The disclosure Sunday during a visit by Romanian Ambassador Corneliu Bogdan that Romania hopes to develop a herd of buffalo came almost at the same time that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department called attention to a wildlife trade with the California Department of Game and Fish.

The Texas Department recently airlifted 29 wild trapped Rio Grande turkeys to California in a swap for wild trapped California ring-necked and Afghan white - winged pheasants. It was the second shipment of wild turkeys from Texas to California and another shipment will be made next winter.

Texas received 150 wild trapped ring-necked pheasants in the fall of 1964. Some were released in Matagorda County, some were retained as brood stock at the State Exotic Bird Farm at Tyler, and some were experimentally crossed with Iranian black-necked pheasants. All projects are reported progressing well.

Afghan white - winged pheasants have been released experimentally in Bailey, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn and Gaines Counties.

American Bison, or buffalo as they are called in this country, are rather popular, and reports are that brood stock are not hard to come by, although the huge wild herds of earlier days are long gone.

The Chamber of Commerce reported a number of inquires concerning cards of solicitation mailed by a firm proposing to publish a business directory in California. The perforated cards at first glance have the appearance of bills and they list charges for listings in the proposed directory. A close check of the "fine print," however, reveals that they are "proposals" and not statements of money owed. So, if you got one, it doesn't mean that you owe someone the amount listed on the card.

Although the cards are explained in the fine print, their initial impression is not likely to stimulate goodwill. — WACIL McNAIR

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, March 12, 72nd day of 1968. There are 294 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1938, Germany invaded Austria in World War II.

On this date:

In 1664, New Jersey became a British colony as King Charles II made a land grant to his brother James, Duke of York.

In 1864, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was made commander in chief of the Union Army in the Civil War.

In 1912, the first troop of the Girl Scouts of America was organized in Savannah, Ga.

In 1939, Pope Pius XI was elevated to the papacy.

In 1940, during World War II, Finland surrendered to the Soviet Union.

In 1947, President Harry S. Truman established the so-called "Truman Doctrine" by proposing U. S. aid to Greece and Turkey.

Ten years ago — President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba suspended constitutional guarantees in the face of increased activities by rebels.

Five years ago Washington announced that the Soviet Union was carrying out its promise to withdraw troops from Cuba.

One year ago — Former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was mobbed by friendly Russians as he made a rare public appearance to vote.

UNEXPECTED INTRUDER — It was a big surprise to say the least when this 1962 Model Chevrolet pickup crashed through Lee's Blacksmith and Welding Company on the East Highway at 1:45 p.m. Monday. The driver, Durwood Mickler, 48, 604½ Twenty-ninth Street, was knocked from the vehicle after it careened off a utility pole and made the unexpected entry.

AT SENATE HEARING

Talks No Nearer, Admits Sec. Rusk

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he can offer no present hope that Hanoi is interested in a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war.

He also balked, despite heavy pressure from Sen. J. W. Fulbright, at pledging consultation with Congress prior to a presidential decision on whether to send more troops to Vietnam.

There have been reports President Johnson is considering sending up to 200,000 additional men. A total of 525,000 is now authorized.

Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "There is room for indignation over the repeated rejection by Hanoi of even the smallest step toward peace."

Rusk commented in his second day of testimony before the committee, headed by Fulbright, a critic of the administration's Vietnam policy.

Rusk told the committee: "I cannot lead you to hope that we see at the present time any clear interest by Hanoi in a peaceful settlement in contrast to their persistent efforts to take South Vietnam."

He said the North Vietnamese government at Hanoi had rejected, among other approaches, proposals for a mutual de-escalation without formal negotiations.

"We have deliberately held our hand in the bombing of the North" at times in attempts to bring about an easing of the military effort, Rusk said but he noted no results were forthcoming.

The idea, he said, was to gradually expand the areas of de-escalation. He called it "peace by infiltration."

In an apparent peace feeler to the committee, Rusk proposed private meetings to determine "Those elements on which we are in agreement and try to narrow the range" of disagreements.

Fulbright said the conflict had arrived "at a crucial turning point." He demanded consultation before the President makes a final decision.

"What I want to talk about is the exact precise plans you have on escalation," Fulbright said. He spoke while presiding over the second day of questioning of Rusk by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which he heads.

Rusk declared President Johnson has not made a final decision. Fulbright said he took that to mean the committee would not be informed until a decision was reached and then it would merely be informed.

Rusk replied he thought there had been considerable consultation and "there is no mystery about the views of this committee" on Vietnam policy.

But Fulbright insisted that consulation now is "justified . . . I believe we could make a contribution if we were given a chance to do so." He said the war has reached a point when decisions will determine "whether we go either down the road to all-out war or to a negotiated solution."

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat who has long been critical of the administration's Vietnam war policy, asked Rusk at one point: "Do I understand you have no intention of consulting with this committee."

Run-Away Pickup Hits Pole, Building

Durwood Mickler, 48, 604½ Twenty - ninth Street, received facial lacerations when he apparently lost control of his 1962 Model Chevrolet pickup at 1:45 p.m. Monday, according to City Police, who said the vehicle careened into a utility pole.

The impact knocked Mickler out of the pickup, officers sad, and the vehicle crossed the East Highway and smashed through the closed garage door of Glen Lee's Blacksmith and Welding Company.

Snyder Ambulance Service carried Mickler to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he received emergency treatment. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Police Patrolman Jim Eggleston and Detective Sergeant Bobby Goodwin investigated the mishap. They said Mickler was traveling east on the East Highway prior to the collision. There was considerable damage to the pickup, and the garage door was smashed in.

There were two other motor vehicle mishaps in the City yesterday, and all of them were partially blamed, at least, on the slick road conditions.

Officers said Bobby Conrad McCaslin, Roscoe, was traveling west on U. S. 84 when his 1968 Model Ford pickup hit a drift of snow, skidded over the curb and hit a highway reflector marker, then skidded northeast across the highway and jumped the curb and hit a highway sign, finally stopping near the east edge of the traffic circle. Damage to his vehicle was placed at $250, and damage to the highway equipment was set at $5.

Police Patrolman D. D. Tullis investigated the mishap.

A similar accident occurred at 3:48 p.m. Monday on Thirtieth Street near Beaumont when William W. Childress, 3408 Forty - fourth Street, apparently lost control of his 1956 Model Chevrolet. The car skidded into a utility pole. Damage to the pole was placed at $100, and damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Childress, 17, was taken to a physician for observation.

Police Patrolman Dwaine Jernigan investigated the mishap.

Railroads Seeking Freight-Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — American railroads are seeking their second freight-rate increase within a year, with the new requests ranging from 3 to 10 per cent generally and 5 to 6 per cent on most food items.

Demand For Gold Grows

LONDON (AP) — A renewed gold rush built up in Europe's bullion markets today. Demand in Paris set a high for the year.

Zurich, London and Rome reported heavy sales approaching last week's high level, but still below the crisis rate of November and December following Britain's devaluation of the pound from $2.80 to $2.40.

Paris sales included 10 tons of 2.2-pound ingots, gold coins, and 40 27.5-pound bars. This compared with the 1968 high of eight tons.

The speculators and hoarders were continuing to drain away the trading resources of the western banking nations despite Sunday's Basel declaration of the international gold pool's central bankers committing their resources to defense of the present price level of $35 an ounce.

Despite the heavy gold buying, the pound and the dollar improved.

British financial experts estimated that hoarders now hold more gold than the combined supply of the United States and the other six of the international gold pool.

Demand at today's price fixing in London was said to be about double that at Monday's opening, when just under 10 tons was bought. The day's total was believed to have been more than 25 tons.

The dollar price at the fixing eased one fourth of a cent, to $35.19⅝, and the pound opened 30 points higher on the London foreign Exchange market, at $2.3985. It eased off to $2.3965 at noon.

Pressure on gold also continued on the Zurich market, and banking sources here said there was no indication of a letup.

Both the dollar and the pound opened slightly stronger, however.

The pound and the dollar also improved on the Paris market, the pound up 120 points to 11.7925 francs and the dollar up 37 points to 4.9215 francs.

Mrs. Kennedy Visits Ancient Mayan Ruins

CHICHEN-ITZA, Yucatan (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy planned more sightseeing today among the Mayan ruins of Chichen-Itza and their sacred well that was used for human sacrifice.

Mrs. Kennedy arrived late Monday afternoon after taking a dip in a river called the Bath of the Queen near the ruins at Palenque. At a market in Campeche she bought a slingshot for her son John.

Later today Mrs. Kennedy and her traveling companions were to fly to the island of Cozumel, 11 miles east of the Yucatan peninsula, to spend the rest of the week water skiing.

Hippie Hero Says Movement Is Dead

BANGKOK (AP) — Ravi Shankar, India's master of the sitar and cult hero of the hippies, says the hippie movement is dead.

