Five Per Cent Tax Hike Board Okays $3 M Budget

The Aransas County Ind. School District adopted a budget for the 1976-77 year calling for a total expenditure of $3,035,366 and set the tax rate at $1.44. Supt. E.J. Randow pointed out that the increase in taxes is due to legislation passed during the last session of the State Legislature in which local districts were required to produce additional funding with less funding from the state level.

Randow estimated that the five per cent increase in taxes would figure a hike of approximately $8.10 on a $20,000 home at market value.

The new tax rate applies to each $100 valuation based on a 55 per cent ratio of actual market value which was set earlier this year, according to Randow. Since the ratio of assessment was changed earlier from 45 to 55 per cent of market value, the board was able to lower the tax rate, the combination of which will result in an increase of the five per cent mentioned above. The tax rate includes $1.35 for maintenance and nine cents for debt service.

The adopted budget includes all proposed expenditures including the local program, special education program, and federal program. A breakdown of the budget is as follows: payroll costs, $2,340,975 (77 per cent of the total budget); purchased or contracted services $185,595 (seven per cent of the budget); supplies and materials, $176,281 (six per cent of the budget); other operating expenses (two per cent of the budget); capital outlay, $131,145 (four per cent of the budget); debt service, $129,845 (four per cent of the budget).

With 104 Cities

CPL Wants Rate Increase Of 11% To Its Customers

Central Power and Light Company has announced plans to file applications for new electric rates later this month which will provide an increase of approximately 11 per cent in the company's total operating revenues.

The rate request, only the second general increase in the company's 60-year history, is scheduled to be filed the week of Aug. 23 with city commissions in the 104 South Texas cities served by CPL. New rates for CPL customers outside of the incorporated areas will go into effect the same week.

Copies of the new rates also will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, which assumes jurisdiction over electric rates outside of incorporated cities Sept. 1. City Councils continue to serve as regulatory agencies for electric rates in incorporated areas.

CPL's last general rate change, which amounted to a six per cent revenue increase, went into effect in April, 1973.

CPL Manager Doyle Bryant said the rate increase was needed to offset rising prices for "just about everything we use to make electricity." He said that CPL's rate of return has been dropping sharply for the past two years.

Although customer electric bills have risen substantially in the past few years, these increases have been the result of skyrocketing costs for natural gas. These costs are passed along to customers through a fuel adjustment clause in CPL rates.

The CPL spokesman noted

Questions Aired At Meeting Concerning Coastal Programs

In preparation of a formal public hearing in Corpus Christi Aug. 11, purposes and objectives of the Texas Coastal Management program were explained and discussed at an informal meeting in First State Bank of Aransas Pass Friday night.

It was explained that it is designed to set up an organization through which efforts of various state natural resource agencies could develop a co-ordinated coastal management program. Also, it was asserted that the program would help improve communications between economic development and environmental development for the Texas coast.

Ralph Rayburn, marine extension agent for Aransas and San Patricio Counties, presided at the meeting and introduced Nick DeGeorge of the General Land Office staff who explained the proposed program and responded to numerous questions and comments from the audience.

Rogeros Sell The Pilot; Carter Named Publisher

Perry Carter and associates have purchased The Rockport Pilot from Mr. and Mrs. Roy V.

Rogero, Sr., it was announced this week.

The sale, which includes the office supply and commercial printing plant, is effective Aug. 1.

Carter is a veteran of 15 years in the newspaper business and is presently editor and publisher of the La Porte-Bayshore Sun.

The Rogero family has been the sole owner of The Pilot since 1971. Prior to that time, the Rogeros were partners with the R. Roy Woods family as publishers for years.

Rogero said that much thought had gone into his making a decision to sell The Pilot.

"I believe that the residents of the area, advertisers and subscribers to The Pilot deserve to be in the hands of persons who will devote their time and effort to the community in providing them with the best in news coverage that can be obtained."

"After owning The Pilot for over 30 years it was a hard decision to make, but I knew that sooner or later it would have to be done. After spending almost a year in locating persons I thought would fit in with the community, persons whom I thought could do as good, and I believe a better job than I have done, the deal was made."

"I sincerely believe that Aransas County is fortunate in getting Perry Carter as editor and publisher."

"There are no contemplated personnel changes with the exception of replacing John Kinsey who has resigned, effective August 1. I will not be connected with the people in the operation of the business, but will serve in an advisory capacity if needed for a time."

He went on to say, "My wife and I want to extend sincerest thanks for the many kindnesses we have received since moving to Rockport. We will continue to live here the rest of our lives. We believe in the future of the area and the people here who made what small success we have made possible. So our parting words won't be 'Good-bye', just 'See you later'."

"We love The Pilot and the people of Rockport, and the community has been good to us. Likewise, it is with this in mind that we wish to entrust the future of The Pilot to Mr. (Continued on Page Nine) ment" cake while wives of the two are standing. Kinsey had been the editor for more than eleven years while Rogero has been in Rockport over 30 years. Both families will continue to reside in Rockport and take short trips to other areas.

Hurricane Time

August is usually considered the beginning of the hurricane season, although some may occur during July along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. The Midwest, which must fight the tornado battle all summer long, is fortunately spared the hurricane threat, as is the West Coast.

