Man, Teen-Age Girl Confess 4 Murders

Journey In Crime Ends In Jail Here

The bloody journey — marked by four murders — of a gaunt Chicago ex-convict and his 13-year-old girl companion came to an abrupt end Saturday morning in Midland.

Halted by a sharp-eyed state highway patrolman were John Edwin Myers, 33, and Donna Marie Stone, big and over-developed for her age.

In a matter of minutes after they were hailed down in Midland at 3 a.m. the details of a sordid saga were revealed. Back along their trail to Illinois were four murder victims, the most recent of them — even at the time they were halted — sprawled in a desolate ranch pasture 12 miles southwest of Big Spring.

Included in the list of dead were an 11-year-old girl, her father, and a 39-year-old spinster. The latter's bullet pierced body was found at 11 a.m. Saturday between Alton and Thayer, Mo., near the Arkansas line.

The fourth victim was Arthur Lee DeKraai, 33, a hitchhiker who was given a ride by the pair in Fort Worth. His killing occurred as the three rode just west of Big Spring, and this has brought a charge of murder in Howard County against Myers, who is being held in jail here without bond. The Stone girl is in custody of Bob Darland, county juvenile officer. She is charged in Missouri with kidnaping.

NETTED $16

The ex-convict and his girl companion said their killings were for money. They netted $16.

Here were their victims and the couple's story of how they were killed:

Last Wednesday the two came upon a father and daughter fishing. They decided to rob them and take their car. They bound George Ballard, 47, of near Belleville, Ill., and bound and gagged Carole, 11, and Myers shot them with a .22 caliber weapon. The victims had no money on them. The car would not start.

They walked to a home near Belleville in which Miss Margaret Wernicker, 39, a St. Louis Department store employe, resided.

They demanded a car and Miss Wernicker got hers for them. They took her along, resulting in the kidnaping charges. She gave them $16. Between Alton and Thayer, Mo., they bound her hands behind her and took her to a field, where the Stone girl shot her twice in the back. The teenager wasn't certain Miss Wernicker was dead, so Myers shot her in the head.

BODY FOUND

Officers found her body Saturday after the general area was described by Myers and Donna Marie.

Apparently DeKraai came to his death because Myers and the girl believed he had money. He had not a cent.

Officers said the girl said the plot to kill the hitchhiker was made in Colorado City. The trio stopped there Friday night where Myers and the girl wanted coffee. De Kraai was asked to join them and he declined. They concluded his refusal was because he had money and did not want them to know it. They then decided on their plan.

As they rode west from Big Spring, the girl said, Myers nodded to her. She was in the middle, and DeKraai seemed to be dozing. The girl told officers she placed her hand on the wheel of the car.

Myers, who said he had a pistol in his hand, laid his arm back of Donna Marie, placed the gun within an inch of the unsuspecting victim's head and pulled the trigger.

The first shot failed to kill DeKraai. As he thrashed wildly in the seat, a second shot was fired into his head. The car never stopped travelling.

With the body of their victim slumping against them, the pair drove about 10 miles on westward to the Lomax road intersection with IS 20. Myers drove south on that road for two miles. At that point a cattleguard leads to the Quinn ranch. The car was driven a tenth of a mile eastward along the dim ranch trail, and then the victim's body was dumped from the car.

The victim's clothing was searched and a few wrinkled papers were placed, for some unknown reason, in the car's glove compartment. DeKraai worn billfold was tossed into the mesquite not far from the scene.

The papers, including a military discharge, served to identify DeKraai. He is belived to be from Ottumwa, Iowa.

Blood had stained the seatcovers, and the coverings were ripped out of the seat and thrown to one side. Officers found them there when they reached the scene, guided by Donna Marie, at 4 a.m. Saturday.

SLACKS STAINED

Some of the blood had stained the slacks the girl was wearing—slacks which she said she and Myers had stripped from the lifeless body of Miss Wernicker after her body had been dumped in the rough hill country on the Arkansas-Missouri border.

It was this tell-tale stain and the stains which had soaked through the seat covers onto the car cushion which led the arresting officers patrolman Jack Reeves to ask the girl where the blood came from.

The girl blurted: "They're from a man John killed."

Under questioning, the whole sordid story was unfolded.

Reeves, in company with Capt. Roy Merket of the Midland police placed the girl in a car and she directed them to the place where the body of DeKraai was sprawled.

They called local officers. Fern Cox, chief deputy, Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, and D. R. Buzbee, deputy sheriff, joined the Midland officers at the scene. Walter Grice, justice of the peace, conducted an inquest and ruled that the man had come to death of gunshot wounds inflicted by Myers.

River Funeral Home took the body to their mortuary.

Later it was removed to a hospital where the two slugs were removed from the skull.

UNMOVED

Buzbee said that the girl was utterly unmoved as she sat in a car within 15 feet of where DeKraai's body was lying. She talked of the shooting, he said, with complete casualness.

Later, Cox and West took custody of both prisoners and brought them to Big Spring.

It was Highway Patrolman Reeves who brought the battered green 1954 Chevrolet the two were driving to a halt in downtown Midland.

He had spotted the car and the license number—Illinois BV 5166—clicked in his memory. That was the plate involved in the Illinois kidnaping last Thursday. Quick action by officers and prosecuting attorney's staff men followed.

Wednesday, the Howard County grand jury will be recalled into special session and Gil Jones, district attorney, will place before it the facts of DeKraai's death.

En route from Bellville, Ill., was the district attorney of that county who wants to talk to Myers and Donna Marie about the kidnaping of Miss Werniker.

INTIMATE

The girl told officers that she had been intimate with Myers since last March. He lived above the Stone girl's family residence. Three weeks ago she went to Edwardsville, Ill., to live with her grandparents and Myers followed her.

She said her grandmother criticized her, and she and Myers left Aug. 22, walking to Belleville, about 30 miles away, where the first killings took place.

"I was a little scared," Donna told officers. "Texas is a big state and I thought we might get caught here."

The chunky girl wore orange slacks and a polka-dotted blouse. Her clothing was spattered from blood.

Robert Gibbons, FBI agent at Springfield, Ill., said Meyers and the Stone girl had been identified by witnesses from photographs and by fingerprints found at the scene of the Belleville slayings.

"I feel kind of miserable about all of this," Myers said in an interview. "As a matter of fact, I guess I'm kind of glad it's all over."

PRISON RECORD

He said he has a prison record in Minnesota and Nebraska.

"I don't want that kid (Donna Marie) getting any of the blame," Myers added. "I'll take the rap myself."

The girl, blinking back tears, said Myers cut her normally long hair very short, using a razor blade.

In Chicago, the girl's father, James, 35, and Mother, Norma, 36, were at home when news of their daughter's capture was received. Stone said his wife collapsed.

"I'm all shook up," said the father, and declined further comment.

"She was a wonderful person, one of those pleasing personalities, always wanting to do something for someone," said friends of Miss Wernicker.

When she was 17, she moved into the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Graham to care for Graham's mother. Her own parents were divorced and she remained with the Grahams when the elder Mrs. Graham died eight years ago.

She lived quietly, reading on religious and other subjects. If she had a boy friend she never mentioned him.

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska reformatory records show that a John Edwin Myers was at the reformatory from Aug. 11, 1949 to Sept. 5, 1951 on a three-year sentence, for auto theft from Valley County, Neb.

Harold Smith, reformatory director, said he could not determine without a fingerprint check whether this was the same man as the John Edwin Meyers, 32, held at Midland, Tex., with a 13-year-old girl friend.

U. S. Holding Door Open To Negotiate

WASHINGTON, (AP) —The Kennedy administration next week will make the first of several diplomatic moves designed to sound out the Soviet Union anew on the possibility of a peaceful Berlin settlement and fresh disarmament negotiations.

The decision has been made to go ahead with the scheduled moves despite the "atomic blackmail" policy of which the United States accuses the Soviet Union because of its resumption of nuclear weapons testing.

Initial steps now impending could even lead to a summit conference, provided preliminary negotiations produced a basis for agreement.

The moves are the answer to the swelling chorus of demands at the neutral nations' conference in Yugoslavia for top-level U.S.-Soviet talks to save the world from nuclear war.

These are the steps:

1. The U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson, is under direction to have a talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and explore what may be negotiable—if anything at this stage—in Berlin.

2. John J. McCloy, Kennedy's top disarmament adviser, is scheduled to meet with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin in New York next Wednesday to make a new effort to work out arrangements for a East-West disarmament conference. This will be the third round of McCloy-Zorin talks this summer, which so far have gotten nowhere.

3. Secretary of State Dean Rusk with the backing of Britain, the approval of West Germany and the reluctant consent of France, plans to have a talk with Gromyko in New York in about two weeks—if Gromyko attends the opening of the U.N. General Assembly Sept. 19.

The possibility of personal talks between Khrushchev and Kennedy, even if the Soviet leader shows up at the United Nations, is not highly rated here at the moment, but neither is it ruled out.

World Peace Biggest Issue, Nehru Says

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru shook the conference of nonaligned nations Saturday with a demand that they forget colonialism for a while and concentrate on saving the world from drifting into disaster.

The veteran Indian leader declared the Soviet decision to resume nuclear testing, opening the way for testing also by other countries, "brings us to the brink of war."

"Fear creeps into my mind that we might not be able to get out of the rut of talking and of making resolutions, (that we will be) going home and allowing the world to drift into disaster," Nehru said.

MORAL PRESSURE

Appealing for moral pressure to break the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over Berlin, he said he considered the situation worse than at any time since World War II.

"I would have suggested a U.N. General Assembly meeting on the question of war and peace if the assembly were not to meet later this month," Nehru told the 24-nation gathering.

"The danger of war comes nearer and nearer. By the recent decision of the Soviet government to start nuclear tests our situation today is the most dangerous since World War II ended, and we must do something, everything we can, to help it. Nothing is more important than this situation of war and peace today. Everything else, no matter how vital, is secondary," he said.

His words fell on the ears of many delegates whose primary interest at the conference had been the waging of an anticolonialist campaign, leaving such problems as Berlin and nuclear testing for secondary consideration.

CUBA'S VIEW

Cuba's President Osvaldo Dorticos, representing the only Western Hemisphere delegation to the rostrum to urge that colonialism remain the primary problem of the nonaligned nations.

While Nehru counseled his associates to "use our moral strength rightly, with force but courtesy," the Cuban president demanded a series of resolutions aimed at the United States, France, Portugal, Britain, and other "imperialist or colonial" powers.

Nehru warned the conference that "everything we have opposed and still continue to struggle against - imperialism, colonialism, racialism and the rest - are somewhat overshadowed by the present crisis."

Dorticos plugged for over-all disarmament, Kremlin style, and said such an agreement would remove the threat of nuclear tests and possible war.

Most delegations gave the Cuban president strong applause when he finished his inaugural speech, but conference sources predicted his ideas would be far outweighed by Nehru's plea for a cautious approach to the big powers by the delegates.

JFK Cites Crisis For Foreign Aid

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy Saturday urged Congress in this "climactic hour" to restore cuts in foreign aid funds to bolster the global fight for freedom.

Billions spent for defense will mean little in the end if the world's developing nations topple into communism, Kennedy said.

The Cape Cod White House issued a statement in which the chief executive cited former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's support of ample funds to assist needy countries.

Congress authorized $4.25 billion for the program this year, but the House Appropriations Committee Friday approved an actual money outlay of only $3.35 billion.

Kennedy initially had sought more than $4.7 billion.

He appealed to Congress to appropriate funds "of a magnitude as close as possible to the original request."

Both he and Eisenhower were convinced that request represented the minimum necessary to meet the country's responsibilities, Kennedy said.

With the $4.25 billion ceiling applied in the sum authorized by Congress, it would be impossible now to provide all the money Kennedy at first asked. But his obvious hope was that the House, in which appropriations bills start through Congress, would rebuff the committee and put up money of as close a magnitude as possible to the authorized amount.

Death Bell Tolling For Many On The Highways

Associated Press Sports Writer

The toll of traffic deaths mounted steadily Saturday as motorists took to the highways in near perfect weather for the first full day of the annual labor day weekend.

Deaths in traffic numbered 132, in hunting 5, by drowning 12, and in miscellaneous mishaps 17 for an over-all total of 166.

Most of the motor vehicle victims died one at a time. But there were some multiple death crashes.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 420 Americans may lose their lives in traffic in the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

The Associated Press made a survey of accidental deaths during a recent non-holiday period that, like the labor day weekend, covered 78 hours. The count ran from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18, to midnight Monday, Aug. 21. Deaths then totaled 390 in traffic, 14 in boating, 47 in drownings and 97 in the miscellaneous class for an all-accident toll of 548.

The record for traffic fatalities on any Labor Day weekend was set in 1951. It was 461. During the Labor Day observance last year motor vehicle accidents cost 415 lives.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Violence rocked our area last week, first in a series of traffic mishaps which finally claimed two lives, then in a wanton killing that climaxed a wave of four murders.

* * *

John Edwin Myers, 33, and his 13-year-old paramour, Donna Marie Stone, sat in the district attorney's office here Saturday and dispassionately described how they killed four people—one of them at the western edge of Big Spring Friday night. Alert officers at Midland stopped the car and broke up a trail of murder that stretched from Illinois to Texas.

* * *

The week was fraught with traffic mishaps which produced several painful and serious injuries. Then on Thursday Horace Newton Holcomb was killed instantly in a collision at the west edge of town, and his elderly companion, J. R. Fotenot, 62, also of Andrews, died before the day was out. That makes four traffic fatalities within the city limits this year. Holcomb, who was reared in the Lees community, was once given up for lost during World War II when his plane crashed into the North Sea.

Report Storm Is Brewing At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Reports from two ships indicate that there is very likely a tropical storm far out in the Atlantic, the weather bureau reported Saturday night.

A hurricane hunter plane was expected to reach the storm Sunday. The storm is 2,400 miles east-southeast of Miami, closer to Africa than to the Americas, according to weather forecasters.

One forecaster said the reports from the two ships have been sketchy and very little was known about the storm, in a little-traveled area of the Atlantic.

State May See Cool Weather

By The Associated Press

A vigorous norther billowed toward Texas from the Rockies Saturday, bearing the threat of turbulent weather in upper sections of the state over the Labor Day weekend.

Thunderstorms are forecast for Northwest Texas during the night, with the mercury tumbling to 55 degrees in the Panhandle before dawn. The Weather Bureau said the cold air mass would reach North Central Texas Sunday morning.

A trough of low pressure extended from the South Plains of Northwest Texas into Central Nebraska, and this helped speed the cool air to the southeast. Nearly all the air over Texas was hot and humid, funnelled into the state by stiff winds from the South.

It was the approaching collision of the cold and warm, moist air that could set off the thunderstorms predicted for the northern half of Texas.

Texas Counts Six Violent Deaths

State police predicted 30 would die before the grim death count ends at midnight Monday.

GM Asked For Profit Sharing

DETROIT (AP) —The United Auto Workers union threw on the bargaining table Saturday a demand that General Motors Corp. accept a profit-sharing wage package. The union wants 15 per cent.

Unless it gets this or the equivalent, the UAW renewed its threat to strike GM, the world's largest manufacturing concern, at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The UAW proposed GM accept the same profit-sharing plan it got last week with American Motors Corp., which employs 23,000 hourly rated, union-represented workers compared with GM's 325,000.

Under the AMC agreement 15 per cent of before-taxes profits would finance broad-scaled advances in fringe benefits, such as supplemental unemployment benefits, pensions, layoff pay and insurance.

GM and other members of the Big Three—Ford and Chrysler—have stood fast against profit-sharing. The UAW demanded such in 1958, but didn't make any headway.

Local D.A. To Press For Early Trial For Myers

Gil Jones, district attorney, told a press conference last night that he intends to ask for a trial for John Edwin Myers, for murder, this month.

"If it is not possible to have the trial this month," Jones said, "I will press for an early trial in October."

"As to Donna Marie Stone, the 13-year-old companion of Myers," Jones said, "she is in the hands of the juvenile authorities. I can say that if she is ordered committed to the Texas training school for girls, I will place a hold order against her.

"When she has reached the age of 18, she can then be tried for this Howard County murder."

The conference for the press was held in the Howard County Grand Jury room. Reporters from as far away as St. Louis were on hand. Representatives of newspapers, radio stations and television stations from Big Spring, Lubbock, Odessa, and Midland were present.

Jones and Miller Harris, sheriff, presided. They handed each reporter a mimeographed copy of the highlights of the case and answered questions for half an hour.

At the end of the question-and-answer session, Jones had Myers brought into the room.

He did not permit any direct questions of the prisoner by the reporters but he asked the defendant his name, age, occupation and a few other routine questions while photographers shot pictures.

Myers, wearing jail coveralls stood dejectedly in the corner of the grand jury room while the camera ordeal was under way.

County's Budget Hearing Thursday

Budget for Howard County for 1962 will be studied at an open meeting of the Howard County Commissioners Court on Thursday morning. The general public is invited to attend the session which begins at 10 a.m.

The budget, filed with the county clerk on Aug. 12, calls for $940,492.41 for all county activities for the year 1962. This is $16,268 larger than the budget in 1961.

The budget is figured on an estimated assessed valuation of county property of $56,000,000 which is $104,692 larger than the valuation for 1961. The valuation represents 20 per cent of the market value of property on the tax rolls.

Tax rate for the county is $1.07 per hundred dollar valuation. This is 5 cents higher than in 1961—the increase being required to meet demands of the 1961 road bond issue. These bonds were voted by the county to pay for right of way needed for improvement of two farm to market roads and for transforming U. S. 87 into a 4-lane highway from the north edge of Big Spring to the Howard County line.

Generally, the budget allocations for each of the county departments are about the same as they were in 1961.

The budget is figured on an estimated ad valorem tax collection of $539,280 which is approximately $30,000 more than was collected in 1961.

Balance of the budget will come from other sources — primarily from the automobile tag kickback to the county of $175,000.

Actual spending called for in the budget as it now stands will be $931,384.91. Total resources the county will have for the year are estimated at $940,492.61.

At the meeting Thursday, the items in the budget will be studied and the commissioners may make such changes as they feel essential. The commissioners court will then formally approve the budget for the ensuing year.

French Police Find Evidence Of Revolt

PARIS (AP) — French police said Saturday they have seized important documents from one section of the widely scattered antigovernment movement in France and arrested 20 of its members. The leaders are still in flight, however.

Acts of violence were blamed on the plotters, including a murder with a plastic bomb.

A spokesman at the Interior Ministry said the seized documents confirmed existence of a "provisional government for a French Algeria" and clearly identified Joseph Ortiz as one of its leaders. Ortiz is under a death sentence for his part in the 1960 Algerian barricades uprising and is believed to have been living in exile on the Spanish island of Majorca since the insurgent movement collapsed.

Police said that the right-wing network was responsible for the recent plastic-bomb attacks in France. The captured documents indicated Ortiz sent instructions for the attacks through an elaborate courier network.

Most of the arrests, which took place during the past few days but were kept secret, were in southwestern France.

Among the attacks that police attribute to the movement were the plastic explosion which killed Camille Blanc, mayor of Evian, a few days before the opening of peace talks with the Algerian rebels last May, and an explosion and fire in the National Assembly in Paris last spring. Many blasts of the plastic, a sticky type explosive, have been blamed on rightists.

The police identified Ortiz, Gen. Jacques Faure and Dr. Bernard Lefevre as other members of the nebulous "provisional government of French Algeria."

New Red Charges On Air Corridors

LONDON (AP) — Russia Saturday night renewed charges that the Western allies are abusing the Berlin airlanes. But first reports of new Soviet notes suggested Moscow steered clear of threats that would heighten East-West tension.

Diplomats in London, meanwhile, reported the United States and Britain have decided against rushing into a new series of nuclear weapon tests in the trail of Saturday's Soviet explosion.

The Soviet notes to the United States, Britain and France were delivered in Moscow Saturday night. They answered stiff Western warnings to the Soviets to keep their hands off the three long-used air corridors into West Berlin—or face "the most serious consequences."

Informants said the Soviets reasserted their charge that West German spies and saboteurs are being flown into West Berlin to make trouble for the East German Communist regime. But, the sources added, the summarized version of the note so far received here showed no mention of Soviet action that would threaten the airlanes and so aggravate the crisis.

Reporting the British-American decision against an immediate resumption of nuclear tests, the informants said Washington and London at the same time have agreed to continue working informally for a basis of negotiating a Berlin settlement with the Soviets.

The political strategy behind these decisions, which have been cleared with other Allied powers, is to allow the impact of Russia's nuclear test blast to have its effect on world opinion. U.S. and British experts are convinced more Soviet nuclear weapon firings are imminent.

Paper Back Texts To Be Considered

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Education will consider Monday a pilot program on use of paper back texts in Texas schools.

Authorization was given the agency by the legislature to make a survey to determine how practical are paper back texts.

SIX THINGS

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 1900 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1283.

"Six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto Him: a proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren" (Prov. 6:16-19).

While God loves the sinner, He hates his sin; and sin cannot go unpunished. Its wages is death (Rom. 6:23).

We must strive to live above these things. Striving is important; yet we will not remain sinless. And we can only escape the just punishment for our sins by appropriating the sacrifice of Christ (Jno. 3:16).

How may the alien sinner appropriate the sacrifice of Christ? See Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38; Rom. 6:3, 4; and 10:9, 10. How may the erring child of God appropriate it? See Acts 8:22; I Jno. 1:7 to 2:1.

Welcome to our services today: Bible classes, 9:30 a.m.; worship, 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sermons: "One Evil Leads to Another" and "Why I am a Member of the Church of Christ." —Adv.

TRAFFIC MEN BUSY

Business At Halt For Labor Day

Downtown Big Spring will present the appearance of a quiet Sunday afternoon tomorrow as the community observes Labor Day.

The stores will be closed, public offices, —state, local and national—will present locked doors. The court [illegible] will be shut down with the [illegible]ion of a skeleton crew in [illegible]ffice of the sheriff.

Banks will be closed — Labor Day being one of the days of the year that these institutions observe as a holiday.

The city hall will be shut down but, of course, firemen and policemen will be on duty and a skeleton crew to cope with any municipal crisis will be available.

Utility companies, too, will reduce operations to the minimum and maintain emergency crews only.

Schools, which have barely begun their work, will close down.

The post office will make no route deliveries. Its lobby will present closed windows and just enough clerks will be behind the barier to receive and dispatch current mail.

Most of the food stores will be closed down and have been displaying prominent warning notices for several days.

Officers charged with keeping accidents on the roads and highways at a minimum will be even busier than usual. Thousands of Texans, including many from Big Spring, are on short vacation trips and the highways are expected to teem with traffic.

Bitter experience has shown that Labor Day is one of the blacker weekends of each year—an interval when death rides the roads and reaps a heavy toll of lives.

Highway patrol officers, augmented by police, deputy sheriffs and other DPS officials, will be on the job around the clock in a desperate effort to keep the accident total at a low level.

Webb AFB will reduce activities and the airmen and officers will observe the holiday as they please.

Lakes will be thronged with fishermen and boating enthusiasts eager to get in a few final hours at their favorite pasttime. Parks and recreation areas will teem and officials in charge of such places are making plans for record crowds.

Benny Reynolds Is Leading Rodeo Hands In Winnings

DENVER — Southwest cowboys won nine of eleven contest events at two major rodeos over the weekend, Pueblo, Colo., and Vinita, Okla., dividing a major share of the $28,243 total prize money payoff.

Big Jim Bynum, Forreston, Texas, took over the national lead in steer wrestling after winning $1,200 at the three-day Colorado rodeo. He stepped ahead of Benny Combs, Checotah, Okla., in the lead since early January, by the narrow margin of $61.

Bynum, 36, former world champion steer wrestler in 1954 and 1958, now has $11,949 to Combs' $11,888. The latter, competing at Vinita, eked out a $327 day money.

Rodeo's top money winner this season, Benny Reynolds, Melrose, Mont., ground out $696 in Pueblo's steer wrestling and bareback bronc events to up his earnings to $22,726.

Leaders in the various events include:

All-around — Benny Reynolds $22,726; Dean Oliver, Boise, Ida., $19,150; Guy Weeks, Abilene, Texas, $18,103.

Saddle bronc—Winston Bruce, Calgary, Alta., $14,603; Enoch Walker, Cody, Wyo., $13,539.

Bareback bronc — Eddy Akridge, Midland, Texas, $10,667; Jack Buschbom, Cassville, Wisc., $9,922.

Bull Riding—Del Hataway, Snyder, Texas, $9,084; Ronnie Rossen, Broadus, Mont., $9,032.

Calf roping — Dean Oliver, Boise Ida., $19,104; Sonny Davis, Kenna, N.M., $13,559; Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, $13,224.

Steer wrestling—James Bynum, Forreston, Texas, $11,949; Benny Combs, Checotah, Okla., $11,888; C. R. Boucher, Burkburnet, $11,152.

The Red Line: Nuclear Test Is In Interests Of Peace

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet publicity machine swung into high gear Saturday to make the test explosion of a nuclear weapon high over central Asia appear to be in the interests of peace and world welfare.

The explosion itself has not been reported in the press or on the radio in Moscow. But the decision to resume testing occupied the attention of the press. Saturday's issue of Pravda, the principal Soviet mouthpiece, carried statements by the Soviet Peace Committee and an organization of Soviet biologists declaring their approval of the action, which only a few weeks ago they actively denounced.

The action of the Peace Committee was emblazoned on page one, but the declaration of the biologists, who had a harder case to make, was carried under small headlines on an inside page. The story said the biological branch of the Academy of Sciences met and approved the statement about resumption of nuclear tests.

"The scientists and biologists," Pravda said, "admitted that this forced measure corresponds to the present international situation and strengthens the armed forces of the Soviet Union. Equipping them with modern nuclear weapons will be a high and mighty blow on the war mongers and a powerful force in strengthening peace throughout the world."

"The decision stresses that the biologists and scientists are unanimous with their own Soviet government that renewal of explosions of nuclear weapons under present conditions is in the interest of strengthening the might of the socialist camp, and of the whole progress of mankind," the story read.

Perhaps an even greater turnabout was accomplished by the Soviet Peace Committee.

"We, the Soviet peace champions, have always been against nuclear tests," the statement said.

"But what can one do if the United States and its allies are threatening to destroy our towns and villages, to turn whole regions into atomic deserts, to kill millions of Soviet people?"

To Westerners here it appeared an extraordinary statement in the light of the repeated declarations by Premier Khrushchev and others in recent weeks that any effort to use force on the Berlin corridors would bring on a nuclear war, convert Germany, England, Italy, Greece and the United States into virtual ash heaps.

The Peace Committee then denounced the "hypocrisy of the position of the United States and its NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) allies," declaring that even during the negotiations in Geneva, France continued to explode test weapons. It did not mention that they were relatively primitive efforts, designed to qualify France as an atomic power.

The explosion Friday, immediately after the Soviet announcement that it was breaking the test moratorium, appeared to indicate preparation had been under way in the Soviet Union for some time.

Concert Series Demand Strong

Initial response by members of the Big Spring Concert Association has been extremely encouraging in the pre-campaign signup, Helen Hurt, membership chairman, said Saturday.

The first few days brought in over 150 renewals, and every mail is bringing more.

Members have until Wednesday to renew, and after that the general membership enrollment begins on a first-come first-served basis.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, association president, predicted that there would be a greater demand for this season's tickets than ever before.

The offerings include Fred Waring and his troupe in a repeat performance by popular demand; Grand Johannsen, described as one of the first pianists of the world; the renowned Meredith Wilson musical, "The Music Man"; and Richard Elsasser, premier organist whose talents range from pops to Bach.

Directors of the association will begin Wednesday to offer season memberships (at $8 and $4). No single performance tickets are sold.

Dispersal Sale For Cauble Hereford Herd Set Sept. 15

One of the pioneer Hereford breeding herds of this area will go on the auction block Sept. 15.

The Anxiety 4th herd developed by Isaac Butler (Doc) Cauble and his sons, James and Rexie, all now deceased, is to be dispersed. Included in the offerings will be two herd bulls, 14 herd bulls prospects and range bulls, 52 cows mostly with calves by side, and 12 open yearling hievers. Both the herd bulls, 7 Lord Lamplighter 7th and M. Imperial Lamplighter 34, were former reserve champions of the National Anxiety 4th sale at Amarillo.

The sale will be at the Howard County Fair Barns with Walter Britton, College Station, as auctioneer, and Berty Reyes, Beeville, as sale manager. Information or catalogues are available from Mrs. Rexie Cauble, Route 2, Big Spring.

