Reagan stumping for tax overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — As President Reagan begins stumping the country for his tax overhaul plan, he is picturing himself as the taxpayers' ally against politicians and bureaucrats who have been in Washington too long and "are a little slow to catch on."

Reagan was flying today by helicopter to Pennsylvania to carry his message to the Great Valley Corporate Center, a complex of high-technology and service industries occupying 32 buildings in Malvern southwest of Philadelphia.

Dave Runkel, a spokesman for Pennsylvania's Republican Gov. Richard Thornburgh, said Reagan wanted to visit Pennsylvania because of his interest in advanced technololgy and because the state has an easily understood tax system with simple forms, a goal of the president's plan.

On Thursday, in 15-minute speeches in Williamsburg, Va., and Oshkosh, Wis., Reagan sounded the note of an outsider impatient with the Washington establishment and seeking relief for a beleaguered citizenry.

"If I sound like I'm talking about government as something else, I am," he told a crowd estimated at more than 10,000 outside a restored colonial capitol building at Williamsburg.

"When we who are now there start talking about government as 'we' instead of 'they,' we've been there too long," Reagan said.

The remark, which Reagan inserted into his prepared speech, was greeted by laughter and applause.

He repeated it to a slightly larger crowd in a parking lot outside the Winnebago County Courthouse in Oshkosh, adding that it is the advice he gives to members of his administration.

Although Reagan was heckled by a small band of demonstrators including four bare-breasted young women and two nude men in Oshkosh, he got a generally warm reception.

"I've been asking people informally about tax reform wherever I go," he told the courthouse crowd. "The answers are just the same every place I know of except for one city: Washington, D.C. Sometimes folks back there are a little slow to catch on."

The White House announced Reagan will speak in Oklahoma City and Atlanta next Wednesday and in Atlanta and Birmingham, Ala., on Thursday. Spokesman Larry Speakes said the president's tax plan would be the main subject.

Speakes said plans for the following week were not firm but "chances are we will be making one trip or two."

"Certainly it is our intention to go on the road," said Edward J. Rollins, director of the White House political office.

Rollins said tentative plans for a speech this week in New York were scrapped partly because the White House "didn't want to start the campaign in a debate with (Democratic Gov. Mario) Cuomo," a critic of Reagan's proposal to abolish the federal tax deduction for state and local tax payments.

Following his Oshkossh appearance, Reagan told reporters he did not see the four young women who stripped to the waist briefly about 75 feet from the podium as he was speaking.

Two men also stripped.

'Skeeter control ongoing

Snyder and Scurry County residents are currently having their trash dumpsters, standing water holes and other areas identified as a potential "mosquito habitat" treated by a two man county crew working through the Scurry County Health Unit.

According to L.V. (Pete) Rasco — who runs the spray rig along with Evan Millhollon — the first priority for the project is mosquito control.

In line with this, the crew has been spraying a 56 percent Malathion solution in stagnant water holes and trash dumpsters.

Although they can most often be seen working along or near Deep Creek and its tributaries in town, they begin each day with a pre-scheduled route to spray dumpsters and water areas throughout the county.

Once the scheduled route is done, they begin to answer citizen complaints about particular problem areas on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Individuals or groups with a particularly heavy infestation of mosquitos can have the spray truck scheduled to come through their area by calling the Scurry County Health Unit.

Although many hard-shelled beetles are immune to the insecticide, according to Rasco, the spray can be helpful in reducing infestations of flys, wasps and other insects.

Rasco reported that most of the calls they get to individual locations within the city are the result of some manmade mosquito breeding ground rather than any natural situation.

The summer insect spraying program has been an annual event for several years as a joint city-county project.

Injuries to child charged

Officers executed an arrest warrant at 11:04 a.m. against Rosalio Gutierrez Jr. of 1608½ 28th St. The warrant was issued Tuesday out of 132nd District Court.

His arrest culminated a nine-day investigation by child welfare officers and police. The suspect is implicated in the May 13 injury of his eight-month-old daughter.

The infant initially came to the attention of authorities when she was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital suffering from what investigators said appeared to be severe bruises to most of her body.

While at the local hospital, the child reportedly suffered respiratory failure and was transferred to Lubbock General Hospital.