Nowadays the tracking of hurricanes has attained a certain degree of accuracy and their course can be followed to a reasonable degree and one day, possibly, man might be able to partially control their destructiveness.

Being aware of the safety rules and making proper preparations for moving to safe areas is the best assurance against loss of life.

Fall Fabric, Fashion Trends

College Station-Variety is the key to fall fabric and fashions. Rather than one important new look, many different trends and influences are in style, Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist, reports.

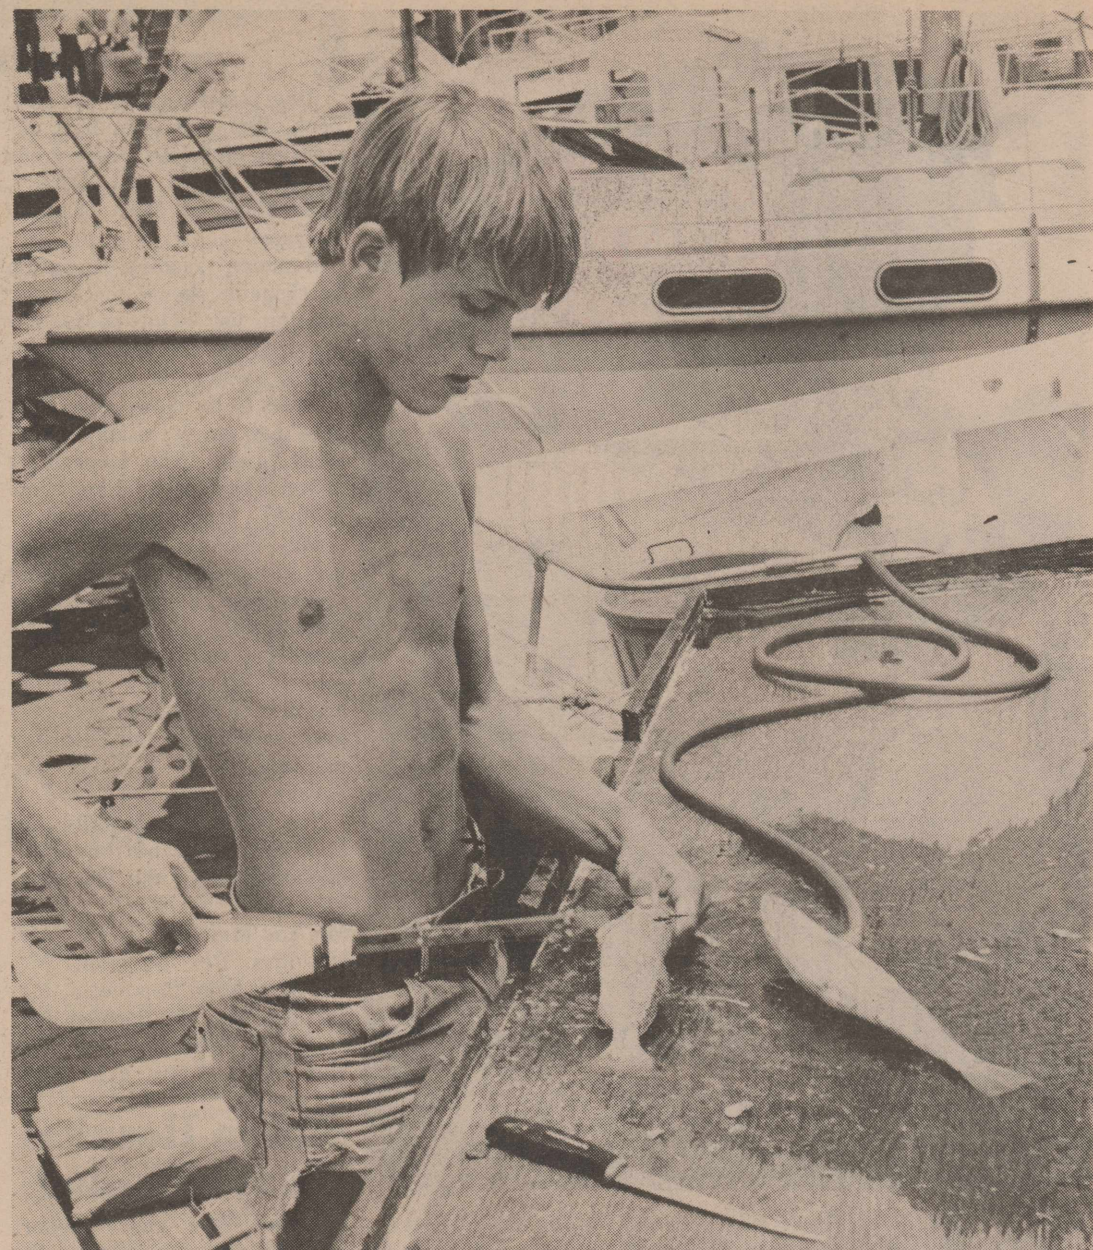

"Major trends are the layered look, classics, naturals and the ethnic look," she said.

