Airmen Blast German Plane, Rail Targets

Berlin Reports Aerial Attack On Hannover

(By The Associated Press)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15—A force of between 1,000 and 2,000 American Fortresses and Liberators and escorting fighters swept over France this morning, bombing airplane plants, airfields and railroad facilities in a dozen places.

Berlin radio reported an attack on the great industrial city of Hannover in Germany while lighter Allied warplanes from bases in Normandy and Britain continued their widespread support campaign in a smashing follow-up to an 1,100-bomber operation overnight.

As a part of the latter operation several hundred Lancasters blasted E-boat pens at Le Havre with six-ton "factory busters" in daylight.

Oil Center Blasted

A force of Mosquito bombers attacked the synthetic oil center of Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr last night to keep the unceasing assault on Hitler's war machine going around the clock.

The Lancasters, accompanied by fighters escort, were believed to have accomplished a successful mission yesterday in their switch to American bombing tactics, for the Navy reported no E-boats at work in the channel last night.

Heaviest Daylight Attack

The RAF's heavies have operated in daylight a few times in the past, notably in the D-day preliminary assault but never in such a heavy attack. The tonnage dropped by the RAF on the thick concrete installations at Le Havre was estimated as high as 3,360 tons—more than most of the RAF's "saturation" attacks on German cities.

German broadcasts telling of the progress of the American daylight raiders today reported planes over Brandenburg province, in which Berlin is situated, as well as over Hannover.

In all, the RAF had more than 1,100 bombers out last night. Their targets included another string of enemy railroad centers—Douai, Cambrai and St. Pol—and German front troop concentrations at Evrecy and Aunay-Sur-Don, only nine and 18 miles respectively, from Caen in the Normandy battle area.

Allies Sweep Ahead In Italy

BY EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, June 15—Allied troops, breaking the stiffening German resistance of the last three days, have made a general advance all along their line in Italy taking Orvieto, Aquilla and Narni and pushing onward, Allied headquarters announced today.

Orvieto is 57 miles northwest of Rome; Narni 41 miles north, and Aquila, 54 miles northeast. Along the west coast the Fifth army has advanced 79 miles beyond Rome.

As one Eighth army column entered Orvieto, an important road junction northeast of Lake Bolsena, another reached the outskirts of Terni, but was delayed by a blown bridge and a German counterattack in the vicinity of the city.

Fifth Sweeps Ahead

Fifth army troops along the west coast met determined enemy resistance at Magliano, 11 miles northeast of Orbetello, but swept it aside and entered the town.

The fall of Orbetello itself, a west coast town 71 miles beyond Rome and the center of German resistance to the Fifth army's offensive, was reported last night.

French Continue Advance

In the Lake Bolsena area French troops continued to advance and the Americans reached Pitigliano, 11 miles west of the northern end of the lake, and sent reconnaissance elements farther.

Allied troops in the Adriatic sector are across the Saline river.

Despite the arrival of fresh German divisions in Italy Allied armies still are encountering only formations made up of remnants of the 14th army.

Cherbourg Line Is Threatened

Furious Attacks Staged By Nazis

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force June 15—American troops have surged powerfully ahead in their stab into the Cherbourg neck, Allied headquarters announced today, and Berlin reported less than six miles separated the spearhead from the last west coast communications linking Cherbourg with France.

The gains were hammered out in spite of furious counterattacks all along the 100-mile invasion front in which the Germans had thrown about 20 divisions and 600 tanks.

LANDING NEAR BREST

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—The Exchange Telegraph news agency quoted a Paris broadcast as saying that Allied paratroopers landed in the Brest region today and a number were captured.

Allied headquarters, confirming that American infantry and parachute troops, supported by tanks had scored further gains west of Carentan, said Allied soldiers were holding firm everywhere else despite the massive nature of the German counterstroke and were inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

HARBOR FACILITIES BLASTED

STOCKHOLM, June 15 (AP) — The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau reported from Zurich, Switzerland, today that the Germans have blown up harbor facilities at Cherbourg.

British Lose Anchor

This was after it was acknowledged that the British at the eastern end of the line had been forced to give up Troarn, their anchor nine miles east of Caen, and Villers-Bocage, one of their two advance points 15 miles southwest of Caen.

Further heavy counterattacks in the Villers-Bocage area were turned back yesterday evening, headquarters said, and the British were still secure in their hold on Caumont, their other most advanced point, 20 miles southwest of Caen.

Seventeen German tanks including eight 60-ton Tigers, were knocked out in the fierce armored battling yesterday, headquart-

Stevenson Compares Hitler And Macbeth

HOUSTON, June 15 (AP)—"Hitler, like Macbeth who ended up with his head on a pole, will come to grief, just as does every single person who seizes the reign of power and tries to wield it against all humanity," Gov. Coke Stevenson told the First Presbyterian men-of-the-church at their monthly meeting last night.

Quoting the Bible and Shakespeare, Stevenson drew a parallel between Hitler's and Macbeth's rise to power, "the latter over the corpses of the king and his servants."

"If we study the history of the rise of tyranny," he said "we can trace it to evil suggestion and evil influence. Hitler succumbed to evil suggestion, just as Macbeth did to that of the witches, and over the dead bodies of men believed he could be the ruler of all the world.

"But our final picture of reward is in knowing that the Macbeths will eventually go down."

The governor quoted the Bible text: "We wrestle with the powers of darkness in this world," and urged a "rededication of ourselves to wrestling with the powers of darkness."

FOUR JAP TARGETS

JAP HOMELAND BOMBED AGAIN—America's giant Super-Fortresses ranged from India-Burma bases going into action for the first time today to bomb Japan. The map above shows four of the Nips' main industrial centers which were virtually certain to have been hit by the giant bombers. No details will be released for some time, the War department announced.

French Are Given Instructions During De Gaulle's Visit

LONDON, June 15. (AP) — The French Committee of National liberation reported today that Gen. Charles de Gaulle during his trip to the Normandy beachhead had "left everywhere instructions regarding resumption of civil administration, organization of supplies and public relief."

In a communique issued through the French press service, the committee said De Gaulle had been given a "most moving demonstration of courage and devotion by the population of Isigny and that elsewhere he was greeted in the same atmosphere of immense fervor."

Gets Triumphal Reception

Gen. De Gaulle, back in Britain after a triumphal reception on French soil, today laid before British and American political and military councils a claim of enthusiastic support from newly-liberated Frenchmen to back his demand for recognition of the French Committee of National liberation as the voice of France.

De Gaulle was said to be planning tentatively to return briefly to Algiers to report to the French consultative assembly on the result of his discussions with the British and with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, before proceeding to America to see President Roosevelt.

The London press hailed the general's swift trip to the Normandy front with the expressed hope it would help solve the ticklish situation.

May Settle Differences

A London Standard editorial characterized De Gaulle's visit to France as "widely welcomed" on both sides of the channel, and said "whatever may be in the political differences still to be resolved, the paramount need of the hour is that the military campaign should be assisted in every way possible."

The newspaper saw in the visit "recognition" by Gen. Eisenhower of the importance of the partisans' role in the battle for France, and commented it would have been 'tragic if political differences in any way blighted the hopes of advantages to be secured for our cause now by full mobilization of the resistance movement."

Trip Said Timely"

trip "timely," adding that like the trip timely," adding that like the people of Normandy, citizens of the rest of France want to hear the voice of a French leader. It is to be hoped that the diplomatic tangles and mysteries surrounding the relationship between Britain and America and De Gaulle be cleared up speedily."

De Gaulle's return to France yesterday, for the first time in four years, received a warm wel-

Allies Have Firm Foothold On European Coast--Intend To Stay

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—War Secretary Stimson said today the Allies have established a firm foothold on the European coast.

"I believe we are there to stay until all of France is liberated and Germany defeated," he asserted, although cautioning that "we must expect counter attacks greater than any yet met" in the fighting in Normandy.

Stimson told a news conference that destruction or heavy damage to nine bridges over the Seine river by Allied air forces was one major factor in slowing down development of a major counter attack—"a delay longer than we could reasonably have counted upon."

Some Landings Easy

"The fuller information which has now come on the initial landings of our men on the French coast," the secretary said, "is a case in point to illustrate the desirability of not reaching hasty conclusions. The west wall was no myth or pushover. At various places the landings were relatively easy, thanks to an element of tactical surprise, a careful choice of the general region for the assault and the destruction of German communications by our preceding air attack.

"But everywhere German off-

Peace Group Plans Given

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—President Roosevelt called today for creation of a world organization of all "peace-loving" nations to maintain peace and security—backed by force if necessary.

"We are not thinking of a superstate with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power," the President said, but added that member nations of the world organization would maintain adequate forces "for joint action when necessary."

For the mechanics of a peace-promoting organization, Mr. Roosevelt proposed in a statement:

Three Main Proposals

1. An international organization comprising all peace-loving nations.

2. A council, elected annually by these nations, to include the four major nations and "a suitable number of other nations."

(The Big Four are the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China.)

3. An international court of justice to deal primarily with disputes

Methodists Announce Bishop Assignments

TULSA, Okla., June 15. (AP) — The Methodist south central jurisdictional conference today announced reassignment of five of its six bishops.

Only Bishop A. Frank Smith, head of the Houston area, is retained in his old jurisdiction which embraces the Texas and south-east Mexican area.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, presently assigned to the Dallas territory, was transferred to St. Louis, to succeed Bishop John Calvin Broomfield, who has reached the retirement age.

Dr. Paul E. Martin of Wichita Falls, who was elevated to the bishopric yesterday, was assigned to the Little Rock area.

Banks To Be Open Saturday Afternoon For Bond Sales

Everyone who sees the big military parade here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock will have every chance to buy war bonds, County Chairman Neil H. Wright of the Fifth War Loan drive announced today.

The three banks and First Federal Savings and Loan association will open at 2:30 p. m. for the sole purpose of selling bonds. No other business of any kind will be transacted. Usual Saturday business will be handled during the usual hours—9 a. m. until noon.

Bonds also will be on sale at the postoffice until 6 p. m. and at the Junior Chamber of Commerce booth in Lindsey theater until about 10 p. m. Free tickets to bond premieres July 6 are given with bonds sold in the Lindsey.

Shallowater Rally Set

Rural Chairman Roy Boyd also announced the program for the patriotic rally in Shallowater clubhouse Friday night at 9:15 o'clock. No bonds will be sold there on that occasion, the Shallowater drive having been set for Monday, according to Henry Mahoney, chairman.

The rally program follows: music by Joyce Halsey's Drugstore

New World-Roaming Air Force In Action; Raid Is First For Sky Giants

Details Of New Bombing Withheld; Attack First On Japan Since Doolittle Raid; Arnold In Charge Of New Air Unit

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15. — The Army threw a new fighting giant into the war in the Pacific today, turning loose the new B-29 Super Fortress in an air attack on the Japanese homeland.

A terse war department communique said:

"B-29 Super Fortresses of the United States Army Air forces 20th bomber command bombed Japan today."

It was the first fighting assignment for the sky mammoth, and the announcement also served to disclose for the first time the existence of the 20th air force, a world-roaming unit under the personal direction of Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air forces.

The War department withheld details on the new bombing of Japan proper—first such attack on the mainland since the Doolittle raid of April 18, 1942.

There was no immediate hint of what part of Nippon had been hit, nor from where the B-29's went into action.

The War department subsequently disclosed that planes taking part in today's raid came from the India-China-Burma theater.

New Type Of Offensive

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, in a statement on the attack made public by the War department, said the Super Fortresses introduced a new type of offensive against the enemy and "also creates a new problem in the application of military force."

Because of the enormous range and heavy bomb load of this newest bombardment plane, said Marshall, they can strike "from many and remote bases at a single objective."

Their power is so great, the chief of staff continued, that the (American) joint chiefs of staff decided it would be uneconomical to confine the Super Fortress organization to a single theater, and "these bombers therefore will remain under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, General Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world."

Major Task Force

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," Marshall said.

"This type of flexible, centralized control recognizes that very long-range bombardment is not a weapon for the air forces alone. Under the joint chiefs of staff, theater commanders will have a voice in its employment, ensuring that maximum effectiveness will be obtained through missions which will contribute directly to the overall strategy for the defeat of the enemies."

It was the second American raid on the Japanese home land. On April 18, 1942, when American military fortunes were at their lowest, the nation was electrified by word that Tokyo and other Japanese cities had been attacked from the air.

Kerr Selected As Keynoter

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, an advocate of a fourth term for President Roosevelt, was selected today as the keynoter for the Democratic national convention opening here July 19.

The choice was made by the party's convention arrangements committee but recommendation of a permanent chairman for the conclave was deferred until later.

Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, fresh from a talk with President Roosevelt, assembled the party committee in Chicago today to arrange for the July 19 Chicago convention at which the President can have another nomination for the taking.

Whether Hannegan brought word as to how Mr. Roosevelt feels about it was not disclosed.

He left the White House yesterday with a "no comment" rejoinder to a reporter who inquired whether he still sticks by his recent New York speech in which he predicted, as a matter of personal opinion, that the President will accept a fourth term nomination.

Keynoter To Be Selected

Hannegan and the arrangements committee busied themselves with selection of a keynote speaker and recommendation of a convention chairman.

Other political developments:

Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio dined in Washington at a private dinner with Republican first termers in the House. Those attending said Bricker, aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told them that the United States must play a strong role internationally but first "we must be strong at home."

A politician's nightmare continued in the counting of returns in Idaho's close race for the Democratic nomination for the Senate with a 14-vote margin separating the leaders.

When 713 of the state's 845 precincts had reported, an unofficial count showed: Senator D. Worth Clark 10,004 and Glen Taylor, singing cowboy from Pocatello, 10,018. James H. Hawley, Boise attorney, was trailing.

Later returns put Clark back in

Approval Of "Hitler Doom Bill" Urged

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Conveying the "hope" of military leaders that Germany will be knocked out of the war by next January 1, Representative Snyder (D-Pa) urged the House today to approve unanimously a $49,109,002,795 "Hitler doom bill."

The big bill, to finance the War department for the year starting July 1, was described by the chairman of the appropriations military sub-committee as one that also "will soften Tojo for his doom that shortly will follow" the downfall of Germany.

It boosts to approximately $390,000,000,000 war and defense obligations incurred since July 1, 1940.

Yanks Invade Saipan, 1,500 Miles Of Tokyo

(By The Associated Press)

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 15. — Assault troops landed Wednesday morning on Saipan, Japanese air and naval base in the Marianas, and troop landings "are being continued against strong opposition," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced in a communique today. Saipan is 1,500 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Initial landings assaults started after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Pagan and Rota islands by Pacific fleet aircraft carriers, battleships, cruisers and destroyers.

The preparatory attack started with carrier bombings Saturday and continued throughout four days before the landings began.

