Final Try On Talks

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Negotiators from Biafra and Uganda sat down today in a final effort to salvage talks aimed at ending Nigeri's 10-month - old civil war.

Sir Louis Mbanefo, head of the Biafran team, and Nigerian delegation leader Chief Anthony Enahoro met with President Milton Obote of Uganda and Commonwealth Secretary Arnold Smith.

Mbanefo had threatened to take his delegation back to Biafra because of repeated delays in getting down to the question of a cease-fire.

The Biaframs have complained that the Nigerians delayed the meeting a half hour Sunday, 90 minutes Saturday and one hour Thursday.

Enahoro said the delays resulted from the disappearance Thursday of a Nigerian confidential secretary. He said Lagos had at first ordered him to hold off the talks pending a report on the missing man. Later, he said, he received orders to continue without the secretary.

Nigeria insists there will be no cease-fire until the Biafrans give up their claim to sovereignty.

Biafra, formerly Nigeria's eastern region, declared itself independent last year after complaining of unfair treatment at the hands of the Lagos government. Tribal massacres had taken the lives of thousands of Ibos, the dominant tribe in Eastern Nigeria.

ON PEACE TALKS

President To Get Report

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — U. S. and North Vietnamese envoys conferred for more than four hours in the fifth session of talks on the Vietnam war today. They adjourned then until Friday morning.

Cyrus R. Vance, No. 2 man in the U.S. team, prepared to fly to Washington for a firsthand report to President Johnson.

Vance's report presumably will provide a basis for a top level review of U.S. strategy in the search for peace, but American officials here expect the main line of developments to continue unchanged.

Vance is deputy to Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. negotiating team. Harriman and North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy started their third week of meetings today in the International Conference Center.

The major issues in the talks are deadlocked, but Western diplomats believe North Vietnam is edging toward a concession to the U.S. demand that it admit the presence of its troops in South Vietnam.

This view is based on a statement in Hanoi Friday by Premier Pham Van Dong. He said the Vietnamese people "have the right" to go fight "wherever the enemy exists."

The U.S. Command in Saigon estimates that North Vietnam has 85,000 of its troops in the South. Harriman has argued that such problems of peacemaking as these troops will be impossible to solve unless they are dealt with realistically.

Both Harriman and Thuy have recognized the possibility that the talks may fail, but both appear satisfied to move slowly toward a showdown on the main issue now before them—the end of all U.S. attacks on North Vietnam.

American officials say the United States cannot possibly stop the remaining bombing and shelling of targets in the North unless the Hanoi government cuts the heavy infiltration of recent months or gives some other evidence of de-escalation.

U.S. officials expect much more hard fighting in the South. Their reasoning is that the high command in Hanoi wants to destroy a major U.S. unit, to capture and hold part of Saigon, or to seize some smaller city as a means of gaining strength at the conference table in Paris.

Authorities who see this military action as fundamental to North Vietnamese strategy say the talks are likely to go very slowly for that reason. Meanwhile, both sides are conducting a propaganda fight.

Spock Trial Continuing

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON

BOSTON (AP) — The government showed a television film today of a Nov. 30, 1967, news conference at which Dr. Benjamin Spock called President Johnson "a deceitful and belligerent man who doesn't admit he makes mistakes."

The doctor told the news conference he feared that the President was about to invade North Vietnam and said Americans "can't wait for political action in November, 1968—we might be gone by then."

The television film began the second week of the trial of Spock and four codefendants on charges of conspiring to counsel young Americans to avoid the draft.

The government said the news conference, held at the Penn Garden Hotel, preceded an anti-draft demonstration at the Whitehall Street Induction Center in New York City, where Spock was arrested for blocking an entrance.

At the news conference, Spock said he wanted to do "everything I can to end the war in Vietnam" and predicted he would be arrested at the demonstration.

Prosecution testimony last week centered on a meeting last October inside the Justice Department building in Washington.

French Workers Reject Government Proposal

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — French union officials, management and the government reached agreement on wage issues today to end the nation's 11-day strike, but the immediate response from French workers was "non."

Meetings at big factories in Paris, Lyon, Marseilles and Nantes rejected the settlement and for the first time since the strike began Paris was hit by scattered electricity cuts.

Employes of the state-run gas and electricity company were angry because a meeting on their grievances had been put off.

Union leaders toured the strikebound factories explaining the agreement. The workers shouted their disapproval at the nationalized Renault automobile works and the privately owned Citroen plant.

None of the union leaders would predict whether the 10 million striking workers would accept the pact and end the giant defiance of President Charles de Gaulle's government. But Georges Seguy, secretary general of the Communist-led General Confederation of Workers, said the decisions should be made "in a short time."

Seguy said the unions had achieved only partial success in the two nights of negotiating sessions, which lasted a total of 27 hours.

"We have arrived at an ensemble of conclusions which one can say constitutes an agreement" Premier Georges Pompidou told newsmen as the decisive 14-hour session ended at 7:45 a.m.

If the settlement is ratified by the workers, its cost may force De Gaulle to curtail or even abandon such defensive items as his nuclear strike force and large-scale aid to developing countries. He may also have to dig deep into France's hoard of gold which he has been using to put pressure on the dollar and the British pound.

Although the labor front was looking up, Pompidou was plagued with the possibility of more trouble on the second front of France's crisis, the student rebellion.

The National Students' Union called a 24-hour demonstration to begin today against alleged police provocations which it claimed were responsible for the bloody rioting in Paris Thursday and Friday nights.

The Interior Ministry gave the students permission for a street march followed by a meeting at a stadium. Leaders of the students' union pledged that the demonstration would be nonviolent, but radical groups who have been talking revolution refused to join in the pledge.

The premier's tactic has been to give priority to the workers' demands since the general strike is having the more serious effect on the nation's economy and its life.

Presumably the government now will turn to the students' demands for sweeping reform of the antiquated university system. Pompidou has already promised a thorough shakeup and agreed to most of the students' original demands, but they have continued their strike and occupation of their universities, holding marathon discussion sessions at which they argue about how to go about revolutionizing French society.

The Syndicate of University Teachers announced its support for the new student demonstration. But the Communist party again turned their back on the young rebels, telling its followers to stay away because "new provocations" might hamper achievement of the workers' aims.

COMMENCEMENT AT 8 TONIGHT

Follow Bible, Seniors Told

Man functions best when he follows the instructions of his manufacturer, Snyder High School's graduating class of 1968 was told last night at Baccalaureate services in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Don Browning, East Side Church of Christ Minister, reminded that any type of machinery functions best when the manufacturer's instructions for operation are followed. Since God made man, it follows that man functions best when he looks to God's instructions (the Bible) as a pattern for his life, Mr. Browning said.

He cited some issues which the seniors will face, such as intellectualism, racism and moral questions, but reminded that the teachings of the Bible provide the solution to all.

At the outset Mr. Browning noted that he and the seniors were in similar situation at the Baccalaureate service. The seniors are heading for new experiences, either in furthering their education, beginning careers in business and industry, and even matrimony, he reminded, while for himself, the Baccalaureate sermon was to be his last as a minister in Snyder. Mr. Browning is moving to New York to serve a congregation there.

Commencement exercises are scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight in the coliseum.

The Snyder High School A Chappella Choir, under direction of J. D. Smith, sang two numbers at the Baccalaureate service. The Rev. William N. Parkey, minister of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation, and the Rev. R. Virgil Mott, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, the benediction.

Enemy Command Steps Up Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — The enemy command stepped up the pace of battle over the weekend and for the first time introduced Soviet long-range antiaircraft guns to its beefed up air defenses just north of the demilitarized zone. A U.S. spokesman said 16 of the guns were spotted and air strikes destroyed or damaged them all.