Miss Vanderpoorten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Layered looks will be most evident in active sportswear. Layers will be functional as well as decorative. Terry cloth, corduroy and fleece, muslin, poplin and shirting fabrics will be popular in both natural and bright colors, she reported.

"Classics, termed the 'thoroughbred look,' will be seen in neutral colors and new basics such as luggage red and spruce green. Refined tweeds, herringbone patterns and pin stripes will combine with solids to give an elegant tailored look to favorite separates. Blazers, vests and simple skirt or pant styles will be front runners," she said.

Natural looks such as wrap skirts and dresses, easy-fit

SUMMER JOBS come in many different ways. Just as Paul Roe above is earning some money during the summer cleaning fish in Rockport. The Florida native is spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Medlin of Rockport. Roe says that he will return to school in Houston in August.

NEW BASS RECORD WITHIN TWO YEARS?

Oldest and probably most coveted freshwater fish record in Texas is the 13-pound eight-ounce largemouth bass taken in 1943 from Lake Medina near San Antonio.

But Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Fisheries Division Director Bob Kemp predicts the reign of the "Medina Monster" is coming to an end.

Kemp said recently a 10-pound 10-ounce Florida bass was taken from a small East Texas test lake where the P&WD is monitoring growth rates of several species of bass. The fish was four years old.

"That's remarkable growth," Kemp said. "Based on that I would be willing to predict a new Texas state bass record within the next two years."

Besides growth rate and size potential, P&WD biologists are discovering other favorable characteristics about Florida bass.

According to preliminary results of a three-year study of Florida bass, native Texas largemouths and a hybrid of the two (the so-called "superbass"), Floridas appear to be the hardest of the three.

Biologist Charles Inman at Tyler said Floridas apparently have a greater chance of survival after being hooked and released.

Floridas also seem able to withstand competition with other predator fish.

A spokesman for Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District (commonly known as the Water District) announced that the organization will not take part in a proposed long range, countywide planning project.

The project was recommended by Harland Bartholomew & Associates, engineers and planners, and was favored by the City of Rockport.

The School Board and Aransas County previously had announced that they did not intend to participate in the project.

Roy Rogero Sr. Recalls History Of The Pilot

On April 1, 1946 Roy V. Rogero, Sr. and R. Roy Woods purchased The Rockport Pilot from Jack Blackwell. The paper was printed in an old wooden building where Corky's Restaurant now stands.

After the free subscribers were deleted from the subscription list there were about 350 subscribers who were paid up. The Pilot at that time was printed on what was called "ready print". It consisted of eight pages, four of which were already printed with various medicine ads and other cure-alls. The remaining four pages were devoted to local news of Aransas County.

Shortly after the purchase Woods and Rogero obtained the services of Mrs. Byron Baker Jr. as reporter for the paper. She was also secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. She was associated with The Pilot for several years and was succeeded by Hugh Haddock who later resigned to operate his own newspaper, The Beacon, which lasted for 13 issues.

In September, 1952 the Pilot moved into their new concrete block building. Mrs. Irma Cloberdants was the reporter.

In January, 1961 gas air conditioning was installed in the 1,750 square foot building making it the first weekly newspaper in the area to be so equipped.

Jack Baughman followed Mrs. Cloberdants as reporter and in June, 1964 a 900 sq. ft. paneled office was added to accommodate the newspaper, office supply and commercial printing departments. In September, 1965 Baughman was injured in an auto accident which claimed the life of his wife. He was never able to return to work for The Pilot.

On October 18, 1965 John R. Kinsey was employed as editor, a position he has held until July 31, 1976, when his resignation became effective. Last week's Pilot carried the last of the Kinsey Reports wherein he thanked the fine cooperation he had received from all during his tenure with The Pilot.

On January 1, 1971 Rogero purchased Wood's half of The Pilot. Roy, Jr. came to work that month and in September of 1971 The Pilot went offset. Additional help was necessary to handle the increased business that was obtained. Subscribers have increased from 350 in 1946 to well over 3,000 at this time, an increase of approximately 100 new readers for each of the 30 years.

Coastal Programs

Preliminary recommendations of a state-wide advisory committee appointed by Gov. Ralph Briscoe will be the subject of 10 public hearings during the next two months. After the hearings, final recommendations will be prepared for the governor and for submission to the state legislature, according to DeGeorge.

Included in benefits anticipated from objective of the proposed coastal management program, DeGeorge said, are preservation of state control over coastal policy against federal intrusion, increased accountability of state agencies for their activities on the coast, and increased efficiency in coastal programs.

Some members of the audience expressed fear that the plan will create yet another expensive agency on top of existing agencies.

A number of representatives of the shrimping and fishing industry in the Aransas Pass-Rockport area questioned possible handicaps growing out of additional regulations. A number of conservation objectives from local control. Someone said there already are plenty of regulatory boards and predicted a duplication of reports.

It also was claimed that coastal area interests were not well represented on the program's 40-member committee.

DeGeorge expressed the opinion that such a program could improve communications between various state agencies involved and with the general public. It would tend to fix responsibility for operations of these agencies and speed action in getting permits for coastal area work, he asserted. He also said the program could result in the state addressing itself to problems too big for local government to handle, adding that basically, however, the proposed plan would stress leaving as much of coastal area problems as possible to local governments for solution.

