City Sells Bonds At Good Saving

The city commission sold $1,125,000 in general obligation and revenue bonds Tuesday at an interest rate considerably below estimates made when the bonds were approved by voters. The net interest cost will be some $100,000 less than was anticipated by city officials.

The sale caught the favorable bond market at 3.86 per cent on general obligation bonds and 3.87 on revenue bonds. On the first bond sale under the Master Plan Program, the city received 3.34 per cent on general obligation bonds and 3.91 on revenue bonds.

The First National Bank in Dallas bought $680,000 in general obligation bonds at a net interest cost for 20 years of $447,567.50; the effective interest rate was 3.86239 per cent. The net interest cost was $69,445 less than the estimated cost when the bond program was set up at 4¼ per cent.

REVENUE

Rauscher, Pierce & Co., and others, bought $445,000 in water and sewer revenue bonds at a net interest cost for 30 years of $355,495; the effective interest rate was 3.87038 per cent. This net interest cost was $34,867.50 less than the estimated cost.

The total interest cost to the city was $104,312.50 below the original estimate for both types of bonds. This added to the first bond sale interest decrease of $89,000, ran the total to $193,312.50 of net interest decrease for both sales.

There were nine bids read for general obligation bonds and eight for revenue. The First National Bank of Dallas and the Fort Worth National Bank could not bid on revenue bonds under federal laws.

Frank Sluder, representing the First National Bank of Dallas, the city's bond fiscal agent, opened the bonds which were read by A. K. Steinheimer, city manager. He also prepared ordinances for the issuance of the bonds and other legal papers necessary.

The bonds sold Tuesday are to be used for the 1962 program under the city's Master Plan, and will include a 1.5 million-gallon elevated storage tank, addition to the city's sewage disposal plant, and connecting lines.

It is a part of the $4.3 million bond issue voted by Big Spring voters in 1960 for the capital improvement program, including additional water and sewer lines, storage facilities, new filter plant, sewage disposal plant, and trunk sewer lines. The program was set up to cover a five-year period, which began in 1961.

A difference of $22,292.50 in the net interest cost was noted between the low and high bidder for general obligation bonds. Only $10,474 difference existed between high and low for the revenue bonds.

Bids for the general obligation bonds were submitted by B. J. Van Ingen & Co., Inc., and others; First Southwest Co.; Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc., and others; Rauscher, Pierce & Co., Inc., and others; John Nuveen & Co., and others; Fort Worth National Bank et al; Underwood Neuhaus & Co., First of Texas Corporation; and the First National Bank of Dallas. High bid was submitted by Underwood Neuhaus & Co., with a net interest cost of $469,860 and effective interest rate of 3.86239 per cent.

Revenue bond bids were submitted by B. J. Van Ingen & Co., Inc., and others; First Southwest Company; Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc., and others; Rauscher, Pierce & Co., and others; John Nuveen & Co., Inc.; Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.; First of Texas Corporation; Underwood, Neuhaus & Co., Inc., and others. High revenue bond bid was submitted by John Nuveen & Co., Inc., with net interest cost of $365,969, and effective interest rate of 3.9844 per cent.

The general obligation bonds will begin maturing in 1969 and will be completed in 1983. Revenue bonds will mature from 1968 through 1988.

Sluder told the commission that the interest rates were lower Tuesday night than they will be for at least a year.

"I think the bonds were sold at an excellent time because the bond market promises to be much higher all through 1962," he said.

Katanga OKs Cease-Fire

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has formally accepted ratification of the Katanga-U.N. cease-fire and agreed to hand over about 190 Irish and Scandinavian prisoners this afternoon, the U.N. Command announced.

U.N. envoy Mahmoud Khiar at the same time will return to Katangan control the Elisabethville post office and radio station taken by U.N. troops during the week of fighting last month; also hand over 210 Katangan prisoners captured in the fighting.

The U.N. Command had feared that the strong-willed Katanga president might object to conditions attached to the accord by the U.N. secretariat so that it would in no way recognize Tshombe's claim to independence from the central Congolese government.

Japan Prepares For Red Fallout

TOKYO (AP) — Government scientists today warned all Japanese to protect themselves against expected heavy radioactive fallout from the Soviet Union's giant nuclear tests.

The fallout, dubbed "ashes of death" by the Japanese press, is expected to arrive over Japan Friday or Saturday on winds from the arctic test range.

Checking Totals

Lewis Price, vice chairman of the special gifts division, was making sure everything added up this morning at United Fund headquarters. The steady stream of workers making reports had slowed to a trickle today and division leaders were buckling down to check on them, in an effort to edge the campaign nearer the goal.

Charged

John S. Cram, 51-year-old millionaire and descendant of a distinguished New York family, leaves police headquarters in New York after fingerprinting. He was later taken to Felony Court for arraignment on charges that he permitted his Manhattan premises to be used for congregation of narcotics addicts and with possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Cram and six derelicts were taken into custody by detectives who raided Cram's rented quarters in a loft building.

Long-Time Resident Dies

Mrs. Lillian Earle Burleson, 66, who had made her home in Big Spring for 46 years, died unexpectedly at her home here early today.

She suffered a heart attack at her home at 208 Galveston and died about 7:30 a.m. Mrs. Burleson had been in failing health for several years.

Arrangements are pending at River Funeral Home, but services may be held Friday.

Mrs. Burleson was born in Hubbard City on Sept. 15, 1895, and her family moved here in December of 1915.

She was a long time member of the West Side Baptist Church and of the Royal Neighbors.

Surviving her are her husband, E. W. Burleson; two sons, Howard E. Burleson and Wayne Burleson of Big Spring; and one daughter, Mrs. Betty Coon, San Antonio. One son, Marvin, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Burleson also leaves 12 grandchildren, and a brother, Clyde Denton, Big Spring, together with several nieces and nephews.

Auxiliary Land Up For Disposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—All but 100 acres of the 491-acre Prairie Hill Auxiliary Field to James Connally Air Force Base at Waco, Tex., has been turned over to the General Services Administration for disposal.

Pentagon officials said Tuesday the Air Force wants to keep the 100 acres for use in emergency jettisoning of wing-tip fuel tanks.

Conference To Push Fund

The United Fund campaign leaders will meet in a special 4 p.m. session Thursday to discuss the drive's progress and plan methods to finish up successfully.

Worker reports had slowed to a trickle this morning and only $500 had been added to the total. So far, the effort has accounted for $78,079.67, more than $26,000 away from the $105,000 target.

Several divisions are in the cleaning-up stage and others are in full swing. But reports of progress have not been flowing in as rapidly as when the drive began.

The United Fund is the chief support for 12 welfare and guidance agencies, plus assistance to the hurricane disaster area. The agencies include the Red Cross, Salvation Army, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Summer Recreation Program, Howard County Rehabilitation Center, Texas United Fund, Air Force Aid Society, Westside Recreation Center, Texas Rehabilitation Center, and Milk and Ice Fund.

U.S. Insists On Berlin Rights, Then Retreats

Reds Explode Another Bomb

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—The Soviet Union today exploded another atomic device in the Novaya Zemlya area, the Uppsala University observatory reported.

Today's explosion was only a tenth as strong as Monday's superbomb blast which was estimated in the West at about 30 megatons—equivalent to 30 million tons of TNT.

Today's explosion was registered at Uppsala Seismological Institute, a spokesman said.

The blast tended to support a belief that the 50-megaton blast which Premier Khrushchev has promised is still to come. He told the Communist party congress in Moscow last week that the current Soviet test series would probably be concluded at the end of October with a blast of that size. The current series started Sept. 1 and today's explosion was the 23rd reported.

Russia Not Scared, Broadcast Boasts

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today America's claim to be able to strike a crushing nuclear counterblow is warmongering that doesn't frighten the Soviet Union.

The broadcast replied to Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric, who said last week that the United States' second nuclear blow in a war would be as good as the Soviet Union's first.

"In a fit of hysterics," said the broadcast beamed to North America, "Gilpatric went so far as to threaten the whole world with the U.S.A.'s nuclear supremacy.

"Who can be frightened by all this? Perhaps former President Eisenhower, who recently expressed the desire to have an atom bomb shelter built on his farm.

"As for the U.S.S.R., Gilpatric is wasting his time with bellicose speeches, for although the Soviet people do not want war, they will not be bullied by such warmongering.

"The U.S.S.R. has sufficient strength and means to rebuff any threat of aggression."

Eisenhower said in Newark, N.J., last week that he had been urged to build a fallout shelter on his Gettysburg, Pa., farm as an example for the rest of the nation. But he added that he had not done so because he thought this would alarm people.

He also said that he would leave a fallout shelter if the rest of his family were exposed during an attack because "I wouldn't want to be left in that kind of a world.

"I would just walk out," he said.

U. S. Aid Helps Reduce Bonds By $250,000

The $4.3 million bond issue, approved last year by Big Spring voters, will be reduced by $250,000, city commissioners decided Tuesday. The city has been notified it will get $250,000 in federal aid to remodel the sewage treatment plant.

The record bond issue included funds for this purpose. The commission's decision is to use the federal funds for the work and not issue local bonds at this time.

After authorizing the acceptance of the $250,000 federal grant, the city manager was given authority to write the State Health Department that its requirements would be met.

A motion was passed authorizing a resolution in which the city commission stated it would not issue bonds under the Master Plan program for $250,000. This issue would be under the program outlined for 1964.

The commission agreed that the bonds might come in handy at a later date in an emergency.

Three ordinances were read and passed.

Wood Street, between State and Rosemont was rezoned to a Planned District — transition district for Neighborhood Service. A 300-foot strip, north of the route of IS 20, and Muir Heights, in South Big Spring, were annexed on the third reading of ordinances.

The first reading of amendments to the taxicab ordinance passed. The ordinance is being amended to require the use of meters on all taxicabs operating in the city limits, with rates posted in plain sight in the cabs. These rates will be agreed upon and made public before the ordinance takes effect, and pending the arrival of meters for the cabs.

The commission authorized the purchase of an electric welder from Big Three Welding Supply, delivered in Big Spring for $885. An old welder, bought in 1939, was traded in on the new machine for $50.

Bids will be called for the construction of a new water line on US 87 north, including a 12-inch line to the state hospital gate, and a two-inch line to replace an old line going to customers further north. Plans and specifications have been prepared by the city engineering department, and approved by the Highway Department, under which the state will pay 51.14 per cent of the cost.

The commission agreed that the 12-inch line would be needed in the future and that it would cost less to put it on the highway utility replacement contract than to go back at a later date. It also agreed that the line would enable the city to provide more water for the state hospital if the state board agreed to new water rates asked by the city. The line will not cross the highway to the hospital property until rates are adjusted by the hospital board, and this was included in the motion passed by the city commission.

A vacancy on the Big Spring-Howard County Juvenile Board was tentatively filled. The appointee's name was being withheld pending his acceptance.

In other business, the commission discussed the problem of construction of the Beal's Branch trunk sewer line. The highway department has not approved the route of the line as originally scheduled because it did not comply with state and federal requirements. A. K. Steinheimer told the commission that the line could not be laid between a frontage road and main lane.

The proposals for paving East Third and East Fourth streets, from Union to Tulane, were discussed and passed over to the next meeting; turning movements on red traffic signals was passed over, and the proposal to rename US 80 West from Marcy to the west city limits, was not acted upon, pending future extension of Eleventh Place.

New Cool Front Pushes Into State

By The Associated Press

A new cool front pushed into Texas Wednesday but it was not expected to make any revolutionary changes in the weather.

Scattered showers in Northeast Texas and in the Big Bend Country were forecast later in the day as the front moved southward.

Skies were clear in West Texas and partly cloudy to cloudy in the east and south central sections of the state.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 41 degrees at Dalhart to 74 at Galveston.

Maximum readings Tuesday afternoon ranged from 71 at Dalhart to 92 at Presidio.

No rain was reported in the state Tuesday.

Higher Prices For Clothing Hikes HCL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for new fall lines of clothing pushed living costs to a record high in September.

The Labor Department reported today that its index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between August and September to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Clothing prices, rising more than seasonally, were up 1.1 per cent from the late-summer bargains of August.

Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said another slight rise is expected in October. But he emphasized that the price level has remained unusually stable and is expected to continue to register little change from month to month.

"We see nothing in the picture that appears to suggest a take-off to substantially higher price levels," Myers told a news conference.

The index standing of 128.3 in September compares with the previous record of 128.1 in July. For August, it was 128.

U.N. Seeks Halt To Red Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A new move was launched today to get urgent U.N. action on an appeal to the Soviet Union to cancel its proposed explosion of a 50-megaton hydrogen bomb.

The move was made by Iranian delegate Mehdi Vakil, one of the sponsrs of the eight-nation resolution. He formally called on the General Assembly's main political committee to suspend temporarily its general debate on nuclear testing and to take up the proposed appeal to Moscow immediately.

Previous efforts to give the appeal urgent treatment were stalled by a procedural wrangle touched off by the Soviet bloc. The new strategy of seeking to suspend the general discussion rather than to terminate it was agreed upon by the sponsors this morning.

Sponsors of the proposed appeal are Canada, Sweden, Denmark, Japan, Iceland, Iran, Pakistan and Norway—all countries who feel they are directly threatened by radioactive fallout from Soviet test explosions.

Fallout Nears Alaskan Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The initial fallout cloud from the Soviet Union's superbomb test is expected to reach the Aleutian Islands late Thursday and Alaska or western Canada late Friday.

That was reported today by atmospheric radiation experts of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The cloud contains only a small fraction of the total debris. The rest is high in the stratosphere and won't begin to come down until next spring.

The radiation experts said the cloud, loosed by Monday's blast in the Soviet arctic region, is expected to chalk up another 2,000 miles today on its west-to-east course, with the following points, among others, to be passed over today: Northern Manchuria and southeast Siberia; then possibly the northern tip of Japan.

After that it should swing toward the Kamchatka Peninsula, another part of Siberia.

It should be going toward the Aleutians Thursday, possibly reaching there some time late in the day, Dr. Robert List told a reporter.

List said that it was snowing Tuesday over a large area of Soviet territory south and east of the bomb test site over which the fallout cloud passed — and that presumably some of the radioactive material was brought down faster than otherwise would have happened.

