Irene Schroeder Awarded Death Penalty For Slaying

Blonde Gunwoman Sentenced To Die In Murder Trial

Verdict Returned By Jury After Less Than Three Hours Deliberation At New Castle Friday

Defendant Calm

Convicted In Slaying Of Highway Officer Brady Paul; Spectators Cry As Verdict Is Returned

(By Associated Press)

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 21. — A verdict of death tonight failed to shake Irene Schroeder, 21, gunwoman.

Mrs. Schroeder was unmoved as she heard the foreman read that she was "guilty of murder in the first degree and fix the penalty of death."

She entered the courtroom with a smile upon her face. She looked straight ahead and did not even pale as the verdict was repeated, time and time again until each juror had uttered the fateful words.

Spectators Cry.

In contrast to the blonde woman's unperturbed attitude was that of many spectators in the courtroom, men as well as women, who could be seen wiping tears from their eyes.

Led from the courthouse in charge of deputy sheriffs, she demonstrated to crowds of curious that death apparently meant nothing to her, and she appeared the least excited of all.

Seated on the bunk in her cell in the little Lawrence county jail, but a few minutes after hearing the verdict, Mrs. Schroeder carried on light-hearted repartee with W. Glenn Dague, Wheeling automobile salesman indicted with her for the

Tight-Lipped Methods Used In Investigation Of The Attempt To Burn Girl At Fairfield; Three Clues

(By Associated Press)

FAIRFIELD, March 21.— Tight-lipped methods, employed wherever Texas Rangers were concerned, today characterized investigation in an alleged attempt to burn to death

FAIRFIELD, March 21, (AP)— Two persons from the home town of Miss Wilma Jones, who told of an alleged attempt to burn her to death Wednesday night, were arrested tonight and authorities said charges of forgery would be filed against them tomorrow. Miss Jones was awaiting trial here for forgery when the alleged attempt at burning occurred.

a young woman in Fairfield's only hotel Wednesday night.

Whereabouts of the victim, Miss Wilma Jones, 23, Buffalo, Texas, was a secret, officers declaring they had taken her to a place where she would be safe from further attack and where she could receive needed medical attention.

Three Theories Likely.

The only indication of progress made in the investigation came from W. V. Geppert, county attorney, who admitted officers had under consideration three theories. "If one of these is established, there will be a special grand jury term," he said. "Otherwise," he added, "the regular grand jury will handle the case next month."

Ranger Sergeant J. B. Wheatley and Ranger B. M. Bault, ordered here by Gov. Dan Moody upon request of Sheriff K. J. H. Eubanks arrived last night, and examined the hotel room where Miss Jones

Out Jumps a Frog

Toad Lives in Tree For Half Century

WEST HELENA, Ark., March 21. (AP).

Fifty rings of wood,
Wound around a frog,
Tell how long it stood
Imprisoned in a log.

A big elm tree was brought to mill here today. As it started through a whirring band saw, out jumped a tree toad.

Around a hole which had been its prison were 50 rings. Mill men counted a ring a year and concluded the frog had been there a half century.

They said it probably crawled into the tree when it was young and nature started a sealing process that made a prisoner of the toad.

W. C. Chavey, a sawyer, found the frog. Another slice of the saw would have been fatal to it.

One Dead And Two Wounded In Break From Alabama Pen

Two Young Desperados Get Freedom For Few Hours In Violent Attempt To Escape From Penitentiary

Guard Near Death

One Prisoner Is Shot To Death; Another Placed In Solitary Confinement Following Capture

(By Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 21. —One convict was dead tonight and two prison guards wounded, one probably fatally as the result of a violent break from Speigner prison near here which gave two young Alabama desperadoes freedom for a few hours.

Thomas Barnes, 22-year-old Etowah county bank robber, is the convict killed. Who fired the shot through his heart has not been determined. Lee Hudgens, 21, burglar and holdup man of Montgomery, Barnes' companion in the break, is in solitary confinement at Kilby prison here after a seven-hour chase.

Guard May Die

B. F. Baltzer, veteran guard at Speigner was said at a hospital here to have little chance of recovery. He was hit by six bullets Barnes fired from an automatic pistol. J. D. Richardson, the other guard, has a broken arm and thigh wound.

Barnes, mortally wounded, was dumped in the home of H. C. Swarengin from a truck by Hudgens. He died without making a statement. Dr. S. T. Centerfit, county medical examiner, said Barnes could not have lived 15 minutes with his wound, although it was four hours after the prison break that Hudgens deposited the dying man at Swarengin's residence. Hudgens said Baltzer shot Barnes.

Prison authorities said they had learned that Baltzer, lifted by a prisoner from the ground where he had fallen from Barnes' bullet, emptied his pistol at the men.

Legion Financial Campaign Planned

Drive For Funds For New American Legion Home to Be Launched Next Month; Success Predicted

Expressions of optimism were heard for the near future erection of an American legion home in Lubbock when approximately third business men of the city met last night at Hotel Lubbock for consideration of a district-wide drive for funds.

Following several appealing addresses by those present, decision for a definite date for inauguration of the campaign was made for the month of April. Judge J. A. Raley, commander of the local post, announced last night that the drive probably would be started the latter part of that month.

Woods Presides.

Harley D. Woods, member of the post, presided at the meeting and the principal talk of the evening was made by Durwood Bradley who outlined in detail to those assembled the plans of the Legion here in constructing a permanent home. Mr. Bradley told the business men of the purposes of the Legion and what it stand for, "This organization is something more than a make-shift group," he declared, "it is founded upon principals and has ideals that will withstand the knocks of others."

Other short talks, all of them ex-

Unemployment Conditions Pictured As Comparable to 1914 in Senate Probe

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21.— Unemployment conditions held "comparable only with those of 1914" were linked with pleas for action on legislation now pending in congress in testimony today before a senate investigating committee.

Miss Frances Perkins, a veteran of labor inquiry, now industrial commissioner for the state of New York, and Dr. John P. Andrews, secretary of the American Association for Labor Legislation, who said he had followed legislation proposals more than 10 years, were the witnesses

Miss Perkins said appeals for charity from families of workmen who would be expected to have employment, but have not, had "increased 300 per cent in the last six months" in her state.

Dr. Andrews said families living on barges for lack of other shelter indicated conditions are "the most serious in years."

Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, author of the legislation which the witnesses united in endorsing, said after they testified that if his measures were enacted "we'll never hear of seasonal unemployment again."

Spring Makes Annual Debut to World Today

Might the old, old story be once again repeated—"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

When the face of youth or maiden dances before the eyes, driving out all thoughts of work, study or even play. So if today, that pretty little "steno" asks for a repetition of your dictation, or if one of the "pop-boys" at your favorite fountain shoves out a strawberry soda instead of the morning's Coca Cola, or if even the usually hard-boiled old boss stops by and gives you a friendly smile—don't take it too hard—remember, it's the first day of spring.

The spring season is the vernal season, when plants begin to vegetate—when the buds first chance a little peek into the world—when the birds carol notes of music from their high perch in limbs, breathing the freshness of approaching warmth, and—when the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of June —the month of brides

The spring season makes its debut at sundown of March 21, when the sun enters the sign of Aries and ends June 22, at the time of the summer solstice.

Scarface Al Capone Surrenders To Cops To Become Free Man

By PHILIP HARRIS,
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, March 21. (AP)—Scarface Al. Capone gave himself up to police today and became a free man.

The gang chief, hunted across half the country since his release from a Philadelphia prison Monday after serving ten months for carrying a pistol, found out the police did not want him after all, that the state's attorney had nothing against him and that the government was in no hurry to press its delinquent income tax charges on contempt of court proceedings against him.

Goes To Chief

Capone, the gang chief, dive keeper and liquor lord whose name has been linked with a score of gangster killings, walked into Chief of Detective John Stege's office this afternoon, accompanied by his attorney, and said: "Here I am." As it developed, he might well have added: "What of it?"

Soft spoken, well dressed, Capone chatted with newspaper men, explaining how he eluded everybody when he was released from prison, leisurely motored back to Chicago with his bodyguard, Frank Rio, who had served the ten months with him, and arrived here two days ago while squads of police and detectives were watching his home and haunts for a trace of him. He said he had gone to the home of a friend where he stayed until he talked with his lawyer, Thomas D. Nash, this afternoon, and decided to surrender "and to have it out with the cops."

Nash got in touch with Stege and arranged for the surrender. The police apparently were unprepared for the event. After Capone, accompanied by Phil D'Andre, reputed city hall "front" for the Capone crowd, arrived and chatted briefly with the newspaper boys and others in Stege's office, he was taken under heavy guard to the federal building to see what District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson wanted.

Surrenders To Police But Denies Being With Mrs. Voss Few Minutes Before Slaying Saturday Night

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 21.—After surrendering to the sheriff's department today, a suspect in the hammer murder of Mrs. Pearl Voss, denied reports of a woman witness that he had been seen in company with Mrs. Voss 15 or 20 minutes before the slaying last Saturday night.

The man admitted he was standing on a street talking with another woman, but said he was not with Mrs. Voss. The suspect came to the sheriff's office with the brother of another man who is sought for questioning. Both were reported to have been with Mrs. Voss.

The second suspect is expected to be located today.

North Carolina Judge Will Be One Of Youngest Men To Serve On Bench; Now Forty-Four Years Old

WASHINGTON, March 21. — President Hoover today appointed Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court.

Judge Parker, whose home is in Charlotte, will be one of the youngest men ever on the supreme bench. He is 44.

Born in Monroe, N. C., he was educated in the public schools and graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1907. The following year he was graduated from the law school of the same institution, and was admitted to the bar.

He was republican candidate for governor of North Carolina in 1920 and a leader in politics in that state until Oct. 3, 1925. Then he was appointed to the fourth circuit court of appeals by President Coolidge. Senators Simmons and Overman of North Carolina endorsed his appointment to the Supreme Court.