Carter," Rogero said.

"Mr. Rogero and his staff have been dedicated to serving Aransas County in an outstanding manner. We will strive to maintain that high level of service," Carter noted.

Carter said he did not anticipate any changes in operation or personnel.

Texas Football Magazine Names Beeville District Favorite

A drop in classification and a 6-4 record have earned Beeville's Trojans the top spot in Dave Campbell's Texas Football Magazine rankings of District 15-AAA.

However, Tuloso-Midway, Gregory-Portland and Calallen are all expected to challenge the Trojans for the title.

Rockport-Fulton's Pirates, coming off a 2-8 season slate, have 12 lettermen back, but is figured no better than sixth in the eight-team district. Pirates, with backs Jeff Dietz and Bobby Lewis expected to shore up the backfield.

Coach Vellie Williams will be counting heavily on Junior signalcaller Daryl Green for his offensive thrust.

Up front for R-F, center John Picton, guards Sam Solis and Reggie Morgan and tackles Bruce Barre and Jeff Crosby lead the way. Ronnie Ormand is in line for the tight end spot and Albert Mendiola is the split back.

The big job for the Pirates will be moulding a defense in an offense-minded district.

Beeville has back eight starters on offense. Signal caller Eddie Antoine leads the charge, with fullback Richard Crenshaw and end Roland Lott both having speed to burn.

Gridders Start Practice Aug. 9

Coach Vellie Williams is issuing shoes on Aug. 4 which is one of the first items on the Rockport Pirates' football schedule. The Pirates will start practice in shorts Aug. 9.

Shoes were being issued Wednesday, Aug. 4, with the varsity and seniors set for 5:30 to 6 p.m. Juniors and sophomores are scheduled to pick up shoes between 6 and 6:30 p.m. and the Freshmen set for 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Coach Williams has picked the date of Aug. 13 to issue contact equipment.

Two scrimmages are set for Aug. 20 with Ingleside at 5:30 p.m. and Bloomington on Aug. 27. The Pirates will host the Ingleside team and will travel to Bloomington for the second scrimmage.

The Pirate schedule is as follows:

Sept. 3	Aransas Pass	T
Sept. 10	Open
Sept. 17	Refugio	H
Sept. 24	Taft	H
Oct. 1	Beeville	T

Softball Team Places Seventh In Tournament

The A.C. Raiders II Girls' Softball team placed seventh in the 16-team state playoff tournament. After the tournament the team was entertained at Six Flags, near Grand Prairie.

Mamie Gonzales, the local second baseman, fractured her wrist prior to attending the tournament and was forced to play untended.

Rita Parish, coach of the team, extended thanks to the people that helped through donations in making the trip possible.

First Graders

Most six-year-olds who are beginning school this fall may be in for a series of immunization shots.

Often a complete physical examination will uncover defects that a child may have and that have been unnoticed. It is important, if a child has a defect, that the parents and teachers know about the defect so that they can help the child overcome the handicap.

September Hunts Little Threat to Mourning Doves

Austin -- For the past 30 years the perennial question when it comes time to set mourning dove seasons is what effect September hunting has on the nation's most important migratory game bird.

And this year promises to be no different as state game officials, hunters and protectionist groups square off before September 1.

Opposition to hunting mourning doves in September stems from three factors: (1) opposition to hunting in general; (2) a large number of young birds in the bag, which has been opposed by some hunters; and (3) a detrimental effect to the population by loss of breeding adults, eggs and fledglings.

Jim Dunks, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department dove program leader, said the latter is the P&WD's initial concern since it gives primary consideration to the species over the personal desires of hunters or other groups. Studies have been directed toward defining the effects of hunting regulations on the resource.

"Available biological data show that 'early' dove hunting has little effect on Texas' overall breeding population of birds," said Dunks.

Preliminary results of an eight-year banding program in Texas indicate that more than 55 percent of the adult mourning dove population dies each year from a combination of causes—hunting, diseases and predation.

Death as a result of hunting has been isolated from other causes and data show that hunting annually affects some 10 percent of the adult population. This loss is considered to have a rather insignificant effect on the population dynamics of the species.

