Bullets Zip As Farmers Trail Fleeing Men

Charges Of Theft Of 1,000 Pounds Of Maize Filed

Three persons were held in county jail on county court warrants charging misdemeanor theft, after a thrilling gun-racked chase on country roads and city streets, it was announced by the sheriff's department this morning.

Held were Homer Bivens, 21, of Warwick, N. J., Wayne Bivens, 27, of Lubbock and Charles White, 20, of Unionville, N. Y.

Maize Said Taken

The complaint, signed by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, set out thay took 1,000 pounds of maize from C. B. Coats, farmer living approximately five miles southeast of Lubbock, Saturday midnight.

Officials told the following story:

A brother-in-law of Coats and an acquaintance, each about 21, happened by the Coats field and saw men in the field loading maize heads into a trailer connected with an automobile.

Watched A Few Minutes

They watched a few minutes, then one of them went to the farmhouse and awakened Coats.

The brother-in-law, in the meantime had slipped up on th men and, finding two of them near the trailer, had "thrown down on them with his finger," pretending it was a gun.

In the darkness he was marching the two around the trailer, his finger in the back of one of them, but had not noticed a third man, who was frightened and was hiding under the trailer.

Fired At Escaping Man

About the time the hiding man left his cover and began running Coats and the other farmer approached with a .30 caliber rifle and began firing at the escaping man, "who really hitched up."

About that moment, "somebody turned on car lights and the two men the brother-in-law was herding saw he had no gun, so they leaped in their car and, the trailer bouncing every which way, sped out of the field."

Leaving their confederate, the NEEDS "GOOD STRAPPING"—Comely model Arabella ("Bunny") Hartley "needs a good strapping," she was told by New York magistrate William Ringel. He was irate because she haled ex-husband to court on assault charge, then withdrew accusation, later failed to appear to answer cop's charge of disorderly conduct, and in general had things a-dither. She's pictured after judge gave her ten days in workhouse, suspended pending good behavior.

Party Leaders Must Testify

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Edward J. Flynn and Joseph W. Martin, jr., chairmen of the Democratic and Republican national committees, respectively, today were subpoenaed to appear before a special grand jury investigating major party expenditures during the recent presidential campaign.

Selection of the grand jury was to be completed tomorrow, and Flynn and Martin, together with other political figures, were to appear before the jury on Thursday. A second group of witnesses will be heard on Friday.

Ordered By Jackson

The investigation was ordered last week by Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, who said he sought to determine whether there had been any violation or evasion of the Hatch act limit on campaign spending. The act confines expenditures by any one political committee to $3,000,000 and individual contributions to such organizations to $5,000.

Besides Flynn and Martin, those summoned to the secret jury session Thursday were:

Oliver Quayle, treasurer of the Democratic national committee; C. B. Goodspeed, Chicago, of the Republican national committee; Oren Root, jr., president of the Associ-

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 2.—The flooded Brazos and Trinity rivers, in some sections as much as 10 miles wide, continued to swirl toward the gulf today, carrying destruction to property and death to livestock.

The Brazos continued to fall in the Hempstead area, the crest of a second rise having passed there Saturday night. Below there, at Richmond, Columbia and other points, the river was still rising.

Trinity Not Receding

No indication of receding was given by the Trinity in the Liberty county section, where it has been at about 26 feet 9 inches for four days. In the lowlands east of the river, beginning a half mile below Liberty, the Trinity had spread out one mile, making it about six miles wide.

The body of Charles Butler, farmer, was found yesterday by Norton Werner and Tommy Mock, Hempstead garage mechanic, in driftwood below the Hempstead - Bellville

The baby died at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a Slaton hospital.

Plains Funeral home announced burial would be in Slaton cemetery. Rev. Ben D. Johnson, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Lubbock, was to officiate at services.

Huge Gap Said Chopped Into Fascist Line

Fresh Troops Rush To Aid Retreating Army In Albania

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Dec. 2. — Capture of 5,000 Italians, the largest mass of prisoners yet taken by the Greek army, was announced today from the northern front.

Their surrender, dispatches said, was the signal for a general retreat of other Italian forces in the area, leaving a huge gap in the Fascist center.

New Advances Claimed

Fresh Italian troops rushed to bolster sagging defense lines earlier had been reported being smashed back with the regiments they came to reinforce and the Greeks claimed "important" new advances all along the Albanian battlefront.

Mention of the exact place where the front was reported smashed was forbidden by military authorities. They permitted mention merely that it was in the north.

One front line report said "the victory, without exaggeration, is of exceptional importance, for the enemy line in this sector has been destroyed and all danger eliminated for us.'

Swings Toward Adriatic

Dispatches from the front and statements by a Greek spokesman pictured the fighting line at the start of the sixth week of war as swinging like a barn door toward the Adriatic from a hinge on the Albanian coast, just north of the Greek frontier, to Lake Ochrida, on

Man Asks $48,000 As Result Of Accident

A $48,000 damage action was filed in 99th district court this morning.

Plaintiff was Ralph McClellan of Yoakum county, who named Swift & Co. defendant, pleading that service might be had on H. R. Doughtie, manager of the Lubbock plant of Swift.

McClellan, through counsel Hal S. Lattimore of Fort Worth, set out he had been struck the night of Jan. 5 just north of Canyon in Randall county by a truck of the defendant, permanently injured and required to undergo a period of hospitalization in which he despaired of surviving.

New Fascist "Mystery Plane" Is Reported To Have Traveled 625 MPH In Speed Test

(By The United Press)

ROME, Dec. 2.—Fascists reported today that Italy's new "mystery plane" reached a speed of 625 miles an hour when tested by Col. Mario De Bernardi, famed Italian racing pilot.

The plane, which has no propellor, runs on compressed gas, according to information here. It was reported that the plane was invented by Secondo Campini, 36, an engineer at the Caproni air works, who has hopes that it will eventually attain a speed of 3,000 miles an hour in the stratosphere.

Premier Benito Mussolini personally facilitated the experiments and conferred with Campini.

The model being tested is intended for commercial use across the Atlantic as well as for war use.

The Milan newspaper Corriere Della Sera said that Italy's "new mystery plane" was operated by compressed gas and did not have either a motor or a propeller.

"The airplane was invented by an engineer, Campini, and built in one of our establishments," the newspaper said. "It is entirely metal and identical with other planes as far as the wings and form are concerned. It has internal aeration and is run on highly compressed gas.

"The test by Colonel De Bernardi constitutes a gigantic step toward stratosphere flights. It offers new horizons for war action of airplanes."

Nazis Moving Into Rumania

(By The Associated Press)

ON THE HUNGARIAN-RUMANIAN FRONTIER, Dec. 2. — Four fresh German divisions were moving through Hungary en route to Rumania today as reports trickling across the border told of increasing anarchy throughout that country.

Unconfirmed report from Bucharest said these additional German troops would attempt to restore order there and in other large Rumanian cities where Iron Guard extremists have taken bloody revenge on officials of the ousted regime of former King Carol II.

To Bolster Others

The German divisions, moving by rail through Slovakia and thence through Hungary, will bolster many Nazi detachments already guarding Rumania's oil fields and pipelines.

(Four divisions mean approximately 60,000 men. German strength in Rumania previous]; has been estimated as high as 500,000.)

Over the frontier came a picture of Rumania's embattled Iron Guard split now into three factions and the Rumanian army apparently wavering over what course to take.

One section of the green-shirted guardsmen was said to be supporting the guard leader, Vice Premier

Germans Claim One U-Boat A Day Made

ROME, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—Employing mass production methods, Germany is producing a submarine a day, the Turin newspaper La Stampa reported today. It said Britain unwittingly was responsible for training Nazi engineers to achieve this production.

This training, the newspaper said, was received in a British-financed submarine factory in Holland after the last war.

La Stampa also revealed that German undersea craft are equipped with a special apparatus to release a quantity of oil when the submarine is attacked and make it appear the U-boat has been sunk.

British Convoy Is Attacked By Subs

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—A British convoy was being attacked by German submarines today in the North Atlantic about 400 miles west of Ireland.

Distress messages from the attacked ships were being received by Mackay Radio one after another. The attacks were all in the same vicinity along the route of British convoys from American to English ports.

Ship Said Torpedoed

The first message was from the Portis Head, England, radio station saying that the freighter Lady Glanely had been torpedoed in latitude 55 north, longitude 20 west at 3:15 a. m. (GMT)—9 p. m. Sunday (CST).

Two hours later the station reported that the freighter Goodleigh had been torpedoed in latitude 55:02 north, longitude 18:45 west at 5:45 a. m. (GMT—11:45 p. m. CST).

Assistance Asked

The Irish Valentia station then said that a British vessel giving the call letters of GKIF was being attacked by a submarine in latitude 55:03 north, longitude 14:40 west, at 4:53 a. m. (GMT—10:53 p. m. Sunday CST).

Valentia then reported that the steamer Victoria had been torpedoed at 7:55 a. m. (GMT—1:55 a. m. CST) in latitude 56:04 north, longitude 13:30 west.

Another ship which had not yet been identified had been torpedoed at latitude 54:36 north, longtitude

Lubbock Samaritan Fleeced In Sleep

The man on Avenue G felt the chill in the air and invited the unfortunate, a rank stranger, to go home and sleep with him.

Whether the stranger slept doesn't enter into the case.

"The thing is," said the Samaritan, "when I got up my suit, my billfold and $5 in it were missing."

The complainant didn't know the suspect's name, where he lived—"and certainly where he was going."

Cold Creeping Over Country

(By The United Press)

New masses of freezing, snow-laden air began sweeping from the northern Rockies and western Canada toward the eastern seaboard today and sharp temperature drops in the great plains states forecast the oncoming of bitter cold.

The United States weather bureau at Chicago forecast increasing cold and snow for central and eastern portions of the country and reported the Dakotas and western Minnesota already have felt the sting of the advancing cold.

Temperatures Drop

At Devil's Lake, N. D., the temperature fell to 18 below zero and at Minot, N. D., and International Falls, Minn., to 17 below. Manitoba and Saskatchewan in Canada experienced the severest cold of the winter with temperatures falling to 22 below zero at Prince Albert and 14 below at Winnipeg.

The weather bureau at Chicago expected the cold air mass to strike the Great Lakes region tonight and tomorrow and move toward the eastern coast and New England Tuesday night.

Draft Questionniare Must Wait On Stork

GREENVILLE, S. C. Dec. 2 (AP)—A young married man who has just received a draft questionnaire from his draft board is in a quandary.

He confided to board members that he was expecting an heir at his house momentarily and would like to await the event before returning the questionnaire. If not, he would be forced to leave out a dependent, because to take credit for an additional member of the family before it arrived was too risky.

The board clerk could find no rules to fit the case.

The man was given five more days.

Canadians May Get Call To Near East

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Canadian forces may soon be thrown into Britain's increasingly important campaign in the near east, military observers predicted today.

The dominion troops are rated among the hardest striking in the allied armies and these observers expressed the belief they would be concentrated in the Mediterranean sector in an effort to knock out Italy

Opera Opening With International Cast

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—The Metropolitan opera opens its 56th season tonight with a Swede, a Yugoslav, a Hungarian, a Britisher, an American, and a Greek singing the Italian opera "The Masked Ball," with an Italo-Argentine conducting.

The opera is one of Giuseppe Verdi's. The principals are Jussi Bjoerling, a Swede; Zinka Milanov, a Yugoslav; Kerstin Thorborg, another Swede; Alexander Sved, a Hungarian; Stella Andreva, British; Norman Cordon, American; Nicola Moscona, Greek; Ettore Panizza conducts.

Objection To Draft Takes Up 48 Pages

LAPEER, Mich., Dec. 2 (U.P.)—An unidentified man who doesn't want to be in the army told the local selective service board so in a 48-page objection.

The man filled many of the 48 pages with Biblical quotations expounding peace and the golden rule.

Census Bureau Report To President Today Shows More Than 131 Million Persons In Country; Congressional Seats At Stake

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — The census bureau will tell President Roosevelt today how many people there are in these United States.

The report, informed sources said, will show that the population of the 48 states plus the District of Columbia was slightly higher than the 131,409,881 total which the census bureau fixed tentatively two months ago.

On Capitol Hill the official figures were awaited with much eagerness for they will be accompanied by a computation on the probable apportionment of Congress for the next 10 years. Unless Congress changes the complicated mathematical basis for the apportionment of the 435 House of Representatives seats, the computation may well be final.

Preliminary figures indicated the following gains and losses in the number of House seats states now hold:

Gains — California from the 20 seats she now holds to 22 or even 23; Arizona and New Mexico, which now have 1 representative apiece, to 2 each; Florida from the present 5 to 6; North Carolina, from 11 to 12; Oregon from 3 to 4, and Tennessee, from 9 to 10.

Losses — Illinois, from 27 to 26; Indiana, from 12 to 11; Kansas, from 7 to 6; Massachusetts, from 15 to 14; Nebraska, from 5 to 4; Ohio, from

Income Levies Are Likely To Receive Boost

Revenue To Carry 1941 Burden Now Is Being Hunted

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2: —Congressional tax experts said today that increases in corporate and individual income taxes, rather than in so-called consumer levies, probably would be used to help carry the 1941 fiscal burden.

One prominent tax consultant said no attempt probably would be made to alter taxes such as those on gasoline, cigarettes, cosmetics and liquor. Instead, he said, the treasury planned to boost taxes in existing income brackets, applying to both corporations and individuals, and, if necessary, to broaden further the income tax base to add thousands of companies and persons to the internal revenue rolls.

