Reds Tighten Nazi Nooses

Troops Closing In For Kill In Two Sectors Of Ukraine

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, April 7—The First Ukrainian Red Army tightened strangling nooses around two large German forces encircled at Tarnopol and near Skala yesterday and closed in for the kill while Russians of the Third Ukrainian Army splashed 13 to 15 miles through the mud toward Odessa in an operation designed to spring still another trap around that Black Sea port.

The Russians announced they were closing on Odessa from the northeast, north and northwest, with the most notable gain the capture of Karpovo, railway station 23 miles northwest of the port. The victory was credited to a shrewd flanking blow at Nazis, who were counter-attacking in a vain effort to retake Razdelnaya, vital rail junction 38 miles northwest of Odessa.

15-Mile Red Advance

Razdelnaya fell only Wednesday. The Russians advanced 15 miles in yesterday's combat along the line that once was the Germans' main hope of escape but now is a Soviet pathway towards Odessa.

On the north the Russians thrust 13 miles down the rain-swollen Kuyalnik river to the head of the salty Kuyalnik lagoon that was a peacetime center for health-bathers. Captured towns among more than 100 that fell on the Odessa front included Maryanovka, 21 miles north of Odessa, and Sverdlovo, 14 miles northeast.

In the twin cauldrons of Tarnopol and Skala on the northwest Ukraine front, the Russians told of events reminiscent of Korsun and Stalingrad: Germans madly dying in vain attempts to break out, and relief forces struggling to break in while senior Nazi officers fled by air from the constantly-constricting areas.

Skala Is Captured

The Soviet midnight communique announced capture of Skala itself, 55 miles southeast of Tarnopol and 40 miles northeast of Czernowitz, and a series of other strong points within the defenses of the remnants of 15 Nazi divisions west and southwest of Skala. The action was described officially as a battle for annihilation of the trapped Germans.

At Tarnopol itself the Russians announced they beat off attacks by large German infantry and tank forces that tried vainly to break in from the outside to release their encircled comrades. The only result was a tightening of the loop and heavy losses to the Germans. Street fighting already has been in progress in Tarnopol for days.

Italian Groups Near Agreement

Formation Of War Cabinet Planned

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

SORRENTO, Italy, April 6 — Leaders of the six opposition parties virtually agreed today to participate in a coalition "war government" of liberated Italy if and when King Vittorio Emanuele retires by designating Crown Prince Umberto as his lieutenant.

After Benedetto Croce, liberal leader, informed it of negotiations to bring about this step, the executive junta of the parties issued a statement reaffirming "the necessity and urgency of forming a war cabinet."

Quick Solution Seen

The junta expressed confidence that the initiation of negotiations would "bring a complete and quick solution to the present Italian crisis without waiting for the liberation of Rome."

Members said this meant the junta hoped the king would transfer his powers to his son without delay instead of waiting until Allied armies reach Rome, as he had intended doing.

The prospect of the king's retirement was presented by Croce to Count Carlo Sforza, anti-Fascist leader who said it "removes an obstacle in our path." The question of collaborating with Marshal Pietro Badoglio as premier was described even by those hostile to him as "of secondary importance."

Communist Proposal

The junta's decision was taken in answer to a Communist proposal for the formation of a coalition war cabinet even if the king remained. The negotiations which resulted in the king's proposal to retire had been disclosed, Croce said, only because of the Communist initiative. Thus the six parties apparently have found a formula under which they could collaborate in the reorganization of the government without seeming to be in the tow of the Communists.

Croce and Sforza in a joint statement credited Senator Enrico De Nicola, last pre-Fascist president of the chamber of deputies, with the idea of substituting "a lieutenancy," which has numerous precedents in Italian history, for the king's abdication which the six parties previously had demanded after their Bari convention last January.

Seminole Boy Killed In Fall On Tractor

SEMINOLE, April 6. (Special)—Kenneth Lee Winkle, 8, was accidently killed at 6 o'clock this afternoon while riding on a tractor with P. H Reed, a farmer engaged on construction of government trailer houses here. The child's clothing was said to have become entangled in the power take-off, throwing him against the seat of the tractor causing a severe head injury. He was making his home with his grandparents here.

Survivors include his mother and step father, J. W. Stinnett of Denver City; one brother, Jack; a sister, Florence; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson.

Funeral services are pending word from relatives in California, Singleton Funeral home announced.

Invitation Is Fine, But A Little Late

NEW YORK, April 6. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kalichman received by mail today a letter inviting them to attend their son's graduation exercises at the Peekskill, N. Y., Military academy.

That was fine, except the letter was dated May 25, 1928; carried a Bronx postmark of yesterday, and the graduating son now is Second Lieut. Saul Kalichman, 32, stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., after two years of army service.

Tulsa Woman Is Held For Trial

TULSA, April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Fay Smith was ordered held for trial today on charges of fraud and obtaining money under false pretenses from two young women who testified the religious practitioner had taken thousands of dollars from them during years under her influence.

The women, Virginia Evans, 30, and Willetta Horner, 31, testified they were Mrs. Smith's virtual slaves, that they gave her their entire earnings and submitted to cruel treatment in the belief she was a God-like person who could do no wrong.

"I thought Mrs. Smith was a sacred, godly woman," Miss Evans testified. "Anything she told me to do I would do without question."

Got Money From Father

She testified that she aided Mrs. Smith in obtaining money from her father, Tom Evans, of Stroud, Okla.

"She told me she thought my father needed to be saved and that by making him suffer he would see the light and be saved," Miss Evans said.

To do this she told her father she was in a dangerous mental and physical condition and since last July he had sent $35 a week for her care, all of which went to Mrs. Smith, Miss Evans testified.

The room where the preliminary was held was so crowded that one woman fainted during the hearing.

Eight Die In Blast At Ordnance Plant

HASTINGS, Nebr., April 6. (AP)—Forty minutes before the night shift was to have been replaced by a skeleton crew, an explosion early today claimed eight lives at the Hastings Naval Ordnance depot—the second fatal explosion at the 48,000-acre plant within two and one half months.

An estimated 100,000 pounds of high explosive depth charges and mines blew up in the mine-lading unit. The blast, besides knocking out heavy plate glass windows in Hastings 10 miles away, was felt 125 miles from the depot.

All the casualties were Nebraskans. Thirty-five workers were treated for minor injuries.

A railroad box car first blew up, after which a heavily reinforced concrete cooling shed went up.

Air Power May Take Weight Of Southeast Spring Drive

By DANIEL De LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6.—Out of the stalemate on the blood-soaked Italian front Allied air power is emerging with virtually complete responsibility for the "spring offensive" against the Nazis in southeastern Europe.

In sharp contrast to the way Allied armies have been checkmated south of Rome after a succession of costly attacks, hundreds of American heavy bombers have ranged from southern Italy in the past seven days to strike four of the most vital and most heavily defended targets east of Germany's own border—Sofia, Budapest, Bucharest and Ploesti.

While artillery duels and patrol clashes continued today to drain both the Allies and the Germans of manpower along the trans-Apennine line without a glimmer of a decision in sight, the U. S. "air trucks" in a week dumped nearly 2,000 tons of explosives on enemy targets as far as 500 miles from the Italian battle fields and within 200 miles of Soviet armies advancing from the east.

In yesterday's assault on the great oil refinery center of Ploesti, 30 miles north of the Rumanian capital of Bucharest, Flying Fortresses and Liberators and their fighter escort shot down more than 40 Nazi fighters. They destroyed 49 in the previous day's raid on Bucharest. American pilots commented on the reduced quality of German fighter pilots in the Balkans.

Army Reaches Full Strength But Draft Tempo Not Checked

Navy And Coast Guard Need More Men; Replacements Needs Of Services Cited

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Army has reached its full strength of 7,700,000 but that fact will not change the present rapid tempo of the draft, the Office of War information announced tonight.

Draft calls must continue at levels sufficient to expand the Navy, which will reach its peak strength of 3,600,000 including Marine corps and Coast Guard, by Sept. 1.

Men are also needed to provide replacements for both Army and Navy.

The War department, in a statement issued through OWI, announced that its planned strength has been reached but that it will require 75,000 to 100,000 men a month throughout the remainder of 1944 to maintain that strength.

3,500,000 By July 1

The Navy department told OWI that by July 1 its forces should total 3,500,000.

About 300,000 men will be needed to reach that net strength by July 1 and at the same time provide the necessary naval replacements.

Between July 1 and Sept. 1 an additional 100,000 men will be added to the net strength of the naval forces.

Selective Service headquarters said induction obviously cannot be materially reduced before July.

Quotas Not Announced

The announcement did not say how many total inductions a month will be necessary to hold the Navy and Army at their top strength, once they both have reached it, but Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said tonight in a speech that 150,000 a month would be "a most conservative estimate."

That figure would include estimated casualties as well as normal discharges, which have been running anywhere from 75,000 to 100,000 a month.

Eighteen-year olds can supply approximately 60,000 a month.

LOW ATTRITION RATE CUTS NEED FOR PILOTS

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—The Navy reported tonight a reduction in air pilot requirements for 1944, 1945 and 1946 has been made possible principally by "a lower attrition rate than had been originally anticipated" in the training program.

By cutting the number of pilots to be trained, the Navy said, it will be possible to place greater emphasis upon the quality of pilots although there will be no release of personnel in large numbers to other duty.

Last announced figures on pilot totals were 35,800 as of December 31, 1943. The number of planes announced as in operation is 27,500 and production of an additional 28,000 planes is scheduled for 1944.

The Navy said that to raise the quality of pilots prospective naval flyers now will be required to spend three college terms in the V-12 program before beginning aviation training.

Preliminary phases of the training program will be concentrated in four pre-flight schools and the flight preparatory training phases will be eliminated, probably sometime next summer when the Navy plans to withdraw also from the Civil Aeronautics administration training.

The Navy said elimination of the naval flight preparatory schools will not result in complete discontinuance of training at any colleges or universities.

Moody To Argue Rehearing Motion On Negro Balloting

HOUSTON, April 6. (AP)—Texas Democratic Chairman George A. Butler announced today that former Gov. Dan Moody will argue a motion for rehearing before the Supreme court of the decision opening Texas Democratic primaries to negro voters.

At a press conference Butler revealed the appointment of a committee of Texas lawyers to study the opinion and Texas election laws and help the executive committee plot a course of action to regulate the party membership in Texas.

Named were Wilbur L. Mathews of San Antonio, James L. Lipscomb of Dallas, James L. Shepherd of Houston and Sidney Samuels of Fort Worth. The committee may be expanded, Butler said.

The committee will report to the executive committee by May 1, Butler said, in order that he may advise precinct and county chairmen of its recommendations prior to the precinct and county conventions of May 6 and 9.

DECISION NOT LOGICAL

DALLAS, April 6 (AP)—Dallas county Democratic Chairman W. S. Bramlette said today that if the processes of logic used by the Supreme court in the Texas negro vote case are correct, state laws prohibiting marriages between members of the white and negro races are also contrary to the 15th amendment of the United States constitution.

Bramlette said: "To reason that the processes of logic used in the court's majority opinion do not have equal application to that law is to resort to tweedledee and tweedledum in the field of logic."

Wright Morrow of Houston, an attorney, and Moody will file the motion for rehearing. Both will serve without compensation, said Butler.

Asserting that the opinion was writen to cover not only the primary election laws in Texas but to regulate party membership in all southern states, Butler suggested:

"The opinion may be so far-reaching as to make it a criminal

Strike Ties Up Garment Plant

WICHITA FALLS, April 6. (AP) The way was cleared for resumption of partial production tomorrow at the Great Western Garment company plant in a conference between the management of the company and representatives of 235 employees who went on strike yesterday.

E. H. Young, manager of the garment company, said the plant would reopen tomorrow morning and production would be resumed on military contracts. He said, however, that production lines involving manufacture of civilian clothing would not be in operation.

Dispute Started Tuesday

Miss Jennine Dudley, president of the Wichita Falls Local No. 259 of the United Garment Workers union (AFL) and Miss Emily Jordan, Fort Worth, international representative, said they did not know how many workers would return.

The dispute started Tuesday when workers at the plant abandoned and shutdown their machines making civilian goods. The sitdown continued through yesterday on the civilian goods line. The company refused to open its doors and all work was halted this morning.

Clifford W. Potter, Dallas, dispute director for the War Labor board wired the union and company that WLB would not act on the petition until work was resumed in the plant.

The workers were awarded a raise in wages averaging 8-cents an hour on Feb. 7, but the award was appealed to the national WLB. The union urged action on the award.

Army Officer Badly Hurt In Car Wreck

An Army officer, tentatively identified as Lt. Lawrence J. Powers, of the Clovis Army Air field, was reported critically injured in an automobile accident about 9 o'clock Thursday night about a mile and a half southeast of Roundup on the Littlefield highway.

Lt. Powers was taken to the hospital at Lubbock Army Air field.

According to highway patrolmen, Lt. Powers traveling northwest, pulled out to pass a pick-up and met a loaded cattle truck, the impact "shearing" off part of the left side of his car, which then bounced over and hit the pick-up. Drivers of the other vehicles were reported unhurt.

The truck driver's name was given as V. V. Stone, of 1713 Texas Avenue, the name of the pick-up driver, B. C. Rountree, of Littlefield route 1, Wayne George, of the Roundup community, delivered the officer to the hospital, patrolmen said.

Lt. Powers apparently was riding alone.

Invasion Coast Heavily Lashed

Little Opposition Met By Americans

LONDON, April 6. (AP)—American Liberator bombers, heavily packed with high-explosives for the short haul across the Strait of Dover, hurled 600 tons of bombs on the Pas-de-Calais area of France today while the Germans broadcast reports that another American formation was over northern Yugoslavia.

It was the second successive day that Eighth Air force heavy bombers have smashed at the German fortifications around the Pas-de-Calais, running the bomb total up to 1,200 tons, and was the third big operation in April for Britain-based American heavies.

No Planes Lost

Just as yesterday, it was carried out without loss of a single bomber or escorting fighter. Crews reported they saw no German planes and were hardly ruffled by the meager amount of anti-aircraft fire. The Yugoslav operation, which the Germans reported took the bombers over the Marburg-Zagreb area almost to the Austrian border, probably originated from Italian bases of the 15th Air force.

The Germans also broadcast that single Allied planes were over north Germany.

The RAF last night executed another of its moonlight onslaughts against three German aircraft repair shops tucked away in the outskirts of Toulouse, France. One plane was listed as missing from the small force of Lancasters that made the 600-mile penetration of France and from others that laid mines in enemy waters.

Airfields Are Battered

During the day escorted Thunderbolt fighter-bombers of the U. S. Ninth Air force bombed and shot up airfields in northern France, returning without loss.

Well before midnight Axis radios began sounding air raid warnings and then leaving the air. First to suspend broadcasting were stations at Calais, France. Soon after Berlin radio warned: "Raiders are approaching western Germany." About 11 p. m. (German time) the Frankfurt radio signed off: "Enemy planes are approaching."

Negro Believed Killer Of Three Oklahomans

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 6 (AP)—Fearing the slayer of three persons in central Oklahoma might add to his victims, officers of three counties sifted leads tonight for trace of a negro tentatively identified as the killer.

Police worked on the theory that a fourth killing, that of A. Keck, Weleetka merchant, March 18, was committed by the same man that slew Mrs. Victoria Jorski, 38, her 3-year-old daughter, Martha, and a Cleveland county farmer, Roy Schat, 47.

Circumstances in the deaths were similar.

Japs Pushing On In India

Allies Ambush Units Near Imphal; Supply Lines Open

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

THE JAPANESE invaders of India, driving against Allied life lines into Burma, continued Thursday to exert pressure along the entire Assam front but Allied forces ambushed enemy units on the roads north and south of the Indian base at Imphal. Allied supply lines remained usable.

Meanwhile Chinese forces, operating in North Burma, captured two small settlements in the upper Mogaung valley, smashed one Japanese river stronghold and pressed their advance.

Truk Pounded Again

In the Central Pacific theater of war American airmen continued to soften up Japan's Truk fortress, hitting it for the thirteenth time in the past seven days. Other bombing raids were carried out in that area.

An official war bulletin from Allied headquarters in India told of the ambushing of Japanese units along the Imphal front but gave nothing specific on the Dimapur zone. Earlier reports said the invaders had driven two spearheads to within 80 miles of Dimapur, on the American Army-operated Bengal-Assam railway.