30,000 Lbs. of Shrimp Taken In Closed Gulf Season

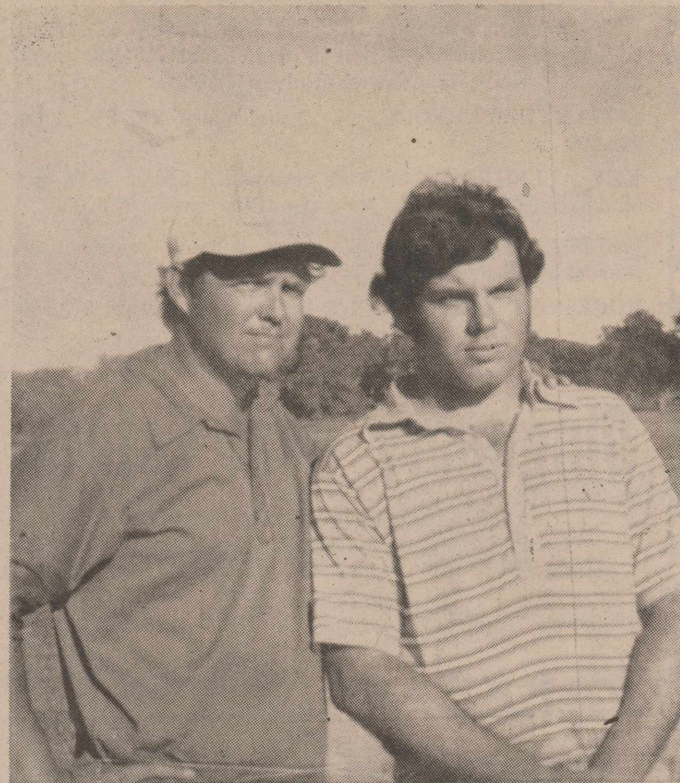

During the closed Gulf shrimp season, May 15 - July 15, game wardens confiscated some 30,000 pounds of brown shrimp.

Law enforcement officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say wardens apprehended 85 boats in the 60-day period, during which Gulf shrimp was closed to allow immature brown shrimp to migrate from bays into the Gulf of Mexico.

A total of $10,263 in fines has been collected with an additional 17 cases pending before local justices of the peace.

P&WD officials said the number of cases increased this year, primarily because of the longer closed season, 15 days more than the 45-day closures in recent past years.

Tournament Winners Named In Summer Doubles Event

The Fred Whittle Memorial Trophy was won by Peggy Lingo Brignon and Craig Thornton who defeated Karen Bracht and Leon Bateman, 6-0, 6-4 in the final match of Senior Division A in the fourth annual Summer Fun Mixed Doubles tennis tournament Sunday at Key Allegro Tennis Club.

The tournament was the largest in the history of the area, attracting a total of 80 players - 64 in the Senior Division and 16 in the Junior. An additional 25 or 30 players applied but could not be accepted because of scheduling limitations, according to Joe Hugenberg, president of Rockport Tennis Assn., which sponsored this year's tournament. Hugenberg was tournament director.

The Whittle trophy is awarded each year to winners of Division A in memory of the late Fred Whittle, retired Air Force Colonel who devoted the last years of his life to promoting tennis in this area, especially among younger players.

The tournament, which started Thursday with Junior Division matches, was played on courts of both Rockport Racquet Club and Key Allegro Tennis Club. All final matches were played on Key Allegro courts, the host club for the tournament.

The tournament play provided for every player in the Senior Division to participate in at least three matches. Original partners are selected by lot and each match is played with a different partner.

Winners of Division B Sunday were Polly Bracht and Jack O'Shea who beat Padraig Moran and Maggie McNab, 6-3 and 6-0 in the final match.

The Division C title went to Anita Dingenary and Dr. Pat Moran who defeated Claudia Bateman and Russ Wilhour, 6-0, 6-2.

The Junior Division A Stacey Johnson and Tony Aleman beat Julie Hiller and Shawn Bateman, 7-6, 7-5 and 6-3 in the final match. In Junior Division B Andy McMillan and Zack Schultz defeated Ben Foster, III and Michael Handshy, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-1 to take the title.

Winners and runner-up in all divisions were awarded trophies in addition to the Fred Whittle cup which went to winners of Senior Division-A.

Mrs. Fred Whittle assisted in presenting all trophies at a Key Allegro Tennis Club courtyard barbecue dinner following completion of final matches.

Special awards for eccentric court behavior were made at this time. T.J. Johnson was pronounced foot fault champion for his alleged practice of encroaching on the court while serving. His award was a chained tennis shoe mounted on a plaque. Bert Conley Sr. was given a double noose to help keep him from dropping his racket. Ann Rozzell was awarded a super kingsize racket in recognition of her alleged failure to hit the ball, and Nancy Moran received a hangman's noose designed to recognize that she sometimes chokes up at critical moments in a match.

Responsibilities of Rockport Tennis Association directors in the tournament were as follows:

Jim Allen, trophies; Besty Larrey and Polly Bracht, concessions; Bert Conly, Sr., finances; Leon Bateman, tickets; Reese Rozzell and George Falk, advertising; and Dr. Jim Wideman, draw chairman.

PROTECT SQUASH FROM VINE BORERS

Squash vine borers can completely destroy squash plants in the home garden, says D.P. Pawlik, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Squash vine borers attack all kinds of squash and will occasionally attack cucumbers and pumpkins.

The adult of the squash vine borer is a beautiful wasplike moth about 1-1 1/2 inches long. It has metallic blue front wings and the hind wings are transparent. The body is ringed with bright red, black and copper. These moths fly about the garden during the day and deposit small flattened, brownish eggs on stems and leaf stalks. When the eggs hatch the small borers enter the stems and bore up and down the vines. Full grown larvae are thick white caterpillars with a brown head and are about an inch in length.

Plants infested with vine borers begin to wilt and turn yellow. Heavy infestations will kill the plants, points out Pawlik. The larvae will feed from four-six weeks, and infestations can be detected by the sawdust-like grass which the larvae push out of holes they make in the sides of the vines near the base of the plant.

