Rising economy bolsters growth

progress
EVERYBODY'S HOPE EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

By LUIS RIOS

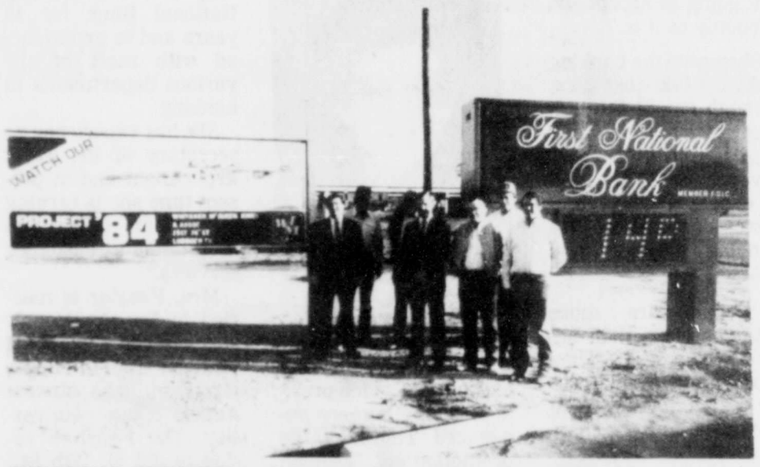

Editor's note: The Colorado City RECORD is doing a four-part series concerning the economy status of Mitchell County and mainly focusing on Colorado City as the center point. The series is entitled Progress–Everybody's Hope, Everybody's Business." The second part of the series will entail local businesses and banking. The third and fourth parts of the series will concern Agriculture and agribusiness and The Oil Industry.)

The state of the economy in Colorado City has more than one local businessman and banker smiling in town.

The increase in business and the state of the economy nationwide has led to a spurt in the local businesses, according to some of the response from several local businessmen.

Joe Kirschbaum, who has been in business in Colorado City for seven years, said,"I really think the business and

BUILDING PERMITS in Colorado City set an all time high this year and apparently the building trend will continue into 1984. Recently, First National Bank announced plans for the construction of their new bank building which will be located adjacent to the existing structure. Sanders pleased with Loraine test scores

By LUIS RIOS

The Loraine Independent School District's performance on the Texas Assestment Basic Skills examination for 1982 was "real good" on a comparison statewide and with Region 14, said LISD superintendent Glenn Sanders.

The Texas Assestment Basic Skills (TABS) is administered during the middle of February every year to grades three, fifth and ninth, said Sanders, who complied a study comparison of the LISD's scores to scores in Region 14 and Texas.

"This is not an achievement test," he said. "It just lets you know what areas you need to work on. It points out the strong areas and the weak areas."

Sanders, who said the LISD also administers the California Achievement Test annually grades K-12, said the TABS points out the weak areas in detail.

For example, the three part TABS test gives scores for mathematics, reading and writing. But the scores are divided into areas such as identifying fractions, solving word problems, multiplying whole numbers, etc.

The weakest areas the

The current Crime Stoppers Public Alert for November concerns the theft of an elderly woman's purse on 134 W. 4th St.

The theft occurred on October 7 at 4:50 p.m. as the woman involved was taking her groceries into her house. According to the victim, she was approached by a young, white woman who asked if she could help carry in the groceries. But instead, the person took the elderly woman's brown purse containing important papers and $62 in cash.

The victim described the woman as between the ages of 20 and 25, weighing approximately 100 pounds, having long stringy and unkempt hair.

When last seen, the woman was seen fleeing from Third Street toward Hickory Street. She was wearing faded jeans, a decorated T-shirt and dirty white tennis shoes.

overall economy is better (after visiting with some of the merchants). I think the prospects for C-City are real good for the future. I think the climate will be good."

Kirschbaum is the owner of the Hickory Street Shopping Center. He moved his clothing business from the downtown area to the more open Hickory Street location.

Kirschbaum is one of a few number of merchants that have opted to expand or construct their businesses on the north section of Hickory Street.

"I bought the lot back in February 1983," he said. "More people were interested in the shopping center than we had space. To my surprise, it took me a month to find people who were interested."

