Texas First Draft Quota Set At 1,573; Number From Each Area To Be Known Soon

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30 — The nation's first call for men in the first draft under the selective service act will be answered by 1,573 Texans, Adj. Gen. J. Watt Page announced in Fort Worth tonight.

That quota (30,000 for the entire nation and 1,573 for Texas) will lay aside civilian clothes and don military uniforms between November 18 and December 1.

The Texas quota was given the state selective service headquarters in Austin by the eighth corps area headquarters in San Antonio after deductions were made to credit Texas for the number of volunteer enlistments in military service.

Within a day or two the state headquarters, General Page said will complete the task of subdividing the quota among the 345 separate draft areas of the state. The adjutant general indicated that the exact number of men to be called from each area will be made known quickly in order that the boards may have time to send out questionnaires and choose the enrollees that are to be included in the first call.

Army officials reported in Washington today that the 30,000 men to be called in November will be taken from regions where camp facilities are ready. General Page observed that there were more military camps now available for the trainees in Texas than in many other places. Regular army camps surround San Antonio; a series of military posts are located along the Mexican border and the National Guard cantonment near Brownwood rapidly is taking form.

General Page explained that the number of Texans chosen in the first call will be taken into consideration when the second call for nearly 400,000 trainees is sounded next February. Also the number of volunteer enlistments from now until the second call will be credited on the second quota. But the adjutant general pointed out there will be fewer volunteers between now and February.

Reception centers for the enrollees are to be designated throughout Texas as concentration points where the men will report to be assigned to their training camps. For the time being it was expected that all the men called in Texas will report at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio which is well equipped to receive large numbers of newly inducted men.

New Use For FDR, Willkie Buttons Now

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—If you think election campaign buttons are good only to indicate party loyalty, listen to William Jerome Daly, secretary of the board of transportation:

"Records of the revenue division of the independent lines of New York City Transit system of Oct. 29 revealed that among slugs and counterfeit coins recovered from the turnstiles there were 174 Willkie buttons and 48 Roosevelt buttons."

Daly was prompted to issue his statement after Raymond Poliskaff, 21, was arrested for trying to get by with a Roosevelt button which he had hammered into the approximate shape and size of a 5-cent piece.

War Department Swept By Fire; Probe Launched

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. A fire which swept through an incompiete fourth-story addition to the war department, imperilling secret codes and damaging records, was under official investigation tonight.

A board of five officers was instructed to investigate "all circumstances," including the possibility of sabotage, a few hours after the flames were brought under control.

Officials were inclined to the belief, however, that the blaze was of accidental origin. Secretary of War Stimson was quoted as saying that an electrical short circuit or a careless cigarette were "unquestionably" to blame.

Burns An Hour

The fire, which broke out about 4 a. m., burned for more than an hour. It gutted a new $110,000 fourth-story addition to the third wing of the Munitions building on Constitution avenue. The building has been occupied by the war department since the world war.

Floors below the damaged area are occupied by the message center, the signal corps code room, the military intelligence division, the air corps, adjutant general and quartermaster corps. Headquarters of the signal intelligence service were flooded by water, military intelligence papers were damaged, and work in the entire wing was suspended for hours. Other damage was confined largely to the new construction.

There was "no serious interrup-

Property Owners Are For Widening Street

Owners of Nineteenth street property agreed to "full speed ahead" on proposed widening of the street, at a meeting at 2109 Nineteenth street Wednesday night, it was announced by Earl D. Allen.

Clifton H. Cummings was named secretary-treasurer to receive donations which will be used to hire two men to assist G. W. Foster in signing up property owners. The assistants will be G. A. Barnett and Allen.

It was explained that the city has agreed to pay for cost of paving the street if the property owners will supply the needed right-of-way. The city commission has made clear, however, that it will not go to any expense in obtaining the right-of-way because the cost of the paving will run into many thousands of dollars. Proposals is to widen the street from the present 36 feet to 50 feet.

The 15 property owners attending the meeting each donated $5 to help defray expenses of signing all owners. Other Nineteenth street property owners will be solocited soon it was said.

Attending the meeting were Allen, Cummings, Barnett, O. B. Hankins, J. C. Davis, W. E. Holder, C. C. Lane, L. E. White, J. A. Fortenberry, W. W. Campbell, W. L. Logan, J. D. Leftwich, Roy Furr, O. W. McLeod, and A. W. Jackson.

Warnings Sounded For Hallowe'en "Spooks"

Whether caused by spooks or your own carelessness, your worries of Friday morning might be minimized by heeding the warning of city officials.

First off, Guy Casey, city fire marshal, is interested in keeping fire loss low, so he instructs as follows:

"Don't put lighted candles near curtains where a fire might be started. Be careful of any of a dozen other fire hazards and the spooks and gobblings should be carefull not to empty burning trash from garbage cans into other dry trash."

Police Chief Don Reeder had another angle on the garbage can emptying.

It would be much easier to hide the cans, he advised, than to search for them Friday morning.

Reason for the precautions, tonight is Hallowe'en.

State School Officer Is Killed In Crash

BRADY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Miss Katherine Henderson, deputy district school superintendent with headquarters at San Angelo, was killed today in an automobile collision in which four other persons were injured.

Most seriously injured was J. E. Herrington, McCulloch county school superintendent, who suffered a broken leg, broken ribs, a head and possible internal injuries.

Raymond Morris suffered a severe scalp wound. Undetermined injuries were received by Jack Wallace and a man named Jowers.

FDR Advocates Sale Of More Planes To Britain

Farm Record Of GOP Leaders Is Criticized

Steady Stream Of Warplanes Sent To Aid England

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOSTON, Oct. 30. — President Roosevelt disclosed tonight that he had asked the national defense priorities board to give "most sympathetic consideration" to a British request for permission to buy 12,000 additional planes in the United States.

In a campaign speech prepared for a nation-wide broadcast from a Democratic rally in the Boston garden he said there was a "steady stream of airplanes" already flowing from this country to Britain. This, he asserted, was responsible in part for the fact that the strength of the Royal Air force was greater now than at the start of "three months of blitzkrieg in the air."

To Need New Plants

When the additional orders contemplated by Britain were approved, he said, they would bring England's present orders for military planes from the United States to more than 26,000.

"They will require still more new plant facilities," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "so that the present program of building planes for military purposes both for the United States and Great Britain will not be interrupted.

"Also large additional orders are being negotiated for artillery, machine guns, rifles, and tanks with equipment and ammunition. The plant capacity necessary to produce all of this military equipment is and will be available to serve the needs of the United States in any emergency."

Hits Farm Record

Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary, told reporters that the additional orders being negotiated for artillery and other weapons were for both Britain and the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt devoted much of his address tonight to a denunciation of what he called the Republican record on aid to farmers.

He said that Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, the Republican national chairman, who "may be slated for some cabinet post, had voted against "every single one of the farm measures recommended by this administration."

Nowhere in the prepared address did the president mention Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presiden-

GOODBYE, DARLING — When Henry Robert Bell, 21, heard that his number — 158 — was the first drawn in the draft lottery he hurried right down to the scene of the lottery and took his best girl friend, Sally Carter of Hyattsville, Md., with him. Above picture shows him giving her a lingering kiss as his mother, right, and his father, Henry S. Bell, give smiling approval. Mrs. Bell was present when the number was drawn. She screamed. At right shows Aiden C. Flagg, jr., called first in the draft just like his father was in the World war call. Aiden, 24, a Boston wool clerk, is married and has a small daughter.

Draft Lottery May Face Court Action

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Facing a possible legal test because the great draft lottery ended with six missing numbers, selective service officials pressed forward today with plans for getting the first contingent of conscripts into camp.

It is to consist of some 30,000 young men drawn from regions where camp facilities are already available. Officials intimated that voluntary enlistments might cover that entire number, but beyond that point, plans were to have 400,000 in uniform by Feb. 28, and 800,000 by June 15. Estimates were that this would involve an average of about 130 men from each draft area and about one out of each 20 registrants.

Six Were Missing

When, after 17 hours and 31 minutes, the drawing of the now familiar blue capsules from the long famous gold fish bowl was completed early today it was discovered that six capsules and their numbered slips had been lost. The last draw was the 8,994th. It should have been the 9,000th.

Rejecting the theory that souvenir seekers among the many whose hands were thrust into the bowl during the drawing might have made away with the tiny cylinders, officials began an immediate recheck of their records to determine just which numbers were missing. The records indicated that not six but eight were absent. They were numbers 6,542, 7,192, 7,615, 1,009, 5,108, 6,771, 1,835 and 7,839.

A "little lottery" was organized immediately. The numbers were inserted in capsules, drawn and given order numbers running from 8,995 to 9,002 inclusive. Then another discovery was made. Two of

RAF Raids Are Staged In Snow

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 30. — Planes of the British Royal Air force roared over Berlin in a blinding snow storm last night and sent high explosives and incendiaries crashing earthward in the pale light of parachute flares, the air ministry said today.

A large electrical works was hit, the British pilots reported.

They also started fires at oil plants at Magdeburg, Homburg and Sterkrade, the ministry said.

Flying Blind

A thick mist froze on the planes over the North sea and western Germany on the long flight to the German capital and other industrial centers. The weather thickened as they moved eastward and snow began falling, sticking to windshields and shifting into the cockpits.

The men were reduced to blind flying, hopeful that the weather would break before they reached Berlin. Instead it got worse, so that they were barely able to pick out their objectives.

"Still we managed to find our target," one pilot said.

Other raiders swooped down on Bremen and Wilhelmshaven, Germany and on Der Helder, Ymuiden and Flushing, Holland, and Ostend, Belgium, attacking shipyards and docks.

Germans Claim Sea Victories

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 30. — A German warship, operating as a raider "in overseas waters," has sunk three armed "enemy merchant ships" totalling 18,400 tons to boost her war toll to 45,000 tons, the high command announced today.

It did not identify the raider. All details of the operations were withheld.

Subs Are Active

Shipping circles have heard unconfirmed reports that one of the two sister ships of the Admiral Graf Spee—the Luetzoe and the Admiral Scheer—has been operation in the South Atlantic.

The high command announced that a submarine had sunk an armed merchant ship of 10,500 tons, and DNB, official German news agency, reported that a Nazi plane had sunk a 5,000-ton freighter today northeast of Ireland.

Its communique, speaking of raids on Britain, said German planes started new fires along the Thames last night, and during the day, with the cooperation of Italian airmen, had bombed the Portsmouth naval base, a munitions dump at Great Yarmouth, the port of Liverpool, Coventry and Birmingham.

JOIN THE NAVY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Secretary Knox today invited qualified men who registered for the draft to join the navy, suggesting that those who enlist now were most likely to obtain the greatest degree of advancement during the period of expansion.

Three Are Killed In Locomotive Accident

LAKE ALFRED, Fla., Oct. 30, (AP) —Engineer Frank W. Grayam of Tampa and two firemen of a northbound Atlantic coast line passenger train were killed today when the train hit an open switch.

Sam W. Knowles of Tampa, an observing fireman, and the regular fireman tentatively identified as Hubert Reed were the other two dead.

All three were badly burned and scalded. The locomotive plunged off the roadbed into an embankment and a baggage car telescoped on top of it.

The locomotive and three baggage cars of the nine-car train overturned.

Dashing Rains Reported On South Plains

Moisture To Aid Wheat; Crosby Gets 1-Inch Fall

DASHING rains fell over a large portion of the South Plains Wednesday afternoon, drenching areas in two directions from Lubbock. Hail also was reported.

Early showers turned to late afternoon rain in Lubbock proper. Precipitation to midnight was measured at .09 of an inch at Municipal airport, with possibly more falling in the city.

Crosby Gets Rain

A general rain blanketed Crosby county. The south part of the Ralls trade territory was especially well covered, with as much as an inch of moisture.

Ralls received .43 of an inch and a quarter-inch was reported north of there. Crosbyton's fall was equally as large.

During a 15-minute period between 2:15 and 2:30 p. m. hailstones as large as guinea eggs were reported to have fallen at Slaton. Hail pelted hard but property damage was not believed extensive. Nearly an inch of rain accompanied the hail.

Ploydada's rainfall was accompanied by hail and a brilliant electrical display and came at frequent intervals throughout the afternoon.

Lighter West

Fall in the northeasterly direction extended through Matador and Paducah, and almost as far as Vernon, it was reported.

West of Lubbock rain became more scanty. Levelland had only a shower.

Rains over the area were expected to halt cotton harvesting a day or more but the crop, having reached full growth, was not benefitted. However, opinion was that winter grain conditions would be helped, especially in giving moisture to subsoil and assuring higher percentage of seed germination when the crops are planted.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Hedgcoth of 508 Avenue B on birth of a son weighing 9 1-4 pounds at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the residence. The infant was named James Clifford. Stewart and Benson clinic reported.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lindsey on birth of a son, Charles Ray Lindsey weighing seven and one-half pounds, at 1:25 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home, route 1, Lubbock. The father is employed by a Lubbock contractor. The birth was reported by the office of Dr. R. C. Douglas.

Earplugs Go Begging In Great Britain

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A government issue of some 4,000,000 earplugs is going begging, according to an air raid warden of the London area.

Unknown Number Of Men Landed On Greek Islands

(By The Associated Press)

SALONIKA, Greece, Oct. 31 (Thursday)—British troops have landed on Greek islands from troop transports guarded by warships of the British Mediterranean fleet, it was learned authoritatively today.

The number of British troops involved and the amount of equipment they brought could not be stated, nor could the location of the islands where they made their landings.

It also was learned that Greek troops holding the Italian offensive on their northern frontier had taken 800 Italian prisoners.

Italy's war machine, operating in the mountains less than 100 miles northwest of this strategic city, was reported here to have been held by the stout defense of the crack Greek Evzone troops.

Italians Launch Two-Way Drive

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 30—Italian invaders began a two-pronged drive today through the mountains toward the lakeshore industrial city of Ioannina (Janina), 30 miles from the Albanian border, but made little progress against the fierce Greek defenders.

Under cover of an artillery barrage, the Italians attempted one thrust from the northwest. Stubborn Greek resistance plus tortuous mountain terrain, which all but stymied the Fascist mechanized power, was reported to have made the going difficult.

Nearer the coast, a second drive was pointed toward a highway leading to the city ruled a hundred years ago by the conquering Ali Pasha, "Lion of Janina," but here, too, no considerable gains were reported.

Slow Withdrawal

Greek advance guards withdrew slowly from the immediate vicinity of the frontier to their main defenses in the strongly fortified Metaxas line, some distance back, in accordance with prearranged plans, neutral military observers said. The Italians were said to still be far from this line.

These observers expressed the belief the Greeks could hold their main defenses commanding the narrow mountain passes which the Fascist legions must negotiate to offer a real threat to this little kingdom.

With the first major Italian drive underway there virtually was no Fascist air activity reported yesterday and up to noon today. No raids were reported anywhere in Greece during the day and the only raid yesterday was said to have been on Ioannina, a city of 25,000 population.

Hockley To Vote On Issue Of Road Bonds

LEVELLAND, Oct. 30. (Special) Hockley county commissioners court today approved an election for Nov. 30 on a $345,000 bond issue to provide funds for an extensive highway project in the county.

A petition of taxpayers was presented to the court today in its regular session and immediate action was taken.

Major portion of the project will be the paving of highway 51 north and south across the county. Topping of four lateral roads connecting with highways 51 and 290 also will be included.

Highway 51 has grading and drainage completed south of Levelland and will require only paving of that section.

The farm-to-market units will be from Ropesville to interest highway 51; Anton through Whitharral to 51; from Lamb county south through Pep and Pettit to 290; and through Smyer a mile and a half south.

Disguised Ships Raid Open City

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Oct. 30—A charge that the undefended city of Patras was bombed Monday by Italian planes flying Greek colors and watched eagerly by crowds which did not even know Greece was at war was made tonight by the Athens news agency as air-raid casualties there reached 110 dead and more than 300 wounded.

Forty-five of those killed were said to be children and most of those wounded were women and children.

Workers in the port of Patras continued to dig bodies from the debris tonight.

The news agency said the planes flew the Greek colors and passed very low over the city. It added that about 200 bombs were dropped.

"As a result of this raid which is unprecedented in cruelty, the destruction has been tragical," the agency said. "Many houses were destroyed.

"Work for recovery of the dead from the debris is continuing. The most astounding of all is the fact that the people mistook them for Greek planes and gathered to watch them.

"It was at this moment the Italians started bombing the crowds. Greek public opinion subm. s this action to the appreciation of the universal conscience of mankind."

Flush Production For Permian Basin Seen

MIDLAND, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Permian basin apparently was assured its first flush production from the Simpson, Middle Ordovician, today as Taubert, McKee & Stemoneit No. 1 Mrs. Virginia W. Crockett in northern Pecos county flowed an estimated two barrels per minute of high gravity oil on a drillstem test.

The packer was set at 5,234 feet, 24 feet up the casing for the test. Gas flowed for two minutes, mud for the next seven and oil appeared for the last three minutes of the test. When the drillpipe was broken down it showed 500 feet of oil and 160 feet of drilling mud.

The light green oil tested 43 gravity, corrected. The bottom hold flowing pressure was 2,000 pounds. Tubing is now being run for further tests.

Wendell Willkie Outlines Six Steps For Defense, Attacks Policy Of Appeasement

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—Wendell L. Willkie, promising to work for "maintenance of peace in the western hemisphere," asserted tonight he would not stand for a policy of appeasement, which he said "is the surest road to war."

The Republican presidential nominee said in a prepared speech that it would take at least 18 months to give the nation "even an inadequate" defense and that "under the New Deal it probably would take much longer than that."