Son Begins Trip To Rescue Father

EL PASO, March 21. (AP)—Impatient at the delay in negotiations with Mexican bandits who hold his father, J. E. Bristow, captive near Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico, Gordon Obis Bristow of San Angelo left tonight for Nogales, Ariz., where he will enter Mexico en route to Mazatlan.

He had not decided, when he left whether he would go from Nogales by plane or train, his decision still depending upon the result of negotiations being carried on by the Mexican and American governments for the elder Bristow's release.

No word was received here today from Earl Eaton, vice-consul, who went to Tepic to investigate, but unofficial reports here said that an emissary from the bandit gang was expected at Tepic momentarily.

Doheny Bribery Trial Will Be Given To Jury Today; Arguments Completed

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21.— The charge that Edward L. Doheny bribed a cabinet officer to obtain oil leases will be given into the hands of a jury of nine men and three women tomorrow.

Two days of arguments by counsel ended tonight. Judge William Hitz of the District of Columbus Supreme court deferred until tomorrow the delivery of instructions to the jury.

The last two days the multi-millionaire has sat in court and heard himself alternately condemned as a man who paid $100,000 to Albert B. Fall to influence him to award Doheny's company a lease to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, and praised as a blameless man who loaned the money to an old friend in need.

The arguments ended in an impassioned appeal by Frank J. Hogan, of defense counsel, that his client be acquitted, and a calm recital by Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutor, of the Federal evidence.

Roberts told the jury the evidence in the case "makes out beyond doubt" that Doheny had given Fall the money with intent that he should be influenced by it to award his company leases.

J. K. Wester, Former Lubbock Mayor And State Representative, Announces Mayoralty Candidacy At 11th Hour

G. W. Pickle Enters Race For Commissioner Of Streets And Parks; All Applications Closed At Midnight; Wester Denies Signing Name To Document

WITH the toss two other hats into the political ring last night at the eleventh hour, interest in the approaching municipal elections was heightened and is expected to reach an unprecedented peak with two candidates campaigning for the mayoralty position of Lubbock.

With less than an hour before midnight, when applications were closed for a place on the municipal ticket, announcement was made from the office of City Secretary W. H. Rodgers of the candidacy of J. K. Wester, former mayor and state representative, to oppose that of J. J. Clements in the April 1 elections for mayor.

One other announcement also was received, that of G. W. Pickle, making the race for commissioner of precinct No. 3.

Although an application bearing his signature is in the hands of the city secretary, Mr. Wester, in a telephone conversation with the Morning Avalanche last night, denied that he had signed his name to any document. However, he intimated that in the event his friends asked his candidacy in strong enough numbers, the office would be acceptable.

Wester Undecided.

"I will not make any definite announcement at this time," Wester said. "If I get my name on the ticket through a petition of my friends, and if I think the thing looks good then I possibly will have something to say. I will tell you more about it tomorrow. I understand that my name can be withdrawn at any time."

J. W. Sampan said by telephone that a petition had been presented to Wester. He, however, refused to state whether or not Wester had signed the application. When asked if he was present at time of presentation of the petition, he admitted that he was. "But," he countered, "I will not say yes or no to the question regarding his signature.

Grand Jury Fails To Solve Strange Broken Neck Case

Mysterious Death Of J. T. Henson Investigated By Authorities; Physicians to Make X-Ray Pictures

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, Garza County, March 21. Investigation of a Garza county grand jury here today into the mysterious death of J. T. Henson, 60, who was found in a light touring car here last night, dead from a broken neck, had failed to throw any light on the case.

Physicians were preparing tonight to make x-ray pictures of the upper portion of Henson's body in an effort to ascertain the extent of the fracture.

Took Auto Ride.

Henson took an automobile ride Thursday night through the rural section, in company with Walter Julian, 28, and W. S. Sawyer, 35, both mill workers. He was in the rear seat of the car, while Julian and Sawyer rode in the front seat. When the machine was halted in the south part of the city, Julian and Sawyer climbed out and, upon noticing that Henson did not move made investigation, they said.

After discovering the man was dead they called Sheriff W. F. Cato and medical aid and reported the incident.

Investigation Started.

Headed by J. S. Boren, pioneer ranchman, the grand jury, which is now in session, began investigating the case today. Julian and Sawyer claim they are in ignorance concerning the method in which Henson met his death.

Henson has resided in Garza county for a long period of years and has been retired for several years. He is survived by two children, both grown. They are Elmer Henson and Mrs. Monroe Leverett, both of Post.

Five Men Arrested And Big $50,000 Transport Plane Seized In Breaking Up Ring In California

(By Associated Pr

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—With the arrest of five men, two of them aviators and the seizure of a $50,000 transport plane, Federal immigration agents said tonight they had broke up an elaborate plot to smuggle alien Chinese into California from Mexico by air.

George E. Flaherty, owner of the seized transport, was arrested and immigration agents said he confessed employing two fliers to pilot the plane on a smuggling expedition.

The pilots previously had been arrested. They are Harold A. Sweet, 26, of Los Angeles, former air line pilot, and George V. Gray, 24, of Taft, Cal.

Others in custody are John P. Smith, 24, of Los Angeles, and Eddie M. Collins, 34, of Long Beach, Cal.

First intimation of the alleged plot came early last Monday when Mexican authorities found Collins and Smith and nine Chinese in an automobile bogged down on a little used road near Mexicali, Lower California. The captives were turned over to immigration authorities for the United States at Calexico, American border city.

Houston Woman Is Charged in Blaze

HOUSTON, March 21 (AP) — A charge of arson was filed against Mrs. Nell Stout, 31, today, after a fire a few hours earlier in which some 10 persons were routed when a hole was burned in the side of a combination cafe and rooming house. Mrs. Stout was held in jail.

The cafe where the fire started was operated by Dan Kliesing. Mrs. Kliesing said Mrs. Stout and a sailor entered the Kliesing cafe between 9 and 10 o'clock last night and raised a disturbance. Police were called and the Kliesings filed charges of intoxication and disturbing the peace against Mrs. Stout.

"Mrs. Stout threatened to return and burn down the cafe," Mrs. Kliesing told a reporter. "Early this morning we were asleep in the living quarters above the cafe when we were awakened by a shout of 'Fire' down in the street. Eight roomers and my husband and myself rushed down."

SHEBBATI ZEBI MARRIED THE BIBLE

Shebbati Zebi was the most famous of the Pseudo-Messiahs. A mystic and a charlatan, he deluded his Jewish bretheren by claiming to have come "to fulfill their Messianic hopes." In order to lend weight to the genuineness of his pretended mission he celebrated with great pomp the festival of his marriage to the Bible. The community of Salonika, Greece, turned out to attend the solemn ceremony.

Shebbatai eventually accepted Mohammedanism to escape punishment at the hands of the Sultan of Turkey, 17th Century.

Claim New Prison Plant Is Possible

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Advocates of a central prison plant near Austin today claimed that under terms of the emergency appropriation bill passed by the special session of the legislature any part of the $575,000 voted to renovate the penitentiary system not expended by August 31 could be used in building a new plant.

The bill making appropriations for emergency use of schools, departments and institutions specifically directed that any of the $575,000 not expended could be used by the prison board in any manner it might determine.

Opponents of the Austin site plan were not worried, however, several expressing confidence the repair money could be spent only as directed by the bill.

Sprightly Pajamas

By MME LISBETH

Skirts at the southern beaches aren't quite so old-fashioned as the horse and buggy. Occasionally a woman is seen with a voluminous printed skirt to cover her bathing suit. But the pajama's the thing for beach wear and the more colorful and feminine the better.

Plans Under Way For Judges Meet

Tahoka Will Entertain West Texas Association April 17 And 18; Candidates To Be On Program

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, March 21.—With the annual meeting of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association set for April 17 and 18 in this city, plans are underway for entertainment of 300 delegates. A luncheon will be served by Lynn county home demonstration clubs under direction of Miss Thelma Greenwade. Homes of many citizens will be thrown open to the visitors, and approximately 120 hotel rooms will be available.

In addition to the judges and commissioners, a number of state and district candidates, and numerous road machinery salesmen are expected to be present.

The judges and commissioners association was organized last October in Lubbock with Judge Robert H. Bean, Lubbock, president; Judge Dixie Kilgore, Lamesa, vice-president, and Judge McGeehee, Floydada, secretary. Judge G. C. Grider, Tahoka, was instrumental in forming the association. Following the organization meeting, the first convention was held in Plainview December 18, at which the organization was completed.

Registered Bulls Bought by Ranch

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, March 21.—Making a total of 115 registered bulls now on the ranch, 27 head of registered Hereford bulls have been received by the T-Bar ranch here from a noted Wyoming herd.

T-Bar, owned by Cass O. Edwards, Fort Worth, and operated by D. A. Childers, Tahoka, is one of the largest and oldest ranches remaining in this section. Mr. Edwards bought the ranch in 1883, 22 years before Lynn county was organized, and although much of it has been sold off as farms there still remains a total of 111 sections in pasture. The ranch joins the Tahoka city limits on the west. Four thousand head of cows and yearlings are being kept over the spring and summer.

In spite of the severe blizzards of the past winter, Mr. Childers states cattle losses have been less this year than at any time in the ranch's 47 year history.

Representative of Huston Testifies

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—W. E. Moore, personal representative of Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the republican national committee, told the senate lobby committee today he had bought and sold stock at Huston's direction from the latter's New York brokerage account.

Questioned in regard to two checks given Huston by the Union Carbide company for the Tennessee River Improvement association and deposited with the brokerage firm of Blyth and Bonner, Moore said the funds had been used in buying and trading stocks.

The Union Carbide company, Huston has testified, gave him $36,100 for some maps and charts prepared by the Tennessee association, of which Huston is a former president. It has advocated the proposal of the American Cyanamid company to lease Muscle Shoals.

Mrs. Taft Joins Wives of Roosevelt, Cleveland, Wilson, Harrison to Make 5 White House Widows

BY NEA SERVICE

WASHINGTON March 21.—The recent death of William Howard Taft adds a fifth name to the nation's list of widows of former presidents.

