OVERCROWDED SCIENCE AREA

'The Battle Of The Bulge'

How do you crowd eight classes of students into a seven period day with only one classroom available?

Olton High School science department is doing just that right now.

It is also being faced with classes averaging 26 students when the science lab only has space for 16 students.

"Crowded and inadequate" is the way James Caley, science instructor, describes the department in a report to Olton school trustees.

Turstees asked for the report after they took under consideration a building program which includes expansion in the science department.

Caley pointed out that the present facilities consist of one combination laboratory-classroom, 22 by 33 feet, and a storeroom, 8 by 12 feet.

Classroom seating is provided for 30 students and laboratory space for 16.

Approximately 70 percent of the student body is enrolled in the eight science classes offered, of which there are three in general science, three in biology, one in chemistry and one in physics.

Due to the seven period day, the chemistry class and one of the biology classes alternate days in the science room with general science classes.

In the classroom area, desks are spaced tightly and, in the laboratory, the 16 stations are obviously inadequate.

"This crowding encourages discipline problems, decreases safety and hinders learning," Caley says.

He points out that space for the maintenance of continuing experiments is a serious problem noting that sharing the science room often results in difficulty in planning and in carrying out effective lessons.

"For example," he says, "If the biology classes should require daily observation or continuation of an experiment, general science classes would have to do without using the facilities at a time when use of the room is essential to their learning."

The reverse situation could also be true.

Storage is another problem, with facilities almost at the saturation point.

Type of storage is not appropriate for some materials. It is necessary to keep chemicals in the same room with other expensive equipment, leading to damage and loss through corrosion.

Chalkboard space, fire-fighting provisions, safety features and darkroom facilities are all described as inadequate.

Proper ventilation is not provided, causing fumes and "smells" that often disturb other classes. Much demonstration and experimentation is prohibited due to lack of a fume hood.

Lack of adequate facilities for the maintenance of plants and animals seriously limit the extent to which living materials may be used in biology, which is the study of science of life.

There is no provision for a student to maintain a special experimental set-up over a period of days, weeks or months.

There is no provision for a quiet reading research area.

If this is the situation now, what about next year? What about 10 years from now?

According to Caley, the science department can expect, next year, to have 10 classes per semester with a total of 225 students.

Under present conditions, with only one classroom, this would mean three more classes than there are periods in the school day.

In 10 years, according to Caley, there will probably be 14 classes per semester with a total of 400 students in science courses.

All this in one room with laboratory space for 16 students.

In view of this situation, Caley is recommending that the science department be given the present agriculture department space, assuming construction of new agriculture department facilities.

He is recommending that the two ag classrooms be converted into two science classrooms to accommodate 30 students each by addition of utility equipped demonstration tables and minor alterations.

A wall constructed across the middle of the shop area would create two labs to accommodate 28 students each.

The toolroom could be converted into a darkroom. In addition to this, Caley is requesting 1,042 feet of construction to provide other required facilities.

This would include:

1. A separate chemical room as far as possible from the other facilities to reduce damage and danger.
2. Additional storage.
3. A teacher working area, accessible to all other areas of activity.
4. Project room to be used by teachers for preparation, by students for research and for reading.
5. Plant and animal facilities.
6. Access to the roof for astronomical and meteorological study.

These facilities could handle 14 classes per day.

HALL FILES FOR TRUSTEE

James Hall, Olton auto dealer, filed this week as a candidate for a spot on Olton's school board.

This makes a total of three in the race for the two seats open on the board.

Terms of Winston Bley and O. J. Neely will expire. Both will seek re-election.

The election is set April 4 with filing deadline, March 5. Three seats on the city council will be open this year with that election set April 7.

Charles Sullivan, local barber, announced Wednesday he plans to file as a candidate in the council race.

Terms of Councilmen Doug Jones, Bob Gullett and C. B. Johns will expire. Filing deadline is March 7 at 12 noon.

Council Pushing Highway Project

City Seeks OK On Widening 70

The Highway 70 widening project finally is off the ground.

Olton will seek a firm commitment from the State Highway Department for the widening of Highway 70 and, once it is received, proceed with detailed engineering and acquisition of right-of-way for the project.

Those are the first steps in the long-sought improvement plans, as outlined Tuesday night at a regular city council meeting.

A Littlefield engineer, Ralph Douglas, told the council he believes the state will reply speedily to Olton's request for a commitment.