Infested plants may be treated by slitting the vine with a razor blade or sharp knife at the point of infestation and puncturing or removing the larvae.

Chemical control of this pest is difficult unless the pesticide is carefully applied to the infested area of the vines near the base of the plant. Sevin or Methoxychlor dust may be used.

A discussion on "Reviewing Financial Statements" will cover the relationships between an income statement, balance sheet and the source and use funds statement. Then seminar participants will hear about "Analyzing Financial Statements" which will deal with methods of analysis by both borrowers and lenders in interpreting financial performance and how financial controls can be meaningful. These discussions will be led by Hayenga.

Ever wish you could talk to a fish? Biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TP&WD) are trying to learn to do just that.

Of course they are not trying to teach the fish English, they're just trying to learn to record and play back the noises that some fish make when spawning, feeding, defending a territory or when frightened.

Biologists have known for a long time that Texas lakes are usually fine fishing when new. As the lake ages the population becomes dominated by such fish as carp, buffalo, river carpsucker and stunted white crappie. When this happens the production of game fish falls off, fishing becomes poor and the fisherman must find another place to fish.

TP&WD biologists have found several ways to correct, or partly correct, this condition, but all of them are expensive, time consuming and produce only temporary results. They believe that if they can learn to use the recorded sounds to concentrate the fish in a given area they may be able to eliminate the rough fish in large numbers at a relatively small cost. Later, they hope that recorded sounds of game fish might concentrate them into an area so that they might be more easily harvested by sport fishermen.

In 1974 W.C. Guest, TP&WD biologist at Heart of the Hills

Research Station in Central Texas started procurement of the audio equipment for this project. Since much of it was highly specialized he did not complete assembly of the necessary equipment until early 1975 so he missed most of the spawning season of the fish he wanted to record.

He has been able, under laboratory conditions, to record the complete sequence of sounds produced by redfish during the pre-spawning and spawning periods. This was done in the National Marine Fisheries Service Laboratory in Port Aransas.

Feeding noises on carp, small-mouthed buffalo and white crappie have been recorded in both laboratory and pond situations. A preliminary experiment is being conducted at Lake Travis to see if the pre-recorded feeding noises of carp will attract fish. Sonar recorders are being used to determine the number of fish in the area before and after the recordings are played.

The attempts continue to get usable recordings of the spawning noises of the rough fish species under study. When such recordings are available they will be used to evaluate the response of fish in ponds, then in Lake Travis. The work in Lake Travis, of course, is to test the method in more natural surroundings.

It will be a wonderful thing if this method can be developed to a point where large numbers of rough fish, carp for instance, can be called into an isolated cove, the cove blocked off with nets, and the cove then treated with rotenone to kill all those undesirable fish. It certainly will be a more trustworthy and more economically feasible method than any that we now have.

Doesn't school start this month? Remember

Time is at Hand For Fall Garden

Although it's the middle of summer, that's the time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden says D.P. Pawlik, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Spring gardens generally did well in most parts of San Patricio and Aransas Counties although adverse weather conditions reduced some yields.

Now the fall gardening season is approaching, and that means getting land prepared and getting transplants started as soon as possible.

According to Pawlik, many popular vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during August.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted at this time for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape. If a garden was planted this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, Pawlik recommends applying two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and working it into the soil. If plants make slow growth, a light amount of fertilizer may be applied between the rows and watered into the soil.

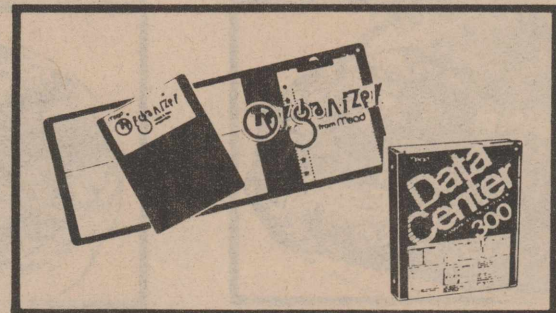

Of major importance for a successful fall garden is an adequate water supply, contends Pawlik. Since planting is done during hot weather, sufficient water is needed for germination and early growth. Light waterings three or four times a week may be necessary to keep the soil from drying out and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Since transplants of recommended varieties of vegetables may be hard to find at local nurseries, Pawlik suggests buying seed and growing your own transplants. Four to five weeks should be allowed from the time of seeding to setting young plants in the garden.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds.

Of course, as with all gardens, a wary eye must be kept for such problems as weeds, insects and diseases. However, the quality and flavor of many vegetables grown in the fall are superior to those from spring gardens.

So, even though the weather will remain hot for a while, get an early jump on your fall garden. Just the thought of fresh garden vegetables this fall should be enough to entice most folks, even those with the summer blahs.

METHODIST HOSPITAL OPENS $10 MILLION OUT-PATIENT CLINIC

The most ambitious expansion program in the history of Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital was announced today by Wilber L. Fite, chairman of the board of trustees.