Willkie then outlined these six defense steps, which he said should be taken at once:

First, we must make certain that there is no delay in providing housing for our new soldiers.

"Second, we must obtain supplies of raw materials which are not now produced in the United States—rubber, tin, and other things essential to national defense.

"Third, we must make defense weapons which we need and make them faster and in larger quantities.

"Fourth, we must hasten decision on the types of defense arms that we want industry to build. It is far better to have a large number of good and serviceable defense weapons on hand that it is to have a few dream ones on order.

"Fifth, we would centralize responsibility (for defense).

"Sixth, we must devote congressional defense appropriations to defense purposes, instead of boondoggling them."

Traditional Hallowe'en Socials Are Entertainment Features Today

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Kincaid

WHAT are children thinking and writing these days? We'll tell you. They are thinking about Hallowe'en when they think of parties and of war when they think of serious things. Today's column is presenting several interesting bits that have come to our attention this week.

Nancy Carolyn McKissack, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McKissack, 2223 Twenty-fifth street, is the proud possessor of a letter from the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Red Cross society, written by Mrs. W. L. Currier, jr., honoray secretary. It follows:

Dear Nancy: On behalf of the Canadian Red Cross society, may I thank you for your kind donation of $1. Your letter and $1 were on exhibit during the campaign.

The dollar was a Canadian bill that Mr. McKissack had had for a number of years and since it could not be used here, Nancy decided it was a "slacker" dollar and obtained her dad's permission to send it to the Canadian society that was making a national war appeal. Three cheers for Nancy, a patriotic young lady if we ever heard of one!

THE CONSCRIPTION

FROM a fifth grade contributor to the Hunt Children's Avalanche we reprint a little article entitled "Men Are Signing Up for the Army."

"This time the President is using his head; he is making every man from 21 to 35 years old sign up for the army.

"Mr. Fay and Mr. LaMaster teachers in Hunt school, signed up and are too good to give up if they have to go. But if we have war, what will we do if they do not go?"

Not bad logic from a fifth grader.

HALLOWE'EN

BETTYE GENE THOMSON, a student in Roscoe Wilson school, wrote a little article explaining the meaning of Hallowe'en that appeared in the school paper, "Wilson Life." It follows.

"Our celebration of Hallowe'en is a custom practiced long ago. The word Hallowe'en was called 'All Hallow's Eve' because this was the eve of the festival of all saints. They believed at this time the spirits of the dead walked about as witches, black cats and owls, and lighted fires to keep them away. The people in those days didn't think they were safe without witch hazel, elm and holly. Long ago they thought that Hallowe'en was a serious affair. Today we think of it as a time of mystery, spooks, jack-o-lanterns and fun making."

BAKER TO SING

KENNY BAKER, singing star of the radio and screen, is to appear in concert Monday night in Abilene under auspices of the Hardin-Simmons university artists course.

His program is to include such popular favorites as "I Dream of Jeanie," "Summertime," "Ave Maria," "Because," and will list several religious numbers. "Every Valley Shall be Exalted," and "Christ Went Up Into the Hills."

Baker got his start as he drove a truck when his school days were over, and in a short time became famous in radio, light opera and concert fields. We'll always remember his timidity when he first appeared on Jack Benny's program.

Hardin-Simmons is to be congratulated. Wish Kenny Baker could have been brought here for a program.

Children And Adults Prepare To Enjoy Treasure Hunts And Ghost Trips

According to tradition and folk tales the witches, bats, and spooks will be out tonight because it is Hallowe'en. Lubbockites have taken advantage of the observance to use as the theme for their parties, dances and other entertainments held this week.

"Witchcraft" was the theme of the Girl Reserves general and committee meeting held in the music room of Lubbock Senior High school Wednesday. Billie Lofland read a poem on what adults think of Hallowe'en and Catherine Knight told the history of witchcraft.

The girls were asked to bring articles for the rummage sale to be sponsored by the Mothers club and the Girl Reserves, Saturday. Georgia Neil Harris, treasurer, reported that 97 girls were members of the organization.

Council Members Honored

Council members attending were Mesdames T. C. Delaney, council head, W. H. Younger, I. P. Kennedy, and Ed Terrell. The following council members were appointed honorary members of committees: publicity, Mrs. Younger; program, Mrs. A. B. Brown; social, Mrs. Delaney; international, Mrs. Kennedy and service, Mrs. Oscar Nisler.

The Mary Emma club of Senior High school attended a party from 7 to 9 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ameral Payne, 1904 Twenty-fifth street. Jane McGowan wore the most interesting costume and was awarded a prize. Don Payne was voted the most entertaining figure.

Games were led by Lorna Hunter and Jane O'Neall. Mary Frances York told fortunes. Refreshments were served to Patsy Ruth Kirk, Frances Chance, Opal Mae Boldin, Jane O'Neall, Mary Frances York, Bonita McMurry, Katherine Stanley, Lorna Hunter, Eugenia Harper, Billie Louise McNabb, Arlene Wood, Mary Lu Jobson, Frances Gordon, Barbara Hall, Geraldine Nassie, Mary Frances Adams, Jane McGowan and Don Payne.

Sponsors present were Miss Elma Miller and Miss Gertrude Watson.

"Spook" Four Held

The young people of Central Baptist church were entertained Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Elliott at 1324 Twenty-fifth street, with a Hallowe'en party. Guests were greeted at the door by the hostess, Bobbie Neil Elliott and Payma Low. They were sent to the back of the house where two "ghosts" the host and Jimmie Fisher and James Hudson greeted them.

A tour over ladders and fences was directed and guests were guided back to the living room which was lighted by candles. Miss Addie Lea Clarke and James Sims furnished piano selections. Later in the evening a treasure hunt was enjoyed and a buffet supper was served to the following guests:

Prizes Are Given

Members of the Colonial Needle club entertained with a party and club meeting at the home of Mrs. B. F. Foster, 2321 Main street, Wednesday afternoon. Those attending were dressed in costume. Fortunes were told and games were played. Mesdames P. G. Treat and L. D. Box won prizes for the best costumes.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames C. B. Markham, A. H. Pruett, E. E. Brock, Treat, Roy Parks, Box, E. N. Evans, Ellis Martin, G. L. Sutton, Ted Bucknell, R. D. Harris and Jeff Graham. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Pruett, Nov. 13.

Mesdames Horace Gore and C. O. White entertained in the basement of Mrs. Gore's new home, 2720 Ruby street, Tuesday night with a Hallowe'en party for the Arnett-Benson Needle club. Club members and their families wore costumes and played games. Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served to approximately 40 guests.

This evening Assembly club members will attend a dinner dance at Hotel Lubbock, beginning at 8 o'clock. Guests are to come masked, although not in costume.

Hosts for the formal affair are Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Mansell, Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Canon, Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Hand, Messrs. and Mesdames George Langford, S. A. Scott, A. V. Weaver, jr., and D. K. Bondurant.

Leroy and Norvell Rea Johnson entertained with a party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Johnson, 2416 Fifteenth street, Tuesday night between 7 and 8:30 o'clock.

In Hallowe'en Motif

Lighted jack-o-lanterns, pumpkins and bronze chrysanthemums were decorations and balloons and horns were given as favors during a series of games.

The guests, pre-school children, wore costumes and masks. They were Donnie and Dannie Taylor, Jo and Dick Mellinger, Marjorie Ann Jones, Watson Bowlds, Sandra Fountain,

Units Organized By Crafts Group

American Association of University Women Crafts group met Monday night at the home of Miss Marive Poindexter to make plans for the year and organize new groups. Twenty-five persons were present.

Three groups were formed: one to meet second and fourth Thursday afternoons from 2 until 5 o'clock; the other two to meet first and third Monday nights at 7 o'clock. A chairman has not been selected yet for group one, but hand-blocked textiles will be the first project. Group two elected Miss Katie Belle Crump as chairman and voted to continue with wood carving. Miss Leona Gelin was elected chairman of group three which will engage in several kinds of work.

A joint meeting of the groups will be held Monday night, Nov. 4, at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. P. Clement, 2606 Twentieth street. Making and judging designs will be the subject for discussion at this meeting.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

with Ivah Laxative combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas-coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used pepsin compounds, as agreeable carriers to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gullet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal. Adv.

German Ambassador To Turkey Leaves Unexpectedly To Report To Fuehrer

Warning Given To Bulgaria

By The Associated Press

ISTANBUL, Oct. 30. — Franz von Papen, crafty German ambassador of two great wars, left Turkey unexpectedly today for Germany.

Presumably von Papen will report to Adolf Hitler on Turkey's position and her intentions in the war which, at long last, has entered southeastern Europe through Italy's invasion of Greece. (It was 25 years ago this coming December that von Papen was sent back to Germany from the United States on the state department's representation that he had indulged in "improper activities in military and naval matters." Hitler named him ambassador to Turkey in April of 1939, but he failed to prevent Turkey from entering into a mutual assistance pact with Britain.)

Matter Of Prestige

Von Papen's recall to Berlin comes at a time when the Turkish press is declaring that "they are wholeheartedly with the Greek nation," and suggestion that this country tender all possible aid to Greece. (This information is contained in Ankara dispatches delayed an entire day in transmission).

Yesterday Turkey celebrated the seventeenth anniversary of the republic in a martial manner, and an official of the ministry of defense said: "Turkey's army is in excellent condition if it is called upon to defend the nation's frontiers."

One newspaper, Yeni Sabah, went so far as flatly to warn Bulgaria that if she enters the war and "... an adventure toward the Aegean, she will be faced by the Turkish army."

The official Turkish radio said tonight that Italy apparently had attacked Greece independent of Germany as a matter of prestige.

Transients, Especially Cotton-Pickers, Are Informed They Don't Have To Return To Their Homes In Draft; Just Inform Boards

Transients who are working in this area, particularly cotton pickers, need not return to their home counties if they are registered for the draft, but they can keep in touch with their local boards by letting them know where they are, so if their registration number is called, they may be easily located.

This was the statement Wednesday by Douglas Pounds, a member of draft board No. 2, who made the comment after the board had had numerous requests, particularly from Mexican cotton pickers, about what to do.

Can Write His Board

"It is not necessary for a man to leave his job and return to his home, if he is registered for the draft," Pounds explained. "He can write his board, giving his number if he knows it, and his address. Then, the board can write him if his number is called for service."

Many farmers, Pounds explained, had reported to the board that their cotton pickers, especially Mexicans, were wanting to return home. Some of them, he added, had gone back to South Texas to register and many had not returned. This situation has caused considerable delays for farmers harvesting cotton and feed.

Will Be Notified

Both Lubbock draft boards have sent to other counties the names of those men who had registered with the board here and who gave their home addresses in other counties or states. In turn, the local boards has received numerous cards from other counties with information about Lubbock residents who had registered away from home.

Lubbock draft boards have the addresses of all men of draft age who are working or living temporarily in other towns. When and if their numbers are to be called for examination, they will be notified. "It is not necessary for any Lubbock county boy away from here, to come home unless he is actually summoned for examination," Pounds added. "They can continue to stay away and work, so long as we have their address in case we have to send for them."

Beauty Candidates To Be Nominated Today In Balloting At Tech

Texas Technological college students will name 16 candidates for beauty honors in balloting today.

Procedure has been changed and there will be only the one election before the final selection of beauties by some authority, said A. J. Kemp from Clovis, N. M., editor of La Ventana, student yearbook, heretofore 24 candidates have been chosen in one election and eight eliminated in a second election.

Each student eligible to vote may nominate three co-eds, listing them in preferential order. The 16 receiving the largest number of votes will be candidate for beauty pages of the yearbook.

Arrangements have not been made for the final selection, Kemp said Wednesday.

Germs Choicy About Foods

Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 30 — Persons living on poor diets are resistant to some infections because they cannot feed the disease germs properly.

In a report today before the National Academy of Sciences Dr. Stuart Mudd of the University of Pennsylvania declared that the streptococcus germ, one of the most virulent and widespread of all forms of bacteria, is extremely exacting in its food requirements.

The bug causes erysipelas, the group of diseases known as blood poisoning, childbed fever, intestinal infections, some forms of diphtheria and one form of pneumonia, meningitis, rheumatism, and a number of other diseases.

However, some strains of the streptococcus require carbon, minerals, proteins, thiamin, riboflavin, pantothenic acid and nicotinic acid —members of the "B" family of vitamins — in order to exist, Dr. Mudd said.

Too Rapid Inhaling Of Oxygen By Fliers At High Altitudes Cause Of 'Blackouts'

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—A newly discovered cause of "blackouts" by aviators was declared today to be too rapid inhaling of oxygen at high altitudes.

This danger, which may be as important as the loss of consciousness due to rapid pull-outs from dives, was pointed out today before the closing meeting of the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Carl F. Schmidt and Dr. Julius H. Comroe of the University of Pennsylvania. Too much oxygen inhaled quickly may be as dangerous as too little over a period of minutes, they declared.

The body has two types of breathing control—an area in the brain which responds to concentrations of carbon dioxide in the blood and speeds up breathing, the other group of "Chemoreceptors," located in the two arteries of the body. The latter are extremely delicate nerve endings, hangovers from man's evolution from water animals, which respond quickly to high concentrations of oxygen and act to cut down the supply of it to the blood.

In some circumstances, such as the administration of anesthesia or high altitude flying, "the control of breathing may revert to the primitive aquatic type and be carried out by the chemoreceptors," the University of Pennsylvania scientists declared, and sudden administration of oxygen lack may cause breathing to stop.

Prison Inmates Too Enthusiastic Over Support For Willkie

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 30. (U.P.) — Warden Alfred E. Bond of Indiana State prison learned from aviators today that a huge sign painted on the roof of the prison rug shop reads: "Vote for Willkie." The warden figured inmates must have vented their enthusiasm when they repainted the shop recently.

Non-Competitive Crops Are Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Agriculture department acted today to encourage Central and South American countries to produce crops that complement those of the United States, particularly rubber.

It announced establishment of a Latin-American division which will coordinate all phases of the department's program for encouraging production of non-competitive farm products in Latin-America.

State's Revenue Exceeds Government Costs By $21,000,000 In Past Fiscal Year

Balances Offset State's Deficit

By The United Press

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—State Comptroller George H. Sheppard today analyzed the state's dollar—where it comes from and how it is spent.

The state's receipt "dollar" amounted to $167,409,854 for the fiscal year. Its expenditure "dollar" was $165,717,612, representing the amounts received and expended by the state during the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1940.

Balances Offset Deficit

The difference between income and outgo was represented by various balances in the treasury. Sheppard explained that these balances more than offset the state's general revenue fund deficit. Treasury balances increased during the past fiscal year from $53,797,080 to $69,094,507 and this increase was accounted for largely by the deposit of state money in the federal treasury under the unemployment compensation law.

Due to an increase in the rate, the advalorem tax was up from $14,963,516 last year to $22,275,576 this year. Increases were reflected also in the gasoline, gross receipts and other tax incomes. Total tax income amounted to $121,524,457 this year against $108,650,566 last year.

Notable decrease in expenditures was for public welfare and pensions. Last year the state spent for these purposes $35,515,550; this year the expenditure was $29,460,943. Educational expenditures on the other hand were up from $45,640,984 to $58,579,342 and total governmental cost expenditures were $165,717,612 against $164,323,499 last year.

mined approaches to important ports on both the east and west coasts of Greece.

Information from usually reliable sources in the Dodecanese islands said some 500 Italian soldiers had been killed in a "recent" British naval bombardment of the Italian fortified island of Skarpanto.

"Death Volunteers"

The attack surprised the Italians sleeping in a barracks, and only 200 escaped, these informants said. The barracks and a wireless station were reported destroyed. The Italian dead, it was said, were buried hastily in a ditch.

This attack may have been the one the British reported on Skarpanto by its Mediterranean fleet early in September.

Greece proceeded meanwhile with her general mobilization in an atmosphere of determination and enthusiasm. Resevists thronged barracks singing patriotic songs.

A special battalion to be known as the "Death Volunteers" was being formed here in Athens for especially perilous missions. Only those not liable to military service were being accepted.

Villagers along the Germans night bombing routes reported that plane after plane had jettisoned explosives in the open fields and fled for home.

Skelly Oil Company To Pay The Difference In Employes' Salaries

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30. (AP)—The Skelly Oil Co. announced today it would grant leaves of absence to employes conscripted for military training and would pay the difference between the employes' regular and military salary for periods ranging from one-half month to three months, depending upon the length of employment by the company.

W. G. Skelly, company president, said the policy also would apply to employes who volunteer for military service of not more than a year.

The maximum differential pay would go to employes of 12 years service or more.

Ellis Issues Another Plea For Demo Funds

Democrats of Lubbock county were urged Wednesday to make contributions without delay to the party's national campaign fund.

L. C. Ellis, chairman of the county committee, reported that approximately two-thirds of the $1467 quota has been subscribed.

However, he added, Democrats of the county are urged to make their contributions at once, since a report is to be made to the national committee this week. The funds are needed to defray the heavy campaign expenses which have been made necessary because of the enormous sums being spent on behalf of the opposition candidates.

Contributions should be sent or taken to Ellis, the county chairman, in Lubbock National bank.

Two Volunteer For Immediate Service

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 30. (AP)—Two men, drawn in Port Arthur's draft, call today, volunteered for immediate service.

They were brothers, Erita and Erich Kaufman—German, Jewish refugees.