"I think the state will want to pave as much as you will curb and gutter," Douglas, now at work on similar projects in other towns, told the group.

Douglas reported to the council after completing preliminary survey work on the highway widening project.

His survey showed 90 feet of right-of-way would be needed along the highway, for a traveling area of 68 feet between the curbs.

Right-of-way along the highway now varies from 82 to 85 feet. This means the city would need to obtain the necessary additional right-of-way from property owners.

As he went over a drawing prepared for the council, Douglas said: "Following a course parallel to the present centerline of the highway, you can see that the right-of-way would miss almost all improvements."

The drawing showed the right-of-way would touch existing improvements in only two places; the pump islands at Bley Phillips 66 and McGowan Texasco.

"As you can see," the engineer told the group, "the right-of-way barely comes to the pump island at Bley's, and this would present no problem. The state would approve, I think, a very slight bend, hardly noticeable, at that point, so that the right-of-way would clear the pumps."

However, the engineer said, "this would not be possible at the other pump island (McGowan's), because this pump island would be well into the right-of-way area."

Douglas told the council it is his understanding that the state will go along with 90-foot right-of-way on the project. He indicated this would mean no center islands along the improved area.

Once the city has a commitment on the project from the state, the council will authorize Douglas to go ahead with detailed survey work which will show how much additional right-of-way the city would need from each property owner along the proposed improvements.

Douglas also suggested that, when and if the Highway 70 project is brought to contract stage, the city would benefit by having any other proposed paving come under the same contract.

This procedure, he said, probably would mean a better price for both the city and property owners.

IF FIRE COMES ON SUNDAY ...

What happens if you have a fire at your home on Sunday? Since there is no one at the fire station or at the city hall on this day, some city residents have been puzzling over this question.

The city said this week that a fire could be reported by calling any member of Olton's volunteer fire squad.

Five numbers given were Tom Smith, 285-2348; James Hall, 285-2680; David Maxey, 285-2229; Marshall Stone 285-2422 and Percy Parsons, 285-2621.

Smith is fire chief, Hall is assistant fire chief, and Maxey is fire marshal.

The city stressed, however, that any member of the fire department could take care of the matter.

TV Cable Rules OK'd

City councilmen approved an ordinance setting up regulations for television cable service here at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Franchise for the service had been granted Steve Boruk at a council session last month. The ordinance, as approved, provides that Boruk will pay the city five per cent of gross receipts on cable TV service, and two per cent of gross receipts on any additional closed circuit (microwave) TV.

Boruk said closed circuit pay TV is in its infancy and at present losing money where it is being tried.

The Olton theatre man said he would go ahead with cable service only, if it appears he can attract as many as 150 patrons for the service.

The ordinance calls for Boruk to charge a maximum of $6.50 per customer per month for cable TV. Installation charge per unit was set at a maximum of $5.00.

Although it was not specifically stated in the ordinance, Boruk told the council he would hand the franchise back to the city, "if it doesn't work out," within five years.

Installation of cable TV would allow residents to receive programs not only from Lubbock, but also from Amarillo.

In other activity at the council meeting, the group set the tax rate at the current level, $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The council also instructed Police Chief Emmett Burrows to inform a resident, Tommy Goldsmith, to remove junk which has been piled up on a lot on 9th Street.

The council pointed out that collection of junk without a license is in violation of a city ordinance.

Littlefield Show Slated

Premiums for Lamb County's 25th annual Junior Livestock Show, set Feb. 21-22 in Littlefield, are at a record $2,350.

Friday is deadline for entries in the show, open to all county 4-H, FFA and FHA youth.

Olton will have numerous entries in the show this year. Last year, Olton youth came home with top honors. Among them were Curtis Hall, with champion Southdown, champion medium wool and reserve grand champion in the swine show. Gary Dickinson had the champion fine wool and Marlana May, reserve grand in the Shetland pony show.

Two new classes have been added to the county show this year--shorthorn steers and medium wool or fine wool crossbreeds.

Barns will open Feb. 20 and all animals are to be in place by 1 p.m., Feb. 21. Sifting starts at 1:30 p.m., Feb. 21. Lamb and Shetland pony judging begins on the first day of the show.

CC-A Board Adopts Budget

Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board members formally adopted a $10,000 budget for the year at a regular meeting Tuesday morning.

