Rainfall brings welcomed relief

Rainfall of varying amounts was reported in Mitchell County Thursday, but it is too soon to decide if the moisture will be enough to help the 1990 cotton crop.

Extension Agent Bryan Limmer said for those producers who planted late, the rain should "boost it pretty good". However, for the cotton already blooming, the rain just might be a case of "too little too late", said Limmer.

"If we can get some more rain this weekend, it'll help that cotton that's already blooming," he said.

He added that because of the cooler temperatures that accompanied the rain, the moisture won't evaporate as quickly which will give it a chance to soak in and reach the plants' root systems.

Limmer said that once the cotton starts blooming, it's a critical time as far as the plant being able to set a fruit load.

"Of course, we never thought the crop would look as good as it does at this point because of the lack of moisture we've had this year," said Limmer.

Colorado City received .40 inches of precipitation Thursday and more rain was expected Friday with heavy cloud cover causing intermittent sprinkles Friday morning.

Other rainfall totals Thursday included .90 at Westbrook, .50 at Loraine, .75 north of Loraine and .27 at Lake Colorado City. There were reports in the Westbrook area of over an inch of rain.

Hospital's board determined to see its doors remain open

Mitchell County Hospital is a vital part of this area and its board of directors is committed to seeing that it continue to serve and meet the medical needs of residents, said Marion Bassham, who has taken over as chairman of the board following the resignation of Gus Armstrong. She had been vice chairman.

Bassham said that the board is determined to see that the hospital's doors stay open and that with the help of Lubbock's Methodist Hospital, which is providing administrative services, the hospital will not close as many other small hospitals have.

"The hospital always has been of great interest to me," said Bassham, a retired registered nurse. "I'm proud to be associated with the hospital and the people who work there are anxious that we stay open."

"The Methodist Hospital people have been really helpful," she said. "Much of Methodist Hospital's patient load comes from areas other than Lubbock and they want to help us stay open because it will benefit them."

She said accounts receivable is in better shape now because of new billing procedures started by newly named administrator Jim Bullard.

"Methodist Hospital can also save us money by allowing us to order our supplies through Lubbock because they can order in bulk," she said. "They'll also be able to help us in possibly acquiring equipment that they no longer need, but which we do."

"Mitchell County Hospital is one of the best-equipped small hospitals in this area and we want to see that it maintains that reputation," said Bassham.

She noted that the hospital is continuing to improve the services it offers and and is always looking at ways to provide new services.

Starting Monday, the hospital will be providing complete physical therapy services. Jim Villers and Scott Stubblefield of Angelo PT, Inc., will be here each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday to provide services the hospital's well-equipped physical therapy department.

Dr. Mark Wimpee, a surgeon from San Angelo, will be here one Tuesday a month to perform orthopedic surgeries.

Other new equipment at the hospital includes a birthing bed and a CAT scanner.

"The Pink Ladies bought the birthing bed for the hospital, and we are most appreciative of them for all they do for the hospital," said Bassham.

The scanner has been in operation about two weeks and is averaging about 10 scans a week.

Bassham said one of the hospital's greatest assets is its employees.

"The nurses and employees have been most cooperative and understanding," she said. "If the patient census is low, the RNs and LVNs voluntarily take off. And many of the nurses have taken on added responsibilities in other areas in order to cut down on expenses."

She said the hospital is continually looking for ways to cut expenses while at the same time provide quality medical care to its patients.

"In some instances, as people leave, we're not replacing some of them in order to save money," she said. "We haven't had to lay off anyone."

Kidney transplant patient improving

Glenda Wallace of Colorado City was reportedly doing well Friday after receiving a kidney transplant in Dallas.

Her older brother, Lee, donated the kidney and doctors said they were pleased with how well the operation went and said the transplanted kidney was already functioning.

Lee was to have been transferred to a private room and Glenda was to have been transferred to a private room on Friday.

The operation was performed at Methodist Medical Center, 301 West Cole, Dallas, Texas 75208, 1-214-944-8181.

Glenda, a student at Westbrook High School, is expected to stay two weeks in the hospital and then be an outpatient for another two weeks.

