Flood Imperils Two More Oregon Cities

TERROR RIDES FLOOD CREST

Panic Sweeps Doomed Oregon City As Waters Crumble Dike

By GORDON G. MACNAB
Associated Press Staff Writer

VANPORT, Ore., May 31.—A little red-haired girl ran screaming down the street: "Wait, wait, wait for me!"

I patted her head and ran on in the direction of the break in the Vanport dike.

The street was jammed with cars and people all trying to get out of Vanport, once Oregon's second largest city, now a place where only death could live.

Denver avenue runs north from Portland toward the interstate bridge over the Columbia river. Before it reaches the river it crosses a dike and immediately to the west is Vanport. The Vanport dike surrounds the housing project. The break came on the western side, the most distant from where I left Denver avenue and ran down the street past the red-headed child.

No water was in sight. I passed an apartment where a dozen people lounged, the men in shirt-sleeves (the day was bright and warm). A woman said, "they're crazy, the water won't get here."

In the street before her refugee cars were jammed to the bumpers and some people were moving along toward the dike that Denver avenue makes.

I ran west toward the break. The crowd thinned. Suddenly across a little dip I saw the water. It swept down the street in a wall maybe two feet high. In front it broke over like waves at the beach only the water wasn't white like at the ocean. It was a dull, dirt color.

Across the dip I saw the water slap against a 16-apartment building. Three men were there. In little more than an instant they were hip deep.

House Began To Swing

A sheriff's car was there. It moved from dry to hub deep and one of the deputies jumped in. The car roared toward me, through the water across the dip.

There was a splintering sound, sharp and loud. The big apartment building where three men had been began to swing around slowly as if on a lop-sided railroad turntable. There was a crack and kindling began to break away on the front waves of the water.

I stopped the sheriff's car. "Any-

Atomic Plant Strike Hinges On Wage Vote

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., May 31 (INS)—Workers at the Oak Ridge Atomic national laboratory will vote tomorrow on whether to accept a 10-cent-an hour pay increase offered by the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp.

A strike threatened for June 7 hinges on the vote.

The National Labor Relations board will conduct the poll of approximately 900 workers on whether to accept Carbide's proposal for an overall 10-cent hourly raise.

The corporation's proposal also calls for individual increases ranging from three to 21 cents.

The corporation operates the plant under contract with the Atomic Energy commission.

Workers were set for a walkout last March 19 but were halted by an 80-day injunction obtained under the Taft-Hartley law.

Arab Legions Making Gains

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, May 31—Allied Arab armies poured men, guns and armor into a 40-mile front aimed at Tel Aviv and the entire southern half of embattled Israel's coastal strip.

The front extends from Jerusalem to Tulkarm, a dispatch from central Palestine said. It forms the eastern side of a gigantic encircling movement the Arabs said their troops were making around Tel Aviv, initial capital and military headquarters of the new Jewish state.

A bulletin issued by the Arab Higher committee in Cairo claimed that Iraqi troops had cut off Tel Aviv from the northern port of Haifa by slicing through the coastal strip. There was no confirmation from Arab military circles.

Attack Smashed

The announcement said the Iraqi soldiers captured Natanya, on the coast 18 miles north of Tel Aviv, and added: "Communications between Tel Aviv and Haifa have been cut." An unidentified ship passing along the coast fired two shells into Natanya during the day, a dispatch from that city said. There was no damage.

Arab legionnaires from Trans-Jordan announced they had smashed a Jewish attempt to open the vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway. The Jews lost 114 dead, an Amman communique said. The highway battle was fought in the Bab El Wad-Latrun area 10 to 14 miles west of Jerusalem. The legionnaires said they captured three Jewish prisoners and seized four armored cars and large quantities of arms, ammunition and trench digging machines.

Arab troops maneuvered on the northern, southern and eastern approaches of Tel Aviv. One Arab informant said Iraqi soldiers were only three miles from the city.

Primary Ballot To Be Made Up June 14

AUSTIN, May 31. (AP)—The State Democratic executive committee will make up the July 24 primary ballot at a meeting here June 14.

The meeting is one prescribed by law. The committee is required to certify the full list of candidates for state office to the secretary of state, who in turn certifies lists to county judges. Ballots are printed locally.

The meeting will be held at 11 a. m. at the Driskill hotel, Chairman Robert W. Calvert said.

MARTIN SAYS NATION UNDER TEST

Kremlin 'Despots' Warned U. S. Doesn't Intend To Be Overrun

(By International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 31.—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) asserted today that the U. S. does "not intend to be overrun or to see the rest of the world overrun by the despots of the Kremlin."

In a Memorial day observance on the historic Gettysburg Civil war battlefield, the prominently-mentioned Republican presidential possibility added that this country must be "adequately prepared to meet the challenge of any ruthless despots who would enslave the world."

Martin warned, however, against "secret diplomacy" in the executive branch of government. He said:

"We must always keep in mind that if the government conducts diplomacy in secret negotiations and can set up secret operations without the knowledge of the American people the people's liberties can be whittled away one by one."

The Republican leader said that this country is undergoing a testing period to determine whether it "can go on to lead the world back to sanity and peace and progress

Four-Inch Downpour Hits Anton Area

Showers Again Fall Over South Plains

A FOUR-INCH rain in an hour and a half flooded Anton streets yesterday causing some damage to crops in the area, while from Lamesa came reports of damage from weekend hail, rain and wind totalling thousands of dollars.

Light showers were reported in other parts of the South Plains Monday as well as crop damage from blowing dust. In Lubbock where the rain commenced about noon precipitation was registered at .25 of an inch at Central Fire Station. The Weather Bureau station five miles north of the city recorded one-tenth of an inch.

Hail Falls In Anton

The tremendous downpour at Anton occurred from about 11 a. m to 12:30 p. m. It was accompanied by hail for about 30 minutes, and caused some damage to the alfalfa crop which was being harvested. Anton's total rainfall for May is now ten inches, according to H. G. Richards, publisher of The Anton News.

H. B. Newton, of one mile east of Anton, recorded 2.85 inches of rain Monday in that area. During his 20 years residence there, he had never seen such a big rain to fall at one time, Newton said. He reported farms covered in water in many instances, and all of the lakes full.

Dawson Damage Heavy

Total damage from the heavy hail storm in parts of Dawson county Saturday night was mounting. The hail was accompanied by as much as five inches of rain in some instances and high winds.

A private airport, owned by Frank Hogg, and located three miles west of Lamesa suffered seven to eight thousand dollars in damages. One hangar was demolished, another damaged and two light planes declared 'total losses,' Hogg reported to correspondent Bill Warren, of Lamesa.

Approximately 50,000 acres of cotton was destroyed, according to an agricultural official, C. E. Tarter. Many acres will have to be replanted for the third time, Tartar said. It was estimated that 95 percent of the county now had ample planting moisture, with only a small area in the northwest portion still dry.

Numerous Windows Broken

The R. H. Kinnison home, northeast of the city, was battered by hail and rain with damage to the roof, furniture and windows estimated at several thousand dollars.

Numerous windows were knocked out in the business district and building roofs and car tops damaged.

No moisture was reported at Lamesa Monday, but light blowing dust covered the area.

Levelland also reported considerable blowing dust Monday which was believed to have damaged row

Solons Defied By Negro Singer

By W. H. MOBLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 31. — Negro singer Paul Robeson told Senate questioners today he would go to jail before he would say whether he is a Communist.

Senator Moore (R-Okla) promptly adopted the idea, with the suggestion that "sometimes a year in jail cools some of these people off."

But Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Judiciary committee said he doubted that the committee would take contempt action. Robeson was testifying before the Judiciary group against the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill when the dispute arose.

Answer Refused

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), whose direct question Robeson refused to answer, said the committee would decide about contempt later.

The exchange took place after Robeson told the committee he thinks members of the Communist party "have done a magnificent job in America."

"Are you an American Communist?" Ferguson asked.

"I refuse to answer that question," Robeson replied with emphatic gestures. "This is an invasion of my right of secret ballot."

Ferguson fired back the same question a second time and a third, and Robeson finally broke out:

"Nineteen leading Americans are going to jail for refusal to answer that question and if necessary I will join them."

There were some hisses mixed with the audience applause that

Tennessee Paper, Reporter Freed Of Contempt Charges

CLINTON, Tenn., May 31 (INS) The Nashville Tennessean and its reporter Nat Caldwell won a court victory today which newspapermen throughout the nation hope will set a precedent.

Anderson county court in Clinton dismissed contempt charges against Caldwell for refusing to divulge the source of his information.

The reporter had charged in a series of articles in the Tennessean that east Tennessee highway patrolmen were "protecting" certain Knoxville, Tenn., bootleggers and that one patrolman owned part interest in a certain liquor store.

Texas Holiday Toll Hits 27

(By The Associated Press)

DEATH by drowning took the biggest toll of 27 violent deaths in Texas over the Memorial day week-end.

Only four deaths in traffic accidents were reported while eight died by drowning. Four persons died in airplane accidents and five deaths were homicides. The rest were from miscellaneous causes.

The latest drowning was that of a 10-year-old boy, Sam Raney, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Raney of Uvalde. He was drowned in a pond on a ranch near Spofford, Texas, early Monday.

Body Is Found

Willard Thurman Kilpatrick, 30, of Abilene, died about midnight Sunday night in a Baird hospital of injuries suffered when he fell from a truck in Baird several hours earlier.

The body of Tom Rackley, 32, of Princeton, Collin county, was found in Dallas Monday morning by firemen, who said he had suffocated. An adjoining room of the produce company where he was staying was ablaze.

Jim Norris, 26, of Garland) died Monday in Dallas from a gunshot wound in his stomach, received early Sunday morning in an argument in an inn near Dallas.

Shooting Is Fatal

Houston reported two violent deaths. Edward F. Gillies, 36, Houston dental technician, shot himself fatally Sunday with a .22 automatic rifle he had used for target practice, according to an inquest verdict. Charles Moffitt, 49, Houston restaurant operator, died

Georgia Delegates To Line Up Against Truman At Convention

ATLANTA, May 31. (AP) — Georgia's 28 Democratic national convention votes lined up solidly against President Truman today.

A 72-member delegation was selected by the state Democratic executive committee. The delegates were instructed to vote as a unit—there could be no dissenters.

There were no other formal instructions but there was no doubt about the sentiment. Party leaders said repeatedly they would fight Mr. Truman's nomination and would fight his civil rights program.

They emphasized, however, Georgia Democrats would not bolt the party or the national convention if they lose on the convention floor.

Lyndon Johnson Is Reported Recovering From Operation

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 31 (AP)—Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) today was recovering from what his surgeons said was a minor operation, performed Sunday.

Mayo clinic attaches said a "very small stone" was removed from Johnson's ureter and that he would be released from Colonial hospital probably by the end of this week.

Thousands Flee From Area; Damage Soars

Boiling Waters Hamper Search For Victims In Huge Housing Project

By WATFORD REED
INS Staff Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore., May 31—The swirling Columbia river flood threatened two more cities, halted telephone communication northward from Portland and burst another dike tonight after drowning two cities.

Vanport, Ore., was wrecked yesterday and Woodland, Wash., 30 miles downstream, was flooded today as dikes broke before the raging torrent.

Before the wires went out, dikes in the Longview and Kelso area of Washington were reported in critical condition. The twin cities are 50 miles downstream from Portland.

Fill Gives Way

The flood waters finally burst through the Denver avenue approach to northern Portland and inundated Portland Meadows race track, a drive-in theater, small business establishments and a few homes.

The Denver avenue fill formed one side of Vanport, wiped out yesterday by a wall of water when a dike broke. The area flooded tonight was evacuated yesterday and this morning.

Deputy sheriffs reported another dike, protecting the Portland airport, ready to collapse. The airport was virtually emptied last night, and only skeleton crews stayed for possible emergency landings.

The Army engineers began setting up wireless communications with crews striving to save the Longview and Kelso dikes. Western Union reported its cables between Seattle and Portland working normally.

Damage Feared Greatest

Col. Theron D. Weaver, north Pacific division engineer of the Army engineers, said that property damage from the flood "undoubtedly will be the greatest of any flood on record" in the Columbia basin.

The flow of water on the Columbia, meanwhile, neared the record set in 1894 when the area was less industrialized and losses lower. In that year flood waters poured down the stream at 1,170,000 cubic feet a second. Now the flow is estimated at 1,020,000 a second.

U. S. district engineers reported 2,000 people had been evacuated from the threatened Longview-

Food, Drug Stores Robbed Over Weekend

$7,000 Loot Taken In Two Burglaries

LUBBOCK city and county officials continued investigation Monday night into Sunday night burglaries which netted more than $7,000 in money and property from Piggly-Wiggly store No. 15, 203 North College, and Ave. H Drug store at 411 Ave. H.

However, no clues had been reported as having been found by the authorities probing the wave of burglaries which have gripped the city in recent weeks.

The thieves, who cut a small hole in the roof of the grocery store, escaped with $2,359.65 in cash and $4,562.68 in checks, officers reported. Approximately $25 in money and $107.39 in other properties were taken from the drug store.

Fourth Major Haul

It was the fourth major haul made by burglars in Lubbock during a period of three months, most of the jobs being similar in that entrance was made through the roof.

Piggly Wiggly store No. 16 was cracked for about $7,000 and of that amount about $4,000 in cash, in March. Ellison Drug company took an estimated loss of $2,000 in jewelry and other merchandise in early April, and Bray's Toggery was looted of about $2,500 in clothing the first part of May. On May 23, Furr Food store No. 16 was hit by roof burglars who escaped with about $2,000 in cash. Approximately $3,500 in checks was later recovered when the safe was found abandoned.

The Ave. H drug had suffered a loss to burglars February 2, when a safe containing $1,000 in cash and $462 in checks was taken.

State, county and city investigators were seeking clues in the burglaries, as well as Moore's Bonded patrol, which discovered the Piggly-Wiggly burglary. J. J. Moore said that he heard a noise which sounded like hammering at the rear of the store about 10:30 p. m. Sunday. He couldn't see anything and since he was alone and

Flames Race Through Stockyards Corrals

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., May 31. (AP)—Flames raced with prairie fire speed today through a six-block section of the huge corrals of the South St. Paul Union Stockyards company.

The dealers' division, 88 cattle cars, 30 head of cattle and a test barn were destroyed. The loading division was damaged heavily.

Three firemen were overcome by smoke. One required hospitalization but apparently was not in serious condition.

O. Remsberg, stockyards company public relations officer, could give no estimate of the fire loss. He put a value of about $2,750 on the dead cattle. Far greater, however, was the value of the corrals, sheds, chutes and hay. The cattle car loss was estimated at $400,000.

U. S. Sending Twelve Warships To Mediterranean Trouble Area

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Navy announced today that twelve U. S. warships are departing for Mediterranean waters where the Arabs have established a blockade off strike-torn Palestine.

At the same time the Navy reported that Admiral Richard A. Connolly, commander of the Mediterranean fleet, has arrived for conferences with Admiral Louis N. Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

The United States has announced it will not respect the Arab blockade and demands have been made in Congress that an American show of naval strength be made in the Mediterranean to deter the Arab states from carrying it on.

Connolly flew the Atlantic last night and he was picked up and flown to Washington by a Navy plane as soon as he landed in New York.

The Navy said Connolly's trip was "routine to discuss routine matters" but reliable sources guaranteed the blockade and augmentations of naval forces in the Med-

Launch Swamped Near Navy Base

NORFOLK, Va., May 31 (AP)—Ninety members of the crew of the aircraft carrier Kearsarge were thrown into Hampton Roads tonight when a 40-foot motor launch was swamped a half mile off the Norfolk naval station piers.

The accident occurred in rough weather as the launch was carrying a liberty party back to the Kearsarge.

Naval spokesmen said tugs and all available small craft were dispatched to the scene and that some men had been picked up.

Muster To Be Held

The men were taken to the Kearsarge as they were picked up from the water. Spokesmen said it would be impossible to determine whether there had been any casualties until a muster is held aboard the carrier. The muster will be delayed until some 500 other men on liberty from the ship can be returned aboard.

The launch was swamped when it had arrived within 200 feet of the Kearsarge.

The carrier was scheduled to sail at 5 a. m. (CST) tomorrow for the Mediterranean. Naval spokesmen said the sailing probably would be delayed.

The Kearsarge loaded some 1,000 members of the Second Marine division during the week end. They will relieve a similar number of Marines who have been on duty in the Mediterranean since last summer.

LABORATORIES BURN

PITTSBURGH, May 31. (AP)—The chemical engineering laboratories of the University of Pittsburgh were destroyed by a spectacular fire late today. Fire Chief William Davis estimated the loss at $500,000. Cause of the fire was not immediately known. No one was injured.

DEFENSE CHIEFS GIVE WARNING

President Urges Preparedness At Memorial Day Observance

WASHINGTON, May 31. (U.P.)—President Truman and his top defense chiefs observed Memorial day with prayers for peace and warnings that only a strong America can remain free.

Mr. Truman, speaking at the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington National cemetery, voiced hope that the far-flung Memorial day observances would emphasize that this country "worked only for peace in the world."

"In order to attain that peace we must have the ability to enforce it," he said. "May God give us that strength and that ability."

Draft Legislation Urged

Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan echoed the President's words in paying tribute to the Navy's dead. The United States, he said, must wage peace as it wages war —"with everything we have."

"May God give us the wisdom and courage to keep this county strong and to maintain the peace for which these men died," he said.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, also sounded a preparedness note in an address at Longmeadow, Mass. Standing before the grave of a soldier killed in Germany, he warned that this country must never "stoop" to expedients to avoid the difficult decisions that accompany world leadership or the burdens imposed by defense needs.

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief of the army field force, appealed for draft legislation in an address at Newport News, Va. He said the army has reached the "saturation point" in voluntary enlistments.

Roosevelt Tribute Paid

Mr. Truman spoke briefly at Arlington after placing a wreath at the Unknown Soldier's tomb. He interrupted a week-end cruise on the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay to attend the services.

Similar ceremonies were held throughout the world, from small country churches in this country to the foreign battlefields of World War II.

Following his address at Arlington, Mr. Truman went to the watergate at the foot of the Lincoln memorial. There he pinned a rose on the fleet reserve association's floral anchor in memory of the late President Roosevelt, who died during World War II.

Mr. Truman then went to the White House to do some work before returning to the yacht Williamsburg for the rest of the holiday week-end. He expects to return to the White House tomorrow morning.

Rites Set Today For Mrs. Rachel Loflin

Funeral services for Mrs. Rachel Colvard Loflin, 50, wife of Reed B. Loflin, sr., will be held at the First Methodist church in Ralls at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in Ralls cemetery. Mrs. Loflin died unexpectedly of a heart attack about 4 p. m. Sunday at her home at 1723 Thirtieth.

Rev. Ue. D. Crosby, executive secretary of the board of education of the Northwest Texas conference, Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church here, and Rev. W. R. Beaird of Ralls First Methodist church will officiate at the funeral.

The body is at Plains Funeral home, and will lie in state from 10 a. m. Tuesday until time to remove the body to Ralls for services. Friends have been invited to go to the residence.

Marr Funeral home will assist with final arrangements at Ralls.

Mrs. Loflin is survived by her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Margary McGee of Taft, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Jones of Hopewell, Va., and Miss Jane Loflin of Lubbock; one son, Reed B. Loflin, jr., of Lubbock; her mother, Mrs. Anna Colvard of Strawn; five sisters, Mrs. Ford Oglesby, of Eldorado, Mrs. E. O. Ramsey of Ralls, Mrs. W. B. Groseclose of San Angelo, Mrs. Dorsett Stewart of Cleburne and Mrs. Dick Adams of Ozona; one brother, Ed Colvard of Denver, and one granddaughter, Judy Jones of Hopewell, Va. Mrs. Loflin's father died in 1940 and a sister died in 1914.

Mrs. Loflin joined the Presbyterian church in early life. In 1924, when she moved to Ralls from East Texas, she joined the Methodist church with her husband. The family moved to Lubbock in 1945. She and her husband were associated in Loflin-Ware Ladies apparel shop.

