said, the city makes the parent take the responsibility of administering a little old-fashioned punishment with a strap.

December Term Of Court Will Be Opened In City Monday

Arrangements for opening of the December term of United States district court here Monday are almost completed, it was said in the office of Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy clerk.

Among the court officials who will be here for the term will be Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, Clerk George W. Parker, District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus, Probation Officer John Alderman, Chief Deputy Marshal Grover Leigh, and other officers and deputies.

The docket will be called at 10 o'clock Monday morning, it was indicated. Criminal cases will be called first, then cases at law and finally cases at equity and bankruptcy suits.

Dockets are "fairly" light and the work will be complete possibly within 10 days, attaches of the court said.

Persons Injured When Fuel Tank On Truck Explodes

An oil transport truck was practically demolished when a fuel tank on the truck exploded shortly after 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon three and one-half miles north of Abernathy on the Abernathy-Plainview highway. No persons were injured.

The truck, driven by Dewer Stewart of Brownfield, caught on fire after the 45-gallon fuel tank ignited from the exhaust, it was believed.

As soon as the driver noticed the fire, he stopped and incidentally, a cousin, Ed Leonard, who was picking cotton near the highway, rushed to the truck. After the two men saw they could not extinguish the fire, one went north and the other south from the truck to halt traffic.

Shortly afterward the tank exploded.

Stewart was en route to Sayre, Okla., to get a load of gasoline.

City Of Rome Is Expanding

ROME, Dec. 10 (AP) — The first monumental step has been taken toward realization of Mussolini's ambition to have Rome break from her ancient walls and spread toward the sea.

Il Duce himself has laid the cornerstone of the first of the great concrete and marble buildings to be spread over the thousand acres of ground lying between the Eternal City and its seaport, Ostia. They will form part of Italy's Universal Exposition in 1941. But they are to stand as a permanent development.

They will rise on a hilly eminence overlooking Rome, a few miles beyond the ancient basilica of St. Paul-Outside-the-Walls.

An official announcement says the exposition will thus carry out Mussolini's formula: "From Rome to the Sea from the Sea to Rome," adding:

"Il Duce desires thus to reaffirm the marine characteristic of Rome."

A New Seaport

Fascists say the exposition will serve the triple purpose of giving Rome a scenic new outlet bringing the capital closer to water communications and emphasizing the position of Rome as the mother city of what Italians call "Mare Nostrum," referring to the Mediterranean as "Our Sea."

Broad new highways will connect the exposition site with the capital and the beach. An electric railway is to be laid from the center of Rome to the heart of the grounds, entering and leaving the latter by tunnels under two magnificent stations. Nearby, the Tiber will be dammed to make a permanent seaplane port free from vicissitudes of Mediterranean storms.

A Synthesis Of Civilization

Count Vittorio Cini, in direct charge of the exposition, says it will serve the primary purpose of displaying the finest fruits of Fascist culture.

"The exposition will be the synthesis of Italian and universal civilization," he told foreign journalists. "Il Duce conceives this as the greatest possible review of manifestations of human activity. We are planning to build an exposition which shall be above all pleasing, then comfortable, then interesting and finally, useful and instructive. In a word, we promise quality rather than quantity."

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Dec. 10 — There's one industry that doesn't throw a man on the scrap heat because of age. It's furniture manufacturing.

"An artisan doesn't really begin to get good until he turns the half-century mark." That's the consensus of manufacturers here.

In a plant with 164 workers, 2? per cent are between 60 and 76 45 per cent between 50 and 59. In another, hiring 189, 17 per cent are between 61 and 65. Those are fairly typical percentages.

Most of the older employees are wood carvers and turning lathe men. Many have stood at the same bench 50 years or more. And most of them own their tools, an investment of from $250 to $500 in itself.

Tech Launches Basketball Season Against Horned Frogs Of TCU

Shirley Temple Invited By Two Governors To Reign As Cotton Bowl Queen

SPORTS

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1937

West Texans Boast Tallest Cage Outfit

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 10 — Nowhere in the world, claim the West Texas Teachers' basketball team, will be found a quintet to match it in height. Average loftiness of the starting five is six feet, five inches. Its two stars, Ray Shackleford, center, and Lother Stephenson, forward, stand six feet, nine inches and six feet, seven inches, respectively. Average weight of the Buffs is 185 pounds.

Shirley

Governors James V. Allred of Texas and Teller Ammons of Colorado have invited Shirley Temple to reign as "queen of the Cotton bowl" at the New Year's day classic between Rice and Colorado. Coach Harry Stiteler's Smithville high gridders have amassed a total of 436 points to the enemy's 27 in eleven games and again look like the class of the "B" schools.

Frogs Are Tough

Not only did Fordham rank Texas Christian as the best team they met in a tough season but also placed Davey O'Brien on their all-opponent team by their only unanimous vote. Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, who haven't lost a football game in their last 17 starts, also have quite a basketball crew. They dropped only one of 17 games played last season — the final one of the year.

Give Gregg county the palm for being a football hot spot. They are gunning for three state titles, one by the Longview high Loopes, one by Kilgore junior college and another by the Kilgore Tigers, an undefeated negro high school team they say is quite an eyeful. Wally Bearden, the Southern Methodist fullback, once ran 108 yards for a touchdown while playing with North Texas Aggies against Decatur Baptist college.

Football Was Banned

Few recall it, but 50 years ago Dr. Rufus C. Burleson, then president of Baylor university, banned football. His action came after a 12-year-old youngster was killed in a game between Baylor high and a band of college boys. That was in 1886. Five years the sport lay dormant before its revival, only to be stopped again soon after the turn of the century when another death resulted.

Just to keep the records straight, there is only one "L" in the first name of Ole Cordill, Rice halfback. . . . And if you think he is good on the gridiron, wait until the basketball season gets under way. . . . Out at Colorado, Texas 87-year-old W. A. Crowder, retired railroad official, still plays his nine holes of golf and hereby issues a challenge to some of the younger upstarts.

Strangely, the all-star team named by Elton Miller, Baylor's demon publicity agent, failed to list a player from Rice, Southern Methodist or Texas — the only three teams which defeated Baylor. At the end of four years as head coach of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, Coach Leo Meyer can point to 33 wins, 11 losses and four ties, which is a .729 batting average. . . . There's a movement afoot to change the name of the Sam Houston Teachers' Bearkats over to just plain Tigers.

In 1752, when the Gregorian calendar was adopted in England, people went to bed on Sept. 2 and awoke on Sept. 14, the "longest night" in history.

Basketball Gets Faster

By Collier Parris

BETWEEN FOOTBALL games, let's relax with a bit of basketball, or at least enjoy a change of scenery. It is very difficult to relax in a basketball hall, especially when the teams are big and fast and well matched. It will be harder than ever to relax now, what with the change of procedure concerning the center tip-off.

We shall get an idea of how this change operates and how it tends to speed up an already fast game when the Techs and the Texas Christians mingle tonight at the Red Raider barn. The Horned Frogs and the Red Raiders are playing at 8 o'clock the first spasm of a two-game series scheduled here tonight and tomorrow night. The games should be very interesting indeed.

Do not expect Coach George Berl Huffman's Texas Techs to set the court and the shirttails of the Horned Frogs afire in this series. Tech's basketball prospects, at this writing, like considerable of approaching the prospects of this time last year, or year before, or the year before that. Only one regular from last season's team is back, and he is one of the shortest men who ever played basketball, although a very nifty and clever one. Paul Morris from Athens, Texas, where they grow good basketball players, is the young man's name, and he is captain of the current brigade. He stands only 5-foot-11 and weighs only 160 pounds, but he is all there.

One can never tell however from the looks of a squad in early December how it'll be playing ball in mid-January. The Raiders may turn out to be quite a gang of goal-getters. Do not sell them short, but do not expect too much of them at the start.

THERE IS NOTHING altogether new in this new rule about the center jump. It has been in force for the past two or three seasons in certain parts of the country, although never in the rule book. It has served to speed up the game to add life to the game, increase the number of playing minutes.

Into the rule book last year was legislated a part of the rule change. You recall that after free shots, following the calling of fouls, the team scored against took possession of the ball out of bounds, and it was that team's time to play with it. It was estimated that from three to five minutes of actual playing time was added to the game as a result.

Now the center jump after goals has been eliminated altogether. After a goal field or free, the ball is given to the team scored against, and play continues with no interruption. So five or more minutes of actual play should be the result, along with faster and livelier play, Everett Shelton, coach of the National A.A.U. champs, the Denver Safeway team, observes as follows:

"Speed and then more speed will be the keynote of basketball this winter.