Supplies Move Along

Allied supplies continue to flow along the railway to upper Burma. Even if this line should be cut there still is a highway and a railway along the Brahmaputra river. These supply lines already are being utilized for the movement of war materials.

Burmese forces, pressing on Myitkyina, reached the Tiang river, supposedly at a point 45 miles north of that chief Japanese North Burma base.

Two dozen Japanese planes were destroyed during an air smash against the central Burma Aungban airfield.

American Army, Navy and Marine bombers and fighters lashed Truk, struck again at Ponape, on the east flank of the Japanese Caroline fortress, and attacked four Marshall atolls.

Tanker Probably Sunk

An announcement from U. S. Pacific fleet headquarters said the Truk raiders fired oil storage tanks at Dublon island and started fires on nearby Moen. A Navy search plane tore into an enemy tanker off Moen and probably sunk it.

One of six Japanese interceptors was shot down during the Truk raids and another probably destroyed. Two U. S. Liberators were lost.

At Ponape an airfield and adjacent buildings were hit.

Death Blow Is Dealt Hollandia

Japs Helpless As Bombs Rain Down

By ASAHEL BUSH
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Friday, April 7—More than 250 Allied planes, striking continuously for 50 minutes Wednesday, tore up the town and harbor of Hollandia with 320 tons of explosives and 250,000 rounds of ammunition—and that New Guinea air base of the Japanese was helpless to resist.

A 400-ton assault on the previous Sunday had cratered into uselessness the staging base's three airfields and wiped out the last of a fleet of 288 planes, leaving Hollandia ripe for the kill which Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

No Planes Encountered

No enemy plane was encountered in the midday attack. Not one of the big force of Liberators, Mitchells, Bostons and escorting fighters was lost.

There was moderate anti-aircraft at first but it dwindled quickly.

Burning fuel and supply dumps sent up huge flames and towering clouds of smoke. A ship in the harbor was set afire. Returning fliers also told of the destruction of supply luggers and barges along the coastline.

Strafing Attacks

On the day of the raid more than 100 Thunderbolts and Lightnings strafed islands and small shipping southeast to Aitape and Wewak.

Hollandia raiding pilots said the fires the bombardiers started could be seen for 20 miles. The next day the crew of a reconnaissance plane over the area, saw some fires still burning and noted a heavy explosion, probably from an ammunition dump.

"White Supremacy" Challenged --- Smith

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 6 (AP)—Senator E. D. Smith, anti-administration Democrat, said here today the Supreme court's decision in the Texas primary case challenged "white supremacy" in the South and declared, "In the name of South Carolina, I accept the challenge."

In a prepared statement Smith gave his reaction to the court's decision holding that negroes could not be barred from the Texas Democratic primaries. He was in Columbia to address a chemurgic conference.

"Many in the South thought that even under a Republican administration the white supremacy of the South would not dare to be questioned," his statement said in part, "but now, under a so-called Democratic administration, it has not only been questioned but challenged. In the name of South Carolina, I accept the challenge."

Renewal Of U-Boat Attacks By Germans Expected Soon

AT U. S. NAVAL BASE, Bermuda, April 6. (AP)—A large scale renewal of the German U-boat attacks on Allied shipping is "possible soon," Secretary of the Navy Knox said today.

Nazi U-boat attacks took hundreds of vessels and many lives early in the war before the undersea raiders were driven from the main shipping lanes of the Atlantic.

"Germany is now concentrating on building submarines to the virtual exclusion of all other kinds of vessels," Knox declared in an address on the third anniversary of the establishment of this naval base.

"We have been bombing their installations and factories but their submarine production has by no means been stopped and we have a good idea of the rate at which they are launching their U-boats. (He gave no indication of the production rate.)

"They will undoubtedly come out in mass soon."

The Nazi U-boats have not operated in western Atlantic waters to any extent for months.

A large share in the credit for driving the raiders back to their lairs was given by Knox to the officers and men assigned to Bermuda which he described as "the Pearl Harbor of the Atlantic," an important stop on one of our convoy routes and an ideal spot for scouting and attacking enemy submarines.

Strikes In Britain Breaking Up Under Intense Pressure

LONDON, April 6. (AP) — The Yorkshire mine strike of 60,000 workers appeared to be cracking tonight under intense pressure of public opinion, determined government warnings and union appeals.

Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George said the situation was improved, with 60 per cent of the Yorkshire pits working throughout the day. A slow but steady return of workers renewed the hope a showdown might be averted.

All Due Back Tuesday

The executive committee of the Yorkshire Mineworkers association felt the strikers all would be back at work by the Easter holiday's end next Tuesday.

Lloyd George informed Commons the latest of the coal field walkouts cut war production and cost the country an average of 385,000 tons of fuel the past four weeks. He declared emphatically "strike action in time of war cannot be justified," and said work stoppage made heavy inroads in dwindling reserves and has stopped coal export to neutral countries.

Conference Set April 12

The British cabinet had assigned Labor Minister Ernest Bevin to deal with outlaw strike inciters under the wartime defense of the realm act before he and Lloyd George entered into conferences with the national executive committee of the mineworkers federation.

After the meeting the executive committee—whose leadership is challenged by the unauthorized walkouts—decided to confer with miner delegates April 12 to seek a new statement of authority to continue wage rate negotiations with the government.

New Dresses 'From Teacher' Get Two Girls In Trouble

In custody of juvenile officials Thursday morning were two 11-year-old girls who had surprised their parents by appearing at various times recently with "new dresses teacher gave us."

Eleven dresses that had been taken from Dunlap's, Ward's, Hanna-Pope and Sears had been recovered, and two pairs of shoes from Lubbock Sales Co. Three other dresses, allegedly taken from the girls when in their possession in a downtown store, were returned to merchants from whom they had been taken Wednesday afternoon.

Both girls are members of families "stuffed into small living quarters." One of them has five sisters and a brother and they and their parents live in a three-room apartment. The other has two sisters and a brother and her parents living in a two-room residence.

The one belonging to the larger family recently lost all her clothing when the family residence was burned.

Both needed clothing, juvenile officials said.

It was not decided immediately whether to charge them formally with delinquency, officials explained.

Tire Theft Ring Believed Broken

LEVELLAND, April 6. (Special)—Sheriff Ed Hofacket returned to Hockley county today with a load of tires, tubes and suspects in a five-county burglary ring that allegedly extended its activities over a great part of Texas and into New Mexico and Arizona.

Ten persons are held for action of grand juries, under charges in Hockley and adjoining counties.

Arrests have cleared four burglaries reported here in approximately the last 30 days, and seven others recently in adjoining counties. Other sheriffs assisted Sheriff Hofacket in the roundup.

Nine tires and 80 tubes have been recovered for Perry Smith Auto garage alone. Twelve tires and 100 tubes were taken from the place.

Sheriff Hofacket, breaking down first one suspect then another, drove thousands of miles in recent days. Complaints in Hockley county were filed by Sam H. Davidson. Hockley county attorney, and bonds were set at $1,500 and $2,000.

Some of the loot had been "sold on credit to prominent persons at a distance," it was announced.

Investigation is continuing, it was announced assisted by several statements.

Machinists Turned Airmen Luck Into Joyful Reunion

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, March 29 (Delayed) — Notes accumulated during a swing around the air bases on Sardinia and Corsica:

Back at Newport, R.I., three apprentice machinists worked side by side at the torpedo station and talked about whether or not they should enter the air force. Finally "we just talked one another into it."

DIXON

That was a long time ago. The other day, at a rest camp, Lt. Edward A. Gray, 22-year-old navigator on a B-26 Marauder now stationed on Sardinia, saw someone across the street who looked familiar. He yelled and Lt. Raymond B. Phaneuf, 31, of Woonsocket, R. I., navigator on a Flying Fortress, turned around.

Third One Joins Party

As they shook hands and yelped and patted each other on the back there came another yell from down the street, and who should come running up but Lt. Raymond L. Fitzgerald, 25, of Fall River, Mass., a pilot on a B-25.

It was reunion for the three erstwhile apprentice machinists. Since then Ed had collected 31 missions, Phaneuf 31 and Fitzgerald 35. None had the slightest idea where the other two were.

And they had more than their reunion to celebrate. Fitzgerald received a cable that he was the father of a baby daughter.

New Record Is Set

"Did Ray and Harry make it back all right?" someone asked as the Marauder crews came in from their mission. Some one said "yes" and everybody in the operations shop relaxed.

Staff Sgt. Ray Morawczynski (you pronounce it Murthy) 22-year-old tail gunner from Newark, and Tech. Sgt. Harry Chapman, 20, turret gunner from Belle Harbor, L. I., had just set a new record. They were the first two enlisted men in the Marauder group to complete 50 combat missions.

And the last one was a volunteer job. They both were grounded after their 49th mission, but asked for the fiftieth "just to make it an even number," Ray explained.

Ill-Fated Marauder

"Sweet Sue" was slated for a trip home as soon as she hit her 100th mission. It was all fixed up to load up the B-26 Marauder, which had flown raids from Tunisia to the French Riviera, with its crew of guys who had finished their tour of duty and fly her home for a bond selling tour.

Tech. Sgt. George E. Beeman of Brookford, N. C., was their crew chief—in charge of the gang of ground guys who kept her going—and he'd been commended for the swell job because "Sweet Sue" had flown more than 90 missions. The whole squadron was "sweating her out" for the trip home.

But it wasn't in the cards. On her 95th mission the flak-scarred, bullet-marked Marauder never quite made it off the ground. She got her wheels up, but somehow she wouldn't rise, crashed and burst into flames, killing the six men aboard.

He Didn't Believe It Until It Got Started Swinging

LOS ANGELES, April 6. (AP) — Clifford Ball, a garage mechanic, saw it first. But he didn't believe it.

Then when it started swinging at him, first with its forepaws and then with its hind feet, he called the boss. They got it roped and called police.

Mrs. Tom Warner, who lives nearby, identified it as a wallaby. Her husband, in the Merchant marine, brought it back from Australia, she explained.

"It's a wonderful pet and will do anything I tell it," she said.

"Tell it to stay off the streets," advised the police.

Ships Output In March Totals 152

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP) — Merchant shipyards delivered 152 cargo and military ships in March, including four of the speedy new Victory ships, the Maritime Commission reported today.

The month's output, well above the totals of 124 and 134 turned out in January and February respectively, was far below December's record production of 208 vessels, because of the growing emphasis on greater numbers of fast ships for the armed forces.

A total of 51 fast vessels was delivered from all yards, including 19 tankers and 16 C-type cargo vessels. Deliveries included 83 Liberty ships.

The March production, which aggregated 1,538,357 dead weight tons, brought the total deliveries for the first three months of 1944 to 410 ships totalling 4,115,951 tons.

Gulf coast ship yards delivered 34 vessels.

Plane Output At Peak In March

WASHINGTON, April 6. (U.P.) — Aircraft assembly lines moved at record speed in March to bolster the growing United States air fleet with 9,118 new planes, Aircraft Production Chief Charles E. Wilson has reported.

Nearly 87 per cent of the planes were combat craft — fighters, bombers and transports. The previous monthly record was 8,760 in February.

May Represent Peak

Wilson said the "remarkable" March output may represent the 1944 aircraft production peak. He said that the production schedule for April was "considerably below" the March total because of the increasing emphasis on larger planes.

Aircraft production in March exceeded the 100,000,000-pound mark for the first time, reaching 103,400,000 pounds. This figure is nine per cent above the February weight total and March production in numbers was 358 planes above the preceding month.

Production Schedule Exceeded

Wilson said that production in numbers was one and one half per cent above February output, adding that the four-motored bomber program exceeded its March schedule by five per cent.

Production of the new B-29 super bomber was "substantially on schedule," he reported; and practically every aircraft plant reached or slightly exceeded its production schedule in March.

Plan More Trainer Planes

"We believe, however, that the schedule will be met," he added.

The drop in April output will be caused primarily by further "planned reduction" in the output of trainer planes, Wilson said, while the production of bombers and other combat planes will remain substantially the same.

Wilson said that Henry Ford's Willow Run bomber plant did "excellently" in March.

Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols, assistant chief of air staff, said that there is "no serious contemplation" of any major changes in combat airplane design as a result of the recent losses over Europe. He added it was believed losses are less than was anticipated when the steady bombing assault over Germany and occupied Europe was first planned.

One Cadet Killed, One Parachutes To Safety

Dead was Aviation Cadet Maurice E. Hay, 22, son of Jesse W. Hay of Trotwood, O.

Aviation Cadet Oliver W. Helmrick, 21, son of Mrs. Lulu L. Helmrich, Williamsport, Penn., bailed out safely.

Thirty Thousand Army Officers Are Sitting In "Cocktail Lounges" Because Army Does Not Have Jobs For Them, Sabath Charges

WASHINGTON, April 6. (U.P.) — Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, D., Ill., dean of the House, charged today that 30,000 Army officers are sitting in "cocktail lounges" throughout the country because the Army does not have jobs for them.

Sabath told reporters that many men have been commissioned out of civilian life "to give them some kind of prestige," while regular officers, "West Point graduates with 25 and 30 years of Army experience," are being retired.

Plans Investigation

"I realize that many civilians were commissioned for specialized work because of their skill and training, but I would like to know how some of these cocktail lounge officers got their appointments and why they are being kept in the service when experienced officers with full Army careers behind them are being let out," Sabath said.

He said he had not been instrumental in securing a commission for anyone, and that he did not believe that many members of Congress had tried to influence the War department in this respect. He said, however, that "someone is responsible" for such commissions, and that he intends to make an investigation at the end of the Congressional Easter recess.

Three Jersey Youths Held In Burglary Of Postoffice At Gilpin

Three New Jersey boys, all of them 17, late Thursday told Austin Yeats, county jailer, they "sure want to go back to New Jersey, where people treat you nice."

They had just been remanded to county jail by Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner, in lieu of $750 bond each growing out of charges of having burglarized a U. S. postoffice at Gilpin, near Spur, and taken $74.63 in money belonging to the government. Trial date will be June 5, in the Lubbock division court of the Northern Federal district.

They were arrested by Sheriff Fred Christopher of Dickens county, brought to Lubbock by Elmer Reed, U. S. probation officer, and surrendered to custody of C. E. Luce, U. S. deputy marshal. Warrants were issued Thursday.

The boys, runaways from their homes at Camden and Jersey City, were diked out in western regalia and had hoped to end their work on dredgeboats and get work on a cow spread. They requested permission to write their relatives, asking for $104 each—at the rate of $13 weekly until trial date, "so that we will have money to ride home on the train." They wrote they had got in a "little trouble in Texas" and were in jail.

Since the federal procedure handles boys 17 and younger as juveniles, their names are not used.

Figures Show Cost Of Living Here Is Being Kept Down

How many times in the past few months have you heard someone ask in a criticizing tone, "Why doesn't the OPA do something about the price if food? I thought they were trying to hold down the cost of living!"

Figures don't lie. The cost of living is being held down. Last week one of the large stores in Lubbock ran an ad in which prices were stated for cane sugar, soap flakes, coffee, breakfast cereals, longhorn cheese, and canned corn.

So a copy of the same paper for the same day last year was dug out of the files, and an ad run by the same store was found, and the prices were compared on exactly the same items, same brand and all.

The 10-pound bag of sugar was four cents less this year than in 1943. The large box of soap flakes was two cents higher; jar of coffee was four cents less; breakfast cereal, one-half cent less; cheese, three cents more; and corn, one cent more.

To summarize the findings—a sack of groceries that cost $2.12 in 1943 can be bought today for $2.07.

Yes the Office of Price Administration is getting good cooperation from the grocers in this district, "They are doing their best and working together, succeeding, in most instances, to keep your cost of living from soaring."

District winners in the contest announced today by the judge's committee include Mary Lumpkin, Clay county; Bertha McDonald, Milam county; Cleo Duran, Rusk county, and Grace Constantin, Wharton county.

BY, OF, and FOR THE PEOPLE

VICTORY GARDENS

Editor, The Avalanche: Pray tell, what is a guy to do about Victory Gardens, flowers and so on, when the woods are full of tarnacious dogs, horses, chickens and ungovernable children?

How could one have the heart to worry and work to have a decent yard or garden, when neighbors care not how their kids pester all people who strive to have a half-kept, property or community?