Allied forces reported killing more than 1,000 enemy troops in a weekend of savage fighting from the outskirts of Saigon to the demilitarized zone.

In keeping with Hanoi's proclaimed "fight and talk" policy, the Communist command's push came as North Vietnamese and American negotiators prepared for their fifth meeting today in the Paris cease-fire talks.

American casualties were reported as 54 killed and 192 wounded in the series of battles. South Vietnamese losses were termed light.

Sharp fighting cnntinued on three sides of Saigon today. The Viet Cong was believed moving 500 to 1,000 troops toward the capital.

The heaviest fighting over the weekend came in the northern sector, where North Vietnamese troops renewed their pressure on the U.S. Marine headquarters at Dong Ha, and in the central highlands, where a massive campaign may be shaping up.

U.S. spokesman said superior allied firepower led to enemy defeats in most of the clashes, but American troops appeared to have been set back in at least two places.

Escapees Hunted In San Francisco

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — The search for two escaped mental patients swung to San Francisco today after the release there unharmed of the last of four hostages and the recapture of one patient.

Frank Svehla, 53, the last hostage, hailed a passing patrol car in San Francisco about 4 a.m.

He and three others were seized when the three patients fled Atascadero State Hospital Sunday. Svehla is a psychiatric technician.

Hearings Begin On Texas Budget

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Budget hearings in advance of the June 4 special legislative session started today with the National Guard's plea for more riot control equipement, including shotguns and lightweight body armor.

The House Appropriations committee led off the hearings, followed, a half-hour later, by the Senate Finance Committee, which rejected a House suggestion that the two groups hold joint hearings.

Maj. Gen. Thomas Bishop, adjutant general, told the House committee the Guard needs $385,933 for riot control equipment, nearly $110,000 more than the $276,663 recommended by the Legislative Budget Board.

"I don't know about the rest of the committee but the chairman heard you favorably with reference to riot equipment," said Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, the chairman.

Heatly said Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, who will be speaker of the House next year, is now vice chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Mutscher, a veteran of three sessions on the committee, succeeds former Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, as vice chairman. Pipkin resigned from the legislature last year to become director of the State Judicial Qualifications Committee.

Bishop laid a variety of military hardware on a small table to the side of the committee room, but few committee members examined it in detail before the hearing.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about people who just walk into your house because the door isn't locked? Many times I will tell my grocer to set my groceries inside my door instead of on the back porch, and I leave the door unlocked for him.

Well, this neighbor lady tried by back door, and, finding it unlocked, she walked right in. She yoo-hooed and nobody answered because my husband was in the shower. He thought he heard someone come in, and, thinking it was me, he walked out. She said she heard the shower running, and, thinking it was me, she walked in. They met in the hall.

Now my husband can't face her and wants to move. We have lived in this house for 36 years and I think he's silly. What do you suggest?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: A towel and another "yoo - hoo" at the right place and the right time would have saved the day. Stay where you are; and tell your blushing hubby he's not as fascinating as he may think.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This may sound like a silly problem to you but it is serious to me. My bones crack. Honestly, when I'm sitting in one place for a while and then start walking, my knee cracks. It doesn't hurt, but it is very embarrassing.

When I eat, sometimes my jaw snaps. If you are laughing at me I can't blame you, Abby, but I sure wish you would tell me if there is anything I can do about my problem.

"CRACKY"

DEAR CRACKY: Grin and bear it. The "problem" is grossly exaggerated only because it's your own. How much attention would you give to the "cracking" of someone else's knee? Or the snapping of his jaw? Not much, I'll bet.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have pre - school children and a large home to care for, but I schedule my time so that everything gets done. When the children nap, I read, write letters, and relax alone, which I enjoy.

At that precise time, invariably a certain neighbor barges in on me with her children. She helps herself to refreshments, then settles down for an endless outpouring of gossip, unasked - for advice and a monologue of opinions on various subjects. She is a terrible bore.

I would pretend not to be home, but she can see my car in the garage. At first, I found her entertaining, but now she comes so often, I've taken a dislike to her. Please tell me what to do, but don't use my name or location. She has a vicious tongue and would make a better friend than an enemy.

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: People who open their doors to bores and tolerate their company day after day have only themselves to blame. By your failure to discourage her, you've encouraged her. If you had to decide between having this rude, vicious, gossipy pest for a friend or an enemy, I think you made an unwise choice.

Donated Clothing On Black Market

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Some clothing donated by Americans to the Catholic Relief Services for use by the Vietnamese is being sold in the Da Nang black market.

Men and women rummage through the shirts, slacks and occasional sweaters spread over tables in the black market stalls. The customers pick out the clothes they want, haggle amiably over the price with several women clerks and close the deal.

Three shipping bags were seen this weekend in the stalls. They were marked "From Catholic Relief Services, U.S. C.C., U.S.A. donated by Catholics of America Not to be sold or exchanged"

Three black marketeers said the clothes were obtainable for 5,000 piasters, or about $42, per 220-pound bag marked "Catholic Relief Services."

At least 200 such bags have been bought in the last 10 days sale in the Da Nang black market, these sources said.

The average profit on each bag is about 1,000 piasters, or $8.40, they added.

The regional director for the private agency in the five northern provinces, Matt D'Arcy, was not available for immediate comment.

Father Nguyen Khac Tuan, executive director for the service in Da Nang, said he did not know of the black market activity and if it did exist he had no idea how it came about.

The Catholic Relief services in Vietnam deal on a large scale, assisting upward of 100,000 refugees and needy in the five northern provinces with gifts of clothing and food. One source said the service has provided victims of the Tet offensive last February in Hue with 2,000 100-kilo bags of clothing. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.

2 Mishaps Are Logged

City Police probed two motor vehicle collisions over the weekend.

The first one occurred at 1:07 p.m. Saturday at Avenue S and Twenty - fifth Street. Involved were the 1956 Model Chevrolet of Henry Albert Grinslade, 3704 Austin, and the 1966 Model Mercury of Evelynn T. Alexander, 2704 Thirty - fifth Street. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $150. The mishap was investigated by Police Patrolman Ruben Gonzales.

The second one occurred at 4:09 p.m. Sunday on U. S. 180 at Thirty-seventh Street. Involved were the 1963 Model Chevrolet of Yvonne Farrar Wortham, 310 Twentieth Street, and the 1967 Model Pontiac of Jan Rains, 208 Thirty - first Street. Damage to the Pontiac was placed at $250, and damage to the other car was negligible.

Child, Policeman Bitten By Dog

Joe Spivey, 7, 2242 Sunset, was bitten on the arm and the backside by a big, black dog about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the 3700 block of Avenue V.

The animal also bit Police Patrolman Jim Eggleston on the right hip and tore his pants.

The dog was placed under observation for 10 days.

Alert Is Short-Lived

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau forecast severe thunderstorms about dawn today, then cancelled the warning shortly thereafter.

At one time, thunderheads towered to a remarkable 70,000 feet in Central Texas.

The Weather Bureau said at 7:20 a.m., however, that the area of severe thunderstorms between Abilene to Waco weakened and moved southeast and "is no longer considered dangerous."

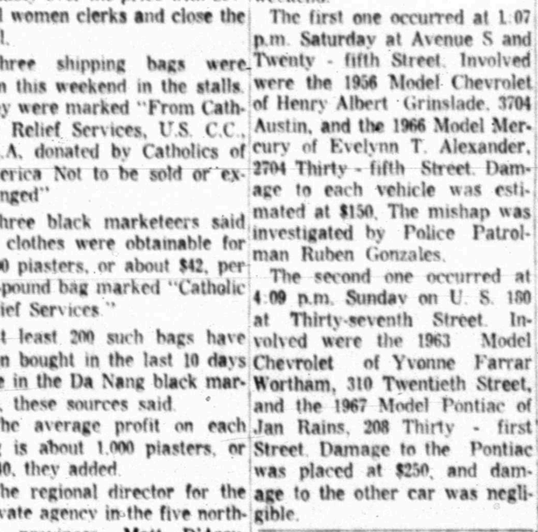

Scattered thunderstorms will continue, the Weather Bureau reported.

