Nazis Surge Back To Recapture Zhitomir

Reds Lunge On In Other Areas

German Attack Is Called Defensive

By JUDSON O'QUINN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 20.—The Russians lost Zhitomir, the Red Army's westernmost threat to Poland and Rumania, yesterday in their first major reverse in four months, but the Red Army dropped troops from the skies for a new crossing of the Dnieper and captured another rail junction 70 miles north of Zhitomir.

Evacuating Zhitomir before a concentrated German counter-attack by perhaps 150,000 men, the Russians abandoned a strategic center they had captured only a week ago.

The Moscow midnight communique supplement failed to mention Zhitomir which the earlier war bulletin said had been evacuated to obtain better defensive positions.

Weapons, Prisoners Taken

The Germans announced their first sizeable victory in Russia since July a few hours after the Russians had admitted their own retreat. A Berlin radio broadcast said the Nazis captured a large number of Soviet weapons and prisoners.

Meanwhile Russian airborne units, aided by guerillas, struck an unexpected blow at the Germans, crossing the Dnieper between Kiev and Dnepropetrovsk and storming up to the town of Cherkas amid Nazi confusion. Two thousand Germans were reported killed in the assault aimed at flanking the Germans holding out to the south in the Dnieper bend. The action might also take the pressure off the Russians in the Zhitomir area.

Air-Borne Russians

Other air-borne troops captured Ovruch, 25 miles north of Korosten and severed another rail link between Germany's forces in White Russia and the Ukraine. They captured trains and other military equipment, diped out 1,600 Germans, and took more than 30 towns and hamlets, Moscow said.

The Russians killed a total of 4,600 men on all fronts, the Soviet war bulletin reported.

The German counter-offensive at Zhitomir appeared so far to be defensive and local, aimed at removing the menace to their troops in the Dnieper bend or at contain-

Flags indicate major British and French bases in eastern Mediterranean, where war activity recently has centered around the islands of Leros, Cos and Samos, just off the Turkish coast.

Turks Building Up For War On Nazis

Newspaper Says Nation Is Not Without Sides, And Ambassador Is Called Home

ANKARA, Nov. 18 (Delayed) (AP)—The influential Istanbul newspaper Tanin declared in an editorial today that "Turkey is not without sides in the British-German war." It appeared to be the first step toward preparing the Turkish people for eventual war against the Nazis.

The newspaper, whose editor, Husein Yalchin, is a member of the Turkish National assembly, pointed out that the recent Cairo talks between Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were "obviously not merely informative," and added these significant keys to Turkey's position:

England's Ally

"Turkey is England's ally. Turkey's relation or friendship with any other power has not modified her understanding with England. Turkey always is ready to put into practice her obligations under the alliance."

With the Turkish people displaying a sudden and avid interest in their country's foreign policy, the Turkish ambassador to Berlin, Saffet Arikan, returned here today to discuss conditions in Germany with President Inonu and the government. Franz von Papen, the German ambassador to Turkey, left for Germany several days ago to report to Adolf Hitler.

NAZIS CLAIM OCCUPATION OF FOUR MORE ISLANDS

LONDON, Nov. 19. (AP) — The Germans claimed the occupation of four more pin-point Aegean islands today in a creeping counter-offensive along the sea line before Greece, while the Allied air arm fell with methodical violence across the Balkans from Salonika to the Yugoslav coast.

In yet another Balkan arena the Yugoslav patriot Army of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) cut tirelessly at the Nazis in far-separated fighting arenas.

Editor At Spur Dies Suddenly

SPUR, Nov. 19. (Special) — A few minutes after he had participated in closing of a transaction jointly with Mrs. Annie D. Mccluude, whereby O. B. Ratliff of this city, came into ownership of the Texas Spur and the Dickens County Times, weekly newspapers here, W. D. Starcher, 53, who for about 20 years had owned and operated the Times, died suddenly late this afternoon, apparently after a heart attack.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed tonight, pending arrival of a nephew, Wm. Starcher, who is in the armed service, stationed in Florida. Other survivors include his wife and a son about 15 years of age.

Papers Consolidated

The newspaper deal provides for consolidation of the two weekly papers under ownership of Mr. Ratliff, street commissioner on the city council here, a farm operator, and members of the board of directors of Texas Technological college.

H. G. Hull, former owner of the Texas Spur, who had sold the paper to Mrs. McClure, but who has been operating it under lease, is to remain as editor and manager of the combined organization and plant. The paper is to be known as the Texas Spur, and the two plants will be consolidated in the building used by the Times.

Six Draft Dodgers Sentenced Friday

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Six men who admitted attending a school which taught the technique of draft dodging were sentenced in Federal court today to terms ranging from one to five years for conspiracy to violate the Selective Service Act.

The six pleaded guilty following the arrest of Stephen Weinberg, who operated the school where, for a fee, prospective inductees were taught to feign mental incompetence and thus escape military service.

Weinberg previously pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to violate the Selective Service Act, and was sentenced to seven years in prison and fined $17,500.

Sooners Stirred By Perjury Case

TULSA, Nov. 19 (AP)—County Attorney Dixie Gilmer, with his grand jury under attack from three sides for its indictment of Dr. Henry G. Bennett for perjury, asserted today that "justice in Oklahoma has reached another new low."

Gov. Robert S. Kerr, declaring he would not seek removal of Dr. Bennett as president of Oklahoma A. and M. college, told his press conference in Oklahoma City the grand jury's "only purpose is to embarrass or smear good citizens."

Baptists Assail Action

Earlier, assistant Attorney General Sam Lattimore accused the jury in a speech before the Oklahoma Baptist convention of "indicting innocent people," while the Baptists gave Dr. Bennett a vote of confidence and elected him vice-president.