The fleet carriers and warships are supporting the landing forces with heavy air attacks and naval gun shelling.

"The initial reports," Nimitz said, "indicate our casualties are moderate."

JAPS REPORT MARIANAS LANDING BY YANKS

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

A powerful Allied naval task force is attempting to put ground troops ashore on Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas islands 1,500 miles southeast of Japan, Tokyo radio said today.

The unconfirmed enemy announcement said Japanese defenders allowed "the invaders to approach as near as possible to the coast and then opened up a fierce concentrated fire on the enemy and foiled the attempt." A second landing attempt, it said, likewise was met with heavy fire and "Japanese forces are now inflicting heavy punishment on the invaders."

The broadcast closely followed Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' announcement yesterday outlining four days of concentrated surface and aerial bombardment of Marianas islands. Nimitz' disclosures, coming as they did while the big task force was still at sea, was a bold invitation for the Japanese fleet to come out and fight. The latter continued reluctant.

Islands Flank Philippines

The Marianas stretch for 400 miles north and south on the eastern flank of the Philippines. Saipan is 750 miles south of the Bonin islands. The Bonins, some 600 miles from Tokyo, constitute the innermost Pacific de-

American Glider Pilots Fought Side By Side With Soldiers; Levelland Pilot "Saw Plenty"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Four of the six glider pilots mentioned in the accompanying article are graduates of South Plains Army Air field, it was learned from the SPAAF public relations office today. Lt. G. S. Van London of Houston and Flight Officer Eugene Ragsdale of Dallas were members of class 43-4 which graduated in February, 1943; Flight Officer Roy C. Keaney of San Benito was in class 43-6 and Flight Officer John L. Zenwalt of Richmond in class 43-5, both graduating in March, 1943. Pvt. Wm. D. Meadows of Tyler and Flight Officer A. T. Rawlins of Levelland both graduated from the Dalhart school before it closed.

A BRITISH PORT, June 15 (AP)—American glider pilots, who thought their job was done when they landed troops on the Cherbourg peninsula, fought side by side with the airborne soldiers and slugged their way back to the beaches from which they returned to England escorting more than 300 Nazi prisoners.

All were full of praise of the paratroopers. Each had a different story of bravery and courage.

Pvt. William D. Meadows, Tyler, Tex., related today how the group he was with wiped out several machinegun nests, blew up an enemy ammunition dump with a bazooka and slew two Germans in a jeep with the aid of two French civilians.

Meadows, who suffered a slight ankle wound when he jumped near St. Germain de Varreville, said the Frenchmen were waiting for them.

"Our arrival wasn't much of a surprise as they had been expecting us a long time and had been waiting to help us," he said.

"Watching Germans bayonet some of our fellows before they could get out of their chutes really made us mad. We all feel we have got plenty of scores to settle. I want to get back there."

Nazi "Reception Line" To Test Allies

EDITOR'S NOTE: Larry Allen, just repatriated from a German prison camp, covered the Spanish civil war, was a correspondent in Rome, became in 1940 the first correspondent ever attached to the British fleet, won the Pulitzer prize for his stories of the famous battle of the aircraft carrier Illustrious and other Mediterranean engagements, was torpedoed five times, sunk three times, and captured by the Italians in an amphibious raid on Tobruk in September 1942. The Germans took him on the collapse of Italy and he was in a Nazi prison camp for eight months where, from the Germans, the Berlin radio and the German home press, he learned what was happening to Germany both at home and at the fronts. Here he analyzes what the Allies face in their invasion of western Europe.

BY LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The world may know within a fortnight how long the war in Europe may last.

For Germany's High Command says the supreme test will come when the Allied armies hit the "Rommel Reception Line."

That's the name given to the great bastion upon which Nazi Germany bases her hopes of repulsing or holding the Allied invaders.

It's the "Second Atlantic Wall."

Chain Of Forts

As I got the picture from Germans and the German press while in a German prison camp, this is a powerful chain of "command forts" stretching from Ghent in Belgium to Rennes, due south of Cherbourg. This was the area in which the Germans expected attack, but at Rennes the line presumably connects with Britanny peninsula defenses.

I cannot say positively that it was not propaganda, although it did not fit the usual pattern of campaigns to boost home morale or confuse the Allies, but here is how the Germans described the line:

It is composed of vast underground, heavily fortified defenses, bristling with thousands of heavy caliber guns and mazes of anti-tank traps.

30-60 Miles From Coast

The line at no point is less than thirty miles and no more than 60 miles inland from the Atlantic Coast.

It runs from Ghent to Arras, Beauvais, thence slightly west of Paris along the Seine river, thence southward to Argenton and finally Rennes as the southernmost end.

A few weeks before the Allies stormed the "fortress of Europe" General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel thoroughly inspected the "second Atlantic wall."

"Enemy Shall Not Pass"

He told German newspapermen:

"Here the enemy shall not pass. This will be the supreme and crucial test. Every one of these positions must be and will be defended to the last man."

Rommel, ace master of defense for Nazi Germany and nicknamed "the desert fox" because of his brilliant exploits in North Africa, is supported in this view by Western Commander General Field Marshal von Rundstedt.

Big Showdown Seen

There is little question but what one of the biggest showdowns and the first real test of power will come when the Allies smash against this line.

It's Germany's "knock down and drag out" barrier.

Even Reichminister for Propaganda Dr. Paul Josef Goebbels, writing in his newspaper, Das Reich last month, finally admitted that "we cannot stop the enemy from landing but we can and we will stop him after he has landed."

Germany's "Second Atlantic Wall," with much accent upon its alleged invinvibility, has been topline news in Germany newspapers ever since the last of April.

Every German appeared to be convinced that it is on the "Rommel Reception Line" that the Allies would be stopped.

Still Other Lines

But they're nevertheless looking ahead to the future by saying that even if "by some diabolical perversion of fate" the Allies should smash through Atlantic Wall No. 2, they still have the reversed once-famous "Maginot Line" and the original "Siegfried Line" facing them as major headaches.

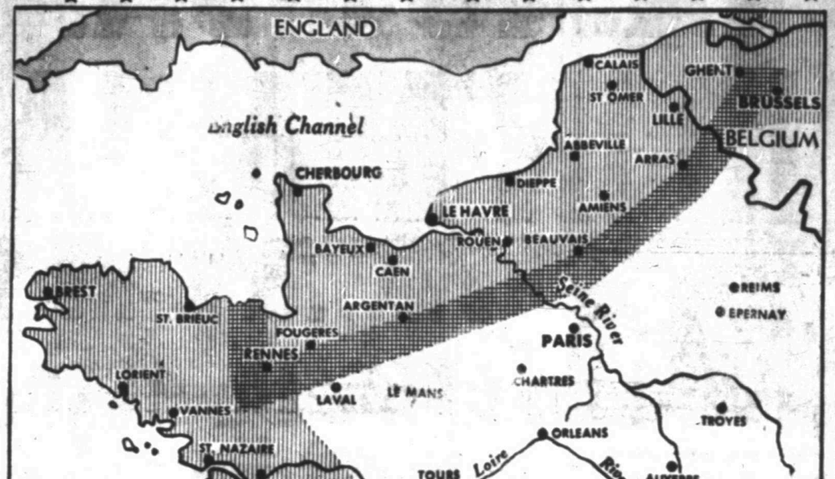

No German I have seen appears to be seriously worried about these possibilities. To them, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is still tantamount to the Divine and until shown otherwise, they think Hitler knows the answer.

Must Secure Ports

Germany's crack air, naval and military strategists, in articles analyzing the Allied chances of success, have declared that they must secure at least two good ports, such as Le Havre and Cherbourg, within two weeks after the initial assault, or their attack is doomed to failure.

These same strategists said that within two weeks after the invasion starts, the answer will begin to crystallize as to whether the Allies can smash Germany's military power, or will crash against an "unbreakable" line of steel and be stalemated, as at Cassino, in Italy.

And if the latter should happen, the Nazi High Command believes that the worst that could possibly happen to Germany would be to emerge with a negotiated peace—and that, in a German's opinion, would be tantamount to victory.

NAZI 'DO OR DIE' LINE—Here is the line, says War Correspondent Larry Allen, where the Germans are determined to hold the Allies. Set behind the Nazis' coastal defenses, and from 30 to 60 miles from the coast, it bristles with heavy fortifications.

Bank's Capitalization Increased; Four New Directors Named

Increase in capitalization from $400,000 to $500,000 and election of four new directors were announced at Lubbock National bank Wednesday.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, retiring Tech president; S. L. Forrest, lumberman; Claud Keeton, packing company owner; and Elmer V. East, attorney, were the new directors elected.

East was recently named a vice president of the bank. He resigned from the legal department of the district office of the OPA to take the bank post.

Increase of the capital stock and the election of the new directors was made on June 4, the 27th anniversary of the bank's founding here. The bank was established on June 4, 1917 and was located in a small frame structure. Then it had three officers and employes and deposits of $16,000. Today it is housed in the lower floor of a modern eight-story fireproof office building which it owns, has 31 officers and employes and deposits of more than $9,000,000.

C. E. Maedgen, sr., is president. Other officers and directors besides those already mentioned are: Wade Cooper, vice president; V. Lorenz Ellis, cashier; Chas. E. Meadgen, jr., captain in the U. S. Army; L. D. Payne, Lt. (J. G.), U. S. Navy; C. H. Hamilton, Dr. J. T. Krueger and W. S. Moss.

SPAAF Class Is Graduated

Four men, one from Missouri, another from Montana, one from Illinois and another from Kansas, this morning were presented special awards as the outstanding soldiers and athletes of a record group of glider pilots who received their wings and appointments as flight officers in graduation ceremonies at South Plains Army Air field.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer, presented the awards as the highlight of the ceremony, conducted at 9 o'clock in the SPAAF post theater.

Special silver glider pilots' wings were presented Flight Officers Gerald David Knott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Knott of Monett, Mo., and Flight Officer Floyd Thomas Finnegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Finnegan of Helena, Mont., as the outstanding soldiers of their respective classes.

Athletes Given Trophies

Bronze trophies went to Flight Officers Richard William Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley Blake of Belvidere, Ill., and Herbert W. Ballinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern H. Ballinger of Wichita, Kans., as the best athletes of their respective classes.

Capt. Joseph A. Houle, jr., of Bisbee, Ariz., operations officer of a training group at SPAAF, presented the wings to the graduating Winged Commandos. Capt. Harry M. Davis, school secretary, administered the oath of allegiance. The SPAAF band, under the direction of Warrant Officer Harry Dunham, furnished the music.

This class graduated with news of the invasion still ringing and with news dispatches still telling how their buddies who also trained at SPAAF, helped spearhead the great military blow at Hitler's Fortress Europe by landing their glider-borne troops behind the Nazis' coastal lines.

Nineteen Texans are included among this group, which represents almost every state and section of the nation. One Lubbock man will receive his wings.

Personnel From Texas

The men from this state include, as flight officers, George W. Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Weiss, Sr., of 2404 Twentieth Street, Lubbock; Earle Jones, Houston; States L. McAlister, Goose Creek; Claude Alvin Berry, San Antonio; Albert Thomas McCulloch, Coleman; William L. Harper, Jr., Palestine; Evans Spark Butler, Jr., Odem; Fred T. Cobb, Longview; Weldon Ray Ramzy, Gray Back; Tifton A. Anderson, Rollin M. Fountain, Arthur William Wier, Frank Harvey Riggs, Jack R. Mowrey and Robert B. Martin, all of Dallas; Thomas Norris Stephens, Port Neches; Bruce C. Merryman, Corpus Christi; Horace DeWitt Self, Kermit; and Homer John Vandelwalker, Coleman.

New City Bus Line To Be Open Friday

Service will be started Friday morning on a new bus route from Hub Homes and the Mackenzie State park entrance in Northeast Lubbock to Thirty-fourth street on Avenue H, officials of Lubbock Bus company announced Wednesday.

A 30-minute schedule will be maintained from 6 a. m. until midnight, officials added. Buses will stop at the central station, Main street and Avenue J, en route both to the park entrance and the south end of Avenue H. City swimming pool and most of the other Mackenzie park recreation facilities are within short walking distance of east entrance. The bus also will serve and encircle Hub Homes, the housing facility opposite the park entrance in which 130 families now reside.

Chamberlain Sings Tonight

Lt. Richard H. Chamberlain, baritone, will be presented in concert tonight at 8:30 o'clock on the lawn south of the Tech administration building under auspices of the summer recreation program. In the event of bad weather, the concert will be given in the rotunda of the building.

Sgt. Alice Ward will be accompanist.

Numbers Are Announced

The numbers have been announced as:

Plaisir d'Amour (The Joy of Love), (Martini); Where'er You Walk (Handel); When Dull Care (Leveridge); The Two Grenadiers (Schumann); Ave Maria (Schubert); Impatience (Schubert); All Soul's Day (Strauss); Dedication (Strauss).

"Eri tu" from A Masked Ball (Verdi); Beau Soir (Evening Fair); (Debussy); J'ai Pleure en Reve (I Wept in Dreams), (Hue); Asturiana (arr. by Falla); Jota (arr. by Falla).

Ah, Love But a Day (Beach); Lord Randal (arr. by Scott); Tallo Ho! (Leoni); The Last Hour (Kramer); David and Goliath (Malotte).

Is Open To Public

Admittance will be by season tickets or by individual admission of 50 cents. The military personnel are invited as guests of the summer recreation program.

Lt. Chamberlain is stationed at Lubbock Army Air field, where he is assistant personnel officer and assistant adjutant. He has been in demand for solo appearances here and in other Texas cities. Recently he sang with the Houston Symphony. In civilian life he was a member of the fine arts faculty at North Texas State Teachers college.

It is not generally known that Chamberlain is an accomplished pianist as well as vocalist. Next Wednesday night he will be presented over KFYO on the weekly broadcast featuring the LAAF band, playing "Repartee" by David Bennett.

A picture show, entitled "There Goes My Heart," was shown on Tech campus last night, and an all-college dance will be held in the Tech gymnasium Friday evening from 9 until 11 o'clock, as the concluding event for this week's recreation program.

Mrs. T. Gegg Is Speaker At Charm School Hour

Eight Men, One Woman Seek Nomination As Texas Governor

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP) — Texas' biennial contest for Democratic nomination as governor, an eight-man and one-woman race this time, was under way today.

Few, if any of the candidates were beating the bushes in pre-war style, but most had managed to bid for public attention.

Eight, including Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, tested public reaction yesterday in one way or another.

Some examples: Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, seeking re-nomination addressed a Flag Day meeting in Houston, linking the flag with his favored theme of state's rights.

"The flag is a banner that stands for all the rights guaranteed in the Constitution, particularly in the rights of states," he said in Houston.