Southeast Texas spent an uneasy night as heavy rain and hail lashed that area.

The weather observers said the 70,000-foot thunderhead was over Hamilton in Central Texas and called it "very exceptional." On the basis of that observation and before the danger weakened, the Weather Bureau said rainfall rates of greater than five inches could be expected.

Light thundershowers were reported over an area from near Electra to Temple, Okla., to Archer City and back to Electra, and in Northeast Texas from Texarkana to Clarksville.

VILLAGE OF TAOS WILL REMEMBER

Kit Carson: The Audacious Patriot

By JULES LOH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

TAOS, N.M. (AP) - The annual changing of the flag in the plaza of this antique village will have a special significance this Memorial Day.

It is 100 years since the death of the man who nailed the banner to its first cottonwood staff, nailed it there, and quietly suggested that no one dare lay his treasonous hands on it again. No one dared.

The audacious patriot was Kit Carson.

With the death May 28, 1868, of the explorer, trapper, Indian fighter, scout, soldier, rancher — few American folk heroes knew so varied a career — there died a breed of man that was an American original, the Mountain Man.

To the Mountain Man, rugged individualism was no mere shibboleth, personal independence no myth. None typified the breed or added more to its romance than Kit Carson.

Next Thursday, Memorial Day, a dozen or so of Kit Carson's descendants will gather in the Taos plaza. One of them, probably Kit Carson III, a retired trader from Alamosa, Colo., will lower the tattered old flag that has flown day and night since last Memorial Day and replace it with a new one. A small centennial celebration, more a family reunion, will follow.

The Taos flag is one of the few in the country permitted by Congress to remain aloft continuously, a privilege granted in recognition of Kit Carson's daring defiance.

The incident happened in the early summer of 1860 when news of the outbreak of Civil War reached New Mexico. Kit Carson was 50. His frontier exploits already had made him a national legend. He was embarrassed by all the fuss over him, wanted only to put both adventure and limelight aside and retire quietly to his ranch.

Sentiment in New Mexico was largely on the side of the Confederacy. The territory had been a part of Mexico up until a scant 12 years before and many citizens still viewed the conquering bluecoats with less than total admiration.

Their view of Kit Carson, however, was one of undiluted respect.

They respected him as a friend, and also respected his deserved reputation with the rifle he held cocked and primed as he stood at the base of the flagpole.

Southern sympathizers had ripped the flag from its staff the previous day. When Kit Carson said leave it alone, it was left alone.

The people of Taos had known the slight, 5-feet-6 frontiersman with the steel gray eyes and rusty hair ever since he arrived in the old adobe town in 1826. He was 17 then, hell bent for excitement.

Taos, an ancient Spanish settlement which was a thriving community even before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, was at that time the southwestern headquarters for the booming fur trade. Young Christopher Carson — known from infancy as Kit — had heard about the swashbuckling beaver trappers who gathered in Taos and ached to join them.

He signed on as cook with a trapping party headed by Ewing Young, a frontiersman of the first rank, and headed for the wilderness.

When the party returned word got around that the leathery, freckled greenhorn had shot three Indians during an attack. His hand was steady, his aim true. He had proved himself.

For the next 16 years Kit Carson trapped the mountain streams of the American West all the way to the Pacific and from border to border. As his experience grew so did his reputation among fellow trappers.

His courage, his skill in the wood, his boldness in battle, soon earned the respect of even the veterans, men like Jedediah Smith, Jim Bridger, Tom Fitzpatrick, Joe Meek, men who marked the trails that became the roads that later bore endless caravans of wagons westward.

These were the Mountain Men.

The Eastern intellectuals called them "natural men" and so they were.

They lived among Indians and took Indian ways and Indian wives and spoke a strange patois punctuated by wild sounds like "wagg!" and "sirree!"

The Mountain Men lived by their wits, a day at a time, and prized their freedom above all else. They were a fraternity of individualists. A man might hire out to one fur company, disappear in the night and join another. Or strike out on his own. They skinned their beavers and traded the pelts for one big midsummer fling and enough powder and lead to see them through the next winter. "Trappers and sailors are similar in regard to money," Kit Carson observed.

In one important respect Kit Carson departed from the Mountain Man sterotype.

Unlike his boisterous, yarn-spinning companeros, Carson was quiet, self-effacing, laconic. His deeds spoke for themselves. Volumes.

The less he said about himself the more others said about him. Still it is unlikely his name would have become so widely known, his exploits so romanticized, had it not been for a chance meeting aboard a Missouri River steamboat in 1842.

Carson had been in St. Louis to visit his daughter who was staying with relatives. The girl was the only child of his first wife, a Cheyenne, who died in childbrith. There is no trace of his daughter's descendants.

On the steamer, heading back, Carson met John C. Fremont, the Army surveyor. Fremont needed a guide, someone who knew the Western wilderness he planned to survey. He tried Kit Carson.

Fremont's official report of his two expeditions became a best seller. The government printed more than 250,000 copies. In the report, Fremont extolled Kit Carson, recounting feats of daring and courage. Congress commended Carson publicly. Writers embellished his deeds, which didn't need embellishment. Kit Carson became a superhero overnight—and grist for the pulp magazines.

The limelight annoyed Carson but did not change him. He remained genuinely unconvinced that he was extraordinary.

During the war with Mexico Kit Carson carried dispatches to Washington for Gen. Stephen W. Kearny. While there President Polk personally offered him a temporary Army commission. Carson had longed to be a soldier.

He returned to Taos proudly in a first lieutanant's uniform only to discover that Congress had not got around to confirming his commission before the war ended and it was therefore null. Carson said it was his bitterest disappointment.

MRS. AARON BRADLEY CRAWFORD

Noblett, Crawford Marriage Rites Held In Shallowater

Miss Jackie Cheryl Noblett and Aaron Bradley Crawford pledged wedding vows at 8 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church of Shallowater, with Rev. Myron M. Crawford, father of the groom, officiating the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noblett, 902 Twelfth Street, Shallowater, are the parents of the bride. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Myron M. Crawford, of Ira, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown of satin peau, designed with a scalloped neckline and petal point sleeves. The fitted bodice featured Chantilly lace over satin peau, accented with seed pearls. Her cathedral train of chiffon bordered with scalloped lace and accented with seedpearls fell in soft folds from the waist. An organza headpiece outlined in seed pearls held her tiered veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white baby carnations with an orchid center, atop her white Bible.

For something old, the bride carried her white bridal Bible. She borrowed her maternal grandmother's pearl necklace to wear with her new bridal gown. Her blue garter and the traditional penney in her shoe completed her ensemble.

Maid of honor was Miss Cheryl Bennett of Shallowater. Bridesmaids were Miss Sherry Whiteaker of Sudan, Miss Jene Ann Joyner of Alamagordo, New Mexico, and Miss Wilma Spencer, of Rochelle, Illinois. The attendants wore formal length A-line, sleeveless gowns of sunshine yellow brocade with portrait necklines. On their heads, they wore petal shaped headpieces, to which were attached yellow silk illusion veils. They carried long - stem white carnations.

Melvin Crawford of Ira served his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Alton Noblett, of Shallowater, Obie Crawford, of Ira, and Randall Hasley, of Dimmitt. Mike Lindsey and Jerry Hopper were ushers.