This will include $5,875, administrative; $2,198, office and operating; $1,000, committee activity expense; and $927, miscellaneous.

The group also voted to sponsor the dedication ceremonies for Olton's new post office.

Present at the meeting were Basil Sherman, Doug Jones, George Redinger, Johnny Clark, Jr., George Caddell, Rex Chitwood, Laus Hair, Dan Gregory, Willie Gene Green, Delmer Givens and Melvin McReynolds manager.

Lamb Farmers Sign For Beets

Lamb County farmers have signed letters of intent to grow 4,525 acres of sugar beets, according to Melvin McReynolds, Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager.

McReynolds said the farmers signed up at the CC-A office here Monday and Tuesday. Some signed up in Littlefield at County Agent Bill Kimbrough's office. These were forwarded to Olton and included in the 4,525 figure which is the total for 71 county farmers. These farmers have a total acreage of 37,560 acres.

McReynolds, along with Basil Sherman, Laus Hair, W.T. Hall Jr. and George Redinger attended a meeting of area farmers Thursday in Plainview to hear a sugar beet economic report.

Plans call for a $20 million beet sugar refinery in the Plainview area.

Fund Drive For Cemetery Underway

The annual drive to raise cemetery funds is now underway here, according to S.E. Whittington, president of the Olton Cemetery Association.

"We do need the money," said Whittington Tuesday, explaining that the association has recently paid $225 to repair a pump. The pump was lost last month after an auto either ran or backed over it and broke the pipe.

He pointed out that the association operates solely from donations and from lots that are sold.

Donations may be sent to Whittington, Olton State Bank or Mrs. Walter Schreier.

5772 Poll Tax

Poll tax receipts issued in Lamb County totaled 5772, according to Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector.

"I believe this is a new high for this county," Dunn said this week.

He also reported that tax collections were 94.26 percent of the tax roll as of Jan. 31.

Farmers Of Tomorrow

The nation and Texas are observing National Future Farmers of America Week from Feb. 15 through Feb. 22.

Having proven that our system of agriculture can outproduce any other on earth, it is especially fitting this week that we should honor those who will be our farmers of tomorrow.

The Future Farmers of America constitutes the most effective program for young men to insure the continuing success of this important industry. The FFA creed "I believe in the future of farming" expresses well the hopes of all our citizens for the future of Texas and our nation. Only with an expanding agricultural program can our nation remain economically sound.

While the program of the Future Farmers of America is primarily aimed at developing better farming practices, of equal importance are the qualities of leadership and citizenship that the members learn and carry into practice.

It is gratifying to note that the statewide membership of the Future Farmers of America in Texas is 40,000 a little over 10 percent of the entire national membership.

As long as our young people are interested and eager to practice the ideals and purposes of the FFA, all Texas should be confident of our future.

Exposure Opportunity

An unusual study conducted by a research organization for the Texas Daily Newspaper Association used a "double interview" technique (a double check on the same sample for both newspaper reading and television viewing) and confirms once again with some devastating results that many people might be watching a television program but not many of them stay around to watch the station break announcements.

Ten years ago this was called the "flush index" when the Toledo Blade discovered that every half hour, a station break time, the local water pressure dropped drastically.

There have been other studies by newspapers to determine who heard the commercial and who would recall it--broadcasters prefer to apply the show's "rating" to the whole time segment--but this TDNA study is unique because it attempts to measure only the "opportunity for exposure" to newspaper advertising versus television commercials. It does not attempt to measure effectiveness. We hope some definite answers to that will come out of the Milwaukee Journal studies.