Police were officially called into the case on May 17 when doctors treating the girl in Lubbock filed a report questioning the parent's explanations of the injuries.

An arrest warrant was issued for Gutierrez last Tuesday after review of the case by District Attorney Ernie Armstrong.

Thursday's arrest was made as the suspect returned to his 28th St. residence.

Pecan pest needs spray

County Extension Agent Marvin Ensor reports the spray schedule to combat the Pecan Nut Casebearer is now in effect.

Exact dates to spray for the pest — which can destroy a pecan crop if not controlled — are May 30 through June 3, next Monday.

A "Diversified" column related to the pest is included inside this issue of the SDN.

Insecticides recommended to combat the casebearer include Sevin, Malathion and Zolone.

The spring generation — the one now being reported — has the greatest potential for damage since an individual larvae can destroy a complete cluster of the emerging pecans.

BCD studies initial budget plan for '86

The Board of County Development Wednesday began discussions related to its budget request from the county for 1986 and tentatively granted an application for some $1,500 in funds to go towards the operational costs for the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District.

BCD members indicated they would likely request more funds during 1986 than the 1985 amount, in part since no added dollars were asked for this year as compared to last.

The BCD is granted tax monies by the commissioners court to be used to promote and advertise Scurry County.

The board now oversees an advertisement program which features Snyder in industrial-type publications.

Regarding this ad, it was reported the BCD received 89 requests for additional information during May. This brought the total for such requests to 201 for the year.

The 1985 budget approved by the court for the BCD equals $57,800. Any of this amount remaining at the end of the year is carried over and the figure deducted from the upcoming budget year total.

Regarding the SWCD funding request, tentative approval was given pending further discussion with BCD member Morris Light, who did not attend Wednesday's meeting.

Of the five-member BCD board, it was noted that Light is more familiar with the activities of the soil and water conservation district.

The board also granted a request for $50 submitted by the Scurry County extension agent's office for expenses related to a "forecasting profits" ag seminar

BCD members attending Wednesday were Clyde Hall, David Thompson and Red Faver. Light and Dale Stuard were absent.

Aqua-aerobics added to swimming classes

In addition, aqua-aerobic classes will be offered for the first time this summer.

The swimming lessons will be given from 10 until 11 a.m. and will be offered Tuesday through Saturday for a two-week period. They are scheduled to end June 15.

The aerobics classes will be on Tuesday and Thursday only for all of June. They will meet from 11 a.m. until noon and the final class day will be June 27.

The cost for both swimming lessons and the aerobics classes will be $1 per day.

The swimming classes will be limited to 80 children and toddlers will not be accepted. The lifeguard staff at the pool will teach swimming.

The aerobics instructor will be Teresa Lain.

Manager for the swimming pool this summer is Wes Partain. For more information, persons may call the pool at 573-9192.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Real wealth is being able to afford a family and the federal government on just one salary."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, published a will of a local farmer. It could apply to most any of 'em.

"I hereby leave:

"To my banker: My soul. He's got the mortgage on it anyhow.

"To the farm advisor: Fifty bales of cotton. See if he can hit the high market, I never did.

"To the ASCS people: My farm plan. Maybe they can understand it.

"To the junkman: My machinery. He's had his eye on it for years.

"To my neighbor: My clown suit. He'll need it if he continues to farm as he has in the past.

"To my undertaker: A special request. Six implement and fertilizer dealers for pallbearers, please. They are used to carrying me.

"To the weatherman: Rain, sleet and snow for the funeral. No since in having good weather now.

"To the grave digger: Don't bother. The hole I'm in should be big enough.

"To the monument maker: Just write; 'Here lies the farmer who has now properly assumed all his duties.'"

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, told about a man in Wharton who was asked the difference between a gun and a machine gun.

"Son," said the father, "It's as if I spoke...and then your mother spoke."

Ask Us

Q. — A trial story written Thursday, May 23, indicated the presiding district judge could not grant probation. Is this true in every case?

A. — While not specified in the SDN story, the judge could not grant probation in that particular case since it involved charges where a deadly weapon was used. In this situation, only a jury can grant probation. Otherwise, a judge can grant probation.

In Brief

Tax plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The checkoff on federal income tax forms that is used to finance presidential campaigns would be eliminated under President Reagan's proposed tax plan, which calls it a "source of confusion."