One senator who has participated in several tax discussions with administration experts predicted that Congress would not receive a revenue bill until late May or early June. He said Senate and House leaders desired first to watch the progress of March 15 income tax returns.

It was learned that congressional and treasury advisers who met with President Roosevelt at a supper conference last Friday discussed proposals long pending in Congress for reciprocal taxation of federal and state bonds. No decision was said to have been reached. Such legislation would have no immediate effect as a revenue producer, inasmuch as no effort would be made to tax bonds now outstanding.

With Congress meeting only twice a week, the tax question probably will remain dormant until Mr. Roosevelt reveals the status of the government's financial structure in this annual budget message to the new Congress next month.

More Units To U. S. Navy Said Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (U.P.) — Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, said today that the U. S. navy is "probably the strongest single sea force in the world" but that more units are essential for security.

In his annual report to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Stark warned that, under present world conditions, anything less than a fleet "always" available to either the Atlantic or Pacific oceans, with complete freedom of action, "would be hazardous to the security of our nation."

Plant Workers Torn To Bits Near Tacoma

National Defense Orders Believed Held By Company

(By The Associated Press)

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 2. —Four men were killed today when a ton of dynamite exploded mysteriously in the mixing plant of the Columbia Powder company 15 miles south of here.

The plant manager said parts of the bodies of four men had been found.

The men were not identified immediately.

Relatives Held Back

The blast blew the mixing plant to bits and identification of the bodies will be extremely difficult, the manager added.

He said it is possible there may have been other men in the plant.

Frantic wives and relatives of men believed working in the mixing mill when the blast occurred shortly after dawn were held outside the plant's gates.

Coroner Admitted

Only man admitted to the plant was the Pierce County coroner, Dr. T. H. Long. Sheriff's deputies and the state patrol also were kept outside the gates.

Secrecy of the blast investigation lent support to reports that the company is manufacturing explosives for national defense purposes.

Company officials refused to discuss the blast but Under-Sheriff Knowles said the coroner had been sent to the blast scene after the company revealed that four men were working in the building.

Identity Kept Secret

The blast destroyed but one building, the mixing plant, which was isolated from offices and storage structures.

The explosion occurred shortly after the men went to work at 7 a. m.

Identity of the men in the building was not disclosed.

"The company is withholding their names pending arrival of the coroner and a more complete identification by company officials," Knowles said.

Fog Shrouds Damage

The plant employs 60 men but the majority of them do not report for work until 8 a. m.

It could not be determined immediately if the company was engaged in manufacturing explosives for national defense purposes.

The building where the explosion occurred is half a mile from the

Citizens Grab Two Suspects

The public sat in at the game of cops and robbers today, the police announced early this afternoon — and grabbed two youths in separated sections of the city after two more burglaries had been reported.

"One of the boys, a juvenile, admitted several other burglaries," a member of the police said.

It was explained that a 15-year-old boy was grabbed by Erle Thompson of 1911 Sixteenth street when Thompson saw the boy come out of the residence of Mrs. Murray Jones of 1915 Sixteenth street.

Boy Didn't Live There

Thompson knew the boy didn't live there, so he tied into him about the time Mrs. Jones telephoned police there had been a 'broad daylight' burglary there around the noon hour," said the police.

About 2 o'clock there came a call to police that J. W. Triplett had seen a boy leaving a house at 2005 Avenue R. Triplett, too, arrested the suspect and was holding him at

The letter contained a name, no address and no postage. Efforts to deliver it, "postage due 2 cents" have been fruitless.

Inside is a lot of currency — but no message or other clue as to the sender's identity.

Leader Of Norway's Germans Threatened

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 2 (U.P.) —Reports from Oslo today said that an attempt to assassinate Vidkun Quisling, leader of Norwegian Nazis, had been made recently at Fredrikstadous, in southern Norway.

He went there to make a speech and as he left the meeting, someone threw a bomb which injured several bystanders but missed Quisling and other prominent persons, it was reported.

Magician Turns To Pulpit To Pack Pews For Christianity

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 2—Handsome John Booth, who forsook the night-club for a pulpit to make his magic perform for "truth," today accepted the title of assistant pastor at St. Paul's Congregation church. Women wept and others sat "thrilled" Sunday as he punctuated his first professional sermon with sleight-of-hand.

Pledged to rekindle enthusiasm for the church by "miracles of magic," Booth stepped to the pulpit before an astonished congregation and produced an empty cylinder—"your life," he called it—and placed in it ribbons of multi-colored silk. He flipped his wrist. A bouquet of genuine roses towered from the vessel.

"As you sow your good deeds, so shall they blossom," he said.

Tall and dark, with an Errol Flynn mustache, Booth already had won honors for oratory at the University of Chicago Theological seminary, where he enrolled this fall after six years

'Captain' For A Day, He Now Must Face Military Hearing

(By The United Press)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2 — It was a sad homecoming day for "Captain" Fred Stadtlander, 22, of Pittsburgh.

Stadtlander, who enlisted in the army four months ago, was sent to Arlington, Va., where he drilled and worked as a private.

Stadtlander wanted to impress the folks at home, so he "borrowed" a captain's uniform and boarded a train for Pittsburgh when he got leave.

A corporal, Brady Charles, a veteran of many campaigns, also boarded the train with his cousin, Private W. H. Lepley.

Lepley watched Charles salute Stadtlander several times before he asked:

"Why are you saluting him, Brady? You don't have to. He enlisted in Pittsburgh with me four months ago."

Charles wired Pittsburgh police who arrested Stadtlander and held him for army authorities. Col. Ben H. Chastain said Stadtlander would be returned to his post for a military hearing.

19 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Select Utilitarian Christmas Gifts For Quality Rather Than For Quantity

Useful Gifts Appreciated

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Whether it costs one dollar or ten or a great deal more, the smartest Christmas present for the home-lover is a utilitarian treasure. It's useful, but at the same time beautiful—so beautiful, in fact, that getting it makes the recipient know that somebody feels her home deserves nothing less than a treasure.

It may be a stunning coffee table to give the living room greater charm and interest. It may be a handsome lamp, or a pair of unusual bookends.

Whatever it is and regardless of its price, there will be something quite out of the ordinary about it.

MAKE IT THE BEST OF ITS KIND

Smart shoppers know that two gigantic, extremely absorbent bath towels are a more flattering gift than half a dozen limp, skimpy ones. One paring knife of superior, lasting quality will be more appreciated than a large, matched set of mediocre knives which just won't stay sharp. A tiny vase of finest china makes everyone in the home to which it goes happier, really, than a pair of large vases that are pure and simple junk.

To flatter your favorite host and hostess, and to give a new air to the home to which your Christmas gift goes, consider sending a pair of pottery salt and pepper shakers—the one for salt in the shape of capital S, the one for pepper in the shape of capital P.

Brand new are bookends made from heavy glass blocks with leather ends; china bookends with space for ivy or flowers; crystal dessert dishes in apple, pear, and other fruit shapes; wall brackets of bleached mahogany, in Regency plume shapes, for plants or flowers; a silver vacuum jug that will keep forty cubes from melting for hours and hours.

Silver-plated holders, in grillwork design, to hold chili sauce and mustard bottles are sure-to-be-useful gifts. So are: a leather telephone book rack for a desk; a miniature four-poster bed of silver which is a cigarette tray; a tiny chest containing an assortment of jams, jellies and preserves.

WALLPAPER PANEL IS UNUSUAL GIFT

Good-looking bedspreads come in attractive boxes that make handy storage boxes for the closet shelf after Christmas. A hand-decorated wallpaper panel, with muslin back, will solve the "no fireplace" problem rather neatly. A panel of this type can be glued to the wall where a fireplace should be but isn't and allow for an interesting grouping of furniture. Or it may be used above a divan or buffet or on a wall along the stairway.

A fuel bucket of black sheet iron is trimmed with a gold eagle. A charming boudoir ensemble includes a dressing table skirt, down quilt and blanket cover of pale pink silk crepe, printed with tiny blue rose buds. A double-duty candle holder can be used bottom-side up to hold flowers or bottom-side-down to hold a candle.

A walnut gun rack to hold four guns will make the sportsman happy. A leather bag with handles, containing an irritated automobile robe and cushion is a good present for a family.

A three-way measuring jigger of sterling silver not only measures the drink but pours and stirs it. It's a measuring cup, posed atop a long-handled spoon. A miniature trap door arrangement in the bottom of the cup allows the liquid to run down into the glass to be stirred with the spoon.

Utilitarian treasures to make the homemaker happy Christmas morning include: a combination lamp and coffee table of beautiful mahogany with a genuine leather top; a stunning lamp with a green china frog on a green china teadstool forming the base; pottery bookends that are also ivy or flower containers; a crystal cigarette box with a hinged cover. On the floor are: a set of flowered china coffee cups and saucers on an interesting carrier with handles from which the cups hang; apple-shaped dessert dishes; a photograph album with covers of bleached wood; a gold decorated china horn for flowers.

Board Of Governors Will Meet Tuesday

Last regular meeting of the board of governors of the American Business club for the year will be at noon Tuesday in Hilton hotel where plans for the annual election and for closing out the year's work will be discussed, J. E. Maisen, chairman, said this morning.

A nominating committee headed by Dr. M. M. Ewing, past president, and including J. A. Fortenberry, Earl Hunt, J. Ray Dickey, Bill Collins and Clarence Wigginton, will meet with the board. The committee is to present its nominations at Friday's luncheon and nominations from the floor will be made Friday and the following Friday.

Friday primary will be Dec. 13, with the two highest candidates for each office to be voted on in the run-off on the following Friday. New officers for 1941 will be inaugurated at a ladies night program the night of Jan. 3.

Meeting Called For Reserve Officers

Col. C. S. Richards, of the Fort Worth military district, has called a special meeting of the Lubbock Reserve Officers group school for 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, the gathering to be held in the Military Science building on the Texas Technological college campus, according to announcement by Lieut. George Blair.

Col. Richards advised that "regularly scheduled lessons will not be given. This meeting is of utmost importance to all reserve officers in furnishing information to them regarding many subjects of importance. Get your questions down now . . . Will try to answer all if time permits."

Miss Mary Ellen Jones Is Bride Of Mr. Lair

Word has been received of the recent marriage of Miss Mary Ellen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Jones of Dallas, to Nard Lair of Jourdanton. The bride, who is a graduate of Waco High school and former student at Dallas Art institute, is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she majored in art.

Mr. Lair, a former resident of Amarillo, also is a graduate of Tech college. He is band director and science instructor in the Jourdanton High school.

Patterson Is Named To Littlefield Job

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 2—Sam M. Patterson, who has been secretary of the Edinburg Chamber of Commerce since last spring, has been elected secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and has accepted the post and is moving here in the near future, John A. Price, president, announces.

There has been a vacancy in the local organization since last Aug. 1 when B. L. Cogdill resigned to accept a position with National Youth administration in Lubbock.

Patterson has been in chamber of commerce work for 15 years, serving at Corpus Christi, Taylor, Weslaco, Conroe, Mission and Edinburg. He is married and has a son and a daughter, both grown.

Another Bear Story From New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 2 (U.P.) — New Mexico ranchers are noted for their ability to ride, but one down in Sierra county recently set some kind of a record when he outsprinted his horse.

A wounded bear was chasing him. State Game Warden Elliott Barker said today. Rancher Dick Nunn had dismounted and shot the bear twice, starting the race. Although the horse had a start, Barker reported, Nunn breezed by his mount.

After the bear had caught the horse and sent its saddle flying with a swipe of its big paw, Nunn killed the 550-pound animal.

German Newspaper Attacks Switzerland

BERLIN, Dec. 2 (U.P.) — The influential newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung today published a bitter attack on Switzerland.

It warned Switzerland to cease her "unneutral, pro-British" attitude.

The article, "The Swiss in Churchill's service," was featured on the front page. It said:

"The German nation will never forget the attitude of the Swiss public during this war. While a people of 80,000,000 is fighting for its naked existence, it sees itself almost unceasingly attacked from the rear, insulted and slandered by newspapers of a small state whose government claims to be neutral."

Agent To Be Transferred

AMHERST, Dec. 2—Mrs. Ruth Evans Perry, Lamb county home demonstration agent since Feb. 16, 1937, has announced her resignation, effective Dec. 31, to accept a similar position in Carson county at Panhandle.

Successor is expected to be named within a short time, Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent, said in making an announcement of the transfer. Mrs. Perry succeeded Miss Bernice Westbrook, who also was transferred to Carson county in 1937.

To Be Given Farewell Party

During her work in Lamb county, Mrs. Perry has maintained a well balanced program of work, handling both the home demonstration club program and also one for 4-H club girls. The county home demonstration club council is planning a farewell for Mrs. Perry and her daughter, who makes her home with her mother here.

Club women have participated in the Panhandle-Plains dairy show at Plainview and the Tri-State fair at Amarillo, as well as conducting county fair exhibits at Littlefield under direction of Mrs. Perry. Women also have attended the annual short course each summer at Texas A. & M. college and also in district program for both districts 2 and 1.

Mrs. Perry came to Texas from Alamogordo, N. M., where her father is a physician and hospital owner.

Castro Election To Be Staged Tuesday

DIMMIT, Dec. 2—Castro county voters Tuesday will decide on issuance of a $600,000 bond issue for completion of a proposed road building project in the county.

The election was called Nov. 1 by the commissioner's court on a petition asking for the election. The court has named election officers foreach of the 17 voting precincts in the county.

Besides completion of a state highway paving program, it is planned to build county roads where necessary. There has been considerable discussion among voters of the county over the bond issue.