The two daughters from out of town were visiting in Lubbock Sunday. The family had gone to church and Mrs. Loflin felt ill when they returned home. After dinner, she became ill and died in a short time.

Active pallbearers will be Marvin McLaughlin, Emmett Lynch, E. L. Carlisle, Ben Cole of Lubbock, Earl C. Abel, Tim Lyle, Laney Stovall of Lubbock and Burl Griffith.

Honorary bearers will be Roy Abel, sr., Judge E. L. Pitts, Will Marr, Edd McLaughlin, Roy Cooper, Dr. E. L. Haney, J. E. Hartley, R. B. Bryant, J. Ray Dickey, I. C. Byerley, P. B. Ralls, Tom Ed Benton, C. B. Hendricks, Jess Seals, Walter Watkins, Irving L. Jones, Irvin Hancock, J. M. Rankin, jr., O. D. Stephens, A. L. Winfrey, J. W. Gillon, R. L. Kidd, C. C. Burkholder, M. O. Disabled Veterans Demonstrate Accomplishments Of VA Program

FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP) — Economic as well as physical and social recovery of the disabled featured the opening session here today of the conference for this seven-state region of the office of vocational rehabilitation.

The combined federal-state program of OVR has taken 166,000 persons from dependency roles and made them self-sustaining in the past four years, delegates were told by D. H. Dabelstein of Washington, D. C., assistant director of OVR.

"A return of at least $10 in taxes is made for every $1 spent in making these persons self-sustaining," he said.

Those rehabilitated have paid $50,000,000 in federal income taxes alone, he declared. Their average age was 31 which gave them an average expectancy of 34 years of useful life.

"The right of happiness is hard to distinguish from the right to be useful," he said.

Vocational rehabilitation among war-wounded was described by Dr. Ban Boynton, Dallas, chief of the physical medicine rehabilitation division of the three-state branch 10 of the veterans administration.

Demonstrations were given by seven veterans from V. A. hospitals at Temple and McKinney. They were Carl W. Lowery, Cisco; Harvey Bryant, Houston; Homer Melton, Brownwood; Maurice Deason, Georgetown; Hubert E. Tucker, Slaton; Marvin A. Marsh, Beaumont; B. V. Walls, Atlanta; and William H. Baker, New York City.

New Korean Leader Invites U. S. Troops To Remain In Country

By WILLIAM R. MOORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, May 31. — Chairman Syngman Rhee, speaking before Korea's first elected national assembly, said today he hopes U. S. troops will stay until the fledgling government can arm for its own defense.

And to Russian-ocupied north Korea, which boycotted the recent assembly election, he declared defiantly:

"The government of this assembly will be the sovereign, indipendent government of the entire nation."

Rhee Against U. S. Interference

In inviting American forces to stay on, Rhee said it must be clearly understood that this "shall not interfere with the exercise of our sovereign rights."

It was a great day for Rhee, and for Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, the U. S. military commander. Both had plugged for the election of an assembly and won despite a Communist campaign of terror.

Hodge was applauded when he addressed the assembly:

"The U. S. command," he said, "does not intend to dictate to you. What you do in the next few days will determine to a great extent the future of your nation."

Rhee urged the 198 assemblymen to bend to the immediate tasks—adopt a Korean constitution, form the first democratic friendly negotiations with Russia and settle economic and other urgent matters with Japan, Korea's former ruler.

Thousands Parade

Bands and other organizations paraded, streetcars were decorated like floats and thousands lined the street to the capitol, celebrating what they regard as one of the most important days in their history.

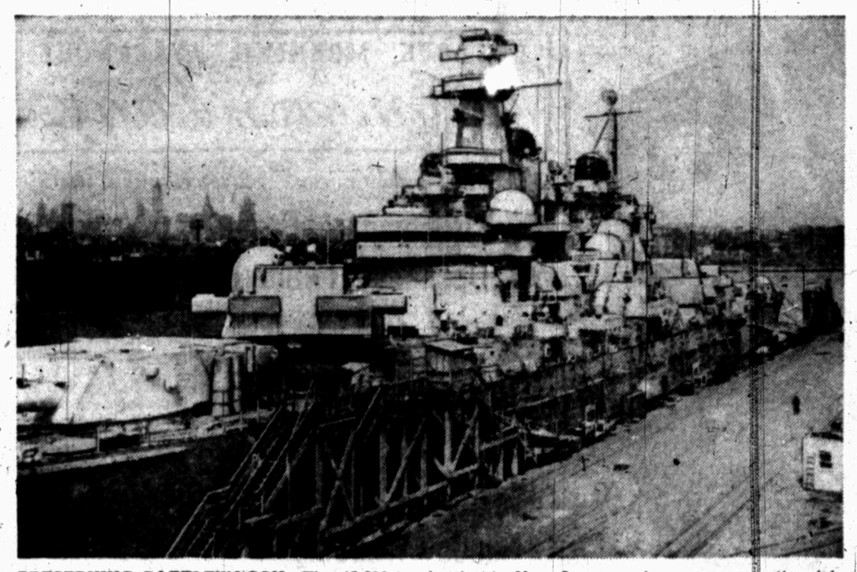

The colorful afternoon assembly session followed a morning organization meeting at which Rhee, a conservative who has fought for decades for Korean independence, was elected chairman.

While asserting the sovereignty of the government to be set up by the assembly in south Korea, Rhee made a gesture of conciliation to the Communists.

"To the Korean Communists," he said, "we are willing to offer another—and a last—opportunity to repent and join hands with us in our common efforts toward the complete restoration of our nation."

Outside the assembly hall, the streets rang with this shout from Koreans hailing a new regime of their own choosing:

"Mansei"—which means: "May she live 10,000 years."

Four Kansas Residents Die As Plane Crashes, Burns

COLBY, Kan., May 31. (U.P.)—A four-place Stinson plane crashed and burned at 9:07 p. m. last night, 10 miles south of here, and four Scott City residents were killed.

At Scott City it was reported the victims had been on a fishing trip in Nebraska and were returning home at the time. A heavy mist last night was blamed for the accident.

The victims were identified as: Tony Tviet, owner of the plane and a partner with Ben Hasz in an irrigation well-drilling company at Scott City.

Anna Tviet, his sister, employed by the company as secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Walter. The latter was a building contractor at Scott City and operated a cement block factory.

Two watches were found in the burned wreckage of the plane. Both had stopped at 9:07.

In 1894, Boston became the first city to establish a regular system of medical inspection of school children.

Lubbock Jaycee Members Vote To Sponsor Frontier Week

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the chief sponsor of Frontier week in Lubbock, to be held in connection with the American Business club sponsored Lubbock Boys' club rodeo June 9-12. Jaycee members meeting at the Hilton hotel for luncheon Monday voted to accept the ABC invitation to sponsor the Frontier week, regulations for which will be issued soon in a proclamation by Mayor W. H. Rodgers.

The club also made additional nominations and campaign speeches for election of officers to be held at the June 7 luncheon, and held a primary ballot for the man-of-the-year, who will be selected with the new slate of officers.

While the club had planned to select five nominees for the man-of-the-year award from primary voting held today, six names will go on the ballot because of a tie in the voting. Those from whom the top Jaycee will be named are Asher Thompson, Waggoner Carr, Roy Forkner, Harold Chapman, Barney Stagner and Jimmy Morris.

Dr. Linley Millsap was nominated for club treasurer, and Jesse B. Gordon and Marion Key were nominated for the board of directors. Ed Smith withdrew his name as a candidate for treasurer. Announcement was made that Hector McKay is moving to Littlefield, and that a previous nomination of McKay for the board of directors will be voided.

President Roy Forkner explained that those defeated for any office Monday will immediately become eligible for nomination to any other office, and that write-in balloting will be allowed for any office.

Guests were M/Sgt. Widener and Ben Cowley.

CIGAR MAN BATTLES NERVOUS INDIGESTION TILL HE FINDS RETONGA

After Many Miserable Months of Torture From Gas Pains, Mr. Sneeden Again Feels "Fit as a Fiddle." Praises Retonga for Relief.

"For about 18 months I had an awful battle with nervous indigestion, and then I found Retonga," confides Mr. C. H. Sneeden, who resides at Long Beach, Cal. Mr. Sneeden, a member of the Methodist Church, is a cigar salesman by profession and was transferred from Des Moines, Iowa, to Long Beach about a year ago.

"Anyone who has suffered with nervous indigestion the way I did," continues Mr. Sneeden "will tell you it's no joke. I had to be very careful what I ate. It seemed I couldn't sit down to a regular meal without suffering afterwards from unbearable gas pains. These pains interfered with my sleep, and many's the night I paced the floor in misery or attempted to get some relief from a hot water bottle on my stomach. I gradually lost weight and my usual pep and energy ebbed away.

"Then, by a lucky chance I read a statement in the paper about Retonga and decided to try it. Believe it or not, from the very first bottle I began to get relief and felt better and better as I continued to take it. Today I feel better than in years. I can eat and relish almost any food. I have lots of pep, I sleep fine, and have regained my lost weight. Anyone suffering as I did ought to try Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores.

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes." . . . That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money. (This is Message No. 37.)

Joe Thomas joined the "Cards" at 65!

Today, Joe hasn't a worry in the world!

Your last years can be your best years . . . but it takes good planning, as this true-to-life story shows

by DR. LLOYD E. DEWEY
Professor of Finance
New York University

DR. LLOYD E. DEWEY

VERY FEW people are ever able to quit work in time to enjoy life, and yet all of us dream of doing it.

Today the average child at birth can expect to live eighteen years longer than his grandfather lived. Are these years to be some of the best of your life, as they are for my friend Joe Thomas, or will you miss your chance to have your dream come true?

Joe used to be in the machine shop at Stewart & Brown. (I am changing real names, of course.) A great sports fan, Joe's ambition was to retire and see every home game of the St. Louis Cardinals, his favorite team . . .

Go to the ball park any day now, and you'll see Joe cheering in the stands!

Joe will tell anyone he owes it all to a man he met by chance in his early thirties, a life insurance agent named Ed Barrow, who became one of the best friends he ever had. It was Barrow who sold him the idea of planning for the future—a hard job when most of us are interested only in the present.

He set up a retirement income program for Joe that required no more money than he had been intending to save (and was never quite saving), but made his saving systematic!

Also, he pointed out to Joe that some of the family life insurance protection he carried could safely be rearranged when he was 65 years old, to provide additional income that he and his wife could enjoy together.

Agent can be a real help

Your life insurance agent can be a real help with your plans for retirement. If you have social security benefits and perhaps a company pension to look forward to, your agent can fit both into a program that will really give you what you need.

If you are planning to start taking it easy, get used to it gradually. The next problem to the financial one is that of empty time. An interesting hobby can add years to your life. My friend Joe Thomas looks like he has many a ball game ahead of him!

Make retirement plans early!

Nearly half the people over 40 answering a recent survey did not expect to be able to retire in reasonable comfort at 65! Let your life insurance agent explain why it's important to make retirement plans early. You can start with a modest amount.

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

● Planning for retirement is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc.

So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then, you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE. 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

SAVING FOR BONDS

OF THE 45 billion dollars worth of U. S. Savings bonds now owned by individuals, a woman's name is on about 30 billion dollars worth. That's a lot of savings bonds, but it isn't enough, according to the U. S. Savings Bonds division of the treasury department which, as you know, is conducting the Security Loan campaign at this time, first peace time drive.

If you earn your own money (and 50 per cent more women do so today than did before the war) put away part of your earnings regularly in Savings Bonds, is the advice given by the campaign director. If the place where you work cooperates with the Payroll Savings plan, wherein you sign to buy a bond each pay day, you'll be more likely to save. In alloting part of your income to savings before it has a chance to reach your pocket and become outgo—that's the secret for saving.

THE bond buying habit that was engendered has held on well despite the constantly rising cost of living. Last year Americans bought seven billion dollars worth of savings bonds although there were no special sales drive. Even though pay checks have shrunk through inflation and though many products that consumers had been waiting for have come on the market, a large proportion of families have put by bonds to protect themselves in illness or unemployment or finance old age.

In other words, they tell their money where to go, they don't ask it where it went.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER: I notice in your column that you help people and I thought I would try my luck. I am corresponding with a German woman and she has asked me to send her some clothing and has sent measurements that I do not understand. I thought maybe you might know or help with them.

Following are the words the way she printed them:

1.63 mtr. (she says this is her largeness); 70 cm is her waist measurement; 93 cm is her bust size. She also says she would like for me to send some elastic ribbon and brown stay lace for her children. I would like to know what she means.

If you can help me with these I will appreciate it very much.

Yours truly,
Mrs. R. E. Bulen,
Anton.

DEAR MRS. BULEN: You letter was misplaced in the process of moving or we would have printed it sooner. The writer knows nothing of these German terms for measurement but trusts some of the column readers may. Please get in touch with us and we'll pass the word along to Mrs. Bulen.

DEAR MISS TURNER: I have noticed numbers of times your mention of pets in your column and think it is a kind thing to do. Last week my little girls lost their dog, a pet they had played with since baby days.

He is a large brown and white male collie, answering to the name of "Bomby." We surely would appreciate a mention in your column and are asking anyone who may have seen the dog to telephone us collect at Slaton, number 354-w.

Sincerely,
Mrs. W. T. Wyatt.

Freelin Shoemaker, Paul McGlothing Marry In Abilene

A garden wedding ceremony performed in Abilene Saturday night united in marriage Miss Freelin Shoemaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hart Shoemaker of Abilene, and Paul G. McGlothing of St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McGlothing of San Angelo. The bride is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she was a member of Las Chaparritas social club.

Rev. W. Harlie Woolard, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated at the twilight service. Mrs. Edward C. Prock, pianist, offered wedding selections and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Tiffany as they sang "Because" and "Why Do I Love You?"

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of crisp white imported organdy with a fingertip veil of illusion attached to a braided tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of white orchids and white glamellias and wore a strand of pearls, gift from her father to her mother on their wedding day.

Attendants Named

Mrs. Hart C. Shoemaker, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. J. E. Harvey of Austin, Miss Dimple Mickey, formerly of Lubbock, and Mrs. Jimmy Whitcher of Marshall, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of pastel organdy. The matron of honor was gowned in melon pink and carried a matching ruffled organdy and taffeta parasol.

Best man was Hubert Ingraham, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and ushers were Hart C. Shoemaker, Hubert Ingraham, jr., and David Scott Holland.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception given in the Shoemaker home following the ceremony.

For a wedding trip to Mexico City, the bride wore a suit of navy blue linen with white and navy accessories and a white orchid corsage. She is a graduate of Abilene High school and since graduating from Tech has been employed as stenographer at the West Texas Utilities company in Abilene. The couple will be at home in St. Louis where Mr. McGlothing serves as manager of the St. Louis branch of Abott laboratories. He is a graduate of San Angelo High school and the University of Texas.

Mrs. Wilhelm To Be In Teacher Contest

Mrs. D. J. Wilhelm, 2718 Second, has received a Certificate of Honor bearing her name lettered in gold from the Quiz Kids radio show broadcast from Chicago for having been nominated by Marie Hunter of Abilene, in the 1948 Best Teacher contest fostered by the producer of the show, John Lewellen, and the radio sponsor.

Mrs. Wilhelm will be considered with other nominees over the nation for one of the three top winning places which carry large prizes. She taught Marie eight years ago at K. Carter school. The Abilene high school student, who has kept in touch with Mrs. Wilhelm wrote a theme based on her inspirational teaching and her English teacher suggested she submit it in the Quiz Kids contest.

Personality Course Will Open Today At Business College

A personality course will open Thursday at Draughon's Business college, for present and former students of the college.

Miss Lena Marie Skeen of Hemphill-Wells Co., will be the speaker Thursday, on the subject of ready-to-wear.

The course, first of its type ever to be offered at the school, will be given to "help the girls to improve appearance and personality," because those are considered important in business, Mrs. T. H. Brown of the staff of the college explained.

Classes will be conducted from 10 to 11 a. m. Mondays through Fridays. Special programs will be offered on Thursdays.

A speech will be presented each Thursday. The programs have been planned in the following order, with the name of the speaker or the subject of the speech listed: Dr. Roy C. Sloan, phychiatrist, next week; foundation garmets, the following week; "Woman Disected," Dr. O. W. English; shoes and accessories; speech by Dr. W. A. Petty, optometrist; hair dress and facial grooming; care of skin, by a dermatologist; cosmetics and make-up; dentistry, Dr. Glenn D. Gay; home sewing; and business etiquette, by a leading professional woman. The final special program will be a resume and style show.

Littlefield Couple Will Marry Friday

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Ramona Eagan, former student of Texas Technological college, and Jack Foust is being made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Eagan of Littlefield. The couple will marry Friday night at the Littlefield First Methodist church with Rev. S. M. Dunnam officiating.

Mrs. Curtis Lee is to be matron of honor and Miss Nelda Willis of Littlefield and Mrs. Irving Sinclair of Muleshoe are to be bridesmaids. James Foust of Tahoka, brother of the bridegroom-elect, is to be best man and Don Eagan, B. D. Garland and Joe Foust are to be ushers.

Miss Eagan is a graduate of Littlefield High school and has been employed at the Littlefield First National bank. Mr. Foust, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foust of Littlefield, attended Sudan High school and served with the Seabees during the war; he is employed with a Littlefield drilling contractor.

Interest To Govern Class Organization

If enough women show interest in an evening workshop, Mrs. Paul Mills will organize one, she said Monday afternoon. The daytime class, being held at Senior High school, has proved to be a popular feature of adult summer school work.

Taylor-Dale Vows Read In Plainview

The marriage of Miss Jo Kathryn Dale and Charles C. Taylor, both of Lubbock, took place at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of the officiating Plainview minister, Rev. Roy Clayton, and Mrs. Clayton.

The bride wore a white waffle pique suit with gold trim, a white picture hat and brown and white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with sweetheart roses.

Miss Sue Elliott, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, wore a yellow dress trimmed with eyelet embroidery and white and gold accessories. Major Taylor served his brother as best man.

A reception followed and a two-tiered wedding cake was served with frosted punch.

The bridegroom's mother of 2507 Twenty-first; Mrs. Earl Elliott, Mrs. Allen Hammer, Mrs. Reuben Stewart and R. L. Shugart were Lubbock guests.

The couple works for Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

Junior High Girls May Register For Free Charm School

It's not too late for registration in the charm school being conducted at Senior High school during Lubbock Public school summer session under the supervision of Mrs. Paul Mills.

Girl students who will enter junior high school next fall and those who will go from junior high to senior high are invited to enroll for the course which will include lessons on personality, manners and conduct, the right choice of friends and guidance in selecting organizations in which one would like to become affiliated.

The course will be conducted in Room 331 at Senior High school from 10 until 12 o'clock each morning. There is no fee and it is noncredit.

The Charm School proved so popular last summer that principals of the schools asked that it be repeated this year. Initial enrollment Monday was small, but it was thought the Memorial Day week end holiday may have contributed to it.

Homemaking teachers will assist Mrs. Mills.

Church Circle Plans Membership Drive

A membership drive with Mrs. O. D. Howard in charge was planned by Helen Leech circle of Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary society Monday afternoon at a business and social meeting held in the home of Mrs. B. H. Diggs.

Mrs. G. L. Schantz was in charge of the meeting which was attended by six members and one guest, Mrs. D. Enner.

Physicist Compares Dropping Of A-Bomb With Opening Of Pandora's Box Of Ills

The dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima was compared with the opening of Pandora's Box when Paul P. Elliott, lecturer in Physics at Texas Technological college, addressed the Church Women's Federation of Lubbock Monday afternoon at Asbury Methodist church.

In the comparison, the speaker explained that with the dropping of the bomb many ills were loosed as was the case when Pandora opened her box for the first time. With the second opening of the box, however, Pandora discovered that "hope" had not escaped, and at present, when one looks above the ills of the atom bomb, he can see hope in the atomic age. Our hope, Mr. Elliott said, is related to the Christian principle of "brotherhood of man."