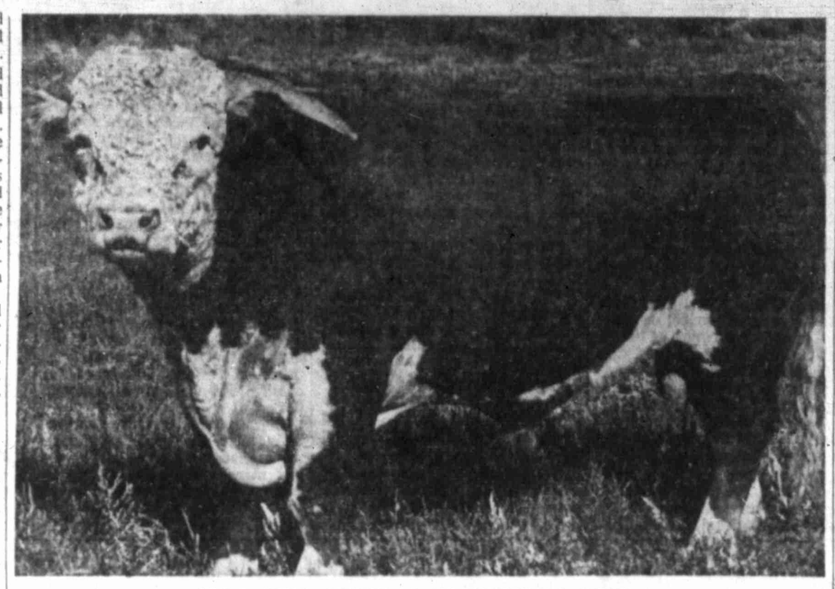
Prior to the turn of the century, Col. C. C. Slaughter had introduced good white-faced blood to herds on his sprawling Long S. Ranch. He paid $5,000 for Sir Bredwell and put him to work here. It was not until around 1915 that any serious effort was made to establish a breeding herd, however.

CAUBLE AMBITION

Cauble had a consuming ambition to own "the finest herd of pure-bred Herefords in this section" and he began to buy registered cattle from W. R. Settles. By 1918 the cattle began placing high at the Fort Worth show, where the Caubles had the champion senior calf in 1919 and the top junior calf in 1920.

A. B. Cook of Montana was taking honors in major shows with his Panama strain, and when Beau Panama was named champion of the Oklahoma State Fair, Cauble and his sons bought the bull for their herd sire.

Immediately Cauble cattle began to take top honors in shows. Then came an opportunity to bulwark the herd, for the Gudgel & Simpson famous Anxiety 4th herd dispersed in 1916 had been largely re-assembled and maintained at Hereford, Texas. In 1926 Cauble began to buy into this herd heavily for his foundation stock. He acquired Beau Diamond 10 and Beau Diamond 27, sons of Superior Diamond, and ultimately President Mischief, the great Mousel Bros. bull. The Cauble herd became a mecca for operators of commercial herds in the late 1920s, and this accelerated the selectivity for the breeding herd. The name Cauble became a familiar one in Herford circles.



HERD BULL OFFERING IN DISPERSAL SALE
M. Imperial Lamplighter 34 was national reserve champion

DECIDES TO DISPERSE

James Cauble died in the 1930s and his father, founder of the Herd, died in 1949. Rexie Cauble, the surviving son, took over management of the herd, but he also died this spring, and his widow has decided to dispose of the herd.

The cattle will be brought to the Fair Barns here around Sept. 11 to facilitate inspection prior to the sale starting at 1 p.m. on Sept. 15. Among those expected here for the event are Henry Elder, secretary of the Texas Hereford Association; Charles Miblett Jr., Stephenville, president of the THA; Charles, Sweetwater, president of the National Anxiety 4th Hereford Association; John Montgomery, Jayton, secretary of the Anxiety association; Leon Freese of the Cattleman magazine; Frank Reeves, of the Star Telegram and American Hereford Journal; John Jones of the American Hereford Association.

All the cattle in the sale are in range condition and have been health tested.

Webb Shoots At Record Enrollment

Educational officials at Webb AFB are hoping to make "short life" of the base record for enrollment in Howard County Junior College classes. The current high was established last fall when 139 persons signed up for 198 courses with a total credit value of 612 semester hours.

Steep as these figures appear at the time, they were challenged last spring when 136 students were enrolled in 193 courses for a total of 591 semester hours.

"That was three persons and five courses short of the record," Joseph Hinton, base education officer, observed. "And the way things look," he added, "enrollment figures this fall should eclipse all three marks."

Leading all Webb units in enrollments last fall was 3560th M&S Group with 42 students, 57 courses and 172 credit hours. Second was 3560th Air Base Group with 31 students, 41 courses and 126 credit hours. The 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron was third with 26 students, 41 courses and 131 hours; and in fourth place was 3560th Pilot Training Group with 19 students, 25 courses and 76 hours.

M&S Group stayed in first position in spring enrollments, easing into second was 331st FIS, Air Base Group was third, and 3560th USAF Hospital moved into fourth.

The hot months, when things are pretty slow, saw 331st FIS leading in the two summer sessions.

Laboring Force Joins In Holiday Observance

Around 2,000 members of Big Spring labor unions will be observing Labor Day Monday. Many of them will be at the barbecue and dance to be held at Floyd Gwin Park in Odessa. Big Spring members of the Carpenters Union and of the International Union of Operating Engineers, are affiliated with the district AFL-CIO with headquarters at Odessa.

The district covers the area and from San Angelo to Lubbock, and union men not tied up on critical jobs requiring them to be working Labor Day, are expected to join those in Odessa.

BARBECUE

The barbecue will begin at 5 p.m. and this will be followed by guest speakers at approximately 6:45 p.m. The dance will begin at 8 p.m. and run until midnight. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, and $1 for children and may be obtained from any union official. In Odessa they will be available at Richardson Barbeque or the Kandy Kitchen Cafe. There will be an added charge of $1 per person for those attending the dance.

John Roemer, Big Spring, is the county-wide secretary and has made the Odessa program available to local union men and their families who plan to attend.

Listeners in Big Spring may hear a 15-minute address by George Meany on union progress at 10:05 a.m. over KBYG.

SPEAKERS

Sherman A. Miles, legislative director of the Texas State AFL-CIO, and Doug Crouch, district attorney of Tarrant County, have accepted invitations to speak at the Labor Day event in Odessa, D. L. Willis, president of the Odessa and Vicinity Central Labor Union, has announced.

"Labor Day is observed to publicly call attention to the dignity of labor, the brotherhood of man, and the objectives of the labor movement. Free public education, abolition of child labor, and the eight-hour work day are just a few benefits for all people that labor has helped to advance," Willis said.

The public is invited to attend the barbecue, addresses, and dance at Odessa, Willis said.

Water Demands Show Gains

Thanks to a sharp increase by Odessa, water demands upon the Colorado River Municipal Water District gained substantially during August.

The district delivered 1,090,561,000 gallons, making it the sixth heaviest month on record for August. This was up 6.43 per cent from the 1,024,691,000 gallons in August of 1960 despite declines at all points other than Odessa.

Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder drew 900,566,000 gallons, a gain of 10.5 per cent. Odessa took 545,744,000, a gain of 19.78 per cent; Big Spring 274,343,000, a drop of 1.6 per cent; Snyder 80,479,000, a drop of .2 per cent.

Oil companies took 189,995,000 gallons for repressuring, etc., a decline of 9.39 per cent for the month in comparison with August, 1960.

For the first eight months of the year, the district has delivered 6,488,720,000 gallons of water, which is but 1.3 per cent off the pace of 6,573,737 gallons for the same period last year.

O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager-production, said that unless unseasonably heavy showers should come during the forepart of September, the district may pull abreast or go ahead of last year's production figures. Abnormally heavy showers in June, particularly in the Big Spring area, cost the district considerable production.

Reserves are in good condition, for Lake J. B. Thomas is at elevation 2,257.25, which is only three-fourths of a foot below the spillway level.

Navy Announces 'Critical' Rates

The local Navy recruiting station has been advised of vacancies existing in various ratings in the Navy service. These are designated as "critical rates" and men holding these rates may re-enlist at rate held at time of discharge, providing they have not been out of the service for more than four years.

The critical rates include: Radioman, engineman, machinist mate, electrician's mate, quartermaster, sonarman, radarman, and others, including some in the aviation field.

Interested persons may contact the local Navy recruiting station in the basement of the post office.

August Vies With June

August made like June in the marriage department in Howard County.

June, traditional month of brides and regarded as the marryingest part of the year, was hard pressed to outdo old summery sultry August, a check of the records of Pauline Petty, Howard County Clerk reveals.

There were 50 marriage licenses issued by her office in June, she reported, and 48 for the month just ended.

If five couples could have had their druthers, they, too, would have been duly wedded in August. They had filed their application for licenses before the end of August but the three day interval the law requires threw them into September for their nuptials.

As a result of the overlap, five marriage licenses were issued on Friday—all of which had been asked for in August.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Chairman Of Bible Panel Pleads For More Support

To the Editor:

For some 15 years, Bible has been taught in our high school. This has always been an elective, but as time passes, there are more and more students interested in the course. This year is the largest enrollment, with five classes being taught by Mrs. Johnny Johansen.

The support of the Bible program is dependent solely on voluntary donations, which includes support from local churches. No money is allowed to be used from the tax dollar, and this is the way that we want it to remain. This year with increased enrollment, and increase in teachers salaries, it means that we are going to need approximately $5700 to be able to carry Bible throughout the year.

In behalf of the Big Spring Pastors' Association, I would like to urge the pastors to tell the story to their congregations. There might be some who would like to make a contribution to the Bible fund.

The only sources of income we have is through giving by the local churches, offerings that are taken at the Thanksgiving and Easter services, and money contributed by the public through the Herald.

If you would like to see us continue our Bible program, send your contribution to the Big Spring Herald, or give your money to to your church for the Bible Fund.

Local Delegates Attend Meeting

Nineteen delegates from the Big Spring congregation of Jeohvah's Witnesses left Friday for Pecos to attend an assembly in the city auditorium.

The three-day assembly of ministers is expected to attract more than 600 delegates from 18 congregations extending from Abilene to Carlsbad and from San Angelo to as far north as Snyder. W. L. Mackey, a Watchtower Society representative from Brooklyn, N. Y., will be principal speaker as well as chairman of the meetings. He was to open the sessions on the convention theme, "Walk in the Name of Jehovah Forever," then preside over a model ministry school. The highlight of the assembly will be Mackey's address Sunday Sept. 3, at 3 p.m. on "Uniting Men in a Split-up World."

All sessions are free and open to the public.

New Minimum Wage Law To Have Little Impact Here

By SAM BLACKBURN

Employes of Big Spring stores, who may have been hopeful the new federal minimum wage law as amended by the last Congress would bring them boosted paychecks, are in for a disappointment.

The new law becomes effective today. It will apply to a considerable number of enterprises here and these establishments employ a large number of workers.

A check indicates that few if any workers in this community will find their paychecks larger as a result of the law. It is even possible there may be a few isolated instances where workers will be let out of their jobs or where their checks will be even less than they have been.

CHANGED HOURS

And it is certain that a considerable number of workers will have to readjust themselves to sharply changed working regulations which their employers plan to adopt to avoid working any employe in excess of the minimum work week.

Enterprises which are affected by the new law include stores such as Hemphill-Wells, White's, J. C. Penney, C. R. Anthony, Woolworth, Wackers, Montgomery-Ward, Sears, Zale's and others. The law applies to such operations that involve more than one unit and where the gross sales annually are not less than a million dollars or where each unit of such an enterprise grosses $250,000 yearly.

OTHERS

A business establishment which is not a part of a chain has to gross a million dollars or more a year in sales to be affected.

There are no such retail establishments here, according to best information.

Most of the stores which are concerned with the new law have already set up methods of complying with requirements but at the same time reduce the need to pay overtime.

The stores are already paying salaries which are equal to or above the $1 per hour minimum pay set up by the amended law. Those which were already under the provisions of the law prior to its new amendment will be concerned with avoiding overtime payment. Pay rates for such firms will begin at $1.15 an hour effective now and will be increased $1.25 an hour effective Sept. 3, 1963. Most of these establishments are already paying wages higher than the legal minimum.

NEW FIRMS

New establishments which are just being brought under the provisions of the law—which is the case on most local businesses — will be required to pay $1 an hour minimum wages. There is no overtime premium effective against these employers until Sept. 3, 1963. Effective at that date, overtime must be paid at one and one half times the regular base after 44 hours.

This drops to 42 hours on Sept. 3, 1964—at the same time the base pay rate is increased to $1.15 an hour. After Sept. 3, 1965, the employer must compensate his employes for overtime after they have worked 40 hours. That same date will see the minimum pay increased to $1.25 an hour.

Most establishments here have plans to stagger work starting time of employes to keep their total weekly hours at 40. One firm proposes to count out lunch times, coffee breaks and so forth to reduce the total working week of its staff.

NO DIFFICULTY

For a number of employers, the new law will cause no difficulty.

Woolworth's, for example, has followed the plan of 40 hour work weeks and a minimum salary of $1 per hour for four years.

Hemphill-Wells anticipates no change since it is pointed out that the store has been following a 5½ day work week and paying above the minimum for a long time.

J. C. Penney will set up a staggered work schedule to keep its workers inside the minimum work week.

Zale's has worked out a plan where exclusion of coffee breaks and other time off will keep its staff inside the minimum work week.

Cosden Petroleum Corp., which came under the minimum wage plan long before the amended version, pointed out the new provisions have no application for its workers. Minimum pay at the plant is pegged at $2 per hour.

SPECIAL PROBLEM

Supermarkets have a special problem to work out.

Safeway, for example, employs, as do other such establishments, a number of high school boys who sack up purchases and carry bundles to customers' cars. These boys work an average of 20 hours a week. They have not been paid $1 an hour and the stores are awaiting on a special ruling before taking any action on the matter.

A spokesman said:

"We are going to wait until we get something official."

The Labor Department, in its estimate on the effect of the new law, said it would add $173,000,000 to the retail pay rolls the first year. This may work out in other places where larger independent businesses operate and where working conditions are different.

A big independent store in Wichita, Kan., for example, has instructed its workers to come to work half an hour later each day. They say this will save the store $11,700 in wages annually.

OUT OF WORK

In El Paso, a department store has dismissed 25 package wrappers and assigned their work to the sales clerks.

It may be that some adjustments here will have to be made, as time goes on and a new understanding of the law develops.

In Odessa, B. B. Smith is the area representative for the El Paso District office, of the U. S. Department of Labor. He said Friday that he and his fellow officials will attend an indoctrination course in Amarillo soon.

"We will then learn exactly what is to be done about the new law," he said.

He suggested that any businessman in need of information could contact him at 110 O'Michael Bldg., Odessa, or can get in touch with the district office, Room 139, U. S. Courthouse, El Paso.

Lt. Governor Race May Be Stampede

AUSTIN (AP)—The race for lieutenant governor may turn into a stampede.

The gates were flung open last month when Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey was appointed to the Railroad Commission.

Ramsey has had a political hammerlock on the office since he first won it in a runoff election in 1950. Only once, in 1956, did anyone come close to forcing him into another runoff.

The post in some ways wields more power than even that of the governor.

As presiding officer over the State Senate, the lieutenant governor exercises great influence over legislation. Important bills unfavorable to him rarely pass in the Senate.

Under his power to refer bills to committee, he can send a measure to a committee which he knows is favorable or unfavorable. He can refuse to recognize a bill's sponsor for the purpose of moving to consider the measure.

Most lieutenant governors have hesitated to exercise their full potential power. When they have used it, the results often were far reaching.

Only one candidate, conservative Republican O. W. Hayes of Temple, is officially in the race. Several others have indicated interest.

Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, the only man to give Ramsey a political scare for the post, said he was considering trying again.

Aikin forced a runoff with Ramsey in 1956 but withdrew after contracting tuberculosis.

"I just don't know," he said. "If it looks like I can...if it works out, I might. Anyone in the Senate would like to be lieutenant governor."

Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, another casualty of the Ramsey bandwagon, said "I'm definitely interested."

Smith ran third in a 12-man field in 1950 when Ramsey and Pierce Brooks of Dallas went into a runoff.

"If conditions are such that it would be advisable, I wouldn't mind tackling the lieutenant governor's race," Smith said.

House Speaker James Turman has all but made it official that he's in the race. He said that he wanted to get the special session promised by Gov. Price Daniel out of the way before a definite announcement is released.

Sen. Bob Baker of Houston said he would class himself as "a possible candidate."

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro said he will run "if something doesn't come up."

Hearing Set On Change In Zoning

A public hearing will be held in the city commission room at the city hall at 5:15 p.m. Sept. 4, when the Planning and Zoning Commission will hear property owner approval or disapproval of a zoning change for all property on the north and south sides of Wood Street, between State and Rosemont.

Some residents of the area affected have petitioned the Planning and Zoning Commission for a zoning change from 1F-2 residential to PD-NS, planned district-neighborhood service.

All residents living, or owning property, within 200 feet of the property affected have been notified in writing and will be given an opportunity to express their sentiments at the Sept. 5 meeting.

The area, for which the zoning change is requested, lies on both sides of Wood Street north of the Eleventh Place Shopping Center and includes all of Lots 1-6, Block 1, Belmont block; all of Lots 1-6, Block 5, Highland Park Addition, and all of Lots 15-28, Block 4, Highland Park Addition.

H. B. Reagan, chairman of the commission, and Bruce Dunn, secretary, said that no other business is on the agenda for the meeting, but that it was possible for requests to be made from the floor.

Surety Firm's Ban Removed

AUSTIN (AP)—State Securities Commissioner William King gave the Investors Security Life Insurance Co. of Lubbock permission Friday to continue the sale of its securities.

King vacated an order of Feb. 6, 1960 which prohibited the sale of securities of the insurance company.

The order stated that all officers of the company responsible for the sale of securities in violation of Texas law are no longer connected with the firm.

The order also cited a judicial decree of a Lubbock district court to the effect that stock issued by the company is not in excess of the amount authorized by the articles of incorporation.

Sales Tax Blues New Texas Song

By The Associated Press

Comradeship suffered a body blow in Texas this weekend.

Regulars who congregate daily at the mass coffee break and then find a pigeon among themselves to pay the combined check suddenly began demanding separate checks like strangers.

One Harlingen cafe owner declared it's just a gag. But some customers were serious.

The customers simply were trying to beat the sales tax which went into effect Friday. Cafe checks of more than 24 cents are taxed.

Wails and howls resounded in store after store.

One deep East Texas grocer plaintively wired Gov. Price Daniel's office that "They tell me I'm supposed to collect something, but no one has told me what." He said he hadn't heard about the tax until it already was effective.

Fortunately for tax officers, nearly everybody in Texas except the East Texas grocer reads newspapers.

It was newspapers to which retailers and others turned for information on what is taxed.

The most general complaint voiced by those who must collect the levy is that forms and other information have not yet been supplied by the state government.

Merchants put widely varying interpretations on the tax law.

In San Angelo, one retailer told clerks that if they sell 10 blouses for $1 each to one customer they must collect the 2 per cent tax. Another retailer a few doors away told his clerks that there was no tax on ten $1 blouses. There is no tax on outer clothing costing less than $10.

Customers generally paid the tax with resignation and without complaint. Others were upset, the general comment being that it took effect surprisingly soon.

BORDER TROUBLES

Laredo, which has many customers from across the Mexican border, had a special problem. Mexican citizens are exempt from paying federal excise taxes, but not the state tax. It took some explaining. But the southern neighbors paid without complaint.

At Greenville, clerks in one clothing store questioned customers closely on whether they wear their T-shirts on the outside or inside. There is no tax if they are worn as outer clothing. Another store collected tax on all T-shirts.

"ACROSS THE BOARD"

Out of the uncertainty about fine points of the tax law came comments from occasional customers and clerks alike: "Why not make it a flat charge across the board?"

One shopper at Denison expressed this view, "We've got it and we might as well start living with it."

But if retailers and their customers found confusion, they should have been in the office of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, whose job it is to administer the tax. At one point Thursday, eve of the first tax collections, Calvert's office lagged five hours behind in answering the inpouring telephone calls.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo, one of the legislators who voted for the sales tax, had this advice for merchants as he dropped two cents on the counter as tax on a restaurant meal:

"When in doubt charge a tax."

Water Usage Far Behind Estimates

Water usage in Big Spring is running something over 50 million gallons behind the August estimate through the Aug. 30 report to City Manager A. K. Steinheimer.

"This puts us behind the estimate for the year by around 147 million gallons," he said. "The biggest day so far has run 8.4 million, while last year's was 11 million."

For the calendar year of 1961, the figures through Aug. 30, as compared to last year's usage, show: (figures in parentheses for 1960) Jan., 132 million (122 million) up 16 million; Feb. 119 million (115 million) up 4 million; March, 151 million (149 million) up 2 million; April, 219 million (189 million) up 30 million; May 256 million (244 million) up 12 million; June, 219 million (330 million) off 111 million; July 202 million (252 million) off 50 million; Aug., through 30th, 220 million (278 million) off 50 million.

During the first five months a net gain of 64 million gallons had been registered, but June, July and August showed a loss of 211 million. This shows a net drop of 147 millions below the same period of 1960.

Steinheimer said he believed the usage will show a gain over the last four months of the year and that 1961 will end with an approximate loss of 80 million gallons.

He's Had Some Explaining To Do

AUSTIN (AP)—The first payer of the new sales tax at his neighborhood grocery store Friday was State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Calvert picked up a sack of flour, some dog food, milk, candy bars, bread and marshmallows.

"This dog food has caused me trouble," Calvert commented. "At first I told my wife it was tax exempt. Then we had a conference and decided it was not tax free. I've had a lot of explaining to do."

New Vocational Nurses

Cap Rock Annual Meeting Saturday

The 22nd annual membership meeting of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, along with the membership meeting of the Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative, will be held in Stanton on Saturday.

J. R. Cobb, Austin, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., is to address the joint meeting of the cooperatives which supply rural electric and telephone service to more than a dozen counties in the area.

Registration begins at 1:30 p.m. with the business session slated at 2 p.m., in the new Willie Wiredhand room of the enlarged Cap Rock headquarters. Reports will be given by O. B. Bryan, manager, and directors, on the financial and other affairs of the district. Three directors will be elected by each of the cooperatives.

Two outstanding students served by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative's lines will be awarded college scholarships. In addition, cash awards of $500 will be distributed among members attending. Children will be entertained at a cartoon movie while the business sessions are in progress.

Both of the cooperatives have had a successful year. Cap Rock made its fifth consecutive annual capital credits refund to members in August. Almost a quarter of a million dollars has been returned in this manner during the past five years.

The electric cooperative, started in 1939 to serve Martin and 4,500 members in a 13-county Howard Counties now reaches area. The telephone cooperative, activated within the past five years, serves 1,100 members in five counties. Currently work is under contract for 200 miles of new line in Glassocck County.

Still Time To Plant Those Cover Crops For Winter

Getting a good cover crop on the land is vital in controling wind erosion, according to Ben R. Day, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

"Croplands that are protected by vegetation do not require emergency tillage when strong winds blow," Day said. "This could save a farmer money as well as precious top soil."

Oats and rye make good cover crops, Gabe Hammack, office manager of the ASC, said. He urged farmers to inquire about limitations on such crops as barley and wheat before using them.

Since some 60 to 70 days remain there is still time to get up a green cover of cane and other forage sorghums. Special drills and row seeders are available to farmers wishing to cooperate with the service in approved conservation practices, according to Jack Buchanan, supervisor of the Martin - Howard Soil Conservation District.

A grain drill has been kept busy the past three weeks in the Ackerly area. The grass drills can sow small grains in 10-inch rows and are ideal for seeding between skip row cotton, Buchanan said.

Licenses Go To 10 New LVN's

Ten licensed vocational nurses were graduated from the vocational school of nursing at the Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital Friday. Graduation exercises were held in the lobby of the hospital.

Graduates were Mrs. Howard Virdo Crocker, Mrs. Laura Erhardt, Martha Gossett, Mrs. John Fonville, Mrs. Riley Knightstep, Nora Lee Patterson, Thelma Overby, Mrs. Zonia Pearl Toland, Mrs. G. W. Wood and Mrs. Franklin B. Timmins.

Six nurses also received their caps at the ceremony. They are Mrs. Austin Aulds, Mrs. Leona Billings, Mrs. Lee Jenkins, Mrs. Allie Jones, Mrs. Earl Snipes and Mary Gossett.

Another class with eight students began training Friday.

Boys' Ranch Roundup Extended

The second annual Boys Ranch of West Texas fall roundup, scheduled to run through August, has been extended through September.

Officials of the Ranch expect large livestock runs during September due to good range conditions and delayed marketings. Under the plan, livestock owners send animals to participating livestock auctions, where they are sold without charge and proceeds forwarded to Boys Ranch.

Roy A. Minear, board president, said that the Roundup keeps the Ranch on a sound financial basis and is depended on for assistance more than direct mail solicitation.

Wagon boss for the Big Spring area is Toots Mansfield, who is local coordinator for the Roundup.

Sales Tax Hits Politicians, Too

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas politicians will be hit hard by the new sales tax.

A ruling by the state comptroller Friday says that studios which make records or tape recordings and sell them to others must apply the 2 per cent tax to the sale.

A considerable amount of modern campaigning is carried on by tapes and recordings that are made by a candidate then distributed for use by radio and television stations.

Big Street Repair Program Under Way

Big Spring streets have been undergoing a rehabilitation program which will require several weeks to complete, Bruce Dunn, director of public works said Friday.

"We started out with a 90-block seal-coating job which has been done," he said. "East Second Street has been surfaced over the hill between the two strips of pavement already in. Then we went to work on Benton, Victory, Donley, and Young streets, all of which have been drainage problems. They have washed badly whenever we had a heavy rain."

Dunn said work on completing these streets was being held up because of lack of asphalt.

SHORT DELAY

"Cosden is temporarily out of the kind we use," he said, "but the delay won't last long."

The four streets being held up on the south side, and their locations are: Benton between Fourth and Sixth; Victory, between Tucson and Eleventh Place; Donley south of Nineteenth, and Young from Twelfth to Sixteenth.

Following this work Dunn has instructed the street crews, under superintendent Skeet Foresyth, to go to North Big Spring and begin the stabilization program and improving drainage there. At the same time downtown alleys will be stabilized.

The 25 street areas to be covered north of the railroad, and the order in which they will be done, are: NE Eleventh, 200 feet east and west of Goliad; North Goliad, from NE Ninth to NE Tenth; NE Ninth from 600 feet west of Goliad to 200 feet east of Goliad; NE Eighth, 450 feet west of Goliad; NE Seventh, 450 west of Goliad; NE Sixth, from Goliad to Runnels; North Runnels from NE Second to NE Sixth; NE Third from North Johnson to North Runnels; NE Eleventh, 125 feet east and west of North Runnels;

OTHERS

NE Tenth from North Main to 125 feet east of North Runnels; North Scurry from NE Tenth to NE Seventh; NE Eighth from North Gregg to North Main; North Main from alley north of NE Eighth to NE Third (North Main from Third to NE 7th to be patched and sealed); North Lancaster from NW Third to NW Twelfth; North Bell from NW Third to NW Fifth, and from NW Sixth to NW Twelfth;

NW Sixth from North Aylford to North Lancaster; North Aylford from NW Third to NW Sixth; NW Fifth from North Aylford to North Bell; North San Antonio from NW Sixth to NW Twelfth; NW Eighth from North San Antonio to North Douglas; North Douglas from NW Eighth to NW Tenth; Ohio from NW Ninth to Andrews Highway; NW Ninth from Wyoming to Ohio.

In addition to street and drainage improvement, Dunn said, there will be several blocks of rip-rap laid to prevent washing during heavy rains.

Holcomb Rites Are Set Today

Funeral services in Andrews are scheduled at 2 p.m. today for Horace Newton Holcombe, 38, who was the victim of an automobile collision Thursday afternoon.

He was the 11th traffic fatality in the county; another man, who was with him, died Friday morning to raise the total to 12.

Mr. Holcombe was a resident of Andrews for four years and was active in the First Baptist Church, several branches of the Masonic Lodge, the Caterpillar Club and the American Legion. He was a World War II veteran.

He was born in Marysville June 3, 1923 and lived for several years in the Lees community and at Forsan. Mr. Holcombe later moved to Monahans and then to Andrews as a pumper for Standard Oil Co.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Andrews with the Rev. Carl Grisson, pastor, officiating. Masonic graveside rites will be held at the Andrews Cemetery under the direction of the Singleton Funeral Home.

Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home handled local arrangements.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Janet Holcombe; one son, Jerry Don; two daughters, Donna Jeanne and Melody, all of Andrews; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Holcombe, Stanton; two sisters, Mrs. Hugh Pearson, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Thelma Brake, Newark, Calif.; four brothers, Wayne, Houston; Hugh, Compton, Calif.; Price, Wink, and Kenneth, Stanton.

Cuban Youth Details What Communism Did To Family

"You don't know what is Communism until you can see."

This is the essence of the deep feeling with which a former classmate of a Big Spring man describes the experience of his family in Cuba.

Member of a wealthy family, he has lost his father, has fled his homeland with a brother and sister, and is seeking work of any kind in Miami. His mother, hoping to hold together at least the family house and a few belongings, is still in Cuba.

These tragic happenings are described graphically in a letter by a Cuban youth to Terry Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis, with whom he roomed while in Graham-Eckes preparatory school in Palm Beach, Fla. The youth's name is not used because of relatives still in Cuba, but these excerpts from his letter give a feeling of the frustration and tragedy which has engulfed their lives:

"SERIOUS MOMENT"

"I am very sorry because I can't answer to you when I receive your letter, but it was impossible for me to do it.