Mrs. Cunningham Speaks

Mrs. Cunningham, Walker county farm woman, made her first formal campaign speech in an Austin hotel ballroom to an audience predominantly feminine.

Her "post card" platform of full support of the war was adopted, she said, because Gov. Stevenson has not taken the leadership necessary in time of war.

"By innuendo, implication and insinuation he has impeded the war effort," former agricultural editor and former AAA women's division director asserted.

League Stages Forum

She was heard also at a forum here staged by the league of women voters. So was Gene Stratton Porter of Waco whose eight-point program has been explained by him at public meetings since February and Dr. Herbert Mills of Dickinson who called himself a "mere dentist trying to be governor and give justice to the common people."

Some candidates who could not appear on the forum sent written statements.

W. J. Minton, Sherman editor, advocated $60 a month for every one rich or poor who reaches 65, present and future generations.

Carey Gives Stand

Edward Carey, Houston real estate man, wrote: "Greetings with regrets. I abhor the name of juvenile, deplore mush-headed lawmakers and I am not afraid of Coke. He wears boots."

A. M. Ferguson of Howe, brother of Former Governor James E. Ferguson, explaining he wanted to "lessen the power of stooge government derived from secret campaign donations by foreign corporations.

Martin Jones of Nacogdoches favored a bonus and free college tuition for returning veterans, women's jury service, pensions and a "sealed package law."

From Houston where he was occupied with the Flag Day address Gov. Stevenson wrote: "I have no platform other than my record as governor."

Lubbock Wheat Goal Is 25,000 Acres

A national goal of 67 to 70 million acres of wheat for harvest in 1945 has been announced by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones. This compares with an estimate of about 67 million acres planted for this year's crop, and with 55 million acres in 1943. W. Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock County Agricultural Conservation association, said this morning Lubbock county's goal for 1945 is 25,000 acres.

The goal is based on the estimated requirements for use in the 1945-46 year and on preliminary information from all wheat producing states as to their wartime capacity for wheat production in desirable balance with other crops, and without plowing up marginal land which should stay in grass.

The national wheat goal is being submitted to the states, through the USDA War boards, along with suggestions for the establishment of individual state goals within the local determination of necessary crop balance to get the greatest overall production of grains.

It is expected that the final state goals will be announced in about a month, Wells said.

News Briefs

A 1936 Ford two-door automobile, license 966-968, was stolen early today from R. E. Houston of 2222 Ninth street, from a downtown business street, police were informed.

Sheriff Hugh White of Tulia lodged Charles V. Smith, 21, in Lubbock county jail for safekeeping pending action of California authorities in seeking to return him there as a penitentiary escape, it was said here this morning.

L. L. Kelso of 1809 Main street, who was admitted to West Texas hospital shortly after noon Wednesday following an automobile accident near Smyer, is reported by the attending physician to be resting well today. He suffered a severe scalp wound, cut hand and contusion of the chest when the panel truck he was driving struck the back of a car driven by Joe Howard, a farmer of Smyer. Howard received slight injuries which did not require hospital treatment.

Seed Meeting To Be Held Here Monday

Seed dealers and producers in Lubbock county have been invited to attend a meeting Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Agricultural Adjustment agency office, 1320 Avenue Q, for the purpose of discussing the AAA sudan seed loans, Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county Agricultural Conservation association, announced this morning.

Wells said that P. C. Colgin of the State AAA office will be here to explain the loan to those in attendance.

Women's Organization Urges Return To Finer Femininity

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 15 (AP)—Global Thinkers, Inc., women's organization, hopes to beam to the world its appeal for "a return to finer femininity so that our men won't come home from the battlefronts to a lot of drunken, immoral women."

The year-old organization's fight against smoking and drinking among women was outlined today, in an interview, by Miss Grace L. Donaldson of St. Petersburg, Fla., national director.

"We are not reformers, we do not carry hatchets, and we have no quarrel with anyone," she said. "Our aim is to educate women to think themselves into a new and better way of life. It's a new approach to an old problem."

Mrs. Myrtle McLean Banister of Nashville, founder of the organization, defined "finer femininity" as "abstaining from drinking and smoking, getting out of slacks, growing up in modesty, and generally raising moral standards from the mire where they've begin to sink."

Global Thinkers, Inc., opened a seminar here today, to continue through Saturday. Miss Donaldson said there were 550 members.

OPA MEETING SET

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 15 (AP)—Officials of the Office of Price administration (OPA) from New Mexico, Arizona, California and Texas meet in Albuquerque on June 20-21 to study rationing problems of the area along the Mexican border, John D. Bingaman, New Mexico OPA director, announced today.

HOW TO RUIN DRESSES AND LOSE FRIENDS
It's tragic how some girls lose their friends and ruin their dresses because of perspiration odor and stains. And there's no excuse for it! It's easy to save dresses, it's easy to save friends.
Use Arrid, the new cream deodorant that helps keep your armpits dry and removes the odor from perspiration. Arrid is safe and dependable for these 5 reasons:
1. Does not irritate skin. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts.
2. Prevents under-arm odor. Helps stop perspiration safely.
3. A pure white, antiseptic, stainless cream.
4. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.
5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering — harmless to fabric. Use Arrid regularly.
Arrid is the largest selling deodorant. Sold at all stores selling toilet goods — 10c, 39c and 59c a jar.

Coffee -Flight Companion of Airline Pilots

. . . and on American Airlines it's Admiration Coffee

In midflight pilots like passengers on American Airlines frequently enjoy the delightful pick-up of a cup of Admiration coffee. Typical of many, Chief Pilot A. Beall Fitzgerald, ace pilot and trans-oceanic flyer, finds that Admiration postpones fatigue, brightens up the senses, and adds much to the enjoyment of each trip. He never refuses a cup when offered—and often calls for one when it isn't!

During off hours one of Captain Fitzgerald's hobbies is to relax with his baby daughter. Another is to relax and talk shop with his five brothers, all flyers—for he's a member of the Famous Flying Fitzgerald Family. Of course it's a safe bet there's a steaming cup of rich-flavored Admiration close at hand as he pursues his hobbies. It's a habit all American Airline pilots soon form—and enjoy.
The Southwest's Favorite!
For generations Admiration's room-pervading aroma, delicate, lingering flavor, and wholesome, satisfying goodness have retained the loyalty of thousands. Daughters have inherited the habit from mothers. Buy a pound today. Compare it with your old brand. You'll immediately join the fine old family tradition.

G.I. Bill Provides Loans, Other Helps

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Educational, loan, unemployment and job-finding aids are provided for "G. I. Joes and Janes" in a bill which Congress has passed and sent to President Roosevelt.

Here are some questions and answers to guide service men and women attempting to determine their prospects under the congressionally-approved "G. I. bill of rights" for returning World War II veterans:

Q. To whom does it apply?

A. Generally speaking to any man or woman who "shall have served in the active military or naval service" for as much as 90 days at any time after Sept. 16, 1940, and prior to the close of the war, who is discharged under conditions "other than dishonorable."

Unemployment Compensation

Q. Who is entitled to unemployment compensation and how much?

A. A veteran may draw $20 for each week up to a maximum of 52 weeks for unemployment occurring within two years after discharge on the basis of four weeks compensation for every month of active service.

Q. When would this provision become effective?

A. After the first Sunday of the third calendar month following enactment of the bill.

Could Be Denied Pay

Q. Could a veteran, though unemployed, be denied payment?

A. Yes, if he leaves "suitable" work voluntarily, without good cause, is discharged for misconduct, or fails to apply for "suitable" work to which he has been referred by a public employment agency.

Q. What educational benefits are provided?

A. The government will guarantee a minimum of one year's schooling for any veteran of 90 days or more service whose education was interrupted by the war and up to four years where the student's progress and length of service justifies. The student would select his or her own school. The government would pay up to $500 annually in tuition and fees, plus $50 a month subsistence and an additional $25 a month for dependents. In the case of veterans who entered the service before reaching 25, no showing that schooling was interrupted would be necessary.

Loans Available

Q. For what purposes would loans be available to veterans?

A. For the purchase, construction or repair of homes, farms and farm equipment or business property.

Q. What will the government do in aiding the veteran in making a loan for such purposes?

A. The veterans administrator will have authority to guarantee private or public agency 20-year loans up to 50 per cent of the loan sought where the total government commitment does not exceed $2,000. At the same time, the bill limits the interest rate to 4 per cent and provides that the veterans administrator absorb the first year's interest on that part of the loan he guarantees.

Civilians At LAAF Plan 'Get Together'

Civilian employes of Lubbock Army Air field and guests have arranged a party and dance for Saturday night from 9 until 12:30 o'clock, according to announcement Wednesday. LAAF band will play.

Ping pong, bridge, bingo and other games will be set up as well as War Bond booth. Guests will be treated to a floor show composed of talent furnished by LAAF and Lubbockites. One of the features of the evening will be a fortune teller who has looked into the future and found that an $18.75 War Bond pay off at $25. Refreshments will be furnished. All LAAF civilian employes are invited to attend.

Youth Calm As He Confesses Murder

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 15. (AP)—William Roach, 15-year-old orphan lad, attempted unsuccessfully to plead guilty to a murder charge today after Police Chief Raymond Gallagher said he had calmly confessed to shooting his 14-year-old girl friend because she was "going out with other boys."

The orphan boy replied "guilty," loudly and clearly to a charge accusing him of slaying Carolyn Bennett, a ninth grade junior high school pupil.

Massachusetts law does not permit a guilty plea to a capital offense and Judge Ralph S. Spooner directed a plea of innocent for the boy as he continued the case to June 21. Roach was ordered held in jail without bail.

Proposal To Boost Oil Price Killed

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Switching from three previous votes approving such legislation, the House Wednesday finally rejected a proposal by Rep. Disney (D-Okla) to boost the price of crude oil 35 cents a barrel.

"The action definitely kills the plan, at least for this year," Disney told a reporter. "The guerrillas finally beat us."

The amendment, which was termed "inflationary" by administration leaders, was swept out of the price control act, along with several other proposals similarly labeled. The roll call vote on the oil amendment was 204 to 178.

Several months ago the House had passed the proposal as a separate bill, but it has remained shelved in the Senate, and then last week and again Wednesday the members in standing votes had agreed to include it in the over-all price measure.

Coastal Residents To Get Storm Warnings

HOUSTON, June 15. (AP)—The United States Weather bureau, noting that the hurricane season starts at midnight tonight, assured Texas coastal residents today that they will be fully informed this year about any storm developing in the gulf.

E. A. Farrell, chief of the Houston bureau with jurisdiction over 15 counties, said restrictions clamped on coastal bureau after the war began have been lifted to allow dissemination of information concerning all gulf storms.

Hearing Is Set On Demo Rift

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The state supreme court has taken jurisdiction in the presidential elector fight and ordered a hearing June 19 on the subject which has caused sharp clevage in Texas Democratic ranks.

The tribunal yesterday granted permission to pro-Roosevelt forces to file application for mandamus which would compel the party's executive committee to certify on the July 22 primary election ballot presidential electors picked by the pro-Roosevelters in an offshoot convention from the party's regularly-constituted meet.

The regular convention named electors—and certified them immediately to the secretary of state for printing on the general election ballot—unpledged to support the party's nominees unless certain conditions are met by the national convention in Chicago.

Named In Convention

Traditionally, the party's nominees for electors have been named in convention since 1846. But the pro-Roosevelt faction declares that electors are states officers and as such must be selected through the primary election. This faction declares the voters will be denied a free choice of electors if their list is not printed on the primary ballot.

The committee, the constituted administrative group for the party, answers that only the state convention can name the electors. The bolters' participation in precinct and county meets and their partial participation in the state convention waives the right of complaint as to the method of picking electors, says the committee.

Statutes Said Silent

The committee contends further that statutes are silent as to the method of choosing party nominees for electors and it would be impossible to determine how electors are to be voted upon in a primary, that is, whether in a group or individually.

In taking jurisdiction in the contest the court ordered that the pro-Roosevelt group make parties to the suit electors of the regular convention. Only the executive committee was named originally as respondents by the pro-Roosevelt forces.

Meanwhile the state ballot for the primary election with names of no electors, has been certified by the state executive committee to county executive committees which meet June 19 to adopt local ballot forms. To the form listing candidates for statewide offices county committees attach a list of candidates for local and district offices.

Mrs. C. C. Houchin Dies Here Today

Mrs. C. C. Houchin, 62, resident of Lamesa and Lubbock 18 years, died at 1:20 o'clock this morning in the home, 1504 Avenue C, after an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services are to be conducted Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Broadway Church of Christ with Dr. Norvel Young, minister, officiating. Elder J. Lloyd Moyer will assist. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, directed by Sanders Funeral home.

Pallbearers will be C. A. Ledford, Tom Glasscock, Ted Barnett, Edgar Reynolds, C. S. Gaddis and E. E. Culver.

Survivors include the husband; the mother, Mrs. Lee Jones of Talco; five daughters, Mrs. V. G. Decker of Meadow, Mrs. G. D. Hufstedler of Amherst, Mrs. Ed Martin of Levelland and Mrs. Jack Reynolds and Mrs. Bugg Miller of Lubbock; four sons, E. C. of Lamesa, C. L. of Dallas and A. C. and Raymond of LeFors; three brothers, K. C. Jones of McCamey and Jess and Omar Jones of Talco; 24 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. John M. Marcy Funeral Postponed

Funeral services for Mrs. John M. Marcy which were announced for 3:30 p. m. today at the First Methodist church have been postponed until the arrival of out-of-town relatives. The family received word from relatives this morning that they were en route for the services.

Mrs. Marcy, who lived at 1926 Avenue O, died in a local hospital Wednesday morning following an illness of several months.

Disbanding Of Federal Oil Control Favored

HOUSTON, June 15 (AP)—Petroleum Administration for War officials favor disbanding the federal control agency "the minute the war ends," William R. Boyd, jr., of New York, president of the American Petroleum institute and chairman of the Petroleum War council, said today.

He added: "But there are others in Washington who want to continue control of the oil industry."

Addressing the concluding session of the spring meeting of API's southwestern district division of production, Boyd forecast that "we are going to have a battle to stay free."

He did not amplify these remarks.

Introducing Boyd, Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies said: "In Washington, the oil industry and the government agencies are working in harmony and effectively, working together to supply our armed forces everywhere. There is no lack of petroleum on any front."

East Texas Pioneer Is Buried Today

JOHNSON CITY, Tex., June 15 (AP)—The funeral of Mrs. L. F. Stribling, more than 103 years old, was held today with burial at Columbia Mountain, near which she had lived for more than 70 years.

A former resident of Fayette county, Mrs. Stribling had come to Blanco county with her late husband, Clayton Stribling, a prominent cattleman. Three sons and two daughters survive her.

