INDIANS SCALP WHEELER MUSTANGS 45-19

CWE CHAT WITH EDITOR
By Louis C. Stas

The opening game for the Mustangs didn't end well. It is a practice game. We are confident you will improve as the season continues. Go Mustangs!

— cwe —
Thanks, Donald, for the football story.

— cwe —
Do you have October 6 marked on your calendar for the Second Annual Carolyn Sabee Ranch Rodeo and Brisket Cookoff. You won't want to miss this event.

— cwe —
I appreciate the pictures sent to me of the Ft. Elliott Volleyball games by Brenda Lancaster.

— cwe —
I also appreciate the pictures being taken by Elizabeth Horton. Keep up the good work, Elizabeth.

— cwe —
We made a trip to Huntsville to visit Cathi over the weekend. Dorcie was on a weekend trip with a friend. Jennifer and Seth also went.

— cwe —
We left Friday afternoon, got caught in 5 o'clock traffic in OKC and it took up 30 minutes to go 2 miles on I-35 due to construction of a bridge. This got us into Texas.

— cwe —
Immediately after crossing the river into Texas there had been an accident, which also delayed us.

— cwe —
In the Dallas area, we were delayed due to another accident.

— cwe —
The important thing is, we were not in any of those accidents. But, it was a close call for us at one point in the Dallas area.

— cwe —
We returned home early Monday morning and made good time with less traffic. We started at 5:30.

— cwe —
Tuesday, September 4, marked Barbara's and my 53rd Wedding Anniversary. Happy Anniversary, Barbara.

— cwe —
No cards were play Monday evening. I was working on the paper.

STORM REPORT

As Reported by ...
Stormie Meriwether,
Third Grade Student

Dear Friends, School is awesome! We played kick ball and I made a home run. I kicked the ball over the building and I ran all the way around. The next time I kicked the ball. I was running very fast. I stepped on something and fell down. A boy tagged me out. That was not fun, but I love to play kick ball.

My ballet is wonderful. There are big girls and girls my age. We all work very hard. The ballet company is going to do "Peter and the Wolf". I'm not going to do it this time. I have too many things to do all the rehearsals.

My new thing is Cheerleading. I never thought I could be a cheerleader, but my mom signed me up. At first I was a little nervous. All the girls are good except me. Haley Spence's mom (Jana) is the boss and Haley's sister, LeeAnn is the teacher. Some of the things were easy and I could do them. Then they did a very hard one and I very wanted to quit. I can't do that! My mom said it would get easier. I was not happy about that cheer. My mom told me to think about it and decide when I was not so hot and thirsty and tired.

After my cheerleading practice, I got a good drink and a snack. We talked about it. Now I think I will love to do cheerleading with my friends. I will have to work hard and learn all the cheers. We get to yell for our boys at their football games. That will be fun!

I am excited. I can do ballet and cheerleading and I can still do my job at the paper with Pop. I am a lucky kid!

We have a family reunion. I will see my grandmother's brother, Uncle Orville. He is old and he is still alive. That's it.

Title 1 Meeting

A Title 1 meeting will be held in conjunction with Wheeler ISD open house on Tuesday, September 11, 2012, at 6:00 pm. Place of the meeting will be Wheeler School Auditorium.

An alternate, second Title 1 meeting will be held Wednesday September 12, 2012 at 8:00 a.m. in room B1 of Wheeler School.

The Quanah Indians racked up 490 yards against the Wheeler Mustangs in route to a 45-19 victory at Indan stadium in Quanah. The Indians struck first on a Craig Miles five yard run for the first touchdown of the game. The Indians increased their lead to 12-0 on a 11 yard pass early in the second quarter. Here come the Mustangs!! The Mustang came roaring back on two touchdowns by Zay McCasland of 19 and 40 yards to tie the game at 12-12. The Indians took over from there and domi-

LARGE CANTALOUPE: Darrel Gaines brought these two cantaloupes to the office. The larger weighed 20.54 lbs. and the smaller tipped the scales at 11.41 lbs. Yes, he did water them. He gives part of the credit to his wife, Sue. The family has raised "Persian" for several years. Richard had harvested some in the range of the smaller, but never a 20 lb. melon.