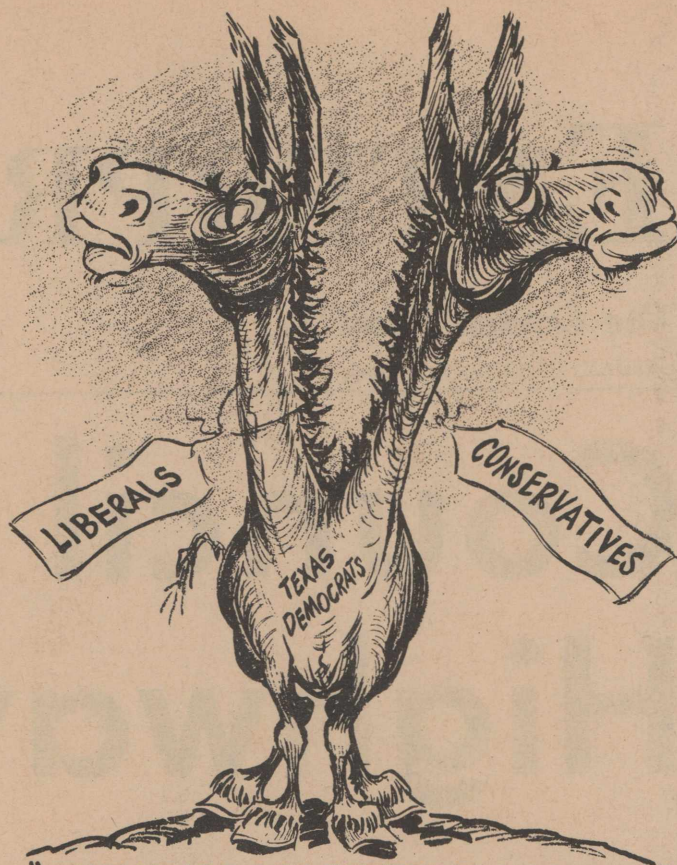

Using a measurement sample in the State of Texas that was almost equal in size to that used by some broadcast rating services for the entire United States, the TDNA study reports that among adults in telephone homes of the 46 survey cities only an average of 17% is available for television advertising exposure from 9:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. weekdays--that means in the room with the set turned on per single station break time period. The figure fluctuates from 10% in the morning period to 15% in the afternoon and 28% in the prime evening time. That is the figure available for exposure to all television channels combined.

In contrast, in this same sample, an average of 54% is available for exposure to newspaper advertising--that is, they look at the average single display ad page on weekdays.

Newspapers offer nearly two times the exposure opportunity of prime television time television station break commercials.

We wonder how the advertising people are going to tuff that into their computers.

Philosopher Understands Why Space Experts Forgot

Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his careless weed farm on Running Water Draw takes not of a human failing this week.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a couple of weeks ago the space scientists started to fire a rocket at the moon and after making elaborate preparations for the multi-million-dollar shot, with the best brains in the business figuring the timing and the aiming just right, with all the electrical circuits tested and re-tested, and with all the lights blinking and flashing, the countdown began, the thing was ignited, then it fizzled.

Somebody had forgotten to open a hydrant in the fuel line.

A friend of mine was talking about it and he was outraged. "You'd think with all them brains, somebody would have thought to turn the gas on," he said.

This is because he doesn't understand us thinkers. When a man's mind is charged with deep thought, whether it's about moonshooting or operating a careless weed farm, a lot of little details can get by him. It hasn't been a week since I had a neighbor over here pulling my tractor with his to get mine started and we'd dragged it around the place four times before I discovered I hadn't turned the gas on at the filter bowl. Me and the space scientists both can over look the little things when our minds are on the big things.

Or consider this in another area. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if more than one Supreme Court justice, after spending the day interpreting the inner most reaches of the United States Constitution, hasn't come out and discovered he locked his car that morning with the keys inside.

It wasn't over two years ago that our intelligence agents in Cuba were so busy calculating Castro's next move that they forgot to look out in the streets and see Russia hauling in missiles.

I would like to point out though that a few days later the space scientists did get that moon rocket off and it did hit its target. I can hear my friend however asking now, Yeah, but who forgot to turn the television cameras on?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Report Shows Education Brings Higher Pay Check

NEW YORK, -How much is an education worth financially, to the average young man in Lamb County?

Does it pay, in the long run, to get more schooling, or is it better to drop out and start working a few years earlier?

Answers to these questions are contained in reports and studies made by the Department of Labor and by other Federal and private agencies. They show that each added year in school results in more income for the average person throughout his working career.

Also, they find, the chances of getting a job and of holding it are much brighter for the high school graduate than for the drop-out.

In Lamb County, based on the amount of schooling the average young man is now receiving and based upon present income levels locally, he can expect to earn approximately $192,000 during his working career, the figures show.

This is considerably better than his prospects would have been 15 or 20 years ago, thanks to the rising educational level locally and to higher wage scales.

At one time, reports the Department of Labor, older workers with little education earned more money than younger ones with more education.

But now, it finds, the four years needed to get a high school diploma add as much to income as do 20 years of experience without a high school education. The Commerce Clearing House estimates that failure to complete high school costs the average man $46,360 during his working years.