The hard-hitting Gilmer concentrated his fire particularly aganst the statement of Lattimore, charging that it was "improper and dangerous to law enforcement."

Gilmer called upon Attorney General Randell S. Cobb to reprimand Lattimore and Cobb responded with a statement that Lattimore spoke "without my knowledge or approval."

Governor's Views

Kerr, who has clashed frequently with Gilmer since the grand jury began its widespread inquiry into state textbook operations, with reference to Bennetts' job at the college, said "I will not use this office to protect anyone guilty of violating the law, and by the same token I will not permit this office to become a tool for others whose only purpose is to embarrass or smear good citizens."

Kerr, who was elected president of the Baptist convention, said he didn't think the church people went far enough in their praise of Dr. Bennett.

The Baptist resolution said: "We affirm our confidence in the honor, integrity and Christian character of our brother, Dr. Henry G. Bennett, servant of God and friend of mankind."

Bennett was indicted on three counts after he had testified before the jury about textbook dealings.

13 Aboard Missing Plane Identified

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 19. (AP)—The Morrison Field airbase announced today that 13 men are aboard an Army plane which is missing on an over-water flight.

Passengers: M/Sgt. Robert O'Hara, Lansdale, Pa.; M/Sgt. William E. Talley, Burlington, N. C.; S/Sgt. Robert E. Krause, Kansas City, Mo.; S/Sgt. Severin W. Peterson, Fisher, Minn.

Gestapo Too Busy For Small Crimes

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 19 (AP) — The Hamburger Fremdenblatt, received here today, says Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler has decreed that Germans may no longer ask police or the courts for help in cases of small thefts or other minor complaints "because the police have no time to bother with such matters in war time."

Such a decree would appear to indicate that major crimes have increased so much in Germany that the short-staffed police force and courts are unable to cope with the problem.

OIL MAN DIES

Firemen Fight Theatre Fire As Show Goes On

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP) — Three thousand spectators continued to watch a motion picture today while firemen fought a blaze in the ventilating system of the Paramount theater.

While several thousand watchers gathered outside the theater at Broadway and 43rd street, the audience was unaware of the fire.

British Slosh Way To High Ground As Floods Sweep Area

Italian Front Relatively Quiet, While Bombers Wreck Nazi Airfield At Athens

By NOLAND NORGARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Nov. 19—Units of Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army fought through rain and rough country to win new high ground north of the village of Archi near the Adriatic end of the Italian battle line, the Allied command announced today, while American bombers practically completed destruction of the Germans' Elevsis airfield near Athens.

There was a slight improvement in the weather, but the front remained relatively quiet. Rivers still were flooded to record heights and there was no question of a mass movement of troops by either side. Artillery duelled interminably and patrols fought brisk actions at many points. Heavy equipment was hopelessly bogged down.

Improve Positions

In gaining heights near Archi, a few miles northwest of Atessa, the Eighth Army won improved observation points from which to study the enemy's strong defenses along the north bank of the Sangro river. Even this brief advance was made against the stiffest sort of opposition. The Nazis were giving no ground without a struggle.

Elevsis field, one of the Germans' principal air bases in Greece, appeared virtually destroyed after a formation of Fortresses swamped it with bombs for the fourth straight day.

The Nazis were able to put up only a half dozen fighters to protect this important field yesterday, and they were chased away by the Fortresses' Lightning escort.

Airfield Pounded

Mitchells of the Northwest African medium fleet pounded the Larissa airfield between Athens and Salonika, leaving eight fires blazing among parked planes and hangrs. Marauders bombed key railway yards at Grosseto, 80 miles north of Rome, through which the enemy moves military supplies from France to the Italian front. The yards at Terni also felt the weight of Marauder bombs.

Fighter-bombers swept across the Adriatic in strength to support Yugoslav patriots. American Warhawks scored direct hits on several trains and left an enemy vessel on the River Krka near Sibenik burning and sinking. The fighters also gave strong support to British troops fighting up the slopes around Archi.

Purchasers Hike Texas Oil Needs

Estimates Set At 2,100,000 Barrels

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP) — With some estimates of need revised, Texas purchasers at the railroad commission's statewide proration hearing today fixed December requirements at approximately 2,100,000 barrels of oil daily.

This was a considerable increase over a certification of demand for 2,018,000 barrels daily from the Petroleum Administration for War (PAW). Average Texas allowable production for the week ending Nov. 13 was 2,055,630.

Shortage of tank cars caused Humble Oil company to reduce its estimates of need from the Tom O'Connor field, Refugio county, and Hawkins field, Wood county. The Tom O'Connor cut was from 50,000 barrels to 43,500, the Hawkins cut from 37,000 to 29,000.

Slaughter Field Lower

Magnolia Oil company reduced its nomination from 20,000 barrels to 18,500 for Slaughter field in West Texas and asked 17 producing days for December compared to its present 19.

E. H. Foster of Phillips Petroleum company requested 27 prodays for the Panhandle field, where Phillips nomination was increased from 46,500 barrels to 48,000. The field is producing 22 days this month.

The commission was requested not to increase the East Texas field's 23 producing days, after a commission report that bottom-hole pressure in the reservoir had declined 2.98 pounds per square inch in October.

Bryan Payne of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal company said the October pressure decline was not dangerous.

Fields For Increase

Fields for which nominations were increased slightly included: Clay Creek, Flour Bluff and East Flour Bluff, Agua Dulce's Sponberg sand, Conoco Driscoll, North Magnolia City, Turkey Creek, East White Point's deep sand and Iatan-East Howard.

Beauford Jester, commission chairman, said he was informed the Danciger Refining company wanted to re-open its East Texas refinery and would require 7,000 barrels daily. On Washington orders this could not be furnished at the expense of other refiners, Jester added.

One purchaser said in this connection that his company had "more demand than we have supply.