Is it any wonder we still have wars, when we have the class of people among us that do not care to have anything themselves, nor do they want anyone else to have anything? If we Lubbock citizens are to really grow Victory Gardens, then such neighborhood nuisances will need to stop and that quickly. Dogs and loose stock should be in the pound, or in their own place on the farms. Then the children who seem to have no home training will need to be taught something of the "Golden Rule" of life. Is there not an ordinance covering city-wide problems such as above named?

A Citizen of Lubbock.

(Dear Citizen: T'was ever thus. t'was ever thus. Yep, we gotta ordinance covering practically everything mentioned. Guy named Reeder, chiefa police, is head of the enforcement agency. But don't take your troubles so seriously. There were thousands of successful Victory Gardens here last year and there also were kids, dogs, horses and, maybe a couple of orangutangs, running loose. Cheer up. You can make a crop. Cordilaly, the Editor.)

PIONEER DIES

PORT ARTHUR, April 6. (AP)—C. H. Barnes, 72, who helped found Port Arthur in 1897 and for 40 years was a merchant here, died today.

ODT Head Stresses Maintenance Of Bus And Trucks Of Area

All truck and bus owners of the South Plains area were reminded Thursday by Richard E. Wood, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation, that their primary objective during the current year must be to maintain and rehabilitate the vehicles they now own if there is to be no bogging down of the nation's transportation machinery.

"It is very evident," he said, "that the demands of the war still prevent any extensive replacement of civilian automotive vehicles during the year. The few trucks and buses that can be built under the War Production board's program will be needed for critical replacements."

Stockpile Exhausted

The stockpile of new 1941 models has been practically exhausted. The 1944 schedule of new manufacture includes 64,000 medium trucks, 24,000 heavy trucks and 28,000 trailers. Only about 25 per cent of these trucks are scheduled for production during the first half of 1944.

"If this production schedule is measured against a normal and accumulated demand for more than a million trucks," Wood said, "it is obvious that no truck owner should be encouraged to expect that he will automatically obtain a new truck as a replacement for the worn out or out-moded truck which he now owns."

This situation is directly attributed to the fact that manufacturing plants equipped to make trucks, buses and cars, are engaged in manufacturing military vehicles and munitions of war. Since this material is "expendable" there must be a constant flow of new trucks, jeeps, tanks, gun carriages, guns and tires for the Army and Navy. To supply this imperative demand, practically all truck, bus and automobile manufacturing facilities are being used to capacity.

Despite this pessimistic outlook, however, there is a brighter side. In spite of the great demands on truck manufacturers, the replacement parts situation is better. With a more adequate supply of parts which should be available this year, the nation's trucks can be kept in operation by minimum overhauling and be regular preventive maintenance. While this improved situation will not mean that there will be a generous supply of parts on every dealers shelves, the supply should permit of an orderly overhaul of essential trucks.

WANT USED RADIOS

MEN injured in battles on land and sea and in the air find the months they have to spend at recuperation detail often filled with wearisome hours. They have too much spare time on their hands which they spend in wondering about many things, including whether or not they are the "forgotten men."

Frank Morris Scott, one of Uncle Sam's fighting Seebees, was injured at the battle of Midway and for months and months has been stationed at Camp Parks, out of Oakland. Now in occupational therapy, he finds that he and a lot of his buddies need other duties to fill their time. He has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Scott, asking if they won't try to send some old radios which the young men would reassemble and make workable.

If there is a discarded table or portable radio at your house which is worthy of being repaired, you might get in touch with Mrs. Scott, whose address is 2223 Fourteenth street and his telephone number is 2-2337. If the radio is past being redeemed please don't offer it, since naturally the men are limited in their facilities to make repairs.

IN THE MAIL

THE afternoon mail Thursday brought a clever V-mail letter from T/Sgt. Max Rutledge, who has an APO number and a terrific case of homesickness. "Over the Pond Somewhere" is the title of a touching cartoon he has sketched of a "dog face" stretched out in a pup tent while a bomb has just gone through his beautiful dream of Texas.

Pens Max: I notice in the Woman's Angle you are a real go-getter, a "going Jessie," Margaret. See what you can do with this one: I would like a furlough to visit Lubbock, Texas and my friends."

• • •

DEAR MAX: Nothing would give me greater pleasure than to have the authority to give you and all the other fellows with APO numbers furloughs to come home, not for a visit but to stay, but that's entirely beyond my influence. However, I'll tell you this Max: We are doing all we can over here to bring you home and speeding that day is the main thought in almost every home.

DEAR BABS

IF all teen-age girls had a big brother like Lt. Barry A. Lustig, of New York, a bombardier with the 8th Army Air Force in England, there probably would be no juvenile delinquency program. The lieutenant recently wrote the following letter to his sister, Barbara, 16:

"Dear Babs:

"I received your big V-mail letter and your cablegram all on the same day . . .

"That was quite a New Years Eve you spent. Growing up, honey, is a lot of fun, but you've got to get into your own speed and friends to really enjoy it. You've got to go around with fellows and girls who enjoy the same kind of entertainment that you do. For me it was not much trouble to find such a clan, but in these days I can see your difficulties. I've seen it all over our country and even here in England. Too many of the young kids are inclined to think they have matured and are capable persons and try to do what they think will impress others with their maturity, but only succeed in showing their age and foolishness. For my money I want my sis to be 15 when she's 15 and 16 when she's 16.

When this war is over you won't be caught short by those who have grown older too quickly through war-time experiences. You with your unaffected youth will be their refuge. You will be envied by the girls who sought to grow up and skip that in-between age.

No soldier ever forgets his high school and college years and how the girls were then, and that's what he will look to recapture. If more girls at home, of your age, would realize this, they would help tremendously in eliminating a big part if a lost generation that is comprised of fellows like myself.

Love,
Barry".

Irvin Foresees Education Shift

DALLAS, April 6 (AP)—Capt. W. B. Irvin superintendent of the Lubbock school system on leave for war duties, suggested today that colleges may have to operate on a round-the-clock schedule when the war is over.

Captain Irvin, now connected with the Eighth Service command, was a speaker at the closing sessions of a two-day conference of the Association of Texas Colleges on postwar education.

Veterans, he said, will be anxious to complete their education once their duties with the armed forces cease to exist.

University of Texas President Dr. Homer P. Rainey predicted a revision of junior college and university curricula to give the true function of an institution of higher learning.

Dr. Rainey said: "A new relation between education and industry is developing with admitted 'bread-and-butter' aspects, for the schools, business and industry must become the media to absorb the surplus of young manpower to be released after the war."

Dean A. H. Nolle of Southwest Texas State Teachers college, San Marcos, was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers include: W. F. Golatka, president of St. Mary's university, San Antonio, first vice president; W. F. Kraushaar, president of Texas Lutheran college (Seguin), second vice president; Roy G. Boger, director of the Amarillo center of West Texas State Teachers college, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Hull To Talk On Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—Secretary of State Hull will make a full-dress speech on American foreign policy Sunday night, coupling a new reply to his critics with a discussion of current international political questions.

Designed to show how U. S. foreign policy operates, the speech will stand as Hull's answer to those who say that American diplomatic maneuvers, particularly in Europe, often are governed more by expediency than principle.

In this respect the secretary is believed to consider the speech a logical follow-up to his publication March 21 of 17 major points previously made speches. That statement was issued in response to the criticism that he has no foreign policy.

Hull and his advisers have been working on the address for a week or more. It will be his first speech on general high policy since last September when he discussed American foreign affairs in relation to national interest.

Hull's Sunday night speech will begin at 5:30 o'clock, cwt, and probably will last about 40 minutes. It will be broadcast over the Columbia broadcasting system.

Texas GOP's Shocked At Willkie's Action

DALLAS, April 6. (U.P.)—Texas Republican followers of Wendell Willkie were shocked and surprised today to learn that he had withdrawn as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

John W. Philp, secretary of the Republican state executive committee, told questioners that he did not feel competent at this time to comment on Willkie's action.

"He should have been able to show some strength in Wisconsin," Philp said. "I was very much surprised that he didn't."

Willkie had a strong following in Texas.

Cold Water Poured On Patriotic Ardor

DALLAS, April 6. (U.P.)— A. E. Nobles, a Dallas ambulance driver, admits he may have slowed up the war effort temporarily by parking his ambulance in the wrong place.

He pulled up in front of an address on Elm street to wait for a doctor who wanted a ride to a hospital.

A nurse came out. She said:

"I wish you'd park somewhere else. You are scaring away all of our customers."

Nobles was parked in front of Red Cross blood center.

Bandit Gang Loots Returning Workmen

ONTARIO, Calif., April 6. (U.P.)—Bandits took more than $100,000 in savings from 600 Mexican nationals passing through the state of Sinaloa en route from doing United States farm work, Kelly Moya, Ontario businessman, reported today upon returning from Mexico City.

Moya, robbed of $25 cash and his baggage, said the holdup occurred at Culiacan aboard a train en route to Mexico City. About 60 bandits armed with revolvers and machine guns were in the group, he said.

The farm workers boarded the train at Nogales, Sonora, with their savings, Moya said.

"As the train passed through Sinaloa, several groups of suspicious looking men got on the train.

"As we neared Culiacan, the wholesale robbery started."

Moya said he escaped by jumping from a window as the train approached the station at Culiacan, a city of about 15,000. He spent the night with friends and proceeded to Mexico City, riding a freight train to Ruiz, then a bus to Tampico and Mexico City.

"Several of the workers broke down and cried as the bandits took their savings," he said.

Ham And Egg To Be Plentiful For Easter

CHICAGO, April 6. (AP)—Housewives should not have much difficulty in finding a ham for the meat item on the traditional Easter meal and eggs are so plentiful that the poultry trade hopes the custom of coloring them for children will experience a war-time Easter boom.

This was the cheerful news available for consumers today from the meat packing and poultry industries. However, it was not so cheerful for farmers, as they were selling hogs and eggs at prices far below those which prevailed a year ago.

A heavy run of hogs, largest in history for this time of year, has built up the supply of hams as well as other pork products. Hogs have come off the nation's farms in unprecedented numbers since last autumn, at times forcing embargoes on future shipments.

The War Food administration yesterday launched a plan to establish a floor for ungraded, current receipt eggs. Marvin Jones, WFA administrator, said the solution for the over-supply was for the civilian population to "eat one more egg per week, per person."

Allied Bombs Fall On Own Troops In Cassino Battering

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6 (AP)—Allied bombers accidentally killed Allied troops and failed to blast the Nazis out of Cassino in their great assault March 15, Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker conceded today, but the Texas-born commander of Allied Mediterranean air forces sharply insisted the operation "accomplished all that was expected of it by the air force commanders."

An unstated number of Allied troops were killed at Venafro, 12 miles east of Cassino, when Allied bombardiers mistook that town for the target, Eaker said, and other bombs fell wide of their mark near Cassino when they accidentally became dislodged from their racks. He did not say whether the latter caused any deaths among Allied troops.

Indicating his belief that the outcome at Cassino should not be construed as a black eye for aerial bombardment, Eaker said it was not to be expected that such an attack could wipe out all resistance.

"Over a long and more sustained period a greater degree of devastation could have been caused in Cassino," he said, "but it probably would have had little bearing on the final result. The enemy forces in their cellars, deep dugouts and underground passages would not have been affected."

The Cassino result, he asserted, only confirmed earlier lessons that heavy four-engined bombers would be better employed in attacking long-range strategic targets, such as the present campaign against the Balkans, than in close tactical support of ground forces, except in certain emergencies "such as at Salerno."

War Dogs Prove Up Under Real Test On Bougainville

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 6.—The first combat platoon of War Dogs ever to see action proved itself "an unqualified success" during jungle fighting against the Japanese at Bougainville in November and December.

This platoon of 24 dogs and 55 specially trained men hit the beach at Empress Augusta Bay in the fourth skirmish line of the first wave of U. S. Marines. Within a few hours, the War Dogs began proving their worth—began passing the test that will result in the extensive use of "Devil Dogs" with raiding, jungle-fighting Marines.

Commander Is Back

First Lt. Clyde A. Henderson of Brecksville, O., who commanded the trial platoon, returned recently to the Marines War Dog training cimpany at Camp Lejeune, N. C. His first-hand combat information will be invaluable in the stepped-up preparations of the training company, which is commanded by Capt. Jackson S. Boyd of Southern Pines, N. C.

Over the telephone from Camp Lejeune, Boyd told us last night, "yes, our War Dogs proved a success in the jungle fighting at Bougainville and, I might add, at other places since then. Their chief value was in silent scouting, for which they were carefully trained. They prevented casualties by alerting the enemy—locating snipers, machine gun nests, pillboxes, etc. They proved to be 'living radar' in the jungles where humans can neither see, hear nor smell the enemy.

Not Used As Weapons

"They also proved useful as speedy messengers, and as watchful sentries that prevented infiltration of the enemy while our men were trying to sleep. But let me emphasize that these dogs are not used as weapons. They are not sent out to attack anyone. Most of the dogs we train are Doberman Pinschers or German Shepherds; they generally respond more readily to our training than other breeds."

Since the beginning of warfare, men have used dogs in various capacities during hostilities — chiefly as messengers or as sentries. In isolated instances, mascots or dogs picked up in the area of hostilities have been used for scouting. But never before Bougainville had a specially selected and carefully trained unit of War Dogs been sent into action as a combat platoon of "living radar."

Henderson, who commanded the platoon, gives a detailed report of his dogs' achievements in the latest issue of the Camp Lejeune Globe, one of the finest service publications in the country.

They Go Into Action

Within a few hours after landing, the dogs were at work, he said. Andy, a Doberman Pinscher, led Company M of the third raider battalion to an important Japanese road block, the first major position secured. Meanwhile Andy alerted three snipers and a machine gun nest containing 15 Japanese. On the same day, Caesar, a German Shepherd, became the only means of communication between Company M and the Second Battalion command post. He made nine round trips for a total of 31 miles. Two of his runs were under fire. Jack, a German Shepherd, carried a message through, although shot in the back; and he later alerted a sniper.

Henderson said, "raiders told us they felt they could relax for the first time when the dogs arrived. They were invaluable in night security. And sleep is precious stuff. In bivouac areas the raiders offered to dig the handler's foxhole, and offered bribes of cigarettes if he would post his dog nearby."

"Gift Eye" Allows Man, 33, To See Light First Time

NEW ORLEANS, April 6. (AP)—Thirty-three-year-old Richard Bienvenu, blind since birth, saw the light of day for the first time yesterday through a "gift eye" and expressed his gratitude to the donor, Mrs. G. E. Johnson of Marrero, La., mother of four children.

Mrs. Johnson volunteered the cornea from an eye which was useless to her and a physician transferred it to the blind man's eye in a delicate operation on March 25.

The doctor lifted the bandage yesterday and found that the operation was successful.

Hobbs Man Tells Of Death Of His Buddy

TEMPLE, April 6 (AP) — Pfc. Roe E. Holliday of Hobbs N. M., who served with an artillery communications unit with the 36th division in Italy, told how a Houston soldier lying with him in a foxhole was killed by shrapnel from an exploding artillery shell.

It was in the Rotondo sector in Italy, he recounts, when three men —Pvt. Robert E. Ford of Houston, a soldier from Michigan and himself—had taken refuge in a foxhole during a German artillery barrage.

"Suddenly, a shell burst over our foxhole and showered shrapnel on us," he said. "Ford, who was lying in the middle, was killed. The Michigan boy and I were wounded."

Born in Wills Point, Tex., Private Holliday is the son of Mrs. Frances Holliday of Hobbs. They lived in Sweetwater until 1939.

Texas Democrats

offense under the civil rights bill, which was adopted by Congress during the reconstruction period, to prevent any citizen from participation in any primary election.

"Therefore it seems to me that this is an effort on the part of the Supreme court to anticipate and forestall any legislative or executive committee action to determine who may be members of a political party."

Referring to what he said was comment by Democratic party leaders in other states that the decision would not affect their primary elections, Butler said:

"I anticipate Mr. Biddle, attorney general of the United States, will soon render an opinion that under this decision no political party has the right or privilege to exclude anyone because of race, color or creed from party activities to select nominees for the general elections to follow later."

