MEXICAN REVOLUTION NIPPED IN U. S.

SAN DIEGO RAID NETS 150 REBEL LEADERS SUNDAY

MACHINE GUNS, BULLETS AND ARMORED TRUCK ALSO SEIZED

(By The Associated Press)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 16.—Approximately 150 men, mobilized for a Mexican revolution under command of General Enrique Estrada, former Mexican secretary of war, were lodged in prisons here last night and a large quantity of arms and ammunition
seized by American authorities.
Agents of the United States justice-of peace aided by city, county and other federal officers, captured what was to have been an armed party of invading insurgents three miles from the Mexican border. Information gathered by government agents led them to the spirited rendezvous at Dulzura where General Estrada and his staff were concentrating their forces preparatory to a descent upon towns just below the border.
An armored truck, two 10 ton truck loads of rifles, machine guns and ammunition, other trucks for the transportation of men and supplies, and about 150 Mexicans made up the material and personnel of the captured expedition while government agents
also captured documentary evidence and complete sets of plans for the insurrection.
The most important capture was made yesterday when General Estrada
and his staff, including Earl E. C.
Parker, San Diego hardware and arm-dealer, were captured and brought into the city from Dulzura while the munition trucks were captured near La Mesa.

Big Truck Found

The captured arms included 400
Springfield rifles, two machine guns and 155,000 rounds of ammunition, and a miscellaneous assortment of small arms. Later a truck, protected with armor plates half an inch thick and weighing nearly six tons, was captured near Dulzura when the general
round-up of the rebel forces was made.
The San Diego county jail, unprepared for such an emergency, was able to accommodate only about one-third of the army and the remainder were sent to Fort Rosecrans. The leaders of the expedition were housed in the county jail, while the captured munition trucks were loaded on the trucks in the court yard of the jail.
Enrique Estrada, who gave himself only the modest title of civil engineer, was known to the federal agents

Fire Boys Called Out After "Resting"

After a period of near two weeks
without a call for the fire department,
an alarm was turned in Sunday morning to the effect that the Patterson Grain Co., 719 Main Street was on fire, when a passerby discovered a volume of smoke pouring from the building.
About the time that the firemen had broken down the front door of the establishment, they were informed that "impulsu supurgu uouq sea equos oust aetifly in the building for the purpose of fumigation and further than some damage to the entrance of the building, no harm was done to the building.

Fear of Pink Boll Scouted by College

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 16. (P)
—Texas cotton growers need not fear
the pink boll worm. San Antonio Chamber of Commerce agricultural officials and A. & M. College entomologists Monday denied reports of the appearance of the cotton pest.
The experts examined specimens said
to be infested by the pink boll worm and found the cotton bolls hollow, indicating the pest to be the old boll worm and not the deadly pink boll worm.

Only Disturbance In Mexico Sunday But Minor Affair

(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 16.—Except for a disturbance at the church of San Jacinto in the suburb of San Angel, during which the heads of a number of policemen and Catholics were bruised, Mexico's third priestless Sunday passed quietly.
Some of the churches in the capital
were comfortably filled with worshippers. There was less than the normal crowd at the shrine of Guadalupe, where the saying of the rosary was conducted by women leaders. At the Episcopal Christ Cathedral and Union church services with lay leaders in charge were held without any interference by government officials.
Uprising Is Truemed
The trouble at the church of San Jacinto arose from the fact that the police had received a report that the Catholics of San Angel were planning an armed uprising, while at the same time the Catholics had been informed the members of the Mexican or schis-matic, which does not recognize the pope, were planning to seize the church.
When the police went to the church to search for arms the Catholics assembled for the defense of the building. The police endeavored to disperse the crowd and failing called for soldiers, who fired in the air and then clubbed the crowd with their rifles. The Catholics in turn stoned the soldiers.
The Catholics were the police found the Catholics were not preparing for an uprising and the Catholics discovered that nobody was endeavoring to seize their church. Then the casualties went home to bandage their bruises. The police arrested a half dozen Catholic leaders and charged them with inciting the people to disorder.
Father Octaviano Rodriguez, a priest,
was among those arrested.
The economic boycott instituted because of government's religious regulations has caused attendance at movies in Mexico City to be reduced by 50 to 75 percent. It is asserted the league for the defense of religious liberty.

Flashes Of Life By Associated Press.

Trouble Brewing
PITTSFIELD, Mass.—The police are to order girls in knickers to go home and put on skirts. Some of the residents have been shocked by fair New York visitors to the Berkshire rolling 'em up and down so as to reveal the knees.

Hard To Explain
GENOA—Several hundred men
and women must tell the judge
why they have not worn as much clothing in swimming as the Fascisti think necessary for modesty.
There was quite some fighting
when the new costumes censor got the job.

Swimmers Are Oiled
SEABRIGHT, N. J.—The boys and girls here know how Trudie Ederle felt when she was prepared for her crawl through the channel. So much oil is coming in from steamships that bathers are being covered with it. They have to take a gasoline wash after a swim.

She Did It, Anyway
LONDON—And now the British newspapers are filled with protests that Trudie was able to make her swim only because she kept close to tugs which protected her from the turbulent channel. Perhaps next they'll be saying her grease bath enabled her to slide across.

Martyr Is Dead
LONDON—Martyr to science,
Dr. John Francis Hall-Edwards,
a pioneer in the use of X-Rays, is dead, after 28 years suffering. He was a Carnegie hero.