E. German Reds Turn Back Bus

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Army insisted today on the right of civilian entry into East Berlin but then let the East German authorities turn back two U.S. Army sightseeing buses heading for the East sector.

East Berlin border guards stepped aside when armed U.S. military police escorted an American civilian car into the Communist sector.

A few hours later the guards refused entry to two U.S. Army sightseeing buses which had no armed escort.

The buses turned back to West Berlin near a spot where American tanks and armored personnel carriers were stationed with guns pointed at the East German police.

The East German police held up the buses carrying U.S. military personnel and civilians for more than an hour demanding that the officer in charge identify his passengers to authorities of the Communist East German regime. The American officer refused.

In an earlier incident the East Germans refused to allow two American civilians in an Army-licensed private car to pass through the checkpoint without identification. But the U.S. command ignored the East Germans and sent the car through with the armed escort in assertion of Allied rights to free movement in Berlin.

(Related story on Page 1-B)

Then, in a gesture of conciliation, the U.S. commander said it was temporarily restricting the passage of American civilian vehicles into East Berlin.

The announced American restriction on movements to East Berlin apparently applied only to civilian vehicles. The buses were U.S. Army vehicles carrying military personnel, although there were about 20 persons in civilian clothes, including two women, in the lead bus. The second bus had about six passengers in U.S. Air Force uniforms.

Both the United States and Britain moved tanks up to the border in a show of force during the day.

Ten U.S. Patton tanks and another armored personnel carrier rolled up to stations at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point, the only one open to Allied personnel.

The British moved a second company of infantry, three Centurion tanks and supporting arms into the Tiergarten, a wooded area opposite the sector border near the Brandenburg Gate. The British normally maintain a company of troops in the area and an army spokesman called the reinforcements precautionary.

The French dispatched a military patrol of eight men to set up an observation post at the Gesundbrunnen elevated railroad station overlooking the Communist sector.

Travelers from East Berlin reported the East German police had wheeled up a water cannon and a small armored car to within about 300 yards of the border. The water cannon, a favorite weapon of the Reds on the border, can spit out a powerful jet of water, capable of knocking a man off his feet.

An American spokesman said all U.S. troops in Berlin were on a general alert for six hours today. The alert ended at 3:55 p.m., but 10 U.S. tanks remained at the border facing East Berlin as dusk fell.

Explaining the bus incident, a spokesman said the U.S. provost marshal Lt. Col. Robert Sabolyk, decided to order the vehicles to return to West Berlin in order not to endanger the women passengers.

The buses were on one of the regular sightseeing trips into East Berlin which run three times weekly for American soldiers and civilian personnel and their dependents.

East German police never before stopped the buses, even when they were filled with civilian sightseers. The buses are painted in the Army's distinctive olive-green and clearly marked as military vehicles.

The temporary restriction on the movement of private automobiles into East Berlin was announced by the U.S. commander, Maj. Albert Watson.

Royal Birth Expected Soon

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's baby is expected within the next two weeks.

"Sometime during the next fortnight," said a royal press officer. "I mean either side of the end of October."

Sister Helen Rowe, the 62-year-old Royal midwife who assisted in the birth of Queen Elizabeth's three children, has come to London from her home in Eastbourne to be ready when needed for Margaret.

The baby will be born at Clarence House, Margaret's home with Queen Mother Elizabeth before her marriage last year to Antony Armstrong-Jones, now the earl of Snowdon.

But the prinsess is still living in their apartment at Kensington Palace, and a royal spokesman said he did not know when she would move.

When the princess shifts to Clarence House, she will live in a large square white-painted room at the top of the building.

Another room of the house has been set aside as a delivery room.

Margaret was 31 in August.

JFK Supports Texas Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy gave his support today to Democratic candidates in New Jersey and Texas political battles in which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is campaigning for Republicans.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Kennedy is supporting Richard J. Hughes, the Democratic nominee for New Jersey governor, and Henry B. Gonzales, the party's nominee for a Texas congressional seat.

Spy Satellite Detects Titan

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The new Midas IV spy satellite detected a Titan missile as it roared away from the cape on a 6,100-mile test flight Tuesday night, an official reported today.

The launching was timed when Midas IV whirled 2,100 miles overhead to determine if infrared sensing devices in the satellite could pick up the exhaust trail of the Titan and relay the information to a ground station.

"The Midas spotted the Titan about 90 seconds after it lifted off," the official said. "Water vapor and other elements in the atmosphere probably prevented it from locking on the exhaust trail sooner. On the basis of preliminary examination, we consider it a good test."

Similar successful experiments were conducted with the Midas III satellite launched earlier this year.

At 90 seconds, the Titan was about 40 miles high, heading for its ninth straight success.

Midas IV was launched from Point Arguello, Calif., last Saturday in another experimental firing aimed at developing a system of missile detection satellites able to provide the United States with 30-minute warning of an enemy rocket attack.

The Air Force announced the Titan met all test objectives in one of a final series of flights before the weapon becomes operational late this year.

Fugitive General, Secret Army Hope Of French Settlers

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — Black posters showing the face of fugitive former Gen. Raoul Salan plaster the walls of Oran, Algeria's second city, gripped by fear and uncertainty.

To most of Oran's 200,000 French settlers, Salan and his Secret Army Organization have become their hope of survival.

The French colonists believe that plastic bombs and their determination to fight will win them political representation in an independent Algeria of the future. But racial hatred and violence sweeping the city for the past month have been growing out of control.

In tracts and verbal orders, the underground Secret Army appeals for fraternity between the French and the Moslems. The appeals have a hollow sound in Oran, where Moslem knife and grenade attacks are answered by mob pursuits and lynchings of innocent Moslems fleeing along palm-shaded avenues.

Today few Moslems venture into the European section, full of towering new skyscrapers and massive apartment buildings.

Oran, which until recently suffered from the storm battering Algeria, has become the center of racial violence.

"The mob has taken justice in its own hands," said a police officer grimly.

To reduce clashes between the two ethnic groups, French troops moved in and surrounded Moslem quarters.

"This is a double-purpose measure," said an officer pointing to rolls of barbed wire and columns of armored vehicles outside the Moslem quarter. "It stopped the Moslems from getting out and it keeps the Europeans from getting in. It stopped death."

Only Moslems with work permits are permitted outside the barbed wire.

The French settlers have become convinced that this is the only way to deal with the rebel nationalists.

"Police would do nothing to stop terrorism," complained a French woman. "They hold terrorists in prison instead of executing them."

The settlers have rallied behind Salan and his underground army. Most contribute money. Those who refuse find their apartments or shops blown up by plastic bombs.

On the long cement walls protecting Oran's harbor, giant black letters proclaim "This is France."

Police Hold Davis For Investigation

Lewis Davis, 50, charged with the murder of Roy V. Brown, 49, in the T&P railroad yards Monday afternoon, is still being held in the city jail, pending further investigation. Two men who were witnesses to a fight in the yards during which Brown was fatally injured were also being held for investigation.

Brown, an itinerant painter whose home was in Cleburne, apparently died from a blow, or blows, on the head. Brown was taken to River Funeral Home and later his body was taken to Glen Rose where funeral arrangements were pending.

An autopsy was performed at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday on Brown's body, and the physician told police that his death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Charley C. Hart, Big Spring, and James R. Newton, Knoxville, Tenn., told Detectives Jack Jones and Aubrey Hurley, in signed statements, that they saw Davis and Brown arguing when they went to the railroad yards to catch a freight train to Abilene. Both men said they heard Brown say something to Davis about liking cigarettes and that Brown was struck by some object that seemed to shatter against his head. They said Davis struck at Brown again, the two men said, and Brown fell. They said Brown was then kicked in the face and left on the tracks.

Hart said he and Davis pulled the man off the tracks and to an opening near a small building. Hart also said that Davis took a wrist watch off Brown's arm and asked them to see if they could trade it for a bottle of wine.

When first seen by the two witnesses, and two car men on the T&P yards, Davis had a jacket, according to all of them. Detective Jones said he believed that Davis threw the jacket, with the wrist watch in a pocket, into the car he attempted to board when police apprehended him after the alleged murder. Brown's arm bore the marks of a wrist watch, Detective Hurley said.

A conference with District Attorney Gil Jones will probably be held today, Jones said. In the meantime Davis, Hart and Newton are still in the city jail.

Hart and Newton are being held for further investigation, and may be held longer as material witnesses, Jones said Tuesday, depending upon what the district attorney desires.

331st FIS Has Troubles In 'William Tell' Contest

An official point tabulation was not available after two days of firing at the "William Tell" competition, but reports were that the 331st Squadron team had encountered unusual difficulties.

The 331st team is an Air Defense Command representative at the worldwide interceptor weapons meet at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

After one mission on Monday, the Webb team stood third, with 600 points. The 59th FIS Squadron from Goose Air Base, Labrador, had scored 1,000, and the 317th from Elmendorf at Anchorage, Alaska, had 850.

Lt. Col. Jack C. Price and Capt. Thomas A. Nelson flew the Monday sortie, and Capt. Nelson had missile guidance troubles, causing him to lose his target. Col. Price scored a hit.

On Tuesday Major Curtis L. Utterback reportedly had radar difficulties, while Capt. L. J. Morris registered some points.

The meet continues for 10 days, with squadrons kept on the alert ready for "scrambles" at unknown times, against targets at unknown heights and directions.

At the start of the competition Monday, the 18th FIS from Grand Forks AFB, N. D. scored a perfect "kill" on a drone plane, the target being demolished by the first shot fired with a self-guided Falcon heat - seeking missile.

This squadron is in the F101 category. In the F102 class—same as the 331st — the Labrador team got "area one" hits by both its pilots, on the initial team to go out. This, of course, was scored as a perfect mission.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely thank all the kind friends, neighbors and relatives for the many courtesies, expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes that were given at the passing of our husband and father.

Gen. Taylor Optimistic After Tour

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor flew here today from Saigon after a week's fact-finding mission in South Viet Nam that left him "very much encouraged" about that pro-Western government's chances of beating back Communist guerrilla assaults.

Taylor, President Kennedy's special military adviser, told newsmen at the Saigon airport that he feels South Viet Nam has the human and material resources to cope with the serious threat to its independence.

Taylor plans two days of talks here with officials of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, with Thailand's strong man premier, Marshal Sarit Thanarat, and with U.S. officials.

Sarit's government is deeply concerned over the situation in Viet Nam, feeling it threatens the security of Thailand and other non-Communist countries of Southeast Asia.

Taylor declined to tell reporters in Saigon whether he would recommend sending U.S. troops to bolster the South Vietnamese army.

In answer to a question, Taylor said SEATO has a role to play in the Vietnamese crisis because, like the United States, the alliance is "a friend" of South Viet Nam. There has been speculation that in the event of a decision to send U.S. troops into South Viet Nam, Washington would prefer to send them as part of a SEATO force rather than alone.

Just Don't Cave In The Caverns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy approved plans today for an underground nuclear explosion in New Mexico as part of the nation's program to develop peaceful uses for nuclear energy.

The White House said the explosion probably will take place in about 60 days, some 1,200 feet below ground in a salt formation near Carlsbad, N.M.

Child Alcohol Law Clarified

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled that juveniles may be tried in an ordinary court for unlawful purchase or consumption of alcoholic beverages and are subject to a fine if convicted.

In an opinion requested by Dist. Atty. Weldon Holcomb of Tyler, Wilson said a 1955 special act covering purchase of alcoholic beverages by minors superseded the Juvenile Court Act.

Under the Juvenile Court Act adopted in 1943, females between 10 and 18 and males over 10 and under 17 may not be charged or convicted of a crime in any court.

Wilson's opinion said that under the older law, individual purchase or possession of alcoholic beverages by a child does not give jurisdiction to the juvenile court, "although habitual use or possession by a child does confer jurisdiction under the juvenile laws."

"In this situation, the Legislature was confronted with the problem and decided to impose an enforceable sanction upon a child for a one-time use or possession of alcoholic beverages," Wilson said.

Large Road Hearing Set

AUSTIN (AP)—One of the largest highway hearings in recent years is scheduled Thursday.

State highway engineer D. C. Greer said the 15 delegations slated to appear plus the $171,056,000 involved in the requests sets a record for recent times.

Most requests involve U.S. and state trunk highways between cities.

"Most of these highways were built some years ago," Greer said. "The system consists of about 25,000 miles of which 22,000 miles are already considered inadequate to properly carry the traffic using them.

"The trunk system is inadequately financed due to the need for matching funds to build the Texas interstate highway system and for maintenance of almost 4,000 miles of farm roads. When these necessities are taken care of, not enough funds are left to keep the trunk system in adequate condition for present and future traffic loads."

Minor Changes In U.S. Weather

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today with more rain and drizzle in the central, northwest and northeast areas.

Thumderstorms hit some sections from southwest lower Michigan southwestward into Texas during the night. Hail pelted areas in central Illinois southwestward into Oklahoma.

Plot Against America Seen

HOUSTON (AP)—For years America's foreign policy has been a plot against the country's freedom, a magazine publisher told a Houston protest rally Tuesday night.

Tom Anderson, publisher of Farm and Ranch Magazine in Nashville, spoke at a National Indignation Convention meeting—the second such meeting in as many nights in Houston.

"Joe McCarthy, a Republican, accused the Democrats of 20 years of treason," Anderson said. "That statement should be updated and made bipartisan."

LETTER TO EDITOR

Suggests A Special

To the Editor:

Our high school football team will be playing in Abilene soon. Since there will be many from Big Spring making the trip for the game, and many of them being our teen-agers in cars without adults, why don't the people of Big Spring get together and charter a special train for this game?

The railroad will offer a special rate for the trip and this way we parents won't have to worry about our teen-agers out on the highway for this distance in cars.

Several towns in this conference have special trains for their games, and it has been a success.

Sincerely,
F. Douglas

Librarians Set Meeting

Librarians from Big Spring are expected to participate in the District III meeting of the Texas Library Association in Abilene Saturday.

Agustin Esponza, 501 NW 4th, was taken to the Howard County Hospital Foundation Tuesday night, with four stab wounds in the back, police said Wednesday morning.

Tony Lozano, 310 NW 4th, was also taken to the same hospital a few minutes later with two bullet wounds, one in the left arm and another in the left hip.

The shooting and stabbing occurred at Speck's Cafe on Lamesa Drive, police said.