Wes Adamson and Mark Evans were candlelighters. Flower girl was Melonie Foerester and Joey McCollum was the ringbearer. Mrs. Mike Fowler was organist, with Miss Jane Shipp rendering wedding selections of "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," "The Twelfth of Never," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's going-away costume was a fitted tunic over a pleated skirt, made of blue linen, with white accessories, and she wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church honored the couple.

Mrs. Crawford is a 1967 graduate of Sudan High School and attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. Crawford is a 1967 graduate of Ira High School and attended Wayland Baptist College.

After a trip to Mineral Wells, the couple will reside in Big Spring, where Crawford will attend Howard County Junior College.

SOME DISSENTERS, BUT—

Goldberg Gets 'A' Rating

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — There are dissenters, but most of Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's colleagues give him an "A" rating for his 34 months at the United Nations.

The dissenters generally compare the 59-year-old former Supreme Court justice unfavorably with his immediate predecessors, Adlai E. Stevenson and Henry Cabot Lodge—both as a public speaker and as a forceful figure.

Goldberg himself acknowledges that he was no match for Stevenson either as a wit or an orator—he knew he was bound to suffer in comparison. The consensus is that he was only adequate as a speaker and, in the words of one diplomat, he was inclined to "corn" rather than eloquence.

What he lacked on the rostrum, however, he made up behind the scenes. He is rated excellent as a negotiator. And he has applied himself with almost unbelievable energy both during the conventional working day and in building social contacts.

He also played a significant role in Washington in determining U.S. foreign policy—in almost everything except Vietnam. As a dove, he fought a losing battle on Vietnam and this was the major factor determining his resignation announced April 25.

He had a number of personal triumphs which stood out during his U.N. stay. When he agreed to take the post in the summer of 1965, the U.N. General Assembly was paralyzed by the threat of a U.S.—Soviet confrontation over arrears in payment of peacekeeping assessments.

Goldberg gave top priority to this problem and eventually decided that the United States should bow to the will of the majority of U.N. members and remove the threat of trying to suspend the voting rights of the Soviet bloc and France. His first task was to convince both the administration and key congressional figures that such a course was desirable.

Employing his skill as a jurist, he did such a thorough job that the United States was able to back down without criticism from Capitol Hill. Within two months after his arrival on the scene, the assembly was back in normal operation.

One of his biggest triumphs was in achieving a cease-fire in the 1965 India-Pakistani conflict over Kashmir. Just a few months after becoming U.S. representative at the United Nations, it came his turn to be president of the Security Council during the fighting.

He credited his experience as a labor negotiator as being partly responsible for the achievement of the cease-fire. It was generally agreed that his persistence and patience played a major role.

Goldberg also was a principal figure in the successful conclusion of an international treaty banning weapons of mass destruction from outer space. He spent hours in secret negotiations with the Russians as a prelude to the agreement.

Shooting At Wedding Kills One

HOUSTON (AP)—The minister spoke softly in the candle-lit church: "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

Suddenly a woman stood among more than 200 wedding guests and shouted, "You forgot something! They're not married."

At least three shots erupted from a 22-caliber pistol, police said. The wedding couple and 20 attendants fell to the floor near the altar.

One of the bullets struck and killed Lester Anderson, 22, best man at the wedding of his sister, Lorena Mae, 20.

Police arrested and charged James Etta Usher, 29, former wife of the bridegroom, with murder.

"I was blocked by the best man," said the Rev. Clarence Stewart Jr., who performed the marriage Saturday night. "If he hadn't been there, I probably would have been hit."

Wedding guests at the church told officers Edward L. Usher's former wife sat in a front pew during the ceremony.

Plans were made before the wedding to change the phrase wherein the minister asks those who have any objections to the marriage to voice those objections, attendants said.

"It was so dim, I never did see the gun," said Mitchell Cash one of the groomsmen. "But I saw the flash and heard the shots."

Eleven per cent of U.S. doctors received training from the Veterans Administration.

Kathy Defeats Carol By One Stroke At Civitan Tourney

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, who birdied the last hole to win the Dallas Civitan Open Sunday, has a secret to her success—she's not too proud to take a lesson.

"I've been having trouble with my grip," said Miss Whitworth, whose first place money of $2,775 boosted her winnings to $11,845 for the year. "I saw Harvey Penick (a golf professional in Austin, Tex.) and he changed my grip. He put my left hand more on top."

Miss Waitworth, 29, used the new grip to fire a final round two under par 69 for a four under par 209 total that nipped hard-charging Carol Mann by one shot.

Miss Mann, who boosted her leading Ladies PGA earnings to $13,270 for $2,120 second place money, blazed the day's best round with a 68 to finish at 210.

The methodical Miss Whitworth took only 27 putts on the 6,177-yard Glen Lakes Country Club course.

tricky undulating greens of the

She made four birdie putts of four, three, and four feet. Her two bogies came when she missed the greens with her approach shots.

"I can usually make those short putts, but they scare the tar out of me," said Miss Whitworth, who was winning here for the first time. Her other victory this year was in the tour's first tournament, the Orange Blossom Classic.

Miss Whitworth said the $18,500 tournament was "one I've always wanted to win. It almost surpasses the U. S. Women's Open."

The former Monahans, Tex. native who grew up in Jal, N.M. and now lives in Dallas, said her radar-like putting "really was unusual."

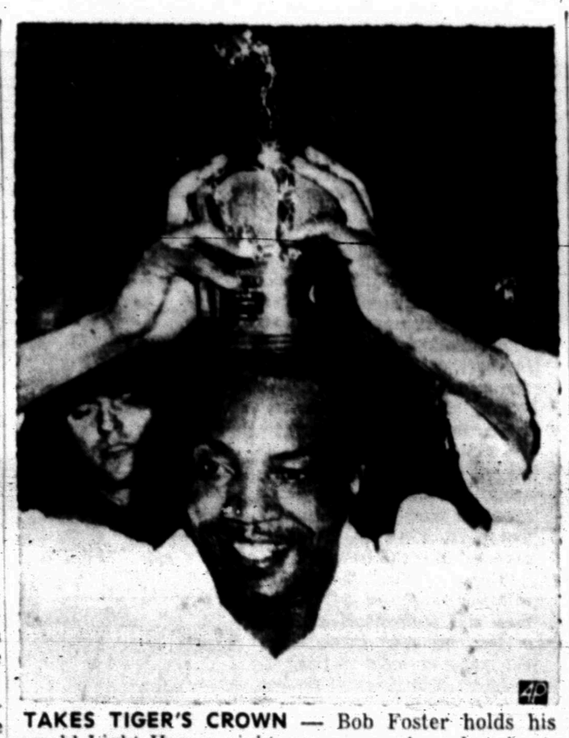

One of the sentimental favorites of the gallary, spunky Sandra Palmer of Fort Worth, faded to a third place finish with a final round 73 for a 212 total in the tourney, which was played at 54 holes for the first time. Miss Palmer won her most money as a pro—$1,680.

"I learned some things out there today about playing under pressure," said Miss Palmer, who had a two stroke lead going into the final day.

It was clear that Miss Whitworth, a super star on the tour, had learned a few things too.

Lubbock Duo Claims Crown

Two Lubbock men, Randall Reiger and Doug Ehle shaved 12 strokes off par Saturday and Sunday to easily capture the team championship at the Partnership Golf Tournament at Snyder Country Club.

They took a 4-stroke lead in the first round with a low-ball 63, then added another stroke advantage with a second round 68. Their closing 32 matched the 32 carded by runnersup Buck Drake and Robb Smith of Big Spring, giving them an overall 163 total and a five - stroke victory.

Snyder's J. P. Ward and James (Dutch) Stehley took third place in the championship flight with a 175 total while two other local teams shared fourth place.

Ehle set a course record with a blistering 64 in Saturday's round.

Winners of the first three flights respectively were Dr. R. J. Kidd and Howard Crenshaw, Bill Eiland and Darrell Haney and Miner Pounds and Dick Murphy.