"When I receive your letter, it was a very serious moment for me and my family. You probably don't know that my father die the last February, and you know what means a father to a family. Before he die, we lost almost all in Cuba, and we had many difficult problems, but after he died, all things for me were like nothing.

"I had to pass very difficult moments; I have to take care of all things of my family—we lost in Cuba—farms, ranches, beaches, sugar plantation, cars."

Apparently he hung on hoping that there would be a change and he could operate the restored estate.

"If Fidel Castro leave, I can take back our hands and begin to work, but my father (died). Well you know this thing never came back. I will never forget some peoples in Cuba that were the reason for my father die, I only like to come back to Cuba and. . .

CAR WASH

"I am living in Miami Beach now. I took with me my brother (19 years old) and my sister (12 years old), but my mother (is) still in Cuba to try to keep the only thing we have over there, (our) house with all my father's things. But she will be here soon because to live in Cuba is impossible."

"I came to Miami last week right after I get out of the jail (59 days in jail because I am not Communists), the first seven days without eat and drink anything. We were 11,500 persons in one jail. After the seven days the first food was only rice from the U.S.R.R. (bad) but we have to eat."

Four of his cousins were imprisoned with him, he wrote, and they are still there. One went on the invasion last April 19. Two were working in Cuba under assumed names for the U. S. government, he said, and another was on an abortive plot to kill Raul Castro (Fidel's brother) and some underlings. A sense of desperation impelled them.

"NOTHING IS GOOD"

"Well nothing is good when you have Communism in your country, and the way is war against all these. . . You don't know what is Communism until you can see. Is something almost impossible for describe in all ways."

There is freedom but not too much opportunity in Miami, he indicated.

"In Miami is nothing to do, not work, no anything. But I have to wait or stay here until my mother come because I have my brother and sister with me and until my mother don't come I can't leave.

"I worked two days washing cars, and three days at the Matadero (I don't know how is in English). Here I receive $1 for hour 8 hours a day, but was only five days (that I got to work). Now I don't doing anything. . . Remember when you write, tell me how is the work in Texas."

Compromise Attempted In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —The Brazilian Congress Saturday approved a constitutional amendment that would permit leftist Vice President Joao Goulart to take the presidency but with most power to be wielded by a prime minister.

There were indications that this attempt toward ending the Brazilian crisis would be acceptable neither to Goulart nor to the military chiefs opposed to him.

The Senate at Brasilia, the hinterland capital, completed the congressional approval by votes of 47-5 and 48-6. Under Brazilian law, a confirming vote is required after the first one is taken, and it was 48-6.

Congress leaders hope to install Goulart at an inaugural in Brasilia Monday.

Among the dissenters was former President Juscelino Kubitschek, an influential senator since his retirement from the presidency and a staunch supporter of Goulart.

Kubitschek is one of several considered as likely candidates for the new post of prime minister, and whether he might be induced to take it may have a bearing on Goulart's ultimate decision to become a figurehead president.

Goulart remained in conference far to the south at Porto Alegre with his advisers and gave no immediate indication of his decision.

The amendment was approved earlier in the day in the Chamber of Deputies by a 235-55 vote.

The airport at Brasilia was closed to all traffic Saturday night without explanation. There were rumors in Brasilia that Goulart might fly there.

Leftists supporting Goulart denounced the amendment as "a masked coup d'etat" and an attempt to appease military opposition to Goulart's succession to the presidency resigned Aug. 25 by Janio Quadros.

There was no indication that the nation's military chiefs would go along with the amendment. They have repeatedly said they will not accept Goulart under any conditions.

Hubcap Thefts Are Reported

Three hubcap thefts were investigated by police over the weekend.

David McNeeley, 1604 Avion, told police someone stole two hubcaps valued at $60 from his car while it was parked on the lot at the Bowl-A-Rama Bowling Alley. He said the theft occurred some time between 9:45 p.m. Friday and 12:45 a.m.

S. C. Dunn, 905 E. 4th, reported two hubcaps stolen from a car at the Raymond Hamby Used Cars lot. They were valued at $25. Time of the incident was not known.

Mrs. Ken Collier, 803 E. 13th, said a pair of hubcaps was stolen from her car while it was parked in front of the house. No estimate was given of the value.

Other incidents reported included a theft from the Jim Raoul Humble Service Station, 1301 Gregg. Someone pulled the coin box open on a drink machine and took an estimated $1.50. The owner of the station said most of the money had been taken from the coin box earlier in the day Friday.

A plate glass window at the Piggly Wiggly Store, 1009 Eleventh Place, was broken Friday night by a rock which went through the glass. Damage was set at $150. It was not known whether this was the work of vandals or if a car had hit a rock in the road and accidently sent it through the window.

Minor Collisions Are Investigated

Two minor collisions were investigated by police Saturday.

William O'Brien, Box 1709, and David Hilton Patterson, 1017 Johnson, were drivers of cars involved in an accident at the intersection of fourth and Runnels Saturday at 2:35 p.m.

Driver of a car which struck a parked car at Tuscon Road and Settles was Kay Coyl, 805 E. 5th. The parked vehicle belonged to Doyle Turney, 608 Caylor.

Rites Today For Hendrix's Father

Services for W. G. Hendrix, father of Jack Hendrix, were due to be held this afternoon in Lineville, Ala.

The elder Mr. Hendrix died Thursday evening in an Anniston, Ala. Hospital. Friends here were unable to contact the son, who is head of the Howard County Junior College music department, until he returned here early Saturday morning from a vacation trip to Colorado and New Mexico. He and Mrs. Hendrix immediately left for Alabama.

Takes Money, Leaves Billfold

Billfolds must bring a high price these days.

A thief Friday night stole one from a car, but before doing so, he removed the money and left it for the owner.

Jerry Storm, 506½ Nolan, told police early Saturday morning that while he and his wife were at the Bowl-A-Rama, someone took a wallet lying on the front seat of the car. The money inside it, $92, was left wrapped in a beer-soaked paper hand towel.

The theft occurred between 11 p.m. Friday and 1:15 a.m. Saturday. Other articles in the car were left untouched. Police believe the thief may have taken the wallet and money and later returned the cash.

Bigger Cotton Acreage Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has urged the Agriculture Department to increase cotton acreage next year.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Fulbright said he is disturbed by reports that the department is considering possible reductions for 1962.

"I certainly hope that acreage will not be reduced next year," Fulbright said. "If anything, it seems to me that a modest increase is needed in view of the outlook for the world cotton market."

Fulbright, who made his letter public Saturday, said based on latest forecasts upland cotton stocks will total about six million bales by next Aug. 1, well under a half-year's supply for domestic consumption and export.

And, he said, free world cotton stocks are now at their lowest point since world War II except for the Korean emergency.

"It is obvious that there will be an increase in demand for cotton next year in view of the mobilization effort and the general recovery from the recession of last year," Fulbright said.

1,129 Fatal Mishaps

AUSTIN (AP)—Fatal accidents in the state for the year numbered 1,129, the Department of Public Safety said Friday. This is the same number reported at this time last year.

Refusal To Drink Coffee Brought Death

Arthur Lee DeKraai, 33, itinerant Iowa plumber, declined an invitation Friday night to have a cup of coffee in a Colorado City cafe.

By that refusal, De Kraai signed his own death warrant.

If DeKraai had not been too proud to admit he did not have a dime for a cup of coffee, he might be alive today.

Instead, he is dead—shot to death by a Nebraska ex-convict, who made the Iowan his fourth murder victim in the fleeting span of four days.

DeKraai was slain because his host believed the coffee refusal was a ruse to conceal the fact that the Iowa man had cash.

As the ex-con and the girl sat huddled over their coffee in the Colorado City cafe, they plotted their deed—just how they would do away with DeKraai; how they would take that money he was so secretive about.

Today the body of DeKraai is on its way back to Ottumwa, Ia. River Funeral Home contacted a funeral home there Saturday and it was established that De Kraai's parents live there. He was born June 6, 1928.

He has been divorced; he and his ex-wife have three children. His mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeKraai. The present address of the former wife and children is not known here. DeKraai has five brothers.

Why DeKraai was in Fort Worth and where he was going when he was given the fatal ride on Friday by John Edwin Myers and teen-ager, Donna Marie Stone, no one knows.

Reports Theft Of $24,000 In Jewels

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. I. H. Burney, widow of a Fort Worth lawyer, reported Saturday the loss of $24,000 worth of jewelry from her home. There were 28 pieces in the collection which Mrs. Burney said usually were kept in a bank deposit box.

Recess On Rulings

AUSTIN (AP) — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said Saturday there will be no more sales tax rulings until after Labor Day.

Cars Demolished In Crash

Blood Stains — A Dead Man's Shoes

Upper photo shows interior of the car in which Arthur Lee DeKraai, Iowa hitchhiker, was slain Friday night. The shoes are is — he had removed them from his feet as he rode along IS 20 with his slayer. Te bloodstains in the foreground were elements which led investigating officers to apprehend the accused slayer, John Edward Myers, 33, and his teen-age girl friend in Midland early Saturday morning. Below is a map indicating roughly where the Iowan was shot to death (Z) and the place where his body was dumped (X) 12 miles further along the road.

Police On Alert In Wake Of Threat Against JFK

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Police increased their forces Saturday after authorities reported a former mental patient who talked of killing President Kennedy was headed for Massachusetts.

Kennedy's Secret Service detail, however, expressed no special concern.

Police normally stand guard at nearby street, intersections and close by the Kennedy family homes on the shore of Nantucket Sound. Extras were stationed in the vicinity.

Massachusetts state police sent out a 13-state alarm Friday night after getting a report the man was heading from Texas by plane for Massachusetts. He formerly lived in Boston.

Acting White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher described the man as "an escapee from a mental hospital in Texas."

Police said the man was armed, termed him "extremely dangerous" and recommended caution in approaching him. Authorities kept an eye on passengers on planes landing at Boston area airports from Texas and New York.

Missile Capsule Is Recovered

HICKAM AIR FORCE BASE, Hawaii (AP)—Discoverer XXIX's capsule and the three Air Force parachuting frogmen who kept an all-night vigil over it were taken from the Pacific north of Hawaii Saturday.

The Navy destroyer USS Epperson reached the recovery party before dawn after steaming at high speed from Pearl Harbor. The nose cone, wrapped in plastic and later sealed in a cannister, and its midocean "baby sitters" were due back in Hawaii Saturday night.

A radio report from the Epperson said the men appeared to be in good condition. There was no report on the capsule, which contained a packet of human and animal tissues and cultures.

The capsule was hauled aboard the destroyer at 3:54 a.m.— 8:54 a.m. EST—and the men left their rubber life rafts 27 minutes later.

Friday's recovery of the gold-plated capsule was the seventh success in the long Discoverer series and the second to be made by Air Force "pararescuemen." Four capsules were snagged in the air by planes and another was picked up by a destroyer.

The pararescuemen jumped into the water Friday afternoon after high-altitude winds blew the capsule away from waiting planes as it returned from outer space. Within 40 minutes the nose cone had been retrieved and secured in a rubber raft.

Experts Dig Into Plane Wreckage

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 50 specialists from government and industry Saturday probed records and debris of a commercial airliner that carried 78 persons, many holiday-bound, to quick, fiery death.

The Trans World Airlines Constellation with 73 passengers and 5 crew members, plummeted into a field some 20 miles west of Chicago in suburban Hinsdale just a few minutes after taking off from Midway Airport at 2 a.m. Friday.

The cause is not known.

It was the third worst U.S. commercial plane crash and the worst involving a single commercial plane. It was a four-engine propellor-driven plane.

Among the dead were 20 children.

The plane with accommodations for 80 passengers carried to their deaths a family of 7, another of 6 and still another of 5.

The teams of investigators were assigned seven specific routes of inquiry: operations, structures, power plants, human factors, witnesses, records and systems.

Each team moved into action Saturday. They were aided by investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Agency, FBI, Chicago and suburban police and fire departments, and coroner's offices from Cook (Chicago) County and Du Page County, where the accident occurred.

Some of the teams moved to the site Saturday and their movements were slow. A heavy overnight rain reduced the entire disaster area to a morass.

The investigators plodded in deep mud, searching the debris for clues. Other workers were removing personal effects of the passengers, tagging them for possible identification later.

Soviet Sends Astronaut To East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Thousands of young east Berliners got a look at a spaceman in the flesh Saturday and didn't seem terribly interested.

East Germany brought Maj. Gherman S. Titov to a mass meeting in Marx-Engels Platz where the temperature was 83 degrees in the shade. And no shade.

The reviewing stand was bright blue with the uniform shirts of the Communist young peoples' organization, the "Free German Youth." There also were spots of dark green, units of Soviet troops.

Thousands of other youngsters carried red flags and huge photographs of Titov past the stand. But when the hero appeared, the cheers were feeble and the applause perfunctory.

Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader, won nothing that sounded much like a cheer.

He praised Mrs. Titov, saying, "It takes courage to be married to a space pilot." This brought a few laughs, about as feeble as the cheers.

Then Ulbricht plunged into a political speech which seemed to bore the crowd. Some listened, but most conversed in whispers, mopped their brows and looked for a way out through the police lines.

Mrs. Lem Stallings, 87, long time resident of Howard County, died Saturday afternoon in San Anselmo, Calif., after a long illness. She had been in failing health for a year.

Four Held Guilty Of Rape Charge

COLORADO CITY (SC)—A verdict of guilty was returned Saturday against four young men charged with the rape of a 32-year-old Sweetwater waitress, near Blackwell (Nolan County) last June 25.

Sentences of 15 years were decreed for each of the four. The defense filed a motion for a new trial.

The trial came to Colorado City on a change of venue after the court failed to empanel a jury in Sweetwater.

The convicted men are Dyan Ronnie Houston, 19, of Socorro, N. M.; Alford Richard May, 33, Archie Dean May, 19, a brother; and Jimmy Wayne Rogers, 22, all of Sweetwater. Mrs. Cora B. Brooks was the victim.

A family group, including the Sweetwater woman, her husband and daughter, had been on an outing at Oak Creek Lake, and testimony in the case indicated that the Sweetwater woman had started walking toward Sweetwater from the lake near Blackwell about midnight of June 24th, following an argument with her daughter over use of the family car. She testified that her daughter did not think she should drive the car because she had been drinking.

She testified that a car had stopped and she had been forced into it and raped by five men and by several of them repeatedly. She was released in Sweetwater by the group, which was picked up by the sheriff's department the same day.

The defendants asserted she had entered the car upon invitation, agreeing to a ride to San Angelo, and they further asserted she had submitted willingly.

A juvenile, Jackie Lee Scarborough, 16, now in reform school for his part in the alleged crime, was a state witness.

Prosecuting attorneys included District Attorney Weldon Kirk, special prosecutor Charley Griggs, both of Sweetwater, and Mitchell County attorney Frank Ginzel.

Judge Eldon Mahon of the 32nd District Court was the presiding judge.

THE WEEK

theless, there was abundant confusion as housewives pondered how to sort their groceries to help checkers.

* * *

Stanton had its hours of excitement when the main warehouse of the Higginbotham Lumber Company went up in flames. Webb AFB and Midland, sent fire trucks and Big Spring had one on the way when Stanton firemen reported the situation under control.

* * *

Schools opened their doors for the 1961-62 term on Thursday, and preliminary figures indicated fewer than anticipated passed through the portals. In fact, the number was some 300 less than expected. Private schools showed 250 enrolled, but most of these are in pre-school ages, hence only part of the drop is due to diversion in this direction. Officials figure folks are slower than usual registering their children.

* * *

The grand jury returned bills of indictment against 21 during the week, most for routine burglaries and check cases. However, the panel is being recalled for Wednesday to consider the slaying case.

* * *

Employment is looking up, according to Texas Employment Service. During August non-agricultural placements amounted to 303, which is about 100 up from the average for the month.

* * *

Big Spring lost a mighty fine couple last week with the transfer of Capt. and Mrs. James Jay, in charge of the Salvation Army post here for the past two years, to Tyler. They were much loved for their service and devotion, and admired also for having whittled a sizeable Army deficit to almost nothing.

* * *

The Colorado River Municipal Water District board last week authorized bids on a headquarters building here. The letting is due to take place Oct. 3, and cost of the structure itself may approximate $75,000. In another week the district will close a contract with Standard Oil of Texas for around 1½ million gallons of water per day.

* * *

Fans got two good looks at the current edition of the Big Spring Steers, and on the whole they approved of what they saw. In the three-way scrimmage with Lamesa and Seminole on Tuesday evening, the Steers looked to advantage on the defense, reacting and pursuing better than ever. The offense, which couldn't get going particularly well Tuesday suddenly found itself Thursday in a scrimmage with Colorado City. The first game of the season is here Friday evening—so hurry and get your season ticket.

District lines between Forsan Independent and the Big Spring Independent School District may have settled down at last with the concurrence by the Mitchell County School board last week of the annexation of 75 acres (Suburban Heights) to the Big Spring District.

The United Fund organization is shaping up rapidly, and Marvin Miller, general chairman, is going to have one of the strongest forces in years ready for the series of big pushes starting on Oct. 2. The goal is $102,484, and it can be reached if the aggressive enthusiasm holds out.

Local Junior College Is Popular With HS Grads

By KAY LOVELAND

I suppose that this might be called my "swan song" to all of you who have turned breathlessly each week to my column to read what deep thoughts I had come upon or what exciting events I reported. But all "good" things must come to an end, someone has said.

I do hope, however, that you will remember to flip to the Megaphone each week and support its new editor, Lyn Clawson, with news items and ideas. I know how frustrating it can be at times, and I'm sure that she will appreciate any and all cooperation.

Seems as if HCJC is becoming more popular every year with our high school graduates. Approximately 34 per cent of the 1961 graduating class has listed HCJC as the college they will attend this year. Those growing figures look good for the future of the college.

Second most popular college in the area is Texas Tech, where some 40 local students will be in school. The University of Texas follows in third place with approximately 20 localities attending, and North Texas State University is fourth with a dozen or more.

WILSON BELL, junior student at the University of Texas and a member of Theta Xi, national college fraternity, attended the 97th Anniversary Convention of the fraternity held last week in St. Louis, Mo. Wilson, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bell, 611 Ridgelea, will be the treasurer for his chapter this year. The fraternity was founded in 1864 at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y., and now has chapters in 50 of the leading colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Brown Takes Over As Safety Officer

Weiland W. Brown assumed duties Monday as Wing Ground Safety Officer at Webb AFB replacing Lloyd D. Harp, who has been reassigned to Travis AFB, Calif.

A retired master sergeant, Brown received his discharge at Amarillo AFB in May of this year, after completing 20 years of active duty. Brown specializes in industrial accident prevention and has been in the field for 13 years.

Brown is a member of Toastmaster International. He is a native of Booneville, Miss., and his wife, Earlene, is from Vernon, Texas. They have recently purchased their home at 3200 Duke, where they live with their sons, Dick, 15 and Dan, 13.

House Honors 'Cowpokes' Author

AUSTIN (AP)—Cartoonist Ace Reid of Kerrville was presented a House resolution Friday citing his "wit and facility and mettle and skill in depicting the Old West."

The citation was presented Reid in the House of Representatives by Rep. James Nugent of Kerrville for Reid's syndicated "Cowpokes" cartoons. Reid, 36, publishes in some 70 newspapers in 16 Western states. He has written three brooks, the last of which is due on the market shortly. It is called "Cowpokes Wanted," Reid said.

He, his wife and son live in Kerrville.

Post Office Works To Eliminate Glut

Each day, Big Spring post office patrons drop about 23,000 pieces of mail into the assorted letter chutes in the lobby.

That adds up, as E. C. Boatler, postmaster, points out, to around 8,170,000 pieces of mail per year.

Which is very good, looked at one way. It reflects the extensive postal services afforded by the local post office.

But, there's another way of looking at it, Boatler observes.

COMES LATE

About 16,000 of the pieces of mail which come to the post office are dumped into the chutes late in the afternoon.

"It comes into the office during what we call the 'crash' period," Boatler explained. "The bulk of our incoming mail is deposited after 5 p.m."

The situation here is a problem facing all post offices everywhere, the postmaster said. To cope with it, the Post Office Department has extended what it calls its "Nationwide Improvement Mail Service" program to Big Spring. Object of this program is to speed mail deliveries to the Big Spring post office.

The purpose of the program is to remove non-priority mail from the post office during the "crash" period.

The plan calls for a massive cooperative effort with the larger commercial mailers—they are the ones who dispatch the bulk of the first class mail in Big Spring—asking such mailers to hold non-priority mail over until the following morning. Such mail, to be held over and not brought to the post office, would include monthly bills, insurance premium notices, solicitations and similar letters.

ELIMINATE GLUT

If the late afternoon glut of non-priority mail could be eliminated, priority mail could be handled and dispatched faster at the local post office. Pilot tests, Boatler said, indicate day-sooner deliveries can be made to many out-of-town points which have only second-day delivery under the current situation.

Boatler said he is already working on the plan and that he has hopes it will begin to show results this summer. He anticipates even greater results to be revealed later on.

"We know that approximately 80 per cent of the total mail load we receive at the office comes in after 5 p.m. each day," the postmaster pointed out.

"Preliminary tests indicate that at least half of this is non-priority mail—which means it is made up of letters, cards, and so forth which could just as easily be delivered to the post office on the following morning. We are now handling 8,170,000 pieces of mail a year and we look for this to grow in the months ahead. At the present time, 6,500,000 of these letters are placed in the office late in the day."

Further tests made by the post office department, he said, have clearly shown that the outmoded practice of "after-5 dumping" can be corrected, through cooperative effort with the larger commercial mailers, and that no harm is caused toeither mailer or addressee.

Conference On Unemployment Set Sept. 6

Employers covered by the unemployment compensation laws are reminded that an important conference on new regulations affecting them will be held in Midland September 6.

The session will be at the Scharbauer Hotel beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Top men from the Texas Employment Commission, including Jake Pickle, employer representative on the commission, will be at the conference.

One session will deal primarily with employment claims, employers' legal rights with respect to unemployment tax rates and related matters. Another session will cover state and federal legislation—that which has recently been enacted, and that which is pending.

An identical conference will be held in Abilene at the Windsor Hotel on Sept. 7 at 9 a.m.

Medalist And Contenders

Wind Sends Tourney Scores Skyrocketing

By TOMMY HART

A wind coming off a weather front combined with treacherous greens to send first round scores skyrocketing in the 30th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament here Saturday.

Practically everyone in the record-breaking field of 288 was having trouble.

The leader after 18 holes is youthful Jimmy Davidson of Lubbock, medalist here last year, who fashioned a 38-37—75. That's four over par and, considering the prevailing conditions, it was very good.

One stroke off Davidson's pace is Jerry Scott, one-time Big Springer who now calls Midland home. Scott was out in 37 and in 39.

Davidson had one birdie for the day—on the par four 13th. Scott birdied the second hole.

Still very much in contention are J. C. Hutchinson of Odessa, who toured the course in 77 strokes, and Odessa's Raymond Stoker, who had a 78.

Not far off the pace are such linksters as Roy Peden of Kermit, Big Spring's youthful Johnny Sloan (whose father also rated the championship flight) and Norton Curry, Austin, each of whom fashioned a 79.

In at 80 were Col. John Holt of Webb AFB, Frank Mackey, the defending champion from Fort Worth, former titlist Bill Craig, Midland's Vernon Runnestrand and medalist Charles Hopkins.

Hopkins, who qualified with a 68, was consistent, to say the least. He was out in 40 and matched that on the back side.

Of the 31 players who rated the title flight (Bill Munn of Midland qualified but withdrew without playing a round), an even dozen call Big Spring home.

The linksters play 18 holes again today. The low 16 and ties qualify for the 36-note finals on Monday. The remainder campaign for what would ordinarily be the consolation prize.

Players in the championship flight tee off at 7:15 o'clock this morning, along with entries in the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth flights.

The rest of the field, save for the 16th flight, gets away at 12:45 p.m.

The 16th, due to the bulky field, has been moved to the Muny course, where play resumes at 8 a.m. The winner there is being determined in medal play.

The Monday afternoon finals are to be televized over KEDY Big Spring Channel 4.

Probably two score players from all over West Texas had to be refused entries in the tournament, because there was no room for them. The size of the field surprised even the tournament officials, who had expected not over 250.

Starter Gil Barnett will resort to the "shotgun" start again today to speed up play. That means foursomes will be sent to each of the 18 tee boxes and open play at that point.

Orioles Split Two With Clevelanders

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians split a day-night doubleheader Saturday with the winning pitchers figuring prominently in the scoring.

Milt Pappas hurled a 3-2 Baltimore victory in the day game and scored the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Jack Brandt after singling to lead off the eighth inning. Hoyt Wilhelm pitched the final inning in relief.

Jim Perry stopped the Orioles 6-0 in the nightcap, allowing only four singles and permitting only one runner past first base. He also drove in two runs with a single and a double.

Area Boys Can Take Part In Ford Football Test

An opportunity for Big Spring area boys to compete in a football punting, passing and place-kicking contest, with trips to National Football League games among the prizes, was announced today by J. O. Dotson, general manager of Shasta Motor Company.

Dotson said the Big Spring competition is part of a nationwide program sponsored by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company in cooperation with the National Football League. Known as "P. P. & K." — Punt, Pass and Kick — the competition will culminate with all-expense trips by five national winners and their fathers to the National Football League Championship game, and an official reception at the White House.

Selection of the National Champions will be made as a result of televised competitions at a home game of each of the 14 National League teams.

The Big Spring P. P. & K. competition is open to grade school boys aged six through 10, and will be held early in October. Registration for the event will be at the Shasta Motor Company, 500 W. 4th, from Aug. 28 through Sept. 25. There is no cost, but entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Each entrant will receive a P. P. & K. badge, an instruction book written by NFL stars Johnny Unitas, Yale Lary and Paul Hornung, and an official 1961 NFL Guidebook.

After the local competition is held, the scores of the most skillful punters, passers and place-kickers — one in each age group — will be compared with the scores of boys in the other competitions held in the are covered by telecasts of the Dallas Cowboys.

The top five boys in this region and their fathers then will be given an all-expense trip to see a home game of the Cowboys, and the boys will punt, pass and kick at the stadium either just before the game starts, or during halftime.

The five top winners in the Big Spring contest, whether or not they qualify for the national eliminations, will receive National Football League type football uniforms, the five boys who place second will receive warm-up jackets, and third place winners will receive footballs.

Scores of competitors in the 14 NFL regions will be compared to determine the five National Champions. Special arrangements will be made to play off all ties both regionally and nationally.

Senators Lose To White Sox

POST GOLFER WINS MEDAL

Charles Hopkins, 27-year-old Post school teacher who finished play just before dark Friday, wound up as the medalist in the 30th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament with a three-under par 68.

Hopkins, who is a friend of Norm Cash, the Detroit first baseman who is leading the American League in hitting, had nine pars on the front nine for a 35.

He picked up birdies on the 13th, 14th and 17th on the back nine.

Rog Maris Hits Two Home Runs In Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris, clubbing his way out of a three-week slump, hit his 52nd and 53rd homers and a double Saturday as the New York Yankees whipped Frank Lary and the Detroit Tigers, 7-2, and stretched their American League lead to 3½ games.

The pair of home runs, coming after Maris had collected only 6 hits in his last 50 at-bats, put the 26-year-old Yankee thumper eight games ahead of the pace Babe Ruth set when he hit a record 60 homers in 1927.

Maris' first, a high fly into the lower right field stands on a 3-2 pitch off right-hander Lary, broke a 2-all tie in the sixth and put the Yanks into a 3-2 lead. His second, a line drive into the same lower stands off left - hander Hank Aguirre, capped a four-run burst for New York in the eighth.

Maris' double, a ringing drive to right center, had led to the tying run in the fourth inning—bunted home by Mickey Mantle—after Detroit had jumped to a 2-0 first-inning lead on Rocky Colavito's 40th home run with Al Kaline on base.

Mantle, failing to homer, fell one game behind Ruth's pace. In four times at bats, Mantle walked, sacrificed, grounded out and beat out a bunt. He had 48 home runs.

AT LEVELLAND

Steer Defense Again Potent

LEVELLAND — The Big Spring defense came shining through again in a three-way scrimmage with Levelland and Amarillo High here Saturday evening.

Coach Emmett McKenzie expressed himself as being "very pleased" with the performance of the Longhorns.

The Longhorns couldn't mount a sustained drive in the middle of the field but neither could either of their opponents — when Big Spring had its regulars in action.

Injuries have become a major concern, however, with the opening game with Plainview less than a week away.

James Gilbert, starting back, twisted his knee and was limping about after the scrimmage. Center Dexter Pate hurt his shoulder and it could be serious. Tackle Butch Vaughn, biggest starter of the Big Spring team, hurt his shoulder again. Back Thomas Young pulled a groin muscle.

The coaches took 34 players to Levelland and all got to play.

On the goal line stands, the Steers scored half a dozen times against Levelland and on three occasions against Amarillo.

When the second units of the schools were in action, the offenses moved rather easily. That could be a tipoff that all three teams have depth problems.