Both men were held at the hospital for observation after treatment, but were reported not in serious condition.

Other reports investigated by police over the past 24 hours included the theft of a tire and wheel from a pickup owned by Horace E. Yanez, and vandalism to a city bench by two boys, eight- and nine-years-old.

Family Shelter Test A Success

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The seven-member Charles A. White family lost 13 pounds during a week-long stay in their underground fallout shelter.

The family emerged Tuesday, confident that they had proved shelter living can be comfortable and that boredom can be dispelled by a rigid schedule of activities.

Mr. and Mrs. White each lost four pounds during the confinement, Sandra, 15, one pound, Carl 11, and Andy, 12, each lost two pounds. William, 7, and Tommy, 4, stayed the same.

Mrs. White estimated family food consumption was down 15 to 20 per cent.

Mrs. Weathers Takes State Hospital Post

Mrs. Hila Euclid Weathers, better known to Big Springers as "Stormy" Weathers, is returning to Big Spring in November to take over the post of volunteer coordinator at the State Hospital.

Mrs. Weathers will be replacing Mrs. Lou Hyer who has resigned effective Dec. 1, 1961. She will officially assume duties that day.

"There were several applicants for the position and Mrs. Weathers was chosen because of her demonstrated ability and excellent record of work in West Texas," Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, said.

ASSET

"We feel quite fortunate to have someone of her stature with the hospital. She will be a real asset."

Mrs. Weathers comes from a family with a long history of public service. Her father, Ice Berg Reeves, was for many years a State Representative from Grayson County and he was instrumental in the founding of the Home for Feeble Minded Children.

Her brother, Delas Reeves, Sweetwater, was Nolan County Judge and also served as business manager for th State Home for Deaf and Dumb in Austin.

MRS. WEATHERS

Born Sept. 20, 1901 in Sherman, she attended school there and later studied at Baylor University. She has since completed study at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos and other courses at the Valley Junior College in Van Nuys, Calif.

She moved to Big Spring in January, 1930 when her late husband was sent here to install an ice plant for Southern Ice Company. For the next three yesrs Mrs. Weathers put her speech training to good use, operating several speech studios here. Despite a move to Sweetwater in 1932, she continued teaching in Big Spring.

WITH WTCC

Her work in the entertainment field led to work for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. She became director of entertainment for annual conventions.

Mrs. Weathers continued her civic activities, this time on a payless basis, while in Crockett from 1935-40. She organized and served as leader for Girl Scouts and took them on frequent trips.

On moving to San Marcos in 1940, Mrs. Weathers became an important figure in the growth of that city for the next nine years. She was manager of the Chamber of Commerce when the navigation school was established at the Air Base in San Marcos. Five major industries and numerous smaller firms were located in the city while she was its manager, and during her stay, th Aquarena became a reality. It has since become world - famous.

MARTIN COUNTY

She became manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce in Stanton in 1951 and held the post until moving to California in 1955. Her latest occupation was assistant collection manager for Butler Brothers in Van Nuys, Calif. She was with that firm from 1956 to 1960.

Despite her work, Mrs. Weathers has found time to participate in many civic organizations. She has always been affiliated with women's organizations. She was a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club while in Texas and is even now a member of Chapter 67, the Big Spring Chapter of the Eastern Star.

Court Rejects Wiley Plea

AUSTIN (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals rejected today a Negro hitchhiker's request that it take another look at his conviction in the knife slaying of a milk truck driver.

The court refused to grant a rehearing to Roosevelt Wiley, under death sentence in the killing. The court delivered an opinion upholding the conviction June 7.

A Johnson County court convicted Wiley of murdering L. H. Canada Oct. 24, 1958. Canada's body was found off the highway about 10 miles southeast of Sterling City.

The appeals court reversed a previous conviction at Lubbock because of jury conduct. No reversible error was found in the Johnson County conviction, which was handed down in Wiley's second trial for the offense.

Willie McDade, then 16, is under a life sentence for his part in the stabbing.

Cotton Disparity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has been asked to explain why cotton production is being cut in the United States when it cannot fill India's offer to buy two million bales.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Tuesday in a statement that he had asked the secretary to reconcile the announced cut in 1962 acreage allotments with Freeman's statement that the United States is "in short supply of cotton at this time."

DEAR ABBY

Better Sound A Warning!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our four children plan to drive up to British Columbia to visit his sister, her husband and their five children. We have three weeks' vacation coming, haven't seen these folks for four years, and think it would be lots of fun. We will stay with them, of course, since we don't know anyone else up there.

Now for our problem: Should we let them know we are coming, or should we just drive up to their back door and surprise them? My husband is sort of superstitious and says it is bad luck to reveal your plans in advance, and he wants to surprise them. Would this be proper?

B. C. BOUND

DEAR B. C. BOUND: This would be HIGHLY improper, and I suggest you write first. Your husband's sister might be superstitious about thirteen people in a home that ordinarily houses seven.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: How do you tactfully tell a neighbor woman that you would like to entertain once in a while without her presence? Every time a car drives into my driveway, my neighbor "joins" us. She is a good neighbor in many ways, but we do not travel in the same circles. Many of my friends do not care for her. (Her language is a bit on the vulgar side). I don't want to hurt her feelings, as we both own our own homes and I like to be on good terms with my neighbors, but if I don't find a solution to this problem my husband is going to do it for me, and it won't be pleasant.

HELPLESS HOSTESS

DEAR HELPLESS: No one who has a desire for privacy with the courage and a voice to proclaim that desire need be "helpless" against an intruder. Inform her in a kindly way that, when you have guests, you'd like to entertain them alone.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in real estate, and he is out almost every night of the week on "business." His normal homecoming time is around 9:00 P.M., but lately he has been pulling in at 4:30 and 5:00 A.M. When I ask him where he's been, he says at the corner tavern. They close the place at 2:00, but he claims that just means they lock the door and don't let any more customers in, but anyone who is already in can stay as long as he likes. Is this true? Or am I just plain—

GULLIBLE

DEAR GULLIBLE: True or untrue, the real question is, "What has the corner tavern got that your home hasn't got from 9:00 P.M. to 5:00 A.M.?" If you don't find out, you are more than "gullible," dear, You're sunk!

* * *

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Britain To Build 2nd Nuclear Sub

LONDON (AP)—Britain has begun building a second nuclear submarine called the Valiant, the Admiralty announced Tuesday night.

Britain's first nuclear sub, the Dreadnought, was launched by Queen Elizabeth II a year ago. Built largely with American know-how, it is expected to be commissioned early next year.

U.S. Geared To Test For Red Fallout

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public health authorities are geared to detect the first fallout in North America from the Soviet Union's massive nuclear explosion of Monday.

Presumably, they will be prepared for similar tests on today's reported blast.

But they declared it is too early to forecast if it will create any significant health hazard either in the following few weeks or next spring.

A Weather Bureau scientist said it was possible the early fallout from Monday's test may even pass north of the continental United States in its first pass around the earth. It likely will extend over the entire nation in its second time around about 10 days later, he added.

There is a possibility, health officials said, that within the next month levels of radioactive iodine from the bomb debris might equal or exceed levels produced by the 21 previously announced tests in the current Soviet series.

NOT KNOWN

It isn't known yet whether this cumulative total of fallout would constitute any significant hazard, said Dr. James Terrill of the Health Service in an interview.

Radioactive iodine is considered a threat because if enough of it got into a person's system, it could cause thyroid cancer.

Terrill said that most of the radioactive strontium—a potential cause of bone cancer—loosed by the bomb will be delayed in falling until next spring. The strontium from the big blast will fall with the strontium remaining in the stratosphere from other tests in the series.

It remains to be seen whether the strontium from all tests would constitute any widespread hazard, Terrill said.

"It should be borne in mind, however," he added, "that even the present or expected levels of both strontium and iodine are and will be producing some adverse health effects in small portions of large population groups throughout the world.

BELOW RANGE

"However, these levels of health effects will probably be below the detectable range."

Terrill said standards had been worked out—differing for various kinds of radioactive materials—to guide officials in considering protective countermeasures.

For example, the maximum standard for radioactive iodine is a daily intake of 100 micro-microcuries per day over a year's time. The standard for strontium is 200. A micro-microcurie is a measurement of radioactivity.

Terrill said the Health Service just can't say how much fallout will come down quickly from Monday's heavy weight test, or how much will be delayed until next spring.

One reason, he said, is that the health service does not know how dirty the bomb was in terms of radioactive fallout.

The Health Service has announced placing of four new fallout-detection stations in Alaska. There had been two there. There are now 58 stations throughout the territorial United States, including one each in Hawaii, Guam and Puerto Rico.

ON ALERT

The service's radiation surveillance network also has on alert its 60 milk-sampling stations, a large number of water-testing stations, and 12 stations for testing whole diets of mixed foods.

Fallout specialists of the U.S. Weather Bureau say that if the present pattern of atmospheric winds prevail, the first fallout from the Soviet test might reach North America on Thursday or Friday.

Dr. Lester Machta, one of these specialists, says it's conveivable that the fallout debris now in the lower atmosphere constitutes less than 1 per cent of the total debris loosed by the bomb. The remainder would stay in the stratosphere until next spring. It will begin to fall then in the Northern Hemisphere between latitudes 30 and 60 north, mainly in areas where rainfall is usually heaviest.

Machta said the early fallout from Monday's test could conceivably pass north of the continental United States in its first pass around the earth—though possibly passing over Alaska and parts of Canada.

In its second pass around the earth some 10 days later, he said, it might spread out so as to involve the entire United States.

Storm Arises Over Negro Postman Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day has reinstated a Georgia Negro leader as a mailman but the way he announced it has drawn bitter criticism from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP's general counsel, Robert L. Carter, called Day's statement "vicious, insulting and misleading." He said "it raises grave doubt as to his suitability for the Cabinet post he holds."

The barbed words Tuesday concerned the controversial case of W. W. Law, head of the Georgia branch of the NAACP. He was dismissed from his postal job in Savannah on charges including extended absences from his mail route.

GREAT REGRET

Day announced he was reinstating Law "with great regret" and described him as an "unsuitable employe." Day added he did not want "to provide further ammunition for the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr of Law."

Day took note of charges by NAACP officials that Law's activities as a NAACP leader had been responsible for his dismissal.

He said he "would not want a person with Law's record of conduct delivering mail to my family's home. Some of Mr. Law's partisans feel otherwise — or, at least, for political reasons purport to feel otherwise."

One of the charges, the Post Office Department said, included an accusation Law had urinated on the lawn of a home on his mail route. The Post Office Department said he admitted this but said it came about because of a kidney ailment.

Law appealed his dismissal, carrying the plea to a three-member board which recommended his reinstatement. The recommendation was not followed by the post office regional director, William F. Askew of Atlanta.

In overriding Askew, Day said: "I am reinstating W. W. Law as an employe in the Savannah, Ga., post office with a severe reprimand.

"It is with great regret that I reverse the act of the regional director. However I do not want to provide further ammunition for the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr of Law.

OPPOSITE ISSUES

"I must weigh the detriment to our 580,000 employes of this sustained attack against the detriment of retaining this single unsuitable employe in the department."

The postmaster general said "the action of the impartial review board, with two Negroes among its three members, confirmed that the charges against Law were by no means trivial. The board unanimously recommended a strong reprimand with one member urging that Law be fired."

In New York, Carter said Day's "reference to the race of the members of the grievance committee is an outright appeal to bigotry. This alone is enough to call for official inquiry as to his fitness to remain a member of an administration committed to the eradication of racial discrimination."

Carter said that if Law is as "unfit for service as the postmaster alleges then the charges should have been sustained. Not to do so is cowardly and dishonorable."

"However," Carter added, "the postmaster knows that the grievance committee dismissed four of the five charges against the NAACP leader and recommended reprimand for a minor charge which in no way involved Mr. Law's integrity, or his capacity for performance of his postal duties."

When asked if there would be any comment on Carter's remarks, the Post Office Department said only that Day's statement would stand.

There was no comment from Law.

OTHER CHARGES

Other charges against Law were that he mishandled forms used to guarantee forwarding of mail, had inflated the count of mail he carried, that he left his route regularly for lengthy periods to visit an office building and that he spent too much time in his mail deliveries.

Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington office of the NAACP, said Day's action indicates he will "use his position to smear the reputation of a mail carrier who dares to take a stand against segregation."

He said the urination charge against Law had been unanimously rejected by the hearing board "and even the regional director in Georgia did not sustain it."

GOP Leader Sees Growing Number Of Demo Desertions

FORT WORTH (AP)—A Texas Republican leader predicts that an ever-increasing number of Democrats will leave their party to join the GOP.

Tad Smith, El Paso, chairman of the Texas Republican Executive Committee, added Tuesday that all Democrats will be welcome—with the exception of Gov. Price Daniel.

"He can stay in the Democratic party," Smith told the convention of the Texas Federation of Republican Women.

Smith said Daniel and other Democratic leaders stood idly by and watched the Democratic party abandon the principles Texas voters always have believed in.

Smith also said that the Democratic national committeeman, Byron Skelton of Temple, tried to belittle those who are switching to the GOP by branding them "phony Democrats."

The speaker quoted Skelton as saying that nowhere among the defecting Democrats could be found a person who voted Democratic in the last three presidential elections.

If the test for being a genuine Democrat is to have voted for Kennedy once and Stevenson twice, Smith said, Gov. Daniel does not qualify, noting that Daniel supported Eisenhower against Stevenson in 1952.

O. W. (Bill) Hays of Temple, GOP candidate for lieutenant governor, told the convention that he is "horrified" that the U.S. government is training Yugoslavian pilots.

Hayes said his own ancestry was half Yugoslavian and said:

"There are no grades of communism. The Yugoslavian Communists are just as socialistic, atheistic and ruthless as the Russian and Chinese Communists."

He called for a thorough bipartisan investigation of the pilot training program.

In its closing convention session, the Texas Federation of Republican Women elected Mrs. J. C. Man Jr. of Wichita Falls as its new president, succeeding Miss Betty Blodgett of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Man will serve two years, as will nine other officers elected by acclamation.