Glenda is the daughter of Mrs. Linda Wallace of Colorado City and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McMahan of Colorado City.

A fund has been established at City National Bank to help defray expenses.

Police make drug arrests

Three Colorado City residents were arrested and charged with drug-related violations following an undercover drug operation this week and a warrant has been issued for another suspect, Police Chief Bobby Sparks said Friday.

Arrested Thursday and charged with possession of a controlled substance (cocaine) was Ricky Lynn Sanford, 35. He was released on bond.

Arrested Friday and charged with delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine) was Eddie Carrasco Diaz, 22. He was jailed under $3,000 bond.

Also arrested Friday was Robert Luera Gomez, 25. He was charged with delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine) and was released after posting $3,000 bond.

Sparks said his department is still has one more felony warrant to be served on a local resident in connection with the undercover drug operation.

'Night' golf tournament set Friday

Entries are still being accepted in the First Ever Night Golf Tournament at Wolf Creek Golf Course on Friday, July 20.

The event is being sponsored by the Mitchell Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Entry fee for the four-person scramble is $35 per person and includes a steak dinner and one Nightlite golfball.

The tourney will follow an ABCD format with play for the first nine holes to begin at 5:30 p.m. The dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the second nine holes will be played at 9:30 p.m.

Ray Mayo, president of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, said the public is invited to join in the fun.

"Come on out and watch as the golfers try their luck with the lighted golf balls," he said. "The public is also invited to the dinner."

Tickets are $12.50 each and may be purchased from any

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE - State Rep. Robert Junell speaks to members of the Colorado City Rotary Club Wednesday. A crowd of about 75 was on hand for the noon luncheon as Junell gave a legislative update.

Pond hearing postponed

The Texas Water Commission has postponed a hearing on the construction of a proposed waste water holding pond in Mitchell County until Sept. 6. The hearing originally was scheduled for Monday.

Harold Brennand, owner of the land where the Colorado River Municipal Water District (CRMWD) wants to construct the pond, is opposing the project and asked for and received a delay because he hired a new attorney who needs more time to prepare arguments.

The pond would keep saltwater and treated sewage from going downstream to Lake Spence and Lake Ivie.

The CRMWD filed application to the water commission seven months ago and this marks the second time the hearing has been moved back. The first hearing was to be in May.

Joe Pickle, public information officer of the CRMWD, said

Board accepts resignations

The Colorado ISD board of trustees Thursday night accepted five resignations from the teaching staff and hired one new teacher.

The board accepted with regret the resignations of Becky Harrell, Debbie Vines, Ed Wilson, Kim Stewart Wilson and Gaye Carpenter.

"The school district wishes them well in their future educational endeavors," said Asst. Supt. Don Nimmo.

Hired was Kristi Hartwick who will be a Plan A teacher for the upcoming school year.

In other business, the board was presented and studied the proposed budget as presented by the Mitchell County Appraisal District.

The board also discussed the local government records act.

CISD

New regulations require the school district to designate someone to be in charge of maintaining and keeping its records. Nimmo said the board will probably make that decision at the next meeting.

The board approved board policy update 36 from the Texas Association of School Boards. Nimmo said the policy contains the revised wording in the teacher contracts.

other holding ponds, one about four miles southeast of Big Spring and the other about three miles northwest of Colorado City, are more than 80 percent full which is resulting in undrinkable water going downstream to Lake Spence.

Part of the bad water going downstream is effluent because about three million gallons of effluent a day is discharged into Beals Creek.

Red Draw Lake in Howard County and Barber Lake in Mitchell County have a combined storage capacity of 9,500-acre feet of water. The proposed pond on Brennand's land would hold as much as 28,000-acre feet.

Letter to the Editor

Thank you,

Dear Citizens of Mitchell County:

This American Cancer Crusade is about to come to a close and the Mitchell Unit board would like to say "Thanks".... Those of us on the board are volunteers, but we could not do our job without those of you who help with the door-to-door campaign, those of you who donate with every penny and every dollar being appreciated.

To date we have received back into Mitchell County over $4,000 in public education, $5,000 in patient services serving 21 patients. Hardly a day goes by that one of the board does not get a call requesting information, someone needing some assistance, one needing a ride to a treatment center, or a family member or cancer patient just needing to talk.