Deaf Smith county, adjoining Castro on the west, also will vote Tuesday on a bond issue for road work. The issue there is for the same amount as Castro county, $600,000.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with herb laxative, combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Mexico Pledges Cooperation In Western Hemisphere Defense Plan

Inauguration Held Sunday

BY EDWARD P. MORGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2—The government of President Manuel Avila Camacho was pledged today to a policy of Democratic cooperation in the defense of the western hemisphere.

Avila Camacho was inaugurated in a 26-minute ceremony Sunday, succeeding President Lazaro Cardenas.

Day Is Peaceful

The day passed peacefully. There were no reverberations of an alleged plot to assassinate the new president which police claimed to have thwarted. Nor were there any anti-United States demonstrations such as greeted Vice President-Elect Henry A. Wallace when he arrived last week as President Roosevelt's ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the inauguration.

The enthusiastic official greeting given Wallace, the appointment of pro-United States ministers to the new cabinet, the raising of the navy department to the status of a full cabinet ministry and Avila Camacho's speech were interpreted as favorable indications of closer United States-Mexican relations.

Place Of Honor

Accompanied by Ambassador Josephus Daniels and 24 other official United States representatives, Wallace occupied a place of honor at the ceremonies. He said that Avila Camacho's pledge to lead Mexico in hemispheric cooperation "is one of the strongest ever made by any Mexican statesman."

Cardenas took off the tri-color sash, the emblem of presidential authority, and put it around Avila Camacho. The new president then stepped before a microphone and addressed the nation.

No Mention Of Trouble

He made no mention of difficulties between the Mexican government and American oil companies whose properties had been expropriated by the Cardenas regime. He said, however, that he would make an effort to secure prosperity on the basis of fairness and the just distribution of riches so as to raise the nation's spirit by eliminating poverty. He said that the gains made by labor would be maintained and appealed for increased agricultural production.

More than 30,000 special police were on hand to prevent incidents.

(In New York, Columbia Broadcasting system officials said the broadcast of Avila Camacho's inaugural speech had been "sabotaged." Telephone lines were said to have been cut outside Monterrey by followers of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, the defeated presidential candidate.)

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say— The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 600 words will be considered for publication and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include, for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

WANTS STRIP TEASE

Dear Plainsman: In recent issues of your paper I have noticed a complete absence of "Letters to the Plainsman." Needless to say, I enjoy reading where someone has taken pen in hand to get you told concerning subjects about which you need a little dressing over.

I have wondered why people have quit writing to you. Is it because you answer so many of them through the press with a horse laugh, a tee hee, or a ha ha-a?

If they are still writing to you, are you failing to publish their letters for any good reason? Could it be that you have run out of answers? Or, are you just trying to kill what could be the best, most attractive, and really interesting sections of your paper?

Now, my particular gripe is that Lubbock is FIRST in everything except some of the best things. Some of the best things we see by your paper always happen somewhere besides Lubbock. Maybe the Chamber of Commerce ought to have a specialty man for this particular kind of job. What I have reference to is Gerta Rozan who put on her strip-picket act and jammed the streets with customers. The act was so good according to your newsprint that the cops had to be assigned specially to the street she was on to handle traffic. It must have been a great show when just one little woman — standing up for her rights — really got the job done.

Why doesn't something good like that ever happen here? California hasn't got anything on us and I bet we wouldn't have too much trouble finding policemen to handle the crowds. Out there in California people are protected in their rights. If something like that would just happen here I have a feeling there would be customers come in from the whole trade territory, to Lubbock. The streets would be jammed. There would have to be extra cops to handle the job, the traffic, and things like that. It would be a great three days and the Chamber of Commerce could take pictures of a crowded Lubbock the like of which otherwise there will never be such a crowd, with such eager interest.

Gerta had something to picket for—and with. What a girl. Then to end it all, they hoped, two chagrinned men draped her graceful shoulders with an overcoat and led her in the building away from the cheering crowd. But Gerta didn't quit. With a last stirring challenge she said. "Alright men, Alright. But—if you don't keep your word, I'll begin over where I left off."

Now Plainsman — don't tell me that was just another publicity stunt. That gal had something. She still has it. Why can't something good happen here? California has nothing on us. Please take it up with somebody and let something packed with human interest happen here.

Those fighting Greeks have got something too. Here's a dollar. Either give it to the Greek fund or save it for Lubbock's Gerta Rozan. If it does happen here, how about you and me offering to help handle the traffic, or will we have time for that?

And, by the way, if this letter is no good, I'll write another one. Please run Gerta's picture again. I lost my paper!

An Interested Citizen.

(Dear Interested Citizen: Thanks for your letter. I haven't printed as many letters recently As I did for a time because I haven't been getting as many. That fact makes me a lot unhappier than it does you, or anyone else. If the folks'll just keep writing 'em, you can bet your shirt I'll keep running 'em—even those which accuse me of stealing money from the gold footballs fund! I join you in a rousing cheer for Gerta and the Greeks. I have turned your donation of one buck over to Mr. George Apostophalis Zarafonetis, who was very happy over receiving same. Thanks again. The Plainsman.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Dear Plainsman: Something more than a year ago the citizens of Lubbock were more or less promised that if the parking meters were retained in Lubbock the revenue gathered from them after they were paid for would be used to enlarge the police force of Lubbock. Certainly today we do need that enlarged force, that is if the wave of lawlessness and traffic violations is an indication.

Perhaps, too, Mr. Plainsman, it is not altogether a matter of our force being too small, but that the force we now have is also neglectful. How often have you seen a policeman pass by where a minor traffic violation was committed in his sight without blowing his whistle, or in some manner calling a citizen's attention to the fact that he had violated a law. That, Mr. Plainsman, is one of the most common faults of our force and most every citizen will admit would help him to stay in line even though he may not be a party to the violation. And please, Mr. Plainsman, if you do get one of the city officials to go with you on that tour, go by Dupre school at noon time and notice now parking is persistently practiced on the wrong side of Avenue T. Wouldn't it be a very efficient thing if our Chief himself (on his way to lunch) would stop off there a few minutes and break that up before some of our children get run over? Did you ever notice how much time our policemen have to sit in cafes and drink coffee, day and night? Perhaps if they would utilize a little of that time on law enforcement we wouldn't need the extra force either.

Maybe, too, Mr. Plainsman if we would organize a safety league like we had a few years ago, when a few of our citizens took numbers of cars violating traffic ordinances and the police followed them up with giving tickets, would help. If I remember right, that was a star for our present chief when he first took office.

And while on the subject, I just wonder if it wouldn't be a very worthwhile thing for our chief to prove that he is not afraid of losing his job if he did arrest some of our "official friends." Take our police force out of the control of our City officials or Dads, and give it to the chief and my faith in him is that we'll have a "cracker-jack" police force without enlarging it one bit. Our policemen, too, will love to go about their duty knowing that their job depends on them being good policemen and not afraid of stepping on somebody's toes. I have about reached the word limit allowed in a letter to The Plainsman so will close.

Although my name is signed to this letter, I would much rather you used only my initials.

Yours truly,
C. T. B.

(Dear C. T. B.: Thanks for your letter. I think you voiced a good idea when you suggested taking the police department out from under the thumb of every official in the City Hall and putting it only under the direction of the chief of police. Like yourself, I have every confidence in Police Chief Don Reeder. He is fair, honest, intelligent, hard-working and Lubbock is lucky to have him. Further than that, he is both schooled and experienced in police work and knows more about his job than anybody else in town. You're wrong about any promise of using the parking meter "take" for more and better police protection, however. When the commission was talked into buying the gadgets those connected with it dodged any implications that the meters were a money-raising proposition. Don't you remember that ridiculous yarn about the city's "not being interested in the revenue angle?" The meters were bought at a prince's ransom, yet they require as much supervision from policemen as a two-hour parking law without meters would require! We have so many policemen watching the meters they don't have time to watch anything else, including life-snatching, limb-and-property-wrecking speeding and reckless driving. Very truly yours, The Plainsman).

Solid, Sober, Conservative Manuel Avila Camacho Becomes Mexican Chief Sunday

BY WILLIAM D. PATTERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2 — A quiet-mannered veteran of one of Mexico's two major revolutions and of numerous rebellions assumed Sunday the task of uniting a nation badly divided by a turbulent presidential campaign.

Solid, sober, conservative, 43-year-old General Manuel Avila Camacho was inaugurated as the republic's 46th president, succeeding his long-time friend and current backer, Lazaro Cardenas.

On husky Avila Camacho's bull-like shoulders and imperturable temper will rest the burden of solving the complex economic and political problems, such as the oil expropriation controversy, left him by his predecessor and of consolidating the social advances of Cardenas' radical administration.

Suited For Difficult Task

The incoming president's friends, and even his critics, say he is suited by temperament and experience for this difficult task.

Renunciation of all presidential claims by General Juan Andreu Almazan, unsuccessful independent candidate, has apparently liquidated the possibility that the president-elect might have had to defend his government on the battlefield.

But the battlefield hardly would have been a new experience for him. Avila Camacho rose to the top in an era when politically ambitious young men made their way by fighting in the nation's frequent rebellions. He seemed to have a political instinct right at the outset, for he always fought on the winning side.

Fundamentally A Soldier

Today, squat, sturdy and heavy in the girth, he is still fundamentally a soldier, but he is ready to tackle any political or economic issue.

As minister of national defense under Cardenas, Avila Camacho in two years won prominence for modernizing the army and making it one of the finest educational institutions in Mexico. Schools were established at which ambitious soldiers could even obtain degrees in medicine, engineering and law.

This emphasis of a soldier on education did not surprise the general's intimate friends. They knew that one of his principal recreations was reading.

His library is stocked with books in Spanish, French and English, all of which he reads although he does not speak English. He published a Spanish translation of a French army officer's book, "The Education of an Army in a Democracy."

In his spacious home in Mexico City's most fashionable section, Lomas de Chapultepec, Mexico's new chief executive turns to history or economics when he wants to relax with a book.

In the midst of his public responsibilities, Avila Camacho has always found time for polo. He plays a hard game, but his goal rating is low. His other principal recreation is billiards.

Wife A Distinguished Beauty

He converses fluently, but to the point without waste of words. At his first mass press interview, 15 foreign correspondents were unanimous in appreciation of the aptness and frankness of his answers, which nonetheless were shrewd in what they left unsaid.

The general's wife is a distinguished beauty from Jalisco state whom he married 20 years ago. Their marriage has been childless, but they recently adopted a young boy.

When not in the city the family lives on a small ranch outside the capital where Avila Camacho raises blooded horses. The general drinks sparingly and seldom plays cards.

Climaxes Turbulent Journey

Avila Camacho's arrival at the presidency, like that of most Mexican presidents, climaxes a journey marked by much fighting and by steady loyalty to the governments that so frequently called on him to crush rebellions.

He was born April 24, 1897, on a ranch outside the tiny village of Tezuitlan, Puebla state. His father was a substantial farmer and his mother an educated woman who devoted most of her energies to fighting for education for girls, something almost neglected in Mexico then. She probably gave him his interest in educational matters.

Joined Army In 1914

He was only 17 when he had his first taste of serious political action in 1914. He joined one of the armies of the revolution that took the field when General Victoriano Huerta assassinated President Francisco Madero and seized the presidency. He fought on the side of the forces supporting the successful but bloody revolution of Venustiano Carranza, who overthrew Huerta and gave Mexico her present constitution.

By 1920 Avila Camacho had risen to a lieutenant colonel. At this point he was transferred to the command of Colonel Lazaro Cardenas, then engaged in putting down the bloody uprisings of General Peleaz in the oil region around Vera Cruz and Tampico.

Fought With Cardenas

That same year Cardenas became a general and he made Avila Camacho a colonel. The relationship that was to see both men become president, with each other's help, had taken seed. They fought side by side all over the republic.

In 1924 Colonel Avila Camacho received what is still the army's outstanding citation for bravery.

Commanding a small force, he held the city of Morelia, capital of Michoacan state, for three days against a large besieging army under the banner of former President Adolfo de la Huerta, who was attempting to overthrow President Alvaro Obregon.

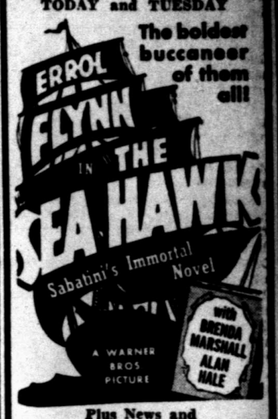

For this feat, Avila Camacho, then 27 years old, was cited throughtout the nation three consecutive days in army orders for "unequaled bravery."

He continued his career as a soldier, during which he rose to the highest rank of divisinary general, until 1937 when Cardenas, as president, appointed him minister of war. One of his first acts was to change the department's title to ministry of national defense.

He faced one job of defending the government in this capacity. He personally directed the suppression of General Saturnino Cedillo's revolt against Cardenas in 1938.

To celebrate their golden wedding, Mr. and Mrs. M. Green of Leighton Buzzard, England, gave a house to the Waifs and Strays organization.

Red Raiders Wind Up Season Against San Francisco On West Coast Saturday

H-SU Ready To Play Crimsons Just Anywhere

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, a disillusioned football club with nothing ahead but the end of the season, reach that point Saturday when they meet the oft-beaten San Francisco university Dons in San Francisco.

Up to Sunday, the Dons had not won a football game since way back in 1939. Yesterday the Dons played Loyola of Los Angeles, a team that had won three games from minor colleges of the Pacific coast, and won, 21 to 0.

Lost To H-SU

Early in the season, the Techsans walloped Loyola, 19 to 0. That score would indicate a fairly close game, but the Loyola team has been on the downgrade ever since playing Tech.

