Local Sheriff's Department Wins National Honor

The Aransas County Sheriff's Department has been cited by a national magazine for its work in a murder case. The editors of OFFICIAL DETECTIVE STORIES, nationally distributed, but by Dell, have notified Sheriff Robert O. Hewes that the publication's Meritorious Service Citation is being presented to his department for its skillful investigation into the December, 1972 slaying of Mrs. Edna Moats at Aransas Pass.

A detailed account of the award-winning investigation, titled, "Killer With A Bad Temper!" appears in the April issue of Official Detective Stories, which has just reached local newsstands.

The magazine cites the Aransas County Sheriff's Department "in national recognition of achievements in the highest traditions of law enforcement."

City Sales Tax Is $109,417.13 For Last Year

Austin -- Comptroller Bob Bullock released information Thursday showing how collections by Texas cities of the city sales tax—which has always been one percent—have skyrocketed in recent years.

Bullock released a list comparing each city's sales tax rebates with the rebates during the first full calendar year that city collected the sales tax.

Seven hundred and eighty cities showed increases ranging up to 1,539 percent. Only 30 cities showed a decline in rebates.

"It shows what we've known all along," Bullock said, "that the city sales tax has become a cornerstone of the City Hall budget."

While the Comptroller conceded some of the increase is due to inflation, he said "No body could read this story of mushrooming retail sales and conclude Texas has anything other than a prosperous business community."

The importance of the city sales tax to city budgets led Bullock, shortly after entering office last year, to begin sending city sales tax dollars back to the cities on a monthly, rather than quarterly basis.

The Legislature authorized cities to assess a one percent sales tax in 1967, and they were first able to collect it in the first quarter of 1968.

For the year 1975 Rockport collected $109,417.13.

Child Service Act Discussed

The Rockport Business and Professional Women's Club heard a talk January 26 by Dean Woodward, president of the Alice Business and Professional Women's Club. She is assistant county attorney in Jim Wells County.

Miss Woodward explained the Child and Family Service Act of 1975 which is presently under consideration by a committee in Washington, D.C. This bill stresses parental involvement in the program for economically deprived children. Services under this program would be available upon request.

The guidelines in administering these services would be under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on a local level.

Members of the B&PW Club will receive copies of this bill and are being urged to write their opinions to their representatives, John Young, or to Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen.

DECEMBER SHRIMP LANDINGS VALUED AT $7.7 MILLION

Domestic shrimp landings amounted to 3.5 million pounds, valued at $7.7 million in December, 1975. This was 17 percent above the quantity and more than double the value of December, 1974 landings.

Aransas Pass-Fulton area produced 1,016,200 pounds. December shrimp landings brought the Texas annual commercial landings to 44.2 million pounds, valued at $87.9 million to vessel owners and/or fishermen. This was the lowest annual volume landings since 1969, but surpassed the record value of 1973. The 1975 record value only served to pay necessary expenses to many vessels, many did not make expenses and few realized reasonable profit margin.

Vessels working brown shrimp in December made fair to good catches of mixed size shrimp in waters beyond twenty fathoms. Weather conditions were unusually bad with high winds and cold temperatures. Vessels were restricted to short broken trips throughout the month. Trawlers working white shrimp made heavy catches of small shrimp in channels and adjacent to major passes.

Oyster landings amounted to 400,000 pounds of good quality meats. This was well above the December, 1974 level, but far below the previous four years. Fishermen received $15.00 to $18.00 per barrel (316 pound shell weight).

Blue crab landings totaled 460,000 pounds. This was almost double the 1974, December volume. Fishermen received 16 cents per pound for live crabs in most producing areas.

Fuel supplies were adequate at 30-36 cents per gallon depending upon usage and volume buying.

The Texas shrimp fishery endured the toughest year in its history. All levels—producer, packer, retailer found planning very difficult and often useless. The number of idle dockside facilities and vessels in financial difficulty at the close of the year was evidence of this situation. In spite of these problems, the industry as a whole did reflect better days ahead, but at a slower pace than most business communities in the nation. Contributing to this slow recovery is the large number of vessels in the shrimp fishery and more returning from foreign operations, the tremendous increase in labor and utility costs for dockside buyers, competition from imports, and the availability of domestic poultry and beef products.

On January 21 a third grade study of Hawaii culminated in a festive luau in the cafeteria of the Live Oak Elementary School. The students participated in preparation for the affair which was enjoyed by sixty-six students.