However, Kirschbaum said stores like Perry's, Anthony's, and Britton's had good locations, and were well established where they were. But he added that he thought that "in time the business (C-City) will move out to the interstate.

One of the biggest holdups the area was experiencing was the price of the lots which he said had almost gone up 20 times their value in the past two years.

Kirschbaum said he thought the city still needed an industry to really have a "boom" affect.

"I contacted the Wal-Mart people," he said. "They said they had looked at Colorado City for a store about this time a year ago."

Successful businessman Billy Joe Woods, owner of Woods Boots and another store in Lubbock, has witnessed good business at his location on Interstate 20 for about 15 years.

"I think the economy has been real good, until last year," Woods said. "The farm and oil industries have been the cause of that."

But being the shrewd businessman that he is Woods added, "What makes me wonder is 'How good will it be next year?' "

"I am tickled to death about the economy," Woods said. "I feel we will do better next year. But we will have to depend on the farmers and the oil industry."

John Cantu, manager of the downtown Anthony's, recently this year expanded the existing store to include more merchandise. The expansion was mainly to help the customer and give him a wider selection, Cantu said.

"There has been a significant increase," Cantu said since his store's grand opening earlier in the year. "I am expecting an 80 percent increase in December from last year's figure."

The one-and-a-half years since I have been here, this town has really been going."

All three businessmen said they expected to see an increase in business for the 1983 Christmas season. Kirschbaum said he thought that the Christmas season would come a little later this year.

However, Woods said his business is all ready picking up.

"We are geared real heavy for Christmas this year," Woods said. "We are expecting to do the same or better than last year."

The 1983 Christmas season may prove to be the biggest one in the past five years, Kirschbaum said from several articles that he had read.

Max Shaw, president of First National Bank, said the banking business as a whole was good.

"I think the general economy in C-City is real good," Shaw said. Shaw said the state of the local economy will depend on the farm program and what the oil industry will do for the next few years. He said it was evident that the local businesses were moving to the Hickory sector.

"But I believe there will always be a downtown Colorado City," he added.

"I think a lot of people were sitting back to see what would happen," Shaw said about the local reaction to the nation's recession and economic woes. "We have just gone through an adjustment period.

"People realize that we are going to have some inflation. People are over the scare and are going to accept the economy as it is."

Shaw said the banking industry had just gone through one of the biggest changes than it has experienced in the past several years. He said he expected to see complete deregulation of banking within a few years.

"People are more rate conscious than before," Shaw said. "They are watching the rate we pay but they also watch the rate we charge."

Tests

LISD witnessed in 1982 were in mathematics, Sanders said. Finance problems gave the students the most trouble, he added.

But Texas as a whole witnesses the same problem with mathematics statewide, according to the study.

"The state goal is to reach 85 percent," Sanders said. "The state wanted all the school to master this percentage in all areas. If a student does not master a portion of the test he must take it again."

Last year, the board (LISD) decided that all students must master all areas of the test before graduating from High School, Sanders said. And by taking the test during their ninth grade year they (students) have three years to master the test before graduating, he added.

However, the teachers don't necessarily teach the material just found on the test, Sanders said. This type of idea would defeat the entire purpose of the examination.

"It is a tool," Sanders said. "If you use it properly, it will benefit the student. It is doing what it was designed to do–helping correct our weaknesses."

The Loraine third grade scored better on 11 of the 24 areas tested than Region 14 and the state, according to the study. And only in six areas did the third grade less than both the region and state.

The fifth graders tested scored better in 29 out of 30 ares than the statewide scores. The ninth grade tested scored better in 15 of the 32 areas tested on a statewide basis.

Tips for mobile home buyers

By JIM MATTOX
Attorney General

If you're one of the approximately 41,000 Texans who will buy a mobile home this year, here are some things you should consider when planning for your home:

–Where will you locate the home?

–What kind of foundation do you want?

–How much will it cost?

Our Consumer Protection Division's Housing Section says that mobile and modular homes account for about 30 percent of the housing market in Texas. Even though mobile homes are extremely popular, especially with first home buyers, many cities restrict the placement of mobile and modular housing to mobile home parks and areas far from other residential areas.

So, you should have a definite location picked out before buying your home. If you are counting on a loan through theFHA or the VA, one of those agencies must approve the location before they will give you a loan.