They are: Mrs. Donald A. Brown, El Paso, first vice president; Mrs. H. K. Herbert, Dallas, second vice president; Mrs. F. T. Kayser, Midland, third vice president; Mrs. Irene Cox, San Antonio, fourth vice president; Mrs Frank Kramer, Lufkin, fifth vice president; Mrs. George B. Pearson, Tyler, sixth vice president; Mrs. Robert Snider, Austin, recording secretary; Mrs. Joe Johnson, Corpus Christi, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Frankie Frensley, Dallas, treasurer.

Delinquency

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3900 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1383.

Juvenile delinquency is caused by adult delinquency, and especially by delinquency of parents. We parents, for the most part, fail to give our children the things necessary to building their character.

We fail to give our children love, thoughtfulness, patience and kindness. We often fail to give them our time and wise council, we are so rushed. We fail to give them a home where they can bring their friends, where there is an atmosphere of prayer and where the Word of God is read and respected.

We often fail to give them the discipline they need. By our examples we fail to give them the proper sense of values. We act as if temporal things would last forever, and eternal things would not endure.

In short, we do not give our children Christ, because we do not give them Christian parents.

Do the best part by your children, and by yourself, in attending the two remaining services of our revival. Brother Rogers' sermon tonight at 7:30 is "What Shall it Profit a Man." —Adv.

Germ Battery May Be Tested

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times says the Navy will soon conduct ocean tests of a new kind of battery in which bacteria help promote the flow of electricity.

The Times said the "bio batteries" have been operating in laboratories for more than a year but most details are classified by the Navy. The project came to light, the Times said, when similar experiments were done for an unclassified Interior Department project.

The bio batteries, the Times said, could make possible production of electricity from fuels now unusable, such as sugar, potatoes and sewage. The ocean itself could provide unlimited fuel or oxidants, the Times noted.

Rayburn Fed By Stomach Tube

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at Baylor Hospital said Tuesday that House Speaker Sam Rayburn has been fed through a stomach tube "nearly continuously for the past week."

A medical bulletin said the condition of the 79-year-old Texas Democrat, incurably ill with cancer, was unchanged and still serious.

Linen Rental Service Is Added Thoughtfulness

Big Spring Linen is one business firm that doesn't talk you into buying something you don't need, or try to sell you products you can't use.

Big Spring Linen Service doesn't sell anything; but their rental service is something many merchants and business firms wouldn't do without.

They know that customers appreciate the extra bit of thoughtfulness that makes a businessman provide soft, sanitary towels for lounges and washrooms. Women, especially, will remember this convenience when they shop with small children who are apt to get sticky fingers.

Owners and operators of beauty shops know the importance of having plenty of thick, thirsty towels at their fingertips instantly. The clean, net look of an operator in a spotless uniform leaves a good and lasting impression.

Sanitary linens are an absolute necessity in cafes and restaurants. When dining out, people want and expect a table to be as nice as they would have it in their own home. This is no place for frayed or wrinkled tablecloths and napkins.

Grocers need big, roomy aprons for food handlers and clerks who are constantly in the public eye. Some firms simply need clean rags for cleaning purposes.

It would be an impractical and unnecessary expense for a business man to actually purchase and continually have to replace these items. How much easier it is to call Big Spring Linen Service and depend on them to handle the problem.

The courteous servicemen who represent Big Spring Linen Service pick up soiled linens and deliver what is needed, freshly laundered and pressed to perfection, on a regular schedule so that you never run short. Their stock is good quality and is kept in perfect condition.

Linen service is available, too, for individuals or groups planning banquets or home entertainment. Cloths and napkins can be rented for a very small fee and delivered wherever you wish.

Blue Lustre Eases Worry About Carpets

You will never worry about your good carpets and upholstery becoming dull and unattractive if you follow these simple suggestions.

Always vacuum clean them thoroughly at least once a week. Use the tools provided with your vacuum - get down in the crevices and under the cushions but vacuum slowly - it saves time and trouble in the end. Too - you can save the nickels and dimes that spill from Dan's pockets when he reclines in that easy chair.

Remember that your vacuuming gets only the loose dirt, so always watch for the soil that it doesn't remove - those dull areas where colors are no longer clear and bright. This is the time when you can so easily restore that new look and remove even hidden soil by using Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner.

Wise housewives always protect their fine furnishings with only the best premium quality cleaner and more and more of them rely on Blue Lustre for this purpose. This gentle, odorless foam cleaner is free from harsh ingredients or harmful bleaches. It doesn't contain any soap and, therefore, it doesn't need rinsing.

Blue Lustre, is not just another cleaner but a new and different cleaner that is safe for the finest oriental rugs. It can be applied with a brush or used in any make rug shampooer. You can spot clean those soiled pathways without going over the entire carpet.

Helping Keep Costs Down

The vehicles parked under the big sign at Clyde McMahon's Ready Mix Concrete Co. are part of his fleet of trucks that mix concrete while traveling to the building site. Construction costs go down and quality goes up when you use the McMahon method of concrete mixing.

McMahon Offers Best Way To A Quality Foundation

Fashions aren't the only things that change.

Styles and mode of operation in business operation change, too. In the building business, the new, easy way to have a firm foundation is to call the Clyde McMahon Concrete Co.

It's no longer smart or economical to go through the messy job of trying to mix concrete by hand. Construction workers time can be spent doing other things and save money on the job.

The big mixer trucks in the McMahon fleet blend the correct amount of concrete, sand, gravel and water while traveling to the site. This is a scientifically prepared concrete to give you the greatest strength and durability obtainable.

Some jobs require a special combination of the mixture. Blends to your specifications are easily prepared by the McMahon specialists. Equal care is taken in preparation of the concrete, whether it is for an entire subdivision or a few yards of walk or patio for a do-it-yourselfer.

The simple setting up of forms is by far the hardest part of your concrete work when you rely on ready mix. The rest can be done with a telephone call to AM 3-3132. The big mixer is dispatched to your location and can soon pour the concrete you need right where you want it.

Builders have long known they can depend on Clyde McMahon to give them a fine product at reasonable cost. Home-owners are assured the same. A McMahon man can estimate your requirements and estimate your cost before a foot of concrete is poured.

Why not call today—for concrete at its firmest?

NCAA Council Aims To Shield Cagers

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still smarting under the basketball scandals of last March, aimed today to tighten the regulations on college players to the extent that they will be completely shielded from outside influences.

The powerful 18-man council of the NCAA—a body which rarely, if ever, is questioned by the organization, Tuesday adopted four amendments to NCAA rules which would tighten the holds on college players.

The four amendments will be presented with the council's backing at the annual NCAA convention in Chicago on Jan. 11-13. They are almost certain to be passed.

The amendments are:

1. The barring of all outside basketball competition, including the summer leagues.

"Originally," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, "the recommendation was to bar the players from summer competition. But the council heard a report from the gambling committee which recommended all outside competition, and decided to adopt it."

2. A pre-registration rule that bars an athlete from engaging in varsity competition until he has been in residence in a college two years if he decides to transfer after registering at an institution.

"We have been concerned with athletes transferring from junior colleges and starting varsity competition," said Byers.

3. Transfer rule that would require an athlete to be in residence in the school to which he transfers for one year before he can engage in varsity competition.

4. A recommendation that an athlete suspended from a college for disciplinary or academic reasons must complete two years of satisfactory work to be eligible for varsity competition in another school. The present rule is one year.

The council also dealt out disciplinary penalties to Ohio Valley Conference schools, Tennessee Tech and East Tennessee State.

Tennessee Tech was placed on probation for two years and was ruled ineligible for NCAA events for one year and NCAA television programs for two years; East Tennessee State was placed on probation for one year with no other penalties.

Tennessee Tech violations concerned reducing financial assistance to a football player, not providing athletes with written statements of financial aid and providing assistance to an athlete after he had completed his freshman year at another school without first obtaining the clearance of the college's athletic director.

East Tennessee State was found guilty of furnishing a room to a prospective student-athlete in a dormitory prior to his enrollment, furnishing free transportation from the site of his summer job to his home and permitting two basketball prospects to "demonstrate their abilities to the head coach during the summer months."

First Bounce Doesn't Count

Humberto Hernandez (above) tries to field a pass thrown by Albert Fierro in the above picture but has to take it on the first bounce. The action occurred in the B football game between Big Spring and Odessa here last weekend, won by Big Spring, 42-24. Hernandez and Fierro perform for Big Spring.

Coach Says Boys Mentally Ready

In an appearance before the Big Spring Quarterback Club last night, coach Emmett McKenzie of the Big Spring Steers pronounced his team as being 'mentally ready' for the Friday night engagement with Permian and added that the Longhorns will take the field with the attitude that they can win.

Despite the fact that the Steers will carry a 6-0 won-lost record onto the field, they will probably be the underdogs in the game, since Permian was the pre-season favorite in the District 2-AAAA race and has lost only to San Angelo (15-0) this season.

R. C. Moore, who has headed up the scouting team for Big Spring against Permian, said the Steers would have to give away weight both in the line and the backfield.

He said the Steers could afford to make few mistakes against the Panthers.

He said Permian was capable of throwing the ball but had been primarily a running team. He added that Permian had perhaps the finest backfield in the state of Texas.

Jimmy Felts, co-captain of the QBC, said local fans would be urged to gather on the field prior to the Big Spring-Permian contest "to give the boys a good sendoff." He reminded that the local spectators at the game could gain entrance to the playing field at the south end of the east stands.

Those remaining in the stands will be urged to give a thunderous welcome to the boys as they make their entrance on the field. A signal from the cheer leaders will detonate the cheer, Felts stated.

No caravan will form before the game, Felts stated, because many of the people making the trip want to go on into town to eat before the game.

Omar Jones and Jack Cook have been named to head up a committee to look into the possibility of raising an "appreciation fund" for the coaching staff.

Jimmy Evans Due Back In Lineup

EL PASO—Texas Western will have re-inforcements Saturday night when the Miners play New Mexico State University's Aggies here.

Texas Western should be stronger, physically, than since the early weeks of the football season. The return of key players who have been sidelined by injuries should give the Miners a lift for the game that means as much to them as any on their schedule.

Almost certain to return are two top-rated right halfbacks, 175-pound senior Larry Meeks and 180-pound junior Jimmy Evans of Big Spring. Freshman halfback Charles Burnett, who was limping with a leg injury last week, should be ready to go at full speed, and John Young, the guard who is the key man in the TWC line, should be completely recovered from an ankle injury that has hampered his play considerably during the past two weeks.

The only top-ranked player who is on the "highly doubtful" list is end Paul Paxson, senior who has been unable to work out for more than two weeks because of a leg injury.

Doubles Tourney Is Set At YMCA

Players can begin registering today for the YMCA handball doubles tournament, which gets under way Wednesday of next week.

Entries will be registered in Classes A, B and C. Rules have been set up where a Class A player can team with a Class C entry and two players of B classification can team. Class A entries cannot team, however. Neither can an A entry combine with a B player.

The Y recently wound up a singles tournament. Frosty Robison was crowned the Class A champion while D. A. Miller won the B title.

Mantle To Attend Huntsville Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' stellar centerfielder and home run artist, will be one of the honored guests Sunday at the final performance of the 30th annual Prison Rodeo.

Rodeo officials said Tuesday Mantle had rearranged his schedule in order to appear at the prison rodeo—an event which makes it possible to furnish rehabilitative services for more than 12,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Another attraction Sunday will be Chuck Connors, a former Brooklyn Dodgers first baseman. He will appear, however, as the star of one of television's westerns.

Sloan Threat In TD Race

Jack Middlebrooks of Abilene High remains the leading scorer in District 2-AAAA football play but Frank Sloan, Permian's great back, is threatening to take over the top spot.

Middlebrooks now has 50 points, with four games remaining. Sloan has accumulated 42 points, having scored six touchdowns and as many extra points.

Mike Tabor of San Angelo is third in the race, with 33 points, while Big Spring's Jack Irons is fourth, with 30.

The scorers:

| Player, School | Td | Ep | Tp |
|---|---|---|---|
| Jack Middlebrooks, Abilene | 7 | 8 | 50 |
| Frank Sloan, Permian | 6 | 6 | 42 |
| Mike Tabor, San Angelo | 4 | 9 | 33 |
| Jack Irons, Big Spring | 5 | 0 | 30 |
| James Gilbert, Big Spring | 4 | 2 | 26 |
| Dennis Gray, San Angelo | 4 | 2 | 26 |
| Steve Thomas, Midland | 4 | 0 | 24 |
| Bill Cameron, San Angelo | 3 | 6 | 24 |
| Jerry Tucker, Big Spring | 3 | 4 | 22 |
| Jerry Holderman, Odessa | 3 | 2 | 20 |
| Chuck Hughes, Abilene | 3 | 0 | 18 |

AUSTIN (AP) — Allen Russell resigned as general manager of the Austin club of the Texas League Tuesday night and will take another job, the nature of which he has not disclosed.

Giles On Staff

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill Giles is the new publicity director and traveling secretary of the National Baseball League Houston Colts.

Four Fems Go To Tourney

Four students of Howard County Junior College will go to Odessa this weekend to take part in the fourth annual Women's Southwest College Tennis tournament.

The meet gets under way Friday and continues through Saturday at Odessa College. HCJC is one of 14 schools from Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico entered into competition.

Making the trip from the local college will be Mary Griffin, Betty Ellison, Hermalinda Lopez and Lucila DeLeon.

Griffin and Ellison will team for No. 1 doubles play while Lopez and DeLeon will be the No. Two tandem.

In singles competition, DeLeon will be No. One, Lopez No. Two, Griffin No. Three and Ellison No. Four.

The four will be taken to Odessa by Anna Smith, the HCJC coach.

Ellison is a local girl. Griffin hails from Pyote, Lopez from Falfurrias and DeLeon from Edinburg.

Alabama Schoolboy Club Ends Its 1961 Rampage

By PHILLIP KYLE
The Decatur (Ala.) Daily
Written for The Associated Press

ARDMORE, Ala. (AP) — They have tucked the football gear away for another season at Ardmore High School, but the 1961 Tigers won't be forgotten by north Alabama fans for a long, long time.

Back in early August, when the football season started for Limestone County teams, Ardmore fans expected a lot out of their Tigers. The team had been unbeaten and once tied in 1960 and lost only two games in 1959.

Ardmore is a town divided by the Alabama-Tennessee line. But even the staunchest Tiger supporter didn't expect complete dominance over every team on the schedule.