During the concentrated study the classes had also made leis, flowers, hula skirts and Cray-pas pictures of favorite aspects of the newest state of the U.S.A. A great deal of enthusiasm was invested in learning a simple, graceful hula dance.

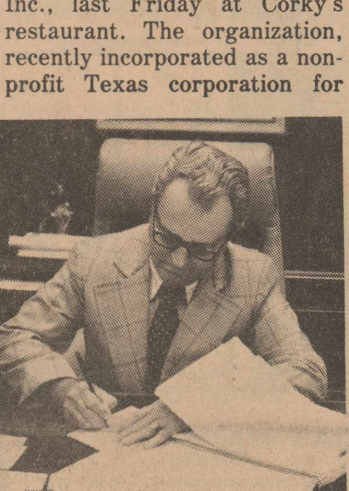

Special guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Underwood, who showed films they had taken while visiting Hawaii. The students were delighted to recognize many of the things they had studied.

The luau itself consisted of pineapple wedges, coconut chunks, sliced bananas, crackers (substituted for poi), and Hawaiian punch. Decorating the table were a Hawaiian ukelele and crepe paper flowers.

Teachers of the classes are Mrs. Vickie Moon, Mrs. Floy Shirey and Mrs. Mary Jackson.

Hospital Group Elects Officers

Officers were elected at an organization meeting of the board of directors of Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., last Friday at Corky's restaurant. The organization, recently incorporated as a non-profit Texas corporation for which tax exemption has been granted by Internal Revenue Service, was organized to develop a program of emergency medical service for this area.

Named president was James H. Sorenson, Jr., First National Bank president. Carl Krueger was elected vice president; Frances Leggett, treasurer; and Loyce Landrum, secretary. Betty King was elected chairman of the board. In addition to the officers named, other members of the original board are Nancy Cooke, Conwell Smith, Clyda Milks and Bertie Cone. These directors were appointed early in the project to obtain the state charter and tax exempt status.

To meet the need for professional members on the board, Dr. Jim Wideman, Dr. Jerry Shaw and Dr. G.M. Pattillo were elected at the Friday meeting. Named committee chairmen for the hospital group were Gene A. Garcia, bylaws; Smith and Dr. Shaw, ambulance, and Mrs. Cooke, community relations.

The Women's committee of the Chamber of Commerce will continue to function as in the past as the fund-raising arm of the hospital association, it was explained. This committee has raised more than $60,000 in the past four months.

As a result, it is now possible to anticipate probable acquisition of an emergency ambulance staffed with a professionally trained medical technician and equipped with the latest life saving and sustaining equipment, it was reported.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT ROCKPORT

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Courthouse in Rockport on Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 9 a.m.

You may obtain information about your rights and duties under the Social Security Act. Eligible persons can secure assistance in applying for old-age, survivors, or disability insurance payments, and for Medicare benefits, from the representative at that time.

Cub Pack 340 Reorganized

Cub Pack #340 of the Boy Scouts of America was reorganized January 27 at the Junior High School cafeteria with Jimmy Hunt as the new Cubmaster.

He was assisted in this reorganization by Dr. J. Martin Shaw, Dan Ward, John L. Leslie and Mike Everett, District Executive for the Mustang District.

A large number of parents and their sons answered the call for reorganization and the saving of this Cub Pack which is sponsored by the Rockport Lions Club. William Ratliff, president of Lions Club, is the new institutional representative.

As a result of this effort and reorganization, four new Dens were established with volunteer Den Mothers and assistants.

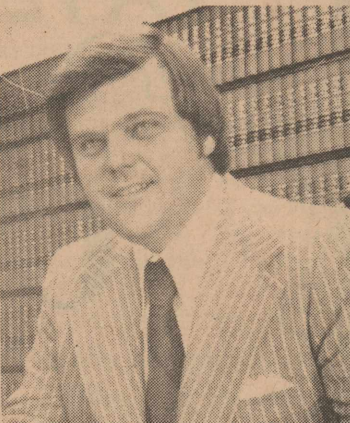

Den 2, functioning under the leadership of Mrs. Patty McMillan, was the only Den that had functioned in this Pack for some time. It will be taken over by Mrs. Jacqueline Shaw.

Thirty boys are now enrolled in the 5 dens. Also, ten fathers volunteered for service on the Pack committee.

Resuscitation Film Shown

Basics of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation were described and illustrated by Dr. Jerry Longberg, Corpus Christi oral surgeon, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Jan. 28 at Sandollar Restaurant.