"But do not look for as many exciting finishes as in past seasons.

"Abolition of the center jump and giving the ball out of bounds to the team scored against will send basketball, already one of the most strenuous of games, roaring along at still a faster clip."

As for the decrease in "Garrison finishes," Shelton says:

"In the past, one team has been able to overtake its opponent and win in the last minute or so because it was able to control the tip and get the chances to shoot.

"But now I can't see how a team that's ahead, say five or six points, with a minute or two to play can be pegged back. Every time its opponent scores, the team in the lead gets the ball out of bounds. And that means it will freeze to the ball just as long as possible before giving the other outfit another crack at the hoop."

OTHER CHANGES have been made in the rules for the new season, but the center tip-off elimination is the most important and the one that concerns fans most. Rules against "roughing" and unsportsmanlike conduct have been made more rigid, giving officials more opportunities for whistle blowing, but careful coaching should eliminate a lot of tooting. A team may now have an extra free shot, even though the players fouled may not be shooting for the basket, if the offender be judged "too rough."

Another new rule forbids a defensive man to touch the ball with the hand or arm while the hand or arm is above the opponent's basket. Penalty is award of goal to the opponents.

The "time out" rule has been re-written, but differs little in meaning, for college games. It holds that in games between players of high school age or younger, five time-out periods are to be allowed, and not more than two overtime periods are to be played. The second overtime period becomes a "sudden death" period, the team first scoring two points in that period becoming the winner.

But come out tonight and tomorrow night and see for yourself if the game is not faster, and if you do not see more basketball packed into 40 minutes than you ever saw before.

SHORT SUBJECTS: If you're in the market for a popular priced automobile, call on Salesman Elmer Tatbox of Lubbock Auto company. . . . The Tech football flash is now a regular employee of Harry Morris' establishment, and we wish Elmer a lot of luck. . . . Some football game the KFYO boys and Franc Laux, Columbia and KMOX announcer, put on Wednesday evening. . . . Made you feel like you were really listening to the Sun Bowl game, eh.

The entire scrip for the show was written and prepared by W. B. McAlister of McAlister's Sports Review. . . . Clever, these sound effect boys.

Well, old Red Ramsey didn't rate the Associated Press "Little All-America," and that's all right, too. . . . The explanation was that Tech had "outgrown" the "Little All-America" class. Ramsey did make the Colyer's Little All-America, in a breeze, and today is on the honorable mention list of Collier's Magazine big All-America. . . . One should not get Colyer's and Collier's confused. . . . We must be satisfied with the personal knowledge that if Ramsey had been playing with one of the big-time, big publicized teams, he'd have been a cinch for everybody's big All-America. . . .

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Just as 1936 was the season of one major trend in college football, so 1937 was the season of many trends.

The annual Associated Press survey, which has as its object the discovery of which way the football winds are blowing, shows they were blowing every which way. There is so little evidence of a nation-wide keynote, such as last year's increased use of the forward pass, that it seems advisable to list the various trends and the sections in which they were most pronounced.

Less Forward Passing

1. Less forward passing; observed at Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, West Virginia, Cornell, Syracuse, Princeton and Rutgers in the east; notably Ohio State in the midwest; Alabama, Louisiana State, Tulane, Auburn, Florida and Sewanee in the south; California, Washington, Washington State, Southern California and Oregon State in the far west.

2. More forward passing; observed at Villanova, Georgetown, George Washington and Maryland colleges in the east; Marquette, Iowa, the Big Six, Detroit, St. Louis and smaller colleges in Nebraska and Indiana in the midwest; Duke, Kentucky and the Virginia colleges in the south; Arkansas in the Southwest, the entire Rocky mountain conference.

Laterals Falling Off

3. Less lateral passing; observed virtually everywhere.

4. Stronger defenses, with emphasis on the epidemic-like spread of the five-man line and other freak, br, in the words of Wesley Fry of Kansas State, crazy, defenses, observed in the East, the Big Six, the Pacific Northwest, the Southeastern conference and the Rockies.

5. Increased power and deception in running attacks, observed, among others, at Yale, Harvard, West Virginia, Carnegie Tech, Cornell, Rutgers, Maine, Ohio State, Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist, Rice, Texas Christian, California, Washington, Washington State, Southern California and Idaho.

6. Wider use of the field goal, instead of a fourth-down gamble on an "all-or-nothing" play, observed principally in New England, Pennsylvania and the Southeastern conference.

Five-Man Line

The five-man line was the principal new development of the year. It spread throughout the country, and was invaluable to Alabama on its all-winning march to a Rose bowl bid.

Adam Walsh of Maine, one of the late Knute Rockne's seven mules, summed up the entire situation pretty well with the statement that "the general trend in play was increased deception and variations in defense. There were greater variations of defensive alignments this year than ever. Passing in general was about the same, though the added deception made some passes more effective."

The great Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C., covers an area of 34,000 square feet and seats 5000 people.

Agriculture in Florida is diversified. Including tropical, subtropical, and temperate types, 200 different kinds of tree and field crops are grown there.

Robstown And Conroe Meet In Grid Tilt

CONROE, Dec. 10 (AP) — If they don't win the "big title," Conroe's Wild Horses have another cinched — they're the "darlings" of Texas schoolboy football.

The backfield does well to average 135 pounds and the line isn't exactly composed of giants, but the undefeated, untied team has scored 386 points to lead the class A field.

Play Robstown Today

The Wild Horses go out to play Robstown's Cotton Pickers in a quarter-final game, and they may get beat, but you can't take away from them a great and amazing season.

Sparked by Capt. Cam (Powder) Harrell, a 125-pound halfback who has scored 21 touchdowns and three extra points for a 129-point total, the Wild Horses have stampeded through the strong Houston district. Fans in the deep South Texas section have "adopted" them as their own.

Coach Is Lightweight

Coach Joe Lagow, a lightweight himself who once performed in Rice institute's line as a guard, is definitely the man of the hour around these parts. He took hold of a cellar club and rocketed it to the top.

Always on their toes, Conroe players never pass up a scoring chance. Out of 16 players who have been listed at starting positions in 10 games, 13 have crossed the goal line for at least one touchdown. Even a guard, Bob Looney has scored 10 points. He blocked a punt and recovered it for a touchdown and twice made tackles behind the enemy's goal stripe for safeties.

Other Attractions

Harrell isn't the only backfield attraction. There is "Shorty" Waldie, the fans' favorite, who has crossed the goal line eleven times himself for 66 points.

Three other backs haven't done bad themselves. Hardy scoring 42 points; Barfield, 30 and Vanderburg, 24. In fact, 14 players on the small squad have sneaked in at least one point during the season.

Three Games Saturday

Three other games are scheduled for tomorrow. Slightly favored were Wichita Falls over Austin (El Paso) at Wichita Falls, North Side over Sherman at Fort Worth and Longview over Temple at Longview.

The four contests were expected to attract 21,000 fans with today's tussle accounting for about 7,000. The Sherman-North Side game at Fort Worth tomorrow is expected to bring out 10,000 fans, the Wichita Falls-Austin game, 6,000, and the Temple-Longview game, 8,000.

Yuletide Spirit In Evidence Throughout City Of Lubbock

Thousands of sparkling lights, wreaths and other decorations, both elaborate and simple, evidence the Yuletide spirit throughout Lubbock.

A 30-foot balsam Christmas tree will be set up on the lawn west of the courthouse today and decorations in holiday colors and glowing electric lights will be added shortly, according to John Graham, supervisor of city lighting. This huge tree was purchased from the American Legion which received a shipment of approximately 1,000 trees a few days ago.

Nearly 15,000 feet of multi-colored electric lights have been strung above streets in Lubbock by the city and merchants.

While attempting to cross in front of the steamship American Legion, a 30-foot shark was caught by the ship's bow and water pressure as the ship sped along held the fish doubled around the bow until the ship was stopped several hours later.

Balancing The Family Budget

Begins To Look Like Dempsey And Tunney Feud Will Keep On Going For A Lifetime

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 — It begins to appear like this Dempsey-Tunney feud will go on forever in one form or another. Ten years it's been since they last met under the ring lights at Chicago but they're still at it worse than the Hatfields and the McCoys.

Tunney started it the other day when he went democratic and paid a visit to Max Schmeling's training quarters at Summit, N. J. Everybody realized at the time it was a deliberate steal of Dempsey's stuff.

