Olton Miss Is 'Runner Up'

July 4, 1980 won't soon be forgotten by a pretty Olton miss, Sharla Nicholas. It was the climatic finish of a busy, busy week leading up to the Miss West Texas Pageant.

When the exciting finale came Friday night, Sharla and a nineteen-year-old Rankin lass stood awaiting the announcement of who was to be the reigning Miss West Texas.

That her name was spoken next, announcing she was first runner-up, brought no disappointment to Sharla who had dreamed only of being in the top ten finalists.

Lerii Fitzhugh's selection for the title could portend a crown for Sharla next year if she should choose to compete again. Miss Fitzhugh was first runner-up in last year's pageant, just as the out-going Miss West Texas was the year before. Pageant sponsors and judges have already invited the OHS graduate to come back.

Following the pageant, a reception was held to give contestants an opportunity to congratulate one another and to visit together a final time. During this time, each was given the opportunity for her critique from the judges. Sharla received good words for her interview and evening gown modeling and compliments on her talent performance.

"They told me not to change my talent, they liked it. They also complimented my choice of music."

Incorporating a dance routine with her twirling performance, Sharla said she was told she was "as good as any dancer on the floor."

During her interview, Sharla was asked about her twirling and then questioned on her political awareness. She was asked how she felt about the draft, if she thought a woman should someday be president and how she had prepared herself to vote. She was also asked, "What do San Antonio, San Francisco and Chicago have in common?"

"I didn't know," Sharla says, "but it was that they all have women mayors."

Sharla says she began feeling like a television star before the week's end after apparently capturing the fancy of Channel Two's roving cameraman. She was filmed at the luncheon June 26 in the Inn of the Golden West, at the press party Saturday at Wild River Canyon, while working backstage on her talent performance, during the production number by all the contestants and while competing in swim suit.

"They seemed to like her," says her mother, Mrs. J.S. "Buster" Nicholas, with a proud smile. "Everyone was so nice! I don't know if they treated all the girls that way or not, but they were so good to Sharla."

Lots of hard work by the contestants went into the three-night pageant. Sunday rehearsals began about 1 p.m. and lasted until about 6:30 p.m. Monday, from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m., the group rehearsed Wednesday night's show. Tuesday brought rehearsal for Thursday's show and dress rehearsal for the Friday night finale.