It's Different Now
VINAL HAVEN, Maine.—The Leviathan is to be flagship of the fleet that will take the American Legion to Paris next summer. The legion's tourist director announces.
There will be more room for everybody than when the boys had to take turns sleeping in war time.

General Rain Is Welcome On Plains
Another general rain fell over the South Plains Sunday night, according to reports received by The Journal today. Tatum, N. M. was recipient of the heaviest rain, with 2 1/2 inches registered. Seagraves had the next heaviest rain with a fall of an inch and a half; Crosbyton reported one inch;
Meadow one-half; Bledsoe one-half;
Vernal one inch; O'Connell one-half and Sudan one-half. Lamesa, southwest of Lubbock did not receive any showers at all.

OIL IS BURNED
TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 16. (P)—Eight cars of oil were burned on the Santa Fe right of way at Heidenheimer, near here last night following the crash of a freight car. Traffic over the line was delayed for several hours.

Here's a New Story On Dan'l Cupid

Many stories are told of Young Dan'l Cupid and his advances in Lubbock but the Journal discovered a case this morning that is 'one for the book.'
Hearing of a recent wedding in the city a member of the Journal
staff called the bride in question for a detailed report. The bride, somewhat excited, gave a description of the event but when asked how to spell her name was nonplussed.
Not to be outdone, however, she made a gallant attempt but to no avail—she just didn't know—and her mother, coming to the rescue, supplied the missing letters of the cognomen.
"I know, all the time," the embarrassed bride said "but I'm just too excited!"

MULLICAN TAKES BENCH AS COURT TERM IS OPENED

RUMORS OF HAND-PICKED JURY BRINGS TIRADE FROM MULLICAN

Prefacing his remarks with the statement that information had come to him that some members of the Grand Jury "had been selected for a purpose," District Judge Clark M.
Mulligan, of the 72nd Judicial District Court told the newly impaneled Lubbock county grand jury Monday morning in his charge that he will absolutely countenance no move whatever on the part of the body that smacks of politics.

Baseball Rally Is Set For Wednesday

Everyone who is interested in sending the Lubbock Hubbers to the Denver Post tournament and those who do not want Lubbock to get a "black eye" from not sending them, is urged to meet at the Chamber of Commerce offices Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, by a committee from the Board of City Development and the Lubbock
Baseball association which met Monday afternoon to lay plans for raising $600 which is necessary to send the Hubbers to Denver.
Realizing the value to be derived from sending the Hubbers to Denver and the result of not sending them, the Board of City Development has heartily endorsed the movement from the first and has subscribed approximately half of the expense money. A number of Lubbock citizens have given toward the Denver trip already but the number is small, according to I. F.
Holland, treasurer for the baseball association.

in his court. Mexican Revolution plot is nipped in San Diego and 150 rebels arrested. Summer sun sets national political pot boiling.
Max Carey, deposed captain of Pittsburgh Pirates takes his case

Hubbers show strength in Amarillo tournament. Mexico, with the exception of one unimportant fight,
is quiet as third 'priestless Sun-

HOME

Is your home a house with furniture and rugs and curtains and pictures, or is it a home?
Is it a by-station where the family merely stops for repairs and food, or is it the welcome haven of rest and entertainment at the end of a busy day?

It is a place where each chair has to stand on exactly the same depression in the rug day in day out, the window shades kept permanently so many inches from the sill, and the doors religiously closed so that dust will not blow in—or is it a place where your sons and daughters and their friends can come and enjoy themselves?
Once a man described his old home thus in a letter: "It was like an open place full of sunlight, athwart which no cloud nor fleck of cloud seemed ever to come, and whence I retired for strength and refreshment—with my mother."

Fair Will Have Many Fine Exhibits of Canned Goods

Despite the fact that a late freeze cut the fruit crop short in Lubbock county, Mrs. J. S. Johnson, superintendent of the culinary division of the Panhandle-South Plains fair is expecting a large display of canned fruit for the culinary division.

The ladies who have fruit continue to take more pride in their art of canning and exhibiting at the fair, Mrs. Johnson stated Monday morning. "Every one who expects to exhibit either canned fruit or canned vegetables should use square quart jars as containers," Mrs. Johnson stated. "These jars are the standard containers for this division of the Woman's department as well as being official containers for all Women's home demonstration clubs. Fruit canned in these jars pack much better and make a much better exhibit. The women who have been using the jars find them much more convenient to show their fruit in than other containers. These jars can be purchased at most any of the local hardware firms."

Gardens in Lubbock and the South Plains are filled with good vegetables according to Mrs. Johnson and a big display of canned vegetables is expected.

The housewives of Lubbock and the surrounding country are showing a greater pride in the art of culinary each year, Mrs. Johnson stated. The divisions for bread, cakes, preserves, jellies, pickles, candies, are all expected to be crowded with exhibits from the best housewives of this section.

Very Ritzzy

—NEA, Chicago Bureau
Mrs. Florence Frisbee, 24, is the latest to be known as "queen of the bootleggers," because she and her husband, Carl, ran a very ritzy liquor and dope smuggling venture on the west coast, making profits of well over $1,000,000. After eluding federal agents for three years in a chase that extended across the United States, thence to Europe and back, they were caught in Chicago. They are being returned to Seattle for trial.

History Repeats Itself In Wide Open Spaces COWBOYS AND TROOPERS TRAIL TWO STICK-UP MEN Of Wyoming As Red Men Join In Big Man Hunt

LANDER, WYO., Aug. 16, (AP)—The chase of the two Union Pacific mail bandits was given up by the posse of 50 Shoshone and Arapahoe Indians today following the accidental shooting of the posse's leader, Colonel Tim McCoy, former Wyoming adjutant general, by one of the red skins. He was not seriously wounded. Colonel McCoy was wounded by a glancing bullet on the neck and right ear when an Indian accidentally discharged his gun. He was immediately brought here for medical attention and it is believed will be laid up for two or three days.