Mrs. Taft, now 68, is still remembered as the hostess at the silver wedding anniversary celebration at the White House in 1911, when she and Mr. Taft entertained 5,000 persons at a garden party. Her four years there, from 1909 to 1913, were replete with many brilliant events, as the Tafts were famous as entertainers.

In the romantic age of the late 80's Frances Folsom, 22, and President Cleveland, 49, were married at the White House.

The president's girl wife proved equal to the occasion during the four years she reigned as First Lady, from 1893 to 1897. Her daughter, now Mrs. Randolph West, was the first White House baby.

Four years after her husband's death in 1909, Mrs. Cleveland married Professor Thomas J. Preston of Wells College in New York state. She is now 66.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson came to the White House in 1915 as the war president's second wife. During the trying years that followed, she was his close companion. She went to Europe with him to attend the peace conference at the close of the war.

Since Mr. Wilson's death in 1924, she has continued to maintain the famous S street home in Washington, occasionally going to Geneva to watch operations of the League of Nations. She returned recently from a trip to the orient. She is now 57.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, sr., retired to Oyster Bay, N. Y., after the death of her husband in 1919. At 63, she lives quietly, travels much, avoids publicity.

The fifth widow is Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, now 71. She married Mr. Harrison after he retired from the presidency. Nevertheless, she had her share of White House life, as she was a niece of the first Mrs. Harrison.

Mrs. Roosevelt is the only one of the widows who receives the government pension of $5000 a year. Mrs. Wilson declined it; Mrs. Cleveland's second marriage ended her pension; Mrs. Harrison was not entitled to one, and Mrs. Taft's pension has not yet been considered.

NEWARK, N. J., March 21. (AP)—The Newark Evening News today said police had identified a body found on the outskirts of Newark last August 9, a flaming torch with a bullet through the brain, as that of Eugene Moran, alias John Rice, 39, of New York's east side.

Moran's death, police believe, was gangland's reprisal for his leadership of a machine gun battle at Denver, termed a vain attempt to "eliminate" a foe of Arnold Rothstein, whom Moran is said to have served.

DICE AT $80,000 A THROW

Fortunes have been won and lost in the halls of chance at Miami, Miami Beach and other resorts during the winter season, but Florida has seen no gambler like Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Esq., New York, N. Y., who threw the dice twice in St. Petersburg the other day at $80,000 a throw.

The gamble was in the shape of a contract to an old man, Babe Ruth, for two years of baseball at $80,000 a year. There is this much to be said for the Colonel: he took it like a man.

The Colonel and the Babe and a group of photographers and newspapermen gathered in the lobby of the Princess Martha hotel a few minutes before the appointed hour. They filed into the elevators, three loads of them, not counting Izzy Kaplan, the Russian Boy Wonder Shutter Guy, from New York. Izzy, with his huge waistline and his camera and plates, made a separate load.

WILLIAMS EXAMINES CONTRACT

In room 801, the newspapermen stood around waiting while the shutter guys arranged their magic boxes. The Colonel and Babe went into another room alone for several minutes. Then forth came the Colonel with the contract (or at least he said it was the contract) and they sat at a table for the unfinished business.

Before seating himself, however, the Colonel assiduously presented the contract to Joe Williams of the New York Telegram for examination. Colonel Williams, it seems, had cast a few jocular aspersions at the whole rigamarole, even suggesting that mayhap the contract had been signed sometime in August, 1929. Colonel Williams retained his poise despite the Ruppert gesture.

There was a spirit of levity running through the newspaper crowd, as the Colonel made his two $80,000 throws—but after all, $160,000 is not what could be called trivial change and you couldn't blame Jake, old boy, for wanting a little ballyhoo for his dough.

ROMANCE OF OLD MISSING

Somebody recalled the day when Jimmy Dunn signed Tris Speaker for $50,000 to play for Cleveland. At that affair, which was held in the Indians' camp in Texas, somebody started opening up rye in quantity and quality, and in the end everybody forgot to sign the papers, and I am told there were even a few newspapermen who filed their stories in care of the War Cry, the trade journal of the Salvation Army.

The signing of Speaker wasn't so businesslike, so much like a cold, clammy business proposition as the Ruppert gamble. Ah, there was romance in them days, Eustace!

At the Ruth signing, there was one romantic note, though, that you could not miss. That was when Daniel, New York baseball writer, took a red, red rose from a vase on the Colonel's dresser and passed around petals for souvenirs to the giggling scribes.

Yankees Elected As Team To Wage Fight With Macks

Pitching Is Need Of New York Club; Detroit And Chicago White Sox Show Improvement

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer.

ATLANTA, March 21. (AP)—Nothing has transpired in the spring training camps of American league baseball clubs to justify unbounded enthusiasm over the chances of any one of the other seven clubs to dethrone the Athletics of Philadelphia, but ample reason exists for suggestions that the race will be close.

MACK

Improvement has been made in the array of talent sponsored by the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox, two clubs who were nowhere throughout the last American league test.

Detroit, a powerful offensive aggregation, had added defensive strength and may have uncovered two or three pitchers who can take their turn with the club's more experienced moundsmen.

The White Sox, a discouraged, woe-begone outfit last year, have taken on new life under the driving inspiration of wee Donie Bush.

By popular consent the Yankees have been elected to fight against the champion A's. If the freshmen manager, Bob Shawkey, gets good pitching they may do it.

Connie Mack is prepared for some pitfalls along the path. The Athletics won 17 games from Washington last year and the veteran manager says quite frankly that it is not in the cards to have this bit of baseball history repeat itself. The tall tactician expects and is prepared for war.

The Athletics naturally will stand pat on the outfit good enough to win in a walk last year. Big Boy Mahaffey may add considerable pitching strength and some bright youngsters will increase the population of the bench.

STANLEY HARRIS

Revamped in large part from last year, the Yankees will take the field with two recruits, Ben Chapman and Allan Cooke at third base and left field, with Mark Koenig restored to good standing as the shortstop. In company with several other clubs in the leagues the Yankees are wondering if they will get pitching, and time only can tell.

Cleveland may start with a somewhat wobbly infield and the chances are even that Lew Fonseca, leading hitter of the American league, will have to stand aside for a youngster for at least a few days of the season. Fonseca is convalescing from an attack of scarlet fever.

St. Louis has a new manager, but practically the same team Dan Howley led has been left for Bill Killefer to direct. The club could use another hard-hitting outfielder with profit and the pitchers would welcome arrangements to score more runs.

Washington will go along with the material it had last year if Goose Goslin finally comes into the fold. Goslin, who had his worst year in 1929, carries the punch of the team and if he is not eventually satisfied the attack will be greatly weakened. Manager Walter Johnson expects a distinct improvement in his pitching staff.

Rogell Solves Problem.

Bob Shawkey

Detroit, carrying a wallop in either hand, should be a factor. Last year the Tigers led the league in hitting, but finished sixth faulty fielding offsetting the terrific batting. Bill Rogell, former Red Sox may solve the shortstop problem, a vexing situation throughout last season. Elon Hogsett, a big Indian from the International league whose delivery is that of a left handed Ehmke, seems certain to help bear the pitching burden.

Improvement in the Chicago White Sox is largely shown in the better spirits of the players, although the infield has been noticeably strengthened by moving Bill Cissell from shortstop to second base. Ernie Smith and Irving Jeffries provide capable replacements for the vacant short field place. Smead Jolly's bat will add power in the drive for hits and runs.

Red Sox Improved.

A bright spot in the American league sky is the prospective improvement in the play of the Boston Red Sox, long a hopeless tailender. The Red Sox may not escape the cellar this year, probably they will not, but they can not be conceded the position in the perfunctory way they have been shunted to the bottom in previous advance calculations.

CAT-FROG TILT RAINED OUT

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—The no game, rain slogan was seen in Fort Worth for the first time today. The scheduled Fort Worth-Texas Christian university baseball game was called off.

The Panthers will play their first exhibition game here Saturday when the Baltimore Orioles of the International League arrive for a two-game series. Manager Snyder plans to use two veteran hurlers, Walkup and Clarkson, and two youngsters, Haynes and Devaney, in the first game with the A. A. club.

Another cut was made in the rookie ranks when Boykin, infielder from Ardmore, was released.

INDIANS DRIVEN INDOORS

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—Slow steady rain forced the Indians indoors for spring training Friday.

With 31 players now on hand, including the three turned over to the Indians by Manager McGraw of the New York Giants on option—Infielder McCullough, Outfielder Tucker, and Pitcher Richardson—Manager George Burns has more than ample material to select from in rounding out his team.

MACKS BEAT REDS

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 21. (AP)—Gilt edged pitching by Glenn Liebhardt and Al Mahon gave the Philadelphia Athletics their second straight victory over the Cincinnati Reds today, 5 to 2.

The Reds went scoreless until after one man had gone out in the ninth, then Curt Walker, former Phillies' player, drew a pass from Mahon, and George Kelly sent a triple spinning down first base line, Cuccinello followed with a sacrifice fly to Haas in center that enabled Kelly to cross the plate.

Jimmy Foxx propelled one home run.

SPUDS, STEERS CLASH TODAY

DALLAS, March 21. (AP) — The "Rain, No Game" sign today whetted the appetites of hungry Dallas baseball fans for the first pre-season exhibition game ever played between the Steers and the Spudders of Wichita Falls, scheduled for tomorrow. The game will open a two-day series.

Bert Grimm, chunky right-hander, was scheduled to start on the rubber for Dallas. The spudders were expected to send in Harold Wiltse, blonde southpaw, who tamed the herd in the second game of the play off series at Wichita Falls last year. Nine chunkers will accompany the Spudders here, and it was considered likely six of them would have a turn in the box.

CUBS TAKE LIGHT WORKOUT

WACO, March 21. (AP)—The Waco Cubs went out a bit later than usual, the Baltimore Orioles practicing in the morning due to the fact that they were to leave in the afternoon for Fort Worth.

