EDUCATOR HONORED. Mrs. Elizabeth Watson was honored with a reception on Monday evening at the newly named Watson Junior High School in Muleshoe. The school was recently named for the honoree as a gesture of appreciation and recognition of her devotion and many years in education. Crimes In City, County, State Decreased From '82

In the City of Muleshoe and in Bailey County, city police, sheriff's department and DPS officials, all report that filing for crime in the city and county also declined from 1982 to 1983 in most instances. However, both State and local DWI cases were up in 1983 from the 1982 period.

In the Bailey County Sheriff's office, which also keeps the records for the Department of Public Safety, a total of 23 burglaries were filed in 1983, 22 thefts, two motor vehicle thefts-in county, three murder with a vehicle-stolen out of county and found in Bailey County. Also filed were two assault charges, 12 for drug abuse, 63 for driving while intoxicated and 24 for public intoxication, along with one rape case.

Reports for the Muleshoe Police department compared 1983 with 1982 filings. In 1983 a total of 44 criminal mischief cases were filed, down from the 66 filed in 1982. Forty-six burglary cases were filed in '83 as compared with 50 in 1982. Theft cases in 1983 totaled 96 filed, as opposed to 145 filed in 1982.

Driving While Intoxicated cases in 1983 totaled 96, up considerably from the 68 filed in 1982 on DWI's. Public intoxication cases for 1983 totaled 82, while those filed for that offense in 1982 totaled 114. Assault cases drew a total of 25 in 1983 and 56 in 1982. There was one murder case filed in Bailey County in 1983.

In all, Bailey County and the City of Muleshoe, compares favorably with the statistics issued by the TDPs in Austin for 1983 crimes.

Both the crime rate and the total number of crimes reported in Texas declined in 1983, according to figures compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The crime rate showed a decrease of 6.2 per cent with 5,907.1 crimes per 100,000 population," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "In addition, Texas law enforcement agencies reported 928,827 major index crimes during 1983, a drop of 3.5 per cent compared to the previous year. This is the first decrease recorded in the number of crimes since 1961 and it's very encouraging. We had almost come to accept a yearly increase in volume as being inevitable."

Adams said the public's perception of crime could be a factor in the reductions.

MHS One Act Play Wins Area Competition

On Saturday, March 31, Muleshoe High School Drama department's one act play was performed in area competition, and was ranked first, along with Dalhart. The play was in competition with schools from other parts of the Texas Panhandle.

Students Win UIL Literary Contests

On Friday, March 30, several Muleshoe High School students traveled to Plainview to compete in Regional UIL Literary Contests at Wayland Baptist University.

Several students placed well enough to be able to compete in contests to qualify for State. Those contests will be held on April 14 at Odessa College in Odessa, Texas.

Students who won on Friday were: Jimmie Lee - Ready Writing and also in Persuasive Speaking; Brenda Flowers - Informative Speaking; Mike Harris - Informative Speaking; Betsy Lunsford - Poetry Interpretation; Joe Ward - Poetry Interpretation; Trish Burgess - Prose Reading; and Kelly Hamblen - Prose Reading.

The violent crime category posting the greatest decline was robbery with the number of offenses down 11.4 per cent. Murders decreased by 9.1 per cent. The numbers of rapes and aggravated assaults were down seven per cent and 6.7 per cent respectively.

In the property crime categories, burglary offenses fell 8.2 per cent and motor vehicle thefts dropped 5.2 per cent. Theft, the only major crime category showing an increase last year, rose 0.4 per cent.

Twenty-two per cent of the index crimes were cleared by arrests in 1983. The value of property stolen during the commission of major crimes was estimated to be in excess of one billion dollars with $243 million in stolen property recovered by police agencies.

"Statewide DWI arrests were up 33 per cent in 1983," Adams pointed out. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Muleshoe's play will now advance to Regional competition, scheduled to be held in Odessa on April 11. The production, which is under the direction of MHS Speech Director Kerry Moore, is entitled "Othello" by William Shakespeare.

Named as best actor for area competition this year was John Isaac from Muleshoe who played the role of Othello. Three other members of Muleshoe's cast received special recognition for their acting ability. Those students were: Kelly Hamblen, Desdemona; Darin Shaw, Iago; and Chad Williams who portrayed Cassio. All three were named as members of the all-star cast.