USDA Conservation Agency Seeks Local Input In Annual Meeting On SEPT. 13

Conservation Agency Seeks Local Input at Annual Meeting Wheeler, Texas, August 13, 2012

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), Wheeler County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) and the Local Working Group invite the public to their annual Conservation Stakeholder's Meeting at 8:30 a.m. on September 13, 2012 at the Wheeler County SWCD office located at 1410 S. Allen Bean Blvd., Wheeler, TX.

Each year, the Local Working Group hosts a public meeting to determine the resource concerns and needs of the area and how to best address those needs. The NRCS and their local conservation partner, the Wheeler County SWCD, provide agriculture producers with professional consultation and financial assistance through Farm Bill conservation programs to apply conservation practices on their land that address soil erosion and health, water quality and quantity issues, as well as wildlife habitat. The Local Working Group includes community agricultural producers, owners/operators of nonindustrial private forest land, professionals representing agricultural and natural resource interests, and individuals representing a variety of disciplines in the soil, water, wetland, plant, forestry, and wildlife sciences who are familiar with agricultural and natural resource issues

All landowners and land managers in Wheeler County are encouraged to attend and participate in this meeting. This open discussion public meeting will focus on identifying area natural resource concerns that can be addressed using conservation programs and activities.

"Effective conservation stems from a locally led process," says Calvin Devereaux, NRCS District Conservationist for Wheeler County. "The Wheeler County NRCS office operates on the concept that local residents' best understand local issues and are the key to solving problems."

"Our Conservation Stakeholders Meeting gives everyone the opportunity to decide how the assistance from the NRCS and Farm Bill funds can be most beneficial for our community," adds D.C., Calvin Devereaux.

Through the Wheeler Co SWCD, the Local Working Group will provide recommendations to the NRCS District Conservationist on local natural resource priorities and criteria for conservation activities and programs planning for the upcoming fiscal year. These issues will be especially important in decisions made for financial assistance when implementing the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). This program is administered by the NRCS and provides incentive payments for the installation of several conservation practices on eligible participant's land. The information gathered from these meetings will be used to help carry out the EQIP and other programs in 2013.

While the NRCS brings the technical expertise and Farm Bill funding to the table, the goods and services are delivered through the local SWCD board. SWCDs are local units of government made up of five members elected by the public. Their office is usually co-located with the NRCS office. Members of SWCD Boards are actively engaged in farming and ranching.

OLD TIMES NOT FORGOTTEN

WINDMILLS & STOCK TANKS

I don't pretend to know all that much about windmills, at least in comparison to most farmers and ranchers. Most of what I learned about them was from helping dad, when I was growing up. Working on a windmill wasn't such a bad job most of the year, but it could really be tough in the winter. If the wind ever stopped for a while and it froze up, that could create a lot of problems. If you had to pull out and unscrew the joints of the "sucker rod," your hands would get wet. After that, it was pretty miserable! Every so often, the "leathers," down on the bottom end of the sucker rod, would have to be replaced. So far as I know, those leather seals are still being used, nowadays. Not much use in changing, when you have something reasonably cheap, and it works well.

The windmill at the second farm we rented had a lever, down about shoulder height, that operated the shutoff for the mill. It would pull the tail vane around ninety degrees and that would turn the mill away from the wind. Then it would just coast down, from the lack of wind power. The problem was the shutoff linkage on ours was broken. For the first few months we lived there, my dad would climb up, turn the tail vane, then tie it off. That was really scary to watch. If that spinning fan had hit him, chances are it would have knocked him off the tower. Thankfully, the problem got fixed real soon.

I still see quite a few windmills when I'm out just driving around. It's for sure, they sped up the settling of this part of the country... made it a lot more hospitable. This invention impressed me the most. I think it ranks right up there, along with electricity and the "De Laval" cream-separator.

Flu Season

Flu is a serious contagious disease that can lead to hospitalization and even death.