The federal lenders will be looking at availability of utilities, especially the water and sanitation systems, on any lot you choose.

Remember, if you want a VA or FHA approved loan, the process can take up to 45 days longer than it would to obtain a conventional loan. If you are renting an apartment or house,you will want to consider the length of time it takes to get loan approval before giving notice that you're moving.

Once you have found the location, it is best to put the home on concrete "runners." Depending on the size of the home, the concrete foundation will cost between $300 and $800. According to the attorneys who deal with mobile home warranty and repair problems, a good foundation and proper levelling at the time the home is delivered could eliminate up to 75 percent of consumers' problems with mobile homes.

If you are unable to put in the concrete runners, a second alternative is installation of crushed stone row caliche runners. Either way, you will need to spend some money on the foundation in order to prevent major problems later. (These include leaks, doors not shutting, and general deterioration of the home because it is not level.)

If you choose to put your home on an established lot, you will not be responsible for the septic system. However, if you just buy or lease some land,you will need to find out how long it will take to put in a septic or other sewer system, as well as the availability of electricity and telephones.

Some consumers have bought homes and placed them in new subdivisions only to learn that electric and phone service would not be available for three months or more.

If you are responsible for installation of a septic tank, the costs will be between $1,500 and $3,000, depending on where you live. Other hookups also vary in cost with location.

As with any other purchase, you should make sure all promises and guarantees made to you abut the home are in writing. When your home is ~~delivered,make sure~~ is delivered, make sure it is exactly as promised before you sign the acceptance of delivery. If you have any problems we an help you with, please call one of my Consumer Protection Offices in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Huntsville, Lubbock, McAllen or San Antonio. The Attorney General's Office is here to help you.

Swearingen to begin lecture series on December 1

One of the world's best known petroleum executives will inaugurate a new lecture series at Midland's Permian Basin Petroleum Museum on Thursday, December 1.

John E. Swearingen, recently retired as chairman and chief executive officer of Standard Oil Company (Indiana), will speak at the museum at 7:30 p.m. His topic will be: "Is the Oil Industry Dying?"

Swearingen served as board chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, the largest trade association of the oil industry, in 1978-79. He is a past chairman of the National Petroleum Council, an assembly of executives that advises the Department of Commerce and other Federal agencies on petroleum and related matters.

A native of Columbia, S.C., Swearingen was a 1938 graduate of the University of South Carolina with a B.S. in chemical engineering. In 1939 he received the M.S. degree from Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

His address at the Midland museum will mark the beginning of the newly-established H. B. Fuqua Distinguished Lectures Series, funded by the Sid W. Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth. Up to four lectures will be scheduled by the museum in each of the next ten years. Authorities in the fields of history, the earth sciences, petroleum management, and museum science will appear.

The grant by the Sid W. Richardson Foundation was made to honor H. B. (Babe) Fuqua of Fort Worth who recently retired from the foundation's board after many years of service. Fuqua had a distinguished career as an exploration executive with Gulf Oil Corporation before becoming chief executive officer of Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company. Subsequently he moved into banking. For a number of years he was board chairman of Fort Worth National Bank.

Fuqua's many civic accomplishments included representing Fort orth in the negotiations that led to establishment of the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport. He is an honoree in the Petroleum Museum's Hall of Fame.

INSURANCE TIPS

Randy Phillips & Associates

Insurance Terms

Have you ever been speaking with your insurance agent and have him use terms in which you were not familiar? Often we forget that we insurance people have out own language and sometimes our customers are confused by these terms. Here are a few of the most frequently used terms and how they are meant:

1. Binder: This a preliminary agreement to provide immediate insurance until the policy is issued. It contains a definite short time limit. Binders are usually in writing, but oral binders are valid if agent has this authority.

2. Endorsement: A clause added to the printed conditions of a policy, which amends certain features in the policy.

3. Deviated Rate: A reduced rate for better than average risks of a given class. Approval of a specific reduction in a rate is filed by an insurance company with the State regulatory body.

4. Insurance to Value: This term refers to the relationship of the amount of insurance to the value of the property. most companies require insurance to be written for 80% of the value of desirable properties.