In the first three weeks the Tigers settled the county football championship by mauling West Limestone 40-0, Elkmont 40-0, and Tanner 53-0.

Then the Tigers crushed four Tennessee opponents — Lynnville 40-0; Lynchburg 46-12; Blanche 49-0, and Petersburg 54-0.

Moving back against Alabama teams, Ardmore crushed one of the present top-rated teams in the state, Lexington, 40-0, then closed out in a flurry of touchdowns en route to an 81-0 rout of Buckhorn.

This is a total of 443 points for Ardmore in nine games—an average of over 49 points per game. The opposition was cut off with only two touchdowns for the entire season.

What made the Tigers go? One thing was an attack that featured precision and discipline and the fantastic accomplishments of quarterback Johnny Bailey and fullback Rayburn Quinn.

Quinn scored 26 touchdowns during the season, plus a dozen or so extra points.

Bailey ran for 22 touchdowns, threw eight touchdown passes, and also had a covey of extra points to his credit.

Coach Eugene Cooper has been at Ardmore for 15 years but says that most of the time he "just helps out" with the football team. Basketball is his first love.

In addition to coaching, he teaches democracy, American History, sociology and civics.

Texas, Ole Miss And Spartans Favorites

By HAROLD CLASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like money in the bank —unless it is in your pocket. And a $1 bet on each of the 57 games a week ago would have netted you $31 on the basis of 44 correct picks and 13 losses.

With no assurance that this week's choices will be as profitable.

Michigan State over Indiana: It is the Spartans homecoming game and that should be enough to keep top-ranked Michigan State alert even though the Hoosiers will be at full strength for the first time in a month.

Mississippi over Vanderbilt: Old Miss has permitted only 13 points in five games while piling up 157.

Ohio State over Wisconsin: One of these Saturday's Ron Miller, the Badger tosser, is going to get hot and embarrass everyone but doubt it will happen at the expense of the Buckeyes. You can see for yourself on TV.

Texas over Rice: Four reasons for this pick—Jerry Cook, Jimmy Saxton, Ray Poage and Tommy Ford.

Alabama over Houston: But the Crimson Tide will have more trouble than in last week's 34-3 joust with Tennessee.

Iowa over Purdue: The Hawkeyes' new passing combine of Matt Szykowny to Cloyd Webb will prevail in a squeaker.

Louisiana State over Florida: The Bengals keep building for that climactic struggle next week with Mississippi.

Notre Dame over Northwestern: The Irish feel they should have beaten Michigan State last week and will take it out on Northwestern.

Elsewhere in other major games:

Georgia Tech over Tulane, Colorado over Oklahoma, Penn State over California, Missouri over Nebraska, Pittsburgh over Navy, Minnesota over Michigan, Maryland over South Carolina, Southern California over Illinois, Utah State over Idaho.

Friday:

George Washington over Boston University (N), Miami over North Carolina (N).

Saturday:

EAST: Army over West Virginia, Brown over Rhode Island, Columbia over Lehigh, Rutgers over Pennsylvania, Princeton over Cornell, Syracuse over Holy Cross, Yale over Colgate.

SOUTH: Auburn over Clemson, Kentucky over Georgia, Memphis State over Mississippi State, Mississippi Southern over Abilene Christian, Duke over North Carolina State, Richmond over Davidson, Tennessee over Chattanooga, Florida State over Virginia Tech, Wake Forest over Virginia, William & Mary over Virginia Military, Furman over Wofford.

MIDWEST: North Texas State over Cincinnati, Detroit over Dayton, Iowa State over Kansas State, Xavier over The Citadel, Whicita over Tulsa.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Northwest Louisiana State, Southern Methodist over Texas Tech, Texas A&M over Baylor, Texas Western over New Mexico State, Arizona over West Texas State.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over Hardin-Simmons, Montana over Colorado State University, Air Force over New Mexico, Washington over Oregon, UCLA over Stanford, Wyoming over Utah, Washington State over San Jose.

Following is a list of undefeated, untied Class AAAA football teams, together with the districts in which they compete, their overall records, their points scored, opponents' points and games scheduled this week:

BIG SPRING, 2-AAAA, W 6 L 0, (140-24), plays Permian in Odessa Friday night.
Wichita Falls, 4-AAAA, W 8 L 0, (242-18), plays in Irving Friday night.
Fort Worth Paschal, 5-AAAA, W 6 L 0, (113-34), plays Fort Worth Poly Friday night.
Houston Milby, 10-AAAA W 7 L 0, (162-25), idle Friday night.
Corpus Christi Miller, 14-AAAA, W 6 L 0, (152-49), plays Corpus Christi Carroll Saturday night.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

The two teams leading District 2-AAAA (Big Spring and San Angelo) are integrated schools—the only two in the conference.

San Angelo has only one Negro on the first two teams of whom I know. That is Bill Sinches, a first string end.

Big Spring has a reserve end who is a Negro. That would be Roger Henry. The Steers, however, have several Negro boys who are coming to the fore on the B team and who are sure to play lots of football next fall, if they stay with it. Their numbers include Eddie Nelson, a glue-fingered end; Walter Minter, a much-improved defensive end; little Charley West, a back; and Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle, a giant lineman.

* * * *

Bobby Layne, who owns the local bowling emporium, reportedly is chaffing at the bits, eager to get back in action with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL.

Layne is like the old firehorse who can't resist wanting to pull on a football suit when ever he hears a referee's whistle and the cheer of the crowd. He's suffering from a bruised shoulder and some say he is through for the year.

If that be the case, he'll, no doubt, give it another fling next fall.

The big Texan, who can and usually is candid about any subject you care to bring up, already holds the NFL record for most yards gained passing. In his 14th season as a professional (Sammy Baugh, whose many records Layne is seeking to eclipse, played 16), Bobby has gained 24,240 yards. He hopes to pad that record considerably before he's through.

* * * *

Layne is also closing in on Baugh's record for throwing touchdown passes in a career. Baugh hurled 187 payoff pitches in his pro career. Layne now has 178. He figures to eclipse Baugh's mark in three games, at the most.

Layne has been in the NFL since 1948—when he joined the Chicago Bears. He gained his greatest fame with the Detroit Lions, however.

Jim David, backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams, said of Layne, a former team-mate, recently:

"Bobby's a real leader. He's always checking with the ends to see how they're doing on patterns and then he files this information away. Some time during the game he'll use this information and burn a team. He's always building for something."

For pure passing, David says, Layne isn't in the same league with fellows like Norm Van Brocklin or Johnny Unitas. Layne gets the job done, though, David adds.

"He anticipates the moves of receivers in an uncanny fashion," David points out. "And he is especially tough in the last two minutes of the first half and the ball game."

* * * *

Layne wears no hip pads or thigh pads. His only concession to protection armor is a pair of cheap shoulder pads. He doesn't want anything restricting his throwing arm.

Bobby is the best I've ever seen at beating the clock. He seems to have a built-in time-piece and knows when to call time and send his receivers out of bounds.

Layne has been known to read the riot act to his own players and the officials, when he thinks they are derelict in their duties. Some of his own team mates had much rather face a possible tongue lashing of their own coaches than rejoin Bobby in a huddle after they have failed to carry out an assignment.

Pro football will miss him when he retires.

* * * *

Bobby owns one record he'd just as soon not have. He's had more passes intercepted (215) than any other NFL quarterback. That will happen, however, to a fellow who keeps the ball in the air as much as Layne does.

Y Plans Course In Scuba Diving

Instructions will start in scuba diving at the YMCA at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, it has been announced.

Teen-agers can enroll in the course, which will be held every Thursday under the direction of Bob Chambers. Only those 13 years of age and older are eligible to be in the class.

Stephans Big Man In Attack Of Minnesota

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone mentioned Sandy Stephens' name a year ago, it was an effort trying to place him as the quarterback of the national champion Minnesota Gophers. They just weren't a team of backfield stars.

It's different this year. The Gophers are right in the middle of the fight for a second successive Big Ten title, and the 6-foot Stephens is the man at the helm.

After a 6-0 opening loss to Missouri, Stephens has come back to take an active hand in every touchdown—eight in all—that the Gophers have scored in winning three consecutive games.

Unlike most quarterbacks, the senior from Uniontown, Pa., is not an outstanding passer. He completed only 35.3 per cent a year ago, and until a torrid 7-for-12 against Illinois, missed 35 of 42 in the three preceding 1961 games.

Stephens may have to go it alone this week against Michigan. Jerry Pelletier, who has spelled him on defense, is out with a shoulder separation and Stephens may have to play both ways.

Princeton's Dick Coleman is worried about an aerial attack—his own. Noting his team completed only 2 of 13 passes for 14 yards in a 15-0 loss to Colgate last week, he remarked, "We've got to work on throwing under pressure" as he drilled for Cornell.

Penn won't have No. 1 tailback John Owens for its game against Rutgers this week and Mickey Brown will probably take his place. Oklahoma put Paul Lea into the first-string left halfback post and had ends John Porterfield and Dale Perini in scrimmage for the first time in nearly two weeks.

Maryland will still be without backs Dennis Condie and Bob Burton against South Carolina while the Citadel, atop the Southern Conference, may miss halfback Eddie Taylor for its non-league clash against Xavier.

Iowa State Coach Clay Stapleton moved fullback Dave Hoover to tailback on the alternate unit for Ozzie Clay, who is out for the year with a knee injury. At Penn State, Don Jonas, restricted by a dislocated collarbone, will be limited to nothing but extra points and field goals for four weeks.

Kansas may lose its two top tackles, Stan Kirshman and Dick Davis, and end Mike Dear, with various ailments, for this week's game against Oklahoma State while Northwestern's leading ground gainer, Bill Swingle, is not expected to play against Notre Dame because of a lame knee.

Jack Spikes May Be Out For Year

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Texans football team will probably be without the services of leading scorer fullback Jack Spikes the rest of the season.

Spikes was hospitalized Monday with a ruptured artery in his right thigh. His doctor said Tuesday he will not be able to play for a month, and most probably for the rest of the season.

Cotten, Poage Top Nominees

DALLAS (AP)—There are more All-America prospects in the Southwest than you can shake a stick at. For that reason the regional Associated Press selection committee is finding it difficult to concentrate on a top candidate.

Mike Cotten, the quarterback, and Ray Poage, the fullback on the undefeated Texas team are getting slightly more prominence than the rest.

Bill Van Fleet of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram considered Poage his leading candidate at this stage and he based it not only on the Texas star's running but his blocking. "He leads that Texas power sweep and his blocking is great," observed Van Fleet.

Cotten has been the architect of the Texas offense that leads the nation. He played his finest game of the season in directing Texas to a smashing triumph over Arkansas last week.

Ves Box of KRLD, Dallas, liked Poage but he figured James Saxton, the great Texas runner with a special talent for pass defense, was the top candidate.

Alabama's Congressmen Are Acting Vote-Starved

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — There is no problem in getting a dinner speaker in Alabama these days. Just ask your congressman.

Alabama's congressmen are hungry—vote hungry; and the fare in next May's Democratic primary elections will be different from any they've ever had.

Alabama is losing one of its nine representatives because of popuation shifts, and the May elections are to decide, in effect, which one goes.

The Alabama Legislature, failing to redistrict the state, came up with what is called the "9-8 plan" in a quick special session last summer.

The plan calls for each of the present nine districts to nominate a candidate in the first primary. The nominees then must run in a statewide primary. The top eight in the statewide vote will be in; the ninth will be out. Nomination as a Democrat is tantamount to election in Alabama.

The congressmen—all eager for re-election—aren't exactly pleased with the "9-8 plan" but they agree firmly on one thing—they all plan to campaign over the entire state.

Frank Boykin of Mobile, the senior member of the Alabama delegation with 26 years in Congress, proposes that the runoff candidates campaign together and share the expenses, "since we're all close friends."

He calls the "9-8 plan" the "most asinine thing I ever saw."

George Huddleston Jr. of Birmingham represents the state's most populous district. He is the freshman member of the Alabama delegation with seven years in Congress.

He says he's not counting on his vote-heavy district to tide him over in a statewide race. "As far as I'm concerned," he says, "my district is now the entire state of Alabama."

Armistead Selden Jr. of Greensboro said he believes it will be a very polite campaign. He said all nine candidates know that one has to go and the other eight will have to live together after it is over.

Robert E. Jones Jr. of Scottsboro said he believes the statewide election will show the congressmen more of the state's problems than they have known before.

Alabama's other congressmen are Kenneth Roberts of Anniston, George Andrews of Union Springs Albert Rains of Gadsden, George Grant of Troy and Carl Elliott of Jasper.

Censors Ban Miller Book

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The district attorney's office has ordered the novel "Tropic of Cancer" removed from the shelves of San Antonio book dealers.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jack Leon sent letters to dealers Tuesday advising them the book violates the state's anti-obscenity law.

The book, by Henry Miller, was published in France during the 1930s but was banned from the United States until this year.

"If I had to argue this case in court, I'd be ashamed to read excerpts from this novel to an all-male jury," Leon said.

Outlook Brighter For U.N. Entries

UNITED NATIONS ,N.Y. (AP) —Prospects brightened today for a break in the Security Council deadlock barring Mauritania and Outer Mongolia from membership in the United Nations. Nationalist China appeared to have abandoned its intention to veto the Mongolians.

A Nationalist spokesman said his delegation did not expect to get voting instructions until just before the council meeting this afternoon to consider the two membership applications. But reports from Taipei said Chiang Kai-shek's government had reluctantly concluded it would have to change its hitherto rigid position and the Nationalist Parliament had given its tacit assent.

A double-barreled resolution covering both candidates was being considered to get around a dispute between the Soviet Union and the West over which application should get priority.

The Soviets have been insisting that Outer Mongolia be considered first. Then, if Mongolia was blocked by a Nationalist veto or failed to get the required seven approving votes, the Russians could retaliate by vetoing Mauritania.

Western delegates in turn were suspicious that the Russians, if they got Outer Mongolia accepted first, might then veto Mauritania to curry favor with Morocco, which claims the former French territory.

To get around this, some delegates suggested including the candidacies of both Mongolia and Mauritania in a single resolution. There would be a separate vote on each applicant, but if either failed to make the grade, both would go down when the resolution is voted on as a whole.