Texans Are Urged To Still Save Tin Cans

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—Texans were urged today not to give up the salvage of tin cans, despite recent word that two shredding plants which had been receiving them are closing.

A. Patrick Flood, chairman of the State Salvage committee, informed local committees that they will be notified soon concerning prices, freight rates and shipping points for the revised plan.

Under it, he said, it will be necessary that cans be prepared for shipment by cleaning, removing tops and bottoms, and flattening.

Pride Of French Navy Reaches Allied Port

ALGIERS, Nov. 19 (AP) — The mighty 35,000-ton battleship Richelieu, pride of the French Navy, has arrived from the United States in full fighting trim to resume its place in the struggle against the Axis.

One of the world's largest and most powerful naval craft, the Richelieu was inspected by Gen. Henri Giraud as commander in chief of French land, sea and air forces. He expressed delight with the ship's evident strength.

Its destination undisclosed, the vessel is sailing under a captain whose last action was the shelling of Genoa in June, 1940.

The presence of the reconditioned French fleet with the recent acquisition of Italian units re-emphasized Allied supremacy on the sea in mounting attacks upon the Japanese. The French are determined to participate in these attacks as part of their contribution to the United Nations' war effort.

The battleship's crewmen all took great pride in showing off their new American armament.

Aged Woman Burns To Death In Home

STONEWALL, La., Nov. 19. (AP) —The death of Miss Marjorie Roach, 60, former Shreveport resident, whose body was found in the ruins of her burned home near Stonewall early today, was termed accidental by Dr. W. B. Hewitt, De Sota parish coroner.

Cause of the fire, however, is not known and the investigation is being continued.

Children saw the small house burning Thursday about 3 p. m., and heard screams.

Chris Qualifies As Mortar Expert When 50 Japs Slain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Chris is the captain's pick of all the Army's mortar experts.

Chris took care of a tough situation and killed about 50 Japs in an engagement near Munda, so that his company swarmed over the enemy positions with the loss of only one man.

Chris is Lt. Chrs A. Christopulos, of Lincoln, Neb., and the company commander who related the exploit today is Capt. R. J. Billado, Rutland, Vt.

Billado's company went ashore on New Georgia about six miles from the Munda airfield, and "it took us most of one day to go 90 yards."

"It was about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and we had penetrated about a half mile into the dense jungle when a Jap machine gun bullet whizzed past my ear. I moved my two platoons to the cover of a river bank, while we investigated.

"We found the Japs on top of the ground entrenched in foxholes, so I called for 81mm mortars. Within six minutes, Chris stumbled up with two mortars. After placing them behind the stream bank, he fired only one shot for range, which hit about 50 yards over. Then, he opened up for effect and fired about 40 rounds.

"When he was about to cease fire, we swarmed over the position, encountering little or no opposition. We counted 50 dead Japs. A check of our men disclosed we had lost only one man: And company L, next to us, had lost one.

"Boy! I've heard about mortar experts, but I don't want any better one than Chris. He certainly plastered 'em."

Carrier Based Planes Pound Japs On Nauru

Air Blows On Nips Widened

Aussie Campaign Is Nearing Sattleberg

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 19.—Extending the scope of the six-day-old Central Pacific air offensive, carrier based planes dropped 90 tons of bombs on Nauru, Japanese island base 700 miles northeast of Guadalcanal, Thursday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

Expanding operations 500 miles west of the Gilbert islands which, with the Marshalls, have been pounded daily since last Saturday, several squadrons of bombers and torpedo planes kindled fires on the airdromes and shop areas, destroyed several grounded planes and set a ship ablaze at Nauru.

None Of Raiders Lost

Despite slight air interception and heavy anti-aircraft fire, none of the Nauru raiders was lost, Admiral Nimitz said, thus leaving the raiders intact during all the six days of the spreading attacks.

Over Nauru, seven Zeros got into the air and two more were shot down.

One American pilot was wounded.

It was the first carrier raid against Nauru which is a strong Japanese air base and is a valuable phosphate producing island.

Nauru is west and slightly south of Tarawa in the Gilberts which has been bombed repeatedly. The latest assault on Tarawa occurred yesterday, the same day Nauru was hit, and carrier-based planes also struck that blow.

Other Raids Announced

Admiral Nimitz had announced earlier in the day the raid on Tarawa as well as on Mili and Maloelap islands in the Marshalls.

The bombing of Nauru was the fourth this year and the second in force.

Both Army and Navy Liberators pounded it heavily on Sept. 18.

The new raid was the Navy's second central Pacific blow in two days.

AMERICANS STEPPING UP AIR RAIDS ON JAP BASES

(By The Associated Press)

Americans are intensifying their day-in-day-out raids of Japanese strongholds in the Gilbert and Marshall islands by teaming carrier-based Navy planes with Army bombers while the jungles of northeastern New Guinea Australians fight to drive the enemy off the Huon peninsula — potential springboard for a New Britain invasion from the west.

Germany Rocked By Record Air Blows

Forts Pound Western Area After Mighty RAF Armada Smashes Berlin At Night

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Germany rocked to the heaviest 12-hour aerial bombardment of the war today as American Fortresses pounded western German objectives in daylight a few hours after a record force of nearly 1,000 RAF heavy bombers ravaged Berlin and Ludwigshaven with 2,500 long tons of bombs in a devastating night assault.

In what appeared to be an all-out campaign to obliterate Berlin and smash Germany's war sinews, the Allies carried their pre-invasion offensive into the third straight day. Four German radio stations went silent tonight, giving a strong indication that big British bombers were out over the continent for the third straight night.

No Nazi Opposition

The Fortresses, escorted by Thunderbolts, bombed their western German targets today without loss, Eighth Air force headquarters announced tonight. Not a single enemy fighter came up to oppose the Americans, it was stated.