(By the Associated Press)
LANDER, WYO., Aug. 16.—Fifty red men today ranged into the wilds of the Wind river mountains region of Wyoming bent on bringing to justice two violators of the law of their white brothers who last Saturday looted 23 registered mail pouches carried on a Union Pacific passenger train, after binding and gagging two mail clerks between Pawlins and Wamsutter, Wyoming.

Answering the call of authorities who have dotted this section of Wyoming with posses, half a hundred Shoshone and Arapahoe braves joined themselves to a posse of Wyoming National guardsmen and cowboys, headed by Colonel Tim McCoy, former adjutant general of Wyoming, their life long friend upon whom they have bestowed the title of "White Eagle." History Repeated. Traditional friends of the white man since the early settlers came into the west, the fifty braves took the trail as eagerly as their fathers did half a century ago when they allied themselves with Uncle Sam's troopers to pursue and punish their enemies, the Sioux and the Crow, who had massacred General Custer's command at the battle of the Little Big Horn. Where before their fathers merely left their wigwams to ally themselves with the blue coated troopers, the fifty braves yesterday dropped their work before a movie camera to apply the war paint and seize weapons with which they have been ordered to "shoot to kill." The Indians were besmeared with grease paint and were getting a taste of klieg lights as actors in a western movie thriller when the latest "call to arms" came.

Bearing through the Wind river region, Indian fashion, the posse planned to continue on to the wild and sparsely settled Jackson Hole country, little more than a decade ago the last stand of the Wyoming "bad man" and cattle rustler, when the pair of bandits are believed to be headed.

PIRATES BRACED FOR DRIVE DOWN PENNANT AVENUE

BABE RUTH WALLOPS THE BALL AS YANKS SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER

(By the Associated Press)
Pittsburgh, Aug. 16. (AP)—The Pirates, braced for a drive down Pennant Avenue during which the club has been damaged by internal strife, is ready to meet the eastern invasion that is expected to ride the National League championship.

The Careless Pirates encounter Boston in the first series of contests, the Braves lost two to Brooklyn yesterday, but usually make themselves felt in the final stages of a pennant race.

Layne is Purchased
Pittsburgh has bought Herman Layne, fast hard hitting outfielder from the Toronto Internationals for $30,000 and two players to be selected. Layne will report next spring.

The St. Louis Cardinals remained well to the fore in yesterday's struggles, defeating Chicago, 7 to 2. Bottomley and Bell of the Cardinals and Gonzalez and Wilson of Chicago got homers. Wilson remained in a tie with Bottomley for the National League honors at 16.

Cincinnati, third place club, continued its pursuit of the Cardinals by turning back Philadelphia, 4 to 2, with its infield furnishing four double plays behind Donohue and Rixey.

Brooklyn trounced the Braves, 4 to 1 and 11 to 3.

Ruth Hits Well
The Yankees got an even break in a double header with the Red Sox, but Cleveland failed to gain as the result of a split with the Browns. Babe Ruth hit safely four out of five times during the afternoon, his record showing a home run, two doubles and a single. Pennock was the first game, 4 to 2, but four runs in the sixth inning of the second gave Boston a five to three margin.

St. Louis outslugged Cleveland to win the opening battle, 11 to 7, Schang and Williams producing home runs, but Uhl registered his nineteenth victory of the season in the second, 6 to 4. Burns of the Indians doubled with in the first contest, running his string to 54. Schang's home run came with the bases filled.

Tie Breaks Game
Detroit and Chicago battled five innings to a scoreless tie before rain ended the game. Collins of Detroit allowing one hit and Edwards of Chicago two.

The Senators rallied with two runs in the eighth inning to down Philadelphia, 5 to 2. Washington made three double plays and the Athletics two.

CAREY TAKES HIS CASE TO HEAD OF LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. (AP)—President Heydler of the National League announced this evening he would hold a hearing in Pittsburgh tomorrow to sift the controversy which has resulted in the suspension of Max Carey, Pirate captain, and the release of Carson Bigbee and Babe Adams.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. (AP)—Max Carey, deposed captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates, carried his case before John A. Heydler, president of the National League today, after a brief conference with Baseball Commissioner Landis.

Carey arrived here this morning from Pittsburgh to lay before the baseball official his story of the events which resulted in his suspension last week, along with the conditional release of Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee, as a result of their agitation to oust Fred Clarke, assistant manager, from the Pirate bench.

Carey was informed by Landis that the latter would take no action until the facts had been laid before Heydler.

After a conference between Carey and Heydler, it was announced that the matter was placed entirely in the hands of the National League executive. President Heydler will attempt to settle the situation without forcing Commissioner Landis to take action.

New School Let In Castro County

The F. M. Wallace Construction company, of Clovis, was Saturday given a contract for the erection of a school in Jumbo District, number two, of Castro county, 12 miles northeast of Dimmitt. The contract price, of $30,000, will erect a building of brick and tile, with four class rooms and an auditorium. Fred Cayton Lubbock, representing the Reliance Brick company, received the brick and tile contract. On Wednesday a $40,000 school job will be let at Crowell, Foster county. Mr. Cayton reported today. Six class rooms and an auditorium will be included in the plans, he reports.