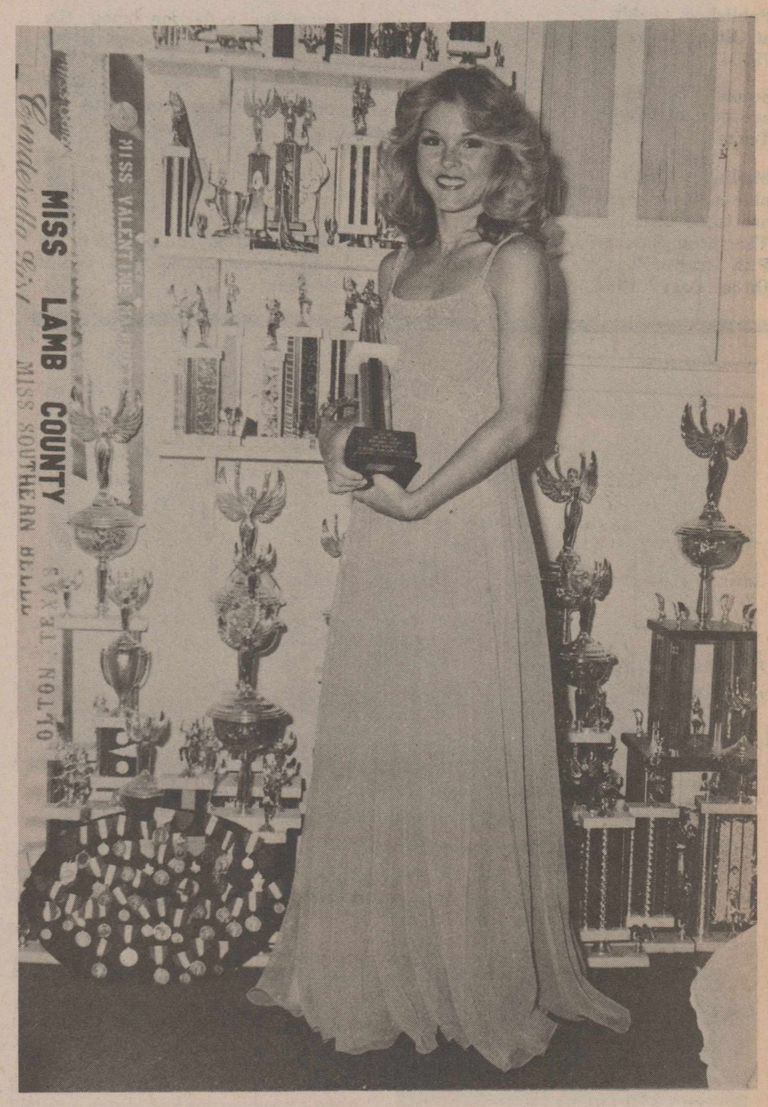

Long hours together helped contestants really become acquainted with one another and with the Jaycettes who worked diligently along with the girls.

Contestants were shown off Friday morning as a brilliant West Texas sun gazed down on the Independence Day Parade. Each girl rode in a gleaming new boat with a sign emblazoned with her name and sponsor.

Sharla, sponsored by Olton Chamber of Commerce, competed as Miss Lamb County. Newspaper media helped keep her hometown in the spotlight however by referring to her as "Miss Olton County".

As first runner-up, Sharla received a trophy and $1,000 scholarship. She will return to Lubbock Christian College this fall as a sophomore.

In the audience Friday night, rooting for Sharla, were her parents, Mrs. Maenette Houston, Dana and Denise; Guy Scoggin; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Melton, Kimberlea and Jared; and Susan Plymell and Aimee, Lou Swain, Mike and June Humprey, Teresa Taylor, Jane Plymell, Debbie Plymell and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kull, all of Odessa.

Water Usage

Million Gallons A Day

Sweltering heat has been the order of the day since June 23. Beginning with that date and continuing through July 6, Olton area weatherman, Rex Witten, recorded 11 days with 100 degrees and above. Saturday, June 28, marked the high point at 105 degrees.

Temperatures this week have been a little less torrid, with 95 degrees the first three days, soaring to a 96 at mid-week. The last measurable rainfall officially recorded was .40 inches, June 18.

A check with City water department reveals that Oltonites are using close to one million gallons of water each 24 hour period.

Orian Hackler, water superintendent states, "We are pumping four wells nearly constantly. If such heavy usage continues we may have to resort to alternate days for watering. The Inspector was here yesterday and he says this consumption is too heavy.

"He recommended that city residents raise lawn mowers and not cut grass so short for this hotter-than-usual weather. Longer blades on grasses would give the roots some protection from the blistering sun, and would not dry them out so badly.

"During this season of tremendous water usage, I would like to again urge residents to be careful not to let water be wasted by running into gutters and lakes."

'Old Timers' are comparing this seige of weather to 1953. This 'they' point out is the hottest and driest since that memorable summer.

Wheat harvest has been almost completed without the hazard of weather-related delays. Yields are reported in varying amounts. Area farmers are busily watering growing crops to help them survive blistering conditions.

Softball Tourney Begins Here July 18

Olton Softballers will host a softball tournament July 18, 19 and 20 in their park at Avenue M and 15th Street. Men's and women's teams will compete in the double elimination event.

Little League Tournament To End Summer Baseball

Summertime baseball for the younger set is wrapping up in Olton, with the Little League tournament scheduled to begin Monday with Olton playing Floydada at 8 p.m. in Olton and Plainview National and American Leagues facing each other in Plainview.