After two months of mild stings by Mosquito bombers, Berlin rumbled under the full weight of Allied air might last night. The four-engined bombers sent more than 350 blockbusters weighing 4,480 pounds each crashing down on the Nazi capital.

Ludwigshafen, Rhine city and the world's largest chemical manufacturing center, shuddered under its 62nd raid as the three-mile long E. G. Farbenindustrie chemical works—where perhaps important work on Germany's "secret weapon" was in progress—took hundreds of tons of bombs.

RAF Loses 32 Bombers

Last night's assault's cost the British and Canadians 32 bombers, regarded as a small percentage of loss for the operation.

Although clouds obscured Berlin, huge fires could be seen by the fliers as the great bombs, each capable of wrecking a city block, showered down on the surprisingly ill-defended capital. Clearer weather over Ludwigshafen permitted observation of very large explosions. Incendiaries, showered down with the heavy explosive over both cities.

Hunger Strike Fatal To Woman

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Smith, scheduled to go on trial with her husband at Lampasas Monday in the death of Mrs. Hazel Weeks of San Angelo, died in a hospital here today following what Lampasas County Attorney J. C. Abney described as a 'hunger strike."

The decomposed body of Mrs. Weeks was found in a roadside park a mile from Lampasas on Nov. 22, 1941. Mrs. Smith and her husband, Charles Edward were arrested at Wichita Falls last August. They were charged with murder.

Dental Work Identified

The case created considerable interest when dental work from the then unidentified body was sent to a dentists' convention in an unsuccessful effort of determine who she was. Abney said members of the Weeks' family later positively identified the dental work.

"We have known that Mrs. Smith had been on a hunger strike for about 15 days," Abney said. "We tried to get her husband to write and get her to eat, and he said the Lord would take care of her. Then he did write her and told her the Lord would tell her what to do."

Smith has been in jail at Lampasas but his wife was brought to Travis county jail several months ago.

Removed To Hospital

Travis county Deputy Sheriff Paul Blair said Mrs. Smith refused to eat and was removed to Brackenridge hospital Wednesday on the advice of Dr. Henry C. Paine, Travis county physician.

Paine said Mrs. Smith died of a heart attack brought on by doing without food.

The Lampasas county attorney described Smith as a former sign painter and itinerant preacher about 35 years old. Mrs. Smith's age was given as 56.

Spain's Explanation Of Greeting Accepted

MADRID, Nov. 19 (AP) — The Foreign Ministry said tonight it had been advised that Washington had accepted as in good faith Spain's explanation of greetings sent last month to Jose P. Laurel, Japanese puppet president in the Philippines.

(The Spanish government denied on Nov. 9 it had recognized the Japanese government of the Philippines, saying a message from Spain's Foreign Minister to Laurel, in reply to a cablegram, was "an act of courtesy."

BECOMES PRESIDENT

BOGOTA, Columbia, Nov. 19. Invasion Rehearsal Begins In England

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND, Nov. 19. (AP)—The mass evacuation of this usually quiet English countryside was in full swing today to make way for American Army maneuvers — a dress rehearsal for the invasion of Europe from the west.

The narrow country lanes were filled with automobiles, trucks and traffic snarls—something seldom seen in this rural area.

It was a sight both inspiring and tragic: Inspiring by the presence of the cocky American soldiers eager for action; tragic as the old folks began packing their belongings to leave their homes.

For those who refused to leave their homes under bombings and threat of invasion, the evacuation was hard to take. There were some tears, a few forced smiles and a few grumbles.

Great Britain Builds Ships To Beat Japs

LONDON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Great Britain is directing a gigantic shipbuilding program designed to beat Japan, Oliver Lyttelton, British minister of war production revealed today.

He said that during 1943 Britain completed 2,000 ships and added: "We are now devoting a large part of our time to intensive study of specialized forms of equipment and transportation which are necessary to bring the maximum impact to bear on the Japanese."

MORE TO BE AVAILABLE

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—More winter-weight knit underwear and sleeping garments should be available for infants and children by February at the latest, Hugh J. Cocoran, district manager of the War Production Board, said today.

More Workers Ask Pay Hikes

By The Associated Press

Aluminum workers joined the CIO march for higher pay yesterday, asking a 15-cents-an-hour increase which would crack the Little Steel formula for the War Labor board.

Already, the United Auto Workers had demanded that this wage formula be thrown away, and the steel workers have called a meeting Nov. 30 to push the union campaign to scrap this restriction as out of line with increased costs of living.

Representatives of the aluminum workers, saying their demands "are in common with the unanimous sentiments of the recent CIO convention," voted at Pittsburgh yesterday "to see to it that our members receive full compensation in cash for the failure of our government to hold the line on the price front."

50,000 Are Involved

About 50,000 workers in 26 plants of the Aluminum Company of America are involved.

Meanwhile, details of the arrangement by which the United Mine Workers won a $1.50-a-day wage increase still remain to be worked out.

On capitol hill, Senator Reed (R-Kas) told his colleagues that a strike ballot now in progress among non-operating rail workers in protest against the stabilization director's refusal to approve a flat increase of 8 cents an hour is sure to result in authorization for a walkout.

He asked that Congress pass the Truman resolution to approve the increase to head off serious trouble.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

YOU have reason to feel complimented when someone imitates you—no one ever tried to counterfeit a penny.

• • •

THE thousands of women who rush to their kitchen after a full day's work in a defense plant or office building have their cooking problem eased by the chefs of famous American hotels. The chefs, by contributing 98 of their favorite wartime recipes to a booklet compiled by the American Hotel association have made it possible for women engaged in war work to prepare new and nutritious dishes from their limited number of food ration points.