KINDA LIKE HOME FOR MASSACHUSETTS GUARDSMEN—National Guardsmen of the 211th Massachusetts Coastal Artillery unit get down to a few days rest from their long trip from Boston by train to their home for a year's training, Camp Bullin, near Palacios, Texas. When Battery A's cook needed a hand or two to prepare a meal he found plenty of New Englander's with fish-cleaning experience. "Wish I was home," said one. (NEA Telephoto).

Sharp gains were recorded in U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Du Pont, Anaconda, Packard, Chesapeake and Ohio, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corp. and American Water Works.

In the specialties trading, Sun Oil gained 3 points compared with 91,000 yesterday. Gainers included Allied Chemical, Allied Products, Deere, Du Pont, Eastman, Boeing, Curtiss-Wright and Sperry.

Bonds were irregular.

First Rotary Rig Is Set Up In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (AP)—The initial rotary drilling rig was set up in downtown Fort Worth today to drill a wildcat oil test in connection with the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association's celebration of the Texas oil industry's 40th birthday.

The test will be spudded in at noon tomorrow.

The rig moved here from Corsicana, will be christened with a bottle of the first oil produced at Corsicana, where Texas' first commercial oil field was opened in October, 1895. The oil was saved by the Corsicana city water department, for which the first well to show oil was drilled.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Wheat prices moved up and down in a nervous trade today without definite direction although closing figures showed fractional net losses. At the stage the market was at a semi-loss yesterday's close.

Irregular price fluctuations in the wheat pit were attributed largely to trade uncertainty regarding domestic and international affairs and disappointment about failure of consuming demand to improve as a result of the recent price downturn.

Wheat closed unchanged to a higher compared with yesterday's finish, December 83¼-⅜, May 87⅛-¼, corn 1 cent down, December 59-⅝, May 59¾-⅞, oats unchanged to ⅛ up.

Section Of Adoption Law Is Ruled Invalid

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—A decision of the third court of civil appeals here today held invalid one section of the child adoption law which attempted to give an adopted child the right to inherit from a natural child of the adopting parents.

The court held that this section of the law added to the original draft by a senate amendment was void because it was not included in the caption of the act.

Under the decision, adopted and natural children will inherit equally from the parents but the adopted child cannot inherit from the natural child as against natural brothers, sisters or lineal descendants of the natural child.

National Cornhusking Champion Is Named

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Oct. 30. (AP)—Irving Baulman, lencier Illinoisan who twice reached hailing distance of agriculture's hall of fame, attained his goal today by winning the 17th national cornhusking championship in a field of 21 expert nubbin tossers.

Establishing a new national record, the 27-year-old Eureka farmer barely bested out Marion Link, 25, of Ames, Iowa, to win the title, a gold cup and $100 in cash.

In the 80 minute husking duel, Baulman had a net score of 46.71 bushels, to Link's 46.36 bushels, or a difference of .35 of a bushel. Both huskers brought in bulging wagons when the final bomb called it a day.

Aid For England Favored By FDR

tial candidate, by name.

At one point he said Rep. Martin was of "national interest" because, when he was appointed national Republican chairman, "this handsome verbal bouquet, this expensive orchid, was pinned upon him: 'in public life for many years, Joe Martin has represented all that is finest in American public life'."

"Considering the source of that orchid," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "Martin may be slated for some cabinet post."

Inviting an audience in Martin's home state to look at his "voting record," the chief executive said:

Against Many Acts

"Martin voted against the public utility holding company act, the Tennessee Valley authority, the National Securities Exchange act, and the extension of the CCC. He voted against practically all relief and work relief measures, and against the appropriation for rural electrification.

Also, the president added, Martin had voted against the civil service extension act and against the United States housing act.

After declaring that the Republican chairman had voted against every administration farm measure, he said:

"Perhaps he will be rewarded for this loyal service to the principles of his party by being appointed secretary of agriculture."

A "Party" Team

Mr. Roosevelt said Republicans in Congress had been acting as a "party" team, when what the country needed was an "all-American team."

Saying these "side line critics" were now saying that "we are not doing enough for our national defense," he contended that the defense program was going "full speed ahead" and that "the vast majority of Republican members of the Congress voted against building any additional battleships" when the naval expansion bill was under consideration in 1938.

"What kind of political shenanigans are these?" he demanded, employing a phrase he has used repeatedly.

Nothing To Aid Farmer

Mr. Roosevelt declared that Republicans had done nothing between 1929 and 1933 to stop the decline of farm income, the piling up of surpluses and the increase of farm debts.

He said Republicans were "ridiculous" when they shed "crocodile tears over the plight of the farmer."

Before every election day, he continued, the Republicans "always uncorked the old bottle of soothing syrup and spread it thick."

"The American farmers will not be deceived by pictures of old guard candidates, patting cows and pitching hay in front of moving picture cameras," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

"All the sweet words of the Republican leaders in Philadelphia last June—they were not worth the paper they were written on.

Wallace Praised

"For listen to this. Last summer, only a few weeks after the Republican national platform had been adopted endorsing commodity loans for the farmers, the Republican members of the House marched right back into the halls of Congress and voted against commodity loans for the farmers. They voted against them by a vote of 106 to 37."

He said farm income this year was "just about double" what it was in 1932.

"And we all know how much this is due to the patient efforts and practical vision of Henry Wallace," the president added, referring to his vice presidential running mate.

Parity—the proper relationship between agriculture and the rest of our economy—will continue to be our guiding principle."

Word To Conscripts

Addressing remarks to "you mothers and fathers" of selective service trainees, he expressed assurance that their boys would be well housed and that "your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

Mr. Roosevelt denounced as the "most inexcusable unpatriotic misstatement of fact about our army" the "brazen charge that the men called to training will not be properly housed."

Since the day when Poland was invaded, he declared, the United States had more than doubled the size of the regular army. He said the navy's "record" was: "In 1933 a weak navy; in 1940 a strong navy."

He asserted, too, that aircraft production had "jumped" and the engine output had climbed 240 per cent in ten months.

Telling listeners that he was letting them in on a secret, he said he was "enjoying this campaign."

Tragedies of the "distracted" world had weighed heavily "upon all of us," the chief executive continued, but "there is revival for every one of us in the sight of our own national community."

After his address tonight, Mr. Roosevelt arranged to leave immediately by special train for Washington, where he is scheduled to dedicate the National Institute of Health before leaving the capital again to speak at Brooklyn, N. Y., Friday night.

Woman Kills Two Children, Herself

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—A distraught mother, suffering from a nervous ailment, today killed her two small children and herself with an anesthetic and carbon monoxide, police reported.

The tragedy was discovered late this afternoon when the husband and father, Richard D. Streets, port engineer of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co., returned home from work.

Victims of what police listed as a double slaying and suicide were Mrs. Mary Streets, 36, Velma, 7, and Richard, 4.

PRESIDENT JONES ACCEPTS PICTURE—President Clifford B. Jones of Texas Technological college and Lee Harrison, prominent West Texas oil operator of Lubbock, are busy men, and although Harrison presented the painting, "The Ring," to Texas Tech more than two months ago the formal presentation was not made until Wednesday. President Jones, left, accepts the picture from Harrison on behalf of the board of directors. In a letter to Harrison, President Jones wrote, "It was exceedingly generous and thoughtful of you to make this splendid donation which adds so much to our meager collection and to the cultural and esthetic life of the institution." The picture was a painting in 1892 by the noted National Academy artist, Robert Vonnoh. It is valued at $7,500. It hangs above the mantel in the third floor reading room of the Tech library building.

Suspect Is Held On Desertion Charge

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—Gerald McGee, alleged army deserter returned here from Waco, Texas, was held for trial after a preliminary hearing today on two counts of attempted murder, one count of kidnaping, one of kidnaping with intent to commit robbery and one morals charge.

Luana Hollister, 19, identified McGee as the man who kidnaped and robbed her and her escort, William S. Hickman, U. S. navy sailor, three weeks ago, and threw them over a steep embankment after attacking her.

McGee's trial was set for Nov. 13 in Long Beach superior court.

Frenchmen Removed From Great Britain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The French embassy disclosed that the French freighter San Francisco sailed from New York today for England to remove French citizens from the British Isles to France.

A spokesman said the sailing was arranged in agreement with the British and United States governments.

It was estimated that there are about 6,000 French citizens in the British Isles.

EMPLOYMENT GAINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Steel industry employment rose to an average of 365,000 workers in September in the fifth consecutive monthly gain, the American Iron & Steel institute said today. This compared with 360,000 in August and 302,000 a year ago.

Political Speeches Will Be Broadcast

Local groups will put in thrusts of their own in the presidential race today, with broadcasts scheduled this afternoon and tonight over KFYO in interests of both parties.

Former Judge Charles E. Coombes of Stamford will speak 29 minutes, starting at 5:05 o'clock, in behalf of Wendell L. Willkie, D. P. Standley of Houston, special representative of the No Third Term Democrats of Texas, announced. Coombes is former mayor of Abilene, a former district judge and past president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The Roosevelt-Wallace cause will be discussed by District Judge E. L. Pitts and G. V. Pardue, county judge-elect, from 7 to 7:15 o'clock, L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, said.

Draft Legal Action

the numbers in the supplemental lottery—1,000 and 6,771—had actually been drawn earlier, it was ascertained. So they were cancelled out of the little lottery and reverted to their previous place in the draw.

Later in the day, Clarence A. Dykstra, the director of selective service, said he had been informed that on the basis of these developments, a Detroit youth who held serial number 158, the first drawn, was contemplating court proceedings to contest the legality of the drawing. It was assumed, although not known definitely, Dykstra said, that the youth lacked any ground for deferment, such as physical disabilities or family dependents.

Fairness Defended

Dykstra was emphatic in defending the fairness and accuracy of the lottery.

"After all," he said, "this was a lottery and even the position of the last six numbers was as much pure chance as any of the others."

The next process in the operation of the draft was the accurate checking and printing of a master list of the "order numbers" determined by the lottery. The completed master list will be dispatched as soon as possible to all local draft boards. It consists of the serial numbers of the men and the order in which those numbers were drawn.

Negro Is Injured In Two-Car Collision

Tom Cook, about 54, Lubbock negro, was dangerously injured about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when a car pulling a trailer filled with negro cotton pickers was in collision with another car at an intersection of two lateral roads a mile west of the Lubbock-Slaton highway.

Highway patrolmen said visibility in all directions was unobstructed when the cars collided. M. L. Dorsett of route 6 was driving the machine pulling the trailer and J. R. Reed of Post route 2 was driver of the other car.

Cook was rushed to Lubbock sanitarium, where a physician said he suffered serious chest injuries and severe shock. His condition remained critical at midnight.

Will Williams, another negro man, and a 12-year-old negro boy were treated in the sanitarium. Both were dismissed.

The accident was investigated by Sgt. J. B. Walling and L. W. Wilhite of the Texas Highway patrol.

Amarillo Minister To Go To Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Dr. J. Howard Williams, Amarillo, Tex., minister and president of the Texas Baptist convention, accepted tonight a call to become pastor of the First Baptist church here, second largest in the South.

Dr. Williams, who made his announcement at the close of midweek services here said he would be unable to come here permanently for sveral weeks beause his church in Amarillo is beginning its budget campaign. He said he hoped to make the transfer on or before Dec. 1.

"I'm leaving a great church," Dr. Williams stated in an interview, "but I feel I'm coming to one that has even greater possibilities of service. That's the basis on which I made my decision."

SINGERS ELECT LEADERS

tion in functioning," of any office except a quartermaster duplicating room, where about half the machines were destroyed.

Eighty pieces of fire fighting apparatus were called to the scene by a series of six alarms. Some 800 soldiers were summoned from a nearby post across the Potomac river, and a temporary cordon was thrown about the building.

While they were fighting the flames, another alarm sent firemen to a blaze at the Lewis hotel training school, where 15 were affected by escaping gas. Nine required hospital treatment.

Hallowe'en Party Is Held At Park Here

A Hallowe'en party sponsored by the City-WPA parks recreation projects, was attended Wednesday night by approximately 150 children and their parents at the recreation center in Mackenzie state park.

Music was provided by Bobby Gilson and Robert Clements, with violin and guitar numbers. The house of horrors and an apple eating contest proved most popular, said Mrs. John W. Wilson, director of the project. Prizes for best costumes were presented.

A similar party for older groups will be conducted tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock in the park.

WOULD HELP NEGROES

MULESHOE—A chamber of commerce committee, named recently, reported to that body that it had met with representatives of the E. K. Warren estate relative to securing land on which negroes could build homes. The estate was said to have agreed to lease or sell land north of the Santa Fe tracks for that purpose.

Spain shipped large quantities of wine, olives and almonds to the United States in the last year.

Draft Registrants May Volunteer For First Call Now With Local Boards

Youths Between 18-21 Included

Draft registrants who want to volunteer for the first call have been requested to report to their draft boards at once and fill out a special application for voluntary induction.

The Lubbock boards are at 601 Myrick building and on the third floor of the courthouse.

Announcement was made Wednesday at state headquarters for selective service in Austin that Texas will probably have enough volunteers for immediate training and service to fill its quota for the first call.

Others May Volunteer

The Lubbock boards also called attention to the fact that men between the ages of 18 and 21 may volunteer for service under provisions of the act. In these cases, however, the volunteers will fill out a registration card and thereafter will be classified as if they had been registrants. In classifying volunteers the board will examine them with the same care as registrants, and if it is found that a volunteer should not be inducted, he will be deferred.

Local boards have already started to compile a list of volunteers which must be completed and in the hands of state headquarters by Monday in order to include these registrants in allotments for the locality.

Gen. J. Watt Page, state director of selective service at Austin, asked assistance of the medical profession in examination of draftees. To expedite this phase of the work he requested chairmen of local boards to contact doctors in addition to those already appointed for the purpose. Service is voluntary and without pay. Doctors within draft age and those who are members of the National guard or Reserve corps are ineligible.

Total Of Bricks For Tech Museum Rises Slowly Wednesday

Social Security Now Touching More People

Weekly average of new persons who come under federal social security regulations each week, said Lang Holt, district director at 1309-A Texas avenue, has been between 150 and 175 for the past several months.

Holt said new businesses, coming to Lubbock of college students who are being employed for the first time, and a general business growth all over the area, accounted for the high increase.

"We have had a steady growth in the number of new persons coming under the laws, ever since the first of the year," Holt added. "In the past few months we have averaged nearly 175 a week."

Brownfield, Sundown, Levelland, Morton, Seminole and other towns that have made steady and rapid growth in recent months, are included in the area with more workers. Oil development has been a factor in most of these communities. Denver City, Seagraves, Littlefield, Muleshoe and other towns have increases also, as well as Lubbock.

SEVEN LOCKNEYITES SOLO

LOCKNEY — Seven persons here have made solo flights in his training plane, James Miller, instructor, reports. He has had five new students, Ben Whitfill, Jessie Wofford, Raymond Ragle, R. H. Ford and Bob Davis of Lockney, Leo Davis of Plainview and Rayburn Henry of Amarillo have made flights.

WAKE UP YOUR OWN LAXATIVE FLUID

And Maybe You, Too, Will Feel Like "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Do you suffer from constipation? Do you suffer from fatty indigestion below the belt or sick headache or biliousness due to constipation? Do you feel ornery from being constipated? If so, you may need to buck up the flow of your natural laxative fluid with Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them according to directions. These pills, made of two simple vegetable medicines, have doubled the flow of this laxative juice in some people as proved by medical tests. Today Is Circus Day Here And Cole Bros. Circus Is Bringing One Of Two Big Shows In Field This Year To Town; Over 200 Featured Acts

The circus arrives in town today. The survival of the circus is a beautiful thing, twenty years ago there were scores of circuses, this year there are but two big railroad shows and they delightfully parade all the forms of human entertainment; song, dance, pantomime, pageant, vaudeville, satire, farce, comedy, and exhibitions of skill and daring.

Cole Bros. Circus, which comes to Lubbock this morning, is not a thing of fragments. It is a whole work. All its parts combine to form a play. It opens with a gorgeous pageant "La Habana," with costume and culture. Hundreds of men, women and animals participate in this grand entry, beautiful dancing girls, singers, massed bands, and musical novelties all combine to make this opening spectacle a sight long to be remembered by all who see it.

Plenty Of Action

At the circus today there will be more going on than any one human eye can perceive or enjoy. There will be a continuous feeling of missing something very precious. This, no doubt, is the thing that keeps the circus forever fresh. Patrons will be somewhat confused when the clowns come rollicking in, and at the same time some dainty aerialist at the other end of the tent is doing a thrilling hand over hand trick, or Frank Shepherd, world's leading gymnast, is doing a flying leap through space. There will be plenty of action and most of it will be caught by everybody, providing one does not fall asleep during the show, which is at least improbable.

Over two hundred feature acts are with the circus this season. Ken Maynard, world's foremost western screen star will be here and will appear at each performance with his wonder horse "Tarzan"; The Rieffenach family of bareback riders with Rose Rieffenach, the only girl in the world doing a backward somersault from one fast galloping horse to another; The Escalante troupe of aerialists, high up in the dome of the big tent; fifty clowns headed by the world's funniest pantomimist Otto Griebling; fifty dancing horses ridden by fifty beautiful girls; three herds of performing elephants, Europe's most famous horse trainer, Adolph Deibosq, with three stables of liberty horses, beautiful Arabian steeds and Palomenian stallions, acrobats and wirewalkers, and scores of other thrilling sights.

Plenty Of Wild Animals

The menagerie, from the Al G. Barnes circus, is all new, lions, tigers, leopards, elephants, and other species of wild animals; and the doors to the big tent will open at 1 and 7 p. m., one hour ahead of the starting time of the circus to allow patrons to inspect this wonderful collection of wild and domestic animals.

