Such carryings-on, aside from the rock music program, as were indulged in at the rock festival at Lewisville, Texas, during the Labor Day weekend, and that at New York previously should not be tolerated by law-abiding citizens.

It is unlawful to have in your possession and to use drugs, bathe in the nude and have sexual relations in public. All of this was said to have taken place at those festivals. This is lower than animals, for we are supposed to be human beings.

Some people may say to stop these festivals would be taking the right away from young people. The constitution does not guarantee the right of anyone to flagrantly disregard the laws of the land and common decency. Let's not permit another such festival in Texas at least.

People who do day-time dreaming are the ones who usually invent things or cause things to happen that ordinarily would not happen. Loraine needs some dreamers right now who can and will dream up something that will cause travelers on Interstate 20 to pull off and visit and shop. If we could stop one out of ten vehicles that travel the highway we would have a great number of people. Those tourists would take the place of at least some of our people who have had to go to other parts of the country for a job.

With the street paving and the water system improvements coming up Loraine should become more attractive to people who want to move to town. We need for someone to build some houses for rent or sale because we have so very few now that are really desirable places to live.

Local Circle Meets In Tune Home

The Local Circle met in the home of Mrs. Cecil Tune Monday morning, Sept. 3. Mrs. C. H. Martin was co-hostess.

Mrs. Wiley Walker gave a beautiful devotional. She spoke on Finding Happiness. There are so many things to be happy about. She used Psalms 119:24.

Mrs. Bond gave an interesting talk on The Church in Czechoslovakia. The people are mostly Catholics, but there are some Protestant churches there. The young people are getting more interested in the church, and there are some Communist who are Christian.

Mrs. Jim Johnson led the prayer. Mrs. Wiley Walker read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. C. H. Martin, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Refreshments were served to 15 members: Mmes James Watkins, S. E. Meadows, Jack Linam, Floyd Richey, Wiley Walker, Lily Bennett, K. L. Taylor, Percy Bond, C. H. Martin, Marshall Bruce, Claude Neely, Martin Dobbis, James Bennett, Jim Johnson and the hostess.

Mrs. James Bennett dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

Visiting with Mrs. Pearl Allbright Thursday night was a granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk of Alpine. Also visiting over the weekend was a son, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Allbright of Odessa.

Mrs. Hugh Hallmark spent from Saturday until Sunday in the Milton Hallmark home in Kingsland.

Farm and Farm Industry Leaders To Meet Sept. 18 at Texas A&M

Farmers and farm industry leaders and four other Southwestern states, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma will have an opportunity to tell Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin what's on their minds.

The occasion will be the 5th in a series of "listening conferences." It will be held Sept. 18 in G. Rollie White Coliseum on the Texas A&M University campus.

County Agent Bobby Lemons said such subjects as farm programs, how to maintain and increase farm income, rural urban balance, proper nutrition and diets, development of natural resources and conservation are due to get major attention during the day.

While plans for the conference are not yet complete, it is known, said the county agent, that every person who attends will have an opportunity, either through oral presentation of written brief, to present his ideas.

As plans are finalized, details on the conference will be released, Lemons said. He noted that several of the Secretary's senior staff members are expected to attend and also members of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, headed by Congressman W. R. Poage from Waco will attend at least a part of the conference. Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean, College of Agriculture at A&M, will serve as presiding officer. Land-Grant universities in the five states are cooperating in staging the event.

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Legislators battled wearily toward a conclusion of the second special session, with some indications of a conclusion developing.

A Senate-written version of the tax bill came within six votes of adoption in the House. But Representatives balked at the Senate's compromise $357.6 million tax bill which included a new "destination allocation formula" designed to collect a corporation franchise tax on out of state industries selling products in Texas.

Senate first turned a deaf ear to the House request for a new conference committee.

Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes pressed hard for House adoption of the Senate amendments to HB 4, but Speaker Gus Mutscher said the measure remained a "bad bill."

Only really new idea in the compromise was the destination of allocation formula.

Otherwise it called for a quarter per cent increase (to 3.5) in the state sales tax and inclusion of beer and liquor under its base; five cents a pack raise in cigarettes; 50 cents (to $3.25 per $1,000) raise in corporation franchise tax rate; one half per cent (to .5 per cent of value) hike in natural gas tax; and 10 cents a drink tax on alcoholic beverages sold in private clubs and on airlines.

Rep. John Allen of Longview denounced the big-city members for failure to support the tax bill. He pointed out that of 19 members from Harris County, only one voted for the tax bill. Adn this is the county that gets 20 per cent of the state spending, Allen said.

Allen noted that other big-city delegations voted against the bill, except for the Dallas delegation, and that 54 of the 68 votes cast for the bill were from members from rural or small-city areas.

He pointed to the coming reapportionment after the 1970 census and asked: "How will we ever pass a tax bill when Houston gets 24 members and only one of them will vote for a tax bill?"

This rural-urban split in the House was just one of many developments as the weary legislators fought to put a majority of each house together on a tax package to sustain state government during the next two years.