McKenzie said his whole bunch played so well that he would hesitate to single out any one player, although Jack Irons turned in a whale of a performance on defense.

Robert Wilson played when Pate was sidelined and distinguished himself with fine play.

The Steers go to work Monday evening, trying to stop Plainview plays. They have only four days of solid toil before the Friday night game, which takes place in Big Spring.

Incoming Cager At HCJC

Coach Buddy Travis (left) of HCJC looks over a game program in which the picture of one of his prize basketball catches, Water Carter (right) appeared. The brochure included lineups and pictures of high school stars which appeared in a series at Houston in 1960. Carter, who stands 6-feet-6, hails from Gate City, Virginia. Carter is not exactly new to Big Spring, since he spent part of last spring here. However, he will be starting his eligibility at HCJC. The page Travis has turned to in the program includes Walter's picture in uniform.

COAHOMA — With the help of a 36-yard gallop by Ronnie (Yogi) Cunningham, the Coahoma Bulldogs put together a 70-yard drive in the fourth quarter for the only touchdown of the game to beat the Hermleigh Cardinals 7-0 Friday night. Billie Ford converted for Coahoma.

Coahoma gave the Redbirds a 21 pound weight advantage, 31 pounds in the line, but the inexperienced Hermleigh team failed to capitalize on it. A not-too-fast Coahoma eleven punched holes in the line during the second half after a scoreless first half.

About 1,200 spectators saw two Cardinal drives and one Bulldog rush fall short of the goal line.

The touchdown was set up when Coahoma recovered a fumble on its own 30-yard line after the Red Birds had driven from their own 23-yard line to that point. In 11 plays the Bulldogs marched over the goal line with 5:10 remaining on the clock.

Ronnie Cunningham led the attack, making the yardage necessary for two of the three first downs which kept the drive going. Cunningham then carried over from the four-yard. Ford booted the ball squarely through the uprights for the extra point.

The Cardinals took the kickoff after the scoring and went from their own 20-yard line to the Bulldog 29 before being halted. Driving most of the way on the ground, Hermleigh took to the air with about 45 seconds remaining, but two intricate pass patterns and two ground plays netted only two yards and the Bulldogs took over and ran out the clock.

Coahoma won the toss and elected to receive. Frankie Firenza took the kickoff on the 15-yard line and returned it to the 30. A 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs, however, nullified the gain and the ball rested on the 15 for the first play from scrimmage. On third down Coahoma quick-kicked and Hermleigh took over on its own 48-yard line.

The Cardinals carried the ball to the Bulldog 17-yard line where the drive expired. Coahoma made two quick first downs before being forced to punt.

A scoring opportunity on which the Coahoma team failed to capitalize was set up late in the first quarter when Hermleigh had to punt after gaining the ball. The punt was blocked and recovered by Coahoma on the Hermleigh 35-yard line. Two five-yard penalties helped stifle Coahoma and Hermleigh took over on its own 17-yard line.

The second quarter saw each team take the ball twice with Hermleigh making a lot of yardage on the ground, but not keeping the ball long enough any time to cross the goal line.

The first half statistics showed Hermleigh with 106 yards gained through the line to only 46 yards for Coahoma. First downs were five for Hermleigh and three for Coahoma.

Coahoma recovered a Red Bird fumble on the Hermleigh 38-yard line two plays deep in the second half, but after getting to the nine-yard line, the ball changed hands on another fumble. Hermleigh dominated the third quarter play as it started a drive which ended in a fumble on the Coahoma 30-yard line early in the fourth quarter to set up the only touchdown of the night.

The second half saw the Bulldogs slice through the heavy Cardinal line for 101 yards and five first downs with play more evenly matched than during the first half.

Walking away with individual honors for the night was Ronnie Cunningham, the Junior back who scored the touchdown and made 47 yards in 14 carries to lead the Bulldogs. His defensive play stopped more than one hungry Cardinal looking toward the goal line.

J. B. Robertson, quarterbacking the Hermleigh eleven, gained 73 yards for the Cardinals in 21 carries. Billy Kubena, 175-pound fullback, gained 63 yards in 10 carries.

Roden-Led Visitors Grab Victory In Cup Matches

The visiting team in the second annual Cosden Cup matches, captained by Bill (Red) Roden of Odessa, won over a local contingent, led by Obie Bristow, in play at the Big Spring Country Club Friday afternoon. Final tally was 9½ to 5½.

Bristow elected to yield his spot on the team to another player.

Last year, a Big Spring octet led by Jack Wallace registered a victory in the inaugural match of the series sponsored by Cosden Petroleum Corp. Ten players made up each team this year.

The silver serving set donated by Cosden for the matches will repose, as always, in the Country Club house. Each player on the two teams got individual awards, however.

Here's the way the scoring went in the matches:

Raymond Stoker, Odessa, over Bobby Wright, Big Spring, 1 up; Johnny Sloan, Big Spring, over Bill Munn, Midland, 2-1. Visitors won low ball play, 2-1, and the match, 2-1.

Bill Roden, Odessa, over Jack Holt, Big Spring, 1 up; Larry Roden, Odessa, over R. H. Weaver, Big Spring, 2-1. Visitors won low ball play, 2-1, and match, 3-0.

Daryle Hohertz, Big Spring, over Bill Cheek, Midland, 1 up; Buddy Brannum, Midland, over Earl Reynolds, Big Spring, 3-2. Hohertz and Reynolds won low ball play, 2-1, and match, 2-1.

Sandy McSpadden, Colorado City, over Frank Powell, Big Spring, 1 up; Bill Craig, Colorado City, and Frank Mackey, Big Spring, split, ½-½. Powell and Mackey won low ball play, 2 up. Teams split, 1½-1½.

Charles Bailey, Big Spring, over Hal Battle, Midland, 3-2; Bobby Bluhm, Lamesa, over Jerry Scott, Big Spring, 2-1. Battle and Bluhm won low ball play, 3-2, and visitors won match, 2-1.

McKenzie Lauds Spirit Of Team

Emmett McKenzie, head football coach and athletic director at Big Spring High Schoo, lauded the spirit and the aggressiveness his 1961 Steer team has shown in practice and scrimmages in a talk made before members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

McKenzie, who assumed the reins here in the spring of 1960, said he had enjoyed coaching more here the past spring and this fall than any time previously because the athletes 'believe in what they're doing and believe in the team.'

"We can't help but succeed if they keep the same attitude," the mentor stated. "I've never seen a bunch of boys work harder than these have."

McKenzie also explained the reason he was in favor of eventually terminating athletics on the seventh and eighth grade levels in the local schools.

He said he thought a well-rounded PE program would do more to condition the boys for high school athletics than would sports down in those grade and contribute toward greater interest in football rather than reduce it.

"Many kids who are physically inmature in the seventh and eight grades," he added, "can be reached through a real, good PE program."

Garner McAdams, president of the ABClub, said that the board of directors had voted to donate $100 to the high school Bible fund.

It was agreed by a show of hands to continue the club's annual Christmas parties for the State Hospital patients.

Guests present included Charles Arnold, Walter Wheat, C. B. Parsons and Jim Thomason.

Sands Beaten In Ropesville

ROPESVILLE — Ropesville defeated the Sands Mustangs of Ackerly, 32-6, in the first football game of the season for both elevens here Friday night.

Sands was hamstrung on the second play of the game when Eugene Coleman, the Ponies' big fullback, broke a bone in his elbow while making a tackle.

Ropes scored in every quarter. Sands counted its touchdown in the second after Ike Wasson had taken a 40-yard pass from Larry Hall down to the Ropes' ten. On the third play from scrimmage, Hall rolled over from the one.

The Mustangs lost the ball four times on fumbles and again on an intercepted pass, at a time they were marching inside the Ropes 20.

On defense, Bill Rasberry, Dan Shortes, Bob Smith and Ronnie Gaskins glistened for Sands while Dean Newsom, Max Harding, Wasson and Hall stood out on offense.

The Mustangs play Robert Lee at 8 p.m. Friday in Ackerly.

Undefeated Ridan Wins 7th Straight

CHICAGO (AP) — Undefeated Ridan uncorked a typical blistering stretch drive to score a one-length victory and capture his seventh consecutive triumph in the $213,750 Washington Park Futurity Saturday at Arlington Park.

The long striding 2-year-old son of Nantallah, given a heady ride by Bill Hartack, cut down the early pace setters, Su Ka Wa and Admiral's Voyage, and then overpowered Obey, who failed to match strides with Ridan in the stretch drive.

Cowboys Blast Colts, 35-24

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dallas Cowboys, only one-year-old but thriving on the formula prepared by coach Tom Landry, are beginning to make menacing gestures in the National Football League.

The Cowboys, who came into existence last year and wound up with 11 losses and one tie, have accomplished an amazing flip-flop by winning two of four exhibition games. Their latest was a 35-24 walloping of the Baltimore Colts Friday night.

Landry, a stern tactician and highly rated strategist who came to the Cowboys from the New York Giants, installed former Southern Methodist star Don Meredith at quarterback against the Colts and he responded with four touchdown passes.

Usually alternated with veteran Eddie LeBaron, Meredith ran the Cowboys throughout, connecting on 15 of 26 passes for 224 yards in a fine performance climaxed by a 35-yard TD toss to Dick Bielski in the third quarter.

In the only other NFL pre-season test, San Francisco whipped Los Angeles 38-20. Boston's Patriots edged Buffalo 15-12 and Houston thumped Denver 42-10 in American League games.

Trailing 20-17 in the third quarter, the 49ers won it on a pair of payoff pitches by rookie Billy Kilmer. Kilmer fired a 10-yarder to Monte Stickles, then connected on a 66-yarder to Bernie Casey after the Rams had pulled ahead on Zike Bratkowski's 45-yard TD pass to Red Phillips and a 73-yard punt return by Jon Arnett.

In games today, St. Louis is at Detroit, Minnesota meets Chicago at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Washington tackles Philadelphia at Bristol, Tenn. and Cleveland takes on Pittsburgh at Akron, Ohio.

Richards All But Accepts New Offer

HOUSTON (AP) — Paul Richards, a major league field manager for 11 years, verbally accepted terms Saturday to become the top front office man for Houston's 1962 National League baseball team.

Richards, released from his contract by the Baltimore Orioles Friday, told Craig Cullinan Jr., president of the Houston Sports Association (HSA) he would accept the three-year contract with Houston.

Salary terms were not disclosed, but it has been reported Richards will draw at least $60,000 a year. He was making $50,000 with Baltimore.

Richards will name the Colts' field manager later.

Tebbetts New Pilot Of Milwaukee Club

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves fired Manager Charlie Dressen and named Birdie Tebbetts, executive vice president, his successor Saturday for the remainder of the year and the 1962 and 1963 seasons.

Dressen was notified that his contract would not be renewed in a meeting with John McHale vice president and general manager, after the Braves' 4-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

In a quick moving series of news conferences, McHale said Dressen was told of the firing now "to insure him sufficient time in the event other major league managing jobs become available."

Tebbetts, who left a job as Cincinnati manager to become executive vice president at Milwaukee three years ago, then met with McHale and newsmen at another conference.

In stepping down from his front office role, Tebbetts said that he "found myself as a baseball man getting farther and farther away from the things I love most."

"I just wasn't happy being so far away from baseball," Tebbetts said. "John McHale has been doing a very fine job. It looked like two fellows doing the same job and only enough work for one."

McHale said that Birdie made himself available as a field manager at a meeting with owner Lou Perini "a couple of weeks ago."

"Mr. Perini has been trying to hire Birdie since 1946," McHale said. "Charlie (Dressen) did a pretty good job for us the last two years but when Birdie became available we wanted him. He might not be available later on."

Steer Passing Combination

Jerry Tucker (left) and Willie Mendoza form a fine passing combination which may give the opposition many a headache this fall. Tucker throws from the quarterback spot. Mendoza is an end. Mendoza has been a near sensation in the scrimmages the Longhorns have held. The Steers Open their season against Plainview here next Friday. Game tickets will go on sale at the school business office Tuesday morning.

Cincy Reds Increase Lead In Senior Loop

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds boosted their National League lead to 3½ games over the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday with a 7-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Home runs by Vada Pinson, Jerry Lynch and Gene Freese helped the Reds to their 17th straight win of the season over the last-place Phils.

Joey Jay, Cincinnati's pitching ace, won his 19th against only 8 defeats.

He needed help when the Phillies rallied for a run in the ninth on a single, a hit batsman and Tony Taylor's double. Bill Henry came on to strike out John Callison for the final out with two men on base.

In earning his sixth decision of the season over the Phillies Jay allowed 9 hits, including Don Demeter's 16th home run, struck out 9 and walked 3.

The Reds started their assault on losing pitcher John Buzhardt in the fourth when Pinson hit his 16th home run. Frank Robinson walked and Lynch lined one over the right field wall for his 11th homer.

Chicago Kayoes Giants, 7 To 0

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs unloaded an extra-base hit attack which included home runs by Ron Santo, George Altman, Ernie Banks and Billy Williams Saturday, hammering the San Francisco Giants 7-0 behind right-hander Don Cardwell.

The Cubs collected 11 hits, eight of them for extra bases in routing Jack Sanford and tagging him with his eighth defeat in 18 decisions.

Cardwell limited the Giants to five hits and evened his record at 12-12, hurling his third shutout of the season. The loss dropped the Giants into fourth place, one-half game behind the Milwaukee Braves who whipped Los Angeles 4-0.

The shutout was the seventh suffered by the Giants who now have identical 35-29 records at home and on the road this season.

Red Sox Edge Twins, 2-1

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —Bill Monbouquette, with ninth-inning relief help from Arnold Earley, pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

Monbouquette was sailing with an eight-hitter until the Twins put two men on base in the final frame. Earley then got pinch-hitter Ted Lepcio to hit into a double play to preserve Monbouquette's 11th victory against 12 defeats.

Vic Seixas Wins Singles Feature

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Vic Seixas, 38 but as lean and hard as when he was king of Wimbledon eight years ago, excited a second-day gallery with a sparkling center court victory Saturday in the National Tennis Championships.

The Philadelphia stock broker polished off Dennis Lynch of Rumson, N.J. 7-5, 6-4, 6-0.

Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., the 22-year-old giant-killer of international tennis, also made his tournament debut a brief and impressive one by knocking out John Mangan of Yonkers, N.Y., 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

The tournament's two top favorites of the men's division, Wimbledon champion Rod Laver of Australia and Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., both had spectator roles preparatory to second-round engagements Sunday.

Angela Mortimer, the quiet English girl who won the Wimbledon women's championship, needed only 27 minutes to win her opening match. She beat Virginia Brown of Fort Worth, Tex., 6-0, 6-2.

Ham Richardson of Dallas, formerly the country's No. 1 player, gave seventh-seeded Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., a stiff workout before bowing 3-6, 6-2, 10-8, 6-1.

Mike Sangster of England, the No. 4 men's seed and semifinalist at Wimbledon, also was hard-pressed but his big service finally prevailed over Norman Perry of Los Angeles, champion U.S. serviceman, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., gangling 19-year-old who is seeded sixth, ousted Dever Hobbs of Forset Hills, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Of the seeded women, Leslie Turner of Australia, No. 6, had the hardest time, rallying for a 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Belmar Gunderson of Indian Lakes Estates, Fla. Karen Hantze of Chula Vista, Calif., No. 3, breezed past Susan Behlmar of Yonkers, N.Y. 6-0, 6-3. Britain's Ann Haydon, No. 7, walloped Barbara Benigni of San Francisco 6-0, 6-3.

U. S. Cuppers Rout England At Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — America's amateur golfers renewed their lease on the Walker Cup for another two years Saturday by polishing off the British 11 matches to 1 in a record equaling rout.

To Charles Coe, Oklahoma City oil broker and nonplaying captain of the American side four years ago, went the distinction of clinching the victory, the eighth straight for the United States since the British won their only title in 1938. Coe stormed home a 5 and 4 winner over Mike Lunt, 26-year-old textile distributor.

Prior to Coe's triumph, Deane Beman of Arlington, Va., had registered a 3 and 2 conquest of Mike Bonnallack in a battle of national champions, while Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia crushed Dave Frame, 7 and 6.

Those three triumphs plus the clean sweep by the Americans in Friday's foursomes, meant that the Americans had posted their 17th victory in 18 outings of this biennial golf outing. The rout equalled the 11-1 defeat handed the British in 1928 although the Americans shut out their rivals in 1936, 9-0, with three matches halved.

Each victory counts a point for the winner but if any of the 36-hole matches are halved, that point is thrown out.

Only Martin Christmas, the youngest member of the British team at 21, was able to stem the American tide. He triumphed over Charles Smith of Gastonia, N.C., 3 and 2.

Other triumphs in the American landslide were by Dr. Frank M. Taylor of Pomona, Calif., 3 and 2, over James Walker; Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, who mastered Joe Carr, 6 and 4; Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., who defeated Maj. David Blair, 5 and 4, and Robert Gardner of New York, with a 1 up triumph over Ronald Shade.

Linz Still Top League Hitter

By The Associated Press

Paul Linz, hard-hitting Amarillo infielder, maintained his lead in Texas League batting through games of Aug. 29, with a healthy .351 average.

Linz has played in 104 games, been at bat 430 times and has 151 hits and 70 runs.

In second place is Doug Clemens, who played with Tulsa before going to Charleston of the South Atlantic League.

Jose Tartabull of Victoria leads the lead in hits with 169 and also in runs with 102.

Dick Berardino of Amarillo leads in RBIs with 89.

Craig Sorenson of San Antonio is the home run leader with 27.

Pitching leaders include Hal Stowe of Amarillo with 14 victories and one loss. Paul Toth of Tulsa has won the most games, 18 against 7 losses. Harry Fanok, also of Tulsa, is the strikeout leader with 158.

Arnold Palmer Low In Dallas Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer shot a 1-under-par 69 Saturday to take over the 36-hole lead by three strokes in the $30,000 Dallas Open.

The scourge of the links tour was disgusted with his putting but pleased with his score of 136 that pulled him away from the two tied with him for the first-round lead —Earl Stewart, the host pro, and Johnny Pott, the defending champion.

Stewart and Pott, who ruined his round with a double bogey on a finishing hole, had 72 to drop into a tie for second at 139.

There was trouble aplenty over the windswept 6,800-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course as heralded players like Gary Player and Doug Sanders lost ground rapidly.

Charley Sifford, Bob Goetz, Billy Maxwell, Bill Collins and Phil Rodgers were all tied at 140.

Player and Sanders each shot a 73 Saturday. Sanders had 143 for 36 holes and Player 145. Both easily made the cutoff that reduced the field to the 70 low pros and ties and five low amateurs for Sunday's third round. A 151 was required to make it.

The leaders:

Arnold Palmer	67-69—136
Earl Stewart Jr.	67-72—139
Johnny Pott	67-72—139

Warren Spahn Registers 17th Victory Of Year

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the Milwaukee Braves' ageless wonder, blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0 on a seven-hitter Saturday for his 17th victory of the season and No. 305 in his career.

The 40-year-old southpaw won his eighth straight game and his 9th and 10th decisions since the first All-Star game with his 53rd shutout, a National League record for left-handers.

The Braves scored three runs, two of them unearned, in the first inning off Los Angeles starter Sandy Koufax, to give Spahn all the cushion he needed. Sammy White accounted for a fourth run with his first National League homer. He hit 64 in nine seasons with the Boston Red Sox.

Spahn, who has lost 12, allowed only two runners to advance as far as third as he continued onward toward his goal of his 12th 20-victory season. He struck out three and didn't walk a man.

McBride Wins 12th Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rookie Ken McBride scored his 12th victory with a six-hitter Saturday as the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Kansas City A's 6-3.

Another rookie, Ken Hunt, drove in two of the Angel runs, one with his 21st homer, the other with a sacrifice fly.

The Athletics got two runs in the fourth, when Angel third baseman George Thomas made two throwing errors. Kansas City didn't get an earned run until the eighth, when Wayne Causey lined a homer over the right field fence.

The Angels got a run back in the fifth on Hunt's homer and took a 3-2 lead in the sixth. Tom Satriano's second double of the game brought in the fourth and deciding Los Angeles run in the seventh.

Carry Back Wins Jerome Feature

NEW YORK (AP)—Carry Back, staging another one of his great home stretch drives, got up in the final strides Saturday for victory in the $57,700 Jerome Handicap at Belmont Park.

The son of Saggy, owned by Mrs. Katherine Price of Miami and trained by her husband Jack, won just as he did in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness before being sidelined with a leg injury while finishing seventh in the Belmont Stakes three months ago.

Carry Back trailed far back during the early part of the mile race for 3-year-olds. But he was no more than five or six lengths behind as he swung wide into the home stretch with ¼-mile remaining.

STANTON — A cactus - tough defense led by Herb Sorley and Jimmy Sale, coupled with an opportunistic attack, sparked the Stanton Buffaloes to an upset 20-6 victory over the perennial toughie from District 6-A, Merkel, here Friday night.

The Bisons struck for two touchdowns in the second and another in the fourth. After Harlin Dauphin's team had salted away the verdict, the beleaguered Badgers punched through for their lone score, with 7:05 minutes left in the game.

Led by Roger Moore, a hard-charging fullback whose favorite trick was to take off around end and flee up the sidelines, the Merkel club outgained Dauphin's team on the ground but Stanton fought like an enraged water buffalo when its goal line was threatened.

Never able to get inside Merkel's 40-yard line the first quarter, the Buffs finally got a drive to perking in the second period. They moved 37 yards in five plays for the tally, Sale churning over from the one.

The drive was set in motion when tackle Ronnie Hayes pounced on a Merkel fumble. Scintillating runs by Jimmy Williams and Robert Turner set up the score.

Four minutes were showing on the clock when Sale got the score and the try for two conversion points on a running play failed but the Buffs counted again before the half ended.

Following an erratic Merkel punt that carried only to the Badger 38, the Buffs moved to pay dirt in six plays, Williams booming across from three yards out. A 24-yard pass from quarterback Turner to Sale moved the ball to Merkel's 13. Williams lost six on a wide play but Sale then ran to the ten. Turner worked his way to the three and, on the next play, went over. This time, Williams scrambled over and Stanton led, 14-0.

In the 13 seconds that was left, Stanton came into possession of the ball again when Herb Sorley recovered a fumble by the Badger quarterback on the enemy's 36.

Merkel maneuvered as far as Stanton's 20 in the third period but Stanton's Steve Springer threw the drive in reverse when he tackled Brown Higgins for a six-yard loss. After that, it appeared easy for Stanton to take the ball on downs.

Late in the third, the Buffs got another drive going, then scored on the first play of the fourth. Williams slashed over from the one, at the end of a 43-yard offense. The TD came on the eighth play of that particular series. Sale failed on the extra point try.

Moore climaxed a 67-yard Merkel drive midway in the fourth by going 14 yards up the middle for the one big development of the game. Merkel fans had to cheer about. A passing try for the extra point, with Charles Russell doing the throwing, failed. The drive for the score required a dozen plays.

Turner blunted another merkel drive late in the game when he intercepted a pass on the Stanton 41 and returned to Merkel's 45.

Tackle James Bible proved to be Merkel's outstanding defensive player. Another toughie up front for the visitors was tackle David Scott, while Jim Jacobs proved hard to move out, on occasions.

Williams gained 62 yards in 6 tries for Stanton. Turner 45 paces in nine attempts and Sale 46 in ten lunges.

Moore was practically the whole show for Merkel, having gained 155 yards in 24 carries. The nearest boy to him in ground gains was Higgins, who ran four times and netted nine yards.

Neither team's passing game clicked. Each completed only one aerial and the one that Merkel made good lost six yards.

Score by quarters:

Stanton	0	14	0	6

Wh'wing Dove Season At Hand

McALLEN, Tex. (AP)—At least 10,000 shotguns are expected to blast simultaneously in the four-county Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas at 2 p.m. Friday.

Residents are familiar with the noise. It's been going on about this same time of year for at least two decades.

It will be the start of the Whitewing Dove season.

Hunters will line country roads for miles bumper to bumper in automobiles and in many cases stand virtually shoulder to shoulder firing at the large doves. Some will get a few birds. Others may get a sprinkling of birdshot themselves.

The hunt, always short, will last three days this year, Sept. 8-10. It always attracts hunters from all over Texas and many other states.

Hotels will be crowded. Planes will clog local airports.

Shooting will be from 2 p.m. until sunset each day. The bag limit will be 10 whitewings a day and not more than 10 in possession.

But as usual, the hunter who can't get the larger whitewings will have a chance to make it up in the smaller mourning doves. The accumulative bag limit with mourning doves included is 15 with a possession limit of 30. But in any case a hunter can't have more than 10 whitewings in possession.

Sportsmen estimate this year to be the best since 1958 with a possible 600,000 of the birds in the Hidalgo, Willacy, Starr and Cameron counties area.

Some farmers have even complained of the birds destroying grain crops and are welcoming the hunt.

FORSAN — Larry Stroud, Forsan's 180 - pound back, showed Wellman a clean pair of heels when he ran the length of the field for a touchdown on the opening kickoff in the second half of the game on the Buffalo field Friday night. Wellman Wildcats took the game, however, 22 to 14.

The first half of the game was Wellman's. The Wildcats crossed the goal line twice and converted once. The Buffaloes couldn't seem to get started and didn't score.

Clois Morton took the ball over for the first six points for Wellman within three minutes after the game started. Carroll Hutse received Sammy Rex's pass in the end zone for the extra two points.

A little fellow by the name of Burns Sedgwick, who picked up a lot of yardage for Wellman, scored six points just before the first quarter ended. That was all the scoring for the Wildcats in the first half and it ended with the score standing, 14-0, Wellman.

The Wildcats kicked off to the Buffaloes to open the second half and the fans came alive as Stroud picked up the ball on his goal line and took off like a scared Buffalo. About two Wildcats managed to get their paws on his sleeves as he went down the middle for a touchdown. But the Buffaloes couldn't convert.

A few minutes later Sedgwick took the ball, with eight yards to go, following two 15-yard penalties against Forsan, and went over for the Wildcats' last touchdown. The extra points were added, giving them 22 points to Forsan's six.

About the middle of the fourth quarter, Danny Henry took a pass and moved 39 yards to a touchdown. Harry King went over for the points.

On the kickoff Weldon took the ball on the one-yard line, returned a yard, and on the next play fumbled, with Forsan recovering. It looked like the Buffaloes would score again, but the four yards to the goal line increased with penalties and the ball going over to Wellman. They kicked out and that was all the advances made by either team.

Starting line-ups were: Forsan—ends, Danny Henry and Roger Park, guards, Tommy Evans and Danny Wash, center, H. K. Elrod, backs, Larry Stroud, Harry King, and Kenneth Soles;

Wellman — ends, Jesse Hartman and Carroll Hulse, guards, Clyde Hill and Lonnie Moore, center Burns Womack, backs, Clois Morton, Fred Sedgwick, and Sammy Rex.

Officials were: Referee, Bob Epps, Umpire, Farar Hedges, and head linesman, Tom Stringer.

Loop Nudges Garden City

LOOP — The Loop Longhorns won an eight-man football game from Garden City, 14-6, here Friday night.

Loop scored its first touchdown in the initial quarter and added another in the second.

In the fourth, Gary McDaniel put the Bearkats into the scoring column when he took a 440-yard scoring pass from Denny Cypert.

Loop made 189 yards rushing to 87 for Garden City, ten yards passing to 74 for the Kats.

First downs favored Loop, 10-9.

The Longhorns ran five yards for one TD and two yards for another. A successful pass after the first touchdown produced the other two points.

Coach In Dark About 2 Boys

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—University of Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson said Saturday he did not know why two Texas players changed their minds about which college to enter.

Wilkinson gave the reply when asked about the disclosure Friday that Johnny Roland would attend the University of Missouri instead of the University of Oklahoma and that Arthur Davis would enroll at OU instead of Texas.

Roland, a Texas high school all-state player last season from Miller High of Corpus Christi, had said earlier he would accept an Oklahoma scholarship. Davis, from Kermit, had signed a letter of intent with Texas.

"I know the story is true," said Wilkinson, "but I don't know anything about it other than that."

Wilkinson denied any implication "that something has gone wrong," pointing out that a letter of intent by a player is not binding except within a conference.