I hope these few tips will help you understand your insurance coverage better.
We at Randy Phillips & Associates will be glas to answer any questions you may have concerning your insurance.

Westbrook, McCaulley split games

By TONY FRANCO

At a scrimmage against McCaulley last Thursday, the Westbrook Wildcat varsity basketball teams came away with one victory and one defeat after close games.

The girls team trailed throughout their contest, but with 44 seconds remaining in the game, Stephany Pierce hit an 18 foot jumper for the Wildcats first lead as they held on for a 33-31 victory.

The first half ended at 19-6 but then Evon Bradshaw was moved to the post position. She responded with a team high 12 points as she worked the inside.

Coach Keith Bundas attributed the slow start to "our main problem was we just couldn't get through a complete offensive set."

Gracie Fuentes and Elena Lopez, who finished with eight and nine points respectively, opened up the McCaulley defense with their outside shooting.

A "pleasant surprise" materialized for Bundas. "It seemed everybody got into the rebounding picture. They blocked out and hit the boards heavily." The leading rebounders for the Wildcats was Bradshaw with 11 and Gayla Cook who collected eight.

Other players adding to the Wildcats cause were Angela Lentz two points and four rebounds, Pierce two points and four rebounds and Elizabeth Burnett who added to the rebounding effort with two of her own.

As for the defense, Bundas stated, "Our man to man defense caused turnovers near the end of the game. They hustled well and never gave up and kept getting after it."

In the boys scrimmage, the Wildcats stayed close all game long but fell short 36-35.

Dewayne Hayes and Donald Burnett finished the night with 15 and 10 points respectively for Westbrook. Though the two had a good night, as a whole, the Westbrook offense never got untracked.

Coach Tim Hill felt "the team is just not used to the offense and that caused alot of mistakes."

Scoring for the Wildcats were Clay Browne four points, Vince Gaona two points, Donald Ginkinger two points and Don Zant two points.

Burnett and Hayes also collected 17 and 12 rebounds respectively.

Bulldogs defeat Steers in scrimmage

By TONY FRANCO

Last Tuesday the Loraine boys and girls varsity basketball teams hosted Robert Lee for a scrimmage.

Though his boys won 54-51, coach Jack Petty felt "We had some weak spots. Robert Lee's press caused us to throw the ball away and our press is not working too good."

Petty felt good about the offensive play of his squad. "We played everybody after we took that first big lead. That was good because we learned a lot."

James Griffin picked up where he left off last year by collecting 23 points and 11 rebounds. The only other Bulldog to reach double figures was Tony Morris who scored 11 points.

Also scoring for the Bulldogs were Aundra Rose eight points, Tracy Rose seven points and Ruben Garcia with five points.

The girls team, led by Leslie Rose's 27 points, burned the visiting Steers by a score of 61-45.

Coach Petty felt "Overall, we did reall good, but the game showed there is room for improvement."

Seniors Hortencia DeLoera and Janie Barrera had identical stats of 14 points and five rebounds for the Bulldogs.

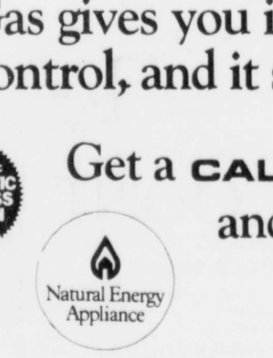

The margin of victory could have been much larger, but "We missed a lot of easy shots" according to Petty.

Adding to the Bulldogs cause were Julie Wells with six rebounds, Martina Vallejo, two points and two rebounds and Mitzi Hallmark who also had two points and two rebounds.

Albin, Wright chosen as CHS Band students of the month

Becky Albin

Kerry Wright

Flutist and Flag Corps captain Becky Albin and alto saxophonist Kerry Wright were named as band members of the month for October.

Kerry Wright, alto saxophone, on being chosen as member of the month, "I'm proud to be considered. We started off shaky, but came through towards the end."

On trip to Austin, "I liked going and getting to see the other bands. Maybe we'll learn something from them. Just to have been in the stadium, University of Texas Memorial Stadium was really something. Not many bands do it three years in a row."