Friday, July 20th, a "Night" golf tournament will be held at Wolf Creek Golf Course as a special event of the ACS. If you don't play golf, come out and watch and join us for a rib-eye steak dinner. The meal alone is $12.50; the entry fee for the tournament is $35 per person and that includes the meal. It should be interesting and entertaining to watch those lighted balls going through the air. Tickets are available through any board member, the Colorado City Record and First National Bank.

We, the volunteers, on the board, or in any capacity, are motivated by concern for the health and lives of our fellow citizens. You, of Mitchell County, have continued to share this concern. Thank you, again.

Sincerely,
Mitchell Unit
American Cancer Society

Calaway, Reed exchange vows

Carla Marcelle Calaway of Hereford and Reed Galen Powell of Colorado City exchanged wedding vows at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 14, 1990 at the historic Hudspeth Bed & Breakfast Inn in Canyon.

Justice of the Peace Hale of Canyon officiated at the formal single ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Calaway of Colorado City. The groom's parents are Mrs. Judith J. Maisel of Jenks, Okla. and Donald Lewis Powell of San Angelo.

The Wedding March was played by Wendy Smith on an antique player piano. Instrumental music by Randy Travis was played as guests arrived.

The bride was escorted by her father down the 1909 staircase with antique stained glass windows in the background. The ceremony was conducted in the parlor in front of the fireplace which was accented with two 21-stem vintage Spanish candelabras from a Mexico City cathedral. The candelabras held ivory candles, accented with lacy and ivy. A eucoliptis wreath hung over the mantle.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal length gown of candlelight lace.

The dress was form-fitting with lace sleeves accented with droplets of pearls. The bodice and shoulders were appliqued laced and iridescent sequins. A band of lace encircled the high neckline and outlined the oval shaped sheer yoke. The back was open with a silk bow at the waist line.

Her full fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion fell in tiers from a derby hat fashioned of silk organza and accented with matching lace encrusted with seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascading silk bouquet designed of ivory and mauve roses and azalea blossoms. Mauve gypsophila, antique lace and seed pearls adorned the bouquet. The bouquet was created by Marsha Burrus, friend of the bride, of Colorado City.

Miss Cody Michelle Calaway of Hereford served as maid of honor. She wore a tea length dress of mauve and pink floral print. The open back was accented with three bows. She wore mauve and pink roses in her hair. She carried a lace umbrella adorned with pink roses, baby's breath and mauve satin ribbon.

Honorary bridesmaid was Heather Nicole Calaway of Hereford, niece of the bride.

Dane Lay Powell of Colorado City served as best man.

The groom and groomsmen were dressed brown western tuxedos with beige shirts accented with mauve roses.

The bride's mother was escorted by her son, Randal Carl Calaway of Hereford.

The groom's mother was escorted by her son, Dane Lay Powell of Colorado City.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Georgia O'Keefe dining room. The bride's table featured a three-tiered strawberry cake adorned with mauve and ivory flowers. Silver candelabras and silver service set accented the table covered with a mauve cloth and ecru overlay. Mints, nuts and strawberry punch also was served.

The groom's table was covered with an antique lace cloth with mauve and pink roses in an antique crystal vase. Italian cream cake and coffee was served.

Members of the house party were Page Powell of Colorado City and Blis Powell of Jenks, Okla., sisters of the groom. Karen Ward of Lewisville, cousin of the bride, presided at the registry table. Rice bags were distributed by Michael Calaway of Hereford, nephew of the bride, and Brittany and Kali Powell of Colorado City, nieces of the groom.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will reside at 142 Northwest Drive, Hereford.

A fiesta dinner was given for the couple by Mr. and Mrs. William Maisel on Friday, July 13. The dinner was held at the Hudspeth House outside on the wooden deck.

A bridal brunch was given at the home of Glenna Calaway on June 30. Quiche, salad, fruit and dip, croissants, coffee and tea was served.

Sam & Aline Tarter
...to observe golden wedding anniversary

Mr., Mrs. Tarter to note 50th wedding anniversary

Sam and Aline Tarter of Irving will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 22, in Colorado City at the Housing Authority building after the Tarter-Garrett family reunion.