The Soviet Union vetoed Mauritania's application last December, partly in support of Morocco and also on the ground that if Mauritania got in, so should Mongolia.

The Nationalists threw the veto against Mongolia in 1955, provoking a Soviet reprisal veto that blocked Japan's admission until the following year. This year, the Brazzaville group of 12 former French African colonies indicated that if Mauritania was kept out as a result of Nationalist action, they would retaliate by voting to seat Red China when the Chinese representation question comes up in the General Assembly later this year.

The Soviet Union's Valerian Zorin sought Latin American support for his proposal that an interim secretary-general should have seven chief aides—from the United States, the U.S.S.R., Africa, Latin America, Eastern Europe, Western Europe and Asia.

Latin American delegates were reported split over the proposal. Many held with the U.S. view that there should be only five aides —from the United States, the U.S.S.R., Africa, Latin America and Western Europe.

U. S. Again Moves Over Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — The United States today asserted its right to free movement in Berlin by rolling an armed group of Military Police into Communist East Berlin for the second time this week.

The 12 military police, with fixed bayonets, escorted two American civilians in an army-licensed private car past East German police guarding the Communist' wall through Berlin. The East Berliners had refused to let the Americans through when they would not show identification papers.

Ten U.S. Patton tanks and two armored personnel carriers equipped with heavy machineguns also took station at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point into East Berlin. They emphasized defiance of an East German order that all Allied personnel in civilian clothes must show identification papers to cross into East Berlin.

Immediately after the demonstration of its willingness to use force if necessary to assert its rights, the United States made a conciliatory gesture to the Reds.

The U.S. commander, Maj. Albert Watson, announced a temporary restriction on the movements of American private vehicles into East Berlin.

A spokesman for Watson said persons in civilian clothes driving in Army-licensed vehicles had been asked not to pass through the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint, the only entrance to East Berlin open to Allied personnel.

"We are seeking an incident-free period to permit the U.S. commandant in Berlin and the Soviet commandant to discuss this complicated situation," the spokesman said.

Watson reportedly asked for an appointment with the Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev.

The demonstration of U.S. determination occurred shortly before 11 a.m.

The three U.S. military police jeeps escorted the private car through the zig-zag barrier erected at the checkpoint, drove past the East German police (Vopos) and went on into East Berlin, without stopping to show papers.

The convoy went about two blocks, wheeled around and returned. The East Germans did not interfere.

It was the second time this week that American troops had entered East Berlin to escort U.S. civilians defying the Communist requirement that they show their identity papers to the East German police when entering the Soviet sector. Allied personnel have been instructed to ignore the order because the Allies do not recognize the East German regime and also claim the right of free movement through all of Berlin for their garrison personnel, both military and civilian.

On Sunday night the East German police halted E. Allan Lightner Jr., deputy chief of the U.S. mission in Berlin.

Political Dinner That Helps

The $100 a plate dinner at which former President Eisenhower, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City were among the stellar attractions could hardly be called non-political.

Indeed, it annually memorializes one of the most professional of political pros, Alfred E. Smith, whose intimate knowledge of the art extended from the precinct almost to the presidency.

Above all, these Al Smith dinners, of which this week's was the 17th, furnish an attractive rostrum for anyone in politics.

But the affair differs from the usual $100 a plate testimonial in one very important respect. Every cent taken in will go not to political coffers but to good works. Every year more than $250,000 has been raised at the dinners.

The Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation supports the Smith Memorial Hospital. It has contributed also to Beth Israel Hospital, Catholic Relief Services, and Community Center in Harlem, and other charitable organizations that care for needy, sick and homeless people of all races and creeds. Which of course is the way the Happy Warrior, who was a man with a heart big enough to match his ambition, would have wanted it.

Super-Blast A Propaganda Dud

The latest Russian nuclear explosion has been received with relative calm if not fatalism. Initial appraisal by Japan and Sweden, where the shock waves first were felt, was that the blast likely was of the advertised 50 megaton (50 million tons of TNT) order.

Most scientists in this country see little to be gained in the way of helpful knowledge from detonating a bomb ascribed in speculation to Russia. In a sense, mere bigness amounts to gilding the lily, or to pouring on more coal when the fire already is as hot as it will get. Prudent considerations likely would dictate smaller explosions to furnish answers to technical problems. To go beyond those limits, without a specific scientific objective, would be unrealistic from the point of practical returns.

Hence, the thesis that the blast was largely for propaganda purposes appears logical.

It is from this angle that it appears the explosion, although vast and awesome in its force, was a dud. Nations are no longer terrified by demonstrations of destructive power. The initial fright of having a gun pointed at you eventually will melt away. The knowledge of the destructive capabilities of nuclear bombs is generally accepted so little or nothing is gained through harassments and blasts. Threats come to be taken as threats. When they cost hundreds of millions of dollars and yield nothing but resentment or boredom in return, they become downright idiotic.

An Expert Looks At School Problem

WASHINGTON—None of the information in this article comes from any postcard written by a Nigerian student visiting the United States. Most of it comes from the pen of James B. Conant, formerly president of Harvard University and one of America's leading educators. It is taken from his new book "Slums and Suburbs," which was written after a first-hand study of schools in the suburbs of well-to-do people and in the slums of the poor in large cities of America.

DR. CONANT SAYS that the building up of "a mass of unemployed and frustrated Negro youth in congested areas" in American cities has in it potentials for trouble and, indeed, possibilities of disaster. He describes Negro slums in the big northern cities as follows:

"In some there are very bad gangs with gang warfare among the boys. There are also vicious fights outside of school between Negro girls. The condition in one such neighborhood was summed up to one of my staff by a principal of a junior high school who said even he was shocked by the answers to a questionnaire to the girls which asked what was their biggest problem. The majority replied to the effect that their biggest problem was getting from the street into their apartment without being molested in the hallway of the tenement . . .

"I HAVE WALKED through school corridors in slum areas and looking in the classrooms, have seen children asleep with their heads on their hands. Is this situation the result of poor teachers without either disciplinary control or teaching ability? No, the children asleep at their desks have been up all night with no place to sleep or else have been subject to incredibly violent family fights and horrors through the night. Checking into one case, a principal told one of my staff that after climbing six flights of a tenement he found the boy's home—one filthy room with a bed, a light bulb, and a sink. In the room lived the boy's mother and her four children. I might add that it is not unusual for teachers in these schools to take home with them children with no place to go at night."

DR. CONANT TRIES to deal realistically with the whole question of schools in the slums and the efforts recently made to move Negro children to white schools. There isn't the slightest trace of bias or prejudice on the race question in Dr. Conant's background, and he believes wholeheartedly in the Supreme Court decision of 1954 on desegregation of the public schools. But he questions some of the inferences drawn from the Supreme Court's ruling that "separate educational facilities are inherently unequal." He particularly doubts the wisdom of proposals for moving Negro children into all-white schools so as to have mixed schools. He writes:

"TAKEN OUT OF context, the conclusion might be drawn that the justices declared separate educational facilities, for whatever reason provided, are morally wrong and if supported by tax funds are illegal.

"Yet on reading carefully the whole opinion, I think the key sentence is the question defined by the court: 'Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though physical facilities and other "tangible" factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal educational opportunities? We believe that it does.'

"I HAVE italicized the word 'solely,' as I presume to think it is the essential word. The justice appears to have expressed no view as to whether the pupils in a completely Negro school are deprived of equal educational opportunity if they are not assigned solely because of their race. In short, if one group of children is separated from another group because of the neighborhood in which they live, the fact of this separation is, of and by itself, no evidence of an inequality in education. Whether in fact the facilities and instruction are equal in a 100 per cent white school, a mixed school, and a 100 per cent Negro school in a large city is to be determined by examining the schools, not by appeal to phrases such as 'de facto segregation,' with the implication that it is to be condemned by all right-thinking people who condemn 'de jure segregation.'

"IN SOME CITIES political leaders have attempted to put pressure on the school authorities to have Negro children attend essentially white schools. In my judgment the cities in which the authorities have yielded to this pressure are on the wrong track. Those which have not done so, like Chicago, are more likely to make progress in improving Negro education."

Dr. Conant in his book tackles the whole subject on the basis of improving education, and, while his description of conditions in the slum areas of the United States is discouraging, the problem will not be solved by ignoring their existence. That's why it is surprising to find resentment expressed by the prime minister of Nigeria because an American visitor describes the facts of life in that country. The sooner the new African republics learn something about democracy and a free press—which doesn't hesitate to print all the facts no matter how unfavorable—the quicker will solutions be found for some of the vexing problems that arise as a consequence of poverty.

MISS MICHELMORE of the Peace Corps may turn out to be more of a heroine than a villainess because of her postcard which inadvertently publicized to the whole world the plight of the underdeveloped countries. Actually, what is needed is more frequent and more vivid "postcards" from Africa so as to awaken people, not just in America but throughout the world, to the human needs of their unfortunate brethren.

Don't Be Fooled By Red Splits

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's easy to kid yourself about communism.

You don't like it and, just because you don't, your wishful thinking takes over when cracks show up in the Communist wall. You begin to have visions of fatal splits and big collapses.

You can walk into that trap now by dreaming of enmity between Russia and Red China over little Albania which, besides Yugoslavia, is the only Communist country in Europe not under Russian control and leadership.

Eighty-three Communist parties around the world last week sent representatives to the Soviet Communist party's 22nd congress in Moscow, but not Yugoslavia or Albania.

STALIN THREW Yugoslavia out of the Communist bloc in 1948. After Stalin's death Albania lined up with Red China in finding fault with Premier Khrushchev's ideas on communism and the cold war.

At the congress Khrushchev denounced Albania. His exact purpose is not known. He may have had a special reason for it. Or he may have used it as an excuse to chastise Red China for its past differences with him.

But Red China's Premier Chou En-lai responded by rebuking Khrushchev for his denunciation of Albania. Then he flew back to Peiping. The exact reason for this is not known, either. There's been a lot of guessing.

It's possible he had a further, more private, quarrel with Khrushchev. It's possible he went back home for consultation with other Red Chinese leaders on what to do and will return to Moscow before the congress ends.

PERHAPS, BECAUSE so little is known of what happens within the inner circles of the world Communist leadership, this may be the beginning of a real break between Moscow and Peiping.

But, until more evidence is available, it is romantic to think so—at this time.

From its start with the Bolshevik revolution communism has grown increasingly stronger and it is still in its early and formative stage. It is still largely occupied with internal growth.

This hasn't stopped Red China and Russia—particularly Russia—from expansionist ambitions. But Russia had a big head start on the others in building itself up internally.

The Red Chinese, at this time when they are drowned in problems of feeding their people while trying to industrialize in a hurry, need help. And Russia is the closest and biggest Communist helper.

Further, at this time when Red China lacks nuclear weapons but when its expansionist aims in Southeast Asia may bring it into conflict with the West, it needs Soviet military backing.

Werds Ain't Th' Saim Everwhur

NEW YORK (AP)—"After Billy Bob clumb the nar lath of the far tar, he was too tard to fix his flat tar."

Do you find it hard to understand that sentence? If you do, you probably haven't been to the Ozark Mountains recently, and it's time you went there and refreshed your knowledge of the queen's English—the English of the first Elizabeth with crown.

But the meaning is clear even to most Midwest flatland hillbillies:

"After William Robert climbed the narrow ladder of the fire tower, he was too tired to repair his flat tire."

For the millions of Americans who would like to travel through the Southern Highlands and understand what is said to them, Dale Freeman of the Springfield (Mo.) News and Leader, has compiled a guide he calls "How to talk pure Ozark in one easy lesson."

As Dale is more interested in spreading Ozark learning than making a fast buck, here is a quick digest of regional mountain folk talk for those too cheap to buy his dollar book:

"Absence—A franch drank, alcoholic."

"Adam—That adam bomb is going to blow us all to hail."

"Backer—What the oldtimers take a chaw of."

"Chew—Chew to go to the foot washin' at the braintch Sattidy?"

"Dork—What it gits when the sun goes down."

"Errol—Brother Rodgers has a TV errol on top of his house."

"Flar—A rose is about the purtiest flar they is. What kind of flar do you put in your biscuits? Her boy was a flar in the Air Force."

"Grain—A color, she was grain with envy."

"Hep—He can't hep it, he was borned attaway."

"Int—int she a purdy li'l ol' thang?"

"Jist—Jist a dadgummed minute there, stranger."

"Kin-see—daybreak."

"Lone—His wife sayze if he don't mow the front lone she'll whup him over the head with a wet rope."

"Mortar—He did it all right, but they made a mortar out of him."

"Nome—No ma'am."

"Ormy—Junie is a soldier-boy in the ormy."

"Pank—The color of the old lady's bloomers."

"Rang—When they got married, he put a rang on her finger, it was a double-rang sirmonie."

"Scwuz—He lack to scwuz her to death."

"Slang—It's easy to get your nack in a slang."

"Thanks—He thanks he's so smart."

"Umbrellie—What a true hillbilly wouldn't be caught dead using during arain shar."

"Varrus—Virus. Aint Mary had the varrus and lak to passed on."

"Walled—Wild, thet girl of hern was too walled for mah boy. There's a lot of walled life in the hills."

"Wove—He wove at a girl and lack to got in trouble."

There's the ABC of mountain talk. If you can't understand it you're plain "igernt," an Ozark term for anyone who doesn't quite get the message.

Breast Lumps May Or May Not Be Cancer

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss lumps as a sign of breast cancer — where located, size, etc. Are they easily recognized?

"I have what feels like a pea-sized growth over one of my ribs. It feels hard, can be noticed easier by certain movements of my arm. Also the nipple seems a little sunken.

"The description does not fit my notion of lumps as pertaining to cancer, but since I don't really know what to look for, and since there's a history of cancer in my family, I would like your opinion. — Mrs. L. L."

You've done your part by finding the lump. The next thing to do, and at once, is to see your doctor and let him decide what it is.

Not every lump is cancer —not by a wide, wide margin. But every such lump ought to be examined. Your idea of what kind of a lump pertains to cancer, and your doctor's idea can be very different, and there isn't any way in the world to tell people how to look just for "lumps that are cancer." All you can do is find the lump and let your doctor decide whether it is something or nothing. Cysts, small skin tumors and various other oddments can cause lumps.