His Stock In Trade

After all, being the most democratic of all ex-heavyweight champions is Jack's chief stock in trade.

So Jack struck back yesterday. Appearing in a cloud of cigar smoke at the training camp of Harry Thomas, who fights Schmeling Monday night at the Garden, the Old Mauler did ten rounds of democrating that made Tunney's effort look puny by comparison.

He started with a fast three rounds in the camp tavern, during which he shook hands with 18 sports writers, eight sparring partners and six other citizens. He tore through the noon meal behind a barrage of bruised hands and finished off in a red-hot kellypool game with all the prize-fighters around the camp, of all colors and creeds.

It was a grand exhibition, considering the length of time Jack has been out of active training, and he finished without taking a deep breath. Gene Tunney, the critics agreed, will think a second time before he stirs up Dempsey again.

Jack got one poor break, however. Tunney, after watching Schmeling work out, was in position to predict that the German would win his championship back by a knockout. Thomas showing, on the other hand, left Jack and everybody else practically speechless. He must have saved up the worst he had just for Dempsey. A pair of negro spar mates plastered him around until it was ridiculous.

"It might be a good fight — for a few rounds," Dempsey said as he hastened away from the place. "I would judge that Thomas is very, very slow to get started."

That was about the most generous thing he could have said about Thomas.

Two Tilts To Be Conducted At Tech Gym

Basketball, 1938 version, makes its debut at the Tech gymnasium tonight when the Texas Tech Matadors clash with Texas Christian university's Horned Frogs. The two-game series will be concluded Saturday night.

Starting time is 8 o'clock, each evening. The price is 50 cents per person, a "bargain rate" for the type of basketball anticipated.

The Horned Frogs, with something of a veteran team, coached by Mike Brumbelow, stand as slight favorites over the Tech outfit, a new team in four of the five starting positions as a result of graduation wreckage.

New Rules To Apply

The games tonight and tomorrow night not only introduce a new season, a new Tech team and the honored visitors from Fort Worth, but also the new rules for 1938.

Several changes and additions have been made in the rule book, outstanding of which, and of most interest to fans, is the elimination of the center jump, or tip-off, after goals have been made.

Basketball legislators have tried to crowd in as much fast action as possible into the 40 minutes allowed for a collegiate basketball game. By eliminating the center-tip, they figure that from five to eight minutes of action is added to the sport. Already one of the fastest games going, basketball is expected to be speeded up by several percentage points.

Other rules, of more importance to players and officials than to fans, deal with blocking, screening, personal contact, etc. Some coaches, including Berl Huffman of the Red Raiders, opine that the new blocking and screening rules give the official more opportunities to blow his whistle, that a foul may be called on nearly every scrimmage. Officials certainly are granted a lot of latitude, and more than ever before the burden of proving a rapid-fire ball game, with a minimum of times out for free throws after fouls rests upon the officials.

Plea For Sportsmanship

On behalf of officials, however, basketball coaches and college authorities of the entire nation earnestly request that patrons at the games, students, townspeople and other spectators, refrain from unsportsmanlike booing and razzing of the men in stripes. Their's is a difficult job, and mistakes are easy. Fans are cautioned, however, that "the official is always right," and that no amount of Bronx cheering will change the decision.

The Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university were expected here early this morning.

Coach Brumbelow, himself a former Frog football and basketball star, has quite a collection of goal-shooters, including a flock of veterans who are certain to add a scoring punch. Word from Fort Worth has it that the Frogs are "sure to have more scoring ability this year," that Slim Mabry, a football end and a basketball giant, a former Plainview High school star seen many

Better Get Tickets If You Want To See That Game

"Buy 'em here, and buy 'em early!"

That's the advice handed out to Lubbock and South Plains football fans who want tickets to the Texas Tech-West Virginia Sun Bowl game.

On sale only at the office of Hugh "Bo" Williams, in the Tech gymnasium, the tickets are moving rapidly. Nearly 250 were sold yesterday, first day they were placed on sale. That many more remained unsold last night. These tickets are good for the best locations in the El Paso stadium. Another lot of 500 ducats will go on sale here as soon as the present number expires, but the second batch will not be as good as those on sale now.

El Paso Sun Bowl officials long since have disposed of all tickets there, they reported, and it will be impossible to purchase tickets in the Border city without paying "scalpers' prices," it was believed.

Election On Fate Of Parking Meters In Lubbock Is Set Jan. 11

City Commission Issues Call; All Members Agree To Action

Citizens of Lubbock will vote next Jan. 11 on whether parking meters are to remain in Lubbock.

Call for the election was issued by members of the city commission who were unanimous in declaring at their semi-monthly session Thursday afternoon they had given their word, and that no other honorable action was left for them.

COMMISSION MEET IN BRIEF

Called parking meter election for Jan. 11.

May set election on civil service for city employes for same date.

Adopted on final reading new consolidated traffic ordinance making numerous important changes in present traffic regulations.

Discovered that technicalities may force court fight if southern end of Texas avenue is to be opened; commissioners previously had supposed that opening had been assured.

Adopted on first reading, ordinance directing that Avenue H wrecking yards be fenced; invited operators of such yards to next meeting of commission to present views before ordinance is finally adopted.

Four of the five members of the commission were present and each expressed the personal opinion that approval of the meters is virtually certain. But they each said, also, they felt bound by the agreement made at the time the gadgets were installed for a 120-day test period to call the election when the test ended. Nov. 27 was the last day of the test period.

Concurring in the action were Mayor Ross Edwards and Commissioners A. J. Richardson, W. G. McMillan and A. J. Fortenberry. Commissioner W. B. Price was absent.

Richardson, who originally opposed even the test period for the meters, remarked before the vote was taken that "I am confident the election will carry; I shall vote for them myself. But we are duty bound to call the election."

The action was one of many considerations of major importance before a commission session which started shortly after 1:30 o'clock and continued until well after dusk. High points of the session, in brief summary, were:

Postponement of study of El Paso and Dallas city civil service ordinance until the next meeting Dec. 23, but the suggestion that if amendment to the charter is necessary to establish the merit system for city workers here, to submit the issue to popular vote at the same time as the parking meter proposition.

Easement Not For Street

Discovery that a supposed street right-of-way for the opening of the south end of Texas avenue is an easement only for utility lines and not for a street.

Adoption of a revised and consolidated traffic ordinance drafted by City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley in cooperation with a city traffic survey committee which served voluntarily. It will become effective in about two weeks and will make drastic changes in present methods of handling the traffic problem.

Adoption on first reading of an ordinance requiring that a six-foot fence be built around Avenue H wrecking yards, but directing that operators of those businesses be given opportunity for hearing before final action is taken at the meeting next Dec. 23.

Action On Bids Deferred

Opening of bids for development of the so-called "Boles tract" which the city brought for sewage disposal purposes several months ago. Action on the bids was deferred and Mayor Edwards was authorized to make the most advantageous contract for grubbing and breaking the tillable land preliminary to renting it for agricultural purposes.

Postponement for further consideration of action on the claim of Mrs. Alma Apple, 51, for $300 for personal injuries received Nov. 24 when she was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. J. N. James, city meat inspector. Her left leg was broken in two places, members of the commission were told by Turner Adams, her attorney.

Thought Last Obstacle Removed

The Texas avenue information came as something of a bombshell to the commissioners who had supposed that the last obstacle to that long needed improvement had been removed, after months of negotiation.

Texas now comes to a dead end at Twenty-sixth street, and commissioners had supposed, the mayor explained, that they held easements from various owners from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-eighth street, and they had purchased a curving right-of-way from Twenty-eighth to Avenue H near Thirtieth street.

Easements For Utilities Only

Thursday they discovered that the easements they held from property owners were not for a street but only for utility lines. They were told further that all property owners except one between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth either has given or is ready to give the city an unqualified right-of-way because of the benefit of a street to their property.

The one exception was named as being George E. Smith, who operates an implement company. Smith now demands for a right-of-way the following, according to information to the commissioners: a cash payment of $2,500; pavement without expense to him of that portion of the new street abutting his property which, city officials said, would cost about $500; permission to him to disregard building restrictions; and that the city move a building belonging to him so that it will not protrude into the street.

Such expressions as, "we just made a bust," and demands as to "how did we get slipped up on?" marked the commission's discussion of the problem.

May Sacrifice Improvement

They were agreed, however, that the improvement will be sacrificed rather than submit to Smith's demands and City Attorney Bradley was directed to proceed with negotiations with Smith, with the possibility that condemnation proceedings may be brought to force the opening of the street. City Manager W. H. Rogers' report to the commission that official records disclose that Smith paid only $500 last Jan. 6 for the entire piece of property the city now wants to cross did not improve the humor of city officials.