He stressed the importance of its prompt application in emergencies involving stoppage of breathing or heart action in such instances as electric shock, heart attack and drowning. He emphasized that immediate application in the first four to six minutes after an accident could mean the difference between life or death of the victim.

Dr. Longberg showed an American Red Cross film which traced development of methods of resuscitation from ancient times when sound and heat were used in attempts to "awaken the dead" from what appeared to be a deep sleep. The Dutch rolled drowning victims on barrels and bounced them on horses. Later the English used bellows in attempts to restore breathing.

In 1857 rescuers were advised to place victims face up and resuscitate them by pumping the arms. In 1903 a new procedure called the prone pressure method was developed in which the victim was placed face down and pressure applied to the back of the rib cage, according to the film.

Following World War II medical authorities agreed that mouth-to-mouth resuscitation combined with intermittent series of pressure applied to the chest just above the breast bone was by far the most effective. The importance of preparing the victim properly was stressed, including making sure the breathing passage was open and any foreign object removed from the throat. The had must be tilted back by raising the neck with one hand and pushing down on the forehead to tilt the head back.

The film explained how the method can be used by one or two operators, and described the rhythm to be employed, which is different depending on whether one or two are applying it. It was pointed out that the film by no means provided adequate training in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but was a part of a program sponsored by the Red Cross to encourage individuals to become skilled in the technique.

Both the film and Dr. Longberg stressed the importance of beginning mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at the earliest possible moment and continuing it until trained medical help arrives. It was pointed out that if the brain is deprived of oxygen for as much as six minutes irreversible damage is done to the brain.

It was stated that suffocation was the most common cause of death among children under five. With them the usual procedure is to cover both the mouth and the nose to ventilate the lungs and restore breathing after it is made certain no foreign object is lodged in the throat.

Finally, Dr. Longberg demonstrated the mouth-to-mouth method on a dummy of the kind used by the Red Cross in its training programs. He also demonstrated an advanced heart support device of the type used in paramedic-type ambulances and hospital emergency rooms to restore normal heart action, often the elimination of fibrillating, a fluttering type of heart muscle action.

It was explained that this is the kind of life-saving equipment which would be used in an emergency ambulance which the local Hospital Foundation hopes to acquire for Aransas County.

County Culvert Policy Stays

Aransas County commissioners on January 28 reaffirmed a current policy dealing with culvert work for homeowners.

The commissioners voted to continue installing pipe for culverts as long as the owners paid for the pipe. Commissioners agreed to spread dirt for the culvert but neither shell nor caliche. The policy was adopted several years ago by the commissioners court.

In other business, the commissioners discussed a lease at Aransas County Airport with a firm wanting to refurbish airplanes for oil work in Alaska. However, no action was taken until more information can be gathered from other airports on similar lease agreements.

He was a member of Fulton Lions Club and very active in local civic work and missed being mayor of Rockport by a narrow 2-vote margin in 1964. Mr. and Mrs. Drummond were instrumental in the formation of the Paws & Taws Square Dance Club and served as the first president of that group.

Evans Named Reagan Group

Jack B. Evans of Sunset Drive has been appointed to the selection committee of this district to prepare a slate of delegates committed to the presidential candidacy of former California governor Ronald Reagan. The Reagan group will meet February 15 in Corpus Christi.

Also on the May ballot will be Republican candidates for federal, state and county offices as well as candidates for party leadership.

Evans is retired from the U.S. Navy and has resided in Aransas County about five years.

On February 22, Mr. Cureton and Houston Psychiatrist, Dr. George Pullum, will discuss "Grief and Children." Dr. Pullum will deal with relating to terminally ill children and to children in a hospital setting when a family member is terminally ill. Mr. Cureton will discuss how to explain death to a child.

Participation in this course continues to be at an all time high for any adult course offered by the Presbyterian Church. All interested in this course are invited to attend at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday in the Presbyterian Church at Laurel and Live Oak Streets.

One of the newer lakes in South Texas is still not too well known, but San Antonio fishermen know where it is and know that some really fine fishing exists right at their doorsteps.

In 1970 the San Antonio City Public Service Board (CPSB) built a 3600 acre lake near San Antonio and called it Calaveras Lake. It is located on Calaveras Creek but most of its water is pumped in from the San Antonio River. They immediately leased the lake to the San Antonio River Authority (SARA) to develop for recreation. SARA asked the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TP&WD) to come in and stock the lake with fish then manage it for fishing. That first year the lake was stocked with largemouth black bass, sunfish and channel catfish.