Two weeks ago, the Dons visited Lubbock briefly while on the way to Abilene to play Hardin-Simmons, to whom they lost, 28 to 18.

Here's the San Francisco season record: 0 Stanford 27; 7 St. Mary's 13; 6 San Jose 7; 0 Creighton 0; 0 Santa Clara 27; 18 Hardin-Simmons 28; 21 Loyola 0.

Kimbrough's Willing

There is nothing there to cause the Dons to hang their heads in shame. The only decisive beatings were by Rose-Bowl bound Stanford, by Santa Clara, which lost only to Stanford and by Hardin-Simmons, one of the select group of undefeated, untied teams.

Incidentally, Hardin - Simmons still wants to play Texas Tech a post-season game. Said Coach Frank Kimbrough after his Cowboys walloped Howard Payne 27 to 7 Saturday: "We'll play Texas Tech anytime, anywhere, including a cow pasture." However, the name Hardin-Simmons has cropped up quite frequently in rumors concerning an Orange Bowl opponent for Mississippi State.

Tech Not Enthusiastic

But Texas Tech officials have never been too enthusiastic about playing Hardin-Simmons this season. Perhaps they have had something about bowls in mind, or perhaps they just didn't want anything to do with Hardin-Simmons. What effect Saturday's defeat will have on both sides is problematical.

With one possible exception, all other Lubbock teams have finished the season. The Lubbock High Westerners ended their 1940 gridiron business last Thursday by absorbing a disastrous 20-0 licking from Plainview; it was the first time since 1935 the Bulldogs had beaten Lubbock.

The one exception is the Dunbar Panthers, the local colored team. Coach Damon Hill's Panthers are tentatively slated to play Abilene Christmas Day on a neutral Snyder field.

Newcomers Bow In On Scoring Parade

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)— Two newcomers broke into the list of sectional scoring leaders in college football last week as the season closed for most of the top-ranking men, but they had no chance to overcome the head start they had given to Jackie Hunt of Marshall college and Tom Harmon of Michigan.

Although their campaigns closed the previous week, Hunt scored a total of 162 points, all resulting from 27 touchdowns which established a new intercollegiate mark and Harmon made 117 points.

Brumley Takes Lead

Charles Larson of Culver-Stockton college in Missouri continued to hold third place among the sectional leaders although his 87 point total was surpassed by several unsuccessful candidates for Hunt's eastern crown.

The newcomers to the list in the final week were Ben Collins of West Texas State Teachers, whose 80 points put him ahead of Thurman Jones of Abilene Christian in the Texas Conference, and Bob Brumley of Rice, who scored all his team's 21 points against Baylor and thus took the Southwest conference lead away from big John Kimbrough of the Texas Aggies. Brumley has 59 points to Kimbrough's 48 and the Rice star still has one game to play.

Class A Bi-District Titles Go On Line

(By The Associated Press)

Seventeen bi-district titles go on the line this week in Class A schoolboy football, paving the way for the showdown when regional championships will be determined.

Class A football goes no further than that.

Colorado, Linden and Gaston already hold bi-district crowns. Colorado, champion of District 6, defeated Brownfield, leader of District 5; Linden, District 21 standardbearer, downed Center of District 22, and Gaston of District 24, won over Union Grove of District 23 in games last week.

Play starts as early as Tuesday night this week with Handley meeting Buckner Home (Dallas) at Arlington for the title of Districts 13 and 14.

Exports of American aeronautical products during the first six months of 1940 totaled $138,388,046. The total for the first half of the year is 182 per cent above the total of the first six months of 1939.

Here It Is! The Incomplete 1941 New Year's Bowl Menu

(By The Associated Press)

In the usual burst of post-season madness, the principals for three of the football "bowl" games to be played on New Year's Day were selected over the past week-end and one team was named for each of the other two contests.

The lineup, as it now stands, is:

Rose Bowl (Pasadena)—Stanford, Pacific Coast conference champion, vs Nebraska, once-beaten champion of the Big Six.

Sugar Bowl (New Orleans)—Tennessee, unbeaten Southwestern conference title winner, vs. Boston College, also unbeaten and unofficially regarded as the east's champion.

Sun Bowl (El Paso)—Arizona State of Tempe, Border conference champion, vs. Western Reserve.

Orange Bowl (Miami)—Mississippi State, unbeaten but tied once and runner-up in the Southeastern conference, vs. a team still to be chosen.

Cotton Bowl (Dallas)—Fordham vs. team to be selected next week by vote of faculty representatives of Southwest conference.

Stanford Makes Its Choice—

Nebraska Accepts Rose Bowl Offer

BY JAMES A. SULLIVAN
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2—Stanford university's football team, which couldn't win a Pacific Coast conference game last season, will play the University of Nebraska in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena Jan. 1.

Nebraska was invited last night by Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager.

Major Lawrence T. (Biff) Jones, athletic director for the Cornhuskers, "grateful and delighted," conferred with Dr. H. D. Bergman of Iowa State, head of the Big Six faculty committee, who contacted the other members. Within a short time, they agreed to waive the conference rule against post-season games.

Only Two Berths Left

Stanford became the Rose Bowl host by defeating California 13 to 7 on Saturday, its ninth victory of the season and tenth in a row. Stanford's only victory in 1939 was over Dartmouth in the final game.

Stanford's choice left only two berths in the five New Year's day bowl games to be filled.

Boston College, the nation's highest scoring outfit, and Tennessee, Southeastern champion, collide at the New Orleans Sugar Bowl. This will be the only one involving perfect-record teams.

Arizona State and Western Reserve of Cleveland will battle in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas.

Mississippi State In

Mississippi State, unbeaten but tied, has accepted an invitation to the Miami Orange Bowl. They probably will meet the Texas Aggies, Georgetown or perfect-record Lafayette.

Fordham university of New York City plays at Dallas. The Rams' opponents will be the Texas Aggies, Southern Methodist or Rice.

After the Pacific Coast conference faculty representatives went through the formality of making the Indians the conference's bowl team Stanford's three-man committee sat down to pick an opponent.

Boston College, Tennessee, and Mississippi State had made their arrangements. Pennsylvania had declined a "feeler"; Cornell, Michigan and Minnesota couldn't accept because of conference rules which couldn't be waived.

"Pressure", Favors Nebraska

Texas A. & M. and Nebraska, both with imperfect records, remained. It was reported that there had been pressure from Los Angeles against another Southern team again, so Nebraska was invited.

Nebraska, defeated only once — by Minnesota—will be the first representative of the Big Six conference in the Rose bowl.

Stanford, with a new coach at the helm—Clark D. Shaughnessy, who came from the University of Chicago when it de-emphasized football — had an inspired season.

Fordham accepted the Dallas Cotton Bowl invitation after Saturday's 26-0 triumph over New York university's giving the Rams seven victories against their one upset, by St. Mary's. The host team will not be selected until after Saturday's game between Rice and Southern Methodist the winner of which can tie the Texas Aggies for the Southwest conference title.

Bears, Washington Vie For Pro Crown

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, with one of the most powerful running attacks in the game, and the Washington Redskins, dangerous both aground and in the air, will battle it out at Washington next Sunday for the national professional football championship.

The Bears clinched the Western division championship and the Redskins won the Eastern sectional title as the regular season closed yesterday. The Bears whipped the Chicago Cardinals, 31 to 23, and Washington turned back Philadelphia's Eagles 13 to 6.

Baseball Meeting Is Opened In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 2 (AP)—The Texas league started the ball rolling with a meeting today and the Southern association will meet tomorrow preliminary to the 39th annual convention of the National Association of Professional baseball clubs which opens Wednesday.

More than 100 minor league officials were on hand this morning for the meetings of their loops, and Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Leo Durocher, Brooklyn pilot, headed the list of major league "come-earlies."

Expected today are Connie Mack of the Athletics, Bill McKechnie of the Reds, Joe McCarthy of the Yanks, Del Baker of the Tigers and others.

GAMES TO BE STUDIED

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2 (AP) — President Lorenzo Di Benedetto of the National A.A.U. left last night for the organization's annual meeting in Denver, predicting a strong movement to do something definite about setting up permanent machinery to conduct periodic Pan-American games.

New Zealand has ordered its residents to register all foreign securities owned by them and its Reserve Bank may purchase the holdings.

Nation's Grid Season Nears Final Stage

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—There aren't enough games left on the 1940 football schedule to have any great effect on the season as a whole, so it appears to be about time to summarize the results.

The final big week of the campaign produced only one major change in the status of the leaders. That was when the mighty Texas Aggies were beaten, 7-0, by Texas for their first defeat this season. That not only broke a string of 19 consecutive victories but it kept the Aggies from winning their second Southwest conference title outright and put them out of the running for the mythical national championship.

Four Leaders Stand Out

Next Saturday's game between Southern Methodist and Rice will, unless they tie, decide which team will tie the Aggies for the conference. Despite that defeat Texas A. and M. still is very much in the running for a place in the Orange Bowl or Cotton Bowl games New Year's Day.

The "major" teams that came through the season unbeaten and untied were Minnesota, which finished its Western conference conquest a week ago; Stanford's Pacific Coast champions; Tennessee, title winner in the Southeastern conference, and Boston College, unofficial ruler of eastern football. Lafayette, while not regarded as equal to Boston college in the east, had a perfect season and Mississippi State, runner up to Tennessee, had one tie to mar its record.

Eastern "Champs" Named

Reviewing the results by sections, the top teams are rated about this way:

East — Even a narrow escape against Holy Cross, when the Eagles won 7-0 with the "breaks," couldn't deprive Boston College of the No. 1 rating and an invitation to play Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. Beaten once but still very close to the top are Fordham, which will play in the Cotton Bowl game; Georgetown, which may meet Santa Clara in a Christmas day game in California; Pennsylvania, unofficial "Ivy league champion, Duquesne and Penn State.

In last Saturday's windup games Fordham swamped its old rival, New York University, 26-0, and Duquesne conquered its Pittsburgh rival, Carnegie Tech, 14-7. The day's biggest game, though the season's records don't support that contention, saw Navy whip Army 14-0, in a contest that wasn't any more interesting to the 102,000 fans than the parades which preceded it.

Close In South

South — Tennessee, when it beat Vanderbilt 20-0, marked up a string of 32 consecutive regular-season victories, which stamps the Volunteers as a great team even though there may have been a few more soft spots in their schedules than were necessary. Mississippi State qualified for an invitation to the Orange Bowl with a 13-0 triumph over Alabama. In other Southern conference games, Auburn handed Florida a mild surprise along with a 20-7 beating; Georgia turned back Georgia Tech 21-19 and Louisiana State beat Tulane 14-0.

Duke, while it finished only second to Clemson in the Southern conference standing, proved its right to about equal ranking when it conquered Pittsburgh 12-7 in a final intersectional scrap. Clemson and Duke didn't meet this season. Other windup games saw Davidson beat the Citadel 20-6 in the "cellar championship" contest and Maryland and Washington and Lee play a 7-7 tie.

St. Louis Triumphs

Still remaining on the southern card are Miami-Georgia next Friday, Auburn-Villanova, Florida-Texas and South Carolina-Citadel Saturday, and Georgia Tech-California Dec. 28.

Mid-West — With the Western conference race over, final week interest centered around Nebraska's clinching the Big Six title and the coveted Rose Bowl bid with a 20-0 victory over Kansas State. The Cornhuskers have lost out only four years since the conference was formed in 1928.

With Tulsa already holding the Missouri valley conference title, St. Louis university ended the campaign with a 3-0 victory over Washington university.

Cowboys Still Tops

Southwest— Southern Methodist and Rice met fairly strong opposition but kept in line for a title shot next Saturday. S.M.U. trimmed Texas Christian 16-0 and Rice beat off Baylor, 21-12 after trailing at the half, as a result conference faculty members who had planned to vote today on a representative for the Cotton Bowl game, delayed the ballot until after next Saturday's game.

Among the southwestern independents, Hardin-Simmons remained in the unbeaten-untied ranks by whipping Howard Payne 27-7 but Texas Tech, once tied, suffered its first defeat at the hands of New Mexico, 19-14. Arizona outscored Marquette 17-14 in an intersectional tussle.

Pacific Coast—Quite according to predictions, Stanford had its closest call of the year against California, winning out 13-7. Meanwhile Southern California, which plays Notre Dame next Saturday, whipped the hapless U.C.L.A. team 28-12; Washington clinched second place in the conference standing by scoring 27 points in the last quarter to beat Washington State 33-9; Oregon defeated Oregon State 20-0 and Santa Clara whipped Oklahoma 33-13. On Sunday the University of San Francisco scored a 21-0 victory over Loyola of Los Angeles. The Dons will seek another victory against Texas Tech next Saturday.

CLEMENT CRASHES OVER—Halfback Clement (23) plunges atop the mass from the one-foot line for Southern Methodist's first touchdown in the third quarter of the game with Texas Christian. TCU men, No. 22, Adams; No. 51, Connie Sparks, and between them (49) Alexander, couldn't stop the powerful thrust. No. 37 at left is Preston Johnston, SMU's sensational kicker. The Mustangs play Rice Saturday, the winner to share the SWC crown with Texas' mighty Aggies.

Rice, Ponies Seek Title Tie

Dallas Classic Waits On Tilt

By RICHARD M. MOREHEAD
United Press Sports Writer

Football thoughts in the Southwest conference, with the Texas Aggies toppled from the unbeaten class, turn today toward the Cotton Bowl and the Rice-Southern Methodist "co-champion game" at Houston Saturday.

After that will come the selection of a team to oppose Fordham in the Dallas Bowl on Jan. 1. The Rose and Sugar Bowls, oldest of the New Year Day classics, already are paired.