Further complicating the problem was the fact the city had contracted with T. E. May, former police chief, to pay $2,500 for a right-of-way across another piece of property from Twenty-eighth curving toward Avenue H near Thirtieth. May had acted on suggestions of the commission when he purchased a block of property there so that the right-of-way would be available, and commissioners were unanimous in their opinion he had performed his part of the contract. As a consequence they voted that his claim should be paid, although all said they did so "reluctantly" because of the obstacle Smith had thrown in the path of the improvement.

Right-of-Way Promised

As the situation now stands, the city owns a prong of property 75 feet wide from Avenue H which comes to a dead end at Twenty-eighth street. It holds or is promised right-of-way to all the property from Twenty-eighth to the present open avenue at Twenty-sixth with exception of that held by Smith.

Present for the commission's final consideration of the new traffic ordinance were Mrs. H. F. Godeke, J. W. Jackson, Rev. R. M. Hocker, Dr. J. W. Rollo and Police Chief Don Reeder, who were members of the traffic survey committee which gathered information on which the ordinance was based.

Ordinance 20 Typewritten Pages

The ordinance is 20 typewritten pages in length, and some of its high spots are:

Forbidding of all parking on all paved streets between 2 and 6 a. m. each day so that city sweepers can clean the streets, thus correcting what was termed a "deplorable" condition.

Forbidding the displaying of any sign, signal, marker or device excepting those authorized by the city which tends to restrict traffic. This was aimed, among others, at those who have painted curbings in front of their places of business red in an apparent attempt to convey the impression that they were places of restricted parking. Under the ordinance, owners of any such places not authorized by police will be liable to a fine of $100 for each offense.

Hand Signals Specified

Specifying that the following hand signals shall be given for traffic movement: to make right turn, left arm held upward; for left turn, left arm straight out; and for stop or slow, left arm held out and downward.

Requirement that any person figuring in any kind of traffic accident in which persons or property is injured or damaged, must make a report of the occurrence to police within 12 hours.

Forbidding more than three persons in the driver's seat of an automobile; or more than one person on a motorcycle or bicycle.

Skaters, Scooters Prohibited

Forbidding the streets to roller skaters, scooters, and other vehicles of like kind.

Requirement that bicycles be equipped with front white light visible 200 feet and with red tail light or red reflectors.

Forbidding loud speakers on cruising automobiles for advertising purposes; forbidding loud speakers in front of places of businesses for advertising purposes, and forbidding playing by bands and orchestras as advertising stunts in front of places of business.

To Be Published At Once

The entire ordinance must be published twice and will become effective 10 days thereafter. It will be published at once, the city manager said.

Termed the most advantageous of the several bids on development of the Boles tract was one submitted by J. A. Lindsey proposing to grub the land for $3 an acre and to break it for $2 an acre additional. The land consists of approximately 783 acres, and plans are to prepare approximately 197 acres for cultivation and leave most of the remainder in grass.

Action was deferred on the proposition, however, when commissioners expressed the opinion that even better offers can be obtained for grubbing and breaking. It then is the plan of the commission to rent the land for agricultural purposes.

Accident Is Explained

In regard to the accident in which Mrs. Apple was injured, commissioners explained they preferred to make a personal investigation in the case before taking action. As reported to the commission, Mrs. Apple was walking across the intersection at Avenue G and Broadway when Dr. James was forced to swerve his automobile to avoid collision with a speeding truck driven by Mexicans. Attorney Adams explained that both Mrs. Apple and Dr. James were obeying traffic signals and the Mexicans were not when the accident occurred. The attorney served notice that petition has been prepared to sue for $2,650.50 judgment unless the out-of-court settlement is made.

The matter was deferred to Dec. 23 for final action.

Basketball

times on local courts, and Pat Clifford, a letterman, have speed and basketball cunning, that the Frogs have reserve material aplenty, and will use numerous substitutes.

The starting Frog lineup probably will consist of Clifton Cowan, Ben Abney, Mabry, Capt. Jay Smith and Brad Snodgrass, with Woodrow Duckworth, Mack Best and Jack Reedy ready to relieve.

Coach Huffman of Tech, with only one letterman from the 1937 squad ready to play tonight, is in quite a quandary, and more than somewhat worried. He plans to start Truman Neal, Dudley Aiken, Thel Garrison, Captain Paul Morris and John Henderson tonight.

Of that squad, Morris is the only returning letterman from last year who'll be in readiness tonight. Elmer Tarbox, football star, still is troubled with a bad shoulder injury which may keep him out of the basketball lineup until after the holidays. Morris, a two-letter man, retains his position at guard.

Henderson won a letter at Tech in 1935, but has not played since. He is a 181-pound, six-foot-two guard, and due to play a lot of Red Raider basketball. He comes from Linden, Texas.

Truman Neal, of San Antonio, is a sophomore, up from last season's frosh team. He stands 5-foot-ten, and weighs 164 pounds, but has a lot of hustle and ambition, and a rather keen eye for the hoop.

Thel Garrison, transfer from Wesley college, is one of the taller boys, 6-foot-four, weighing 192 pounds. He started out with the varsity last season but was declared ineligible soon after the season started. He is ready to go now, and looks like a real prospect.

Dudley Aiken, a football quarterback, transfer from Hillsboro Junior college, has demonstrated a fine eye for goals. He lacks an inch of being 6 feet tall, but makes up for lack of height with a fine display of courage and hustle.

The Tech cagers will miss the great playing of Judge Garrett, Rob Case, Cotton Wiginton, Hugh Snodgrass, Curly Wilkinson and Leroy Crews, and it may be impossible, this season, to find worthy replacements.

Huffman has at his disposal, however, two more football players, Rex Williams, six-foot-three, 195-pound football center, a sophomore, from Sherman, and George L. Webb, of Itasca, another sophomore gridder, standing 6-3, weighing 180 pounds, and both of these boys may prove valuable.

Powell McCready, a transfer from Weatherford Junior college; Woodrow Powell, member of the varsity squad last year, and T. F. Bain, transfer from John Tarleton, are other substitutes who may come in for first string consideration before the season is old.

European nations are now spending for armaments 10 billions of dollars which they are too poor to pay on their honest debts to us.

FOR some time now there has been considerable talk bandied about concerning Texas Tech's being admitted into the Southwest conference.

A month ago this column "broke" the first public mention of it and promised that "if and when it looks like we'll make the grade we'll pass the word on to you."

The conference chieftains meet in Dallas tomorrow and, as far as The Plainsman is concerned, we have not yet reached the point where it looks like we'll make the grade.

Perhaps The Plainsman is unduly pessimistic.

If so it is simply because he wants to see Tech in the conference so badly that he just doesn't see how the dream can come true.

If this column is crossed up, and Tech is admitted tomorrow, we won't mind publicly admitting we were wrong.

It will be worth it.

THERE are quite a few boosters in Lubbock and some of them claim to be pretty close to the situation and may be, for all we know—who will bet money, marbles or chalk that Tech will be admitted into the Big League tomorrow.

We hope they're right, but we don't think they are.

And we have reasons.

In the first place—despite the fact that the "no" down state is that it's in the bag for Tech—most of the members of the conference are satisfied with the present 7 member loop.

Most of them seem to feel that if any change is made at all, the conference should be made smaller by dropping poor, old Arkansas—the stepchild.

In a 10-game season which conference teams are held to by rule—six are taken up with the round-robin, two are inter-sectional and two are or should be, "breathers."

Not all of the schools want to drop an inter-sectional game to add Tech to the list and not all of them want to drop a "breather."

Whether five of the seven do is problematical, but The Plainsman is of the opinion that if the conference votes on Tech tomorrow, and if the vote is ever announced it will stand as follows:

For Tech: the University of Texas, Texas A&M and possibly TCU.

Against Tech: SMU, Baylor, Arkansas, Rice.

BUT even if tomorrow's decision goes against us, we should not feel badly, nor should we be disappointed.

Tech is still young as colleges go. It has a big future.

If we lose out the best thing we can do is as Charles Inglefield (Stony-to-you) Wall remarked last night, be good sports about it. We should thank the conference for even a consideration, take the verdict with a smile and resolve to keep everlastingly at it until we do get in.

Honey still catches more flies than vinegar.

Regardless of the outcome of tomorrow's conference session, a great deal of good work has been done for Tech by a great many people.