Tuesday's play puts the winner of the Plainview N-Plainview A game against Muleshoe at 6 p.m. in Olton Little League Park. At 8 p.m., Sudan-Amherst meets the winner of the Olton-Floydada clash.

Losers will take the field Wednesday evening in 6 and 8 p.m. battles with elimination play continuing Thursday and Friday.

Thirteen-year-old Babe Ruthers played in tournament this week in Olton.

Opening Monday, Dimmitt bested Muleshoe in a high scoring game. Plainview topped Olton in the second game.

Olton became the first team eliminated with a loss Tuesday night to Muleshoe. Dimmitt bounced back with a win over Plainview.

Muleshoe stayed in the tournament Wednesday while elminating Plainview and earned the right to face Dimmitt, who won the Thursday night game.

Three Hot Air Balloons Expected Here Sunday

Early risers Sunday morning will be able to get good looks at hot air balloons similar to the one which will be in town Aug. 2 for the gala Sandhills Celebration.

About 6 a.m. Sunday, July 13, three hot air balloons are expected to lift off Olton pastureland in the vicinity of Avenue M. Final choice of the site will be made by Bill Anderson of Miller Flying Service in Plainview but locations under consideration are the vacant lots northeast of Babe Ruth Baseball Park and the area between Granbery City Park and the softball field.

Persons who can forego a little sleep are invited to drive near either location and watch the trio of balloons launched.

Anderson will be back in Olton for the big event Aug. 2 and will offer rides to any and all ballooning enthusiasts for just $5 for a four minute ride.

Lots of other fun things are planned for Aug. 2 as former Oltonites are invited to return for a day of Old-fashioned festivities.

City Council Talks About Taxes

City Councilmen devoted most of their time Tuesday evening in the discussion of tax matters.

Approval was given for the 1980 tax rate to be set at 70 cents per $100 valuation in accordance with the reappraisal made by McMorries and Company.

Resignation of Roy LaDuke as city councilman was accepted.

In other action, the council accepted the resignation of Freddie Holms, city policeman.

Council, in a called meeting recently, accepted property given by Mrs. Ouida Cavett Frost and Arlas Cavett. The property, homeplace of the late Emma and Marshall Cavett, was given as a memorial to the pioneer couple.

Cooperation Asked

City Dumpsters Being Abused

Orian Hackler, superintendent of sanitation, issues a reminder to city residents that "City dumpsters are being abused. They are placed in alleyways for the collection of household garbage ONLY."

Hackler states that pieces of iron, tree limbs and other such large objects are not only too heavy for the Dumpster, but when emptied into the trucks, become the means of tearing up the machinery.

He also suggests that large pasteboard boxes need to be flattened for the Dumpsters in order to conserve room between pick-ups.

The City department is concerned about more careful usage of these facilities and asks cooperation of all city residents in this matter.

School Board Meets Monday, Discusses Handbook

All members of the board of trustees of Olton Independent School District and Superintendent Joe Turner were present for the July meeting held Monday, July 7. Approval was given three teachers and four resignations were accepted, along with other matters of business.

Approval was given Student Insurance Policy offered by United Fidelity Insurance Company. At school coverage increased this year to $15 with 24-hour coverage at $37.50.

Approval was given to the school handbook which will include a tobacco policy. Use of tobacco is prohibited in the school buildings and on school buses. Any student violating this rule will be disciplined.

A contract with Perdue-Brandon-Blair-Shiever-Fielder, tax lawyers, was approved for collection of delinquent taxes.

A sum in the amount of $4,225 was transferred from Function II in Capital Outlay to Function 51. This was done to take care of furniture repaired by the Department of Corrections, Huntsville.

CARNIVAL DAYS began in Olton with lots of activities on the streets before carnival rides began moving. Local sorority members Janet LaFrance and Vandra Milloy pose for the Enterprise camera in front of a stand operated by varsity cheerleaders, who were selling ice cream. Local stores stayed open late offering bargains to those who came out for the fun. Artists offered their wares and other items available on the sidewalks were sweet corn, baked goods, Frito pie and many goodies to eat.