The general election checkoff permits people with income tax liabilities to use $1 of that liability to finance the presidential campaigns. The checkoff, used by about 25 percent of all taxpayers, does not cost the taxpayer anything and provides the sole source of money for the campaigns.

The Reagan tax plan says the checkoff is "unrelated to the purposes of the income tax and is a source of complexity for taxpayers."

Grand jury

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox says a Jefferson County grand jury must decide whether it wants his assistance in the continuing investigation of state Sen. Carl Parker.

Mattox said Thursday he offered to have one of his top assistants and an investigator help the panel, removing possible criticism that the investigation has political overtones.

Guilty plea

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The former director of a shelter for Central Americans today pleaded guilty to trying to sneak a Nicaraguan past a Border Patrol checkpoint.

Lorry Thomas, 41, entered the plea before U.S. District Judge Ricardo Hinojosa, who ordered a pre-sntencing investigation and set June 20 for sentencing. Ms. Thomas could receive up to five years in prison and a $250,000 fine.

Ms. Thomas was charged with transporting Raul Dominguez, 28, on May 12. The pair was arrested at the Border Patrol checkpoint at Sarita, about 50 miles south of Corpus Christi.

Prepare for major offensive

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (AP) — Covered by jetfighters and helicopter gunships, Soviet paratroops are seizing mountaintops along the Afghan-Pakistan border in preparation for a major Soviet offensive to cut rebel supply lines, Afghan rebels said today.

The rebels said Soviet and Afghan troops have stepped up their patrols along the border to prevent guerrillas from using them to ambush the major Soviet force, and said they were finding it increasingly difficult to move men and equipment into Afghanistan.

The guerrillas, who spoke on condition they not be identified, reported heavy fighting Thursday, and said they destroyed two Soviet tanks and killed nine Soviet soldiers.

They said they also sustained losses, but would not give any figures.

The Soviet and Afghan offensive, which began last week in Kunar Province, now involves more than 10,000 Soviet troops and will probably grow to 25,000, according to sources.

"It's a huge Soviet force, unusually large. It's turning into the biggest offensive of the war," said Professor Sayed Majrooh, head of he authoritative and politically independent Afghan Information Center in Pakistan.

Majrooh said the Soviets have never used more than 12,000 troops in an operation.

Thousands of Soviet troops entered Afghanistan in December 1979 to fight an anti-communist uprising, oversaw the ouster of one Communist government and installed the pro-Soviet Babrak Karmal regime. There now are said to be about 115,000 Soviet troops in the country.

Western diplomatic sources said a Soviet force of 10,000 supported by hundreds of tanks and backed by jet fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships is battling guerrillas in the Kunar Province, on the border.

Diplomatic sources, who also spoke on condition they not be identified, said the Soviets were massing a larger force south of Kunar in the Gardez area of Paktia Province, apparently to launch a second offensive soon. Paktia is another main route for mule trains bringing weapons, ammunition and supplies to the guerrillas from their bases in Pakistan.

Moslems proclaim cease-fire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Shiite Moslem forces proclaimed a unilateral cease-fire today in their 12-day-old war against Palestinian guerrillas for control of Beirut's refugee camps that has claimed more than 400 lives.

The one-sided truce came amid reports that Syrian President Hafez Assad has agreed to send his army back to Beirut to halt the bloody battles in the camps and snuff out Lebanon's 10-year Christian-Moslem civil war as well.

Police said eight people were killed and 62 wounded in overnight fighting that preceded Amal's ceasefire declaration. This raised the known casualty toll to 427 killed and 1,956 injured since the camps war erupted May 19.

The Shiites attacked the Beirut refugee camps in a bid to prevent them from again becoming a stronghold of Palestinian guerrillas. Hundreds of Palestinian guerrillas are reported to have filtered back into the camps since they were driven out by the 1982 Israel invasion.

Baby-Sitting Bratty Kids Is Not Part of Grandma's Plans

By Abigail Van Buren

1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: This is for "No Names, Please," who couldn't understand why neither her parents nor her in-laws would take her kids once in a while so she could have a little vacation.