All of them cannot be listed here for the reason that The Plainsman does not know all of them.

It is safe to say, however, that Tech Director Lisle Steele, of Mexia, has carried the brunt of the offensive over a period of many months and has rendered yoeman service in the matter.

Whether his efforts are crowned with success tomorrow, or not, makes no difference in the amount of commendation he deserves for his efforts.

He has done a great job and if it isn't ended tomorrow, there's another day coming.

That Man on Avenue Q says the fellow who recently drove a car 311 miles per hour wasn't going any place.

This week's best simile: "She's been on more laps than a napkin."

JUST so's you won't worry too much about Tech's chances of getting into the conference, here are some "brain teasers".

The second one ought to be a cinch for the college professors.

1. Can you name the planets of the solar system?

2. At university commencements various colored hoods (collars) are bestowed upon candidates for doctors' degrees. Do you know the colors which designate a doctor of arts and letters?

a doctor of law?

a doctor of medicine?

3. How many islands make up the principal part of the Hawaiian group?

4. What noted American has flown over both the North and South Poles?

5. How many feet in a meter?

Answers will be found near the bottom of the column.

A lady who signs herself "A Tourist in Your Midst" makes the following interesting contribution:

"Dear Plainsman: Thank the sweet lady for instructions on how to grow a sweet potato vine. I'm making a last attempt. The long potato in the tall fruit jar, immersed in a scant inch of water is hidden away in the dark recesses of a lower cupboard while I wait breathlessly for results.

"Here is a list of words purposely misspelled for a 'brain teaser':

"Inocculate, embarras, harras, supercede; inuenndo; rarify, vilefy; plaguey, dessicate; picnicing.

"Come on, good spellers. Don't look 'em up in a dictionary, or refer to a known best seller. The answers are at the bottom of The Plainsman's column today."

That's a good list, "Tourist"—and much obliged.

IT does beat all the way folks gravitate to Lubbock and the South Plains.

The Plainsman was out at a little social function the other night at which 18 persons were present. Birthplaces of those on hand included Maryland, Ohio, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas.

That's quite a geographical spread.

The Plainsman believes he knows Lubbock citizens from every state in the Union save from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Are there any from those states? There must be.

The answers to the "Brain teasers" printed above:

1. The planets are Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

2. The doctor of arts and letters wears a hood lined in white; doctor of law, purple and doctor of medicine, green.

3. Twenty islands are included in the Hawaiian archipelago. Hawaii, Maui, Oahu, Kauai, Molokai, Lanai, Niihau, and Kahoolawe are the eight principal islands.

4. Admiral R. E. Byrd has flown over both North Pole and South Pole.

5. There are 3.28 feet in a meter.

AND here is correct spelling for each of those tough words offered by the "Tourist in Our Midst":

"Inoculate; embarass (Oxford); harass; supersede; innuendo; rarefy; vilify; plaguy; desiccate and picnicking."

PRISCILLA PIERCE — heroine, young woman attorney.

AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.

JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiance.

HARRY HUTCHINS — Amy's strange visitor.

SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday: Jim calls Cilly while Dolan is in her apartment. When Cilly refuses to divulge who called, Dolan orders her off to headquarters with him while he places police in her rooms to take further messages.

CHAPTER XXVI

Cilly leaned helplessly against the wall while Dolan proceeded to give orders over the telephone to trace Jim's call.

Jim had phoned from the Pennsylvania Hotel. The operator verified that. He could get out and disappear into the subway in 30 seconds. She felt a subtle pleasure at having outwitted Dolan. He was so sure of himself, so positive in his theory. What did it matter to him that he was railroading an innocent man to jail; to the ... to the electric chair! For the first time, Cilly caught the full significance of what Jim was facing. She held her breath as a new terror seized her.

Dolan was arranging her. There would be nobody to carry on for Jim ... nobody to watch the Hunter man, or Harvey Ames ... nobody to check on Carruthers who also came from Utah. Dolan would forget all that.

Suddenly she faced Dolan, her eyes burning with indignation and terror and despair.

"Why are you so determined to accuse Jim? What about Harvey Ames? He had every opportunity and just as good a motive. What about Hunter? There are a dozen angles that you refuse to consider. What about Carruthers upstairs? We have proof that he came from Utah recently ... His trip to Bermuda might easily have been a blind, or he might have gone away to let someone else use his apartment .... What about the Elliot woman upstairs? Surely she's read about the case in the newspapers. Why don't you check on her?"

Dolan frowned in annoyance. "See here, Miss Pierce," he said irritably, "you may be a smart lawyer and all that, but I don't need you to tell me how to do my own work. We've checked every situation thoroughly. We've got the word of a dozen people who saw Carruthers off on the Monarch of Bermuda. I don't go ransacking people's houses unless I've got something on them. Come now, get a hat and coat on, you're going with me."

There were voices in the outer hallway. Cilly recognized them. A second later, her bell rang.

"O. K. Answer it," Dolan ordered.

Cilly opened the door to admit Mr. and Mrs. Perry, who lived next door in Apartment 1-B.

Mrs. Perry, a plump, neighborly little woman, held both hands out to Cilly in a motherly gesture.

"You poor dear!" she murmured. "We only heard about it today. I'm so terribly, terribly sorry."

Dolan stood in the living room, taking in the situation.

"Come in, Mrs. Perry," Cilly urged. "Hello, Mr. Perry. This is Sergeant Dolan, from police headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Perry are my next door neighbors, sergeant."

Dolan acknowledged the introduction with a brief nod.

"Oh, this is just too horrible for you, my dear," Mrs. Perry went on. "And to have it happen the minute your young man was called away..."

Cilly's eyes widened. Dolan turned his shrewd glance on Mrs. Perry instantly.

"How did you know Jim was going away?" Cilly asked her.

"Oh, we met him that evening. Didn't we, John?"

"When was this?" Dolan asked abruptly.

"Just about midnight," Mr. Perry stated mildly. "Yes, it was exactly midnight."

Cilly's heart bounded as a new hope dawned.

"Just how and where did you meet the young man?" Dolan asked quickly.

Mr. Perry seemed a little surprised at the sudden questioning.

"We met him two blocks further down, on St. Ann's avenue," he related simply. "You see, we'd stopped in here a little after 11, wasn't it, dear? Miss Pierce had offered to look after our fish while we were away. Mr. Kerrigan and another gentleman were here ..."

"How did you know which was Kerrigan?" Dolan interrupted.

"Why, we had met him before. One Sunday afternoon, we met him with Miss Pierce down at Jones Beach. We all came home together. So of course when I saw him in such a hurry Sunday night, I was glad to offer him a lift. We'd gotten the car, and had a little bite down in the tavern, and then just as we started off, we saw Mr. Kerrigan, running toward the subway. He seemed in such a hurry ..."

"What time was this?"

"Exactly midnight. Remember, Mary, you remarked on it?"

"Yes," Mrs. Perry affirmed. "The steeple clock was just striking midnight. I teased Mr. Kerrigan about being in such a hurry to leave Priscilla, and he explained that he had to make a hurried trip out west. He didn't want to wait for trains, and there was a friend of his—a private pilot—who was leaving Floyd Bennett Field at 12:30 for Chicago. Mr. Kerrigan wanted to catch him, but of course because he was in such a hurry he couldn't get a taxi. So we drove him down to the flying field."

"You drove him to Floyd Bennett Field Sunday night?" Dolan repeated incredulously. He saw his carefully prepared case crumbling before him.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry nodded simultaneously. "And we got him there in 15 minutes," Mr. Perry said with pride. "Kerrigan's friend had just arrived himself. It was exactly quarter past 12. We waited around until they took off, and then we started for Fall River."

* * *

Cilly could have wept for joy. Jim had been down at Floyd Bennett Field at quarter past 12. Amy was

RENEWING A FINE COLLEGE CUSTOM

Renewal of the custom at Texas Technological college of engaging in 10-minute daily sing-songs of Christmas carols during the holiday period will receive the applause of all who cherish the real Christmas spirit.

Nothing could be more in tune with the period of the year than to give the students opportunity to join briefly each day in the singing of the songs which have come down, in some cases, through the centuries. Nothing could do more to bring an appreciation of the most sacred period of the year than to hear those songs echoing through the corridors of the school.

It is a practice which probably will become one of the traditions of Tech, a young school which is building traditions. Those who have been away from college for any considerable period of time realize that it is the memory of just such things, rather than what actually was learned, that is most deeply rooted in the hearts of the old grads.

