At Snyder, Ira...

Homecoming activities are underway

Homecoming 2000 is here and Snyder High School is set to host Abilene Wylie in the homecoming football game at 7:30 this evening.

Both teams are undefeated this season and it will be the Tigers' last tune-up before district play starts in two weeks. The Tigers do not play this coming Friday.

Prior to this evening's football game, the junior high choir will host a hamburger supper from 5 to 7 p.m. in the SHS cafeteria. Tickets are $5.

Tickets can be purchased today from any choir member or purchased at the door at the SHS cafeteria.

The homecoming queen will be crowned at halftime of the ballgame and candidates are Claire Cotton, T'Leah Eicke, Whitney Graham, Tara Price and Brooke Williams.

Ira High School's homecoming is also today as the Bulldogs will host the Klondike Cougars.

Prior to the football game at 7:30 p.m., the Ira senior class is sponsoring a brisket meal beginning at 5:30. Barbecue prepared by Ira superintendent Jim Rumage will be the main course, along with sausage, potato salad, beans, all the trimmings and a desert and tea will be available for $6.50. Children's plates are $4.

Hermleigh High School will observe its homecoming Oct. 13 when it hosts Westbrook.

Fiesta starts tonight

The highlight of this year's Diez y Seiz de Septiembre celebration, sponsored by Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church, will be the queen coronation at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The three queen hopefuls are Kira Nicole Diaz, Bonnie Pesina and Christina Arellano.

Diaz, the daughter of Teresa Diaz, is a sophomore at Snyder High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gutierrez of Snyder.

Pesina is also a sophomore at SHS. She is the daughter of Sylvia Torres.

Arellano is a junior at Snyder High and is the daughter of Louis and Sally Sanchez of Snyder and Johnny and Cynthia Arellano of Hermleigh.

The celebration, which gets underway this evening with Dee y Valiete taking the stage from 8 to midnight at the Latin American Center, continues through Sunday and offers a variety of entertainment.

The holiday is similar to the Fourth of July as it celebrates Mexico's independence from 300 years of Spanish rule.

Various entertainment and food booths will be part of the celebration.

The booths open at 10 a.m., and the annual parade begins at 11 a.m. Deejay music will start at 1 p.m. with raffles and announcements at 2 o'clock.

Saturday's entertainment continues with Grupo Asi taking the stage at 3 p.m. A flag ceremony will be held at 5 p.m. and evening mass is set for 6 p.m.

Also set for Saturday, the Folklorico Dancers will perform at 8 p.m. and Hermanos Valdez will play from 9 to midnight.

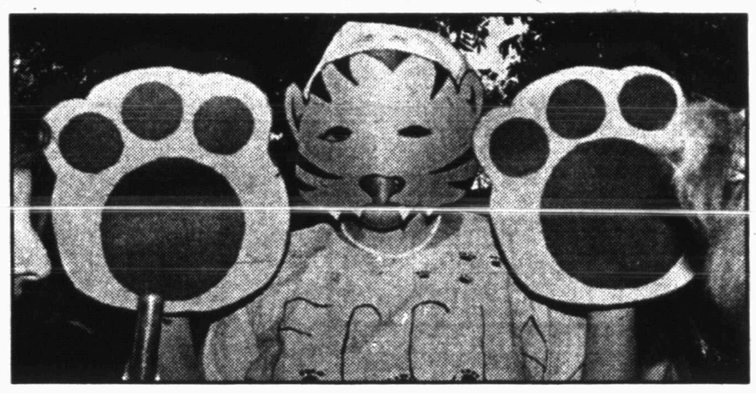
Sunday festivities get underway at 10 a.m. when booths open. The parade of queens ceremony will be held at noon and the Folklorico Dancers will entertain again at 1 p.m.

Grupo Del Norte takes the stage at 2 p.m. followed by the talent show at 3 p.m.

Hermanos Valdez will play again at 5 p.m.

History, culture and tradition explain why the Diez y Seis de Septiembre — September 16 — is such a special day for the Mexican people and for Americans of Mexican descent.

For the Mexican nationals in the United States, it is a national holiday away from home, and to the Mexican American, the 16th of September is a time to reflect on Mexican history.



SHS HOMECOMING — A homecoming parade down College Avenue and a pep rally at the courthouse gazebo were held Thursday. SHS homecoming queen nominees are, from left, T'Leah Eicke, Brooke Williams, Tara Price, Whitney Graham and Claire Cotton. The queen will be named at halftime of the Snyder-Wylie football game tonight. Many fans attended, including Casandra Darlin behind the Tiger mask and paws. (Staff Photos by Jo Ann

Both Snyder and Ira will celebrate homecoming this weekend, and queens will be crowned at halftime of tonight's football games.

Snyder plays host to Abilene Wylie and queen candidates are Brooke Williams, T'Leah Eicke, Tara Price, Claire Cotton and Whitney Graham.

Homecoming queen candidates for the Ira Bulldogs are Morgan Clements, Kaili Clements and Tara Allen.

Welcome Exes!

While football and volleyball are taking the sports spotlight, the fall tennis season is underway and the fall golf season is about to begin.