"The atom bomb can be controlled but human nature cannot; so there must be no more war," stated the speaker. He concluded his talk with the words of Jesus, "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish."

Music Presented

A devotion based on the Twenty-third Psalm was brought by Mrs. R. E. Douglas and a solo, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," was sung by Miss Lucille Rucker, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bob Lowery. A prayer was led by Mrs. C. A. Bickley. Mrs. Elliott Taylor, program chairman, introduced the speakers and the musicians.

Mrs. J. H. Hankins presided for a business session, during which Miss Margaret Turner was elected historian to replace Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson who has resigned. The women, who meet each fifth Monday, took an offering of $17.55 which will help pay the salary of the Community Center's summer librarian, Miss Atha Lynn Adams. The library, which has obtained 50 children subscribers in the five weeks that it has been open, needs more children's books, especially picture books, according to an announcement made at the meeting.

A tea hour followed the business and program meeting. Fifty women were present.

O'Neil Home Scene Of Sunday Wedding

An impressive single ring wedding ceremony was read for Miss Virginia Clark, daughter of Mrs. B. P. Clark of 2312 Seventh, and Dean Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wellington, by Dr. H. I. Robinson, Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. O'Neil, friends of the couple.

Miss Ruby Clark lighted the candles at the marriage altar arranged in front of the mantle, which was decorated with yucca blossoms and greenery.

Miss Cecil Clark, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a pale pink dress and a corsage of matching carnations. Gene Cook of Wellington was best man.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. O'Neil, wore an aqua street length dress with brown and white accessories and a corsage of pink glamelias.

The bride's table at the reception following the ceremony was laid with an Irish cutwork cloth and centered with a large bowl of cape jasmine. Miss Vivian Clark presided at the punch bowl and Miss Lois Long served the wedding cake. Miss Juanita Clark assisted in hospitalities.

Relatives and close friends were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left immediately for Fort Worth to make their home at 658 South Henderson. He works for Dr. Pepper Bottling company.

Social Meeting Held By Parkdale W.M.S.

When Parkdale Baptist Women's Missionary society attended a social meeting at the church Monday afternoon, Mrs. C. M. Ratheal directed a series of games.

Refreshments were served to 13 members and seven children. Mrs. J. M. Hardin assisted with serving.

Ex-Tech Students Are Newlyweds

PLAINVIEW, May 31—Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Mixon are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Virginia Mixon and John Joseph Kirchhoff, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Kirchhoff, which took place Sunday, May 23, at First Christian church. Rev. Leon England, pastor, officiated.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. J. B. Hardeman, organist, and Miss Georgia Mixon, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Duchess satin with a full length veil of illusion and a bouquet of white and purple orchids arranged on a white prayer book. Mrs. Stanley Mudge of Vernon, matron of honor, wore a gown of orchid taffeta. Miss Nan Bradbury of Lubbock, Mrs. Jimmie Cates of Fort Worth and Mrs. Robert L. Shick were bridesmaids. Their dresses were duplicates of Mrs. Mudge's and were in yellow, green and peach taffeta.

Mary Katherine Panceira, flower girl, wore yellow taffeta and Nancy and Luan Carter, candlelighters, were dressed in yellow and blue taffeta.

John Howard Burt of Amarillo served as best man and Robert L. Shick, Eugene Ragland and Robert M. Carter were groomsmen.

The parents of the bride entertained at a reception given in their home following the ceremony. Guests from Lubbock included Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and Mr. and Mrs. William Bradbury.

Following a wedding trip to Arizona, the couple will be at home in Plainview. Mrs. Kirchhoff attended Texas Technological college, where she was a member of Ko Shari social club, and Texas Christian university, where she was vice-president of the junior class. Mr. Kirschhoff attended Tech and served two and one-half years in the Naval Air corps. He is a rancher.

DEFENSE PROGRAM OUTLINED

Nation's Factory Owners Sent Industrial Handbook For War

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 31 — An industrial primer for total war is going out to factory owners.

The Defense department's munitions board, which prepared the text, laid its emphasis today on two points:

A. How industry can plan now for turning out the weapons needed in case of war.

B. A strong hint that unless such plans are ready for quick war production the plant may starve for lack of maerials and labor.

Board Chairman Thomas J. Hargrave, in announcing to a news conference the handbook for "joint industry-military procurement planning," also presented the latest record on the government's own stake in industrial facilities.

Plants Retained

It showed that the government presently owns or has a right to recall to war production 405 of the 3,500 plants it built during the war to produce guns, airplanes, tanks and a multitude of other weapons.

Of these industrial reserve plants, 151 are retained by the Army, Navy or Air Force. Thirty-seven are still in government production. Thirty-one have been sold under a clause which preserves their basic function of producing war material, and 53 have been leased under similar provisions. The balance are for sale, with the same safe-guarding clause.

Hargrave said the new guidebook is not a complete blueprint for industrial mobilization for war, but is designed to give plant owners some idea of (1) what might be needed, (2) who should be contacted for information, and (3) how individual factories can prepare and keep up to date their own programs for conversion to war production.

Major War Seen

The new book lists materials and component parts essential in war, and lists local branches of procurement planning offices of the national military establishment.

The book contains some military "assumptions" about the probable form of another war, but hastens to explain that these are only for planning purposes and "should not be taken to imply that a war is expected in the near future."

The book says it is logical to assume that another war would:

1. Be a major one, requiring complete and rapid mobilization of national resources, industry and manpower.

2. "Probably not a brief 'push button' affair. Atomic weapons, guided missiles and other new weapons would be usable, but full-scale mobilization of manpower still would be necessary.

3. Find the nation's economic structure about the same as at present.

TO WED SOCIALITE—The exclusive social set of Palm Beach, Fla., is a-buzz over another surprise society romance. Millionaire Allen Pinkerton Carlisle, of Long Island, N. Y., and movie Starlet Karin Booth, above, announced their engagement. Carlisle, 36, recently divorced, is a noted yachtsman. The 27-year-old actress will wed under her legal name, June Frances Hoffman.

Six Jurors Selected In Trial Of Midland Man For Shooting

MIDLAND, May 31. (AP)—Six jurors had been selected tonight for the trial of Armo Spears, former cafe owner here on trial for murder in the shooting of Robert L. Wallace, a restaurant cook.

Thirty-three veniremen were examined today. The state used eight of its 15 challengers and the defense nine. Jurors selected were Ted Thompson, L. G. Yarborough, jr., W. T. Taylor, Barron Wadley, George Vannaman and T. E. Stewart.

Selection of the jury will continue tomorrow.

Wallace was shot last Oct. 12 as he sat in the living room of the home of Spears' former wife.

Soon after the shooting Spears and his divorced wife were remarried.

CELEBRATION IS PLANNED

PORT ARTHUR, May 31. (AP)—The city of Port Arthur will celebrate its 50th birthday with a Golden Jubilee spectacle July 5-10. During the celebration the annual bathing beauty contest sponsored by Junior Chambers of Commerce of Texas will be held Friday, July 9. The men of the town already have been warned to start growing beards for the Golden Jubilee Gay Nineties ball to be held July 7.

Houston Institution Given $200,000 Gift Of Land

HOUSTON, May 31 (AP)—The University of St. Thomas, Houston, has received a gift of 50-acres of land just west of city limits from Mr. and Mrs. George Strake.

The land, valued with improvements at $200,000, may be used as a permanent site for the university, the Very Rev. V. J. Guinan, C. S. B., president, said.

One Of Every Four American Families Are Spending More Than Earnings, Study Shows

WASHINGTON, May 31 (U.P.)—One out of every four American families is spending money faster than it can earn it, a government-sponsored cost-of-living survey showed today.

In 1946, the report said, this was true especially of families earning $3,000 or less. But now it added, an increasing number making up to $7,500 find themselves in a similar fix.

The report was prepared by the University of Michigan survey center for the Federal Reserve board. The university used public opinion poll techniques to get a cross-section of 48,400,000 families.

Must Use Savings

"The general financial status of consumers showed the first signs of weakening in 1947," the report said in concluding that high prices are squeezing low income families out of the market for such things as homes and automobiles.

The only way about a quarter of the nation's families can keep up with prices is to dip into savings or buy on the installment plan, it said. This trend, it added, was reflected by the drop in family savings and checking accounts and the "substantial increase in total indebtedness."

But spending for durable goods and houses will continue to expand, the economists predicted. Businessmen can expect to ring up record sales in spite of rising prices because of "very sizable shifts" in spending to the "middle and upper income levels," the report said.

Credit Buying Seen

The report said there was a 20 per cent drop in the number of families in the home market, most of it concentrated among families earning less than $2,000 a year.

And many people under the $3,000 bracket who hoped to get a new car last year have now given up. Nevertheless, the economists expect the demand for cars to stay greater than the supply, with higher income families taking up the slack left by those who decide they can't afford them any more.

One third of the $5,000 and over families expect to buy radios, furniture and other types of durable goods this year. But in the $2,000 to $3,000 bracket the proportion is only a fifth, and it goes down to one tenth in the $1,000 bracket.

The report said that prospects are for more credit and mortgage buying, particularly by World War II veterans.

Last year, 9,000,000 families used installment credit, double the number in 1946. The total amount of this type of credit outstanding is at a new high, the report said, and because government curbs went off last November the total for 1948 will be higher than in 1947.

For consumers as a whole, there was a more than 10 per cent rise in income, the report pointed out. Jobs and total national income are at high levels, and despite the fact that many families are operating "in the red" or are just on the border, two thirds still have some liquid assets, it said.

Ex-Friend Of Hitler Dies In Scotland After Illness

OBAN, Scotland, May 31. (U.P.)—Unity Mitford, highborn Englishwoman whose mysterious association with Adolf Hitler was the gossip of the 1930's, died Saturday night in a hospital here on the northwestern Scottish coast. She was 33.

Unofficial reports said she died from meningitis of the brain, a result of bullet wounds which caused her hurried departure from Munich on Christmas day, 1939. At that time she was reported to have shot herself because of a falling out with Hitler.

Czech President May Resign In Protest Against Reds

PRAGUE, May 31 (U.P.)—A well informed source said today that President Eduard Benes probably will resign within a week.

The Czech president was represented as being disgusted with the methods used by the Communist government of his country in yesterday's elections.

Benes has been reported recently as being ill. Some reports have suggested that his condition was serious, but this has been denied by those close to him.

U. S. Denies Proposing 'Military Alliance' For Western Europe

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Communist inspired reports from Rome that the United States has proposed a general military alliance for western Europe have met prompt denial, but serve to emphasize the necessity for a constant campaign to clarify our policies abroad as they develop.

The term "military alliance" is just close enough to what we are working toward to permit distortion by the Communists and to create unwarranted hopes among many Europeans.

Under military alliances of the old European type, nations bind themselves to go to war automatically in defense of each other under certain fixed conditions.

Vandenberg Plan Different

The Vandenberg resolution, which seems likely to become U. S. policy on the subject, since it was written with State department cooperation, aims at something entirely different. It is more like the western hemisphere defense accord reached at Rio de Janeiro last year. That accord binds the American republics to consider an attack against one as an attack on all. But the states retain their sovereignty when it comes to deciding what to do. A majority rules, but a nation can avoid being log-rolled into action which it does not desire by not voting.

The European problem is a little different. The United States wants assurances that, when war materials are supplied they will be used effectively. This is the same assurance which was required of the 16 Marshall plan nations before the extension of economic aid.

Organization Needed

To do this, they probably will have to set up something like the joint chiefs of staff which coordinated allied efforts during the war. They will have to agree on arms standardization, and probably will need some sort of a system of quotas to determine what will be expected from each country. This will, indeed, mean the use of at least some of the forms of the old military alliance.

But the Vandenberg resolution is specific regarding such regional organizations set up under the defense clauses of the United Nations charter. The United States will cooperate in developing their military establishments much as she is now cooperating in trying to revive their industry. But she will not "join" an alliance.

Frank E. Cave Of Plainview Claimed By Death Sunday

PLAINVIEW, May 31 — Frank E. Cave, operator of variety stores in Plainview and other West Texas towns, died in a Plainview hospital Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock after a week's illness.

Cave, 59, was stricken with a heart ailment last Saturday a week ago.

He had lived in Plainview since 1929. Survivors include the wife and two daughters.

Prominent Presbyterian Pastor To Resign Corpus Christi Post

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 31. (AP) —Dr. George West Diehl indicated today that he intends to resign as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, a pastorate he has held since 1932.

Dr. Diehl requested the clerk of the session of the church to call a meeting of the congregation to pass on the question of requesting the Presbytery of Western Texas "to dissolve the pastoral relationship" between him and the church. The meeting has been called for next Sunday morning following the church service.

Dr. Diehl, oldest Protestant minister in the city in the point of continued service here, declined to give reasons for his contemplated resignation or to discuss his future plans.

He has taken a prominent part in civic affairs. He founded the Crippled Children's society which operates a hospital here; he founded (in 1934) and is president of the Civic Music association and he is one of the founders of Corpus Christi's centennial museum.

Ex-Governor Wins In Carolina Election

RALEIGH, N. C., May 31. (U.P.)— J Melville Broughton, North Carolina's wartime governor, today won a seat in the U. S. Senate in a double victory over incumbent Sen. William B. Umstead.

Near-complete returns from Saturday's Democratic primary balloting showed that Broughton had ousted Umstead from the Senate post he has held by appointment since the death of the late Sen. Josiah Bailey in December, 1946.

Umstead conceded the victory early yesterday to Broughton, a 60-year-old Raleigh attorney who aspired to the vice-presidency at the close of his gubernatorial term in 1944.

Broughton won two victories. He was elected to a short term, from the time general election returns are canvassed in November until regular inauguration day in January, and also a regular six-year term beginning in January, 1949.

Gaines Fair Association Scheduled To Meet June 8

A meeting of the Gaines Fair association has been scheduled Tuesday, June 8, at 8 p. m. in the Gaines county courthouse, the Seminole Chamber of Commerce has announced. Permanent officers will be elected and additional plans made for the 1948 Gaines county fair.

Premium lists will be distributed to all interested organizations and individuals in the county. Organizations are urged to send a representative to the meeting. Ranchers and farmers are especially urged to attend the session.

Wesleyan Grads Hear Governor

FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP)—Americans in the new world must realize their responsibilities as United States and world citizens, Governor Beauford Jester told 80 graduates of Texas Wesleyan college at commencement exercises today.

"The area of citizenship has widened until today we are not just citizens of Texas and the United States, but also of the world," the governor stated, dating world citizenship from the advent of the atomic bomb.

"We in America will have much to say about the character of the new world, but our contribution must be in deeds not words in planning and working ceaselessly for the firm establishment on a world basis of what we deem to be the inalienable rights of man," the Governor said. "Communism will never gain a foothold so long as the American people are fully informed concerning the relative merits of the democratic form of government and the totalitarian form."

Advantage Pointed Out

Reviewing the history of the United States, the governor said that "just as there have been ups and downs in the development of our own American civilization so there are and will be numerous problems on a world basis."

"Your generation will have a distinctive advantage over the consciousness of the existence of world citizenship," Governor Jester told the graduates. First Load Of U. S. Foreign Aid Arrives In Italian Port

GENOA, May 31. (U.P.) — U. S. Ambassador James Dunn today greeted the first ship to arrive at an Italian port bearing a consignment of European Recovery program aid foe Italy.

The ship, the James Bowie, docked last night and was received with formal ceremonies today. Dunn said its cargo of 9,000 tons "is evidence of the faith of the American people in the future of the Italian people."

Pre-School Turn Out Disappoints Officials

Where are they?

Of the 1,029 boys and girls of Lubbock Independent School district who will be 6 years old on or before Sept. 1 this year, and will be starting to school this fall, only 425, or an approximate 40 per cent, turned up Monday for Lubbock's free pre-school.

R. W. Matthews, in expressing his regret that more of the youngsters have not signed for the school which was set up primarily on the request of parents, has requested that Lubbock's P-TA members canvass homes in their block to determine reasons for such a small pre-school enrollment.

Matthews explained that pre-school enrollment will be open throughout this week, and asked parents to send their children "for their own good."

The pre-school is generally a socialization process which erases fear and mistaken opinions that children have about going to school. The youngsters are taught the ways of school, how to take part in school, how to get to and from school with safety, and receive a thorough physical examination, as well as a check of vaccination and diptheria shots. Should the public school nurses determine anything wrong with a child, the family is advised so that there will be ample time for correction before regular school opening in September.

Murder Trial Recessed For Disinterment Of Body Again

BALLINGER, May 31. (AP)—The muder trial of T. Clifton Clary was recessed today to allow time for his wife's body to be disinterred—for the second time.

The trial will resume at noon tomorrow.

Judge O. L. Paris ordered the disinterment after defense attorneys asked that a physician of Clary's choice be allowed to examine the body and vital organs of Mrs. Clary.

The examination will be made by Dr. N. D. Schoffield, professor of medicine at the University of Texas medical school at Galveston. He flew to San Angelo today and planned to go from there to Redonia, Mason county, where Mrs. Clary is buried.

The vital organs are now in custody of J. H. Arnette, toxicologist of the department of Public Safety, who is here as a state witness.

PADDY WAGON PINCHED

NEW YORK, (U.P.)—Two Bronx policement on their beat spied a patrol wagon marked as the property of the New Rochelle, N. Y., police department. They were curious when they could not find the driver and reported the incident. New Rochelle police reported it had been stolen and two sheepish detectives came to take it home.

Five Injured In Highway Mishap

Terry Young, 16, of 2820 Maple, remained in serious condition in Plainview hospital last night where he was taken following an automobile accident Sunday afternoon on the Petersburg-Lubbock cutoff. Four other Lubbock persons were injured when the car in which they were riding hit a soft shoulder, went out of control and crashed into a telephone pole.

Young was reported to be conscious, although suffering from a broken back and internal injuries. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young.

Also still in the Plainview hospital is Sheilla Jondahl, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jondahl, 2511 Nineteenth, suffering from severe cuts and bruises over her legs and arms.

Claudine Young, 17; Ann Alexander, 15, and Bruce Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, 2802 Thirtieth, received emergency treatment at the Plainview hospital and were released.

Highway Patrolman M. J. Newberry reported the accident occurred about 4:15 p. m.

The five and one other, John Brown, had been to a youth rally of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Petersburg, Mrs Clarence Young of 206 Twenty-third, a sister-in-law of the Youngs, said.

The car, driven by Miss Young overturned, Mrs. Young said she had been informed.

Terry Young, relatives were told, was paralyzed from the waist down, and he suffered a crushed ankle and deep cuts of the face.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Defective wiring was said by city firemen to be the cause of damage by fire to a chair, curtain and radio at 8 p. m. Sunday at 2309 Sixteenth. An electric transformer in 2500 block between Twenty-second and Twentythird caused a 3:30 a. m. run Sunday, they said.

After undergoing major stomach surgery in West Texas hospital on Monday, May 24, Calvin Eoff, 61, of Shallowater route 1 was reported getting along nicely Monday by relatives.

Damage caused was listed by city firemen as slight when a short-circuit developed Monday morning in an electric barbecue pit at the Coffee Bar, 1943 Texas avenue.

Fines and costs totaling $4,373.16 were assessed in April for District 2 of the Texas Liquor Control board, headquarters for which is in Lubbock. Thirty ases were filed in the courts, 33 convictions were obtained, four jail terms, there were 17 convictions and no acquittals. The information was obtained from the May issue of the Review, official publication of the board. The Lubbock division ranked fourth among the 17 districts of the state. Longview, Houston and Paris districts alone had higher assessments.

The Veteran Service Officers of West Texas will hold its first regular meeting at the American Legion hall here Sunday, June 6, according to an announcement from Rhea Smith, of Amarillo, president of the organization. All county service officers, in each of the 79 counties served by the Veterans administration regional office at Lubbock, are urged to attend. Very important business is to be discussed, the announcement said.