Challenges From Within

Butler remarked that "It is interesting to observe that in the last several years demand for such things as the repeal of the poll tax requirements for voting and the right of the Democratic party to choose its own members have been challenged more often by the Democratic administration than by the opposition."

The constitutionality of the Democratic party's procedure which permits it to select its own membership was settled years ago in the case of Grover versus Townsend, said Butler, adding:

"Thus it is difficult to believe that this decision was brought about through any earnest desire of the court to apply and uphold the constitution. You are compelled to look elsewhere for the motivating reasons behind the decision and the decision as so rendered by the majority of the court does, indeed, seem to be for other purposes and timely, too."

Far-Reaching Effect

Butler did not elaborate further on this point.

"I do not believe that the citizens of Texas or the South realize how far-reaching is the effect of this opinion," Butler stressed. He added this reservation:

"However the present decision is to be interpreted, all is not gloom. The Supreme court upheld the constitutionality of our right to prescribe the membership of the Democratic party a few years ago. In its present decision the court states that the circuit court of appeals quite properly held our present procedure to be constitutional on the authority of the Grover versus Townsend case.

"Mr. Justice Roberts says that the present Supreme court decisions are in the same class as a restricted railroad ticket, good for this train and today only. It is quite likely that the changes of the next few years will show the Supreme court the error of its ways and witness a reversion to the prior ruling upholding our rights."

ROTC Progress At Tech Cited

Colonel Beverly H. Coiner of New Mexico, director of the AST division including ROTC work who inspected Texas Tech's ROTC unit Thursday, said Thursday night as he was leaving Lubbock, that "Tech's ROTC unit had progressed and done lots of good under Major F. E. Hangs the past year."

Col. Coiner stated that a rating of poor, good, excellent or superior could not be given last night, as the rating will be a comparative one, made after he has inspected all of the ROTC units. Tech has received a rating of excellent each year since its beginning.

Annual Inspection

The annual one-day inspection of the senior unit of the ROTC at Texas Tech included inspection of the complete cadet corps in formations, inspection of first and second year basic ROTC classes and general inspection of the military building on Tech campus. Major F. E. Hangs, President Clifford B. Jones and other personel at the college accompanied Col. Coiner on the inspection tour.

Classes of the ROTC gave demonstrations. One of the most impressing demonstrations, according to Col. Coiner, was that of booby traps. The students had made the booby traps from their own ideas.

Other demonstrations included an attack on a fortified position by the drill platoon of the unit and the extended order platoon of the unit, exhibit on chemical warfare, map reading, foxhole replacement, and other practical demonstrations.

Children Discover Pint Of Whisky, Have Fatal Party

PITTSBURGH, April 6 (UP) — While his aunt was busy in another part of the house, James White, 2 1-2, took a pint of whisky from a refrigerator and sat down to a "tea party" with his four-year-old cousin, Tommy Inserra.

Jimmy set up his toy table with the little tin dishes and sipped the whisky from a tiny cup. He offered some to Tommy, but the older boy shook his head. Jimmy continued to drink.

When his aunt, Mrs. Mary R. Inserra, returned to the room, Jimmy had consumed almost the entire bottle. She called a doctor, who told her that the boy "probably would be all right" if he went to sleep. He slept from 10:30 a. m. until 7 p. m. yesterday. Then he suffered violent convulsions.

Finally the doctor arrived and ordered Jimmy to the hospital, where he died last night of acute alcoholism.

Troops Overseas Will Air Easter Greetings

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Easter observances by the troops overseas will be heard by relatives and friends at home next Sunday.

Messages from members of the armed forces, music by a chorus from a touring army show now in Italy and by a negro chorus in England will be included in the Army hour radio program, NBC, beginning at 2:30 p.m. CWT, the War department announced today.

Chaplain (Brig. Gen.) William R. Arnold, chief of the chaplain corps, said that special services during Holy week for the thousands of men and women serving in the war zones would culminate Sunday with Easter ceremonies conducted by the clergy in uniform.

Deal Is Under Way For Venereal Clinic

AUSTIN, April 6 (AP)—Further negotiations with regard to the leasing of the Galveston state psychopathic hospital to the federal government for use as a venereal disease clinic were held here today, Weaver Baker, chairman of the state board of control said.

Baker met with Jim Bradner, chief of the Public Works administration at Fort Worth, Dr. George Cox, state health officer, and several army officers from the health service division of the Eighth Service command to look further into a recent opinion by the attorney general which said that the hospital temporarily closed since July 27, 1943, might be leased to the federal government for a venereal clinic.

Woman Killed, Home Is Left Blazing

BENNINGTON, Okla., April 6 (AP)—The body of 60-year-old Mrs. Willie Orum with five bullet wounds was found last night 10 feet from her flaming residence in this Bryan county community.

County Attorney Victor C. Phillips said one witness saw a man enter the house five minutes before the shots were heard, and three persons saw a man leave when the fire was discovered. A known suspect answering the description given by the witnesses was sought, he said.

Bloodhounds from McAlester prison followed a trail south from here but officers said it did not cross the Red river. Bennington is 20 miles east of Durant.

Mrs. Orum was divorced early in January. Officers said she had three children.

Texas Poultrymen To Confer With Vinson

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP) — Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) reported today that economic stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson would confer next Wednesday with representatives of Texas poultry producers protesting the present ceiling price of 27 cents a pound on live broilers in Texas.

Johnson said feed costs had increased 3 cents a pound since the broiler ceilings were fixed and that producers would be forced into other lines of work unless relief was granted.

"The consumer is paying enough, and the retail ceiling should not be increased," Johnson asserted. "The processors between the producers and consumers are now getting the benefit."

Sen. Truman Praises Demos' War Program

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 6. (AP)—The Democratic administration "sensed our danger from irresponsible lunatics" directing the fate of war monger nations and "had the vision to adopt a vast defense program" that now is winning the war for the Allies, Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri declared in addressing a public meeting tonight.

Truman, chairman of a senate committee investigating the war program and frequently mentioned as Democratic vice presidential timber, told the audience "Republicans have not been excluded from the war effort" as evidenced by the two top party members—Stimson and Knox—in Roosevelt's cabinet and "the hundreds" holding important posts in Washington.

"As a result if this great program," he asserted, "no one today doubts that the war will be won. Moreover, it will be won sooner than it could . . . had we listened to the contentions of the opposition that 'we were not in danger and should continue business as usual.'"

Truman arrived here from Los Angeles this morning and plans to leave by plane tomorrow for Kansas City.

Note On Hen's Egg Says War To End November 15, 1944

FORT WORTH, April 6 (UP) — World war II will end Nov. 15, 1944, if the hen owned by Elton G. Patton, a fireman at Consolidated Vultee's Fort Worth plant, knew what she was cackling over.

Patton claims to have found in the hen's nest an egg bearing a slightly raised inscription reading "war ends—11-15-44."

The inscription, legible and easily read, appears to be part of the egg shell. Persons who have examined the egg have divided into two groups—doubting Thomases, who suspect the work of a prankster, and others, led by Patton, who are ready to give all credit to the hen.

More Power Predicted For Local OPA Boards

FORT WORTH, April 6 (UP) — Stricter enforcement of price ceilings and rationing rules and more power for local rationing boards were predicted today by Jack H. Kultgen, new Fort Worth district OPA rationing head.

Kultgen said Congress wants the OPA to leave as much discretion as possible in the hands of local boards in enforcing rationing.

"It isn't healthy in this country for very long to tell Congress off," he said.

Kultgen said more and more attention will be paid to enforcement in months to come. Eighty-five per cent of businessmen are complying with the Regulations, he said, and they want the other 15 per cent pulled into line.

Bill Lamb, city patrolman who arrested Kuykendall, ran out after the lanky prisoner and, in the middle of the street north of the station, commanded that the fugitive stop. He threatened to fire.

Kuykendall stopped immediately, 15 feet ahead of Lamb, and threw both hands above his head.

Top Military Schools Due Student Priority

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—The nation's eight recognized military colleges will be given first priority in assignment of students in the Army's revised specialized training program, Senator Maybank (D-SC) said today after conferences with War department officials.

Maybank said Army plans for next year, as now contemplated, call for a greatly reduced training program in connection with all colleges. Its size will depend on the number if 17-year-old students who wish to participate.

The eight military colleges listed for top priority are the Citadel and Clemson, in South Carolina, Virginia Military institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Texas A. and M., Pennsylvania Military college, Georgia Military college, and Norwich university, Vermont.

After these, priorities will be assigned to ROTC colleges, male colleges, and co-educational colleges in that order, Maybank said.

Slaton's Fine Record Cited As New Officials Take Over

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Inauguration ceremonies for a new group of city officials in the council chamber of the city hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon will bring to a close an important chapter in the history of Lubbock.

This is the chapter devoted to the administration of Carl E. Slaton, for whom the distinction may be claimed of having served Lubbock as mayor longer than any other person.

When Mr. Slaton hands the reins of office to O. W. Ribble, it will mark the end of three full terms and six full years as the head of the Lubbock city government. Slaton did not seek a fourth term.

Others Taking Office

Going into office with Mayor-Elect Ribble will be J. Ray Dickey, new city commissioner, place 2, and Fred Childress, new city commissioner serving in place No. 4. Dickey is to step into the office to be vacated by J. O. Jones, who is completing the unexpired term of W. G. McMillan, the vacancy having occurred when McMillan resigned because of his removal outside the city limits. Childress will succeed to the place held during one term of four years by Garland Newsom. None of the retiring incumbents sought re-election.

There was doubt last night as to whether Dickey would arrive in time for the ceremonies. He has been in Hot Springs, N. M., several days for the mineral baths. However, Ribble and Childress expect to be present to take oaths of office and to begin their duties. Oath of office will be administered to Dickey when he arrives.

Simple Ceremonies

All the ceremonies, if carried out as planned, will be very simple, very brief and wholly devoid of spectacular features.

The chapter of Lubbock history which will be devoted to the Slaton administrations must, of necessity, list a great many major achievements.

Likewise, it must credit the administration with having been one of almost complete harmony — probably unsurpassed harmony — within the membership of the city commission in their relationship to each other. To this cooperative spirit and the almost total absence of bickerings and personal jealousies can be credited the fact of so many accomplishments.

Probably the most important of the achievements during the Slaton administration, if considered in terms of permanent values, was the actual adoption of a city plan for Lubbock—a plan for the long-range orderly development of this city.

City planning for Lubbock had been discussed for more than 10 years before Slaton went into office. The depression, of course, was responsible for some of the delay.

Well Rounded Program

But the fact remains that, during the administration, the commission translated talk into action. It adopted the city plan, which includes a multitude of details. Among other things, it includes a zoning ordinance, a zoning commission, a commission of zoning adjustments and appeals, and a city planning commssion which was named only a few weeks ago.

More tangible have been the expansions of many kinds which have been made since Mr. Slaton became mayor. These improvements have included scores of items, large and small.

Among them can be listed the half-million dollar storm sewer system that has been built across the southern part of Lubbock. Approximately 40 miles of street paving have been laid. The new Central Fire station and the new police department building have been erected. A new sewage disposal plant costing approximately $250,000 has been completed. The city hall has been remodeled extensively.

Water Department

Improvements in the water department have included the construction of a 5,000,000-gallon reservoir in northeast Lubbock, the drilling of several new wells, the installation of chlorinating equipment and the laying of many miles of new lines. Improvements in the electric plant have included the purchase of two giant generating engines costing a total of approximately $375,000. These not only were bought. They have been paid for out of electric plant earnings.

Expansions likewise have occurred in the parks department, including the acquisition of numerous new park sites.

Then there were two other projects about which there had been a great deal of talk in the years of the past. These were the need for opening the south end of Texas avenue and the widening of South Avenue Q. During the Slaton administration, the commission again translated talk into the accomplishment of both of these projects.

Financial Condition

As to financing: Mayor Slaton leaves office with Lubbock in as strong a financial condition as any city in the United States. It has bought and now holds approximately $583,000 worth of war bonds. In reserve, including bonds, it has a total of almost $800,000. This money has been accumulated and will be available, when the time comes, to make innumerable improvements which would be made now if conditions permitted. Lubbock won't have to issue bonds to take care of a great deal of accumulated spending in order to catch up. It will have the money.

And, while this has been accomplished, Lubbock has maintained the record of having the lowest tax rate of any city in Texas of comparable or larger population.

Airport Improvements

To the list already mentioned, a great deal more doubtless could be added. For example, the city and the WPA cooperated in modernizing and building approximately $325,000 worth of runways and improvements at Municipal airport just before the world emergency became acute.

Then, after America was forced into the war, the commission headed by Mayor Slaton purchased more than 2,000 acres of land to provide the sites, first for Lubbock Army Air field and then for South Plains Army Air field. A very recent action was the commission's approval of a year-round city-wide recreation project for Lubbock.

While Mayor Slaton has served longer in the office than ny of his predecessors, he is not the first three-term mayor.

In the modern history of the city, dating from the adoption of the charter and commission form of government in 1917, the first three-term distinction must be credited to the late C. E. Parks. His widow resides at 1640 Broadway.

First Charter Mayor

Mr. Parks was the first mayor under the charter form of government, which supplanted the aldermanic form. He was elected soon after the charter was adopted in 1917, and served until the following April. Then the first regular election under the charter was held. On that occasion, he was re-elected to a full two-year term. Then, in 1920 he was re-elected again, but resigned early in his third term because of ill health. Thus, Mr. Parks matched the Slaton three-term record. But his actual tenure as mayor was nearly two years less than that of Slaton.

Most closely matching the Slaton record was that of Lubbock's first mayor, the late F. E. Wheelock. He was elected soon after Lubbock was incorporated and, according to the best recollections of pioneer residents, served three terms—as long as he could be persuaded to continue in the office. But it was their recollection that one of his terms was a short one, so that his length of service fell somewhat short of the six years served by Mayor Slaton.

Montagu Norman Quits Bank Post

LONDON, April 6. (AP)—Montagu C. Norman resigned the governorship of the powerful Bank of England today on the advice of physicians, and directors went outside the immediate ranks to choose as his successor Baron Catto of Cairncatto, a Scotsman long prominent in the business life of the British Empire, the United States and Russia.

The new governor is only seven years younger than 72-year-old Norman, who was serving his 24th term. Norman's office said "the governor," sometimes called the "mystery man of Threadneedle street," had no immediate plans.

Catto—Thomas Sivewright Catto before he was created a baron in 1936—worked up from an office boy of 16 in a Newscastle shipping office to important directorships, all of which he resigned in 1940 to become an unpaid financial adviser to the treasury.

Wide Experience

Catto's early experience in Russia and his tenure as vice president of MacAndrews & Forbes Co., of New York, huge chemical manufacturing concern, from 1906 to 1919, influenced his choice for posts during the last war on the Russian commission and as chairman of the Allied provisions export cimmission.

He takes up work in the international banking field, where Norman undoubtedly was a master, with the Russian-English-American monetary agreement a commanding problem over and above such irritating invasion questions as pegging francs and guilders to pounds.

The new governor's close association with the British treasury the last few years and his knowledge of the inner workings of the Bank of England which he served briefly as a director in 1940 are expected to stand him in good stead in solving the cimplexities of the world's present muddled finances ind postwar problems.

Japs Hit Destroyer Twice Off Wotje

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Japanese shore batteries on Wotje atoll scored two hits on an American destroyer when the ship moved in on that eastern Marshall islands base to rescue a fighter pilot who had been shot down, the Navy said today.

The announcement said only minor damage was caused and that the destroyer turned its guns on the shore based artillery.

The short exchange of fire came in the course of bombing raids on four unidentified enemy-held atolls in the Marshalls which have been bombed and strafed regularly by American bomber and fighter planes.

The pilot who was shot down was rescued, the Navy said.

The Pacific fleet press announcement told also of other American airmen hitting for the 13th time at Truk, once-strong Naval base of the Japanese in the Caroline islands.

Army air force Liberators flying in on the night of Monday-Tuesday dropped their loads on oil storage tanks, starting fires between the seaplane base and principal settlement on Dublon island, one of the larger islands in the Truk atoll. Smaller fires were started on Moen island, also part of Truk.

CHARTER GRANTED

AUSTIN, April 6. (AP)—A charter has been granted to the Association of Highway Construction and Maintenance employees, whose backers said they intended to organize highway workers and establish good-will between them and contractors.