In tennis, the girls won six matches while the boys racked up seven victories. Coach Brad Wiske singled out the play of Jordan Hardin and Claire Cotton along with Ryan Gibson and Allen Smith.

On the WTC golf course, the Sammy Baugh golf tournament raised money for the respected SHS golf program.

Just how good is it?

Well, high school linksters Landon Day, Zach Starnes, Andra Lancaster and Clinton Calmes fired a 17-under-par 53 to beat a team comprised of SHS golf coaches Matt Glenn and Ricky Hunter, minister Craig Curry and pharmacist Mike McWilliams.

Also, Andra earned some special recognition recently by being one of 50 players in the PGA Junior Championship in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. She finished tied for 33rd.

Go Tigers!

Congratulations to the Hermleigh cheerleaders!

At last summer's Hardin-Simmons University cheerleaders camp, Sheena Callaway and Sabrina Terry were All-American nominees. Valerie West was nominated All-American mascot.

Third DWI nets 8 years

A third offense of driving while intoxicated will result a Snyder man serving an eight-year prison term in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

Fernando Orosco, 43, of 1892 15th Street, pleaded guilty to a July 30 DWI offense and District Judge Ernie Armstrong ordered the eight-year prison sentence that will be served concurrently with two other convictions for which Orosco had been on probation.

The court revoked the probation for two 1997 DWI convictions for which he was serving two six-year probated terms.

In other action in 132nd District Court, Branden Wade Anderson, 19, of The Woodlands, pleaded guilty to a June 23 charge of possession of a controlled substance.

Anderson was sentenced to two years in a state jail facility, probated for five years. He was also fined $750 and ordered to pay $140 in restitution. He also was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term up to 24 months in a restitution center.

The court also revoked the probation of Kimberly Villarreal, 36, of 601 29th Street.

Villarreal had been serving a five-year probated sentence for tampering with a government record. She failed to list ownership of a vehicle in order to receive welfare assistance in 1998.

Villarreal will now serve two years in a state jail facility, and the motion to revoke was based on the defendant's failure to avoid places that serve alcohol, failure to refrain from association with persons convicted of a crime, and failure to report to probation officers.

Stolen car recovered here this morning

A 35-year-old man is in Scurry County Jail this morning on charges that include burglarizing the country home of Jerry Early.

Romaldo Martinez, whose address was unavailable this morning, was arrested around 8 a.m. at 25th Street and Avenue E following a call of a suspicious person in the area.

Martinez was driving a black 1989 Ford Escort with California license plates that was reported stolen around 1 a.m. this morning in Lubbock.

Sgt. David Holley of the Snyder Police Department said that further check on the items in the vehicle, which included stereo equipment and firearms, determined that they also were stolen.

The items reportedly were taken from Jerry Early's residence at 4483 CR 1607 sometime after midnight today. A guitar, speakers and a firearm were recovered.

Martinez is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, burglary of a habitation and misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia.

Accident kills 5

DALLAS (AP) — An early-morning automobile wreck today killed five people at a busy southwest Dallas intersection.

Four people died at the scene of the predawn collision between a car and truck at a sharply angled intersection with Loop 12, Dallas police Detective Chris Gilliam said.

A small car with five occupants slammed into a pickup truck at the intersection and burst into flames, Gilliam said.

Demos, GOP OK four debates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The debates are on, almost.

Under a deal reached Thursday, Americans are to see three prime-time presidential debates between Republican George W. Bush and Democrat Al Gore, and one between the running mates. Feeling pressure to get the matter settled, Bush gave up on the idea of meeting his opponent in less formal TV talk shows.

But the two campaigns still have to work out how the debates will be conducted; they expect to iron out those details in a few days.

"It looks like they want to get back at it and keep going and resolve the remaining issues," said Laura Quinn, speaking for the Democratic National Committee.

Campaigning in San Diego, Bush, the one-time holdout, said he was eager to get on with the debates, even while recognizing Gore has a lot of experience in these confrontations.

"I know the man is a great debater," Bush said, "but what Americans want is a great leader."

Bush yielded to Gore's insistence that they stick to the schedule of the Commission on Presidential Debates, a private bipartisan group that has sponsored presidential debates since 1988.

The debates are to be held Oct. 3 in Boston, Oct. 11 in Winston-Salem, N.C., and Oct. 17 in St. Louis, with each debate lasting 90 minutes and starting at 9 p.m. EDT. A 90-minute debate between the vice presidential candidates, Democrat Joe Lieberman and Republican Dick Cheney, will go forward Oct. 5 in Danville, Ky., also at 9 p.m. EDT.

Bush spokesman Ari Fleischer said Bush wants a "free-flowing, spontaneous format instead of the rehearsed, wooden formats where candidates are rewarded for memorizing 30-second sound bites."

The agreement was announced by Bush campaign chairman Don Evans and his Democratic counterpart, Gore campaign chairman William Daley, after their first joint meeting with the debate commission.

"We've made great progress," Daley said. "The American people want to hear from these people."

Reform Party nominee Pat Buchanan and Green Party nominee Ralph Nader, both registering single digits in national polls, most likely will not meet the commission's threshold of 15 percent in six media polls for inclusion. Candidates must meet those conditions by late September to be invited

The negotiations ended a standoff lasting several weeks in which Bush held out for doing only one debate sponsored by the commission and several less formal matchups in other venues, such as one on a special edition of NBC's "Meet the Press" and another on CNN's "Larry King Live."