On performance, "We did pretty good. There were some mistakes. All the bands were good and it was really neat to be a part of it. Mr. Shipp (band director) had a lot of patience because we started small and had problems but came along at the end. He never had a doubt we would succeed and we couldn't have done it without him."

Becky Albin, Flag Corps Captain and flutist. On being chosen as member of the month, "I'm glad I was picked. A lot of work was put into it with flags and all."

On trip to Austin, "Our band was smaller while the others were bigger and louder. It was fun and neat watching the 4A finalists. I'm bruised up from ice skating. Mr. Shipp did a good job. I hope he knows we appreciate him. He's done a lot of work with us and we wouldn't be where we are without him."

Marian's Memos

By Marian Morris

If you often find yourself confused by the vague or incomplete laundering labels in clothing, relief is on the way. The Federal Trade Commission recently issued amendments to its care labeling rule requiring apparel labels to carry more detailed washing and dry cleaning instructions. The care labeling rule, established in 1971, originally required manufacturers and importers of textile apparel to attach care instructions to garments, but the rule didn't specify what the labels should contain. The new amendments, which spell out what information must appear on care labels, are expected to prevent the use of incomplete, inconsistent or inaccurate instructions.

Washing instructions must specify whether an item should be washed by hand or machine. Also, if hot water cannot be used, the label must disclose the recommended water temperature for laundering. The amendments also require that if a manufacturer gives washing instructions, drying procedures must also be described.

In some circumstances, a bleaching guide must appear on the labels. Dry cleaning instructions must now specify a solvent to be used on garments, if all solvents cannot be used safely.

Manufacturers of piece goods no longer have to provide the individual labels to consumers. Instead, they can attach the required care instructions to each bolt of fabric. The FTC found retailers often didn't distribute the labels to consumers, and consumers frequently didn't sew them into the garments they made. The new requirements give consumers the opportunity to compare care instructions of different piece goods at the store.

The amendments, first proposed in 1976, require manufacturers to have a reasonable basis for the instructions they provide.

Another label...The American textile and apparel industry has launched a public awareness campaign against the tide of imported apparel and fabric. Their goal is to place a "Crafted With Pride in USA" label on every garment produced in this country. Domestic textile and apparel companies blame imports for unemployment rates of 11.1 percent among textile workers and 13.4 percent among garment workers.

References to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is implied. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service serves people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

COLORADO HIGH BAND members that competed for All-Regional Orchestra are left to right Lisa Garner, who made it on the piccolo, Barbara Heredia and Rhonda Barber who made it as fourth chair flutist. Garner and Barber will be in concert with the orchestra January 20-21 in Wichita Falls.

CHS Band places 2nd at state

By TONY FRANCO

According to a panel of judges in Austin, the Colorado High School Wolf Marching Band is excellent.

So excellent, in fact, that this year marked the third straight year that the band has made it to the state competition at the capitol.

Just getting there is no easy chore. First a band must receive a rating of 1 at regional competition and then get selected by a panel of judges to advance to state.

Only two bands from each of the 22 class AAA regions go to Austin and this year Colorado City was joined by Graham.

After an 11 a.m. take off from the high school last Monday, the band arrived in Austin in time to watch the finals of the AAAA competition.

The Wolf band performed Tuesday and band director Bill Shipp felt "What we did we did real good. I guess the judges just didn't like it as much (as other bands.")

That panel of judges returned a rating of 2 on a scale of 1 to 5. In the scale 1 is superior, 2 is excellent, 3 is good, 4 is fair and 5 is poor.

Scoring is done by five judges. Each judge grades each band separately and gives a score. The highest and lowest scores are dropped and then the remaining three scores are averaged for that particular bands score. A score of 90 or more rates a 1, a score between 80-90 rates a 2, a score between 70-80 rates a 3 and so forth.

Area schools and their ratings competing in AAA, won by Hondo, were Crane 1, Graham 2, Sonora 2, Kermit 2 and Denver City 2.

Though the band was "not too happy with a couple of small problems," director Shipp flet "We've got a good group of kids. They did a great job of representing the community and the school. They all went with a good attitude and really wanted to win first."

After suffering a broken axle on one of the buses, the band enjoyed some ice skating and a trip to the Mall.