Hubbers Off On Merry Way To More Honors With Two Straight Wins At Panhandle Tournament At Amarillo

The Lubbock Hubbers are off again on their merry way to more laurels for themselves and the city they represent on the baseball diamond, and from reports out of Amarillo, where they are engaged in combatting some of the best teams that West Texas and Eastern New Mexico can offer, they are the favored crew to win the first annual Panhandle tournament sponsored by the Amarillo News-Globe.

After winning a hard fought contest Saturday afternoon, opening day of the tournament, from Canyon 4 to 1, with "Big O" Eckhart, former major league pitcher, on the mound, the Hubbers took another well contested affair Sunday afternoon from Lamesa, the club that was slated Saturday to be one of the strongest in the meet. The contest, which the Hubbers took 4 to 2, was said by those who attended from here, to have been one of the best diamond encounters seen in a long time.

artist, a long, lanky youngster who has been with Post, held the hard slugging Lobos to six well scattered singles, one of which was a circuit clout by "Skipper" Adams, of the Lobos, with no one ahead. Bell was at all times master of the occasion, and was never in any great danger.

Read, Lobo ace right hander, was bounced upon in the initial frame by the hard hitting Hubber machine and with two runs chalked up against him, took to cover soon afterward. Only one error was charged in the affair, and this was drawn by Jimmy Battle, ex-Hubber, who has been playing this year in the East Texas league. Battle reported to Lamesa last week to play through the Amarillo and Denver Post tournaments.

Frank Hudspeth, member of the Hubber pitching staff until the past few days, who is now contracted with Amarillo, was dealt similar treatment to Bear when he took the mound during the second game of the afternoon, but the Metros took the long end of the contest.

The exact plan of procedure of elimination during the remainder of the tournament is not known here, but the Hubbers, having two wins to their credit, will not play again before Tuesday afternoon, and possibly not until Wednesday. It is probable that Canyon and St. Jon, New Mexico, will meet in a contest this afternoon that will eliminate one of them. These two have each lost one game, the former to Lubbock and the latter to Big Lake.

With Cook and Quattbaum on the Hubber pitching roster yet unused, and with Hale and Bell each to be ready for another season by the time the team plays again, the Hubbers are conceded an excellent chance to capture final honors, reports out of Amarillo indicate.

Billy Evans Says

YANKS "KAYO" DOPE
If the Yankees win the American League pennant, and they certainly appear to be on the way, it will be a "kayo" for expert opinion.

In the spring the New York Americans were given little consideration in the pre-season pennant talk.

The Yankees have just weathered a tough slump. They came out of it by putting over a big winning streak. Ability to win games in large clusters has been one of the outstanding reasons for the team's success.

Subs Ell-Breath.
When Bob Meusel was put out of it for two months with a broken foot, Babe Ruth and Pitcher Hoyt and Catchers Collins and Bengough suffered with bad arms, it looked as if the toboggan might be greased for the Yankees.

However, the club had enough reserve strength to tide it over the rough days and proceeded to prove its courage by a great comeback.

One reason why expert opinion appears to be in for a jolt because of the fine showing of the Yankees, is the fact that it really is a much better ball club than any one rates it.

And best of all, it has a punch at the bat that carries plenty of woe for the opposition at all times.

Sheely Real Star.
First Baseman Earl Sheely of the Chicago White Sox performs with such ease and grace in the field that he has never received the credit due him. His only handicap is lack of speed.

"Sheely is the greatest first baseman I have ever seen when it comes to handling a thrown ball," remarked Umpire Bill Dinneen to me the other day.

When you consider that Dinneen has been associated with the major leagues for 30 years, as one of the game's greatest pitchers and an equally great umpire, you can appreciate the compliment he is paying Sheely.

None is Bigger.
I don't bar Fred Toney, Ed Chase, George Sizer, or any of the other great first basemen of the past or present," continued Dinneen. "When it comes to handling a thrown ball, 'Sheely is a wonder on high horse, his height, of course, being a decided help, but he is just as skillful despite the low ones."

"And on balls thrown into the runner he has no equal. It is uncanny the way he can grab them with that gloved hand."

To all of which I say, "Amen."

Rookie Lays Good.
If his first two starts are a criterion of his ability, the Washington club appears to have picked up a jewel in Pitcher Crowder, recently secured from Birmingham of the Southern association.

Detroit beat Crowder 3-2 in his debut, bunching all its runs in the first inning on four hits. After that the Tigers couldn't do a thing with the "rookie's" right hander.

I called balls and strikes in Crowder's second appearance and it has been some years since I have been more impressed by a rookie's stuff.

I am ready to go on record that he will make good.

It was only estimated as worth $50 to $100 an acre then, but even that looked good to Norton. He squatted on the 40 acres, began clearing it, built himself a shack and applied for a patent.

Norton was kicking like everything. He was still on the ground—is yet—and his presence was an embarrassment.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

BY ARTHUR N. PACK, President, American Nature Assn. Along many of the mountain streams of the western states may frequently be seen a little lead-colored bird. His Dipper: perch is usually a rock washed by the spray of the dashing current.

At the approach of an intruder he slips headlong into the foaming water, and disappears. If one watches he may reappear, and perching on some overhanging crag, pour out his bubbling song which is often heard with difficulty above the roar of the tumbling waters.

If it is possible to spy his under water movements, it will be seen that his wings form the propelling force, and necessarily so, for his feet are unwebbed and no more fitted for swimming than are those of a sparrow. His wings, however, are used chiefly to keep him at the bottom where he gathers from the rocks the tiny shells and water insects which form his food.