I am a grandmother, and I won't keep my grandchildren either. I raised five by myself, and I was never ashamed to take them anywhere because they were taught how to behave. I'm sorry I can't say the same about my grandchildren.

I love the little tykes and it's not their fault that they weren't trained right, but I refuse to baby-sit or take them anywhere. If they don't get what they ask for in a store, they fall down and kick and scream. When they were at my house, they walked on the furniture, stood on the table and pulled things out of cupboards and drawers. I was exhausted trying to watch them. Meanwhile their mother (my daughter) paid no attention to them.

My neighbor and her husband just retired, and they were so afraid they might be drafted to baby-sit their grandchildren, they sold their home, got a post-office box and bought an RV. They keep traveling in self-defense.

Please print this so some young parents will understand why their parents won't help with the kids.

NO NAMES, EITHER

DEAR NO NAMES: You have lots of company. However, there are some people who are lucky enough to be able to write a letter like this one:

DEAR ABBY: I'm sorry for "No Names." My husband and I are only children, so our children are the only grandchildren on both sides. We have twin daughters and one son—all under 10—and both sets of grandparents beg to baby-sit, or keep the kids for days or weeks if we'd let them. We actually have to be careful not to favor one set over the other.

LUCKY IN LONG BEACH

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school senior who will be 18 in June. I have been going steady with a 17-year-old girl for six months and want to give her a gold ring with two small diamonds and two small rubies.

My parents think it is improper to give a girl a ring at my age, and would rather see me buy her a bracelet. To me a ring is just a piece of jewelry, and has no more significance than a bracelet, necklace or earrings.

Please answer soon.

A KID FROM NEW YORK

DEAR KID: A ring may be "just a piece of jewelry" to you, but to most people it symbolizes a serious commitment. And until you're ready for one, give necklaces, earrings or bracelets.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing the letter signed "The Quiet One." I could have written it.

I suppose people mean well when they try to bring me out of my shell by teasing, "My goodness, you sure talk a lot!" Or by asking me in a group, "Why are you so quiet?" Such remarks do not "bring me out" or encourage me to talk; they have the opposite effect.

There is a saying that sums it up nicely: "If you don't understand my silence, you won't understand my words."

SPEECHLESS

DEAR SPEECHLESS: That "saying" strikes me as the ideal response to the clod who asks, "Why are you so quiet?" Silence may be golden, but the appropriate retort to an inappropriate question is worth its weight in platinum.

LA evens the score; pro cage series tied

BOSTON (AP) - First, the Los Angeles Lakers looked in the mirror and saw losers. Now, they can look and see the Boston Celtics. Soon, they hope, they'll see champions.

Using a formula bearing a striking resemblance to the one that led to the Celtics' first-game victory - aggressive rebounding, outside marksmanship, alert team defense and a fast-breaking offense - the Lakers tied the National Basketball Association Championship Series 1-1 with a 109-102 triumph Thursday night.

"They hit the boards and ran," said Boston forward Cedric Maxwell. "It was a carbon copy of what we did Monday" in the Celtics' 148-114 rout that Laker Coach Pat Riley said left his team embarrassed.

"We had to take advantage of the double-teaming, just as the Celtics did against us Monday," said Laker forward Bob McAdoo. "When they double our big men, we've got to find the perimeter shot and take it."

In the first game, Scott Wedman came off the bench to do that for Boston as he hit all 11 of his field-goal attempts. In the second game, Michael Cooper came off the bench to do that for Los Angeles by making eight of his nine shots.

In the first game, Boston had more rebounds and assists and a better field-goal percentage. In the second game, Los Angeles led in all those categories.

Another important element has shifted in the Lakers' favor - the homecourt advantage.

The Celtics won it by posting the best regular-season record. They lost it by dropping Thursday night's game and must play the next three contests of the best-of-seven final at the Forum in Inglewood, Calif., Sunday, Wednesday and Friday.

The key figures as the Lakers snapped Boston's 12-game home playoff winning streak were center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, with 30 points, 17 rebounds and eight assists, and Cooper with 22 points.

Gunslingers playing without pay again

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The San Antonio Gunslingers may have to travel to Phoenix for their next game this weekend minus yet another round of paychecks.

The United States Football League team failed to make the May 14 payroll and another round of paychecks this week.