Biologists soon found that the gizzard shad was doing here what they did everywhere they were found - they very rapidly grew too big for the bass and catfish to eat and overpopulation soon set in. To combat this, yet still have plenty of forage fish, the biologists stocked threadfin shad in the lake in 1972. Threadfin shad do not grow as big as the gizzard, but their reproductive rate is tremendous.

It was believed that the threadfins would soon outnumber the gizzard and eventually take over as the dominant forage fish. Recent sampling of the lake show that this is the current trend.

The waters of the San Antonio River that are pumped into the lake are filled with nutrients and all types of forage fish thrive. To take advantage of this tremendous supply of forage, the biologists stocked the lake with blue catfish in 1971. These cats have grown rapidly and now, with the original stock of channel cats, furnish some excellent catfishing.

Kirby Gholson, TP&WD biologist and project leader, felt that fishing pressure on the bass spawning grounds was cutting down on bass production. In the spring of 1973 a spawning sanctuary of 600 acres was closed to all fishing for six weeks. This practice was so successful that it has been continued every year since then. Creel census records (for bass only) show that from 1971 to 1974 there has been a 478 percent increase in the number of fish harvested per person. Data for 1975 is not yet completely correlated to earlier years.

To try to achieve the Florida/native largemouth bass cross which produces the faster growing "super bass," the biologists stocked Calaveras with 87,000 Florida bass in 1974. The results of this stocking, of course, are not yet apparent, but within a few years the average size of the largemouth caught by the fisherman should increase.

Since the abundance of forage fish still existed in July 1975, Gholson asked for and received a stocking of striped bass/white bass hybrids. These fish averaged three inches in length when stocked. Now, after only seven months, the fishermen are catching 15-inch fish. Although these hybrids are a fine, fast-growing game fish, they will not reproduce in the lake. This will do away with any possibility of overpopulation.

A 200-foot floating pier is now being completed and will soon be in place so that the bank fisherman will be able to reach and fish in deeper water.

Gholson has requested permission from CPSB to build fish attracting shelters on the lake bottom. The land was completely cleared before the lake was filled and this left no cover to attract and congregate the fish. Such shelters are normally constructed of brush, broken clay tile, concrete rubble, or baled automobile tires.

A small fee is charged for fishing in Calaveras and this money is used to build and maintain boat ramps, picnic sites, etc. All fishermen are required to stop on the way out and report their catch. This provides the biologists with a running creel census which has proved invaluable to their work. Having only one public entrance to the lake the collecting of the fee and the gathering of the catch records is accomplished with only one gatekeeper on duty.

Calaveras is a good example of what can be done when three governmental agencies cooperate to furnish fine fishing and other outdoor recreation near a large population center.

NURSING HOME NEWS
JANUARY 26 - FEBRUARY 1

Last week at the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center was quite a whirl of birthday festivities.

Tuesday morning the ladies from the Aransas Pass First Assembly of God Church were out to have their program and to give gifts to the January birthday residents.

Special music, singing of the old favorite hymns and with Rev. Gall bringing a short meditation was greatly enjoyed by all.

Then Tuesday afternoon the W.M.U. ladies of the First Baptist Church of Aransas Pass were out for their big monthly party and game day. Ice cream, cup cakes, punch for diabetics, as well as cookies were served. They then presented each birthday honoree a gift.

Wednesday evening was the LULAC #630 to come out for their game night, which all look forward to playing.

Thursday morning after a very good exercise session, Rev. Pruitt, along with the ladies of the Aransas Pass Pentecostal Church, were out for their weekly program.

Friday afternoon Father James Hamilton was out to celebrate mass for all of our Catholic residents. I want to thank Pat Baker, Roy Archey and any other of our own Center who help with this service.

Friday evening the men from the Aransas Pass Church of Christ was out to show the "Bible on Film." We all want to say that we wish and pray that Wayne Jones will soon be well again.

Tuesday evening was movie night with Susan McVey from the San Patricio County Library rendering this service to our residents.

Saturday afternoon our own Pat Baker and Alfred Zabel played guitar and accordion music for our friends, families and residents of our Center.

Saturday night was the night for Mary Frances Fahrenthold, Linda Lanfair and Xandra Mathis to come out and play for our monthly dance.