Trawler Is Machine-Gunned By U-Boat In North Atlantic

BOSTON, June 15 (AP)—A German submarine invaded the North Atlantic fishing grounds recently, shelled and machine-gunned a Boston trawler and forced all but two of the crew to abandon ship.

The submersible finally left, her skipper apparently thinking the trawler would sink. Then the crew put the vessel in shape and brought her into port early today, her hull and superstructure looking almost like a sieve.

Details Given By Skipper

Details of the attack were given at a press conference by Captain James L. Abbott, 35, skipper of the fishing vessel, The Lark, owned by F. J. O'Hara brothers, Boston operators. The vessel is 145 gross tons.

The sub first was sighted about 2:30 a. m., Captain Abbott said but was mistaken at first for a friendly patrol boat. Then John Aspell, at the wheel, got a good look in the moonlit night and Abbott immediately roused the crewmen who were sleeping.

Fires Across Bow

The enemy fired one shot across the bow and then opened up with machine guns as the fishermen scrambled into their dories. Captain Abbott, his 74-year-old cook Dan Maloney and the ship's dog, Rex, remained aboard.

The sub fired from about 300 feet, the captain said, but there were no casualties. Then the underseas craft vanished and the men pulled about a mile from their ship. One dory started back, however, and the U-boat returned.

This time she circled, slamming shells into The Lark.

"There were 500 holes in the sails," Abbott related. Seven large holes were ripped in the hull. Abbott said a third type of weapon which he could not describe also was used.

GOP Planning Lower Taxes

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP) — Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the House Republican postwar tax study committee announced today his group would open public hearings soon after the summer congressional recess on a proposed postwar tax program designed to cut present levies by one-half.

Leaders of business, agriculture, labor and other groups will be invited to testify he said.

"We are unanimously agreed that no time should be lost in formulating a postwar tax program," Reed asserted in a prepared statement. "Apparently the Treasury has no postwar tax plan or suggestions. The administration apparently either is unwilling to face the problem or is putting it off to some last-minute date. The time to develop such a plan is now."

Series Of Sessions

The planned hearings would open here, with follow-up sessions at other cities later.

The Reed group is composed of 25 Republican representatives, ten of them members of the tax-writing ways and means committee.

When the GOP committee announced its goal of a 50 per cent cut in postwar taxes recently, Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee termed the move "purely politics."

U. S. Glider Pilots

there and it's good to be in England," said Lt. G. S. Van London, Houston.

Van London crash landed his glider in darkness early D-day morning near Ste. Mere Eglise and now back in Great Britain is "all set for another mission."

Bronzed and bearded after spending three days in France, Flight Officer Eugene Ragsdale, Dallas, said "I'll be going back." His glider carried medical men.

Flight Officer Roy C. Kenny of San Benito, Tex., was lucky. His glider, carrying ammunition and men, was riddled by gunfire as it cut loose for landing but no one was hurt.

Levelland Officer On Raid

Flight Officer A. T. Rawlins of Levelland, Tex., said "I saw plenty to prove the Germans quake when one of our paratroopers comes into sight. Our fellows are dynamite to meet up with on a dark night or any time of day. The Germans didn't respect the Red Cross or the medics. They just kept picking off those unarmed boys. I saw those Germans dropping paratroopers but the Yanks took care of them in short order."

Flight Officer John L. Zunwalt of Richmond, Tex., and his buddies held up a Nazi payroll truck during a battle for a small French village. They nabbed 90 prisoners.

Two Killed, Several Burned In Plant Fire

WICHITA FALLS, June 15 (AP)—Two men were dead and another was suffering from severe burns today as the result of a fire at the alkylation plant of the Continental Oil company's refinery near here.

Dead were W. A. (Bill) Waggle, 51, and D. L. Ring, 23.

L. E. Broome was in a critical condition.

Less seriously burned were C. B. Nelson, K. Estinson, Everett B. Geyer and Henry C. Brandt.

The fire, which occurred yesterday, followed a series of explosions in the plant.

Freedom For Asiatics Urged

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP) — Vice President Wallace Wednesday night advocated postwar freedom for Asia's "subject and colonial" peoples and called upon the United States to take "a positive progressive policy toward this area."

Concerning Japan, he said it should be occupied for a time, but not indefinitely, and that it should become eventually an "Asiatic Sweden," specializing in nonwarlike pursuits of high technological skill.

Wallace expressed his views in an article written shortly before he left on his recent trip to China and published in a pamphlet by the American council of the institute of Pacific relations.

U. S. Not To Interfere

He said it was not the mission of the United States "to write declarations of independence for the colonies of other powers," and added:

"Nor is it our mission to underwrite other people's declarations of continued empire."

(Prime Minister Churchill said on Nov. 10, 1942: "I have not become the king's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British empire.")

He said it was important for America to adopt a progressive policy toward Asia. "Not only because of our interest in and special relations with the Philippines and any other Pacific islands where we may have naval and air bases, but because in Southeast Asia there are conflicting forces in operation which have in them seeds of future wars."

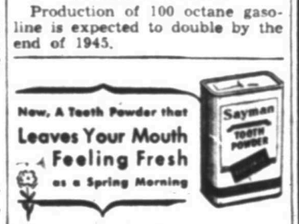

Sgt. Read Of Happy Dies In Plane Crash

LIBERAL, Kan., June 15 (UP)—Sgt. Cecil I. Read, 24, of Happy, Tex., was killed near here last night in the crash of a four-engined Liberator bomber from the Liberal Army Air field, public relations officers announced today.

Three officers suffered minor injuries when the big ship crashed during a combat training flight.

Read, son of Oscar Read of Happy, was an aerial engineer.

Production of 100 octane gasoline is expected to double by the end of 1945.

OUR 27th ANNIVERSARY ANNOUNCEMENT

Established in Lubbock on June 4, 1917, this institution has grown with the South Plains area from a bank located in a small frame structure, with three officers and employees and $16,000.00 in deposits to a bank located in a modern fireproof structure with thirty-one officers and employees and over nine million dollars on deposit.

During the present time of war we have and will continue to devote the energies and facilities of this bank to wartime banking services. Among these wartime services are:

(1) Encouraging the use of checking accounts for the payment of current bills and the use of banking by mail —thus saving time to customers and the use of tires and gasoline.

(2) Selling war bonds for the Government without compensation and encouraging the accumulation of war bonds and savings for the building of reserves to prevent inflation and tide over emergency situation.

(3) Furnishing working capital needed by businesses associated with the war program and by farmers and ranchers in the production of food vital to the war effort.

(4) Building employee morale by giving careful and sympathetic attention to personal loans needed to tide over emergency situations.

(5) Providing safe deposit facilities for war bonds and valuables to individuals busily engaged in war times.

(6) Utilizing our banking facilities in making the Ration Banking system operate and in providing a place for payment of withholding taxes.

WHILE DEVOTING OUR TIME AND EFFORT TO WARTIME BANKING, WE ARE NOT NEGLECTING THE POST-WAR PERIOD IN OUR PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Therefore at a meeting of the shareholders of this bank on our 27th anniversary, it was voted to increase our Capital Stock from $300,000.00 to $400,000.00, with a surplus of $100,000.00. This action on the part of our stockholders has now been approved by the COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY.

We now have a Capital of $400,000.00 and a surplus of $100,000.00, giving us a total capital and surplus of

ONE HALF MILLION DOLLARS ($500,000.00)

This action is in line with our idea of good banking, and is in keeping with the growing demand and need for increased Capital structure of banks due to larger volume of banking. We now feel that we are large enough to adequately serve any and every kind of business in the Lubbock trade area, YET SMALL ENOUGH TO KNOW OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS.

We also wish to announce the election to our directorate of four new directors—Elmer V. East, S. L. Forrest, Dr. Clifford B. Jones and Claud Keeton.

OUR DIRECTORS NOW ARE

WADE COOPER	Vice President
ELMER V. EAST	Vice President
V. LORENZ ELLIS	Cashier
S. L. FORREST	Forrest Lumber Company
C. H. (BROWNIE) HAMILTON	Lydick-Hamilton Roofing Company
DR. CLIFFORD B. JONES	President Emeritus Tech College
CLAUD KEETON	Keeton Packing Company
DR. J. T. KRUEGER	Surgeon, Lubbock General Hospital
CHAS. E. MAEDGEN, JR.	Capt. in the U. S. Army
C. E. MAEDGEN	President
W. S. MOSS	General Contractor and Cattle
L. D. PAYNE, LT. (JG)	United States Navy

AS A PART OF OUR FIGHT ON THE HOME FRONT, POST-WAR PLANNING IS A JOB FOR YOU, TOO. Wartime saving for a peacetime future is a good plan. We are LARGE ENOUGH TO SERVE YOU AND SMALL ENOUGH TO KNOW YOU. We are prepared to discuss your wartime financial problems and to consel with you about your post war plans.

In reviewing our first 27 years of expanded service, it is not our intention to seek favorable comment on our past progress. Instead it is our aim to continue this advance in terms of usefulness to our customers, to business and to farming and ranching in the South Plains Area.

Widespread Excitement Caused By CIO Political Committee

BY MARLOW AND ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, June 15.—That's not a rash. It's the CIO political action committee. It seems to have broken out all over the place.

It's one of the phenomena of this election year. A few months ago in Washington discussion of PAC was a little on the dull side. Not now.

But it was there all the time, working. It started out last July. CIO unions gave it $700,000 to do its work.

Endorses Fourth Term

PAC endorses a fourth term for President Roosevelt. It aims to change what it calls the "present anti-labor Congress into a pro-labor win-the-war Congress."

It has gone down into the precincts where politicians always have gone for votes. It has set up 14 regional offices. It has worked to get workers registered so they will be able to vote.

It has sent out booklets, explaining what PAC considers the issues in 1944. It has been, and will be, active in local as well as congressional elections.

Neighborhood Activities Urged

PAC has urged that political activities be carried from the factories to the home communities. It has told workers to talk to their friends and neighbors, to call meetings and to form neighborhood organizations.

Some congressmen watched PAC Rep. Smith (D-Va) in January asked Attorney General Biddle to investigate the committee.

Smith said PAC violated the law which forbids any labor organization to make financial contributions in an election for president, vice president or congressmen. Biddle investigated. He said PAC wasn't violating the law.

PAC Got Going Over

PAC got a going-over by the House un-American activities committee, headed by Rep. Dies (D-Texas.)

Suddenly things began to happen as the congressional primaries got under way.

Two members of Dies' committee, Reps. Starnes (D-Ala) and Costello (D-Cal), were defeated. So was Rep. Newsome (D-Ala). So was Senator Holman (R-Ore) and Dies himself declined to run. He said he had a throat ailment.

And just as suddenly PAC, which had been a kind of dull topic before, now became a hot one. Almost, as if an atonement for past neglect, PAC's influence was rated high in all those elections.

Probably Exaggerated

Probably much of this was exaggerated. There were other issues, of course, and very little has been said of the defeats PAC must have suffered in other elections.

But, demurely playing the cards close, PAC has made small claims to anything. But henceforth politicians won't sell PAC short. They can't afford to. Politicians understand well the kind of grass-roots organizing being done by the pro-Roosevelt PAC.

The Republican national committee has gone to Attorney General Biddle for a little information on all this. Committee Chairman Harrison E. Spangler, because Biddle said PAC wasn't violating the law, has asked for an opinion as to groups "who wish to become active against the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term."

But Sidney Hillman, chairman of PAC, simply says: "What we are doing and what we will do, will be within the law and within public policy."

Congressmen have been yelling steadily now for an investigation of PAC.

Allied Divisions In Normandy Announced

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15. (AP)—Here is how Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's "first team" in Normandy lines up along the beachhead, so far as officially announced:

At Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg, the U. S. Fourth infantry division.

At Ste. Mere Eglise and Carentan farther south, the U. S. 82nd and 101st airborne divisions.

At Isigny and to the south, the U. S. 29th infantry.

At Treviers and to the south, the American First and Second infantry.

Bayeux sector, the 50th British infantry.

Between Caen and Bayeux, the Third Canadian.

Orne river sector, the Sixth British airborne.

Motor Carriers Plan For Increased Rates

DALLAS, June 15. (U.P.)—Concerted action was promised today by opponents of a plan by common carrier motor truck lines for higher intrastate rates.

Members of the Texas Industrial Traffic league, pointing out that the proposed increase would hike shipping costs from nine to 50 per cent according ot the commodity shipped, voted yesterday to carry their opposition to a Texas Railroad commission hearing on the subject in Dallas July 26.

The carriers had applied for permission to increase rates on all goods handled within Texas to the same basis applying to interstate shipments.

A plane equipped with 100 octane gasoline, as are our military planes, can developed 26 per cent more takeoff power.

Buck Walters First To Win 10 Games

Reds Nip Pirates 3-2 In 11 Innings

(By The Associated Press)

Bucky Walters became the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this season when he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in 11 innings.

Including last night's game, the Reds' brilliant righthander has started 12 games and completed 11 of them. Only Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves has pitched more complete games, 12.

Has Hurled 114 Games

Walters has hurled 114 innings in which he has allowed 22 runs and 74 hits, an average of less than six hits and 1.65 runs per game.

In all three games chalked up against him as losses, he pitched 24 innings in which the Reds failed to score a single run for him. Every time they did manage to score for him, he captured the game. Besides just missing a perfect game against Boston Walters has pitched three shutouts.

The Boston Red Sox won their seventh and eighth straight by capturing both games of a double header from the Philadelphia Athletics 6-4 and 5-0. Francis (Red) Barrett won the opener in relief for his first major league victory and Pinky Woods hurled a six-hit shutout in the nightcap. The double win moved them one game behind the league leading St. Louis Browns.

Yanks End Losing Streak

The New York Yankees ended a seven game losing streak by whipping the Washington Senators 6-2 behind Walter Dubiel's five hit pitching. The victory hurdled the Yankees back into the first division in fourth place.

The Detroit Tigers took both ends of a twin bill from the Cleveland Indians 3-0 and 11-3. Rufe Gentry, who broke into the majors last year with a 1-0 victory over the Indians, duplicated the shutout in the opener, scattering six hits. Hal Newhouser won his ninth game in the nightcap, more than any other American hurler.

The league leading Browns overwhelmed the Jimmy Dykesless Chicago White Sox 10-3. Nelson Potter hung up his seventh victory of the season.

The National league leaders, the St. Louis Cardinals, had to come from behind twice to defeat the tail-end Chicago Cubs 10-9.

Brooklyn at New York and Boston at Philadelphia in the National league were postponed due to rain.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 15.—This week's Red Cross golf show at Wykagyl, arranged on rather short notice, had more than $10,000 advance ticket sales plus $28,000 worth of program ads . . . Wonder how the no-tournament U.S.G.A. feels about that? . . . One reason for cancelling the open and amateur for the duration was the long and expensive preparation required . . . Slingin' Sammy Baugh turned in times of 18.8 and 12.6 seconds in the calf roping contest at a recent Abilene, Tex., rodeo. Football folks will say he always was handy at throwing that cow hide.