Shankar, who arrived in Bangkok Monday for a series of sitar concerts, said he thought the drug-taking movement was on its way out too.

"The Yanks like to do things as on a big wave," he said. "I have been saying to some self-appointed gurus in America that drugs have nothing to do with music.

"I've been against it for years," he said.

13-Year-Old Boy Sees First Snow

Neal Bloodworth, 13, of Miami, Florida, saw his first snowfall yesterday when the near blizzard struck Snyder.

"It feels kind of funny," he said.

Neal enjoyed romping and playing in the snow with his cousin, Bobby Harris, 8, a Stanfield student.

Neal recently moved to Snyder to attend school when a strike closed the schools in Miami. He is staying with his aunt, Mrs. Grover Harris of 2306 Forty-first Street. His grandmother, Mrs. Ora Bloodworth, also lives there.

"He (Neal) was real excited when he awoke this (Monday) morning," said Mrs. Bloodworth. She said her grandson could hardly wait to get out of school to play in the snow. He made his first snowball before he went to school. "We plan to make some snow ice cream for him," said the grandmother.

Neal attends classes at Lamar Junior High School.

Much of the snow melted Monday afternoon and bright sunshine this morning indicated that the white cover would vanish promptly.

However, roads and streets still were slippery this morning and school pupils at Hermleigh, Fluvanna and Hobbs were to get weather-caused holidays today. Roads in those areas were too slippery for buses to run.

Classes were not interrupted in Snyder and Ira schools.

The big storm covered most of Texas and dropped heavy falls of snow in North Central Texas before the main force of the storm moved out of the state to the northeast.

The temperature in Snyder remained in the high twenties and low thirties throughout the day Monday, and at 7 a.m. today the reading was 27 degrees. A warmup was expected during the day.

X-Ray Unit Slated Here For 2 Days

The Christmas Seal X-Ray Unit of the West Texas Tuberculosis Association will be in Snyder Wednesday and Thursday, under the auspices of The Jaycees.

The schedule calls for the unit to be at the high school from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and on the east side of the Courthouse from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., also on Wednesday, and at the courthouse again from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Thursday.

Everyone above the age of 12 years should take advantage of this facility. In past months, the unit has been responsible for locating case after case of possible tuberculosis, both active and inactive, as well as many, many other lung disorders.

Tuberculosis is not a thing of the past. It continues to be the most infectious of infectious diseases, causing more deaths than any other contagious disease.

But, the unit helps to locate many other conditions, such as emphysema, a disease which causes the air sacs in the lungs to become greatly enlarged. The incidence of emphysema along with chronic bronchitis, has increased over 900 percent since 1960.

The major cause of these diseases is cigarette smoking. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates that cigarette smoking is responsible for 125,000 deaths a year - one every four minutes.

The Mobile X-Ray Unit helps to reveal early disease, as well as those which are already well - underway. When it arrives in Snyder, every citizen of the community should plan to have an X-ray.

A token payment is asked to pay for the cost of the film and developing. The West Texas Tuberculosis Association bears the cost of the reading and reporting to each individual by mail.

WITH APPEAL FROM LBJ

Civil Rights Bill To House

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has received a Senate-passed civil rights bill and an appeal from President Johnson to enact the measure which includes landmark open-housing and antiriot provisions.

House leaders met Monday night, a few hours after the Senate passed the bill 71 to 20, to map plans for getting the measure through to the President.

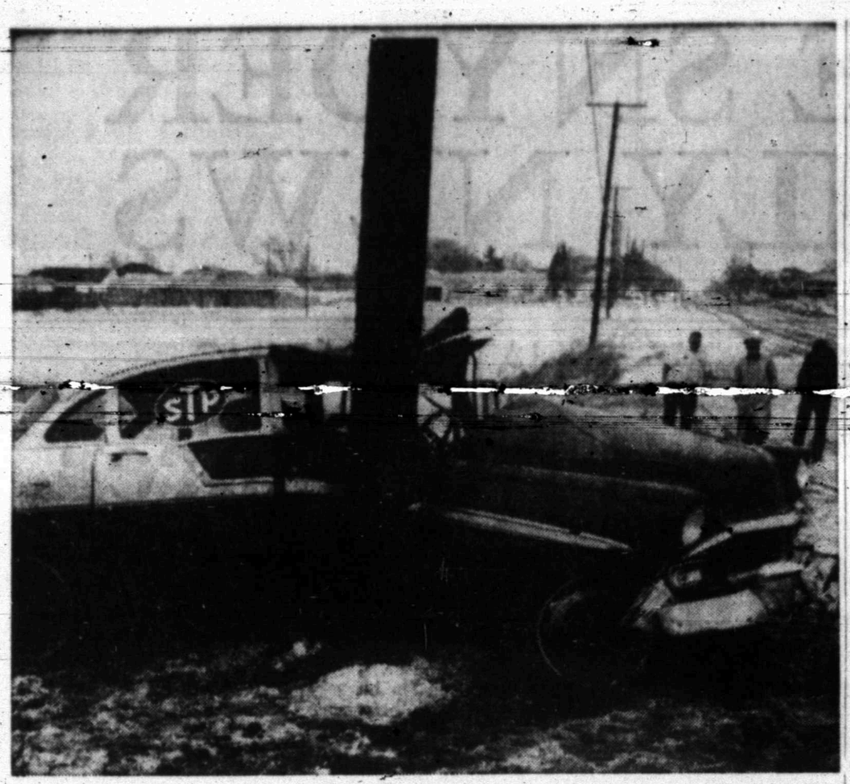

The House originally passed the administration bill as a measure concerned only with providing federal protection to Negroes and civil rights workers.

But after seven weeks of Senate debate, the new version provides:

—A ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing except owner-occupied single-family homes sold without the aid of a broker, or portions of dwellings sheltering up to four families provided the owner retains residence. This would mean about 80 per cent of the nation's housing would be covered by 1970.

—A federal law against crossing a state line and committing other acts to organize or aid in a riot and against involvement in the use or manufacture of guns and explosives for use in a riot.

The House must accept the Senate changes or seek a conference to reach a compromise version. The House also could delay action altogether.

SUDDEN STOP — Snowy roads were a contributing factor to the mishap which occurred on Thirtieth Street near Beaumont yesterday afternoon. A 1956 Model Chevrolet, operated by William W. Childress, 17, 3408 Forty-fourth Street skidded into and "wrapped around" this utility pole.

Senate Speeds Measure To Remove Dollar Gold Cover

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders express confidence they can send to President Johnson shortly the bill to remove the gold cover on the nation's currency.

The measure, already passed by the House, was due to be considered on the Senate floor today.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield moved it up ahead of schedule at the urgent request of administration officials.

These officials said they were hopeful final congressional action on the measure would contribute stability to the international gold markets, unsettled in recent days amid rumors the United States might be forced to devalue its dollar.

Officials said the world money system—based on a gold price of $35 an ounce—is strong enough to withstand the current gold-buying rush in Europe and any potential shock waves from British devaluation of the pound.

To weather the present gold rush, U.S. officials are relying on the weekend affirmation by key bankers in Europe the gold price would be maintained at $35 an ounce, a similar affirmation by Frederick L. Deming, undersecretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs, and quick removal of the gold cover.

One official said the gold picture might return to normal once the speculators realize the United States is serious about holding the price at $35 an ounce.

Under present law, each $1 in Federal Reserve notes—the only paper money made—must be backed by 25 cents in gold. Lifting this requirement would free over $10 billion in U.S. gold to back the dollar internationally.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the bill to remove the gold cover, was prepared to argue that it must be passed promptly and listed these two major reasons:

—Expected normal increases in the supply of Federal Reserve notes will require a progressively larger reserve requirement in subsequent years. Maintaining the current 25 per cent gold reserve requirement could ultimately interfere with business and unduly limit necessary domestic economic expansion.

—There must be adequate assurance the full amount of U.S. gold reserves would be available if needed to maintain the stability of the dollar at $35 per ounce of gold.

However, several senators promised a fight against the measure, including Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John J. Williams, R-Del.

Church has said defeat of the bill could force a change in administration foreign policy.

Church is a critic of what he contends is an administration policy of globalism in foreign affairs and opposes heavy U.S. troop commitments in Europe.

Williams has contended that removal of the cover should be considered later with other measures, including legislation calling for a tax hike and for sharp cuts in federal spending.

Testifies Before Liquor Control Board

AUSTIN (AP) — A Houston woman told a special House committee studying Texas liquor laws Monday that the Liquor Control Board is not concentrating on the "moral issue."

Instead, the board seems "to be more concerned about collecting taxes," said Mrs. Ruth Godbey.

The state should not enrich itself "by the degradation of its citizens," she said.

"I have failed to be impressed by the Liquor Control Board," she said.

Mrs. Godbey's community, Houston Heights, she said, is "bone dry. It has always been dry, and I'd like to see it kept that way."