Brown's Murder Trial Is Slated

W. C. Brown, 29-year-old former convict who is charged with the February double-slaying in Brownfield of Mrs. Cora Smith, 67, of Brownfield and Mrs. Quinley Dunlap, about 40, of California, Thursday afternoon was removed from Lubbock county jail in custody of Dawson County Sheriff Buck Bennett and his deputy, Truman Cotton, to Lamesa.

He will be tried there Monday for the hammer slaying of the two women. A special venire was ordered to report Monday morning by Special Judge J. E. Garland of the 106th district, who had moved the case on his own motion from Terry county.

Blinks As He Steps Out

Brown, tall and skinny, held out his hands and blinked when he stepped off the elevator into the natural light of the jail corridor.

He made no statement, merely nodding when Sheriff Bennett slipped the cuffs on him and asked if he were ready to "go to Lamesa."

He had pleaded guilty when arraigned recently, but is deemed likely to change his plea after the court appoints an attorney to defend him, officials have theorized.

Anti-Lameness Chemical Found

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, April 6. — An anti-lameness chemical discovered in unpasteurized cream, which takes both stiffness and calcification out of the muscles and organs of guinea pigs, was reported to the American Chemical society today.

The new chemical acts like a vitamin. It exists only in most minute quantities. Five-hundred-and-fifty gallons of raw cream have yielded only one-thousandth part of a gram, in the form of a crystalline substance.

This anti-lameness factor exists also in cabbage and probably in some other leafy vegetables, but apparently not in fruit. Raw cream is the best source. Heat of cooking destroys it, and so does pasteurization of milk.

Two Oregon Scientists

The report was made by two Oregon state college scientists, Rosalind Wulzen, associate professor of zoology, and Willem J. Van Wagtendonk, assistant professor of biochemistry. Dr. Wuzen discovered the lameness, and Dr. Van Wagtendonk found the rare chemical. He is a native of Batavia, trained in science in Europe and America. The Research corporation, New York, aids the work financially.

Superficially the guinea pig troubles resemble some of the symptoms of human arthritis. But it is entirely possible that the cream and cabbage factor has nothing to do with the human disease. The work has not proceeded far enough for human studies.

If human and guinea pig ailments were the same, and treatment of humans proportional to that of the pigs, it would require about 8 gallons of raw cream a day to treat a person.

Mexico To Be Asked To Lift Worker Ban

LAREDO, Tex., April 6 (AP)—William Prescott Allen, publisher of the Laredo Times, said he planned to go to Mexico City soon to ask President Avila Camacho and Foreign Secretary Ezequiel Padilla to lift the ban against importation of Mexican workers into Texas.

Allen said today that Padilla had advised him that Mexico is studying the possibility of allowing Mexicans to come to Texas where, Mexican authorities have contended, their nationals have been subjected to racial discriminations.

WAR BOND QUOTA

DALLAS, April 6. (AP)—Texas' war bond quota for April is $30,100,000, the state war finance committee announced today. Only sale of E. F. and G. securities—the kind individuals buy—will be counted against the $30,100,000 quota.

Three American presidents died on July 4—John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe.

MacArthur Likely To Retain Present Post

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 6 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur will continue in complete direction of southwest Pacific offensives, it is believed in reliable quarters here, regardless of changes that may be made in the status of the south Pacific area or its command.

This view developed after the disclosure by war correspondents at south Pacific headquarters that Admiral William F. Halsey may be switched from his command there to another important post.

South Pacific combat forces, under Halsey's command, and southwest Pacific forces, under MacArthur, effected a virtual junction some time ago. Whether they will be combined under one command in the future remains to be seen.

Operationally, the two areas came under MacArthur's command in June, 1943.

Embezzlement Case Term Is Suspended

Don Bowles, indicted in two counts for embezzlement over $50, pleaded guilty Thursday afternoon before Judge J. E. Vickers of 99th district court and was allowed suspension of a three-year sentence.

The indictment alleged he took $222.31 from Virgil Reagor, his employer, March 28.

Judge Vickers heard pleas for clemency from a minister relative and employers of the defendant, and was told that restitution would be made.

Bowles was not arrested. He delivered himself voluntarily to officials, it was announced.

ADD TO EGG SURPLUS

HILLSBORO, April 6. (AP)—The government is shipping 250 cases of eggs for hot-lunch programs, to 11 schools of this county, where there is a heavy surplus of eggs.

For every 1,000 workers on payrolls in the United States, 43 quit each month, according to reports to Government agencies.

Texas Representative, Now Officer, Resigns

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 6 (AP)—The resignation of Captain John Lyle as representative in the legislature from Nueces, Jim Wells and Duval counties was forwarded today to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, Mrs. Lyle said.

Mrs. Lyle said her husband, who has been in the Army since June, 1942, and who now is in Italy, sent the resignation to her for forwarding to the governor. Lyle was serving his second term.

NEW COMMANDER

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 6. (AP)—Rear Admiral Oliver M. Read took over the command of the U. S. operating base here today, succeeding Vice Admiral Arthur G. Robinson who will be assigned elsewhere.

Class A Boys Shoot At Records Saturday

Some fine records will be on the line for the boys to shoot at in the District meet here Saturday afternoon as athletes from eight schools start shooting for first places at Chapman Field.

Many of the fine records set in the District meets of the past have withstood the thundering feet of scores of great athletes through many years. One record on the list was set in 1916, the 4 minute, 45 second mile run by Clarence Goodnight of Lubbock.

Many of the district records are held by schools in Class AA now and no longer compete in the Class A district. Records for Class A only are unavailable.

The records:

High hurdles—(old style)—Jim Neil, Brownfield, 1935—15.5.

High hurdles— (new style) — Milner Thorne, Lubbock, 1942—15.8.

100-yard dash—Jenkins Ater, Lubbock, 1922—10.

220-yard dash — Smythe Reynolds, Lubbock, 1927—21.9.

440-yard dash—Martin Oliver, Muleshoe, 1939—51.6.

880-yard run — Smith, Plainview, 1932—2:2.6.

Mile run—Clarence Goodnight, Lubbock, 1916—4:45.

220-yard low hurdles — Max Minor, Tahoka, 1940—25.2.

200-yard low hurdles—Jackson, Olton, 1941—24.3.

440-yard relay — Littlefield (Carpenter, Clark, Yarbrough, Houston), 1942—45.9.

Pole vault, Harkey, Dickens, 1928—11. 6.

Broad jump, Blagg, Lubbock, 1922—22. 1.

High jump—Richie, Lubbock, 1930—6. 1.

Morton, Sudan Pin Hopes On Few Stars

Squads will be small, but packed with specialties, to represent Morton High school and the Sudan Hornets and the two are expected to add points to the school honors in the District 4-A track and field meet Saturday at Chapman Field here.

Morton will have only two in the meet, but will be "ganged up" on the mile run events with J. B. Haskins and Eugene Pierce both entered in this event. Both are tall, rangy lads and expected to give contenders lots of trouble.

Sudan will depend largely on a colorful array of dash men for the teams honors, boasting of four specialists that are expected to capture some points Saturday.

Tommy Wright is entered in the 100 yard dash and broad jump with Leland Boulden in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Francis Miller is entered in the 220 and 440 yard dashes, broad jump and pole vault, but is perhaps more noted for his pole vaulting. The other member of the squad is Billy Cardwell, booked only for the 100 yard dash.

Hornsby Hopes For American Comeback

FORT WORTH, April 6 (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, home from his short-lived venture as manager of the Vera Cruz ball club in Mexico, thinks he might help some big league ball club as pinch-hitter and utility man in these days of short manpower.

"I am in good shape as a result of hard training in the hot Mexican climate, and I played some with the Vera Cruz team in practice games. In regular league play I put myself in as pinch-hitter twice, walked once and hit a homer the other time," he said.

Hornsby said the split with Jorge Pasquel, owner of the Vera Cluz club, was over the club's refusal to pay road trip expenses.

Hornsby has no immediate plans.

"I am hoping something will turn up—and I would like to get a crack at some of this wartime pitching," he concluded.

His last job in organized baseball in the United States was as general manager of the Fort Worth Cats in 1942, the last year the Texas League operated.

INDIANS WIN

MUNCIE, Ind., April 6 (AP)—Vince DiMaggio made his 1944 bow in a Pittsburgh Pirate uniform today when the Cleveland Indians defeated the Bucs 6-3 in an exhibition game.

In the Lubbock grade school war Dupre school and Central Ward split a double header, the Dupre girls winning 42 to 31 and the Central Ward boys winning 42 to 26.

In another match, the Bean Bronchos romped off with a 38 to 28 win over the Roscoe Wilson Wranglers in a boys match.

Records Few, Feats Good In 1943 Track

AUSTIN, April 6 (AP)—Only one National scholastic track and field record went into the books last year and it was by a Texan, the annual report of the National Federation shows.

That mark was by DeWitt Coulter, giant shot putter of Masonic Home, who tossed the 12-pound ball 59 feet 1½ inches to better the old record by 3½ inches.

But while records were scarce outstanding performances were numerous with Texas also leading in this, showing five best marks in the 17 events.

Charley Parker, the great sprinter of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), ran the fastest 100 and 220 yards with 9.5 in the former and 20.6 in the latter. But while his 220 mark beat anything on the books it was not allowed as a National record due to the wind.

Other best National marks by Texans: Lloyd Parker, Raymondville, 22.2 in the 200-yard low hurdles; Thomas Jefferson, 43.4 in the 440-yard relay.

Ranking with the best were Jack Greider of Thomas Jefferson with 9.8 in the 100-yard dash and 21.8 in the 220-yard dash; Warren of Freer, 14.7 in the high hurdles; Easley of Anson, 14.8 in the high hurldes; Easley, 22.8 in the low hurdles; Davis of Haskell, 22 feet 6½ inches in the broad jump; Vineyard of Edgewood, 160 feet 3 inches in the discus throw; Austin, 44 seconds in the 440-yard relay; Crozier Tech (Dallas), 3:29.7 in the mile relay, and John Reagan (Houston), 3:33.7 in the mile relay.

GOLFER IN SERVICE

WICHITA FALLS, April 6 (AP)—Private Ren Smith, brother of the famed golfer, Horton Smith, has arrived at Sheppard Field for basic training with the Army Air Forces.

Ren Smith is a star golfer in his own right. He was assistant to Craig Wood, duration National Open champion, at the Hollywood Golf club, Deal, N. J.

Andrews Enters District Meet

ANDREWS, April 6—Word was received here today allowing the Andrews High school athletes to shift their track and field activity to the District 4-A track and field meet in Lubbock Saturday. The permission was granted through the Interscholastic League director in Austin.

Andrews was scheduled to enter the El Paso region, but because of the lack of foes in this area, were allowed to shift over to the North area, and the Andrews winners will enter the Canyon regional meet April 22.

Andrews High school will send an eight man squad to Lubbock for the meet with hopes of piling up some points high among the team's personnel. Andrews will have entries in all but two events, having none in the 220-yard dash or having no mile relay team.

Andrews will be strongest in the field events and hurdles with strong men entered in both high and low hurdles, high jump, broad jump and discus. The Andrews 440-yard relay team may be one to give other schools a real battle for first place honors.

The squad had two tests under fire with other schools and finished second in both meets in total points. Battling against Seminole and Denver City will be nothing new to Andrews. The team has worked out about six weeks.

Wesley Roberts will be the wheel horse of the squad, entering four events and running a leg on the fast 440-yard relay team. He will enter high hurdles, discus, shot and pole vault.

Junior Fisher will be close on his heels, entering the high hurdles, low hurdles and broad jump as well as another leg on the relay team. The other relay team members are William Stewart and Sydney Johnson. Stewart also runs the half mile and 100-yard dash while Johnson is entered in the 440-yard dash and broad jump.

F. A. Roady is another highly promising performer in both hurdles and the high jump. James Rice is expected to add a few points in the high and broad jumps and low hurdles. Dan Nixon will run the mile. The chief weight man on the squad is B. Howell who heaves the discus and shot.

Bill Daley is the first to have played for both Michigan and Minnesota in the Little Brown Jug series.

Dates Changed For State School Meet

AUSTIN, April 6. (AP)—To avoid the week-end housing jam, the dates of the annual Texas Interscholastic League meet were changed today to May 4 and 5.

This will calendar the meet on Thursday and Friday instead of Friday and Saturday, the customary days for the gathering of 1,200 school boys and girls for competitions in a wide range of events.

"This year contestants will be commodated in rooms which are used for housing service men over the week-end," said Roy Bedichek, director of the league.

"Consequently the state meet will be concluded in time for delegates to clear out before the service men arrive."

Hundreds of service men from Camp Hood, Camp Swift and other army installations visit the capital on week-ends.

Longhorns Enter 20 In Triangular Meet

HOUSTON, April 6 (U.P.)—The University of Texas today submitted an entry list of 20 for the annual triangular track meet with Rice and Louisiana State university, to be held here Saturday afternoon.

The strong Texas team, headed by football star Ralph Ellsworth, has been established a definite favorite to win the meet with ease.

Out of the Sea come
• STRENGTH
• STAMINA
• POWER

The sea is our richest source of animal proteins, vitamins and minerals which livestock must have to be healthy, productive and fast-growing.

STANTONS' PULLET BUILDER
Brings these vital elements straight from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. Stanton's Pullet Builder makes full use of all local grains and by-products, but in addition, it contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, those famous protein, mineral and vitamin rich "products from the sea" which are making extra profits for poultrymen from coast to coast.

B-G PLUS
Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's Pullet Builder.

MANAMAR
In Stanton's Pullet Builder supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Phillip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's Pullet Builder. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

CHAMPION SNAPPER 140

Grown by R. E. Karper from breeding block seed furnished by Chillicothe Experiment Station where the 140 strain originated. This is an early maturing, lightweight bur cotton bred by Texas Experiment Stations for the South Plains where cotton is snapped. Its light burs enable gins to make better grades from snaps and give higher turnouts. Made ⅞ to 31-32 staple. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $10.50 per 100 lbs.

OLD TIME HALF & HALF

Grown in Wilbarger county by Arnold Seed Farms. This is the old-time high linting, early, short staple cotton. In Lubbock county in 1943 1500 lbs. of seed made 500-pound bale. Planted in May it made lots of cotton of 13-16 and ⅞ inch staple. Planted the middle of June it was gathered before other cotton planted at same time. We sold several cars on the Plains and have found only satisfied customers. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $11 per 100 lbs.

Send your order with deposit of $3 per 100 lbs. and we will hold seed for May delivery. Other varieties of Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed can be supplied by Kemgas delinting plants in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. For further information address—

SPECIALTIES MAINTAIN RECOVERY
NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Specialties, a few rails and scattered industrials maintained recovery leadership in today's stock market without touching off demand for many leaders.

Selectivity persisted from the start, with earnings and individual props inspiring bidding. Political optimism, in the wake of the Wisconsin primary results, aided bullish sentiment to some extent.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .2 of a point at 52.1. Slow-downs were frequent but activity in several low-priced issues helped put volume at 757,880 shares compared with 772,390 Wednesday.

At tops for 1944 were Willys-Overland, International Telephone and Pennsylvania Coal and Coke. In front were Great Northern, Chrysler, Dome Mines, U. S. Rubber, International arvester, Kennecott, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Gypsum.

American and Foreign Power 2nd preferred, a recent climber, dropped ⅞ on somewhat cloudy income estimates. Losers included Glenn Martin, Sperry, Bethlehem, Consolidated Edison, Northern Pacific, Schenley and Texas Co.

Cotton . .

NEW YORK FUTURES
NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Cotton futures closed from 40 cents a bale higher to 25 cents lower today.

Featured in the dull trading was a moderate mill price fixing demand in the May position which encountered only scale-up offerings from spot houses.

Heavy Air Blows From Italy Cripple Nazis In Balkans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Hundreds of miles of hard going for both Allied and Russian ground troops still separate United Nations' armies gnawing at the shaken Nazi Balkan flank; but

SIMPSON

American heavy bombers from Italy are bridging the gap effectively.

For a week or more in direct aid of Russian Allies they have struck crippling long range blows at German communication centers in Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

They were punching victoriously, also, at a vulnerable link in Nazi defensive armor in southeastern Europe. Ploesti's rail yards and highway intersections are as important to Nazi communications serving the Red Army-punctured German front on a 200-mile span from the upper central Prut to the Black Sea as its oil installations are to Nazi war economy as a whole.