The reception will be from 2-4 p.m. and will be hosted by the couple's children and grandchildren.

Mr. Tarter was born in Dublin in Erath County and the former Aline Payne was born in Liberty in Hunt County. The couple met in Colorado City and were married on June 23, 1940 in Colorado City where they lived until 1968 when they moved to Irving.

They have two children, Dorothy Allsup of Phoenix, Ariz. and Kenneth Tarter of Fort Worth. They have three granddaughters, Jolynda Trevino of Dallas, Marcia Dickson of El Paso and J'Lene Allsup of Phoenix, Ariz., and two great-grandchildren, Michael and Amanda Trevino of Dallas.

The couple invites relatives and friends to stop by and visit. No gifts, please.

Batley, Erwin married June 16

Kelly Jeannette Batley and Troy Don Erwin exchanged wedding vows June 16, 1990 at 2 p.m. in an outdoor ceremony at the bride's parent's home in Plainview. Dr. Fred Meeks, Baptist minister, officiated.

Parents of the bride are A. W. and Barbara DeBerry of Plainview. Erwin is the son of Doris Mitchell of Sweetwater and Jerry Erwin of Midland and the grandson of Mary and Casey Oliver and Mrs. A. J. Mitchell of Colorado City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white crystalline gown embroidered with lace and pearls featuring a high lace edged neckline and strands of pearls draped across the back of the bodice. Crystalline ruffles topped the sheer illusion tapered sleeves and appliques of lace embroidered with pearls and crystals highlighted the full skirt. Double rows of ruffles swept around the edge of the skirt to a cascade of ruffles in the back.

A circlet of flowers accented with pearls held a pouf of illusion and a tiered pencil edged veil.

Bridesmaids were Celinda Sandlin, Susan Batley of San Antonio, the bride's sister, and Mendy Speck. They wore tea length dresses in a spring bouquet print and carried baskets of spring flowers.

Michael Parks was best man. Groomsmen were Mark Mull and Darron DeBerry, the bride's stepbrother. Mitzi Zschiesche registered guests. Musical selections were presented by Karen Sandlin, pianist, and Heather Zschiesche, vocalist.

A reception was held after the ceremony. Assistants were Marnie Meeks and Debra Zschiesche.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will reside in Plainview. The bride is a 1990 graduate of Plainview High School and will be a student at Wayland Baptist University. She is employed by Caprock Mobile Phone.

Erwin is a 1986 graduate of Colorado City High School and is employed by Wal-Mart Distribution Center.

A rehearsal dinner was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Zschiesche. Hostesses for a bridal shower in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Speck were Gayle Speck, Mendy Speck, Martha Amick, Lottie Boedeker, Judy Davis, Yvonne Dixson, Peggy Eversole, Lanell Julian, Erin Martin, Wanda Palmer, Jeanie Pennell and Debra Zschiesche.

PUBLIC MEETING

Dear Friend:

Water, this area's most precious resource is being threatened by the proposal to build the world's largest hazardous waste landfill in Mitchell County. The proposed site lies on the Upper Colorado River Watershed.

EPA acknowledges that all landfills eventually leak (ASCE Sept. 1981). Can we afford to pollute our rivers and lakes?

We invite you to attend a town meeting to hear the WHOLE TRUTH about this issue and not the sales pitch of a Pennsylvania company.

WHAT: TOWN MEETING: Hear from experts and ordinary citizens of other towns who are suffering from the effects of hazardouswaste landfills.

WHEN: July 20th, 1990 7:00 P.M.

WHERE: Civic Center
Colorado City, Texas

Dear Editor:

In 1984, with a four month child, my husband and I moved to Sumter County, Alabama. As we traveled up and down Highway 17, that parallels the Mississippi-Alabama state line, we often wondered what was on the other side of the fence in the little town called Emelle. There was no sign to indicate what was behind it or what made it necessary for such security in a rural, sparsely populated area of the South.

Little did we know that it was the largest toxic waste facility in the United States, and to our knowledge, the world.