This dance was given in honor of our people having birthdays in January by the ladies of the Altar Society of St. Mary's Star of the Sea Catholic Church. We had a good turnout with standing room only. Everyone was really in a dancing mood. We had a lot of relatives and their friends in attendance. Also, our staff members who were off duty came back out to enjoy this occasion. Thanks to all of you people who make this dance so much fun for all of us. We love you for it.

Sunday morning church services were held in the dining area with Rev. Al Bankert leading the service.

Sunday afternoon Rev. Tom Smith from the Portland Baptist Church came over for the monthly program.

I want to thank our own Josephine Barber for making each wheelchair resident a waterproof tie-on carryall pocket to put on the chairs. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Mitchel and Mrs. Bess Jo Bartlet for the nice clothing they donated to us to use. Then, Mrs. Yoder from the Eleventh St. Christian Church sent out some lap robes and reading material to us. We thank you!

Mrs. Roy Calvert and Mrs. Elmer Atkins came over from the First Baptist Church of Ingleside to visit Irene Kemp and brought us men's underwear, bibs and a lap robe which they gave to Irene. Ladies, it's people like you that make my work a pleasure.

I also want to thank Ethel

Wooland and Bandy's Drugs for all the nice hosiery and lipstick you gave to us. May I say just one more time -- Thanks!

KOA NEWS

At the weekly "hen" session on Wednesday afternoon social directors Eva Hodges and Jo Pry discussed the activities for the week with guests present.

Wednesday next a whirly gig craft class will be conducted by Earl and Alberta Werner from Trailer Inn by the Bay.

A mid-season appreciation night on Friday was enjoyed by the winter guests -- a wiener roast, bonfire and a good old-fashioned gabfest.

The big question of the evening was what state had the deepest snow and the lowest temperature, with Minnesota the winner, 34 below at International Falls. The main course was compliments of K.O.A., ice cream supplied by Danny Oliver, a park resident. A grateful thanks from management.

Present were guests from 21 states and Canada.

Bill and Janet Daily have returned from daughter Linda's graduation in Leon, Iowa.

Marvin and Thelma Stephens from Abenathy, Tx. have returned to continue their winter vacation. Visiting the Stephens for the weekend from Anton, Tx., were son, Reggie, wife, Doris, Daughters, Lori, Melodi and son, Zane.

David Heaton has received his pilot's license. Congratulations, Dave.

A note of sympathy for Bob Beimbink's unfortunate cycle accident -- bruised but back to work.

Travelers returning from the Valley report that space are at a minimum.

Saturday's special award went to Mrs. Glen Winters of Viola, Kan.

KOA will sponsor the Tourist Ass'n covered dish dinner on Feb. 4 at the Airport Building.

Tennis Plans Are Announced

Returning to Rockport last week after a two-months' motor odyssey that covered some 13,000 miles and took him to many areas of the United States and Mexico, John Gutzke, tennis professional at Rockport Racquet Club, outlined plans for tennis activities during the late winter and early spring.

First will be organization of a number of lesson and playing leagues which proved popular and productive last fall. He said he hopes to have them in operation by late February or early March. There will be leagues for beginning, intermediate and advanced women players. In addition, there will be after-school leagues for junior players, with varying degrees of skills, and possibly an after-work league for men and women if there is sufficient interest.

The game plan for all league sessions is to start with group instruction followed by match play. Records will be kept of competitive play and awards presented at the end of the program. It is planned to schedule all leagues for two sessions a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with a tournament for all participants at the end. Gutzke also will give individual tennis lessons.

First competitive event of the year will be a Senior Men's tournament sponsored by the recently organized Rockport Tennis Association. There will be match play for men over 45, over 55 and over 60. Although the date has not been set, it probably will be some time in April.

The next tournament will be the third Annual Spring tournament which will include men's and women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles. The tournament is area-wide in nature and will include local players as well as those from nearby communities such as Sinton and Victoria. This tournament probably will be played in late April or early May.

Gutzke reports his vacation trip was by no means a traditional busman's holiday because he played virtually no tennis. The only exception was a few sets with a nephew in South Carolina.

The trip involved visits to California and the west coast, middlewest, east coast, Florida, west Texas and the east coast of Mexico. He wore out one car on the trip and returned to Rockport midway to pick up a new automobile.

A.C. Raiders Season, 8-0

A.C. Raiders won, by forfeit, their game against American National Bank Monday night.

This brings to a close their regular season with a record of 8 wins, no losses. They now will play in post-season games.