Cubs, Yanks Take Farm Loop Tilts

The Cubs socked the Braves 9-7, and the Yankees routed the Athletics 14-9 in hard - fought Farm League contests, held Saturday night in Towle Park.

Dwaine Collier and Jessie Rollins led the Cubs with two singles each while Jay Duck and Tim Collier also hit safely. The winning pitcher, Glenn Davis, allowed only two hits — a single by Brad Francis and a double by Glenn Smiley.

Trailing 1-9 going into the 4th, the Braves rallied with six runs, but they were still two runs short of a tie.

The Yanks took an 8-7 lead in the 2nd and iced it down with five runs in the 5th. They took advantage of a touch of wildness to beat the A's, although they were outhit in the game.

Doug Watson smashed two doubles and Jim Gutierrez stroked two singles in the losing cause for the A's. Also hitting safely were Bengy Griggs, Phil Banks and Jimmy Callaway.

A's, Braves Win In LL

The American League Athletics whipped the Yankees 12-10 and the National League Braves bombed the Cubs 13-1 in two exciting Little League contests held in Towle Park Saturday night.

The Athletic - Yankee affray was a see - saw battle from start to finish. The A's tallied three runs in the opening stanza, but the Yanks scored six to grab the lead.

Two more runs by the A's in the 3rd cut the margin to 6-5, then the A's went ahead 7-6 in the top of the 4th with two more runs. The Yanks tied it up in the bottom half of the frame.

In the 5th, the A's broke open the game with five runs while Yank rallies in the 5th and 6th fell short.

Singles by Sid and Bobby Montgomery and C. and W. Cobb got the A's to rolling in the 5th. Then S. Walton delivered a home run, and E. Perry blasted a double to put the A's in command.

Walton also put one over the fence in the 4th, and C. Cobb hit safely three times in five appearances at the plate. S. Norwood sparked the Yank attack with a perfect 3-for-3 performance.

The Braves were never behind as they erupted for eight runs in the 3rd to rout the Cubs. Singles by Ralph Lewis and Steve Talbot, a double by John Boren and three walks put the Braves out of reach.

David Yearwood allowed only two hits by the Cubs — singles by Bobby Wall and Clay Hill.

Can Pitch, Can't Hit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dallas-Fort Worth may have the worst record in the Texas League, but its pitchers have taken the lead in another category—no-hitters.

In fact, the Spurs made Texas League history Sunday when Luis Penalver pitched the second straight no-hitter for Dallas-Fort Worth against Memphis winning 3-0 in the first game of a twin bill.

Last Friday night, Bob Watkins turned the same trick over nine innings to win 2-0.

Penalver's success marked the first time a league team had recorded consecutive no-hitters over another team.

Memphis accomplished a feat of its own in the second game of the doubleheader, winning 1-0 on a home run by Chicago Diaz to end a seven-game losing streak and hang onto first place in the Eastern Division by one-half game.

In other Texas League games Sunday, Albuquerque defeated Amarillo 4-3, Arkansas downed Shreveport 8-6 and El Paso beat San Antonio 9-7.

Ted Johnson made a diving catch in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to save Albuquerque's victory and keep the Dodgers in command of the Western Division, ahead of charging El Paso.

El Paso won its last six games but hasn't been able to gain on the Dodgers, who have won seven of their last eight outings.

El Paso had to rally to record its win over San Antonio and sweep the series.

The Sun Kings scored four runs in the eighth inning off reliever Don Larson to turn the trick.

Larson took over in the seventh when El Paso loaded the bases and was greeted by Moose Stubing's pinch two-run double.

Jr. Braves Thump Dodgers, 9 To 2

The Braves thumped the Dodgers 9-2 Saturday in the inaugural Junior Teenage League contest in Towle Park behind the two - hit twirling of Jackie Murray.

Murray gave up a triple to Butch Buchanan and a double to Bobby Weaver while going the distance. Each extra base hit accounted for a run. Weaver's hit drove one in in the 2nd, and Buchanan's blast brought one in in the 5th.

The Braves pounded out seven hits, taking a 3-0 advantage in the 1st on an error, a sacrifice and singles by Bill Branson, Paul Watkins and Scott Morgan. They boosted the count to 5-1 in the 4th on walks, errors and a single by Branson.

More miscues and walks accounted for another run in the 5th, and the final two in the 6th resulted from a walk, an error and singles by Murray and Max Rainwater.

Lunn Pockets Memphis Cash

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Angie Lunn neither plays golf nor talks the game at home. But for 40 tense minutes she knew something her husband, Bob, didn't know about the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Angie saw Bob sink a 12-foot eagle putt on the 16th hole and realized he had moved into a two-stroke lead. He didn't know he was on the verge Sunday of winning the $20,000 first prize until he reached the 18th green.

Lunn parred the next two holes, finished with a 12-under-par 65-68-68-67—268 and won the first tournament since he joined the tour last year.

"I watched on television in our motel room for a while, then went to the course and first saw him there at 15," Anglie said. "I knew the eagle was important, but I wasn't thinking ahead that it would win for him."

"I felt a little weak on the 18th green when I knew I could win with a par," Lunn said. "It's probably fortunate I didn't know I was in front by two. Something might have happened."

Lunn, 23, of Sacramento, Calif., said he was planning on a birdie 4 when he made the eagle. He putted well throughout two-to five-foot putts for pars.

Monty Kaser, of Wichita, Kan., was second at 269 and won $12,000. Like Lunn, he is a former National Public Links champion.

Netmen Sweep Mexico 5-0

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clark Graebner and Art Ashe completed a United States 5-0 sweep over Mexico in the American Zone Davis Cup semifinal and stood by today waiting to see if Chile or Ecuador will be their next opponent.

Francisco Guzman and Miquel Alvera gave Ecuador a lead against Chile with a 3-6, 7-9, 6-3, 11-9, 6-1 doubles victory over Patricio Rodriguez and Patricio Cornejo of Chile Sunday.

Jaime Pinto of Chile meets Guzman and Cornejo opposes Olvera in the final two singles matches today to decide the best-of-5 series in Guayaquil.

An Ecuador victory would mean a rematch of last year's final in which Guzman and Olvera stunned the United States in a tremendous upset before losing later en route to the Challenge Round against defending champion Australia.

Graebner, of New York, crushed Rafael Osuna 10-8, 6-3, 6-2, and Ashe, of Richmond, Va., tumbled Joaquin Loyo Mayo 6-4, 9-7, 6-2 Sunday in their matches at Berkeley, Calif.

The U.S. team now moves on to Charlotte, N.C., for the finals June 7-9.

Spain, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Romania and South Africa also advanced Sunday with victories in the second round of European Zone play.

DRYSDALE, DODGERS BLANK ASTROS, 5-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The strong pitching arms that have dominated major league baseball this spring are zooming in on poor, old Doc White again.

This time it's Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who polished off Houston 5-0 for his fourth consecutive shutout Sunday.

That tied Drysdale with five others for the modern National League record of four straight blank jobs. The major league record of five was set by one G. Harris White, who pitched for the Chicago White Sox in 1904 which, until now, was always known as baseball's deadball era.

Doc White's mark stood off a confrontation by Luis Tiant of Cleveland, who pitched four straight shutouts earlier this season and now Drysdale is perched on the doorstep.

In other National League action Sunday, Chicago dropped San Francisco 4-2, Philadelphia battered St. Louis 9-3, Atlanta nipped New York 2-1 in a game called after six innings by rain and Pittsburgh tied Cincinnati 8-8 in a game ended by rain after seven innings.

In the American League, New York swept a doubleheader from Chicago 5-1 and 7-6, Baltimore outlasted Washington 8-7, Minnesota trimmed Boston 5-4, Cleveland dropped California 5-2 and Oakland whipped Detroit 7-6 in 10 innings.