In other band news, Rhonda Barber, Lisa Garner and Barbara Heredia attended the All-Regional Orchestra competition held at Abilene's Cooper High School, November 12.

Earning a spot on the orchestra were Garner on the piccolo and Barber as fourth chair flutist.

Cook's Corner

Cooking is a family affair for Davis

Marilyn Davis

Marilyn Davis learned the basics of cooking from her mother when she was still at home.

"Before I got married, I got all of my mother's recipes and wrote them down."

Mrs. Davis is the wife of Harold Davis, pastor at Oak Street Baptist. They have two children, Dondra age 9 and Dodie age 5. "The girls really help out in the kitchen. Dondra's specialties are salads and she takes pride in her English pea salad. Their favorite food is brownies so I try to make them as often as I can."

She stated that her husband also helped out in the kitchen.

"I really like cooking when I have time. With all of our busy schedules we really "eat on the run."

Her favorite things to cook are casseroles and sweets. Today she is sharing three of her favorite recipes with RECORD readers.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE

1 small package of egg noodles, cooked until done and salt
1 small can English peas drained
1 can of mushroom soup
1½ cup diced chicken
½ cup of chicken broth
1 cup grated cheese

Drain noodles, and add ½ cup of chicken broth. Then add chicken, peas and mushroom soup. Pour all of this into a baking dish. Cover with 1 cup of grated cheese. Cook at 325 until cheese begins to bubble on top.

BROWNIES

½ cup shortening
2-1 oz. square unsweetened chocolate or 3 T cocoa
¾ cup enriched flour
½ t. baking powder
½ t. salt
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 t. vanilla
1 cup nuts

Melt shortening and chocolate together over hot water or slow flame. Cool. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until light, then add sugar and chocolate mix. Blend. Add flour, vanilla and nuts. Pour batter in greased 8x8x2 inch pan. Bake at 350 for 30 minutes. Cool. Makes 16 brownies.

PUMPKIN PIE

1 can pumpkin no. 300
3 whole eggs
1½ t. pumpkin spice
One-third stick oleo
1 T. flour
1-two-third cup sugar
Two-thirds cup carnation undiluted milk
14 marshmallows

Combine this and cook over low heat until butter and marshmallows melt. Pour in unbaked pie shell. Cook at 350 until done.

Crop, Livestock Reporting to begin end-of-year inventory

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for final 1983 crop acreage, yield and production totals and end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

State Statistician Dennis Findley reported that producer compliance with the current farm programs reduced crop acreage across the state, and many farmers and ranchers are depending on this survey information for an accurate picture of the 1983 agricultural situation.

Findley explained that the confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, provide information used by producers to make their production and marketing plans for the coming year.

"Without these reports, farmers and ranchers would have to rely on other sources for crop and livestock information," he added.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state as well as county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

Copies of these bulletins can be obtained by contacting the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. box 70, Austin, TX 78767.

OAK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

You Can Be Thankful

The scene was London England during World War II. Each day a small boy would go to his church to pray for his father who was fighting with the British troops in Europe. At times word would come that the battle was going badly. Always the small boy came to pray. Then one day the boys father came home. The following week the pastor of the church noticed that the young boy was still coming to the church to pray. Finally he stopped the lad and asked; "Son, why are you still praying? Your father is home safe?" The lad replied; "Sir, I keep coming to thank my Heavenly Father for answering my prayers."

The Bible says; "In every thing give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you"(I Thessalonians 5:18).

God has so wonderfully blessed us this year, as He does every year. How will you say thanks to Him?

SWBT to revise bills before AT&T breakup Jan. 1

Although the breakup of the Bell System isn't scheduled until January 1, Southwestern Bell in Texas is getting a head start by issuing a more detailed customer bill which reflects some of the coming changes.

Southwestern Bell is revising its bills before the scheduled breakup of AT&T to prepare for the way they will be doing business after January 1.

The new statements will break out the components of phone service that will be provided by different companies next year, according to Jim West, Community Relations Manager for Southwestern Bell in Colorado City. However, there will continue to be only one bill for services previously provided by the Bell System. Payment for all those services will be made to Southwestern Bell, West said.

"We are making changes now because we want to make a smooth transition and get customers used to the new bill format," West said.