SERVICE DEPT.

Eddie Waitkus, former Cubs' first sacker now in New Guinea, is worried about his old club's standing. "Every time we get a box score out here I have to sneak around corners." Eddie writes . . . George Titus, last year's Holy Cross grid captain, doesn't plan to play football at the Chapel Hill, N. C., Navy preflight school next fall because it might interfere with his training. And George Connor, the big Crusader tackle, has the same idea about the midshipmen's school at Notre Dame, which he will enter in July . . . Since the first wholesale transfer of Army baseball players, which almost wrecked the team, Fort Bragg, N. C., has lost Alvin Klutts and Charlie Lockman, both good minor leaguers, as well as the one and only Van Mungo.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Knute Rockne, jr., is in the Aleutians with the armed forces. His younger brother, Jackie, has just taken preliminary vows in the Franciscan order . . . Ray Dumont, who hopes to have 25,000 folks see his test of "reverse base running" at Wichita, Kas., Aug. 11, is trying to get "Wrong Way" Corrigan as one of the base umpires.

Nelson Favorite In Red Cross Tourney

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 15. (AP) — Lured by a first prize of $2,666.65 and a total purse of $13,333, a goodly number of the nation's top-flight pros tee off today in the opening round of the 72-hole Red Cross golf tournament at Wykagyl.

Although his most recent performance would tend to discourage the rating, Byron Nelson of Toledo has been installed a 4-1 favorite to take top honors. Nelson took a fat 79 on the last round of the recent $17,500 Quaker city invitational, which was won by Sam Byrd, and duration National Open Champion Craig Wood, are second choices to win, each 5 to 1.

ALL-STAR GAME

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP) — A select group of college football players and the Chicago Bears, the National grid league's champions, will meet in the 11th annual all-star game at Northwestern university's Dyche stadium on the night of Aug. 30. All profits of the game will go to war charities.

McDOWELL PACES VICTORY

ARLINGTON, June 15. (AP) — Rabbitt McDowell, former Fort Worth Cat baseball player, led the Fort Worth Army Air field nine to a 7-0 victory over the North Texas Aggies here last night. McDowell hit two singles.

Roy Cullenbine Sparks Indians

Switch-Hitter Is Having Good Year

CLEVELAND, June 15 (AP) — Roy Cullenbine, a ballplayer's ballplayer, is once again a sparkplug in the Cleveland's Indians' pennant drive—but for the first time the fans are aware of it.

The burly switch-hitter, leading the league in runs scored, two base hits and home runs and crowding the leaders in total hits and runs batted in, says of his torrid pace:

"I guess I'm having a pretty fair year."

Cullenbine ascribes his eight homers and 18 doubles to a new batting grip, adopted a month ago.

"Now I grab the bat right at the end, instead of choking it up a couple of inches," he says. He uses the new grip whether batting right handed against southpaw pitching, or switching across the plate for right handers.

The jovial fly chaser moved into the majors at Detroit in 1938, and the following year was declared a free agent by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, along with about 90 other Tiger players and farm team members.

The Brooklyn Dodgers paid $25,000 for his signature on a contract, but his batting dropped to .180 in 1940, and the Flatbushers sent him to the St. Louis Browns.

In 1942 he virtually took up residence on the trading block, swapped by the Browns to Washington, sold to the Yankees and sent to Cleveland.

Right now his batting is going at a .307 clip, and his fielding is even more spectacular.

Hurlwood Wins 8-2 Softball Victory

The Hurlwood All-Stars took the lead in the fourth inning, then punched their way to an 8 to 2 win over the Federal Employes in a men's softball league game Wednesday afternoon at the 23rd street and Avenue W basin.

Nixon pitched all the way for the All-Stars, striking out four, while Newman caught. Howard whiffed three for the Federals, while Mapijoski wore the mask.

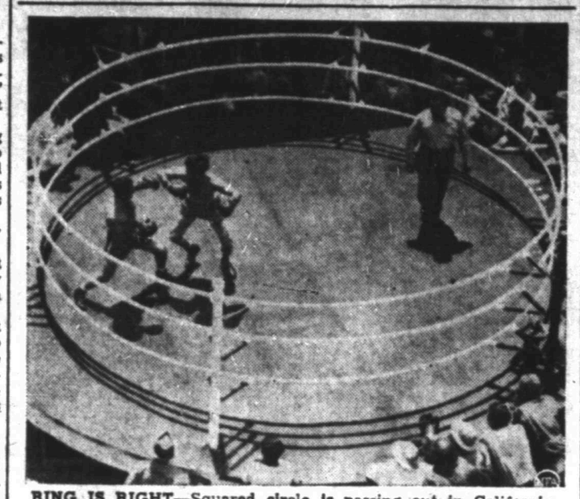

This evening at six-thirty another game will be played at the 23rd street and Ave. W diamond when the Junior Chamber of Commerce takes on the Armed Forces Induction Center.

Score:

Hurlwood All-Stars	200 140 1—8
Federal Employes	200 000 0—2

ATHLETE MISSING

LOS ANGELES, June 15. (AP) — Second Lt. Ross L. Bush, who set a national high school interscholastic half-mile record of 1:54.4 at Chicago in 1933 while running for Sunset High school of Dallas, has been reported missing in a mission over Austria.

Hemphill Wells Nine Resumes 'Winning Ways' In 9-7 Victory Over Sears Team

With one big inning paving the way, the Hemphill-Wells Cats returned to winning form Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field with a 9 to 7 win over Sears and Roebuck in a National league junior baseball game.

Skipper Bill Cope went to the mound to give his ace pitcher, Bob Galey, a rest after Galey had pitched the day before, and turned in a good job of chunking.

Cope teamed up his powerful bat with that of Bob Galey to play an important role in the victory, but it was Clinton Benefield's lusty triple that iced away the ball game in the big fourth inning.

Sage did the pitching for the Sears nine, and did a good job of it outside the one bad inning in which Sears blew their early lead. A Sears rally in the fifth inning fell short.

West Texas Gas and Montgomery Ward tangle this afternoon in the week's finale for the league in a game that finds Wards trying to match the Hemphill-Wells two week record while the fast improving Gassers will be seeking a perfect week after knocking off Hemphill-Wells Tuesday.

Sears-Roebuck	121 030 0—7
Hemphill-Wells	201 600 x—9

Sage and Coursey; Cope and Benefield, Martin.

Kiwanis Nine Downs Lions Club 14-10

Making hits count for runs, the Kiwanis Cardinals pounded out a 14 to 10 win over the Lions Club Yankees Wednesday afternoon at Tech field in an American league junior baseball game.

Travis did the tossing for the winners, and hurled good ball most of the time, but had one bad inning in which the Yankees connected for six runs in a wild third inning. They scored another pair in the next inning, then Travis settled down to finish strong the rest of the way.

Manuel Gallegos pitched for the losers, and was touched for runs in every inning but one. The Cards bunched their runs in the second and fifth, scoring them in four clusters in each of these innings to account for most of the runs.

Another crucial game is billed for Tech field this afternoon with the powerful Rotary Club and Optimist club nines meeting.

Lions	106 201 0—10
Kiwanis	141 240 2—14

Gallegos and York; Travis and Louder.

Patty Berg To Defend Title

Competition Keen In Western Open

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Marine Lt. Patty Berg was trying to recapture her golden swing in practice rounds at the Park Ridge golf course today before facing some of the strongest competition in her career in defense of her women's Western Open title next week.

Out of action since late in 1941 when she was severely injured in an auto accident, freckled-faced Patty reappeared on the golf scene last year to win the Western Open as well as the inaugural Tam O'Shanter women's tournament.

Golf Has Been Limited

But since she joined the Marines last fall, her golf has been limited to a few exhibition features and now she has to make a comeback all over again if she wishes to successfully defend her open championship — the wartime'. No. 1 crown — from a field of nearly pre-war caliber.

Among her outstanding opponents will be "Babe" Didriksen Zaharias, Dot Germaine of Philadelphia, Catherine Fox of Glen Ridge, N. J., Dot Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., Texans Polly Riley of Fort Worth and Mrs. M. B. Killian of San Antonio, Marjorie Row, of Anniston, Ala., Margaret Gunther of Memphis, Tenn., and Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia.

Hubert Bechtol Is Due To Play With Texas As Navy V-5 Cadet

The eyes of Lubbock fans will again be on Texas this fall when the Longhorns take the field with another Texas Tech star under the wartime "lend-lease" football program.

Hubert Bechtol, who received All-American honorable mention last season with the Red Raiders, will report to the Texas Longhorns as a Navy V-5 cadet where he will be available for play with the Longhorns.

Last season it was J. R. Calahan, two-year letterman under Morgan, who paced the mighty Longhorns in their title race. Calahan made the starting lineup after his first three days of workout and was never replaced on it from that time through the season. He was named All-Southwest Conference fullback, and mentioned on several All-American teams.

Bechtol announced his intentions of following Calahan's example early this week after receiving orders to report for duty with the Naval Air Corps crew stationed at the Central Texas school.

Wants To Try

He states that he will be there some 12 months and modestly added, "I plan to report for football practice next fall if it is possible. I just want to see if I can make Coach Bible's traveling squad."

The native Lubbockite scales around 190 pounds, and stands 6 feet 2 inches in his bare feet. An excellent defensive end, Bechtol was fifth in the nation in pass receiving and ground gaining last season. He is a powerful runner and an excellent receiver.

Was All-State

He also stared in basketball at Tech. While in high school Bechtol was named All-State by the United Press during 1942, his last year in the Lubbock public school, as well as receiving All-District 1 honors in that capacity.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bechtol, 2114 18th Street, Hubert completed his first year here in May of 1944. He would have been a sophomore next fall as well as a returning letterman on Coach Morgan's squad.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—
The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

CONCERNING CHILDREN

Dear Plainsman: Why don't the rest of us red-blooded humans bond together and boycott these selfish ice-water-in-place-of-blood people who won't allow children a place in this world.

The ones who put material things above the curiosity of a normal, healthy growing child. Landlords seem to be the worst because they have more chance to assert their selfishness.

"Three rooms for rent. No children."

How do they think they managed to reach the stage they're in without being children, and how would they have felt if there were no place for them. Flowers, lawns, etc. are in sites where children ought to be playing. If a little child touches one before a parent can jerk them back, somebody gets in hot water.

Before the war, if anyone had a child or two, a bunch of shriveled up shrimps got together and looked down their noses and pitied (yes, I mean pitied) the parents. My goodness, don't they know a little child is God's greatest gift. I prayed to have mine and that they'd be normal, healthy, meddlesome little fellows. My prayers were answered, and I thank God that I don't have to live amongst a crowd of selfish humans who want the world to themselves. After all, most of the people who feel this way actually don't have a place here. They sit around thinking of new meanness to push off on someone, so as to attract a little attention toward themselves. They never do any good, no one likes them, and we'd all be better off without them.

Even parents are putting shiny new furniture above the happiness of their children. That's not all parents are putting above them, either. Mothers are putting make-up, smokes, strong drinks, attraction of males in general, etc. above the sweetness and fullfillment of motherhood.

Mr. Plainsman, I'm not writting this letter for you to publish, one or two people to read and say, "that's right" and forget about it all. You've gotten things done before. Why not try your hand at this.

If you do only publish it, I wish it could inspire every parent and soldier in the world to rise up against these old people so strongly they won't dare take the joy from another little child's life.

A mother,
Lubbock.

"You can't blame this job on me, Ma—these are Dad's fingerprints."

Junior's on the right track. And so is Dad. He's getting real "up-an'-at-'em" nourishment in those big whole wheat flakes. And rich nut-sweet flavor. You could use some yourself. Try a man-sized bowl of milk, fruit, and Wheaties, "Breakfast of Champions." Adv

That Girl on Broadway says a friend is a person who runs interference for you in your pursuit of happiness.

EVERY once in awhile, and for the plain fun of the thing, The Plainsman starts an argument with some of his more cultured friends about what is "good" music, and why. We firmly hold to the opinion that not one out of 1,000 Americans really likes, or enjoys, "highbrow" music. Furthermore, we are equally convinced that not one person out of every 10 who say they enjoy "highbrow" music really likes it; that the other nine claim they do just to appear "discerning." We hold to these beliefs because "highbrow" music has no tune and no rhythm and the overwhelming majority of folks like music simply because it has tune and rhythm. If it has neither, they don't like it—and our contention is that "good" music is the kind that pleases the most people because basically, music is for purposes of entertainment.

Nothing entertains unless it is pleasing, which, it seems to us, proves our point to the satisfaction of all except those few who, strangely, really do like "highbrow" music. We've been told, incidentally, that people can learn to like being hit over the head with a hammer, but we wouldn't know about that, never having labored in that direction.

But reading an obituary of Harold Bell Wright the other day made us think that there's room for argument, too, about what is and what isn't "good" literature.

Is "good" literature "good" because of its purity and perfection of style, subject matter and grammar?

Or is "good" literature "good" because it pleases the most people?

As in the case of music, we'll string along with the literature which has the most widespread appeal and patronage.

We didn't happen to be a Harold Bell Wright fan, never having read anything of his save "The Winning of Barbara Worth," and "The Re-Creation of Brian Kent"—and both of those at a somewhat tender age. Aside from some "must" reading, so we may be able to converse more or less intelligently about sensationally popular tomes, our taste runs to Ellery Queen, Hercule Poirot and Perry Mason detective stories; and lighter stuff like that turned out by Willie Snow Ethridge, or H. Allen Smith.

But it occurs to us that Harold Bell Wright must have had something, because more people bought more of his books than can be said for any other author of fiction in American history. And that proves something, because people don't lay dough on the line continuously, and over a period of many years, unless they think they're getting their money's worth.

WE have read some of Shakespeare, who must be good else how could he last so long?; some of Double-U Somerset Maugham, the high priest of the self-appointed literary intelligentsia of this hectic age; some from Thornton Wilder, John Dos Passos, Sir Philip Gibbs and even Gertrude Stein. We've lived through all of those experiences, too. But just between us girls, we'd prefer to curl up (why do people always say "curl up" in connection with reading?) with "The Winning of Barbara Worth" than with "The Bridge of San Luis Rey;" "The Merchant of Venice." or, even, with "Of Human Bondage."

A lot of other people felt the same way, too, for Mr. Wright's play-by-play report of Barbara's simple, clean and homely love life attracted the cash patronage of 7,000,000 souls. If that many people will buy a book, it's bound to have something, even if written in Sanscrit by a one-eyed Tibetan monk who never had a speaking acquaintance with a grammar.