The custom is a great one—an inspiring one. The Journal joins with friends of Tech everywhere in congratulating the college YM-YWCA in sponsoring the event once more, and in expressing the hope that it is a practice which will be perpetuated.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10.—One of the nicest business relationships in this town, which is widely known as the double-crossroads of the world, is the strictly personal contract between Edward Arnold and Producer B. P. Schulberg.

Five years ago Schulberg saw Arnold on the stage of a local theater in a play called "Whistling in the Dark." There were not many good character actors around the screen colony then, and the producer thought he'd like to have one. Arnold had been getting $350 a week, and sometimes less, so he was pleased when Schulberg offered $750.

For quite a while nothing was found for the actor to do. Other companies weren't interested, and Schulberg had no roles for him. Friends of the executive told him he was a fool for continuing to carry the actor. But, work or no work, Arnold got his $750.

Along in 1935, with "Diamond Jim" and later in "Crime Without Passion," Arnold made movietown sit up and take notice. Schulberg soon began loaning him out at from $3000 to $5000 a week. This time, Arnold's friends urged him to bolt the contract; they said there was no sense in him working to make some other guy rich. Arnold told them not to worry—he was doing all right.

Today, along with Basil Rathbone and perhaps Jean Hersholt, Arnold is in the top bracket of character stars, and never gets less than $5000 a week.

Impact

On one of the sets the other day I was mystified when a young stock actress whom I'd never met, or even seen before, pranced over and said, "Say—ah, George, who are the other pact girls?"

"Pact girls?"

"Sure. You know—the four of us who were working in a Broadway chorus, and on the night the show closed we palsy-walsies got together in the dressing room and made a solemn vow that we would stick together always, and that if one of us got to Hollywood we would send for the other, and we would always help each other, and that sometime we would all be together again, in the same studio and with contracts, and here we are. Whew!

"Anyway, that's the story the publicity department put out, although I understand it's a very old gag, and we are supposed to play up to it, but there are so many girls working in this picture and I've forgotten which ones I'm supposed to have made the pact with, on account of I really don't know any of them."

She stopped then and looked at me closely, and her face began to register consternation.

"Sa-a-ay—you're not that George Somebody who works in the publicity department! I thought you were! You're not a columnist, are you? You are! Ohmygod, what have I done?"

Press agents also have been contributing some amusement lately in other forms of brainstorms.

The fellow whose business is getting Bruce Cabot's name into the newspapers planted a story rather widely that the actor has turned scientist and is studying black widow spiders in the hope of discovering an antitoxin or something.

Quite a few readers of the account, wanting to be helpful, went out and caught some black widows and dispatched them to Cabot. A few have reached Hollywood alive, and he isn't opening his mail any more.

Everything Rejected

An ingenious piece of fiction from one of the studios tells of the literary adventures of one Arthur Camp, a property man. It seems (according to this press release) that Camp needed a manuscript rejection slip for use in a picture to which he had been assigned.

Prop men pride themselves on being able to produce anything, so Camp sat down and penned an article on movie-making and sent it to a national magazine.

He thought, of course, that he would get it back with a rejection slip. However (surprise! surprise!), the magazine bought the article.

Of course, Camp could have had the studio printshop make up some of the slips. Or he could have borrowed one from any of a thousand unsuccessful Hollywood authors. But that wouldn't have made a good story.

Possibility Of Statehood For Hawaii Seen As Joint Committee Prepares Its Report

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—The possibility that there will be a 49th state—Hawaii—approaches the stage of likelihood.

A committee of 12 senators and 12 representatives, the Joint committee on Hawaii, personally investigated the question of statehood and other Hawaiian problems this fall. The members had a delightful time and presumably learned a great deal about the islands in the course of comprehensive hearings.

Rodney Dutcher

Some time before Jan. 15 the commission probably will report to Congress:

1. That the territory of Hawaii eventually should become a state.

2. That the people of Hawaii should vote in a plebiscite on the question of statehood.

3. That in the meantime the territory should be treated in national legislation in the same manner as a state. (This is particularly important to Hawaii in connection with sugar quota legislation.)

It is not expected that the committee will set any date for achievement of statehood.

FDR Seeks "Balance" in SEC

There are two vacancies on the Securities and Exchange commission and one of them will be filled by the President's appointment of Jerome Frank, one of the original, outstanding and incorrigible New Dealers. The Frank appointment probably will be "balanced" by appointing to the other vacancy a Wall Street broker who is a member of the New York Stock exchange's so-called "insurgent" group.

Frank, as general counsel for AAA, was a close associate of Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell. Ousted because of his uncompromising liberalism, he subsequently served with RFC and then with PWA as special counsel in the municipal loan-grant power cases now before the Supreme court.

Federal Wages And Hours

The rival A. F. of L. and C. I. O. federal employe unions, vying for memberships among government employes, both now have definite platforms of objectives—neither of them very radical.

The new United Federal Workers of America (C. I. O.) came out with a five-point program, as follows:

1. A five-day week in the government service.

2. An "actual minimum wage in the government service capable of sustaining a standard of living consistent with modern American requirements."

3. An appeals system for federal employes who feel themselves victims of discrimination, personal or otherwise).

4. Mandatory transfer and reemployment agency by which all efficient federal employes engaged in useful work may be assured of tenure. (Meaning that if a few hundred or few hundred thousand employes are released from one government agency, those employes would get first call on jobs being created by a new or old agency which is adding to its staff.)

5. A merit system applicable to all employes.

A. F. of L. Has Platform, Too

The older A. F. of L. union for federal workers, known as the American Federation of Government Employes and apparently not wishing to be outdone, has just come out with its own program, which is:

1. A minimum wage of $1500 a year for all full-time government employes, with statutory automatic increases. (This carries an especially strong appeal to charwomen and elevator operators, mostly colored, among whom the UFWA also has carried on a strong campaign.)

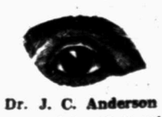

2. A five-day, thirty-five hour week, with no reduction in pay.

3. Establishment of a U. S. Civil Service Board of Appeals, so organized as to fully protect the rights of employes.

killed at 12:20.

There was a lump in her throat as she grabbed Mrs. Perry's hands in both of hers. "Thank you so much for telling us that," she exclaimed. Then, trying to be casual in her explanation, she added: "You know, everybody is under suspicion in a case like this until an alibi is established."

Mrs. Perry nodded smilingly. She did not understand why Mr. Kerrigan, Priscilla's special young man, needed an alibi. But she did not say so.

"Well, we'd better take the goldfish and run along," Mr. Perry suggested. "If there's any way we can help, sergeant, we'll be right next door. . . ."

As the door closed behind the Perrys, Cilly turned to Sergeant Dolan. She could not hide the gleam of satisfaction which lighted up her eyes.

"Well, sergeant, do you still want to hold me as an accessory?"

Dolan slumped into a chair wearily.

"I guess not. Their story rang true enough . . . and we can always check on it." He looked up at Cilly, smiled a little crookedly. "Well, it begins to look as if there might be some grounds for this faith of yours in the young man. . . . Say, tell me the truth now, will you?"

"Of course. I haven't lied to you yet, but you won't believe me."

"Was tonight the first time you'd heard from Kerr — or Kerrigan — since Sunday?"

Cilly hesitated. Should she tell him about the postcard? It didn't matter now, since Jim was cleared.

"No. I received a postcard from him on Monday, saying merely that he'd been called suddenly to Utah. I didn't hear another word from him until he called just now."

"What did he say?"

Cilly smiled. "If you remember, I didn't give him an opportunity to say very much. Only that he'd just got in from Newark Airport and was on his way over here."

Dolan looked at his watch.

"Well, I've got to hustle and check on some of these other angles you've been harping on. If he gets in touch with you again, will you ask him to see me immediately at headquarters? His testimony is still mighty important."

"I'll do that, sergeant."

Cilly smiled. "If you remember, I didn't give him an opportunity to say very much. Only that he'd just got in from Newark Airport and was on his way over here."

Dolan looked at his watch.

"Well, I've got to hustle and check on some of these other angles you've been harping on. If he gets in touch with you again, will you ask him to see me immediately at headquarters? His testimony is still mighty important."

"I'll do that, sergeant."

"Thanks. I hope we'll be working together from now on, Miss Pierce. Sorry about everything. . . ."

After Dolan left, Cilly made up her mind as to what she was going to do. There had been altogether too many stones left unturned in this house since Sunday night.