The USFL Players Association has filed a grievance because of the team's failure to meet the May 14 payroll.

An arbitrator has set a June 8 deadline for the team to meet that payroll or the players will become free agents.

Team members showed up at practices Wednesday and Thursday, but delayed Wednesday's workout until late in the day in hopes of getting paid first.

SMU studies charges

DALLAS (AP) - Southern Methodist officials say they have received and are studying an NCAA letter detailing charges against their football program.

SMU President L. Donald Shields said Thursday he had received the National Collegiate Athletic Association letter, but he declined to comment on its contents.

"The letter is currently under study by university officials," Shields said in a release. "Following a careful review, SMU officials will determine the university's response to this letter."

The school has 15 days to review the NCAA's findings and respond to its recommndations, either by accepting the findings and any punishment or appealing to the NCAA Committee on Infractions.

If SMU accepts the findings, public announcements would be made by both the unversity and the NCAA. An appeal would be considered no sooner than mid-August, and no public comments would be made pending the results.

Shields said SMU officials will not have any further comments on the matter until the school's review is complete.

Crystal River

Castner Family

Crystal River appearance set

Crystal River will be featured at a free outdoor concert at 8 p.m. Saturday on the grounds of Green Hill Baptist Church.

Crystal River has appeared in Snyder on several occasions and has a music ministry that carries them across the United States.

In addition to Crystal River, the Castner Family from Lubbock will also minister in music. The Castner Family has shared in country gospel for the past 10 years in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Local talent will include Debra Martinez, Mike Brown, Dorothy Bly and Julia Jones.

A nursery will be provided.

Seek exemption to drinking age

DEL RIO, Texas (AP) — If young airmen and women are going to drink, Laughlin Air Force Base officials want them to do it close to home instead of in Mexico.

So Laughlin Wing Commander Col. Jeffrey T. Ellis has filed for an exemption to the recent Pentagon order requiring military bases to observe local drinking-age laws in their areas.

Ellis filed for the exemption with the Department of Defense under the terms of a 50-mile rule included in the order, the San Angelo Standard-Times reported today.

The rule says bases within 50 miles or one hour's driving time of another state or country that has a lower drinking age where the lure of off-base drinking might promote drinking and driving can apply for an exemption.

Del Rio is 10 miles from Mexico, where the legal drinking age is 18. Texas' legal drinking age will rise from 19 to 21 in 1986.

If the exemption is approved, it will probably mean more base personnel will use base facilities to drink when the Texas drinking age changes from 19 to 21 in September 1986, officials said.

Calcium pills for children

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My 9-year-old son has been allergic to various things all his life. He was recently diagnosed as being allergic to milk and eggs. How can he replace the calcium and protein he will miss?

DEAR READER — Children who are allergic to eggs usually have to avoid eggs in any form; this is not too difficult. Youngsters who are sensitive to milk, however, are usually allergic to the sugar (lactose) in milk. Therefore, they can often eat milk products in which the lactose has been degraded. Your son may be able to eat yogurt and lactose-free milk.

If that is not possible, you can provide the non-milk calcium he needs by using calcium pills. There are a number of chewable brands made for children.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 78 and in good health except for one thing. I do not have a cold, but I cough a lot. I have sneezing spells and my nose runs. My doctor does not seem concerned about this. Can you help me?

DEAR READER — If your coughing is not due to lung or heart disease, you probably have an inhalational allergy. Simply stated, you are breathing in some substance that is irritating your nose and throat. Tobacco smoke, fumes and vapors are obvious causes of this condition, but some people can react to unlikely things such as feathers, the fecal matter of dust mites, animal hair and material used for clothing.

I suggest that you see an allergist who can help you identify the factors causing your excess mucus secretions. If the factors are unavoidable, you may be helped by desensitization injections.

DEAR DR. GOTT — For the last year I have suffered from bursitis. What can I do to get rid of the pain and the burning in my left hip and leg? I have used ice and a heat massage, but nothing seems to help.

DEAR READER — Most joints in the body are lined by a thin but tough membrane called a bursa. This sac holds in the fluid that lubricates the joints. Sometimes the bursa becomes inflamed, and bursitis results. Anti-inflammatory medication, heat and rest are usually sufficient treatments. Occasionally, doctors have to inject inflamed bursas with a combination of novocaine and cortisone.