Senate first enacted, then backed down on its unusual proposal to levy a $1 per ticket tax on admissions to "dirty movies." Original bill would have designated the Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics (who supervises boxing and wrestling) to review all movies coming into the state and determine those which should be rated "X" for adult audiences only. The latter were targeted for the tax.

After thinking it over a couple of days, Senate bowed to the advice of members who argued that the regulation of sixty movies should be left to a separate bill, not a tax measure.

Increases in teachers' and state workers' pay, expansion of the college and university system, and improvements in the care of the mentally ill account for most of the increase in state spending.

But how to put together a tax package to provide the money was the question which troubled the legislators in the second week of the second special session.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith named Charles D. Mathews of Dallas to Texas Board of Insurance and designated Ned Price, formerly of Tyler, chairman of the major state agency.

Smith picked Reynaldo Ferrer Luna of San Diego and Frank Randall Nye Jr. of Rio Grande City as judge and district attorney respectively of the new 299th judicial district, for Starr, Duval and Jim Hogg counties.

At the same time, he selected Ted Zanderson Robertson of Dallas judge of Juvenile Court No. 2 in Dallas. Senate quickly confirmed all three. Jackson B. Smith Jr. and Wallis Harland Miller of Houston were named to domestic relations and juvenile court benches there.

Smith placed on the new Commission for Rehabilitation Mrs. Marjorie Cone Kastman of Lubbock, John David Simpson Jr. of Austin (Chairman), Dr. John James Hinchey of San Antonio, Dr. Clifford Stanley Knappe of Waco, John Thomas Bean of El Paso and Jack Burris Dale of Houston.

Capt. Richard Gerald Johnson of Beaumont, Capt. Theodore Ralph Morgan of Groves and Capt. Samuel William Livingston, Daniel Jackson Simonton and Harold Edwin Weaver, all of Port Arthur, were designated by the Governor as branch pilots for Sabine Bar Pass and Tributaries.

James R. Ray of Plainview will serve on Smith's staff and assist the new Committee of Human Relations.

GUEST RULE DELAYED — Tough new rules of the Liquor Control Board to curb temporary guest card abuses at private bottle clubs cannot be enforced pending appeal of a court test case here.

District Judge James Meyers concluded that LCB rules are valid, but they should not be put into full effect until final disposition of the case of appeal.

In the lawsuit, Dallas clubs claimed the rule would close 75 per cent of Texas private clubs, many of which aren't so private. Rule would require guests to be personally introduced or physically accompanied by a club member. Bills would have to be paid by members on monthly statements, not in cash by guests.

LCB said applications for late hours (2 a. m.) drinking permits for clubs and taverns are being screened carefully. Only 18 were approved in the week before the new curfew-stretching law went into effect September 1.

577 PASS BAR — Five hundred and 77 new lawyers will be licensed in Supreme Court ceremonies here September 15. Four separate ceremonies will be held because of usual size of class.

Rufus Stovall Scott and Paul L. Tubbs, both Southern Methodist University school of law graduates, scored high grades on summer test, with overall average of 89.

Diary of the Coldewey's Trip To Colorado, Aug. 23-31

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coldewey of Lorraine and their son and family, the Maurice Coldewey of Midland, kept a daily diary of their trip last week and are sharing it with us through the paper.

Saturday, Aug. 23. We were up at 6 a. m. as we were all anxious to be on our way for this long looked-for trip. Of course, everyone was hungry, so we just stopped at a truck stop in Midland for breakfast. We drove till about 1 p. m. then stopped for lunch. We couldn't find a shade tree but wasn't long till we were in the tall pines. Spent the night in Santa Fe, N. M., at K O A Camp ground. It was very nice and private. We set up camp then toured the town. Saw some old missions, a dog show and Hippy-land. We topped our evening off with a Mexican supper that was so hot we smoked for an hour.

Sunday, Aug. 24. We left Santa Fe about 11 a. m. and found our campsite at Vallecito Lake, Colo. about 5:30. Had a beautiful place near the water. After supper we had church services around our campfire. We read from Gen. 1-3 about the creation. We thought that was most appropriate since we were nestled among some of His greatest works. A man and his son who were camped nearby had been listening. They came over and told us they enjoyed the service very much.

On Monday, Aug. 25, we were up early. Did some fishing and just roamed the campsite. Went to a store, mailed cards and bought souvenirs and just saw the sights around close. Was cold that night so we went to bed early. Popped corn and roasted marshmallows.

Tuesday we drove to Pine River to fish and see the sights. The river was beautiful and cold as Jamie will testify to. He waded across waist deep to free his hook instead of cutting the line. Didn't catch anything, so had lunch and moved on. Saw the Newton and Reeder cabin there. We stopped at Johnson Lake and caught enough trout for supper. Delicious!

