Three Accidents In Lamb County During June

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, no persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,080.00.

During the first six months of 1969 in Texas there were 1,470 traffic deaths, or two less as compared to the 1,472 traffic deaths for the same period of 1968. However, if past trends continue the last six months will probably far exceed the first six months; as a matter of fact, the last six months of 1968 there were 2,009 traffic deaths.

The Sergeant stated, "With an all time record of 49 traffic deaths over the 4th of July weekend, we are not only well ahead in comparison to the beginning of the second six months in 1968, but well on our way to establishing a record year in 1969."

Hopewell Baptist Slate Revival

John Elliott, a missionary from Brazil and his wife will conduct the services on the last night of the revival.

Bookmobile Motor Ails

Mrs. Lorene Sooter, Bookmobile librarian, has announced that the High Plains Library has not been able to make its scheduled area stops during the past two weeks.

A new motor is being installed and the Bookmobile should be back on schedule in the near future.

Vacancies on service committees were acknowledged. Replacements will be announced at next regular meeting, Sept. 5.

Board members attending were Mmes. Haber, Doris Frey, Blanche Dodgen, Pearl Brandon, Bernice Scivally and Ruth Wade; and Judge G. T. Sides, J. P. Arnold, and Curtis Wilkinson.

TOSHIO SUZUKI, visitor from Japan, is visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Richards. Suzuki is in America as a representative of a Japanese grain company and is studying farming in America. Here he is pictured with his hosts.

Japanese Customs Compared To American Ones By Visitor

Personable and charming, one might think that Toshio Suzuki was a representative of the local Chamber of Commerce after talking a few minutes with the agricultural visitor from Tokyo, Japan.

"Everyone is so kind," he is quick to say of his first impressions of Olton. "Olton is so healthy, so bright."

Last week he was house guest of the Johnny Hodges family. He is living this week with the family of Fritz Richards, manager of Olton Grain Co-Op. He will be in Olton for two more weeks.

Suzuki arrived in New York May 2 to begin a year's study and observation of agricultural methods with emphasis on grains. He is the second such trainee sponsored by Producers Grain Corporation.

An employee of Zenkoren, a Japanese corporation which imports much grain from PGC, Suzuki will study grain production, harvesting, transportation and storage.

Other visits on his agenda are, as Suzuki says, "states where is Chicago, Kansas City, New Orleans, Tampa, San Francisco and Los Angeles."

Although he has not mastered the geography of the United States, the Japanese visitor has made unbelievable success in learning English with only two weeks study prior to arriving in the States.

When he does hesitate in speaking the language, he can properly write the word he is seeking.

"I find English very difficult," Toshio says but, after speaking with the young man, one is amazed at his confession.

Japanese junior high schools teach foreign languages but Toshio chose to study French at that time. While studying at the University in Tokyo, he traveled for six months in France as a scholarship student.

Suzuki has his Master's degree in international economics from the University of Tokyo. He is twenty-five years old in America and twenty-six in Japan.

Explaining that statement with a smile, Suzuki says, "In Japan a baby is one year old when he is born."

Grinning broadly he adds that he doesn't believe American women would like to go by Japanese birthdays.

Suzuki has also traveled in a number of South Asian countries. He learned, during those visits, of extreme poverty.

"Most people have no house to live in. They have no food."

In his two months in the States, he has observed a much different situation.

"American farmers are very rich compared to Japanese or South Asian farmers," he observes.

"People depend on money or materials in the United States.

Sometimes money and materials are bad, I think."

For a people inclined to take much of their blessings for granted, the young agriculturist advises, "I think some American people need to think about this."

Japanese farms are, of course, much smaller than farms he visits in America. The average farm in the tiny land of Japan is only 30 or 40 acres.

Young men and women leave the farm when they finish their schooling to seek jobs in the city. "Lots of old women and men live on the farms but not the young," Suzuki confides.

"Since World War II," he adds, "Japanese people have been imitating America. They imitate everything -- sometimes they imitate the bad things."

Tokyo, the largest city in the world, is much the same as New York City. Many American companies have branches in Japan.

"We have American food, American clothes and American furniture."

"We have Coca Cola, Nescafe coffee and Nabisco cereals," he adds.

Coke, the popular American beverage, has become so popular in Japan that several small drink companies have failed in the face of its competition.

Japanese youth have also copied the styles of young America.