Letter To The Editor

Congratulations, Thanks Expressed

Dear Olton,

Thank you so much for all the support you've shown me during the Miss West Texas Pageant. Your phone calls and interest in me will always be remembered.

And I would like to extend a special "thanks" to the members of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for sponsoring me in the pageant.

I hope everyone in the Odessa area knows where Olton is now, because ALWAYS after telling someone where I was from....the next question would be "Where is Olton?"

But I will always remember this "little town of Olton" for all its giving and sharing and the interest shown to me. I will always remember the support given to me for the Miss West Texas Pageant.

Thanks so much,
Sharla Nicholas

Dear Sue:

I was gratified to be included in your Texas Press Association centennial convention, and hope my remarks on national defense for the 1980's proved informative. As I expected, the numerous questions from TPA members guaranteed us a stimulating discussion on a full spectrum of issues.

Your newspaper, I understand, was recognized in the annual awards competition. Please permit me to add my congratulations to those of your colleagues. Until our next opportunity to visit, feel free to contact me in Washington whenever news events warrant.

Sincerely Yours,
John Tower

TODAY'S LOGIC

By James W. Phelps

NOT FREE

Most of the people who have walked this earth have not been free. There have always been tyrants and slave masters and politicians who thirsted for power over others.

Most of those others have submitted. Some meekly, and some only after bloody struggles.

Might has prevailed over right for most of the history of man.

Then, for one brief shining moment, there was a land of freedom. It was called the United States of America.

Americans threw off the tyranny of King George. They stood up and proclaimed that the rights of man came from God, not from any king or government.

They said God gave us the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And that governments were for the purpose of securing these rights.

A government has the right to take away these rights only in defense of the rights of others.

If you seek to take another's life or property, or, if you interfere with his freedom, government may take away some of your rights.

If you spend some of your life in a productive effort I have no right to force you to give some of what you produce to someone else. To do so would deprive you of the part of your life you spent producing it.

If I have no right to do this, I also have no right to elect a politician and give him the right to do it.

We all have the right to defend ourselves from fraud or violence. Consequently we can elect a government and give it the right and duty to defend us and protect our rights.

But not to take from some and give to others.

That one brief shining moment when Americans were free passed into oblivion when the government exceeded its authority.

The new government had the right to defend us, both individually and as a nation.

It had the right to tax us for that purpose. But for no other purpose.

Our loss of liberty started when it began taxing those who produced and giving to those who hadn't produced. And, by so doing, it violated the God given rights of the producers.

It does not matter how worthy the charity, I do not have the right to force you to give to it. And I cannot give a right I do not possess to my government.

United we can take back the powers our government has usurped. We can reclaim our right to our lives and the products of our lives. We can dismantle the bureaucracy. We can be free again.

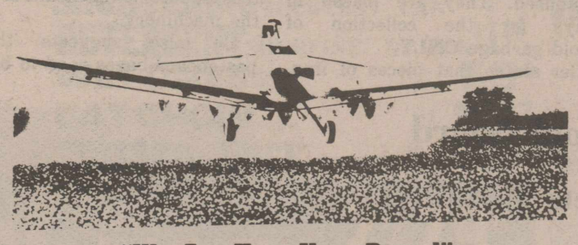

Or do you still think you are free even though governments at all levels spend forty-five percent of the gross national product? Even though the ones who produced all of it can only spend fifty-five percent of it? Will you still believe you are free when the politicians spend 60% or 75% or 90%? Must they take 100%, and your guns, before you realize what is happening?

MRS. LARRY BOYD

Recipe Revue

By Mozelle Trotter

Sharlotte and Larry Boyd observed the anniversary of their first year in Olton just a month ago. They moved from Lubbock to the local Assembly of God parsonage, last June.