Beginning with the November billing, he said, long distance charges for all Southwestern Bell customers will be split into two categories. One category will be for long distance charges from Southwestern Bell. The other category will be for long distance calls handled by AT&T.

After January 1, Southwestern Bell will continue to handle only those long distance cails made within specific geographic areas called Local Access and Transport Areas (LATAs). There are 15 LATAs in Texas.

Calls made within Texas from one LATA to another or calls to outside the state will not be handled by Southwestern Bell after January 1. These calls will be handled by a long distance company of the customer's choice. If the inter-LATA or interstate calls are handled by AT&T, the billing will be done by Southwestern Bell under contract with AT&T. These calls will be listed separately on customer statements.

The separate statements reflect the fact that beginning next year, AT&T's long distance network will be a separate company not affiliated with Southwestern Bell's local phone service. Previously, all long distance calls were billed together.

Southwestern Bell has offered this billing service to other long distance companies. However, to date, none have accepted.

Some Texas customers in the 214 and 817 area codes have been receiving the separated long distance listings since July as part of a Bell System trial.

Another change to be implemented beginning with December bills in Texas is separate page listings for local service and equipment. In the past, service and equipment charges were grouped together.

On January 1, all equipment currently leased from Southwestern Bell will become the property of AT&T. Southwestern Bell, however, will continue as a billing agent for AT&T.

Since Southwestern Bell will continue to provide local service, that charge will be separate from the equipment.

On each page of the bill will be a phone number that customers can call for questions regarding the different categories of itemized charges.

VA pension to have improved benefits

Some Texas veterans and their survivors receiving VA pension benefits under the "improved" pension plan will receive a 3.5 percent cost-of-living increase effective December 1, according to the Waco VA Regional Office Acting Director.

VA pensions are paid to wartime veterans totally and permanently disabled from circumstances unrelated to their military service. They are also paid to needy survivors of wartime veterans. Unlike compensation paid to those disabled because of military service, pensions are based on income from other sources.

The first check reflecting the cost-of-living increase will be mailed to VA pension recipients on or about January 1, 1984.

Veterans and survivors who are receiving benefits under the "improved" pension plan of 1979 will receive the increase. Pensions for veterans and survivors under the "old" plan remain fixed and payable at the rates in effect in 1978. But those rates are protected against termination that would otherwise result from Social Security cost-of-living increases of their income.

"Old" plan recipients may request transfer to the "improved" plan at any time,a nd VA will carefully review eacn application to advise applicants to choose the plan which works best to their personal advantage.

Rates and details about the pension program and rate increases are available from the Waco VA Regional Office or from local representatives of veterans service organizations.

Veterans needing more information should write, visit, or call the VA regional office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "Veterans Administration" or "U.S. Government." A VA counselor will respond.

News from Kristi Lee Manor

By MISTY PINKERTON

We had our Birthday party for this month Friday the 18th. We would like to thank Mrs. Soreells for bringing the cake. The birthdays for the month are: Josephine Carey, Frank Trevino, Ellen Piehl, Herman West and Joseph Fisher.

We are still going to have our Thanksgiving party November 23rd at 2:30. We would like to invite everyone to join us.

We would also like to thank the Oak Street Baptist Church for coming every Tuesday night to sing for us. We really enjoy listening to them.

Anyone or a group having a special program for the holiday season might like to meet here to rehearse. The residents would enjoy watching and we have space available. We are looking for more volunteers. If you would like to share something you enjoy doing with others, please contact Misty at Kirsti Lee Manor.

Thought for the week: What you are is God's gift to you. What you make of yourself is your gift to God.

Farabee announces plans for re-election

State Senator Ray Farabee announced his candidacy for re-election to the Texas Senate representing the 30th District. The 30th Senatorial District coves a twenty-nine county area and a part of Denton County in North Central and Northwest Texas.

"Mitchell County is an important part of the 30th Senatorial District. It has been a privilege to represent this county in Austin. I would like to continue my public service for an additional four year term," Farabee said.

Farabee, a Democrat, was elected to the State Senate in 1974. The 51 year old native of Wichita Falls is married to Helen Farabee and has two sons in college.