The first game will be Monday, Feb. 9, at 7 p.m. at Haas Gym (McArdle Road). The second game will also be played at Haas Gym. It will be Feb. 11 at 8 p.m.

They ask Rockport fans to come and support this championship team.

They would like to give special thanks to sponsors:

Pearl Peer Distributor of Aransas Pass, Marshall Funeral Homes, First National Bank of Rockport, Bob McBee of Corpus Christi, Charlie and Rita Parrish and Bill and Bette Cutcher.

Thanks also to the Raiders: Jan Munn, Rita Parrish, Jackie Hollinhead, Betty Cutcher, Debbie Silchenstedt, Lucy Rivera, Linda Morgan, Jean Pearce, Judy Phelps, Karen Rickter, Diane Schneider, Anita Dingenary, Linda Ballou and Marcy Wendell.

No Hurry

Even those most eager to go to Heaven postpone the trip as long as possible.

GIVES DEMONSTRATION — Michael Casterline presents a demonstration at Rockport Elementary School to show fifth grade students how the hardness of water is determined.

STYLE SHOW ATTRACTS 250

Some 250 winter tourists enjoyed a covered dish supper and style show at the Jan. 28 activity sponsored by the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association. Mrs. Joy Wheelless from Merle Norman cosmetic studio was co-ordinator for the show. Clothes were furnished by Windel's Western Wear, Suttles Dress Shop, the Tree House and Hidden Treasures.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Agee of Fulton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lou Ann, to Roy Gene Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burtis Collins of Aransas Pass. The couple will marry March 6.

Hardness Tests Of Water Shown

Michael Casterline recently presented a film and demonstration to two fifth grade classes at Rockport Elementary School.

He asked the students three thought-provoking questions before showing a film on water. These questions were: How much water was on the earth in 1776, how much water is on the earth today, and how much water was on the earth when God created the earth.

The students seemed interested to find that the amount of water available on the earth has remained stable since the beginning of time.

Because of increased usage of water, from five gallons per person to fifty gallons currently and because of pollution, less

TRAV-TRAIL-R TALK

By Sally Irvine and Cooter Harbaugh
Our cribbage tournament is set for Feb. 10. We will announce the winners next week.

Had a little excitement last Sunday around 6 p.m. Don Kerr and his new bride, Susan, drove through the park followed by several cars of friends. Much honking of horns and noise making. Happy honeymooning!

Seth Morse, Shorty Meyers, Ross Marshall, John Wilder, Paul Harbaugh, Jesse Bentz, Bill Braun, Henry Bentz and Earl Tilley have contributed greatly to our collection of fish. We can finally set the date of Friday, Feb. 6, for our camp fish fry. Paul Harbaugh, Smoky Tesno and Clyde Northcutt will be frying the fish, all we do is bring cole slaw, baked beans and desserts.

Bud and Junior Pariseau left Wednesday for Austin where they will visit Gary, Lois and Christopher. They will return Monday.

It seems we have a fellow here that is constantly locking himself out of his car. I wouldn't mention his name, but for Harry Douglas happiness is: his wife, Irma, went to the laundry and locked herself out of the car and had to walk home. Harry is still laughing. Are you smiling, Irma?

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Robreas of Kokoma, Ind. and Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Nelson of Avinger, Tx. were guests of Esther and Leon Hawkins. Ardis and Wilfred Neely have as a frequent visitor, their son John who works at Union Carbide in Seadrift.

Ladies day was hosted by Mildred Shaw and Naomi Clark. The project for the day was beaded scarfs, taught by June Potter. Ruth Freeman gave us another new pattern for a 'dickey.' Real easy to make and goes great with pant suits and such.

We're losing a couple of real good friends early this year. Dr. and Mrs. L.A. Irvine of Granberry, Texas, feel it necessary to return home.

Clyde and Mary Northcutt are taking a little trip to Abilene and Lubbock, returning about Tuesday. Dr. and Thelma Rice had visitors over the weekend; Charles and Dorothy Swanson and Don and Vivian Lentell of Valley, Neb. They spent a lovely afternoon driving through the Wildlife Preserve.

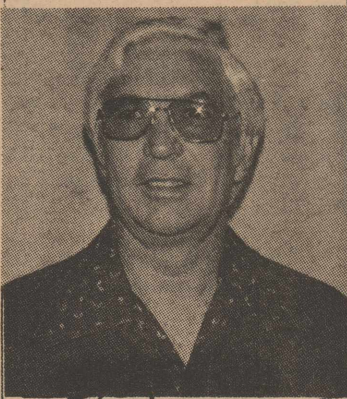

Letha Dearth had surgery this past week at Spohn Hospital. She is doing well and will be back soon.