Fite revealed plans for construction of the first Ambulatory Care Center in this area, which will provide a new dimension of health care within the South Texas Medical Center.

This out-patient care center will be designated "Methodist Hospital Plaza."

At a cost in excess of $10 million, the complex will be located on nine acres north of Medical Drive and adjacent to the present hospital site.

In addition to out-patient services, a physician office building will be included in the air conditioned three-level mall structure. Enhanced with natural skylighting and completely landscaped, the Plaza will also provide covered parking and an underground tunnel to Methodist Hospital.

The Plaza is designated to assist in the provision of comprehensive health care for the citizens of San Antonio and South Texas. The multi-million dollar expansion is scheduled for completion in mid-1978.

New Students To Register At High School

New students planning to attend Rockport-Fulton High School in grades nine through 12 should register at the principal's office as soon as possible, according to Principal Chester Barre. The registration for these students began Tuesday, Aug. 3, and will be completed on Aug. 13.

Office hours for registration are 8 a.m. until 12 noon and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., Barre informed the Pilot.

New students who did not attend any of the Aransas County Public Schools should bring report cards, book card, and health records indicating proof of immunization for tetanus, diphtheria and polio in the last ten years, Barre added.

Student schedules will be available for distribution to all students on Wednesday, Aug. 18. The schedules will be handed out at the high school principal's office.

Barre urged all students who owe for school obligations from previous years to pay these obligations by Aug. 13 so that textbooks can be issued and library facilities may be used.

Bright Outlook For Shrimping

With the opening of bay shrimping season slated for Aug. 15, conditions are looking good for an outstanding year.

Ralph Rayburn, marine extension agent here, said "there are a lot of shrimp in the bays right now."

"And, if they are allowed to grow a little, the bay shrimping should be good," he said.

Rayburn noted there had been some concern about overfishing the small shrimp on bait licenses. Meetings have been held to encourage bait shrimpers to wait until the bay shrimp season opens.

Bay shrimping season continues from Aug. 15 - December 15.

Rayburn noted that the potential is good for this season if shrimpers will practice proper conservation and obey the legal limits.

Bait shrimpers are limited to 150 pounds per day.

MEAT CONSUMPTION UP

College Station -- Consumption of red meats in the U.S. is maintaining a relatively high level, says Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek says that if the level of slaughter keeps up at the present rate, consumption this year will go up even more.

In 1975, the average American consumed 181 pounds of red meat. This breaks down to 120 pounds of beef, 4 pounds of veal, 55 pounds of pork and 2 pounds of lamb and mutton.

Although U.S. per capita consumption of red meats was high last year, it was still much lower than per capita consumption of red meats in Australia, the world's leading consumer of red meats.

The average Australian consumed about 39 more pounds of meat last year than an individual in the U.S.

The Texas A&M University System specialist says that livestock production restrictions need not be based on consumption levels.

"Livestock producers can safely assume that there is no practical limit to the per capita consumption of red meats in the U.S.," says Uvacek. "Restrictions on livestock production should not be designed with the idea in mind we will consume all that we produce. The only real question is: At what price will we consume?"

The cattleman's profit or loss will then depend on what price consumers are willing to pay for meat, contends Uvacek.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