"We have long hair. Sometimes I do not know if one is girl or boy" confides the young man who has not adopted the mod look.

"Mini skirts are very popular. Some Japanese girls have too short legs and too short skirts."

Blue jeans have also become very popular in the past few years.

Approximately two-thirds of the television programs seen in Japan are from the United States.

"We have 'Mission Impossible' -- that's very popular -- 'Bonanza', 'The Dean Martin Show', and 'Time Tunnel' said Suzuki in naming the most popular."

"Old people listen to Bing Crosby, Perry Como, Glenn Miller and Andy Williams. They are very popular."

"Young people listen to the 'Beatles' and 'The Monkeys'. The Beatles were very popular during their visit to Japan," he adds.

Suzuki also confided that in Japan "women like Paul Newman, men like John Wayne, and young people like Steve McQueen." Sammy Davis Jr. is also very popular. "And Elizabeth Taylor" he adds.

One conclusion the young visitor has made is that "American people get married too early."

Most Japanese men do not marry until they are 25 to 33 years old and Japanese brides are usually 21 to 24.

"Japan is man's country. Here is ladies first," Suzuki says of the centuries old tradition.

Working women are perhaps the most noticeable difference the visitor has discovered in the two peoples.

"This is first time I ever saw professional newspaper run by just women," he marvels.

Although Japan has become more western in many ways, there is still hesitancy in hiring women in Japan. Many companies, he confides, will not hire a woman even though she has attended a university and completed her education.

Because of this, perhaps, only thirty percent of Japanese girls go on to college study.

Continuing her education and seeking employment are, Suzuki thinks, the Japanese girl's paths to "selecting a husband."

Toshio's first host family, the Hodges, were in a beehive of baseball activity when the young man arrived in Olton, he attended, with them, a practice game for the Babe Ruth All Star team, the thirteen-year-old's tournament and the first game of the Babe Ruth tournament.

"Japanese people are very crazy about baseball," he says, confiding that he would like to "be out there playing."

Japan, being such a small country with such a large population, has very few places for the young Japanese to play ball. Because of this, many little boys get up as early as four in the morning so that they might play on the available diamonds.

Japanese look forward to the every-other-year visit of American major league baseball teams.

The Little League World Series, played each year in Williamsport, Pa. was won last year by a team from Japan.

Although Japan does have mosquitoes, Suzuki found those in Olton to be very distracting as he watched, in a short sleeved sport shirt, the practice game last Wednesday night.

Taking precautions against a repeat performance at the Friday night game, Suzuki donned dress shirt and suit with the threat of adding a hat and gloves.

Another marked difference Suzuki has observed during his visit is the weather. He remarks that Tokyo has much the same temperature as he has encountered here but that there the humidity would probably be 80 to 90 percent.

Western Japan, he says, has temperatures reaching 130 to 140 degrees with humidity as high as 90 percent.

Their average rainfall is probably 50 to 60 inches. "But," he adds quickly, "that's good for the rice."

As Toshio began his second

Budget Studied, New Laws Discussed

In a regularly scheduled meeting of the board of trustees, O. J. Neeley was elected president to fill the office which was vacated by the resignation of Winston Bley. Neeley had been serving as vice president. The board did not appoint another member to serve the remaining term of Bley.

The resignation of Jenny Lynn Allford, music director, was accepted by the board and they recommended the hiring of Peggy Bain of Plainview as a replacement, if a contract could be secured. She is now teaching in the Kress school system.

A science teacher, Gene Gee of Lefors, was approved for employment by the board. Gee is a former student of Paul Walden, who taught at Lefors and comes to the Olton school system with a recommendation from Walden.

In other action, Schultz summarized a few of the new laws which the state legislature recently passed pertaining to the state schools.

Schultz said that student teachers who would be doing their practice teaching in Olton schools will now be paid $200 by the State and the school will receive $50 per teacher. Beginning in September, each teacher must have a 45 minute period for planning, Schultz said. Seven hours is considered a school day and the 45 minutes must be within that seven hours.

Another new law which is effective with this school term has to do with the transfer of students.

Prior to the new law enacted, if a student wished to transfer from one district to another, he was required to get permission from the superintendent of the district from which he wished to transfer.

Now, under the new law, a student may transfer from one district to another by simply going to the superintendent of the district to which he wishes to be transferred and the district which he is now in cannot hold him.

The law which will give teachers a salary boost in the year 70-71 was discussed and Schultz told the board that a teacher with a Master's degree with four years experience could be drawing up to $10,780 by the year 1972.