From the location and characterization of your pain, I question whether bursitis is the problem. You are far more likely to have either arthritis or an inflamed tendon in the hip. Occasionally, sciatica or another nerve dysfunction can cause symptoms like yours.

I would feel more comfortable — and I know you would, too — if you had an examination to determine the cause of your pain. Once the source is defined, the treatment can be tailored to the problem. It is very likely that an appropriate doctor can end your pain through a variety of methods.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Author files suit

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Author Jean Auel has filed a $40 million lawsuit against the makers of a movie based on her best-selling novel "Clan of the Cave Bear."

Ms. Auel, who lives in Portland, claims the producers of the movie failed to give her final approval of its story line and failed to pay her according to terms of her contract.

Her lawsuit claims the defendants, Decade Productions Inc. and The Jozak Companies "produced a motion picture containing ... inaccuracies," both historical and otherwise."

Cholera deaths reported

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — At least 40 people have died of cholera during the last two days on the coastal islands of southern Bangladesh where a vicious storm killed an estimated 10,000 people, newspapers said today.

The Bengal-language newspaper Sangbad said at least 25 people died of cholera in Sonagazi, a city about 150 miles south of the capital hit hard by Saturday's storm.

The semi-official Bengali daily Dainik Bangla reported 15 cholera deaths on Sandwip Island, also battered by the storm and tidal waves. There was no official comment on the report.

Sangbad quoted authorities at Sonagazi as saying they were doing everything possible to check outbreaks of cholera and diarrhea.

FBI says more arrests possible in spy case

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Another sailor and as many as four employees of a former Navy communications specialist accused of passing secrets to the Soviet Union with the help of his brother and son are expected to be charged with espionage, according to published reports.

"I will concede there is a good possibility of more arrests," Jack Wagner, special agent in charge of the Norfolk FBI office, said Thursday after John Anthony Walker Jr.'s brother made his first court appearance on an espionage charge.

"I won't give any time frame," Wagner said.

Arthur J. Walker's preliminary hearing was postponed until Monday to give the retired Navy officer time to hire a lawyer.

U.S. Magistrate Gilbert Swink Jr. ordered Walker, 50, held without bond until the hearing, which will also determine if he will be allowed bail.

John Walker, a retired Navy communications specialist, and his son Michael, a sailor aboard the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz, were arrested last week and indicted on espionage charges Tuesday in Baltimore.

The New York Times, in today's editions, quoted unidentified officials as saying "about four" employees of Confidential Reports, John Walker's private detective agency in Virginia Beach, would be arrested, probably next week.

The officials said it was unclear whether additional members of the Walker family would be arrested, the Times said.

Ask The Preacher

"Necessity Of Baptism"

By Randall Gray

Is baptism absolutely necessary in order to be saved? Is it essential?

This is a question of some importance and we would do well to look at what the Bible has to say on this issue. Now remember, our opinions are not nearly as important as scripture. God's word should be the final authority.

1. Baptism puts us in Christ. (Gal. 3:26,27) We know that we cannot be saved outside of Christ, thus Baptism is essential in that sense.

2. Baptism puts us into contact with the death of Jesus (Rom. 6:3) We know that the death of Christ is the reason and power of salvation. Baptism lets us contact that power. Thus it is essential in that sense as well.

3. Baptism is the point at which our sins are washed away. (Acts 22:16) We know that forgiveness is necessary for salvation, thus baptism is shown, in this third sense, to be essential.

4. Lastly, baptism is essential because the Bible says that baptism saves us. (I Peter 3:21) That sounds like, in God's opinion at least, baptism is necessary!

Belgians banning teams

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The government today banned British soccer teams from playing in Belgium "until further notice" following the stadium riot in which 38 people were killed.

A government spokesman said in answer to a question that the ban covered all English, Scottish and Welsh teams, professional or amateur, and stressed it applied only to soccer.

A government statement announcing the ban was issued after a regular Cabinet meeting at which ministers discussed the Heysel stadium tragedy before a European Cup final between England's Liverpool and Italy's Juventus clubs.

The ban was imposed on the recommendation of Interior Minister Charles-Ferdinand Nbthomb, the government said.