The Texas Aggies are a logical choice for the Southwest represen-

Lubbock Touchdown Club Meets Tonight

The football season continues out Texas Tech way and in the meeting place of Touchdown Club members today and tonight.

Head Coach Pete Cawthon, taking Tech's loss to New Mexico rather hard, has announced a "real tough workout" for this afternoon as the Red Raiders enter the final week of the campaign and prepare to meet San Francisco university next Saturday in California.

Touchdown Club members are invited to attend the regular meeting tonight, starting at 8 o'clock in the Hotel Lubbock ballroom. Cawthon said efforts would be made to show motion pictures, probably the Texas Tech-Wake Forest game. Cawthon will review last Saturday's game at Albuquerque where the Red Raiders went down, 14-19, in their first defeat of the season.

The team and several hundred fans returned Sunday morning from the New Mexico metropolis.

The Red Raiders plan to leave Wednesday or Thursday for San Francisco and the eleventh and final game of the season.

Alex McDonald, in charge of ticket distribution for the annual barbecue honoring the Red Raiders, announced this morning that the event had been moved back to Dec. 11, one day later than originally planned. Tickets, going for $1 each to all male football fans, will be available at the Touchdown meeting tonight, McDonald said.

State Boasting Great Record

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 2—Texas schoolboy football has just finished its greatest season in intersectional play.

This is not from the angle of having played the most games but in having the best winning average.

Texas schools played 28 intersectional games this year and finished with the handsome percentage of .750.

This despite the fact that schools of this state are observing an 18-year-age rule and not another state in America has one that low.

Texas schools won 18, lost 6 and tied 4 for the season. Not another state held a margin. The nearest was Louisiana which broke even with three victories and three defeats.

Oklahoma, Arkansas and Arizona failed to win a single game. New Mexico won three but lost six and tied three. Mexico got a tie in its only game against a Texas team.

There will be no more intersectional games this season. Interscholastic league rules prohibit them after Thanksgiving.

THE YEAR'S RECORD:

Texas	13	6	4
Louisiana	3	3	0
New Mexico	3	6	3
Arizona	0	2	0
Arkansas	0	1	0
Mexico	0	0	1
Oklahoma	0	6	0

Sandie Eleven Facing Tough Wichita Falls

BY TOM MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

It was a plain case of Amarillo against the field today as 16 Texas schoolboy football teams went to work getting ready for Class AA bi-district games.

The Sandies, a squad overloaded with capable, speedy, alert first stringers and reserves almost as good, were nearly everyone's choice as the best bet to be the 1940 champions.

Face Tough Opposition

Not since the days of the mid-twenties, when Waco ruled the roost and won three straight state titles, and the mid-thirties when other Amarillo teams did the same thing, has there been such an outstanding favorite.

But well-liked as they are, the Sandies — unbeaten, untied and almost unbothered in 10 straight games — have some fine football teams to contend with among the 15 other district winners entering the December playoffs.

Other Defensive Wonders

There are four more teams without defeat or tie — Fort Worth's Masonic Home, which has yielded but six points in nine games; Paris, Wildcats, another defensive wonder, with only 13 points scored against them; Stephenville's Yellow Jackets, with their amazing back, Barney Welch; and Corpus Christi's Buccaneers, the big boys from the valley, who averaged 30 points a game for 10 games.

In addition, there is Houston Jeff Davis, the team that played one scoreless draw but has given up no points.

Face Coyotes First

Two teams won every game but one, and in each case lost by the margin of an after-touchdown conversion. San Antonio Brackenridge was clipped 13-12 by Kerrville and Lufkin was upset 7-6 by Jacksonville.

And there also is Port Arthur, undoubtedly one of the state's best elevens, with a smashing offense that has rolled up 331 points in 10 games.

So Amarillo probably will not want for competition. In fact, there are a handful of dissenters among the pro-Sandie multitude who have high hopes of Wichita Falls' Coyotes tripping the Panhandle team right at the outset of the playoffs.

They Came Back

Wichita Falls was the team most mentioned when the state's high school coaches gathered on a sultry day last August at Austin for their annual confab.

But that was before September's opening games rolled around. First Masonic Home slipped in a 6-0 count over the Coyotes. Then Breckenridge emphatically chilled the favorites, 20 to 7.

But Wichita Falls roared back through the rest of their 10-game schedule and in the last eight not a point was scored against the regulars. So it's with some optimism that the Coyote fans go to Ama-

Greek Triumph Will Give Britain Vital Land Base

Nazi Support Is Unlikely

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Mussolini is making a desperate effort with heavy reinforcements to remedy the already far-reaching effects of his Greek defeat without having to thrust aside pride and appeal to Hitler for help.

A Fascist communique this morning reported that defending Italian troops had thrown back the attacking enemy in one sector. The victorious Greeks, however, claimed to have made important new advances all along their line.

Victories Boost Morale

That line, working on a pivot on the Adriatic coast near the Greco-Albanian boundary, is swinging across the mountains and valleys of Albania toward the sea like a windshield wiper.

This astonishing success of the little Greek army against the might of Rome is having a tremendous moral effect on both Britain and the neutral countries of the Balkans.

The Turkish press even claims, with evident relish, that the Nazis have been balked in their scheme for assaulting England in the near east by means of a drive across the Dardanelles. The British already are talking of the possibility of utilizing Greece as the gateway for a grand offensive by land against the German rear.

Italy In Predicament

All this savors a bit of wishful thinking, of course, but there is no gainsaying that if the Greeks, with British help, can hold their own against Italy, they will have opened up an invaluable base for English operations against the Axis.

It will give the British a land foothold against Hitler which they have not hoped to achieve for another year at best, owing to their inferiority in the air.

As a matter of fact the Fascists have got themselves into a predicament from which it would be extremely difficult for Hitler to rescue them at this time. There are only two really feasible forms of help the Fuehrer could give his Axis partner — one being with an air fleet and the other the sending of an army against Greece through either Yugoslavia or Bulgaria.

Avoiding Balkan War

There can be small doubt that the violation of the nervous neutrality of either Yugoslavia or Bulgaria might precipitate a general Balkan upheaval, that is exactly what Der Fuehrer has been trying so carefully to avoid.

So far as air assistance is concerned, that would be valuable, though it would require a huge aerial navy to reduce Greece at this late juncture in the operations. While Hitler likely could spare a considerable number of planes, he wouldn't want to weaken his attack on the British isles — an assault which is calculated in part to compel the English to withdraw forces from the eastern Mediterranean to defend the homeland.

Communications In Danger

The present indications are that Hitler intends to let his partner work out his own salvation. If Il Duce can do this, it certainly will be much better for the prestige of the Axis which already has suffered heavily because of the Fascist reverses in the Greek adventure.

Mussolini's greatest danger at the moment is that his communications between Italy and Albania may be severed by the growing British attack on them. He has plenty of forces and materials to devote to the Greek show, but cutting of communications would be fatal, for it would deliver the Italian army in Albania over to the enemy. An expeditionary force is only as strong as the supplies and reinforcements available for it.

The Chinese painted in water colors in the third century.

tative in the Cotton Bowl, although S.M.U. or Rice still can tie them for the conference title. The Aggies' regular season is over, marred only by Texas' inspired 7 to 0 victory last Thursday on Austin's Memorial Stadium gridiron.

The Cadets soundly whipped both S.M.U. and Rice. Outside the conference, Rice lost to Tulane and the Methodists were tied by Pitt. The winner of Saturday's game, however, will share the conference championship with Texas A. & M. If the Houston game ends in a tie, the Aggies will have an undivided second straight championship, never accomplished in this conference. Neither has the league ever had co-champions.

Meet Florida Saturday

If the Aggies, whose multiplied hopes were shattered by Texas, got their "druthers" in the post-season bowl business, they probably would choose to play Coach D. X. Bible's Longhorns again—anywhere except in Memorial Stadium.

Texas winds up its season Saturday at Gainesville, Fla., against Florida university.

S.M.U. beat Texas Christian 16 to 0 and Rice defeated Baylor by 21 to 12 last week to stay in the title race. The Methodists had an easy time with their traditional rivals, winning on a field goal and two short touchdown drives featuring backs Johnny Clement, Presto Johnston, Ray Mallouf and Red McClain.

Brumley Is Star

Gameshaver Bob Brumley, Rice fullback, sparked a magnificent last-half rally that overcome a two-touchdown Baylor lead built by Jack Wilson and Jimmy Wkt. Brumley was almost unstoppable during the final quarters, running for three touchdowns and kicking all three extra points.

English Movie Fans Can't Be Bothered

LONDON, Dec. 2 (AP)—A bomb blew out the electric supply of a London movie theater last night while the audience was sitting on the edge of the seats watching a murder mystery thriller.

The manager got up on the stage and told the audience the rest of the movie could not be shown.

The audience refused to go home until he told them who had committed the murder.

Sandie Eleven

rillo this week for the first game between the two teams since 1937, when Wichita Falls brushed the Sandies aside in a march to the state finals, where the Coyotes lost to Longview.

Other Favorites Listed

The Coyotes have a good veteran line, averaging 174 pounds and comparable to the Sandies' first stringers, but the backfield is a light one without a standout runner and is given little chance to match the Panhandle team's attack.

The bi-district schedule has several games which, on paper, pit evenly-matched teams. In only three contests are there heavily-favored elevens. Amarillo is one. Masonic Home's fine record gives it a strong nod over Sunset and Paris is rated to have a fairly easy time with Greenville, the latter having lost four games while winning six.

FRIDAY GAMES

El Paso of District 4, won 6, lost 2, tied 2, 118 points to opponents' 64, at Big Spring, of District 3, won 5, lost 3, tied 2, 88 to 59.

Paris of District 5, won 10, lost 0, 237 to 13, at Greenville, of District 6, won 6, lost 4, 117 to 96.

Stephenville of District 9, won 8, lost 0, 258 to 30, at Temple of District 10, won 5, lost 4, 110 to 57.

Lufkin of District 12, won 9, lost 1, 215 to 40, at Longview of District 11, won 9, lost 1, 192 to 64.

Corpus Christi of District 16, won 10, lost 0, 302 to 32, at San Antonio Brackenridge of District 15, won 9, lost 1, 213 to 53. (Night game).

SATURDAY GAMES

Wichita Falls of District 2, won 8, lost 2, 166 to 39, at Amarillo of District 1, won 10, lost 0, 274 to 28.

Fort Worth Masonic home of District 7, won 9, lost 0, 143 to 6, at Dallas Sunset of District 8, won 7, lost 2, 123 to 54.

Houston Jeff Davis of District 13, won 8, lost 0, tied 1, 166 to 0, at Port Arthur of District 14, won 9, lost 1, 331 to 20.

Fourteen Teams In "Perfect" Class

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Fourteen college football teams completed their 1940 seasons, excluding bowl games to be played on New Year's Day, 1941, as well as those played last New Year's, without a defeat or a tie to mar their records.

Headed by Boston College and Tennessee, which will meet in the Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans, they won from six to ten games each and compiled impressive scoring and defensive records. None is scheduled to take part in any of the regular-season games listed between now and Jan. 1.

There was only one casualty in the final full week of the gridiron campaign—Texas A. and M., which succumbed 7-0 to Texas last Thursday after having won eight in a row. Six of the others won their final games during the past week while the rest had previously completed their seasons.

At the top of the list, Boston College and Tennessee won ten games apiece, a total equalled only by Springfield (Mo.) Teachers. The Eagles scored 320 points, one more than Tennessee's Volunteers. Their opponents tallied 52 and 26 points, respectively. Springfield Teachers and La Crosse (Wis) Teachers came out about even in the defensive showings of the group. The Missourians allowed 20 points in ten games, La Crosse gave up nine points in six contests.

That Girl on Broadway says if you continually carry a chip on your shoulder, it's only a question of time until someone will come along and knock your block off.

Another thing this country needs is a law against football upsets! (Those moans of agreement you hear in the background come from Messrs. Cawthon, Smith, Keyes, Nichols—and about 99 per cent of the populace, plus, of course, Mr. Homer Norton of the "invincible" Texas Aggies!)

* * *

THERE'S nothing like a fire, destroying a two-car garage, servants quarters and an automobile to make a fellow realize how lucky he is that it wasn't the house, the furniture and the wife and kids that went up in smoke!

If you don't believe that, ask The Plainsman. He knows!

While we wouldn't want a repeat performance, we're well aware of the fact that a guy's gotta have a few unlucky breaks as he goes along and our latest could have been a whale of a lot wusser!

That Man on Avenue Q says a successful man is one who was foolish enough to keep on working when he would have rather been loafing.

* * *

You may have observed that the kind of person who boasts he always calls a spade a spade is constantly giving somebody a dirty dig.

IF members of the Lubbock City commission had put on effective disguises and trailed around with The Plainsman all day Saturday and Sunday, they would have gotten together early Monday morning in a special meeting and started to work on ways and means to enforce traffic regulations in our fair city.

We say this, because of the avalanche of "amens" which followed the discussion in this column Friday of bad driving conditions in Lubbock.

Citizens both young and old, and in all walks of life, took time out to call in their agreements with the idea that Lubbock should be made a safer place to venture out in; and still many others stopped us on the streets to deliver their opinions in person.

One Lubbock business man, Paul Sherrod, did more than say "amen." He had a bunch of windshield stickers printed, in red ink, with the words "Twenty is a Plenty In The City," and passed them out to customers who would take them. And practically all of the customers accepted the stickers and complimented Mr. Sherrod on the idea.

If members of the commission could have listened in on the phone calls and could have heard the statements made in person, they'd realize that the public wants action and is tired of stalling on the traffic problem.