Air Blows Effective

At this stage of the battle on the southern flank of the eastern front, air disruption of Ploesti rail connections could be even more immediately effective in bringing about a complete Nazi disaster in the Balkans than incidental interruption of its oil traffic.

Only via Ploesti and Buzau junction to the east is quick communication available to the Nazis to shuttle supplies and reinforcements to meet the converging Russian Second and Third Ukrainian armies.

Allied spokesmen in Naples indicate that Ploesti and all other Rumanian transportation keys are due for a sustained blasting from the west in direct aid of the Russian advance from the east. It may be in part to await the results of this aerial softening-up attack behind the Nazi front in Rumania that the Second Ukrainian surge beyond the Prut seems marking time.

High-Rate Loan Books Called In

SAN ANTONIO, April 6. (AP) — Evidence of the inner workings of the small loan business in the United States was sought today in a subpoena duces tecum issued in federal court here for the appearance of Rolf Nugent, director of the department of consumer service credit, or director of remedial loan division, Russell Sage foundation, New York City.

A special grand jury, in session for several months investigating the ramifications of the loan business with a view of determining if they are violating the Sherman anti-trust law, will hear Nugent here April 10.

Full Records Ordered

He is subpoenaed to bring all papers, books, records, memoranda, referring in anyway to "information in files of the Russell Sage foundation for years 1940 to date with respect to operations of high rate loan companies with special references to names and addresses of principal high rate companies; relations or connections, if any, among these companies or operators; membership in state associations for the purpose of providing funds to oppose model small loan laws; agreement to divide territory; conditions under which high raters agree to withdraw from particular states; efforts of high raters to keep rate structures in tact, and transfer of debtors among which raters."

Information is also asked "with respect to legislative campaigns supported by high rate lenders in various states during the past five years, either in opposition to the passage of model small loan laws or in the repeal or amendement of such laws already on the books."

Deficit In State Drops Steadily

AUSTIN, April 6. (U.P) — Deficit of the state's general revenue fund after payrolls are paid should drop to about $7,000,000—the lowest point in nine years—as a result of March tax collections, State Comptroller George H. Sheppard estmated today.

Sheppard said that under House bill eight, the tax bill which provides allocation of state money among the various funds, a monthly "clearance" is made by his office with the income from various taxes sent to the funds designated by law.

Deficit Is $10,677,832

The March clearance put $4,523,914 into the general revenue fund. Deficit of the fund March 31 was reported as $10,677,832.

Franchise taxes going into the general revenue fund amounted to $863,000, while the March clearance from occupation taxes on insurance companies was $2,749,936.

Collections Total $9,063,397

Under the omnibus tax bill, March collections totaled $9,063,397, of which $2,236,509 went to the available school fund; $58,333 to the blind assistance fund; $125,000 to the dependent children fund; $306,250 to teachers' retirement; $1,880,035 to old age assistance, and the general revenue fund allocation.

Meanwhile, State Treasurer Jesse James announced a call for warrants drawn through Oct. 31, 1943, on the general revenue fund, thereby reducing the deficit to $11,163, 624, the lowest since Aug. 20, 1937.

Amount of the new call was $2,578,878. All of the funds mentioned by Sheppard have not cleared into the Treasury for immediate use in retiring the deficit, James explained.

The general revenue deficit a year ago was $27,215,849.

Chaplin Jurors Report Receiving Threats In Calls By Telephone

HOLLYWOOD, April 6. (U.P) — Four of the 12 jurors who acquitted British Comedian Charlie Chaplin of white slavery charges today reported they had received threatening telephone calls which federal authorities attributed to cranks.

Mrs. Hazen M. Gill received one call from a woman asking her how she would "like to have her children attacked the way poor Joan Barry was attacked," and another criticizing her for acquitting a "foreigner."

A man called Mrs. Beatrice B. Allan and told her she had piled up a lot of trouble for herself by voting for acquittal. Mrs. Edythe Lewis was berated over the telephone by a woman who called herself "an American citizen." The jury foreman, Roscoe S. Reeder, said he received one call but hung up.

Meanwhile a federal prosecutor said the acquittal would not affect the government's prosecution of Chaplin and six others on a conspiracy count.

Coffee, chocolate and tea were among the first food products advertised in newspapers.

Farm Labor Program In Texas In Hands Of Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION, April 6. (U.P) — Responsibility for directing the government's farm labor program in Texas this year, it was announced today, has been assigned to the Texas A&M college extension service.

J. D. Prewit, acting extension director who will head the program, said today the 1944 job is a hard one— but not an impossible one if public schools youth groups and other organizations join to insure there will be plenty of workers on Texas farms.

In 1943, extension workers in Texas recruited and placed 487,272 workers requested by farmers at a cost of 57 cents per laborer placed.

Braised Dish Easily Fixed

As much as busy homemakers would like to find time to prepare some of the meat dishes they enjoy, they just can't make enough time to suit their needs. Even women who have accepted the responsibility of war-work, still have the responsibility of feeding their family.

Jessie Alice Cline, home economist, suggests that braised meat dishes can be drafted to solve this problem. Braised meat does not suffer if the cooking process is interrupted before the meat is served. It may be started cooking the night before, while the dishes are being done and finished the following evening before dinner. Of course, the meat must be refrigerated during the interval. Among the many meat cuts suitable for this method are veal and lamb breast, veal cutlet, pork chops, Swiss steak and potroast.

Meat may be braised in the oven or on top of the range. The method chosen will depend on the other food planned for the meal. Regardless of the method of cookery used, meat cuts braised in one piece need about 45 minutes to one hour per pound of simmering temperature cookery before they are ready to serve. Chops, cutlets and smaller pieces of meat will cook in a little less time.

Even if this cookery method is used frequently the family will not tire of it because there are countless brased meat recipes.

Here is an unusual treat for the family—a spiced pot-roast.

Spiced Pot Roast

4 pounds beef (rump, round, or shoulder)
½ cup of flour for dredging meat
Drippings for browning meat
2 onions
½ cup water
½ cup vinegar
2 bay leaves
½ teaspoon pepper
5 whole cloves.

Flour meat and brown on all sides in hot drippings. Slice the onions and place them on top of the meat. Add ½ cup of hot water. Add vinegar and spices. If preferred the spices may be put in a cheese cloth bag. Cover closely and cook in a slow oven (300 degree F.) or simmer on top of range for 3 hours. Thicken gravy and serve.

GOOD BODY BUILDERS

Don't overlook the food value and stick-to-the-rib qualities of dried peas and beans. No matter what their shape or color, among vegetables they come nearest to meat, eggs and milk and cheese as body builders.

Oh boy, bacon and rice custard! Line each of four muffin tins with two partly-cooked bacon strips. Combine 2 cups of cooked rice, 1 beaten egg, 2 tablespoons top milk, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley ⅛ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon paprika. Bake custard in 325 degree F. oven for about ½ hour. Serve with tomato or other sauce.

PROCESSED FOODS—Book four blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8, F8, G8, H8, J8, and K8 now valid and good indefinitely. Blue stamps L8, M8, N8, P8 and Q8, will be valid May 1 and good indefinitely.

SHOES—Book one stamp 18 valid through April 30. Book three airplane stamp 1 good indefinitely. A new stamp becomes valid May 1.

GASOLINE—11-A coupons good for three gallons through June 21. B-2, B-3, C-2 and C-3 coupons good for five gallons.

To separate chilled bacon strips without tearing, warm bacon strips in skillet or on broiler until they come apart easily.

Juicy frankfurts are a good buy, for there's no waste. Slice "franks" lengthwise and stuff with mashed potatoes, pickle relish, cheese and mustard, or sauerkraut. Secure with toothpicks, wrap with bacon, and broil or bake until bacon is crisp and meat sizzling hot.

For no-point meat scrapple, cook 3 pounds pork backbones until meat drops from bones. Add meat to mush made of 2 cups cornmeal and 2 quarts salted water. Add ½ teaspoon rubbed sage, pour into wet pans, chili, slice and fry brown.

Serve well-seasoned creamed left-over meats on rounds of bread lightly buttered and toasted; on French toast; in individual noodle or rice rings; in a pastry roll; in potato nests; in tomatoes, peppers, potatoes, cucumbers, apples, acorn squash; or on rounds of fried mush, grits, or eggplant.

FOR EASTER SUNDAY BRUNCH—The perfect climax for a bright Easter morning is Sunday brunch after church. You are sure to want something nice to serve the family and the above photograph shows a tempting way to prepare baked eggs. An Easter brunch would also be an ideal way to entertain a few of your friends and neighbors if you feel inclined to have a party. Deck the table with some Easter flowers, a bit of gay china and plenty of good food and rich, full-bodied coffee and your gathering is sure to be a great success. Grease individual baking dishes and fill each to depth of ½ inch with tomato, cheese or mushroom sauce. Break an egg into each dish and bake about 15 minutes in moderate oven (375°F.) until eggs are set. NOTE: Condensed tomato soup may be used for a sauce, or a medium-thick cream sauce may be flavored with cheese or sauteed mushrooms. Cream sauce may also be flavored with minced chives or cut, cooked asparagus.

Leftovers Have Found Their Respectful Place In Kitchen

Leftovers have come up in the world. Once shunned, they are now known hoity-toitily as "makings for a later meal" and are basis for succulent meat pies and crisply-browned hash. They prove good extenders of meat and meat points.

Good keeping is the first point. Store meat fats and juice from roasted or broiled meats as carefully and coldly as cooked meat. Remove most of the hardened fat from the top and use the brown juice for luscious gravy, cream sauce, and for flavoring hot vegetables. Test it first for salt content.

Save Cold Potatoes

Save cold potatoes for soup, stew or salad. Hash-brown or cream them with a bit of diced bacon or ham. Mashed potatoes make a fine topping for meat pie. Leftover cooked cereal can be molded with brown sausage as scrapple, or used as a binder for meat loaf or meat balls.

Don't waste good gravy flavor. Gravy's a tasty binder for hash and casseroles, and good flavoring for white sauce and some soups. Mix it with vegetables for extra goodness, too. Cover tightly for refrigeration so it won't absorb other flavors, and use it as soon as possible.

Here are some good receipes for using meaty carryovers:

Beef'n Biscuits

2 cups cooked beef, cut in small cubes
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup diced pimento
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
1 cup hot water
Salt and pepper
1 cup milk

Roll cubes of meat in flour and brown in meat fat in frying pan. Add chopped onion and celery. When well-sauteed, add hot water, milk and seasonings. Last of all, add chopped pimento stirring constantly until thickened. Make one receipe of baking powder biscuits, and serve hot with fricasseed beef between layers. Serves 5 or 6.

French-Toasted Sandwiches

1¼ cups ground cooked pork, beef or veal
½ cup diced celery
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
12 slices bread
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons fat

Mix together meat, celery, green pepper, onion, salt, pepper, lemon juice, and mayonnaise. Use generously in sandwiches. Mix eggs, salt, and milk. Dip both sides of sandwiches into egg mixture and pan-fry in hot lard until nicely browned on both sides. Serve immediately. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Chow Mein

2 cups cooked pork, cubed
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons lard or meat drippings
1 cup boiling water
1 bouillon cube
1½ cups chopped celery
½ green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ cup cold water.

Salt the pork. Brown pork and onion in fat. Add boiling water in which is dissolved bouillon cube, cover, and simmer over low heat for 20 minutes. Add celery and green pepper, and cook 10 minutes, or until vegetables are just tender. Mix together cornstarch, soy sauce and cold water. Add to meat mixture and stir until thickened. Serve on steaming hot rice.

ALMOND IN ICE CREAM

Almonds make an excellent ingredient for homemade ice cream. They contain more than fifty two per cent fat and thus give the dessert the richness we like.

KITCHEN KORNER

If your roast outlasts the gravy, slice and reheat it in flavorful sauce. Barbecued beef, pork or lamb slices are a tasty lot. Shred 2 medium-sized onions into a heavy skillet and mix with 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon salt, ¾ cup catsup, 1 teaspoon chili powder, and ¾ cup water. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes. Add meat slices and heat through.

New use for meat drippings! Try a cooked salad dressing. Mix 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon mustard, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, and blend with ¼ cup melted meat drippings. Add 1 cup cold milk and stir constantly until thickened. Cover and cook over bailing water for 5 minutes longer. Stir part of mixture into 1 beaten egg, and combine with rest of sauce. Stir and cook for a few minutes. Add 1-3 cup vinegar slowly and continue to cook until thick.

Salvaging fat requires organization, too! Keep two glass containers in the refrigerator, one labeled "drippings" and one labeled "salvage." Into the first pour bacon, sausage, pork, beef and other drippings that can be used for cooking. Into the second strain fats that have no cooking value. Every tablespoon saved is important!

Hollow out leftover small rolls, spread lightly on the inside with enriched margarine or meat drippings and toast in a slow oven. Fill to overflowing with tasty meat stew.

The ancient Egyptians made coffins of cork.

ROLL OLIVES IN OIL

To prevent ripe olives from shriveling or becoming grayish looking upon long standing, roll them in a few drops of oil. They maintain their attractive shiny appearance indefinitely.

One pound of used fats yields enough glycerine for 73 smallpox inoculations, or 1.5 pounds of gunpowder. One pound of used fats is just 31 tablespoons full. Save a tablespoonsful a day, turn it in for cash and extra ration points.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Serve Star Ham for your Easter Dinner

Even with rationing, you can enjoy America's most delicious Ham for a real American meal! Here's how:

To serve four, ask your meat man for a 1¼ inch slice of Armour's Star Ham—the tenderest, finest flavored ham ever! Sugar-cured . . . mellowed over fragrant hickory and hardwood fires . . . wonderfully delicious! Score the fat edge of the ham so it will lie flat and place in casserole. Cover and bake 30 minutes in 325° F. oven. Uncover; add ¼ cup brown sugar and continue baking uncovered another 40 to 45 minutes or until tender. Serve with peanut covered sweet potato balls, made as follows:

Mash 1½ cups cooked sweet potatoes. Blend with ¼ tsp. salt, pepper to taste, and shape into round balls. One and one-half cups should make 8 balls. Chop enough salted peanuts to make ½ to ¾ cup. Roll sweet potato balls in chopped peanuts and bake in 325° F. oven for 20 to 30 minutes. The flavor is new and intriguing . . . and the food is especially nutritious.

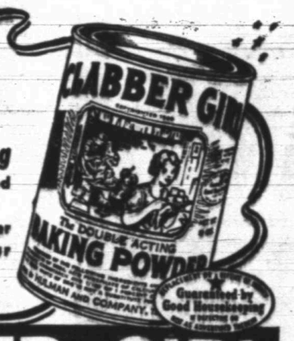

Save this recipe from the Armour Kitchens and follow it for your Easter Dinner!

Would You Say A Chocolate Bar is "Habit-Forming"?

Not really. And cola drinks? They aren't either. How about tea? Hmmm! And coffee? Well, well—the modern generation! Indeed, yes. Unknowing people actually used to believe coffee is "habit forming." This fallacy arose from the fact coffee contains caffeine. Of course it does. That's why it accomplishes the wonders medical science so generously credits it. Cocoa, tea, and other foods contain caffeine, some in even greater quantities. But who would accuse an innocent chocolate bar? Drink a cup of delicious, aromatic Admiration Coffee any time your taste dictates. You'll enjoy the pick-up, thrill to its richness—and ask for a refill! This superb blend of choice, full-flavored coffees, roasted to perfection, comes to you oven-fresh in the Lamofilm Package.

Admiration Coffee

TEXAS' LARGEST SELLER

Foolish Fables People Used to Believe About Coffee

"TOO YOUNG"

Twenty-one used to be the minimum "age of reason" for coffee drinking. Another silly bugaboo was that coffee "stunted the growth." Many a six footer fancied himself a miracle!

"TWO CUPS"

Even sillier was the one about two cups. One cup was all right. But two cups—that kept you awake. Sometimes generations garbled the legend and reversed the order.

"CAUSES ACIDITY"

Coffee in itself can't. Poorly made coffee, like poorly fried fish, can. But coffee got all the blame. Science has since discovered that some people are allergic to coffee—just as they are to strawberries, milk, wheat, etc.