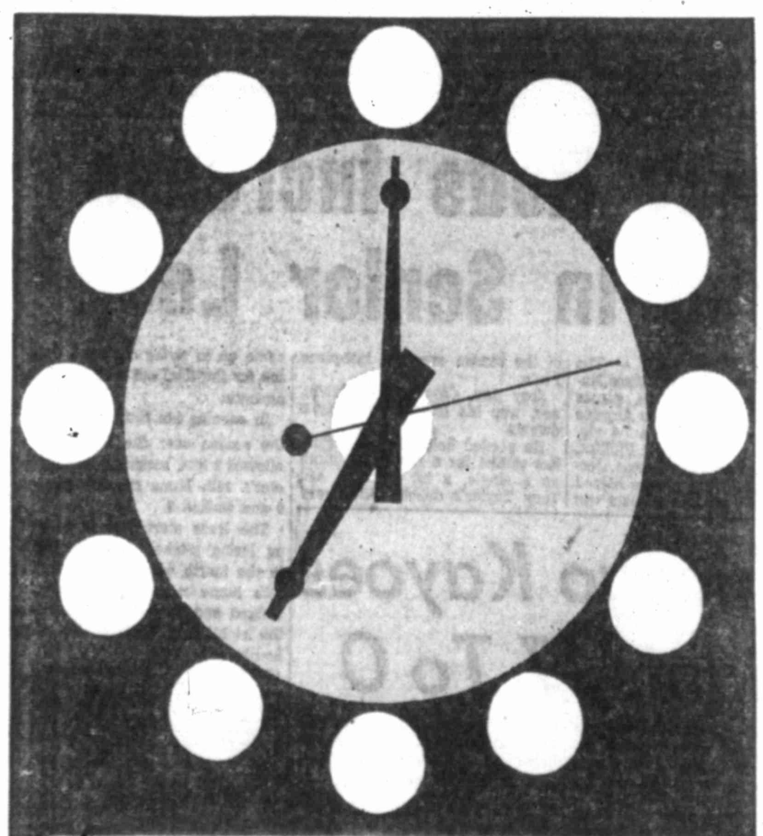
take this TIME TEST



Start when your alarm clock goes off in the morning—and stop when you set it again that night. The test is very simple. As you go about your daily activities, using the familiar things that go to make your life comfortable, convenient, easier, ask yourself these questions each time you use one:

Where did I get that?
Why did I get that particular one?
Were they available ten years ago?
Could I get one if I lived in China?

Here's the way it works. As you shut off your alarm, ask yourself, "where did I get that clock-radio? Why did I buy that one? Were they on the market when I was still in school? Would I have one if I lived in China?"

The answers may amaze you. Through them all you'll begin to get clues. Didn't you buy that clock-radio because you saw it advertised? Didn't you buy that particular one because it was a well-known, dependable advertised brand? Didn't the company that makes it—or one of its equally well-advertised competitors first introduce them—the result of research paid for out of profits from earlier well-advertised products?

Truly, as you take the test, you'll find that advertising is with you every minute of every day, even in your most subconscious actions. For without it there'd be no brand names to reassure you, as you spend the money you earn to make your life more pleasant. There might not even be any of a given convenience available—for advertising is the backbone of availability. Availability is the same thing as mass distribution—and advertising makes mass distribution. Advertising makes other things, too. It makes jobs for factory workers, store-keepers, publishers — yes, even your own job — for without advertising we might still be living the primitive life of the Chinese farmer. And advertising makes your money go farther—for it makes competition, and competition makes progress as well as price protection for you.

Yes, your own private time test, taken for just one day, will prove to you

Sales Tax Pushes Drilling Costs Up

By JOE BEYER

The already well-taxed oil industry received another blast in the face from the blunderbuss tax bill which went into effect Friday, according to spokesmen for local operaters.

The oil industry already pays in more than $210 million annually in state taxes with some $151 million a year paid by oil and gas producers in local ad valorem taxes. No estimate has yet been made how much added revenue will be collected from the oil industry or its related industries under the sales tax.

The cost of drilling a well has been substantially increased under present interpretations of the bill by Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller. Materials alone bring up the cost of each well by several hundred dollars and if the cost of labor is also ruled taxable, that amount for each well could be doubled, according to one driller.

"At least 15 cents a foot will have to be added to the price of drilling," Dave Duncan, owner of Duncan Drilling Company, said Friday.

He pointed to specific items through which the tax would add to the cost of his operation.

"A drill bit a day, at a cost of about $200, means a well costs us $4 a day more than it did Thursday," he said. Fuel for drilling costs about $500 a day for another $10 a day. Lumber, hardware, auto supplies, tires, fittings, rig parts, motors are only a few more items, he said.

An estimate of the cost of replacing equipment used by the driller, basing the costs on the price of equipment for a typical 12,000-foot West Texas rotary rig, shows several thousand dollars are added to the cost.

A crown block costing about $5,800 will now cost an additional $116. A traveling block costing $6,200 will now cost another $124. A $45,000 investment in draw works means an added $900. The derrick, substructure and rigging costing about $32,900 will now cost $658 more. Drill pipe, a $97,000 investment, will now be a $98,940 investment.

Looking at it from another angle if the tax had been in force during 1960 and the same amount of footage had been drilled, with a cost of 15 cents more per foot, drilling would have cost the operators $11,545,450.75 more in their drilling operations. This does not include the cost of tax on materials used.

At the present rate of drilling the tax will mean about $30,000 more for materials to Cosden in its drilling operations, Lewis M. Thompson, vice president of prodjction, said. Casing and steel are the biggest portion of the taxable items.

If the additional 15 cents per foot had been applicable on all wells completed in the eight-county area during August, the 277,478 feet drilled on 55 projects would have cost $41,621.70 more.

But the cost of drilling is not the only production expense which will be taxable under the bill. Tanks cost about $2,600 each, a separator for a high-pressure well might cost about $3,500. A treater is another $3,300 and about $250 for flow lines. These items alone would mean $193 in taxes.

The cost of pipeline construction has been estimated to have been raised about $700 a mile by the tax. At this rate the pipeline from the Big Spring Cosden Refinery to the Col-tex Refinery in Colorado City would cost $25,200 more.

Whether the tax will make enough of a dent into drilling budgets to curtail drilling was not known at this time by any of the operators questioned.

Rotaries In Basin Take A Big Drop

The rotary rig count in the Permian Basin dropped by 22 rigs Friday to 233 compared to 255 the week before according to a Reed Roller Bit survey.

This pace, however, is still ahead of a year ago when 220 units were in operation in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Lea County, N. M., dropped from 45 rigs to 30 Friday, but still held the lead in the Basin. Other more active counties were Ector, 19; Crane, 17, and Andrews, 16.

The eight - county area dropped one rig going to 25 units in operation Sept. 1. Dawson County retained the lead, going from seven to eight units.

Borden County dropped one rig, Howard County gained one unit, Martin County lost one rig, and Glasscock County lost one rig.

Garza and Mitchell counties remained the same.

The county - by - county survey, with the previous week's totals in parentheses, looks like this.

Andrews 16 (16), BORDEN 5 (6), Coke 2 (3), Concho 2 (3), Crane 17 (17), Crockett 8 (8), Crosby 1 (1), DAWSON 8 (7), Dickens 1 (1), Ector 19 (16), Eddy 11 (14), Fisher 2 (3);

GARZA 3 (3), Gaines 8 (7), GLASSCOCK 0 (1), Hale 1 (1), Hockley 1 (0), HOWARD 4 (3), Kent 3 (3), Lea 30 (45), Loving 3 (3), Lubbock 1 (2), Lynn 0 (0), MARTIN 4 (5), Midland 6 (5), Menard 0 (1);

MITCHELL 1 (1), Nolan 5 (5), Pecos 11 (11), Reeves 7 (6), Roosevelt 8 (11), Runnels 2 (2), Schleicher 1 (2), Scurry 3 (3), Stonewall 3 (3), Terrell 6 (5), Tom Green 5 (2), Upton 9 (9), Ward 4 (5), Winkler 7 (9), and Yoakum 5 (7).

Mexican Oil Up In Production

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Petroleos Mexicanos, the government oil monopoly, increased its production 14.7 per cent the past year, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos said today.

Along with the increased production, the company's capital investment increased $102,120,000 to a total of $230,840,000, the president reported in his annual state of the union address.

Daily production was 308,813 barrels, he said.

Atlantic Buys Firm

DALLAS (AP) — Atlantic Refining Co. has bought from J. W. Murchison and Meredith Mallory Jr., of San Antonio their interest in 41 wells in the Buckshot Field of Cochran County.

Production is about 2,100 barrels a day. Atlantic is studying the possibility of increasing ultimate recovery of oil by secondary recovery operations.

Deep W'cat Staked In Howard County

Howard County gained a deep wildcat and a field oiler on Saturday's report, but other drilling activity was light.

Cabot Corp. No. 1 S. L. Lockhart was projected to 10,000 feet by rotary tools to test the Fusselman and possibly the Ellenburger. It is one location east of a 9,908-foot failure. The test spots 2,210 feet from the south and 990 feet from the west lines of section 38-32-3n, T&P survey, five miles southeast of Vealmoor.

The completion is in the Howard - Glasscock field. Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc. No. 10 G. O. Chalk, an old well workover, pumped 55.11 barrels of 31 gravity oil, with 21 per cent water, on initial poteptial.

It bottomed at 2,380 feet and 5½ inch casing was set at 2,750 feet. Perforations in a pay topped at 2,043 feet are between 2,043-199 feet. The oiler was fraced with 50,000 gallons and had a gas-oil ratio of 551-1. Elevation is 2,436 feet. This is a dual completion in the San Andres and Clear Fork. It spots 990 feet from the north and west lines of section 114-29, W&NW survey.

Blair No. 1 Koonsman, a Borden County explorer, is drilling through lime and shale below 7,690. Location is C SE SW, section 2-6-2, T&NO survey.

A Sterling County project in the Howard - Glasscock field was amended. Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1-E W. N. Reed, spotting 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of section 152-29, W&NW survey, 15 miles south of Coahoma, was amended from 2,110 feet from the north line.

Good Progress Reports Made After Much Testing

HOUSTON (AP) — The first string of aluminum drill pipe has completed more than 100,000 feet of hole in a Texas oil field.

"This is a progress report on a healthy teen-ager who is rapidly approaching maturity," said L. E. Pennington of Richmond, Va., director of petroleum development for Reynolds Metals Co., said, Saturday.

Reynolds began experiments with aluminum oil drilling pipe in 1959. Reed Roller Bit Co. of Houston has developed tool joints for the string that has been used by Shell Oil Co. the past 11 months in DeWitt County.

"It has withstood rough treatment, the roughnecks like it, it's easy to handle and it has made possible a number of drilling economies," Pennington said.

The Shell drilling rig was designed to drill to a depth of only 7,500 feet with steel pipe but has drilled to a depth of 11,500 feet with aluminum.

"It is like a tack hammer doing a sledge hammer's job," Pennington said. "It has promise of replacing steel on many rigs. Aluminum drill pipe is here now and probably is here to stay."

Pennington said aluminum pipe costs more than steel but offers cost saving opportunities that make it more economical to operate.

Aluminum drill pipe currently sells for $9.20 a foot compared to $6.20 for steel.

"But aluminum has a high value of $1.64 a foot as scrap," Pennington said. "Also, the deeper drilling with lighter rigs permits many economies."

PERMIAN BASIN

Oilmen Once Believed There Was No Oil Here

LUBBOCK (AP) — Forty-one years ago almost any oil man or geologist would give you long odds that there wasn't a barrel of oil in the South Plains-West Texas Permian Basin.

In 1920, oil was believed to be associated with structures produced by movements of the earth's crust. There were no evidences of such activity in West Texas, relates Bill Kalb, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal oil editor, in telling about the first Permian Basin oil well.

So dominant was this theory that the Permian Basin's first sustained oil production passed virtually unnoticed when it was found in 1921. It took the discovery of Big Lake Field in 1923 in Reagan County to bring attention to the area.

Actually it wasn't until 1926, says Kalb, when the Yates Field gushers began blowing out that the oil industry was convinced of the basin's potentialities.

The Big Lake discovery which drew so much attention was a gusher and oddly is now dry. However, the Mitchell County discovery, opener of the Westbrook Field, is still pumping at 25 barrels a day from two zones.

The original wildcat was born out of financial difficulties.

Mitchell County was cattle country which had been hit by the 1917-18 drought. Earl Morrison, staggering out of the hard times heavily in debt, told his friend Sol Kelly, now of Midland, he had an 11,500-acre ranch and was in danger of losing it.

Kelly, not yet 21, was looking for a business deal. The young man already was a veteran of the Ranger, Desdemona, Burkburnett and Eastland booms. He made a small pile at Ranger.

After listening to Morrison, Kelly offered to pay the notes and other debts against the ranch for a half interest in the property, 700 head of cattle and minerals. After he made the deal, he told Morrison to get leases on another 20,000 acres, for he was going to drill for oil.

The partners hired Sam Sloan to drill and in 1920 bailing tests showed they had hit oil in the upper Clear Fork section of the Permian at 2,440 feet. The well was unproductive because the hole was too big and there wasn't enough pressure to lift the oil.

NEW TRY MISSED

The trio moved three-quarters of a mile east. The new well missed the Clear Fork and everybody ran out of money. Sloan lost his automobile and the drilling crew lived off the land, running rabbits into pipes closed at one end to obtain meat.

The group then held a public meeting at the Colorado City courthouse to raise money. The meeting netted $17.50. This was promptly spent for groceries, Kelly remembers.

Sloan quit and Bill Thompson was contracted to deepen the hole. He got a bucket of oil in the basal Clear Fork at 2,900 feet and refused to budge until some financial arrangement was made.

The three formed a drilling company. Kelly scratched up $3,500 and Thompson deepened the hole another 200 feet. The formation was shot with nitroglycerine and the well came in for 300 barrels a day.

Soon after, 75 more wells were drilled in the area. Today the field has about 425 wells making approximately 153,000 barrels a month. Cumulative production is more than 23 million barrels.

Today the No. 2 well is plugged and abandoned, but the first hole, now owned by Standard of Texas, is making 25 barrels a day.

BEN RAMSEY

Ramsey To Talk At Meeting

DALLAS — Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, recently appointed to the Texas Railroad Commission, will address Texas oil and gas industry leaders at the 42nd annual meeting of Texas Mid - Continent Oil and Gas Association Sept. 25-27 in Fort Worth, Estill S. Heyser Jr., president of the Association, announced Saturday.

Heyser said William F. Kenney, New York, vice president and general counsel for Shell Oil Co., and Felix R. McKnight, Dallas, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, were also scheduled to speak at the meeting.

Ramsey, the first man in history to serve six terms as lieutenant governor, was appointed to the Railraod Commission to fill the vacancy left by the death of Judge Olin Culberson.

Offshore Oil Not Profitable

HOUSTON (AP)—An oil publication says the oil industry has little to show for the $100 million spent on operations in federal waters off the Texas coast.

The Oil and Gas Journal of Tulsa said in its Sept. 4 edition the operations in Texas offshore areas have been disappointing but geologists have not given up.

"It's just been harder to find oil than we thought it would be," one geologist said.

The magazine said the industry has paid $67.5 million for federal leases off Texas the past seven years, has drilled 43 tests costing $22 million, and has spent many millions more on lease rentals, seismic work and other activities.

The federal area is beyond a three-league, or about 10 miles, coastal strip the Supreme Court has recognized as being owned by Texas.

"Of the expensive offshore wildcats drilled, seven have found oil or gas in some quantity," the magazine said. "But the quantity has been so small it cannot be produced commercially. It serves only to whet the interest of drillers.

"Within the three-league limit of state waters, the record is better. But 'success' is hardly the term to describe it. There are nine producing fields in this area, all but one of them small as fields go. Some are of the one-well variety. There is nothing comparable to the lush production along the Gulf Coast just a few miles inland."

The magazine gave this breakdown of tests made in Texas federal waters so far: Shell, 12 tests; Standard of Texas, 11; Pure Oil, 5; Pan American, 4; Atlantic Refining, Continental Oil, and Humble, 3 each; Mobil, 1, and Pan American-Mobil jointly, 1.

"Of the eight wildcats which which found some oil or gas, four have been abandoned and four are shut-in as noncommercial at this time," the magazine said.

Pure Oil produced 21,119 barrels from a Block 189 well about 12 miles southeast of Galveston Island and then shut it in. Pan American abandoned production in Block 144 about 12 miles to the northeast of the Pure well and sold its interest to Texas Eastern in a Block 245 well about 12 miles to the southwest. The Block 245 well subsequently was abandoned.

Stanotex has shut-in wells in Blocks 52 and 140 in the High Island area to the north and east. Mobil has abandoned a gas well in Block 389, some 25 miles offshore from Brazoria County. The Mobil well was drilled originally with Pan American.

Shell completed a gas well this summer in Block 160, about 40 miles southeast of Galveston. Drilled jointly with Phillips Petroleum, the well tested marginally at four million cubic feet of gas daily with five barrels of condensate per million.

Shell recently drilled a dry hole to 13,608 feet in Block 161 and now has moved the rig back to Block 160 for a 9,000 foot test.

Basin's Pioneer Day Set In Midland On Oct. 27

MIDLAND—Plans for the second biennial Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneer Day to be held in Midland, Oct. 27, rapidly are taking form, Roy A. Minear, general chairman for the event, said Saturday.

The first Petroleum Pioneer Day was held Oct. 28, 1959. Approximately 1,000 certificates were awarded to persons who qualified as pioneers.

Indications now are that more than that number of pioneers will attend the 1961 event.

The program was initiated by the Petroleum Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. That organization again is sponsoring the October meeting.

E. D. Brockett of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of Gulf Oil Corporation, will be the speaker for the luncheon which will be a highlight of the reunion.

He spent several years during his early days with Gulf working in the Permian Basin area. His address will be the only formal speech of the day, said R. W. (Bob) Patterson, program chairman. Mrs. John W. House has been named chairman of a committee on ladies events for the day. Her group now is formulating a program of entertainment.

The Midland Chamber Auditorium will be headquarters for the pioneers. The chamber will handle reservations, registrations and general publicity. An open house for men will be held at the Petroleum Club of Midland during the morning. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. Closing feature of the day will be a reception and buffet for the pioneers and their ladies, Minear said.

Fred T. Hogan, chairman of the finance committee, said Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers in Midland again are providing sufficient funds to cover expenses of the event. J. C. (Peck) Cunningham will head the greeters committee and Cecil Elder will be in charge of a group to provide transportation.

To qualify as a pioneer at the 1959 event, a person must have been active in some phase of the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin prior to Oct. 1, 1929. The qualifying date for the 1969 event is Oct. 1, 1931.

Invitations will be mailed to all persons who qualified for the 1959 event. Each of them will be asked to submit names of others who worked in exploration, development, production, transportation or processing departments of the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin Empire prior to the qualifying date for the 1961 reunion.

FPC Reverses Former Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission reversed Friday a July 21 order and gave Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. of Houston, temporary authority to increase the capacity of its pipeline system.

The commission also called on Tennessee to come forward with a definite plan of providing permanent service to the New England customers, who have been receiving their gas needs on a year-to-year basis for a number of winters.

Area Meeting Set

The American Right of Way Association is planning on an area meeting for Sept. 15 in Odessa, it was announced Saturday. Outstanding speakers are being booked for the one-day parley for right-of-way agents in the Permian Basin and San Angelo areas.

Russian Crude Oil Is Political Tool

HOUSTON (AP)—Russia's double standard oil offensive already holds beachheads in at least 16 Free World countries.

Over half of Russia's crude oil and petroleum products exports currently are going to the Free World. The Soviet objective is 60 per cent by 1965.

Material recently published by the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Trade indicates the emphasis the oil offensive places on a double standard pricing system.

Crude oil being sent to Free World nations averages $1.89 a barrel. The average price Russia charges her satellite nations, however, is $3.02.

Middle East crude prices, by comparison, range as high as $2.17. Venezuela receives up to $3.34 a barrel.

Russian petroleum imports rose from 58 million barrels in 1955 to 241 million in 1960. Expansion objectives set in 1959 are ambitious—395 million in 1965 and 583 million barrels by 1970.

World Oil magazine this week published a special report on Russia's progress in the use of oil as an economic weapon.

The magazine concludes:

"There is little doubt Russia can achieve its 1959-1965 goals for production. And for exports, if Free World industry and government fail to take steps to curb them."

The magazine said that in addition to making Free World barter agreements calling for the exchange of oil for such critical items as steel the Russians have exploration crews searching for oil in such areas as Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan, Ethiopia and Ghana. Drilling and refining equipment is being sent to India, Ethiopia, Iraq and Pakistan.

Argentina is receiving drilling equipment under a $100 million credit agreement signed with Russia in 1958.

"Other Latin American countries have also been informed, through diplomatic channels, that Moscow can do as much for them," World Oil said. "Currently, Bolivia, British Guiana and Brazil are major objectives."

Oil Leases Go On Sale

AUSTIN (AP) — A public auction of oil and gas leases will be held Nov. 14 the board for lease of University of Texas Lands said today.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said 126 tracts will be offered, including 11 tracts near proven production. Sadler said the 11 tracts provide for one-sixth royalty payments to the university permanent fund instead of one-eighth royalty.

The board revised lease forms today to increase the royalty in all future gas production from one-eighth to one-sixth. Sadler estimated this would produce an additional $15 million annually.

Wales Madden of Amarillo was elected to succeed W. W. Heath of Austin as vice chairman of the board.

Production Cut Back

CUSHING, Okla. (AP) — Kerr-McGee Oil Industries cut back production of gasoline and fuel oils Wednesday at the firm's refinery here.

Dean McGee, president, said the refinery will concentrate on making high quality lubricating oils.

McGee said high crude costs, low spot market prices and obsolete refining facilities were responsible for the cutback.

Gasser Reacts Unpleasantly

When an oil operator tried to kill a shallow gas well in Metcalfe County, Kentucky, it reacted like an angry demon and erupted in explosions, earthquakes and mud geysers.

While sinking a hole about 30 miles east southeast of Cave City in Central Kentucky, the driller encountered a small amount of gas at 120 feet. It was cased off, but at 156 feet, the well began producing an estimated 1,792,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

In order to drill deeper for oil, he tried to seal off the gas by pumping in water and a plaster material. This caused mud and water geysers more than 1,000 feet away from the drillsite. A peaceful creek went underground. An earthquake cracked the foundation of a house 650 feet from the hole as a narrow crevice appeared in the ground.

Despite the excitement of the past, with a wary eye on the project the driller is making preparations for deeper drilling in hopes of striking oil.

Texaco To Build Huge New Plant

NEW YORK (AP) — Texaco said recently it will build one of the world's largest napthalene plants at its Port Arthur, Tex., refinery.

The plant, expected to go on stream by 1963, will have a production design capacity of 100 million pounds of petroleum-derived naphthalene a year.

The material is used to make a chemical that in turn is a key substance in the production of flexible plastic films, polyester resins, alkyd paints, surface coatings and dyestuffs.

M. F. Granville, a Texaco vice president said napthalene once was imported from Europe in huge quantities but that lately the bulk of this supply is being consumed in Europe.

Oil Average Dips Slightly

TULSA (AP)—Daily average domestic oil production dipped 8,780 to 7,055,820 barrels during the week ended Aug. 26, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma had a 7,600 decline to 599,900. Arkansas dropped 3,250 to 75,050 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1961 production at 1,710,264,100 barrels compared to 1,679,790,300 a year ago.

Louisiana lost 150 to 1,134,500.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,507,650 barrels and New Mexico at 322,500.

Two Men Promoted

NEW YORK (AP) — The Humble Oil & Refining Co. of Houston, domestic marketing subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, has elevated President Morgan Davis to the previously unoccupied position of chairman. He continues as chief executive officer. Carl Reistle Jr., executive vice president, was named president.

EVERYONE LOVES CHILDREN

PROTECT THEM BY DRIVING SAFELY AS THEY GO . . .

Back to School!

School Time Is Safe Driving Time

More and more children are on the streets again . . . some of them going to school for the first time. Children will be crossing the streets, walking along country roads, waiting for school buses. Children are sometimes unpredictable, and it is up to drivers to stay alert and in full command of their vehicles in case an emergency arises. PLEASE drive extra carefully. Watch for children at crossings and on the streets. Give the right of way to school buses. Be alert. The children may not see you . . . be sure you see them.

FOLLOW THESE SAFE DRIVING RULES AT ALL TIMES

Be doubly careful near schools or where children play. Children don't realize the danger and may take chances.

Slow down. Speed is dangerous at any time.

Keep lights and windshield wipers in good condition during rainy or snowy weather.

Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Use chains when roads are slippery.

Obey traffic laws. Know the laws and when traveling, don't break them.

If you drive, don't drink, remember, death takes no holiday.

Be a courteous driver. Yield right-of-way, even when it should be yours.

"MAKE THIS THE SAFEST YEAR OF ALL"

STOP And WAIT

When school buses are taking on or discharging passengers.

KEEP ALERT

For children walking to school in the city or on country roads.

Many Parking Tickets Cancelled, Never Paid

By M. A. WEBB

Almost a half of the parking tickets issued in Big Spring during July were not paid and a fourth of them probably never will be paid. These figures are based on actual count at the police department and projected on the basis of past experience.

During July, 1,790 tickets were issued for overtime parking. Of these, 1,088 were paid, leaving 702 outstanding. Only a third of the remainder are expected to pay without being summoned.

What's the cause of so many parking ticket cancellations in a year's time?

An example of the number was Washington, D. C., where police cancelled out 27,492 during the last fiscal year. That averages 2,291 each month.

That is far more than the average number issued in Big Spring in any one month. Police issue an average of 1,550 tickets here each month.

SOME REASONS

A check with Chief of Police Jay Banks and Warrant Officer Sherrill Farmer revealed some reasons for a large number of tickets not being paid.

"We audit each ticket issued," Farmer said, "and the duplicate copies, turned in by the officers writing them, are kept in a file at the city hall.

"But we find reasons to cancel a great many. Some will come in and tell us they were parked at a faulty meter. Some will say they were in a doctor's office and couldn't come out to put more money in the meter. Others are transients, here today and gone tomorrow, and many receiving tickets are transferred out of the city or county.

"When a person comes in and says he parked at a meter that wouldn't work, there is little to do but cancel his ticket," Farmer said. "However, on many occasions when we send a repair man to check the meter, it is OK. Some of our meters have handles to turn to make them register, and many people do not turn the handles, and they think something is wrong with the meter.

"Those who say they were in the doctor's office, or a lawyer's office, longer than they expected to be, leave us little choice but to cancel their tickets."

The chief and the warrant officer both said that many people got "madder" about receiving parking tickets than for receiving traffic violation tickets.

"They know they have violated the city ordinance but hate to be caught at it," Banks said. "We have a lot of individuals like that who come in and want to take us apart."

ISSUE WARRANTS

Farmer said the department issues warrants for those living in the city or area, who refuse to pay a ticket.

"We can handle those living here," he said, "and there is a $5 court cost added when they have to be brought in on warrants. We have some who will let tickets pile up on them by parking overtime day after day and who don't pay them. When they are reminded that the $5 could be assessed on every ticket they usually make some effort to do something about it.

"Some tickets, found on the street, are picked up and brought to the office. Some drivers don't realize that we can trace them through their license plates, and try to get by with throwing their tickets away."

There is little effort made to collect on tickets issued to those who have moved away from the county.

"It would cost us more than the amount of the fine," Farmer said.

UNLOADING

The two men said that truck drivers often say they were unloading and didn't feel that they should have to pay the tickets; rent-car drivers sometimes park overtime and leave without paying, and the agency feels that it shouldn't have to pay for a ticket. Out-of-town salesmen, too, are negligent about paying.

"We make every effort to collect on the tickets that come in," Farmer said, "and are catching up on some of the back numbers."

DEAR ABBY

Don't Tell Your Secrets

BETRAYED

DEAR BETRAYED: There is nothing you can do about it now. But you can profit by your own sad experience and never again give a boy anything to "broadcast" about.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: While I am writing this, my 22-year-old daughter is stretched out on the lawn chair in her bikini bathing suit with her sun glasses and movie magazines, and she will be there all day. She spends every Saturday and Sunday that way. She is the laziest, most self-centered, inconsiderate person I have ever known. She has a job which pays well, but she never offers to pay one cent toward her room and board. She is up to her neck in debt because she bought herself a car and dresses like a millionaire's daughter. She has never lifted a finger to make her own bed or rinse out a pair of stockings. She talks to her father and me like we were dogs. I never know who she runs around with because she never brings her friends home. What does a mother do with a monster like this?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Who raised this monster?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I read about the grandmother who was so upset because she had to be bothered by her grandchildren over the weekend. I wish she could know how my heart would sing to see my dear little grandchildren trooping into my kitchen, leaving fingermarks on my refrigerator, dropping jam and chewing gum on my clean floor and making joyful noises because they are glad to be alive.

My son and his wife have left with their six children to live in a foreign country. I will probably never see them again. Here I am, left alone to enjoy my clean floor, spotless curtains and quiet home, but with that endless longing for "the touch of a vanished hand, and the sound of a voice that is still."

Early Tree Orders Urged

West Texas landowners, from the Panhandle to the Gulf, should begin making plans for ordering tree seedlings for windbreak planting.

Don Young, head of the forest management department, Texas Forest Service, today urged landowners to place their orders early before the Feb. 10 deadline. Shipments will begin in mid-January.

Three new species have been added to the list this year-Russian olive, eonymus and buffaloberry. Other species include black locust, black walnut (stratified nuts), catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, mulberry, osage orange, red cedar, rosa multiflora, sycamore, Austrian pine, ponderosa pine, loblolly pine, and slash pine.

All seedling orders are packed in moss and moisture-proof paper and shipped prepaid direct to the purchaser. The delivered cost of all species is $1.50 per hundred. Orders must be in multiples of 50 and orders for less than 100 seedlings will not be accepted.