Larry was named pastor of the church in April of 1979. From April to June, they were commuter residents coming here Friday nights and returning to Lubbock after the Sunday evening services. They were back each Wednesday evening.

Sharlotte was born at Levelland and Larry in Morton but both grew up in New Mexico. They met while attending Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie.

An outdoor girl, Sharlotte learned to fish and hunt with her father and shares an enthusiasm for those sports with Larry. Both enjoy camping. Golf is another pastime they share and Sharlotte loves swimming.

Sharlotte likes to sew and made all her clothes before her marriage. She admits she doesn't sew as much now. She found a new interest last fall, ceramics, and made a number of Christmas gifts.

Presently without a stove, Sharlotte has lots of tricks with her microwave oven and uses it for preparing their meals.

Typical of many pastor's wives, Sharlotte can be found playing the piano or organ, conducting children's church and teaching a Sunday School class for juniors.

A member of Olton Young Homemakers, Sharlotte is working with other members in gathering favorite recipes of Olton's good cooks. The recipes will be used in the club's second cookbook and is expected to be ready for Christmastime selling.

INSUR-MATION

Will my insurance provide liability protection in case there is a fire on my property which spreads to an adjacent house?

Yes, protection is provided in the Personal Liability section of your basic Homeowner's Policy. The coverage pays on behalf of the insured all sums which the insured shall become legally obligated to pay because of bodily injury or property damage. In this particular situation you might have a problem in obtaining adequate limits. It is often difficult to say what would be adequate coverage on your property in case of a catastrophic occurrence such as a fire spreading throughout the neighborhood. NEWS OF ART

"With Norman Rockwell dead, the crown of most popular and best-loved American artist seems to be passing to Edna Hibel," writes the Chicago Tribune.

The value of her paintings, lithographs and plates bought by collectors in 1979 was nearly $10 million, and the demand for her artwork continues to increase.

Miss Hibel, 63, paints characters and peaceful scenes which seem to have a universal appeal. Miss Hibel says "the essences that I have been trying to capture are those spiritual qualities in life that I value most highly."

The American-born artist's latest international exhibit, "A Celebration of Life," was arranged for Mainau Island in Lake Constance, Germany. The island is owned by an admirer of Miss Hibel's work, Count Lennart Bernadotte.

Miss Hibel is the only living American woman artist to have a museum devoted entirely to her work—the Hibel Museum in Palm Beach, Florida.

from the desk of the Chamber Maid

The Chamber of Commerce Welcome Wagon made two calls on newcomers this week.

Jerry and Melody Wyatt and their two children, Chris and Kari have just moved to Olton where he is the pastor of the First United Methodist Church. Jerry was formerly the associate pastor of First Methodist Church in Midland.

Jerry is a backpacking enthusiast and will, later this month, lead a backpacking group composed of youth of the Northwest Conference of Youth in the Methodist Church on a trip into the wilderness area around Aspen, Colo. He also enjoys photography as a hobby. Music is another interest and he has played drums or marimba in a number of non-professional groups in college and in the service.

Melody is also a musician - they met while both were music majors at Tech and she enjoys playing the piano. She has a teaching certificate and is very excited about the Montessori method of teaching she learned in Midland. Under this method, a child learns each step of his basic education when he is ready and capable of learning that step. The teacher is trained to recognize when each child is ready. Melody also enjoys sewing and has started making Jerry's suits after taking a men's tailoring course.

Chris, eight and a half, will enter 3rd grade next year and enjoys his trampoline and swimming besides his first experience on a Pee Wee baseball team.

Kari, five and a half years old, is proud of learning to ride her first bicycle. She will start kindergarten next year.

Carol and Bobby Williams with their three children, Christi, Kevin and Craig have recently moved to Olton although they have lived in the area some time. He is a brother to Ken Williams.

Their oldest daughter, Cindy, is married to Roger Russell who works for Mark McFadden. They have a daughter, Keashla, who is 6 months old.