I look back and think just how naive I was then and how much I have learned to date. The knowledge has come through sacrifice. The sacrifice has been the traveling I do, trying to share my knowledge with others. It has also been by allowing myself to get close to families who have suffered because of exposure to toxic waste facilities and also from begin ostracized in my own community.

There was a time in the past when someone would share news with me and I would say, "I can't believe it!". Now, I respond with, "I'm not surprised.".

My husband's family goes back over 100 years here. We were looking for a place to give our son roots and a sense of belonging. We thought we had found the small town life like the one I had when I was growing up.

It had been a long time since I had lived anywhere other than the city but we were prepared to become productive citizens in a beautiful old town that now appears to me as an animal, wounded with all the life forces slowing draining out.

What do toxic waste facilities mean to communities? Let me share some things with you.

The main thing is that elected officials become what is known as Toxic Waste Junkies. They have become so addicted to the toxic waste tax that comes to the county that they can't even begin to think about life without it. They are so rabid for the money that the health problems and socioeconomic problems take a back seat, in the speaking and in their writing.

Here in Livingston, where I live the city received, in 1989, $390,140.68. That is the revenue from which the Mayor, the City Administrator, and others get their pay. The elected officials are biased and have very little tolerance for anyone who has the nerve to be assertive enough to tell the truth about our environment.

Our City Attorney is also the attorney for the toxic waste dump, Our Chief of Police provides a security service for the dump.

No one in City Hall ever tells about how the hopsital here in our town closed or how the substance abuse center right behind it closed. They never tell of how our unemployment has been at times, over 20% since the toxic waste started rolling in. They tell now of how it is lower but never tell that our unemployment rate here is always higher than either the state or federal average. Since 1982, we have had a negative 4.4% population growth. If we were to add back into the unemployment figures the numbers of workers who have left the county, we would have a true picture of what happens when toxics move in.

Did the folks at City Hall tell you about McGregor Printing, one of the largest employers in our county moving right across the state line and opening up there? Did he tell you about Custom Sheeting, another major employer doing the same thing? Did he tell you of the shoe store, the fashion store, the dry cleaning business, the Church's Chicken, the Dairy Bar, the Pasquale's Pizza that closed? Did he tell you about the block long office building next to the Courthouse that has over half of the office suites empty?

I am sure that you were told of the businesses that have come in, the sewing plant, the hamburger place - all minimum wage jobs with very few employees. Did anyone tell you the average family income in Sumter County is $7,000 per year?

We cannot and we will not be able in the future to attract any lucrative employers. No one wants their families moved in a county with a toxic waste facility. The adjoining town of York looks like a ghost town with abandoned buildings and struggling businesses. The only thing that keeps my town of Livingston going is the small college located here. But of course, they got $429,154.74 from the toxic waste tax so they think it's wonderful too.

Hazardous waste facilities will only make other hazardous waste facilities come your way. Your image will be one of a community that is easy to gain access to and therefore, if there is an incinerator, there should be a dump for the ash. If they have a hazardous waste facility then they should have a garbage or a low level nuclear one as well. And in many communities to which I travel, since they have become sacrifice zones with garbage and hazardous waste, they are being considered for prisons.

Also, the sites start out small, sometimes less than 100 acres and they grow just like a cancer. The property will become worthless as the domino effect occurs. Because the property values are rock bottom the toxic waste company will buy and expand to the edge of that property. Then, the next property will likewise become worthless and be absorbed in by the company.

The Mayor of Emelle, in 1987, in a public hearing here was quoted in regional and state newspapers as he told about the devaluation of his home. The Mayor, James Dailey, is also a school teacher and has a very nice brick home in the town where the toxic waste is dumped. He told the story of how his house, in rural Alabama was valued at $60,000.00. A few years after the toxics started rolling in at the rate of hundreds of trucks a day through the community, he decided to do some remodeling. He went back to his bank and asked for a home improvement loan. The bank asked him to have a reassessment since it had been a few years. He did and went back to inquire about his loan. The bank told him that they would have to refuse his request because his house was now worth only $15,000.00. He was shocked. He asked how this could happen. He was told that because the house was now situated next to the toxic waste facility it had been depreciated that much and because of its location they could not approve this loan because if he were to default, they wouldn't be able to find a buyer because no one would want to live in it where it was.

