

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

WE COUNTRY EDITORS are everybody's mailing list, we sometimes think when the daily mail comes in. We get mail regularly from the Egyptian government regarding things in their country. Although we usually throw it in the waste basket, we've been opening their news letters since they pitched the mail out. And it has been interesting to note the sudden change in the tone of their news letter.
Until Egypt pitched out the mail, the fat boy was pictured in every mailing piece and praised in the skies. They're all anti-ing now. We've never seen such reversal of policy.

OUR SCOUTS report that it is Major Stormy Davis up in the U. S. Marine Corp's big Virginia camp. In other words, Captain Davis, who used to coach Cisco football teams, has been promoted. He is assigned to his base as a football coach for the fall season. He's the end coach, we're told and only has six All-Americans from college teams to work with. Should have some good ends, wouldn't you think?

EVERY ONCE IN awhile you'll hear an old-timer tell about a water well being drilled up on the back of the Victor Hotel some 60 years ago. The well, the report goes, produced oil to the satisfaction of the man who drilled it.
Since it was no good for drinking water, it was filled in, the story goes.

Scouts report that Mr. W. J.
Foxworth has uncovered the pipe of the old well in his yard. All that remains is the filled-in pipe.

SPEAKING OF WATER wells, Mr. Mack Bean, the electrician, tells us an amusing story about a friend of his over the deep south.
They decided they'd drill a water well. So they hired a rig and it moved in. Drilling commenced.
At three feet, they struck water plenty. Since that time, the wells have probably been digging their wells there with post-hole diggers.

WE ALMOST HUNG up the telephone in Mr. Carl Lamb's car yesterday. He called us to start his paper again out on Avenue H. and we inquired as to where he had been for the past couple of weeks. He began telling about Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Denver, Estes Park and other stops. He mentioned that the night-time temperature at Dillon, Colorado, was 32 degrees. And our thermometer was sitting on 102 at the time.

THE HOT WEATHER herculeus feels good to the Robert Clintons. They're just back, you know, from the University of Ill. at Urbana. If you really want to see some hot weather, reports Mr. Clinton, you should go to the University of Illinois in the summer time.

Mr. Clinton is ready for the opening of the new college school year. He's looking for a larger attendance.

REPORTS FROM the baseball game last evening indicate that the large crowd saw a top pitching job by Mr. Ernie Johnson of the Stephenville team, a Brazos Valley League outfit. The first 12 batters Johnson pitched to went down swinging. He has a fast ball delux. Hear that he pitched for Texas A. & M. College in the spring and has another year there.

SEE BY THE papers that Mr.
Stanley Williams, the local football star at Baylor for three years, is doing real well with the Dallas Texans, the pro teams. Reports indicate that Stanley will become a defensive halfback instead of playing end like he usually has.

AND SPEAKING OF football, we have noticed eight or ten young fellows out at Chesley Field in the late afternoons. They run and pitch footballs. No coaches have been around, however, as they won't permit regular training to start before the first of September. The football field looks good. The soft center part of the field has been resodded and seems in top shape. The brick work on the front of the stadium is about half finished.
In about three weeks, we'll have our first games of the season.

OLD JAPANESE CUSTOM—In Tokyo, soba men open their carts at night after restaurants have closed, and blow a flute-like instrument to summon customers. Here, a soba man is watching three clients enjoy their soba, or noodles served steaming hot in a bowl of beef soup. The dish is said to be the world's first "spaghetti."

Attendance Good For All Services Of Baptist Meet

Attendance has been showing slight increases with almost every service at the First Baptist Church's annual summer revival meeting, church officials reported today. The meeting is being directed by Dr. L. D. Ball of Lamesa, evangelist, and Dr. Joe Truss-ell, of Houston, song leader.

Morning services also have attracted good crowds. A total of 141 persons attended Tuesday morning's service. Evening services in the big tent across the street from the church have been attracting between 350 and 400 persons.

Dr. Ball's sermon topics for the balance of the week were announced as follows: Thursday night, "Who Cannot Be Saved;" Friday night, "Three Startling Questions;" Saturday night, "What Shall I Do with Jesus;" and Sunday morning, "Thrilling Words for Troubled Hearts."

Friday morning, a special service has been planned for the older members and friends of the church. Following the Friday evening service, a special program has been planned for the young people.

The meeting will end with the Sunday evening service. Church officials have set a Sunday School goal of 500 for Sunday.

ALL-TIME RECORD IS BROKEN IN LAND MARKET, A&M REPORTS

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 20. — Another all-time record has been broken in the Texas land market, a report issued by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station reveals.

The Station's annual survey of prices paid for farm and ranch land shows that the 1951 price index rose to 352 (1935-39 = 100), as compared with an index of 282 for 1950.

In dollars and cents the state average jumped from $49.95 an acre in 1950 to $62.15 in 1951.

A joint project of the Experiment Station and the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the study was made by Joe R. Montheral and William G. Adkins. It cites the desire of buyers to hedge against inflation, plus a continuation of favorable farm commodity prices, as the main forces behind the upward surge of land prices.

Montheral and Adkins note that high cotton prices, together with the pre-season removal of cotton allotments, exerted strong inflationary pressure on the land market during 1951. In many areas a marked expansion in oil and gas leasing and development also contributed to the rise in selling prices.

Despite price gains which lifted the state average at a rate of two per cent per month, turnover declined sharply. The volume of transfers in 1951 was more than one-fourth lower, say the authors, than in the previous year, while the acreage transferred decreased by 17 per cent.

Due largely to a reduction in small-farm buying under the Texas Veterans Land Purchase program, the average number of acres per transfer rose from 178 in 1950 to 201 in 1951.