Landowners who apply for Texas Forest Service seedlings agree to plant the trees in Texas, protect them from fire, cattle and destructive insects; and to refrain from using or reselling the trees for ornamental purposes.

Application forms can be obtained from county agents and Soil Conservation District Offices in the West Texas area.

Angelo Irrigation Contract Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — H. B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio was awarded a $985,153 Reclamation Bureau contract Friday to construct 39 miles of laterals and other structures for the irrigation system on the San Angelo project in Texas.

Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall said completion of the work covered by the contract within the required 575 days will essentially complete the irrigation system.

Zachry is building the Twin Buttes Dam, the project's principal feature, and about 16 miles of canal which will feed water into the lateral distribution system.

The project is scheduled for substantial completion in 1963, with delivery of water planned for the spring crop in that year.

MRS. PETE J. ZINANTE

Mid-Morning Ritual Read

A mid-morning wedding ceremony read in Dickinson Saturday united in marriage Ethel Ruth Snowden and Pete J. Zinante in the Shrine of the True Cross Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Snowden, 1403 E. 18th; the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Adams of Texas City.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar for the exchange of double ring vows heard by Father O'Brien.

Mrs. J. Zigler, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Margaret Leining who sang "Ave Maria" and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

The bride's father gave her in marriage; her dress featured a basque of Chantilly lace over satin with appliques of the lace on the skirt of satin, net and tulle. Tiny pearls re-embroidered the lace patterns, and a pearl crown held in place the veil of silk illusion.

A white orchid on a white prayer book was the bouquet of the bride.

Judith Ann Dedde of Dickinson attended as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Jimmy Helton, sister of the bridegroom, and Jo Ann Sebesta, both of Alvin.

All were attired in sheaths of peau de soie, turquoise, with overskirts of embroidered organza. They carried gladioli in talisman shade.

Thomas Edward Stewart was best man, with John Thaman and Julian Wilson serving as groomsmen; guests were seated by Franklin Falco and Mike Salvato.

Denise Bownds, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl; her costume was of shrimp peau do soie made in similar style to the dresses of the feminine attendants.

Mrs. T. A. Patterson of LaMarque, aunt of the bride, was hostess for a reception, given at the VFW Hall in Dickinson.

Net over damask was caught at random with bows of satin on the refreshment table, which was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli in a silver bowl flanked by tapers in silver candleholders. A four-tiered cake was decorated in white frosting and held a bridal figurine.

Mrs. Wilson presided at the bride's book, and Sylvia Barker and Mrs. Henry Matula were members of the house party.

For a trip along the Gulf Coast, the bride chose a navy sheath with wide white collar; her accessories were red and she wore a red corsage.

Upon the return from the trip, the couple will make a home in Huntsville, where both will be senior students in Sam Houston State College.

An out-of-town guest was Mrs. Ethel Van Pelt of Big Spring, aunt of the bride.

Now Is The Time To Make Pickles From Watermelon

Make this pretty pickle while watermelon is on hand, then allow to mellow for winter meals.

WATERMELON PICKLE

- ¾ cups 1-inch cubes watermelon rind, with green and pink portions removed
- Cold water
- ¼ cup salt
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup cider vinegar
- 1 lemon, unpeeled and cut in thin rounds
- 1 small stick cinnamon
- 8 whole cloves and 8 whole allspice berries

Add watermelon rind to 1 quart water and the salt and allow to stand, covered, overnight. Drain; rinse rind with fresh cold water; drain and cover with fresh cold water.

Bring to a boil; simmer until tender when pierced with a fork.

In a saucepan mix together the sugar, vinegar, 1 cup water, lemon, cinnamon, cloves and allspice; boil 5 minutes. Add drained rind and boil gently about 15 minutes or until rind looks clear; skim occasionally.

With a slotted spoon, remove rind to four ½-pint sterilized home canning jars; fill with hot syrup to ¼-inch from top of jars; seal. Store at least 1 month before using.

Add Honey

If you like a suspicion of sweetness in your French dressing, try adding a little honey. This combination is especially good on fruit salads.

Yeast Bread

If your yeast bread is heavy, it may be that the water you used for dissolving the yeast was too hot.

Dried Beef

Nice for lunch: creamed dried beef served over cooked snap beans. Add triangles of thin, crisp buttered toast.

Chili Con Carne Easily Made, Tasty

If your family likes chili with tomato added, this recipe should go over well.

CHILI CON CARNE

- ½ tbsp. fat
- 1 medium-sized onion, finely diced
- ½ lb. ground chuck beef
- 1 green pepper, cut in thin strips
- 1 can (about 1 lb.) red kidney beans
- 1 can (about 8 oz.) tomato puree or 1 cup
- 1 tbsp. chili powder
- ¼ tsp. salt

In a 10-inch skillet cook the onion and beef in the hot fat, mashing with a fork, until the meat loses its red color; use moderate heat.

Add the green pepper, kidney beans (including liquid in can), tomato puree, chili powder and salt. Mix well and simmer about 20 minutes.

Use more chili powder or pepper if you want a "hot" dish. Makes 3 servings.

Changes Noted To Be Sneaking Into Men's Fashions

AP Newsfeatures

Men in their fashion are the quiet types.

Their designers never have world-shaking Paris shows. They never grab front page space by raising or lowering cuff lengths, or changing the place to hitch the belt.

But men's fashions do change. And men, resistant at first, accept them after some prodding from their wives.

A check of manufacturers indicates that these sartorial trends are just around the corner:

Shirts. Look for disposable collars soon. Sports shirts will be more conservatively patterned.

Sweaters. Smooth refined knits with neat round or V necks are in. Bulky stitched sweaters with ring or turtle necks are going out.

Ties. Narrows continue in favor. Strings are losing out.

Suits. The British, who inspired the Bermudas, are now pitching for a knicker suit. Slim, continental style is status quo.

Jackets. Madras plaids are growing less inhibited, as the businessman's color sense grows less inhibited.

Evening clothes. Red, white and blue dinner jackets are available in wash and wear fabrics, ideal for the musician, the waiter or the very careless eater.

No Footprints

Pull a pair of clean socks over small children's shoes when the family travels by car. You'll keep car upholstery and your own lap clean.

Ex-Resident Takes Bride In Irving Rites

A Saturday evening wedding in Irving united in marriage Ann Turner and Ens. William Arthur Dillon, USNR, in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Robert Walker read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dillon, 1855 Pilgrim, Irving, former residents of Big Spring.

White gladioli and pink rosebuds with candelabra tied with pink bows were altar decorations.

Mrs. Ross Smith, organist, presented nupial music and accompanied Lamar McNew as he sang "Calm as the Night."

Beaded Alencon lace accented the neck and the dropped waistline of the bride's gown of peau de soie. A butterfly bustle topped the soft pleats of the full skirt which extended into a chapel train.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a veil of silk illusion, which floated from a crown of lace roses, and a pearl necklace of her great - grandmother.

A white orchid, nested in pink rosebuds, was carried on a white Bible, which was borrowed from the sister of the bridegroom.

Janet Graham, serving as maid of honor, was attired in a frock of deep pink chiffon with sweetheart neckline and full skirt set off with a wide satin band culminating with two pink satin roses. Her veil was held in place by a handmade satin rose and she carried a single long-stemmed rose.

Bridesmaids, identically dressed in pale pink, were Carole Moore; Margaret Brown of Dallas and Georgia Wilhite of Weatherford, a cousin of the bride.

Lt. Larry A. Dillon, USAF, of Bryan, was his brother's best man; ushers were another brother of the bridegroom, Bob Dillon Charles Turner, brother of the bride, and Charles Penn of Dallas.

Georgia Dillon of Bryan, a niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl.

A reception honored the couple after the exchange of vows and they were assisted in receiving guests by Mrs. Turner, the bridegroom's parents and the attendants.

On a table covered in white satin, silver appointments were used and the centerpiece was of pink roses. Colonnades separated the four tiers of the wedding cake which held a bridal couple.

In the house party were Mrs. Jerry McMahon, Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mrs. McNew and Dixie Kee.

The couple will make a home in Pensacola, Fla, where the bridegroom is stationed; he is a graduate of Texas A&M College. The bride, who attended Texas Tech, is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority and Angel Flight.

Patricia Arnold, David Moore Exchange Wedding Vows Friday

Patricia Arnold became the bride of David Michael Moore in a double ring ceremony read Friday evening in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Moore.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. A. R. Posey, Temple Baptist pastor, officiated for the rites.

The altar was decorated with palms alternated with baskets of white gladioli and white candelabra; pews were marked with periwinkle satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mike Arnold, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "Always" prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" following the prayer during the ceremony. Mrs. H. M. Jarratt was organist and played the prenuptial music as well as the wedding marches.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a bridal gown of white bridal satin, designed and made by her mother. Elegant in its simplicity, the sole decoration was the neckline trim of re-embroidered lace with pearls which continued in narrow panels the length of the front skirt; the back skirt formed a chapel train. Long sleeves, which came to points over the hands, were buttoned at the wrists with self-covered buttons.

BRIDAL VEIL

The bouffant veil was held by a headpiece of white taffeta bows with a floral piece of white waxed flowers and crystal petals. The bridal bouquet was arranged with a white orchid surrounded with stephanotis which was carried atop a white beaded Bible.

Mrs. J. L. Burnaman of Lubbock was matron of honor and wore a periwinkle satin sheath styled with a low rounded neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The waist featured a cummerbund effect. She carried a nosegay of pompon chrysanthemums. Her headpiece was fashioned of tulle veiling held by a crown of periwinkle ribbon. Slippers of the same shade completed her costume.

Bridesmaids wore dresses designed identically to that of the matron of honor. They were Iva Nell Cole, Betty Burnett of Friona, and Mrs. Dee Arvin Ratliff.

Johnny Roy Phillips served as best man. Other attendants were Michael Arnold, brother of the bride; Gerry Moore, brother of the bridegroom; and Eddie Whitaker.

Barbara Arnold, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of white organdy with embroidered overskirt. Her headpiece was of pink with white veiling. Stephan Arnold, the bride's brother, carried the rings on a white, heart-shaped satin pillow. The bridegroom's brother and sister, Thomas Ray and Elizabeth Moore, lighted the tapers. Elizabeth wore a dress of lavendar organdy.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, the bride chose a suit of beige knit trimmed with edging and buttons of satin. Her pill box hat matched her suit; accessories were of brown lizard. She pinned the orchid from her bouquet to her jacket.

When the couple returns from the wedding trip they will be at home at 1410 Johnson. Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore were graduated from Big Spring High School and attended HCJC. She will be employed by Gordon's Beauty Salon; he is an employe of Texas Electric Service Co.

RECEPTION

Parents of the couple and the bride's attendants assisted the couple in receiving at the reception held following the ceremony in the Rock Room of Arnold's Cafeteria. Roybeth Bomar of Lubbock presided at the guest register.

A picture of the bride in her wedding attire was the centerpiece of the serving table. Bouquets of the attendants were placed about the base. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with periwinkle confection roses and held a miniature bridal couple at the peak.

Members of the houseparty were Sue Taber of Hobbs, N. M., Marilyn Bigham and Linda Greene.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. S. W. Senor, Whitesboro; Mrs. Dollie Hataway, Denton; Mrs. Edna Arnold, Lubbock, all grandmothers of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Senor, Tommy and Ann of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stephens of Lubbock.

Meals Are Inexpensive

When you're planning main dishes, check for bargain tags on turkeys, eggs and shrimp—fresh, canned and frozen.

Your choice of fresh vegetables is almost limitless.

Here's what happened this season, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Cooler than normal weather in many producing areas delayed early crops, so shipments from these fields are overlapping with those from later crops.

Also, many nearby truck farms are competing with big commercial vegetable shipping areas. In some places, rains and cooler weather have kept these fields in production longer than usual.

Tomatoes, potatoes, summer squash, field peas, okra, corn and cucumbers lead the plentiful parade to your vegetable bin.

Jean Stallcup Is Wed In Kentwood Church

Kentwood Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Friday evening of Jean Stallcup and Melvin Ronald Hamby with twin ring vows read by the pastor, the Rev. C. W. Parmenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Stallcup, Vincent Rt., Coahoma, are the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hamby, 610 George, are parents of the bridegroom.

A satin prie dieu, on which the couple knelt, centered the grouping of white gladioli, mums and asters that combined with fern trees and seven-branched candelabra to form a background for the couple and their attendants.

Nuptial music included "Whither Thou Goest" and "Till the End of Time" sung by Dixie Todd, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Arner, pianist.

Wearing a gown of imported white silk organza, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The princess style, bell-shaped skirt was topped with a satin ribbon, which ended in a triple bow at the back, and was embroidered with orchid flowers.

A purple orchid was carried on a white Bible, that was the something old; the bridal attire was new, and the bride wore a blue garter. There were birthdate pennies in her shoe, and from her maid of honor, Carolyn Halbrook, she had borrowed a string of pearls.

Pearls encrusted the scalloped crown which held the circular veil of imported silk illusion.

Miss Halbrook chose a sheath of orchid polished cotton with matching slippers and carried a colonial nosegay of orchid and white blossoms.

Arlen Bryant, the bridegroom's cousin, was his best man, and guests were seated by Ross Reagan.

For the reception, held in Fellowship Hall, the bride's table was covered with a white organdy cloth trimmed with orchid ribbon and holding orchid tapers and the bridal bouquet as decorations.

The couple and their parents, along with their attendants, received guests, who were registered by Judy Mitchell.

Serving the three-tiered cake, marked with tiny colonnades and a bridal couple, were Mrs. La Verne Rogers, Doylene Wadkins, Mrs. Merel Ringener and Mrs. John Roemer.

A light-weight wool suit of green and orchid was the traveling costume of the bride when the pair left for a trip to San Antonio; with it she wore patent accessories.

Both are graduates of Big Spring High School, where the bridegroom was president of the National Honor Society and was selected as the most valuable member of the 1961 basketball team. He is employed by Pioneer Gas Company.

The couple will make a home at 1105 State.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Hamby were hosts for the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Gifts were presented by the betrothed couple to their attendants; the table where 19 were seated was centered with an arrangement of white and orchid baby chrysanthemums flanked by white candles.

MRS. GEORGE WHITE

Bride's Father Reads Ritual Friday Evening

With her father reading the double ring ritual, Brenda Morgan became the bride of George White, Friday evening in the West Side Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Noel D. Morgan, 1011 Main; parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Jewel White, 603 Goliad, and the late Mr. White.

White gladioli and huckleberry were twined on candelabra which combined with ferns to make a setting for the bridal party.

Marian Walker, organist, supplied the music and accompanied Jesse McElreath who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest".

The scalloped neckline of the bride's street-length dress was accented with pearls, and she wore a pearl necklace of her grandmother as part of bridal tradition. Something old was a handkerchief; blue, a garter, and new her wedding attire. In her shoes the bride wore birthdate pennies and a sixpence.

A veil was attached to a half hat of white nylon, and the bride carried white carnations.

Betty Morgan was her sister's maid of honor; Nancy Weeks and Ouida Roberts of Colorado City, aunt of the bride, were her bridesmaids. All were dressed in pastel shades and carried single pompon mums.

Arlen White of Ackerly served as his brother's best man; groomsmen were Max Phillips of Odessa, cousin of the bridegroom, and Darrell Morgan, the bride's brother. Ushers were John Rice and James Johnson, both of Lubbock, cousins of the bridegroom, and Tony Allen of Sterling City.

Rings were carried by Travis Morgan, brother of the bride, while another brother, Randy Morgan, and their cousin, Elaine Vest of Midland, were taper lighters.

Nancy Wilks registered guests who gathered for the reception at the end of the ceremony; the parents of the couple and the attendants were in the receiving line.

A white three-tiered cake, topped with the traditional bridal couple, was on a table covered with net over rose taffeta.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of Copen blue with accessories of white; the couple will make a home in Brownwood where the bridegroom will continue his studies at Howard Payne College. He is a graduate of Forsan High School and Howard County Junior College.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard Payne College for one year.

Dill Weed

Garden Club To Honor Member At Coffee

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow will be honored guest at a coffee to be given Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington Blvd. Calling hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Hostess group will be the Big Spring Garden Club, of which Mrs. Bristow is a charter member, and included among the guests are all members of the local garden clubs.

Mrs. Bristow helped in organizing the Big Spring Garden Club in 1947 and served for three years as its president. She is now treasurer of the organization.

In 1955, she was instrumental in organizing the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs and has served as its president.

Under her supervision the Junior Garden Club was formed in 1957 and holds meetings in her home each month. The youngsters have worked in Litterbug activities, clean - up drives, tree and shrub plantings and have taken several awards in local district and state conventions.

Mrs. Bristow submitted the planned design for the rose garden at City Park, which is a council project; this was started about two years ago, with a rose arbor now planned by her club as its work in beautifying the spot.

In the range of district and state activity, Mrs. Bristow was district chairman of the roadside development committee, later serving as head of the committee for the state. She was director of District One, Southern Zone, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., and is now first vice president and extension chairman of the district.

She is a member of the American Rose Society and of the American Iris Society, holding the distinction of being a judge in the latter group.

Her ability as an arranger is put to use to assist the fund-raising of her church guild, and blue ribbons attest to her success in flower shows.

Through the years, she has held state committee chairmanships and was presented a life membership in the state organization by her garden club when the group held its convention last spring in Odessa.

Mrs. Bristow is now fourth vice president of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., an organization of over 35,000 members and made up of 1,350 clubs.

Recommends Exercise

Barbara Eden believes that you can reduce more easily if you include an exercise routine. In today's Hollywood Beauty, Barbara tells her favorite methods for staying slim.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Excercise Plus Diet Keeps Her Trim

HOLLYWOOD — "I know some people say that a craving for sweets means you are not having well-balanced meals, but I was born with my sweet tooth," Barbara Eden told me recently at 20th Century-Fox. "My mother said that when I was three she had an awful time keeping me away from the sugar bowl, and once I ate almost a whole bottle of chocolate-coated pills. They had to pump my stomach.

"When my family forbade me to eat sweets," she continued, "I used to pick up soft drink bottles and buy candy with the money I got when I turned them in. Although I had no problems, I was a complusive sweet eater.

"When I got my picture contract," she went on, "I wanted to be thinner and I went down from a let-out 10 to an 8. This was not easy because my husband (Michael Arsara), who is six-feet-four, can eat twice as much as I can. You know how it is when you cook a big meal and then have to go easy eating it.

"A good rule to follow when you are dieting," Barbara offered, "is out of sight out of mind, but on our table there's whipped cream, ice cream, potatoes and many, more things I don't date eat. I know there are people who can be satisfied with the taste of something in their mouths, but I am definitely not a one-bite girl. If I take a small piece of pie I am liable to finish it off."

"Your figure looks lovely, now," I told her. "How did you di it?"

"Will power and exercise," she replied. "When I'm tempted to break my diet, I stop and think how hard I'm going to have to work to get rid of those pounds I don't need, and if I think long enough about the after-effects, it dampens the pleasure of 'cheating.'

"I suppose everyone has a place where extra pounds accumulate. Mine is around the hips. I have no trouble with my waist or my stomach. And I have to exercise to keep my figure the way I like it.

"You don't have to feel sorry for youself because you can't afford a spot reducing machine. You can do it youself. I believe any girl who follows my routine can reduce her hips. It is much more effective to work a little every day at home then to spend hours in a gym once a week.

"With exercises, as with everything else, you get out of it what you put into it. Don't be too ambitious. Use the time you can spare every day.

"I begin," Barbara said, "by standing straight. Then I bend over and touch my toes 25 times. Then I hold on to the back of a chair and swing my leg as far forward and backward as I can while keeping my back straight. I do this 25 times with each leg. Next I sit on the floor and roll my hips back-forth, 50 times.

"Then I get down on the floor as if I were going to give a child a piggy-back ride. Holding this position, I raise one leg and kick back and up with a straight knee as hard as I can. I do this 30 times with each leg.

"I finish lying on the floor on my back supporting my hips with the palms of my hands, and with my legs raised in the air I ride a bicycles 10 times fast, 10 times slowly, pushing hard as if I were pumping up a steep hill and 10 times fast—making 30 times in all. I find if I get a good rock 'n' roll station on the radio, it is easier for me to work."

EXERCISING WITH DYNAMIC TENSION

The law of keeping your muscles firm is to use or lose. Some think of exercise exclusively in terms of reducing, but whether you are thin or heavy your muscles must be used to retain suppleness and tone. Leaflet M-19, "Exercising With Dynamic Tension," shows how you can accomplish more with a short dynamic tension routine than with a long workout. For your copy of this unusual leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Tapers Light Nuptial Scene

Wedding vows were repeated by candlelight by Airman 2.C. Edgar Sipple Jr. and Shirley Ann Elkins Friday evening in the chapel at Webb AFB. The Rev. Jack Power of Trinity Baptist Church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sipple of Demossville, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Andrews Elkins.

Mrs. Phillip Dawson, organist, played selections prior to the ceremony, and accompanied her husband as he sang "Because." The altar was decorated with sprays of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal dress was a street length satin with a Chantilly lace covered bodice that featured a high neckline with pearl decor. The tapered bodice was attached to a full skirt of silk net. A veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara, and the bridal bouquet was of red roses carried on a white Bible.

Sisters of the bride served as her attendants; Patty Jo Elkins was the maid of honor while Bonnie Dale and Linda Stella Elkins were bridesmaids. They were dressed identically in dresses of pastel blue with white net hats trimmed in pink flowers.

Airman 3.C. John Vertz was best man; Larry Lawrence, Richard Freeman and Richard Gordon were ushers.

The couple went to San Angelo following the ceremony for a short stay before returning here to make their home at 408½ Bell St. The bride's going-away suit was of shocking pink with which she wore white accessories.

The bride is a student in Big Spring High School. Airman Sipple is a graduate of Kenton High School at Independence, Ky.; he attended Cumberland College in Williamburg, Ky., where he studied for the ministry. Since he has been stationed at Webb AFB, he has been educational vice president of the Toastmasters International at the base.

The reception was held at the base pavilion where members of the bridal party and the bride's parents received the guests.

An open Bible off-center was a feature of the refreshment table that was decorated with a square cake, iced in white and trimmed with blue candy roses and a miniature bridal couple. Four tapers burned on either side of the cake.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Calvin Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Northcutt, all of Odessa; Mrs. Bill Caffery and Sister Frances of Winters; Mrs. June Criswell of Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barfoot of Ackerly; Mrs. Eloisa Cruz and son of Alice; Mrs. Jose Raul Cruz of Beneverdes.

MRS. EDGAR SIPPLE JR.

McPhersons Will Live In Abilene After Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Dan James McPherson will make a home in Abilene following their marriage in the First Methodist Church, Saturday evening. The bridegroom will be a senior in Abilene Christian College; the bride has attended both ACC and McMurry College.

Parents of the bride, the former Karen Dee Jones, are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, 612 Linda Lane; the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McPherson, 603 Holbert.

Thomas E. Cudd, minister of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, read the double ring vows as the bridal party stood before arrangements of white gladioli, mums and carnations interspersing emerald fern with cathedral tapers in candelabra; pews were marked with white satin.

An organ prelude by Mrs. Jackie Phillips included "Because," and "O, Promise Me," and she played the traditional wedding marches.

DESIGNED GOWN

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had designed her wedding gown and veil. A panel of Chantilly lace formed the front of the full skirt, which was completed in silk organza with a bustle of satin centered by a satin rose. Scallops of the lace made the bateau neckline and extended to a low V in the back of the fitted bodice.

The bridal veil of tulle was held in place by roses of silk organza with leaves of bridal satin.

A white Bible carried by the bride was under Frenched carnations showered with satin leaves and ribbon; this she designated as the something old, since it is the property of her grandmother, Mrs. Maxie Voorhies of Sweetwater. Her wedding attire was the new item, and she had borrowed a blue garter from Melita Singletary.

Deanna Thomas of Roswell, N. M., was maid of honor, with LaJuana McPherson, sister of the bridegroom, and Donna Hogue of Seymour serving as bridesmaids.

All were dressed in full-skirted frocks of polished cotton, Miss Thomas in deep blue, the bridesmaids in pale blue; their flowers were single carnations tied with satin ribbon.

Bob Arledge of Orange, college roommate of the bridegroom, served as his best man; ushers were Derrel Wall of Vernon and Kenneth Pitzer. Groomsmen were Ronnie McBride of Electra and Avery Falkner Jr.

The couple's parents and attendants assisted in receiving guests during the reception held in the church fellowship hall, where Miss Singletary secured names in the bride's book.

HOUSE PARTY

Members of the house party included Mrs. Charlotte White of Midland, a cousin of the bride; Janace Kirby, Jane Ellen Cudd and Kay Coleman.

They served from a table laid with lace over blue and holding a candelabrum entwined with maline and white satin wedding bells. The three-tiered cake was frosted in white with all-white decorations.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Voorhies and Mrs. J. M. Sweeden, the bride's aunt, both of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. David Voorhies of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Freddie White of Midland; Mary Ann and Lurline Philbeck of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleet of Abilene.

For a trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a black and white checked suit with black accessories and wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, the McPhersons will be at home at 717 East N. 14th, Abilene.

Judy Denson Bride Of Larry Noble Latson

The Church of Christ in LaMarque was the scene of the mid-afternoon wedding of Judy Nell Denson and Larry Noble Latson Saturday.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Denson of LaMarque and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Latson, 1108 E. 13th.

Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums in greenery decorated the altar before which the double ring vows were read by M. A. Wasson, minister of the church.

A choir of mixed voices sang "O Perfect Love" and accompanied Cecil Casey, who sang "Because."

Net and hand-clipped Chantilly lace made the gown of the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The waltz length skirt of lace was an apron effect, with the back a cascade of net ruffles from a cluster of soft organza roses at the waistline. The neckline of the basque bodice followed the scallops of lace as did the bracelet length sleeves.

A tiara of pearls held in place the fingertip veil of illusion, and the bride carried a white orchid nested in white carnations and stephanotis.

Sandra Denson and Cathy Denson were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively, for their sister.

Both, identically attired, wore frocks, waltz length and fashioned with full skirts and cummerbunds joining fitted bodices. Headpieces were of mint green satin with nose veils, and each carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Best men was Royce Scott of Patricia, a cousin of the bridegroom; guests were seated by Doyle Maxwell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Ronald Hunter of Dickson, uncle of the bride.

Following the ceremony, guests gathered at the home of the B. H. Hunters where the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and the Doyle Maxwells'. Susan Denson, a sister of the bride, assisted with serving and another sister, Barbara Denson, was at the guest register.

A full-skirted cloth of net over white covered the tea table, which was centered with a double candelabrum based in white chrysanthemums and ivy. Yellow frosting roses decorated the four-tiered cake, topped with a bridal couple and trimmed with wedding bells.

A beige silk linen suit was the bride's choice for traveling, and she used accessories in a darker shade of beige.

The couple will make a home in Big Spring, while the bridegroom is employed in Odessa. He attended Howard County Junior College and was a cornetist in the Abilene Christian College Band, while he was a student there.

A graduate of LaMarque High School, the bride also attended ACC.

Coming from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown of Lamesa, maternal grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Latson, all of Houston; Mrs. A. E. Latson, paternal grandmother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Latson all of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Latson of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Denson and Judy of Sanderson.

Carter-Franklin Vows Are Taken Saturday

In twin ring wedding rites, LaVerne Carter became the bride of Eugene Franklin of Abilene, Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, former pastor of the church, read the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Carter, 400 Abrams, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Franklin, 2225 Woodard, Abilene.

An arch of candles centered the altar, which was flanked by tapers in candelabra and white gladioli and chrysanthemums amid emerald fern.

Nuptial music was by Mrs. Barbara Whittington, organist, and Wayne Nance, who sang "I Love You Truly", "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride's father gave her in marriage. White Chantilly lace formed the deep yoke of the bodice over taffeta which extended into the full skirt and swept into a chapel train. Three roses of satin marked the waistline in the back.

A crown of pearls held the veil of illusion, and the bride carried a white orchid showered in Frenched carnations and picoted ribbon on a white Bible.

Following tradition, she had borrowed the veil from Mrs. Robert Fuller; she wore a blue garter, and her dress was new; something old was a handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Johnson of Brownwood.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Donnie Smith attended her cousin as matron of honor, while Karen Baldwin and Mrs. Fuller served as bridesmaids. All attendants were identically attired in blue lace over taffeta with matching slippers.

William Argo of Dallas was best man; groomsmen were Jerry Franklin, brother of the bridegroom, Carlton Stowers and Noel Orr, all of Abilene.

In the church parlor, the couple received guests assisted by their parents and the feminine attendants.

Guests were registered by Barbara Campbell, and members of the houseparty were Judy Shields, Mrs. Rufus Gilbert of Plainview, and Camille Hefley.

A sheath of polished cotton in black and brown was the traveling attire of the new Mrs. Franklin as the couple left for points in New Mexico. She wore lizard shoes and bag and her jewelry was gold; the corsage from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her dress.

The two will make a home in Monroe, La., where the bridegroom will continue his studies at Northeast Louisiana State College; he is a graduate of Abilene High School and Howard County Junior College. The bride is also a graduate of HCJC and finished high school in Big Spring.