The city swimming pool opened Sunday, with 665 persons entering, and swimming instruction opened Monday morning, with 127 taking part. The pool was closed Monday afternoon, because of cool weather. The schedule of instruction follows: 9 a. m. to 10 a. m., 12 to 16-year-old pupils; 10 a. m. to 11 a. m., 6 to 8 years; 11 a. m. to 12 noon, 9 to 11 years. The City Recreation department asked that children not be present until time for their classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Shannon J. Keltz of 2123 Thirty-fourth street are visiting Mr. Keltz' mother, Mrs. C. M. Keltz, in Latrobe, Pa., who is ill. Mr. and Mrs. Keltz expect to be gone for two weeks or more, depending on the progress of Mr. Keltz' mother. On the return trip to Lubbock the couple will visit Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Soderberg and their three daughters in Chicago Heights, Ill. Mrs. Soderberg is Mr. Keltz' sister.

The Knights of Pythias will meet at 8 p. m. tonight in the lodge hall at 1107 Ave. K, to confer the rank of knight on several candidates, it was announced Monday.

J. Robert King, Well Known Huntsville Druggist, Dies

HOUSTON, May 31. (AP)—J. Robert King, sr., Huntsville, one of the state's best known druggists, died in a Houston hospital last night at the age of 83.

He was born in Harrison county, near Longview, September 18, 1864, a son of Frances Taylor King and E. A. King.

He entered the drug business in Waco and moved to Huntsville in 1896. He recently turned his firm over to his son, J. Robert King, jr.

King and his wife, the former Miss Mollye Josey, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last year shortly before her death.

Survivors include the son, a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Fletcher, Houston, and a brother, William King, San Antonio.

Funeral services will be held in Huntsville tomorrow.

Wesleyan Grads Hear Governor

FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP)—Americans in the new world must realize their responsibilities as United States and world citizens, Governor Beauford Jester told 80 graduates of Texas Wesleyan college at commencement exercises today.

"The area of citizenship has widened until today we are not just citizens of Texas and the United States, but also of the world," the governor stated, dating world citizenship from the advent of the atomic bomb.

"We in America will have much to say about the character of the new world, but our contribution must be in deeds not words in planning and working ceaselessly for the firm establishment on a world basis of what we deem to be the inalienable rights of man," the Governor said. "Communism will never gain a foothold so long as the American people are fully informed concerning the relative merits of the democratic form of government and the totalitarian form."

Advantage Pointed Out

Reviewing the history of the United States, the governor said that "just as there have been ups and downs in the development of our own American civilization so there are and will be numerous problems on a world basis."

"Your generation will have a distinctive advantage over the consciousness of the existence of world citizenship," Governor Jester told the graduates. "Time has erased much ignorance and many prejudices which have shackled former generations and today's dawn reveals clearly one world with groups of human beings differing greatly as to customs, thinking and standards, but all realizing they are citizens of one world."

President Law Sone of TWC awarded Jester an honrary degree as doctor of humanities. The honorory degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Rev. Ervin Bohmfolk, pastor of Corsicana First Methodist church, and the honorary degree of doctor of humanities was conferred upon Mrs. Dora Roberts of Big Spring, who recently gave the college a $500,000 gift.

Expressing his appreciation, Governor Jester said "the Methodist church can look with pride on its fine record in the educational field."

First Load Of U. S. Foreign Aid Arrives In Italian Port

GENOA, May 31. (U.P) — U. S. Ambassador James Dunn today greeted the first ship to arrive at an Italian port bearing a consignment of European Recovery program aid foe Italy.

The ship, the James Bowie, docked last night and was received with formal ceremonies today. Dunn said its cargo of 9,000 tons "is evidence of the faith of the American people in the future of the Italian people."

Pre-School Turn Out Disappoints Officials

Where are they?

Of the 1,029 boys and girls of Lubbock Independent School district who will be 6 years old on or before Sept. 1 this year, and will be starting to school this fall, only 425, or an approximate 40 per cent, turned up Monday for Lubbock's free pre-school.

R. W. Matthews, in expressing his regret that more of the youngsters have not signed for the school which was set up primarily on the request of parents, has requested that Lubbock's P-TA members canvass homes in their block to determine reasons for such a small pre-school enrollment.

Matthews explained that preschool enrollment will be open throughout this week, and asked parents to send their children "for their own good."

The pre-school is generally a socialization process which erases fear and mistaken opinions that children have about going to school. The youngsters are taught the ways of school, how to take part in school, how to get to and from school with safety, and receive a thorough physical examination, as well as a check of vaccination and diptheria shots. Should the public school nurses determine anything wrong with a child, the family is advised so that there will be ample time for correction before regular school opening in September.

Murder Trial Recessed For Disinterment Of Body Again

BALLINGER, May 31. (AP)—The muder trial of T. Clifton Clary was recessed today to allow time for his wife's body to be disinterred—for the second time.

The trial will resume at noon tomorrow.

Judge O. L. Paris ordered the disinterment after defense attorneys asked that a physician of Clary's choice be allowed to examine the body and vital organs of Mrs. Clary.

The examination will be made by Dr. N. D. Schoffield, professor of medicine at the University of Texas medical school at Galveston. He flew to San Angelo today and planned to go from there to Redonia, Mason county, where Mrs. Clary is buried.

The vital organs are now in custody of J. H. Arnette, toxicologist of the department of Public Safety, who is here as a state witness.

PADDY WAGON PINCHED

NEW YORK, (U.P)—Two Bronx policement on their beat spied a patrol wagon marked as the property of the New Rochelle, N. Y., police department. They were curious when they could not find the driver and reported the incident. New Rochelle police reported it had been stolen and two sheepish detectives came to take it home.

Five Injured In Highway Mishap

Terry Young, 16, of 2820 Maple, remained in serious condition in Plainview hospital last night where he was taken following an automobile accident Sunday afternoon on the Petersburg-Lubbock cutoff. Four other Lubbock persons were injured when the car in which they were riding hit a soft shoulder, went out of control and crashed into a telephone pole.

Young was reported to be conscious, although suffering from a broken back and internal injuries. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young.

Also still in the Plainview hospital is Sheilla Jondahl, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jondahl, 2511 Nineteenth, suffering from severe cuts and bruises over her legs and arms.

Claudine Young, 17; Ann Alexander, 15, and Bruce Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, 2802 Thirtieth, received emergency treatment at the Plainview hospital and were released.

Highway Patrolman M. J. Newberry reported the accident occurred about 4:15 p. m.

The five and one other, John Brown, had been to a youth rally of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Petersburg, Mrs Clarence Young of 206 Twenty-third, a sister-in-law of the Youngs, said.

The car, driven by Miss Young overturned, Mrs. Young said she had been informed.

Terry Young, relatives were told, was paralyzed from the waist down, and he suffered a crushed ankle and deep cuts of the face.

Hubbers Beat Dukes Easily, 10 To 3

Clodfelter Wins Fifth Victory

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 1. (Special)—The invading Lubbock Hubbers made Memorial Day a disappointing one for the Albuquerque Dukes, turning back the home team 10-3 behind the steady hurling of Bob Clodfelter.

The Hubbers jumped into an early lead and never were behind tonight, as they blasted the offerings of three Duke pitchers. Strangely enough, the Hubbers accomplished the win without a home run, although some timely doubles helped.

Clodfelter Wins Shakily

Clodfelter, in racking up his fifth victory, was not always sure of himself and faltered. He handed out nine passes on balls, but when the going was tough, he throttled the Dukes. The home team was able to touch the lanky Lubbock hurler for single runs only in the first, third and seventh innings.

Meanwhile the Hubbers were making merry at the expense of Ben Cantrell, a cousin of the Hubbers. They nicked him for two runs in the first and added four more in the second, at which point he vanished.

O'Neill Checks Hubbers

Joe Behl came on to relieve him and did all right until the fourth, when the Hubbers started up again. This time they picked up three runs to take a 9-2 lead and bring on Charles O'Neill, who held them in check after that.

The Hubbers got two quick runs in the first, after Jackie Wilcox had gone down. Charley Scarborough pumped a single into center and moved to third on Manager Jackie Sullivan's single. Both runners came in on Virgil Richardson's long double.

Four more runs in the second clinched the game. Clodfelter led off with a double and, after Wilcox fanned, Scarborough brought him in with another double. Scarborough took third on a wild pitch and scored on Sullivan's fly to right.

Finally End Parade

Richardson kept things alive with a single and, after Don Moore walked, Frank Boothe scored Richardson with a single. Moore came in when the second baseman booted Frank McAlexander's hit.

Singles by Sullivan, Richardson, Moore and Fowler accounted for three more tallies in the fourth to end the slaughter.

The victory, coupled with Pampa's idleness, cut half a game from the Oiler lead and left Lubbock trailing by two games. They still have only half a game over Borger, which also won.

A's Lick Bosox To Retain Lead; Giants Take First In National

Yanks Win Two, Other Nines Split

PHILADELPHIA, May 31 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics bounced out of the American League lead today and then quickly recaptured the top spot as Joe Coleman notched his sixth victory of the year beating the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, in the second game of a holiday twin bill. Joe Dobson blanked the A's with four hits in the opener, 8-0.

A crowd of 24,838 watched Red Sox pitcher Mickey Harris balk the winning run across the plate in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Harris and Manager Joe McCarthy put up a vorous verbal battle with Umpire Art Passarella, but the umpire's decision held and Hank Majeski strolled home with the payoff tally

The A's had not gotten a man as far as second base until the sixth, but Harris suddenly lost his control. He walked Ferris Fain, yielded a single to Majeski, and then passed Sam Chapman and Mike Guerra, forcing home Fain with the tying run.

With the bases still crammed, Harris paused in mid-windup and stepped from the rubber while pitching to Don White. Passarella called the balk and the game was won.

By winning the opener, the Sox snapped a four-game losing streak and won for the third time in 10 games since they left Boston. Dobson won all three of those games.

Almost Half-Million Baseball Fans See 16 Holiday Games

(By International News Service)

A total of approximately 330,000 fans witnessed the 16 Memorial Day baseball games in the major leagues.

The morning contest between the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants at Ebbetts Field attracted 22,753, and the matinee drew 34,349.

All other clubs played doubleheaders. In the National league, the Pirates and Cubs played before 49,965 at Chicago, the Cardinals and Reds drew 24,009 at Cincinnati, and 12,000 Boston fans saw the Braves and Phillies.

In the American league, the crowd at Yankee Stadium for the New York-Washington twin bill topped the list with 62,626. Twenty thousand saw the Red Sox and Athletics at Philadelphia, the White Sox and Tigers drew 55,875 at Detroit, and 48,961 saw the Browns and Indians at Cleveland.

Amarilloan Is Defeated In Bid For Junior College Tennis Crown

LEXINGTON, Mo., May 31 (AP)—John Fleitz today captured the singles title and teamed with Don Manke to win the doubles and give Long Beach, Calif., Junior college a sweep in the National Junior College tennis tourney here.

Fleitz turned back Wally Bostwick, Modesto, Calif., 6-1, 6-3, to win the singles crown. Earlier he had outlasted Frank Sample, San Mateo, Calif., in a semifinal match, 9-7, 0-6, 6-2.

Bostwick reached the singles finals yesterday by defeating James Saunders Amarillo, Tex., 6-1, 6-4.

Reds Beat Cards, As Others Divide

BROOKLYN, May 31 (AP)—Johnny Mize walloped two home runs and Sid Gordon one to lead the New York Giants to a 10-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the afternoon half of a Memorial doubleheader.

A crowd of 34,349 saw Andy Hansen snap the Dodgers' four-game winning streak with a six-hitter in his first start of the season. A morning turnout of 22,735 saw Ralph Branca help win his own game with a run-scoring single which gave the Dodgers a 4-3 win.

The split in the twin bill enabled the Giants to take over undisputed possession of first place in the National league, a half game in front of the St. Louis Cardinals who were beaten in both ends of a doubleheader by the Cincinnati Reds.

Mize's homers drove in four runs, two in the first off losing pitcher Erv Palica, and two more in the eighth off Willard Ramsdell. They were No.'s 7 and 8.

Gordon had two singles for a perfect afternoon at bat.

The Giants collected 13 hits in all off four Dodgers pitchers and drew 10 bases on balls.

Amarillo Whips Loboes, 5 To 4 In Close Duel

AMARILLO, May 31. (Special)—The Amarillo Gold Sox rammed over two runs in the seventh inning here tonight to beat the Lamesa Loboes, 5-4, in a tight ball game.

A costly error by Tony Fiarito set the stage for the Gold Sox's winning rally, although this miscue almost was evened by a Hose error in the next inning.

In the seventh, Fiarito dropped Mayfield's fly to lead off the inning. Jim Heller, the winning hurler, sacrificed Mayfield to second and he scored on Doug Lewis' double to center. Jerry Folkman flied out but Don Elias singled Lewis home with the winning marker.

Lamesa threatened in the eighth, when Sturdivant was safe on an error. He went to second on a passed ball and scored on Skidgel's single.

Earlier, Skidgel homered with Palmer on base in the fourth to tie up the game for the Loboes.

Winners To Enter National Tourney

The 36-hole qualifying round for the United States Golf Association's National Open tournament will get underway this morning at 8:30 on the Lubbock Country club links, with a star-studded entry list of 20 golfers from West Texas vying for honors.

The aspirants for positions in the National Open tourney, which will be held this summer in Los Angeles, will tour the Country club course this morning for 18 holes, taking time off for lunch.

They will return at 1 p. m. to fire the final 18 holes, with the two golfers turning in low scores over the 36-hole medal course declared the winners.

Two Men To Qualify

These two golfers, strictly on the basis of their qualifying scores, and without regard as to whether they are amateur or professional, will be eligible to compete in the National Open.

Lubbock, as might be expected, heads the list of entries with nine, of whom seven are amateurs. The two professionals head Lubbock's two golf clubs, Herb Schroeder of the Country club and Paul Jones of the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club.

Altogether, there will be 11 amateurs in the qualifying round fighting for the two places against nine professionals. Among the outstanding pros entered in the tourney are William T. McEachern of Plainview, Woodrow P. Foster of Levelland, H. T. Hornbuckle of Odessa, C. W. Hogan of Lamesa, Jack Harden of El Paso, one of the most highly favored, Lloyd Wadkins of Midland and Warren Cantrell, also of Midland.

Californian Entered

Among the known amateur golfers entered are James G. Wilhite of Midland, Jack W. Vaughn of Lamesa, Vann M. Ligon of Midland and one unknown, William P. Castleman of the Riviera Country club, Los Angeles.

Lubbock's contingent will be headed by Chick Trout, Sr., a former professional and one of the outstanding amateurs in West Texas. Other men entering include James E. Goldman, Ted T. Tipps, Roy B. Howard, J. K. Bradshaw, Fenner Tubbs and Raymond Marshall, all from the Lubbock Country club.

The golfers will tee off every seven minutes in pairs, with the first pair leaving the tee at 8:30 a. m. The afternoon round will begin at 1 p. m., with pairs teeing off every seven minutes, as in the morning.

Lubbock Is Honored

Lubbock is honored in having the sectional qualifying round site for the National Open. Through the efforts of Fred Hogan of Midland, sectional executive chairman, New York headquarters recognized the need for two qualifying sites in Texas. Lubbock was designated the site for West Texas.

The complete pairings for today's qualifying round, follows:

Vaughn, amateur, and McEachern, pro; Trout, amateur, and Foster, pro; Goldman and Tipps, amateurs; Hornbuckle and Hogan, pros; Howard, amateur, and Schroeder, pro; Harden, pro, and Ligon, amateur; Jones, pro, and Castleman, amateur; White, amateur, and Wadkins, pro; Bradshaw and Tubbs, amateurs; and Marshall, amateur, and Cantrell, pro.

Fort Worth Trims Tulsa Oilers To Snap Loser's Win Streak

TULSA, Okla., May 31. (AP)—After two straight defeats, Fort Worth's Cats turned on the Tulsa Oilers tonight and snapped the home team's five-game winning streak with a 2-0 triumph behind Righthander Bob Austin's three-hit pitching.

It was Austin's seventh victory and the first time the usually heavy-hitting Oilers have been shut-out this season.

North League To Be Formed

Wet Weather Holds Up Junior AL Play

Rain has been hampering the efforts of the American Legion Baseball League in its effort to get started, but if the weather turns fair today, play will start in both the South League and the Pee Wee League.

A scheduled game last night at the Lubbock Boys club was washed out by excessive moisture, but the Exchange Club nine is scheduled to tangle with the Jaycees tonight, providing the diamond is in shape.

North League Meeting

In the Pee Wee League, the Cardinals and the Tigers are slated for action, providing the diamond and the weather cooperate.

At the same time, boys interested in forming four teams for the North League will meet at 4:30 on the east side of Jones Stadium at Texas Tech.

H. J. McCabe, Commander of Allen Brothers Post, American Legion, who is in charge of the program has urged all boys living in the required zone to report to the stadium today. Since rain washed out the opening of the South League yesterday, the North League is not behind.

Three Tilts This Week

This league will be composed of boys living north of 19th street, west of Avenue Q and north of Broadway. Sponsors of the teams will be the Optimists, the Lions, the Kiwanis and the Rotary.

Games are scheduled to be played every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday afternoons, with an inter-league game slated for each Wednesday afternoon.

McCabe also said that more boys were needed for the Senior Legion baseball team, which is holding practice sessions each night at 6 on the Boys club diamond. Games have been slated for Wednesday and Sunday with the Morton Legion nine on a home and home basis, and there will be a game Friday night.

Boys entered in the South League, with coaches, follow:

ABC, Thomas George, coach: Bobby Tollison, Truman Jones, Pinky Owens, Dickie Lowrey, Dan Heard, Don Stewart, Dennis Zachary, M. Cooper, Neal Vaughn, Tommy Stevens, Wendell Lawson, E. Simons, Ernie Sullivan, Doyle Dean, Lindell Bailey, Glen Akin.

Jaycees, Dawson Reid, coach: Richard Lowrey, John Terry, David Morgan, Carroll Walker, Sam Scott, Joe Gray, Jerry Martin, Ira Owens, Jackie Chancery, Don Presley, Don Washington, Don Sparks, Lee Gholson.

Exchange, Edward Maeker, coach; Harold Teal, Rulen Haley, Charles Brewer Bill Breedlove, Dan Boone, Dub Sampson, Bobby Craig, Frank Wright, Royce Shipp, Ray McLarty, Billy Hollingsworth, Bill Whitson, Duane Rampy and Jimmy Spence.

Softball Games Set For Tonight

A doubleheader will feature play at Jumbo Webster Field tonight, when teams in the South Plains Softball league, interrupted all of last week by rain, return to the diamond.

If the weather permits tonight, Golden Light Coffee will meet Baldridge Bakery in the initial tilt, with the Thomas Jewelers taking on the Cloverlake Dairy nine in the nightcap.

Dewey Carr or Bobby Young, both respected hurlers, will be on tap for the Coffeemen and one of them will be given the starting nod. Loy Hubbard, a real ace, and Bill Kizer, another topnotch hurler, will be on hand for the Bakers.

In the second game, the pitchers are known now, with Manager Whistle Banks going for the Dairymen against G. W. Warden for the Jewelers. Both are outstanding pitchers and a real duel is forecast.

TEXAS SOFTBALL LEAGUE RESULTS ARE GIVEN

Bluebonnet went into a longer lead in the Texas Softball League Saturday night, winning two games from Nathans at Webster Field, 4-0 and 2-1.

In other games played Saturday night, Baldridge split with Ragsdale, winning the first 2-1, but dropping the second 4-3. Crane and Odessa also split, Crane winning the opener 3-2 and being blanked in the second 1-0. Monahans and Big Spring were rained out and Stamford drew a bye.

Loy Hubbard chucked the Baldridge nine to its initial victory, the pitcher giving up only five hits. He turned right around and lost the second game when he relieved Bill Kizer in the sixth.