The nest of the dipper, as he is frequently called from his habit of constantly bowing and bobbing is a large compact ball of moss which the spray of the dashing torrent keeps moist and green.

This occupies a niche on the side of a rock, sometimes in the open, but often behind the face of a waterfall where access is possible only by a plunge through the descending sheet of water.

Here the eggs are laid and incubated, and the young brought to maturity, a fitting childhood for birds which are to spend their lives in the shadow of tumbling cascades.

The range of the dipper extends from the mountains of Mexico north through the mountain region to Alaska. Strange as it may seem the bird is practically non-migratory, spending the winter on the same waters where it raises its summer broods.

Here it must seek some spot where the impetuosity of the current prevents the surface from freezing, or gain access to the stream bottom at a point where the receding waters have left the icy covering perched on a projecting rock, beneath which a patch of unfrozen surface affords a doorway.

Helpful Health Hints By DR. HUGH S. CUMMING, Director General U. S. Public Health Service

DANGERS AT THE BEACH

By DR. M. METZENBAUM. Hot days are swimming days. So are holidays and Sundays, whether they are hot or not. Our bathing beaches at any of these times are often as crowded as the ball parks.

A congested mass of people pollutes water with their natural excretions. When water enters their mouths, they naturally spit it out along with the mucus in their mouths. When their noses fill with water, they, of course, blow them.

Excretions from the nose and mouth of most people contain but simple germs, usually not capable of causing harm to others. But a person who has a severe head cold, or one with tonsillitis or sore throat is laden with some of the most virulent germs known.

When these germs are carried to the mucus membranes of the throat, nose or eyes of another person, an inflammation or infection probably will result.

Transmitting Disease. Diphtheria, tonsillitis, head colds and some other diseases may be transmitted by carriers to healthy persons through the medium of swimming waters. Sties, boils and infections of the ears also are spread this way.

Expectorations of saliva and mucus at pools or bathing beaches often are proven directly accountable for the appearance of dozens of a single hospital or clinic within a few days, all suffering from the same type of infection. The germs are found to be of the same type and the history of the patients will show that they were bathing at the same pool or swimming at the same stagnant beach.

Attorney General Dag Moody has shown judgment to date in not issuing a statement in reply to the lengthy Ferguson tirade in which Mrs. Ferguson advised Texans she would not keep either her promise to resign or to withdraw from the run-off campaign.

The Ferguson statement speaks for itself and is not even worthy of a reply. It is nothing but an out-and-out refusal on the part of the governor and her husband to keep their word, and such procedure on their part has reached the point that Texas citizens expect no one to attempt to analyze it or recognize it by making return statements.

Mr. Moody summed it up in a nutshell when he said the latest Ferguson move has exhausted the patience of the people of Texas.

It is now clearly apparent to Texas that Mrs. Ferguson will be in the executive office until her successor takes the oath of office in January. The only alternative for Texans is to pile up such an overwhelming vote for Moody August 28, that the exit of the Ferguson in January will be permanent.—Amarillo News.

THE VANITY CASE

BY CAROLYN WELLS COPYRIGHT 1926 N.E.A.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear next door in the Heath household one night, and the next morning Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN and BUNNY MOORE. Inman is heir to Myra's considerable fortune, she having cut Perry off. Suspicious eyes point to goldenhaired, vivacious Bunny, because of her refusal to answer questions at the inquest. Myra Heath was peculiar. She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whiskey bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning her head and feet, and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and dressed with gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is the fact that all windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way by the butler in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle and physicians establish that the rouge was applied to Myra Heath after death.

At the County Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Others, including Anderson, disagree. Cunningham learns from Mrs. Prentiss of the mysterious lights. TODD HUNTER BUCK, her nephew, suggests that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells DETECTIVE MOTT of seeing Bunny Moore ascend the stairs after the murder, her vanity case in her hand. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"YOU see," Mott said, breaking the silence that had fallen, "Osborn gave me a tip about Miss Moore. A pretty serious one. He asked her a string of questions early this morning, before she had time to make up anything. Well, he asked her if she saw the two candles burning, at the head and feet of Mrs. Heath. And Miss Moore said she did. Now, you see, when Miss Moore came downstairs, and went to the studio to look on the body of Mrs. Heath, for the first time, after Carter had told her the news, Doctor Conklin was there, and the two went in practically at the same time."

"Well," said Cunningham, as Mott paused. "Well, then the candles had gone out—burnt out, you know—but they were out. Now, Miss Moore agreed, when Osborn referred to her seeing the candles burning. When did she see those candles burning?"

Cunningham looked thoughtful. "If that Emma person's story is true," he said, "then Miss Moore was downstairs, just before one-thirty—" "And went upstairs, with her vanity case, at least I view it," declared Mott. "Having either been down and viewed the dead woman—or, having been either principal or accessory to the fact of her death."

He put the case so simply, and in a tone so devoid of real accusation, that Toddy Buck, at first inclined to deny vigorously Bunny's possible connection with the crime, thought better of that, and said slowly:

"Suspect is too strong a word. Mr. Buck. But I do think some parts of her story call for investigation, and I think she knows more than she has told." "She certainly does, if she was downstairs at half past one o'clock," Cunningham said, in a tense, strained voice. "Yet, the doctors agree that Mrs. Heath died about two o'clock. It may be, therefore, that Miss Moore was down there, that in a spirit of fun, the two women made use of Miss Moore's vanity box, and that Mrs. Heath was party to the making up of her own face."