Commission officials praised the campaigns for resolving the issue.

"The major thing is that the debate debate is over," said Paul Kirk, co-chairman of the commission and former Democratic National Committee chairman. "The credit goes to the campaigns ... that they saw the wisdom of agreeing to it and getting this noise level about it behind them."

Frank Fahrenkopf, co-chairman of the commission and former chairman of the Republican National Committee, said, "The American people ... are going to have a full airing of all the issues in this campaign."

The commission leaders made it clear at the outset of the meeting that they could not agree to moving debate sites announced in January.

Only two presidential debates were held in 1996 and one between running mates. The record for presidential debates — four between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy in 1960 — still has not been matched.

Daley was joined at the negotiations by Labor Secretary Alexis Herman and adviser Jim Johnson, while Bush was represented by Evans, campaign manager Joe Allbaugh and adviser Andrew Card.

Bush's campaign said Thursday that a videotape mysteriously mailed to a Gore confidant appeared to be an authentic copy of the Texas governor's debate rehearsal.

Your Birthday

Saturday, Sept. 16, 2000

If you've been proud of your past performance, do more of the same in the year ahead. Your possibilities for advancement in your chosen field of endeavor look rather promising.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A total commitment to what's at hand is essential today if you hope to fulfill your ambitious objectives. Avoid elements of risk and being wishy-washy about important issues. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Rectify immediately any misunderstanding that could arise today with a friend concerning a money involvement. If time is allowed to elapse, the issue could get blown out of proportion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Until all the facts are gathered, no important decision should be made today based merely on a cursory assessment. What you learn later could totally reverse your thinking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Treat no happening as minor today, especially if it has anything to do with your career. Something you'd normally consider a trifle could turn into a big development.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It might be fun, but backing a long shot today could prove to be more costly than you may at first realize. Don't gamble on anything other than your own talents and abilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Although your intuitive hunches or perceptions may be rather strong today, it still doesn't mean they are correct. This might be one of those day when your logic should prevail.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You could be in the position today to say the right things to a couple of lethargic comrades today that'll inspire them into action. Do not sit idly by when given that opportunity.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You can do rather well financially today in involvements that are of a traditional nature. However, when dealing with the untested, it could be quite another story.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Because your imagination can run away with itself today, the secret to success is in doing. This is especially true when it comes to dealing on a social level with others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Brainstorm all you want, but leave the decision of strategy up to your counterpart today. Your perceptions simply may not be up to their usual high level at this time.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) After all that prudent saving, your defenses could break down today and you could waste money on something rather frivolous if you're given to flights of fancy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Keep your mind focused on business affairs today and small but significant gains can be made. Frittering away your time on meaningless and inconsequential matters will yield nothing.

Vets' brain-cell loss may be linked to service in Gulf War

DALLAS (AP) — Brain cell loss among ailing Persian Gulf War veterans has been linked in Texas researchers' new study with abnormal overproduction of a brain chemical that the scientists warn could lead to long-term degenerative diseases.

U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, who got $5 million earmarked for Gulf War research in the defense budget this year, said Thursday that she intends to urge greater funding and praised the work at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas.

Dr. Robert Haley, chief of epidemiology at UT Southwestern and a leader of Gulf War-related research, told The Dallas Morning News in Friday's editions that "there could be an epidemic of Parkinson's disease coming out of an epidemic of Gulf War syndrome."

The institution's most recent study on sick Gulf War veterans, made public Thursday in the September issue of the American Medical Association's Archives of Neurology, found patients with damage to the brain's left basal ganglia portion produce about twice as much dopamine as healthy vets.

Blood tests helped identify overproduction of dopamine, a neurotransmitter. The amount of neuron damage in the basal ganglia was measured by magnetic resonance spectroscopy, which uses radio waves in a strong magnetic field to measure chemicals.

"We hypothesize that with injury to the brain cells that normally control dopamine production, the cells become hyperactive, overproducing dopamine and leading to additional cell damage," Dr. Frederick Petty, a UT Southwestern professor of psychiatry and staff psychiatrist at the Dallas Veterans Affairs Medical Center, said.

"The question is whether, over time, these over-stimulated cells will wear out and die. If so, these patients could develop degenerative brain diseases such as Parkinson's disease," said Petty, adding that 20,000 to 80,000 veterans could be affected within 10 to 20 years or even sooner.

"Some of these veterans are beginning to show early, subtle symptoms of brain disease, and our desire and intention, if we can get the federal government to do what it needs to do, is to initiate a fairly large-scale, national program to basically replicate our findings at the national level," Petty said.

Scientists at UT Southwestern, in an earlier study this year, concluded that some Gulf War veterans may be sick because they were exposed to low levels of a nerve gas and other chemicals, and took doses of a drug that was supposed to help them survive a nerve-gas attack.

Another study found evidence that veterans born with low levels of an enzyme that destroys chemical toxins were more likely to suffer brain damage from such exposures, which may explain why some who served a decade ago in the Persian Gulf became ill and others did not.