Bobby, who is employed by Olton Feedyard, doesn't have much time for spare time hobbies but he does enjoy playing the guitar for relaxation.

Carol is very involved in the Women's Aglow Fellowship, a religious movement, and has served as a local president and is currently serving as secretary for the Area Council. Her area is composed of the entire panhandle down as far as Abilene and these responsibilities leave her little time for anything but the bare essentials of taking care of her family.

Christy, 15 years old, is in high school and enjoys band. She will serve on the Flag Corps team next year.

Kevin, 14, will start high school next year and he is looking forward to playing football.

Craig, eight years old, likes bike riding and playing baseball. He started Pee Wee League this year and was a member of the Rube and Son baseball team - as was our other newcomer, Chris Wyatt.

Lions Club Complete Plans

DIES RECENTLY

Johnny Duncan of Paul's Valley, former resident of Olton, died recently.

Mrs. Theo Grimsley was taken Thursday morning to Hi-Plains Hospital in Hale Center by OVA. Attendants were Lois Brimhall and Leon Noack.

MATTHEW BRICKMAN

Kindergarten Commencement Makes Third Elkins Graduate

Summer of 1980 will be remembered by the L.G. Elkins clan as the year of graduations.

Master Matthew Brickman of Jupiter, Fla. feels a bit of the same sense of achievement as uncles Drew Stockham and Chris Elkins. His graduation, however, merely makes ready his beginning of the goal they just recently attained.

Participating in "graduation ceremonies" after completing his kindergarten year, Matthew will seek the higher education that culminated in his uncles' graduation from high schools. He will attend a fully accredited 12 year Christian school in Jupiter.

Matthew is the son of Twyla and Les Brickman, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Stockman and great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Elkins. He has an older brother, Aaron, and little brother, Caleb.

Planning, Work Programs Continues During Summer

The hazy, lazy days of summer have no connection with anything about the campus of Olton schools. The beehive-of-activity, apparent to any passerby, prompted a trip of inspection.

A visit with Joe Turner, superintendent, revealed that "all the classrooms that need it" are being painted and freshened for that fast approaching Aug. 25, when in-service begins for faculty members; and slightly later, Sept. 2, when school bells ring for students.

As is customary during summer vacation and Christmas holidays, all floors are being stripped of all traces of wax, and a new coat applied. Perhaps this is one reason a superintendent from Tulia, member of an evaluation team who visited the school this spring, labeled this the "best kept building of its age" that he had seen.

To accomplish this clean-up, paint-up program, Keith Cameron is leading a team of work-study students in a program partially funded by governmental programs. This is the tenth year Olton schools have used summer work students. Given a minimum wage, 20 percent of the bill is paid by the school. The program has ended, however, in a recent order by the President, it was not funded.

CETA, another program for vocational students already in the program, is continuing. Brightened by this troupe of painters will be all the classrooms not painted last summer; band hall and office; science building; and the inside of one of the homes for teachers, painted on the outside last year. The high school library, housing some 7000 volumes, will be cheered with new paint.

Also rejuvenated is the high school auditorium. Largely because of the Aug. 24 hail and resultant water damage, the aisles, entrance and front section of the building have been covered with carpet. Draperies at the side windows have been re-dyed, re-flame proofed and furnished with new linings. The big stage curtain will be similarly treated this summer.

Also, as result of that devastating hailstorm, that inflicted the most damage ever received upon the school buildings, most of the buildings have new roofs.

Superintendent Turner states that, "Luckily, we had re-evaluated our insurance program three years ago and made all policies $100 deductible. Consequently our $119,000 roofing bill was covered. Everything is finished except the Home Economics building which will be done during the summer. The junior high building, erected in 1936, stood the storm better than any of the others. The red tile roof had to have only 2000 tile replacements - the most it has had in all these years."

A source of great pride to the administrator, as he conducted the renovation tour, is an improvement made last summer in administrative and tax offices located in that part of the high school building erected in 1928.