INDIANAPOLIS 10; DETROIT 4

TAMPA, Fla., March 21. (AP)—The Indianapolis American Association team made it two in a row here today by defeating the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 4 in a 26-hit game.

The Tigers were as strong on hitting as the Indians, each side making 13, but the minor team's fielding kept the Tigers to two runs each in the second and fifth innings.

Uhle, Tiger pitcher, whose arm required treatment at the beginning of the training season, allowed three hits in three innings and knocked a home run.

Hornsby's Legs Are a Bit Slower But His Batting Eye Is Still Keen; Believes in Conservation of Energy

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., March 21. (AP) — Rogers Hornsby's legs aren't exactly what they used to be, but the ole' batting eye is keener than when he entered the National league 16 years ago.

While the Rajah normally is a mediocre spring hitter, he has been clouting the ball at a merry clip ever since he landed on Wrigley's magic island out here in the Pacific ocean. In the second exhibition game with Los Angeles, the Chicago Cub second baseman nicked good pitchers for two homers and a pair of singles.

A sore right heel is giving Hornsby some trouble, but he expects that to disappear before the season opens next month. Toward the end of last season a growth on the heel bothered him. He had it removed during the winter.

Hornsby conserves his energy. He seldom strains his eyes by reading anything other than the sports pages. He doesn't dance. And the orchestras here are thoroughly enticing. He won't play golf; he won't even walk any more than is necessary.

"You know a fellow's feet can't last forever, and a baseball player must take care of them," he said one day as he lolled around the hotel lobby while other Cubs played golf, tennis or just strolled around the island.

With the spotlight somewhat shifted from his to Lester Bell, the new third baseman whom Hornsby so loudly praised to the Cub management, Hornsby may boost his lifetime National league batting average of .363 this season. Despite a poor start last year, his first with the Cubs, he carved out a fancy .380.

Leader Goes Ahead With 36-Hole Total Of 140; Friday's 69 Brings Bill $200 In Prize Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21. (AP)—Bill Mehlhorn, Pensacola, Fla., professional, scored a 34--35—69 today to lead the 64 golfers participating in the $15,000 La Gorce open golf tournament here with a 36-hole total of 140.

Mehlhorn was three strokes ahead of Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., and Billie Burke, yesterday's leader, at the conclusion of the second day of play. Tommy Armour, Boca Raton, Fla., was in third place at the half-way market with 145.

The 69 that he scored today brought Mehlhorn $200 in prize money, $100 for the first day's low score and $100 for the 140 that set him up as medalist in 36-hole play in the tournament.

Phillies Capture Wild Swat Battle

Eight Home Runs Sail Out As Shotten Crew Defeats Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-9; Phils Get Five

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 21. (AP)—With home runs ringing off the bats almost as frequent as singles the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Nationals, 12 to 9, today.

Eight home runs, five by the Phillies, turned the contest into a hitting orgy. Friberg, O'Doul, Klein, Hurst and Sigman contributed the Phillies' circuit drives, three coming in the third inning, while Lee Gilbert and Bressler did likewise for the Dodgers. Seven runs in the first inning gave Brooklyn a lead, which the Philadelphia sluggers were unable to overcome.

The Robbins collected 13 hits off the combined deliveries of Milligan, Benge, Dailey and Sweetland, while the Phillies found Elliott, Vance and Phelps for a like number.

Tech Authorities In Sweetwater To Form Conference

Stangel, Jackson And Warlick Represent Local School At Session; Four Members Expected

Three Texas Tech representatives leave here early today for Sweetwater, where prospective members of the proposed Staked Plains conference for West Texas and New Mexico meet for a final decision on the new athletic loop.

Accompanying W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, are W. A. Jackson, government professor and member of the council, and M. T. Warlick, business manager of athletics. The meeting is scheduled to get underway at 10 o'clock this morning.

Four Schools Expected.

At least four schools will be represented at the meeting, Mr. Stangel said yesterday. Word has been received from Simmons university, the Texas School of Mines and the West Texas State Teachers college. Invitations were mailed to both the University of New Mexico and the New Mexico A. and M., but neither of these schools have signified that they will send representatives. It is thought, however, that both will be willing to abide by the decision of the other institutions.

Mr. Stangel will preside over the meeting.

Pete W. Cawthon, newly elected director of Texas Tech athletics, will be unable to attend the meeting, it was learned yesterday. Cawthon left yesterday for South Bend, Ind., where he will witness the annual spring football training of the Notre Dame Ramblers.

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic: Jesus Teaching and Healing.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 16:21-31.

Mat. 15:21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a demon.

23. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25. But she came and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26. And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

27. But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith; be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29. And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there.

30. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them:

31. Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Israel.

Golden Text: Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Matt. 7:7.

Time: Summer of A. D. 29, in the third year of Christ's ministry.

Place: The region of Tyre and Sidon. Decapolis. Capernaum. The Sea of Galilee.

Introduction

"The tests of life are to make, not to break us."—Malthie Babcock.

"We have a beautiful hymn, beginning, 'O Love, that wilt now let me go!' We want another, beginning, 'O faith that will not let Him go!'"—G. H. Morrison.

"O woman! great is thy faith," were the words that Phillips Brooks selected to be inscribed on the tombstone of his saintly mother.

It was not wise for our Lord to remain in Galilee at this time, unless he wanted to bring matters to a premature crisis. There would be the continued hatred of Herod (14:1, 13); the increasing hostility of the Pharisees (12:14, 15:1); and the attempts of the fanatic populace to put him at the head of a revolutionary uprising (John 6:15).

"Tyre and Sidon." v. 21

"And Jesus went out thence." Because of the attack of the scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem, Matt. 15:1-20. He knew that such attacks would lead to his death, and he had yet much to do in training his disciples and founding his church. His time had not yet come. "And withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon." These were the principal cities of Phoenicia. Tyre being about thirty-five miles and Sidon fifty-five miles from the Sea of Galilee where Jesus was. "Parts" implies that our Lord did not go even so far as Tyre, but merely journeyed northward into the hilly country south of the Phoenician plain, where today the richer people of the country have summer homes. Jesus was now in a heathen land. He was never outside of Palestine any other time.

"A Canaanitish Woman." v. 22

"And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders." Mark 7:26 says that she was a Greek, that is, a Gentile in religion, probably speaking Greek, and of Syrophoenician descent, coming from the stock of the ancient heathen tribes whom Joshua drove out of Canaan. Syrophoenician means a Phoenician of Syria, there being another branch of Phoenicians living in and around Carthage in northern Africa. "And cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David." Christ did not want it known that he was there. But, as is significantly said, "he could not be hid." By this time he had become very famous, and doubtless some Jew from Palestine caught sight of him and let it be known that the wonderful healer and teacher was there. The mother cried for mercy on herself, for she suffered with every pang of her daughter, as mothers do. "My daughter is grievously vexed with a demon." This woman was a praying mother, and she teaches us the duty and privilege of praying for others. The Anglican Church has appointed the story of this miracle to be read in Lent to teach us the duty of prayer and intercession on behalf of those who cannot, or will not, pray for themselves.

"The Lost Sheep . . . Of Israel" v. 24

"But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." That is, our Lord's first mission was to the Jews, the Israelites. "Jesus coveted the heathen, but had method in his purpose He would give himself to the Jews that they in turn might be the saviors of the heathen."—Rev. P. W. Norwood, D. D. "Christ anticipated a ministry that should be wider than these Jewish limits, as wide as the whole world. There is the saying, 'I will draw all men unto me.' There is that beautiful word, 'Other sheep I have which are not of this fold.' There is that utterance at Simon's table, when the woman broke the alabaster box, 'Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, this that she hath done shall be told of her'."—Rev. George H. Morrison, D. D.

The Woman's Faith Tested. vs. 26, 27

"And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs." "In the East, the dog is not the friend and companion of man. He is not the faithful dog, or the intelligent and affectionate dog. He is looked upon as a mean, treacherous brute, suffered to run wild in the streets of a town for the service he may do as a public scavenger."—Leonard Woolsey Bacon. Christ used a proverbial saying, but softened it by adding, "Let the children first be fed" (Mark 7:27), implying that the Gentiles' turn would come, but after the Jews' . . . This answer, was the anxious mother's third test of her faith, and the severest of all.

"But she said, Yea, Lord." She admitted the justice of what Christ had said, but eagerly caught it up and pressed it into service as an argument for her side. "For even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table." "The woman argues from the very abundance of Christ's grace that there would be enough for her. Her view was much the same with that of the prodigal when he came to himself, and in the midst of his misery began to remember his father's house, and to think that there was in it bread enough and to spare."—James McCash. The woman's attitude may well be ours as we approach our Saviour's table.

The Woman's Faith Rewarded. v. 28

"Then Jesus answered and said unto her." He answered "those wonderful words—perhaps the most pathetic words in the whole Bible—so full of humility, or reverence, and yet with a certain archness, almost playfulness, in them, as it were, turning our Lord's words against him."—Charles Kingsley. "O woman, great is thy faith." "Our Lord had a very quick eye for spying faith. If the jewel was lying in the mire his eye caught its glitter. Faith has a strong attraction for the Lord Jesus."—C. H. Spurgeon. 'The woman had proved the greatness of her faith, by her persistence in the face of great obstacles, by her humility, her alertness, her unselfishness, her overmastering love. Above all, her faith was great in its object, being fixed on the Saviour. "Be it done unto thee even as thou wilt." "She wanted only the crumbs—she is invited to sit up as a banqueter."—T. DeWitt Talmage. "And her daughter was healed from that hour." She went straight to her house (Mark 7:30), acting on her faith, and found her daughter cured.

Why The Delayed Answer?

To us who know the sequel, and who know better than the woman did, perhaps better than the Twelve, the heart of Jesus and his ways, his putting off the woman's request presents no great problem; any more than does his delay in answering the call of the Bethany sisters in their desperate anxiety (John 11:6). Such a severe case of mental sickness as this could be cured only by an extraordinary healing wonder; and that would need to be supported by extraordinary faith.