The high school graduate in the United States, it reports, averages $5,567 a year as against $4,618 for the drop-out.

Among residents of Lamb County, the educational level was shown by the last census to be relatively high and to be going higher.

The average person locally has been getting 9.9 years of schooling, which is considerably more than he acquired 20 years ago.

The stress that has been laid on education since that time has resulted in a substantial upgrading among American workers. The Labor Department reports a rise of 70 percent in the period in the proportion of workers completing four years of high school or more.

Cars And Food Get Most Of County Retail Dollar

A new review of business activity, with special reference to consumer spending and retail trade, shows that Lamb County was a sturdy market in the past fiscal year.

Local residents spent freely for goods and services, causing a number of retail lines to move up into new, high territory. Particular strength was shown by outlets for cars and other automotive equipment.

As in other parts of the country, the auto was a big factor in making the year a good one. However, the very circumstances that pushed car sales to near-record volume—bigger incomes, more money in the bank and growing confidence in the economy—also benefited other retail lines.

As a result, there were more dishwashers, vacuum cleaners, air conditioners and electric ranges sold than for some time.

The spending picture is revealed in the annual survey made by the Standard Rate and Data Service, covering communities in all sections of the United States.

Lamb County's figures show that a major part of the consumer dollar locally—53 percent of it went for food and for automotive equipment and supplies.

The accounted for total retail sales in the year of $17,946, sales in the year of $17,946,000. The previous year's volume was $17,002,000.

County grocery stores, meat markets, bakeries and other stores selling food for home consumption accounted for some $7,621,000 of this amount.

Another $8,009,000 went for purchases of cars, boats and other automotive equipment.

Sales in gas service stations came to $2,316,000. Strong consumer spending is also indicated in other principal retail outlets covered in the survey.

County stores selling general merchandise compiled a $1,919,000 volume in the year.

Shops selling wearing apparel of all sorts, such as hats, shoes, clothing, underwear and related articles, had a gross of $1,415,000.

Sales of home furnishings, including furniture and appliances, added up to $821,000. Drug store sales amounted to $1,050,000.

All told, retail business in the county in the fiscal year reached a grand total of $33,811,000, compared with the previous year's $32,111,000.

Flying Queens To Play Here

Hutcherson Flying Queens will play here Friday night in the high school gym. They will meet Ransom's Boosters of Topeka, Kan. Game time is 8 p.m. Coached by Harley Redin, the Queens are currently riding the crest of a four-game winning streak kept alive last weekend with two wins over Iowa Wesleyan College.

The Queens will need both wins over the Boosters to put them in position for a crack at the League crown Feb. 20-21 when they play Nashville Business College in Plainview.

The Boosters have lost only three games all season. Two of the losses were to the Queens, but they have a big win over National Champion NBC in a league game played earlier in the season.

Friday night tickets may be purchased at Olton High School the night of the game. Cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Dana Speer Is Model At Carlsbad Caverns

College men who speak disparagingly of "girls who look like they belong in a cave," would have been pleasantly surprised to see the Texas Tech coeds, Dana Speer of Olton among them, decorating Carlsbad Caverns this week.

The occasion was a La Ventana, Tech Yearbook, photographing session.

And the girls were the top ten beauties at Texas Tech: Miss Mademoiselle and the nine finalists in La Ventana's beauty extravaganza.

The girls, arrayed in formal, jewelry and heels, were taken to the Caverns, near

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Twenty-eight Democratic and 15 Republican candidates banded through the starting gate before last week's filing deadline in a dramatic beginning to a political year that opened with relative calm.

A ruckus over the would-be U.S. Senate candidacy of McAllen Congressman Joe Kilgore, and Gov. John Connally's last-minute hesitancy about running for re-election, highlighted the filing-deadline spectacular.

Kilgore decided not to run against U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Connally, acknowledging that he had considered retirement, went ahead and filed for a second term.

Conservative Democrats booted over the Kilgore incident, said it might result in a second Republican senator from Texas.

Jack Cox, the GOP's 1962 candidate for governor against Connally, was a surprise entry in the Republican senate contest—at five minutes before deadline.

The Republicans fielded a complete slate for state offices (except judicial) and congressional races.

Connally ended up with opposition from liberal Don Yarborough of Houston, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham and Rev. M.T. Banks of Beaumont, a Negro Republican candidate for Governor are Jack Crichton of Dallas and Harry Diehl of Houston.