Signals to help you, not them

By Phillip Alder

Our fifth Bridge Plus booklet is "Practise Your Signalling" with Barry Rigal. He starts by describing the three main signals: attitude, count and suit-preference. Rigal rightly recommends that on your side's honor leads, signal attitude unless it is known, in which case you should instead give count. But on declarer's leads, signal count, or suit-preference, or nothing. Rigal also covers conventional honor leads against no-trump contracts, and touches very briefly on four other useful possibilities. He ends with one opening-lead problem and 17 defensive problems. This is the only one in which I think he gives the wrong explanation.

Look at the West and North hands. Against six spades, you lead the heart king: ace, three, nine. South calls for dummy's spade queen: two, four, king. What do you do now?

Under West's king-lead against a slam, East should give count, playing his lowest card because he has an odd number of hearts. (Plus, if South is trustworthy, he wouldn't have used Blackwood with two or more low hearts.) Then Rigal says that East's spade two is suit-preference for clubs. Maybe, but what if he had started with only one trump? West should switch to clubs regardless of East's card. If East has an ace, the diamond ace won't run away, but the club ace might, South's losing clubs disappearing on dummy's winning diamonds — as here.

Think, don't play by rote. And discuss signaling with your partner.

One booklet is approximately $6 postpaid and four are about $22 from www.bridge-plus.co.uk.

Veteran SWAT team member accidentially shoots 11-year-old boy

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — Authorities said a veteran SWAT team member with a "star record" accidentally shot and killed an 11-year-old boy during a drug raid at his parents' home.

Alberto Sepulveda, a seventh-grader, was shot in the back Wednesday when an officer accidentally fired his shotgun, Police Chief Roy Wasden said. Alberto died on the floor of his bedroom.

"From the preliminary investigation, all indications so far is that the shooting was accidental," Wasden said Thursday.

David Hawn, a 21-year department veteran and a SWAT team member for more than 18 years, was placed on paid leave pending an investigation.

The boy's father, Moises Sepulveda, was arrested and booked on charges of methamphetamine trafficking. The boy's mother and two young siblings were also home during the raid.

The Drug Enforcement Agency said the raid had been part of a nine-month investigation into methamphetamine trafficking and that 14 people had been arrested Wednesday during separate raids.

Mike Van Winkle, a spokesman for the state Department of Justice, which has 500 drug agents and investigators, said no veterans he spoke with could recall any other accidental shooting of children during previous drug raids.

Last year, Hawn was cleared of wrongdoing for misfiring his gun into a suspect who had already killed himself during a SWAT raid. An internal investigation concluded an attacking pitbull brushed the muzzle of Hawn's gun as he and other officers were checking the suspect.

"He has a star record," his chief said.

Moises Sepulveda Jr., 14, was on the top bunk bed above his brother when the SWAT team banged on the door. He said he does not know if his brother was awake when he left the room.

"My father said to stay calm. Then the front door blew open and they threw out one of those smoke bombs," the teen-ager said, pointing to the brown scorch mark left on the living room floor by the canister

"My dad was cuffed and I was cuffed and one of them was stepping on my neck, pointing a gun down at me and told me not to move," he said. "I heard another blast and thought it was another smoke bomb.

"But it turns out they shot my brother."

Sepulveda Jr., echoing the feelings of neighbors, relatives and other community members, said he didn't understand why investigators did not try to enter peacefully.

"We would have opened the door," he said. "My dad isn't the kind of man who would put his family in jeopardy."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 37 years old and have one older brother who is 39. When we were growing up, our family was very close, but something happened when my father passed away eight years ago. Within a few years my mother remarried. Soon after, my marriage to an abusive man fell apart.

My brother decided to support my ex-husband and held me responsible for not giving him a "second chance." This hurt me deeply. When my mother recently divorced — her husband wanted the divorce — again, my brother took the husband's side. My brother's wife is a born-again Christian and doesn't believe in divorce, no matter what the reason.

My mother is heartbroken and so am I. I always looked up to my brother. I wish I knew it was his wife's influence and not his choice. He promised our father on his deathbed that he would take care of us. Not only has he walked away from us in our time of need, he has sided against us. I have tried talking to him, but it doesn't work. Is there anything I can do? I still love my brother and always will. — SNIFFLING SIBLING IN TEXAS

DEAR SNIFFLING: If talking to your brother hasn't helped, there is nothing more you can do. I don't know whether his identification with other men is so strong that it colors the way he views you and his mother — or whether he is unable (or unwilling) to keep his deathbed promise and can't face either of you. However, the reality is that you and she will have to rely on yourselves. Love him if you wish, but don't count on him for anything.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law, who lives with us, still clings to the cultural values of the old country and expects everybody to conform to them. This sometimes results in confrontation and ill feelings among family members.

My son, who is 16, frequently brings friends home. Most of the time he remembers to introduce them to the family members, but there are times when he thinks he has already introduced them, so he doesn't.

My mother-in-law gets upset when the young people who show up at home do not acknowledge her. She comes from a culture steeped in values such as respect for elders. She feels these young guests should greet her, or smile at her, and that they have to do it first before she will return the greeting.