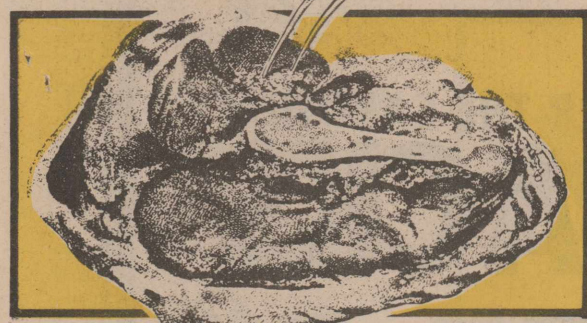

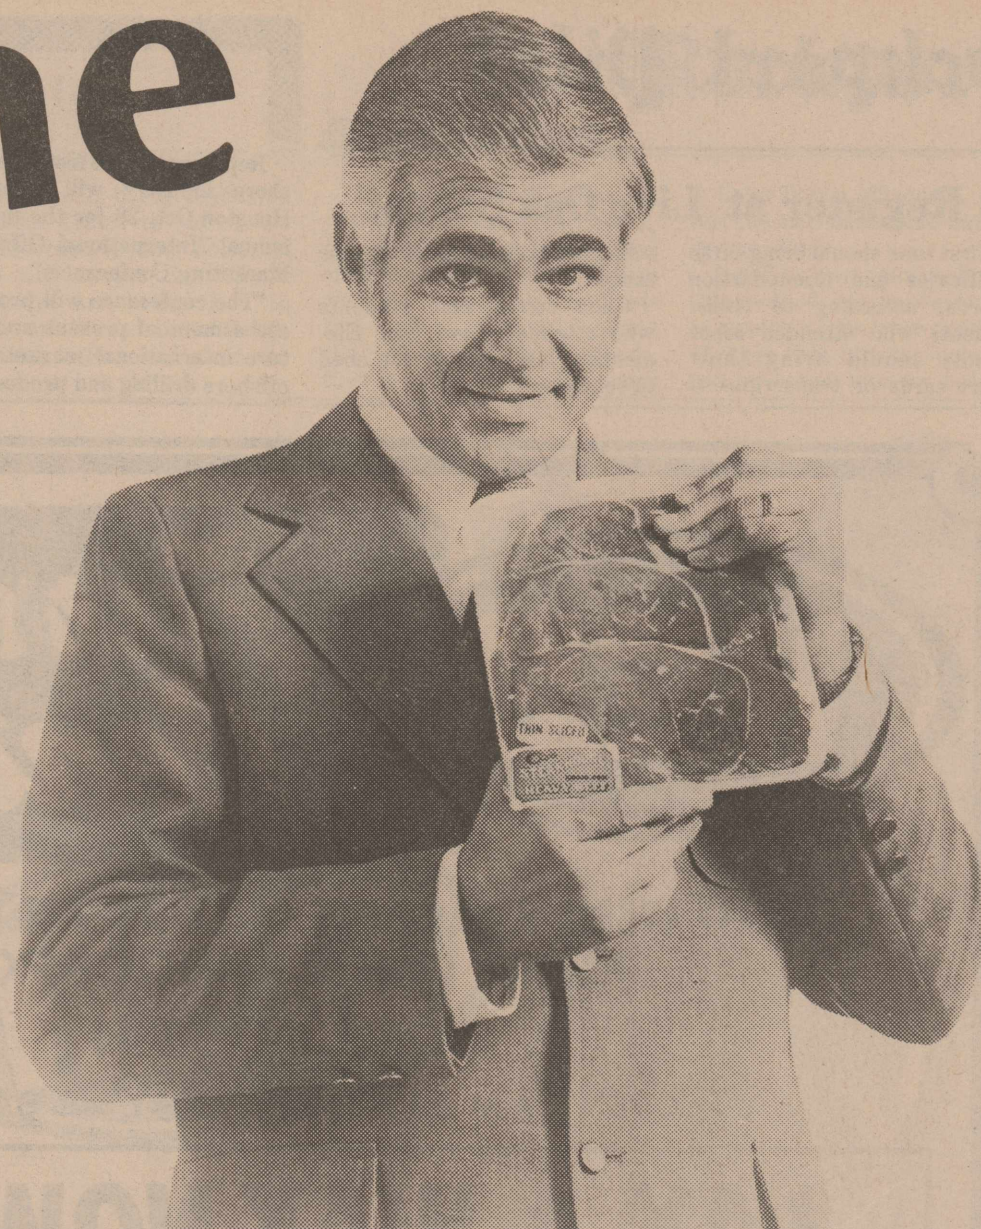

The Wednesday Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. J.V. Ferguson July 28. Members present were Mrs. Fred Bracht, Miss Mabel Bracht, Miss Genevieve Bracht, Mrs. Fred Christilles, Mrs. Charles Cleveland, Mrs. Fred Hunt, Mrs. Joe Slocum and Mrs. Ferguson.

Miss Genevieve Bracht won high; Mrs. Fred Bracht, second; and Mrs. Fred Christilles won bingo.

The next meeting will be August 11 in the home of Mrs. Fred Hunt.

Speakers for the conference include: R.H. Etnyre, president of National Supply Co., Division of Armco Steel Corporation; Ed Gartland, director of corporate planning for Santa Fe Engineering and Construction; C.B. Leber, vice president of Caterpillar Tractor Co.

Playday Rodeo Scheduled Here Aug. 14

The Aransas County Riding Assn. will sponsor a playday rodeo for local and area people on Saturday, Aug. 14, at the ACRA Arena, according to ACRA president Frank Miller. Trophies and ribbons will be given to the winners in the different events.

The ACRA sponsors a rodeo on the fourth Sunday of each month. Halter classes receive trophies for first place and ribbons from second through sixth place, according to Miller.

Entry fees are $2 for all events except in the roping, tie-down and break-away events which call for a $3 entry fee.

The monthly rodeos will end on Sunday, Sept. 26, when a buckle will be presented to the high point winner.

The ACRA will sponsor a rodeo on Oct. 9 and 10 along with the Rockport SeaFair. Miller reported that they will hold a professional rodeo.

Junior High Registration Now Underway

Rockport-Fulton Junior High School Principal Pat Smith reminded students who will attend the sixth, seventh and eighth grades during the next year and did not complete the 1975-76 school year in Aransas County Schools are asked to register at the school office prior to Aug. 23. Office hours are 8 a.m. until 12 and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., Smith added.

New students must bring report cards, immunization records, etc. from the last school attended. Smith pointed out that those students that have not paid last year's textbook fines and fees are asked to pay these charges in order that they may be issued textbooks and have library use this year.

Students who attended the junior high, Fulton Elementary or Rockport Elementary last year have been registered and need not come to the junior high school until opening day of school, Smith concluded.

MBA Courses Set at A&I-CC

Registration materials for the test and the GMAT Bulletin of Information are available from the A&I-CC Office of Admissions, in the Administration Building on the campus. The materials will be mailed to persons who call 991-6810 extension 224, or write the office at P.O. Box 6010, Corpus Christi, Texas 78411.