Yarborough is opposed by Democrats John Van Cronkhite and Gordon McLendon, both of Dallas. Cox and George Bush of Houston, and Dr. Milton V. Davis and Robert Morris, both of Dallas, are the GOP senatorial candidates.

Here is the complete lineup for other statewide offices:

Lieutenant Governor—Preston Smith of Lubbock (incumbent) and Albert Fuentes Jr. of San Antonio, Democrats; and Horace Houston of Dallas, Republican.

Congressman-at-large—Incumbent Joe Pool of Dallas, Bill Elkins of Greenville, Robert W. Baker and Bob Looney, both of Houston, Democrats; and Bill Hayes of Temple, Republican.

Attorney General—Incumbent Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, Democrat; and John Trice, Waco, Republican.

Commissioner of Agriculture—Incumbent John White of Wichita Falls and Millard Shivers, Waco, Democrats; and John B. Armstrong, Kingsville, GOP.

Land Commissioner—Incumbent Jerry Sadler of Grapeland and Fred H. Williams of Dallas, Democrats; and John A. Matthews of Abilene, GOP.

Comptroller—Incumbent Robert S. Calvert of Austin, Democrat.

mocrat and Dallas Calmes Jr. Houston, GOP.

Treasurer—Incumbent Jesse James, Austin, Democrat; and Fred S. Neumann, Beaumont, Republican.

Railroad Commissioner (full term)—Incumbent Ben Ramsey, San Augustine, Democrat.

Railroad Commissioner (unexpired term)—Incumbent Jim C. Langdon of Austin, and Jesse Owens of Vernon, Democrats; and Don Flanagan, Richardson, GOP.

Supreme Court, Place 1—Sears McGee of Houston and Jack Pope of San Antonio, Democrats; and T.E. Kennerly, Houston, GOP.

Supreme Court, Place 2—Ruel C. Walker, Cleburne, incumbent Democrat.

Supreme Court, Place 3—Incumbent Robert W. Hamilton, Midland, Democrat.

Court of Criminal Appeals—Incumbent K. K. Woodley of Austin, Democrat.

Thirteen of Texas' 23 congressmen escaped opposition in their own primaries, but for the first time in history there will be a Republican to deal with in every district come November.

"INSTANT" HOSPITALS—The State Health Department is keeper of some 92 storehouses of medical and treatment supplies (furnished by the federal government) which could be converted into hospitals almost instantly in the event of disaster.

Eleven more "hospitals" are expected to be added to the list this month, and a master plan calls for 450 of these facilities eventually. The State Health Department is directing the Civil Defense Emergency Hospital program, and encourages local authorities to provide the needed storage space.

APPOINTMENTS—Governor Connally appointed Frank B. Appleman of Fort Worth, a University of Oklahoma law graduate to the Board of Regents of Texas Woman's University of Denton.

He then picked Myrlin O. Johnson of Harlingen to preside over the 107th District Court in Cameron and Willacy counties. Johnson replaces Judge Hawthorne Phillips, who resigned to become Attorney General Waggoner Carr's first assistant.

BUSINESS IMPROVES—The 1963 index of Texas business activity was up 5.4 per cent on the average monthly level over the previous year, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Austin, Amarillo and Beaumont showed highest gains.

They were followed closely by Corpus Christi, Houston, Fort Worth, Galveston and Waco. No city showed a percentage decline.

Bureau predicted that 1964 will be another good year as far as personal income and business activity is concerned if the federal income tax bill now in the Senate is passed.

CIVIL DEFENSE SPACES UP Texas now has 1,800,000 licensed civil defense shelter spaces of a goal of 1,900,000, CD Regional Director Bill Parker told a conference here.

These seven cities have fully-stocked shelters, Parker said: Abilene, Baytown, Bryan, Big Spring, Denton, Odessa and Tyler.

---SHORT SNORTS--- The Texas Tourist Development Agency awarded its $250,000 advertising contract to McCann-Erickson, Inc., Houston advertising agency.

Texas Liquor Control Board collections for December amounted to $40,701 as the result of 609 convictions and 77 jail terms for liquor-law violations.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler ordered a full investigation when he learned that seven oil wells on a state lease in Gregg County had been plugged without his approval.

Texas State Teachers Association president, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Corpus Christi, said public school teachers in the state this year will receive a salary almost $600 below the national average; teachers group has voted to fight for a salary increase when the 59th Legislature meets.