That's why we say they'd have gone into special session to begin to commence to get started on the No. 1 job at hand.

As The Plainsman has commented several times, there is nothing radically wrong with the police department.

The officers, under able direction of Police Chief Don Reeder, have proved that frequently—the past proof coming only Saturday when, in co-operation with Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist, Chief Reeder and Assistant Chief Bill Mabray solved a recent epidemic of local robberies.

The main trouble is simply this: Lubbock does not have a sufficiently large traffic detail to handle the traffic problem here.

Lubbock needs a traffic detail large enough to patrol the entire city—day and night.

And if the police department hasn't enough men to institute such a traffic detail, more men should be added.

If members of the City commission do not realize the truth of these statements, then they're about the only local people stumbling around in the dark.

APPARENTLY no one in authority has ever taken time out to check up on our traffic shortcomings and then moved to improve conditions.

As a matter of fact, there is no system to our hit-and-miss way of handling the traffic flow outside the business district.

Even our so-called "through streets" aren't "through streets," at all, because while some of the side-thoroughfares leading into them have "stop-signs," others have "slow-signs," or no signs at all.

Thus the driver who thinks he's safe and has the right-of-way on the so-called "through street" is, instead, in more danger of being rammed into than if part of the intersections were not marked at all.

And the fellow on the cross street is permitted in some cases to run right into a so-called "through street" without any warning of the possibility of being hit by a driver who mistakenly thinks he has the right-of-way.

It doesn't take a traffic engineer to see the danger in this sort of a mess. It doesn't take an expert to remedy the situation.

All it takes is sufficient "stop-signs" to cover each side street intersecting a "through street," a couple of men to put the signs up—and enough action on the part of someone in authority to give the necessary orders in the matter.

There's no mystery about what should be done to remedy a condition which has been allowed to go on here for years and years.

From time to time, citizens and organizations have made efforts to get the City of Lubbock to do something about unhampered traffic violations here.

When Ross Edwards was mayor, he appointed a citizens Safety commission and a great deal of technical work was done and a full report was made to the City commission. Months later, some of the recommendations of the Safety commission were put into effect, but many others were not and haven't been to this good day.

Sometime after that, an acknowledged expert on traffic problems was brought to Lubbock at no cost to anyone. The Plainsman was one of a number of citizens who went with this expert, an official of the Texas Highway patrol, as he, flanked by Lubbock police, studied the situation first hand.

The expert made numerous recommendations; the public was told about them and that was that.

We doubt if his recommendations were ever followed, but if some of them were, they were minor.

His principal recommendations, covering installation of a "boulevard," or "through street" system, were promptly either overlooked, or forgotten.

MOST fair-minded people will agree, we believe, that the present city administration is, by and large, a good one.

Its handling of the city's fiscal problems and its general policy as regards finance have been most commendable.

Its active interest in street-paving, extension of utilities lines and of improving the sewer system, is fine and all that can be asked for.

The general tone of the commission is and has been unusually good and those in authority have been zealous in most of their work and duties.

All this makes it even more regrettable that the administration hasn't put forth its best efforts on the traffic problem, which defies solution only because of either lack of interest on the part of the officials, or because of pure mental and physical laziness in dealing with it.

The citizenship knows that an administration which can do almost everything else well—including many tasks far more difficult—can make Lubbock a better, safer place in which to walk and drive IF IT WANTS TO.

And we believe the authorities will want to make Lubbock a better, safer city now that they must realize there is widespread demand for action.

YESTERDAY: Ronnie goes west, registers at Pueblo U, meets Dr. Woodrow Wesley York, professor of archaeology. He is young, rather handsome, and easily embarrassed. After her conference, Ronnie flies south, discovers a group of men walking. She swoops down on them, is greeted by a burst of gunfire.

CHAPTER III
THE GIRL WITH A CRUTCH

The man across the table from Andre wasscowling.

"A fool you make of yourself," he was saying, "and fortunate for you is the change in plan."

"What do you mean?" Andre asked.

"I got your card. That much was all right, the information. But you would have been called here anyway. An—what is it you call yourself? Andre Girardeau, hah!"

Andre's lips tightened. He hadn't come to Washington to be insulted, and yet he was helpless here.

"After all, Herr Girardeau, if you will, you are to do exactly as you are told. Must I explain what I mean? No. I speak not for myself, you know that. Now at home you were always a soft mark for the women, and here in America you make a name for yourself with the first pretty woman you contact. Do you fancy that is approved?"

"Listen, I—"

"No. You listen. You. Now, you can never work high if you let your attraction for women rule you. Herr — un — Firardeau, and the newspapers have been picturing you and writing about you and—"

Andre interrupted. "I was not making a fool of myself. I told you the way to get at the father was through the girl. It is he who owns the new bomb sight, remember."

"Ah, the bomb sight!"

"Exactly! Already I have seen evtry inch of the big factory here, and soon I could be intimate with the man himself. Even if I married the girl, it would be a good cover."

"If you marry you will never live to be a good husband for long—remember that! But enough; there is work ahead. You go at once to Pueblo, New Mexico."

"But that's where the girl is!" Andre looked squarely at the other man, a squat, pompadoured one of middle age.

"Right. And the father. And the new bomb sight. What better region than a barren desert, to do bombing tests? Eh? We are not asleep, Herr Girardeau. You can go ahead and follow up your heart interest, impersonally. But not too far, mind you. If you are not to the quaint village of Pueblo and shrewd—" The man shrugged. "Do you need any money?"

"I must live amid wealth."

"Right. Here is a wallet with $20,000 in it. There is no lack of money if the goal is attained, just as there is no question—yet—of your loyalty, but—"

Andre nodded, frowning in impatience. He detested this man who was his superior here. "What am I to do now?"

"Here is a map." They spread a picture of North America and the short man began measuring with a pencil. "You can see that, by good fortune, Pueblo, New Mexico, is at a strategic advantage. The principal border towns such as Brownsville and El Paso, Texas, Nogales and Tia Juana, are in virtual barricade. But where the international line runs through the open desert land—there, this dot is Pueblo, and there is the university too, where the Bailey girl goes. There also do you go."

"All right."

"See, it is just this far to Tampico, and here is Guaymas on the Mexican west coast, and Mazatlan."

"I see."

"That's all, now. You go direct to Pueblo, contact our operative there and get further orders. Here is a ring set with a chrysocolla stone. Wear it for identification. And the other operative there will be feigning a sprained ankle and walking with one crutch."

"A crutch," echoed Andre, nodding.

"Right. Your ingenuity will then arrange a meeting."

When the conference was ended and Andre had attended to his banking errand, he reserved a place on the next air transport west. There was time before the take off to telephone New York and have his luggage forwarded.

The air trip was interesting until nightfall, and then because there was no stimulating passengers with whom he might converse, he retired early. Dawn found him in Hachita, New Mexico, waiting for the little side-trip train that would take him its "Dude College." By 1 p. m. he was on the college campus itself.

From the moment he got to Pueblo he was alert for the man walking with a crutch. Of course, chance might dictate more than one man on a crutch, but the ring would pave the way toward identification, Andre knew. He was in no great hurry.

He even thought of hiring or purchasing a car to drive out to the—what had Ronica said?—Rocking R. Ranch, and seeing Ronica herself. But he had been reprimanded for putting personal tastes first; so, better he form his business contact first. Ronnie probably would be on the campus anyway.

He liked the general looks of things. Pueblo University surprised him. It was a veritable oasis, as was the whole town. The clerk in the expensive if small hotel here informed him that the town and its cluster of ranches really depended on the one stream that watered this region year round. An eccentric but wealthy cattleman and his wife had endowed the university originally, and unexpected dude patronage had built it into a luxury school.

Andre liked the beautiful Spanish archetecture of its five buildings. The landscaping was superlative too, and he walked down an avenue of trees toward the administration building.

HHe was admiring the nude statue of an Indian maiden in a fountain under the building's main arch, when a long whispering sedan drew up. At the same moment a bespectacled man stepped out of the building, carrying three books and a brief case, but Andre turned idly to look at the car.

"M m m mmm!" Andre murmured appreciatively, to himself.

Through the sedan window he saw the face of a girl, Spanish or Mexican, of extraordinary coloring. He could see that she was small, and reasonably young, but so very sure of herself as to be a trifle haughty. He liked the way her straight hair swept low and backward to frame her face.

The bespectacled man had stepped toward her, and now he dropped his books. He was at her sedan door even before her chauffeur.

"Hello, Dr. York," she greeted him, and her voice was almost lyric.

"How are you, Senorita Montoya? May I help you into the building?"

She laughed gaily then and made a joke about her foot, but Andre's chin dropped. He barely regained his poise in time to keep from staring at her as she hobbled past him on one crutch.

LEAHY'S CHOICE A GOOD ONE

Appointment of Admiral William D. Leahy, U. S. navy retired, as ambassador to France seems to have named a man of very special qualifications for this particular post.

The most difficult of the present problems in the relationship between the French and the American governments is that involving the French possessions in this hemisphere and, specifically, those strategically located in the Caribbean sea.

That is a problem of which Admiral Leahy has the most expert knowledge. As a naval officer for more than 40 years, it was one requiring constant study because the Caribbean always has been one of the most important problems for the navy. He has had further opportunity to keep abreast of developments there because, from 1937 to 1939, he was chief of naval operations. Since his retirement he has been governor of Puerto Rico, which is the key to all our Caribbean defenses.

In short, he seems just about the best man Uncle Sam could get for the job at hand. It isn't likely that the Axis will get by with any funny business in connection with French possessions in the Caribbean as long as he is the nation's watchdog at Vichy.

NLRB, With Millis Added, Is Expected To Adopt Fair Attitude

Revamped Labor Board May Now Get Job Done

By BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Biggest change that has come over any government agency in years is about due on the National Labor Relations board.

There will be a lot of reorganizing and a lot of changes in personnel. Most important of all, however, will be the change in the board's general attitude.

The board's "new majority"—Dr. Harry A. Millis and Dr. William N. Leiserson—feel that the board should be primarily a scientific investigating body rather than a combination of judge and prosecutor. That implies a profound shift in the board's approach to its job.

Catton

For instance: technically, the board is not what everyone supposes it to be—a law enforcement agency. It has no power to compel an employer to do anything. It can't enforce its own decrees. All it can do is go to a federal court and, in effect, say: "We find the facts to be thus and so and we fell that the remedy should be such and such. Please look the whole business over, and if you see it the way we do pleast issue an order."

That being so, the "new majority" sees the big job as one of getting the facts—all the facts, not merely the ones which will support an accusation. For the board as they see it is not out to prosecute someone for violating a law; it is out to study a complaint, collect and examine the facts, and see what those facts indicate.

This means extensive research by trained men. It means much less wrangling by lawyers, much less ruling-out of evidence as "inadmissible" in labor board hearings. It means a labor board tackling a given job like an assayer who examines an ore sample—not to find out if there is one specific element in the sample but to learn exactly how many elements are there and in what proportions.

Big Job: Gets Facts

Along with all of this there will be a new emphasis on impartiality of approach and manner. Both Dr. Millis and Dr. Leiserson have spent years in the arbitration and mediation of labor cases. Mediation has no place in their present job—but the job is a lot like that of an arbitrator.

An arbitrator in a labor case is given a contract between two parties. He studies it to see exactly what it provides. Then he studies the facts, to see exactly how the situation which those facts create is affected by the provisions of the contract.

In a way, that's similar to the labor board's job as these men see it. In place of a labor contract, there is the Wagner act; find out what the facts are when there is a complaint, match them against the law,

Goes Back To Public

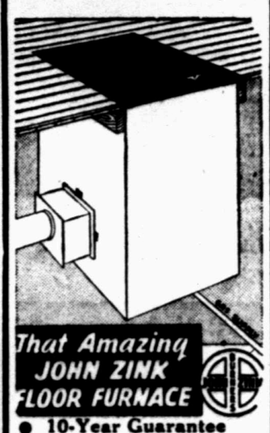

Mostly (to repeat) that is a matter of emphasis and approach. It implies that it's not enough to reach the right verdict unless you reach it in the right way. All parties must be convinced that the board is fair and is doing its level best to dispense justice. In every case that comes before the board, somebody is going to lose: unless the loser feels that he got a fair break from a studiously impartial tribunal, he's going to be sore and so is the general public. And if the public gets sore enough, the labor board is going to come a cropper no matter how right it has been.

MISSING: ONE HEAD—Camera angle played a trick on this Camden, N. J., football player, for it lopped off his head. Actually, he's leaning back to catch a pass, which Joe Werner (rear) intercepted, for Collingswood high school.

SKIPPER—Countries being changed by great events will greet Capt. Carl W. Hawkins, 42, who commands new liner, S.S. President Jackson, now on round-the-world cruise.

JOHN AND JOAN LAW—He's the law in this case, but Barbara Megna, 4, doesn't find him anything to be afraid of, in this friendly chat at Station 16 in Boston. She's dressed up for a grand occasion, which was the party given by Boston police stations, to keep 100,000 youngsters off the streets Hallowe'en. Scheme was started three years ago, and works.