Regional competition will be with schools from Breckenridge, Clyde, Cohoma, Dalhart and Crane and performances will be held at Odessa College. Should the play win at the Regional level, it will then advance to State competition. Muleshoe's drama department is the defending state champion for One Act Plays of the UIL, having won state in 1983.

Other members of the cast who will travel to compete are: Kelly Hamblen - Prose Reading. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

City, School Elections Scheduled This Saturday

Reception Honors Elizabeth Watson

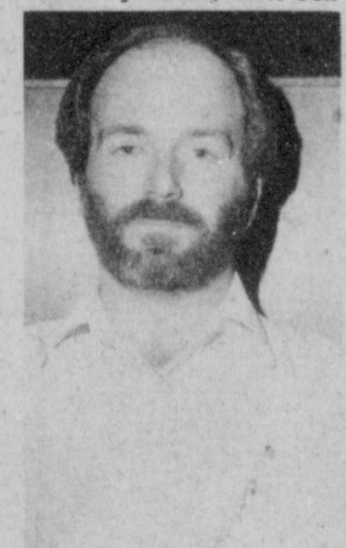

A reception was held on Monday evening, April 2 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the library of the recently re-named Watson Junior High School in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, for whom the school was named. Several hundred local citizens turned out to pay their respects and express their gratitude to Mrs. Watson for the many years she has devoted to the Muleshoe Independent School District. Many of her well-wishers are now prominent businessmen and women in the area and are devoted to her for her love of her vocation.

The decision to name the Muleshoe Junior High as the Elizabeth Watson Junior High School came from a unanimous decision of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District in a recent meeting, as a means of honoring Mrs. Watson's 41 years in education - 38 of which have been in the Muleshoe schools.

Superintendent of Schools, H. John Fuller told the Journal that while the Board did not mean to leave anyone out, they felt that Mrs. Watson's contributions were so outstanding that she deserved recognition for the work she has done. "This is not to say that there are not others who deserve recognition - there are. Hopefully in the future, we will be able to honor more of our dedicated personnel," Fuller stated.

Oil Lease Activity Revived In County

In the first months of 1982, oil and gas speculators began leasing properties in Bailey County, which ultimately resulted in approximately 46,347 acres being leased through the middle of October, 1982.

Heavy concentrations of leasing were in the West Camp, Goodland, Baileyboro and Enoch areas. While a large amount of this activity was paced by an individual buyer, possible for an unknown entity, larger oil companies were also leasing. Some of those companies included Gulf, Atlantic-Richfield, Shell and Phillips, along with several other individual speculators. Leases in the Enoch area totaled some 11,000 acres at that time with bonus prices reportedly being paid.

Social Security News And Views

A person whose Social Security check does not arrive on the day it is expected should wait for two more mail deliveries before contacting the Social Security office.

This will take care of a good share of delayed checks. If the check still has not arrived after two days, the people at the Social Security office can begin action.

The most common cause of failure to receive a check is failure to report a change of address. Many people fail to notify Social Security when they move, even though they rely on their Social Security checks as their primary source of income.

Some people think it is enough to report their change of address to the post office. The post office, however, will forward mail to the person's new address for just one year. After that they will send the check back to the U.S. Treasury.

If the person's check is returned and the new address provided, it usually takes about four or five days for a new check to be sent. If the check was not returned, a stop order will be put on it and the matter will be transferred to Washington, D.C. to see if the check has been cashed.

If it has not been cashed, a new check will be sent right away. This process can take up to three weeks. If it has been cashed, a new check cannot be sent until the person who cashed the check is identified.

Even though a person's check is deposited directly into his or her account in a financial institution, he or she should notify Social Security of any change in address.

More information about Social Security checks can be obtained at the Lubbock Social Security office, located at 1611-10th. Street in Lubbock. The telephone number is 743-7381.

SHINED AND READY

"And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace." Ephesians 6:15.

These shoes fairly shine and sparkle and are ready to take their owner proudly any place. Society dictates that we should be well turned out and that our feet be shod with well-groomed footwear. The Bible tells us that we should be clad in the whole armour of God, and that our feet should be shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace. The gospel is this: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit." Romans 8:1

St. Peter advises, "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear."