Mr. Wright probably won't be remembered in the good year 2044, yet the truth is he sold more books to more people than any other author with the possible exception of Bill Shakespeare. But that doesn't mean that more people have enjoyed reading Shakespeare, because it is a matter of record that most people who buy his works do so because, (1) they have to study them in school; and (2) a library displaying Shakespearean works leaves an inference that its owner is a very erudite person (when the truth is likely to be that he bought them purely for effect and never even cut the pages!)

Maybe The Plainsman just naturally is a "lowbrow." Or, maybe, like most Americans, he naturally admires the job that is "biggest;" that he is impressed by "assembly line" production, whether it be of planes or adjectives.

Anyhow, as in the case of music, we'll argue that the literature which appeals to the most folks, thereby offers more surcease from work-a-day worries, and, so, is the "best" literature.

And we'll be happy to argue the point, anywhere, any time and with anybody—including the two or three Ph.D.'s with whom we have more than a nodding acquaintance!

A guest picked up a pen and registered for a hotel room: "S. S. Samuel S. S. Smith."

The clerk glanced at the signature, and then asked:

"Pardon me, sir," but your registration is most unusual. Would you mind telling me what all those 'S's' stand for?"

"They don't stand for anything," the guest explained. "I was christened by a minister who stuttered!"

WE Americans, as a nation, are the most literate people in the world. We pride ourselves on our high rate of intelligence; upon the scope of our interests; upon our great degree of "know-how," and, of course, on our system of public education which is unapproached anywhere on this globe.

But even though we may lead the genus homo in the amount of stuff we have above the ears, we're a long way from perfect. We all know that, but sometimes we're jarred by some practical illustration of just how poorly informed a lot of us are.

Hadley Cantril, director of Princeton university's Office of Public Opinion Research, has been delving into the savvy of his fellow citizens and comes up with the astounding statement that 27,000,000 of the 90,000,000 adults in the U. S.—roughly, one adult out of three—do not realize that the Japs have taken the Philippines. If Cantril's figures are right, or anywhere near right, it is a sad, sad state of affairs.

Can it be possible that, in this enlightened age, there are 27,000,000 grown people within the borders of the U. S. who do not know that we lost, however temporarily, the Philippine Islands to the hated Nipponese?

How could there be even 1,000,000 of us—or even 10,000 of us—so badly out of touch with things?

Nearly every American, from time to time, comes into contact with a newspaper, or a magazine carrying some current events. Many of us have radio facilities, or, at least, occasionally hear some radio programs — including newscasts—if only by accident. Our guess would be that there are few people who never come into contact with other people, and contacts must result, upon most occasions, in conversation and the swapping of information.

Therefore, why have so many as 10,000 of us—let alone 27,000,000 of us—missed the boat about the Jap conquest of the Philippines?

Maybe some reader can explain this situation. Frankly, we can't. The very thought of such a condition paralyses us!

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

THE king of England wasn't exactly pleased with the rather mild interest the world exhibited over Princess Elizabeth's coming of age and so he has appointed a glorified "press agent" to make her more appealing to the public.

MILLETT

King George, proud papa though he is, should realize that his girl has as stiff competition as a princess ever faced. First, there are the pin-up girls, against whom even a princess couldn't compete for charm and beauty. And then there is Rosie the Riveter. Her career is far more exciting than the stuffed-shirtish curriculum of a girl learning how to be a queen.

And, of course, there are the girls in uniform. Even though the princess' clothes are oh-so-right, they haven't the glamor of a uniform in wartime.

FAIRY BOOK TITLE

AND there is even the title to be considered. Princess is a far away story book kind of title compared to some the girls have earned for themselves since the war started. Titles like marine sergeant and major and lieutenant (j.g.).

No, the princess came of age at a bad time, so far as the world's holding its breath over the glamor of the event is concerned.

A princess' most important birthday might have stirred up a lot of excitement in the days when glamor girls made headlines every time they dunked a doughnut or went on a hayride.

But girls are going places and doing things today, and what they are doing is far more fascinating than anything that is likely to happen in the staid life of a princess.

Star Beams

"THE present war is nothing but politics," asserts an editor. Well, well; no wonder war is worse now than it was in Sherman's day—it has gone from hell to politics!

"Are you interested in saving your life?" asks a traffic engineer. Well, yes, of course and indeed, but not quite so highly interested as we have been in days gone by.

Today's Journal Editorial

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The announcement the other day that Allied diplomats now are drafting terms for the surrender and occupation of Germany reflected not merely a commendable, but an absolutely necessary, foresight on their part.

However, the statement should not cause anyone to imagine that the end of the European war is just around the corner.

The fact that terms are being drafted means only that the Allies are attempting to prepare for anything that might possibly happen. One of the possibilities — and probably no more than a possibility—is that the enemy might collapse at any time. The general expectation is that, when the collapse does come, it will be with very little advance warning. To the masses of the people of the world, it may come seemingly as a thunderclap out of a clear sky. It is doubtful whether the inner-circle of the Allied leadership will know more than a few days in advance that peace might be near.

So they must be ready, regardless of the turn that events might take. If the collapse of the enemy should be sudden, as it might be, the Allies must be prepared to step in immediately to avert the very imminent danger of chaos among defeated masses.

Unless the Allies are in position to take over at once and if conditions in Germany should explode into chaos, as they might do within the space of a few hours, then the Allies almost certainly will have to sacrifice additional lives in restoring order. It might even happen, if there is a considerable lapse of time between the collapse of Germany and the taking over by the Allies, that guerrilla bands might be formed. If anything like that should occur, it might take months of bloody fighting to bring the defeated people under control. It took years to bring the guerrilla fighting to an end in the Philippines after the Spanish-American war in 1898. It might take longer in Germany.

Thus, in drafting terms immediately, the Allied leadership merely is getting ready for anything that might happen. It is the ounce of prevention which safeguards against the dangers of an infinitely more costly cure that might have to be ~~paid~~ with blood.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

Army Intelligence In The Dark On D-Day
Crackdown On Eire Understandable Now
Nimitz May Replace King As Navy Boss
Dentists Lobby Scuttles Navy Medicos

WASHINGTON, June 15.—War department officials are laughing behind their hands at the fact that Military Intelligence, supposed to know all about everything going on behind enemies lines and inside our own lines, chose D-day to move their offices. In the Pentagon building, where Military Intelligence, or G-2, is housed, moving day was called "G2's D-Day." They "invaded" their new offices.

But never could they have chosen a worse day to move than the Allied D-day. Other War department officers kept calling up G2, asking for information.

PEARSON

"Sorry," said the operator, "but the telephones are all torn out. G2 is moving."

Furniture was being moved down corridors, files of secret information were being shunted from one place to another. Everything was confusion on the one day which meant most to the war.

Apparently, Military Intelligence, supposed to know everything, didn't know when the big day we were to cross the English Channel was scheduled.

REASON FOR CRACKDOWN ON EIRE

NOW it can be revealed why President Roosevelt was so tough in his crackdown on the Irish regarding the removal of Axis diplomats from Eire.

It long had been planned, though a strict secret, to land on the Cherbourg peninsula. To reach it, many U. S. troops had to steam through the Irish Sea and through waters adjacent to Eire.

This was because the bulk of U. S. Army camps have been located in the west and northwest of England. While some of the troops were moved in advance to the Channel ports, a lot of them had to swing down through the Irish Sea around the tip end of Wales and then toward Cherbourg.

Naturally, the President wanted no scrap of information regarding the early passage of landing barges through the Irish Sea to leak out in any manner, shape or form.

NOTE—As it later happened, the invasion probably was no surprise to the enemy, partly because of the false invasion news dispatch, partly because of the fact that the armada, after getting all ready, had to be held up one day because of bad weather.

CAPITAL CHAFF

YOU can expect Admiral Nimitz to replace Admiral King as Chief of Naval Operations most any time. . . . Chief of Staff General Marshall was able to go to bed and sleep soundly the night of the invasion, for two reasons: (1) He had done his work so well in advance (2) he has gone through life working intensely during his work periods, then relaxing completely during his rest periods. He usually takes 15 minutes off for a cat-nap after lunch. That is why, though past retirement age, he looks under 65 today. . . . Dewey brain-trusters have devised an effective campaign idea which should win votes — namely, we are not electing a Vice President, but a President. The idea is based on the general report that the President, if he runs, will step out after the war is over. . . . Democrats are spreading a new slogan: "Dewey want Hoover again?". . . George Seldes' "In Fact" this week carries a revealing expose on Miss Vivien Kellem's Nazi boy friend in Argentina.

DENTISTS VS. CONGRESS

YOU never could guess the most secret document on Capitol Hill. It has little to do with the war, but rather with the tender subject of teeth and the gentlemen who drill them.

The document is a record of a hearing before the House Naval Affairs committee on the question of putting Navy dentists on the same plane as naval doctors. Chairman Carl Vinson of Georgia flatly refuses to let anyone see the record until he has time to go through it with a blue pencil and take out evidence of how he was put on the spot by the dentists of Georgia.

Real inside is that the dentists waged one of the most lightning, successful lobbies in Washington. They are probably going to get what they want despite the Navy--namely, to make the Navy's Bureau of Medicine and Surgery the "Bureau of Medicine, Surgery and Dentistry."

Behind this is the fact that doctors in the past have always ruled naval medicine. A dentist, even when in the Navy for years and even when attaining the high rank of captain, had to take orders from a naval doctor though the latter might be only a junior lieutenant.

Navy Said No

When the American Society of Dentists first got South Carolina's Representative Rivers to introduce an equality bill, the Navy flatly said no. The Secretary of the Navy also said it. The President's physician, Admiral Ross McIntire, also said it. And Chairman Vinson of the House Naval Affairs committee said it. The bill didn't seem to have a chance.

Then the dentists of the nation got busy. They found out who was the personal dentist of every member of the Naval Affairs committee, from Magnuson of Washington to Sasscer of Maryland, and they put on the pressure. But the hardest pressure was out on Chairman Vinson, who had to bow before a delegation of dentists from Georgia.

"They got me on the martyr's bench," was one remark which the Georgia congressman is reported to have made and which presumably he wants to take out of the record.

Another congressman is reported to have said: "If we don't pass this bill, imagine how they can drill on us, next time we are in the dentist's chair."

Anyway, the bill is now going to pass the House, despite the Navy. If it also passes the Senate, naval dentists and doctors will be equal.

Walter Winchell

ON BROADWAY
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

WHEN Congress gets tired of investigating the means by which Drew Pearson and Congressman Coffee got their hands on Vivien Kellems' love letters (to her Nazi boy friend in Argentina), they might get around to investigating whether Miss Kellems has violated the Trading with the Enemy in War Time act. If they do, here is this reporter's latest dossier on Count Frederich Karl von Sedlitz, the Kellems correspondent:

WINCHELL

After the letters were exposed the count moved from his palatial apartment on Calle Alvear to a cheap rooming house on Avenida O'Higgins in Buenos Aires — a place filled with Jewish refugees. He pays $40 a month for his room, but he isn't there all the time since he goes off on fishing trips (off the coast) that last from two to seven days . . . When in town, he is visited in his room every day (and sometimes twice a day) by a very good looking young Nazi wife, who carries an official-looking leather portfolio . . . On occasions he is also visited by another Nazi frau, but this one is nothing for Vivien to worry about. She's a grandma. The count cultivates anti-Nazi circles and tries to pose as a refugee himself. This fools no one; he is on the official black lists of the United States, Russia and England. He is No. 1760 on the British list.

He is still the Argentine representative of the Hermann Goering Steel Trust. He has checking accounts in three banks . . . His brother was the Nazi chief of staff at Stalingrad.

After Governor Dewey repudiated Gerald L. K. Smith, the rabble-rouser decided to even matters with the governor . . . Smith announced that Dewey's mother attended his meetings at Owosso, Mich. . . . The column has a photostat of a letter written to a newspaper reader by one of the governor's executive aides. The second paragraph states: "The outlandish charge made by Smith was a despicable lie" . . . The letter also was revealed that Dewey's mother never even heard of the We, The Mothers group of which she was supposed to be a member, according to Dewey's enemies.

AFTER the Japs took Manila (thanks to the help of the Falange Fifth Column headed by the Spanish Consul-General del Castano) they called all the foreign consuls to a meeting and demanded that each man prepare a list of Americans most dangerous to Tokio . . . When every consul present (including consuls of nations not exactly friendly to the United States) refused to prepare any such lists, one consul stood up and dictated a list of Americans for the Japs . . . His name—Jose del Castano, Spanish consul-general in Manila . . . The Yanks were shot.

This information was given to our State dep't and our Intelligence services by one of the diplomats present in Manila that day!

Cong. Clare Hoffman succeeded in getting his slurs against the Catholic church expunged from the Congressional Record on Friday, May 26, but he won't forget the storm he raised for a long while. During a debate with Congressman Rabout (Detroit Democrat) over the Parke-Davis strike, Hoffman shouted: "If you'd stop spending so much time to worship your leader, the pope, you might take some time to look into the strike!"

Majority Leader McCormack asked Hoffman to request that this slur be expunged from the Record . . . Hoffman tried to accomplish his white-wash by "unanimous consent" . . . The insult was expunged but, because of Cong. M. Bradley (a Philly Democrat), it was far from unanimous.

Here is a sidelight on the dirty business aspect of the last Peace Conference which is little known . . . Capt. H. O. Yardley (Chief of U. S. Military Intelligence, secret decoding and cipher bureau) revealed that he had deciphered a telegram which reported an entente plot to assassinate President Wilson, either by administering a slow poison or giving him influenza via ice . . . Capt. Yardley added in his own italics: "There are these undeniable facts: President Wilson's first sign of illness occurred while he was in Paris, and he was soon to die a lingering death."

LSTs Are Watery Workhorses Of The War

BY ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

NORMANDY BEACHHEAD — (By Wireless)—On the way to the invasion I rode an LST—the watery workhorse of this war. We carried armored reconnaissance troops.

We felt good about our position in the convoy, for we were about a third of the way back in the column. That meant we had ships on all sides of us and we wouldn't be on the outside in case of attack.

Our convoy was made up entirely of LST's. Each of us towed a big steel pontoon section, these to be used as barges and docks in the shallow waters along the beach. And behind each pontoon we also towed a smaller pontoon with two huge outboard motors on it—a thing called a "Rhino."

Several ships broke cables and lost their pontoons during the journey. Special coast guard tugs were assigned to pick them up. We lost our own Rhino on the last night out, and I don't know whether it was picked up or not.

Chances Were Slight

We were told that if the ship sank our chances of being picked up would be slight. The water was so cold we would lose consciousness in 15 minutes, and die within four hours.

So we all conjectured about the possibility of clambering out onto the trailing pontoon if the ship went down. That brought up the question whether the pontoon would be cut loose if the ship sank, or be dragged under the water by its huge steel cable.