ONE of the fisher's chief items of diet is porcupine flesh, and skilled though he is in dispatching porcupines, seldom does he escape entirely from the sharp, protecting quills. Many old-time trappers of the north have never seen a fisher whose pelt did not contain at least a few.

Baby Is Found Dead In Rear Seat Of Car

MIDLAND, Dec. 10 (AP)—Charles Lee, 2 1-2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Richardson, Glendale, Arizona, was found dead in rear seat of their car today when they checked in at a local tourist camp. The baby was heavily wrapped in blankets and the child apparently had smothered to death while asleep.

The Richardsons were enroute to Stamford for the Christmas holidays.

The brant is a small wild goose. It exists along the eastern coast of North America and in many countries in Europe.

Shopping

the state of my finances from the looks of my last year's overcoat. But I am naturally made of stern stuff and nearly always gave him a contemptuous look, followed by a quick flanking movement to the left or right, out of his view.

My next experience was with the manager of a swanky fur shop.

Every Christmas there are persons—rather well-to-do-persons—who think nothing of giving presents that cost a small fortune. We thought you might be interested in how much you could spend if you, too, let yourself go, so we sent Charles (Average Citizen) Norman to shop for the most expensive articles he could find. Finding was not keeping in this case, however. His story explains.

"I would like to price a good sable coat," I said, for I had heard of such things.

He looked me over without seeming to.

"Well," he said, "a coat of Russian sable could be assembled for about $75,000—if you looked very hard."

I thought he was looking pretty hard at me.

"Why do you have to look?" I asked—"for the sables, I mean."

"The Russians have stopped trapping," he said, and shrugged his shoulders.

"Those Russians," I said, and shrugged mine.

Elephantine Figures

An ultra-ultra tobacconist shop, where the clerks wear frock coats, and the uniformed doorman says "Thenk-yo" when he lets you in, offered a few novelties worth their weight in gold. At least, that's how they were charging for them. There was a 14-kt. cigarette case, with name and address engraved in your own hand-writing, for $450. In silver, it was only $165. A "handy" pocket lighter was $185. A cigarette case and lighter combined, set with rubies and diamonds, was $550.

In a sporting goods shop I thoughtfully examined an elephant gun that probably could kill an elephant if you shouted the price at him—$1,200. Of course, by the time you fixed yourself up for a safari on which to use such a gun, you could spend ten times the price. I didn't have time to go into it.

Cost Only A Little

In a fashionable men's shop I looked at a fitted dressing case full of toilet articles—it was very pretty leather. It cost $175, but you could have tucked it away in an overcoat pocket. A suitcase to put it into—because you really don't tuck a dressing case into your overcoat pocket, unless you're leaving in a hurry—cost $110.

Yachts? Too Obvious

A pipe reposing on a velvet cushion—straight grain and very shiny—was $100. I always like to take a pipe along when I'm traveling.

I didn't shop for a yacht because yachts are too obvious. Besides, even if I could afford to give one it wouldn't occur to me to saddle a friend with the expense of running it the year 'round. One has to be thoughtful.

I came away from my shopping spree with my head full of gleams and glitters, like the people who swallow radium and glow inside for years.

Gifts For Dad

rapidly spreading hobbies the country ever has seen. And, if observation in Lubbock is typical, it is a hobby over which one quickly enthuses.

Or if you can't give a movie camera—a complete outfit can be bought for less than $50—how about a still camera? Amateur photography is becoming one of the great outdoor sports, and you can get a good "still" for about whatever you can afford to pay.

There are so many things different from the usual for dad. He, of course, expects his usual quota of socks, shirts, ties, and the like, but how about a reading lamp all his own—and making certain that he gets the use of it? Or a handbag, or a fitted case for shaving needs, of the type likely to be of most value to him? Or a dresser set from himself and no one else, or lotions, or something he can use if he goes camping, or—

Well, just look around. Your own eyes will be to blame if you fail to find something which fails to produce the joyful surprise associated with Christmas.

Railway Problem

statement by former Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman saying the carrier situation had improved temporarily but that no one on the commerce commission felt a permanent solution was at hand.

Readjustment Needed

The president indicated the roads must readjust over capitalizations and abandon more trackage in areas that might be served by only one railroad and where trucks and buses could do the job.

For example, he said if a road was capitalized for $200,000,000 and had only a net earning power for a $100,000,000 capitalization, a question was posed what to do about it.

Pressed for an explanation, the president replied that you could not get blood out of a stone.

Bids On Hospital Are Announced

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. (AP) 10—Another step toward bringing into reality the new state hospital for the insane at Big Spring was taken today when the board of control completed tabulating bids on construction work.

The bids were on two wards, which will house more than 500 patients, a hospital, employes dormitory, storeroom, administration building, psychopathic building, power house and tunnels, sewers, sidewalks and utilities. The legislature appropriated $817,000 for construction purposes.

Since bids aggregated $754,454, five per cent must be added for achitects fees and equipment will cost at least $80,000. Some items may have to be eliminated, but it was believed the size of the buildings would not be reduced.

Low Bids Listed

Claude D. Teer, board chairman, said it probably would be several days before details were worked out so final awards could be made.

On the general construction, the following apparently were low bids:

Administration $95,073, psycopathic $114,210, two wards $104,105 each, by Hills and Combs of San Antonio; general hospital $54,730 and employes building $41,700, by H. B. Zachry Company of San Antonio; power house $22,715, by R. F. Ball Construction company of Fort Worth; tunnel $27,300, by Vilbig Bros., inc., Dallas; steel tank $8,000, by Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel co., Dallas; storeroom $17,703, by Dunlap-Coughran of Abilene.

Teer said recently it was hoped construction would begin in January.

Alleged Wife Killer Says He Was Insane

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP)—A double plea, innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, was entered today by Paul A. Wright, airport manager charged with shooting to death his wife and his best friend, John Kimmel.

Wright was calm as he stepped before deputy District Attorney A. S. Colgrove and heard:

"You are charged on two counts of murder. . . ."

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke asked the defendant how he pleaded.

"Not guilty, your honor," replied Wright.

Defense Attorney Jerry Giesler added:

"And also, the defendant pleads he is not guilty of the offense charged in count one because he was insane at the time he is alleged to have committed the unlawful act. He also pleads insanity on count two."

Giesler declared he would base his case on the "unwritten law."

Judge Fricke set date for the trial as Jan. 13 in superior court. He appointed three alienists to examine Wright before then.

Wright is charged with having shot Evelyn Wright and Kimmel, airlines employe, to death when he came upon them embracing in his home early the morning of Nov. 9.

Production In Area Boosts State Yield

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP) — Abundant cotton production in Northwest Texas contributed to an estimated crop of 5,230,000 bales for the entire state, the Austin office of the U. S. Crop Reporting board said today.

The forecast, based on Dec. 1 conditions, exceeded by 180,000 bales that of Nov. 1 and compared with 2,933,000 produced last year, 2,956,000 in 1935 and an average production of 4,580,000 for the five-year period ended in 1932.

The northwest Texas estimate was 1,024,000 bales, 200,000 more than on Nov. 1.

Texas ginning prior to Dec. 1 was 4,492,000 running bales, compared with 2,713,000 a year ago, the board reported.

Hardin, a young lawyer serving his second term, said he was in the contest "to the finish."

At least six others have been mentioned as possible candidates to succeed Speaker Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, who is running for the attorney general's office. They include Bob Alexander of Childress, Leonard Morse of Houston, Alf Roark of Saratoga, Homer Leonard of McAllen, Charles H. Tennyson of Wichita Falls and Fred Mauritz of Ganado.

Three Men Charged In Fraud Held On Bonds Of $30,000

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP) — Three men arrested on charges of attempting to defraud a wealthy Londoner of $30,000 were held in jail under bonds of $50,000 each today.

One of them, Freddie Williams, alias Fred C. Paul, will be questioned by postal inspectors concerning asserted frauds totaling more than $250,000.

The other two men held here on two felony counts charging conspiracy to commit grand theft and the actual theft of $30,000 from Harry M. Millachip, retired London meat packer, are Jack Stewart and R. A. Neal, alias John Farrell.

Capt. Winn said the trio induced Millachip to give them $30,000 in connection with a horse race gambling syndicate.

The greatest percentage increase in the population of the United States occurred between 1800 and 1810 when there was a gain of 36.4 per cent.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — Christmas festivities at the White House this year will come in twos—two family dinners, two parties for young people and two Christmas trees.

One of the dinners will be at the luncheon hour, when grand-children of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will attend. The other will be Christmas night for the grown-ups.