Come to church this week that you might learn of Him and that you might be prepared to give this good news of the gospel to others.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

There was some sort of a game played here this evening between the students of the Baileyboro school and the Muleshoe school. The editor has not learned what the game was, but judging from the way the Baileyboro folks were yelling and singing and the further fact that none of the Muleshoe pupils have been in to report the game, Muleshoe lost.

Textile Timing Affects When You Buy

If you've ever wondered why the stores are filled with bathing suits in February and winter coats in July, it's because of the textile manufacturing chain.

"The textile timing schedule which puts spring and summer clothes on the market in January, or fall and winter clothes on the market in July, leaves some consumers satisfied and others exasperated," says Dr. Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

According to fiber industry study, the cycle from fiber producer to consumer takes about a year and a half, she says.

Caring For Cotton Fabrics

Easy-care cotton can be exactly that if consumers will follow care label instructions, says consumer specialist Beverly Rhoades.

Some consumers got used to caring for cottons years ago by washing them in hot water and drying at high heat, says Rhoades, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension home economist. This is still possible for some untreated 100 percent cotton fabrics, but will reduce the appearance and wearing life of other cotton fabrics.

Cotton fabrics are now usually treated with chemical finishes that control shrinkage and help them resist wrinkling. Even 100 percent cotton is likely to have some kind of finish, she adds.

Cotton is also now found more often in fabric blends with other natural and synthetic fibers. It's an excellent addition to blends because as a natural fiber cotton breathes and lets off heat and moisture to keep the wearer comfortable in any kind of weather, explains the specialist.

Cotton treated with permanent press finishes and most cotton-blends need a permanent press washing and drying cycle, she notes. A permanent press cycle uses warm water to relax wrinkles and does not spin clothes quite so dry. The drying cycle starts out with hot enough temperatures to relax wrinkles and then cools down to maintain the wrinkle free state.

Because consumers know cotton is a durable fiber, care labels that recommend special laundering procedures or even dry cleaning, can be confusing. But it's still best to follow label instructions, says Rhoades, since they are designed to protect the fabric finish and preserve easy-care qualities for the life of the garment.

A dry cleaning instruction may be given because other fibers blended with the cotton or some part of the garment, such as the trim or lining make it necessary, says the specialist.

For example, fiber producers and mills begin in March of 1984 to project color and fabric trends for the fall and winter of 1985. The fabrics they produce will be shown and delivered to the various cutting trades from August of 1984 through February of 1985. Garments will then be manufactured for delivery to the stores in May and June for display in July and August of 1985. In the meantime, similar cycle will begin for spring and summer clothes, she explains.

Timing in textile production evolved mostly as a function of the cotton crop and wool shearing season as well as the weather in the northeastern United States, which has been the traditional center of the garment trade, notes Vanderpoorten.

While September is considered cool in the northeastern states, however, it's still in the 80's and 90's in the sunbelt states and many consumers are not psychologically ready to buy warm clothing. Consumers who live in warmer climates, are also leaning toward somewhat more seasonless clothes, says the specialist.

In addition, the economic climate means they may not be willing to part with their dollars two to three months before they need the apparel.

In spite of this, fashion merchandisers are often anxious to give their customers something new before their competitors do. So consumers who are not satisfied with the timing of clothing seasons in the stores need to let their feelings be known to retailers, suggests Vanderpoorten.

Knowing something about the textile industry timing can help you get more for your clothing dollar, says the specialist. Over a six month fashion season, consumers seem to fall into four different categories.

* The "innovators or pioneers" want to be first and don't worry about price. They usually buy during the first five weeks of the season.

* The "early majority" buy trend merchandise when they need it, in proper season and at the regular prices. They usually buy during the second and third months.

* The "late majority" wait to buy until they see others with the merchandise. They are price-conscious and like to keep their dollar for as long as possible. They typically buy during the fourth and fifth month.

* The "laggards" are discount-oriented and do not buy unless there is a break in price. They tend to purchase during the last month of the season.

Probably all of us fit in several of these categories, depending upon the type of clothing we're buying, says Vanderpoorten. One consumer, for example, might be in the early majority when buying clothes for work, yet purchase casual clothes only at the end of the season.

Sales are often used at the end of the early majority buying period to draw the majority into the market.

INCOME SPLITTING (Among Family Members)

Taxpayers who have accumulated assets in excess of their own needs should take a serious look at income splitting. Splitting the income among family members means using a technique that lets you and your children or other relatives share the income from investments or businesses so that the income tax consequences are spread over a number of tax returns.