If anyone doubts these facts, I have included copies of articles and documents and things to document what I have told you.

It is only out of care for your community that I share this with you. If not out of concern for your future, please remember the legacy that you will be leaving future generations for your whole region of Texas if you allow this to happen.

Remember, the environment is not inherited from our ancestors, but borrowed from our children.

Sincerely,
Linda Wallace Campbell

Major League All-Stars take win over Sweetwater

On Tuesday, July 10, the Major League All-Stars defeated the Sweetwater All-Stafs by a narrow margin of 3-1 in the first game of the Major League All-Star Tournament in Hamlin.

The game was a defensive battle for both teams until the bottom half of the fourth inning. The momentum of the game then swayed to the Colorado City as Frank Espinosa doubled. Kyle Moore also doubled driving in Espinosa to take a 1-0 lead.

The All-Stars then received basehits from Jeff Hill and Jerry Chiveria to load up the bases. Cole Lindsey was brought in to pinch run for Hill, and Andy Gomez, who had an excellent field day at second base, doubled and brought in two runs to increase the lead to 3-0.

The fifth inning was dry for both teams, but in the top of the sixth, a Sweetwater batter had his "power stroke" going as he sent a line drive over the fence to keep his team's hopes alive, but that would be the only run that Alvin Crawford would allow.

Crawford won the pitching duel "fanning" 11 opponents while giving up 3 hits, and 1 BB. Dusty Robinson came through behind the plate "gunning down" two base stealers, while Gomez put up a tough front at second base fielding extremely well.

"The kids played well," said Rick Robinson, manager for the All-Stars. "They (All-Stars) hit off one of the best pitchers in the tournament."

The All-Stars played Saturday against the winner between Snyder and Hamlin. Results will be Thursday's issue.

Abilene teams stop C-City's hopes for tournament victory

The Senior League All-Stars began their play on Monday night, July 9, in the Abilene All-Star Tournament.

The All-Stars met up with Coleman in round one and played good fundamental baseball as Colorado City came away with the victory, 8-3.

The All-Stars drew first blood in the second inning when a Shane Jones bunt allowed Chris Phillips to score and take a 1-0 lead.

Coleman then pulled ahead in the top of the third inning, 1-2;however, Johnny Martinez, Phillips, Doug Conner, Joey Arispe, and Richard Gomez all had consecutive base hits to earn four runs. By innings end, the All-Stars would also pick up two more runs on errors to take a 7-2 lead.

Coleman scraped up another run in the fifth, but Conner came through with a base hit in the seventh to lead off Colorado City. Jones attempted to bunt which enabled Conner to advance to third. Cody Parker was next up to bat and hit a long fly ball to left field allowing Conner to tag up and score the final run of the evening, 8-3.

Gomez pitched in the victory in which he recorded five KO's, while teammate, Chris Phillips went 3-4 at the plate.

As the All-Stars played game two on Tuesday, July 10, Abilene North came to play hard-nosed baseball to take the win 20-0.

Abilene took a 3-0 lead in the first inning and never stopped the offensive attack, and on the defensive side, the North had a pitcher who managed to chalk up 15 KO's and pitch a no hitter. The All-Stars just were outclassed in a tournament where larger cities have the advantage.

In game three on Thursday night, Colorado City faced the defending champions, the Abilene Seniors. This ball club had three individuals who could hit the long ball, and that they did as three home runs accounted for 9 runs in the game in which the All-Stars were defeated 17-1.

Comanche Peak unit at 100 percent

DALLAS--Unit 1 of the Comanche Peak nuclear power plant generated power at the 100 percent level for the first time at 6:19 a.m. July 13, plant owner TU Electric announced.

The unit has been in the power ascension testing phase since receiving its full-power operating license from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission on April 17.

Plans call for Unit 1 to be operated at 95 to 100 percent power for about one week, during which time full power testing will be conducted. Subsequent tests will involve reducing power by 10 and ten 50 percent, and returning to 100 percent power, followed by a complete shutdown from the 100 percent power level.