Children's Party Scheduled

There will be a children's party Dec. 27.

On Dec. 30 the president and First Lady will entertain about 400 young people at a dance for their youngest son, John, and his finance, Anne Clark of Boston.

There will be a big tree in the formal East room and another, just for the family, upstairs.

Incidentally, the White House gives Santa Claus a choice of several chimneys.

Motion Made In Hearing Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 — The Association of American Railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce commission for an immediate increase in freight rates and passenger fares.

The motion was made by R. V. Fletcher, general counsel of the association, during arguments on the carriers' petition for a 15 per cent flat increase in freight rates and an increase from 2 to 2 1-2 cents per mile in passenger fares in the eastern territory.

"In spite of the action of the commission in expediting this hearing," Fletcher said, "the situation is such, due to an extraordinary decline in traffic during the past few weeks, and to the increase in operating expenses, that it will be impossible for many railroads to continue the present character of transportation service to the public unless relief is obtained in the matter of increased revenues by January 1, 1938, or very soon thereafter."

The increases sought are calculated to give the carriers about $517,000,000 additional revenue, annually.

Dallam Farmer Purchases New Truck With Dimes And Pennies

DALHART, Dec. 10 (AP) — Farmer John Paul has bought himself a new truck with pennies and dimes.

He made the down payment with his old truck and 3,000 dimes. Dimes made each succeeding payment but one. For that final one, he shelled out 3,650 pennies. Their weight was 25 pounds.

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 10 (AP)—The old man with the whiskers—Uncle Sam to you—isn't superstitious, even though his army fliers are. Thirteen B10 Martin bombers took off from Randolph field this morning for the Panama canal zone, ignoring the fact 13 is supposedly an unlucky number.

Russia ranks first in barley production.

Cheese production in Alberta this year is the highest since 1923.

Tommy Manville Advertises For New Secretary; Blonde Says Christmas Too Near

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — Tommy Manville, heir to asbestos millions, has advertised for a secretary to replace blonde Dolly Goering.

He said he had fired Miss Goering and explained:

"Dolly has found out that Tommy Manville is not getting married again."

As to the irate Dolly, who accused Manville of always firing his secretaries just before Christmas to avoid giving them presents, Manville retorted:

"Well, she came in with a tooth brush and went out with two cars and twelve trunks."

Santa's Pack To Be Heavy This Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — Santa Claus is carrying a $225,000,000 pack of toys in the United States this Christmas—seven-year peak for the American toy industry.

The Toy Manufacturers' association, at its annual meeting today, announced the estimate, and said the 1937 load of Yule toys will top that of 1936 in volume by at least 5 per cent.

The toy rack this Christmas backs the country's neutrality policy. Less than one per cent of the playthings are miniatures of military equipment.

The G-Man, the engineer, the cowboy, cartoon celebrities and Hollywood stars have replaced soldiers, the toy-makers said, as the nation's playroom heroes.

Parlor games based on crime solving, business, sports and chance outnumber battle strategy games 1,000 to 1.

Appeal To Mail Now Is Given

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 — Uncle Sam's postmen bent wiry backs today to the job of handling extra mail and promised the nation that every Christmas gift would be delivered on time—if every sender does his part.

The postoffice department will do its share, officials said. They were prepared to hire 120,000 or more extra clerks and carriers.

If Rules Are Obeyed

Officials said even the most distant farmer or rancher should have his Christmas greeting or present on time if these rules are obeyed:

Consult the nearest postoffice on mailing schedules and mail now!

Inscribe your package with "not to be opened until Christmas." Take a chance on the honesty of your friends, officials pleaded, and then you won't be able to blame late or non-deliverey on the United States mails.

'Tramp' Corporations Won't Get Permits

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP) — Edward Clark, secretary of state, announced today permits to do business in Texas would not be granted in the future to what he termed "tramp" corporations.

He defined "tramp" corporations as those whose charters had been obtained in other states by citizens of Texas for the sole purpose of transacting business in Texas.

Clark said the practice of granting permits to such foreign corporations discriminated against domestic bodies.

Stockholders of "tramp corporations were not required to comply with capital stock requirements prescribed for domestic corporations, Clark said. Jurisdiction of state courts also may be evaded more easily, he added.

Marlin Sandlin, assistant secretary of state, said when existing permits expired they would not be renewed.

Increase In U. S. Air Force Seen

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP) — A British survey of world aircraft today noted an "enormous" increase in the size and efficiency of the United States air force to "one of the biggest and possibly the most efficiently armed" in the world.

C. G. Grey made the ranking in preface to the 1937 edition of Jane's "All The World's Aircraft."

He credited German fighting planes with being equal in power and performance to American and British craft, "though not in numbers."

Are Building Light Bombers

Asserting all countries were building light bombers of tremendous speeds, he told how fast American and German airliners had produced "a complete turnaround" from heavy bombers.

It was a "ridiculous situation," then, he declared, which found passenger airliners "nearly twice as fast as heavy bombers in all air forces."

Could Chase Fighters

"In fact a year ago some big and medium American passenger machines were fast enough, if fitted with guns, to chase most of the "world's high-speed fighters out of the sky."

Since then, he cited British development of the Blenheim bomber able to exceed 300 miles an hour and German concentration on high-speed twin-engined aircraft under the guidance of Ernest Udet, stunt flier.

Supreme Court Now Has Hoosegow For Emergency Cases

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — The Supreme court now has a lockup, or what is more vulgarly known as a hoosegow.

But no one knows—while the black paint is still wet on the bars—what is going to be done with it.

Lawyers, congressmen, and other good citizens who attend sessions of the high tribunal are generally well-behaved. A lifted judicial eyebrow invariably serves to calm rising emotions. And, of course, the high court being an appellate one, criminals do not cross its gleaming doorsteps.

"It's just for emergency purposes," a court police official said today.

Pressed a bit, he said he thought it would be a good idea to have a place to lock up any "cranks" pending the arrival of a patrol-wagon.

Notwithstanding this hoosegow is housed in a $11,500,000 marble building, it appears to be just like any other hoosegow. It is a heavy wire enclosure about 15 feet long, 7 feet wide, and is furnished most unostenstatiously with a wooden bench.

"We may never need the room," said the police officer. "Anyway, that's what we hope."

Inquest Verdict Says Farmer Was Gored To Death By Bull

HARLINGEN, Dec. 10 (AP)—Justice of the Peace A. H. Pickens returned an inquest verdict today that A. W. Pearson about 60, a farmer, whose body was found in a pasture near here, was gored to death by a bull.

Neighbors found the body. Deputy Sheriff James W. Hall and Pickens theorized Pearson was driving cattle to the pasture when the bull made the attack.

Tribesmen Offer Thanks For Departure Of Evil Spirits

ZUNI, N. M., Dec. 10 (AP)—Throbbing tom-toms and pagan chants today echoed ancient Zuni's thanksgiving for a shalako sign the tribesmen believed meant the lifting of a foreboding of evil that has hung over this Western New Mexico pueblo for two years.

Zuni fathers said the departure without untoward incident of the six couriers of the rain gods yesterday augured good times in the land of Coronado's fabled seven cities of Cibola.

Big Squabble Called Draw

WASHINGTON Dec 10 (AP)—The great legislative controversy about the potency of potatoes resulted in a political compromise today.

Idahoans had said theirs were the best.

The men from Maine called theirs supreme.

After eating both kinds in the speaker's dining room, a jury of four officials couldn't reach a verdict. In fact it didn't look as if they were trying.

They turned in blank votes.

While movie and still cameras clicked and microphones picked up the proceedings, everyone who could crowd into the room put in a plug for something or somebody.

Borrowing Al Smith's nickname for President Roosevelt— old potato"—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace sang out:

"In my opinion the best potato is a certain 'old potato' from New York. This contest is to decide which is second best."

Unlimbering his larynx, Speaker Bankhead threw in a nifty for the farmers back home.

"This is an Irish potato contest," he said. "If it were one to decide the potency of the sweet potato the vote would go unanimously for Alabama yams."

Representative Compton I White (D-Idaho) struggled masterfully to get a word in edgewise about his state's silver, and House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn shouted something about the "yellow rose of Texas."

Both camps issued bristling post-potato statements.

"It was a raw decision," snarled Maine's Representative Ralph O. Brewster, "anybody ought to be able to tell those potatoes from Aroostook were best."

"Idaho's are the best in the world," barked Idaho's Representative D Worth Clark, "those judges must have paralyzed palates."