The collection of recipes is an excellent time-saver. Few women can make kitchen experiments now and that is particularly true of the woman who is holding a job. And even the homemaker, because of wartime committees and a progressive shortage of domestic help, can no longer devote hours to planning substitute dishes for those lost in ration restrictions.

The recipes have been reduced to family size and may readily be prepared in a home kitchen. Naturally, there are few meat dishes but there is a wide variety of other recipes, ranging from soups to desserts. The Wartime Food Recipes booklets are available at 10 cents, each, plus 3 cents postage from the American Hotel Association, 221 West 57th Street, New York.

GIVING DIRECTIONS

THE educational cirriculum lacks one essential subject as we see it and that is a course in the art of correctly giving directions. For it is an art and don't you think it isn't.

It so happens that the Woman's Angle is one who cannot tell her left from her right, or north from south and this adds to the confusion when we attempt to tell an inquirer where Avenue Q is from Tech or town or where the hospitals are located or the rationing board or the Girl Scout Little House.

When we are with friends we are never given the privilege of telling the driver of the car how to get where we are going. Having so much difficulty in counting beyond ten, we are in a maze when we get past Main street and the section of town where so many new residences have been built within the last five years presents a baffling problem which is not lessened by the lack of street lights if we are trying to find a place in the dark.

• • •

Since we walk to and from work twice a day and pass hospitals and bus stations en route, few days go by when we are not asked where a certain location is and by the time we get the place located and map out a way to get there the stranger usually looks more puzzled than before.

The other day at noon a woman standing in front of the West Texas hospital stopped us to ask how many minutes it was to the station. That was a new question and we could not think of an answer other than the station being located at the end of street and how many minutes away depending on whether you were walking or riding.

Twice on vacations we were entrusted with the travel map. One time we were responsible for the car going fifteen miles off on a side road that finally ended in a yard where dogs were barking. The other time we directed the driver 35 miles out in the desert on a brilliant moonlit night and we'd be going yet if a sentry had not stopped us and asked if we knew we were in the center an anti-aircraft artillery range.

FOR CHILDREN

SEVERAL years ago the poem below appeared in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, having appeared previously in the New Orleans Picayune. A reader submitted it Thursday, writing that "The March of Time at the Tower the other night, showing neglected children of the nation, reminded me of this clipping you might like to run again."

"Oh mother, so weary, discouraged,
Worn out with the stress of the day,
You often grow cross and impatient,
Complain of the noise and the play,
For the day brings so many vexations,
So many things going amiss,
But mothers, whatever may vex you,
Send the children to bed with a kiss!

The dear little feet wander often,
Perhaps, from a pathway of right,
The dear little hands find new mischief
To try you from morning till night;
But think of the desolate mothers
Who'd give all the world for your bliss,
And, as thanks for your infinite blessings,
Send the children to bed with a kiss.

For some day their noise will not vex you,
The silence will hurt you far more,
You will long for their sweet, childish voices,
For a sweet, childish face at the door;
And to press a child's face to your bosom,
You'd give all the world for just this
For the comfort, 'twill bring you in sorrow,
Send the children to bed with a kiss!"

Divorce Granted After 'Cooling' Off

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP) — Bill Miller, son of the late Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, was orating with gestures to a jury hearing a contested divorce case in Judge Sarah Hughes' court.

Judge Hughes, noting that lawyer Miller's voice was showing signs of cracking, signaled a court clerk to bring him a glass of water.

Miller did not notice the clerk as she extended the glass and in a sudden, whirling gesture with his arm hit the glass, causing the water to give him a drenching.

"Well, I guess that cooled me off, gentlemen of the jury," Miller laughed.

His client was granted the divorce.

Austin Authorizes Christmas Lighting

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—By unanimous vote the city council today authorized Christmas light decorations for downtown Congress avenue, an annual custom dropped last year because of wartime conditions.

Business and civic organizations asked that the custom be renewed as a morale aid.

Marine Fighters Have "Air" Picnic

NEW GEORGIA, Island (U.P.) — Seven Marine fighter pilots on a Sunday morning patrol wondered into an armada of 60 Japanese Zeros in the northern Solomons.

Ignoring the odds, the Marines attacked, shot down a sure six, a probable three, and chased the remainder of the Jap air fleet for 40 miles. The Zeros finally ran home. Marine losses were nil.

One Zero was credited to 1st Lt. Paul L. Pankhurst, 3428 University Blvd., Dallas. 1st Lt. Carl T. McLean, 315 F St., S. W. Ardmore, Okla., started a Zero smoking before the Japs turned tail.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL

Petain Is Almost Defiant To Nazis

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Assiociated Press Staff Writer

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 19.—Trusted advices from France said tonight that Marshal Petain had offered his resignation as conquered France's chief of state after Pierre Laval and the Germans had prevented him from making a radio address promulgating by decree a new and democratic constitution and renouncing Laval as his successor.

France was reported in crisis with Laval and his Nazi advisers exerting every effort to force the 87-year-old marshal to change his mind The outcome could not be foreseen, but Petain at least had thrown down a challenge.

May Have Its Effect

The Journal De Geneve (Geneva) published today what it described as the text of the speech Petain had prepared for broadcasting last Saturday night, including the decree the marshal intended to promulgate. Although this was kept off the air and its publication in the Vichy official Gazette was prevented there is already evidence that it will have its effect in France.

Among other things, the edict abrogated all acts by Laval's government, which has collaborated with the Germans. It directed France back to the democratic constitution of 1875 and declared the marshal intended to conserve his power until his death, after which the power would be returned to the national assembly, unless the new constitution he desired came into effect.

Blocked By Fuehrer

The newspaper said that in the speech Petain was to have delivered last Saturday, but which was blocked "by the fuerher's general headquarters," the marshal would have declared that France no longer could have "adventurous rivalries, factions, anarchy and murderous struggles."