Drysdale, who won his previous three starts 1-0, 1-0, and 2-0, had a laugher for a change with the Dodgers scoring five runs for him.

The big right-hander allowed six hits and fought off a serious challenge to his shutout skein in the ninth when Denis Menke and Rusty Staub opened with singles. Drysdale got Lee Thomas on a double play bouncer but walked Jim Wynn and hit Bob Aspromonte, loading the bases, before Dave Adlesh grounded out to end it.

Drysdale also had a couple of singles, driving in Los Angeles' first run in the third inning and keying a two-run wrapup rally in the ninth.

Ernie Banks smashed two home runs, giving him 450 for his career, as he led Chicago past San Francisco. Banks, 37, also had a single and the nine total bases helped him set a Cub record of 4,158 career total bases, snapping the club mark of 4,149 set by Cap Anson before the turn of the century.

Bill Hands pitched a four-hitter for the victory—his fifth in seven decisions this season. Mike McCormick took the loss.

Rich Allen drove in four runs and Tony Taylor chased home three, leading the Phillies over the Cardinals.

Allen had a three-run homer and Woody Fryman went the distance for his sixth victory. Taylor and Johnny Callison had three hits apiece.

It was the fifth loss in six games for the slumping Cardinals.

The Braves edged the Mets in a splashy affair at Atlanta. The game was delayed over an hour at the start and played in a steady rain until the seventh when the downpour forced the umpires to halt and eventually call it.

By then, though, the Braves had a 2-1 edge and it went in the books as a victory.

Rain washed out a tie breaking run in the eighth inning for Pittsburgh and left the Pirates with a deadlock against Cincinnati.

Roberto Clemente's two-run homer highlighted a six-run Pirate sixth that gave Pittsburgh an 8-7 edge but a double by Tommy Helms and Vada Pinson's single tied it for the Reds in the bottom of the sixth.

Clemente singled Willie Stargell across in the eighth before the rain eliminated the run.

Mail Brings New Knowledge

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Obesity, once a prestige symbol, has become so hateful to Americans that nearly seven million a year now seek medical help in losing weight. One out of every four persons has a girth control problem.

Do you feel some days that you're bearing the weight of the world on your shoulders? It might help to put your worries in perspective to recall that you are only one of three billion or so people on an obscure planet circling a sun which is only one of 200 billion stars in a single galaxy—and the universe holds millions upon millions of galaxies. You and all your problems are far less noticeable in that universe than one microbe is in a whale.

Tip to forgetful drivers: Have you taken off your snow tires yet? If left on a car during summer months, the heat built up in them by high-speed driving can result in disastrous blowouts.

Geographical tidbit: The Alamo, the fort at San Antonio, Tex., famed for its last-ditch stand, was so named because of a cottonwood tree—in Spanish, el alamo—that at one time stood there.

Quotable notables: "I would like to have engraved inside every wedding band, 'Be kind to one another.' This is the Golden Rule of marriage, and the secret of making love last through the years."—Randolph Ray, pastor of "The Little Church Around the Corner."

Medicine from the sea: Do clams contain a substance that will help cure cancer? Researchers are studying the possibilities. They estimate that the oceans contain thousands of marine organisms which may yield drugs useful to man, but only about one per cent have as yet been tested in the laboratory.

Royal hobby: Emperor Hirohito of Japan spends his time away from the throne in biological studies. He has written nine books. The latest is a study of coral life in his islands.

Violence long ago: Police reports still commonly designate an unknown weapon used to commit a crime as "a blunt instrument." But man didn't invent murderous blunt instruments. Recent excavations in Africa have unearthed crude stone hammers made 12 million years ago by a prehuman ancestor of man—scientists call him Kenyapithecus Wickeri. Mr. Wickeri used his hammer to bash in the skulls of antelopes —and perhaps those of his neighbors.

Worth remembering: "A fool and his money are soon invited places."

Why do women traditionally wear wedding rings on the third finger of their left hand? According to one theory, the ancient Egyptians and Romans believed that the "vein of love"—vena amoris—flows directly from that vein to the heart, the seat of tender passion.

Jogging is becoming increasingly popular among health seekers, but many deep thinkers and poets of the past have preferred walking. William Wordsworth, who lived to be 80, is said by fellow writer Thomas De Quincey to have walked 180,000 miles in a lifetime "of unclouded happiness." Other noted walking authors: Samuel Johnson, William Hazlitt and Henry David Thoreau.

Folklore: Putting a jar of water with a knife in it behind your door will keep the devil away. The best day to sow turnips is July 25, regardless of whether it rains or shines. If the bubbles on a cup of coffee float toward you, money will come your way—and vice versa. It's bad luck to enter a house with your left foot first.

It was Gen. William T. Sherman who observed, "If forced to choose between the penitentiary and the White House for four years, I would say the penitentiary, thank you."

Junior Editors Quiz on OLD HICKORY

QUESTION: Why was one of our presidents called "Old Hickory?"

* * * *

ANSWER: The president who is featured in our picture was born in 1767 in a log cabin near the state line between North and South Carolina. As a boy of 13, he fought in the Revolutionary War and was captured by the British. He was ordered to polish a British officer's boots, but refused, claiming the rights of a prisoner of war. The officer struck him with his sword, giving scars which lasted a lifetime. Orphaned at 14, the boy became a lawyer and was elected to Congress in 1796, finally becoming a justice of the Supreme Court of Tennessee. In 1801 he was a Major General in the Tennessee militia and rose to national fame in the War of 1812. One of his soldiers spoke of him as "tough." "Tough as hickory" replied another, and the nickname "Old Hickory" was bestowed on him. Elected president in 1829, he gave strong leadership and championed the rights of the people. "Let the people rule" was his motto. The name of gallant, brave "Old Hickory" was Andrew Jackson, 7th president of the United States.

Consumerism Most Apt To Continue

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. George Katona, the University of Michigan economist-psychologist who has measured with accuracy the rise and fall of consumer sentiments for more than 20 years, was asked this question a few days ago:

"Why did the 'consumerism' movement develop at precisely the same time as the nation's biggest and most prolonged economic boom, at a time when many families had more money than ever before and might be expected to spend freely?"

"Great wealth," he replied with the wisdom of both family man and professional explorer in the consumer mind, "does not mean we have no financial problems. Our financial worries are just as great and pressing as were those of our grandfathers."

The reason: wants have risen. It seems they always do. Following accomplishment or progress the American consumer almost always raises his level of aspiration. He continues to want. He simply raises his sights.

"We feel we need urgently what our grandfathers considered luxuries," said Katona. "Ask a man with children in college. Try telling him he doesn't have to send his children to college."

Consumerism is the buyer-resistance movement, an aspect of which is the housewives' revolt against high prices, that has turned timid customers into aggressive critics of products, packaging, pricing, safety and what not.

So deep is the sentiment from which consumerism has erupted that large companies now run self-improvement and correction courses to ward off regulation from Washington, which quickly discovered that consumers are voters, one and the same.

After dispelling the myth that more money necessarily leaves fewer wants or results in less critical spending, Katona went on to explain some of the causes of buyer resistance.

Perhaps the most immediate cause is consumer confidence, a quality that Katona studies year-round. For much of this year the consumer has been pulled two ways. His income is up so he is able to buy. But uncertainty about Vietnam and the economy has induced in him a wait-and-see attitude.

In Katona's view, housewives and other consumers are far more independent than as portrayed by Vance Packard in "The Hidden Persuaders" and John Kenneth Galbraith in "The New Industrial State."

Each of these authors views the consumer as more or less controlled or managed by giant corporations and their marketing, advertising and packaging men, a view that Katona believes falls far short of the complete truth.