Although I value such traditions, in my opinion she does not have to wait. She can initiate the introduction. I told her she should just say hello to them and ask them nonchalantly to introduce themselves. She is adamant that she should be greeted first. I explained that we do not know if these young people are shy, or whether they have not been properly taught by their own parents. None of the kids are overtly rude, either to my mother-in-law or me. Who is right in this instance? — MODERN MOTHER, CERRITOS, CALIF.

DEAR MODERN MOTHER: I don't know where your mother-in-law hails from, but in our culture it is also proper for young people to defer to older people. Make it clear to your son that when he brings friends to the house, he should make a point of greeting his grandmother and asking if she has met them. If she hasn't, he should introduce them. He should also explain to his friends what kind of behavior is expected from him — and them.

Rottweilers more deadly than pit bulls

ATLANTA (AP) — Rottweilers have passed pit bulls as America's deadliest dog breed, according to a study released Friday.

The large dogs were involved in 33 fatal attacks on humans between 1991 and 1998, the American Veterinary Medical Association said.

Pit bulls, which had been responsible for more deaths than any other breed, were involved in 21 fatal attacks over the same period.

Rottweilers, first bred in Germany, surged in popularity during the 1990s as more people sought them for protection, said Jeffrey J. Sacks, an epidemiologist with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

"People are more in fear of crime and violence, and this has led to a selection of bigger dogs," he said. "If you start selecting bigger dogs, you'll get bigger bites."

The study's authors, using data from the Humane Society of the United States and media accounts of dog maulings, reported 27 people — 19 of them children — died from dog attacks in 1997 and 1998.

OLYMPIC COVERAGE

Tonight's ceremony full of glamour, glitz

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — For openers, NBC plans an Olympic spectacular.

The network of the Sydney Games will be on the air from 7:30 EDT tonight, covering the opening ceremony with all the glamour and glitz that a $705 million rights fee deserves.

And the Sydney organizing committee has made sure there will be plenty to show.

The centerpiece of the ceremony will be the parade of nations, a march of thousands of athletes — from high-profile "Dream Team" basketball stars to obscure team handball players, from track's Marion Jones, poised to try for five gold medals, to Tasha Schwikert, a last-minute replacement on the women's gymnastics team.

Cliff Meidl, who survived a 30,000-volt jolt of electricity in a construction accident and became one of America's top sprint kayakers, will be the flagbearer for the 600-member U.S. team. Five-time Olympian Andrew Gaze, who left Australia to play college basketball at Seton Hall and then returned to his native country, will carry the host nation's flag.

There will be a panoply of entertainment climaxed by the dramatic lighting of the Olympic torch that signals the start of the games.

Four years ago, in Atlanta, Dick Ebersol, chairman of NBC Sports, arranged for Muhammad Ali to light the torch. The image of Ali, clad all in white, trembling from the effects of Parkinson's Syndrome as he ignited the flame, will forever serve as the defining memory of those games.

"The lighting of the cauldron is the most inspirational moment in sports," said Ebersol, who insists he does not know who will ignite it on Friday. "A couple of weeks ago, I thought I knew. But now I'm convinced I don't."

There are plenty of candidates. Perhaps Betty Cuthbert, who won four gold medals, the most for any Australian track and field athlete, and now is battling multiple sclerosis. Or Herb Elliott, who won 44 consecutive races at a mile and 1,500 meters.

Maybe Ron Clarke, who ignited the flame for the 1956 Melbourne Games, or John Landy, the world-record holder in the mile from 1954-57 and captain of the 1956 Australian team, who read the Olympic oath for the athletes.

And there is Murray Rose, with six swimming medals, four of them gold, the most successful male Australian Olympian in history.

The selection is top secret, perhaps not to be decided until hours before the opening ceremony begins.

Ebersol, who committed $3.5 billion to broadcast the next five Olympics with another $500 million in production costs, will have a hands-on role in the TV production truck as executive producer.

NBC's show begins with a preview of the games followed by a feature on the first commercial flight by Qantas airlines from the United States to Australia in 1956. Qantas no longer flies from San Francisco, and the flight was recreated with a plane flying over the city for several hours in a flight that left some people wondering if the pilot had made a wrong turn and was lost.

All of this is a warmup for the first flurry of competition on Saturday. NBC's coverage will include swimming finals featuring Australian sensation Ian Thorpe, and Jenny Thompson in the 400-meter freestyle relay, trying for a sixth career gold medal — the most for any American woman athlete in history.

2000 Olympic Games filled with world's brightest stars

By H.W. Siner

Two of the greatest Olympians of the 20th century will be among the biggest stars competing in Sydney, Australia, at the 2000 Summer Games starting today.

Over 10,000 athletes from nearly 200 nations will compete in Sydney.

American Marion Jones is the most-heralded woman.

She hopes to win five gold medals at one Olympics, a feat unmatched by any female in track and field history. Jones is favored in the 100 and 200 meters, the 400 and the 1,600 relay. Plus, she is a long-jump contender.

In the premier race of the Summer Games, Maurice Greene of the United States wants to capture the 100-meter dash. Greene, who has set a world record of 9.79 seconds, is billed as the world's fastest human.

Tomas Dvorak of the Czech Republic might be the best athlete on Earth. He is the world record holder in the decathlon.

