Traffic Dead Is Counted in Texas

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—Texas has counted its traffic dead.

State police—who would much rather count the living—today announced that the September street and highway death mark reached 127 to bring the year's total to 1,148 fatalities.

Safety analysts pointed to most of the records of these deaths as examples of recklessness on the part of drivers and pedestrians. Even the fact that the 1938 death march fell 294 short of last year's figure through the month of September, the traffic experts gloomily predicted a rising toll for the remainder of the year "unless drivers and pedestrians revolt against urges to speed, disobey safety regulations or commit other offenses against public safety."

Strengthening of the enforcement of traffic regulations on highways and in cities and towns was pointed to as the weapon that brought about a major portion of the death reduction this year.

Tabulations of the persons injured in September vehicle assaults were not completed because the statisticians know that a number of them will die of their wounds. However, as usual, the figure is expected to be well over the 1,000 mark.

Sympathetic state police did not forget the estimated 11,480 persons stricken over the death of a loved one.

Even the financial losses were considered as the statisticians poured over the death books. With an economic loss of $50,000 resulting in the death of one traffic victim—the amount includes a 35 to 1 ratio of injuries—the state estimated the 1938 traffic crash cost to be $75,400,000, enough money to maintain 55 state police departments, the size of the Texas setup.

(LIBERAL TRADE-INS)

During the past ten years we have completely furnished many homes in this entire trade territory. Many of these homes have bought only a small amount of merchandise to begin with and have gradually added to their requirements until today the home is modern and completely furnished. Due to the fact that we have confidence in the place and territory in which we live and the utmost confidence in the people that live in this territory, we have extended terms and made trades which have enabled our many customers to have the modern conveniences of today.

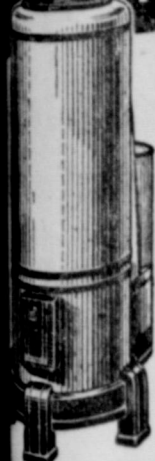

We buy most of the merchandise advertised on this page in carload lots and are in position to save you money, due to the fact that our cost is much smaller. Our stocks are now complete in anticipation of a good business this Fall and we are better equipped to take care of your needs than ever before.

One of the many services we offer you is our Community Service Men. These men are not salesmen—they are at your service and are always glad to demonstrate the various home appliances right in YOUR home so that you may see and know exactly what you are buying and paying for. This is a service to which you are entitled because in buying something for the home it should be more or less permanent and you can not tell just what it is or the service it will render by seeing it in a store.

Of special interest right at this time of the year is the Philco Radio. Every home needs a good radio, and Philco this year has built a radio that is as trouble-proof and reliable for farm use as if you had electricity. We are in a position to give you the most for your old radio and also give the easiest possible terms. Please notice in this ad the attractive prices, then call our store or see one of our Community Service Men for a demonstration. You will be surprised at the remarkable proposition we have to offer you on these Philco Radios. Our prices are less—our terms and trade-ins are more interesting.

A call for a home demonstration will be our pleasure.

HEAT YOUR HOME the MODERN WAY

Memphis Has New Newspaper

The Language Arts classes of the fifth grade have gone in competition with The Memphis Democrat and are editing a paper which they have named The Junior Herald.

Rayburn Jones was chosen editor with Nath Hudgins and Royce Chrysler assistants. They will serve six weeks then others will be chosen. Each member of the class makes at least one report—news items, sports, or whatever he chooses—and the editor, with the teacher's assistance, selects the best items for the class paper. The students are striving to form better sentences and to write better paragraphs thereby learning while they play.

West Ward Observes Fire Prevention Week

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to Oct. 15, West Ward students had a part in cleaning the campus, ridding it of all rubbish. They had fire drills and were tested on state fire signals. They had stories and talks on the causes of fires and how to avoid them.

This citizenship laboratory aims not only in developing a desirable civic conscience but a better civic behavior as well.

Governmental Problems Are Discussed and Debates Held On Methods of Balloting

The government classes of Memphis High School the past week have been studying citizenship, political parties and methods of conducting elections. Several interesting debates and arguments on the various types of people not allowed to vote were discussed with the class taking heated part pro and con on restrictions placed on certain classes of people in the recent Democratic primary.

The principal note of interest came about over the question of whether or not women should have the privilege of voting. The women seemed to have the better of the discussion at the end.

In a poll to familiarize themselves with the procedure of casting a ballot the following were voted to represent the Democratic party in the general election:

Governor: Lee O'Daniel.
Lt. Governor: Coke Stevenson.
Att. Gen.: Gerald Mann.
Supt. of Schools: L. A. Woods.
Rep. to Legislature from this district: Allan Harp.

Rep. to Congress from this district: Marvin Jones.

(Fictitious) Morris Sheppard over Jimmie Allard for U. S. Senator from Texas.

Political affiliations of the class were:
Democrats, 75 members.
Republicans (no one seemed to know the meaning of the word) 0.
Socialists, 1 member.