Trusted private sources said Petain hoped to establish a government which he thought would be legitimate and superior to any that might be brought in by Gen. Charles de Gaulle and his Committee of National Liberation. The marshal was pictured as distressed by disputes within the de Gaulle committee and convinced that Frenchmen inside France must save the nation, if anyone could.

Adamant In Views

(Border reports reaching Madrid said Petain was adamant in refusing to tell the French people that he had "asked" the German police and military to keep order in the nation. The Germans were reported making frantic preparations to take over if the Petain-Laval regime collapsed. The German ambassador to Vichy, von Nidda was said to have prevented Petain from speaking at the last minute, and that the marshal refused to read a speech prepared for him as a substitute.)

The Journal De Geneve said "the marshal is in perfect health but discontented," thus dissipating rumors that a stroke or other sudden illness had prevented Petain from speaking last Sunday.

Quick Action Seen On Lebanese Problem

ALGIERS, Nov. 19. (AP) — The French Committee of National Liberation moved today to achieve a quick agreement with the British in solving the problems of the Lebanon Republic by endorsing a lengthy report from Gen. Georges Catroux stressing the need for such action.

What form any settlement would take was not specified.

Catroux's report, according to a committee spokesman, recognized British interests throughout the Arab world, Britain's pledges to native peoples under the Atlantic Charter, and the necessity of maintaining peaceful conditions in the strategic Middle East.

Catroux, the committee's commissioner of state, was sent to Lebanon after the arrest last week of the tiny country's government leaders who had sought to amend the republic's constitution to make it, in their view, more compatible with Lebanese sovereignty.

OPPOSES SUBSIDIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (AP)—Despite a plea by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones for continuation of subsidies, the Illinois Agricultural association today declared itself "unalterably opposed" to such payments and pledged to resist the continuation and expansion of the present consumer food subsidy program.

A tan calf bill fold containing gas ration coupons; a pass to SPAAF; a social security card and a $5 bill was reported lost last night in front of Clark's drug store by Edna Stoelzing, 2010 Broadway, according to records at the police department.

J. Evetts Haley, member of a prominent West Texas cattle family who is now ranching on the Canadian river, was in Lubbock yesterday attending to business. An author and former research professor at University of Texas, Haley said the Panhandle cow country is badly in need of moisture. His mother, the late Mrs. John Haley, of Midland, was for years a member of the directorate of Texas Technological college.

Navy Praises Seaman For Heroic Rescue

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Arthur Noel Brown, fireman first class, USNR, has been officially commended at the New Orleans Armed Guard center for his "courageous, unselfish conduct" as a member of the Armed Guard crew aboard an American merchant vessel lost in action in the North Atlantic, the Navy disclosed today.

The 19 year old veteran was credited with saving lives of 25 of his shipmates by swimming in icy waters 200 yards to an empty life raft and maneuvering it back to awaiting survivors of the sunken vessel.

One life boat was blown away by the explosion when a torpedo from a Nazi undersea raider crashed into the ship, according to the commendation, and two others capsized wile being lowered into the water, causing a dangerously overcrowded condition on Brown's lift raft.

"Another raft had broken loose from the ship and was rapidly floating, empty, away from the scene," Brown related. "We rowed for four hours trying to catch up to the raft, but it looked as if we'd never make it with the load we were carrying."

The crew, exhausted, finally gave up in despair and Brown then swam through the croppy sea to retrieve the raft and engineer it back to the crowded raft, now awash in the water, so that a transfer of 23 of the survivors could be effected. The men were later picked up by a rescue ship.

Ben Bernie's Will Filed For Probate

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The late Ben Bernie, "the old maestro," named his widow and his son as principal beneficiaries of his estate, it was disclosed today when his will was filed for probate in Surrogate's court.

A $50,000 trust fund and $10,600 in cash was bequeathed to Mrs. Dorothy W. Bernie of Miami Beach, Fla., the widow, while a similar amount in cash and $75,000 in trust was left to his son, Jason Bernie of New York.

Sums ranging from $3,000 to $10,000 were beqeauthed to 10 brothers and sisters, and other bequeaths were made to theatrical and charitable organizations.

Yanks Ahead Of Pacific Schedule

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—American forces are "ahead of schedule" in the campaign to drive the Japanese from the Southwest Pacific, Secretary of the Navy Knox declared today.

"Our position in the South and Southwest Pacific," he added at a press conference, "grows stronger as the Japanese positions grows weaker."

On Bougainville, last foothold of the Japanese in the Solomons, he said, Army troops and Marines are advancing inland as well as lengthening their beachheads.

At sea and in the air, American forces are "out looking for trouble" but "on most of their hunts no Japs are found."

He discounted the possibility that Japanese fleet units may be enroute to the South and Southwest Pacific areas. "In fact," Knox continued, "no surface forces have been met by our fleet units since November 2—17 days ago—and Admiral Halsey's ships certainly haven't been just hanging around."

As examples of inability to find Japanese opposition, Knox cited a flight by American planes "unchallenged up and down the Bougainville coast" and a 45-minute bombardment of Buka by warships without any Japanese craft making an appearance.

Knox told also of the five consecutive days of raids by American planes on Japanese positions in the Marshall and Gilbert island groups, saying "it looks as if Nimitz is keeping his promise to stir up the Japs."

Brewster President Blames Navy For Production Slowdown

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 19. (AP)—Brewster Aeronautical company's production troubles were attributed by the company's former president today to what he called the refusal of the Navy to back up the Brewster management, particularly in its labor troubles.

Testifying before Rep. Robert A. Grant (R-Ind.), member of a Congressional subcommittee probing reasons for Brewster's difficulties, C. A. Van Dusen, declared that he was defeated at every turn in his efforts on behalf of the company.