Although the teachers' pay raise doesn't become effective until 1970, the administrators were given a raise effective this year.

In other business, the board voted to approve a part-time secretary for Joe Turner, high school principal and approved a raise in salary for Mrs. Virginia Moss and Mrs. Edna Price, high school secretaries; as well as a pay raise for Mrs. Virginia Miller and Mrs. Lem Roberson, secretary to Fred Gordon, elementary principal and junior high librarian and secretary to Carl McClure, junior high principal.

In final action, the board approved the payment of $400 for the use of a pickup owned by the agriculture teachers. The pickup is used in connection with the agriculture department of the school.

A letter from the attorney general, concerning library books which had been purchased from several different companies during a period from 1959 to 1967 was read. The companies are being sued by the state of Texas for selling books at a fixed price and the participating schools may voice their approval or disapproval before the suit comes up.

Schultz, in closing, asked the board for a special meeting date, in which they could discuss the goals of the administration for the betterment of the schools. He said he felt that the board and the administration had to have the same goals and know what those goals were in order to have a better school system.

The annual public hearing on the school budget has been set for Aug. 11, at 8 p. m. The board approved the proposed budget with only a few slight changes.

Albert Key Is Aboard Rescue Ship Kearsarge

Albert Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Key, is aboard the KEARSARGE which took swift action in leading assistance to survivors of the USS FRANK E. EVANS after her tragic collision with the Australian carrier HMAS MELBOURNE in the South China Sea.

The men in KEARSARGE went to work to help the survivors. There was a small army of stretcher bearers that were not needed but instead acted as escorts.

The Master-at-Arms force found berthing accommodations for the new arrivals. Personnel from several departments and squadrons vacated their bunks so that every EVANS crewman was made welcome and comfortable. The supply department had food and coffee ready for the survivors as they came aboard, and later supplied them with clothing and special pay.

The deck divisions played a key role in transporting and embarking EVANS survivors by rigging all the required cranes and ladders, launching the ship's boats and ferrying survivors to KEARSARGE from MELBOURNE.

Olton Gun Club To Have Shoot

Olton Gun Club will have a meeting and gun shoot Sunday, July 20 at 3 p. m. at the shooting range south of town. All members are urged to attend.

Baseballers Thanked

Once more it's hats off to a group of outstanding people from the nicest little town in America!

Another summer baseball program is in its final hours. It's been a good year. A year made possible by good people.

An extra special salute is given to Johnny Hodges, president of the Olton Baseball Association. No one can deny how busy a farmer is from April to July - 99 out of 100 will tell you there are not enough hours in the day. And yet, busy as he was, with never enough time, Johnny Hodges was truly a Johnny-On-The-Spot.

A mighty big thank you, Johnny, for a mighty big job well done!

Many others also contributed to the success of the program -

To the merchants who dug into their pocketbooks to come up with sponsor's fees and make the program possible - thanks!

Thanks, too, to the fellows who coached. They were busy people also!

And heaps of thank yous to Percy and Margaret Parsons and Beverly Hasha and Janice Walters who saw that the concession stands were ready for business at every game. Thanks to each one who worked in the stands!

Certainly we want to say thanks to those fellows behind the plate and their helpers at each base. Few people would take a paying job knowing that half the people think they're wrong.

Thank you, George Richards, our "Dizzy Dean" of the Babe Ruth League and thanks to everyone who announced the Little League games.

Then last but not least, it's thank you to all those who did the many little menial jobs that go unnoticed but are vital to the program.

Maybe it was mowing the infield, perhaps it was helping build the backstop or dug-outs for the new Pee Wee Park or it might have been cleaning the rest rooms.

Whatever your job may have been, THANKS.

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"Jake, I'm gonna sell all my stock 'cause Maw's jist got too old to handle them 100 lb. sacks of feed!"

Dear Editor

Dear Sue,

Now I am on the bus from Aledo to Zion, Illinois. Everyday we have a silent hour to write letter and thank-you note to the family we stayed with.