Strange as it may seem, we are repeatedly told that Jesus' healing power was absolutely conditioned by faith somewhere, in somebody. Maybe our Lord saw that the woman's faith needed to be cultivated, made stronger. The delay and our desperation often effect that. If I do not find my Lord's hand as I reach out in the dark, I must reach still farther. Hopelessness compels to larger hope. This same lesson is taught in Jacob's wrestling in the night at the ford of the Jabbok (Gen. 32:22-32).

Peter's Faltering Faith. Matt. 14:22-36

One reason why Peter is so great a favorite among the New Testament characters is because he was so much like the most of us. He was a man of ups and downs, and in no scene did he show this wave-like characteristic more strikingly than in that storm on the Sea of Galilee when, in the uncertain light of early dawn, after a night of great peril, Jesus was seen approaching their little boat, walking on the water from the eastern side of the sea, where they had left him for a period of solitary prayer. As soon as Peter was sure that the approaching figure was Jesus, he was seized with a sudden ambition himself to walk on the water, and shouted to the Lord, 'Bid me come unto thee upon the waters.' Christ simply answered, "Come." The confident disciple started out finely, but the rising and falling of the waves soon made his heart sink, and his courage all left him. Down he went in the sea, crying, "Lord, save me," so that Jesus had to take hold of him and lift him up, addressing to him the pointed question, "O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?"

"The believer's hope does not rest in any degree on the greatness of his faith, but in the greatness of him who is its object."—Thomas Guthrie.

"Prayer an answer will obtain,
Though the Lord a while delay;
None shall seek his face in vain,
None be empty sent away."
—John Newton.

Sulphur Tax Will Total $1,298,347

AUSTIN, March 21. (AP)—Three Texas corporations and one Louisiana company will pay into the Texas treasury approximately $1,298,347 annually as a result of the sulphur tax of 55 cents per ton levied by the legislature.

According to the comptroller's department, 2,360,632 tons of sulphur was mined in Texas the past year. The four producing companies paid a gross receipts tax of 26 cents per ton on it, the new levy increasing the revenue from this source about $684,583 annually.

Sulphur mines in Brazoria and Matagorda counties, owned by two companies, produced all but 46,522 tons of last year's supply. A company in Duval county produced 43,522 tons and a Louisiana company 3,000 tons. Texas gives the world 99 per cent of its sulphur.

PIRATING ATTEMPTED

SHANGHAI, March 21. (AP)—Lawless soldiery between Hankow and Ichang today attempted to pirate a Standard Oil company of New York steamer which was nearing Itu, midway between the two towns.

Due to the combined efforts of the United States naval guard aboard the steamer and the guard aboard another American ship which was nearby, the marauders were repulsed.

English cloth manufacturers are opposing the threatened style of no cuffs on trousers because it will mean the use of less cloth.

HAD 3 SPELLS OF INDIGESTION

Man Says He Took Black-Draught After Each Meal and Soon Got Relief.

North Charlotte, N. C.—In telling how he was benefited by Thedford's Black-Draught, Mr. John M. Crepe, of 902 Charles Avenue, this city, writes:

"I had three spells of indigestion, one after another. I suffered a lot of pain. My back ached and I had pains in my stomach frequently. It felt like my breath was cut off in my chest.

"I was bothered this way for about a year. A friend whom I told about my condition asked me to try Black-Draught.

"I began by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and found that I soon got relief.

"I have been taking Black-Draught for fourteen years, and I find that it prevents headache and constipation. We keep it in the house all the time. I have told a lot of people about it, and gladly recommend it to others."

Many people have written that they found relief from pains after eating by taking Black-Draught in the manner described by this North Carolina man.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

But exhort one another daily, while it is called today; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.—Hebrews, iii, 12, 13.

A GREAT PIONEER WAS ED C. LASATER

To say that Ed. C. Lasater, who died at Ardmore, Okla., Thursday, owned the world's largest Jersey cattle farm, names merely one accomplishment of this pioneer Texas cattleman.

To say that Ed C. Lasater was well-known throughout the United States as a cattle breeder, does not complete the story.

Ed C. Lasater died at the age of 69. He was born near Goliad and spent all his years in Texas, active first in the sheep business, then in cattle.

In 1893 Lasater owned 30,000 head of beef cattle, operating the now-famous Lasater ranch at Falfurrias. During the panic of 1893, when beef prices tumbled to $2.70 a hundred, he sold his herd at a loss of $130,000.

And here, so it seems to The Morning Avalanche, begins the real story of Lasater's pioneering. From the failure caused by the 1893 panic, he began building back again, upon the foundation of finer stock.

Ed C. Lasater's greatest achievement, it seems to us, is the world-wide renown as a breeder of pure-bred Jersey cattle. His ranch grew in size until it at one time included 360,000 acres, located in Duval, Brooks and Willacy counties.

To Ed C. Lasater's many years of breeding fine Jersey cattle is at least partly due the fact that Jerseys in Texas far out-number any other line of dairy cattle. Development of the dairy cattle industry throughout the Lone Star State would undoubtedly be many years behind its present status, had it not been for Lasater's pioneering in Jersies at a time when common practice among cattlemen of the state was the raising of beef cattle.

PHYSICAL PROGRESS

It is a good thing for a nation to improve morally and spiritually, but to modern man it seems quite as important to improve mentally and physically. The other things often follow an active mind and healthy body.

None will quarrel with the bald statement that there is some difference of opinion as to the present state of the American people morally and spiritually, but the evidence that they are better mentally and physically is too plain to support even a doubt. One illustration will suffice to bear out the latter assertion.

In the days of old—the rare old, fair old, dumb old days beyond recall—teeth were permitted to decay until they fell out of their own accord or had to be extracted to stop the pain caused by exposed nerves. Then the dentist was a man to be avoided. Just as men and women of peculiar mental caliber will not permit themselves to be taken to a hospital until the angel of death is virtually tapping at the door, there was a time when the dentist's major performance was on the teeth of humans racked with torturing pains. None cared how crooked or black the teeth were, if there were no aches to disturb one's slumbers and spoil one's meals.

How much more intelligent is the modern viewpoint! Many parents of all classes intelligently guard the teeth of their children from infancy, taking measures to guide them into their proper position and preventing decay. The toothbrush is in almost universal use. In the schools the child is taught dental cleanliness and is subjected to frequent dental examinations. And countless adults no longer postpone visiting the dentist until a sharp pain sounds the alarm of dental trouble.

The nation's reward is that toothache is becoming rare and clean, even teeth are becoming a national characteristic.

Some time ago, Fanny Brice did an act quite similar to Phil Scott's, but she called it a traversity on Pavlowa's "Dying Swan."

FINDING WHAT TAXES AMERICANS PAY IS HOPELESS TASK, STEWART THINKS

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

ASHINGTON, March 21.—Taxation is a government's worst worry.

People always are wanting it cut down, naturally. Its tendency almost uncontrollably is upward.

Of course that was what President Hoover was thinking about when he recently warned congress against running up Uncle Sam's expenses; he was afraid it would increase taxes, which he knew would be very unpopular, and the chances were he would come in for a share of the unpopularity.

He angered congress, however, because the lawmakers figured that he was trying to unload the responsibility for it onto them if there SHOULD be an increase and to claim credit for it in the other event.

As a matter of fact, economy talks by big public men invariably do make a hit with the taxpayers, whether or not any real economy follows.

In this latest instance President Hoover happened to get ahead of congress in making one. That, rather than anything in the talk itself, was what fretted the legislators—that the president had beaten them to it. If they had thought of it first, THEY would have done the talking, and the White House would have considered that CONGRESS was bluffing.

Praises of economy mingled in the capital atmosphere with demands for a several hundred million dollar public improvement to relieve unemployment.

A peculiar thing about taxation is that, much as it is discussed in Washington, it is impossible to find out here just what it amounts to.

This is where the laws are passed levying all the federal taxes.

It seems as it ought to be precisely the place where it could be determined, to a cent, what proportion of each American's earnings are commandeered for government purposes annually.

Actual experiment is required to demonstrate that no such thing is possible.

Several times I have tried it, without getting anywhere. Finally I gave it up, as a problem no one can answer.

It is simple enough to learn what Uncle Sam collects.

The overwhelming bulk of his revenues come from income taxes and the custom houses.

The total is huge, to be sure, but spread out over the whole country, it quickly becomes apparent that the per capita is not so awful—not nearly sufficient to account for ous consciousness of the tremendous burden we are carrying.

Then it begins to dawn on the investigator that he has failed to take state, county and city taxes into consideration.

And right there he is stalled—and never gets an inch farther.

He can ascertain pretty definitely how much of each American's earnings in proportion to their amount, Uncle Sam spends on his (the federal) government, but the states', the counties' and the cities' expenditures vary with each state, county and city, and all it's posible to strike is an average.

The average is worth nothing whatever, for one taxpayer, living in an economically-run city, county and state, may be away below it; another one, living in an expensively run city, county and state, is correspondingly above it.

An individual can foot up his city, county and state taxes, right where he lives, and arrive at some sort of an approximate figure, but a national average of all these totals is practically meaningless.

Even at that, the individual himself is not very certain, for he cannot make sure as to the amount o f other folk's taxes that are wished off onto him due to his butcher's, his baker's and his candlestick-maker's custom of adding their own taxes onto the bills he settles, as part of the prices they charge him.

Uncle Sam's rake-off is comparatively moderate.

Where Uncle Sam does fool the taxpayer is, not in what he takes for himself, but in what he lets his friends, the tariff beneficiaries, collect.

When a shipment of goods arrives from abroad and Uncle Sam collects an import tax on it, no one need be deceived, for that collection goes down in Uncle Samuel's books and the whole country knows about it.

But the tariff beneficiary's idea is, not to enable Uncle Sam to collect import taxes, but to keep foreign goods out altogether (or as nearly all out as he can) in order to give him (the beneficiary) a monopoly of the home market.