Lamesa Loboes Purchase Top WT-NM Hurler

LAMESA, May 31. (Special)—The leading hurler in the West Texas-New Mexico League during 1947, Bill Jones was purchased outright by the Lamesa Loboes from Austin of the Big State League, it was announced here today by Dan Y. Davis, principal stockholder.

Jones, a rookie with the Loboes in 1947, won 24 games against four losses. He will be on rookie status again this season.

Drafted By Austin

The big righthander was drafted during the winter by Austin for the $1,000 draft price, but refused to report this spring. He has been pitching semi-pro ball for Trent, his home.

Davis disclosed today that Jones probably would hurl in the Abilene-Lamesa series starting Thursday.

The purchase price was not released.

Maxwell Gains New Golf Crown By Winning San Angelo Tourney

SAN ANGELO, May 31. (AP)—Billy Maxwell, 18-year-old Texas Junior Golf champion from Abilene, today had a new feather in his cap—the San Angelo Country Club Invitation title.

Maxwell beat Defending Champion Claude C. Wild, Jr., of Austin, 5 and 4, Sunday to win the Twelfth Annual Invitation here.

Mauri Rose Streaks To Third Win In Indianapolis Classic

State Schoolboy Tourney Starts

DALLAS, Tex., May 31 (AP)—Longview, Austin, Hondo and Wichita Falls survived afternoon competition in the first round of the State High School baseball tournament here today.

In the upper bracket, Longview stopped North Side of Fort Worth, 5 to 2, and Austin blanked San Angelo, 3 to 0.

In the lower bracket, Hondo nipped Ball High of Galveston, 3 to 2 in eight innings and Wichita Falls whipped Irving, 4 to 2.

No-Hit Game Lost

Big loser of the day was Ramon Price of Irving, who pitched a no-hit game against the Coyotes, but lost anyway The Coyotes cashed in on errors, wild pitches and passed balls to tally their unearned runs.

Ball High collected only four safeties off of J. E. Boon of Hondo, two of them coming in the seventh inning when the Galveston lads knotted the count, 2 to 2. Paulie Mueller slammed a triple in the top of the eighth to knock in the winning run. Then, Boon retired the side in order.

Three squeeze plays and a double by Rex Stuckey gave the Longview Lobos their margin of victory over the North Side Steers. Billy Muffett, who pitched the first five innings for the Steers, gave up two hits. Lefthander Jack Mulholland set the Lobos down in the sixth.

Jack Binkley's left field single and an error won for the Austin Maroons. With a 1-0 lead over San Angelo Binkley whammed a clean hit to left field scoring Joe Miles and Howard Brady to cinch the game.

Both Binkley and Bobby Clutterbuck of San Angelo pitched good ball, giving up two hits apiece.

Easy Triumphs Gained By Horses At Garden State Park's Program

CAMDEN, N. J., May 31. (AP)—A five-year old mare highly rated two years ago and a two-year old colt with prospects of a great future raced to easy triumphs today in the two feature races on Garden State Park's closing program.

Honeymoon, five-year old mare, splashed home three lengths in front of Elpis to take the $25,000 Vineland Handicap.

Blue Peter, flying the silks of J. M. Roebling, chalked up his fourth victory in six starts in accounting for the $15,000 added Garden State Stakes.

HOUSTON GETS WRIGHT

HOUSTON, May 31. (AP)—Claude (Pappy) Wright, veteran shortstop who helped the Buffs in the clutch last year, has been recalled from Columbus, Ga., to aid the crippled Houston club.

Rose's 119 M.P.H. Sets New Record

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP)—Mauri Rose, the grand little driver with the big black mustache, today streaked to his third triumph in a 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the fastest time in history.

The exciting finish was at most identical with the 1947 race in which Rose, a South Bend, Ind., automotive engineer, and his teammate Bill Holland, Reading Pa., finished first and second. Holland trailed Rose today by barely a mile. Duke Nalon, Los Angeles, was third and Ted Horn, Paterson, N J., fourth.

Blots Out Record

As Rose steered his four-cylinder blue crown spark plug special across the finish line, the winner in four hours, 10 minutes, 23.38 seconds, or at the average of 119.813, he blotted out the previous record set 10 years ago. The late Floyd Roberts had established the record of 117.200 in his 1938 victory.

Rose, 42-years-old, joined Wilbur Shaw, president of the Speedway, and Louis Meyer of Los Angeles, builder of automotive racing engines, as the only ones ever before to win the Memorial Day classic three times.

Closest to Rose, winner of the $20,000 first prize and $8,000 in lap prize money, came his teammate, Holland, who had combined with Rose to make a two-car race of it in the thrilling last 50 miles. Holland's average speed was 119.147.

It the 32nd annual of the fabulous 500-mile race, it was established early, often and convincingly for more than 175,000 spectators, that the drivers could take it, but the cars could not. At the finish there were only seven of the 33 cars that started still on the track.

While the ultimate cheers of the big crowd went to Rose and Holland, a special ovation was given Horn, one of the top four finishers for his ninth straight race. An attempt had been made to sabotage Horn's Italian Maserati two weeks before the race, but a handful of sand found in the crank case apparently did no damage.

The spectators were saddened by the misfortune that befell Rex Mays, Glendale, Calif., one of the pre-race favorites. He led for the first 17 laps, fell behind Horn, and remained in a challenging position until he shot back into the lead at 180 miles. He dropped back to fourth at 300 miles and had to give up the race at 310 miles when his gas tank sprang a leak.

For the most part the mishaps to the cars were mechanical. The only serious wreck was that of Duane Carter, a Speedway freshman from Santa Monica, Calif. His Belanger Motors Special lost its left front wheel as he was speeding on his 96th mile. The car skidded into the infield at the southeast turn and broke an axle. He escaped with a scratch.

Women Golfers Win In England

ST. ANNES, Eng., May 31 (INS)—Louise Suggs, America's national amateur titlist, paced five other U. S. entries into the third round of the British Women's Amateur championships today in another "Yankee" raid on English golf trophies.

The trim Atlanta, Ga., star, a pre-tourney favorite, shot spectacular golf against two British opponents in her quest for the title won last year by Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias, now a professional.

Miss Suggs burned up the 6,666-yard, par-73 St. Annes course with a one-under par 34 that led to a 5 and 4 conquest of her second round foe, Miss M. Barron. The American previously had defeated Miss J. Hammond, 4 and 3.

It was a day of retribution for the Georgia Peach. She had been "dead wood" in the recent Curtis Cup victories, losing a doubles match and halving in the singles.

Another Atlantan, Dorothy Kirby, proved her mettle with a second round 3 and 2 victory over a tough opponent, Jacqueline Gordon, considered England's best woman amateur.

The ten-entry American contingent marched through the first round virtually unchallenged. Only Jean Hopkins, Curtis cup alternate from Lakewood, O., stumbled, losing to Jean McIntyre of England, 3 and 2.

The American ranks were thinned in the second round, three U. S. entries falling out, one on the 19th hole, another in an All-America tussle.

However, standout Curtis cup members remained in the running, with cup captain Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, Merion, Pa., easily defeating British Isles opposition by identical 5 and 4 scores.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., was not so fortunate in her extra-hole joust with England's Frances Stephens. Miss Riley had beaten Mrs. Val Reddan, of Ireland, two-up in a forenoon match, but took a four to her opponent's three on the 19th after having squared the match on the last three holes.

WINNER'S TROPHY—Ben Hogan wears a grin a mile wide as he holds the cup emblematic of the PGA championship, which he won with a stunning 7 and 6 victory over Mike Turnesa. The tourney, played in St. Louis this year, is the aim of all professional golfers and the goal most sought after by the pros. Hogan, generally accused of having a poker face, doesn't wear it in this picture.

Shannon II Takes Rich Argonaut Handicap

INGLEWOOD, Cal., May 31 (INS)—Shannon II, the Australian champion, finally found his running legs in America today and flashed to victory in the $50,000 Argonaut Handicap at Hollywood Park.

The 7-year-old Australian bay thunderbolt was booted home by Jockey Johnny Adams a length and a quarter in front of F. Ronald Graham's Irish thoroughbred, Mafosta.

On Trust, king of the California-breds, was third, a length and a quarter behind Mafosta.

The mile and a sixteenth race was run before a record Memorial Day crowd of 71,789.

Adams, who seemed to fit Shannon II like a glove, came off Mafosta's swift early pace to overtake the Irish thoroughbred in the stretch drive and win in the last sixteenth of a mile.

Mafosta carved a blistering pace of 1:10 1/5 for six furlongs and of 1:36 1/5 for the mile. That was too fast for With Pleasure, which was in nearest pursuit, and he dropped out of contention.

On Trust then went out to try to catch the Irish import, and at the same time Adams flashed from out of the clouds with Shannon II.

It was Shannon II's second victory in a $50,000 stake race. He set a new track record for the mile and three-sixteenths in winning a fifty grander at Bay Meadows during the winter.

Two More Oregon Cities Face Inundation As Dikes Weaken

Kelso area at 7 p. m.

Orderly evacuation of Kelso low districts continued with 2,000 more expected to leave their homes tonight before the rising river.

Bridge Endangered

Dikes in the Cowlitz, Willow Grove and Coweeman river districts of the Longview-Kelso area were reported in critical condition.

The boiling 31-foot crest was just 24 hours away from Vancouver, Wash.

Across the river, water was ripping at the Oregon approach to the mile-long bridge between Vancouver and Portland.

Backwaters of the Columbia pushed into the Williamette river, which runs through the heart of Portland.

Waterfront industrial areas, warehouse districts and miles of breakup track around Portland's flooded union station were under water.

Desperate Battle Waged

The city was girded with every available pumping device. Sandbag crews have labored for days erecting barricades designed to keep the water from Portland's rich westside shopping district. The next 24 hours, with the Willamette due to crest at 30.5-feet, will prove the test. So far, the flood has behaved as expected in Portland proper.

Army emergency orders reopened the interstate bridge to "essential traffic" after Washington state patrolmen ordered it closed.

One death an electrocution at Pasco, increased the flood's known death toll to 21 today. Vanport's death toll remained unknown. No bodies have been found in that wrecked town of 18,700 population.

Farther upstream at Umatilla, Ore., the Columbia theatened to tear out cement foundations of two huge fuel tanks and send more than 300,000 gallons of gasoline downstream on the crest of the flood.

Disaster Area Proclaimed

Known death tolls stood at 21 today. Damage was conservatively estimated at $100,000,000.

Immediately after President Truman declared the Columbia basin a "disaster area" today, the Red Cross took official cognizance of the disaster on a national scale and allocated $250,000 for relief.

Hope that a major catastrophe had been averted in Vanport grew by the hour. Red Cross officials reported their list of missing persons was steadily dwindling with reuniting of families.

Hospitals reported they had treated more than 100 Vanport victims for injuries, none critical. Some had suffered broken bones.

High Death Toll Feared

Federal housing authorities said it would take days before receding water would permit them to explore the muddy interiors of Vanport's housing units now under 20 to 40 feet of water.

No bodies have been recovered from Vanport. Death toll estimates, admittedly pure guess work, ranged from 100 up.

Woodland fell victim to the Columbia basin flood as the dike at the confluence of the Lewis and Columbia went out today 20 hours after Vanport's disaster Sunday.

A railroad spur protected Woodland from a sudden onrush like the wall of Columbia river water that overwhelmed Vanport housing project.

Residents Flee

Army engineers had warned several days ago that the dikes were weakening, and most of the 1,200 residents had fled. Farmers had taken their dairy cattle from low-lying land nearby before the highest flood waters since 1894.

Woodland is at the junction of the Lewis and the Columbia Workers forecast that within four to six hours the town would be covered by two to 12 feet of water.

Added to Vanport's unknown death toll was the terrific property loss in addition to the shattered buildings.

Danger Signals Flying

Automobiles, furniture, clothing and valuables were swept under in the "flash flood." The speed of destruction at Vanport was reminiscent of the disastrous Johnstown flood in Pennsylvania 59 years ago when more than 2,200 people lost their lives.

Danger signals were flying up and down the Columbia from Umatilla, 225 miles upstream from Portland, to the Longview-Kelso area 5 miles downstream.

An unsuccessful search for victims of the wall of water that shattered Vanport Sunday was halted today because of danger to the lives of searchers.

The Columbia burst through a new revetment at The Dalles, Ore.

At Portland, the Willamette river backed farther into the downtown industrial area. A foot of water covered platforms and tracks at the union station. The yards themselves and breakup tracks adjacent have been under water now for two days.

Former Bomber Now Battle Shrine For Citizens Of Bryan

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Let Houston have its battleship Texas and San Antonio its Alamo Bryan, Tex., has a battleshrine of its own, a B-17 bomber with tired wings, brought home by the navigator who rode it on 32 missions over Germany.

Milton Buckhaults, now a Bryan business man, is the veteran who refused to give up the flak-scarred ship that carried him safely through the war. When the B-17 was put in surplus storage in Arizona, Buckhaults persuaded his father to buy it for $300.

Plane Attracts Children

The bomber's last flight, a memorable one, was made March 31, 1946—from Kingman, Ariz., to Bryan, with the ship's war-pilot, Clarence L. Pickens of Anderson, S. C., at the controls and Lieutenant Buckhaults as navigator and sole passenger.

Pickens brought the bomber in to a bobble-free landing at Bryan's little Coulter field where hundreds of spectators, including a band, were waiting. In a ceremony, Lieutenant Buckhaults, a handsome, firm-jawed young man, turned his prize over to the Bryan-College Station chapter of the National Aeronautic association.

Today, the "irresistible you," its four engines stilled with rust, sits inside a picket fence at Coulter field. Today it is the target, not of flak, but of thousands of school children of the Bryan area.

From as far as 50 and 75 miles away, school buses bring delighted students for all-day picnics Children play in the shadows of the plane's great silver wings, they frolic through its tough interior. They fondle the ammunition belts that still dangle from the gun positions.

"The bomber has proved a great attraction", Mrs. R. J. Cardwell, whose husband runs a flying school at the field, said.

Faded, now, is the curvacious beauty painted on the nose of the bomber, and faded, too, are the names of the officers and crew, lettered on the sides of the craft Besides Buckhaults and Pickens, the men of the bomber were F. D. Patterson, Oakland, Calif., co-pilot and the gunners: R. L. Pender, Des Moines; G. R. Wetzler, Millerstown, Penn.; B. L. Berklund, Cumberland, Wis.; G. W. Murray and G. F. Haase, Philadelphia, L. H. Beus, Salt Lake City and J. O. Wolffis, Musk, Mich.

"A few months ago," Mrs. Cardwell told us, "a lumber truck stopped on the highway by the field and then its driver came running up to look at the bomber. He stood staring at it, as though he couldn't believe his eyes."

The man was the former gunner Wetzler, Pennsylvanian who had come to Texas to live.

"He didn't know his old ship had been brought to Bryan," Mrs. Cardwell said. "He could hardly keep back the tears."

Convention Report Made At GOP Meet

A detailed report on the Republican state convention held at Corpus Christi May 25 was made Monday night at a monthly meeting of the Lubbock County Republican club in Hotel Hilton by M. D. Temple, club president.

Temple, who was a delegate to the convention, outlined the work of the session including work of the credentials committee, resolutions committee, and committee on permanent organization. The 19th congressional district, of which Lubbock is a part, was represented on each of the groups.

Delegation Uninstructed

The Texas delegates to the Republican national convention at Philadelphia will be an uninstructed delegation, Temple said. The delegation also will not be bound by the unit rule, he said.

Temple emphasized the necessity of attending precinct conventions to be held July 24 to select delegates to choose county chairmen.

The next meeting of the club will be directed toward the study of procedures followed in selecting county officials for the party and the maintenance of strong party organization. Temple emphasized the sentiment during the last presidential election indicated a strong trend toward a two-party system in Texas, and pointed out that the trend was on the increase.

Gordon Treadaway was elected secretary-treasurer for the club to replace Bill Fleming who had resigned.

Several out-of-town visitors attended the meeting.

Showers Again Fall crops.

No rain fell yesterday at Brownfield. However, some hail was reported in the eastern part of Terry county.

Heavy showers were reported between Hale Center and Abernathy Monday, and a light shower at Plainview.

Ralls and Crosbyton both received light showers Monday, and Crosbyton light moisture Sunday.

Heavy At Slaton

The Santa Fe agent at Slaton said that one-half to three inches of rain had been reported in that area Monday.

Littlefield reported blowing dust Monday also.

At Spur, light mist was reported. About one-fourth inch of rain fell there Sunday afternoon, but eight miles west of the city about three inches of rain with some hail was reported.

Matador reported about .72 of an inch railfall Sunday, but none Monday. However, at White Flat, eight miles north of there, rainfall estimates ranged from two to four inches.

The Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton received a report of about three inches of rain Sunday at O'Donnell, and heavy hail west of there.

Other points reporting rain Sunday included: Idalou, shower; Ropesville, .25 inch; Tahoka, .25 inch, and Wilson, .33 inch.

In the Lubbock area, precipitation for May totalled 2.88 inches and .34 of an inch above the normal for the month. The rainfall for the year, however, is still short 1.03 inches, according to the weather station.

The forecast for today was partly cloudy and slightly cooler, with no indication of additional moisture.

Terror Grips City

body dead?"

"God knows," one of the men said.

There was a shout from a middle-aged man, neatly dressed in blue, struggling knee deep in water toward us. He held the arm of an old lady.

"Save my mother," he cried. "I don't care what happens to me but save my mother!"

People Scream Terror

The sheriff's car took them east toward the jam-up of cars seeking safety on Denver avenue.

I saw two men in a building, with water swirling up to the windows.

"They'll never get out." I thought, then turned and ran.

A woman, barefoot, was running ahead of me. She moaned, then screamed.

I began to move past the packed cars. High-pitched screams rose over the road of car engines. There was a hoarse cry: "Let the damn stuff go. Get out!"

The apartment where people had lolled a short time before was deserted. Its door standing open.

I cut to the right away from the street. The south dike was there. I was behind the apartments and across a deep-grassed slough. A glance to the right showed debris-filled water surging in the slough toward where I ran.

There were fewer people here but streams of them were headed for the south dike, too.

Pickaninny Unperturbed

I grabbed a little pickaninny. Maybe she was three years old. We ran as water splashed against my ankles. The dike was only a hundred yards and a thousand years ahead.

A woman ran beside me. The pickaninny's mother, I learned.

Then we were on the dike side, and safe.

The little girl was sober-faced, big-eyed. She might have been seeing Clyde Beatty's act for the first time. Just something to look at and ponder over.

"I've got a little girl about your age," I said.

She didn't look interested.

I put her down at the top of the dike. The mother said "thanks."

"Your family get out all right?"

"We did but everybody didn't," she said. "Place next to us got hit before they knowed the dike broke. They was anyhow 20 people in it."

"That's right," said a man who might have been her husband. He carried a couple of big suitcases. "Twenty people. Mighty hard on them."

People Swarm On Dyke

People filled the top of the dike. I looked back where we had come. Water was running deep and Vanport residents had cut across on an angle through the slough toward Denver avenue. Cars began to leave the street, race through the slough toward the dike. Most of them made it. Some stalled and were left.

Everywhere there were children. Some ran at their elders' heels, but most were in arms.

A suitcase broke open and a man stopped to pick up his gear. There was a moan from the crowd. "The damned fool," said someone next to me. But he got it and beat the flood to safety.

I walked along the top of the dike toward Denver avenue. It looked as though the big jam of people would make it. Then I saw the water pouring in from the north, making a two-way drive at the southeast corner where Denver and the south dike meet.

Buildings Begin To Drift

Buildings began to drift in. Water inched up, but slowed as it hit the Denver avenue fill. Soon it was a quiet, debris-filled lake. There were people still in some of the buildings that drifted in.

Boats went out after those who couldn't swim.

I headed toward Kenton, business district half a mile from Vanport.

A young man in a baseball suit with "Vanport Merchants" across his chest dug his cleats idly into the ground.