After confirmation of test results, the unit will return to full power and will continue providing power to TU Electric's customers. Except for shutdowns for testing and for routine maintenance, Unit 1 has been supplying electricity to customers since April 24.

TU Electric has filed a petition with the Texas Public Utility Commission in order to establish a docket for showing satisfaction of all requirements for commercial operation, including operation at 95 percent power or above for 100 consecutive hours.

Comanche Peak is located near Glen Rose. Unit 1 has enough generating capacity to supply electricity to about 40 percent of a city the size of Dallas.

TU Electric provides electric service to more than 5 million people in 87 counties of West, North Central and East Texas.

County Agriculture

NOTES

by BRYAN LIMMER
County Extension Agent-Ag

Can you believe it finally rained. Most people had to reach back in their memory to figure out what was falling from the sky Thursday morning. The moisture is certainly welcome by all agriculture producers in the county. Grass pastures, hay and cotton should receive a boost from the rainfall.

There has been some concern about livestock that are grazing hay fields contracting prussic acid poisoning. Prussic acid is a hydrocyanic acid which is a form of cyanide. Plants that are severely stressed develop the acid. The stress this time of year is drought stress, another stress factor is when the plants are hit by a hard freeze. One other stress factor is when a drought stressed plant receives a rain. One point to remember is that the acid is in a gas form and eventually leaves the plant 7-10 days after it has been cut. Cutting the pasture for baling and letting the hay dry properly renders it virtually non toxic to livestock.

Another problem that has crept up on us is nitrate poisoning. There may be some instances where prussic acid poisoning is actually nitrate poisoning.

Nitrates can be a problem in fields that are drought stressed, fields that received a rain after a drought or fields that received excessive nitrogen fertilizer. Nitrates accumulate at night, on cloudy days and when day time temperatures are cool. Nitrates are concentrated mainly in plant stalks. There is lesser amounts in the leaves and very little in the fruit or grain. Prussic acid usually is accumulated in the succulent, rapidly growing portions of the plant but can be found throughout. In both cases, livestock that are on a low level of nutrition are more susceptible than fleshy livestock. Sheep are more tolerant to nitrate poisoning than cattle.

The cause of death from the two types of poisoning need to be considered when making a prognosis. Visiting with Dr. Alfred Vademan at the Mitchell County Vet. Clinic revealed some things that need to be looked at. Livestock that die of prussic acid poisoning will have a bright, cherry red color to the blood. Death is at the cellular level and the tissues are starved and oxygen builds up in the blood causing the brilliant color. In the case of nitrate poisoning, the blood has a dark brown tinge almost resembling a chocolate color. This is because the nitrates reduce the oxygen carrying capacity of the blood and starve the body of oxygen.

Producers need to be aware that the recent rainfall may trigger some problems in fields with sorghum, sudan and johnsongrass. Those wishing to see about the levels of nitrates can take a forage sample and have it analyzed. For more information about forage testing contact the Mitchell County Extension Service.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

As we go about our daily lives in Colorado City, some of us may forget we're not the only persons who have lived here. Since the 1880's men and women have labored to raise families, keep businesses going and to support churches. So, folks just like us have been inhabiting this town for the better part of the last 110 years.

For instance, there was Ernest Keathley. He moved to Colorado City in 1901 and later became involved in the insurance business. He also served as a bookkeeper for the Water, Light and Telephone Company, plus, he was City Secretary and also, the Assessor and Collector of Texas. Mr. Keathley worked to better his community by serving as clerk of the Woodman of the World Lodge and as secretary of the Home Circle Society. He was a busy man, much like many of the men in our community today.

Then there were J. R. Hastings, J. E. Jeffreys and Earl Morrison. They were partners in the Hastings Land Company. Hastings was considered a keen judge of real estate. He was a native of Missouri and had been involved in farming prior to his move to Colorado.

Mr. Jeffreys complimented the land company with his experience in real estate, while the third partner, Mr. Morrison, was a native of Mitchell County and had served as County Clerk for six years.

There were numerous other businesses in Colorado City in the early part of this century.

Colorado Drug was opened in 1906 and its owners, Gus Bertner and Max Thomas, employed four clerks.