Governor Connally authorized removal of the three remaining Confederate widows now housed in the Confederate Home for Women in Austin to a "first-class" nursing home, where he said they would receive better treatment and at less expense to the state.

Banks in El Paso and Burkburnett were granted charters by the State Banking Board while application of Jacinto City State Bank was declined, and action again was postponed on bids for two new banks in Midland.

Governor Connally got a new lighter cast on his damaged right arm, was pronounced in pretty good physical shape, but doctors said it will be six or eight months before he regains full strength.

Sorghum Midge Forum Set

A public forum on the sorghum midge is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 15 at 10 a.m. in the Mesa Room, Texas Tech Student Union, Lubbock.

All local farmers are invited.

This announcement came this week from D. G. "Bill" Nelson, executive vice-president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

"The sorghum midge, as you know, while very damaging in many areas, did not develop into the area-wide problem that it threatened to the past year," Nelson said.

He added that farmers had to do more than just "hope" that damage will be even less this coming season.

He said that the conference at Lubbock has been arranged "in an effort to glean every bit of knowledge about the midge gained in both research and applied practices to date by public, private and commercial organizations."

Purposes of the meeting are: 1. To allow institutions to exchange research findings and agree on unified recommendations for agronomic and chemical control measures.

2. To present these recommendations to the industry committee for review, discussion and coordination in accordance with applied practices.

3. To make a public announcement of the unified recommendations for midge control during the coming season.

Texas is the leading agricultural state in the nation.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

In writing this letter, I wish to compliment all the people who had anything to do with the Chamber of Commerce Banquet. I feel that this banquet was the best one I have ever attended.

We are so fortunate to have such wonderful talent right here in Olton. And they don't seem to mind giving of their time and talent to such a worthy cause as the Chamber of Commerce.

The decorations, meal, speaker and crowd were all very nice. Anyone who had anything to do with any of it should feel very proud of themselves.

This banquet only shows that Olton can do and is going to do. We are a growing town and we need the Chamber of Commerce to grow and help our town to become a city. We have new businesses coming in, new people moving in and we are on the road to prosperity. All of this because we have here in Olton, people who are interested in Olton and what happens to the town.

SNOW SKIERS

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hines, Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones, George, Valda, Janie, Mrs. Eva Smith, Donna, Mark, Brenda Kirkpatrick and Rusty Sherman spent the weekend at Ruidoso snow skiing.

STARKEYS MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Starkey have moved to Big Springs.

Last, but not least, I would like to thank the Olton Enterprise on the story and pictures of the banquet. They were very good and I am sure that with a growing Olton, we will have a growing Enterprise.

Yours Truly,
Doris Jones

Effort To Update Math Meets With Approval

The current effort to update mathematics to match the space age meets with approval of some parents and personnel from 10 public schools in the Plainview area, judging by their responses to a questionnaire.

What's more, they think from the grade school set into high school, students will share their interest in the new approach to mathematics.

The new concepts, such as empty set, base five numbers, simple equations and equal and equivalent sets, are helpful in developing mathematics reasoning power in children, believes an elementary school principal from Petersburg, J.D. Knutson.

When the number line for addition and some sets were introduced to Latin American first graders in Petersburg, the results were gratifying says their teacher, Mrs. Letha Stahly.

Terminology of the new approach makes it easier to get an idea across, believes Jack Bounds, Plainview, who has been introducing the new concepts to members of his ninth grade classes in general mathematics and modern algebra, who have not previously been taught this method.

Olton's annual progress report will be coming out soon, listing Olton businesses according to the year they were established.

Each year, the list is different, as businesses change hands, some go out of business and others come in.

Regardless of whether you're a long-time business in Olton or a new one, you'll want to have your business listed in this directory.

The copy shown above is a miniature version of last year's listing. Copies of this year's listing will be made available to participating businesses and to the Olton Chamber of Commerce, to be used in answer to inquiries about Olton.

The Enterprise will be calling on your business in the next few days. Be sure to have your business listed in the 1964 Progress Report.

Bill Jeffries Announces For County Tax Assessor

In seeking your support for my election to the office of Tax Assessor and Collector, I feel that I have the qualifications and experience to serve you well. Your encouragement and each word spoken in my behalf is deeply appreciated.