In gymnastics, U.S. coach Bela Karolyi has Dominique Dawes and Amy Chow back from the "Magnificent Seven" that won the team gold medal in 1996. Plus, he's got newcomer Elise Ray.

Among U.S. men, Blaine Wilson, tattooed and tongue-studded, has won five straight U.S. gymnastics titles. He's joined on the strong American team by fraternal twins Paul and Morgan Hamm, who will turn 18 in Australia.

Swimmer Ian Thorpe, 17, dubbed the "Thorpedo," is the favorite son in Australia's national pastime. He's the world freestyle record-holder at 200 and 400 meters. His size-18 feet serve as natural fins.

The U.S. men's swim team features world record holders Tom Malchow, Lenny Krayzelburg and Tom Dolan.

Vet swimmers Jenny Thompson, Dara Torres and Brooke Bennett lead the American women. But Inge de Bruijn of the Netherlands is swimming's top star. The freestyle and butterfly ace recently set six world records.

NBA stars Alonzo Mourning and Vince Carter are among the best-known Americans at the Summer Games. They lead a somewhat less than Dream Team that is favored to win again.

In baseball, manager Tommy Lasorda has an American roster filled with minor-league talent.

Road-race cyclist Lance Armstrong of the United States is coming from back-to-back wins in the Tour de France.

In tonight's match-up with Abilene Wylie...

Tigers seek third consecutive victory

By Eric Drennan
Sports Editor

With both teams sporting unblemished records, tonight's match-up between the Snyder Tigers and Abilene Wylie Bulldogs has all the makings of a showdown.

Factor in Snyder's homecoming, and Wylie's revenge motive from last year's loss, and it has the makings of a war.

Snyder will look for its first 3-0 start in more than 10 years, when it takes on Wylie at 7:30 tonight at Tiger Stadium.

The Tigers won their first two ballgames by four touchdowns, while the Bulldogs registered blowouts against San Angelo Lake View and Breckenridge.

The impressive victories are no fluke, according to Snyder head coach David Baugh, who believes both teams have their share of talent.

"This is one of the best Wylie teams in recent years," said Baugh. "I believe they are top-10 material. And we played a lot better last week, so hopefully it will be a good game. I think both teams will have to play extremely well to win."

The first objective on the Tigers' agenda will be shutting down the Bulldogs' aerial attack.

Wylie quarterback Caleb Ensor, who figures to break all Bulldog passing records, has tallied 316 yards through the first two weeks.

When the Bulldogs keep it on the ground, it's usually in the hands of Danny Ruth. The junior tailback averages 11.5 yards per carry, and has scored five rushing touchdowns and two more on receptions.

"They like to throw the ball," Baugh stated. "They'll throw deep at least once on just about every offensive series, and they run a bunch of intermediate routes.

"The thing they do that has given us the most trouble in the past is running the screen pass. Their offense is hard to stop, because they can do so many different things in the air and on the ground."

Leading the Tigers' defensive attack will be linebacker Mark Medley. The senior has registered 25 tackles through two games, tops in District 4-4A.

The Tigers were able to get pressure on Ensor in last year's meeting, and Baugh hopes to do the same thing tonight.

"Last year, we were able to pressure him at key times in the ballgame," the SHS coach said. "When you bring extra people, you have to pick your spots, because if they catch you in a blitz at the right time, they can turn it into a big play."

The best plan of attack for the Tigers might be to keep the ball away from the Bulldogs.

It will be important for Snyder to establish its power running game, which averaged 312 yards in the first two games.

The Tigers have a multitude of ball carriers in running backs Edwin James, Tovares Brandon, Wade Pinson and Jamaal Pruitt, along with quarterback Jesse Haines.

"If we can run the ball effectively, we can keep the ball away from their offense," Baugh said. "But to run it well, we'll have to throw it to loosen up their defense. Jesse did a good job last week, and our linemen blocked well. It will take another performance like that against Wylie."

Snyder will still be without the services of tailback Josh Arizmendi, who will miss his third consecutive game due to headaches.

The bulk of the running load will fall on the shoulders of Brandon. The senior fullback has gained 217 yards this season, with an average of 9.4 yards per carry.

Tonight's contest is the final non-district tilt for the Tigers who take next week off, before opening league plat Sept. 29 at Plainview.

Talbott wins tourney title

TULIA — Snyder's Anita Talbott continued her solid play, and was rewarded with a championship.

Talbott won her fourth match in four days Thursday to win the Western Lone Star Senior Ladies Tournament.

In the final round, Talbott knocked off Wanda Nazworth of Clarendon, 4 and 3, to secure the crown.

Runner-up honors in the second flight went to Suzy Reed who fell to Mary Ruth Robertson of Big Spring, 2-up, on Thursday.

Talbott wasn't the only local golfer to post a final-round victory.

In the fourth flight, Peggy Hardin too top honors when she downed Clarendon's Ruth Jackson, 3 and 1.

Joan Hood won the consolation title in the second flight with a 3 and 2 victory over Texie Fisher of Memphis, while Jo Sterling was the fifth flight consolation winner with a 2 and 1 win over Stratford's Nelda Stacy.