"There is managment of the consumer," he conceded. "But we consumers manage business as well. When a decision really matters the well educated consumer tries to do his best. He becomes concerned, seeks information and shops around. No longer is he a puppet . . ."

As a result, business always must try to find out what the consumer is going to do. "It works both ways," Katona said "It's an egg and chicken problem."

$25 MILLION IN BALANCE

Thalidomide Trial Begins

By OTTO DOELLING
Associated Press Writer

ALSDORF, Germany (AP) — West Germany's big thalidomide trial began today with an estimated $25 million in damage claims depending on the outcome.

The alleged link between the tranquilizing drug taken by pregnant women and thousands of congenitally malformed children is the issue in the trial being held in this small coal-mining town.

Eight officials and scientists of Chemie Gruenenthal, a West German pharmaceutical firm, are charged in a 972-page indictment with negligent manslaughter and inflicting of physical injury through development, production and sale of thalidomide from 1957 to 1961.

Hermann Wirtz, 71, president and chief stockholder of the company, was to have been tried with the eight. He undergo surgery May 8 and will stand trial separately when his health permits.

The prosecution spent five years preparing its case. It contends that there is a link between the drug and the wave of infants born with missing or malformed limbs and other defects of a type not noted before the drug was introduced on the market. Some of the children died soon after birth.

An estimated 6,500 children in 20 countries from Austria to the Philippines were among the alleged victims of the drug.

Thalidomide has also been linked to a variety of adult disorders. It is known to have been manufactured under license in Britain, Sweden, Israel, Brazil and Japan and to have been marketed in a number of other nations.

The drug was withdrawn from the market in 1961 after a furor was raised over the growing number of deformed children.

Several cases were reported in the United States where Dr. Francs Kelsey, a federal drug administrator, blocked the sale. She was later honored by President John F. Kennedy. Some American women continued obtaining the drug from abroad, it was reported.

The reason for the U.S. ban will probably be aired at the trial which is expected to run for two years, exceeding the marathon Auschwitz war crimes trial.

The prosecution has invited 400 witnesses, including 29 scientific experts. The defense is expected to call at least as many. In addition there are about 300 plaintiffs, three prosecuting attorneys and a dozen defense lawyers.

The three judges and two lay jurors are backed up by three reserve judges and six alternate jurymen in case of illness.

Friendship In Laundry

LONDON (AP) — Twenty students peeled off their blue jeans and miniskirts Sunday in an attempt to bring friendship to a British laundromat, but police were unfriendly to the demonstrators.

The students stripped to their underwear and put their clothes in the washing machines. Girls wrapped themselves in towels and football sweaters.

"Launderettes are such dreary places," explained the leader of the wash-in, Nick Flowerdew, as he shivered in his bright red drawers. "Everyone just watches his washing going round and never speaks to anyone else. They should be friendly."

Six policemen broke up the demonstration.

Emphysema attacks 50 per cent of adult males, says the Veterans Administration.

AS STRIKE CONTINUES

Some Foods Scarce In Paris

By BERNARD LAVALLEE
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — "Sorry, madame, I can't sell you a kilo of potatoes," the grocer told a desperate housewife. "The 50 kilos you see are reserved for one of my best customers."

It was one of the aggravations of the general strike that hit France early last week, but there has been no open panic because the fresh food channel —farmers, private transporters and grocers—kept working.

French cities were supplied with milk, vegetables, fruit and meat as drivers concentrated on perishable products.

Still, some housewives started hoarding food and some items were hard to find in shops. On Saturday, for example, it was possible to buy beef, tomatoes or cherries in any shop but one could hardly get salt, sugar, oil, canned food or even wine.

Prices doubled or tripled in a week. Trying to force prices down, some angry housewives threatened to bring charges of black market profiteering against grocers as in World War II.

But there also were cases of price reductions for some perishable vegetables, such as tomatoes, when grocers saw they might have to throw them away.

Where the rich hoarded, the poor had trouble obtaining food. In a plush western Paris suburb, one grocery customer blindly ordered food "for 100 francs"—$20—while others waiting in line anxiously looked at their wallets.

Gasoline, cigarettes, soap and other such products often were unavailable. Industrial goods were severely limited because of the strikes in the factories and wholesale shops. Public transport was dead.

One Parisian doctor pointed to his empty waiting room and said people were not coming for medical care because they could not pay him. Some doctors in industrial regions said they would treat patients who could prove they were strikers. The strike committees could deliver such proof.

Because of the lack of public transport, persons not on strike drove their own cars to work. But as the days passed, most gasoline stations closed because they were not supplied by the tank truck drivers.

By Saturday, it was impossible to buy gasoline in Paris except in filling stations reserved for doctors — marked with red crosses — and others reserved for drivers of food trucks.

An important reason for the absence of panic was that the electric plant workers, while on strike, did not cut the power supply as they have in the past. They apparently kept a power cut as a threat against the government in case negotiations come to a deadlock.

Ranges In Some Regions Are Best In Many Years

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Weather conditions cause little enthusiasm among Texas farmers. Crop producers still suffer losses from washing rains, hail; winds and cold, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Wednesday.

And, he added, the situation will improve only with a prolonged period of open, dry weather allowing farmers to catch up with long delayed schedules. On the other hand, ranges in many areas areas the best in years, or perhaps in memory, and livestock are in good condition.

District agents gave their appraisal Wednesday morning of conditions.

Recent Panhandle rains have brought the moisture level to generally adequate except in Hartley and Hutchinson counties. Wheat is responding to the moisture but wet fields have stopped grain sorghum planting. Some cotton is being planted. Ranges are greening up and cattle are generally in good condition.

With only spotted exceptions, South Plains (Lubbock) moisture is adequate to surplus but there are problems. Most of the district's cotton had been planted but hail, washing rains, seedling diseases and cold caused considerable replanting. More than 65 per cent of the sorghum was planted and that some replanting is necessary. Vegetables were making good progress except where damaged by hail and rain. Ranges and livestock are in excellent condition.

Soil moisture over the Rolling Plains (Vernon) ranges from adequate to surplus. Cotton and sorghum planting have been delayed by rains. Wheat was maturing rapidly and harvesting was expected to begin within 10 days. Hail has caused light to heavy damage to wheat in six counties, he said. Ranges and livestock are in good condition.

Moisture is surplus over most of North Central Texas. Leaf rust and too much water are reducing wheat prospects. A high percentage of sorghum has been planted but cotton and peanut planting are dragging due to the excessive moisture. Field work is near a standstill. Ranges and livestock were in good condition.

Wet fields in Northeast Texas kept cotton and corn planting erratic. oisture is surplus. Cattle are in good condition and marketing is moderate. Pecan and pear prospects were good. Pecans are being sprayed for nut casebearer control. Hay prospects were good provided good harvesting weather comes.

Most of Far West Texas' cotton has been planted but there is much replanting because of flooding and hail. Sorghum is being planted and grains are about ready for harvest. Alfalfa is being baled and the onion harvest is beginning. Livestock and ranges were in good condition but rain is needed west of the Pecos River for grass growth. Labor is short.

Showers to 6 inch r ains covered West Central Texas again along with spotted hail. Most grain fields had promised good yields but hail in McCulloch, Taylor and Sterling counties cut prospects. Fields are too wet for planting cotton and sorghums in some areas but ranges are providing excellent grazing. Livestock are in fine condition. Some early lambs are moving out as milk fats. Sheep shearing is 75 to 80 per cent complete. Fleeces are pretty but are about 25 per cent lighter than normal.

More rain stopped field work; planting is incomplete; the ground is cold; crop growth is slow and weeds are a problem in Central Texas. Rust damage is extensive in the ripening wheat but oat prospects are better though there is extensive lodging and some has been hailed out. Pecan prospects are excellent and spraying for the control of the nut casebearer has started. Peach crop prospects are fair but ranges are excellent and livestock are in good condition with the demand for them also goo d.