A note found in the mail box - "To our friends of Trav-Trail-R, We love every one of you and hope to see you all again in Oct. A very special thank you to Jeanne and Smokey for being so sweet and kind during my illness. They are the tops, folks. Also thanks to Mary for our little talks, sure hope Clyde is O.K. Mus, mention Dr. and Mrs. Rice for their kindnesses and Cooter for my laughs. We love each one of you and will think of you all as we travel along our life's highway. Thanks, John and Alice Wilder."

and Bernice Trimble and Keith and June Windrum of Gothen-berg, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Armbrust, Omaha, Neb.; Carl and Nellie Vincent, Nashville, Tenn. Hope you enjoyed your stay here as much as we enjoyed your company.

SPANISH MADE SIMPLE' COURSE

The women of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will offer a course titled "Spanish Made Simple" starting Feb. 4 and continuing for six to eight weeks.

FOURTH GRADE VISITS SEAFOOD FIRM

The fourth grade classes of Live Oak Elementary School visited the Jackson Seafood Company. The children were taken on the shrimp boat, the Mary Lucille J. They also watched as the shrimp were unloaded from the boat, washed, packed in boxes and loaded on a truck. The children have been studying the seafood industry in social studies.

Jeans are still popular with the school set for casual wear but there is a tendency among them to wear either dressy pants suits or dresses for more important occasions.

The pants suit with sweater and jacket continues to be a popular sales item.

Flouses worn with these dresses can be plain or fancy according to the dress. Not all of these patters are long-sleeved - some are short length.

A.A.R.P. COVERED DISH DINNER

On January 28 John Leslie, president, called the Rockport Chapter of A.A.R.P. (#1536) to order by asking Paul Hoover to give the invocation. Leon Wiech led the group in the pledge to the flag. New members and visitors were introduced.

Leslie announced the death of one of the local members, Mrs. Irene Soria (sister of Mrs. Rossi Clark).

The program was introduced by Mrs. Esther Decker. Mrs. Frances Mutscher and her Future Homemakers presented a Bicentennial skit.

Mrs. McCague, Lifetime Learning Chairman, announced that classes in beginners' bridge would start next Monday at 1:30 with room for more entrants. Also the Conversational Spanish will start on Friday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 -- both at the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Ass'n Recreational Building on Airport Road. Bridge lessons are six for $5 and Spanish 8 for $5.

Lelsie announced the various trips to Mexico that are available. He also called on Zollie Glass, legislative chairman, who urged all to oppose H.R. Bill #9464 which is a Natural Gas Emergency Act and any amendments offered to that bill to deregulate "new" interstate natural gas. The National A.A.R.P. office states that this bill will tend to make prices go up and make a hardship on older people and urges that all write their Congressmen accordingly. Also he reported that Mrs. Jones, from the County Tax Office, was present to take voter registration from anyone so they may vote in forthcoming elections.

Dinner was enjoyed by 75 present.

The next meeting will be on February 11 at which time Sandra Garrett, state public health nurse for Region 10, will be on hand. She and several nurse members will hold a health clinic and blood pressures will be taken, also diabetic checks and T.B. skin tests. They can also give tetanus shots if you haven't had one in the past five years. Mrs. Garrett's office is at 310 N. Pearl St. where she is stationed here.

The card parties are going fine on every Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Pat Works as recreational chairman. Bridge and canasta are played.

The next dance is scheduled for February 12 with Gene Rickles as usual.

Pirates Beat Aransas Pass

Rockport-Fulton High School pushed its District 15-3A North Zone record to 4-2 on January 27 with a 78-67 triumph over Aransas Pass.

Rockport-Fulton, 12-9 for the year, received 24 points from Johnny Rios and 18 from Ronnie Ormand while Gary Brown had 28 for Aransas Pass, 1-5 and 5-17.

Rockport also won the preliminary games, taking the JV battle 54-49 and the freshman game 63-26.

FOOD PRESERVATION
MAILOUT SERIES

The San Patricio-Aransas County Extension Agent is offering a mailout series, "Preserving Food at Home" to any interested homemaker.

TEXAS JOB TALK

Texas' Unemployment rate continues to edge downward. New figures announced recently by Texas Employment Commission Chairman Harold K. Dudley show a 6 percent total unemployment rate for Texas in November, a slight drop from October's 6.1 percent.