REMOVAL OF TONSILS ADVISABLE IF THEY ARE INFECTED OFTEN

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, The Health Magazine

No one has ever determined exactly why we have tonsils. Apparently they served some purpose in taking care of the infectious organisms that came into the throat.

However, their response to infection is prompt swelling and inflammation with pain, soreness, difficulty in swallowing, swelling of the glands in the throat, high fever, a rapid pulse, a general weakness and serious illness generally. Not infrequently the germs which develop in the tonsils are carried by the blood to other parts of the body and there set up inflammations, the regions particularly being affected being the joints, the heart and the kidneys.

The germ that is most frequently responsible for tonsilitis is the streptococcus, which is also responsible for various forms of heart disease, for erysipelas and for similar conditions. When the tonsils have once been seriously affected, they apparently are likely to become infected again and again.

In children particularly it is exceedingly important to make sure that the condition is tonsilitis and not diptheria. Tonsilitis produces a throat that is purplish red and swollen, whereas diptheria produces a grayish white membrane. The special importance of the distinction lies in the fact that the control in diptheria depends on early diagnosis and the prompt administration of a sufficient amount of suitable antitoxin.

The patient with tonsilitis should go to bed promptly. A physician will usually apply directly to the place of infection suitable antiseptics to destroy the germs that are on the surface. He will also control the fever and provide medication which may be helpful. The application of an ice bag or hot packs will give relief from the pain and soreness. A gargle with a small amount of baking soda helps to clear out the adherent mucus.

Chronic tonsilitis is especially dangerous because of the secondary effects. For this reason, physicians advise surgical removal of the tonsils in all such cases. Tonsilitis itself is seldom fatal, but the possibility of an infected ear, or infected joints, or heart disease after that is so serious that a sore throat should never be neglected.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE CRIME: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body rock-weighted, dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeleys.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, guest at time of crime and discoverer of body; Captain Strawn of the Homicide Squad.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSEHOLD (all under suspicion): MR. and MRS. GEO. BERKELEY, who quarreled late Friday night over their daughter CLORINDA'S engagement to SEYMOUR CROSBY of New York, close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's secretary, MRS. LAMBERT; GIGI Berkeley, who unaccountably sprinkled all persons in the drawing room Friday night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to Mrs. Berkeley and later used as murder weapon; DICK Berkeley, who, after having been missing all night, turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, of having murdered him as well as the girl; WICKETT, butler, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Strawn and Dundee check Dick's story that he spent the night in the tower room; recover from the lake Doris's apron tied about fragments of the perfume flask and her vanity case; then return to their questioning of Mrs. Berkeley, who insists she did not see Doris after the maid helped her dress for dinner. Dundee relentlessly prods Mrs. Berkeley with questions, trying to force her to admit she saw the maid when she returned to her bedroom after quarreling with her husband in the library. She insists she did not see or speak to Doris, but her husband interrupts: "Abbie, please tell these gentlemen the truth!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

"George Berkeley, don't you dare insinuate that I'm lying!" Mrs. Berkeley cried, furious tears filling her pale blue eyes. "Mr. Dundee asked me if I saw Doris again, or spoke to her, and I told the truth when I said I didn't! I can't swear it was Doris who answered when I called her on the house phone—"

"On the house phone? When?" Dundee demanded.

"While my husband and I were talking in the library last night," the woman answered defiantly. "As I told you, I'd thought I shouldn't need her to wait up for me, and had given her permission to retire when she pleased. But my headache got to be so bad while George and I were talking that I decided I'd need a massage of my forehead and spine. Doris is—was—awfully good at that sort of thing. So I rang her room on the house phone and someone answered—"

"You did not recognize the voice as Doris's?" Dundee interrupted.

"We-ell, I thought I did. I—I was rather upset, and it never occurred to me at the time that it could be anyone but Doris. She had a room of her own, you know, in the servants' quarters on the third floor. I told her to go to my room and wait for me."

"At what time did you call her?"

"Oh, how do I know?" she burst out angrily, dabbing at her mascaraed tears. "I wasn't watching clocks! But it was something like 15 minutes after George and I began to talk—"

"And I suppose you counted on your husband feeling so sorry about your awful headache that he'd cut short the argument and let you have your own way?" Captain Strawn cut in, apparently distrustful of Dundee's more gentle methods.

"I refuse to answer such a question!" Mrs. Berkeley cried furiously.

With a slight smile Dundee put the next question. "Then how long was it before you went up to your room, after speaking with Doris—or someone!—on the house phone?"

"I don't know exactly. Half an hour, possibly. George simply wouldn't be reasonable—anyway, when I got to my room, Doris wasn't here, so I got into bed as quickly as I could and took the bromide tablet, and went to sleep."

"Weren't you surprised and displeased to find your orders disobeyed?" Dundee asked quietly.

"We-ell, of course I was, but it was so late and I was feeling so wretched that I decided not to have a scene. Besides, I had already made up my mind to discharge the girl as soon as Mr. Crosby's visit was ended. He is to be with us only a week—"

"You did not call her again on the house 'phone?"

"No, I didn't! Do I have to say so a dozen times?"

"You say you went to sleep very soon after you retired?"

"I didn't say so, but I did go to sleep very quickly, because of the bromide tablet, you know."

Without a word, Dundee rose, laid his notes on his chair, and strode swiftly to the bed. He stooped to pick up something from the floor and when he returned he was holding, rather gingerly, a damp ball of handkerchief.

"Did you cry yourself to sleep, Mrs. Berkeley?" he asked gently.

The woman shrank from the handkerchief as if it had been soaked with blood, instead of tears. "No—no, no! I cried thisS NtlL-h "No—no, No! I didn't! I cried this morning after I'd heard about Doris—"

"Pardon, Mrs. Berkeley, but the handkerchief you were using when Captain Strawn told you the news is the one you have in your hand now," Dundee corrected her courteously. "I remember the edging of orchid linen. This one is all white, as you can see. And the condition of this handkerchief shows that the tears were not recently shed. You tucked it under the edge of your pillow when you had finished weeping last night, I think, and it fell out when you arose this morning."

The woman collapsed suddenly and began to cry into the orchid-bordered handkerchief which had betrayed her lie. "Yes, I—I did cry myself to sleep, but if you're thinking it had anything to do with Doris— If you must know, I was crying because George had been so—so cruel, so pig-headed, so nasty to me—"

"Abbie!" her husband broke in sternly.

"Mrs. Berkeley, forgive me, but there are a few more questions I am compelled to ask you," Dundee began again soothingly. "First aside from the fact that you disapproved of your son's interest in the girl, what was your own feeling toward Doris? Was the relationship of mistress and maid a pleasant one?"

"Of course it was! I wouldn't stoop to quarreling with a servant!" she sobbed out indignantly.

"I am to infer, then, that you did not quarrel with the girl about Dick after the scene yesterday?"

"I—no, I didn't quarrel with her at all. I merely told her most emphatically that she was not to vamp Dick!"

"Was she sulky or impertinent as she helped you dress for dinner last night?"

The tear-reddened blue eyes looked startled, then roved wildly about the room as if seeking help. And when they encountered the stern gaze of George Berkeley they clung for a moment and grew wider.

"She—she wasn't like herself,"

Murder Backstairs

Mrs. Berkeley admitted as if the words had been wrung from her. "She—she was clumsy—"

"So clumsy that you became disgusted with her, spoke to her sharply, and after she had retorted impertinently, you pushed her violently from you?" Dundee asked, his voice suddenly steely.

Captain Strawn hitched up his trousers and grinned approvingly. Now they were getting somewhere!

"I—you!—I—" Mrs. Berkeley gasped, her hand at her throat. Then again she collapsed against the cushions. "I might have known she'd tell tales—make a mountain out of a molehill! I didn't push her! I—I just slapped her cheek, not very hard, either, but she had been grossly impudent—".

"Just when and where did this scene take place, Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee asked.

"Why don't you ask Wickett, since he's already told you so much?" she cried angrily. "I'll discharge him, too! He and that girl were as thick as thieves, and both of them have acted, ever since they came, as if Mrs. Lambert and not I were the head of this house."

"Will you answer the question, please, Mrs. Berkeley?"

"Oh, can't you let me alone?" she wailed. Then, capitulating suddenly: "It was while I was dressing for dinner. I—I told her to open a new bottle of perfume I'd bought in the city yesterday, and—and she said something impertinent—"

"Just what did she say, Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee pressed, a strange excitement in his dark eyes.

"I—I don't remember!" the woman protested. "You don't expect me to remember every tiny thing, do you? . . . Well, it was just—just a word or two like—" She knit her brows, and Dundee was absolutely sure she was concocting a lie. "Oh, yes! She said, 'You use too much perfume, Madame. Of course I was furious at such impertinence, and I—I slapped her face!"

"And where did this scene take place, Mrs. Berkeley?"

"Why, in here! I was standing before the full-length mirror in my closet door, and Doris was adjusting the shoulder straps of my evening dress," she answered quickly and positively.

* * *

Dundee and Strawn exchanged glances, then the chief of the homicide squad decided to take a hand.

"In here, eh? You're sure it wasn't in the bathroom, ma'am?"

"Of course I am!" she shrilled. "I was standing right there—"

"Then when was it that you pushed the girl over against the bathroom mirror, Mrs. Berkeley?" Strawn went on, his eyebrows raised.

"The bathroom mirror? . . . . Why, I—I don't know what you're talking about!"

"Then let me show you, lady!" Strawn invited grimly.

She struck out at his hand furiously as he endeavored to help her rise from the chaise longue, and scrambled to her feet, clutching her negligee about her fat body.

George Berkeley remained where he was, his chin propped broodingly upon a clenched fist, while the two detectives and his wife went into the luxurious bathroom.

"See that smudge, Mrs. Berkeley?" Strawn pointed to the mirror over the dressing-table. "Doris's lipstick. And the print of her mouth is smudged downward, proving beyond the shadow of a doubt that Doris Matthews was pushed against that mirror!"