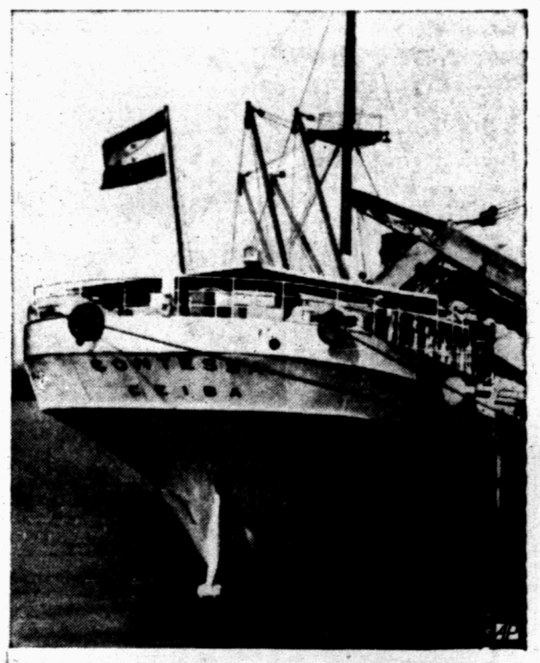

SHAKE WELL BEFORE USING—Series of shakedown flights was given the U.S. coast guard's newest and biggest flying boat (above), an unarmed counterpart of navy's latest PBY patrol bombers, over San Diego, Cal. The craft has a range estimated at some 4,000 miles, will be used primarily for rescue work. This is an official coast guard photo.

SOLD—When the Hambletonian is run at Goshen, N. Y., in 1942, keep an eye on Archie Hanover, trotting horse yearling who brought $850 at recent Harrisburg, Pa., auction. Archie, by Mr. McElwyn, went to John Kelley of Bangor, Me.

BANANAS BRING BONANZA—Americans' taste for bananas being what it is, some 20,000,000 bunches are handled annually at New Orleans, where these belts help speed up loading.

YELLOW FRUIT—Since 1872, when the first bananas were unloaded at New Orleans, taste for this yellow fruit has grown in U.S. This banana boat from Central America has just reached New Orleans, midway on trip to U.S. breakfast tables.

SHASTA UNDER WAY—Among the nine new bridges that will handle rail and motor traffic around Shasta reservoir in northern California is this, being built near Pollock. Shasta is part of the Central Valley river-control project. Another of the Shasta spans will be Pit River bridge, 500 feet high; it will be the world's highest double-deck span.

CRUSADE—Out of the seclusion in which she lives, Geraldine Farrar, former Metropolitan Opera soprano, emerged to help launch a campaign for the Philadelphia Opera company.

Belief That Germany Will Help Il Duce Grows In Balkan States

Hints Dropped Of New Plans

(By The United Press)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 2—Reports circulated today that Bulgarian and Jugoslav officials might go to Berlin soon; that some of the highest German army officers were going to Rumania; that "tourists" were flowing into Albania from the north.

The idea that Germany was planning to go to Italy's aid in the Greek campaign, whether Benito Mussolini wanted help or not, and that the Germans would take the short and hard road down the Balkans to Thrace, was gaining credence here.

Hints Are Dropped

German quarters here dropped cautious hints that Jugoslav and Bulgarian officials might go to Berlin this week. If they do, diplomats here will get the impression that Germany has won the tug of war with Russia which has tried to steer Bulgaria away from an alliance with the Axis powers.

There were reports in diplomatic circles that Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German supreme army command, and several of his staff officers, had gone to Rumania to stop the internal disorders and inspect German garrisons there. This was taken as an indication Germany intended to stabilize Rumania and turn her attention elsewhere.

Tourist Traffic Increases

The "tourist" traffic to Albania was reported to have increased steadily the past two weeks. Nationalities of the "tourists" were not mentioned. It was said, however, that Turkey had advised Bulgaria recently that the appearance in Thrace, the region including eastern Greece and western Turkey, of any excessive number of the German tourists now "resting" at Bulgarian Black sea resorts, would mean war.

The Axis powers' attempt to lure Bulgaria into an alliance was believed to have been called off two weeks ago at Bulgaria's insistence. Revival of the Bulgarian alliance reports indicated now that Germany was putting on pressure again. Diplomats here anxiously watched Bulgaria's trend. They pointed out that Bulgaria has many friends in Moscow, among them George Dimitrov, former defendant in the reichstag fire case and close friend of Josef Stlin; George Kolarov, prominent in the commissariat of interior, and Spiridon Chakorov, of Russia's state attorney's office who prepared one of the spectacular "purge" trials, all of whom are Bulgarians. It was believed that Dimitrov especially would be alert for any opportunity to crack down on his former German prosecutors, and that he might help induce Russia to give Bulgaria strong backing.

However adverse Adolf Hitler might be to a diplomatic struggle with Russia, observers here believed that he might soon find it imperative to intervene in Greece, to bolster Axis prestige; that if he did intervene it would be by way of Bulgaria or Jugoslavia or both, and that he would make it a part of his long range program for moving into the near east.

Kennedy Quits London Post

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. —A successor to Joseph P. Kennedy, who has submitted his resignation as ambassador to Great Britain, probably will not be chosen until after Jan. 1.

Kennedy announced his resignation after an unscheduled Sunday conference with President Roosevelt. He said he had resigned so he could devote his time to "the greatest cause in the world today . . . to help the president keep the United States out of war."

Action Taken Nov. 6

The resignation was handed to Mr. Roosevelt on Nov. 6, but Kennedy has agreed to continue to serve, without returning to London, until a new ambassador is chosen.

Kennedy was the fifth of President Roosevelt's top diplomats to resign in recent weeks. The others were William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France; John A. Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium; Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia and Belgium; and Hugh Wilson, former ambassador to Germany. Davies and Wilson had been serving as special assistants to the secretary of state.

Screws Tightened On Axis As British Block Vital Supplies

(By The Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 2—A survey of Argentine commercial and agricultural sources indicated today that Britain quietly is tightening her restrictions on ocean trade in an effort to keep vital supplies from reaching her Axis foes through nations not in the war.

Well informed sources said British economic experts were watching closely shipments of cotton, meats, fats and hides, and were checking on purchases in Argentina for Spain, Soviet Russia, Sweden, Finland and also conquered France.

These sources said the British already had killed a plan to sell 100,000 tons of Argentine cotton to Spain by declaring that navicerts for such a shipment would not be available.

The navicerts are certificates of British advance approval of cargo in ships heading through the British naval blockade.

Three months ago navicerts were granted for shipments of 50,000 tons of cotton to Spain and sources close to the cotton trade said they understood Britain approved the first shipments as normal Spanish imports but turned thumbs down on the later 100,000 tons as beyond Spain's present needs.

Negotiations were started recently to purchase Argentine meats and fats for shipment to France, but again indication that the British would not approve, regardless of what boats were used, was said to have spoiled the deal.

Heavy Russian purchases of hides and fats also have attracted the attention of the British. So far there have been no actual restrictions placed in the form of refusing navicerts but exporters concerned with such shipments to Russia have given hints that 'it would be unwise for you fellows to invest too much money in that business."

Swedish and Finnish buyers have been especially active in Argentine markets recently and the British were reported to be watching these transactions carefully.

Several Swiss firms, unable to import from Argentina, are continuing to make purchases of essential products, storing them in this country in the hope the war will end soon.

One famous Swiss manufacturer of soups already has a full year's supply of meat extract in storage in Argentina.

Second In Week

The Columbia powder plant was built five years ago on the site of the Foster-Newbegin lumber mill near Kapowsin.

It is well isolated from surrounding homes and farms.

The blast, second in the Tacoma region in the past five days, was felt 20 miles away. Newspaper switchboards were flooded with calls.

Last Thursday, the black powder plant at the DuPont plant near Fort Lewis exploded. No one was injured. Company officials were unable to determine cause of the explosion but said they "had no reason to believe it was sabotage."

Italian Misses Sell Tags To Aid Greeks

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2 (AP) — The little girl selling tags for the Greek war relief fund asked Thomas McGee, insurance man, to buy one.

"Are you a Greek? McGee queried.

"Oh, no sir," she replied earnestly. "I'm an Italian."

Several Italian misses joined Greek lassies in the tag sale.

News Briefs

Mahon To Washington—Congressman George Mahon was unexpectedly called to Washington Saturday by a message from Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House, saying that important legislative matters were to come up this week. He was due in Washington Monday. George Witten, his secretary, said the congressman expected to return to the district in about a week.

November Enlistments—A total of 118 men enlisted through the district army recruiting office here, during November, Major Walter Jessee, recruiting officer, said this morning. Several men appeared at the office this morning to take physical examinations. The district office was closed more than a week during the month while the force handled induction of draftees into the army.

Nurse Is Here—Miss Lillian Glenna, of Austin, an orthopedic nurse for the crippled children's division of the state department of vocational rehabilitation, began her work this morning for this district, said V. B. Watson, district supervisor of the department of vocational rehabilitation. Miss Glenna has 56 counties in Northwest Texas in her district. She has been at Austin with the department for nearly a year, and is a graduate of the Houston Methodist hospital.

Hereford To Dallas — Dr. Carl E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church and vice president of the Kiwanis club, went to Dallas last night for meetings today and Tuesday. Today he was to speak at a meeting of Texas-Oklahoma district Kiwanis club presidents and officers. Tuesday he is to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Texas Baptist convention in the First Baptist church there. Dr. Hereford is the only Lubbock Kiwanian to attend, other officers being unable to make the trip to the annual school for officers of the district.

No Fire Loss — A negro poured gasoline on the floor of a filling station at 1517 Sixteenth street this morning, but sloshed some near a gas stove. The fire department found only "a lot of black smoke—they had managed to get the fire out." There was no damage.

Jaycees Hear Florist — Overton Ribble, Lubbock florist, discussed the various problems and opportunities of his business in an informal talk before members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce today noon at the Hilton hotel. Ribble explained the Florists' Telegraph Delivery association and how orders may be filled within a short time anywhere in the U. S. through use of its service. George Reinhardt was program chairman. Gwynn Dowell and Hugh Dunlap talked briefly on the special train to Albuquerque, N. M., which was run under the sponsorship of the Jaycees.

Chapter To Meet—The Lubbock chapter of the Composers and Authors Association of Texas and America will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the home of Dr. R. S. Underwood, 2220 Broadway. Members will outline work they plan to do.

Perhaps She Used A Rolling Pin Often!

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 2 (AP)—When a house dog chased a rabbit across Mrs. Arthur Allegar's yard, she got out the family gun, aimed carefully and pulled the trigger.

Nothing happened.

So she picked up a rock and let it fly. The rabbit fell over—dead.

Houston Milk Strike Is On

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 2. — Home delivery of milk by six major dairies was at a standstill today and a federal labor conciliator sought to reopen contract negotiations between union drivers and the Houston Dairy Council.

Deliveries were halted early yesterday after a strike was called against the Phenix dairy and the five other members of the council suspended service.

The council announced, however, that milk would be supplied to schools, city and county institutions and hospitals during the shutdown.

Members of the dairy council met this morning with Joseph F. Myers, federal labor conciliator, who sought to end what union negotiators called a "lockout" by the five un-struck companies.

The dispute arose over demands of milk wagon drivers for a return to the pre-depression wage scale of $27.50 per week, plus 13 per cent commissions. The demand would represent a $5 weekly raise for retail sales drivers.

Maj. Stiles Decker, head of the dairies' negotiation committee said that union demands, if granted, would represent a $140,000 annual increase in operating costs.

Nazis To Rumania

Horia Sima, who has besought discipline.

A second was reported behind Ion Codreanu, father of Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, slain founder of the guard, whose death during the Carol regime it has been avenging with a blood purge.

A third section, and by far the biggest, reportedly was out of control.

A parade in Bucharest of a German motorized division was interpreted in Hungary as a warning that German legions are prepared to restore order in strife-ridden Rumania unless the Rumanians do it themselves.

This last section was reported to be looting and satisfying personal vengeances under the protection of hastily donned green shirts.

Numbers Increase

Wearers of the green shirt, who numbered 6,000 two months ago, now number more than 200,000 with a greater part of the sudden increase made by indiscriminate recruiting and self-appointment of members, including most of the underworld of Bucharest and other large cities and inmates of hastily emptied prisons.

Confusion as to who was following whom, with the army unable to decide whom to support or how to distinguish between green shirts made it probable, report said, that the German armed forces would take an even stronger stand.

Former Appeals Court Justice Dies Sunday

HOUSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Funeral services for Judge Charles E. Lane, 84, former appeals court justice who died here yesterday, will be held at Houston today.

Judge Lane served from 1910 to 1914 as associate justice of the first court of civil appeals at Galveston. Before his appointment he practiced law at La Grange.

Accepting an invitation from St. Paul's, the 28-year-old Canadian promised to "pack the pews for Christianity if I have to pull rabbits from the organ stops." He was forced to nothing more sensational than the rose stunt, however, and another illustrating "clear understanding" and "true friendship"—a ribbon, divided, then made whole again.

The Hempstead-Bellville road remained closed, the only one in the Hempstead area not open. This highway was expected to be opened tomorrow.

Only one railroad, the Southern Pacific from Hempstead to Brenham, remained flooded.

From a peak of about 46 feet, the Brazos had dropped near the flood stage of 42 feet at Hempstead.

At Richmond, it had risen to around 39 feet, closing a county road from Richmond to Thompson's oil field.

BOOK IS BANNED

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 2 (UP) — The language of Ernest Hemingway in his latest book, "For Whom The Bell Tolls," is too robust for general reading, public library officials said today in banning the book. Hemingway's book "To Have And Have Not" also was banned here.

Three Jailed After Chase

fugitives began a wild ride with the farmers in pursuit. They sped into Lubbock, wove at high speed up one street, down one alley and thence into any avenue they might find, in an effort to confuse the pursuing farmers.

Finally, unable to shake pursuit, they headed north from Lubbock on the Plainview road and turned just north of Meadowbrook golf course down the old Idalou road. They found themselves closely followed and one of the shots Coats began unleashing from his gun burst a tire of the trailer and went completely through the rim of the wheel.