The special railroad trains will arrive about daylight over the Santa Fe railroad, coming here from Clovis and unloading will start immediately upon arrival. Tents will be erected at East Broadway opposite the fair grounds.

Reserved and general admission tickets will be on sale today at the John Halsey Drug store.

ITALY GIVES PROMISE

ROME, Oct. 30. (AP) — A virtual promise that Italy would refrain from bombing Athens so long as Rome is spared from aerial attack was broadcast by the official Rome radio today in a statement denying an alleged British assertion that Fascist planes had already raided the Greek capital.

STAR OF CIRCUS — Ken Maynard, western movie star, is to appear in person in the Cole Bros. circus in two performances here today.

Addition To Muleshoe Is Being Developed

MULESHOE, Oct. 30. — A four-block addition to the city, south of the city is to be surveyed and will be read soon for the sale of lots. A. P. Stone, former mayor and local representative of E. K. Warren and Sons, owners of the property, said.

The addition is said to be badly needed to meet a demand for more residences. H. E. Musson is surveying the acreage. The addition will be located west of state highway 214.

Pains In Knees Had Almost Crippled Him

Gly-Cas Relieved Him Of Constipation, Then Those Miserable Aches and Pains Began To Leave; Gets About Now With Ease

"I never hesitate to recommend Gly-Cas at every opportunity," said Mr. W. E. Harmon, 115 Flood St., Wichita Falls, Texas. "Habitual constipation had finally taken its toll causing me so much suffering I was in almost constant distress. My digestion was so upset that even a drink of water would make me so nauseated. I could not eat the foods I liked because of the suffering they would cause me and too frequent kidney action disturbed my rest and sleep so much I was sluggish all the time. I lost my appetite too but what caused me the real agony were the awful pains in my knees which almost crippled me and made it so difficult to get around. But once I gave Gly-Cas a trial it was not long until I was feeling the best I had in years.

"It is almost unbelievable how well I feel today," continued Mr. Harmon. All those distressing aches and pains have been relieved and I get around with ease. My digestion is good and I have a keen appetite. I get full nights of sound rest and sleep, am enjoying real strength and energy now since I am getting regular elimination of clogged intestinal impurities. Gly-Cas proved a wonderful medicine for me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

Plowing Contest Is Being Staged

Preliminary contests to determine a South Plains champion handler of a tractor among young farm men was begun Wednesday afternoon in a field four miles southeast of Lubbock on the Slaton highway under direction of E. K. Hufsteiler of Lubbock, with the district winner to be named, probably by Saturday.

A dozen or more young men from Lubbock, Plainview and Levelland began their elimination contest Wednesday afternoon. The contest will be continued today for the three groups. On Friday contests from Ackerly and Lamesa are to meet. The final contest follows.

To Have State-Wide Contest

Winner of the dist t is to be entered in a state-wide contest in Dallas Nov. 7, when the state champion is to be selected. He in turn will receive a tractor.

Hufsteiler, operator of three farm implement agencies, at Plainview, Levelland and Lubbock, is the agent for the Ford-Ferguson tractor. Several months ago a group of young men were named to receive scholarships, under which they were to study tractor operation and management. From among these youths, contestants are being chosen.

Score Card Laid Out

H. P. Clay, agricultural engineer for the division of agriculture of Texas Technological college and O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture area supervisor, were the judges Wednesday. They kept close score on contestants.

Each contestant was to plow a tract 300 feet wide by 400 feet long. Scoring was to be done under the following heads: straightness of opening furrow, neatness of back furrow, evenness of entering land at head furrow, keeping furrow even at end of field, evenness of furrow slice, evenness of furrow depth, covering of trash, straightness of furrow wall, neatness of dead furrow, finishing plowing job without undue loss of time.

Astronomical Discovery At Univ. Of Texas Observatory In Big Bend Area Is Announced

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 — Discovery from the McDonald observatory in West Texas of a cloud of gaseous iron enveloping the double star Antares to a depth of several billion miles is reported in the Astrophysical journal which reached the Univeristy of Texas today.

The observatory, under joint operation by the University of Texas and the University of Chicago, has been working especially on determination of astral substances.

Using Special Apparatus

Dr. Otto Struve, observatory director, and Dr. Polydore Swings, Belgian scientist and visiting staff man for the University of Chicago, have been making the observations with especially sensitive ultra-violet photographic apparatus. The gaseous cloud is invisible except through such apparatus.

"Our studies indicate," Dr. Struve reported "that the iron atoms of these nebulous sheils produce radiations which cannot occur on earth for lack of sufficient heat and gaseous iron."

The discovery is expected to aid scientific studies of iron and other metals.

Antares is brightest star in the constellation of the Scorpion.

BAR OFF WILSON BANKERS

WILSON — Farmers in this section of Lynn county have received $2,000 in cotton parity checks and approximately $10,000 in soil conservation checks, Hassell Cook, cashier of the Wilson State bank, reports. Cook said he expected 600,000 more would come to farmers of this community.

LINCOLN NAMED JUDGE

BROWNFIELD — C. L. (Abe) Lincoln, who was nominated for county judge of Terry county was sworn in to succeed R. A. Simms, who resigned to accept a post as secretary of the county draft board. Simms was serving his third term and was not a candidate for reelection.

Defeat Of FDR Is Said Goal

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic National committee, said today that "every Nazi and Fascist organization in the United States is for Wendell Willkie, who is playing the game of the axis by belittling the defense of the country."

"Any person who attempts to belittle the resources of the country and what has been done in the way of national defense is giving comfort to the axis," Flynn said at a press conference.

Seeking Communists' Support

Flynn's remarks accorded a statement in which he said that Willkie now "has the hardihood to whine about a whispering campaign. This in connection with the publication of the definite declaration of support of his candidacy by every Fascist organization in the country and the definite testimony from overseas that Herr Hitler and the axis generally are doing what they can do accomplish the defeat of President Roosevelt, and doubtless have ordered their representatives in this country how to proceed."

The Democratic chairman also intimated that the Republicans were attempting to get the support of the Communists.

"The Republicans advertised in the Daily Worker," he said, "Certainly they hope to get something out of it. Nobody, of course, has accused the Republican candidate of being a Communist, a Fascist, or otherwise cast any doubt on his Americanism. But the eagerness of his campaign managers to accept support from any source however tainted is a phenomena of this campaign."

Paintings Will Be On Scene Here Saturday

A preview for members of the Texas Technological college Art institute will be held from 2 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in West Texas museum, so they may see paintings of the 18th circut exhibition of the Southern States Art league.

The oil paintings will be on display in the museum Sunday through Nov. 30, said F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the institute.

Outstanding among the paintings is "Negro Cabins", by Reuben Gambreil, who won honorable mention in the federal mural exhibition in the Corcoran art gallery in Washington, D. C.

Collis H. Turner Is Assigned To Kelly

Collis H. Turner, son of Mrs. John R. Turner of 929 Avenue M, was assigned to the air corps at Kelly field on enlistment in the U. S. Army at the Lubbock recruiting station Wednesday.

Of 14 young men enlisted Tuesday and Wednesday, nine were sent to Kelly field.

Among others recruited were Fred M. Porterfield of Lamesa, and Joe W. Sanders of Morton, air corps, Kelly field, and Roy C. Faubus of Dickens, infantry, Fort Sam Houston.

ENLISTMENTS REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (U.P.) — The Navy reported today that 2,081 men enlisted during the week ending Oct. 25.

Probe To Be Made Of Oil Worker's Death

ELECTRA, Oct. 30. (AP)—Dangling by a safety belt 80 feet above ground, the body of W. S. Dunford, 26, of Wichita Falls, was found on an oil well derrick on the Jere Barnes lease 14 miles form here today.

Physicians planned to make X-ray photos to determine cause of death.

Tom W. Johnson and Harris Purvis, at work on the derrick, climbed atop the derrick and found Dunford's body after he had failed to answer signals. One foot rested on a thribble board.

No marks or bruises were found on Dunford's body. He had a slight contusion on the back of his head, the men reported.

Justice I. P. Gibson planned an inquest.

Tax Payments In County Ahead

First month tax payments of the new tax paying year have moved ahead of last year's remarkable record, according to report Wednesday by H. B. Bryan, county assessor-collector.

Payments aggregating more than $30,000 the past two days, he said, have increased the department's collections of state and county taxes to $107,973.98. Collections to the same date last year, he added, were $104,133.29.

Tax Rate Is Lower

The record of payment is all the more remarkable, Bryan said, when considered that payments are larger in spite of the fact that the state tax rate is 8 cents lower on the $100 of assessed valuation than last year.

First month payments have been stimulated, Bryan said, by the fact that a 3 per cent deduction is allowed. That deduction will drop to 2 per cent starting Monday, and the probabilities are, according to the collector-assessor, that payments will be heavy during the remainder of this week.

Office Open At Noon

He reminded that his office will be open during the noon hour through the remainder of the week as a convenience to property owners.

The payments thus far this month, he reported, have included $55,664.50 in state taxes and $52,309.48 in county taxes. The state rate of 69 cents compares with 77 cents last year while the county rate of 50 cents is unchanged.

Last year during the same period, the state tax payments were $57,756.77 and the county $46,378.52.

In addition, $29,946.60 in taxes have been collected for school districts as compared with $31,950.16 last year.

Poll tax payments have fallen off sharply compared with October, 1939. The comparative figures are 619 this year and 990 last year.

Burton Burks First To Pay City Taxes

City tax receipts were delivered Wednesday afternoon and collections of new taxes started immediately, according to announcement by City Assessors-Collector V. R. Plummer.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, was the first to make payment. Several other property owners were close behind him, Plummer reported.

The assessor-collector added that although notices to property owners will be mailed within the next few days, the department is prepared to accept all tax payments on the new city year.

The new collections, it was explained, have been delayed while waiting the setting of the city tax rate. The rate was set by the city commission at $1 on the $100 of assessed valuation, a reduction of 5 cents below that of last year.

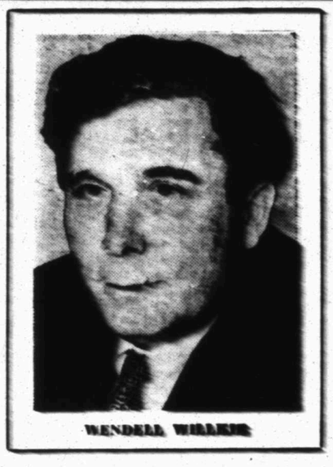

PROGRAM IS AHEAD

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP) — Dominios Secretary Lord Cranborne said today the empire program in full operation is designed to turn out 20,000 pilots and 30,000 air crews a year "and it is now months ahead of schedule."

JUST DOESN'T MAKE "SENSE"

WENDELL WILLKIE

. . . for months Hitler's secret weapon has been the talk of the universe!

. . . now, in a siege of England with Europe still starving, where is Hitler's secret weapon?

HITLER'S SECRET WEAPON IS A STATE OF MIND!
(A Confused State of Mind)

. . . In 1776, in the colonies of America, a STATE OF MIND existed that if the people of America were free and the initiative of the people was not hindered by government restrictions, a greater nation would take its place in the Sun.

. . . THE UNITED STATES IS THE GREATEST NATION EVER CREATED BY MAN . . . THE STATE OF MIND OF THE AMERICAN CITIZEN IS UNKNOWN TO ALL OTHER PEOPLE.

. . . A new state of mind (new order) is trying to be forced upon us, boiling it all down, that we need a concentration of power and one man to stay in power, "FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

. . . This new order has been nothing but a confused state of mind turning from one "cock-hat" idea, to another, from shooting pigs, plowing up good crops, to opening up free hospitals for Wild Ducks.

. . . a confused state of mind with "cock-hat" ideas to avoid the destructive issues of the totalitarian states, with suppressed labor upsetting world wide economics . . . when the Dictator nations began to make guns, we began to shoot farm animals . . . and to give power to do foolish unconstitutional things to our GREAT ROMANCER, FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT.

. . . while Roosevelt was saying 1/3 of the nation was ill-fed, the new deal ordered 6,000,000 pigs and 1,000,000 head of cattle destroyed. WHAT A STATE OF MIND!

. . . Roosevelt is spending millions of dollars to reclaim and irrigate new land and millions of dollars to reduce crop acreage. WHAT A DOUBLE STATE OF MIND!

. . . Government INTERFERENCE IN AGRICULTURAL EXPORT BUSINESS HAS CAUSED THE EXPORT OF FARM PRODUCTS TO FALL OFF 35% IN 1939 from what it was in 1932. IS THIS IS SUCCESS FOR THE FARMERS. WHAT A STATE OF MIND!

. . . By the power of his office he has created a confused state of mind automatically creating classes in the ranks of our citizens, making each believe that the welfare of one class is opposed to that of the other.

. . . members of his family have openly given aid to the Communistic Youth Congress, which is a STATE OF MIND "UNAMERICAN."

. . . In 1932 when Roosevelt became president, he accepted the Democratic platform which advocated a Navy and Army for adequate defense.

HITLER CAME INTO POWER AT THE SAME TIME AND IMMEDIATELY BEGAN TO BUILD A GREAT ARMY. JUST TWO DIFFERENT STATES OF MIND.

. . . In 8 YEARS 60 BILLIONS OF DOLLARS HAVE BEEN SPENT and where is our national defense?

. . . In 1939 Senators McNary and Hodge introduced a bill in Congress calling for acquisition of naval and air bases in British owned islands for our war debt. Roosevelt only laughed. We are now arming these islands under emergency measures. Do you really think that only one man should be allowed to think for America?

. . . only a year ago Roosevelt dismissed the demand for a two-ocean Navy.

. . . NOW DO YOU SAY THAT WE SHOULD KEEP GIVING ONE MAN MORE AND MORE POWER TO KEEP SUPPRESSED THE ENERGIES OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE . . . WHAT A STATE OF MIND THAT WANTS US TO FALL FOR SUCH A CONFUSED MANNER OF THINKING THAT IS UTTER DESTRUCTION.

. . . . Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin forced themselves into power, and at the Democratic Convention in Chicago, Roosevelt forced his nomination by having the Kelly political machine of Chicago pack the convention and prevented any other Democrat from making an effective nomination. . . . THE VICE PRESIDENT IS HIS CHOICE, NOT YOUR CHOICE.

. . . do you want the power to come from the people or from one man; in 1776 the power of one man was thrown out and the power of the people was substituted; and that is the American Way of life. . . . the ORIGINAL AMERICAN STATE OF MIND.

. . . Sun Elliott is a Captain in the Heavy Ordinance Department—a new experience for Elliott . . . . and a NEW IDEA, guaranteed to give 100% NEW DEAL EFFICIENCY.

. . . In 1940, $1,000 per year was paid out of the tax payers money to keep one WPA worker, but the worker only got $650 . . . NEW DEAL EFFICIENCY . . . unemployment has jumped to 10,000,000 people.

. . . NOW THIS ROMANCE THAT WE GET FROM FIRE SIDE CHATS THAT THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA DOES NOT NEED A CHANGE IN PRESIDENTS AND THAT IT WILL WEAKEN AMERICA IF WE CHANGE IS A HIPOCRITIC STATE OF MIND—AND IS NOT THE AMERICAN WAY OF THINKING AND IF CONTINUED WILL BE THE BIGGEST FIFTH COLUMN TRAGEDY IN OUR NATIONAL LIFE BECAUSE A BIG PART OF OUR THINKING CITIZENS WILL DESPAIR.

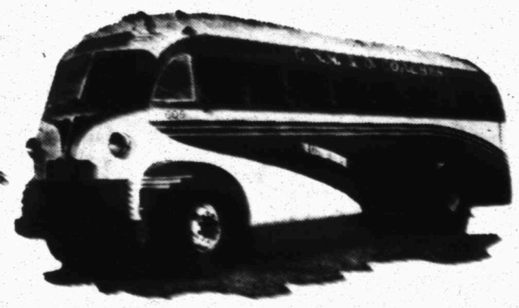

THE POWER OF AMERICA IS IN THE PEOPLE —NOT ONE MAN.

Ohio Is Politically Punch Drunk Under Unprecedented Campaigning In State

State Visited By Crack Orators

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30.—Ohio today is politically punch drunk, reeling under unprecedented campaigning of Democrats and Republicans for her highly coveted 26 electoral votes.

Both parties, publicly claiming Ohio, privately admit the outcome is doubtful. Her returns in next Tuesday's election will be watched anxiously, for only twice—1884 and 1892—have the state's electoral votes failed to go to the winning presidential candidate.

For six weeks voters have undergone a relentless hammering of words from the parties' top-notch orators.

A national cross-section of political sentiment because of diversified agriculture, labor and industrial interests, Ohio got more attention this year from Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie than from any presidential candidates since the Bryan-McKinley race in 1896, veteran observers said.

Big Homecoming Is Planned At A. C. C.

ABILENE, Oct. 30—Detailed plans are being laid as Abilene Christian college prepares for one of the largest homecomings in its history on November 8 and 9.

Theme of this annual event will be to honor Don H. Morris, newly named president who took office June 1, the first executive to be elected from the ranks of the ex-students association.

Bulletins, numbering 8,000, are being mailed this week to former students located in practically every state of the union, urging that they join the trek back to their Alma Mater.

Feature events of the gathering will be the chapel program by the ex-students, the free West Texas barbecue; and the bon-fire and pep rally for the homecoming football game between Abilene Christian college Wildcats and the Daniel Baker eleven on the afternoon of the 9th.

Fred Barton, Abilene, who is president of the ex-students association and in charge of the event also lists numerous other reunions, meeting and social events on the detailed program.