In the third-place match of the fourth flight, Esther Guelker topped Clarendon's Bonnie Crofford, 4 and 3. Juanita Hester was third in the fifth flight, thanks to a 2-up victory over Bert Ware of Shamrock.

Junior high round-up...

SJHS wins one, ties one

Snyder Junior High registered one victory and one tie in four contests Thursday night against Abilene Wylie.

In seventh grade action, Snyder Black notched a 6-0 victory over the Bulldogs, while in eighth grade action, Snyder Black scratched out a 6-6 tie.

All four SJHS teams will be in action again Thursday against Abilene.

Seventh Grade
Snyder Black 6, Wylie 0

Brian Clifton hauled in a 12-yard touchdown pass from Chris Lopez, and the Tiger defense made it stand up for the 6-0 victory.

Will Baize led Snyder's offense with 58 yards on four carries, while Keenon Garcia tallied 43 yards on four carries. Robbie Anderson toted the ball 10 times for 41 yards.

Wylie 32, Snyder Gold 8

Snyder's Eric Martinez sprinted 68 yards to paydirt, and Dustyn Williams connected with Cade Simpson for the two-point conversion, for the Tigers' only score against a tough Abilene Wylie squad.

Martinez finished with 86 yards on seven carries, while Chris Smith added 37 yards, and Dustyn Williams rushed for 12.

Eighth Grade
Snyder Black 6, Wylie 6

After trailing most of the contest, Snyder knotted the tally on a 25-yard scoring aerial from Jason Ramos to Eder Borrego, late in the fourth quarter.

Following a penalty, the Tigers were unable to convert on the two-point attempt.

Quarterbacks Ramos and Caleb Owen combined to go 4 of 5 for 103 yards through the air.

Snyder's stellar defensive effort was anchored by Jerry Ashley, Alan Gray and Chris Smauley.

Wylie 32, Snyder Gold 20

After everything went their way in the first half, the Snyder Tigers couldn't catch a break in the final two quarters.

Wylie erased a 20-0 halftime deficit with 24 points in the third quarter to fuel the 32-20 victory.

D'Angelo Davis found the endzone twice for the Tigers, the second time coming on a 95-yard return of a Wylie fumble.

Snyder also scored on a 50-yard touchdown pass from Hadley Hirt to Manuel DePaz, and an Alex Neal two-point conversion. Hirt passed for 75 yards on the night.

Frosh hold off Bulldogs, 16-14

ABILENE — Snyder held off a late comeback by Abilene Wylie Thursday night to register a 16-14 victory in freshman football action at Bulldog Stadium.

Snyder held a 16-8 lead, before Wylie scored with 1:20 left in the game to cut the lead to 16-14. On the ensuing two-point conversion, the Tigers held the Bulldogs short of the goal line to preserve the win.

Snyder broke onto the board when Andrew Bane rumbled in from six yards out, and Marcus Villarreal carried in the two-point try.

The Tigers extended their advantage on a 20-yard touchdown pass from Villarreal to Jacob Rodriguez. Victor Terrazas plunged in for the two-point attempt.

Isaac Ramon paced the Tigers' ground attack with 126 yards.

Junior varsity falls to Wylie

ABILENE — Abilene Wylie used two quick scores before halftime to gain the momentum it needed to hold off Snyder, 32-12, in Thursday's junior varsity action at Bulldog Stadium.

After the Tigers had knotted the tally at 6-6 on a 43-yard touchdown pass from Logan Hill to Tyler Pollard, the Bulldogs found the endzone twice in the final two minutes of the first half to open up a 22-6 advantage.

Snyder managed to cut the lead with a 6-yard scoring plunge from Clay Williams in the second half, before Wylie answered again.

Chance Greenwood, who picked off a Bulldog pass, and Caleb Durham led the Tigers' defensive effort.

Snyder returns to action Sept. 28 against Plainview.

Princes Diana's estate must pay attorney's fees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge has ordered the estate of Princess Diana to pay nearly $2.3 million to the Franklin Mint for attorney fees incurred while it successfully fought a trademark infringement lawsuit.

U.S. District Judge Florence-Marie Cooper previously ruled that the use of Diana's name or image on the mint's products and advertisements does not imply endorsement by her estate or its charitable fund.

In a ruling issued Tuesday, sh called portions of the lawsuit "groundless and unreasonable" and ordered the fees paid.

Diana Princess of Wales Memorial Fund began a two-year legal battle when it sued to stop the Franklin Mint from selling products with Diana's likeness and the name "Diana, Princess of Wales."

Attorneys for the Franklin Mint had argued that companies were free to use her likeness because she never challenged products bearing her name in the 16 years before she died in a 1997 car crash.

Diana-related products sold at the mint include jewelry, plates, sculptures and dolls. The mint has sold about 300,000 of them since she died, ranging in price from $29.95 to $595.

Princes Diana's estate must pay attorney's fees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge has ordered the estate of Princess Diana to pay nearly $2.3 million to the Franklin Mint for attorney fees incurred while it successfully fought a trademark infringement lawsuit.

U.S. District Judge Florence-Marie Cooper previously ruled that the use of Diana's name or image on the mint's products and advertisements does not imply endorsement by her estate or its charitable fund.