Burns and Bell was the largest retail establishment in the city. According to one publication, the store catered "to the high class trade only." The store occupied 4000 square feet and it employed ten clerks, tailors and fitters. In addition to the dry goods store, Burns and Bell also had a grocery store in the same block as their general store.

In 1898 the firm of Gilbert and Singleton opened in Colorado. It was a wholesale grocery outlet and was noted for its large selection of fresh meats and country produce and the facility had a large refrigerating unit. Mr. Gilbert was a native of Alabama and before moving to Colorado City, he had managed a market for seven years in Thurber. His partner, Mr. Singleton, was from Missouri and was experienced in the meat producing business.

Early day Colorado was also blessed with some industry. The Colorado Salt Company had been established in 1886 and in 1900 was incorporated with capital of $50,000. By 1907 the capital was increased to $100,000. The facility was located just east of the present day Wallace Community Center. All grades of salt were manufactured from 99.986% brine which was pumped from the earth.

There was also Colorado Oil and Cotton Company. It employed 175 men and was capitalized at $250,000. John Guitar was president of the company. Colorado Oil and Cotton handled 30,000 bales of cotton in 1909 and cotton seed meal and cotton seed cake were shipped directly to England and other European countries, from Colorado City.

Also during this same time period, (the early 1900's), Loraine and Westbrook were bustling with civic pride and the two communities had expanding economies. Next week, we'll brag on those two towns.

Art show scheduled at bank

The First National Bank will be hosting an art exhibit of paintings and pottery by Carolyn Walker. The exhibit is open to the public during regular banking hours. The artwork will be on display from July 16 through July 20.

Mrs. Walker is a native of West Texas and has lived in Colorado City for a number of years. Her husband, Charles, is the court reporter for the 32nd Judicial District. Their sons are college students; Mark is a senior at Angelo State, and Scott is a freshman at Western Texas.

Mrs. Walker is currently the art instructor at Colorado High School. She will receive her Master's Degree in August from Sul Ross State University. She has won numerous art awards for her paintings including "Best of Show" awards. One of her paintings was recently purchased by the Teacher Retirement System of Texas and the painting will hang in Austin in their permanent collection.

Everyone is cordially invited to come to the First National Bank and see the exhibit.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

In 1983, TDA helped organize the first farmers markets in Sherman, Tyler, Vernon, and Waco. Today, more than 90 TDA-assisted farmers markets are scattered across the state. Sales exceeded $30 million in 1989, with the average farmer earning about $8,500 from market sales. This year, some 3,700 farmers will participate in farmers markets, with sales expected to top $34 million. And while fruit and vegetables remain the mainstay of these markets, many producers are now selling eggs, honey, fresh-ground cornmeal, wheat flour, fresh herbs and cut flowers.

The farmers who participate in these markets are both large and small-scale operators. They are producers who want to diversify--trying new sales outlets, new farm products, and new ideas. Many of these farmers use a range of markets (retail, wholesale, on-farm and pick-your-own) to increase their income.

Shopping at farmers markets provides a different shopping experience than does your usual trip to the grocery store. Usually held in town squares, county fairgrounds, parks or mall parking lots, farmers markets give you the chance to deal directly with the grower and ask all those questions you ever wanted to ask about the produce you're about to buy. Growers will supply you with plastic, paper bags, and even egg cartons for your purchases, but you can bring your own, so you get a chance to do some recycling while supporting local producers.

Prices at farmers markets are at least competitive if not lower than what you'd find at the grocery store. With no middleman to siphon off some of the their profits, farmers pocket more money for their efforts. Vine-ripened produce is the rule rather than the exception, and some of it is organically raised by producers certified by TDA. Typically, only a day or two passes between harvest and final sale.

But you'll need to be an early riser. Most farmers will tell you that to get the best selection, you should be there when the doors open. It's not unusual to have to stand in line at growers' tables waiting for shelled cream peas or freshly cut flowers. Latecomers will miss out on these and many other specialty items.

There's no better place for buying in bulk than at farmers markets. You'll find bushels of your favorite vegetable or fruit, perfect for canning, preserving, pickling, or freezing, and usually at reduced prices.