CDC urges you to take the following actions to protect yourself and others from influenza (the flu):

Take time to get a flu vaccine.

- CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine as the first and most important step in protecting against flu viruses.

- While there are many different flu viruses, a flu vaccine protects against the three viruses that research suggests will be most common.

- Everyone 6 months of age and older should get a flu vaccine as soon as the current season's vaccines are available.

- Vaccination of high risk persons is especially important to decrease their risk of severe flu illness.

- People at high risk of serious flu complications include young children, pregnant women, people with chronic health conditions like asthma, diabetes or heart and lung disease and people 65 years and older.

- Vaccination also is important for health care workers, and other people who live with or care for high risk people to keep from spreading flu to high risk people.

- Children younger than 6 months are at high risk of serious flu illness, but are too young to be vaccinated. People who care for them should be vaccinated instead.

Take everyday preventive actions to stop the spread of germs.

- Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze. Throw the tissue in the trash after you use it.

- Wash your hands often with soap and water. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand rub.

- Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth. Germs spread this way.

- Try to avoid close contact with sick people.

- If you are sick with flu-like illness, CDC recommends that you stay home for at least 24 hours after your fever is gone except to get medical care or for other necessities. (Your fever should be gone without the use of a fever-reducing medicine.)

- While sick, limit contact with others as much as possible to keep from infecting them.

Take flu antiviral drugs if your doctor prescribes them.

- If you get the flu, antiviral drugs can treat your illness.

- Antiviral drugs are different from antibiotics. They are prescription medicines (pills, liquid or an inhaled powder) and are not available over-the-counter.

- Antiviral drugs can make illness milder and shorten the time you are sick. They may also prevent serious flu complications. Treatment with an antiviral drug can mean the difference between having a milder illness versus a very serious illness that could result in a hospital stay.

- Studies show that flu antiviral drugs work best for treatment when they are started within 2 days of getting sick, but starting them later can still be helpful, especially if the sick person has a high-risk health or is very sick from the flu. Follow your doctor's instructions for taking this drug.

- Flu-like symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, chills and fatigue. Some people also may have vomiting and diarrhea. People may be infected with the flu, and have respiratory symptoms without a fever.

A Chat with
The Editor

That poor new bridge

Completed only a few months ago, the fine new bridge spanning the North Fork of Red River between here and Shamrock already has had its west side bulged on at least two occasions.

The latest occurred Tuesday of last week when an oil truck raced out of control and zigzagged across the bridge.

On one of the zigs or zags the big vehicle also crashed into a car in which four Twitty residents were riding causing minor injuries to the quartet.

Hurt were Mrs. J. R. Hefley, Jr., her two sons, Richard, 10, and Kevin, 9, and Mrs. Finis Kidd.

So it's back to repair work for the State Highway Department road crews. It was only three months ago that a section of the railing had to be replaced after a similar accident.

Temperatures Soar

Temperatures apparently soared over the century mark in Wheeler this week, but no official thermometers are available for accurate recording.

One thermometer in the city reached 102 degrees on Tuesday and was expected to climb even higher Wednesday.

Another shower during the past week deposited .61 inches of moisture bringing to 14.53 the amount Wheeler has received in 1962.

On this date a year ago, rainfall totaled 14.38 inches and 1961 finished with a total of 24.04 inches.

Rodeo Here Is

Termed Big Success

Fans got their money's worth at the seventh annual Wheeler Riding Club Rodeo held here last week with thrills and spills featured in every performance.

The celebration, termed an outstanding success by the riding club officials, attracted hundreds of fans and contestants from all across the Panhandle and at least three states—Texas, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

A standing-room-only crowd was on hand for the opening performance Thursday night, following the big parade and free barbecue earlier in the day.

Attendance at the barbecue, staged by the riding club with the cooperation of local business and professional people, was so large that the meat supply was exhausted before all had been served.

Robertson Receives

Pampa Assignment

Robertson graduated from Wheeler High School in 1949. He attended West Texas State College in Canyon and graduated in 1955.

He married the former Von Eva Hooker of Wheeler and they have two children.