Van Dusen described what he termed a slow-down at Brewster plants occasioned by War Labor Board job classifications, in which he said, workers played cards on wings of the planes.

Production efficiency at Brewster, he said, once went as low as 25 per cent and most of the time was around 50 per cent, never higher than 70 to 80 per cent.

The Congressional hearing concluded taking of testimony in San Diego.

Action Party Asks Kings Abdication

BARI, ITALY, Nov. 19. (AP)—Italy's Action Party, a potent force in the country's politics, called today for the abdication of King Vittorio Emanuele III and the establishment of a republic.

Citing the King's past affiliation with Benito Mussolini and Fascism, the party's newspaper, L'Italia Del Popolo, declared that "abdication is historically necessary because of external and internal conditions."

INDIAN AIDE DIES

LORETTO, Pa., Nov. 19. (AP)—Brother Joseph Fielding, 93, who spent most of his life in the west as a missionary to the Indians and was a personal friend of Sitting Bull, died yesterday at St. Francis college, where he lived in retirement the last ten years.

Admiral Reports Axis Subs Are Plentiful

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Rear Admiral Francis S. Low, chief of staff for the Tenth U. S. fleet, assigned primarily to the destruction of submarines, said today that "there are a good many enemy submarines left and they have a good deal of potential power."

He discussed the war against the U-boat in the Atlantic at Secretary of the Navy Knox's press conference, where it was announced that Adm. Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of U. S. fleet, also is directly and personally commander-in-chief of the Tenth fleet with Low as his chief of staff.

Low said the submarines are not concentrating in any particular spots and presumably still are operating with wolf pack tactics.

Asked about expansion of the Nazi submarine warfare to other oceans, he said that is "perfectly possible" and to an inquiry about operation of German submarines in the Mediterranean he sad he thought they could conduct a campaign there.

Eight-Point Small Business Policy Set Forth By Jones

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Commerce department set forth an 8-point small business policy tonight as a basis for helping along the little man in a fight against "uncontrolled concentration of wealth and accompanying trend toward monopolies."

Presenting a digest of 390 bills proposed in Congress during the last decade (26 became law), Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones said the study was offered in the hope it might prove a "useful indication for action."

The department specifically recommended a system of tax credits or rate differentials to leave small business sufficient profits after taxes to strengthen its capital position.

Although asserting that the task ahead must be performed by the cooperative efforts of government and private initiative, Jones said "primarily the challenge is to private initiative."

The iguana, a giant lizard, is prized as food by natives of Central America.

Allied Offensive In Pacific Shaping Up

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press War Analyst

The expected Allied offensive in the central Pacific has begun to shape up with the continued aerial assault on Japanese positions in the Marshall and Gilbert islands.

This operation is tied in with the MacArthur-Halsey offensive in the southwest Pacific and its timing indicates that the drive for Rabaul on New Britain island, the Japanese stronghold south of the equator, is approaching its climax.

Struggle To Be Shifted

Occupation of Rabaul and its subsidiary staging point of Kavieng on New Ireland to the north will mean the elimination of the Japanese from the southwest Pacific. Their remaining positions of Wewak and Madang will be neutralized and proably no longer worth any great effort to hold.

The struggle then will be shifted to the extensive island groups north of the equator, chief of which are the Marianas, Carolines, Marshalls and Gilberts.

The nerve center of this system is Truk island in the Carolines, the strongest Japanese overseas naval and air base. When it is knocked out, the entire outer ring of Japanese defenses in the Pacific is bound to collapse.

Truk Is Ultimate Goal

Truk is, of course, the ultimate goal, and long and bitter fighting lies ahead before it can be reached. When it is, the decisive battle to break Japanese sea power may be fought there. It seems almost certain that the Japanese will not risk such a battle for the defense of the Rabaul area, and probably not for the Marshall and Gilbert islands, although they have said they would.

In the present preliminaries for the big show, the MacArthur-Halsey offensive shapes up as of equal importance with the westward drive north of the equator. Rabaul is much closer to Truk than any position in the Marshall islands, being within easy range for heavy bombers, about 800 miles.

Success Seems Assured

A two-way attack by air from New Britain and by the fleet from the east would make Truk hard to hold.

The success of the drive for Rabaul at present seems almost assured. A suggestion by a Navy spokesman in Washington last Tuesday, however, that the Japanese may find the position "too hot to handle" and pull out probably is to far on the optimistic side. Truk is so important to them that the Japanese may be expected to accept further heavy losses in ships, planes and men to hold Rabaul as long as possible.

More Dysentery Cases In Texas Reported

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (U.P.) — Incidences of dysentery, influenza, and pneumonia during the week which ended Nov. 13 were well above the seven-year median for the diseases, the state health department reported today.

During the past week, 200 new cases of dysentery were reported, compared with the seven-year median of 20; 630 new cases of influenza were reported compared with a median of 247; and 125 new cases of pneumonia were reported, compared with a median of 63, the department reported.

Stressing that diptheria immunization needs more attention, the department bulletin pointed out 62 new cases were reported the past week. The number was highest in a week during the past five years, except 75 cases during a week in 1941.

"One has only to visit in the schools to realize that smallpox vaccination continues to be neglected in many communities," the bulletin read.

Incidences of typhus and poliomyelitis continue to approach the median, with 23 new cases of typhus and nine new cases of polio reported, compared with the medians of 11 and six, respectively.

Third case of rabies for the year was recorded by the department. It was when a four-year-old child was bitten by a stray dog at Galveston, the department noted.