The bus trip is different from I thought. Everynight we have to stop and stay in the town with families. We are on the bus about 6-8 hour per day. I am having a wonderful time. Most stops we have picnics, dancing or talent show, which we organize real well. This was the third stop, the first one in Hutchinson, Ill., the second was in Excelsior Spring, Miss., and then Aledo, Ill. I will not forget this town all my life. This was something very different. Aledo is a small town, but people are wonderful. It is a agricultural town. Here we had a big welcome parade. In the town, people raised the flags up for us, and there is a big sign say welcome A.F.S. students to Aledo above all the parade was very very and very funny. We stopped at High school, and there were only 2 cars in High school. There were not any family there when the bus stop, I saw 2 tractors drove in. Each one pulled a hay rack. The chaperon said someone had to ride on the tractors. Everybody laughed. Then the chairman of welcome party came on the bus with the loud-speaker and stated that Aledo is a farming town, all people are in the farm, no one is free so there is no family to stay with. He said, "I arranged 2 barns out in the country for you. One for boys and one for girls." We yelled, and he continued, everybody will ride on the hay racks with all suitcases. When he finished, we yelled very louder and jump on the hay racks. And we started moving, here come the band to lead the parade. We rode down town to show the people. We waved and waved, during the way the chairman spoke out the loud-speaker tell about us. I enclosed the picture to share with you. After that we reach the park and the families were there. I had a very nice family.

That's all that I can think of and write to you.

I will write you some more.

Yours sincerely,
Sunee Saehow

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

I knew it! I was sure I'd be ready for a vacation THIS week!

The thing that vexes me most, tho, is that I can't see that I accomplished anything last week, during our "week off."

I'm not really ready to go again but I'm going to take off some more days next week. That's when the better half gets his vacation and he's not about to get to go somewhere without me!

We're not planning anything fabulous - like flying to Paris - or even taking in Disneyland. But we do have something nice planned. We're going to take in part of the State Future Farmers convention in Fort Worth, (cool, restful Fort Worth, in the middle of July!)

Number Two Son is supposed to get his Lone Star Farmer Degree and, we're hoping, Number One Son his approval at the state level for his American Farmer Degree.

Now, don't you think that's worth a mild case of heat prostration?

Back to last week. Isn't it something how quickly you can get behind in a few days? We got back Sunday evening from three days in cool (oh, yeah) Ruidoso and you should have seen the blooms under our mimosa tree!

I'll cut anyone in on a partnership who'll come up with some use for fallen mimosa blooms - and come fall, BEANS.

It just happens that when we set out that gratted tree (Gene did it), we didn't have the foresight to know it was going to get more than six feet tall or that it'd get too big around for the two of us to hug it!

Well, the more limbs that got broken off, the more it flourished. That's the healthiest bit of plant life I ever saw -- and you can believe I've got some pretty healthy dandelions! Anyway, there was quite a plushy carpet under the thing - and on the drive - and on the grass - and on the porch - and on everything!

As I'd confessed once before, I have such a green thumb that I can even kill artificial ivy but that tree -- it's something else!

I've been trying to come up with some diabolical scheme to make the thing take a sudden turn towards ill health - and maybe, if I were lucky, it might "expire". So far, I haven't come up with anything I think Gene would believe.

So, since it looks as tho I'm going to have to put up with it, help me think of some use for fallen mimosa blooms! We could probably buy ourselves a yacht.

'Gentle Ben' To Be At Fair

Television's "Gentle Ben," his playmate, Peggy Ann Nielsen, comedian Mike Caldwell and The Congregation have been added to the Panhandle South Plains Fair's country and western variety spectacular scheduled to headline the 52nd annual renewal here Sept. 22-27.

The added Fair Park Coliseum fare joins Marty Robbins, Charley Pride, Buck Owens and his Buckaroos, and master of ceremonies Roy Clark for the biggest stage attraction ever presented for popular regional exposition.

Robbins will appear here on the opening two days, Pride will take the spotlight Sept. 24-25 and Owens and his group will round out the six-day stand Sept. 26-27. Clark, "Gentle Ben," Miss Nielsen, Caldwell, and The Congregation, a musical combo, will be seen in all shows.

John E. Vickers, president of the fair association's board of directors, said the big slate was expected to help draw record crowds to the 1969 event. Ticket prices also have been revised, and "bargain rates" will apply to the matinees. Tickets for 7:30 p. m. nightly shows are priced at $2, $3 and $4, and all persons will be admitted to 3 p. m. matinees for one-half price. Tickets purchased prior to the fair opening also will be accompanied by free gate admission passes.

Many new improvements to grounds and facilities -- including new paving and rest areas -- also are being planned for implementation during this year's fair. Parking facilities will be enlarged and coliseum seating will be rearranged.