Texas' total unemployment rate compares favorably with the national unemployment rate of 7.8 percent for November, he commented, adding that Texas' insured unemployment rate is even more favorable to the state, as the insured rate is only 1.7 percent.

"There are actually two unemployment rates—the total unemployment rate and the insured unemployment rate," the TEC chairman explained. "The insured unemployment rate reflects the number of unemployed workers drawing unemployment benefits in relation to all Texas workers who are covered by unemployment insurance. The total unemployment rate, on the other hand, reflects the number of unemployed workers in relation to the state's total work force, including both those covered and those not covered by unemployment insurance."

"Texas consistently shows lower rates of unemployment than the nation as a whole," Dudley said. "Unemployment in both Texas and the nation has been stable in recent months with only a slight downward trend apparent."

He predicted that the unemployment rate will go down slowly and reluctantly.

Ten of Texas' 22 major labor market areas had unemployment rates higher than the national rate in November. Only three of these, however, had labor forces in excess of 100,000. Ten areas—including Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston—had unemployment rates lower than the state rate.

Years Recap: Texas' labor force—consisting of the employed and the unemployed—has increased by 2.9 percent since November 1974 while the unemployment rate rose from 4.9 percent to 6 percent, and employment grew by 1.6 percent.

"Thus, employment failed to keep pace with the number of workers available," Dudley said.

During the year, local governments (which include educational institutions) added more jobs to the state labor market than any other employers. The next largest gain in employment came in the service industries, with medical and professional services requiring nearly 80 percent of the new workers. These trends, both in government and in services, reflect an increasing population in the state and the needs engendered by this growth.

Employment in the trades was also up, with retail trade utilizing a few more workers than the medical and professional services. This trend reflects growing consumer confidence as well as the state's rising population.

The search for more sources of energy is apparent in the year's employment picture. In nonmanufacturing industries, the greatest employment gains were in mining, which includes oil and gas exploration and production. Also, employment in nonelectrical machinery, which includes oil field tools, was up.

In addition to nonelectrical machinery, staffs grew in only three manufacturing industries—food and kindred products, lumber and wood products, and leather and leather products.

With the gains, there was also the crunch. Construction felt the sharpest curtailment, losing almost 16,000 workers during the year. Trends in construction, Dudley pointed out, are among the major indicators of the state of the economy. Some employers who might have expanded developed a wait and see attitude; others failed to expand simply because business was off and expansion was both unwise and unnecessary. The collective result was felt in allied industries and finally by the general public.

Heaviest personnel cutbacks in the manufacturing industries took place in electrical machinery (which included electronics firms), equipment and supplies, primary metal industries, transportation equipment, and printing, publishing and allied industries. Also down was employment in transportation, communications, and utilities.

Agricultural employment continues in its long-term downward trend which began at the close of World War II.

This reflects the effects of mechanization and improved technology, resulting in lessening requirements for manual labor.

As unemployment recedes, Texas are filing few claims for unemployment benefits. Some 558,611 claims were filed with TEC in November, a substantial drop from the 653,333 filed in October.

But while claims for regular unemployment benefits are decreasing, those filed by people recently separated from military service increased generally during the year. From a low of 19,564 in February, claims filed by ex-military persons rose to a high of 26,892 in October. The November figure was down to 22,462.

Dial-a-Care Service Set

There are many elderly persons married or living alone who have little contact with the outside world. They live in an isolated world and feel that no one really cares for them.

The Senior Citizens Program, Aransas County Council on Aging, has taken the initiative in establishing a service which will attempt to end this isolation, by means of the telephone. Dial-a-Care works in this manner: 1. A person fills out a registration form, which is available at Concern Center, 206 N. Magnolia Street. Fill out and sign the form and mail or bring to the office at above address. (Office open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Sat. and Sunday. 2. The name will be added to the membership automatically. 3. Each morning you call in, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. by dialing 729-7722 to let the volunteer manning the telephone know you are all right. 4. If you fail to call in, the volunteer will call you. 5. If you are called and do not answer, your neighbor will be called, or some person that you designate, so the Dial-a-Care can know you are all right.

This service is free of charge and any Senior Citizen can participate. For further information on this service, call your Senior Citizens Program Director, Neal Gage, 729-5352 or call the Concern Center which handles the Dial-a-Care program, 729-7722.

This service has been extended to include those of any age who might need it, those who are blind, crippled or just lonely or depressed.