Some lumps, once identified as innocent, can be ignored. Others, while not cancer, may indicate that sooner or later treatment may be advisable. The occasional ones that are cancer require treatment as fast as possible.

Yes, I know it's a scary business to find a lump and go to the doctor to have it looked at. It's also a mighty comforting experience to go home again with the word that it isn't cancer.

It's also a relief to have the doctor say, "It's malignant, but I'm glad you came soon enough so we can do something about it."

The terrible thing is for a person to notice the lump and not have it examined, and in time realize that it has become a cancer that is beyond the stage of surgery.

There isn't any particular place to look, or any special size—except the smaller, the beter. True, some areas of the breast have more cancer than others, but a cancer in a less - usual place is cancer just the same.

So — don't waste any effort wondering "what kind of a lump to look for." Be alert for any. Then have it examined at once. Whether it is or it isn't cancer, you'll save a lot of wear and tear on your nerves by finding out right away. (And, if it does happen to be an early cancer, you will save more than your nerves.)

"Dear Dr. Molner: Ever since I can remember, hot summer weather has been hectic. I don't perspire much, just get clammy. I get sick at my stomach, dizzy and weak. All I could do was stay on the cool floor or in a cold tub.

"Now I am told I have an inactive thyroid. In spite of this I have never been heavy. Always underweight. My blood pressure is low and the heart beat slow and faint. Could this be the reason for my summer sickness?—M.S."

Yes, all these symptoms (intolerance to heat, weakness, reduced perspiration, slow pulse) are compatible with an under - functioning thyroid, and should be corrected by thyroid therapy.

* * *

NOTE TO MRS. E. C.: Falling hair can involve varied causes. The dry skin suggets a deficient thyroid activity. On the other hand, worry and anxiety can also be a factor. A basal metabolism test would be one that your doctor might want to make, but a complete physical examination would be in order. Medication for hot flashes should have nothing to do with the trouble.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, requesting a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Nerves Affect Scholarship

LONDON (AP) — Nervous children who bite their nails and suck their thumbs are poorer students than those without these habits.

That is the conclusion of a 15-year study of 5,000 children, published by Dr. James Douglas and Dr. David Mulligan in the October issue of the Royal Society of Medicine's proceedings.

The children have been carefully studied since birth by home visitors, parents, teachers, and doctors, who kept records of nervous "symptoms."

The experts discovered that the more nervous children were more prone to be absent from school, had more trouble passing examinations, worked less and obeyed less.

The County's First Pipeline

One of the hazards of seeking to chronicle an event of historical significance is that of failing to include some pertinent facts. In reviewing the circumstances under which Fred Hyer discovered the Howard-Glasscock pool, I managed to miss one point which should be chronicled.

Hyer's well was not only the first in the county, but it led to the laying of the county's first pipeline. I can't recall having ever seen this in any of the accounts of the county's oilfields or its pipeline systems.

When Hyer was a young oil driller in Oklahoma, he met up with C. C. Brown, a driller who had ample personality and some ambitions to go places in the business or political world.

Some of the lustre was off the Oklahoma play in 1909 so they took off for California. Experiences in the oilfields on the West Coast formed the basis of a friendship which continued over the years.

When Hyer developed his discovery well, one of the problems was finding a market for the oil. A good portion of it was sold to adjacent rigs for fuel and was hauled by wagon or flimsy trucks. Yet there was a surplus, especially when the Chalk well and others followed.

Marland Oil Company (later to become Continental) was quite active in the area having bought a big spread of acreage from Hyer. Along came C. C. Brown, who was then superintendent of the Kay County Pipeline Company of Ponca City, Okla., an outfit which was a subsidiary of Ernie W. Marland's booming company.

Hyer suggested a pipeline to his well 20 miles south of Big Spring, admitting that he didn't think it was feasible. Brown waved him off: "We'll build you a line."

This took Hyer by surprise and he hedged a little to give Brown a chance to reconsider. Brown was serious.

"You'd be surprised," he said. "We do a lot of things crazier than that."

So the line—a 2-inch affair—was laid from the well to loop in about two miles east of Coahoma where a loading rack was erected by the T&P. The pipeline company installed a pump that boosted about a thousand gallons of oil a day to the loading point. Later a line was laid eastward to loading points at Colorado City. Then followed the 4-inch line into Big Spring for the Big Spring (later Howard County) refinery, followed by Cosden's 8-inch line to its new refining plant east of town. The 2-inch line was abandoned.

There is a sidebar to the story, for while Hyer was in California, he was taken in by a land promoter and bought 20 acres at $75 an acre near Galt, halfway between Stockton and San Francisco. He had a hard time paying it out but did, then paid the taxes over the years. Last year the taxes were almost trebled and when he was in California he checked on it. He found his almost forgotten tract in good shape and in the midst of improved farms and vineyards which quoted prices up to $1,000 per acre.

The New 20-Year War

WASHINGTON — In his September speech before the U.N., President Kennedy challenged Premier Khrushchev to wage peace for the social betterment of mankind—and now Khrushchev has accepted with a 20-year plan as given before the 22nd Soviet Party Congress in Moscow.

THIS LEAVES the two contestants, the U. S. A. and the U.S.S.R., face to face on the dueling ground, each vowing to compete by peaceful means alone, but each with one hand on the holster, ready to shoot without notice.

Theoretically, the masses of mankind will stand aside and watch the struggle. They will supposedly choose to follow American leadership if we prove to have the better plan and practice, or Russian leadership if the Reds can offer something better. Realistically, however, the situation is not so pat.

DESPITE Mr. Kennedy's rephrase of the Lincoln sentence which was turned into a Democratic election slogan, "The world cannot remain half-slave, half-free," the world can and possibly will. Lincoln was talking about one country which then had a slave system and a free labor system. It also had a central government and a history of union.

It is much to our American interests, for the time being, that the world remain part free, part slave, part neutral. This is not ideal, but unavoidable. We will be doing all right for the next 20 years if we defend our own people, possessions, institutions and interests, including some fighting allies. It is most unlikely that the Peace Corps, Food for Peace, Arms Control and Disarmament, Foreign Aid and Summit Meetings can do much for the social uplift of the neutrals or for the emancipation of the half-billion peoples in the Sino-Soviet clutch. These things are bigger than we are.

TO BE FRANK, looking at Mr. Kennedy's time in office or looking as far as the 1980's, we will be striving not to achieve One World, but to maintain the World Divided. That is, we must hold West Berlin, West Germany, South Vietnam, South Korea, Nationalist China, all of Latin America except Red Cuba and whatever else that can be called half-free, half-slave.

With the possible exception of the Western Hemisphere, there is almost no chance of recapturing territory from World Communism without a fight. If Mr. Kennedy were wholly honest with us, he would say that our policy is to keep free people free, and little more.

IT IS ONLY the Communists who truly visualize One World. The Reds are pushing against physical borders everywhere. In Germany, Korea, Southeast Asia and across the water that separates Cuba from Continental North and South America, the Communists are in a mood for conquest.

We know from changeless experience with Communism that it never stops its total aggression. We also know that Communism tends to use whatever amount of force is necessary. The MIGs came to North Korea, the tanks to Hungary. Now Khrushchev has matched us, and perhaps surpassed us, in improving his nuclear artillery.

IT IS WELL to admit all this. We have had too much empty rhetoric by far. The situation is terrible. It would be utterly hopeless if it were not for the still, small voices of dissatisfaction heard in the land. There are many evidences that the intellectual leadership of the university campus is turning strongly nationalist. The angry reaction in the Armed Services is detectable by any reporter who goes the rounds. Our best military officers are seething at the Cuban fiasco, at the orders against teaching anti-Communism, at the voluntary test ban which handicapped nuclear arms development.

ALTOGETHER, while the U. S. A. is under great disadvantages, mainly psychological in nature, the stirrings of revival are there. Mostly we need to be told the truth.

Americans no longer believe it is possible, or very desirable, to save the world. But to save themselves—yes!

Market Terms Seen From London

Richard Bailey, in the September 20 issue of Punch, has unburdened himself of a stock-market glossary. It's very British, sometimes not translatable into English, I mean American. Hence, the following effort to convert (arbitrage) Throgmorton Streetese into Wall Street vernacular. Definitions and comments in parentheses are mine, those in quotation marks Bailey's:

"BEARS—Pessimistic animals that sell shares in the belief that prices will fall still lower. Known in America as short-sellers. City Page (financial) Headline: "Bears on the Loose."

"Bottom of Market—Point at which teller of story bought his shares."

"Bulls—People who think prices will rise, without realizing that prices rise because people are buying. This goes on until bears appear." (Headline: Bulls Turn Tail When Bears Turn Up.)

"DIVIDEND—Small check received after Chancellor (Secretary of Treasury) has taken his share and directors (and officers) have received their expenses. Headline: Freeze to Continue."

"Financial Journalists — Bowler-hatted oracles sometimes called pundits." (Okay in U. S. except for the hats.)

"Gilt (Treasury bond)—A neutered pig. Government securities on which public is as likely to lose money as not. Headline: Slide in Gilts Continues." (Webster defines gilt as an immature female hog; also, a young sow that has not been bred long enough to show signs of pregnancy. Any comment, Secretary Dillon?)

"HEDGING—Stock Exchange term for partial loss of confidence."

"Investor—Man who buys shares following advice of brokers and financial press." (Extinct species in America.)

(Liquidation—Stock Exchange term for complete loss of confidence.)

(Loss—Something beyond the management's control.)

"Meeting of shareholders—Captive audience for chairman's annual oration. Headline: Chairman Warns Government." (In America, captive audience for Lewis D. Gilbert. Headline: Gilbert Scolds Chairman.)

(MUTUAL FUND—Investment trust run for the mutual benefit of the managers and salesmen.)

"Ploughing Back—What happens to the earnings retained by the management." (In America, growth potential; also, excuse for not paying dividend.)

"Portfolio—A mixed bag of shares." (See Hedging. Another way, through diversification, of averaging mistakes.)

"Profit—Opposite of Loss." (Gee, Bailey, you can do better than that! Suggestion: Also beyond management's control.)

"RIGHTS ISSUE — Cut-price shares which cut price of shares of those who can't afford to buy them."

(Security—another word for insecurity.)

"Speculator — Man who buys shares against advice of jobbers (brokers) and financial press." (See Investor.)

"Stag — Non-purchasing applicant for new issues. If successful he sells what he hasn't bought. If unsuccessful he doesn't buy it." (Synonym—free rider.)

(STOCK EXCHANGES — Places where people buy and sell insecurity. Substitute for psychiatrist's couch, and sometimes cheaper, depending on the broker and-or psychiatrist.)

"Take-Over Bid—Inducement to shareholders to allow undervalued firm with over-cautious management to be turned into overvalued firm with under-cautious management." (Headline: Merger Terms Accepted.)

(Theory—An untested hypothesis, which, if you hadn't had it, you'd be richer for. Not necessarily the Dow Theory.)

TREND—something you discover just before a turn.)

"Turn—What the market is said to do when the forecasts are proved wrong."

Autumn Beauty For Party

Another member of the committee is Mrs. A. A. Lindsley.

TAILORED OR RUFFLED

Boy-Girl Designs In Fashion Picture

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
Associated Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Tailor the figure of the female in men's wear fabrics, or hide it altogether in yards of rippling ruffles and she looks all-woman in either case.

Bill Blass, designer for Maurice Rentner, went to both extremes with his "little boy" and "little girl" looks and won buyers' applause for each. He previewed them during the spring market shows now in progress.

What is the "little boy look" made of?

High-waisted, wide-shouldered, lapeled skirts and coats combined with sleeveless blouses or dresses, all made of men's wear serges and checks. That's what Blass' unboylike models wore under their straw bowler hats.

What is the "little girl look" made of?

Minutes later the previously crisply tailored mannequins were back again, ruffled from chin to shin, stem to stem, horizontally or vertically and sometimes diagonally.

On some gowns, where ruffles cascaded in columns from shoulder to hem, the models fluttered like wheat fields in the wind. On other designs the bands of flounces gathered around the figure into cones of meringue-like froth.

One of the more restrained flounce numbers was a crepe dress with three tiers tucked and fluted to flutter and flare in the right places while dancing the Twist.

In between the extremes were dignity and drama—dresses with neither tailoring nor frills. An example was a white crepe waistless tunic, floor length, slashed diagonally at the hem.

Blue is designer Blass' favorite hue for spring wear, although beiges, blacks, and floral prints are also used generously throughout his collection.

His brightest accessory color idea is yellow for hats, gloves, blouses. It is often even tucked in as linings of suits and coats.

Joe Moss Named To Fill Krausse's Trustee Seat

Joe A. Moss, secretary of Cosden Petroleum Corp., has been appointed as the replacement for Dan M. Krausse on the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

The action was taken at a special meeting called Tuesday night. Moss was selected by unanimous decision after discussion of 10 potential candidates. He was notified of the board's decision this morning and he accepted the appointment.

Official resignation has not yet been tendered by Krausse, but he has notified Clyde McMahon, president, that the resignation would be forthcoming and that an appointment was in order if the board so desired. The option lay with trustees to appoint a replacement or leave the post vacant until the next election.

Krausse, a senior vice president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, recently announced that he will be leaving in mid-November to join Dresser Industries, Inc., in Dallas as vice president. He had been a member of the board since April 14, 1959.

Moss has been assistant general counsel for Cosden since Oct. 18, 1953. Immediately prior to joining the firm he was attorney for the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools.

JOE A. MOSS

A graduate of the school of law at the University of Texas, Moss began his law career as a partner in the firm of Moss and Prewitt in Austin. He is affiliated with the Texas Bar Association and is president of the Howard County Bar Association.

He spent two tours as an officer in the U. S. Navy from September, 1942 to April, 1946 and from September, 1950 to September, 1952. Moss is married and has one child, Joe David, age eight. He was born July 26, 1925, in Waco and was reared in Austin.

Moss is active in church work, being an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church. He is also vice chairman of the Lone Star District of the Boy Scouts.

Sixty Jurors Called For ROW Trials

Sixty jurors have been notified to report to Judge Ed Carpenter in Howard County Court on Nov. 6 to serve in the appeals trials in six right - of - way condemnation suits.

The state is appealing the finding of a special commission appointed to appraise the lands needed on US 87. State highway officials declared damages fixed by the commission excessive and will place the cases before juries in county court for final settlements.