Paneled to match the Superintendent's office was that of Office Secretary. The high school teacher's lounge and workroom immediately to the south were appropriated as a board room. Tastefully paneled, carpeted and fitted, it is a very attractive part of the system.

Turner points with pride to a wall clock hanging in the board room. Well over 50 years of age, the eight-day timepiece made by Murphy-Davis Signal Company of Topeka, Ks. once hung in the office of early day Superintendent H.P. Webb. It's pendulum still swings to keep perfect time.

Across the hall, the two tax offices and an adjoining storage room have been updated by paneling, lowering ceilings and installation of better and more efficient lighting system. Curtains and carpet were not changed, doors were simply re-painted to blend with the decor. A customer counter has been added for great convenience, and re-arrangement of furniture makes for organizational details far better than 18-year-veteran, Virginia Moss, and her nine-year-assistant, Doris Watt, have ever enjoyed for assessing and collecting taxes of school patrons. Air conditioning and central heating have been brought across the hall to these offices also. These workers were really ready for the new quarters however, having worked all of last summer under the handicaps and confusion of temporary surroundings.

Turner is very proud of the "new" administrative office area. He points out, "We had been looking at plans for a new building over on 9th street for such offices. Using Mr. Black's skill and the aid of some work-study boys, all this was accomplished for approximately $10,000...saving the taxpayers about $90,000."

"Out at the football stadium, further improvement is in progress. Seats in the home section were covered with aluminum last summer. This year we are replacing all walk boards with aluminum, also the ramps and steps."

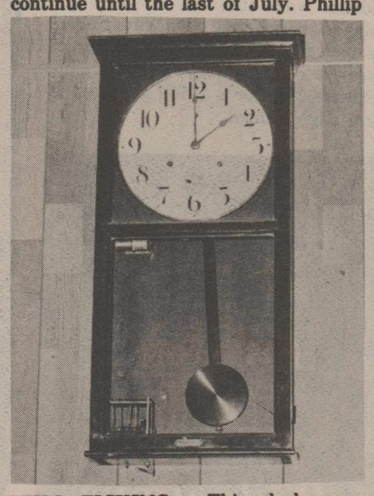

Driver Training is also in progress. Having started June 24, it will continue until the last of July. Phillip Endicott, basketball and assistant football coach, has 25 students in his program. Driver Training car is furnished by Thompson Chevrolet, the school paying a daily rental fee.

Summer school classes, meeting in early morning hours in junior high building, have had 65 students enrolled, according to Principal Carl McClure.

Paint-up, fix-up is in progress in that building also. One main project is the forming of a council room for Mrs. Janie Hart who will serve as counselor for Title I students, kindergarten through eighth grade. McClure intimates she will be available to other students also, as needed.

Ray Kinnison says offices and other needed areas in elementary building are being freshened with paint.