She was the first private citizen to appear before the five-man panel named by Speaker Ben Barnes to examine weaknesses in the state liquor laws.

Rep. R. H. Cory, Victoria, chairman of the committee, said others who want to testify in the near future should appear at the next meeting, March 18, because the committee will hold a series of work sessions after that before taking any more testimony.

Dallas lawyer Don Cates, representing the Texas Alcohol and Narcotics Education Commission (TANE), recommended several changes in the law, including:

—Increased penalties for sale or service to minors.

—Removal of the world "knowingly" from the law as it pertains to sale or service to minors.

—Graduated penalties for repeated violations of any section of the law.

—Raising the smaller permit and license fees "four or five times" and the larger fees "at least double, maybe triple in some cases."

—Include veterans and fraternal organizations, now exempt, in the act.

—Require local option elections to determine if private clubs may operate in dry areas.

—Legalize chemical tests to determine the alcoholic content of the blood of persons suspected of driving while intoxicated.

—Make all LCB records public.

Polish Reds Burning Midnight Oil

By MARTIN ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Lights burned late in the Polish Communist party headquarters Monday night after student unrest over censorship of a play mushroomed into Poland's worst riot since 1957.

[illegible] headquarters was one target of several thousand demonstrators who fought running battles with police on downtown streets for seven hours Monday, the third day of disturbances.

Party workers watched from the windows as the students hurled rocks, sticks and bottles at police ringing the building and shouted "Gestapo!", "Democracy!" "Freedom!" and "Constitution."

Police finally drove the demonstrators away with tear gas, rubber truncheons and a water cannon.

Stefan Cardinal Wyszynsky, Poland's Roman Catholic primate and long an opponent of the Communist regime, canceled a sermon at St. Ann's Church near the university to "avoid worsening the situation," a spokesman said.

By nightfall, a nervous calm prevailed. Police cars cruised downtown streets littered with bricks, glass and spent tear gas canisters, and guarded against looters at stores with smashed windows.

Censorship also touched off three days of rioting in 1957 as young people demonstrated against the closing of a student magazine.

The current unrest began with the government's closing in January of a 19th century classic Polish play about the czarist oppression of Poland. About 200 students demonstrated then and two later were expelled from Warsaw University.

In protest against the expulsions, and then against police actions, students staged violent demonstrations Friday and Saturday and continued their campaign Monday. They have demanded reinstatement of the expelled students, release of arrested demonstrators and an end to "false information" about them in government-controlled news media.

Government partisans now are blaming the unrest on the Jews, taking their cue from the government's anti-Israeli policy in the wake of the June war.

At a party rally at a big automobile plant near Warsaw, workers carried signs condemning the demonstrations and one reading "Clean the Zionists out of the party."

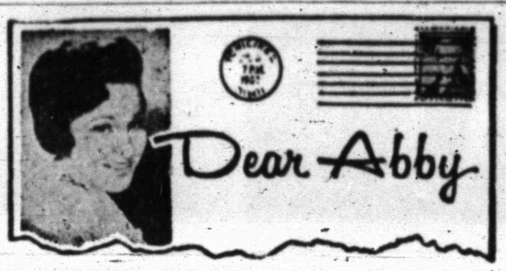

Police refused to say how many persons have been injured or arrested in the three days of violence. But Trybuna Ludu, the Communist party newspaper, reported that 30 persons were treated after the clashes Friday and Saturday, and a few score of the "most active ringleaders" were detained.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the last few years I have been the secretary to a very successful man, almost young enough to be my son, but not quite. Because he lives alone, I do many personal things for him in addition to my regular secretarial duties.

Last summer we took a European vacation at the same time, and since he is well-acquainted there I was entertained royally by his friends, along with him. Believe me, all of this was perfectly innocent, and it was with my husband's knowledge and approval. But I know there is talk among my co-workers, and little understanding on the part of my friends. Should I ignore the talk, and go on as I have?

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: If everything is on the up-and-up, and your husband understands and approves, it appears that your only problem is the "talk." If this is the case, just make sure you aren't inviting the talk — by talking too much yourself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I just had to write when I read about the "creepy" girl nobody wanted to bother with. Did they ever stop to think why she was that way?

I was a girl like that. I had an alcoholic father and a mother who didn't care. I was never taught to wash and keep myself clean and neat. The only room in the house with any heat was the kitchen, and we didn't have hot running water, so I wasn't about to take a bath in the kitchen with the whole family looking on.

I didn't have any friends because of my dirty appearance. But two girls in my class took me under their wing. They taught me how to dress and fix myself up. They even helped me get baby-sitting jobs.

They let me come to their houses to take a bath and wash my hair, and they didn't care what people thought. They told me they knew I was a nice girl that needed help. That gave me an incentive to never do anything wrong to make them sorry they gave me their friendship.

I have been married for 20 years to a good man, and I have always taught my children never to make fun of anybody because of their appearance.

BEFRIENDED IN BERKSHIRE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The letter from, "The Troubled Trio," who didn't want that "queer, homely, creepy" girl hanging around, trying to be friends with them, prompted me to write this:

"A "homely, creepy" girl needs more than anything else to be taken in, given friendship and taught how to dress, to fix her hair, and to use make-up, if her religion and the school allow it.

And I would ask "The Troubled Trio" — the popular girls at school "in" with the crowd — to read Christ's words in the 25th chapter of Matthew, verse 40: —

"And the King shall answer and say unto them, 'Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethen ye have done it unto me'."

County Court Plea Is Heard

Evert Lee Emery of Snyder pleaded guilty in County Court Monday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term, but the fine and jail term were probated for one year. He was apprehended Saturday by Highway Patrolmen Wendell Rehm and Bob Clark.

A warrant was issued in County Court for the arrest of J. W. Reynolds, Jr., also of Snyder, charging swindling by worthless check. He was arrested Saturday in San Angelo and placed in the Howard County jail in Big Spring on a felony check charge.

Another warrant, issued in JP Court, charged John D. Rollins of Snyder with a similar offense. He was apprehended Monday in Houston and is being held for Scurry County Sheriff's Authorities.

CADETTE TROOP 266 is all ready to visit HemisFair in San Antonio the weekend of April 26th. These girls have cleaned yards, cared for children, washed dishes, waited tables, and held a garage sale to earn money for this project. They are, left to right, standing: Donna Block, Vonee Reneau, Diana McCants, Lou Head, Mrs. B. F. Head (leader), and Peggy Patterson. Seated are: Allana Patterson, Pam Block, Linda Thompson, and Jan Michie.

Icelander Speaks To Auxiliary

The Peace Officers Auxiliary met Thursday night in the community room of West Texas State Bank with 17 membes and two guests, Mrs. Sue Goodwin and Mrs. Nina Johns.

Vera Pharr received a birthday gift and Janice Collier an anniversary gift from their secret pals.

Mrs. Nina Johns, a native of Iceland, showed slides and gave an interesting talk on her homeland. It was stated that swimming is a required subject for all first grade pupils, and Iceland schools are built with swimming pools. Icelanders have no need for hot water heaters, as their homes are heated by the water that comes from underground.

Icelanders have no inherited family name, but children are given the first name of the father. For instance, John Browns children would be Bill "John"-son and Mary Johns daughter. After marriage the wife retains her maiden name.

The group were surprised to learn that many times it is colder in Texas than in Iceland. As peace officers wives the ladies were interested in the fact that Iceland policemen carry no guns, only a whistle, except on New Years Eve, when they are permitted to carry a club.

Hostesses for the evening were Dorothy McKinzie and Barbara McNulty.

Government Soon To Study Discrimination In The North

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The report by the President's riot commission lends support to those agreeing with U.S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe's contention that "for an American citizen, segregated education cannot be excellent."

Howe's recent statement refers to the racially unbalanced schools of the North as well as to segregated Southern schools.

The riot commission report contends integrated education "is essential to the future of American society. In this last summer's disorders, we have seen the consequences of racial isolation at all levels, and of attitudes toward race on both sides, produced by three centuries of myth, ignorance and bias."

But the government not only has no authority to move against racial imbalance as such, it is barred from doing so by an amendment to the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

It can—and does—provide federal funds to help schools, by busing or other means, to overcome racial imbalance for educational reasons.

Federal officials acknowledge the actions of local school districts in attacking racial imbalance have been small in view of the large-scale racial separation in the big cities of the North.

But Dr. Gregory Anrig, director of the Office of Education's equal opportunity operation, says "we're hearing of an awful lot of school districts that are trying to do something" to reduce imbalance.

The government soon will begin its first major investigation of discrimination against Negroes in Northern school systems. Discriminating districts will lose federal aid.

But this effort cannot be directed headon at racial imbalance. It will be limited to requiring school boards to assure that Negro pupils are treated equally with whites.

Congress could pass a law authorizing federal action against imbalance. But that seems highly unlikely for now. Even liberal Northern Democrats would shy away from such action because of powerful pressure from white voters against enforced mixing—and the busing that often goes with it.