Clark is the co-host and co-star with Owens of television's country comedy-music series, "Hee Haw," summer replacement for the Smothers Brothers. Shown locally, the series will star other country and western personalities.

The title of the program is derived from animated cartoon segments featuring a donkey in a cornfield.

Clark, comedian, vocalist and top-notch musician, is at home with Owens on the bright new show.

The big bear, actual "star" of the television series, will perform with Miss Nielsen and Caldwell. In addition to being a rising young actress, she also has performed throughout the nation as a juggling whiz who thrills audiences with fiery Samoan long knives. Two trainers will accompany "Ben" to Lubbock.

Caldwell hams it up with Miss Nielsen and Gentle Ben. The Congregation, Joey Bishop's favorite musical group, consists of four boys and three girls -- a talented lot with a combination of personalities. They record for Jubilee Records.

VISIT'S CHILDREN

Mrs. Freddie Mae Hysinger spent Friday and Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Helen Lee of Amarillo, her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hysinger, Kanitha, Monty and Trent of Canyon, and in Hereford with another son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hysinger and Jodie.

Accent on Health

You've heard it said that curiosity can kill a cat. It also can kill a child and is doing so thousands of times each year in this country, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

Curiosity is a trait all parents want their children to have since it leads to learning. But it can get a youngster into trouble. A child learns by exploring and shouldn't be discouraged from investigating his surroundings. However, it is the parent's duty to see that the environment is free from hazards.

More than a half-million children will swallow some type of poison this year, and a great number of these will be youngsters under the age of five. Sadly, virtually all of these poisonings are preventable.

In Texas during 1968 there were 183 fatal poisonings listed as accidental. Thirty-five of these were under the age of five--six of them in the first year of life.

In figures released for 1967, the National Safety Council says there were 4,000 fatal poisonings in the United States. Of this total 3,100 occurred at home.

The reason behind this extremely high percentage of home accidents is simple. Common household products--those used for housekeeping and medicinal purposes--represent the greatest potential poisoning hazards. Among these are detergents used in automatic dishwashers, furniture polishes and waxes, drain and bowl cleaners, lighter fluids used for outdoor grills, and the pesticides. Add to this list all the medicines kept in your medicine cabinet--from aspirins to tranquilizers.

Poison-proofing the home should be the aim of every parent. Here are some common sense steps to take:

- * Store all medicines and household products in locked cabinets away from food storage areas.

- * Clean out medicine cabinets regularly, discarding unusables down the drain and washing empty containers thoroughly before putting them into the trash.

- * Store hazardous products only in their original containers, never in soft drink bottles, unlabeled containers or cans, and keep fuel oil, chemicals and pesticides out of a child's reach.

- * Be especially careful about aspirin and other medicine. Never leave them in a child's room. Make certain all medicine bottles have labels.

- * If you repaint toys, furniture and interior woodwork, don't use paint intended for outdoor painting since it may contain lead or harmful chemicals.

- * And, don't leave hazardous products just "sitting around".

News Of Our Service Men

South Vietnam

Dear Family, Friends, Civilians, Draft Dodgers, etc.,

In the very near future the undersigned will once more be in your midst, dehydrated and demoralized, to take his place again as a human being, with the well known forms of freedom and justice for all; to engage in life, liberty, and the somewhat delayed pursuit of happiness. In making your joyous preparations to welcome him back into organized society, you should provide certain allowances for the crude environment which has been his miserable lot for the past twelve months. In other words, he might be a little Asiatic from Vietnamese-itis and overexposure, and should be handled with care. Do not be alarmed if he is infected with all forms of rare tropical diseases. A little time in the "Land of the Big PX" will cure this malady.

Therefore, show no alarm if he insists on carrying a weapon to the dinner table, looks around for his steel pot when offered a chair, or wakes you up in the middle of the night for guard duty. Keep cool when he puts gravy on his dessert or mixes peaches with his Seagram's V.C. Pretend not to notice if he eats with his fingers instead of silverware and prefers C-rations to steak. Take it with a smile when he insists on digging up the garden to fill sandbags for the bunker he is building. Be tolerant when he takes his blanket and sheet off his bed and puts them on the floor to sleep.