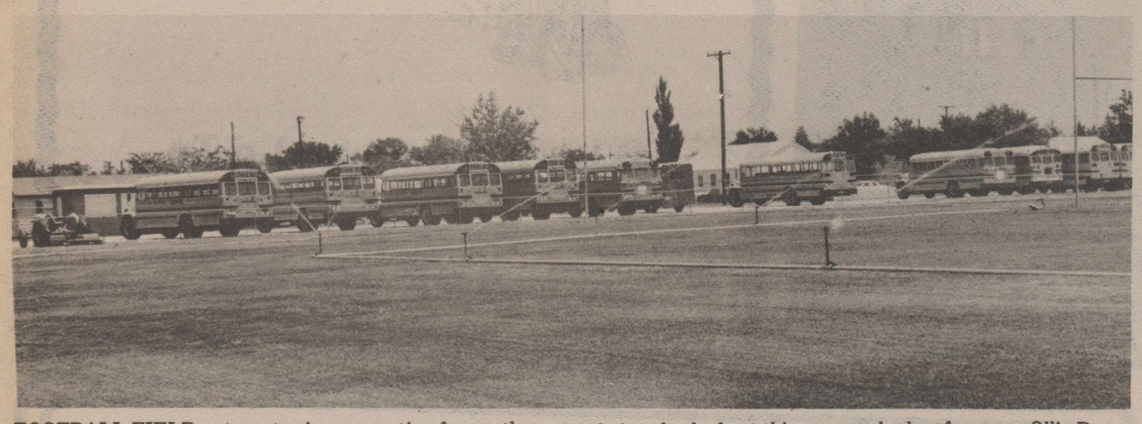

All in all, things are on the mend at Olton schools and all will be in readiness -- come that starting date.

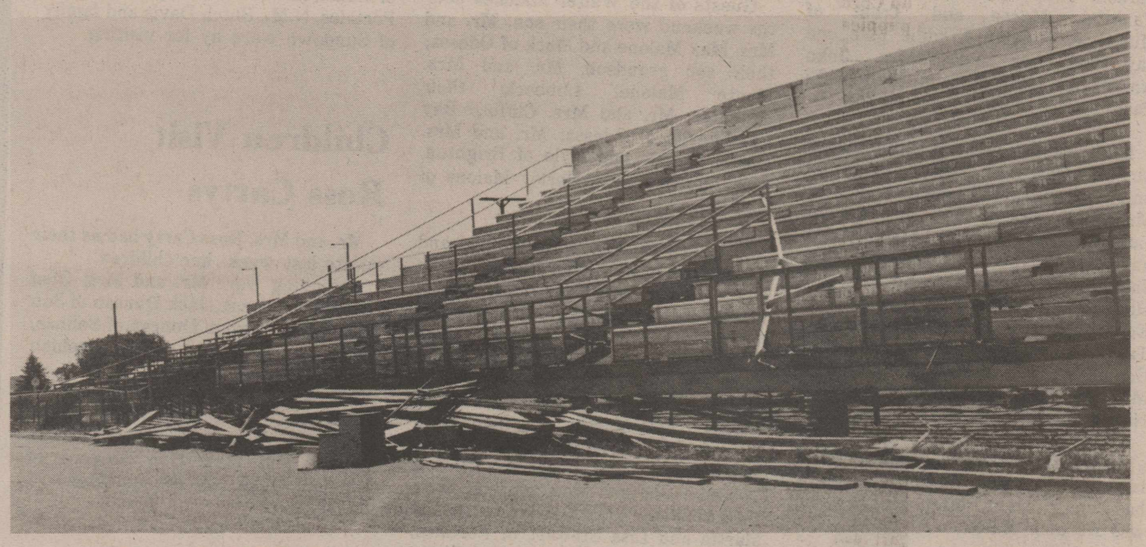

STILL TICKING -- This clock once hung in the office of Superintendent H.P. Webb and still keeps perfect time in the newly remodeled board room.

BOARD ROOM -- Decisions made by board of trustees sometimes takes many hours and the elegant surroundings in the newly remodeled board room makes the time spent there a little more enjoyable.

FOOTBALL FIELD gets water in preparation for another football season. In the background are the buses which are being checked out this summer by bus foreman, Ollie Ross.

A NEW LOOK AND SURFACE for home side of the football stadium will be welcomed by the fans when they attend the first home game. New aluminum coverings have been added to the stadium seats.

Congratulations

How can half a pound equal less than three ounces? Sounds like new math, but it really just points up the difference in interpretation of statistics. Here's how it works. Those persons who claim Americans eat too much red meat quote figures from the USDA that say we each consumed 181.3 pounds of meat last year. That figures roughly the equivalent of one-half pound per day per person. Now what's left out is that the statistic refers to carcass weight basis. Carcass weight includes a whole lot of fat and bone that are never eaten. According to researchers at the Meat Board, the amount of cooked meat, actually consumed was really only 2.77 ounces per person per day. That missing five ounces makes a lot of difference when talking about nutritional differences since one is below recommended levels and the other slightly above.