"No, Mr. Cunningham," Mott said, "that won't do. The doctors proved that the make-up was put on Mrs. Heath's face after death. Of that they are certain. As to the time of death, that is not an easy matter to state positively. I have seen many cases, where the doctor has been out two or three hours in his reckoning regarding that matter. They can't tell exactly. The best of them admit that."

"Then, what do we gather from Miss Moore's presence on the stairs at half past one, and her denial of it?" asked Cunningham, gravely.

"That we can't decide about, until we question Miss Moore further," Toddy Buck broke in, his youth's face aglow with interest. "I've only met Miss Moore today. My fellows doubtless think that because of her beauty. I've fallen in love with her. I don't say that I have or haven't, but I do think she is a helpless girl with a lot of possible or apparent evidence against her. And, I propose to take up her case, and carry on for her, till I find out the truth of the affair. To imagine for a moment, that that baby-faced child committed a murder is just too ridiculous! But a lot of hard-boiled detectives may think differently. And so, unbiased by any prejudice in Miss Moore's favor, I'm going to do all I can to see that justice is done here. That's all."

"You're fortunate in having her under your own present roof," Mott said, a little dryly.

"I am," Buck agreed courteously, and without a smile. "She is now under my aunt's protection, as far as gossip and slander are concerned. If she should prove to be mixed up in this thing, other than as an innocent onlooker, I shall be greatly surprised. But, anyway, I'm going to get at the truth if I can."

"Let the chips fall where they may," asked Cunningham.

"Yes," Toddy said, "where they may."

"All right," Mott said, heartily, "you're the right stuff young man. If you don't fall too hard for the charms of the Moore Baby, we'll find you a valuable assistant, I'm sure."

The three men separated for the night, Mott declaring that he meant to sleep on the matter, and Toddy, his young heart full of food for thought, to toss for hours on a sleepless couch.

But Al Cunningham went across the bridge, and over to the Clubhouse in Harbor Park.

It was not so much that he felt it his duty to report at once to his employers, but he was full of the subject and hoped to find some one at the club with whom he could talk over things. It was not late, from the viewpoint of the club members, although many of the Gardens bungalows were dark as he walked by.

The walk seemed short, for Cunningham had much to think about, and when he reached the clubhouse, he found, as he had thought, a goodly number of men playing bridge or billiards, or sitting in desultory chat in the smoking lounge.

Of the ones who were really his employers, Cunningham found Arthur Black and Sam Anderson in confab.

"Hello, Cunny," called out the latter, "what have you found out regarding the Heath matter? We're pretty curious about it over here."

"There are developments," Cunningham returned, as he took a seat near them, and lighted a cigaret. Then he told them all he knew of the affair, dilating on the recent facts they had learned which implicated or seemed to implicate the lovely Miss Moore.

"Ridiculous!" cried Anderson. "That Moore Baby couldn't harm a fly!"

"Do you know her?" asked Black.

"Oh not to say know her, exactly, but I've seen her now and then. She came over here once in a while with Mrs. Heath for the club dances, and though I never was introduced to the girl, I couldn't help seeing her and admiring her as one would a pretty butterfly. I'm not the sort to have to do with the youngsters, but I have a spark of perception, and if that infant in arms could kill a woman—"

"Oh Lord, Anderson," Cunningham broke in, "nobody is accusing the child of murder, but we must admit if she was going slowly upstairs, carrying her vanity case, at half past one, she must have known something."

"Yes, I suppose so," Anderson agreed. "But what I want you to do, Cunny, is to find out who was the murderer, and to find out where Perry Heath is. I can't help thinking the two mysteries are connected."

"Connected? Of course, they are," Black declared. "If the little girl knows anything, she ought to be made to tell. But the mystery ought to be solved without her help, no matter how often she ran up and down stairs."

Meantime the subject of their discussion, the uncertain and mysterious Bunny, was lying in her little bed in Mrs. Prentiss' best guest room, staring wide-eyed at the ceiling.

TO DEAL BLOW TO HOME BREW

Conspiracy Indictments Will Be Filed, Chicago Dry Czar Decides

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Aug. 16. — A blow to home brewers and those who sell home brewing supplies is about to be delivered, E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator, revealed today. The blow will be in the form of conspiracy indictments against Chicago concerns where amateur brewers have been getting supplies. Mr. Yellowley and District Attorney Olson consider the new move of such importance that the latter has consented to assume personal charge of the investigation and will present his report to the grand jury in a few days together with substantiating evidence. While the law forbids the sale of stills or related apparatus, it has been interpreted because of an interpretation of the rule which holds that the various parts of a still do not constitute such unless they are properly assembled and functioning as parts of the still. Special agents are reported to have obtained evidence that stills essentially complete, are on display in the windows of numerous stores, with the missing parts nearby.

Recently, also, the Redjackets were with the Keith Interstate organization. In connection with this feature, an excellent picture is billed for the same two days at the Palace, Johnnie Hines' "Live Wire", picture promised to be a hot-shot for the theatre fans of Lubbock. The Palace-Lindsey are keeping open season to their better Theatre project, and continue to serve the theatre goers with the highest class of entertainment, both film and vaudeville.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 16. (AP)—Nine of 20 convicts who escaped last night from the Imperial state prison farm in Fort Bend county, 70 miles from here, have been recaptured reports here today said. The twenty men sawed their way out of a wooden barracks building late Sunday officials said in a telephone message. A complete check had not been made, the message added, but several men serving life sentences were included in those who escaped. R. J. "Buck" Flannigan, manager of the Imperial Farm, was said to be trailing the men with blood-hounds.