The open-housing law under consideration in Congress clearly would lead to more school integration. But federal officials say housing patterns would change only very slowly.

What holds back any big national move against racial imbalance is that the 1954 Supreme Court decision and the 1964 Civil Rights Act struck down school segregation by law but not segregation that comes about because of where people live.

Many federal officials believe racial imbalance in the North will not be changed for many years unless the federal courts, and finally the Supreme Court, rule against it.

Some officials predict that may well happen within the next year or two.

Derrick Bell, a legal expert of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, predicts the Supreme Court will in effect rule against all school segregation.

He predicts the court will conclude that Negro youngsters cannot get an equal educational opportunity in schools that are all or mostly Negro.

Yet even such a decision would hardly bring instant, nationwide mixing of white and Negro pupils. The government still hasn't brought about complete compliance with the court's decision of 14 years ago.

Junior Editors Quiz on STAMPS

QUESTION: How did postage stamps come to be used?

* * * *

ANSWER: Stamps were used for other purposes before they were adopted for postage. Stamps on documents, etc., showed that taxes to governments had been paid. We show at upper left one of the tax stamps which England forced the American colonists to use. The colonists bitterly resented this — it was one of the causes of the Revolution. By the 1800s, postal services had improved and in 1840, Great Britain began issuing stamps which could be placed on letters to prove that postage had been paid. The first stamps, the "Penny Black" and another selling at two pence, were issued May 6, 1840. Several other countries began to use stamps shortly thereafter, but it was not until 1847 that the United States began to issue them.

By 1864 a stamp catalog had been published and the wonderful hobby of collecting stamps had begun. Stamps tell of many romantic places and occupations; you can find them anywhere; many are really valuable — these are only a few of the reasons why stamp collectors have so much fun.

Think Of Stella Stevens As A Nun

By JERRY BUCK
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — The American male who has trouble thinking of Stella Stevens without remembering that she posed nude for a men's magazine should think about this: She plays a nun in her next movie.

Stella has appeared three times in Playboy magazine layouts, but she says she's still hard put to figure out what all the fuss is about. "What really is the big deal about it?" she asks.

She sees it strictly as an investment. "If some of the people who see the layouts remember your name and see you in a movie you couldn't buy that kind if publicity for any amount of money.

But when she is pressed she does admit that she is a little bit pleased by the fact that many people still find nudity shocking. "If nudity was just really so passe, you know, that would take all the fun out of it," she said.

Anyone who's seen Stella in the magazine may not recognize her immediately in her next film. The nun's habit she wears is rather concealing—although she did wear a bikini underneath when it got too hot on location filming in New Mexico.

The movie, a comedy called "Where Angels Go ... Trouble Follows," traces the peregrinations of several nuns taking a group of girls across country on a school bus to a youth rally in California.

"I play a nun who is kind of a mod nun. The kids in the school call her a groovy nun," she said.

Miss Stevens, sitting in her hotel suite, wearing a chocolate brown micromini skirt and sipping a cola drink, said that despite the pictures she has never played a sexy role on the screen. That comes next in "Doctors' Wives."

"I really get to play a bad girl in it," she said. "I play a girl who has six affairs in the movie. So, she's really a terrible girl and a wonderful girl. I'm looking forward to this.

"It's like the old Bette Davis movies, I guess, where everybody hates you, you know, but still has to love you in some way. These people are always the most exciting to play."

Fisherman Hopes His Catch Was Legal

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Joe Dennie hopes his fishing license covers the catch he made at a lake near Bogata.

Casting for bass, Dennie snagged a weather balloon. He calmly reeled in the baloon, parachute and weather instruments from the lake's depths.

One thing ruined a good fish story, however. There wasn't a 10-pound catfish inside the balloon.

Corvallis Students Prefer Books To TV

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Men students at an Oregon State University residence hall have decided to give up their TV room in favor of a reference library and reading room.

The students voted to allocate $50 from the social fund to help buy the books. The university library is only about four blocks away, but the students thought the books would be more useful than television.

Ladies' Day At Jail

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — During a 24- hour period, Paris police arrested only five persons. They called it Ladies' Day. All five were women—three for hot checking and two for being drunk.

Bullard, Almond On 3-AAA All-District

Two Snyder High School senior basketball players, Mickey Almond and Tommy Bullard, made the 3-AAA All - District team.

Bullard, a 5-9 guard, also led the district in scoring. He was named to the team for his all-around ability. Almond, 6-0 guard, was selected for his good shooting and his defensive ability. He also landed in the top 10 in scoring.

Eight of the 10 boys selected to the team are seniors. The only juniors are Mike Dukes, 6-2, Levelland, and Bob Bruce, 6-2, Lake View. Dukes was out part of the season with the flu, yet he challenged Bullard for the scoring lead. Many observers considered him to be the best shooter in the league.

Snyder, Levelland and Lamesa all had two boys on the team. Also named from Levelland was Steve Brashear, 6 forward and rebounder. Lamesa is represented by Pat Fees, 6-6 senior, who made All-State last year as a junior. Fees is a good play maker, and he hit with uncanny accuracy from the corner. The other Golden Tornado is Jerry (Tap) Mason, 6-3, senior, who is noted both for his rebound ability and his shooting on the inside.

Strangely, Dunbar, the team that won district and went to the state finals, landed only one boy on the team 6-3 senior Jerry Phillips. Phillips is heftier than Mason and scores well from either inside or outside.

Brownfield is represented on the team by Joe Masso, 5-10, guard, who also made the Canyon Reef All Tournament team. Like Bullard and Fees, he's a good play maker and great ball handler, and he shoots well from the outside.

Littlefield's Kevin Hutson, a 6-3 senior, also was named to the team for his great all - around ability.

Sweetwater is the only team in the district that failed to land a single boy on the team.

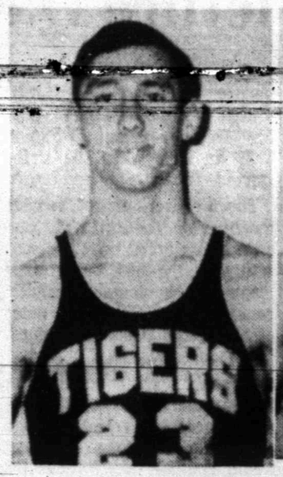

Balloting was close, and there were several lads of good ability under consideration who probably would have made all-district in an ordinary season.

But, this was no ordinary year. Many of the coaches felt that any of the top four teams — Dunbar, Lamesa, Levelland or Snyder — was good enough to win the crown in virtually any other district in the state.

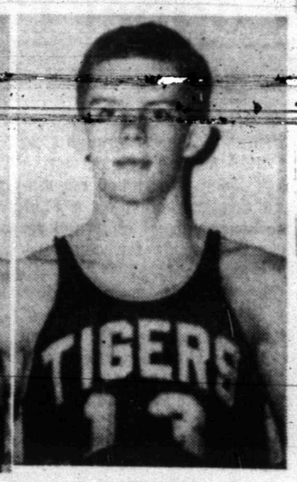

It's a tribute to Bruce, the Lake View junior, that he was named to the team. Not only is he one of only two juniors on the All-District team, but also he was the only boy from a team that failed to win a single district game.

Included among the others who "barely missed" are Sweetwater's Sidney Green and Bill Donnalley and Dunbar's James Skief and Marc Wilson. Although only a sophomore, Wilson aws considered the top rebounder in the district.

Phillips, the Dunbar boy who did make the team, has the use of only one eye. Yet, he consistently hit in double figures and pulled down a great number of rebounds.

Valdez Tucks Away Title

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH (AP) — Houston's Jesse Valdez tucked away his fourth state Golden Gloves title and looked ahead today to defending his national light middleweight crown.

The poised, fleet belter heads an experienced Texas team that moves into action nationally next week at Salt Lake City.

The 10 champions were crowned Monday in Will Rogers Coliseum as an audience of 7,332 pushed the four-night attendance total to a record 30,189.

Here are the winners:

Terry Daniel, Dallas, heavyweight.

David Harmon, Temple light heavyweight.

James Sullivan, Austin, middleweight.

Jesse Valdez, Houston, light middleweight.

Zeke Zanchez, Odessa, welterweight.

Jessie Avalos, Corpus Christi, light welterweight.

Gus Macias, Houston, lightweight.

Lorenzo Trujillo, Corpus Christi, featherweight.

James Busceme, Beaumont, bantamweight.

Rudy Barrientes, Fort Worth, flyweight.

Share Honors

Houston and Fort Worth, with 16 victories each, shared team honors and Houston received the trophy as the visiting team. Houston and Corpus Christi each had two champions.

Dallas and Corpus Christi tied for third in the team standings with 12 victories each while Beaumont and San Antonio shared fifth with 10 each.