To show how rumors get around, one soldier said he had learned that the ship had a sailor standing aft with an ax, for the sole purpose of hacking the cable in two if the ship were torpedoed. Later I asked the captain, and he said there wasn't any such man at all.

FUNNY little things happen in a convoy. The steering gear on one ship broke in midafternoon and the ship came slowly careening around like a skidding automobile until it was crosswise of the convoy and the ships behind had to veer around it.

You see, we were lined up in straight columns, extending as far ahead and behind as we could see. On both sides of us ran destoyers and corvettes for escort, but as I've said before it never seems to the participants in a convoy that the escort is adequate.

Our only scare came late in the night before we hit the invasion area. I was in my bunk, and the colonel with whom I was rooming came down from the bridge.

"How are things going?" I asked.

"Terrible," he said. "Another convoy came along and pushed us out of the swept channel. One engine has broken clear down, and the other can only run at third speed. The wind and tide are drifting us toward the Belgian coast. We're steering straight west but barely holding our direction."

I thought how ironic it would be to wind up this war by drifting alone onto a hostile beach and spending the rest of the war in a prison camp—if we didn't hit a mine first. But fortunately I was too sleepy to worry about it. When I awakened at dawn we had both engines going and were back in line again in the swept channel. Moral: always be too sleepy to give a damn.

My own devastating sense of fear and depression, of which I have spoken before, disappeared the moment we were under way. As I write this, the old familiar crack and roar of big guns is all around us, and the beach is a great brown haze of smoke and dust, and we know that bombers will be over us tonight. Yet all that haunting premonition, that soul-consuming dread, is gone, and the war is prosaic to me again. And I believe that is true of everyone aboard, even those who have never been in combat before.

THE night before sailing we were instructed to take two anti-seasickness capsules before breakfast the next day, and follow them up with one every four hours throughout the voyage. The capsules had been issued to us with our battle kits.

Well, we took the first two and they almost killed us. The capsules have a strong sleeping powder in them, and by noon all the Army personnel aboard were in a drugged stupor. Fortunately the Navy, being proud, didn't take any, so somebody was left to run the ship. The capsules not only put us to sleep but they constricted our throats, made our mouths bone-dry and dilated the pupils of our eyes until we could hardly see.

When we recovered from this insidious jag, along toward evening, we all threw our seasickness medicine away, and after that we felt fine. Although the channel crossing was rough, I didn't hear of a single man aboard our ship who got sick.

USE SEA POWER TO GET HOGS IN A HURRY
FEED STANTON'S
20% PIG RATION
Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it is working consistently to improve pig health, speed up growth and reduce mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and — through creep feeding—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.
MANAMAR
In Stanton's 20% pig ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "complex."
B-G PLUS
Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra tract minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 20% pig ration.

SOLD ---But Not Sold
Last week we thought we had this 4 rooms and bath FHA cottage sold, but the party buying it was transferred. We asked $4,850.00 but cut the price some due to the house needing paint and paper. The master bedroom is 13x15 and there is an attached garage that could be converted into another room. The way other properties are selling, we believe this to be a good value. Located in 2400 block 24th street and now vacant. We have the key. Oh yes, the house is insulated too.

Super 'Forts' Bomb Japan

came from the Japanese and it was not until weeks later that it was learned that a force of B-25 Mitchell bombers under James H. Doolittle, then only a lieutenant colonel but now a lieutenant general commanding the Eighth Air force in Britain, had carried out that adventurous mission.

The Mitchells flew from the aircraft carrier Hornet and after crossing Japan flew on to the continent. One landed in eastern Siberia, the others in China. Some of them came down in Japanese-held territory and a few of the fliers were taken captive. Months later the Japanese themselves made it known that some of these prisoners had been executed.

NEW SKY WAGON DWARFS FORTRESSES, LIBERATORS
BY WARD COLWELL
United Press Staff Writer

WICHITA, Kan., May 4 (Delayed)—The Army today permitted the Boeing airplane company to pull back the flap of secrecy for the first public peek at the biggest battle baby of them all, the eye-popping B-29 Super Fortress.

The mammoth B-29, designed by Boeing engineers to blast the Axis from hitherto unattained altitudes far out of the reach of effective anti-aircraft fire, has reduced the present heavyweights—the Flying Fortress and Liberator—to the welterweight division.

The B-29, which the War department now has decided can be described in part to the American public, is a midwing, four-engine, all-metal monoplane which carries the greatest bomb load faster farther and higher than any other airplane in existence.

Much Larger Than Fortress

Half again as large as the Flying Fortress and Liberator, the gross weight of the B-29 is twice as great and its speed compares favorably with the fastest fighter and pursuit planes. It has a wing span of 141.2 feet, a length of 98 feet and a height of 27 feet. (The Flying Fortress has a wing spread of 103 feet, a length of 75 feet and a height of 19 feet.

The Super Fortress is powered with four Wright Cyclone engines, it was revealed, each rated at 2,200 horsepower for takeoff and 2,000 rated horsepower, nearly twice the power of the Flying Fortresses.

Other details of the big sky wagon must remain secret for security reasons, War department spokesmen said, but when it is considered that the enemy knows all about the B-29 these details will be told.

300 Miles Plus Per Hour

In general hints the War department permitted Boeing officials to describe the B-29 as a plane able to reach a speed of 300 plus miles per hour and attain a ceiling of "well over 30,000 feet." Its weight and range was described respectively as very heavy and very long. In addition, it can be revealed that armament (50 caliber machineguns and a 20 millimeter cannon) consists of power turrets with multiple gun installations.

The B-29 was conceived in part by Boeing engineers early in 1940. Rushed into production with only the meagerest designs as a guide, the Super Fortress made its maiden test flight on Sept. 21, 1942 — a feat considered miraculous by airmen in view of the immensity of the ship, operated entirely by electricity except for its hydraulic brakes.

The Boeing airplane company, the Wichita division of the Boeing aircraft company of Seattle, led the way in B-29 production. It, too, had a part in the miracle-making that seemed to accompany the construction of the Super Fortress.

On Jan. 1, 1940, the Wichita Boeing plant was an extremely modest enterprise employing only 500 persons. The plant now boasts a payroll of 26,000 trained workers, according to George Trombold, personnel manager.

Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster general under the continental congress of the United States.

Rommel Flunks Invasion Tests

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following dispatch filed directly from France to New York by press wireless, United Press War Correspondent Henry T. Gorrell surveys the Allied position in France as obtained at field headquarters of the U. S. invasion forces.)

By HENRY T. GORRELL
United Press War Writer

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, U. S. Forces In France, June 14. (Delayed) — Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has flunked the first two problems of the invasion of Europe and a survey of the Allied position on the Cherbourg peninsula indicates that they are pryamiding strength in men, guns, tanks and planes in overwhelming volume.

The present German counter-attacks are the limited rear-guard actions of an army which has been uprooted from its prepared defense positions, stripped of its air cover and battered by a pulverizing combination of ground, sea and air strength.

I am convinced that Rommel made his first mistake when he gambled on his coastal fortifications being able to smash the invasion on the beaches and garrisoned his secondary positions on this peninsula with low calibre troops impressed from the Reich's slave states.

Counter Action Too Late

He made his second when he delayed starting counter action until after Sunday. I am now able to report that if Rommel had hit us any time before "D plus 5" the Allies would have been up against it. They were not up to strength in artillery and certain infantry outfits had had a hard time up front.

Now they have a comfortable margin in foot-slogging manpower and Allied artillery outfires the enemy at least two to one.

The Germans up to the time this was written had suffered loss of about 20,000 men, divided as follows: Dead, 2,000; prisoners, 6,000; wounded, 12,000. Their transport, according to French witnesses, is short of the vehicles with which to withdraw, let alone bring up reinforcements.

Underground Helping

Another factor which is beginning to tell increasingly against the Germans is the French underground, which now is in full motion in this area. There has been highly effective French sabotage behind the German lines and the Allies are getting a constant stream of information from underground couriers who daily cross no man's land.

Rommel may credit the Allied Air force, the U. S. and British navies and the 101st and 82nd airborne divisions for the failure of his first gamble. I say this after having covered the entire beachhead and seen for myself the remnants of the German fortifications, which if they hadn't been demolished and outflanked by the airborne troops would have been capable of repelling any invasion force with tremendous casualties.

Rommel Was Ready

There was a certain amount of bluffing with regard to dummy mine fields and wooden "anti-aircraft guns" but in the main I think Rommel knew what he was talking about when he said on his final visit to Normandy some weeks ago: "We are ready for them."

I have seen the cleverly hidden and sighted rocket batteries, the 88 mm. guns and mortars behind concrete and steel emplacements six feet thick, the machinegun pillboxes and anti-tank positions. The German defenses were laid in depth comprising wave on wave of fire power.

By the time heavy, medium and dive bombers and the guns of warships had lifted their barrage, a good two thirds of the coastal line was in ruins. The airborne troops took care of the remaining one third. In the past few days the air force and the navy have been picking off isolated batteries still firing.

Searchers Leave For Wreckage Of Bomber

FORT COLLINS, Colo., June 15 (AP)—Eager search parties left this northern Colorado city today to a point 30 airline miles west, high in the Rocky mountains, where a B-17 bomber lies in a tangled, burned heap, and its crew, dead or injured, without food or drugs.

Seven of the 10-man crew are believed alive, but the remaining three are thought to be dead.

The plane was en route from Rapid City, S. D., to the Colorado Springs airbase when it crashed.

Bringing news of the crash last night, two of the airmen told Sheriff Ray Barger the plane had crashed near midnight Tuesday.

The two, found weak and suffering from shock by two Ault, Colo., fishermen near an isolated spot on the Little Beaver creek west of Fort Collins, related they had wandered for "perhaps 10 miles" in what they later learned was "Hell's Half - Acre," a spot in the cragging hills surrounding this region where it is nearly impossible accurately to determine direction.

Troops Of Rainbow Division Reviewed

CAMP GRUBER, Okla., June 15. (AP)—Troops of the Rainbow division, finely trained and itching for battle, exhibited their fighting prowess today in a colorful review before Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson and a distinguished gathering of U. S. and Australian military officers.

Clebrating the 169th anniversary of the founding of the U. S. infantry in the Revolutionary war, three regiments of doughboys, four battalions of field artillery, and special troops paraded for one hour on the breeze-swept heights of this Cookson hills encampment.

During the afternoon, a demonstration of high efficiency killing methods with everything from pistols to flame throwers and 105 milimeter howitzers was scheduled for the visiting public.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

LATE DEALINGS STRONG

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—The stock market turned strong in the late dealings today on a revival of active buying in motors, steels and other key industrial shares.

Prices on average were carried to the highest levels in nearly five years with individual gains ranging from fractions to around 3 points.

Transactions totaled about 1,500,000 shares.

The victory psychology which stimulated heavy buying earlier in the week was warmed up by news that our planes had bombed Japan, but just before the close most of the leaders slipped off a bit from best levels.

Up a point or more near the close were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Oliver Farm, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Johns-Manville and Du Pont. The fractionally improved list included most of the rails and such issues as General Motors, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, General Electric, American Telephone and Western Union "A."

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Cotton prices fluctuated over a wide range today with gains of as much as $1.40 a bale registered on heavy trade and commission house buying.

Late afternoon prices were 70 cents to $1.15 a bale higher. July 21.57, Oct. 20.92, and Dec. 20.65.

Futures closed 45 to 80 cents a bale higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Attention of the grain market today was focused on the outcome of house-approved legislation seeking to guarantee parity prices for farm products and the trade was bullish.

Wheat and rye futures sold as much as five cents higher, the limit permitted by board of trade regulations, and oats followed the upturn.

A new wave of buying, much of it short covering, ran the market into stopless orders.

capable of settlement.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that for the need for physical enforcement of war prevention, the government is seeking agreement with other nations to have their armed forces available for joint action.

The plan set forth in the President's statement will be the basis of conversations at a meeting to which Secretary Hull has invited Britain, Russia and China to send representatives.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his statement after a conference with Secretary Hull, Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, jr., Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasvotsky, officials of the State department who have been working on postwar planning.

"It is our thought," the President said in his statement, "that the organization (for international cooperation) would be a fully representative body with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international cooperation."

The organization, he continued, "would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Kiwanians Praised For Charitable Work

George W. Dupree praised members of the Kiwanis club in their luncheon today noon in the Lubbock hotel for the work they have done for under-privileged children of Lubbock. In telling of the work being done for these children, he said that the biggest percentage of underprivileged children do not come from the "other side of the tracks."

The speaker was introduced by J. T. Trigg, program chairman. A new member, A. C. Lamp, was introduced by T. E. Buckner, president of the club, who presided.

Finns Hurled Back By Reds

BY EDDIE GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 15—The Red army hurled the Finns across an important but unnamed river today as it pressed on toward the port of Viipuri against an enemy who is throwing up what Red Star described as "a multitude of obstacles."

All dispatches stressed the difficult fighting conditions faced by Col. Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops. In numerous places the Russians were employing special squads to cut through dense forests and build highways.

Finnish Resistance Stiffens

There were many indications that Finnish resistance was stiffening and that the Soviets had come up against the main Finnish defenses, but no indications that the Finns had been able to stop the Red army in any sector.

Falling back towards Viipuri the Finns chopped down hundreds of tall firs across the highway and railroad line.

The Finns were using the forests for ambushes, causing extreme caution on the part of Soviet troops anxious to save every tank in the near wilderness of the Karelian isthmus.

Gen. De Gaulle

come from cheering crowds. No official disclosure of the length of his visit was made, but the Brazzaville radio in French equatorial Africa said he stayed only a few hours.

Silent About Disagreement

But the enthusiasm with which the French greeted him was marred by a reported disagreement involving employment of French liaison officers during the invasion. On this subject, however, British-American diplomatic quarters remained silent.

While he was receiving his ovation in Normandy, qualified sources in London said De Gaulle had withdrawn all but a handful of Fighting French liaison officers at the very moment Allied troops were moving onto the assault beaches. A similar report came from high authorities in Washington.

It was said here that these officers had been counted upon by the Allied supreme command to act in a liaison capacity with the French people to help take over civil administration.

Angered At Non-Recognition

His action was attributed to anger over the Allies' non-recognition of his National Liberation committee as the provisional government of France and the refusal of the supreme command to let him take over the issuing of radio directions to the French people on D-Day.

Referring to the Washington report that De Gaulle had cancelled orders for several hundred French officers to land with the first waves in the invasion, De Gaulle's press attache said:

"This is a most incredible report. We cancelled no such agreement for we never signed such an agreement. We negotiated several months with the Allies prior to the invasion, but as the whole world knows we reached no agreement with the American government nor with the Allied commanders, either on the government nor with the Allied commanders, either on the government of the liberated territory or on sending liaison officers with the invasion forces.