In a panic that broke out after Liverpool fans surged into an area of the grandstand occupied by Italian supporters, 38 people were trampled or crushed to death, and 454 people injured.

British soccer officials, pressed by Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, had already said they may themselves ban English clubs from travelling to Europe.

The Union of European Football Associations may also ban English clubs from European competitions, an action that would bar English clubs from prestigious and lucrative international competition.

Belgian officials blamed England's Liverpool fans for starting the riot, but there also was criticism of security arrangements at Heysel Stadium.

The Red Cross told reporters today that 454 people were treated for injuries after the riot.

Mexico agrees to supply oil

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has agreed to supply financially strapped Nicaragua with 320,000 barrels of oil in the coming months, the government said Thursday.

The arrangement provides for financing the purchase at concessional terms in line with a 1980 cooperation agreement.

Agriculture Secretary Eduardo Pesqueira Olea announced the agreement after a meeting of a joint Mexican-Nicaraguan economic commission, held this week in Managua, Nicaragua.

Reports carried by the government news agency Notimex and the newspaper El Nacional said the oil would be supplied over the July-September period.

An additional 410,000 barrels of oil would be provided in the final three months of the year, at credit terms to be worked out later, the reports said.

Nicaragua, wracked by civil war, has had difficulty paying its bills. Venezuela cut off oil shipments to Nicaragua when it got behind in its payments.

Mexico, too, had turned off the spigot. But a government statement issued earlier in the week said that in March, Mexico had sent an emergency shipment of 250,000 barrels of oil.

Last week, Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega said the Soviet Union promised to provide his country with 80 percent to 90 percent of its oil needs this year.

The Reagan administration, saying it's worried about the leftist Sandinista government's ties to the Kremlin, announced on May 1 it would impose a trade embargo against Nicaragua.

Mexico and Venezuela, the main oil exporters in Latin America, have been providing oil to eight Central American and Caribbean nations since 1980 under the San Jose pact that provides easy credit terms for those countries.

Last August, the pact was renewed but the credit terms were tightened somewhat, a reflection of the soft international oil market that has meant lower oil prices and smaller revenues to many oil-exporting countries.

Motorcycle, car collide

Four minor traffic mishaps — one involving a motorcycle and car collision — were reported in Snyder Thursday.

The day's last accident, reported around 11:11 p.m. at the intersection of Farm Road 2763 and College Ave., involved a 1982 Yamaha motorcycle driven by Lenny Randolph Buff of 4400 Ave. U and a 1981 Oldsmobile driven by Patricia Sanchez of 1800 Scott St.

No injuries were reported from it or any of Thursday's accidents.

Involved in the first at 8:47 a.m. in the 1500 Block of 24th St. were a 1979 Ford driven by Connie Zamora Martinez of Rt. 3, Snyder and a 1971 Oldsmobile driven by Eduardo Martinez Jr. of 308 31st St.

The day's second accident occurred at 5:27 p.m. in the 2100 Block of Ave. N.

Involved in it was a 1977 AMC driven by Shawn Gould of 112 Browning Ave. which struck a parked 1978 Plymouth owned by John Brown of Lubbock.

The parking lot of the Skinney's Convenience Store on the East Highway was the scene of the third mishap at 10:09 p.m.

According to reports, an unattended 1978 Chevrolet owned by Olen Burditt of 1802 Ave. M rolled away from its parking place and struck a parked 1977 Chevrolet owned by Felix Garanado of 2410 27th St.

Mississippi trucker is killed

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP) — An Illinois woman charged with killing a Mississippi truck driver allegedly told police she pulled the trigger because "she'd never shot anybody before."

Donna Louise Strok, 20, of Romeoville, Ill., was charged with murder and was held in lieu of $50,000 bond in connection with the Thursday death of Marty E. Tune, 22, of Union, Miss., Bowie County Sheriff Thomas Hodge said.

Ms. Strok had allegedly hitched a ride and was in the sleeping compartment of Tune's truck when he was shot three times in the back with his pistol, Hodge said.

A deputy told the Texarkana Gazette that Ms. Strok told police she was going to shoot herself, then shot the truck driver because "she'd never shot anybody before."

Police found Tune's body Thursday morning in his truck, which lay on its side beside Interstate 30 about 10 miles west of New Boston, Texas.