The most resounding roar for the concluding night came for light middlweight Joe Cokes of Dallas, brother of the world welter champion.

Cokes, ousted Saturday night in a classic fuel with Valdez, received the second Flem Hall Sportsmanship Trophy. The crowd came to its feet in tribute.

Valdez wrapped up the championship by outpointing Gilbert Avalos of Corpus Christi, a crafty, aggressive fighter who was simply outclassed by the talented Houstonite.

In addition to Valdez, four other titlists own previous state trophies, including light welterweight Jessie Avalos, Gilbert's brother, now a three-time winner.

It was also a repeat performance for Sanchez, Trujillo and Harmon.

Harmon, in one of the top fights of the tournament, took a close decision frm Mike Seibert of Houston. Sanchez outpointed Jesse Lara of San Antonio.

Trujillo got the featherweight trophy by default when doctors ruled Rey Gomez, Fort Worth, out of action with a possible fractured jaw.

Jessie Avals marched over Tommy von Hatten for his ticket to Salt Lake City.

Daniel's victory was the shortest bout of the tournament. The free - swinging heavyweight trapped Houston's Bobby Dobso in a corner and pounded him to pieces.

The referee ended the fight 48 seconds deep in the first round.

Macias outpointed Gilbert Smith of Fort Worth and Busceme decisioned Kenny Weldon of Houston.

Barrientes got to the finals the hard way, narrowly outpointing defending champion Roland Hernandez of San Antonio in the semifinals.

He won the crown on points, turning back Mauricio Barragan of El Paso.

Snyder's Eloy Benitez lost his semifinals match on a decision Monday night and was eliminated from the tournament.

Slater Seeks Elvin Hayes?

HOUSTON (AP) —Commissioner George Mikan says it was only an evaluation session but Manager Slater Martin of Houston declared it was a secret of the American Basketball Association.

Nevertheless, it seems Houston has claimed Elvin Hayes, star of the University of Houston's No. 1 team, along with three others.

Mikan, at Minneapolis, said the meeting held at Louisville, Ky., and called a secret draft by Denver Post sports writer Ralph Moore, was an evaluation of outstanding college prospects.

"The best I can explain it," Mikan said, "is that negotiation rights were given to certain teams for certain players—if they can sign them. This was done on a basis of need."

Mikan said if a player cannot be signed, he will be returned to the draft pool for the ABA's official draft April 27 in Los Angeles.

Martin said, however, "Yes, there was a draft held. I wasn't at the meeting but I made four draft choices on the phone. The meeting was supposed to be secret but evidently the news got out."

Martin added that Hayes and John Ray Godfrey of Abilene Christian College are two of the four taken by Houston. The others are Don Chaney of University of Houston and Arthur Beatty, 7-1 star of American University in Washington, D. C.

"We don't plan to bother Elvin and Don until their season is over," said Martin, "but some of these boys are through and we'd like to talk to them."

Hayes said his draft by Houston was no surprise.

Houston's Cougars Win Final Cage Poll

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston, which has held the top position since upsetting defending champion UCLA Jan. 20, wound up in the No. 1 spot today in the final Associated Press major college basketball poll.

The Cougars, who have romped past 29 opponents without a loss this season, received 253 points, 12 more than UCLA, which was a clear-cut choice for the top spot last season when it went unbeaten.

Houston's total was built on 19 votes for first and seven for second. UCLA's figures were the exact opposite.

St. Bonaventure, at 23-0 the only other undefeated team in the country, placed third, but only one other team, No. 9 Louisville, retained its spot from last week.

Kentucky, which was idle last week, and North Carolina, winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, switched places, Kentucky slipping to fifth and North Carolina moving into fourth.

Duke, the 12-10 victim of an effective North Carolina State stall, plummeted from sixth to 10th, treating a shift among three other positions.

New Mexico climbed into sixth and Columbia nto seventh, each advancing one notch, while Davidson leapfrogged past Louisville, from 10th to eighth.

All members of the Top Ten have concluded their regular season schedules, but all are involved in postseason play. Duke begins play against Oklahoma City in the National Invitation Tournament Thursday night while the others compete in the NCAA tournament this weekend.

Houston started its bid to succeed UCLA as the national champion last Saturday with a 94-76 victory over Chicago Loyola. UCLA, meanwhile, was winding up its regular schedule with a 72-64 triumph over Southern California and a 25-1 record.

St. Bonaventure, Columbia and Davidson also won first-round NCAA contests.

The final Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses and total points:

1.	Houston (19)	253
2.	UCLA (7)	241
3.	St. Bonaventure	185
4.	North Carolina	179
5.	Kentucky	147
6.	New Mexico	85
7.	Columbia	82
8.	Davidson	77
9.	Louisville	70
10.	Duke	42

Holt Music Wins Team Keg Trophy

Holt Music Company's bowling team won first place and the team trophy in the Roadrunner - Travel League with a team average of 813.

Runnerup was M. D. Williams Pump Co. Other teams, in order they placed: VFW Lanes, Snyder Lanes, Davis' Cigarettes, Maxwell Trophy, Colorado City, and Jay Adams.

Freda Childress of the winning Holt team shot the high series (590) and the high average (171). Marie Calvert, who shot a 692 for high handicap series, had the most improved average. High scratch game (233) was bowled by Terry Keel. Betty Franks and Terry Keel tied for high handicap game with 260's.

Bill Van Fleet Dies

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bill Van Fleet, sports editor of morning editions of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, died early today. He was 59.

Widely known as a columnist and reporter, he had been a member of the Star-Telegram staff since 1937. Previously he worked six years for the Galveston News.

Van Fleet had been ill about a month and returned home only Monday, apparently recovering from recent surgery and an attack of pneumonia. He died in an ambulance taking him back to the hospital.

He was a native of Hondo and attended Schreiner Institute at Kerrville and the University of Texas, where he was graduated in 1930.

Net Team Goes To Sweetwater

Snyder High School's tennis team was slated for an apearance in Sweetwater today beginning at 3:45 p.m.

Coach Ken McAllister said team members include John Phillips, Ronnie Maddux, Wayne Anderson, Terry Book, Deanna Boles, Carolyn Tyree, Linda Miller and Patsy Miller.

Volleyball Girls Host Sweetwater

Snyder High School's volleyball team is scheduled to host Sweetwater today in Tiger gym.

The Tiger junior varsity tangles with the Ponies at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity clash.

Coach of the Bengals is Kay Echols.

Chicago Charges Past Cincinnati

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flynn Robinson's last-minute heroics pushed the Chicago Bulls a step closer to a playoff berth, but his former Cincinnati mates didn't appreciate the move.

Robinson, who came to the Bulls from the Royals earlier in the season, flipped in a basket and a pair of free throws in the final minute, sending the Bulls to a 104-98 National Basketball Association victory over Cincinnati.

In the only other game Monday night, Boston topped Seattle 119-112.

In the American Basketball Association action, Kentucky defeated Oakland, 120-107 and Denver stopped Dallas, 119-105.

Chicago's magic number — a combination of Chicago wins or Seattle losses — for a Western Division playoff spot is now two over the fifth-place SuperSonics. The Bulls have seven games left, Seattle six.

Cincinnati, battling for the last playoff spot in the Eastern Division, dropped to fifth place, and trails Detroit by one game. Baltimore is only one percentage point behind the Royals in the torrid race.

Oscar Robertson kept the Royals in contention with 37 points, including 13 in the last quarter when the Royals got within four points with a minute remaining to play, after trailing 84-73.

But Robinson, who had 19 points, then came through with his key points. Barry Clemens added a bucket at the buzzer for the Bulls.

Bob Boozer also had 19 points and McCoy McLemore 18, in the Bulls' balanced scoring attack.

John Havlicek paced the Celtics over Seattle with 27 points. Boston took a 62-53 halftime lead but the Sonics bounced back and early in the final quarter went ahead at 95-94 on Rod Thorn's jumper.

But Bill Russell got Boston the lead again 30 seconds later and the Celtics never were headed.

Tom Meschery had 22 points for Seattle, which played without backcourt ace Walt Hazzard, sidelined with an infected lip.

Tyler Falls

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) San Jacinto of Pasadena is going back to the national junior college basketball tournament at Hutchinson, Kans., to see if it can improve on 1967.

It will take only one point because San Jacinto lost in the championship game by that margin.

Rated No. 1 in the nation, San Jacinto Monday night beat Tyler 71-63 in the third and deciding game of a playoff for the region 14 championship. That entitled it to the return trip.

San Jacinto wound up the season with a 40-2 record.

The deciding game was played on a neutral court, each team having won on its home court.

CONTRACT OFFER DELAYED

Copper Picture Dark Again

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances of a breakthrough soon in the 8-month-old copper strike have faded after union negotiators delayed action on a $1.07 per hour contract offer and renewed demands for company-wide bargaining.