The men found themselves trapped in the driveway of the John Jarrott residence two miles northeast of Lubbock, so abandoned the car and trailer and took to their heels.

The farmers went to the police station and asked for help. They also called Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and the deputy and two police prowl car patrolmen, John Truly and Homer Harrison went to the Jarrott residence and towed the car and trailer to the police station.

Car Rushed Away

The officers, believing the fugitives might attempt to steal their car from the station, pulled off the distributor cap so the engine could not be started, then went briefly inside the station.

When they came out the car had been disconnected from the trailer and pushed away.

The officers fanned out and found the car being pushed by another machine, in 500-block Fourth street.

The two Bivenses were arrested. Harrist and Cap Moore, another deputy sheriff, arrested White at the Bivens residence Sunday afternoon.

Wants To Get Out

White, owner of the car, was quoted as saying the only reason he wanted his car back was because "I want to get out of this state and back to New York."

White officials said, was suspected of having been the one who escaped across the Coats field under hail of rifle bullets.

Coats could not be reached to give the names of those who assisted him in the chase.

The weekend otherwise was dull when compared with recent weekends.

Only One Breakin

Only one breakin was reported and that was ascribed to tramps who burst in the Tomlin cafe at 1309 Avenue C and took what they could quickly scrape together.

But Bill Mabray, assistant chief of police, said a quantity of chewing gum chewing tobacco cigarets, aspirin tablets, cigaret papers, shoe strings, snuff, matches, razor blades, cigars and cough drops had been recovered.

They were found in a sack left in a sewer ditch, he said.

Police reported two tires and a wheel had been stolen from L. E. Gill of 1947 Avenue H an automatic pistol from the automobile of Kim Bertram of 2414 Sixth street, in 2300-block Broadway.

Bicycle Recovered

A bicycle was recovered. Doris Levine of 3017 Nineteenth street reported information on a hit and run driver, and Sheriff B. L. Parker of Tahoka asked that two negroes be arrested for a forgery complaint. A bottle was thrown through a window of Modern Appliance store at Broadway and Avenue K.

Police said they had arrested two youths, one of them probably being wanted by the sheriff's department on an old felony warrant, after they had attempted to "stir up a fight at a cafe."

Charges were to be filed today against a man who was arrested in bed.

"He was bloody all over and his wife, beside him, also was bloody," an officer said. They said he had beaten her with his fist and that she would have accompanied them to the station to file a complaint, but she kept fainting every time she tried to get up."

The sheriff's department released a man to the Cooke county sheriff's department Sunday. He was reported wanted on a felony warrant.

Three youths were held for investigation into a series of recent burglaries, joint announcement of the sheriff's department and the police said, and felony cases may be made out.

Testimony In Land Case Is Presented

Taking of testimony in the case of J. J. Kendrick against Ernest Ownby of Tulsa, Okla., and others was begun in United States district court this afternoon after a jury was impaneled by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, presiding.

Rest of the panel of more than 30 jurors, who reported at 10 o'clock this morning, were instructed to report at the same hour on Tuesday. The suit involved two sections of land in Yoakum county, with an estimated value of $60,000, due to oil leases and royalty.

Vickers and Campbell represent Kendrick, formerly of Seagraves and now of Lubbock, and Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam and Hugh Ownby of Tulsa, son of the defendant, represent the defendant. W. W. Campbell made the opening statement to the jury of the plaintiff's side and Crenshaw for the defendant. A large number of residents of Yoakum and Terry counties were here, as well as Gaines county, for the hearing.

German Bombers Strike Hard At Southampton; British Air Squadrons Said Retaliating

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 2— Southampton, Britain's vital south coast port, again was singled out by German air raiders last night as the "main objective" of their aerial onslaughts on England.

A government communique, affirming a German report that Southampton, once the main port of call for trans-Atlantic liners, was the principal target of raiders for the second successive night, said "a number of fires was caused, but they were all under control by daybreak."

Earlier, censors had refused to permit identification of the town, and dispatches called it a "south coast town." The British said then, however, that casualties were expected to be lighter than in the violent onslaught on Southampton Saturday night, when the port, 80 miles southwest of London, got its worst raking of the war.

British bombers, meanwhile, attacked objectives at Lorient and Brest in France and also in Norway and Denmark, the air ministry said.

The submarine base and naval docks at Lorient and the power station, jetty and drydocks at Brest were reported attacked, as well as a military camp at Kristiansand, Norway, where bombs were said to have fallen "among the barracks buildings and . . . warehouses on the quayside."

"Another aircraft of the coastal command made a successful attack on the gas works at Asbjerg, in Denmark, a communique said. "An explosion followed the bombing and flames covered the whole area."

(The German high command said several British planes attacked a German "city in the coastal region," bombing residential sections and injuring several persons.)

The raids in the south began early last night, with many Nazi planes crossing the coast. First they dropped flares to light their targets and followed with incendiary and high explosive bombs. In one area a raider was said to have come down to spray tracer machine-gun bullets into the darkness.

London had a "two alert" night, the first all clear coming fairly early and the second soon after midnight. The alert periods were marked by heavy anti-aircraft barrages.

The rumble of explosions from the French coast across the channel indicated that British fliers were retaliating with new attacks on "invasion ports."

Stock Market

MARKET QUIET

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—The stock market turned and reopened without much vigor today, either direction being short lived. The result was a narrowly mixed close.

Bidding for steels helped lift motors, spirits at the start but this soon faded and early advances running to a point or so were pared or replaced with reactions.

Dealings were relatively sluggish throughout; transfers for the full proceeding approximating 500,000 shares.

Alterations usually were under watchfulness edged forward now and then and occasionally bulged about enough to show gains with motors, rubber, oils and coppers. Weakness, however, was as rare as strength.

Business prospects continued good, but earnings insufficient stimulating market excuse. Steels had their moments, the outlook when this week ended operations were officially placed at 96.9 per cent of capacity, up from the week before. Some giving a favorable account of themselves included Du Pont, Great Northern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Public Service of N. J., Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Texas Corp., Allied Stores, Radio, Amerada, Anaconda, Int. Nickel, Int. Harvester, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Simmons, Standard Brands, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Union Carbide, U. S. Pay Warrant Is Being Held Up

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. (U.P.) — Pay for state officials who are also officers in the Texas national guard was again held up when Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann requested State Comptroller Sheppard not to issue warrants until a decision is made if litigation over the pay shall be carried to the U. S. supreme court.

Involved is the pay of Adj. Gen. J. Watt Page, on active duty as state selective officer; of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, commander of the 111th quartermaster regiment, 36th division, who is state railroad commissioner; back pay of Major Orville Carpenter who was executive director of the Texas unemployment compensation commission, and the pay of a half dozen state employes who are in military service in connection with induction of the national guard or operation of the selective service law.

90 Days Allowed

The attorney general has 90 days in which to perfect an appeal to the U. S. Supreme court but is expected to decide within a few weeks if appeal shall be made.

Major Carpenter's pay already had been issued by Comptroller Sheppard in warrant form, after the supreme court refused a rehearing on Nov. 21 and granted a mandamus ordering the payment.

National guard officers here declined to be quoted but contended there is no federal question involved.

They pointed out that the question of eligibility to hold both places was raised before Federal Judge Robert McMillan in San Antonio yesterday.

No Federal Question

In an attempt to enjoin a bus permit hearing there yesterday it was contended that because Colonel Thompson is in military service now he was disqualified to conduct a hearing as railroad commissioner.

Judge McMillan said that the Texas supreme court having decided that a state officer could also hold military office, there was no federal question involved, attendants at the hearing said.

Members of the state armory board were not immediately affected by Mann's request that pay be withheld as they do not receive any compensation. Their right to hold both offices, however, would be involved in an appeal to the U. S. supreme court. Member of the armory board is Maj. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead of San Antonio, commander of the 36th division.

Organized Farmers Want More Money, Less Federal Aid

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)— Organized farmers want more money for their products and less in the form of government payments.

So asserted Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, as he summed up his views on farm sentiment today in advance of the convening of the 77th Congress in January.

Farmers feel, O'Neal declared, "has failed to give them full economic and that sometimes NMRtan times nomic parity with other groups and that something should be done about it, especially in view of the fact that a vast majority of farmers have fulfilled their obligations under AAA requirements."

"There is no question," said O'Neal as he cleared his desk preparatory to leaving for the federation's annual meeting at Baltimore, Dec. 9-12, "that Congress will have to wrestle with the farm problem again."

Value Of Non-Residential Building Permits In October Shows Gain Of 244 Per Cent

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.— Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reported today that the value of non-residential building permits issued in October rose 224 per cent above the corresponding month of last year, largely because of national defense construction.

Total building permit valuations in October, including new residential construction, additions and repairs and alterations, she said, were "practically double" last year's total, registering a gain of 98 per cent. The rise, she said, ranged from 200 per cent in the New England area down to 20 per cent in the east South Central states.

October valuations were 53 per cent above the September figures. Non-residential construction showed a gain of 148 per cent; new residential building, 15 per cent, and repairs, alterations and additions, 6 per cent.

Farmers Will Gather To Discuss Elections

Farmers and property owners of the eastern part of the county will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Idalou community club house to discuss the coming cotton marketing quota election on Saturday, the soil district conservation election of the following Saturday and the 1941 farm program, said C. C. Jobson, county farm agent.

A free motion picture, supplied by Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college, is to be shown.

Speakers, besides Jobson will include C. T. Wasson, Agricultural Adjustment Administration secretary; Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent and O. T. Williams, area conservationist of the federal soil conservation service. Miss Mona Keeter, assistant home demonstration agent and Lee H. McElroy, assistant farm agent, also may speak.

Fort Ord Is Ready For Any Invasion Robbers May Try

SALINAS, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP) —A warning of a plot to steal the $440,000 payroll at Fort Ord today brought out as many guns and guards as if an invader were threatening.

Sheriff Alex Bordges was advised by Los Angeles police to be on the lookout for a neatly dressed, swarthy man with accomplices carrying golf bags to conceal machine guns. Other warning went to the army encampment, teeming with new activities.

The army the sheriff's staff, city police, military police and the federal bureau of investigation hastily dispatched extra guards to watch the money, which arrived in cash from San Francisco to meet the big monthly payroll for the seventh division troops, SRA and WPA workers.

Armed patrols cruised on adjacent roads. Army men in plain clothes, carrying rifles, walked up and down the lines of troops and civilians standing before the pay windows.

Camp Bowie Is Near Complete

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 2. (AP) — Facilities for the 36th division, first unit to move to Camp Bowie is now eighty-five per cent complete. The payroll last week was $337,720 with around 10,000 men employed.

The Brownwood Chamber of Commerce has been asked to secure 700 acres of land adjoining the camp on the south. The land is to be used for facilities of corps troops that will be assigned her. It is understood here that the 5,000 draftees necessary to raise the 36th division from its present strength of 13,000 to the full strength of 18,000 is to be processed here instead of at reception and replacement centers, and will be quartered on the present camp site and not in the new area.

Negro Quarters Planned

Negro troops to be stationed here will be quartered on the present reservation. Thirty-four buildings and 381 tent frames have been constructed for negroes in the northern part of the present cantonment.

At present work has been started on 434 buildings and 3,800 tent frames at the camp. The tent frames are more than enough to house the 36th division.

At the municipal airport, which is to be the base of the 111th observation squadron, no work has been done on the hangar, but mess halls, bath houses, tent frames for officers and men who will be quartered there, are nearing completion.

A detachment of 18 officers and 50 men of the medical corps are now stationed at the camp.

Quartermaster corps troops have unloaded more than 200 carloads of camp supplies, food, and uniforms.

Thirty-Hour Week Favored

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2. (AP) — The American Federation of Labor has "strongly" reaffirmed its endorsement of a 6-hour day, 30-hour work week without reduction in pay or standards but did not recommend that it be put into practice at this time.

The annual convention instructed the AFL officers to guard against any encroachment on the present 40-hour week and the wages and standards now in effect.

It was stated in a committee report adopted by the convention that top efficiency was not possible in work exceeding the 40-hour week.

Unemployment must be provided for, the convention decided, pointing out that a work week exceeding 40 hours would prevent hundreds of thousands now unemployed from securing jobs.

No Reason For It

"There is no valid reason for longer hours," it was said in the committee report which declared that the experience of other countries producing armaments showed that work in excess of a 40-hour week cut down efficiency.

This report was acted upon as the delegates worked overtime to finish their job which was scheduled to be completed yesterday.

William Green, AFL president, asserted his belief that the day would come when the 30-hour week would be recognized.

"We propose that employment for the unemployment be distributed equitably among those willing to work," Gree nsaid.

"I predict the day is not far distant when industrialists will be compelled to recognize the validity of the the remedy we propose—the six-hour day, thirty-hour-week."

Seattle Chosen

The delegates pondered the acceptance speech promise of President William Green after his unanimous re-election to a 17th term that he would devote himself to bringing peace to the labor movement.

He did not disclose how he would go about seeking a settlement with the Congress of Industrial Organizations. He had previously stated a number of times a truce was not possible so long as John L. Lewis remained in a position of power in the CIO. Lewis is still in that position.

Secretary-Treasurer George Meany and 15 vice presidents were re-elected. Seattle was selected for next year's meeting place.

TAKES KITCHEN UTENSILS

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 2 (AP)— Maybe police had better check over the gourmets to find the thief who broke into the Boylan Heights school cafeteria.

He took a huge baking pan, a pitcher, a double boiler, a food chopper and a butcher knife.

People of Argentina refuse to eat sausage if cellophane skins and the Buenos Aires Chamber of Commerce has asked the government to ban all chemicallyprepared sausage skins.