State's Old Age Assistance Gains

AUSTIN, April 6. (AP) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today received from the department of public welfare an administrative report showing $48,500,000 expended for social security in Texas in 1943 of which $44,337,874 was for old age assistance.

The amount for old age aid nearly tripled that expended in 1940, which was $15,672,177. At that time there was an average old age roll of 119,717, and the average monthly check was $10.91.

Average Roll 182,785

For 1943 the average roll was 182,785 and the average payment $20.22. It is said approximately 43,000 receive the maximum of $30 a month.

During 1943 the report shows that the average payment for blind dependents and for dependent children also were above $20 a month.

Aid to blind was extended to an average of 4,427 people with an average check of $24.03 a month and a total distribution of $1,276,596.

Children's Aid Given

Children's aid went to an average of 11,604 families monthly during the year and the average check was $21.31. Expenditure was $2,967,554.

The old age assistance record for three months shows an average of 178,443 on the rolls, average monthly distribution of approximately $3,775,000. Average checks were $21.14 April's average check is $21.23.

The report includes only funds handled by the welfare department. Omitted are unemployment compensation payment payments.

Regular Reading Of New Testament Asked

AUSTIN, April 6. (AP) — A million Texans were asked today to begin a regular reading of the New Testament to keep faith with the men on the fighting fronts.

The American Bible society and Texas churches are sponsoring the reading of the scriptures on a regular schedule which would call for completion of the book in three months.

The Rev. Thomas T. Holloway of Dallas, in Austin to enlist the aid of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson in the program, said that if an individual will read three chapters every day, the New Testament can be completed in three months. Holloway and the Rev. Frank W. Langham of Dallas are southwestern secretaries of the American Bible society, which has furnished 2,500,000 New Testaments to service men without charge.

Permits Granted For Increased Valley Crop

HARLINGEN, April 6. (AP) — State department of agriculture permits have been granted for planting of 301,967 acres of cotton in the lower Rio Grande valley this season, 82,000 acres more than last year, it was announced today by W. E. Conn of the U. S. pink bollworm office here where the permits are tabulated.

Blighted potatoes and damaged tomatoes have resulted in vegetables being plowed up and more land planted to cotton.

Totals by counties were Cameron 104,794, Hidalgo 99,200, Willacy 71,496.

Willkie Withdrawal Brings Talk Of Dewey-Warren Slate

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 6—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey showed the first tangible gain today from the withdrawal of Wendell L. Willkie from the GOP presidential nomination contest as talk in political circles increased of a Republican ticket composed of the New Yorker and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

The 42-year-old former rackets prosecutor picked up a New York delegate who had been counted in Willkies claimed column, thus raising his claimed support to 83 out of New York's 85 unpledged district delegates and his total to a minimum of 133 out of the 276 GOP delegates so far chosen. A total of 530 is necessary for a nomination.

One From Syracuse

The New Yorker who went over to Dewey's side was Rolland B. Marvin, Onondaga (Syracuse) Republican county chairman, who said that in view of the vote in Wisconsin, giving Dewey a possible 18 out of the 24 delegates and Willkie none, he would "unreservedly" support Dewey. Two other New York delegates remained uncommitted.

Meanwhile those who predict a Dewey-Warren ticket were arguing this way: In view of the fact that the Republicans have demonstrated much strength in the midwest and the South is traditionally Democratic, the crucial election battlegrounds this year will be the east and the west. Warren comes from the west's most populous state, just as Dewey represents the biggest in the east.

Moreover, it is argued, the addition of Warren to the ticket might be calculated to attract many voters who supported Willkie because of his international views. Warren had advocated an international police force to prevent future aggression.

Dewey's State Platform

It was recalled also that Dewey's 1942 gubernatorial platform urged force, if necessary, to preserve peace.

Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) said there has been a lot of talk among California Republicans of Gov. Warren's prospects on a ticket with Gov. Dewey, but that they considered Warren also as presidential timber.

While the Dewey-Warren boosters were active, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, who, with Rep. Dirksen, of Illinois, are the only active campaigners for the presidential nomination now in the field, told newsmen at Columbus that he hoped to get a share of the Willkie strength.

Bricker spoke in Indianapolis tonight. He speaks in Chicago tomorrow night and then goes to the west coast for a nine-day swing.

Supporters of Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen also predicted a march to their camp of some of the Willkie followers.

Willkie refused to amplify his withdrawal statement during a stop-over in Chicago en route to New York.

"You know as much about that as I do," he said when asked whether Gov. Dewey would be the GOP nominee.

Willkie still left unanswered the big question whether he would support the convention's choice and what he woud do if the selection did not come within his own specifications.

At York, Neb., last Sunday night, the 1940 nominee said it was "inconceivable to me that the . . . convention will be so stupid as to nominate anyone that the millions of people who believe as I do could not as a matter of conscience support."

Alfred T. Howell Is Killed In California

Death came to Alfred T. Howell, 68, Roscoe, Calif., former Lubbock resident, instantly Friday afternoon, March 24, when he was struck by a train at a crossing behind the Lockheed Aircraft plant, Burbank, Calif., where he was employed.

Carrying a radio under one arm and a lunch kit under the other, and holding his head down against a strong wind, he stepped onto the tracks directly in front of a short work train that was backing. Screams of frantic onlookers failed to halt him until he looked up just as he was borne down to his death.

He and his family lived in Lubbock county and in Lubbock itself for many years.

He is survived by five children, the youngest three of whom attended the Lubbock public schools; Lt. Woodrow G. Howell, Tank Destroyer Battalion, based in England; Sgt. James P. Howell, Ft. Bragg, N. C.; Murray T. Howell, U. S. N. R., based in Hawaii; Mrs. Alton G. Goldwater, (Annie Wood Howell), Big Pine, Calif., and Mrs. Carl R. Twyford (Mary Loch Howell), 406 Avenue X, Lubbock.

Other survivors include his wife, Mrs. Agnes L. Howell, whom he married last year; Mrs. Serena Akeson, Hale Center, a sister; and R. B. C. Howell, Plainview and El Paso, a brother.

Gordon Advises Flock Culling

"Flood the market with roosters" is a slogan Lubbock county poultrymen should adopt now that the spring hatching season is over, in the opinion of Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agent. Poultry authorities agree two roosters will consume as much feed as three high producing hens, and certainly there is more profit in feeding the hens.

There is a lot of confusion regarding egg prices, price ceilings and feed prices, but Gordon believes the experienced farm poultryman can still make a profit. He must consider the poultry enterprise essential to the farming operation, and observe closely those those "horse sense" principles of good poultry management. Some of these are proper feeding, clean houses that are properly ventilated so there are no musty odors, and rigid control of worms and lice. The poultryman cannot tolerate "boarders" in his flock so a systematic culling program should be followed.

Culling Simple Job

Culling is a simple job that anyone can do, Gordon explains. Just remove the birds that do not look healthy and you pretty well have the solution to culling.

Sell off the roosters now so maybe the hens will have proper amount of floor space. Each hen should have at least three square feet, so if the poultry house is 10 by 12 feet it would accommodate not more than 40 birds.

The "home market" offers the best opportunity for these young roosters, Gordon said. They should be removed from the flock and placed on a fattening ration for about 14 days before killing. They will make good chicken salad sandwich spread, and provide the family meat budget for several days.

Rent Registration Is Being Held In Slaton

The area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q, reported Thursday afternoon that 184 landlords in Slaton had registered rental property there through Wednesday night. It was expected that approximately another 100 would register there Thursday.

The total registration for the county has now reached a total of 5,882, Earl W. Heath, area rent director for the OPA said.

Heath pointed out that the final date for registration is April 15. Those who do not register before that date can be prosecuted, with a stiff penalty as the result.

Navy Procurement Board To Be In City

A special procurement board, headed by Lt. Ralph E. Binnion, will make its headquarters at the Hilton hotel in Lubbock on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11-12, the office of Naval procurement in Dallas has announced.

The board will also consist of Lt. J. W. McMurry and Comdr. C. D. Hunter, senior medical officer of the Dallas office.

During their stay in Lubbock the officers will be prepared to interview and give physical examinations to qualified applicants for commissions.

Lt. Binnion said his party will arrive in Lubbock Sunday night, but will not be able to interview applicants for commissions until Tuesday. The full day Monday must be devoted to processing 40 V-12 applicants who already have been notified of their selection.

Requirements for a commission in the naval reserve remain substantially unchanged, the Navy said. Physical requirements have not been relaxed and a college degree is still necessary. While it has been announced that the program for procurement of general sea duty officers is proving most successful, there is still a need for young men with engineering degrees. Physically qualified men, 34 years of age or younger, with at least two years of college and 5 years of good business experience, are requested to contact the procurement board during its stay in Lubbock.

Dunbar Chorus Sings At Kiwanis Luncheon

Making their third appearance in as many weeks at Lubbock service club luncheons, the Dunbar (negro) High school choral club entertained the Kiwanis club in their luncheon Thursday noon at the Lubbock hotel. The entertainers, under the direction of Lillian Struggs, had made appearances recently at the Rotary and Lions club luncheons.

Ada Bell Houston, talented vocalist of the group, sang "City Called Heaven" as an added feature of the program. The group sang several negro spirituals. E. C. Struggs, principal of the school, announced the numbers.

Rev. H. G. Gantz was program chairman and the luncheon was presided over by the president, T. E. Buckner.

A purse of $40.17 was presented the chorus by members of the club following their program. The purse which will go for music and equipment for the singers, was raised by a voluntary collection among Kiwanians.

Continued Nazi Fight Risks Complete Reich Exhaustion

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP) — Mobilized economic strength of the United Nations now is "overwhelmingly greater" than Germany, the Foreign Economic administration (FEA) said today, and the Nazis can fight on effectively only at the expense of exhausting the Reich to a point unparalleled in centuries.

"The sheer weight of the Allied striking power in munitions and the materials to make them is so great that—when fully brought to bear in the land, sea and air operations to come—victory is certain," said a statement by Leo T. Crowley, FEA administrator.

Aircraft production by the United States, Russia and Great Britain already is four times the German output, Crowley said, and the supply of alloys for steel manufacture in the United States alone is many times as great.

Still A Tough Enemy

He warned, however, that the Nazis can wage war "toughly" if they are willing to produce an economic collapse in Germany unequalled since the 30 years war and want to load terrible economic privations on the German people."

Despite Allied bombings, industrial Germany, the FEA chief continued, the Nazi military machine "is still supported by a powerful war industry."

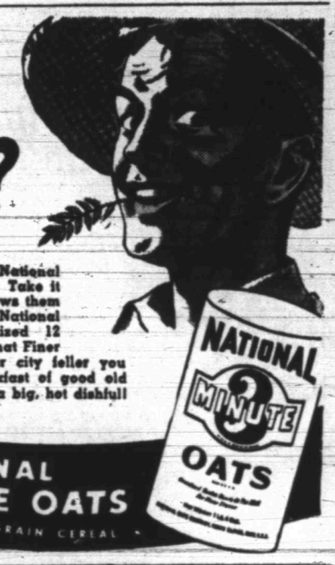

The inadequacy of this industry in the face of present and future land, air and sea operations of the United Nations "does not alter the fact that German war industry is still great in absolute terms," Crowley said.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

There Must Be A Way Out

ATTEMPTS to argue the right or wrong of of the Supreme court decision which forbids the exclusion of negroes from Democratic party primaries in Texas would be futile. Arguments won't change opinions on this opposition.

But the supposition seems reasonable that, in terms of long range values, the decision may hurt the Supreme court worse than anyone, or anything else. The prestige of the court is almost sure to suffer.

Only nine years ago, this same court, but with a widely different personnel, handed down exactly the reverse of the ruling of the other day. In 1935, the court ruled positively that white, southern voters could hold their own primaries. Does this mean that the court has descended to the point where its decisions will stand only until an administration of differing political views comes into power? Does it mean that rulings of the court are only reflections of the political policies of the administration by power of which the majority of the justices serve?

The Supreme court of the United States should be our most revered and repeated body. Above all other official groups, it should be aloof from suspicion. The rank and file of Americans want to look upon their Supreme court as being something more than an ordinary group of individuals serving in appointive public office. Certainly they want it above pressure politics and political maneuvering. We, therefore, do not charge that politics, or political maneuvering had anything to do with the recent decision. But, even so, we cannot forget that seven of the eight members who joined in the decision are the appointees of the administration headed by Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt. By way of contrast, let it be remembered that the Supreme court which nine years age upheld the "white man's primary" represented six presidential administrations.

However, we can't believe that those who disagree with the decision should worry greatly. For our part, we are confident that if the white Democrats of Texas—and the South—are sufficiently anxious to conduct their exclusive primaries, they will be sufficiently ingenious to devise the way of doing it in a manner so strictly legal as to be beyond the directive of any court.

The Rickenbacker Record

IT might be better for America's warbird's if they—and everyone else—could forget for awhile that Eddie Rickenbacker was credited officially with shooting down 26 German planes in the other war to become the U. S. "ace of aces."

No one could have any desire to deprive Capt. Rickenbacker of any credit for his achievement. But neither could anyone—Rickenbacker probably most of all—have any wish that the eagerness or desire to equal and surpass the record of the other war should lead a single pilot into added danger.

It is entirely possible, of course, that anxiety to match the Rickenbacker achievements has had nothing to do with a single American air casualty in this war. Coincidence and the law of averages may explain the fact that several American fliers have been shot down while within close striking distance of becoming the new ace of aces. It would seem logical that any man engaged in a life-and-death battle would be too busy to give thought to any deeds of more than a quarter-century ago.

On the other hand, it is a fact that any pilot credited with a considerable number of enemy planes immediately is exposed to comparisons with the Rickenbacker record. Such things might or might not have an effect upon him. That would depend entirely upon the individual. But it certainly is conceivable that it might impose, consciously or unconsciously, an added psychological burden at a moment of terrific strain when the pilot needs everything he has to escape disaster. It might increase tension just a little at a moment when a little could mean everything.

Obviously, it would be absurd to suggest that forgetfulness of the Rickenbacker record would be possible t oachieve. Every pilot knows what he did. Nor would a pilot be quite human if he did not re-act in some degree to the consciousness that he might surpass the record.

But, since complete disregard of Rickenbacker's achievements would be impossible, it might help a little to soft-peddle them as much as possible for awhile.

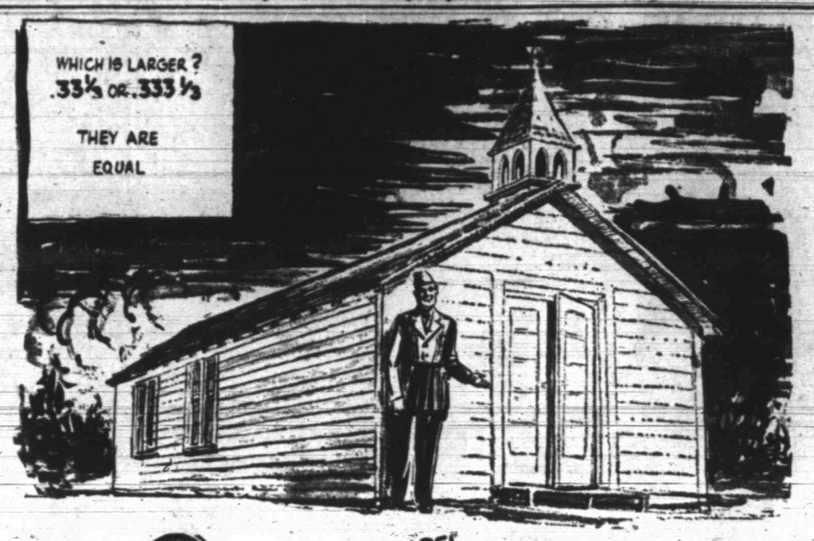

"If a person drinks more than a quart of whiskey a day, he very likely will suffer from beri-beri," says a physician. Yes. And also from the willie-willies.

Science Solves More Problems Hampering Synthetic Product

But We Still Need Lots Of Real Rubber

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

AKRON.—Digging around in the mysteries of the tire situation, I have come upon some facts which are not generally known about rubber. They should be helpful in explaining why we can't have tires for some time to come.

Synthetic rubber is not rubber at all. It is a plastic, just like your hairbrush is a plastic, or drinking cup on the bathroom shelf. It has the same chemical formula as rubber that comes from trees: each contains five atoms of carbon and eight atoms of hydrogen. But they are arranged differently—and that different arrangement causes the end product to act very differently.