Abstain from saying anything about powdered eggs, dehydrated potatoes, fried rice, fresh milk or ice cream. Do not be alarmed if he should jump up from the dinner table and rush to the garbage can to wash his dish with a toilet brush. After all, this has

Pvt. E3 Steve Moss arrived in Olton Monday from Fort Ord, Calif. where he received Advanced Infantry Training. He will report July 27 to a camp at Oakland, Calif and will be sent from that point to Vietnam.

Moss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Moss. He is a 1966 graduate of Olton High School and attended West Texas State University. He was inducted into the army March 3.

Coy Carlisle, currently serving in Vietnam has a slight been his standard. Also, if it should start raining, pay no attention to him if he pulls off his clothes, grabs a bar of soap and towel, and runs outdoors for a shower.

When in his daily conversation he utters such things as: "Xin loi" and "Choi oi" just be patient, and simply leave quickly and calmly if by some chance he utters "didi" with an irritated look on his face, because it means no less than "get the hell out of here." Do not let it shake you up if he picks up the phone and yells "Parchaut Sir" or says "Roger Out" for goodbye, or simply shouts "waining!"

Never ask why the Jones' son held a higher rank than he did, and by no means mention the term "extend." Pretend not to notice if at a restaurant he calls the waitress "Number One Girl" and uses his hat for an ashtray. He will probably keep listening for "Homeward Bound" to sound off over AFPS. If he does, comfort him for he is still reminiscing. Be especially watchful when he is in the presence of a woman--especially a beautiful woman.

Above all, keep in mind that beneath that tanned and rugged exterior there is a heart of gold, (the only thing of value he has left). Treat him with kindness, tolerance, and an occasional fifth of good liquor, and you will be able to rehabilitate that which was once (and now is) a hollow shell of the happy-go-lucky guy you once knew and loved.

Last, but by no means least, send no more mail to the APO, fill the ice box with beer, get the civies out of the mothballs, fill the car with gas, and get the women and children off the streets....

BECAUSE THE KID IS COMING HOME!!!

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Though the misnamed Students for A Democratic Society is a clear threat to good order and academic freedom at every American university, few institutions have yet taken an absolutely firm line in dealing with this destructive organization. The kind of measure needed to prevent campus disorders is that taken by the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors at the close of the academic year. The board approved a resolution banning the SDS from all campuses within the LSU system.

The SDS board resolution said that "its current activities throughout the United States make it apparent that SDS is a radical, revolutionary organization dedicated to the destruction of American institutions, beginning with American universities. It, therefore, constitutes a clear and present danger to the entire Louisiana state university system."

The SDS was formed in 1962. It has been the spearhead of revolutionary action from coast to coast. Only now, seven years after its founding, are colleges and universities beginning to wake up to the SDS' destructive goals. In the past, the SDS didn't have any difficulty finding a campus on which to hold its annual national convention. This year, the SDS admitted, it was turned down by 37 colleges and universities and at least 25 meeting halls, parks and camps.

Some institutions have yet to demonstrate courage in dealing with the SDS. Harvard, the nation's oldest university, actually allowed an SDS spokesman to deliver a harangue at commencement exercises. The speaker poured abuse on the United States and, finally, had to be removed from the platform. At Radcliffe, Harvard's sister college in Cambridge, Mass., the SDS also was given an opportunity to have a spokesman address the graduates.

Indeed Radcliffe authorities seemed determined to give offense to patriotic, law-abiding citizens. Its commencement speaker was the Rev. William S. Coffin Jr., the Yale University chaplain who last year was convicted by a federal court jury of conspiring to violate the selective service law. Yale showed no more concern than Radcliffe for the feelings of its patriotic alumni.

ni. A member of the graduating class was allowed to deliver a speech attacking America's involvement in the Vietnam War. No one was given an opportunity to speak in behalf of the Yale alumni proudly serving in Vietnam or who rendered loyal service to their country in past wars in defense of freedom.

At Princeton, the valedictorian, Michael A. Bernstein, called the United States "sick". He expressed solidarity with Black Panthers in New York, mutinous soldiers in California, and SDS members involved in a disturbance in a New Jersey plant. He said "their options open up possibilities for us, and...their defeat would be ours as well."

By allowing a handful of students to give such speeches, these universities give the country a false picture of attitudes among young Americans in college. The SDS has only about 35,000 members, a small number in a country of more than 200 million people. The militant minority is just that, but the prominence they get -- often with the support of radical faculty members and administrators -- helps the extremists build up their image as a powerful force.

The vast majority of college students want to get an education and firmly disapprove of the destructive outlook of the SDS and similar groups. Often, they want to take counter-action against the extremists.