PANHANDLE OIL FIELD IS BUSY

Is Producing More Oil Than Can Be Shipped Away, Is Report From Austin

(By The Associated Press.) AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 16.—The Panhandle oil field is producing more oil than the pipe line and railroad facilities are handling. It was brought out at the hearing Monday before the Texas railroad commission on the congestion and conservative problems that have arisen over the situation. The hearing got under way with a score of representatives of oil companies, railroad companies and G. C. Goodwin, manager of the Amarillo chamber of commerce. After a two-hour session, Clarence W. Gilmore, chairman of the commission declared that the daily production of oil in the field is 90,000 barrels, with the pipe line capacity of 74,000 barrels and that the railroad shipments for the past 15 days have averaged 43,000 barrels, although E. L. Myer, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe railroad, said that his line is now able to handle 55,000 barrels a day. Mr. Myer told of plans of the Santa Fe for additional sidings and filling platforms, which he said, will care for all the oil produced. I. G. Hammond, vice president of the Marland Oil company, said that there is not enough pipe line in either the Panhandle field to accommodate the production which is expected to rapidly increase due to the many wells being drilled.

NEGRO LAD HELD HERE FOR THEFT

T. J. Buchanan Failed In His Plot to Rifle Register Of Service Station

When T. J. Buchanan, 15-year-old negro boy, who has been working for some time at the Mac's barber shop near the Hotel Service Station, saw visions of wealth each time he glimpsed into the cash drawer of the service station, his ingenuity was called into play, and he pulled together a plot for solving his financial troubles. Accordingly, while staring close around the station, he secretly broke the cash register, and Saturday afternoon while C. C. Cook, owner of the service station, was repairing a tire, he daringly opened the cash drawer and pocketed $32. The money evidently burned a hole in his pocket, and he proceeded to "doll up" in keeping with his monetary standing.

Officers Find Him. The money was not missed, according to Mr. Cook, until checking up time at ten o'clock Saturday night; and, suspecting the boy, search was made for him by officers who had been notified. The boy was found very soon after in a local theatre in company with his maiden friend. He was dressed in a new suit of clothes, and had been treating his friends lavishly during the late afternoon. When arrested, he insisted that he did not take the money, but after being kept in jail Saturday night, he confessed to taking it, and, with a small part of the money yet unspent returned to Mr. Cook, the boy asks for a chance to pay the remainder of the funds back. If only he were allowed to go free, however, he was still in jail this afternoon.

BOY IS KILLED TYLER, Texas, Aug. 16. (AP)—His second automobile wreck within a year resulted fatally for Troy Dowell, 12, near here today. An automobile truck in which he was riding turned over. He was seriously injured about a year ago.

Detroit Holds Man Wanted In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 16. (AP)—Robert Dalton, held in Detroit for Amarillo authorities, is wanted here on a charge of removing mortgaged property from the state. He is accused of taking a costly motor car, purchased from an Amarillo dealer, out of Texas with the mortgage unpaid. The dealer from whom the car was purchased said today that Dalton had boasted to him that he had killed ten or fifteen men in Texas. He is reported to have told Michigan authorities he had killed several men in Texas years ago, but that he was acquitted in each case.

Officials of the Canadian Oil corporation at Canadian, Texas, could not be reached today to confirm Dalton's statement to Detroit officers that he is president of the concern.

VANITY CASE

She wondered why Cunningham had taken her gold vanity case, and whether she would ever get it back. Restlessly she turned and twisted sometimes getting up and sitting by the window, and again, turning on the light and trying to read. At last, as she had returned to bed, and was about to drop into a real sleep, there was a light tap on her door, and she sprang up and opened it, to see Mrs. Prentiss in hooded cap and gown. "My dear," she whispered, "there's a call for you on the telephone. A man's voice, but he won't give his name. Says it's important he should speak to you." "Mr. Inman, probably," said Bunny, as she slipped her bare feet into her little silk mules. A few moments later, she took up the telephone receiver, and heard, to her stunned amazement, the voice of Perry Heath. "Hush!" he said, softly, "don't make a row. I only want to tell you to watch your step. I can't advise you definitely or particularly, but just be non-committal, taciturn, uncommunicative—all those things. In other words, keep your trap shut! See?" "No, I don't see at all! Where are you? What do you know? Why don't you come home?" "Never mind all that. You mind what I say, or you'll be eventually sorry." And with that, the voice ceased. (To Be Continued)

DEMOCRATS HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO GAIN, IS BELIEF

DEMAND IS MADE FOR A PROSECUTION OF DRY ORGANIZATION

(By the Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—National politics is warming up in the hot weather season...

A demand that the Anti-Saloon League be prosecuted, claims that satisfactory number of dry candidates won in the primaries, claims that the republicans will lose senate control this year, and a declaration by Governor Smith of New York that he is reluctant to wear himself out with another term as governor were among week-end developments.

Representative George H. Tinkham, Massachusetts, republican, demanded in a letter to Attorney General Sargent, made public in Washington, that the Anti-Saloon League be prosecuted under the corrupt practices act.

Called "Anti-Liberty" Claiming that "this ecclesiastical political organization" has "set aside one of the great constitutional guarantees of American freedom and liberty," the separation of church and state, Mr. Tinkham asks prosecution of the league for failure to report political receipts and expenditures or for falsely reporting there were none, and of league officers for perjury.

On the other hand, the wets are sending more money, building a stronger organization, and spreading more propaganda than ever before. In the view of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, in a Washington statement, Mr. Wheeler declared primary returns from 25 states showed there was no reaction against prohibition. On the contrary, he claimed that 75 percent of congressmen and 86 percent of senators nominated in states where nomination is tantamount to election were drys.