The 40-month contract offer by Phelps Dodge Corp., one of four major strikebound copper firms, would have covered some 5,000 workers at its Arizona mines and El Paso, Tex., refinery, but not at its other operations in New York and Arkansas.

The offer, which Phelps Dodge termed the best ever made in the copper industry, was "neither accepted nor rejected at this time" by several hundred leaders of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers union. Copper workers were averaging $3.28 an hour when the strike started.

The Steelworkers set another meeting for Tuesday night and ordered its union negotiators to return to the bargaining table meanwhile to demand simultaneous contract expiration dates at all Phelps Dodge operations.

But a Phelps Dodge spokesman said "there is nothing else to bargain about" until the unions accept or reject its wage offer. He said the company would continue negotiations for the other plants not covered by the contract offer.

Kennecott Copper Corp. was reported near a similar contract offer to the unions, but a Kennecott spokesman said, "The issue of company-wide bargaining is still our No. 1 problem."

The 26 striking unions, representing more than 50,000 workers, are bargaining jointly for the first time in the industry's history and their demands for company-wide bargaining, similar wage hikes and simultaneous contract dates has dragged out the longest copper strike in history.

The other two firms, Anaconda Co. and American Smelting & Refining Co., were reported still far from settlement.

All four copper firms have rejected union demands for company-wide bargaining and simultaneous contract expiration dates, insisting on holding to the old pattern of negotiating separately for their various mines, smelters, refineries and fabricating plants.

President Johnson called the negotiators to the White House eight days ago and said the strike was hurting the nation's economy and could threaten supplies of weapons and ammunition for Vietnam if it continued.

REFERENDUM TO GO ON BALLOT

Voters Due Chance To Speak Out

By GARTH JONES
AND
TOM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writers

Texans who think something should be done about the states confusing liquor laws get a chance May 4 to speak out.

The state Democratic and Republican executive committees readily approved Monday a public opinion poll on legalization of liquor by the drink. The referendum question, to be printed on the Democratic and GOP primary ballots along with state and local candidates, is the first chance voters have had to express such opinions statewide since the repeal of prohibition in the 1930s.

Also on the ballot will be two other straw votes—one on horse race betting after local option elections and one creation of a state agency to regulate and fix milk prices.

None of the public opinion polls will be binding on the legislature or state officials, even if voted or defeated overwhelmingly by the May 4 voters.

On the mixed drink question, both ballots will say: "This proposition is only an expression of public opinion and has no force or effect as law" then ask the voter if he is for or against "enactment by the Texas Legislature of a law permitting the legal sale of liquor by the drink in wet areas only after approval by local option elections, and which sale would be subject to strict regulation, effective controls and taxation thereof."

The mixed drink issue was brought up by a subcommittee report that said the referendum was needed because of "the recent developments in the state concerning the Texas Liquor laws and the obvious public interest in the Texas liquor laws and the enforcement thereof."

The horse betting poll was directed by a bill passed by the 1967 legislature. The voters will vote for or against enactment of a state law "permitting horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering on a local option basis; creating a Texas Horse Racing Board with the power to regulate pari-mutuel wagering on horse races; granting two per cent of the total pari-mutuel pool each day to each county where there is a licensed race track; and apportioning among all other counties one-half of the total state net revenue from the source."

The milk marketing poll was brought about by petitions signed by 133,000 persons and presented policy makers of the two major state political parties. Voters will be asked to approve or disapprove "enactment by the Texas Legislature of a law creating the Texas Dairy Commission with the power to regulate and fix the retail and wholesale price of milk."

Spokesmen asking the poll, who said they represented a group of independent milk producers and super market grocery stores, frankly said they hoped the dairy commission idea would be voted down "so we won't have to fight it in the next legislature." A similar commission plan failed in the 1967 legislature.

Gov. John Connally was to have addressed the noon luncheon at the Democratic meeting in Corpus Christi but bad weather grounded his plane at Austin. Earlier Connally had urged the Democrats to put the liquor-by-the-drink issue on the ballot and said he hoped the Republicans would do the same.

The Republican state executive committee, meeting in Dallas Monday, chose Corpus Christi as the site for its June 11 state convention and Fort Worth for the Sept. 17 state convention.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told the Texas Republicans that New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller "probably would not run well in Texas" should he be the GOP presidential nominee.

Tower said former Vice President Richard Nixon is obviously in the lead for the nomination but that he did not rule out Rockefeller's chances.

He said that the Texas organization must support the party's nominee "whoever he may be."

The senator, expected to be a favorite son candidate, said he hoped the Texas delegation to the national GOP convention "remains flexible" with the favorite son approach.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — I made a mistake in filling out the pre-addressed Form 1040 I got in the mail. What should I do?

A — The label on your form may be peeled off and put on another Form 1040. Use of this label will help avoid mistakes or delays in processing your return since it contains the information needed to identify your tax account.

Copies of tax forms are available at most banks and post offices as well as local offices of the IRS.

Q — How does the retirement income credit work? Does it reduce your income or the tax you owe?

A — The retirement income credit is a credit against your income tax. Taxpayers qualified to claim this credit, can reduce their tax by up to 15 percent of their "retirement income." Use Schedule B, Form 1040, to claim this credit.

Further details on this credit are contained in the booklet, "Retirement Income and Credit," Document No. 5018. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — I still have not received one of my W-2's from a former employer. Can I file without it?

A — W-2 forms from all employers should be attached to your return to avoid delays in processing. Ask your former employer about it since he is required by law to give W - 2 statements to his former employees within 30 days after the last payment of wages.

Q — I am itemizing my deductions. Should I send it my expense records when I file?

A — No, do not send in records with the return. If your return is selected for audit, then you may be required to either send or bring them in.

Note that for some deductions or exclusions, schedules or supplementary forms must be filled in and attached to the Form 1040. Check your 1040 instructions carefully before you file.

Q — Does interest from a savings account have to be reported as income if it's under $10?

A — Yes, this interest income must be reported if you are required to file a return.

Q — How should I figure my deduction for state gas tax?

A — On page 9 of the 1040 instructions there is a table you can use. It is based on the state tax rate and the mileage driven.

Q — Are the dividends on GI life insurance taxable?

A — No, they are not. Dividends on other insurance policies are not taxable either when they represent a return of premiums paid.

Q — Can a single person use the head of household tax rates?

A — Yes, if he furnished over half the cost of maintaining a home for a dependent relative or, his unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild. Details on this may be found on page 3 of the 1040 instructions.

Q — I was greatly over-withheld last year on my income tax. What can I do to reduce my withholding?

A — If you are presently claiming all of your exemptions for withholding purposes you may be able to claim additional withholding allowances based on the size of your itemized deductions. This is explained in Schedule A (Form W-4) available at local IRS offices.

Q — If somebody has a job overseas, do they still have to pay U. S. income tax?

A — Income earned overseas is fully taxable for civilian or military employees of the U. S. government. Those who work for a private concern overseas may be able to exclude all or part of their income from U. S. tax.

For details, send a post card to your District Director for a free copy of Publication No. 54, "Tax Guide for U. S. Citizens Abroad."

Q — Our daughter earned several hundred dollars last year babysitting. Does she report this income or do I since she is my dependent?

A — If your daughter earned $600 or more last year, she is required to file a tax return. You should not report her earnings on your return even though she is your dependent.

Q — Are Social Security benefits ever taxable?

A — No, they are not.

Q — Where can I buy a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax?"

A — Most local offices of IRS have copies or you can write the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. The cost is 50 cents.

Dogwood Dates Set

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Dates for the annual Texas Dogwood Trails have been set for March 23—April 7, Trails officials have announced.

A parade will start the festivities March 23, with the selection of "Miss Dogwood" to follow that event.

The winning young lady will also later compete in the Miss Texas contest in Fort Worth as a representative of Palestine.

Other events scheduled during the three-week festival include a square dance festival, an art show, an iris show, a "coffee break" of citizens band radio operators from over Texas and Louisiana and a performance of a Broadway show by the Palestine High School choral department.

But the prime attraction remains the display of dogwood blossoms over the miles of trails in Anderson County and dogwood blossoms are expected to be in abundance this season according to trails leaders.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Herndon of Plano are the parents of a 7 lb. 1 oz. son born at 7:07 p.m. March 11 in a Dallas hospital. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Herndon of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fowler of Snyder are the maternal grandparents.

East Texas Ranges Hurt

AUSTIN (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture says Texas range and livestock conditions are fair to excellent except in East Texas where they are "below average."

The department's weekly crop-weather report Monday said East Texas ranges were hurt by an exceptionally dry fall and a prolonged, wet winter.

"Fields too wet to graze are a problem in most areas," it said.

Wheat generally is making fair to excellent growth. Cattle are being moved off wheat in increasing numbers. Spraying is required in some areas because of greenbug infestation, the report said.