I have lived in Lamb County since 1926. I was associated with Jeffries Mercantile for many years. I owned and operated the Jeffries Auto Service until elected County Commissioner in 1954. I feel the six years spent on the Commissioners Court will give me valuable experience in the job I am now seeking.

I have resigned my position with St. Clair's Department Store, effective March 1 and will try to see each of you before the primaries, May 2. If I fail to see you to ask for your vote personally, remember that I will appreciate it very much. If you see fit to elect me as your next Tax Assessor and Collector, it will be my desire to serve you and Lamb County to the best of my ability.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Jeffries

College Youth On Honor Roll

Jerry Lewis Meyer and Edward Hulsey, both of Olton, have been named to the dean's honor roll for the fall semester at Eastern New Mexico University.

Both are senior students. Meyer had a 3.3 average and Hulsey, 3.2.

To be eligible for the undergraduate honor roll, a student must have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher and be enrolled in a minimum of 12 semester hours.

The grading system at Eastern is based on the four-point system, which means that student with a 4.0 has all "A's" and a student with a 3.0 has a "B" average. Thus, students on the honor roll have "B" average or above.

V.L. Smith, Jr. Announces For Sheriff

V.L. Smith, Jr., of Earth has authorized this newspaper to announce his candidacy for sheriff of Lamb county, subject to the Democratic primary elections.

He has this statement to the voters of the county:

"I have lived in Lamb county for 20 years and have seven years experience in law enforcement in the county, as deputy sheriff and as city policeman in Littlefield."

"I believe that I understand law enforcement well, the duties of an officer and the responsibility of the sheriff's office to the people it serves."

"In seven years in this work, I have always attempted to perform my duty conscientiously and courteously, but to always enforce the law firmly and impartially."

"This is my pledge to the people of Lamb county, if you elect me sheriff: I will devote my full time and effort to the operation of the office, the office will maintain the highest type of law and order and Lamb county will be kept the kind of clean, decent county you want for your families and children."

"On this platform I sincerely request your support and vote. In the time before the election I will make an effort to see everyone in the county personally. Until I do, please accept this as a request for your good help and vote."

Smith is married and he and Mrs. Smith and their three children live in Earth. He resigned recently as deputy sheriff in Lamb county for the Earth area, a post he held for five years. He has resided in Earth, Olton, Sudan and Littlefield.

His father, V.L. Smith, Sr., is deputy sheriff at Olton.

BEST FERTILIZERS
GET RESULTS FOR YOU . . .

...because they have

High Water Solubility—

Plant can take up only dissolved phosphates therefore, Best uses only highly water soluble phosphorus compounds.

Best mixed fertilizers contain phosphorus of various degrees of high solubility. This provides a continuous supply of phosphorus to the plant throughout the growing season. Results, more phosphorus in your crop and more dollars in your pocket at harvest time.

"Sulfate Ion"—

The sulfate ion is built into Best mixed fertilizers for four reasons:

1. To help counteract the soils capacity to tie-up phosphate—thus getting more phosphorus into your crop.

Cagers End Season Tonight At Friona

The Olton Mustangs and Fillies come to the end of the basketball trial tonight--maybe.

For the Mustangs, it's a sure thing. The season ends with their encounter against Friona in a make-up game.

But for the Fillies, the season could continue.

If the Olton girls are able to pull off an upset against the unbeaten Friona girls, they will have a tie for the district championship, forcing a play-off.

At any rate, the two games at Friona tonight are the wrap-up of the regular season. The girls game begins at 7 p.m.

The Fillies go into the clash with a 22-6 record for the year, including a 6-1 mark in district play, their only loss a 62-50 decision to Friona. Friona is 24-0 for the year and 7-0 in district.

The Mustangs are 7-17 for the season and 1-6 in district, their only conference win a one-point decision over Friona.

The Fillies chalked up two more wins last week, beating Dimmitt, 33-31, and Muleshoe, 60-37. The Mustangs fell to Dimmitt, 66-43, and to Muleshoe, 76-46.

Gayle Nicholas led the girls in both their games, scoring 15 against Dimmitt and 40 against Muleshoe. Sherry Cadell hit for eight against Dimmitt and 18 against Muleshoe. Karen Hipp had eight against Dimmitt and Susan Norfleet got two in both games.

Tomie Covington led rebounders with 10 against Dimmitt and eight against Muleshoe. Maxine Schaefer had five against Dimmitt and eight against the Mulettes.