At Ohio University recently, members of the Young Americans For Freedom, a patriotic group expressing the will of the majority of students, successfully frustrated the attempts of SDS members to break up an ROTC parade. Such counter-action is growing in importance as the SDS becomes more aggressive.

The Student Council at Palm Beach Atlantic College, in Florida, said "The students here believe it is high time some student body spoke up for the huge majority of students and let it be known that they are strongly opposed to the disruptive actions of small groups of students."

For the majority to take a stand is the American way. The New Left may soon find it is facing a revolt in reverse.

PRE-SCHOOLERS AT HOPEWELL BAPTIST CHURCH taking part in the summer vacation Bible school are shown with their teachers, Mrs. Bruce Hackler and Mrs. Leonard Sanders.

Babe Ruth Lose Heart Breaker To Plainview

Too little and too late was the story Saturday night as the Babe Ruth All Stars from Olton fell victim to their Plainview counterparts in the third and decisive game of the preliminary district play.

In winning, Plainview earned the right to advance to the district play-offs in Muleshoe Monday. A right not won, however, without a late inning scare from the hometowners.

Appearing to have the game on ice, Plainview led the Olton Babe Ruthers 8 to 5 in the seventh inning. But with two away, it was suddenly a new ball game as three runs crossed the plate before Plainview quenched the fire.

An unearned run in the eighth proved to be the margin Plainview needed to send the Olton All Stars packing their bats till next year.

Plainview sailed off in great style in the first with six runs after two were out. Otis Leach laid down a double to score Terry Underwood and Billy Davis who drew back to back walks. Tommy McMillan singled home the third run and Kenney Russell drew a base on balls. Pitcher Darryl Carter, big man on the team in size and in hits for the game, doubled to send two more across the plate, Mark Foote and Mike Holland drew bases on balls and a single by Curtis Thompson scored the sixth run of the inning.

Olton's Favian Minjarez led off the bottom of the first reaching first when hit by a pitch. He advanced to second on an error which put Robert Ahrens on first and scored on a two-base error by the third baseman.

Plainview picked up two more in the third on back to back singles by Carter and Foote. Both scored on an error.

In the fifth, walks to Hoyt Glasscock, Charles Pinkerton, Keith Workman, Minjarez and Ahrens accounted for two runs and walks to Luis Jimenez and Glasscock in the sixth tallied two more when Workman slammed out a double.

Excitement reached a fever pitch in the seventh when, after two were out, Newt Wheeler and Steve Stockdale connected for singles and Jimenez cleared the bases with a triple. Jimenez crossed the plate with the tying run when Glasscock reached first on an error. Pinkerton hit into a force play to send the game into extra innings.

Leading off the eighth for Plainview, McMillan, who relieved Carter in the sixth, was safe on a throwing error, stole second, advanced to third on a sacrifice and scored on an error.

In the bottom of the inning, Dwight Adams picked up a single but Plainview was able to retire the side and take the next step in district competition.

Preliminary play between the two clubs began Friday night in Plainview when Plainview outlasted a seventh inning rally by Olton to win 6 to 4. The home team was scoreless going into the seventh although they had picked up three singles, two by Stockdale and one by Mike Cleavenger.

In the do or die frame, Cleavenger led off with his second single to be followed by Jimenez with a single and Pinkerton was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Stockdale banged the ball over the left field fence for a grand slam home run.

It was the first chapter in the too little, too late story when Keith Workman was safe on an error but thrown out attempting to steal second. Bobby Jack Angeley drew a base on balls and Adams beat out a single before two strike-outs wrapped up the game for Plainview.

The second game of the series, played at 6 p. m. Saturday in Olton's Babe Ruth Park, was a pitcher's duel with Olton's Stockdale tossing a masterful no-hitter while striking out 14. He walked one and hit three.

Plainview picked up their lone run in the first when Holland was hit by a pitch, stole second and third and scored on a sacrifice by Billy Davis.

In defeat, Plainview's Holland allowed only one hit, a single by Cleavenger in the third inning.

In the last chance inning for Olton, Charles Pinkerton was safe on a two-base throwing error by the pitcher, Workman hit into what should have been an easy out but pitcher McMillan, covering first, collided with the umpire and dropped the ball, allowing Pinkerton to score and Workman to reach second. Pitcher hitter Adams was safe at first on a throwing error as the winning run crossed the plate.