"I didn't do it! I don't know anything about it! I swear I don't!" Mrs. Berkeley's teeth were chatter-telltale mirror. "I didn't kill her! ing as she backed away from the That's what you're thinking! But I didn't kill her, I tell you!"

"But she was waiting here for you, when you came upstairs last night?" Strawn persisted sternly.

"No, no! I swear she wasn't! I never laid eyes on Doris after 7:10 last night! I swear to God—" She was hysterical now, beating at the broad, uniformed chest of the chief of detectives.

"Don't take on so, ma'am," Strawn advised. "I'm not arresting you—yet. I want to have a talk with your daughter, Miss Clorinda, first."

"Clorinda?" Mrs. Berkeley whispered, the blood draining from her face.

"Yes, ma'am. Seeing as how it was her silk scarf with which the rocks were tied into the girl's skirt—"

But Mrs. Berkeley heard no more for she had fainted.

Wheat Prices Put On Upgrade Friday

CHICAGO, March 21. (AP)—Apparent fade out of the southern hemisphere and a big source of breadstuff supplies for Europe put wheat prices on the upgrade today. It was reported that Argentina has little or no wheat left of good millable quality. Furthermore, Argentine wheat exports this week, and Australian as well, show a huge falling off in volume as compared with a year ago.

After rising to 9 cents a bushel higher today than last week's bottom level, Chicago wheat futures closed unsettled, 3-8 to 1 5-8 cents above yesterday's finish. Corn closed 3-8 to 1 cent down, oats unchanged to 1-2 cent off, and provisions 5 to 15 cents advanced.

It was announced that Argentine wheat exports in the last week totaled only 1,487,000 bushels against 3,121,000 bushels at this time last year, and that Australian out shipments for the week were 1,240,000 bushels compared with 3,616,000 bushels a year ago.

One dollar, invested for 100 years at 6 per cent, compounded, will earn more than $338, while at 3 per cent it would earn only a little more than $19.

General Tendency To Improve Shown By Cotton Market

Prices Reach Highs Late In Trading To Close Few Points Under Best For Day; Liverpool Favorable

NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (AP)—Cotton showed a general tendency to improve today under a demand promoted by good Liverpool cables and more favorable cotton goods advices. Prices reached the highs of the day in late trading, closing just a few points under the best. May, after easing to 15.28, rallied to 15.53 and closed at 15.50, or 25 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 12 to 25 points.

Liverpool cables were 1 to 4 points better than due and influenced an opening gain here of 10 to 12 points.

In final trading considerable price-fixing developed and values bulged sharply making new highs for the day over $1 a bale above the lows. July advanced to 15.64, or 25 to 26 points up. October did not make a new high. Final prices were 3 to 6 points under the best with old crop positions showing net gains of 25 points against an advance of only 12 points on October.

Cotton Prices Make New High Ground

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Cotton was higher today with prices making new ground for the present upward movement, on continued covering by trade or speculative shorts and some commission house buying which appeared promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reiterated rumors that deliveries might be called for on May contracts. May sold up to $15.81 or 24 points net higher, and closed at $15.78 with the general market closing steady at net advances of 6 to 21 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 12 points to a decline of 1 point with most months higher on buying influenced by the comparatively firm showing of Liverpool. Realizing was encountered at about the initial prices, but it was absorbed on slight setbacks and the market soon firmed up again.

Wheat Is Slightly Higher on Market

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—Wheat was slightly higher on the cash grain market here today, but demand was still draggy. Corn and grain sorghums were in good demand as were cane seeds. Oats were fairly well taken.

Mills were nominally bidding 1.11 @1.12 for No. 1 ordinary hard wheat delivered Texas common points.

Bids and offers on coarse grains basis carloads delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

if anything.

Johnson was not in, neither was his first assistant and those on duty knew of nothing for which Capone should be held, so the entourage hurriedly drove out to the criminal courts building to see what Pat Roche, the chief investigator for State's attorney John A. Swanson, had to talk to Capone about. Roche, also, happened to be out and his aides professed surprise that Capone should be brought there.

Isn't Wanted

Meanwhile, State's Attorney Swanson was in his office, but Capone was not taken there, and Swanson knew nothing about it. So they went back to the detective bureau where Stege "laid down the law." He told Al Chicago didn't want him and that detectives were under instructions to "pull him in" whenever they saw him on the streets.

Capone held a different attitude. The man whose name once was synonymous with the William McSwiggin machine gun killing and the North Clark street massacre of seven Moran gangsters said "Chicago is my home and I intend to live here."

CONFERENCE HELD

LONDON, March 21. (AP)—Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy and Jacques Dumesnil of the French delegation held a two-hour conference this afternoon. It was understood no progress toward breaking the Franco-Italian deadlock resulted.

Success Predicted.

Klett stated that he believed the building program could be put over in short order and that 100 men in Lubbock would be glad to donate their share of $120 each to build the home. Each of the other speakers were of the same opinion while several of those gathered rose at the meeting and offered themselves to give as much as $500. The plan will be carried into the schools by Mr. Duncan who declared that he felt the children would want some part in the building program.

A short address of thanks to the business men of their spirit and cooperation was made by Dr. F. W. Standefer.

The proposed new home will be built on a site given by the City of Lubbock for a consideration of $1 and the services of the soldiers and sailors who fought during the war. A 50-year lease on the property has been signed. The building will be located 30 feet north of the northside of the city hall and will face east on Texas avenue. It will occupy a space of 50x125 feet.

Another meeting is to be held next Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in room 213 of the Lubbock hotel at which time other business men of the city are expected to attend.

"I would if I could," was Dague's response.

"Why don't you " Mrs. Schroeder countered.

"Oh, just because," Dague shouted back.

was found bound to a burning bed.

The woman was reported to have clung to the story told shortly after the burning episode. She said she was awakened by someone pressing a hand on her chest and stuffing a stocking into her mouth. She related that her feet had been tied to a post of her bed and her hands bound behind her.

Thinks Two In Room.

She said she managed to roll off the bed after the mattress had been fired. She believed two persons were in the room during the attack, but she could not identify her assailant.

G. S. Moore, Oakwood, Tex., business man, charged with assault to murder and arson, claimed he had been framed by persons who wanted to extract money from him. He has a wife and a child.

A habeas corpus hearing was held in Groesbeck for him yesterday, and he was released on $1,000 bond.

Miss Jones had been lodged in jail here Saturday on a charge of forging Moore's name to a $250 check, which she claimed was used to pay for an operation she had undergone several months ago. She said she had known Moore for several years, and that she had signed his name to other checks and he had not objected.

Victim Questioned.

The Rangers questioned Miss Jones and all those who might know something of the affair.

Admitting that little progress had been made, Geppert said he hoped to see the investigation ended this week, adding that all theories, including that of self-imposed bonds, were being investigated.

Moore today declared that he scarcely knew the girl whom he accused of forging his name to checks with which she paid for an operation in a Teague hospital.

Fair Success Met By Operators For Advance On Friday

Bull Movement Is Forced To Hurdle Barrier Made By Higher Money; Day's Business Heaviest

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—The bull movement on the stock market was forced to hurdle a barrier of higher money today, but acquitted itself with fair success.

Call money renewed at 3 per cent, as compared to yesterday's 2 per cent renewal rate, the lowest in years, and advanced successively to 4 and then 4 1-2 per cent, as about $100,000,000 in loans was called.

Actively piled up total sales for the largest day's business since December.

The index of 90 leading shares was elevated more than a point further into new high ground since October. The ticker ran 49 minutes after the close.

With readjustments incident to the mid-month treasury activities, bankers predict that call money will settle back to comparatively cheap levels next week.

The weekly business and mercantile reviews stressed the stiffening in commodity prices this week as the outstanding favorable development.

Auto Show Records Record Attendance

Estimate Over 10,000 See Two-Day Display Of New Model Motor Cars Here; Music On Program

As the doors swung to last night ending Lubbock's second annual automobile show, a record breaking attendance had been recorded during the two days of the affair in which almost every conceivable type of automobile was displayed.

"Although we kept no record of the attendance," said G. P. Kuykendall, who is in charge of the program, "we feel that the number of visitors will exceed that of last year, when 10,000 attended.

"Public expressions of interest were gratifying to officials of the show. We made no effort for sales during time of the display; however, a few of the dealers have reported sales in response to the interest created."

Thirty-three automobiles, all well displayed, were entered in the show by nine dealers. A wide range of design was included in those shown and ample space was provided at the Uptown Dance Palace.

Music, furnished by the Collegians, of Texas Tech, was included on both afternoon and night programs.

Escaped Amarillo Prisoners Caught

AMARILLO, March 21. (AP)—Jack Green and L. B. (Hard-Boiled) Smith, who escaped from the Potter county jail yesterday, were recaptured at Signal Hill, deserted oil town four miles east of Stinnett, shortly after midnight and returned to jail here today.

The men were arrested in the town's only building, and a man that resided in it was placed in jail at Stinnett on a charge of aiding and abetting the prisoners in their escape.

City Political Pot Begins Boiling as Candidates Announce at 11th Hour

We do not have anything to give out tonight."

Says Application Signed.

R. G. Shelton, also interested in the petition, last night stated that Mr. Wester did sign the application, "but I would refer you to Mr. Sampson for any further information as I don't know a great deal about it."

A resident of Lubbock for the past 20 years, Wester was mayor of the city in 1916 and 1917, resigning to take up the teaching of school. He was formerly a member of the Texas legislature from this district in 1924 and was superintendent of the Lubbock schools for a period of four years.

The municipal ticket, as it stood last night when all applications had been read, is: For mayor, J. J. Clements and J. K. Wester; for commissioner, precinct 1, J. H. Hankins (re-election), and J. H. Roach; for commissioner, precinct 3, George Benson and G. W. Pickle. Pickle and Benson are seeking commission of streets and parks.

May Ask College Head to Resign

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 21. (AP)—Refusing to reopen the year-old sex questionaire incident at the University of Missouri, but determined to proceed with an investigation on charges of unrest and academic interference at the shcool, members of the board of curators were in session tonight, apparently to settle the question of whether the resignation of Dr. Stratton D. Brooks as president will be asked.