Wednesday we were up at 6 a. m. Had jelly bread and juice for breakfast and then off to Durango for train ride up to Silverton. We didn't have reservations so had to take the bus up and open car train back. As it happened this was the best way to go. On the bus we saw things from high up and on the train we were right down there with all the beauty. We had sore necks and black faces, but it was worth it all. The train was coal burning, narrow gauge track. It was 50 miles and took 3 1/2 hours on the train. Had cooked stew on the campfire the night before so warmed that for supper and tumbled into bed.

Thursday we got up late, had breakfast at 9:30, broke camp at 12 noon and headed for Wolf Creek Pass. Stopped in Bayfield to get flat fixed and wash our dirty laundry. At lunch at 3:30 in Pagosa Springs. We were across from Motel which is heated by hot springs. Pagosa means "Healing Water." The Ute and Navajo Indians fought many battles over these springs, as the mud was used for healing purposes. They have been there since 1591 and were caused by a volcano. Later we stopped to see Treasure Falls. We walked 1-4 mile up to get to them and even with all the panting we did, it was worth the trip. Stopped at Scenic Point to see the view. I looked like "Land of Canaan" pictures. Gorgeous.

Arrived at campsite 2 miles up in the mountains at Tucker's Pond. Was beautiful but Helen and Othello thought they were in Twilight Zone for there wasn't a bird or anything. We couldn't keep a fire going as there was no breeze, so Maurice and Leonard took turns fanning it. This was Leonard's 62nd birthday so we all planned him a surprise. Lisa picked him a flower and gave him a big kiss. After supper we baked him a cherry cobbler in a Dutch oven in our coals. Lisa wrapped him a stick of gum and gave this and his pie and sang "Happy Birthday." He was fully surprised. This was a perfect ending to a wonderful day.

Friday was cold. Leonard couldn't sleep so was up early and had the campfire going. We women finally got up and prepared breakfast. The men were off to fish at one of Tucker's Ponds. No luck so we met them and went sightseeing. Found a pretty stream. The forest seemed to be diseased as so many of the trees were dead. Maurice pushed one over and used it for firewood. We had a light lunch and headed for campers as it was raining. Some played games, some read and other just slept the evening away. I won't say who but her name begins with "O." Still raining at 6 so we cooked under the awning and back to camper for a round of 42.

Saturday we left this wet place before we grew webbed feet. We were winding our way home. A point of interest was Rio Grand Gorge Bridge, which was 1200 feet long, and 36 feet wide and 600 feet above the bottom of the gorge. Rained on us all day, so we spent our last night in a motel in Santa Rosa, N. M.

Sunday we started on our last stretch for home about 9 a. m. Some beautiful crops and lots of water on past Muleshoe. We found one of the prettiest roadside parks to eat our lunch we had seen on the whole trip.

It is good to see other parts of this great country of ours, but Texas is still the best.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Anders left for a trip in parts of New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Armon Shultz of Tulsa, Okla., visited his mother, Mrs. Ed Shultz Saturday.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

September is here and back to school time has finally arrived for Mama -- or much too soon for Junior. Going back to school does create one small income tax problem for those students who worked during the summer. Nowadays this includes most of the senior high school students, as well as college students on summer vacation.

Ordinarily the students worked in jobs that required their employer to withhold income tax and social security tax from their pay check. The law requires their employer to issue them a W-2 within 30 days after they leave the job. The students will need to carefully put away this W-2 until January 1, 1970.

Ordinarily if they do work elsewhere, they will get all of their income tax withheld refunded, provided they file a Form 1040 with the internal Revenue Service. Of course they are not required to file unless they make $600, but IRS can't send their money back until they do file. The students that lose the W-2's usually find that the employer will give them a duplicate -- but only after at least one, and usually a series of tongue lashings.

Mrs. Baird is spending this week with her son, Roy Jr., who is ill in an Odessa hospital.

Baptist WMU Holds Monday Meeting

"It Pays To Serve Jesus" was sung by the group to open the meeting of the Baptist WMU, held at the church Monday afternoon for a business and general missionary meeting.

Mrs. J. W. King read the names of missionaries who had birthdays on Monday and this was followed by a prayer by Mrs. Woodrow Pratt.

"Identity: Christian Disciple" was the subject for the missionary program, and the study question was How Have Christian Businessmen and Their Families Contributed to Baptist Work Overseas. Members having topics for discussion told about American businessmen and their families who live in Europe a short time and have helped organize churches for themselves and others and have generously supported them. These churches are in Luxemburg, Belgium, France, and Munich, Germany.

Mmes. Dan Butler, Pauline Smiley and Lynn Compton of the Jean Circle told about these churches.

During the business meeting which followed, directed by the WMU Director, Mrs. Hal Bennett, she and Mrs. T. J. Riden gave interesting reports on the WMU House Party which they attended in Waco during the last week in August.

Mrs. King read the minutes of the last meeting, and Mrs. Smiley gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. H. C. Taylor, Chairman of Mission Action Group, announced that next week is the time for the Week of Prayer for State Missions.

Mrs. Bennett read a poem, "Behold, My Neighbors!" and Mrs. Taylor gave the closing prayer.

Twelve members attended the meeting.