Texas Dental Leader Is To Speak In City

Meeting of the South Plains Dental society will be addressed by Dr. F. C. Elliott president of the Texas Dental college at Houston, next Wednesday afternoon in Hilton hotel, according to Dr. C. C. Craig, president.

Meeting will begin late in the afternoon and will include a dinner. Between 30 and 50 dentists from over the district are expected to attend, said Dr. Craig. It is to be a stated meeting, Dr. Elliott, he added, has a national reputation as a writer and lecturer. It was not known whether the lecture will be illustrated or not.

MADRID, Oct. 30.—A strange-looking craft, described as a cross between a torpedo and a launch, was washed up on the La Espalereta beach near La Linea today, the Mencheta News agency reported in a dispatch from Gibraltar.

After an early cursory examination of the object, the opinion was expressed that the craft was a piloted torpedo, known as a suicide torpedo.

The craft was about 10 feet long with space for one man to sit at a steering gear. It was equipped with propellor and hand-brake ad carried a deposit of gasoline. The craft's motor was running when it was found.

Troops immediately were posted about the craft and crowds of curious were dispersed for fear of an explosion.

Supreme Court Refuses Case

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—The state supreme court today refused to rehear the case in which it recently sustained a state claim for chain store tax against a group of filing stations in West Texas, operated by Standard Oil company of Texas, or under agreements with it.

The application for rehearing asked the supreme court to render a decision "that will make clear to producing companies what they can do and must do."

The court was asked to say if companies can advertise their products as sold at stations without making the stations part of a chain. It was asked also to rule if having stations painted uniformly so patrons may know what class of products is sold makes them a chain.

A plea was made that the court "mark a boundary line" between permissible and forbidden activities of non-chain operation.

Filling stations that handle petroleum products only are exempt from chain store tax, but it has been held that if they handle accessories, they are subject to the chain tax.

Oklahoma Prison Authorities About To Call Penalty For Illegal Use Of Convict's Toe

(By The Associated Press)

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 30. They're about to call a penalty for illegal use of a toe against a McAlester prison convict who turned up with a new wrinkle in forgery but booted it on his first try.

The new wrinkle, on which the convict scored $5 before his play was called back by suspicious officials, was the substitution of a toeprint for the required fingerprint on a forged penitentiary money order, said assistant County Attorney Bill Burkhardt.

For a time after the order was honored and then aroused suspicion, prison officials were baffled, Burkhart recounted. The loops and whorls on the print on the order matched none in the files.

Then someone figured out a toe might have been used. Suspects were toe-printed.

One fit—that of Austin Davis, Tulsa county, in for 15 years for robbery with firearms, said Burkhart.

Davis, "arrested," admitted the misplay, pleaded guilty to forgery before Justice of the Peace A. C. Sewell and was ordered held for district court which will decide the penalty.

Miami Hurricane Hits City Limits At 1:15 PM Today

Florida Eleven Set For Techs

It may not be in the weather forecast, but a ripping Hurricane is scheduled to hit Lubbock this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock. It will be the Miami University Hurricane all the way from Coral Gables and is blowing in with a lot of touchdown power. However, the big blow will not hit its real stride until Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at Tech stadium where the Hurricanes will sweep into action against the undefeated Tech Red Raiders.

Miami, 34 strong and with three victories against one defeat, will workout tonight at Tech stadium about 7:30 o'clock. Coach John Harding has wired ahead that his Florida grid squad is in great physical condition and ready for a real test of strength after last week's 31 to 7 decision over Elon university. There is advice to the effect that the Miami gladiators are merely coming to Lubbock for a workout and anticipate no trouble in taking the Red Raiders into camp.

Likely To Cut Loose

Just the same, the Raiders are working daily in order to shove the best they've got against the Hurricanes. A sharp, chilly wind and a driving rain failed to halt yesterday's practice in which the Raiders worked mostly on their on rushing and aerial offense. Coaches Pete Cawthon and "Dutchy" Smith had to warn their cohorts to slow down several times, so keen are the Raiders for action. They got all wet and muddy at yesterday's practice but nothing could dampen their enthusiasm for the game.

Big Charlie Dvoracek, one of the Southwest's hardest ramming fullbacks, was back in his practice uniform and going as hard as ever. Dvoracek missed Monday's practice. He had to go home and look over the cotton crop. It must have looked pretty good from the way he tore through yesterday's workout.

Coach Cawthon said yesterday he believed Friday night's game would be superior to the recent Brigham Young game so far as hard blocking and terrific tackling are concerned.

"Miami is mostly a power team. That means the Hurricanes must have almost perfect blocking and tackling. They had just that last season when they smothered us 19 to 0 in the Miami Orange bowl. Several of my boys including Captain Lonnie McCurry, Milton Hill, Prince Scott, Francis Bingham and Rafe Nabors played against Miami last season. They realize they are in for one of their toughest games of the season because Miami believes in racking 'em up quick," Cawthon said.

The Raiders will take only a light drill today, according to Cawthon who has every man in good physical condition and wants to keep them that way at least until Friday night. Tickets for the game are on sale at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock Drug Store, Mark Halsey No. 2 and Hub Clothiers.

A PECK OF TROUBLE—That's what Bill Steiner, above, Miami university tailback who excels at passing, running and kicking the football, promises for Texas Tech Red Raiders Friday night. Steiner played only briefly in the Miami victory over Tech last fall, but scored one of the Hurricane's three touchdowns. This season he has been playing regularly and has had a large hand in the loud Miami offense. Miami followers are especially proud of his kicking efforts—he averages better than 40 yards per boot from the scrimmage line.

Calf Ropers Drop 3rd Game In Row, 7 To 13

Lubbock Junior High Calf Ropers suffered a 7-13 defeat at the hands of the Plainview Junior High Bullpups Wednesday afternoon on the Junior High practice field. The Lubbock team got off to a good start in the first quarter when George Brewer plunged over for the first score of the game. The Bullpups evened the score in the second period with Jack Williams going over for the six points. The game remained tied for the duration of half.

Early in the third quarter an intercepted pass started the Bullpups' winning rally. The Plainview lads marched from the midstripe until Bob Horn went plowing over for the touchdown. The Calf Ropers were held scoreless for the rest of the game, although they came within fifteen yards of pay dirt. The game ended with the Bullpups in possession of the ball.

The American Indian came originally from Asia.

Tech Frosh Prep For First Home Game Of Season Friday Afternoon

Coach Berl Huffman, magnetic commander-in-chief of the Texas Tech freshmen football unit, has his mobile backs and rugged linemen triple ready for their Friday afternoon grid war with the West Texas State freshmen at Tech stadium. The game will start at 3 o'clock and it will be the Picadors first home appearance this season.

Coach Huffman will turn loose his twisting, speeding cleated ghosts such as Howard Alford, Marvin McKown, J. L. "Muley" Bates and Jack Everetts against the Little Buffaloes. The Picadors will be after their third win of the season and are confident of winning, but Huffman doesn't share that confidence with his players.

Coaches Huffman and Dixie White drove the Picadors through a long practice yesterday and will give them a light drill today.

Showed Power Last Week

The Picadors whipped the University of New Mexico freshmen last week at Albuquerque in a game that featured the elusive ball carrying of Howard Alford, quarterback; Marvin McKown and "Muley" Bates, all three who scored touchdowns. In discussing his players at yesterday's practice, Huffman said:

"Last week at Albuquerque I saw Tackle Avon Sewalt kick-off and put the ball smack through the goal posts and at least 20 yards into the stands. It was the greatest kick-off of the season in any league. And I would not be surprised to see Howard Alford pitch the ball against the Little Buffaloes and then run ahead and catch it. He is terrific, that guy is."

Westerners Are Wary Of Game With Harvesters.

Lubbock's Westerners are quite pleased with the manner in which the downstate sports writers are beginning to loosen up and admit that "maybe" Lubbock has something out there.

But that feeling does not prevent a bit of weariness regarding the forthcoming contest with the Pampa Harvesters.

Of course, the Pampas have been beaten often this year, while the Lubbocks have a 15-game victory streak extending back to their contest with the Harvesters last season. But the four defeats charged to Pampa this fall have included no top-heavy scores. As a matter of record, the worst licking Pampa has taken this season was the 12-0 decision Childress plastered on them in the season opener.

A Stepping-Stone?

That should preclude any idea that Pampa will be merely another lamb for the slaughter, a stepping-stone on the way to the Amarillo game. Remember, this will be a District One conference game, and in District One, stepping stones have a disconcerting habit of turning into stumbling blocks.

Tickets for the game went on sale here Wednesday. Adult tickets may be purchased at Hub Clothiers, student ducats at Senior High school.

Special Train Scheduled

A special train will be run to Pampa for the game, leaving Lubbock at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, arriving in Pampa just before noon and returning to Lubbock at 10:45 o'clock Saturday night.

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters possibly expressed the general opinion of Pampa fans by saying he would not be more surprised if the Sickle Wielders upset Lubbock than he was last week when Plainview defeated Pampa for the first time in ten years.

The threeweek-end games in the district—Lubbock at Pampa, Amarillo at Borger and Big Spring at Plainview—might help iron out the kinks in the race for the conference scoring championship. M. Mason, Plainview fullback, is now leading with eight touchdowns, 11 points-after-touchdown and one field goal for 62 points. Close behind is Amarillo's M. T. Johnson who has scored 60 points on 10 touchdowns. Occupying third and fourth slots are Lubbock's one-two men, Leete Jackson and Robert McKinnon with 53 and 50 points.

Cowboys Battle Tough Sweetwater '11' Today

Lubbock's Junior High Cowboys, who boast a string of undefeated games almost equal to that of their big brother Westerners, go into action this afternoon to defend that streak. They will meet the Sweetwater Junior High team on Chapman field, kickoff at 3:15 o'clock.

The Cowboys, who went undefeated last season, will be trying for their 14th consecutive triumph.

Ponies Are Heavier

The charges of Coaches Mule Davis and Lovic Liston will face current campaign. The Ponies, perhaps their toughest game of the seeking to avenge a pasting they took last fall, will start with a lineup outweighing the locals more than six pounds to the man.

Probable starters: Lubbock—Johnny Davis and Burl Gene Moore, ends; Paul Teas and Darwin Morgan, tackles; R. W. Moyer and Homer Lawson, guards; David Coursey, center; Frank Jones, quarterback; Billie Wooten and Lemuel Teague, halfbacks; and Pete Belt, fullback.

Sweetwater — Scott and Nash, ends; Nelson and Brown, tackles; Tate and Batts, guards; Steele, center; Hedrick, quarterback; Taylor and Huddleston, halfbacks; and Shaw, fullback.

Tackles Drahos, Reinhard Pace Procession Of Would-Be All-American Linemen

By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Smashing play by leading tackle candidates marked last week's performances by the nation's potential All-America football linemen.

Setting a pace few of his rivals could match was big Nick Drahos of Cornell, a member of the 1939 All-America. This six-foot, three-inch stalwart from Long Island played 60 minutes of brilliant football against Ohio State.

On the other side of the continent another great tackle prospect was doing a spectacular 60-minute job—Bob Reinhard, of California, who likewise towers six feet three inches. Regarded by many Pacific Coast critics as that sector's lineman, Reinhard averaged 47.7 in kicking against Washington and its highly rated Dean McAdams.

Four Western conference tackles were standouts on Saturday. Al Wistert, Michigan sophomore, played hob with Penn's offense all day; Alf Bauman of Northwestern was an immovable object in a line otherwise outplayed by Indiana; Mike Enich, Iowa captain, played plenty of football against Minnesota whose sophomore, Dick Wildung, also looked good.

Among the ends the South, as usual, is producing a banner crop, including Paul Severin, North Catolina's 1939 All-America, who was up to his old tricks against Tulane, catching one touchdown pass and playing a fine all-around game otherwise.

Warren Alfson and Ed Schwartzkopf of Nebraska caught the eye among the guards last week. Against Missouri, Nebraska's tackles dropped back into the secondary, leaving the guards up there to take the punishment. Missouri's record of 27 yards rushing is one sign of just how effective Alfson and Schwartzkopf were.

Among other linemen who attracted attention last week were:

Ends: Pillow, Louisiana State; Jennings, Oklahoma; Harris, Indiana; Hickey, Arkansas; Roach, Texas Christian.

Tackles: Barnes and Barrett, Louisiana State; Kahler and Behm, Nebraska; Hartman, Rice; Pannell, Texas A. and M.

Guards: Robnett, Texas A. and M.

Centers: Nelson, Baylor.

Post Aims At Brownfield

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, October 30.—Featuring a Parents' Night celebration, Post's Antelopes will meet the Brownfield Cubs here Friday night. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The Cubs, matching strides with Slaton in the District 5-A conference race, will be trying for their sixth victory of the season without defeat. Only blot on the Brownfield record is a 6-6 tie with Levelland, a game that went into the conference books as a victory for the Cubs on first downs.

Post Good On Defense

In contrast, the Post eleven hasn't won a game since September and are mired deep in the conference cellar with three district losses.

But the case isn't hopeless for the Antelopes. All of Post's conference defeats were by thin margins, and defensively the Antelopes will rate with any squad in the district.

Two squads who rely on passing for a major portion of their offensive efforts are matched Friday. Post spotlights the passing of Charley Luttrell and Delmo Gossett, two "mighty mite" halfbacks Brownfield boasts of. D. W. Warren, who is also a dangerous speedy runner.

Price Trusts Linebackers

Coach Howard Price of the Antelopes will rely on two boys he calls the finest linebackers in the district to stop Warren and Co. They are Fullback Ralph Dean, 180 pounds of tackling fury who backs up the left side, and Quarterback Winifred Carpenter, who also weighs 180, the right-side linebacker.

The season records: Post—24 Lubbock Cowhands 15; 12 Morton 0; 0 Levelland 6; 0 O'Donnell 0 (won by O'Donnell on first downs; 12 Slaton 12 (won by Slaton on first downs); 9 Colorado City 27.

Brownfield—26 Kermit 6; 20 Crane 0; 20 Monohans 13; 6 Levelland 6 (Brownfield won on first downs); 14 Littlefield 0; 14 Tahoka 0.

GOOD FIRE RECORD

PLAINVIEW—Plainview recently had its first fire in 99 days, when a garage at the home of Mrs. A. G. Harrison burned, said Mack Gregg, fire chief. It was a record for the city, Gregg added.

Bing Wants Bees, Landis Disagrees Despite High "Cs"

(By The United Press)

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Bill Cunningham said today in his Boston Post sports column that Crooner Bing Crosby had arranged to purchase the Boston Bees but that Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis "heaved the deal into the waste basket because of Crosby's connections with horse racing on the coast."

Crosby and Elmer Ward of Boston completed negotiations for the deal here with C. Adam, chain-store magnate who controls the Bees' financial operations, the week-end of Oct. 12, according to Cunningham.

"At this meeting," Cunningham said, "the famous singer and the local textile tycoon met the Adams price without a quibble in a most harmonious and happy huddle. They all shook hands. The deal was made."

Judge Landis refused consent, Cunningham said, despite a special trip by Adams to Chicago.

"Unless somebody can budge the judge," Cunningham said, "the deal is just as dead as if it had never been proposed."

Dover Castle, built by ancient Normans on the Dover chalk cliffs, has walls 24 feet thick.

Warner Lauds Shaughnessy

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—Glenn Scobey "Pop" Warner, the original "Houdini" of the gridiron, gave an admiring salute today to the man who is proving to Pacific Coast football that the hand is quicker than the eye—Clark Shaughnessy of Stanford.

As an early day exponent of deception this 1902 Carlisle Indians were hiding the football up the backs of their jerseys, Warner expressed profound admiration for the way Shaughnessy's team has outslickered five opponents, the latest being Southern California.

"Shaughnessy is entitled to the fullest credit for the phenomenal way he is making use of the 'T' formation," Warner said. "The formation is almost as old as football itself. We used it when I played at Cornell from 1892 to 94 and when I started coaching the next year at Iowa State and Georgia."

Warner, as a matter of professional courtesy, offered no possible solutions to the problem of "how to stop Shaughnessy."

BURMAN VS. KNOX

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Jack Kearns, now in Memphis, Tenn., sent word here today he had closed arrangements for a bout between heavyweight Red Burman of Baltimore and Buddy Knox of Dayton, O., in the Olympic club at Los Angeles, early in December.

Cowhands Battle Tahoka Bulldogs There Tonight

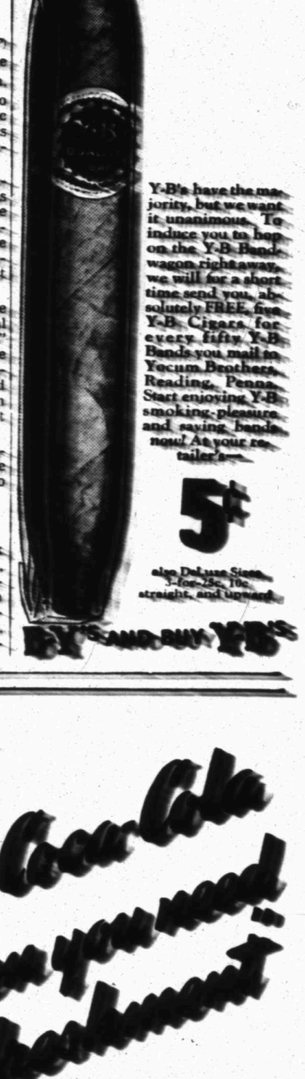

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, October 30.—Tahoka's Bulldogs take a vacation from District 5-A conference play this weekend after two defeats in two weeks, playing Lubbock's Cowhands here Thursday night. The game begins at 8 o'clock.