The board called in deans of all shcools and some of the leading professors for a conference behind closed doors.

Rabbi Samuel S. Mayerberg, of Kansas City, in a statement to newspapermen, said he knew of fourteen members of the faculty who would resign unless Dr. Brooks left the institution.

Claim Marketing Act Socialistic

GALVESTON, March 21. (AP)—Branding the federal agriculture marketing act as socialistic, John K. Dorrance, president of the Texas Cotton association, condemned it as an attempt of the government to better one clas sof people at the expense of the other classes, in his address before the nineteenth annual convention here today.

Dorrance declared the Farm Board had ignored offers of expert cotton men to aid in formulating plans for the proper marketing of the staple and charged it had made false and misleading statements which have confused marketers and caused depression instead of stability in the industry and had failed to announce any definite policy of procedure.

The farm subsidy plan has been tried in other countries and has failed he declared. He predicted it would either fail in this country or result in policies that will not put a burden on other classes to help the farming classes.

FACE IMMUNITY ROW

Near-Fatal Accident Brings Up Diplomatic Problem

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—With a young man near death as the result of collision with a foreign diplomat's automobile and with Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, acting upon congress to abolish diplomatic immunity to traffic regulations, the state department today became seriously concerned with the immunity problem.

An accident between machines driven by Commander Juan Polich, naval attache of the Chilean embassy, and Paul Hammond, 22, a railroad clerk, two days ago, since which Hammond has been only partly conscious, precipitated the controversy.

TRIAL POSTPONED

LUFKIN, March 21. (AP)—Preliminary trial for Mrs. Henry Shivers, charged with the death of her husband, was postponed today. The district attorney said the hearing probably would be held "within the next two days."

Lamb County Interested in Selection Of Lubbock As Cotton Co-Op Center

"Lamb county cotton farmers are vitally interested in the possibility of Lubbock becoming a concentration point for cotton of the South Plains, under the unit plan of cooperative marketing as outlined by the Federal Farm Board and the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association," was the declaration of J. W. Hammock, of Sudan. Mr. Hammock is a breeder of pure grain sorghum seed and field representative for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, which organization is being formed.

"We also hope that Littlefield will be selected as a division point for the concentration of 10,000 bales of cotton, under the unit possible on the South Plains," Mr. Hammock continued. "Lamb county will this season have produced more than 50,000 bales of cotton, leading all the counties of the South Plains. The Littlefield compress has this season handled about 45,000 bales of cotton."

Mr. Hammock tells of several farmers of Lamb county producing more than a bale of cotton to the acre this year. One farmer, J. D. Nixon, of Amherst, harvested 110 bales from 100 acres. Three other farmers, A. J., H. C., and C. E. Pickrell, of the Pleidton community, northwest of Littlefield, recently shipped 308 bales through the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

"A. J. Pickrell shipped 140 bales, H. C. Pickrell shipped 126 and C. E. Pickrell shipped 54 bales of the 308," states Mr. Hammock. "These three farmers averaged three-fourths of a bale per acre."

Lamb county feed crops were good the past season, although hail and drouth cut down the total yield, according to Mr. Hammock. "There will be more new land put into cultivation this year in Lamb county than any year since 1924, he says, which may account for the county showing an increase in total cotton acreage, although the tendency among cotton farmers is to reduce their acreage."

Predict Probe of Railway Companies

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Investigation of railroad holding companies by the house interstate commerce committee is expected by Chairman Parker to begin early next month with members of the interstate commerce commission as first witnesses.

The proceedure under which the investigation is to be conducted is being formulated by Dr. W. M. W. Splawn, special counsel retained to direct the technical phases of the inquiry.

The commission officials are to be heard first, Parker said, in order to lay the ground work for the investigation, which is to be made to ascertain the true ownership of the railroads, with a view to formulating legislation which would bring the holding companies under the jurisdiction of the commission. This is necessary, he continued, before the committee could formulate legislation to bring about the consolidation of the railroads.

STRIKE PEACEFUL

Cuba Stages Unemployment Demonstration

HAVANA, March 21. (AP)—Cuba's 24-hour strike, which began at midnight last night, progressed peacefully, but gained some recruits during the day.

The strike was called partly in protest of unemployment and partly because of the arrest of five radical labor leaders, who are still held, last week. The Cuban police say it was ordered by the third international at Moscow.

The newspaper El Pais-Excelsior suspended publication in the afternoon because of the strike, and the Spanish language morning papers were unable to publish.

Street car and omnibus lines were tied up, although some taxicabs, interurban lines and railroads operated. Most trade shops were closed, as were coffee shops, cigar factories, sugar mills and sugar cane fields.

STOCK TRADE ACTIVE

Scores Of Stocks Hit New High Marks Of Years

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—The bull movement on the stock market became increasingly violent today and scores of leading shares rose $1 to $8 to new high levels for the year, although an abrupt tightening of call money gave a momentary advantage to the bears around midday, and a sprinkling of issues closed lower.

Trading quickened to a hectic pace comparable to bearish markets of last year. Sales were 4,629,290 shares, the largest turnover since December, and the ticker ran for 40 minutes after the closing gong.

Call money renewed at 3 per cent as compared to yesterday's first 2 per cent renewal rate in nearly six years.

Total Amount In Taft Will Announced Friday

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The late Chief Justice William Howard Taft, left an estate valued at $475,000.

Mrs. Helen H. Taft, in filing a petition for the probate of his will made known that Mr. Taft owned real estate at Murray Bay, Quebec, Canada, and in Washington valued at approximately $125,000.

His personal estate, comprising stocks and bonds and personal effects, Mrs. Taft estimated at $350,000. The debts probably will not exceed $3,000.

Lockney, Texas Man Drives 15 Miles, Orgatone

Well Known Farmer Says Brother Suffered So Bad With Constipation. He Would Get So Dizzy He Could Hardly Stand Up

"I have come fifteen miles in my car to get more Orgatone (Argotane)," said W. A. Bennett, a well known farmer residing on rural route No. 1, Lockney, Texas, while in South Plains Drug Store.

"My brother, Roy Bennett, suffered with indigestion, bad blood and constipation for the past year and has been troubled a great deal with his heart. His complexion was sallow and bad. The suffering he would have in his stomach with gas caused the pressure up around his heart and sometime he could hardly get his breath. He could hardly eat a thing and would get so dizzy at times it was almost impossible for him to stand up. He had tried medicines of different kinds which did not seem to do him the least bit of good and was almost discouraged as we had tried everything that money could but without getting him any relief.

"Then he started taking Orgatone (Argotane) and commenced to feel better on the first bottle and he has improved so fast that I can hardly realize it. He has just finished his third bottle and there's not a particle of his old troubles now. His skin is clearing up and that gas pressure around his heart and dizzy spells are gone. He can now eat three square meals a day and is as active and well as anybody. Orgatone (Argotane) has done for my brother what everything else has failed to do and I am glad to give you this statement for him."

Beautiful Monument to Mark Grave of First Man Buried in Local Cemetery

Memorializing the grave of the first person ever to be buried in the Lubbock cemetery, a beautiful stone monument will be placed over the spot next Monday to mark the last resting place of Henry Jenkins.

The South Plains Monument company of this city has donated the stone and the inscription will read: "Henry Jenkins, a cowboy, age about 32, died March 10, 1892, and was first person buried in this cemetery."

Tells of Death.

"Jenkins," said J. D. Caldwell, of Lubbock, pioneer of the South Plains, "was brought to this city from a Yoakum county ranch after he had contracted pneumonia. He died in the Nicolette hotel, now the Broadway hotel. Dr. J. W. Carter, of Emma, Crosby county, was the nearest physician, and he attended the patient shortly before he died.

"There was no embalmer on the South Plains at that time. Jenkins' parents lived at Fort Worth, and due to absence of communication and transportation lines we were forced to bury him without notifying his relatives. It would have required one week, at least, to notify his parents and bring them here in time for the funeral.

"There were no funeral services, because there was no preacher in the town, which then had a population of less than 50 persons.

"I prepared the coffin, an improvised wooden box, and about 15 of us went to a tract of land donated by Richard Bandy and buried the body. Thus was the beginning of the Lubbock cemetery."

City-Wide Church Census Is To Be Conducted Sunday

Six Hundred Workers Will Make Religious Survey Of Lubbock; City Divided Into 300 Districts

Announcement was made yesterday of definite plans for the city-wide religious census to be conducted in Lubbock tomorrow morning. Six hundred workers will be included in the survey and these will secure information, meet at the First Methodist church at 6:45 a. m. where breakfast will be served. The city has been divided into 300 districts and workers will cover these immediately after breakfast.

"We are anxious that everyone cooperate with us in order that we may get the information regarding church affiliation," said Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church and president of the Lubbock Pastor's association, yesterday. "It will take only a few minutes to fill out the individual cards and this information is very important to the churches."

Churches Cooperate

All churches of the city are cooperating in obtaining an inter-denominational census and later the cards will be assorted and each church given the cards of that denomination.

J. D. Carroll, director of church activities of the First Baptist church; Miss Virginia McLean of the First Presbyterian church, and Hunter W. Richardson, First Methodist church, have charge of the census taking and breakfast. Mrs. R. T. Campbell is chairman of the committee to serve the breakfast.

Cards were distributed last Sunday in an attempt to get voluntary workers, the work to require about two hours.

Oil Operators in Proration Confab

PAMPA, March 21. (AP)—Five hundred representatives of major oil companies, independent operators and land and royalty owners met here today with R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad commission, and C. V. Terrell, member of the railroad commission, for discussions as to whether flush production pools in the Texas Panhandle oil fields should be placed under a state proration plan.

Independent operators presented arguments to refute the claim that waste existed and that proration should be effected. Major companies and a few independents recently adopted the "unit" scheme for proration on the various areas and petitioned the commission to take over proration which had been already in effect for two months under Ed Daly as umpire. It was admitted proration to date had not been very effective.