"Got what I got on," he said. "Got my family too; they got out."

I walked along ths pavement through the thousands of sightseers who jammed the place for miles; past buses ready to evacuate the people; and stepped aside for siren-screaming ambulances, police cars and fire engines.

Man Is Dazed

I came abreast a couple, the man carrying a child. His black curly hair was wet, his clothes dripping.

"Family all out?"

"Yes," he said. "All out."

His voice was far away. I looked and his eyes were glazed like a fighter's before the lights go out.

"Swim for it?"

"Wife did. I carried the baby. Swam I guess. That's all I can say; that's all I know." He was Larry Moran. Telling his name seemed an effort. Most people couldn't do it.

"Three people next to us didn't make it, I guess," he said. "A woman and her child and her sister. We put the baby on top of the car and my wife and I held them but the water took them away. Then I took the baby and we got out. That's all I know; that's all I know."

A young couple stood at the curb, staring at every car and truck that passed. The girl was crying. The man held a handkerchief and wiped at her tears.

"Their baby," I thought, but couldn't ask in the face of such grief as held them.

BOND IS SET

GALVESTON, May 31. (AP) — Bond of $2,500 was set today for Mrs. Margie Dee Carreon, 22, charged with murder of a Houston taxi driver, by Justice of the Peace Emil Schenk. The examining hearing has been postponed until June 9 at 2 p. m. in Judge Schenk's league city court. Date of the hearing, originally scheduled for Wednesday, was changed because two witnesses could not be available at that time, Judge Schenk said.

ALL TIED UP—Here's a good use for those Christmas neckties Pop has had hidden all these months. Cravattractive Nance Stilley, of New York, finds they make a colorful bathing suit. The Eastern water ski champion also uses neckties as hair-ribbons, bandannas and belts.

Singer Defies Solons

greeted the singer's statement.

His reference to 19 Americans covered the Hollywood writers and other charged with contempt of Congress for refusal to answer similar questions before the House committee on un-American activities.

"Maybe if I were a Republican I might not answer the question either," Robeson told Ferguson at another point. "I'd say come to the ballot place and see for yourself."

"Robeson seems to want to be made a martyr," Moore told reporters later. "Maybe we ought to make him one."

Ferguson, however, said a legal question is involved in the matter of a contempt citation, since a committee quorum was not present during the exchange.

Arabs Making Gains

There was no confirmation of this report. The Jews conceded Iraqi troops were within nine miles of the city at one point.

Earlier the British-controlled near-east radio said Iraqi troops in the Natanya area occupied Kfar Yona, halfway through the coastal strip and about four miles from the Mediterranean.

An Israeli communique said Jewish fighter planes engaged Arab aircraft over Tulkarm yesterday. This may have been the first air combat of the 16-day-old war. "One enemy Spitfire was seen to explode in the air," the bulletin said.

The Jews also said their planes bombed four Sherman tanks on the Tulkarm road as well as Arab concentrations at the Tulkarm police barracks. Israeli planes and field guns in combined operations carried out night attacks on military targets in Er Ramle and Lydda, site of a former British airfield. Er Ramle is 11 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

Arabs Plan Answer

Political representatives of the seven Arab league states met in Amman, the capital of Trans-Jordan, tonight to draft an Arab reply to the United Nation's latest call for a four-weeks truce in the Palestine war. The U. N. Security council fixed 6 p. m., (EST), tomorrow, as the deadline for the Arabs and Jews to file replies.

Some neutral circles in Cairo said the Arabs hope to surround Tel Aviv, as they have Jerusalem, before agreeing to any truce. One authoritative Arab source said the Arab league likely will demand cancellation of the U. N. scheme to partition Palestine.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, the former Jewish underground organization, said its units were forced to fall back at Ras El Ain, nine miles northeast of Tel Aviv, after armor-supported Iraqi troops launched a heavy counterattack. Pumping installations for Jerusalem's water system are located at Ras El Ain.

and to see that freedom does not perish from the earth."

Martin made it plain in this connection that the government will not tolerate Communists and "fifth columnists" on its payrolls. Martin said:

"Over the years they crept into high places in our government. The present Congress determined that the Communists and fellow travelers who infested the government service must be driven out. We want no fifth columnists on the government payrolls."

The New Englander said that it is a "strange paradox" that when Congress seeks to "curb their seditious activities, the subversionists seek refuge under the protection" of the constitution and bill of rights which they are "attempting to destroy."

couldn't cover all exits, he ran to phone the police. The police hurried to the scene, but no one was found in the store.

The Piggly-Wiggly store, at 206 North College, is outside the city, and thus not within jurisdiction of city police who, however, were assisting investigators.

At the big food store, a brace and bit apparently were used to break through the plank and tar roof. It was believed that the burglars dropped the 10 feet to the floor.

The safe was knocked "where it was found," state rangers and other officers said. Exit apparently was through a door.

Clues were lacking, it was announced.

Shingles Torn Off

Shingles were torn from the roof of the Ave. H Drug store, and burglars apparently entered through a scuttle hole in the ceiling.

Earl Penny, who reported the burglary, gave this itemized loss:

Money, $25 in currency and silver; six cameras, three cigaret lighters, five flashlights, seven cartons of cigarets, two pairs of sun glasses, a picture album, a lunch kit, and toiletry equipment.

Register Is Opened

No attempt was made to enter a safe that is situated under the cash register. The register was opened.

Police were investigating a reported assault in which, they said, M. S. McDaniel, guest of a fashionable downtown hotel, suffered two broken ribs and was taken to West Texas hospital for treatment.

McDaniel called police at 2:13 a. m. Sunday and said he had answered a knock at his door an hour earlier. When he opened, someone hit him in the face with a weapon and knocked him to the floor, he related, and stomped him.

Suspect's Name Given

The victim requested hospital examination, and remained there for treatment, investigators said.

Police said McDaniel gave them the name of a suspect.

Recovery of an automobile stolen Friday from Pat Lewis of 710 Ave. O was reported. It was found by Hale county officers at Hale Center, Lubbock police said. No arrests had been made.

C. D. Sneed of 2201 Ave. H said a light, two sets of field glasses and a pair of sun glasses, total value $89, had been stolen from his car.

A two-months-old black cocker spaniel dog was reported stolen from the back yard of John Scoggins of 2224-A Seventeenth.

O. A. Purser of Lubbock route 3 informed the sheriff's department that a battery had been stolen from his farm.

Purse Is Stolen

Mrs. Max Garrett of 2124 Sixth reported theft of a purse from her unlocked residence. It had a $20 bill, several $1 bills, a $100 check that had not been endorsed and other properties in it, she told police.

Juvenile officials will question a boy who was detained in connection with a report that someone had gone through purses on the third floor of a hospital here.

Judge Walter Davies of county court fined Conrad Schuessler, 48, of Mason $50 and court costs and suspended his driver's license six months in connection with a drunk driving charge. A similar assessment was levied against J. C. James, 39, of Lubbock, on a drunk driving charge. Bond was posted on a drunk driving charge naming Cecil Alton Trammel, 32, of Lubbock, the sheriff's department said. Trammel pleaded innocent.

Police received additional theft reports Monday, including that of an automobile stolen from Bill Moss, of 2423 Maple. It was described as a 1939 gray Ford coach bearing license number AN 9962.

H. D. Jones, of 2403 Thirtieth, reported theft of a Ford radio, valued at $50, an Arwin car heater, valued at $25, and a sport coat, valued at $25. An Agfa camera valued at $16 was reported stolen from the car of Floyd W. Stinson, 1210-B Tenth.

Property valued at $75 was taken from a truck in the 500 block of Broadway, and belonging to E. C. Wooten, of O'Donnell. Included in the loss was an oval camera, ladies' make-up kit, a gold necklace on gold chain with the initials V.L.M. on it, and a billfold containing $10.

Lubbock Woman Hurt In Auto Collision

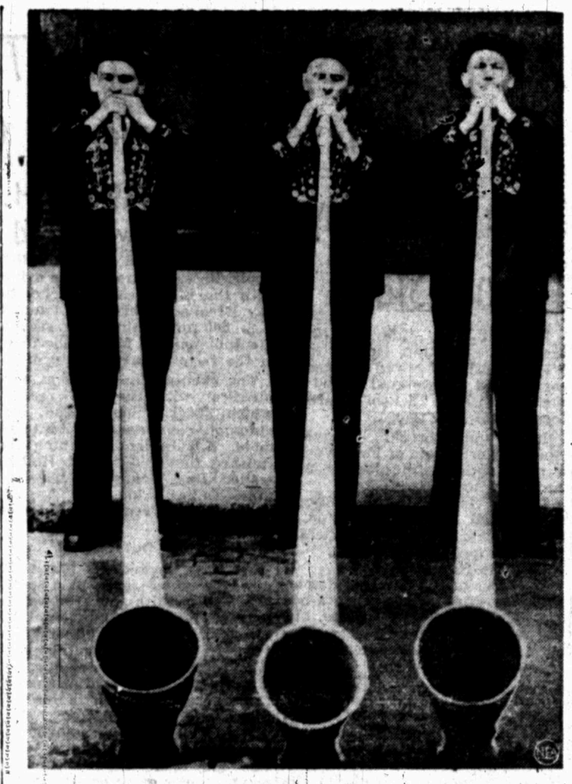

The condition of Mrs. A. C. Jones, 35, of 2211 Twenty-sixth, was reported as satisfactory at Lubbock Memorial hospital last night where she was taken by Plains ambulance following an automobile collision Sunday at Twenty-sixth and Ave. P.

She had complained of pain in the spinal region and left elbow, but X-ray examination yesterday indicated no fractures.

The accident occurred about 1 p. m. Sunday.

Police said Billy Ray Fisher, 17, a high school student of 1707 Twenty-third, was driver of the other car. They said Fisher's car skidded several paces before hitting Mrs. Jones' car in the right side and pushing it across the street to the curb.

A ticket of negligent collision by failure to yield right of way was given to young Fisher, Jerry Hoover, police patrolman who investigated said.

Baylor Graduates Its Largest Class

WACO May 31 (AP)—Baylor university today graduated its largest class in history. Four honorary degrees were awarded, one to Secretary of War Kenneth C. Royall.

Commencement speaker for the 540 students was Dr. Jim Dan Hil', president of the state Teachers college at Superior, Wis., and one of those to receive an honorary degree from the 103-year-old school.

Dr. Hil told the graduates that there are enough plans for world peace. "The immediate necessity," he declared, "is a mass intelligence sufficiently widespread throughout the nation to work out the plans which already have been proposed."

Many Dignitaries Attend

College diplomas carry with them the responsibility of being aware of these plans and taking part in their execution, said the educator and soldier.

Secretary of War Royall was accompanied here by several Washington dignitaries, including Attorney General Tom Clark. Royall and his party planned to stop at Perrin field before returning to Washington this afternoon. Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham was to join the Royall party at Perrin field.

Also with Royall were Mrs. Royall, Sen. Tom Connally, Reps. W. R. Poage Lindley Beckworth, and Wingate Lucas, and Col. George Eyster and Lt. Col. Willis D. Crittenberger.

Others who received honorary degrees were Mrs. A. A. Coche of Dallas, well-known Browning scholar, and Dr. Kyle M. Yates, pastor of Second Baptist church of Houston and member of the Baylor board of trustees.

Bus Strike Front Is Reported Quiet In City Over Week End

Quiet prevailed in the city during the week end in connection with the strike of bus drivers against the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc. However, police received a report that a car, occupied by three youths attempted to run over pickets on the north side of the bus station at Thirteenth and Ave. L.

The bus company said more schedules were added during the weekend, but the total number now in operation was not announced. More than 90 schedules in and out of here were affected by the drivers' strike, now in its second week.

Union officials would make no statement yesterday concerning the strike, and there was no indication of early resumption of negotiations toward a settlement.

Pickets continued to operate at the company's terminal here. The reported attempt of the youths to run down pickets at the station was a 3:40 a. m. Sunday, but no injury to anyone or damage to any equipment was reported. Police were given a license number from the car showing it to be registered in the name of a resident on Star route, Lorenzo. The information was given to the sheriff's department.

iterranean were under discussion.

A Navy spokesman recalled that the department announced two weeks ago that at the end of May vessels would depart to relieve the warships on Mediterranean sattion as part of the regular "rotation" system.

However, naval quarters believed some of the vessels now on duty would remain and be strengthened by the battlecraft going out.

Marines Also Going

The task force leaving for the Mediterranean comprises the Essex-class aircraft carrier Kearsarge, the cruisers Fargo, Huntington and Juneau, the attack-cargo ship Marquette, and the destroyers Putnam, Henley, W Keith, J. C. Owens, Zellers, Massey and Stormes.

Already in the waters off the world's chief trouble spot are the Essex-class carrier Philippine Sea, the cruisers Rochester, Dayton and Manchester, the attack-cargo ship Vermillion, and the destroyers Campton, Fiske, J. P. Kennedy, E. F. Larson, Brownson, R. H. McCard, S. B. Roberts and C. H. Rowan.

The Navy also announced that a force of Marines equivalent to the force now with the Mediterranean fleet will accompany the "relief" fleet. This would double the number of leathernecks available in event of trouble if those now on station were held there.

The Navy added that the Mediterranean force henceforth will be known as the Sixth task fleet, in line with a new, worldwide nomenclature order.

as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident south of Humble Sunday.

Howard Bradley, 26, employed by the Wonder Bread company, Dallas, was killed and his wife, Mary, 24, was critically injured Sunday when their car was in collision with a truck near Atlanta, Texas, where they were visiting his parents and other relatives over the holidays. The truck driver was not hurt.

NATION'S ACCIDENTAL DEATH TOLL REACHES 360

(By The Associated Press)

Accidents claimed the lives of at least 360 persons during the three-day Memorial holiday observance as it approached the closing hours Monday night. The figure does not include unknown dead in the Vanport, Oregon, flood.

More than half of this number died in automobile accidents. The traffic death toll reached 190 compared with the 225 that had been forecast by the National Safety council. The council estimated 30,000,000 automobiles were on the road over the holiday period.

Drownings claimed the lives of 70 persons, apart from the Vanport disaster. Another 100 persons died from other accidental causes related to the holiday.

Pennsylvania led all states in total accident deaths with 29. New York was next with 25. California and Illinois had 24 each.

Georgia Grand Jury Indicts Seven In Murder Of Farmer

NEWMAN, Ga., May 31 (INS) —The Coweta county grand jury indicted seven men for murder today in the slaying of tenant farmer William Turner. The Meriwether county sheriff was indicted as an accessory.

Murder indictments were returned against John Wallace, Meriwether county dairy operator; Herring Sivell, Shipley dairyman; Henry Mobley, a farmer; Tom Strickland, Wallace's cousin; Mozart Strickland, Wallace's uncle, Albert Brooks and Robert Lee Gates, negro workers on Wallace's farm.

Sheriff Hardy Collier of Meriwether county was indicted as an accessory to the murder. Sheriff Collier arrested young Turner on a cattle theft charge but released him from the Greenville jail three days later. Authorities said Turner was killed within an hour after his release.

Two Die When Auto Plunges Into Flooding Oklahoma Creek

WICHITA FALLS, May 31. (AP) —Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Collins of Kansas City, Mo., died when their automobile plunged into flooding Deep Red creek three miles north of Randlett, Okla., about 8:30 a. m. today.

Their bodies were discovered by an unidentified passing motorist who waded in waist deep water to the half-submerged automobile.

Collins was dead but his wife still was alive at that time and gave their names and home address. She died before an ambulance arrived.

The automobile had missed the bridge completely and plunged over the cutbank into the rising water, Burkburnett ambulance driver John Rigley said. A driving rainstorm was falling at the time.

Red Government Wins Election; Czechs Waiting For Next Move

PRAGUE, May 31 (AP)—Czechoslovakia settled down into a "what now" attitude tonight to see how Premier Kelement Gottwald's Communist-dominated government would use the election it won yesterday.

Government figures showed that its single slate of candidates had received 89.2 per cent of the total vote. The government's victory also raised new speculation over how long President Eduward Benes would remain in office and who would succeed him.

Protest Ballots Cast

At the conclusion of the parliamentary balloting the ministry of interior announced that 770,701 Czechs had cast blank protest votes against the Communist-led National front ticket. The ministry said the total vote was 7,204,256 out of a registration of 8,005,887. Of these, the ministry said, the Communist-led slate received 6,429,145 votes. A total of 806,041 voters stayed away from the polls or had their ballots declared invalid. There was no announcement of how many mutilated or invalid ballots were cast. However, before the balloting began there was no doubt but that the government ticket would win.

Benes May Resign

Benes was known to be opposed to signing the new Czech constitution which was adopted by the Communist-ruled parliament May 9. He also was represented by some who talked to him recently as disapproving the single ticket election. Whether the 64-year-old veteran Czech leader would take an oath of allegiance to the new constitution, as the document requires, was open to doubt.

Men who have been fairly close to Benes in the past generally were in agreement with a story circulated in London diplomatic circles that the president may resign soon and that "grave ill health" would be given as the excuse.

Truman Renews Call For Health Program

CHICAGO, May 31 (INS) President Truman today renewed his call for the enactment of a national health program.

In a message read before the opening of the 1948 biennial nursing convention in Chicago, the President urged enactment of the legislation "with benefits for all, regardless of race, creed, color or economic status."

10,000 Nurses Hear Message

More than 10,000 registered professional nurses heard the presidential message demand "even greater increases in professional nursing personnel"—if a health program is to succeed.

The President's message read in part:

"I have repeatedly urged the enactment of a national health program with benefits for all, regardless of race, creed, color or economic status. For such a program to succeed, even greater increases in your personnel will be necessary.

Alien Arrested After Body Of Boy Found In Rio Grande Valley

EDINBURG, Texas, May 31. (AP)—Discovery of the chained and dirt-choked body of a 14-year-old boy near here has resulted in the arrest of Jose Flores, 35, a Mexican alien.

The victim was Ronald Guerra, also a Mexican alien. An autopsy has been ordered on his body, which was found buried under a few inches of dirt four miles south of Weslaco yesterday.

Hidalgo county Sheriff George Ingram said murder charges have been filed against Flores, who is in county jail here. The sheriff said dirt had been forced into the boy's mouth.

Sam Rayburn Against Civil Rights Plan

BONHAM, May 31 (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn declared today that he had voted against "everything that looked like an attack on segregation laws."

Rayburn, the House minority leader, issued a special statement on his position on the civil rights bill before leaving his home here to return to Washington. It was announced that Rayburn will open his campaign formally for re-election here Wednesday, June 23.

His statement:

"The opposition is still trying to distort my position and record on the civil rights bill. In my announcements in the papers of the district it was stated that I was opposed to the whole civil rights program. That is and has been my position.

"FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) was never voted on in Congress. It was put into effect by executive order of President Roosevelt. I was opposed to it then; I am opposed to it now.

"I voted against everything that looked like an attack on our segregation laws. We have been able to hold down any vote on this measure this year because we feared that the Republicans unanimously and many northern Democrats would support it.

"I voted against the anti-lynching bill in the 67th Congress under Republican administration; I voted against it in the 75th Congress under Democratic administration and I voted against it in the 76th Congress under a Democratic administration.

"Let me repeat—this has been and is my report on so-called civil rights. If the opposition desires to go on saying that I am for the civil rights program in the face of this record, then the people will know that they are deliberately distorting and falsifying my record."

Monument Depicting Mustang Group Unveiled At Texas U.

AUSTIN, May 31. (AP) — The "tough, active and enduring" mustang of Texas pioneer days was perpetuated in bronze at the University of Texas today.

A 15-foot, nine-ton monument, depicting in heroic sizes the small horse that helped conquer the wilderness was unveiled by 10-year-old Ogden Spurlin of Meridian, climaxing a ceremony in which the monument was formally given to the people of Texas.

Folklorist J. Frank Dobie said the mustang pony was small, but tough, and the Spanish described him as an animal that "dies before he quits." Dobie was one of the speakers at the ceremony at the unveiling of the gift of the late Ralph R. Ogden of Austin, and Mrs. Ogden.