Junior High Boys Lose to Clarendon

The Memphis junior football team was defeated by the agile Clarendon eleven Thursday afternoon. The local boys held the lead for a great part of the game but the whistle blew with the count 27 to 7 with the Memphis boys on the short end.

Another game is to be played at Clarendon on the 27th of this month.

Open House Held for Pets at West Ward

Enthusiasm was "running high" in Miss Ezzell's reading classes at West Ward the past week when her group of First Graders concluded their Pet Unit by staging Open House for Pets Week.

Among visiting pets were Baby Rabbit, White Pigeon and the Kitten twins. Watching and caring for the "Honor Guests" and making and reading stories about them was great fun and gave reading interests a big boost.

JUNIORS HAVE PART IN CYCLONE GAMES

The boys who do their part to make the Cyclone a team that strikes fear and terror to the best teams in this district are the fleet-foot backfield men and tackling and blocking linemen classified as juniors.

These fighting high-spirited boys are: Joe Crump, halfback; John Clark, tackle; James Fultz, guard; Izador Hardin, guard and fullback; Leo Hendrickson, halfback; L. F. Jones, end; J. C. McClure, halfback; J. D. Morrison, fullback; Merle Padgett, tackle.

We wish to take this means of thanking our many friends and neighbors for everything they did and gave when our home burned.

Cyclone Wins From Clarendon Broncs On Penetrations

One Touchdown Each Is Made In Hotly Contested Gridiron Battle at Stadium

Before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Memphis Cyclone and Clarendon Broncs fought to a 6-6 tie score at Cyclone Stadium last Friday night.

Up to the last 59 seconds of the game both teams were tied in a score of 6 and 6, 2 penetrations, and 8 first downs each. Memphis took the ball and was able to make 3 connections on passes giving her 3 more first downs. It was decided by football officials Monday that Memphis won the game on penetrations.

The game started with Memphis receiving the kick-off and scoring in the second quarter. Lindsey, McClure and L. Robertson alternated on double wing back plays to score, with Lindsey driving the ball over from the 2 yard line.

Lindsey's try for conversion was blocked by the Broncs. Clarendon received the kick-off, but was unable to gain and had to drop back to kick. A bad pass from center over the head of Huffman was recovered by the Cyclone on Clarendon's 20 yard line. The half ended with Clarendon in possession of the ball, after a beautiful run from an intercepted pass from Lindsey intended for Robertson.

Memphis chose to receive at the beginning of the third quarter. Lindsey and McClure were unable to gain and Lindsey attempted to kick out on the fourth down, but fumbled and Clarendon recovered. On the fourth down after a 5 yard penalty, Allison of Clarendon ran through the middle of the Cyclone line 16 yards for a touchdown. Huffman's try for extra point was wide.

The remainder of the game was purely a defensive game with each team fighting desperately for pay dirt.

Statistics of the game show: first downs, Memphis, 11; Clarendon 8. Penetrations, Memphis 2, Clarendon 2. Total yards gained, Memphis 237; Clarendon 119.

Memphis punted (Lindsey kicking) 3 times for an average of 41 yards. Clarendon punted 4 times for an average of 47 yards.

Memphis passed 7 times, completed 4, with 2 interceptions. Clarendon passed 11 times, completed 5, with 2 interceptions.

Fire Prevention Is Studied by F. F. A.

A campaign to eliminate fire hazards at home and school was conducted by the Memphis Future Farmers during the National Fire Prevention Week.

A committee visited the local fire department to secure suggestions for preventing fires. Finding that the firemen consider individual responsibility the most important factor in fire prevention, the group inspected their homes and removed fire hazards there. Reports of fire hazards are to be made through the year by these boys.

The school building and grounds were carefully inspected and various fire hazards were removed. A study was made of facts on the costs of fire.

Continuing their campaign into

Clean-up Week the boys are improving the appearance of the school grounds by trimming and whitewashing the trees. Full cooperation will be given the City Council during this official Clean-up Week.

The art department of the Junior High School is sponsoring an exhibit of fire prevention posters. These posters were made by the pupils of the sixth and seventh grades in observance of fire prevention week. The patrons are invited to see these on Thursday, October 20, at Junior High School.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Clean as a Kitten

AS IF IT HAD NINE LIVES, a clean, correctly lubricated motor keeps going mile after mile, and year after year... with less fuss and noise, and fewer costly visits to the repair shop.

The dictionary says that refine means "to purify, to cleanse" which gives you an idea of what we do to produce Phillips 66 Motor Oil. Out go destructive impurities and harmful elements. Out goes wax, to insure free, fast flow in winter. Out goes gum which might make piston rings stick.

What remains is a great lubricant... 100% Paraffin base... 100% Phillips value, with rich body and high-degree oiliness to provide a tough, friction-reducing film... resistant to high speed, high pressure, high heat.

And the big plus is the Phillips name. This makes for peace of mind, because you know that you are getting all the lubrication you pay for, when you drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil... at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