From out of town were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Gilbert, Mrs. C. M. Gilbert, Mrs. S. A. O'Neill, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rambo, Mrs. Frank Rogers, all of Fort Worth; Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carter of Abernathy; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lusk of Abilene; J. R. Carter of Hobbs, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Carter of Snyder; Mrs. Floyd Cullins and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Horton, all of Brownwood.

REHEARSAL DINNER

At a rehearsal dinner, hosted Friday evening by the parents of the bride, the couple presented gifts to their attendants. About 20 were present for the affair.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

This has been a busy weekend. I mention it only because the same things that have been happening here have more than likely been happening all over Texas. I'm speaking of school starting and the confusion over the new tax.

Following the first day of school Thursday, variety stores were filled to capacity with mothers holding lists of school supplies for the youngsters. The most interesting item, commonplace though it is, was a roll of toilet tissue which was on one teacher's list. Having never had this particular item on one of the lists brought home to me, I was naturally curious. The explanation was quite simple. The roll takes up less space than a box of facial tissues. . . . and the little ones do get runny noses and sticky fingers.

It's Almost All Boys

Mrs. R. B. Heaton is shown with three of her five sons at their home at 1410 Main. Resident of Big Spring for the past two months, Mrs. Heaton is holding Rory, eight months of age, who is being shown pictures of James and Cecil Hoard, who have just gone to Forsan to enter school after spending the summer months with their mother. Holding the pictures is Thomas Heaton, 12, and to his right is the big son of the, family, Mickey, 15.

Boys Are In Majority At Heatons'

There are very few feminine touches about the home of Mrs. R. B. Heaton, 1410 Main, what with three boys at home and two of them vitally interested in anything pertaining to sports.

Mrs. Heaton moved here during June shortly after the death of her husband. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Daves, who live at 1211 Main St.

Sewing is not only a hobby but a necessity for the busy mother of five sons. She makes their shorts and most other apparel that is practical and does most of her own dress-making.

Mickey Claude, 15, and Thomas Curtis, 12, sons of the late Mr. Heaton, are enrolled in the eighth and seventh grades, respectively, at Runnels Junior High School. Both are coming out for football and more than likely will be on the basketball and baseball rosters during the seasons.

Two sons of Mrs. Heaton by a former marriage are James William and Cecil Douglas Hoard, 10, and seven years of age, who have just gone to Forsan to make their home with their father and enter school after spending the summer months with their mother.

A delight of his older brothers is little eight-month-old Rory Bradford Heaton, a sprightly little redhead, who is entertained by everyone who comes to the house. The two family dogs have learned to take cover when he gets too rough.

Menus For Schools

The Big Spring schools have announced cafeteria menus for the four days of school next week.

TUESDAY: Barbecued wieners pork and beans, tossed green salad with French dressing, cornbread, peach halves, milk.

WEDNESDAY: Chicken fried steak, French green beans, corn, hot rolls, fresh fruit cup, milk.

THURSDAY: Ground meat and spaghetti, green peas, Mexican slaw, hot rolls, lemon pudding, milk.

FRIDAY: Chicken pie, mixed greens, cantaloupe slices, hot biscuits, brownies, milk.

Life Of Riley Lived By Unwanted Animals

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) —Animals live the life of Riley at 800-year-old Quintin Castle in County Down.

There are Lollipop the Lamb and 26 other sheep, mostly unwanted pets from various parts of the country; Penelope the pig; Loyal Antrim, a racehorse; Chips, a retired donkey derby champion.

Gert and Daisy are geese; Murphy a cock pheasant. Then there's a field full of calves—oh, and Ronald the seal, who regularly pops his head out of the sea in back of the castle.

Dogs include a whippet; two poodles; a peke; Jason, a German shepherd who was bought for $2.80 from two rather high Southern Irishmen in a Belfast street; Judy the collie who was about to be "put to sleep."

Junior, one of the five cats, turned up at the front door one Christmas Eve. Polly the parrot, used to sing in Smithfield, a Belfast market. Polly's favorite song: "Wait for me beloved."

Says their owner, 32-year-old Mrs. Barbara Martin, an auctioneer's wife: "I love animals and I like to keep them. I just can't resist them and, after all, there's plenty of room for them here."

Military Wedding In Forsan For Jean Creighton, E. M. Bailey Jr.

In the first military wedding ever held in Forsan, Aletha Jean Creighton became the bride of Everett Murl Bailey Jr., Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Forsan Baptist Church.

The Rev. Darrell Robinson, pastor of Midway Baptist Church, read the double ring vows for the couple, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Creighton and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey of Forsan.

Altar decorations were an arch of pink and white asters based in a bank of greenery with baskets of asters and candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Gracie Welch of Tarzan sang "Whither Thou Goest", "Because" and "I Love You Truly", accompanied by Mrs. Jesse Louis Overton at the organ.

Chantilly lace over white bridal satin made the gown of the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Seed pearls enhanced the molded bodice and the long sleeves; the full skirt swept into a chapel train and the bridal veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara. The wedding gown had been designed and made by the bride.

The bride carried an orchid on a Bible; she wore a blue garter and named her wedding attire as something new; the tiara was borrowed from Mrs. C. L. Girdner and in her shoes were birthdate pennies. Something old was a handkerchief which had belonged to her great-great-grandmother.

Wanda Leslie of Odessa attended as maid of honor; bridesmaids were Penny Jones of Lorenzo, Ovidene and Mary Bilberry, both of Causey, N.M., cousins of the bride. All wore pink taffeta frocks with full skirts, fitted bodices and puff sleeves and carried single pink asters. Headdresses were bands of taffeta with white veils.

Bruce Moore served as best man; groomsmen were Malcomb Strole of Abilene; Bill Shaw of Houston; Don Henderson of Jacksboro. Guests were seated by Ben Lednicky of Brownwood; Malcolm Hall of Ballinger; Jim Davis of Mertzon.

ARCH OF SABERS

The group, all cadets with the bridegroom in A&M College, formed an arch of sabers for the couple to walk under and made an arch as the bride was toasted at the reception.

Kathy Jane Bailey, sister of the bridegroom was flower girl and was dressed identically to the feminine attendants. She carried a basket of flower petals. Taper lighters were Fran Creighton, sister of the bride, and Deryl Ann Dunagan.

Parents of the couple assisted them in receiving guests in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Lace over a pink underlay covered the table, which had as its centerpiece the bride's bouquet. A bridal couple, with the bridegroom dressed in military uniform, was on the top tier of the three-tiered cake, frosted in white with pink confection roses.

Ella Beth Story was at the register, while members of the house party were Loretta Jenkins of Midland; Beth Jackson of Big Spring; Adeline Soles of Snyder, Joyce Shoults, Jan Stockton and Jan Fields.

A sheath of Nassau blue wool was chosen by the bride for traveling to an undisclosed destination; she wore a small beige hat and beige accessories with the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will live in College Station where the bridegroom will continue his studies in veterinary medicine and the bride will be employed by the college Dept. of Agricultural Economics and Sociology. Both are graduates of Forsan High School.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were hosts for the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening in the school cafeteria. About 35 attended the affair, during which the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

35,000 TO 45,000 BALES

Cotton Harvest Estimates Vary

Jimmie Taylor, county farm agent, and the Texas Employment Commission do not see eye to eye on the probable cotton production in Howard County for the current season.

Taylor last week estimated that the 1961 crop would hit 45,000 bales.

Leon Kinney, manager of the TEC office here, said that agency had fixed its crop estimate for the county at 35,100 bales.

Taylor said that he is basing his estimate on the increased cotton acreage in the county and on the excellent prospects of the crop at this time. Last year, he pointed out, the county ginned 43,600 bales. This year with perhaps 3,000 more acres planted to cotton and with the crop prospects so bright, Taylor believes that the production will be at least 45,000 bales.

"It could beat that," he said.

BROUGHT IN

Kinney said that the TEC is also basing its estimate on acreage and on probably production per acre. However, he feels that higher production estimates than the 35,100 he predicted does not discount the cotton from adjacent counties which will be brought to Howard County for ginning.

"For example," he said, "we have estimated the Martin County crop this year at 82,120 bales. Probably a great deal of Martin County cotton will be brought in to Howard County for ginning.

"We have estimated that Glasscock County will gin 11,380 bales this year."

Kinney said that his office is all set to provide cotton pickers for the area as the demand develops. The first rush will probably develop in the next week or 10 days. First load of Mexican nationals was brought in Tuesday by Cecil Leatherwood. However, because cotton is not quite ready for the workers, they have been put to work pulling peas.

FLOODED

Kinney said that because so much of the cotton in the south part of the state was flooded out and other wise diminished it had been anticipated a large number of migrant farm workers would be available. This condition does not seem to be developing, however, and the bulk of the workers will probably come from Old Mexico.

"Last season," Kinney pointed out, "many farmers in the area turned to mechanical pickers to harvest their crop. We had anticipated that even more machines would be in operation this year. It is still likely a number of machines will be used but the farmers are not turning to the mechanical pickers in the numbers anticipated."

He said he attended a conference on cotton picker needs in Stanton this past week and noticed that one dealer there had 15 or 20 of the mechanical pickers on hand. This led to the discovery in conversations with farmers that not as many would be resorting to the machines as anticipated.

HEAVY FRUIT

It was pointed out, Kinney said, that the cotton this year is heavily fruited near the ground and farmers say the mechanical pickers will not handle this too well. Even those who use the machines, may have to use hands to harvest the bolls not reached by the machine.

The use of strippers is not new in the area but last season saw a larger number of farmers buying cotton pickers. These machines cost $15,000 to $18,000.

A Devotional for Today

Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Matthew 25:40.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, open Thou our eyes to see the needs of those about us. By the presence of the Holy Spirit, help us to be willing to respond gladly to the call of our fellow men. For the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

An Alarming Record

Our traffic fatality record is reaching alarming proportions.

The 12 people dead in the county is ahead of the normal trend, though by no tremendous margin. But the record of four of that number losing their lives inside the city limits is cause for community action.

If our memory serves us right, this is the worst traffic record we have ever experienced inside Big Spring.

Once we stretched the deathless days to two years within our city; now, with only eight months of the current year gone, we already have four dead.

Some of these were pedestrians who stepped unwittingly into the path of a car. The latest two were out-of-town visitors who perhaps were unfamiliar with the hazards of certain streets.

From the point of some drivers, perhaps these were unavoidable. Yet, it could be that better lighting, better marking of the especially dangerous crossings and intersections, the unobstructed view of traffic signs, the closer observance of all traffic regulations, the creation of a community spirit in building up and sustaining a chain of deathless days all would help to hold this grizzly record right where it is.

We can do better than we have been doing; we simply must do it. It's high time for action.

Slow Coming Or Absent?

School enrollment on the opening day fell far short of expectations. Officials had anticipated upwards of 7,000; instead slightly less than 6,700 put in their appearance.

The weekend figures doubtless will show some substantial increase, but the gap hardly will be closed. Likely an unusually large numer is holding back until after Labor Day before registering, as Supt. Sam Anderson suggested may be the case.

Falling sharply under anticipated numbers can be nearly as perplexing as having an unexpectedly large number show up the first day. However, the demands for teaching force and the program for the year are not decided in the first few days of school, but within the first few weeks of school.

The most puzzling part of the picture is that high school enrollment is far under that anticipated. Over 1,100 pre-registered, yet only 953 were enrolled the opening day. Here is practically all the difference between estimates and performance. Here also is one of the sensitive points of enrollment in the past, and it could be that a more penetrating analysis of the roll could be undertaken to make sure that the attendance laws are being observed. We always have had (for over-age, marriage, etc.) a considerable leakage in the high school, but the current margin shows promise of being much, much too large.

Take The Kids To 'Six Flags'

In a little tourism review last week, I observed that kids had taken the country.

Well, if you plan a visit to this new spectacle called "Six Flags Over Texas," then by all means do take the kids.

THERE SEEMS to be a little something there for everybody, but the show principally will be for the youngsters. "Six Flags" is an addition to that modern sort of money-getter called the "thematic park". This started with famed Disneyland, and a contribution called Freedomland operates near New York City. But Six Flags is distinctly Texas, which may make it bigger and better.

The attraction is located just off the toll road near Arlington, between Fort Worth and Dallas, and is easily accessible. There's plenty of parking, and enough people to give directions that even I didn't get lost.

AS IS indicated, the park is divided into six sections, each following a theme of the period when this commonwealth was under various rules. There are Spain (1519-1685), France (1685-1690), Mexico (1821-1836), Republic of Texas (1836-1845), Confederacy, (1861-65) and the United States, from 1865 on.

If there's any broad statement to be made about this amusement-educational project, it is that there is more amusement than education; that there are eating places spaced so closely that you never are out of reach of refreshment; and that every section has its own transportation feature.

THE KIDS —and adults, too, for that matter—will love the rides. Mexico has a gay fiesta train ride; Spain features a mule-back caravan supposedly as conquistadores traveled at one time; Texas sports a narrow gauge railroad; the Confederacy has the old stagecoach tour; in the French zone there's a river boat ride, replete with attacks from forts, and a sight of alligators. In the U. S. section there's a sports car track, plus the new "astrolift" a device that carries cabs over the whole park, in the manner of a ski-lift.

INCIDENTALLY, if you can't see enough of Six Flags in these modes of transportation, there's a separately-operated helicopter service just outside the gates that will give you the bird's-eye view.

There are too many separate attractions to list all of them here. I concluded on the day I visited the park that the major attraction is a periodical gunfight staged in the Texas section near the court of Judge Roy Bean, the storied "law west of the Pecos."

AT INTERVALS, the sheriff and his deputies haul in a hoss thief, who gets a fair trial before he is ordered to hang. But about that time his outlaw buddies enter to try to free him, and there's a real gunfight, mister. The good guys always win.

And then, occasionally, the lawmen get word that an ornery critter is coming in on the evenin' train. They stroll down to the depot to meet him, and there's a street battle right out of "High Noon." Bad guys go down again.

ANOTHER THING that grown folks will notice with appreciation at Six Flags: the attendants and employes almost without exception are bright young college boys and girls. They are spirited, courteous, friendly and wholesome. They set a tone for enjoyment. They help you get in the mood.

Six Flags will not appeal to everybody the same way. But if you can accumulate enough money, you ought to go and take the kids.

Britain's Way With Labor Disputes

WASHINGTON — In England this writer had an opportunity in recent days to discuss with top men in the field of labor-management relations the problem of avoiding strikes.

Great Britain has made considerable progress in this area by what might be called moral suasion instead of law. This is of particular interest to America, where in recent years one administration after another has been groping for such a solution.

NOT ALL is rosy in England, to be sure. At the moment, for instance, labor is protesting vociferously against the plans of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Selwyn Lloyd, to bring about what is called a wage "pause." This has thus far affected only the civil servants, whose wage increases have been halted because Mr. Lloyd, as head of the British Treasury, sees ahead some storms in the balance-of-payment problem. Mr. Lloyd also has proposed a national economic planning agency which, though not a part of the government, would be an independent body consisting of national representatives of the unions and the employers and probably himself. It would provide information and statistical data about the national economy to help it "to operate."

THE TRADES Union Congress — the national organization of British labor unions—has frowned on the plan because of a fear it will brush aside the existing informal but effective arbitration machinery.

In Great Britain, the settling of labor disputes involves a minimum of governmental intervention. While the procedures developed separately in each industry over the years differ widely, they share one approach—to bring the national interest to bear on local disputes as a way of reaching compromises. Approximately 2,000 disputes a year are settled at one stage or another by the procedures agreed upon by both sides. This approach began back in the 1890's and has been developing ever since.

IN THE engineering trades, for example, the procedures operate in three stages. If a dispute cannot be settled informally, a "works conference" is set up at the factory, with management on one side and the shop stewards representing the union on the other. The meeting may call in outside advice from the local employers' association and the district officials of the union.

If the two sides can't agree, either can demand the second stage of the negotiation—a conference which takes place, not in the local factory, but in one of the centers where the employers' association and the unions have their district offices. This is at the district level. At this stage, more than half the disputes sent up from the factory level have been settled.

But if no agreement is forthcoming, the dispute is taken up by the central conference, which meets on the second Friday of every month throughout the year. This is the highest level of negotiation in the engineering industry, and it is attended by members of the national bodies on both sides.

OTHER INDUSTRIES use similar procedures. The iron-and-steel industry, for instance, sends down to the local level national representatives of both management and labor. They work from the top down, but the effect is the same.

Other industries in Britain use governmental arbitration machinery, and others have no formal procedure.

But the thing to remember about British industrial relations is that agreements between management and labor on a national level do not have the legal status of a contract as in the United States. They are more or less in the form of "gentlemen's agreements." This is a weakness in the system, because it has led to a large number of wildcat strikes.

THE INFLUENCE of Communists inside labor unions in Europe is being felt more and more. Top officials of the labor unions deny that the Communists wield any such influence. Indeed, they point proudly to the fact that a relatively small number of workers are identified with the Communist party. But this is a naive approach. The Communists in Moscow have long been operating through only a handful of persons in many a national organization. These agents are responsible for stirring up all kinds of antagonisms and for agitating extreme positions.

COMMUNIST influence in labor unions is small in the Scandinavian countries, but it is growing in France and in Italy. It has played a part also in British trade union affairs, though the British are not willing to admit that it has caused any considerable damage. Recently, however, one of the largest unions, the electrical trades union, with 240,000 members, was suspended from the national organization —the Trades Union Congress—bedause many of its officers are Communists or are sympathetic with Communist aims. These officials could not possibly have been elected if the members had not been indifferent and failed to attend union meetings and vote.

There is no question but that Moscow has recognized clearly one of the weaknesses of the free world—its labor problems—and has gradually infiltrated in important unions, making disputes more and more difficult to settle. This is all the more reason why statesmanship is so necessary nowadays to bring about the settlement of labor management problems.

Tahitans Unworried About Democratic Way Of Life

By HOUSTON HARTE

PAPEETE, Tahiti — Some day this island is going to catch on. There are enough people on the U. S. West Coast to enable Tahiti to cut into the Hawaiian resort travel. You see some new building. Houses cost from $600 to $3,600, depending upon the materials used. Some are on stilts but most are built on a concrete slab. A sort of concrete is made from boulders gathered in the river beds and pulverized in a simple crushing machine. While it is not as good as the "Portland" variety, it makes a plaster and holds things together as well as keeping the rats out.

The typical $600 house is of about 1,000 to 1,200 square feet with a palm leaf roof that lasts seven to nine years. A few rafters hold up a frame upon which the sturdy woven strips of bamboo make a roof base strong enough to support the grass roof. The wide overhang of the roof gives protection from sun and rain. The windows in some of houses are larger and usually have some walls of glass. Through the open doors you can see the confortable native furniture made of woven grass over a bamboo frame.

IDEAL WEATHER

Tahiti is about 20 miles long and cover 600 square miles. This makes it about the size of Comal County. The rest of the islands of French Polynesia are about double the size of Tahiti. The climate seldom changes, remaining in the low 70s the year round. There are frequent light showers but heavy rains are rare. There is little humidity.

The Colonial Pacific franc, worth one and a tenth cents, is the official money. Paris appoints a governor for the whole Society Islands group. The population of the Society Islands is 80,000. Tahiti has almost half the population. Papeete claims 18,000. There are 20,000 Chinese in the Society group. The Chinese work hard, save their money, own most of the business and are the local bankers. They marry into the Polynesian families and become the leaders among the 45,000 natives.

There are approximately 15,000 Tahitians who claim some sort of French ancestry. Papeete's time is two hours behind Los Angeles and San Francisco.

RATS

Vanilla is the most profitable export of the island. Other exports are copra, phosphates, trinkets made of mother of pearl. Rats are one of the gifts of HRM Bounty and other European ships. There were no rats on Tahiti until these modern rodents skipped ship when they looked at the goodies on this island. Today they are a major pest. You can almost guess the purpose of the 10 to 12 inch bands of tin bound tight around the cocoa palms about a dozen feet above the ground. The rats in their zeal to get to the clusters of 25 to 40 coconuts at the top of the trees are stymied by this protection.

The French appear to be no better colonizers here than in the rest of the world. A half an hour on a Saturday night in Quinn's Tahiti Hut, where every beachcomber sooner or later shows up, is a reminder of the problems which face the West or as we say "the democracies." What can democracy mean and how can it be sold to those who have no interest in tomorrow? There is no interest in tomorrow? There is no thought of tomorrow at Quinn's. A hoarde of sloppy women of a half a dozen races and a room full of sweaty, unkempt men, the jungle beat of drums of hollow wood, an urge for more booze, is the picture Quinn's presents. It is a problem to statesmen and ordinary citizens.

NOTHING TO WORK FOR

Democracy as a theory, has little chance to compete with the easy promises of communism in an atmosphere of easy living. Quislings can be hired and Mr. Khrushchev may have something in his boast that he can plow us under in the lands where few have anything to work for let alone fight for. In a world of mere existence there is little urge to assume thankless leadership for the preservation of possessions or life.

On the other hand you can't help but be impressed with the gains the Mormon Church is making in these islands. Their new churches are models of seven day use. The sanctuary is but a part of them. The meeting room or recreational hall makes up the larger part of the structure. Here a new way of life is brought to these simple people. They are trained to use what they have in making for themselves better homes and a way toward a fuller life. The Mormons are too smart to try to change local custom. They use traditional habits to change local environment.

DANCE RECITAL

Take the hula as an example. A group of 30 young women, all dressed in white with red sashes or belts, a troupe of mothers, some 200 pounds and many toothless, a dozen fathers and then a dozen little girls from 4 to 8 or 9 years of age, put on a song and dance program of almost an hour in the Monterey lounge one afternoon. It was a superb show.

It opened with the singing of the Marseillaise, the French national anthem. Then came their local folk songs. The chorus sang several religious hymns such as "Lead Me Gentle Father." The little girls in grass skirts and some without the bra, came in to the music of the tom tom, and did the most beautiful and accomplished hula offered in Papeete.

The chorus, though seated, swayed with the little dancers. This was followed by the grandmothers. They swayed in their muumuus, waved their arms and hands and swayed on their feet just like the little hula dancers. The grandfathers joined them in the songs and the swaying. The little girls came back for a hula and finally the 4-year-olds did a solo dance. The performers and the crowd gave a rousing cheer at the finish. The little girl put her fingers over her eyes, not so tight she could not see through them. The hula is a way of life with these people and the Mormon church has used it to get a hold on them. It is performing a service for all of us.

A French admiral landed on the new air strip the first day we were in Papeete. An admiral is not too important a figure in any land, but all roads to the airport were closed before his plane landed and until he and his escort had been driven to his quarters at the army headquarters. This may have increased the admiral's ego, but it is doubtful if it helped good government in Tahiti or love for the French.

The Gallup Poll

Confidence In U.N. Remains High

PRINCETON, N. J.—Public confidence in the United Nation's ability to handle "cold war" problems such as Berlin remains high in most major Western nations.

As attempts are made to take the Berlin crisis to the U.N. forum, nationwide Gallup Polls in the U. S., Great Britain, Western Germany, and France show the following facts about the attitude of the people of these nations about the U.N.:

IN THE UNITED States—which along with Great Britain has taken the lead in proposing a U.N. discussion of the Berlin problem—eight out of ten persons interviewed hold a favorable opinion about the U.N.'s ability to handle the problems it has to face.

This is the question asked of representative samples of persons in each nation:

"In general, do you think the United Nations organization is doing a good job, or a poor job in trying to solve the problems it has to face?"

The U. S. vote:

CONFIDENCE IN U.N.
—U.S.A.—

	Per cent
Doing good or fair job	79
Doing poor job	11
No opinion	10

In Great Britain, the U.N. gets a confidence rating not far below that given by Americans.

The vote in Great Britain:

CONFIDENCE IN U.N.
—Gr. Brit.—

	Per cent
Doing good or fair job	70
Doing poor job	16
No opinion	4

In West Germany—where the Berlin crisis could have its most direct repercussions—the favorable rating of the U.N. falls somewhat below that recorded in the U.S. and Great Britain. A substantial minority of West Germans, however, indicate uncertainty about the kind of job they think the world body is doing.

CONFIDENCE IN U.N.
—W. Ger.—

	Per cent
Doing good or fair job	63
Doing poor job	9
No opinion	28

In France — a country whose leaders have criticized the U.N. and expressed reluctance to negotiate over Berlin at this time—opinion is more evenly divided on the performance of the United Nations.

The vote in France:

CONFIDENCE IN U.N.
—France—

	Per cent
Doing good or fair job	39
Doing poor job	33

Marquis Childs

Fateful Decision On Berlin

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON — For the West, for America and for President Kennedy the hour of real crisis over Berlin is at last approaching. This is the hour when we take the fateful course of accepting negotiations with the man who alone caused it all, Nikita Khrushchev.

IT IS NOT possible to deny that the position in beleaguered Berlin offers the endless possibility of war, and that something to ease the strain is deeply needed. But it is also not possible to deny that this Western decision to take the initiative toward negotiation carries with it a clear and desperate danger that appeasement of international communism may be the ultimate consequence.

Khrushchev has given many fair words of late to Western visitors while he again tries to picture himself as just a pretty reasonable old fellow, a kind of well-meaning Foxy Grandpa. But on the substance of the great issue over Berlin he has not given a single inch of ground. His kind of negotiation still presumes what it did in the beginning—that what is his will remain his but that what is rightfully the West's will now be open to bargaining.

IN THIS situation the West is damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. It risks war against an irresponsible adversary if it does not negotiate. And it risks the beginning of the end of Western solidity and determination in Europe when it does negotiate.

No one who is only a commentator—or a Senator, either, for that matter—is wise enough to say for certain that Mr. Kennedy's conclusion to negotiate is the wrong decision.

Moreover, those who will easily denounce this course should remember one thing: It is easier to talk of "tough" lines, of yielding no concession whatever, the farther one is removed from that place of awesome responsibility which is held by the leaders of the West.

BUT, EQUALLY, no one at all—not even the Western leaders themselves—is able to say with certainty that this agreement among the West to go to Khrushchev is either wise or right. It may well convince him—and this is a crucial point—that we are not willing to fight in any circumstances. It may well convince him, as Hitler was convinced a decade and more ago, that he has only to go on demanding and that we will retreat and retreat again.

What this correspondent is saying, as one observer here, is that he does not even pretend to know exactly what ought to be done and when and how. He does believe, however, that at least some things are entirely plain. Surely, we ought at minimum to find ways of restating in the strongest possible way that there will be a point at which we will fight, if fight we must.

SURELY, ALL Americans—or rather some Americans—ought to stop acting as though this were just a dispute between two more or less equal antagonists. This is not a case in which there are wrongs on both sides. There is in simple fact no wrong on our side, and there is no right on Khrushchev's side.

It was not the West which opened this threat to all mankind over Berlin; it was Khrushchev. It is not the West which is trying to destroy anybody's rights; it is Khrushchev. And in allowing itself to be in the position of seeking negotiations at this stage, the West's motivating force will not be seen as weakness—so long as we don't give away what cannot honorably ever be given away. This is the right of the West to stay in Berlin and to maintain full access to it.

THIS IS the whole nature of the twilight tour which now draws near, along with autumn, in Washington: we have the world firmly to save, whatever the cost, or meanly to lose, whatever the motive.

Perspiration Problem A Common One

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can anything be done for my 16-year-old son who perspires very freely? His shirts are stained under the arms and he seems very conscious of this. He is a happy and well-behaved boy.—M. R."

First: The degree of perspiration varies considerably from one person to another.

Second: Heavy perspiration of this sort is most often seen in individuals who are apt to be self-conscious, apprehensive, or nervous.

Third: Adolescence, with its nervousness and apprehensions, may have something to do with all of this—which is reasonable.

Fourth: Suggest shaving the area under the arms; and also using any of the "anti-perspirant" sprays or sticks or lotions (25 per cent aluminum sulfate is very good). These are on the market in profusion. Why? Simply because so many people have this problem. I hope your son gathers the idea that he's not suffering alone. He has lots of company.

Fifth: Ordinary baking soda daubed on the area may help a bit. I hope the young man doesn't get the idea that there's any simple, complete, sure-fire solution to this problem. If he'll be content to keep it under control, instead of hoping for some "magic" that will remove the problem entirely, he'll be much happier.

Sixth: As he grows older, he'll probably find that the problem is less prounounced.

Seventh: Frequent washing of the area, whether by shower, or bath, or just some soap and water and a wash cloth, will help. It won't reduce the total amount of perspiration, or anyway to any great degree, but it definitely will help.

With some improvement your son will worry less—and as he worries less, the perspiration will decline.

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 12 years old and have started menstruating. On my first day I avoid strenuous exercise, but I still get violent cramps. Will I ever outgrow these? My mother is hard to confide in so please give me some response.—B. W."

I'm four times as old as you are and you may not believe me, but it's true that parents are just as nervous as are children when it comes to "confiding." Parents don't like to start things for fear of upsetting their children, so they wait for questions. They're quite relieved if the youngsters will ask for information when they (dozen years, and you'll realize I'm right. Try just blurting out whatever you want to ask about, and see if your mother isn't glad you did. (And you will be too.)