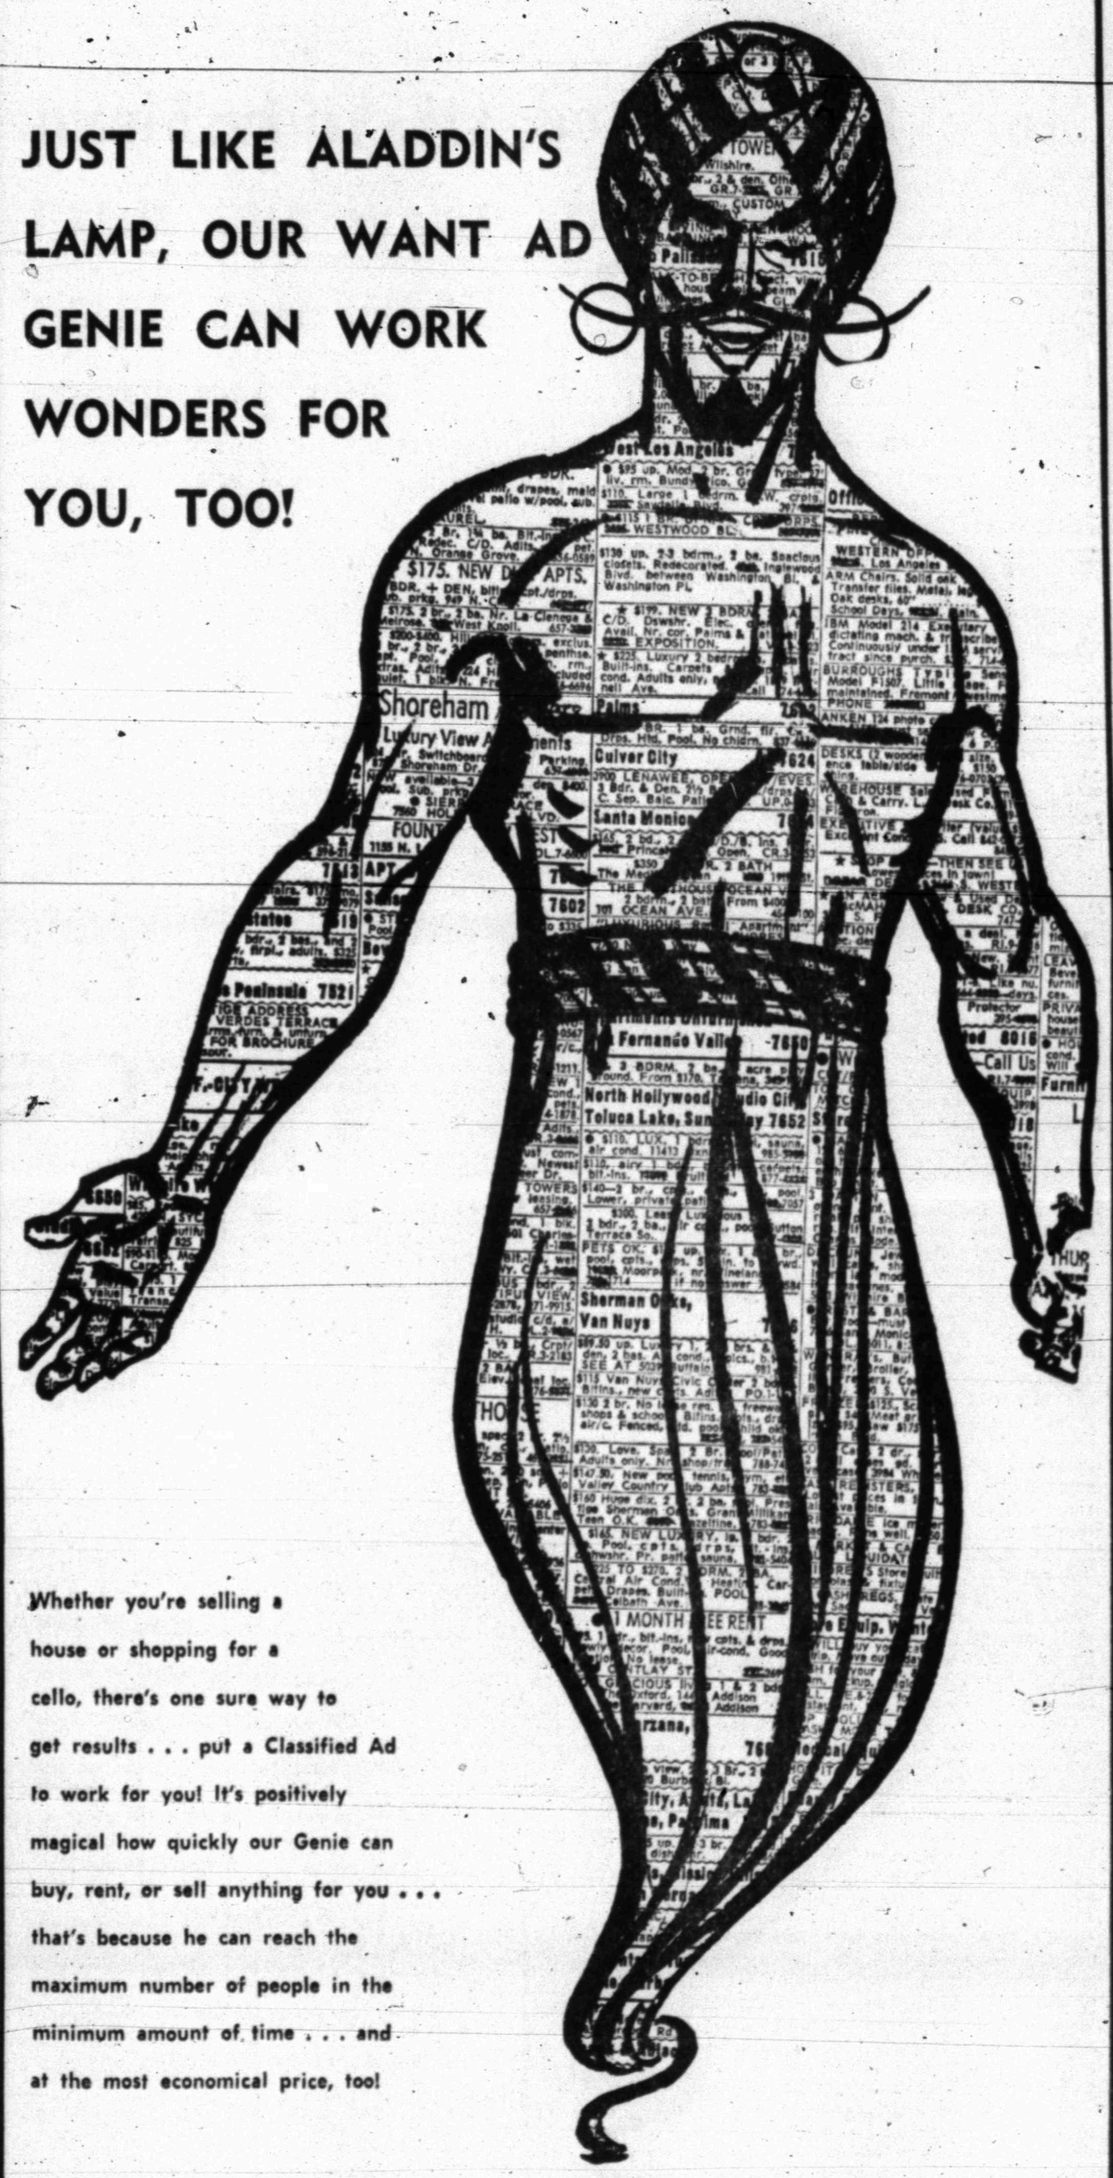

Moisture restricted cotton planting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley last week. Corn and sorghum are being planted in South Texas. Oats and flax are making satisfactory growth.

Rain and wet fields curtailed harvest of vegetables in the Lower Valley last week. Very light shipments of cabbage, carrots, broccoli, celery, greens, lettuce, turnips and mixed vegetables were moved.

ON ART OF POLITICAL LYING

Old Treatise Still Timely

By THOMAS A. REEDY

LONDON (AP) — A paper written 256 years ago will be auctioned at Sothebys next week and it seems to suggest one of the oldest questions in the game: so what else is new in politics?

The item is a first edition copy of a discourse entitled "A Treatise on the Art of Political Lying," to be sold March 18 by the estate of British financier Harley Drayton, whose widow is selling off his library.

There is some doubt about the author but most believe it was Jonathan Swift. In any case, the conclusions are, in this day and age of hot political campaigns, enough to give at least pause. For example:

1. Man should be granted the right to the truth with his family.

2. He should be entitled to economic truth which deals with cash money.

3. He has no right at all to political truth.

4. If lies are flung back at lying politicians in order to bring the regime down, it's what the regime deserved.

The treatise says: "The people have a right to private truth from their neighbors and economical truth from their own family but they have no right at all to political truth.