Coolidge Criticized The democratic national committee criticized President Coolidge on the $55,000,000 budget increase for next year, after a $470,856,651 increase this year.

Senator Peter G. Gerry, chairman of the national democratic senatorial campaign committee is sure his party will control the next senate. Depression of some eastern industries and a continued slump in the agricultural south and west are bringing a reaction against republican lack of leadership, says a statement issued at Providence, Rhode Island.

Conditions Favorable The New York governor regards conditions so favorable for his party that he is loath to tax his strength with another term as governor. "Give me a little personal consideration," he said to friends in Buffalo, "there is a scriptural saying about a man gaining the world and losing his own soul, what good would it do me to be nominated for the presidency and have my health shattered so that I would not be able to carry on the duties of the office if elected?" he added that he would run for re-election if the democratic state convention decided upon it.

Bishop Adna W. Leonard of the Methodist Episcopal church, president of the New York Anti-Saloon League, reiterated in New York his recent statement in connection with Governor Smith that "no governor who kisses the papal ring can get within gunshot of the White House."

Bishop Charles T. Fluke of Utica, N. Y., however, took exception to this attitude in a sermon at Paul Smith's, N. Y., in a church not far from the summer White House. Bishop Fluke characterized Bishop Leonard's declaration as "un-Americanism spirit."

Tinsley, Santa Fe agricultural agent, will accompany Mr. Eaton on an inspection trip of the county, at which time the pure-seed farms of the boys and men of the county, who are working under supervision of the county agent, will be visited. These farms are principally for the raising of pure-seed grain sorghums, although some other crops are raised.

Calles Orders Arms Of Agrarians Taken

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 16 (AP)—Further emphasis is placed on the federal government's nation-wide anti-bandit campaign with the announcement that President Calles has instructed the department of war to disarm all agrarians in the state of Michoacan, Jalisco and Guanajuato. The department of war ordered such disarmament in the state of Vera Cruz. Previously instructions were given to military commanders everywhere to wipe out bandit groups whose activities recently have been increasing, although on a minor scale.

Theoretically agrarians are merely farmers desirous of legally obtaining land under the government's policy of dividing big estates. And giving the land to those alleged to be unjustly deprived of the land. But very often, the name "agrarian" is assumed by groups of bandits.

charge the grand jury, and swear in a new grand jury that is not thus dominated, for I will absolutely not let my Court be used for any political purpose, by any individual or group of men.

He Cites His Record The Judge said that during his tenure of office on the bench in this district, he has never allowed such to transpire, either personally or for any other man, and that so long as he is on the bench, such will never be the case.

"Our courts," he said, "are the duly authorized instrument by which the laws of our city, state, and nation are enforced, and these courts are no place on which to grind political axes."

He charged the body to perform their duty authorized duty, which they are sworn to do, without fear or favor, and that if such cannot be done, it had best be known now.

Home Brew Rapped In his charge the Judge took issue with the quotations that have come recently from at least one District Judge in Texas regarding the prohibition statutes, saying that the law is law, regardless of the ruling to the contrary by this Judge. He referred evidently, to the ruling handed down in Dallas several weeks ago to the effect that the manufacture and possession of "home brew" is not in violation of the law.

He charged that the Judge is either wrong, or his statements have been misquoted, for the law very plainly sets out that any beverage that contains more than one-half of one percent of intoxicants is illegal, and that it is manufactured in violation of the prohibition amendment. Regarding funds for the chemical analysis of beverage seized, the Judge said that lack of funds with which to carry on the tests does not change the law, and that funds are available for such tests in this county. He charged the grand jury to make all necessary investigations along this line, with the statement that it is the law, and that we must show respect for the law, regardless of our individual opinions regarding it.

Other Laws Discussed Various other phases of crime were touched upon by the Judge in his charge, including explanation of the distinction between misdemeanor and felony. He urged that the grand jury not waste their time investigating misdemeanor, saying that these are handled in other ways outside of the district court. He cited theft, swindling, burglary and bootlegging as felonies, and charged the body with investigation of all such cases as brought to their attention.

The following were selected as the official inquisitorial body for this term of court, with J. Edwards, of Slaton having been appointed as Foreman; H. Bardsdale, Slaton, Jax, P. Posey, Lubbock; J. S. Edwards, Slaton, J. F. Frye, Lubbock; A. C. Benton, Slaton; J. R. Adams, Shallowater; Jim Benton, Posey; Walter Hill, Lubbock; T. A. Worley, Slaton; J. R. Vaughn, Lubbock; J. A. Givens, Idalou; and Morgan Dickinson, Lubbock.

With the swearing in of the grand jury, the Court swung into its regular August term. All civil and jury cases were called this afternoon beginning at 1:30, and appearance cases will be called Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock. This week probably will be given over mostly to trial of non-jury cases. No criminal cases have been set for trial during the term.

West Texas is leading the league. Beat East Texas one week. Beat North Texas last week. Play South Texas this week.

Somebody from this office is going to win a trip to the world's series this fall, absolutely free. The Southland Life Insurance company foots all the bills.

Here's a Record

One of our West Texas players clouted out 14 four-base drives in the game with North Texas last week. $1,000 policy is good for one sack, $4,000 worth of insurance is good to circle the bases. This is a great game.

Not one person in 100 has sufficient insurance. A policy in this good, strong Texas company now will help someone from this agency take a free trip to the world's series.