East Texas farmers await dry weather so they can get back into their fields. The first hay is being cut when weather permits. Corn is growing but needs dry weather. Vegetables show some improvement. Pasture growth is excellent and livestock are in good condition and improving. Heavy rains in some areas caused some replanting of crops.

In Southeast Texas, 17 counties have surplus moisture while two report it fully adequate. Oats have mostly been cut for hay; from 80 to 100 per cent of the cotton has been planted but damage from flooding and hail has caused replanting and a lowering of expected yields. Corn looks good. Sorghum growth stages varies greatly because of replanting and some rice is yet to be planted. Broken levees from flooding has created a drainage problem on young rice. Grazing is excellent and livestock are in good condition. Labor is short.

The greatest need in South Central Texas is for open, dry weather so farmers can cultivate crops and harvest hay, carrots and onions. Moisture ranges from adequate to surplus. Pastures are excellent and livestock are in good condition. Cotton and pecans are being sprayed for insect control. Hail had done extensive damage to 1,500 acres of cotton in Victoria County and severe damage to about 3,000 acres of sorghum in the same area. Moisture in South Texas after more rain this week is surplus. Harvesting has been delayed but cotton and sorghum generally are making good growth. Insect problems are increasing, he noted. Pastures and livestock were in excellent condition.

Derailment In Cotulla

COTULLA, Tex. (AP)— Several cars on a Missouri Pacific freight train derailed today and 13 or 15 of them caught fire and at least three exploded, There were no injuries.

The heat of the flames prevented firemen from approaching closer than 50 yards. Interstate 35 was closed for a time.

The explosions showered debris in an 800 to 900 yard radius.

The Highway Patrol quoted Missouri Pacific spokesman as saying 22 cars were derailed, caused by a boxcar towbar coming loose.

The cars were part of a 122-car train en route from San Antonio to Laredo. Missouri Pacific spokesmen said the fire apparently started from an explosion in a chemical tank car about 5:45 a.m.

Firemen allowed the fire to burn itself out. Firemen from Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio were sent to the scene.

Flames ignited asphalt on the highway.

There were no homes in the immediate area.

The train crew was able to pull most of the undamaged cars away from the fire.

Science Students End Space Trial

VERNAL, Utah (AP) — Three young science students stepped into the fresh night air Sunday after spending 100 hours sealed inside a stuffy space capsule mockup with only dehydrated food to eat.

The boys, all seventh graders aged 14, said their knees were wobbly from being confined so long. A physician pronounced them in good health after more than four days tucked in the capsule.

The endurance experiment was begun by a special science class. Students Terry Johnson, Bert Merkeley and Michael Herrington entered the aluminum capsule at 4 p.m. Wednesday following school They got out at 8 p.m. Sunday.

IN FACE OF POVERTY, HUNGER

Freeman Defends Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)— Among demands of the Agriculture Department made by leaders of the so-called Poor People's Campaign is abolishment of subsidies "to large farmers" for not growing crops.

Attacks upon federal farm programs are not new nor are they confined to political, economic, racial or geographic boundaries. But the suggestion by Poor People's Campaign leaders has touched a sensitive nerve within the department.

Secretary of agriculture Orville Freeman expressed this sensitivity last week.

Poverty is the underlying cause of hunger in the United States, Freeman said, not lack of agricultural production.

"Those who would fight poverty by attacking farm prograns are misguided," he said. "To end farm programs would create more poverty and more hunger."

Freeman examined briefly what he said would happen if federal farm programs were scrapped. Those farmers who lacked the financial reserves to weather the storm, he said, would be driven off the land "by the thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, leaving it in monopoly hands."

Freeman doesn't pretend that federal farm programs have halted the exodus of people from the farms. Statistics show otherwise, and Freeman fre - quently has noted them in his speeches.

Since World War II, he said recently, the population of the United States has grown 55 million, or 37 per cent. And, he pointed out, in the same period nearly 3 million farms "disappeared as a result of the technological revolution in agriculture."

Rural poverty has rarely been ignored in Freeman's speeches. In many ways, he says, the department is committed to the improvement of rural life.

The issue between the department and the Poor People's Campaign is many sided, fraught with problems that slash across bureaucratic areas of responsibility.

Why, say the poor people, doesn't the department make more food available immediately to hunger areas? Why isn't the food stamp program expanded? Why doesn't the department concentrate more of its total resources on ending hunger?

Freeman cited figures last week to show what his department has been doing: Since 1960 the distribution of government food has been expanded from 5 to 16 commodities; food programs soon will include 6.1 million persons in 2,400 counties, nearly double the 1960 figures.

"But what we have done is clearly not enough," Freeman said, "and I will tell you very frankly that we will not be able to do enough to meet the needs of the hungry here in the United States with the resources that have so far been made available to us."

Poverty and its degradations, he said, are the basic evils.

In calling for a viable, universal effort to conquer poverty as the true solution to hunger problems, Freeman and the leaders of the Poor People's Campaign cannot be far from agreement.

But Freeman is convinced that federal farm programs—despite charges that most subsidies have gone "to large farmers" — have contribut e d greatly to the orderly development of U.S. agriculture.

Without such development, Freeman says, this nation would not have enough food to distribute to hungry people. As it is, he suggests, the problem here is poverty. Once people are admitted to what Freman calls "the mainstream of the most vigorous economy" in history, the productivity of agriculture can be extended to everyone.

But in the meantime, Orville Freeman suggests that federal farm programs should not be used as scapegoats, no matter how hungry people become.

Attacks Grow Sharper In Texas Race

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The personal attacks grew sharper today as Don Yarborough of Houston and Preston Smith of Lubbock entered the final week of vote searching in the Democratic party's runoff election for governor.

After four weeks of listening, the voters will have their say at the polls Saturday. The winner will face Republican Paul Eggers in the November general election.

Smith, now lieutenant governor, and Yarborough are in the runoff by virtue of having been the top two vote-getters among 10 Democrats in the May 4 primary. Yarborough led the ticket.

In a speech at Jasper Sunday, Smith said, "As governor of Texas I will offer dedication over experimentation. I will put common sense over blind action. . . I will rely on my experience and judgment rather than on the direction of the wind."

Before becoming lieutenant governor, Smith was a member of the Texas House of Representatives and Senate.

Yarborough said in Seabrook Sunday the closing days of the campaign will see a "wave of false charges and scare tactics through false ads and mailings."

He implied such charges will be directed at him by his opponent.

Smith "knows his own personal weak leadership can only be salvaged by running me down," Yaborough said. He added that Smith was a "cover-up candidate, hiding and dodging the public by throwing out a screen of slander."

The lieutenant governor said in a speech at Salado earlier Sunday that "our state and nation today face an assault on our basic values which threatens our national fabric as in no other time in our history."

He added, "At times it seems as if our unity of purpose and our traditions of common sense, fairness, decency and a sense of right and wrong have been all but ripped and torn apart."

Smith planned to campaign in San Antonio and Austin today while Yarborough had tentative speaking engagements at Grand Prairie and Dallas.

Oil, Gas Completions Behind Last Year's

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 108 oil and 76 gas wells were completed during the past week in Texas.

That raised the total oil well completions for the year to 2,005, compared to 2,643 a year ago, and gas well completions to 970, compared to 1,123.

The commission said 133 wells were plugged, 60 of them dry holes.

Nine wildcat oil wells were drilled—three in San Antonio's No. 1 district, two each in the Houston and Midland districts and one each in the Abilene and Wichita Falls districts. Ten wildcat gas wells were drilled—five in San Antonio's No. 2 dsitrict, three in the Corpus Christi District and one each in the Houston and Kilgore districts.