The bronze group includes a stallion, five mares and a colt charging down a metal mountain side. It stands in front of the Texas Memorial museum. The $60,000 monument is the work of A. Phimister Proctor, famed sculptor of animals.

It is estimated that only about one-sixth of U.S. farm lands are fertilized each year.

It is estimated that North Dakota and Montana each lost 16 per cent of its population between 1940 and 1943.

Plan Of Using Exports As Boon To Economic Recovery On Test

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The ballyhoo about exports as a bonanza is soon to be submitted to the test of realities.

Up to now, the subject has been beclouded by an emotional overcast which associated exports with the good, the true, and the beautiful.

A big foreign trade and lower tariffs were presented during the last 14 years as a panacea for international peace and prosperity.

Recently the domestic illusions of former Secretary of State Hull as to the Elysian benefits of low tariff rates were embodied in the Havana charter for an international trade organization.

Meeting Is Set

In light of the disparity over the last fourteen years between such promise and actual performance, skepticism is on the increase.

Instead of renewing the trade agreements act of 1934 for another three years in rubber stamp fashion, the House of Representatives has extended the act for only one year and has reserved to Congress the right to veto tariff changes.

In addition, a business organization has called on the Economic Institute on foreign trade to meet at Washington on June 15 to present various viewpoints concerning current controversial issues relating to foreign trade.

The objective record shows that, while more than 1,200 U. S. tariff rates were lowered since 1934, the promise of international peace was not fulfilled.

Trade of the U. S. during World War II was largely on a give away basis dressed up in technical verbiage under the lend-lease agreements.

Since the cessation of hostilities, Lend-Lease continued for a while, and was supplemented by other techniques for loans and grants. In addition, our huge export balance was further financed on a temporary basis by foreign customers through drawing down dollar balances and exporting gold.

This year's gadget for exporting goods which our European customers cannot afford to pay for is known as the European Recovern plan, Paul G. Hoffman, chief factotum, has in effect assured the country that he will ship only goods that the country can afford to give away.

While it is perfectly true that it is more costly to export extremely scarce, bottleneck items than goods in abundant supply, it should not be assumed that it is economically sound to give away merchandise.

Would Win Allies

If the proposition is to be justified, the arguments must be largely on non-economic grounds.

The theory is that our munificence will win friends and allies in the cold war, and will strengthen resistance to the spread of Communism.

In all such matters, the burden of proof is on the proponents.

Economically sound international trade over the long run must be predicated on the exchange of goods (and services) for goods (and services). On such a basis, international trade neither adds to nor detracts from net domestic employment, but can serve to enrich economic life through a wider choice of goods and services.

The trouble with the illusion that exports can be a bonanza is that it encourages nationals of each country to try to beat the game, and seek economic salvation without coming to grips with the basic domestic problems incidental to achieving balanced national economy.

Instead politicians seek an easy way out by trying to export unemployment and other plaguing problems. That may make sense on a strictly unilateral basis, but when many countries try the same game on a multilateral basis the result is confusion.

The tariff league, bucking the ideological trend, calls for a "scientific tariff with rates of customs duty maintained at levels which just serve the purposes, and with no duties imposed where no purpose is served." The league proposes restoration of the flexible provisions of the Tariff act of 1930, and suggests creation of a U. S. commission for foreign trade. It should be kept in mind that only 35 per cent of U. S. imports are subject to duties, with the remainder on the free list.

Pioneer Lines To Seek Permanent Permit

A petition asking that the temporary permit under which Pioneer Airlines now operate be made permanent will be filed with the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, D. C., today, Robert J. Smith, Pioneer president, announced Monday.

He is asking city governments, Chambers of Commerce and other agencies in cities and towns served by the line to support the petition, he advised from his headquarters in Washington.

In Lubbock, the city commission and Chamber have given assurance of their support. They may join in the application or they may co-operate by helping to assemble evidence to support the contention of the airlines that its operating record proves the need for the service now given.

The lines now operate under a temporary certificate granted late in 1945. The certificate expires in about two years.

Pioneer's original operations comprised about 600 miles between Amarillo and Houston via Lubbock and several other intermediate points. The company now has more than 2,200 miles of routes, with Dallas, Houston, El Paso, Albuquerque and Amarillo marking the extreme points of the area served.

Briton Requests Tax Cut, Claims House Is Full Of Ghosts

TWICKENHAM, England, May 31. (AP)—Bert Key told the Bedforshire Appeals committee today that the taxes on his house should be reduced because it is full of ghosts.

It is well known, he said, that ghosts lower the value of property, especially if tenants like their sleep.

Key doesn't live in the house which he said is ghost-infested. But 18-year-old Doreen Price, who said she slept there when she was an evacuee in 1944, testified:

"One night I woke up and saw two bare arms coming out of the wall just over my bed. I put my head under the blankets and went to sleep."

"What had you eaten for supper?" the appeals chairman asked.

"Chee[illegible]ndwiches," Miss Price replied.

Eric [illegible]on, counsel for Key, said the ghost of a mare known as Black Bess reputedly also lives in the house along with human ghosts.

After some private discussion the appeal for lower taxes was withdrawn. But the opinion of Miss Amy Sickinsin, aged cripple who lives alone in the house was sought. "I've heard tales, she said, "but I'm not the nervous type."

Problems Of Atomic War Emphasized In Sinking Of Radioactive Navy Cruiser

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Civilian defense experts find in the latest sinking of a radioactively "hot" ship a sobering hint of the problems an atomic war would bring.

When the cruiser Salt Lake City was sent down off the California coast by gunfire, bombs and torpedoes 22 months had elapsed since it got its coating of a radioactive spray and solid green water thrown up by the submarine burst of an a-bomb in the Bikini tests of 1946.

Yet the ship remained so contaminated that it was deemed unsafe for workmen to scrap her for salvage metal, bearing out the predictions of scientists that some of the Bikini ships might remain dangerous for years before the slow decay of the residual radioactive material was complete. Attempts to cleanse the target ships of the invisible but deadly poison brought little success.

Cloud Explosions Cited

Experts of the national military establishment's civil defense planning unit are giving close attention to residual radioactivity, the result of "fission products" or unexpended particles of the explosive material flung outward by the bomb when detonated in water. Translating the target ships into terms of cities, defense workers can forsee the possibility of communities made uninhabitable for prolonged periods if a bomb should be exploded in nearby water.

An air burst bomb, such as those used in the attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, presents no problem of residual activity because the fission products ascend into the air and drift away.

It has been suggested, however, that in the absence of a large body of water near a city a bomb could be exploded in the middle of rain clouds. The dispersion of fission products over the ground might then be ever more complete than in an underwater burst.

BICYCLE CLUB MEMBERS GET PINS—Members of the Lubbock Bicycle club, sponsored by the Boy Scouts, the Safety committee of the Lubbock Jaycees, and the City Recreation department, can now receive their pins denoting membership in the organization. Approximately 2,000 of the pins are ready for distribution at the City Recreation department in the City Hall. In the picture above, Gene Quest, right, chairman of the Jaycee safety committee, is shown handing out the first pins to a group of boys at City hall Monday. They are, left to right, John Benson, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Benson, 1912 Ave. P; Billy Don Ledbetter, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ledbetter, 1913 Ave. F; and Billy Simpson, 9, son of Mrs. W. H. Nelson, 1410 Ave. E, shown receiving a pin from Quest. All members have to do is bring their certificates of membership to the Recreation department and they will receive their pins. The club has a membership of approximately 2,000 youngsters and was formed by the three agencies named above in cooperation with the State Highway Patrol, Police department and Fire department to promote safety in bicycling on Lubbock streets. Methodist Appointments Are Announced

Northwest Texas Conference Ends

Changes of ministry of some Lubbock churches were included in appointments made Sunday afternoon of Methodist ministers for the ensuing year.

The appointments were read by Bishop Charles C. Selecman of Dallas in the closing session of the Northwest Texas conference Sunday afternoon at First Methodist church.

Report Next Sunday

Ministers who will move are to report to the churches to which they have been appointed next Sunday.

All nine of the district superintendents in the conference were reappointed. Dr. J. O. Haymes is the superintendent of Lubbock district.

Lubbock pastors reappointed include Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor, and Rev. E. H. Crandall, associate pastor, First Methodist church, and Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor, and Rev. James T. Carter, associate pastor, Asbury Methodist church.

Rev. Hubert F. Bratcher, who has been serving as pastor at Shamrock and who formerly served at Ralls, was appointed pastor of St. John's Methodist church in Lubbock, succeeding Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, who will go to Big Spring as pastor of the First Methodist church.

To Succeed Appling

Rev. Wilbur Gaede, who has been serving at Sanford, will come here as pastor of Overton Methodist church, succeeding Rev. W. A. Appling, who will go to Vega Methodist church.

Rev. J. Alvis Cooley will come here from Tuscola to be pastor of Pioneer Methodist church, succeeding Rev. D. Orval Strong, who will attend Southern Methodist university.

Rev. C. A. Hartley, who has been pastor at Wilson Methodist church, will be pastor of the East Broadway Methodist church to be established.

Reappointed Secretary

Rev. Uel D. Crosby was reappointed executive secretary of the conference board of education, with headquarters in Lubbock. Rev. Cecil R. Matthews was reappointed director of the Wesley Foundation of Texas Technological college.

Rev. E. E. White, former pastor of the First Methodist church here, was among the four transfers in from other conferences. He came from the St. Louis conference and was appointed pastor of the First Methodist church at Childress. Rev. C. A. Norcross, transfer from the New Mexico conference, was appointed pastor at Maple.

T.C. Root Named To Post At SMU

Trent C. Root, prominent Lubbock educator, has been appointed assistant to President Umphrey Lee in finance administration at Southern Methodist university, it was announced Monday in Dallas. Root also will be a professor of finance in the school of business administration there.

He currently is assistant to the president of Texas Tech college, dean of the school of business administration, and a widely known public speaker.

Effective date of the appointment was not made known in the Associated Press dispatch. Root's friends at the college here said they understood the appointment is to become effective in July, but that he probably will not assume active duties there until the fall semester.

Root was out of the city and not available immediately for comment. The announcement at Dallas followed confirmation of his appointment at a meeting of the board of trustees today.

Root joined the staff of Texas Tech here in 1937, and his duties except for executive affairs as assistant to President W. M. Whyburn, have all been with the school of business administration. He is also head of the department of accounting, and is chairman of the faculty advisory committee. He had been dean of business administration since departure of Dr. J. O. Ellsworh in 1946.

He spent some time in military service during the war, was instrumental in helping to activate South Plains Army Air field here, then entered counter-intelligence service, spending some time in Europe. His full military record was not immediately available early this afternoon.

Root holds a BA degree from Baylor university, and a Masters' degree in business administration from Harvard.

He had been active in Methodist church circles, was a member of the board of directors of the Lubbock Rotary club, and was the first president of the Methodist Men's club, organized here about two years ago. He also was teacher of the young married couples class at First Methodist church.

He and Mrs. Root have two children, a son Trent C., jr., a senior this year in the division of engineering at Texas Tech; and a daughter, Patsy, student in Lubbock High school. It was not known when the family planned to move to Dallas.

Over 500 Students In Largest Class

Tech Graduates Will Get Degrees June 7

More than 500 students will receive degrees from Texas Technological college on June 7, comprising the largest graduating class in the history of the college, James G. Allen, dean of men, has announced.

Plans for the commencement program at the college are practically complete, Dean Allen said Monday afternoon, with only minor details remaining to be taken care of during the week.

52 To Get Commissions

In addition to the students receiving academic degrees at the commencement exercises will be approximately 52 members of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps who will receive their commissions as lieutenants in their various branches of the service, according to Lt. Col. L. C. Adams, head of the Military Science department at Tech and professor of military science and tactics.

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 p. m. June 7 in Jones stadium, and baccalaureate ceremonies will be held there at 6 p. m. the preceding evening. In the case of inclement weather, either or both of the ceremonies will be held in the Lubbock High school auditorium, which will accommodate only the faculty, the graduating students and their families, Dean Allen said.

Houston Man To Speak

Sterling C. Evans, president of the Federal Land bank of Houston will deliver the commencement address, and Dr. Wm. H. Alexander, prominent religious leader in the Southwest and pastor of the First Christian church in Oklahoma City will give the baccalaureate address.

Music for the event will be furnished by a wind ensemble from the Texas Tech band, directed by D. O. Wylie, professor of music and director of the Tech band. "The ensemble will be composed of approximately 20 students, but they have not been chosen as yet, nor have we chosen the selections which we will play," Professor Wylie stated.

Invocation will be given by Carl Spain, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, and the benediction by Father William F. Blakeslee, of St. Elizabeth's Catholic

New Dormitory East Wing To Open June 9

The east wing of the men's dormitory under construction at Texas Technological college will be completed and open for summer school residents June 9, W. T. Gaston, college business manager, has announced.

The east portion of the two-unit building will house 350 men, Gaston estimated. The completion of the second campus dormitory in the $4,000,000 dormitory construction project is to be realized by September, and both wings will be occupied next fall. The women's dormitory, constructed under the same contract, was opened in September, 1947.

Drane hall, women's residence hall, Doak hall and Sneed hall, men's residence halls, will be closed for painting and general repair throughout the summer, Gaston stated.

West hall, the new dormitory wing and women's Dormitory No. 3 will be used for student housing during the summer terms.

Flim V. Dunn Withdraws From Race For Commissioner's Post

Flim V. Dunn, farmer who lives in the Center community, Monday announced his withdrawal from the race for Lubbock county commissioner from precinct No. 3.

"I found out that I had to spend too much of my time in Lubbock and not enough of it out with the hands working the roads, so I decided to withdraw from the race," Dunn said.

Dunn, who announced for the office about three weeks ago, is a farmer in the Center community in central-northeast Lubbock county.

Area War Dead Aboard Vessel

The bodies of nine South Plains men are among the remains of 4,45o veterans who have been returned to the U. S. from Manila aboard the U. S. Army transport Lt. George W. G. Boyce, the Department of the Army announced Monday.

They had been interred in temporary military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands, and are being returned upon instructions of next of kin.

Also included on the Army list were Cpl. Robert L. Bradley, Army, Robert N. Bradley, Tulia; Pvt. Walker H. Fly, Army, Walter G. Fly, Amrillo; PhM2 James W. White, Navy, Verna M. Eisenberg, Amarillo.

William M. Camp, Noted Author, Is Suicide Victim At Ranch

NAPA, Cal., May 31. (INS)—William Martin Camp, noted author, Marine hero and former San Francisco newspaperman, committed suicide today on his northern California ranch near Calistoga.

Coroner Charles Burchell said the 36-year-old writer fired a revolver bullet through his head. Deputy Sheriff E. E. Light and two neighbors discovered the body on the brow of a tall hill at the western edge of Camp's extensive ranch. The gun was near the body but there were no suicide notes.

Camp was the author of two best selling novels, "Retreat, Hell!" and "Skip To My Lou," and a recently published history of the San Francisco waterfront titled, "San Francisco: Port of Gold."

Boys Club Rodeo Tour Slated Today

The first of four one-day booster trips to advertise the Lubbock Boys' club rodeo June 9-12 is set for today, with a group of 30 Lubbock businessmen scheduled to leave here at 7:30 a. m. by chartered bus and private car.

Jimmie Whiteside is in charge of today's trip, and students from the Dunagan School of Music will furnish talent for the booster excursion.

Time of arrival at the various South Plains towns included in today's excursion are: Shallowater 7:50, Anton 8:15, Littlefield 8:45, Amherst 9:30, Sudan 9:55, Muleshoe 10:35, Farwell-Texico 11:25, Clovis, N. M., 10:50 (MT), Portales 1 p. m. (MT), Morton 3:50, Whiteface 4:25 and Levelland 4:50.

Other trips scheduled this week include a group leaving Wednesday for the southwest with Odessa as the terminal point, another leaving Thursday to visit towns south and southeast of Lubbock, and a final trip scheduled Friday to visit towns north and east of the city.

MANY PROJECTS REQUESTED

Texas Highway Program Held Up By Federal Aid Bill Delay

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 31—Delay in passage of the federal aid bill is delaying commitments by the highway commission for future road building in Texas.

Commission Chairman John S. Redditt passed that word along to county and district delegations here today for public hearings on dozens of projects.

The hearing will continue through tomorrow.

Chambers and Jefferson county delegations protested proposed change in the location of state highway 73.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer told them that the "highway commission has always stood by their guns."

Redditt added: "We're just trying to do a good job. Everyone acted in good faith. We try to do what the people want." The commission's formal decision will be announced later.

Mason C-C Asks Project

F. E. Williams, Chambers county judge, and B. T. McWhorter of Port Arthur spoke for the delegates.

The highway committee of Mason Chamber of Commerce headed by R. E Lee, requested improvement of U. S. 87 north 14.2 miles to the McCulloch county line. The project will cost $465,000 for grading, small structures, base and surfacing and $100,000 for bridge.

Redditt told the delegation:

"This is the number one project in the San Angelo district. If you're ready to get the right-of-way and the federal aid bill passed, the conract should be let by March or April."

Most of the requests today were for farm-to-market roads. One delegation asked for two new roads to open up highway outlets from a rich farming section in Wharton, Lavaca and Dewitt counties. They want roads designated from Ganado to Hallettsville, from El Campo to Cuero, criss-crossing the Whose Voice Is It?

THE indignation aroused by ridicule of individual states and areas of this nation in Voice of America broadcasts apparently is serving the useful purpose of forcing new and thorough inquiries into the exceedingly doubtful value of continuing this large expenditure of taxpayers' money.

The "Voice" has just one excuse for existence. Unless it inspires added respect among foreign listeners for America and American ideals, the money spent for it is wasted. When it holds great proportions of the nation to world ridicule, as recently disclosed broadcasts have done, the money is worse than wasted. It is used to defeat the very purpose of its intent.

Under any conditions, the broadcasts would be of doubtful value. Receiving sets are rare among the masses in nations the "Voice" must reach if it is to accomplish anything. Even if the masses owned sets in nations like Russia and the Soviet satellites, few would risk imprisonment, or death, to hear the best broadcast ever put on the air—and no one would claim that sort of quality for Voice of America programs.

On the contrary, a common description of "Voice" broadcasts has been, "They are lousy." That uncouth expression may exaggerate. But, for whatever it signifies, the objectionable broadcasts were made months ago. The 531 members of Congress, the White House and the several thousand employes in the State department—including several hundred in the Voice of America division of that department—are just finding out about them. They certainly were not interested sufficiently to tune in on programs to which this government had the gall to ask the world to listen.

THE $27,000,000 appropriated by Congress for the Voice of America this year should have provided the most listenable programs on the air. The sum is many times larger than that spent by any commercial user of the radio, including those which employ the most expensive talent during the choicest periods on the most far-flung networks. The Voice of America cannot blame honestly any of its failures upon lack of funds.

As investigations now proceed, no one should be confused by the frenzied attempts to pass the buck. The responsibility in this matter is unmistakable. The chief culprits are the State department and its Voice of America section. The broadcasts were their job by the assignment of Congress—a job for which they begged.

A secondary offender was the stuffy National Broadcasting company for failing to check the programs properly before allowing them to go out over NBC facilities. The common excuse that they "didn't know" what was being broadcast" aggravates their culpability. It was their job to know—one for which they were richly paid.

Under the circumstances, the advisability of discontinuing the programs completely must be considered seriously. Total silence assuredly is preferable to the sort of voice which, in this instance at least, failed so miserably as a spokesman for America and Americans.