Income splitting can be as simple as hiring your children to work in your business.

Consider these income splitting techniques:

1. Make a gift of income producing property so that the income is taxable to the recipient of the gift.
2. Use a Clifford Trust which taxes the income to the recipient. Any time after ten years and one day, the principal of the trust can revert to you.
3. Make low or no-interest loans to family members. Such loans allow a high-bracket taxpayer to loan money, which was creating interest income on his return, to some other family member thereby having the interest income taxed to the recipient of the loan.

4. Family partnerships can provide partnership income to family members who do not necessarily work in the business. A Subchapter S corporation can be used for the same purpose.

5. Consider hiring family members to work in your business. The new contribution limit for IRAs of 100% of earnings up to $2,000 provides an excellent vehicle to set up retirement plans for even young family members.

6. Private annuities, a promise to make lifetime payments, can be useful when transferring high value assets between family members.

Since every family is different and the income and planning requirements can vary, seek professional assistance from you accountant.

ASVAB Test Results Available From Counselor

Linda Marr, the Counselor at MHS, announced that the results of the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) Tests have arrived at her office. The ASVAB is a multiple vocational aptitude test battery which is currently given to more than 900,000 high school students in over 13,000 schools overseas. The test is administered by the US Military Entrance Processing Command.

The ASVAB is a complete, cost free testing program administered by qualified examiners and is computer scored. Results are returned to the school with follow up visits by experienced personnel who can help the counselor interpret the results to the students.

Students who took the ASVAB will receive vocational guidance support, including the Student Results Sheet and interpretive pamphlet; the Military-Civilian Occupational Source Book which has information on the relationship between military and civilian jobs; and normative data that allows students to make grade comparisons of their ASVAB scores. State and national normative data are provided on request for both males and females to allow school authorities to compare their students performance to those outside the school.

Calendar Of Events

April 5 - Norwood family band at 10:00 a.m.
April 6 - Girls district track meet at Abernathy.
April 7 - Boys varsity track meet at Brownfield. J.V. Track meet at Sudan.
April 9 - Pep Club party at 5:30. Boys district golf at Littlefield.
April 10 - District boys tennis meet both J.V. and varsity at Abernathy. Muleshoe FFA parent member banquet in the MHS cafeteria.
April 11 - District boys golf at Tulia. Student Council and cheerleaders elections.

Mechanical which measures understanding of mechanical principles as well as the ability to visualize objects in three-dimensional space.

Trade Technical which measures information relevant to automotive, electronic, and various shop practices.

Academic Ability which measures abilities needed to do well in post-secondary academic or similar formal types of post-high school training.

Students who took the test at MHS will be called into a general meeting to have their scores explained. The date and time of this meeting will be announced later.

Since the ASVAB is a standard Department of Defense test that military recruiters use to qualify/classify potential candidates, the students benefit because they need to take only one test to qualify them for all of the services. Also, the results of the ASVAB may be withheld from the recruiters temporarily, if requested, to allow for "comparative shopping" by the students and counselors in both civilian and military jobs.

The following composite factors are reported on the students ASVAB score sheet:

- Verbal which measures knowledge of words, ability to understand written materials, and ability to deal with verbal concepts.
- Math which measures reasoning abilities as well as those abilities relevant to understanding quantitative concepts.
- Perceptual Speed which measures speed and accuracy in using letters and numbers. These are the abilities relevant to clerical type activities.

HECE School Program Trains Students For Work

Mrs. Linda Tanksley, teacher coordinator for Muleshoe High School's Home Economics Cooperative Education program (HECE), prepares junior and senior students for gainful employment. Students enrolled in HECE attend class one hour each day and work a minimum of 15 hours each week. Jobs are approved by the Texas Education Agency.

The purpose of HECE is to train students for gainful employment and to acquaint them with career opportunities for the future. It is offered to juniors and seniors to build on the skills they may have had prior to enrolling in the course.

To qualify, a student must be 16 years of age and a responsible individual. A minimum grade average of 70 and good class attendance are also required.

For students who do not go to college, the course prepares them for immediate employment. Sometimes after they get into a job training situation, they can see that further education will be helpful. Other students use this experience to learn more about a career area, which they want to pursue in college. Many use the job skills they learn to finance their education in other areas after leaving high school.