The Bulldogs will play without the services of Jo Jo Lehman, regular backfield man who is limping with a twisted knee received during the Brownfield game.

In spite of the fact that Tahoka has won but one game of six played, home-town fans continue to sing

Navy Acquires Auxiliary Fleet

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox announced today that the Navy has acquired 31 fleet auxiliary vessels to supplement the fleet train to be based at Hawaii for servic anywhere in the Pacific waters.

Knox said that these new vessels would be used in connection with the fleet's operations, including any maneuvers at the Philippine islands.

Eleven Are Principal Ships

Most of the auxiliary vessels are oil tankers and provision ships and they are being acquired under a $75,000,000 buying program. Of the 31 vessels 11 are rated as principal ships. That brings the total of principal auxiliaries to 22 and most of them are big fast tankers.

"We are trying to be considerate of domestic demands," Knox said, "but we must have tankers that can stay with the fleet."

Knox explained that the Navy now has sufficient auxiliaries to "meet any crisis" and supply the fleet where it might be obliged to operate for some time.

Suitable For Conversion

The new purchases are designed to relieve the battle force of its dependence from having to base on many far-flung major operating bases.

Twenty of the newly acquired ships, purchased since Oct. 18, Knox said, are ships suitable for conversion into coastal patrol vessels, minesweepers, submarine chasers and minelayers.

Knox said that the navy is in the market for 31 more auxiliaries and is particularly eager to acquire many of the merchant marine's new twin-screw, high-speed tankers.

Touring Hockey Team Plays Tech Women

Coach Zella Huffman, who knows just about as much football as her husband Berl, and who knows much more about hockey, will send her Texas Tech girls' hockey team against the Women's All-American touring team Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The game will be played on the freshmen field back of the gymnasium, and will be free to the public.

This is the first time an All-American team has toured Texas and since it is making only two stops in Texas, Mrs. Huffman feels fortunate in getting them to play her girls. The object of the tour is to stimulate interest in hockey in high school and colleges in the twelve different states which they will visit.

Saturday morning between 8 and 10 o'clock members of the visiting team will coach Tech girls in hockey technique and stick work. This will also be free to the public. Coach Huffman has promised to attend. He may get a few pointers for his freshmen footballers.

praises of the Bulldog eleven. Latest basis for enthusiasm was the pitching perfection of Rusty Waldrep in the Brownfield game. Although Tahoka lost the game 0-14, Waldrep, who is playing his first year of football, tossed 16 completions in 29 attempts for 196 yards gained.

Cowhands Off, Then On

The Cowhands have an in-and-out record against the area's Class A elevens. Early in the season they took a beating from Post, and later they went down to the Class B New Deal eleven, 12 to 6. But they hold victories over O'Donnell and Olton, both by impressive scores. The defeat of Olton was especially impressive, since the Mustangs have since clinched the District 5-A, north half, title. Last year they won bi-district honors in the area.

Latest triumph for the Lubbock charges of Coach Cy LaMaster was a 39 to 6 thrashing of Plainview's 'B' squad last Saturday.

Chrysler Purchases Ten Thoroughbreds

NEW MARKET, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—Walter P. Chrysler, jr., a comparative newcomer to American racing, added valuable bloodlines to his recently acquired stable today by purchasing 10 thoroughbreds for $36,300 at the dispersal sale of the late Willis Sharp Kilmer's Court Manor stud.

Although the youthful son of the late motor manufacturer led in number of animals bought under the auctioneer's hammer and highest aggregate bids, the highest individual bids were put in by other buyers among the more than 1,000 breeders and turf devotees attracted to the sale at the 1,200-acre estate in the Shenandoah valley.

Harry N. Stone of Seminole, agent for the West Texas Gas Co., and Audrey Cox, theater owner, were in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon on business. They said that Gaines county was enjoying a general pick-up in business. Cox, formerly of Lamesa, is the owner of two theaters in the Gaines county seat and said he had had a good business this fall.

Raymond Bryan and Cliff Brown of Levelland, were in Lubbock Wednesday to attend Rotary club meeting. Brown is an official of the Levelland club. He said business conditions in Hockley county were very good.

Moncil L. Hall of Littlefield, former resident, was in Lubbock Wednesday on business. Harvesting of bumper feed and cotton crops in Lamb county has brought in a large number of transient workers and all of the towns, Levelland in particular, have enjoyed the usual fall rush of business.

A son weighing 7 pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tannehill of Abernathy at 9:37 o'clock Wednesday morning in Lubbock sanitarium.

Colquitt Brown was arrested Wednesday by members of the Lubbock county sheriff's department on a felony warrant held by the sheriff at Frederick, Okla. Brown is charged in the Oklahoma town with wife and child desertion, authorities here said.

Water leaking through a second-story floor onto light fixtures on the ceiling below caused a shortage in the circuit and firemen were called about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to 1210 Avenue J. There was no damage, firemen reported.

More than 290 absentee votes are assured for the general election next Tuesday, it was said Wednesday in the county clerk's office. Ballots have been mailed to 127 persons and votes have been cast by 78 more.

Dale Hall, charged with robbery of the U. S. postoffice at Silverton, left for Fort Worth Wednesday in custody of C. E. Luce, deputy U. S. marshall. He had been unable to make bond set by Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. Commissioner.

J. H. Brewer, chairman of draft board number 2, said two more names for his board were received in the mail Wednesday, bringing total for that board to 4,457. J. W. Tarleton, clerk of draft board No. 1 said seven names were mailed in from Austin to his board, one new registration was received, and two volunteers were registered Wednesday, bringing total for that board to 3,161.

Funeral services for an infant daughter, Sandra Lea, of Mr. and Mrs. Burnice G. Moore of 1406 Avenue U, will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the graveside in Memorial Park cemetery, with Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, officiating. Plains Funeral home will direct burial. The infant lived only a few hours after birth at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in St. Mary's hospital.

Robert Brown, 12, remained in serious condition as the result of a Tuesday afternoon accident but had regained consciousness at midnight, an authority in West Texas hospital said. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown of 2011 Broadway and was injured when a bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile. X-ray examination made Wednesday revealed he suffered a skull fracture.

Preparations For Cub Course To Be Tonight

Final preparations for a leadership training course for Boy Scout cubs will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Dr. C. C. Schmidt, council cub commissioner, 2206 Eighteenth street, according to announcement Wednesday by Jack O. Stone, council executive.

The first of the six sessions comprising the course, Dr. Schmidt said, will be held in Junior High school Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Purpose of the course, he explained, is to train leaders for expansion of the cub program and as replacements for those who may be called into military service.

New Fighting Plane Is Said Ready For Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30, (AP)—The Army air corps announced today that an improved model of the Bell Airacuda, powerful multi-place fighter plane which carries two cannons, has been delivered to Wright field, Dayton, Ohio.

The new model, known as YFM-1A, is similar in most respects to two previous planes of the same series, except that the latest version is equipped with retractable tricycle landing gear and its two motors develop greater power. The first model of the series, the XFM1, was delivered to the air corps on 1937.

Greek Prince Is Said Held For Sympathies

ROME, Oct. 30.—The newspaper Il Piccolo today claimed that Prince Paul of Greece, brother of King George II and in line to the throne after his brother, virtually was under arrest because of his pro-Italian sympathies.

The paper said that Premier John Metaxes had promised the English he would deliver the King and Prince Paul into their hands so that they could be transported to Crete "for safety."

Another pro-Italian reported to be held under surveillance was Constantino Cotzias, governor of Athens, Il Piccolo said.

France Decrees Food Rationing

(By The United Press)

VICHY, Oct. 30.—Winter food rations were fixed by special decree of the French government today, and a special committee of scientists and physicians was named to find ersatz foods and control food distribution.

The scientific committee to control ersatz foods included six members of the academy of medicine, three leaders of scientific institutes and two army members.

At the same time the government ordered all physicians to register themselves in the compulsory national order of doctors so that Jews and foreigners may be weeded out of the profession, and the medical corps prepared to meet any hygienic or epidemic situations which may arise.

Ersatz foods already being used include acorns, nettles and certain garden weeds to serve as spinach, "mink butter" composed of tallow and chemicals, and grilled oats and barley as a coffee substitute. Other roots, plants and grains are being studied for human consumption.

Mattress Program To Be Expanded

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30, (AP)—Expansion of the federal department of agriculture cotton mattress program will mean 400,000 new mattresses for low-income rural families in Texas, A. & M. college Extension Service officials predicted today.

Nearly 40,000 bales of cotton have been promised by the Surplus Marketing administration for use in the program, it was said. Taking also will be furnished the state in the plan, benefiting groups financially unable to buy mattresses from commercial concerns.

Officials said the program will not interfere with sale of mattresses before January 1.

Texas Wheat Stocks Said To Be Record

AUSTIN, Oct. 30, (AP)—Texas interior mills, elevators and warehouses are bulging with a record 12,000,000 bushels of wheat stocks.

The agricultural marketing service of the U. S. department of agriculture reported today the storage compared with 7,400,000 bushels on Oct. 1, 1939, and 7,500,000 bushels on Oct. 1, 1934, the previous high storage.

Current stocks combined with those on Texas farms aggregate 18,751,000 bushels, compared with 9,620,000 in similar positions on Oct. 1, 1939.

Many Visitors Attend Sherrod's Opening

A steady stream of persons visited Sherrod Hardware company's formal opening Wednesday in its new location at Thirteenth street and Avenue J despite inclement weather conditions.

Paul Sherrod, owner, said attendance at the opening, which continues today, was encouraging. The store will be open for inspection until 6 o'clock today.

Four programs were broadcast Wednesday over KFYO and musical entertainment was furnished visitors.

Large Delegation Attends Nazarene Meeting In City

Following on the heels of increased foreign missious interest in preassembly conferences, the 31st annual Abilene district assembly of the Church of the Nazarene attracted the largest delegation in its history Wednesday at its opening here.

The conference, being conducted in the local church, at Fourteenth street and Avenue Q, will continue through Friday noon.

Rev. A. F. Laing, host pastor, estimated attendance from out of town at 400 persons, representing every one of the more than 65 churches in the district. Chairs were placed on the platform and in every available space to accommodate the crowd, Mr. Laing said.

Assistants Named

At outset of the assembly O. V. McMahon of Post, district secretary, appointed as his assistants Rev. Odell Brown of Grassland, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Sodowsky of Dumas and Louis McMahon of Post.

Welcome from Lubbock Ministerial association was extended by Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of the First Methodist church. Dr. R. T. Williams, general chairman, was introduced at the morning session by John L. Knight, district superintendent. Dr. Williams is presiding over all sessions.

He preached Wednesday night and will speak again at 7:30 o'clock tonight. In the first service he admonished a capacity audience to "Prepare to Meet Thy God," taking his text from the passage, "Seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent, at peace without spot, and blameless," found in second Peter 3:14.

Also introduced was Rev. Haldor Lillenas, head of the general church music department, who with Mrs. Lillenas, sang at the night service.

Enrollment Increases

A report of Dr. A. K. Bracken, president the last 15 years of Bethany-Peniel college at Oklahoma City, showed the college enrollment had increased above the 500-mark this year for the first time. The college, it was explained, offers a full four-year course and has no academic department.

The following committees were appointed: nominations, public worship, orders and relations, ways and means, church extension, home missions, state of the church, ministerial relief, church schools, education, social welfare, WPMS, deaconess, NYPS, publishing interests, pastoral and ministerial support, temperance and Sabbath observance, resolutions, auditing, editing and publishing minutes and memoirs.

Section Of Ordinance In Dallas Is Invalid

AUSTIN, Oct. 30, (AP)—By refusing an application for rehearing the state court of criminal appeals today left in effect its former ruling that a section of the Dallas city ordinance requiring certain classes of dance halls to pay for attendance of policemen was invalid. Other parts of the ordinance had been upheld.

The state supreme court refused a rehearing of the case in which it sustained a four per cent gross receipts charge made by West University Park for street occupancy by utilities. The charge was contested by Houston Lighting and Power company.

Fine Drawn In This Political Argument

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 30, (U.P.)—James Clark, a laborer, in supporting President Roosevelt, his father-in-law, Rama Maffeo, is for Wendell L. Willkie. They got into the argument over their candidates, and Clark confessed. Maffeo made him so mad that he set fire to his father-in-law's two-story flat.

Fire Captain Harry Nicholaisen, broke into the flaming house to rescue Clark's three-year-old son, after the other occupants had fled into the street. Clark was the only person injured, and he was treated in a hospital for serious burns.

CHILD IS KILLED

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30, (AP)—Earl Robert Macias, 11, was killed and his companion, Donald Ray Lothinger, 13, was critically injured near here last night when the two were struck by an automobile while riding a bicycle on the new Laredo highway.

Business Profits Said Increased

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Despite sharply higher taxes, business profits for the third quarter of 1940 were roughly 12 per cent greater than the corresponding period a year ago, a compilation by the Associated Press indicated today.

The first 315 companies to report for the three months ended Sept. 30 earned $315,927,000 compared with $279,594,000 a year ago.

BRAND BREWERS' ASSOCIATION

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30, (U.P.)—R. J. Schaefer, Brooklyn, was the United States Brewers association's new president today. Formerly first vice-president, Schaefer was elected last night at the close of the association's annual convention.

Other officers elected were: Robert J. Charles, St. Paul, first vice-president; T. G. Haffenreffer, Easton, second vice-president, and Carl Badenhausen, Newark, N. J., re-elected treasurer.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

The Japs Back Up

POSSIBLY of profound significance in the Japanese-Chinese war is the admission by the Japs of their withdrawal from the city of Nanning in the small southern China province of Kwangsi.

In making the announcement, the Japs offered the stereotyped excuse that there no longer was need for holding the city and that it has served their purpose in the campaign seeking to conquer China. It must be admitted that Kwangsi is not vitally important territory.

However, there is importance in the fact that Japan has backed up. Instead of going forward, instead of merely holding what they have gained, they have retreated. They have surrendered something they seized.

That is not the nature of conquerors. All history is the record that when a nation bent on conquest is brought to a halt and then goes backward, decline has begun. And the usual course of history has been that the decline can quickly become a rout.

In taking even one tiny step backward, Japan has confessed weakness. It has provided a tremendous stimulus for its Chinese enemies. It has confessed that in order to defend the seizures it regards as of major importance, Japan has found it necessary to draw in the strength with which it has held cities and territories of lesser value. It is a hint that the Japanese wave which swept over a vast area of China may have begun to recede.

It offers an encouraging hope that the perseverence and determination of Chinese through three years of seemingly hopeless fighting may not have been in vain.

Congressmen And Dignity

AGAIN members of Congress are rising in wrathful "dignity" again.

Let it be emphasized that this statement applies to "a few." Most of the members have too much sense, too many matters of real importance to occupy their time to become involved in this latest tea-cup tempest.

But a few of the members have attempted to bar from the press galleries those reporters who hold congressmen "up to ridicule." This is just another way of attempting to tell the newspapers that they had better say something nice about congressmen, or say nothing at all. The congressmen, of course, would be the exclusive judges under the proposal of what did, and what did not, constitute holding a congressman "up to ridicule."

Actually, except in rare instances, it isn't the reporter who holds the congressman up to ridicule, if it happens that he is ridiculed. Usually it is the congressman himself through something he says or something he does. The reporter merely reports what has happened—usually a most conservative version of what has been said or done.

If reporters really wanted to hold Congress and congressmen "up to ridicule," all they would have to do each day would be to select some of the choice excerpts which never fail to appear in the Congressional Record, the official report of all proceedings. Or they could supply pictures of a session typical of at least 95 per cent of those held. Such pictures would show probably 10 per cent, or fewer, of the congressional seats occupied. It would show most of those in their seats either loafing in most-undignified postures, reading newspapers or clustered in small groups in a manner to arouse the suspision that they might be listening to the latest story about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter.

However, the congressmen who are worried about their dignity and about being "held up to ridicule" are the exceptions. The others are too busy to fret about trival things. They are too American even to think of questioning the right of other Americans to criticize when and whom they choose. They refuse to make themselves ridiculous to attempt to place any curb on freedom of press or of screen.

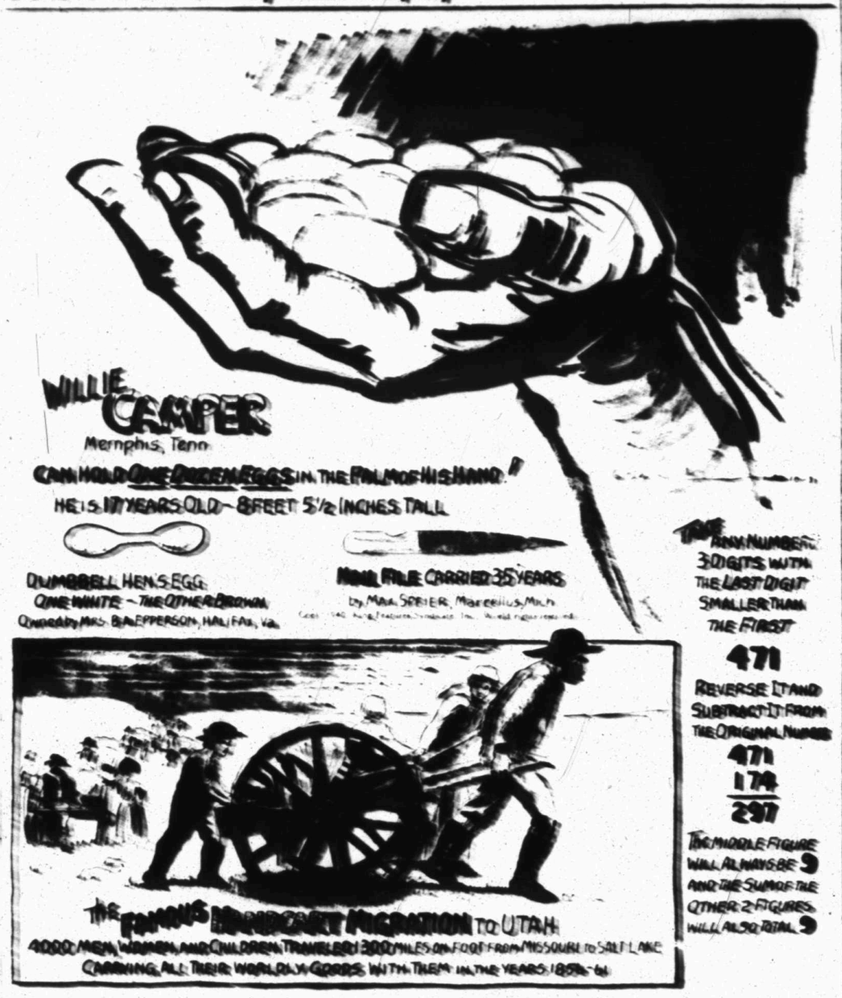

The One Minute Sermon

Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne:

Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great king.—St. Matthew 5; 33 through 35.