"The right of inventing and spreading political lyes (lies) is partly in the people; there is no other means left to the good people to pull down a ministry and government they are weary of but by exercising their undoubted right....That abundance of politic lyes is a sure sign of true English liberty. As ministers sometimes use tools to support their power, it is but reasonable that the people should employ the same weapons to defend themselves or pull them down.

Swift's advice (if it was Swift) to the public vis-a-vis the government under fire is to outlie them.

Says the treatise: "Whether a lye is best contradicted by the truth or another lye; considering the great propensity to believe lyes in the generality of mankind of late years, the properest contradiction to a lye, is another lye."

Crash Kills Two Coeds

COOPER, Tex. (AP) — Two married coeds at East Texas State University were killed and three others were injured in a two-car collision on U.S. Highway 24 near Cooper Monday.

One of the dead was Mrs. Bruce Stafford, 19, of Commerce a step-sister of religious singer Anita Bryant. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bryant of Gainesville.

Also killed was Mrs. Karen Lee of Paris.

In critical condition at Baylor Hospital in Dallas was Mrs. Sandra Karen Border of Paris. Less seriously hurt were Mrs. Peggy Foster Wise and Mrs. Elizabeth Grissom, 19, both of Paris.

The five young women were on their way from Paris to Commerce when the accident occurred.

Officers said Mrs. Stafford's car broke in two from the impact. The rear portion was 200 feet from the remainder of the wreckage.

DIES IN CRASH — Edward H. Litchfield, 53, above, chairman or board of SMC Corp., and former chancellor of University of Pittsburgh, was killed in crash of a private plane that plunged into Lake Michigan near Chicago. Also dead in the crash were his wife, mother, two children, and pilot of the plane. (AP Wirephoto)

Charged In Smuggling

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Smuggling charges have been filed against five young persons, four of them identified as college students.

They are Lawrence Bresso, 20 and Clyde Hallberg, 21, both of the University of Corpus Christi; Drake M. Lawson, 21, of Fort Worth, a student at Texas Wesleyan; Marybeth Holloway, 18, of Fort Worth, a student at East Texas Baptist; and Ronald Lundy, 21, of Marshall. Bond of $5,000 each was set by a U.S. commissioner.

Custom officers said they found five pounds of marijuana in the fender wells of a car in which Bresso and Hallberg were riding when it crossed into the United States from Mexico last weekend.

Officers said they seized two pounds of refined marijuana and 375 barbituate pills in an automobile occupied by the other three persons.

DO ALL THE USUAL TASKS, BUT—

More Is Expected Of Lady Mayors

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

"There is some feeling here that a really nice woman shouldn't be involved in city politics, and so the opposition is always wondering just how nice I really am."

The woman mayor who said that—and shes really very nice—was thinking aloud about the extra burdens that being female imposes upon a municipal chief executive.

Women mayors, of whom there seems to be more these days, and in increasingly larger cities, do all the necessary tasks that male mayors do. Says one:

"I have cut enough ribbon to tie up City Hall and turned enough tundra at ground-breakings to bury it."

But, points out Mayor Minnie Coyle of Monterey, Calif., "people expect more from a woman because she is supposed to be more sympathetic. A woman is invited to represent the city at more affairs."

If, she, the mayor is single how does she cope with social events?

Antonina P. Uccello, a youthful-looking, unmarried 45, and mayor of Hartford, Conn., population 163,000 says: "It depends on the occasion. I'm sometimes escorted, I'll go alone if an escort isn't necessary, and sometimes I go with friends."

Husbands of lady mayors have problems, too, especially the one of how he should be addressed.

Blonde, willowy Norma Walker, who is married to a lawyer, explained what happened when she was mayor of Aurora, Colo.:

"We received mail addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Norma Walker. I thought this was a pretty good idea because it seemed to properly set forth the importance of things without being too gaudy and at the same time admitted my husband's existence. My husband objected and made a proposal of having mail addressed to 'Thomas R. Walker and his wife, the mayor.' I ignored this as an affront to the dignity of the office. His friends suggested calling him 'His Hardship.' "

Most husbands, though, are their wives' biggest boosters and understand the necessity for TV dinners and minding the kiddies while mamma goes off to make local history.

One evening not long ago when Mayor Ann H. Kilgore of Hampton, Va., was away from home on official business, a distressed lady called her home with a complaint. Since the mayor's husband sounded sympathetic, the woman poured out her troubles to him, ending with: "Mr. Kilgore, I think you ought to know that your wife is mentally unbalanced."

To which Edwin Kilgore, chief of the fight vehicles and systems division at Langley Research Center, replied, "Yes, ma'am, I have known that for years," and hung up.

Actually, it was Kilgore who urged his wife to run for the office, and now that she is in the midst of her third term, he is quite accustomed to hearing the teen-age daughters variously introduced in public as Madame Mayor, the City Madame and the Municipal Go-Go Girl.

The typical woman mayor, according to an informal Associated Press survey of ladies holding office, is attractive, feminine and in her 40s, give or take a decade, and has two or three children.

She is energetic but calm, outspoken but objective. Opposition she can cope with, but indifference infuriates her. Her biggest asset, perhaps, is a sense of humor, 'without which,' one mayor says, "one would cry a lot."

Mrs. Eileen Foley, 49, mayor of Portsmouth, N. H., and a mother of three, points out: "I am not subtle, not naive, and have a sense of humor like nothing human. It's this last virtue that gets me by. It's pretty hard to fight with someone who is continually good-natured."

The typical woman mayor usually has been embroiled in community work most of her adult life—she is often a teacher—and she has moved up to the top office after service on the city council. She is often the only one of her sex on the council and usually the first woman to run for mayor in her town.

Her civic chores may be largely ceremonial—snipping ribbons at supermarket openings, greeting distinguished visitors, presiding at council meetings. More often than her male counterparts, she makes herself available to anyone who wants to air a problem.

" 'Tell it to the mayor' is bred into our society," comments Norma Handloff, mayor of Newark, Del. "Consequently, I keep an open door, an open ear and an open phone line."

All women mayors make a point of feminity.

Mayor Coyle of Monterey, Calif., an attractive widow of 51, says: "The courtesies, the rising when I enter a room, are all advantageous." She adds, "I do have to be careful about being bossy or pushy."

She has solved the problem of maintaining her ladylike dignity while boarding military vessels in the harbor, part of her mayoral job of greeting dignitaries. When Mrs. Coyle, wearing her modish short dresses, gets to the ladder she sings out to the sailors: "Eyes right!" and ascends without a qualm.

Grace H. Wilson, who has served four terms as mayor of Santa Fe Springs, Calif., and is currently out of office although she says, "No doubt I will serve again," gives the advice she has always followed: "Think like a man, act like a lady, ask no favors because you are a woman, and you will hold the respect of your colleagues and citizens."

"I have not tried to be overfeminine or to ape a masculine image. I have tried only to be myself," says Marion Phillips of Claremont, N.H., who at 70 has just wound up her third two-year stint as mayor during 18 years on the City Council.

The women who run for the mayoral office are essentially reformers at heart.

There's Nettie Bale, mayor of Colfax, Iowa, pop. 2,500. A grandmother, teacher and wife of a steel plant crane operator, Mrs. Bale first got on the City Council where, she says "I noticed many acts being performed routinely—because they had been done that way for 18 years—with no effort or intention of changing. We women were outnumbered two to three, so consequently our words fell on deaf ears. That is why I decided to run for mayor."

She campaigned on a cleanup program stressing efficiency and economy, and won handily over the incumbent in the November election. Her first chore in office is the complete rewriting of city ordinances, some of which date back 100 years, to bring them up to date so they can be enforced.

Four years ago Jane E. Rosenbach, 45-year-old mother of six, moved with her husband from Denver, Colo., to Sheridan, a suburb. She started going to City Council meetings to see why taxes kept going up without any visible improvements in town to show for it.

"Someone said to me, 'If you don't like what's being done, why don't you run for office?' So I did."

She defeated the incumbent, Miss Uccello, one of five daughters of a Sicilian immigrant who ran a shoe repair shop in Hartford, are not passed over now. She's Her Honor the Mayor.

Which only proves, as one woman mayor admits, "We rock the boat a little bit, but it's a whale of a healthy thing as the electorate is concerned."

May Be 90, But Does Day's Work

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The working day for Mrs. Lorena Marchman begins at 5 a.m. and sometimes doesn't end until 10 p.m.

Perhaps this isn't unusual for a hotel housekeeper, but Mrs. Marchman's friends admire her pep. She is 90.

She is housekeeper for the Marchman Hotel, which was founded by her husband, the late O. F. Marchman, in 1927. She became housekeeper in 1931—beginning from scratch. "I didn't know a thing about it," she said.

A native of Mineola, Tex., she is a pianist and has been active in many civic activities.