"While in the classroom, employers sometimes serve as guest speakers to give tips for interviews, the importance of first impressions, filling out applications, and job relationships," says Mrs. Tanksley. "Other things discussed in class are job success, attitudes, personal qualities, business etiquette. We also deal with life skills such as income tax, budgeting, banking, consumer education, and human relationships."

The teacher coordinator is responsible for finding employers who will cooperate with the program and sending the right student for the right job interview. "The hardest job I have is getting the student placed on the right job," says Mrs. Tanksley. "There's a place for everyone-it's just a matter of finding it."

When HECE was started in Muleshoe High School, only six areas of employment were available. Now the TEA has approved many occupations for HECE students. Some of these jobs are, child care aide, clothing assistant, companion to elderly, consumer aide, fabric coordinator, fashion coordinator, floral designer, food service employee, institutional management, home furnishings aide, and bridal consultant.

"During the afternoons I visit with the employers and observe students on the job. Most employers are very understanding and want to help the students. I'm amazed at their patience." Each employer fills out a periodic evaluation sheet for the type of training the student is performing. It rates the student on his attitude, cooperation, ability and dependability.

Through this class students gain more maturity and must learn to accept responsibility. Some students register for the class just to get out of school early or to pay for a car. However, they soon learn the more is expected of them than the average high school student. They must balance job training, classroom, homework, and sometimes even extracurricular activities. If we can teach responsibility, the value of initiative, and the importance of working well with the public and fellow employees, we have succeeded. HECE is not for every student at Muleshoe High School, but it does offer information which every student can use. Any student who is interested in enrolling in HECE may contact Mrs. Tanksley for an application.

SCAC Presents

Gulley Award

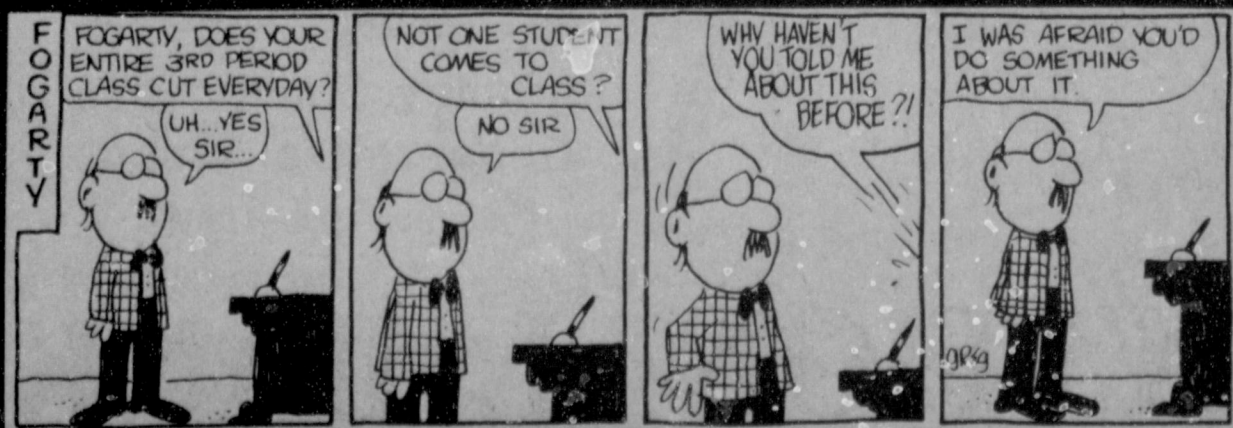

SCAC (Student Community Action Club) has started a new activity, honoring a citizen of the month. John Gulley was chosen as the Citizen of the Month for March. He is the first recipient of this award and the SCAC is honored to give this award to Mr. Gulley.

John Gulley graduated from Muleshoe High in 1968. Then four years later he graduated from Texas Tech with a degree in Government and taught at Midland for four years. He returned to Tech to get his masters degree in 1978 in Public Administration.

He worked for ten months for Farmer's Home Administration and then became manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce where he is presently employed. Mr. Gulley is a true asset to Muleshoe and he is recognized for his extra efforts toward the people and students of Muleshoe.