The state will be represented at the hearings by County Attorney Wayne Burns, who has been retained on a fee basis by the county commissioners.

The property owners have their own attorneys.

Burns said that six cases will be called up for trial. He did not know which would be called first.

The landowners in the cases are J. O. McCrary, 11.479 acres; Leslie M. Newton, three tracts, 2.994 acres; Clarence R. Thompson, 3.975 acres; C. M. Weaver, 2.812 acres; A. O. Vanderford, 1.051 acres and W. W. Posey, .087 acre.

A seventh claim held by the state to be excessive awarded to G. W. Smith will probably be settled out of court. Smith was awarded $350 by the special commission and only .506 acre of his land is involved.

Rail Debt Cited As 'Real Public Crisis'

NEW YORK (AP)—A panel of governors was told today Eastern railroads were mired $122 million in the red as of Aug. 30, presenting a "real public crisis."

Leading rail executives, in prepared statements, blamed "artificial handicaps" imposed by government, including what one called "constructive fraud" by some states in property tax practices.

Presidents of five major roads and the head of a regional railroad group spelled out industry problems, and recommended solutions, at a conference of 16 state governors and their representatives.

Later in the day, eight spokesmen for railroad labor organizations were slated to advance their views—some conflicting with management, especially on the question of mergers.

The session was called by Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the National Governors' Conference.

Invited were the governors of New York, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia.

"Many important lines (are) in worse shape than during the depression of the 1930s," said Allen J. Greenough, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest.

In the late 1930s, nearly 40 major railroads were put through the bankruptcy wringer, many of them among the 30 lines represented today.

In his prepared remarks opening the session, Greenough said, "This is not a temporary condition. It threatens not only railroad employes, customers and investors, but also the entire economy of our section of the country.

"It will not miraculously disappear. The whole problem demands prompt and effective attention."

Greenough hit on what he termed restrictive federal transportation policies and pointed to government subsidies that he said gave unfair advantage to competing forms of transport—trucks, airplanes, barges and pipelines.

Jervis Langdon Jr., president of the struggling Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, said subsidy of rival forms of transport, unless corrected, likely would force nationalization of the railroads.

David I. Mackie, president of the 35-member Eastern Railroad Presidents' Conference, assailed state property taxing practices, saying 31 states in 1957 exacted $141 million in excessive taxes from rail carriers.

"The crushing burden of this penalty is utterly indefensible and intolerable," Mackie declared.

He singled out Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, New Jersey, Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia as responsible for $53,402,354 of the alleged overpayment.

New Jersey, Mackie said, assessed rail property at nearly four times the rate of non-rail property, placing a "staggering $13 million discriminatory tax burden on New Jersey railroads."

Four of the presidents head lines that so far this year have rolled up a combined deficit of about $80 million—the B & O, Erie-Lackawanna, New York Central and Pennsylvania.

The fifth making a formal presentation, Stuart T. Saunders, directs the prosperous, hustling Norfolk & Western, a coal-hauling line about $40 million in the black.

Perry W. Shoemaker, chairman of the Erie-Lackawanna (nearly $24 million in the red for nine months), urged the governors to help lift the burden of commuter service deficits from freight shippers and railroad security holders.

Alfred E. Perlman, president of the New York Central, argued for lifting of federal restrictions on railroad freight rates and curbs against railroad entry into truck, barge, air and pipeline service.

Boer Leader's Paper Lashes Negro Nobel Award

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's own newspaper today condemned award of the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize to banished Zulu chief Albert Luthuli as "an inexplicable pathological phenomenon."

The criticism was made in a sharp editorial in the Johannesburg Afrikaans language newspaper Die Transvaler. Verwoerd is chairman of the board of directors of Transvaler and the paper is regarded as his mouthpiece.

Nevertheless, belief is growing that Luthuli will be granted a passport to travel in December to accept his prize and collect the prize money—$43,744. Verwoerd himself will decide when Luthuli makes a formal application for a passport.

Belief that there will be a favorable verdict on the application gained ground when the Johannesburg Afrikaans newspaper Die Vaderland—also a progovernment paper—said a passport should be issued because "we fear that the refusal of a passport would result in a whining that will be heard around the world."

Luthuli is in semi-exile on the Natal Province native reservation and is not allowed even to travel far from his house. He also is under a government ban which prevents him from attending meetings or participating in politics.

The ban was imposed under the suppression of communism law which the government has used against many of its critics. The African National Congress which Luthuli once headed has been outlawed since 1960.

As for the prize money, this country's foreign exchange regulations provide that when Luthuli actually gets it he has 30 days to bring it home or have it delivered to him here — and convert it through banks into South African currency or stocks. If he does not do this, the whole sum may be confiscated and Luthuli fined and jailed.

Builders May Seek Charter

Chartering of a local chapter of the National Home Builders Association appeared in prospect today following a meeting Tuesday evening at the Texas Electric Service conference room.

Friend Talbot was named to head a nominating committee which will report at a second meeting of the fledgling chapter next Tuesday evening at the same place. Serving with him are Jack Schafer, M. H. Barnes, Bobby McDonald and Roy Parker.

Larson Lloyd is serving as temporary secretary-treasurer.

There was a large turnout of builders, developers, realtors, contractors, subcontractors, finance representatives and others present for the initial meeting.

Mrs. Ruby Dichiara, El Paso, representing the NHBA, was present to explain objectives and services of the national unit.

Shades Of Sir Walter

The Queen Mother smiles her thanks as she crosses the rain-soaked gap between the doorway and the official red carpet. Steadman was repeating a gesture ascribed to Sir Walter Raleigh for Queen Elizabeth I 400 years ago.

Connally Slates Big Spring Visit

J. Ed Connally, Abilene, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, is to visit here Saturday, Mrs. Martin Binder, district committeewoman, said today.

He is to arrive shortly before time for a 12 noon luncheon, and all friends are invited to attend. The affair will be held at the Big Spring Country Club and each person attending will pay his or her own plate charge, said Mrs. Binder. Connally will discuss some plans with the group.

Hike Scheduled

Field Opened For Candidates To School Post

The field of candidates from which a superintendent will be selected for the Big Spring Independent School District was opened at a meeting Tuesday night.

Trustees have begun searching for a superintendent to fill the post of Sam M. Anderson at the end of the current term July 31, 1962. Anderson is not actively seeking the job but he has not been eliminated as a candidate.

Letters will be sent to North Texas State, Texas Christian University, Baylor and West Texas State requesting names of top school administrative personnel. Previously letters had been sent to L. D. Haskew, the University of Texas; Arvin Donner, the University of Houston, and Morris Wallace, Texas Tech.

In addition, unsolicited applications will be kept on file until trustees begin to narrow the list for final selection.

Answers were read from Haskew and Wallace. Their letters gave 15 candidates. The only duplication on the list was the name of Anderson. No answer has been received from Donner.

Johnnie Johnson discussed the feasibility of throwing the field wide open by soliciting applications from any person interested. A motion to rescind a previous action limiting the field at present to suggested names failed to carry. Trustees expressed the sentiment that such action could be taken later if that became necessary.

500 Football Tickets Sold

Slightly over 500 adult tickets for the Big Spring-Permian football game Friday night were sold at the School Business Office, 602 E. 13th, this morning.

The ducats were made available to season ticket holders only today but will be distributed on a "first come, first served" basis starting Thursday. They will remain on sale here until noon Friday.

The tickets are for choice reserve locations on the east side of the field in Odessa and are priced at $1.50 each. The student ducats, priced at 30 cents each, are available in the schools.

School officials said they wanted to emphasize the fact again that there are enough tickets for everyone who desires to see the game. The Odessa stadium seats 16,000.

Rolls Make Small Gains

Enrollment in Big Spring Public Schools has almost leveled off with only slight gains registered for three consecutive report periods, according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent.

Friday's enrollment showed 7,162 pupils in the school system, only two more than the previous week. Elementary schools gained 10 students, but a loss of eight in secondary schools almost nullified the gain.

There are 4,277 pupils in elementary schools and 2,751 in secondary schools. Special education has 134 pupils, the same as a week ago.

Individual enrollment is Airport 536, Bauer 486, Boydstun 489, Cedar Crest 296, College Heights 521, Kate Morrison 285, Lakeview 218, Park Hill 199, Washington 814, Goliad Junior High 868, Lakeview Junior High 67, Runnels Junior High 786 and Senior High 1,030.

Giant Football Rally Thursday

A giant football pep rally, which organizers insist will be the "biggest ever held in Big Spring," is scheduled to start at the city park amphitheatre at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The rally comes on the eve of the Big Spring-Odessa Permian game, which takes place in Odessa Friday night.

Adults, as well as students, have an open invitation to attend the pep rally, school officials have stated.

W. Texas Cities On Tower Agenda

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas Republicans announced Tuesday they will hold 16 fund raising dinners prior to the 1962 elections.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., will speak in several West Texas cities including El Paso, Nov. 9; San Angelo and Lubbock, Nov. 11 and Lamesa, Dec. 15.

Two Join Den

Larry and Curtis Bruns joined the Den 4, Pack 14 scouts during Tuesday's meeting. The members signed a get-well card to Jack Price, then were taken out for ice cream by Mrs. Mamie Thornton, den mother, with Mrs. Mamie Bruns assisting.

Pack 238 Holds Regular Meeting

Awards and skits were featured at the regular meeting Tuesday of Pack 238 at College Heights school.

Den 3 conducted the opening ceremony, Den 1 gave a skit honoring cubmaster Guy Cook, and Den 3 performed a game. Awards included Edward Cook to Webelo, Wesley Cook to Bear and Danny King to Wolf. Sammy Jones received two silver arrow points, Rich Weidel a gold and silver arrow point, and gold arrows went to Mike Wooldridge, David Knous and Jerry Knous. Eddie Fink received his Bobcat pin.

The next meeting is set for Nov. 28.

Bracero Number Takes Sharp Drop

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The sending of braceros to help harvest crops in the United States had dwindled almost to nothing as the end of the season nears, the government said today.

Last week only 4,000 men were sent to the United States.

Ike In One Of Sharpest Slaps At JFK

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the Kennedy administration is "confusing me and all my friends."

In one of his sharpest attacks on the Democratic administration, Eisenhower said Tuesday night federal fiscal policies are "shrinking dollars." He called the Peace Corps a "juvenile experiment" and suggested Peace Corps members might be sent to the moon.

The former Republican president appeared at a campaign rally in support of State Atty. Gen. Lous J. Lefkowitz, Republican candidate for mayor of New York City. He said Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who is running for re-election, has given the city a diet of "indecision and vacillation."

But he levelled most of his criticism at Washington Democrats.

The confusion among New York Democrats is a spring zephyr, Eisenhower said, when compared with the tornado of confusion in Washington.

He said he is confused at what the Kennedy administration is getting at with its fiscal policy. "One day the nation is told the federal budget is balanced, and the next that it will produce a $6.7-billion deficit," he said.

"I believe this nation is in a time of prosperity — if we can't pay our debts, what's going to happen?" he asked.

Citing the experience of other nations with inflation, Eisenhower suggested U.S. currency might come to be known as "dollarettes, there'd be so many more of them."

Turning to the Peace Corps—a Kennedy administration project—the former president said: "If you want to send a man to the moon, send a Peace Corps member up there. It is an underdeveloped country."

Eisenhower said there was "postcard evidence" that Peace Corps members "did not even know what an underdeveloped country was, so you can see why I am confused."

Musical Interest

The musical interest in "You Can't Take It With You," current production of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, is supplied by a xylophone, here played by Mr. Kolenkhov (John Holdun). This character in the play is a ballet instructor who teaches Essie (Kay Wickard) the finer points of the dance. The play will be staged Thursday and Friday evenings in the City Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Original TV Dramas Are Rare, This One Flunked

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Dispossessed," Tuesday night's special on CBS, was that rare and prized commodity, an original TV drama. It was based on a true incident; it was high-minded, and it had point and purpose.

But it was also slow-moving, completely devoid of action and consisted almost entirely of courtroom oratory, ornate, formal and static.

Saul Levitt, the author, was interested in the tragedy of American Indian tribes confined by 1879 law to reservations. Those same laws were construed to mean that the Indian was not a person and had no status as a human being.

The drama was about a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Chief Standing Bear of the Ponca tribe, held in the custody of the Army, testing his status. Earl Holliman played the impassioned young lawyer representing the Indian cause. Ralph Bellamy was government counsel, and Albert Dekker, the judge. Most interesting performer, however, was Juano Hernandez, who played the Indian chief, an actor of such skill the program stirred to a little life when he spoke.

Some half-hearted attempts were started, then dropped, to develop the character. Mostly the actors strode around a courtroom making long flowery speeches about human rights. The crowning irony of the court battle came with Standing Bear's victory: he could no longer stay with his tribe because when he was adjudged a person he became an exile who had to live with the white men.

"The Dispossessed," was based on a fascinating, shocking bit of history. But it just wasn't a good dramatic show.

Death, Reds Keep Olney Citizen From Seeing Mom

DALLAS (AP) — Polish-born Tony Peters died Tuesday, deprived by Communist authorities in his native land of seeing his mother, as he had asked.

The West Texas town of Olney had raised $1,000 to pay his mother's passage to the United States without avail.

Peters, 36, lay dying of cancer for weeks at Baylor Medical Center in Dallas while Polish officials raised one technicality after another to bar the trip by Mrs. Maria Piotrowski.

His flight from Poland in 1942 presumably was the real reason for the delay.

After Peters entered the hospital and his illness was diagnosed as incurable, fellow residents in Olney undertook to grant his dying wish for a visit with his mother.

In less than a week, the town of 3,800 people collected $1,000, in nickels and dimes, largely through the efforts of the Rev. E. J. Bradshaw, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church.

Rep. Frank Ikard, D-Tex., handled the Washington details of Mrs. Piotrowski's visa application. The Poles said everything was set last summer, but weeks went by and no visa was issued.

The young Pole, whose real name was Wojiech Wieslaw Piotrowski, fled Nazi Poland in 1942, ostensibly to join the German Navy. British agents helped him escape to England. He went to South America and then to Galveston, Tex., where he arrived in 1954.

He met and married Bettye Sparks of Olney, and they moved to her home town in 1958. There he worked as an electrician until cancer struck him down.