EMIGRATION OF CHEROKEE

THE FAMOUS HANDCART MIGRATION TO UTAH

The strangest migration in the history of the American West is the so-called "Wheelbarrow" or "Handcart Migration" from the Missouri river to Salt Lake City, 1856-61. Four thousand men, women and children covered 1200 miles on foot, pushing before them their earthly belongings in wheelbarrows made of rough boards, loaded with provisions, bedding and cooking utensils. They covered 1200 miles of dusty roads, crossing rivers, burning plains and snow-swept mountains, deep gorges and impenetrable forests. The average trip took 90 days from Iowa City to Salt Lake, and the hardships and privations were so indescribable that out of the first thousand wheelbarrow pioneers, 144 left their bones to bleach on the lonesome trail en route.

The Road To Shami Lan

By RITA MOHLER HANSON

YESTERDAY: Lynn Britton and an American friend, Peggy Tolliver, are being whisked out of Lanlon, a Chinese city on the Yellow river, in a plane piloted by one Temu Darin, Tennis, mission to life is to deliver Lynn to the Prince of Shami Lan, who wants to marry her against Lynn's will; and to dispose somehow of Peggy, who is excess baggage at the moment.

Chapter 23

Racing Death.

Temu steadied his plane and gave it the gun as they headed north by west. They followed, roughly, a tributary of the great river, passing over peaceful mudbrick compounds and villages until a town of considerable size appeared; its western portion a mass of flame and smoke.

Temu lifted the speaking tube. "Honchek, a Mohammedan stronghold," he said. "They seem to be cleaning out the people of different faiths."

Beyond the town on a mighty plain rose smoke from the ruins of a score of smouldering villages. The storm as rolling up like an angry visitation of a horde of nature gods and demons in an atmosphere strangely hushed and breathless that changed color as they watched, from a clear, transparent sunlight to a menacing yellow-green.

The girls saw Temu Darin shake his head and look down for a landing place. This was not a storm that could be ridden out.

"Heaven!" muttered Peggy. "Something tells me I should have gone to Nanking with Sam. This storm and the look that one cared Mongol gave me! Things are piling up."

"I thought that's what you wanted," said Lynn. "The Mongol's name is Bula."

"Fate needn't overdo things. One consolation is, that if we fall among Mohammedans, Bill be saved while he goes up in flames. He looks greasy enough to burn like a torch."

They had been in the air less than half an hour. As they lowered over the terrain it proved deceiving. What had appeared to be smooth level plain broke up into ridges and flats between incredibly deep canyons in the fine brown soil. On the flat-topped ridges were crazy-quilt fields of green in jagged little hollows that looked like miniature volcanic craters.

Temu dropped low, pancaked in an unexpected air current without mishap, and landed near a dilapidated walled village perched precariously on the edge of the canyon. The town had not as yet been revaged by fire.

Temu leaped from the plane. "Run!" he urged the girls, taking their hands as they came, one after the other to break the force of the jump.

Ghan and Mongol had already seized the luggage. They all raced toward the village gate. Seeing they could not make it in time, Temu shouted an order. Obediently they threw themselves face downward in one of the tiny, green crater fields and dug their fingers into the soil and clung to the barley roots as the wind swooped down, tearing at their garments and the flat bulks of their bodies like hands in a fury of rage. The plane took a run, rose a bit, and then dived into the jaws of the canyon.

"That's that!" groaned Temu.

As the velocity of the wind lessened a trifle, and rain began to slant down in stinging sheets that quickly cleared the air of dust, he rose and drew the girls to their feet. The five of them made their way to the village, leaning against the wind and water and breathing when the storm allowed them to.

Haven.

They passed through the open gate into a deserted street and found refuge in the first courtyard. An old Chinese in pigtail and ragged, quilted garment led them to a dark and dingy room with its inevitable kang, which was both mud stove and chimney-bed. Straw and animal chips were at hand to kindle a fire.

Bula drew flint and steel from the blouse of his coat and skillfully made a blaze with little smoke to blow back into the room when the wind took a reverse motion. The girls dried themselves as best they could and then curled up on the kang for warmth.

Ghan had secured a saucer of sheep's fat containing a string wick which he lighted and placed on the little table on the kang. The one small window in the room was sealed with mokegrimed paper.

Peggy took a comb from her purse and began to drag it through her flaming hair. She glanced round the dark little hole with its blackened walls and the peculiarly dry, smoky smell of Chinese hovels in the cooler latitudes. She shuddered a little. Lynn understood what she felt though she did not share the emotion of distress.

The suave, neat Chinese boy was making tea over the fire. The Mongol, looking like a devil-doctor, squatted in one corner of the dirt floor smoking a pipe, knitting, and muttering prayers between puffs.

Temu came striding in, tall and dynamic. His brown strong-featured face with its striking cat eave him an appearance of an man possessing powers alien to the average experience.

"Shall we ever get out of here, alive?" Peggy wailed, her face colorless.

Temu sat down on the kang facing the girls and loosened the neck of his leather Mongol coat. He looked at Peggy compassionately and then stared at Lynn. Her cheeks glowed from their bath in fresh rainwater. Her breast rising and falling in slow easy rhythm, blue eyes gleaming through half-shut lids, pursed lips full and crimson with healthy color, she appeared as vital and alive as a snow leopard.

"Peril seems to agree with you," he remarked.

"You can depend on Lynn for the unexpected," said Peggy wearily.

"I think I'm under a spell man-nured Lynn, "for wherever I am in this strange land I feel at home, and whatever happens, I feel is part of the plan as long as I keep true to something that is inside me."

Suddenly her eyes widened and she sat up and looked around. "It seemed for a moment as though Sherdock was here," she cried wonderingly. "I fancied I heard him chuckle."

Temu gave her a quick alert scrutiny with a suggestion of exultation about it that enfolded her in a warm embrace as palpable as if he had taken her in his arms. His low voice had deepened.

"You're learning, Tura Lynn," feeling close to new experiences and unseen possibilities. Peggy roused from her fatigue.

"When do we eat?" she demanded, and the commonplace closed in like a clap of thunder.

Ghan brought the tea and the lunch basket and served them on the kang where the three sat cross-legged eating sandwiches, salted radishes and licchi nuts. Presently Peggy put down her tea cup.

"It's so stuffy in here," she cried irritably.

Escape Plan.

"We have to keep the door and window closed," Temu explained. "That cloudburst was only local and the rain has ceased. Dust is coming in on the winds from the ridges to the north almost as thick as a blast of ashes from a volcano. I hope that storm will blow over before morning.

"This village is being evacuated then, providing Mohammedan forces don't raid it tonight. There isn't a beast of burden in the place or an able-bodied man. They have all gone to war. It is up to us to walk with the refugees to the walled Chinese stronghold of Tsun. If the telegraph is still working, we may be able to summon a plane to our rescue. Otherwise, we'll have to secure ponies to take us on to the edge of the desert where my caravan can pick us up. Another half hour in the air and we should have made Watch Tower Wells."

"Perhaps my presence is bad medicine," Lynn regarded Temu from under slanting brows as he passed the cigarettes.

"Great understandings always encounter difficulties," he returned.

"Is this quarreling or—something else?" drawled Peggy.

"Temu Darin never quarrels," Lynn informed her.

Temu bowed. "I am the Prince's representative."

"Ever faithful," sbed Lynn.

Peggy seated herself more comfortably in her corner and looked at Temu. "Tell me about your Prince Mr. Temu Darin," she said.

He smiled. "Don't call me Mister Temu Darin. Darin is my title and Temu is my name." He passed a hand through the dust laden air that was filtering into the room in a fog in spite of the closed door and window. "I'm afraid we'll all look like mud idols before morning."

Lynn regarded the other girl lazily. Peggy," she mused, I never dreamed that one day you and I would be crouching together in a mud hut in a medieval Chinese village, expecting to be buried in a dust storm if we're not carried off by Mohammedan raiders in the meantime."

Peggy rallied. "Well if we live it will at least be something to tell our grandchildren.

Providing you don't pass into the slave markets of Turkestan. What would she be worth, Temu, with that red hair of hers?"

Temu studied her carefully with twinkling eyes. "I know a fellow in Hami who might give a thousand pounds."

"I venture to say that's more than Sam would give right now," laughed Peggy. "I'm afraid I made a mistake in marrying Sam."

Temu spoke to the Mongol. "Play us some music, Bula."

The man drew from the blouse of his coat a tiny trumpet made of a child's femur bone and gave them a melody that reminded Lynn to the songs she had heard Navajo shepherds sing.

Even after the men had gone to their sleeping hovel next door, Bula continued to play. When his music had ceased the tempest outside ceased.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

NATIONAL Guard officers who spent three days at the Capital discussing military problems with War department higherups left for home with the distinct impression that the militia-and-conscript Army now being assembled will see battlefield service before they return to their families. Their off-the-record conversations with army staff members convince them that the United States will be engaged in some war within a year.

The system under which the National Guard is being mobilized strengthens this conviction. At various dates within the next year, at least 250,000 National Guardsmen will be called to camp for intensive training. They will be brigaded with the conscripts as the latter are sent to cantonments until a unit of training (a division, brigade or regiment) will consist of 50 per cent of guardsmen and 50 per cent of draftees. The percentages may vary in different cantonments, but that is a rough estimate of the division.

But the guardsmen, having been called out earlier, are due to finish their training and should go home long before the drafted members of the Army. As a result, the latter will be bereft of veterans in the ranks and in officer personnel; these they must depend upon for training and service tips. The units thus will be depleted of their best men when militia members are demobilized. When National Guard spokesmen voiced this difficulty to army chieftains, they were told: "Don't worry. Your men will stay in the army longer than they expect."

The law authorizing a Presidential mobilization of the guard provides that they may be kept in service as long as the President feels that an "emergency" exists.

BRAINS: The New Dealers' latest argument against Wendell Willkie's election—and it will be shouted from the stump in the closing hours of the campaign—is that it would mean a 76-day hiatus during which our future policy would be a mystery to the world. During that period, they maintain, the dictator powers would go to town because of the repudiation of FDR.

But the more sensible men around the President expect that he will accept defeat—if that should be his political portion—in a most sportsmanlike manner. Privately they urge that, in the event of a Willkie victory, the President summon his opponent to Washington and install him as an "Assistant President" from November 6th to January 20th,—the date when the election results will be known and inauguration day. It is the general impression that FDR will make such a move if he should be licked—which he is said not to anticipate.

It is true that FDR refused to co-President with Herbert Hoover after the latter's 1932 defeat. But conditions are not analogous at all. Mr. Roosevelt did not agree with Mr. Hoover's plans for defeating the depression, and therefore refused to underwrite his predecessor's domestic program. But Messrs. Roosevelt and Willkie see eye to eye in vital elements of foreign policy, and so the proponents insist there should be no objection to drafting WW—provided he wins, which is doubtful.

HOPE: New Dealers wish that James Aloysius Farley had kept silent rather than make the curt, cold party-loyalty statement which FDR's friends jimmied out of him. It bears out Jim's explanation to this writer and to many other friends that he will vote for Roosevelt only to "keep my party record straight."

It would be unfair to Jim—the straightest-shooting politician Washington correspondents have ever known—to record here what he told the writer in New York a few weeks ago. But it can be set down—as his formal statement showed—that he still opposes a third term for any man. He fully believes that President Roosevelt has become obsessed with a desire for power. He also believes that FDR will, if reelected, destroy the Democratic party—that he has already done so. And Jim's loyalty to his party is akin to his love of his religion and his family, both of whom have been snubbed by the White House. Note: Mrs. Farley is wearing and donating Willkie buttons. So is Mrs. John Nance Garner.

Jim, as he says, will "vote" for President Roosevelt simply because the latter is the Democratic candidate. But he admits that all his good friends, who know how shabbily he was treated since that "2 to 1 mandate of 1936" quoting President Roosevelt, will cast their ballot for Wendell Willkie. And in his heart Jim hopes that the "indispensable man" will be defeated!

SHANGHAI: The Navy's private commandeering of ships for transport purposes has aroused departmental concern over possible American involvement in the Sino-Japanese-British war in the Far East. Not since 1917 has there been such an official rush to take over vessels suitable for carrying arms and troops. This move, of course, has been skilfully concealed.

But within the last two weeks the administration has chartered at least five oil tankers for this purpose. At several Atlantic ports they are being scrubbed and refitted to accommodate maximum complements of troops. Several vessels of the "President" class (McKinley, Harding, Wilson, Roosevelt) are being chartered for service as transports. At least five of the City type (City of Norfolk and City of San Francisco) have been taken over by the government for military use. Also five Panama-Pacific vessels.

The various agencies which have hired these ships and spent money on their refitting — incidentally, without authority or appropriations from Congress—refuse to explain the reasons for this extraordinary move. They refer all inquirers to the White House, where all is silence.

CHINA: Cordell Hull delivered a distinct rebuff to the man frequently mentioned as his successor in the event of President Roosevelt's reelection—Henry L. Stimson now Secretary of War. There have been unsubstantiated rumors that Herbert Hoover's foreign minister, who favors American entry into the European war, would succeed the hard-headed Hull, who opposes war.

The Secretary of State has stubbornly refused to make political speeches for FDR. For one thing, he dislikes the third-term try as violently as his good friends—James A. Farley and John Nance Garner—do. But he will defend his foreign policy, and try to prove that the Roosevelt-Hull basic theory is to preserve world peace. He let it be known that he was willing to make a speech along that line, and there were about a thousand bidders.

When the unimportant contestants had been weeded out, it boiled down to two applicants—the Council of Foreign Relations and the National Press club. The council is packed with such pro-British lead-off men as Mr. Stimson, Roving Ambassador Norman H. Davis, Hamilton Fish Armstrong and other advocates of a let's-go-to-war-now policy. But Mr. Hull turned down the fire-eaters. He spoke before the National Press club.

NEW YORK.
By Richard Wolfe.

By a recent unpublicized decision Britain lifted a corner of the blockade curtain to permit a limited amount of medicinals to reach unoccupied France. The action followed repeated pleas from Vichy in which it was prayerfully explained that serums and vaccines are not food, that such imports could not help the Nazi cause if the arms vaccinated were French blood.

By coincidence a number of New York's medical authorities received a private report on Britain's health conditions from London sources during the week that Britain relaxed the medicine ban on France. The report has terrified the American medicos with fears that another world epidemic with the proportions of the World war influenza spread must be faced sometime in 1941.

The medical inside from London says that the disruption of sanitation facilities has made it nearly impossible to isolate diseases which in peacetime offer no quarantine problem. The malady which has made most headway is cerebro-spinal-meningitis, the number of cases impressed American medicos as the prelude to an epidemic. What the progress of the disease has been in Poland, Germany and France could not be learned. Our own medical authorities are convinced that the British action regarding France reflects a fear that bacteria, respecting no frontiers, will decimate the populations of friend and enemy alike.

WASHINGTON: The friction and hostility in the corridors of Chairman Hymn's New York headquarters are beginning to match the chaos that existed in the Republican camp earlier in the campaign. Old line Democrats like Senator Wagner and Tammany's Christy Sullivan openly resent the presence of Washington spoil troops that were rushed to Manhattan to head the top-Willkie drive.

Here And There In Texas

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 — Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, like many former governors, has been plagued by prison problems.

Each governor is confronted with inquiry why an institution with 73,128 acres of land, the equipment of the prison system, and free labor can't show a profit but needs about $1,500,000 a year to make ends meet.

Twice efforts have been made to swing the prisons from farming to manufacturing. Both times the movement has failed. Governor O'Daniel's announcement that experts from Agricultural and Mechanical college now are working on plans for "production plantations" for diversified farming, indicates that the prison board has decided to do the best it can with farming as the principal prisoner occupation.

Prisons Too Scattered

Denver Chesnutt, Kenedy newspaper publisher and member of the prison board, said recently that the principal drawback to successful operation of the prison system from a financial standpoint is its many scattered units.

How difficult a problem this presents is shown by the latest prison report which reveals that for a year an average of but one fifth of the prisoners were "within the walls" at Huntsville prison. The others were scattered among farms at Hooby, Sugarland, Sandy Point, Brazoria, Weldon, Richmond, Otey Snipe, except for about 100 women and 400 invalids in farms near Huntsville, detached from the main prison.