SONIC DONATES MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS... Tommy Merritt, manager of the Sonic Drive-In here in Muleshoe, has donated to the Muleshoe High School library two year subscriptions to twelve magazines. The magazines that were donated were American Health, Computer Fun, Glamour, Golf Digest, Hi Fidelity, Horse and Rider, Money, Sport, Successful Farming, Tennis, Women's Sports, and World Press Review. This is certainly a gift that will benefit both the student body and the faculty. Mrs. Dillman and everyone at MHS would like to express their thanks to Tommy Merritt and the Sonic Drive-In for this generous donation.

Police Activities Quieter Than Usual

The streets of Muleshoe have been fairly quiet during the past week for Muleshoe Police officers, as compared to others in recent weeks. A total of nine warrants were filed on or warrants issued for arrest on bad check cases during the last week.

On April 2, a 1971 Ford driven by Richard M. Castorena struck a 1969 model auto parked in the 100 block of West 5th. The parked vehicle belonged to Alex Castorena. The driver of the Ford, Richard Castorena, stated that his brakes had failed as he approached the car and drive, thereby causing the accident.

On March 29, a parked, unattended vehicle belonging to Billy Loflin was struck on the parking lot of Pray and Save. A witness described the auto and license number of the vehicle that hit the Loflin vehicle. It belonged to Lena LeFebre, and when she was contacted regarding the incident, stated that she had not realized that she had hit anything. Minor damage was done.

Special Agent for the Santa Fe, Don Thomas reported to local officers the burglary of a vehicle at the station wherein several items were removed. Those items totaled $56 in value.

Fred Mardis, Junior High School Principal, reported to Muleshoe officers the theft of a cassette recorder from a junior high classroom. The report was made on March 26. The recorder was valued at $60, and is the property of the Muleshoe Independent School District. It is in color.

On March 15 Rafael Paez reported criminal mischief and theft from four of his vehicles parked at the Farmer's Coop Elevator. Paez said that windows, windshields and back glasses were broken and the vehicles vandalized with damages totaling $1450. There was a witness to the incident and investigation is continuing.

Police also processed and handled warrants on nine bad check cases during the past week. On some, restitution and fines were paid; however on others, contact had not been made.

On March 27 Shirley Morgan was arrested on a charge of alleged disorderly conduct after officers were dispatched to a residence on Birch Street regarding a domestic disturbance. Morgan was arrested after she failed to comply with officers suggestions that she return to her home. She was taken before Judge Linda Huckaby, however since she was on welfare and could not pay the fine, she was given three months probation.

A 1980 Chevrolet belonging to Weldon B. Winn and an auto belonging to Dale Hill Dudley collided on the parking lot of Poyner's Whites on March 24. As the Dudley vehicle started to pull inside the building, the two units struck. Damage was minor to both autos.

On March 24, Muleshoe Independent School District's representative Charles Shain reported to police that persons unknown had broken the rear glass out of a Vega wagon parked at the auto mechanic shop. The vehicle was used for storing parts. A $50 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and prosecution of suspects.

Johnny L. Estep of Johnny's Safety Center reported to police on March 25 a burglary of his business involving the taking of six packs of Diet 7-Up. The drinks were valued at $3.82. Intruders gained entrance to the building by kicking in the plywood on a window of the building. Some prints were found and investigation into the incident is continuing.

On March 25, JoAnn Lopez was arrested on a charge of alleged disorderly conduct after officers were dispatched to a residence on East Avenue B regarding a disturbance. On March 23, Belle M. Niece was arrested on a charge of alleged DWI. She was transported to the law enforcement center and took a breath test. She was then booked into jail, pending bond and the auto she was driving was impounded. On March 23, officers arrested Joel Flores on charges of alleged no driver's license, no liability insurance and displaying fictitious license plates. However, further checking revealed that Flores was an illegal alien and he was booked into the Bailey County jail awaiting pick-up by the Border Patrol who was notified.

HOT LINES AND PIPE DO NOT MIX!

Electricity is the farmer's co-worker. Irrigation is a boon to his farm operation. But high-voltage lines and water pipes aren't meant to be mixed.

With the steady supply of electrical power, life has become considerably easier for the rural resident. Irrigation systems guarantee his crops the water they need when they need it.

Yet—one needs to observe all safety rules working around electric lines with irrigation equipment. One metal pipe touched to a live wire can be disastrous. One moment of "not thinking" can mean a lifetime. For help or advice on possible dangers, contact your Electric Cooperative office.

And remember—hot lines and irrigation pipe don't mix!