The Innocent Impostor

(THE STORY: Patience Mead goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts who have brought her up and with whom she lives in the country. She always returns home on the six-thirty. Paul Taylor takes the same train and for some time now has been trying to pick her up. But Patience is too proper to talk to a strange young man. One evening, an accident halts the train about a mile from her station. Paul offers to walk her there, so she won't be too late getting home, and she accepts. He asks her to meet him at nearby Stortford, the following Saturday for tea and movies. She tells him her aunts would never allow it. Fate intervenes, however, when Aunt Helen asks Patience to go into Stortford that very Saturday to change a library book. Paul meets her at the station. They have a wonderful time. Patience tells Paul she has a twin sister whom she hasn't seen since childhood. When he puts her on the train to return home, Paul tells Patience he is in love with her. She goes home with her head in the clouds, determined to try and meet him the following Saturday.)

V

IT was another Saturday evening a month later. Miss Helen and Miss Alice sat on either side of the fireplace and Miss Alice's eyes went constantly to the clock. The hands pointed at half-past seven. She wondered if her sister had noticed it. She rather hoped she hadn't. But at eight o'clock, she decided she'd better draw attention to it.

"It's getting late, isn't it, Helen?"

Miss Helen put down her book.

"To tell you the truth, Alice, I've no idea what the time is. This book is so enthralling."

"It's just struck eight."

"Eight! But Patience isn't in!"

"I know." Miss Alice looked at her sister anxiously. "I suppose she must have missed the train."

Miss Helen said shortly that this was obviously what had happened. And then that it was really very naughty of her.

"I suppose we can all of us miss trains," said Alice placatingly. "What's worrying me is that there isn't another one she can catch till that very late one that reaches Oakley at 11 o'clock."

"I must say I don't like her being out so late. In fact I'm really very angry about it."

AFTER supper, Miss Alice suggested a little game of cribbage to Miss Helen.

They were still playing when Patience, fearful as to her reception, crept quietly into the house getting on to midnight. She saw the light beneath the sitting-room door and knew they were waiting up for her. She put her hand to her hair and gave it a nervous little pat. She wondered anxiously what they'd say to her. And what she'd say to them. It was all going to be so terribly difficult. Never before had she lied to them. And yet—how could she tell them the truth?

She opened the door. She saw their two dear faces, Aunt Alice's full of relief, Aunt Helen's stern and angry.

"What is the meaning of your coming home so late?"

"I'm very sorry, Aunt Helen. I missed the train."

"It was extremely remiss of you."

"I just couldn't help it."

"Why not?"

"I—I—well, I was late getting to the station."

"And why were you late getting to the station?"

Patience gulped.

"I ran into Jane Thomson. We got talking. You know Jane. At least you've not met her, but I've told you about her often. She and I meet sometimes going up to London in the train. She's got a job up there. And she lives at Stortford." She paused for breath, wondering how the story had sounded, easing her conscience just a little by telling herself that in a way it was true. Jane had been at the dance. Had looked at her, Patience, with wide eyes and said: "Heavens above! How did you manage to get here? I thought those two old aunts you've told me about kept you under lock and key."

"YOU must have had a very cold, dark ride home from the station," said Aunt Alice sympathetically.

Patience felt her cheeks coloring. It hadn't been cold or dark. She'd been in Paul's car. They'd collected her bicycle from the station and tied it on the back and he'd driven her to within a short distance of the house. They'd timed it so that she could have returned on the 11 o'clock train. She'd been terrified someone would see her. But the joy of being with him had overwhelmed her fear of the consequences. To have him holding her closely as they danced — and when they'd said good night. . . . A little shiver ran through her. She could feel again his kisses. Hear again the wonderful things he'd said to her.

"If Patience had a cold, dark ride home," said her Aunt Helen severely, "it was entirely her own fault." She turned to her niece and her eyes were cold and hard: "I must tell you, Patience, that I am really very angry." She rose to her feet. "And now it's time we all went to bed."

Patience kissed them good night on the landing. Her Aunt Helen gave her her cheek which somehow still registered intense disapproval. But her Aunt Alice followed her into her bedroom and said softly: "You mustn't mind your Aunt Helen, dear, she's not really quite as put out as she sounds. But she really was rather worried."

"Auntie dear, there was no need at all for either of you to worry. After all, I am 20, remember."

"Your dear mother, Patience, was just 20 when she met your father. And it's precisely because of the tragedy that befell your mother that your Aunt Helen and I feel we need to take just a little extra care of you. Don't you see?"

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

ONE of my most prolific correspondents is a Mrs. Hilda Oller, of Waynesboro, Pa.

I would enjoy her letters very much more if she used pen and ink instead of pencil and if she would leave some space between the lines.

However, be that as it may, even so I find much homespun philosophy in that part of her letters which I can make out.

BRANDEIS

In her last letter she tells me about a young clergyman who is going to use some of my columns in one of his sermons. She agrees with him on most subjects, but there is one on which she disagrees.

"He offered me a cigaret," she writes. "I refused."

The clergyman apparently was embarassed. Perhaps Mrs. Oller did not aprove of a minister smoking.

So he asked her.

"No, it isn't that," she said. "But I see you are a Luckies man, and I am a Chesterfield woman."

Mrs. Oller usually winds up her letters with some pretty darn good common sense.

In this last one she gives a list of her pet aversions.

Here they are:

"Women who, when you admire something they are wearing, proceed to tell you the cost.

"Women who, when you inquire about their health, go into details about their latest operation. Or, if they are the kind who go to the doctor every week, insist that you must try those wonderful shots he is giving them.

"Men or women who think because you are a Republican you are some sort of a nitwit: and the same thing applies to Democrats.

"People who use the word 'tolerance' in connection with religion or race. People who talk most about tolerance are usually the most intolerent.

"People who try to tell you how to live your life and then insist that it is for your own good.

"People (mostly women) who get mad at you because you won't listen to or repeat scandal.

"I HAVE many more aversions," writes Mrs. Oller, "but these will give you an idea."

They certainly do, and what I like about Mrs. Oller's letters and about others like them is that they do so much to make column-writing a pleasure.

And so does a letter I received today from Sara Fernandez in Bahia Blanca, Argentina:

"I don't speack english but I can understand a little. I read every day 'Loock at the life,' wich our paper publishes in Spanish, and I love it because is very nice and swit. .

"Congratulations, you are a very good philosophe and I like you so well as Jimmy Durante or Bob Hope."

Can anyone expect a greater compliment?

Oh, by the way, I particularly like Mrs. Oller's observations on "tolerance."

She hits the nail on the head.

Funny Business

"I couldn't get a hood for the old crate, so I used the doghouse!"

ON SOCIAL LEGISLATION

GOP Leaders On Spot

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Although almost 200 members of the House have signified their support of Dr. Francis Townsend's revolving money plan, the Republican leadership of that body seems willing to permit President Truman to steal the social welfare issue from them in the 1948 presidential campaign. By the same token, they may make votes for Henry A. Wallace, inasmuch as the good, gray doctor is one of his leading supporters.

The 176 signatures on the petition demanding a vote on the Townsend Plan do not mean that this number of members would line up for the scheme if it reached a floor showdown. They have expressed approval because they know that there is no chance of a nose-counting test, and, therefore, they are safe in giving lip service. They are making this gesture solely to appease the old folks and win their support.

TUCKER

But the demonstration does reflect these men's recognition that improvement of the lot of the aged, the unfortunate and low-income groups oppressed by worry over their economic future has become an extremely important political issue. Aside from those who will vote for him as the self-appointed apostle of peace, many millions will undoubtedly plump for Mr. Wallace because he voices their yearnings and needs.

BENEFITS: The resurgence of the Townsend bloc on Capitlo Hill also epitomizes the growing belief that the federal government should shore up such props of our social and economic structure as education, health and housing. There is also a demand for broadening and increasing unemployment insurance, old age and survivors payments and similar benefits.

But, with Congress turning into the home stretch toward a mid-June adjournment, it appears that the Eightieth Session will neglect this problem altogether. Regardless of the dispute over the merits of these proposals, many Republican leaders fear that they are handing a popular and ready-made issue to President Truman.

CHANCE: Quarterback Truman has detected this wide hole on the left side of his opponents' political line, and he intends to sneak through it with the social security ball for a presidential touchdown if possible. That is the explanation for the recent White House announcement that he will send another message to Congress asking for larger Social Security benefit payments for a larger number of beneficiaries.

As a former member of the Senate, Mr. Truman knows that there is no chance for Congressional action between now and scheduled adjournment on June 19 at the latest. He also knows that the revealed temper of the Congress shows it to be opposed to social welfare expansion at this time, in view of the terrific financial burdens which his rearmament and foreign aid program has imposed. So, his pre-adjournment demand will amount to no more than a gesture.

But it will place the Republicans on a hotter spot than they have made for themselves by their refusal to provide funds for federal aid to schools and teachers, homes and the families of veterans who need them, and health aids for people unable to pay for private treatment.

REASON: Speaker Martin—and it is in the House where these social welfare proposals may die—has cited the White House demands for more and more money to fight Russia and to rearm the United States as a valid reason for going slow on domestic undertakings that will boost the budget. He has tried to point out that it is Mr. Truman's foreign policies, which he has supported, that necessitates temporary denial of a domestic humanitarian program.

As the Republicans feared, President Truman has played smart politics. He persuaded them to endorse his anti-Moscow adventure to the total of a twenty billion dollar outlay for national defense and the Marshall Plan in a single year. Now he demands that they appropriate more billions for millions of downtrodden voters.

As conservatives, they figure that they cannot do both at the same time. But they will be condemned, politically, for their willingness to aid Europeans and their refusal to extend the same helping hand to needy Americans.

MAGIC: Besides exploiting Franklin D. Roosevelt for political ourposes, Henry A. Wallace's New York managers now maintain that F.D.R.'s Manhattan ally, the late Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, would support the third-party candidate if he were alive. It is one of their ace arguments in the metropolis where Mr. La Guardia proved his popularity with the very groups to which the Iowan directs his appeal.

It will be a great vote-getting feather in the Wallace cap if he can put it over. The La Guardia name packs magic for millions of Jews, Italians, Porto Ricans, labor and consumer groups, not only in New York, but throughout the nation.

Mr. Wallace, as New York Manager Vito Marcantonio predicts, will carry that key city if the former Cabinet member can be sold to the voters as a "La Guardia man."

CLAIMS: "F.H.S" friends, however, know that he would not be in the Wallace camp.

Although he appreciated Mr. Wallace's pioneering spirit, he always regarded the third-party leader as "slightly nuts." With relatives of the people he worked for as mayor and UNRRA head suffering from Moscow's brutalities, he would have been among the first to condemn the Soviet's postwar policies.

It it known, however, that in his last days he became critical of President Truman's domestic and foreign program. It is doubtful if he would have campaigned for F.D.R.'s successor. With the possible exception of Speaker Martin, whom he admired personally and politically, it is doubtful if he would have endorsed any of the other Republican presidential possibilities.

One thing is certain, however: he would not be a Wallace man, despite claims to the contrary.

There's still a demand for fats but not fat heads.

A man has reached middle age when he tries to comb his hair to cover a bald spot.

A celebrity is one who hears a photographer's flash bulb explode and doesn't jump.

Grandpa didn't give grandma as beautiful an engagement ring as the boy of today. The jeweler didn't sell on the installment plan then.

The safe-cracking business is anything but safe.

The man who usually refers to his wife as the old lady doesn't do it in her presence.

Robinson Crusoe should have been content on that island. He didn't have to worry about B. O. or halitosis.

POLITICAL HORSE TRADING HIT

Good Vice Presidents Needed

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Four years ago, a few months before the 1944 national conventions, this reporter did quite an exhaustive job of research into the history of vice presidential candidates and vice presidents, how they were picked, how many were elevated to the presidency "by fate" as we put it, what sort of men they were, and so on, for a series of articles.

It was an engrossing study.

It revealed what the writer had suspected, since he had seen several vice presidential candidates nominated in both parties, that almost invariably the vice presidential candidate was sort of an afterthought and usually was picked out of the hat, so to speak, and often in the wee hours of the morning by weary leaders. He was supposed to provide contrasts to the presidential nominee so as to make the ticket a compromise to please various elements. This is in keeping with the established fact that our political parties and everything they do are the products of compromise. Both of our major parties have diverse elements because we are such a diverse nation.

STOKES

Georgraphy Is Involved

It is traditional to pick the vice presidential candidate from a different section of the country than the presidential candidate to achieve balance geographically. Often, too, the vice presidential nomination is used to give representation to a different viewpoint than that held by the presidential nominee. Sometimes, in order to assauge disappointment, the vice presidential nomination is given to the man who was runner-up in the balloting, since he represents a substantial block of delegates and presumably a sizable element in the party.

While this business has never gone to ludicrous extremes, it may be said figuratively, if not literally, that it almost reaches the point of picking a vice presidential candidate who parts his hair different from the top man on the ticket, who has blue eyes as compared with brown, who gets up chipper, cheerful and whistling in the morning when the Presidential candidate may be inclined to be grumpy, and so on.

In brief, the possibility that the second man on the ticket might one day become president does not seem to enter much into the calculations. Seven have in our history. Only one of them has joined the small and select group of outstanding presidents, meaning Theodore Roosevelt, the admired and beloved and, by some feared "Teddy" and "TR" of his era. And he was picked for a reason not in our catalouge which was that the GOP Old Guard of that day wanted to take him out of the governor's chair at Albany, which was regarded then as now as a step to the White House. So they "buried" him in the vice presidency, thinking they had thus safely removed him from a possible line of succession.

The moral of the series of pieces of this reporter back in the spring of 1944, was that, because of everything disclosed, the national conventions should exercise more care in picking vice presidential candidates and also that that official should be given a more responsible role in government.

Should Be Careful

Since that time fate has intervened again—for the seventh time.

This is merely to repeat the moral of 1944. These are trying times that make the presidency a trying ordeal indeed, physically and in every other way. There is good argument for selecting for second place on the tickets of both parties younger and vigorous men, men of proved capacity in government. This is especially so since it appears probable now that because of circumstances, older men will be nominated for president. It is virtually certain that President Truman will be the candidate of his party. A deadlock now in prospect in the Republican convention likely would mean that an older man would be chose to head its ticket.

This is a good time for a reform long advocated. This is to give our vice presidents more to do in the administration of a government that is becoming increasingly complex, and not relegate them entirely to presiding over the Senate and being a sort of ceremonial officer at social and official functions.

By assignment to duties in the executive realm the vice president could not only be helpful by relieving the president of some of his burden, but also could get valuable training and experience in government. Which prompts the observation that there is no reason why the vice presidency should not be a stepping-stone to the presidency, no reason why a party should not promote a vice president who had shown capacity.

THREE YEARS AFTER WAR'S END REICHSTAG RUINS LOOK THE SAME—1945: This is the Reichstag Building on the Wilhelmstrasse as the war ended. Note the shattered piece of motorized equipment in the left foreground. The Reichstag was to the Germans what the Capitol in Washington is to Americans.

1948: THIS IS THE SAME SCENE TODAY, as photographed by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Al Cocking. The wrecked vehicle is still there. This is part of the Russian zone. After three years, Germany's center of government is still a mass of ruins.

region where there are no highways now.

Other Requests Heard

Other requests included:

State highway from Hereford west to the New Mexico line, along the route now known as the Harrison highway, a county road.

A Wood county delegation wanted bridges over Lake Fork creek replaced along state highway 182 between Quitman and Alba. Anderson county wanted the Neches river bridge on U. S. 84 between Palestine and Rusk reconstructed. Zavala and Frio counties wanted designation and construction of a road from Batesville to Divot.

Randall and Armstrong counties asked for state maintenance of roads in popular Palo Duro canyon state park, and the commission promised to take the request under consideration.

A Dallas county delegation asked for widening of state highway 342 from Dallas to Lancaster.

Work will start soon on construction of state highway 149 in Falls county, Redditt said. The job was past due, he said.

The commission also heard farm-to-market road requests from Atascosa, Kaufman, Dallam and Leon counties and a request for a forest road in Shelby county.

BILL MAY BE ELECTION ISSUE

Congress May Delay Action On Government's Housing Program

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—A leading Democrat said today "it looks like" Congress will fail to enact the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill. He predicted Democrats will make housing one of the principal issues of the presidential campaign.

Rep. Spence of Kentucky, senior Democrat on the House Banking committee, told newsmen all indications are that comprehensive home-building legislation will be sidetracked in the drive to adjourn Congress two weeks from Saturday.

Seen As Election Issue

"If so," he said, "housing will be one of the big issues in the presidential election."

The T-E-W bill, passed by the Senate, has been before the House Banking committee since April 23. In hearings before the committee thus far only supporters have been heard. Some 60 persons have requested time to speak in opposition to the measure.

"The Democratic membership of the Banking committee wants the bill sent to the House floor for action," Spence said. "The housing situation is one of the most critical situations in America and something should be done."

Taft Backs Plan

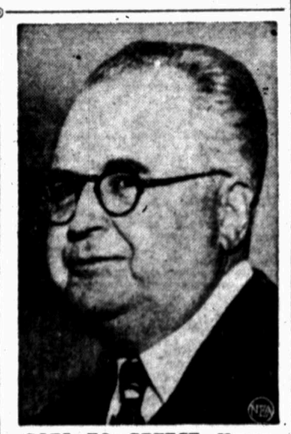

Meanwhile, a leading Republican told reporters privately that it is "increasingly unlikely" that a housing bill anywhere near as far-reaching as the T.E.W. measure can pass before Congress adjourns.

One of the authors of the T.E.W. bill is Senator Taft of Ohio, a candidate for the Republican nomination for President. The Senate passed the bill by voice vote April 22. A similar bill died in the House Banking committee two years ago.

The new T-E-W measure is designed to bring about the construction of 15,000,000 new homes in 10 years, principally by private enterprise with various government encouragements.

Major opposition in the House Banking committee is directed at a provision for construction of 500,000 public housing units in five years. These dwellings, to be operated by local housing authorities with federal financial aid, would be available to low income families unable to afford houses built by private industry.

Several House members have indicated they consider such housing to be the responsibility of the various states.

More Than $1,700 Grossed In Sale Of Buddy Poppies Here

Over 12,000 Veterans of Foreign Wars poppies made by disabled veterans and sold here Saturday netted a gross of $1,733, it was announced here Monday morning.

Each dime contributed for the poppies is divided thus, it was announced: 4 cents to the veteran who made the poppy, 3 cents to the national hospital relief work, 2 cents for the local organization's relief work, and 1 cent for national and state departments of the VFW.

Buddy Poppies are sold once each year as a Memorial day gesture, as a joint undertaking of the VFW and the women's auxiliary to the post. Chairmen of the local committee were Douglas Adams and M. L. Lang of VFW post 2466 and Mrs. Christine Moore and Mrs. Carl Moyers of the auxiliary. William E. Creel is commander of the VFW, and Mrs. Tom Everheart is president of the auxiliary.

Chiang Names New Ministers In Shakeup

NANKING, May 31 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-Shek reshuffled China's cabinet today. The changes, however brought only three new ministers to serve under Premier Wong Wen-Hao.

Chiang kept key posts for his Kuomintang party. Minority parties received two ministries and four others without portfolio.

New cabinet members are Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, defense minister; who was minister of war, 1930-1933; Ku Meng-Yu, deputy premier; and Lei Chen, minister without portfolio.

Gen. Ho, home from two years in the U. S., proposed in an interview that China "nourish its armies back to health" as the first step in defeating the Chinese Communists.

1,881 Enrolled In Summer School, Early Check Shows

Earliest figures available on the enrollment in Lubbock's free summer school were Monday noon figures showing 1,881 students and adults signed for regular classes. Additional registrants are expected in the next three or four days, officials said.

California Second To Texas In Production Of Oil Supplies

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31. (AP)—Oil is flowing from California's wells in ever increasing volume in the race to overtake the skyrocketing post-war demand.

This year the average daily output record has been broken more than a half dozen times. It is second only to Texas.

A new peak of 948,500 barrels daily average, estimated by the American Petroleum institute, was reached in the week ended May 22. This compared with 930,000 barrels for the week of Jan. 10, a record at that time.

Production for the first quarter of this year, averaging more than 933,000 barrels daily, exceeded that of last year's first quarter by more than 4 per cent.