To answer your question: First, contrary to your belief, exericse helps to reduce menstrual discomfort, so don't try to avoid strenuous exercise. Second, many do outgrow these cramps, but very gradually. Third, several of the modern medicines can do quite a lot to relieve these cramps, so I suggest that you tell your mother, "I keep having cramps at that time of the month, so will you send me to our doctor? Dr. Molner says that it's possible to relieve them."

"Vitamin starvation" is possible even if you eat a lot. In order to check your diet to make sure you are getting necessary nourishment, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of his pamphlet, "Vitamins—The Alphabet of Health." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

Proof In The Running

ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Sturtevant Smith, 61, ran and walked 1,000 miles around the YMCA track here during—the first six months of 1961 to prove to scoffers that he could do it.

"I thought my feet would break down," he said, "but they didn't."

Family Find

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Ernest Gomez left a wallet containing $55 in a rest room at a Walsenburg filling station, but she got back every penny.

Fifteen minutes after she left the place, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Vigil of Denver, found the billfold. The two families happened to make holiday trips on the same day in the same southern Colorado area.

Gripes Aplenty

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — There were plenty of gripes recently when a political candidate's "gripemobile" rolled into town.

But instead of soliciting gripes about the present city administration, the complaints were directed at the "gripemobile"—too noisy.

When a patrolman appeared to restore order, he had a gripe, too. The driver of the vehicle couldn't produce a driver's license. He was given a summons for operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Her 17th Child

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Eddie Everett, 36, recently gave birth to a son. It was her 17th child.

RUNNELS

Start Of School Brings Full Schedule For Band

By CANDY BACUS

I hope all of you had a very nice summer!

Here it is Sunday with already two school days behind us. I hope the coming year will be as pleasant as the first two days of school. The exact enrollment at this time is 743 students in Runnels Junior High. Registration was on August 25, 26, and 27.

Runnels has six new teachers this year. They are: David Smith, seventh grade math; Mrs. Mary Jo Hill, seventh grade reading; Mrs. Georgia Bernd, girls physical education; Joe Ed Bearden, eighth grade math, Mrs. Betty Conley, home economics; Lawrence Baker, World History. Welcome to these new teachers. I hope you enjoy teaching at Runnels.

Seventh and eighth grade students will have their school pictures taken September 7 and 8. These pictures are the ones which will be in the annual. Mrs. Johnson is the EL PALOMAR sponsor and Sara King is the editor.

Thirty one advanced band members attended band school held during June and August. It was under the direction of Douglas Wiebe, Bill Jones and L. E. Burchfiel. The students really enjoyed it. The beginners will be listed next week.

In August, 90 students from Runnels participated in the Driver's Education program under the direction of Dan Bustamunte and Truett Newell.

Tryouts for Runnels Drum Major were held August 17, 1961. Each person who tried out marched in front of a squad made up of fifteen advanced marching students. Everyone did a very good job, but Kathy Seddon, drum major last year, came out on top again. Hollis Webb Jr. is Captain of the band. Hollis and Kathy will work as a team. Congratulations to you both! Judging the try - outs were Eric Brewster, high school drum major, Mike Bishop, National Twirling Champion, and L. E. Burchfiel, Runnels band director. Those who tried out for these positions were Tracy Faulks, Tommy Lane, and William Perkins.

Try - outs for Runnels' majorettes will be held next Thursday at 6 p.m. Those trying out include Brenda Reid, Martha Palmer, Lynn Christensen and Sandra Winterbauer. Good luck, girls!

All Runnels students and teachers attended an assembly held in the gym Thursday morning. Johnny Hughes, chairman of the student council, welcomed the students back to school. Roscoe Newell, principal, discussed the rules and regulations of the school for the coming year.

Next Thursday, September 7, the Yearlings will play Sweetwater. This is their first game of the season.

I hope everyone is enjoying the Labor Day holiday. See you next week.

Registration Begins At Junior College

By LYN CLAWSON

The fall semester at Howard County Junior College gets under way next Wednesday at 10 a.m. with a General Faculty Meeting. The faculty will participate in work conferences for the remainder of the week.

The faculty at HCJC has three new members. Kenneth Roach is the Librarian. Martin Landers will teach speech, and Miss Movelda Rhine business.

Approximately 100 freshmen have already registered. According to B. M. Keese, registrar, freshmen should register early in order that they may be counciled with individually. It is not necessary for sophomores to register early. Several classes have already been closed.

Dean Ben Johnson stated that several opening activities are being planned for students to get acquainted. He expects a good enrollment.

Judy McCrary's home was the scene of a "Getting Rid Of" party Saturday night. About 40 students who were freshmen at HCJC last year attended the wiener roast and swim party. This was for those students who are not going to attend HCJC this year. Mrs. Elizabeth Martin sponsored the group.

According to Mack Green, editor of the annual, the annual staff is further along with their sale of ads than it has ever been at this time. The staff is in the process of designing and planning the book. There are several positions on the staff which are vacant. Applications for these will be taken at the beginning of school. J. T. Clements is the faculty advisor for the group. Members of the staff are Kay Crownover, Judy Foster, Janie Harrington, Don Gregory, Jerry Kincaid, Paul Foster and Randy Cole.

BSHS

BSHS Students Launch Term With Howdy Week

By MARILYN GUM

"Back to the salt mines," seems to be the motto of students at BSHS as they trudged wearily back to class Thursday morning.

Everyone was seen wearing a name card to school last week. These get acquainted cards were furnished by the student council. Climaxing "Howdy Week" will be a box suppr to be eaten on the patio Saturday, September 9, at 7 p.m. Pink Elephant bingo and music for a social will add to the entertainment.

The Quarterback Club hosted a barbecue honoring the Big Spring High School Steers Thursday evening in the Amphitheater. Slight showers didn't discourage loyal boosters of the local gridders. Coach Emmett McKenzie introduced the team and their dates. Our vivacious cheerleaders gave a sample of their never ending talent by leading two yells. Well known Jack Cox of Breckenridge addressed the crowd using as his main thought, "The game of football is similar to the game of life."

Katherine Hepner, editor of the El Rodeo, announced that junior and sophomore pictures will be made September 11-15. Students will have their pictures made during their P.E. and study hall period. A definite schedule is to be posted this week.

BSHS has a host of new teachers for this school term. Twenty-two new teachers will be teaching on the campus. Wayne Bonner, new in the capacity of counselor, was previously a coach and history teacher. Mrs. Marion Cauley is to assist the office staff as receptionist.

John Smith, principal of BSHS, appointed the following teachers to serve as temporary chairmen of each class: Mrs. George Rice — senior class, Lewis Maneely—junior class, Miss Colleen Slaughter — sophomore class. These teachers will meet with class sponsors to help select a permanent chairman of each class. Class sponsors help to coordinate extra-curricular activities for students. Senior class sponsors are Mrs. Nannie Bunch, Richard Cook, G. T. Guthrie, Harry Jordan, Miss Helen Lidstone, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. Mary Morgan, Truett Newell, John Peebles, Mrs. George Rice, Donald Robbins, Mrs. Betty Taylor, Mrs. Berniece Thompson, Mrs. Gale Westberg, Doug Whitley, and Ellsworth Winden. Serving as junior class sponsors will be Roy Baird, Eric Burns, Miss Cynthia Cochran, Wilbur Cunningham, Mrs. Pat Drake, Leon Fuller, Jerry Kelly, Robert Kelly, Lewis Maneely, Miss Ione McAlister, Robert Moore, Delnor Poss, Joseph Sibley, Miss Janice Spaeth, Mrs. L. H. Steward, Mrs. Mary Breckenridge. Aiding the sophomore class are Mrs. Virginia Baker, Lewis Blewett, Mrs. Frank Brandon, Mrs. Doyle Bynum, John Castleman, Carroll Green, Donald Lawrence, Miss Enda McGregor, W. L. Cardwell, George Rice, Miss Colleen Slaughter, Truett Vines, Mrs. Rita Weeg, and Gerald Wilson.

The first assembly of the 1961-1962 school term will be held Tuesday morning at the beginning of second period. Officers and representatives of the student council are to be introduced along with cheerleaders. Katherine Hepner, a representative of the council, will address the student body.

Student council committees were set up at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Don Green, sponsor, Monday afternoon. Serving on the social committee are Judy Engle, Brenda Cowper, Robert Goodlett. Ways and Means committee is made up of Ronnie Crownover, chairman, Judy Jones, and Baxter Moore. Dick Ebling will be in charge of issuing activity cards. Taking the responsibility of school voting will be Joan Jordan, chairman, with De Roby Gartman assisting. Serving as historian will be Katherine Hepner. Nancy Moore and Larry Jones are in charge of the monthly calendars appearing in the foyer. Keeping up with the lost and found will be Freddie White, chairman, and Ricky Wisener. The social and the ways and means committees are to meet Tuesday afternoon during the activity period so that they might plan the calendar of activities for the ensuing year.

October 19-21 has been slated for Homecoming. Plans are being made for this special occasion. Overseeing the different events are Karen Kee—Bonfire; Pat Armstrong — Field; Jimmy Hinds—Music; Marilyn Gum — Awards; Kathy Johnson—Parade; Dick Ebling—Assembly; Tommy Gentry—Publicity; Deane Mansfield — Dance, Decorations; Gil Jones—Information; and Gayle Bratcher—Donations.

840 Register At Goliad JH

By KATY COCHRAN

Over 840 Goliad students were greeted by S. A. Walker, principal, and the faculty Thursday when an assembly was held in the gym. Rules were discussed and schedule changes planned. I would like to welcome all new and seventh grade students to Goliad.

Fourteen new teachers were introduced at the assembly. They are: Lee Freeze, councilor, Royce Mullins, Jon Adams, Mrs. Lucille Brakaw, Miss Diane Daniels, Joe Dawes, Mrs. Kay Koone, Milvern Ivie, and Mrs. R. C. Dotson. Others include Mrs. Dan Shockey, Mrs. Donald Paye, Mrs. Caral Ritchie, Mrs. Shirley McDaniels, and Mrs. Irene Wiley.

Everyone was curious to see the six new classrooms. These are portable units added during the summer. The furniture has not arrived but will be in by the middle of this month.

Plans are being made for the first pep rally which is to be held next Thursday. The Mavericks meet Lamar of Snyder Thursday in the old stadium while the eighth grade team travels to Snyder to play the Lamar eighth grade there.

Class Officers Named At FG

By LAWANA FROMAN

Flower Grove students spent last week getting back into the groove and organizing their classes. They are under the leadership of a new superintendent, J. L. Newbury. The school has added one new teacher this year —Mr. Barnett, who teaches agriculture.

The senior class is composed of 12 members and sponsored by S. B. Levely. Class officers are Jerry Webb, president, Ronnie Deatherage, vice president, and Josie Landers, secretary - treasurer and reporter. The seniors have one new class member — Connie Farington from Stanton.

Sponsoring the junior class of 14 members is Mrs. Robert Waldrop. Glynn Caughman will act as junior president this year. He will be assisted by Beaver Ramsey, vice president, Betty Langston, secretary, Lee Roman, treasurer, and Carole Wade, reporter.

The sophomore class, sponsored by Mr. Barnett, has one new student, Richard Callero. Class officers are Veneta Oaks, president Richard Caballero. Class of president; Martha Carmichael, secretary - treasurer; Keith Howard, reporter.

Jimmy Blanton, freshman class sponsor, finds his work cut out for him in assisting the freshmen as they learn the ropes of the high school. They elected Bobby Deatherage president, Mike Roman vice president, Naomi Caughman secretary - treasurer, and Becky Haggard reporter. Mike Roman and Becky Haggard from Grady joined the class this year.

Sands Mustangs Travel To Ropes

By MONA RUSSELL

Sands High School got off to a good start this past week as 100 students registered early in the week.

The Sands Mustangs and pep club traveled to Ropes Friday night for the first game of the season. The new football coach is Joe Youngblood from Abilene. Assisting him and coaching basketball will be Vern Laws from Union and Arlen White who will assist with football and coaching in the junior high school.

Cheerleaders for this season are: Linda Fowler, head cheerleader, Linda Bristow and Virginia Richter; majorettes are Zelda Bodine, head twirler, Brenda and Kay Wallace; Phyllis Carrol, Charlotte Godwin and Joyce Merrick are drummers.

Downtown Ackerly was the scene of the first pep rally of the year Thursday night. Following this, refreshments were served at the school building.

Coahoma Fish Choose Leaders

By LINDA THOMAS

Coahoma High School got back into the swing of things with registration beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Registration showed that Coahoma school system has fifteen new students and seven new teachers. The two new teachers in the high school are Miss Janie Tucker, English and Spanish, and Lael Roberts, math and science.

The freshman class elected their officers for the year Wednesday. Elected were Travis Reid, president, Leitha Mason, vice president, Sherilyn Robinson, secretary, and Shana Fryar, treasurer. Student Council Representative is Jean Newman.

Due to the resignation of Kay Porter as secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class, Linda Thomas and Bessie West were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

It was apparent Wednesday afternoon that the cheerleaders had spent many hours practicing when they taught the student body several new yells that they had learned during the summer. As a money making project, the cheerleaders will be selling ribbons throughout football season. Profits from the sale of these will help finance a trip to cheerleading school next summer for next year's cheerleaders. These ribbons will promote school spirit and support the Bulldogs as well as help the cheerleaders. Everyone is urged to buy them.

Spirit seemed to be high at the first pep rally of the season Friday afternoon. The Coahoma Bulldogs played the Hermleigh Cardinals Friday night.

Building Project Begins At Stanton High School

By MARSHA BRISTOW

Hello! This is the first news flash from Stanton High School for this year, and I hope that you will enjoy hearing about the things we do at SHS. I also hope that you will read the Megaphone each week to keep up with the happenings in this surrounding area.

Classes started Monday, and we are well on our way to a new and exciting year at SHS. We have several changes this year. One of the most important ones is our new principal, Mr. Johnson. He has been so busy working this week that some of us haven't had a chance to talk to him, but we really appreciate all of the things he is trying to do. Our other new teachers are Mrs. T. R. Louder, Mr. Harrell, Mr. Baker, and Coach Stringer. We are also happy to welcome back our teachers from last year, and they are Mrs. King, Coaches Dauphine and Lewis, Mr. Stephenson, Mrs. Pruitt, Mrs. Schwalbe, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Wood, and Mr. Young. Of course, we couldn't leave out our superintendent Mr. Hayes. We think a lot of these people who do so much for us during the year.

For the next few weeks I thought it would be nice to recognize our new students in each class. Our new seniors are Doris Green and Ronny Dean. Doris moved here from Big Spring and Ronny moved here from Oklahoma. Welcome to SHS!

Besides our new students and teachers, SHS is very proud to have a building project under way. We are getting a new auditorium and band hall. It is supposed to be ready around the first of the year, and we are really excited. We also already have a new concession stand and we have gotten a new lighting system. Last year we only had 32 football lights and now we will have 90. We would like to thank all of the townspeople who voted the bonds so that we could have all of these improvements.

Tuesday morning the classes met and got organized. They elected officers, and the new slate looks like this:

Seniors: President, Sammy Webb; vice president, Herby Sorley; secretary, Dorothy Lawson; treasurer, Steve Springer; Sergeant at arms, Mike Black; reporter, Sandra Kelly.

Juniors: President, Ted Stewart; vice president, Bob Stephenson; secretary, Joanna Epley; treasurer, Kay Bryan; reporter, Nancy Robnett; sergeant at arms, Mack Mathes.

Sophomores: President, Rodney Payne; vice president, Ronny McReynolds; secretary, Ronny Driggers; treasurer, Donny Polson; reporter, Rodger Boyce; social chairman, Brenda Bryant.

Freshmen: President, Carroll Anderson; vice president, Johnny Swanson; secretary - treasurer, Carolyn Springer; reporter, Mary Wilson.

This year under the direction of Mr. Johnson, SHS will again have an organized pep squad. Our cheerleaders, Cheryl McArthur, Brenda George, Marilyn Sale, John Rhodes, and Mary Beth Glaspie, met with the new pep squad Wednesday. Their uniforms will consist of red wool knee-ticklers, white blouses or sweaters, and white gloves. The new squad wasn't ready for our first game with Merkel, but they will be ready for the other games.

Greenhands Name Officers

The Greenhand Chapter of the Garden City Future Ranchers of America has elected officers for the coming year, W. C. Kountz, advisor for the group, said.

Walter Lowe Jr. was elected president of the chapter and Dale Thompson was voted vice president. Other officers are Wayne Smith, secretary; John Cypert, treasurer; Dennis Seidenberger, reporter, and Baylor Pruett, sentinel.

To qualify for the Greenhand Chapter, freshmen students must be taking Vocational Agriculture and must have a satisfactory supervised farm project, according to Kountz. Most boys are raising lamb and pigs this year.

Preliminary plans were made for activities of the coming year. A donkey basketball game was set for later in the year and a donkey baseball game for next spring.

Texas Air Tour To Skip Past Big Spring This Year

By M. A. WEBB

Private flyers have a lot of activity in which they may take part in the next few weeks. A couple of fly-ins and the annual All Texas Air Tour are coming up.

First on the list is the Labor Day Fly-in at the Winkler County Airport beginning at 7 a.m. Monday. A free breakfast will be served to those flying in. Contests will be held in sky-diving, spot landing, acrobatics, and aircraft display. Prizes will be awarded. The fly-in is for all interested in the activities of the day.

* * *

The next one will be the fly-in at Carlsbad, N. M., for breakfast and contests on Sunday, Sept. 10. The spot landing contest will be on initial approach only. The fee will be $1 per person.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the oldest pilot, the pilot coming the most air miles to attend, and the youngest pilot from out of town. Sky-divers will be on hand.

The fly-in starts at 6 a.m. and those attending are invited to spend the day and to visit the Carlsbad Caverns National Park. Transportation will be available to the caverns. The Carlsbad Municipal Airport will be the scene of activities sponsored by the Carlsbad CAP Squadron and the Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

Biggest of all will be the annual All-Texas Air Tour Oct. 7 through 14. This event, which usually attracts pilots from all over the United States and some from Mexico, is sponsored jointly by Texas State Aviation Association, Texas Private Flyers Association, Texas Flying Farmers, Texas Ninety-Nines, and Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol. The coordinating agency is the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

The flight will leave Temple Saturday, Oct. 7, and will end at Austin the following Saturday, after stops at 33 other airports. The schedule follows, with the last city listed each day being an overnight stop:

Oct. 7: Temple to San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and Harlingen.

Oct. 8: Harlingen to Brownsville, McAllen, Laredo, Fort Clark, Del Rio, and Sonora.

Oct. 9: Sonora to Big Lake, Andrews, and Carlsbad, N. M.

Oct. 10: Carlsbad to Littlefield, Hereford, Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview.

Oct. 11: Plainview to Quanah, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Saginaw and Denton.

Oct. 12: Denton to Sulphur Springs, Flying Fish Lodge, Tyler, Crockett and Lufkin.

Oct. 13: Lufkin to Woodville, Beaumont, Baytown and Galveston.

Oct. 14: Galveston to Eagle Lake, San Marcos and Austin.

* * *

Business has continued to hold up well at the Howard County Airport for the last week. Ted McClung, manager, says the work to be done at the airport on paving the island and putting in run-up pads will be a big boost to heavier aircraft, and will speed up the activity all around.

Schools Mark New Milepost

The Big Spring Independent School District closed out its books for the fiscal year Thursday, and in so doing established another milepost.

The district became the first local agency to collect more than a million dollars in a single year.

Records in the tax office show collections of $1,005,072.14, said J. O. Hagood, assessor-collector.

Of this amount, $965,999.11 was in current taxes, including $766,718.37 in local maintenance (operation) funds, $170,499.20 in interest and sinking (debt service) funds. Discounts allowed for early payment stood at $16,323.46, and miscellaneous fees and penalties aggregated $2,681.50.

Added to the current collections was the sum of $38,849.53 in delinquent taxes, said Hagood.

The Howard County tax office annually handles more collections than this, but the total is for county, state, junior college and for some smaller school districts.

"Surely HE went to Heaven!"

"If anybody ever went to heaven, he did!" You've heard that statement again and again; perhaps at the grave of a faithful public servant; perhaps at the funeral of the kindly corner grocer.

The appalling thing about that statement is the reason many people give for making it. He must have gone to heaven, they say, because he was a wonderful man, he was good to his family, he was a lover of children, he always had a friendly word for you when you passed his house.

Now, these are admirable traits in any man; but they can never be given as reasons for his having gone to heaven.

The Bible is clear on many things. But it is never clearer than when it insists that no man will ever get to heaven by being good to his family or by having a friendly word for his neighbors. "By the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified in His sight." Romans 3:20.

Whether or not a man gets to heaven depends, not primarily on what he does, but on what he believes. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Acts 16:31. "He that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16:16.

Strange as it may seem, one of the few men in history of whom we can say with absolute certainty "if anybody ever went to heaven, he did," was the criminal who was crucified with Christ. And he went to heaven, not because he was a good man, but because he found salvation in the Son of God. —Have you?

War Story, A Few Oldies Make Good Movie Week

One good new movie, plus a few returning films, spell out a good movie week for Big Spring.

"Guns of Navarone," through Thursday at the Ritz, is one of the finer war dramas, according to reports from critics in other cities in which the picture already has shown.

The story was taken from the novel by Alistair MacLean, and centers about a small but brutal incident during World War II. A group of commando types is given the suicidal mission of knocking out a series of Nazi gun emplacements by infiltration, grenading, and other ranger tactics. The Kraut positions are invulnerable to the more conventional and usually more powerful weapons of modern war (as it was fought 15 years ago), and Allied commanders have decreed that the guns must go.

The story takes place in Greece, and Greek partisans join in the deadly mission. Roles are essayed by some of Hollywood's top stars, including Gregory Peck, David Niven, Anthony Quinn; plus Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle, Irene Papas, Gia Scala and James Darren.

An added attraction is the music. Mitch Miller and his Sing Along Chorus sing the title song.

Big city critics advise viewers to see the films from the beginning. It's usually advisable where a really good motion picture is concerned.

Director Lee J. Thompson has used the buildup technique, in which various dramatic factors are piled one on top of another until the viewer begins to feel that the protagonists he is watching have had more than the human system can take.

There are shipwrecks during storms at sea, in which the commandos are dangerously dunked, but crawl out shivering. There are slippery mountain faces to be scaled, sharp rocks to leave one's blood and pieces of skin on, treachery which threatens death to all, plus other assorted perils. Then, after the obstacles of man and nature have been overcome, there still is the problem of how a handful of commandos are to destroy the well - entrenched, heavily guarded guns.

MacMURRAY & OLSON
One of the things he forgot

The action, drama and suspense continue building up steadily and inexorably until the smashing climax, according to the critics.

Tops among the returnees is "The Absent Minded Professor," one of Walt Disney's live-action comedies.

Star Fred MacMurray, six-foot-three veteran of the screen's romantic-comedy field, branches out into the terpsichorean sphere previously adjudged to be the exclusive realm of such stars as Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly. Mac Murray's special brand of "way out" dancing is to be seen as one of the hilarious sequences of "The Absent Minded Professor."

MacMurray, as Professor Ned Brainard in the story that spoofs modern technology, discovers an incredible anti-gravity substance which he calls "Flubber." With the use of this highly secret formula on such things as shoes, one can fly through the air with all the speed and grace of an antelope.

The good professor applies a bit of the miracle-working compound to his dancing shoes and becomes the hit of the year at the big college prom, just one of the many highlight episodes prompting gales of laughter in the wacky new comedy.

Nancy Olson is his co-star (and dancing partner).

Ned Wynn, 19-year-old son of actor Keenan Wynn, teams with his dad and his grandfather, Ed Wynn, for their movie debut together in "The Absent-Minded Professor."

Ned plays a dance-mad college boy in Disney's story about a science teacher whose fantastic chemical discovery causes a national crisis.

He is the fourth generation of his family to follow the acting trade. His great-grandfather was Frank Keenan, stage and silent screen star.

Those hilarious cops from Walt Disney's "The Shaggy Dog" are up to their old tricks again."

In the persons of James Westerfield and Forrest Lewis, they bring more mirth to "The Absent-Minded Professor."

The riotous cops are well-known scene-stealers to MacMurry and co-star Tommy Kirk, having appeared with them in the previous Disney funfest, "Shaggy."

In their new roles again as frustrated policemen, the comedians behind the badges raise havoc just to bring unrestrained laughter to audiences. They spoil at least a dozen uniforms and wreck four police cars for some of their madcap scenes.

Nineteen star athletes appear in sports sequences of "The Absent-Minded Professor."

Eleven football players headed by the mighty McKeever twins, Mike and Marlin, of USC are featured. Mike McKeever completed his role just prior to an unfortunate gridiron accident.

Eight stellar basketball players also featured include USC's Gordon Martin and Mike Fryer, and UCLA's Carroll Adams who is currently a coach at a Southern California high school.

Bob Kopf, popular assistant coach at the University of Southern California, served as technical advisor on the hilarious basketball sequences.

Disney had to break the sound barrier before he could break the gravity barrier for his wacky comedy. It took a year to find the right sound for "flubber," the anti-gravity substance featured in the comedy.

"Flubber defies gravity; its sound defies description," says associate producer Bill Walsh, who also wrote the script. "In a word, the sound of flubber was produced by several secret thicknesses of laminated plastic cut in triangular form and agitated in a peculiar manner on a variable tape recorder."

"In our quest for this unique sound we tried oscillators, theramins, and all kinds of strange electronic equipment. Flubber not only had to emit a new sound, but one with charm and a soaring, spiritual quality.

"We rubbed everything together that we could rub together, or play backward, forward, or sideways at all possible speeds. We tried two or three thousand sonic effects. It took a year to find the perfect sound, about as long as it took to cast Scarlett O'Hara."

The western theme among the new arrivals is taken care of by "Posse From Hell," starring Audie Murphy and John Saxon. It's too bad Audie got stuck with a long series of western roles; being World War II's most decorated soldier, he was a natural for the war roles usually reserved for such men as Gregory Peck (he's in a rut, too).

However, maybe Hollywood is not to blame entirely; it took the Army a long time to find the soldierly qualities of the pint-sized, baby-faced Irishman from Texas.

* * *

"Homicidal" leads off the week at the State, starring Patricia Breslier. From all indications, it looks like a poor man's "Psycho."

* * *

Another returnee is "Pepe," in which Mexican actor Cantinflas shows his stuff for American audiences. He was seen only once before in the U. S., in Mike Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days," and the producers apparently tried to cash in on Todd's name-dropping technique by inserting all sorts of famous people without any help to the plot.

Also, the plot itself is rather old.

Nevertheless, the picture comes out on top, mostly through the stellar acting of Cantinflas. It's an awful big load for such small shoulders but, in the world of dramatic art, those shoulders are awful big.

* * *

Rounding out the more worthy films are two of the Western variety (more or less), on a double bill at the Sahara.

"The Magnificent Seven" hides Yul Brynner's bald head under a Stetson for the first time, in a hair-raising yarn about a Mexican village whose inhabitants hire a small band of gunfighters to beat off some bothersome bandidos.

The theme of the film is courage; it is based on a Japanese Samurai movie with the same theme. As it turns out, the nervous peasants are shown to be basically braver than the gunfighters.

Some of Japan's art has, miraculously, rubbed off on "The Magnificent Seven." And "The Sundowners," which is the double-bill, also verges on the artistic.

THERE IS A RIVER. By Richard Vaughan. Dutton. $3.50.

An imaginative boy often finds life's shattering experiences to be more painful than they would be for a more prosaic individual. But conversely, the boy with imagination reaps more joy and beauty than his fellows.

Such was the case with Vaughan, who recalls in these pages his life from 6 to 16 in South Wales. He has a remarkable talent for remembering how the world looked to young eyes.

He got his imagination and sensitivity from his mother, and between them there was a stronger bond than with his other relatives, a rugged race of stoical mountaineers, who nonetheless loved to sing.

There are moving passages here about a small boy's heartbreak at leaving a farm he loved so well; the death of a wise and kindly schoolmaster; an uncle's story of a wild race over the mountain; the gripping tension of the search for a lost boy; and the excitement of a Welsh song festival.

For the first few pages, the reader may have some difficulty with Welsh names and expressions, but once he gets the swing of it there is a rewardingly rich narrative. Vaughan's style is very graphic, at times a little too elliptical for absolute clarity, but marked by strong imagery. This book is off the beaten path. But it moves through some very engaging mountains, literally and figuratively.

Halfords Find Another Snake

Hoyt Halford Jr. got the thrill of a lifetime Thursday evening—the kind you had just as soon do without.

He went to the workshop area in the garage at the Halford home, 101 N. Cottonwood in Lakeview Addition, to get a lawn mower.

Suddenly he froze at the sound of the unmistakeable rattling of a diamond - back snake. He spotted the creature almost at his feet, then gingerly removed himself. His father, hearing the commotion, got a gun and killed the rattler — a 4-foot specimen with four rattlers. This was the second episode with rattlers recently for the Halfords, for Mrs. Halford found one in a neighbor's yard. A couple of years ago they had a rattler come up in the same garage.