Ms. Strok was arrested at the scene after she allegedly told a motorist to "call the sheriff's department; I shot him," Hodge said.

Officials at Marathon Freight Lines in Noxapeter, Miss., where Tune worked, said Tune had picked up a load of lumber Wednesday in Tennessee and was en route to Dallas.

Hodge said investigators learned that Tune picked up Ms. Strok up sometime late Wednesday at an Arkansas truck stop.

"She got into the sleeper compartment of the truck, there she saw a .357" gun, Hodge said, adding that she allegedly "pulled the pistol out and cocked it and shot him while he was driving."

Hodge said a motorist following the truck told deputies the truck swerved off the road several times before it entered the ditch and overturned.

Ms. Strok got out uninjured, and began hitchhiking again, Hodge said.

Hodge said Ms. Strok then saw motorists who had stopped near the truck and "asked them to take her to the sheriff's department," Hodge said.

Funeral services are pending at Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home for 60-year-old Bobby Joe Lacky of the Strayhorn Farm north of Snyder.

Sheriff's department investigators reported that Lacky was found dead by David Strayhorn shortly before 7:45 a.m. Friday.

Justice of the Peace Dan Callaway has yet to officially rule on the cause of death but investigators said he was found inside an automobile at his residence with a hose running from the exhaust to the interior of the vehicle.

Unemployed man returns money

MARSHALL, Texas (AP) — An unemployed man says he was just doing what his father always told him — "never to take anything that didn't belong to me."

Donald Yeager, 19, who supports his wife and 3-month-old daughter by selling cans to recycling centers, was cited by police for good citzenship for turning over $950 he found while picking up cans by the roadside.

"I know the money could have come in handy," Yeager said. "But it wasn't ours and we couldn't keep it. My father always told me never to take anything that didn't belong to me."

He found the $950, which had been stolen from a local lumber company, in a discarded cash register drawer lying by a road while he was on a can-hunting expedition May 23.

"I didn't touch it. I jumped back on my bike and headed back to the house and called police," Yeager said.

Marshall Police Chief Chuck Williams presented Yeager with a citation for good citizenship Wednesday.

2 separate fights reported to police

Reports of gunshots and fighting with knives produced two separate police incidents Thursday night, but both ended with involved parties to date declining to file formal charges.

Officers responded at 8:57 p.m. to a report of gunshots being fired in the 800 Block of 16th St.

When they arrived at the scene they found that shots had been fired but there were no injuries or property damage. Two weapons were seized, however, and one man was arrested for public intoxication.

At 11:50 p.m. a fight involving knives with two persons wounded was reported in the 1400 Block of Ave. M.

Officers who went to the scene reported that two men had been wounded but neither requested medical treatment.

One of the fight victims was later taken to Cogdell Hospital for treatment but no charges have been filed in the incident and no arrests made.

In other action Thursday, two subjects were jailed for public intoxication and disorderly conduct while a third was arrested for public intoxication only.

One man was jailed early Thursday afternoon for driving with a suspended license and the sixth suspect of the day was charged with driving while intoxicated.

In 1704, American colonists in Deerfield, Mass., were attacked by Indians.

SPRAY PECAN TREES FOR CASEBEARER

Using observation made by Deanna Myers, county entomologist, and predictions made using temperature models, we have set the spray schedule for the Pecan Nut Casebearer for May 30 through June 3.

Remember the Pecan Nut Casebearer is a perennial pest that can completely destroy a pecan crop if not controlled. Also, remember the casebearer has three generations per year and they are approximately 42 days apart. The total nut loss is usually greater during the spring generation because an individual larvae may destroy a complete nut cluster. Later generations usually damage one or two nuts in the cluster.

Insecticides recommended for casebearer control include Sevin, Malathion and Zolone. Homeowners may want to include a fungicide such as Benomyl for scab control, and NZN should be added for growth and control of rosette. A good mixture for homeowners would be four tablespoons of Zolone, six teaspoons of NZN and three tablespoons of Benomyl per three gallons of water. Other insecticides can be substituted for Zolone according to the manufacturers label recommendation.

The most important part of this mixture of course is the insecticide for the control of the pecan nut casebearer, the other ingredients can be added at the discretion of the homeowner.