He is the son of Bessie Robertson of Wheeler.

Bulletin

Boll weevils have moved into Wheeler County, according to Bryan Swaim, County Agent. Swaim said a two percent puncture infestation was found on the Troy Wiely farm at Twitty. Swaim said a 15 percent puncture should be found before spraying is started. Several farmers have sprayed for flea hoppers over the county, he added.

Property damage during the first six months of 1962 is estimated at $18,140. This compares with the first six months of 1961's total of 31 rural mishaps, killing four persons, injuring 24 and causing estimated property damage of $26,125.

In statewide comparison, the total number of traffic fatalities is practically the same as they were this time last year.

Sgt. Wilson cautioned Texas motorists to show courtesy and consideration to the vacationing drivers from other states, since the tourists are not familiar with highways and traffic signs in this area.

The sergeant stated, however, that the out-of-state traveler is not so much a threat to other motorists' safety as the native selfish driver, who operates his vehicle dangerously and discourteously with no regard for traffic laws, signs or signals.

Flea hoppers, Aphids, Weevils In Cotton

Three types of insects well known to farmers in Wheeler Co. and throughout this area are causing damage to young cotton fields. Wheeler County Agent Bryan Swaim reported this week that flea hoppers are "general over the county," and he advised farmers to keep a close watch over their fields.

Also making an appearance in area cotton are aphids (plant lice) and boll weevils.

Swaim reported that boll weevils had been positively identified in the Twitty area and aphids are causing "extensive damage" to young cotton across the county. Flea hoppers were discovered some two weeks ago and several fields have already been sprayed. Spraying for flea hoppers should be started when their number totals as many as 15-35 per 100 terminals, the county agent said.

When as much as a 15 percent puncture by boll weevils is found, Swaim said spraying should be started.

The county agent reported last week that a two percent puncture had been discovered on the Troy Weidly farm at Twitty.

Literature is available at the county agent's office in the courthouse here explaining the methods for checking on insects and proper treatment of fields.

Swaim invited farmers to pick up the special bulletins at his office.

Making the third turn and coming into the forth its ago for with the green flag flying in the air and all drivers give it all the car has. Gump is in the lead and two cars between him and brother Farley, with sister right on the bumper of him. Not for long Jayterbug makes her move and passes the cars on the third and fourth laps with Farley on her bumper, on the fifth lap Farley puts his car in the go and passes sister, Jayterbug and takes a good lead, that new motor has warmed up and Farley is out running all the drivers as he's bout to pass the rear driver. Jayterbug is running in second place and on the les. Coach Smith commented that we played well in the first half but for us to be good we must develop some leaders and play for four quarters. The Mustangs get that chance next Friday night as they face off with the Spearmen Lynx.

Travel on Central Texas toll roads will become even easier with today's approval to implement a permanent pay-by-mail system that eliminates the need to stop and make cash payments for non-TxTag vehicles.

The Texas Transportation Commission, at its August meeting, gave the Texas Department of Transportation approval to eliminate the cash payment option for the Central Texas Turnpike System (CTTS). The CTTS consists of the following four contiguous toll highways serving the Austin metropolitan region and the Austin-San Antonio corridor: SH 45 North, Loop 1 and SH 130 (Segments 1-4) and SH 45 Southeast. "Not only is TxDOT committed to enhancing safety, but also to ensuring Texas drivers get to where they're going with ease," said James Bass, TxDOT Chief Financial Officer. "By implementing a comprehensive 'pay-by-mail' system in Central Texas, motorists will avoid any delays previously caused by lines at toll booths."

The pay-by-mail option is administered via video to accurately read vehicles' license plate numbers. After passing the toll equipment, driver's vehicles not enrolled in the TxTag program are billed through the mail. TxTag provides an easier way for drivers to manage their toll road driving payments and offers a discount that delivers greater value.

The commission also agreed to establish new toll rates on the CTTS facilities. The changes, which will become effective Jan. 1, 2013, make fees more compatible with other toll fees charged regionally, and provide for increases that will keep pace with the consumer price index in the future.