Senator Farabee is Chairman of the State Affairs Committee and a member of the Legislative Budget Board, which has primary responsibility for preparation of the state budget. He also serves on the Finance and Jurisprudence Committees. He was recently appointed to chair the Select Committee on Judiciary, and to serve with Governor White, Lt. Governor Hobby and Speaker Lewis on the Fiscal Policy Committee.

During his eight years in the Senate, Senator Farabee has sponsored significant legislation which has benefitted the 30th District and the State of Texas, including:

–Drug Trafficking Act, providing stiffer penalties for large-scale drug dealers;

–Teacher competency testing for improved ublic education;

–Laws to help agiculture and rural communities;

–Bills to strengthen child support enforcement and cut welfare costs;

–A law limiting the insanity defense.

Farabee was cited for the third time by "Texas Monthly" as one of the ten best legislators in Texas. In its assessment of Texas legislators, "Texas Business" recently accorded him "Great Honors," stating, in part, "...Overall, Ray Farabee is the most effective member of the Texas Senate."

White to serve as March of Dimes chairman

The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation has announced that Linda Gale White, wife of Texas Governor Mark White, will serve as the 1984 Texas Chairman for the Mothers' March campaign that will be held throughout the state in January.

"The Mothers' March on Birth Defects is a totally volunteer door-to-door campaign," said Mrs. White. "It is conducted every January in an effort to educate the public about the prevention of birth defects and to solicit funds to support research, medical service, and educational programs."

As chairman for the 1984 Texas Mothers' March, Mrs. White recently visited the intensive care nursery at Breckenridge Hospital, in Austin, Texas. There she saw a few of the quarter of a million babies who are born each year in this country with birth defects.

"Because birth defects are far more widespread than many people first think," said Mrs. White, "the Mothers' March offers all of us an opportunity to do something positive for the children of today and tomorrow. I hope that this year many Texas' residents will take an active interest in this important campaign."

Steps listed to control spending

Many families do not recall ever making a conscious decision on how much money to spend for Christmas gifts and other holiday items, says home economist Nancy Granovsky.

Christmas spending can have a snowballing effect, where a spending level or end point is never indentified, says Granovsky, who is with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Advertising, offers for easy credit or no finance charges until after the holidays and the emotions associated with Christmas gifts tempt us to overspend. "Unfortunately, the thrill of purchase often escapes when the bills come due, and some families wind up in financial trouble after the first of the year," she explains.

According to Granovsky, a specialist in family resource management, consumers can take these steps to control their holiday spending:

–Make a budget and stick to it. Set spending limits before you get involved in shopping.

–Have a game plan for shopping. Prepare a gift list and try to avoid impulse purchases or budget a specific amount just for impulse buying.

–Use your imagination to save money. Some alternatives include making a tax deductible charitable cntribution in another's name; an IOU for services like babysitting or housecleaning; making gifts such as baked goods or plant cuttings yourself; giving a seldom used possession or "family heirloom" to a family member who has admired it; or shopping at thrift and garage sales.

–Shop early to take advantage of sales, better choices and faster service.

–Plan for next year. Advance planning allows you to shop at sales throughout the year. You can also set up a special savings account to save for the holidays. But avoid special "holiday accounts," cautions Granovsky, unless they pay the same rate of interest as other savings plans.

How much should you plan to save for holiday spending? Some financial counselors suggest allowing 1½ percent of your gross income plus ten percent of that amount for last minute purchases, says the home economist.

Westbrook FHA sponsors GAS

OnThursday, November 17 the American Cancer Society sponsored the Great American Smokeout (GAS).

GAS is a national FHA project. The Westbrook FHA chapter sponsored several activities to help people "Kick the habit."

On Wednesday, November 16, they made scarves with the emblem Youth Against Cancer (YAC) on them and wore "Kiss me, I don't smoke" buttons.

The club also sponsored a poster contest for grades K through 8th.

After they finished their posters, they received popcorn. To receive the treat, they had to read their buttons and kiss someone.

The FHA members also blew up balloons for the elementary students with the YAC emblem on them and gave them information about GAS.

Some of the club members adopted smokers throughout the day. Faculty members who were adopted were J. W. Schlee, Judy Chitsey, Sheryl Lamb and Keith Bundess.