Industrial Prison Banned

An industrial prison has been recommended in two surveys made in recent years. In 1929 the prison board accompanied by a committee from the state legislature spent three weeks visiting various prisons and reported that an industrial prison could be made self-sustaining.

The prison at Stillwater, Minn. was pointed to as proof. It did not have a legislative appropriation in 15 years except a $200,000 revolving fund supplied at the beginning to carry on its business. At the time the Texas legislators paid their visit, the Minnesota prison had not only made that record of not costing the taxpayers anything. It had paid back the cost of the plant and $4,000,000 more.

Again in 1937 a survey of the Texas prison system was made by a federal agency at request of the prison board and Gov. James V. Allred. That report recommended the abandonment of one-crop cotton farming and a diversified program. It was specially valuable in making a compilation of products bought by the state for its institutions which might be manufactured to advantage by prisoners.

Has Some Industrial Units

THE TEXAS prison system is not without its industrial side at present. For the sixth year it is manufacturing the automobile truck, and motorcycle license plates which now number more than 3,500,000 a year.

A brick plant has been improved and made more efficient until last year it was able for the first time to supply all the brick needed in prison construction.

A shoe shop manufactures shoes for prisoners and also a supply for other state institutions. A canning plant is able to provide something above prison needs for other state institutions.

A packing plant, a garment factory and a print shop take care of the prison system's needs in those lines.

General Manager O. J. S. Hutchison in his latest report says additional industries might be established for making textiles, hosiery knit wear, brushes and mops, soap, paint products, cement, and tobacco products. A cotton oil mill also could be operated, he said. Net profit of $28,975 was shown last year for mechanical operations.

Attempt Caused Big Fight

An attempt to abandon the old prison system with its scattered farms and build a modern, single-unit prison near Austin caused one of the biggest fights in the legislature during the administration of Governor Dan Moody.

Backers of a central farm at a new location said a site near Austin would be desirable because it would make supervision easy and because it would be practical to employ many of the state eleemosynary institutions in the Austin area with dairy and other food supplies from prison farms. A minority report of the 1929 survey committee opposed the approach to Austin and recommended that a new prison be built on Imperial farm about 20 miles south of Houston. So wide difference of opinion was found that the prisons remained in their old status with some small appropriations for improvements.

Some idea of the extent of farming operations in the prison system at present can be gained from the last annual report. The prison farms supplied 5,393 bales of cotton, 2,775 barrels of rice, feed crops inventoried at $960,857, 630,676 gallons of milk, 168,249 pounds of butter, more than 45,600 eggs, 2,002,044 pounds of meat, many pounds of lard, 361,000 pounds of Irish potatoes, 635,000 pounds of sweet potatoes and 1,545,000 pounds of fresh vegetables for prison use.

Student Speaks To Rotary Club

How Hitler gained control of Germany and what steps he has taken towards a similar control of Mexico was the subject of a talk by Louis Judkins of Laredo, a graduate student in Texas Technological college before a Rotary club luncheon Wednesday noon in Lubbock hotel.

President O. W. Ribble called a brief meeting of the board of directors after the luncheon and was authorized to name a club representative on a general committee in charge of a farewell planned by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for Texas National guardsmen before they leave for camp late in November. Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications was named on the committee.

Lee Harrison New Member

Lee Harrison was given instruction in Rotary, as a new member, by Dr. Sam G. Dunn. President Ribble recognized Dr. F. B. Malone, who recently became a member of the American College of Surgeons. E. J. Parsons announced the Tech-Miami football game Friday night and Dr. Dunn reported briefly on the Marquette-Tech game in Milwaukee last week, which he attended.

Judkins was introduced by R. D. Cheatham, program chairman with Dr. James M. Gordon. The speaker pointed out that the 500th anniversary of the founding of printing, was being adjourned while Germany, where the first movable type in Europe was developed, had lost control of its free press.

"Journalism in its true form, as we know it today in this country, is being dragged into the gutter in Germany," Judkins said. "The German propaganda machine is waging an offensive war there."

When Hitler went into control of Germany in the early 1930's "the people of Germany were oppressed and depressed," he pointed out. That condition made it ripe for control of a nation through the methods which Hitler used. He appealed to their martyrdom, to their dramatic side, placed men in uniform and appealed to their vanity through the so-called high part they were playing and kept up a continuous flow of propaganda, that eventually gained control of newspapers.

Strict regulations of all kinds of publications are enforced by Hitler's ministry of information and propaganda, heavy penalties being imposed on failure to cooperate, Judkins said.

Recently Hitler began to go into Latin-American countries, using a slightly different type of campaign. He is appealing to those nations by playing up the value of the Facist government and of their own heroes. He has gained much in Mexico, using the latter method, Judkins pointed out.

Unemployed Carpenter Charged In Sending Extortion Letter To Actress Ginger Rogers

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 30.—Clarence M. Hiatt, 37-year-old unemployed carpenter who once picketed the home of Ginger Rogers in Hollywood, was arraigned today on a charge of using the mails in an effort to extort money from Miss Rogers.

Hiatt pleaded innocent when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Charles H. Thompson but admitted he mailed a letter Sept. 4 to "Ginger Rogers McMahon" at the R.K.O. studios. He was sent to jail in default of $2,500 bond.

Letter Is Quoted

In the letter which the FBI charges Hiatt wrote was the sentence: "I am going to hunt you down if it takes all my life; such being the case I am not going to settle for nickels and dimes." The writer promised "eternal damnation" to Miss Rogers and said he would "be the agent of it."

Federal agents said Hiatt was arrested several years ago when he paraded before Miss Rogers' home carrying a sign stating she was "unfair to the father of her children." Miss Rogers is childless.

Rear Gunners Love To Send 'Messages' Of Their Own On Raids

LONDON, Oct. 30. (U.P.)—Rear gunners of British bombers love to send "messages" of their own on bombing trips over Berlin, Squadron Leader R. Collard told the press today.

The gunners, who get bored sitting through the long trip waiting for attack by enemy planes, often drop bricks as their contribution to the raids.

One such "personal calling card," he said, was that of a gunner who dropped home-made bricks: "Love from Harry."

Other gunners make their own incendiary bombs, sometimes in tin cans from the squadron mess. One, a textile clerk in civilian life, showed great inventive genius in making his "private" bombs which he tossed out with his own hands, Collard said.

Intoxication Tests Ruled Out By Court

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (U.P.)—The state court of criminal appeals today ruled out enforced intoxication tests in reversing the conviction of Daniel O. Apodaca who had been given a 3-year sentence in El Paso for murder as the result of an automobile accident in which a car driven by Apocada killed Hector Sandoval.

Apocada said he was forced to walk and make certain turns, then required to hold out his hand and make an effort to place fingers on his nose, and finally required to furnish a specimen for analysis.

At his trial he objected to introduction of testimony that officers from the tests reached the conclusion he was under the influence of intoxicants.

"The appellant's objection should have been sustained," said the opinion here today. "One accused of crime shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

"We think appellant's testimony shows in effect that he was compelled to do things required by the officers and further that the testimony of the state was not sufficient to combat appellant's version."

Austin Man Is Low Bidder On Work

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Holland Page of Austin was low bidder for paving a [illegible]he San Angelo field being built by the air corps for a new advanced training base, Lieut. Col. E. V. Dunstan, constructing quartermaster for the San Antonio area, announced today. The bid was $47,660.44.

Other war department contracts announced included:

W. Frank Little and C. A. James, Amarillo, temporary housing at Fort Sill, Okla., $46,837.

Dowzer Construction Co., Houston, electric distributing system at San Angelo, $13,139.

Retired AP Man Goes To Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30. (AP)—Charles Andrew Price, who recently retired from the Associated Press after 45 years continuous service, today was named assistant editor of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

H. H. Williamson, Extension Service director, said Price would replace Louis Franke, editor, who has been given a special assignment with the advisory committee to the National Defense council in Washington.

Schoolboy Faces Life Term In Slaying Case

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 30. (AP)—Gerald Stewart, 15-year-old schoolboy, faced life imprisonment today for the shotgun slayings of his aged grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stewart, at their farm home in the Rhea's mill community 20 miles southwest of here last July 11.

A circuit court jury last night convicted the boy of first degree murder.

Consumption Of Gasoline Gains

By EDWARD CURTIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30.—Gasoline consumption continues at a high level for the fall season, marketers report, and prices were said to be unchanged to strong.

The American Petroleum institute reported gasoline stocks declined to 80,891,000 for the week, and daily crude oil production also was slightly lower.

The burning oil market was active and demand was strong for natural gasoline in the mid-continent area.

Car Ownership Increases

An increase of five per cent in car ownership and greater individual use of automobiles has aided gasoline demand. It also, incidentally, has increased gasoline tax payments. The Oklahoma committee of the American Petroleum industries estimates that such tax payments will cross the $1,000,000,000-mark about Nov. 15, two weeks earlier than last year.

In the field the Oil and Gas Journal reports 580 completions for the week, compared to 582 for the previous week and 545 a year ago.

Humble is preparing to spud a 6,000-foot test of the Tanglewood fault, Lee county, Texas. . . . Young county, Texas, got its first Mississippi lime pool, five miles north of Graham. . . The Bryan county area of the Cumberland oil pool of Southern Oklahoma got a new oiler. . . . The first gas pay for the north Okemah pool, Okfuskee county, Oklahoma, gauged 4,300,000 cubic feet daily. . . . The newly discovered Ray pool of Phillips county, Kansas, got its second producer. . . .

Gasoline Stocks Are Also Given Reduction

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The petroleum industry reduced gasoline stocks last week contrary to the usual seasonal trend, the report of the American Petroleum institute disclosed today.

Stocks declined to 80,891,000 barrels at the end of the week compared with 81,656,000 barrels a week earlier. Stocks are still far above a year ago, however, when they totaled 72,944,000 barrels.

Daily average crude oil production declined slightly during the week, totaling 3,640,300 barrels compared with 3,667,550 the previous week. A year ago daily production averaged 3,498,500 barrels.

Imports of crude and refined oils at principal ports totaled 1,613,000 barrels against 1,662,000 a year ago.

Cotton Quota For November Slashed

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The British cotton controller cut the November quota for private shipments to 7,500 bales, only half the October quota and one-quarter the quotas for several preceding months, cables to the trade disclosed today.

The amount was so small, cotton dealers said, it was likely the British planned to step up shipments and withdrawals of barter cotton.

Last year the United States agreed to exchange approximately 690,000 bales of cotton for around 85,000 tons of rubber. It was estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange roughly 225,000 bales were shipped under the agreement through Aug. 1 this year. Since then, according to private estimates, barter shipments amounted to about 125,000 bales, or a total of 350,000 bales.

Cotton Christmas Is Slogan Of Council

MEMPHIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—"Make this Christmas cotton Christmas!"

This is the slogan of the National Cotton council in its campaign to increase the consumption of American cotton.

Oscar Johnston, president of the council, in explaining the nation-wide campaign, said:

"I cannot too strongly urge every man and woman in the nation to give gifts of American cotton this year. Loss of virtually all of our foreign markets during the present war makes it essential that every possible effort be made to increase the domestic consumption of cotton and cotton products."

Monkeys and chimpanzees shun meat but relish bananas, oranges, bread, apples and onions.

Russian Press Sees No Quick Victory For Italian Army

Soviet Paper Discusses War

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Oct. 30 — The Soviet army organ "Red Star" declared today that the British fleet's mastery of the eastern Mediterranean was such that Italy could hope for no "quick decisive development" in its campaign to subdue Greece.

The article, which followed other remarks by the newspaper to the effect that Germany's unending air attacks upon Britain still had not given the Nazis air supremacy, observed:

"The location of Greece in the eastern part of the Mediterranean, where the British fleet is master, insures aid from her British allies who are interested in keeping so advantageous a battlefield as Greece.

"The limited possibilities of Albania as the base for the Italian front—having only three or four highways — make it difficult for Italy to concentrate overwhelming forces.

"With the appearance of British aviation in Greece the Italian bases in the southeastern part of Italy itself will be subjected to the blows of bombers.

"Under such conditions, operations in the Albanian-Greek theater of war do not promise a quick decisive development."

NYA PROJECT PLANNED

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Construction of a full-time NYA resident center for 100 boys at Cuero was announced today by State National Y[illegible] Administration Director C. C. Kellam.

Kellam said the lads would receive, in line with the national defense program, basic work experience in radio technique, sheet metal work, metal work, woodworking and automobile mechanics.

ULTIMATUM REJECTED? ITALY ATTACKS GREEK BORDER—Italy timed a naval blow at Corfu (1) with a land invasion of Greece at the Albanian border (2), shortly after a state of war was declared. Anti-aircraft guns went into action at Athens (3). The British promised fulfillment of their pact with Greece and it was believed that British naval units were enroute from Malta (6) and Alexandria (7), the eastern Mediterranean bases. Yugoslav quarters said the Italian move on Greece violated a 1937 Yugoslav-Italian pact because Belgrade (8) had not been informed in advance of the move, but the nation said that it would remain neutral. London sources said that air raid precautions had been ordered throughout Bulgaria (9) for the first time since the war. What Turkey would do (5) was a question. Turkey has said that the invasion of Greece would be interpreted as a threat against the Dardanelles. At Florence, Italy (4), Chancellor Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy, gathered with their aides to discuss the war.

Warning That Nazis Are More Active Than Most People Think In South America Is Sounded Here By Nazarene Church Leader

Warning that Nazis are far more active in Central and South America than most people in this country can imagine was sounded here Wednesday by Rev. J. M. Montgomery of Fort Wayne, Ind., national director of the Nazarene church news bureau.

Mr. Montgomery left for his home Wednesday afternoon after having attended the sessions during the first two days of the annual convention and assembly of the Abilene district of the church. The assembly closes Friday.

He drew his material from observations made last year at the time of the outbreak of the European war while on an 18,000 mile airplane tour of the Latin Americas. Credentials from Secretary of State Cordell Hull, to whom he reported at length on his return, gave him access to records and conditions not ordinarily available.

The gravest of the Nazi dangers, he related, were observed in the Central American republic of Guatemala which is strategically located with reference to the Panama canal. In Guatemala, he said, there are 50 Germans for every citizen of the United States."

"While I was in Guatemala," he continued, "a high-pressure German press-agent was conducting his propaganda most openly and most brazenly. His efforts have been curtailed somewhat since then but I learned at the recent Nazarene world conference of missionaries in Oklahoma that the Nazi propaganda agents still are active.

"My itinerary in Guatemala included visits to some of the little Indian schools deep in the jungles. I discovered that many of them were taught by Germans. I actually saw those half-civilized Indian children being drilled by their German teachers and I saw them give the Nazi salute.

"The conditions were worse in Guatemala than in any of the countries I visited. However, they are bad everywhere, and particularly so on the west coast of South America at points from which an enemy of the United States would be most likely to strike at the Panama canal. Peru and Ecuador are honeycombed with German agents. Bolivia's army is being trained by German officers and by native Bolivians who have received their instructions."

Although asserting that the heads of the various Latin American governments seem friendly toward the United States, Mr. Montgomery stressed that the "vitally important problem" is to reach the people of those nations so as to overcome and combat the Nazi influence which has been working among them for years.

Appointment of Dr. E. White of Plainview as pastor of the Springfield, Mo., St. Paul Methodist church was reported by Associated Press from Springfield Wednesday.

Dr. White succeeds Rev. Kenneth Pope, who will become pastor of the First Methodist church in Austin. Dr. White formerly was pastor of the First Methodist church in Lubbock.

Rev. Pope, graduate of Southern Methodist university, formerly was pastor at Breckenridge and Georgetown and has conducted a revival in Lubbock.

Dairy Day Will Draw Visitors

Persons living as far away as Sherman, Dallas and Fort Worth have indicated they will attend the West Texas Dairy day program at Texas Technological college Friday, said K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufactures.

A. J. Riddle of Denison, president of the Texas Dairy Products association, will call the meeting to order at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the gymnasium, after which Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Tech, will give the address of welcome. M. E. McMurray, manager of the Texas Dairy Products association, will speak on "Present Status of the Dairy Industry in Texas" and W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry at Tech, will speak on "Profitable Dairying in West Texas."

Speeches Are Scheduled

Several speeches are scheduled on the afternoon program. The meeting will end at 4 p. m., after which the division of agriculture will hold open house for visitors.

Renner said visitors are expected from New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma, besides Texas towns.

Wilson Cowan of Amarillo, area Farm Security administrator, wrote that the area office was requesting that as many FSA supervisors as possible attend the program. C. Luker, Soil Conservation service official of Amarillo, also wrote that the SCS would be represented.

500 Persons Expected

Home demonstration and county agricultural agents are to attend and, in addition, numerous creamery managers, farmers, business men, bankers, vocational agriculture teachers and others are expected. Attendance of 500 is anticipated, said Renner. The meeting will be open to anyone wishing to attend.

Many visitors are expected to remain for the Texas Tech-Miami university football game Friday night.

The program will be sponsored by the Tech division of agriculture and Texas Dairy Products association.

Mexican Firms Seek Business In Texas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Federal Power commission announced today it had received applications from the Matamoros Electric company and the Ojinaga Electric company, incorporated under law of Mexico, for licenses to operate transmission lines across the Rio Grande into Texas.

Both companies have mailing offices at Corpus Christi, Tex., and have contracts with the Central Power and Light company, doing business in Texas, for the purchase of electric energy. The power is exported for distribution, use and resale in and near Matamoros, Mexico, opposite Brownsville, Tex., and in the Ojinaga area near Presidio, Tex.