In a ruling issued Tuesday, she called portions of the lawsuit "groundless and unreasonable" and ordered the fees paid.

Diana Princess of Wales Memorial Fund began a two-year legal battle when it sued to stop the Franklin Mint from selling products with Diana's likeness and the name "Diana, Princess of Wales."

Attorneys for the Franklin Mint had argued that companies were free to use her likeness because she never challenged products bearing her name in the 16 years before she died in a 1997 car crash.

Diana-related products sold at the mint include jewelry, plates, sculptures and dolls. The mint has sold about 300,000 of them since she died, ranging in price from $29.95 to $595.

In the short term, President Clinton says...

Oil prices not likely to cause recession

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton said Friday he sees no threat of a recession in America in the short term because of high oil prices.

"I will do everything I can to minimize any adverse impact on the American people," the president said. He spoke during a photo opportunity in the Oval Office with Indian Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee.

Last week in New York, Clinton expressed concern about oil prices, which have soared to 10-year highs. He said then that the price of oil was too high and said it would be harmful "if it's a cause of recession in any part of the world."

Speaking Friday, Clinton said he did not think there was a risk of a recession in America "in the short to medium term."

He said the United States has made a major effort over the last 25 years to develop a more diverse economy, less vulnerable to oil price spikes.

"We have withstood this oil price spike very much better than we did when it happened before," the president said. "Now, what we need to do is watch the situation closely. The market is still sorting out what to do with the recent OPEC announcement and I think there will be an evaluation of what the production schedules are — who does what in the various countries, how quickly."

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries announced Sunday it would pump an additional 800,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

Clinton said the OPEC announcement and actions taken since then "are not enough, I think, for the market to sort out what it's going to do."

He urged Congress, in its last weeks in this year's session, to reauthorize the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. He also criticized lawmakers for failing to act on his proposals for energy tax incentives for businesses and individuals.

Arafat urged not to back down on Jerusalem issue

NEW YORK (AP) — Saudi Arabia is urging Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat not to back down on Jerusalem as the Clinton administration pursues a desperate drive for a compromise on the city's future.

As Secretary of State Madeleine Albright opened a new round of talks with Israeli and Palestinian negotiators, Crown Prince Abdullah said "there is nothing to negotiate about and compromise on when it comes to Jerusalem."

Today, in Jerusalem, U.S. Ambassador Martin Indyk publicly urged Israel to yield on east Jerusalem. "There is no other solution but to share the holy city," he said.

Speaking to a group of Arab-American and Muslim leaders, Abdullah said: "Jerusalem is important to the hearts of all Muslims and in fact it's in the heart of everybody with a sense of humanity. This is something on which there can be no compromise."

Hopes for an agreement between Israel and the Palestinians depend heavily on resolving their dispute over Jerusalem.

Resisting compromise proposals from President Clinton and other U.S. officials, Arafat is demanding sovereignty over east Jerusalem.

Obituaries

Wandell Vancleave

1927-2000

Graveside service for Valla Wandell Vancleave is set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the Hermleigh Cemetery. The Rev. Alvin Couch of Abilene will officiate with arrangements under the direction of Wright Colonial Funeral Home.

Mrs. Vancleave, 73, died Monday, Sept. 11, at her home in Snyder.

Born March 15, 1927 in Silverton, she married Bufford Doyle Vancleave in 1946 in Abilene. Her husband and a daughter, Paula Irene Thompson, preceded her in death.

Survivors include a daughter, Gearldean Walkabout of Welling, Okla., a son, Doyle Vancleave; nine grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Burglary, threat, mischief investigated on Thursday

• Burglary of a vehicle

A small amount of money was reportedly taken from Beth Bowen's 1993 Honda while the vehicle was parked at her 3758 Avenue V residence. She filed a report with Snyder police at 7:55 a.m. Thursday.

• Threatened with knife

A mother contacted police at 8 a.m. Thursday in reference to her 11-year-old daughter threatening her with a knife. The girl's grandfather came and transported her to school. A report for family violence by threats was taken.

• Criminal mischief

Officers were called to the Park Village Apartments at 9:09 a.m. Thursday due to someone pulling the phone lines out of the wall in the office area of the complex.

At 8:25 p.m. Thursday, officers were notified that juveniles had been spray painting obscenities on the dumpster in the 3100 block of Avenue T.

• Theft

An employee with Bealls called the police at 5:44 p.m. in reference to two women shoplifting in the store. The women were not apprehended, but a report for theft was filed.

• Probation revoked

Judy Lynn Ginkinger, 29, of Colorado City was taken into custody at 11:22 a.m. Thursday on a felony warrant revoking her probation.

• Other arrests

At 12:16 p.m., officers arrested a 20-year-old man for driving while his license were suspended.

Grant monies will buy five computers at Hermleigh ISD

Supt. Jerry Church told Hermleigh's school trustees that a $70,000 grant to update the school's libraries will provide for five new computers in the high school library, as well as the elementary facility.

Church also said the grant would enable the library to bar code all its books to make it easier for students to check them out.

In other business during Tuesday night's brief board meeting, the monthly financial report was given, including the paying of bills.

Church also briefed the board on the new school year.