HEATH

Take two sheets of natural rubber, moisten one with a bit of benzene to soften it up, put them together, and they will stick as though glued. Do the same with synthetic rubber and nothing happens. Under similar treatment, natural rubber flows from machines in a soft, workable mass, while "synthetic rubber" is wavy, lumpy, uneven.

• • •

TAKES MORE TIME

So synthetic rubber has to be worked much longer; it has to be given treatments in addition to those used for natural rubber. Natural rubber has to be used for a binder with synthetic rubber. And whereas the use of natural rubber is well systematized, because its response to various treatments is very uniform, every step in the process of utilizing synthetic rubber has to be watched with great care by experts, so that necessary modifications can be made in the processes.

These things take time—the time of workers, machinery, and of skilled chemists and engineers.

When all these things have been done, and you get a permit and buy a synthetic tire, why can't you safely step out at the old 55 or 60 miles an hour?

The explanation I had been given previously was that synthetic rubber doesn't stand the heat generated by use as well as natural rubber does.

Dr. Howard Fritz, research director for the B. F. Goodrich company, says this is not correct. General purpose synthetic, he says, will stand more heat than natural rubber. But it will not stand as much more heat as it generates.

• • •

HEATED BY USE

On Goodrich laboratory machines, tests have shown that under similar usage natural rubber develops 253 degrees Fahrenheits, but synthetic rubber develops 290 degrees.

This generation of heat through the expansion and contraction of rubber is known as the Joule effect. The faster your tires turn over, flattening as part of the surface comes in contact with the road and then expanding as the tire rolls, the greater the heat. The bigger the load on your tires, the more they flatten and then expand, and the more heat they generate.

This heat causes the rubber to harden, become brittle, separate one ply from another. Eventually, if you are watching your tries, you may see blisters and bulges. Perhaps the first warning you will have is a blowout.

Even more serious, perhaps, than the effect on the synthetic rubber is the effect on the fabric cords. Cotton wan't stand the terrific heat generated in synthetic tires. Rayon is better, but not good enough, and there isn't enough rayon. Under such heat, the frabic disintegrates, and the tire goes to pieces.

So we come to an explanation why we must have natural rubber for war purposes. Heavy duty tires, running overloaded at high speed for long periods, would deteriorate quickly if they were synthetic. Natural rubber has to be used as binder and in the piles, where synthetic is not sticky enough and where heat is generated worst, with synthetic outside to save natural rubber.

• • •

NEW FORMULA USED

THE day I visited Dr. Fritz the Goodrich company was announcing a new synthetic which is an enormous improvement over the presen. general purpose type. It can be made with the present equipment merely by adding a "certain abundant natural material" which results in improving stickiness and increasing resistance to heat.

Enough of this new material, which of course cannot be named, is available right now to relieve a little of the bottleneck for critical military purposes. As much more can be made as is wanted, without competition with other war needs; but to do this plants will have to be built, which will require steel, manpower and some time. The discovery is being made aballable to the entire industry.

This improvement is important both for itself and also as evidence that the defects in synthetic can be removed, given time. It took decades to learn to use natural rubber properly. The rubber industry has had only a few years of experience with synthetic.

If Hitler and Hirohito hold out a while longer, the industry probably will even discover why synthetic tires skid worse than natural rubber tires on snow and ice, though they hold bette ron wet pavements.

The lightweight mineral, magnesium, invaluable in the war effort, was first identified in 1808.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THERE'S a funny habit I have—and it's fun. Every time something impresses me I take out any old piece of paper and make a note.

At the end of the day, I have five or six of these things, some of them on the backs of envelopes, some of them on bills, some even on my match boxes.

Sometimes I get material that way for writing one of these columns. Sometimes the notes just help me to relieve the day. Sometimes I forgot what it was all about.

Here are a few of today's notes:

"Foolish to worry so much about housekeeping when meals take only an hour or so out of 24."

"You can run away on vacations all you want, but you can't run away from yourself."

"No matter how many good deeds you do, people remember the one bad one."

Here's one on a matchbox:

"Only the ignorant know everything."

And this one on a piece of newspaper:

"The greatest punishment is not punishment itself, but fear of punishment."

• • •

I won't bore you by telling you how I came to take these notes. But every one of them is based on something that happened during the day.

So many people complain that their lives are monotonous, that nothing ever happens to them.

If you keep your eyes and your ears and particularly your heart open, there need never be a dull moment even in the most severely regimented life.

The interesting things are not necessarily the exciting events.

Of course, anybody can get a big thrill out of a spectacular show or picturesque journey or a colorful party.

But must those whose lot it is to stay at home be condemned to monotony and boredom?

I certainly don't think so.

• • •

LOOK out of your window. Isn't that a robin outside. Watch him, you'll get fun out of his antics. And how about the narcissus and the tulips and the forsythia. They're getting ready for their party—a party in your honor, for your enjoyment.

How long since you and your family have really studied each other, enjoyed each other's companionship, given each other of the many things you have to give?

Monotony and boredom are your own fault. They mean that you have hardening of the soul and undernourishment of the heart.

I, too, like fun and diversion and theater and music and laughter.

But, like most of us, I have to depend primarily on the fun that comes from inside and for which there is no war tax nor cover charge.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

REPUBLICAN bigwigs are scared stiff that the imaginative Franklin Roosevelt may stage a military coup designed to shove their June convention, in Chicago from the headlines and microphones. Under such circumstances the public might have to scour the want add or comic pages to ascertain the names on their presidential slate.

To the layman unversed in inside partisan maneuvering, such a fear may appear fantastic and as childish as suspicions of a "bogeyman". But the "coincidences" between dramatic, Roosevelt-managed shows and GOP billings have been so numerous that the superstitious politicians do not regard them as accidental happenings. Here is only a partial list:

Few days before the opposition assembled in Philadelphia for its 1940 selection of a ticket, FDR announced that he had named two of its most respected patriarchs to his cabinet — Henry Stimson and Frank Knox. One humorous reaction at Philly was the remark, "In giving up Stimson and Knox for ex-Democrat Wendell Willkie, we got the better of that trade!"

In September, as Willkie was about to start out on his campaign, Cordell Hull startled the nation with news of the destroyer-British bases cwap. Negotiations for both these events had been concluded long before they were broadcast, according to men who participated in them.

The North African invasion of November 1942 was scheduled for two weeks before the off-year balloting on November third, military experts disclose. But it was unavoidably delayed by organizational difficulties, and our troops did not go ashore into French fire until four days after the polls had closed.

• • •

CHURCHILL: Perhaps the most spectacular interference on a Republican historic anniversary—Lincoln's Birthday of 1943.

The President had not returned from the Casablanca conference in time to attend the White House Correspondents' association dinner as originally scheduled, and the newspapermen postponed it at his cabled suggestion to Steve Early, instead of holding it in his absence. It caused great inconvenience in view of war pressures on the hotel, entertainers, out-of-town guests and the reporters, but Mr. Roosevelt's request was a "command."

Although he rarely speaks formally at these affairs, he notified the Arrangements committee that he intended to use the party as a forum for giving a radio account of his conference with Winston Churchill.

• • •

POWWOW: For several weeks after his return to the Capital, he kept putting off the date, but he finally picked—of all days— February 12. As a result, 2,000 GOP dinners honoring their first President might have been basement church suppers or amateur theatricals for all the publicity they received.

When the Republicans' most illustrious figures—Tom Dewey, John Bricker, Earl Warren, Arthur Vandenberg, Bob Taft, Harrison Spangler— assembled at Macinac Island in September, 1943, the British Prime Minister skipped from the White House to Harvard university.

At Cambridge he delivered a portentous speech which also had fourth-term implications. The reporters at the Michigan resort were so busy getting comment on Churchill's remarks that they almost forgot their original assignment. Few people know yet what the exiles did or said at their most important powwow since the 190 convention.

• • •

"BURROCRATS": Negotiations for establishment of a new agency to regulate the coal industry have been stalled temporarily by FDR's insistence that the government dominate the proposed setup.

Both the operators and miners are bucking the administration's demand. The owners and the unions want some federal direction so that possible postbellum dislocation will not precipitate wage cuts, price wars and loss of markets. Behind their move, however, lies a desire to regain control of their own business rather than to continue as subjects of Washington.

They favor a three-man commission representing industry, labor and Uncle Sam, with a minimum of government domination. Arbitrary rulings by political podestas during the life of the Guffey Coal act led both groups to holler, "Never again!" They could probably reach an agreement quickly, although some operators are holding out, if it were not for the insistence on one-man supervision by Fuel Czar Harold Ickes or one of his appointees. That prospect has made these ancient enemies—the unions and the corporations—virtual brothers-in-arms.

The United Mine Workers' Journal, the mouthpiece of John L. Lewis, attacks the administration viewpoint as follows:

"In the face of the hostile attitude of Congress against continued burrocratic control, this resentment against domination by Burrocratic whims and wishes, even though backed by the President, is so pronounced—as evidenced by the overwhelming vote of Congress to override the President's veto of the Tax bill because the premise of the veto was the handiwork of Burrocrats—that the industry cannot expect success, even though the miners and operators were jointly aligned in seeking legislation which would have a burrocratic administration.

Note: Genial K. C. Adams, the Journal's editor, always refers to "bureaucrats" as "burrocrats."

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE growing doubt concerning Moscow's intentions was noted in this space yesterday. A solution to the problem is offered today—the consensus of expert opinion of American leaders who have ranked high in diplomatic positions:

The United States appreciates the Soviet contribution to the eradication of Nazi despotism. Without subscribing to Communist doctrines, we value Russia's performance on the battlefield as a tremendous aid to the Anglo-American military campaign. The two capitalistic democracies in turn will relieve the USSR even more than in the past when we open the invasion.

We must, however, add that recent unexplained moves by the Kremlin cause many to suspect that the Soviet Union plans to ram her own brand of peace settlements down the throats of border nations without consulting Washington and London and without the collaboration of its chief partners.

But Uncle Sam does not have to sit idly by wringing his hands, if the failure of Woodrow Wilson taught us anything.

• • •

PLEAD: Wilson's idealistic generalities supplied the moral shot in the arm in the last war but he was not sufficiently specific in a down-to-earth program.

Britain, Belgium and France had their backs to the wall. Before we crossed swords with the kaiser, the President could have forced the Allies to sign on the dotted line below specific guarantees in peace arrangements, as the price of our assistance. But he was too proud to barter.

At first, London and Paris wanted only munitions and a token AEF. But when Czarist Russia collapsed and Hindenburg hurled his entire might against the Western front, Lloyd George and Clemenceau frantically begged for millions of Yanks. Again Wilson could have dickered, but he let the opportunity slip.

One minute after 11 a. m. on Armistice Day the American President had lost his bargaining power.

Or, as a member of his government admitted to the writer this week, "In the months before the war ended, he could have had anything. After the defeat of Germany he had to plead even for ships to take home the American Army and it was a long time before this simple request was kranted."

When the high-speed, streamlined, super-super post-war car goes into mass production, the pedestrian will wish he had been descended from the kangaroo instead of the monkey.

"Is this country headed for bankruptcy?" asks an editor. Well, we don't know. But we do know that Uncle Sam is like anybody else, in that if he puts too much on the cuff he'll lose his shirt.

State Is Having Manpower Troubles, Due To Draft

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, April 6 (U.P.)—A call upon Texas Secretary of State Sidney Latham by his draft board to report for physical examination presaged the state government losing many key men in the latest drive for military manpower.

Following a state general policy, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said no request for deferment would be made if Latham is called for duty.

A similar decision was announced by the State Railroad commission for Jack Baumel, the commission production engineer and chief technical adviser on oil and gas matters.

The State Safety department lost so many men to the armed forces, that Col. Homer Garrison, department director, had to apply for deferment on some of the men. These deferments expire May 9.

Already about 200 former State Highway police are in national service. The State Highway department was hard hit early in the war, when its technical staff was badly depleted to provide men for the various engineering programs that war necessitated.

The State Insurance department recenly listed more than a fourth of its specially trained men lost as a result of the war. Chairman O. P. Lockhart was driven to inquiring if one man could hold two jobs.

• • •

U. S. "Pirates" Help

It is not the men and women going into the armed service, however, that is giving the state departments their greatest difficulty.

Federal agencies are taking workers from the state departments at an alarming rate. A state veterans administration division finds its men accepting places in the federal veterans' administration service because in the federal job they get double the pay possible under the state scale.

• • •

THE next state budget, now being prepared, is expected to recommend approximately 15 per cent advance for all state workers who receive less than $2,000 per year under the present appropriation.

This increase is computed in expectation that when the new appropriaions become effective, September 1, 1946, the war will be over.

There will be another boon to state workers by that time, state officials hope. By then they hope the deficit in the state general revenue fund will have been eliminated.

This will mean that all state workers will be able to cash their warrants at full face value without waiting for several months. Now if they want cash, those paid from the general fund must discount the warrants from one to two per cent.

All For Naught

A man who admittedly passed "hot" check to acquire wearing apparel fit to lead the Easter parade will not get a chance to wear his new clothes.

Instead the man, Paul W. Parker, of Houston, will wear blue denim and sit out the boulevard stroll in jail. He is faced with two forgery charges in district court. He pleaded guilty to swindling in the county court.

• • •

AN elderly Houston man paid an extra $10 for his education in traffic court procedure.

He said he thought police were kidding when he was arrested for jaywalking.

He added that he "plumb forgot" to follow through on a ticket for driving through a boulevard stop sign. The man pleaded that "he didn't know how such things worked."

Advising him to "get educated," the judge fined him the extra $10 for his violations. He left the court room, admittedly a sadder but wiser man.

Not Much Fun

The job of dog-catcher is no picnic, according to the report of the city manager of Fort worth.

Of the 437 live dogs picked up during February, 258 were destroyed immediately because they were diseased, and 163 more were destroyed after being impounded. A grand total of 665 canine casualties were recorded counting the 244 dogs picked up dead in the streets.

BERTHA MOORE, of Fort Worth, still is puzzled and disappointed over an unexpected telephone call she received the other night.

When she answered the telephone, a male voice inquired if this was "Aunt Bertie" and then replied in the affirmative when she asked if it were "Jack" calling.

Naturally she was overjoyed to hear that her nephew, Pfc. Jack Griffin, had arrived in town and was coming out to see her.

But after an anxious hour of waiting and still no Jack, she telephoned his parents to see what had caused the delay.

It was news to the Giffins that their son was supposed to be there—particularly since they have been writing to him at an APO number.

So Aunt Bertie and the Giffins reached the sorrowful conclusion that some other "Jack" must have called the wrong "Aunt Bertie."

Five Men Die In Icy Water After Buddies Are Rescued

By DOUGLAS WERNER
United Press War Writer

A U. S. FLYING FORTRESS BASE IN ENGLAND, April 6 (U.P.) Five American fliers stayed behind and died in the icy waters of the English Channel when the overloaded rescue boat pulled away with their five comrades.

It was bitterly cold when the pilot crash-landed the Flying Fortress in the channel after it had been riddled with flak.

Rescue Boat Cheered

Thirty minutes later, they cheered at the sight of an air-sea rescue boat racing toward them. It hove to some distance away and sent over a rowboat. The water was too shallow for it to come closer. The rowboat could only pick up five at a time, and there were 10 of them and there was no time to choose those who would go and those who would stay—to die.

Radio operator T/Sgt. Edmund Crafton, Portageville, Mo., was one of the five the rowboat crew hauled aboard.

"The waves were breaking over the rowboat and it barely stayed on top of the water," Crafton said. "Two boys in the boat were out cold. Two others were lying on the floor and I was sitting on the end, shivering. I had gone out myself and came to when they put a coat on me. I wish I could have remained conscious, because the cold made me suffer so much.

To Numb To Talk

"Pickard. Don't let them go away and leave us."

"But Pickard couldn't hear," Crafton said. "I was unable to talk, I was so numb. Someone tossed a rope and one of the boys in the water grabbed it.

"We tried to tow them along, but his hands were just too numb. The rope gradually slipped out of his grasp."

The rowboat transferred its cargo to the patrol boat and went back for the others.

"Four of them were dead by the time we got back," Crafton said. "The fifth one they never did find."