Non-Cooperation Possible

"As to reports that cooperation between the French population and the Allied armies had been impaired — that is quite possible, but it is not our fault."

It was said in London that the arrangements had been made between the supreme headquarters civil affairs branch and Brig. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, assistant chief of the Fighting French general staff, and that De Gaulle permitted only a token force of 20 French officers to go with the Allied troops. Because of restrictions on communications from Britain Koenig was not in touch with De Gaulle when the arrangements were made, it was explained.

Ban Is Tightened On Tax-Free Cigarets

AUSTIN, June 15 (U.P.)—Orders of the Eighth Service command tightening regulations on sale of cigarets, state tax free, at Army post exchanges and commissaries will net the state nearly $1,000,000 a year, Comptroller George Sheppard estimated today.

Through post exchanges and commissaries about 100,000 civilians have been buying the tax-free cigarets, some of which they consumed while others were sold to outsiders, Sheppard said. Eligible civilians have been buying more than their allocated two packages each 24 hours, he believed.

The command's orders will eliminate at least 75 per cent of the tax leak, Sheppard said. He said eligible military buyers consume about 300,000,000 tax-free cigarets a month, the state revenue on which would amount to $450,000.

Jerry Giesler Is To Speak To Texas Bar

AUSTIN, June 15 (U.P.) — Jerry Giesler, noted Los Angeles attorney will speak at the annual meeting of the State Bar of Texas in Fort Worth June 29, Fred Erisman criminal district attorney of Gregg county, said here today.

En route to speak at a war bond rally at San Saba, Erisman said Giesler would speak under auspices of the District and County Attorneys' association. Erisman is president of the association.

Giesler most recently has been prominent as a defense attorney for Movie Actor Charles Chaplin. Subject of Giesler's address before the bar will be his experiences during 30 years as an attorney, Erisman said. Giesler is president of the lawyers' club of Los Angeles.

Battle Nearing Peak In France

ers said. The other eight tanks were Panthers armed with 75 m. m. guns.

At the western end of the line, the Americans first moved forward on a nine-mile front to the les Sablons-Baupte are, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and only about seven miles from high ground overlooking La Haye Du Puits on the west coast road and rail line leading to Cherbourg.

Berlin Reports Gains

The Berlin radio commentator, Ludwig Sertorius, then reported that they had gained another 3½ miles to the west, reaching Pretot which is less than six miles from La Haye Du Puits itself.

The Americans also fought their way back into Montebourg, 14 miles from Cherbourg and headquarters said street fighting was in progress. But the fighting here was fluid, and the Germans in mid-afternoon claimed they were again in possession of the town.

American troops also were engaged in heavy fighting in the Pont L'Abbe area, four miles north of Pretot and along the road from Montebourg to Quineville on the coast.

The Americans hammered out gains both in the Pont L'Abbe are and around Quineville, which represents the Allied right flank, headquarters said.

Battle Nearing Climax

The heavy nature of the fighting was plainly indicated by the German high command, which said the battle is "approaching a climax" and growing more violent every day with the Allies hitting hard in all directions to enlarge their bridgehead.

The fierceness of the fighting was attested by the German high command, which broadcast that the Allies were trying to enlarge their bridgehead "toward all sides," adding that "with freshly brought up infantry and tank forces being thrown into action on both sides, the battle is approaching a climax."

The American advance was on a nine-mile front westward from Carentan toward high ground controlling the last German roads leading to Cherbourg.

Violent Reaction Seen

Violent German reaction to the threat to the lifeline was expected, and it was likely further American advances would be only after the costliest fighting.

The Yankees plunged to the Les Sablons-Baupte area, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and west of Carentan. Seven miles to the westward is high ground overlooking La Haye Puits, through which runs the last remaining major north-south highway on the peninsula still in German hands.

The advance placed the Americans nearly half way across the peninsula at its narrowest point.

Hand-To-Hand Fighting

Toward the tip of the peninsula hand-to-hand fighting surged between Germans and troops of the U. S. Fourth division in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

American artillery was shelling the road from Montebourg to Volognes to the northwest, and the doughboys controlled the road from Quineville, on the coast, to Montebourg, but the town itself changed hands from hour to hour.

American airborne troops spearheaded the fighting around Carentan and besides pushing to the west shoved the Germans back more than a mile south of the town.

Boy's Arrest Solves Church Burglary

HOUSTON, June 15. (U.P.)—Playing priest landed a 14-year-old boy in jail today and gave Houston police the solution of the burglary of a League City Catholic church last weekend.

The youth was arrested after suspicious neighbors called police when they saw him strutting down the street in priestly vestment. He led officers to a trailer camp where they found clerical garments, silver candlesticks and other altar pieces valued at $700.

The stolen robes and altar pieces were returned to the League City church. Police sought another young boy in connection with the church burglary.

Farm Work In Texas Delayed By Rains

AUSTIN, June 15. (U.P.)—Farm work was delayed in parts of Texas during the past week by widely scattered rain, the Texas weekly crop and weather bulletin noted today. The Pecos-El Paso area was reported still dry.

Biggest rainfall of the week was at Uvalde, amounting to 4.40 inches. Heat ranged from 103 degrees at Fort Stockton to 47 degrees at Dalhart.

INDUSTRY FOR TEXAS

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—A potential $20,000,000 in the manufacture of ceramics is being lost to Texas, Dr. F. K. Pence, University of Texas ceramics expert said today. At present, he explained, there are only 30 or 40 ceramics plants in Texas, almost all of which are turning out brick and tile.

Halsey Gives Up Command

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS In The South Pacific, June 15. (AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey, jr., relinquished his position as Allied commander in chief in the South Pacific today to Vice Admiral John Henry Newton, 62, his deputy commander.

Halsey is being assigned to a new and as yet undisclosed role in the Pacific.

In Area Since 1942

Halsey became commander of the South Pacific area as a vice admiral Oct. 18, 1942. Forces under his command defeated the Japanese in the battle of Santa Cruz Oct. 26, 1942, and in the battle of Guadalcanal the following Nov. 13 to 15. He was promoted to full admiral Nov. 18, 1942.

Halsey sent a ringing "well done" message to his South Pacific forces in a statement which said in part:

"I send this parting well done to my victorious all-services South Pacific fighting team. You have met, measured and mowed down the best the enemy had on land and sea and air.

Praises Work Of Fleet

"You have sent hundreds of Tojo's ships, thousands of his planes and tens of thousands of his slippery minions whence they came, never again to attack our flag nor the flags of our Allies.

"You blasted the Japs in grim victory at Guadalcanal, you drove him back and hunted him out, you broke his offensive spirit in those smashing Bougainville-Rabaul blows at his ships and planes and troops in November, and you smeared him and rolled over him easily to occupy Emirau. Now carry on the smashing South Pacific traditions under your new commander, and may we join up again farther along the road to Tokyo."

Former Deputy Commander

Like Halsey, Vice Admiral Newton is stocky and square-jawed. He came to the South Pacific command early this year after serving as deputy commander-in-chief of Pacific areas under Admiral Chester Nimitz at Pearl Harbor.

Newton formerly was deputy chief of naval operations under Admiral Ernest King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, and figured prominently in planning and executing grand naval strategy in the Atlantic and Pacific, work for which he received the Legion of Merit.

Marianas Attack

fenses of the Japanese mainland.

Successful invasion of the Marianas — which include U. S.-owned Guam, largest of the group — would advance Nimitz' fleet base 1,000 miles westward from its present advanced positions in the Marshalls.

The vast scale of the operation was indicated by the Allied diversions. Southwest Pacific bombers repeatedly hit at Palau and Truk south of the Marianas; Central Pacific planes also hit Truk, and a second task force attacked the Kurile islands 500 miles northeast of Japan for two days.

Big Battle In China

Meanwhile the biggest current land battle of the Pacific war centered at Changsha in Central China, with Chungking reporting Chinese defenders holding off enemy forces attacking the city from three sides. The Japanese have thrown 200,000 men into the battle, Chung said.

An important battle was joined between British forces and Japanese defending Mogaung, 35 miles west of Myitkyina in North Burma, Southeast Asia headquarters announced. Capture of these two cities is vital to Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's plan to link the Ledo and Burma roads between India and China.

shore mines, beach obstacles, guns and pill boxes were a dangerous hazard."

Stimson noted that Allied forces suffered casualties in the operation "but not as many as our commanders were obliged to calculate upon beforehand."

Discharged Soldier Charged In Murders

PARIS, Me., June 15. (U.P.) — Monroe County Prosecuting Attorney Tom Proctor today filed first degree murder charges against Raymond Paul Patrick, 20-year-old discharged soldier of Monroe City, for the murder of Albert Foltz, 60, Monroe county farmer, and his son Ladwin, 24.

Proctor said Patrick, held in Monroe county jail, would be arraigned sometime today.

The Brown haired, round faced Patrick was arrested Tuesday night and confessed to murdering Ladwin last Thursday night and the elder Foltz Friday morning with a shotgun and then forcing Mrs. Foltz to accompany him to Farmington, Ia., where he strangled her to death.

Cherbourg Battle At Crucial Moment

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

This is the beginning of the main Hitlerite counter-attack against the Allies on the Cherbourg peninsula, which means that the crucial moment of the first stage of our invasion of France is near.

It's a clash of armored giants, for tanks play a great role. The battle has swelled in fury as the Nazis have flung in reserves which have been rushed up from distant points. The conflict is fluid, and strong along the serpentine 100 mile front.

The Allies are meeting the challenge with complete confidence. They have retained the initiative on the whole, and that's vastly important.

One Of Great Engagements

The intensity of the battle will mount, and if the Germans have the reserves we may expect it to become one of the greatest engagemnts of the war. Still, the Allies have their feet firmly on shore, and they will stay there. Don't forget that we have two mighty assets which the Nazis lack—vast superiority in the air and on the sea.

One of the most important of yesterday's momentous events was the dramtic appearance of General Charles de Gaulle, the French leader, among the Allied forces on the peninsula—his first return to home soil since the fatal days of 1940. This visit, made possible by an Allied command which was happy to serve him, will arouse fresh hope that there may be a settlement of the controversy which is clouding relations between De Gaulle's French Committee of National liberation and the Anglo-American Allies.

Hopes For Better Solution

British Prime Minister Churchill called this situation rather sharply to public attention yesterday when he requested the House of Commons to defer debating the subject on the ground that discussion "would do more harm than good now." He did edge the cloud with a bit of silver when he added that he wouldn't seek delay of debate "if I had no hopes of a better solution than I can announce at the present time."

There are numerous angles involved, but the essence of them seems to be De Gaulle's demand that his Committee of National liberation be recognized as the provisional government of France. This neither Washington nor London is willing to do, holding that liberated Frenchmen should pass on this great question first. Out of this have grown uncomfortable questions by the French committee regarding the scope of General Eisenhower's authority in civilian matters, the extent of cooperation by the French people (including the underground forces) with the invading Allies, and the validity of Allied invasion currency used by Eisenhower's troops.

Decision Self-Explanatory

The American-British decision about recognition is self-explanatory—they want the French people as a whole to make the choice in peace time. Still, from long observation I suspect that if De Gaulle weren't such a dominating personality he might have a better chance of recognition. It's like this:

No one, so far as I know, questions that this tall, impressive appearing soldier has vast powers of leadership. He has outstanding capabilities and he has a personality which attracts followers. What's wrong then?

Well, he has the reputation of being a hard man—absolute granite—to deal with. He gives the impression that he believes himself to be a man of destiny. His way is the right way.

It seems obvious that the Allies might create great difficulties for France by thrusting such a powerful and dominating personality on her before the people have had a chance to vote. Maybe if De Gaulle softened a bit it would help.

Testimony Heard In Federal Court Suit

Testimony continued this morning in federal district court here in the civil case styled California Land and Cattle company against C. I. Bedford and Son and others, a suit for damages and for breach of contract. It is believed that testimony will be completed early this afternoon with the case going to the jury at that time. This is the last jury case on the docket.

The June term of court, which is being presided over by Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, was scheduled to end Friday but it is possible that all business for the term would not be disposed of until Saturday.

Farmer Found Guilty Of Rape

LAMESA, June 15 (Special)—A life term in the penitentiary was recommended Wednesday night by a 106th judicial district petit jury that found W. M. Harris, Dawson county farmer, guilty of statutory rape of his 14-year-old daughter.

The jury reported to special Judge J. E. Garland after 45 minutes of deliberation, at 11:25 o'clock.

Harris, about 48, is the father of 13 children. The alleged offense occurred on June 30 of 1943.

Two Indictments

The farmer had been charged in two indictments with statutory rape, rape by force, threat and fraud and incest.

The trial took up the entire time of the opening day of a new court term here. It was after noon when a jury had been completed from a special venire of 75 men.

Standing room in the courtroom was at a premium throughout the day, and tonight all seats were packed up till the time the verdict was announced.

Karl Cayton, Dawson county attorney, assisted District Attorney Rollin McCord of Tahoka in prosecution. Counsel for Harris was V. O. Key of Lamesa.

An arson case and a child desertion case are to be heard today. A woman, 22, and two male youths, all of Big Spring, are charged with burning two Lamesa houses.

Postwar World-Wide Air Routes Outlined

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—After a year of study, the Civil Aeronautics board outlined today the international air routes which it thinks should be flown by United States air carriers after the war.

The routes extend around the globe and to virtually every important country. They would add about 60,000 route miles to the mileage now certified to American companies for regular commerce.

Included in the CAB blueprint is a New York to Cairo flight via London, Berlin, Prague, Vienna and Istanbul.

Another goes from New York to Calcutta, linking Paris, a point in Switzerland, Rome, Athens, Cairo, Basra and Karachi.

Both of those routes, after leaving New York, touch on some undetermined point in Newfoundland or Labrador, and some point in Eire.

Still another route sweeps from New York to Newfoundland or Labrador, then to Greenland and Iceland, and on to Oslo, Stockholm, Helsinki, Leningrad, Moscow, Tehran and Basra.

CAB Chairman L. Welch Pogue, announcing the post-war "basic pattern" at a new conference, emphasized that it is tentative and depends heavily on the granting of landing rights by foreign governments.

Lubbock Pilot Wrecks Plane On French Strip But Returns Uninjured

A U.S. FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, June 15. (AP) — The first U. S. fighter pilots to make scheduled landings in France returned from their missions today whooping and waving souvenirs.

Other squadrons had replaced them on the advanced landing strips along the American section of the bridgehead.

They were the vanguard of hordes of U. S. Ninth Air force (Tactical) fighters to land on the new French strips caused today's only mishap. Capt. Vernon Turner of Lubbock, Texas, braked sharply to avoid hitting a dust-obscured Thunderbolt and threw his plane over on its back, wrecking it.

Turner, extricated with hacksaws, escaped injury and doubled up with another flier on the return trip.