Decreases in land prices occurred in only two of the state's 17 major type-of-farming areas. Drought conditions mainly accounted for lower average prices during 1951 in the Grand Prairie and in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos grazing area.

In all other areas price changes ranged from small upward adjustments to unprecedented gains. The North-Central grazing area led the way with an increase of 65 per cent for the year, followed by the Coast Prairie with 61 per cent, the Edwards Plateau and Central Basin with 46 per cent, and the Rio Grande Plains with 31 per cent. Four other areas — the Panhandle Wheat, Blackland Prairie, Northeast Sandy Lands and Piney Woods Lumbering areas — registered price increases of more than 20 per cent.

Buying and selling by non-farmers was a key factor in the 1951 market. In both Jones and Nacogdoches counties 37 per cent of all bonafide transfers involved city buyers and others who were not farmers. Twenty-eight per cent of the buyers in Ellis county were nonfarmers. In almost all such cases the new owner indicated that he planned to lease the purchased land to a tenant.

Individuals, rather than commercial lending agencies, continued to supply most of the farm mortgage credit. Frequently these transfers were between brothers, father and son, or other relatives.

In appraising the outlook for this and next year's land market, Montheral and Adkins rank the Texas Veterans Land Purchase program as the potentially dominant factor. This program now represents a revolving credit fund of 100 million dollars. In 1950 when the first 25 millions were loaned, the program accounted for about 13 per cent of all the bonafide land transfers made in the state, and as high as 31 per cent of the transfers in some counties.

When Texas voters added 75 millions to the fund by constitutional amendment last November, say the economists, they increased the possibilities of further inflation of the land market. The final effect of the release of these additional funds, they add, will depend upon the timing, appraisal policies and geographical distribution of loans.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

AND NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Federated Churches Study Topic

Federated Churches was the topic used for the program at the weekly meeting of the W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church on Tuesday at the church. Mrs. Leo Clinton, program chairman, presided and announced the topic of discussion. Miss Ella Andrews led the group in singing "In Christ There Is No East Nor West." Miss Jane Huestis was at the piano. Mrs. Leslie Seymour led in opening prayer. Mrs. B. J. Osborn brought the devotional on "Partners in Obedience," taken from Revelations 22:2, Ephesians 3:17-19, and Ephesians 2:14. Miss Andrews then sang a solo accompanied by Miss Huestis. Mrs. H. A. McCanlies and Mrs.

S. H. Nance discussed the topic, "History of World Federation of Methodist Women, Current Events, Future, and The Listener."

A note of thanks was read from Mrs. E. H. Lightfoot, thanking the society for the work done in the living room and dining room of the parsonage. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Ricks.

O. E. Snowden, who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Seims in Bakersfield, California, underwent surgery there Monday and is reported as doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bender have returned from a month's vacation visiting relatives in Belleville, Illinois; Indianapolis, Indiana, and Dalhart, Texas.

Coming Marriage Is Announced At Coffee

Miss Elizabeth Coleman was honored at a morning coffee Monday, August 18, with her mother, Mrs. Lillian M. Coleman, and her aunt, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, as hostesses in the home of Mrs. Wallace.

The occasion announced the engagement of Miss Coleman to Ambrose A. Sherrerd of Timnath, Colorado. The wedding is scheduled for September 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wallace.

Yellow and white, chosen colors of the honoree, were used in flower arrangements throughout the party rooms. The table was laid with a yellow cloth and refreshments were served from a lazy susan. Mrs. W. T. Shell and Mrs. W. J. Armstrong poured coffee from an antique pottery pitcher. Mrs. Forbes Wallace presided at the register.

Those assisting the hostesses were Mrs. P. R. Warwick, Mrs. A. E. Jamison, and Mrs. Homer Slicker.

Approximately 60 guests called during the morning.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

If the problem of "what to fix for dinner" ever puzzled the housewife, it becomes a nightmare in summer, for on top of having to please finicky appetites, she may have to face a fiery kitchen. She fixes "something cool and refreshing" until everyone rebels at eating cold cuts. Then it's "back to the salt mines" of the kitchen.

She may ask, "Don't hot foods make you hotter?"

Maybe they do, but only for psychological reasons. A calorie, that is the unit used to measure the heat or energy-producing value of foods, is the same whether in ice cream or soup. Therefore, the usual excuse for serving nothing but cold foods is to keep from having a hot kitchen. Most people like at least one hot dish at the principal meal of the day.

Housewives have found good ways to beat the heat; for example, a single hot dish can include the meat and vegetables. A large roast or ham can be prepared in one afternoon's baking, by spending only enough time in the kitchen to see that the roaster doesn't go dry. Then after the first meal served while the meat is hot, it's only a matter of keeping it in the refrigerator and reheating it shortly before mealtime or serving it cold for a change.

A popular way of eating in summer is the picnic, whether on the banks of a lake, in a city park, or in somebody's back yard. A barbecue grill can be made from an oven or refrigerator rack placed on y-shaped green twigs driven into the ground on bricks, or on tin cans, and the fuel can either be wood from the surrounding countryside or charcoal. It doesn't take long for appetites to perk up and for friend husband and the children to offer help when they smell the steak broiling or see the chicken barbecuing.

SUFFERS INJURIES
C. L. Donaldson, 2200 1/2 Railroad Avenue, suffered two broken ribs in a fall Monday at his home. He stumbled on some boards that fell on a saw-horse rather than put his weight on a hip that was broken several weeks ago.

Mrs. Fred Arrington of Grafrod Ill., arrived late Tuesday for a visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jackson. She came to bring her brother, Robert Jackson, home and to visit. Robert has been working there this summer.

Mrs. Wynne Stanford of Dallas is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson and Pattie of Dallas spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson.

Lillian Ross Seymour of Fort Worth is visiting in the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Seymour.