Air Medal Is Awarded To Olton Sergeant

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The Alexandria Army Air base public relations office today announced awards of 30 medals to 24 officers and enlisted men by Brig.-Gen. Frank A. Armstrong, commanding officer of the 46th AAF bombardment wing. The awards, for participation in combat in war theaters abroad, included:

Distinguished Flying Cross: Capt. Donald C. Miller, Greenville, Tex. (Oak Leaf Cluster); Capt. Regan A. Scurlock, San Angelo, Tex.; 1st Lt. James N. Price, jr., Bishop, Tex.; T/Sgt. Coy B. Payne, Corpus Christi, Tex.; and S/Sgt. Norris T. Reynolds, Jacksboro, Tex.

Air Medal: Sergeant Reynolds and S/Sgt. S. J. Jones, Olton, Tex.

GOVERNOR GETS BUCK

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson returned today from a deer hunt in Sutton county and announced his bag was a 10-point buck weighing 123 pounds dressed.

News Briefs

Bond of $1,000 was posted Friday by Bane Bennett, charged by indictment with murder while driving an automobile while intoxicated, the sheriff's department announced.

The following Lubbock hospital officials have returned from the Northwest Texas Hospital association conference in Amarillo Wednesday and Thursday: C. J. Hollingsworth, superintendent of West Texas hospital; Mrs. A. O. Carr and Mrs. Billie Ousley of Lubbock General hospital staff; Sisters Augustin and Bernadette, supervisors of St. Mary's hospital; and Troy Dale, business manager of Plains clinic.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in Rix Funeral home for John M. Tyson who died Wednesday at his residence, 2413 Twenty-sixth street. Rev. Virgil Lowerance of Slaton was officiant. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery.

Margaret Lela Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Vaughn, was buried in Lubbock cemetery yesterday following funeral services in the First Baptist church with Dr. C. E. Hereford and Rev. C. J. McCarty officiating. The thirteen year old girl was killed Thursday when she was struck by an automobile.

Texas State guard equipment was exhibited and the guard's function was discussed by members of the Lubbock units at the meeting of the American Business club Friday in Hilton hotel. J. Ray Dickey was program chairman. Dr. M. M. Ewing spoke briefly in support of the annual Christmas seal drive.

A hearing for Francisco Rodriguez, charged with failure to report to his Weslaco, Tex., draft board, will be held today, said Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner. Rodriguez, court officials said, was arrested in Lubbock county and was placed under $1,000 bond Thursday, returnable today.

Coyotes And Bobcats Doing Heavy Damage

Depredations by coyotes and bobcats to young cattle, sheep and poultry have become considerable in parts of the Panhandle district of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, according to E. G. Pope, district agent.

However, despite a shortage of government trappers and materials, the service is showing substantial progress in controlling the marauders. Pope said his crew of 23 trappers in a 20-county area of the district caught 536 coyotes and bobcats during October.

Number of predatory animals in Pope's district has risen sharply in the last two years. He attributes the increase to the fact that there are now fewer nimrods who kill them for "sport" and the shortage of ammunition.

Bobcats are less in number, he said, and are to be found in the rough country fringing the Cap rock.

Pope said there was need for 17 more men on his staff.

Britons Protesting Freedom For Mosley

LONDON, Nov. 19. (A.P.)—A nation-wide storm of protest over the British government's decision to free Sir Oswald Mosley, pre-war Fascist-type leader, mounted today with fresh delegations of war workers protesting to Home Secretary Herbert Morrison.

Representatives of more than a million workers have objected to the planned release, for asserted medical reasons, of the man who organized the British blackshirt party, and the government was faced with new disruptions of the home front's war effort, which already has been beset by the worst year of strikes since the war began.

Use Of Small Garbage Pails Saving On Food

FORT RILEY, Kas., Nov. 19. (A.P.)—Use of small garbage pails instead of big ones goes a long way toward solving the food waste problem in Army camps, quartermaster conservation officers have found out.

Small pails have helped reduce food waste at Fort Riley to less than nine ounces for each 100 meals served, the Army says.

Taxpayers Given Filing Warning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—All taxpayers were urged today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Robert E. Hannegan to determine if they are required to file either original or amended declarations of estimated income and victory tax on or before Dec. 15.

Hannegan explained that only a limited percentage of taxpayers need file in December, but he suggested it was time for everyone to ascertain for himself if he must do so.

To Be Sent Bils

A number of the taxpayers who filed declarations in September will have an installment to pay on Dec. 15, Hannegan said. They will be sent bills by their local collectors.

In general, those who will be required to file either original or amended declarations by Dec. 15 will be:

1. Farmers who are permitted to wait until December to file their declarations.

2. Persons who did file in Sept. 15, but underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent.

3. Persons who did not file in September because their estimated income at that time was insufficient to require filing, but now come within one of the following classes:

A. Anyone who expects to have during 1943 more than $100 gross income outside of wages which are subject to withholding, if he expects to have sufficient gross income to require the filing of an income tax return.

B. Any single persons expecting wages of more than $2,700 during the year.

C. Any married person or couple expecting more than $3,500 in wages during 1943.

D. Any person who was required to file an income tax return for 1943 and who expects his wages in 1943 to be less than in 1942.

Hearing Set For Boy Facing Murder Count

HARRISONVILLE, Mo., Nov. 19 (U.P.)—Donald Erwin, 14-year-old Sunday school boy, faces preliminary hearings Nov. 30 on charges of first degree murder and manslaughter, growing out of his confessed slaying of Mrs. Wilma Russell, 28-year-old mother of two children.

The boy spent yesterday re-enacting the manner in which Mrs. Russell was killed as she led her cow along a road.

It was when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ervin, finally found him, in custody, that the boy broke and cried in his mother's arms. His parents had spent a frantic night, worrying that he, too, might have been killed for having "seen too much" when the young woman was slain.

Sheriff Claude Yancey quoted the 110-pound boy as saying he killed the woman with a large rock when she threatened to tell his parents he had disobeyed them and had taken a rifle out hunting. He had rolled her body from a culvert and pushed it beneath the small span.

19 Tech Students Nominated For University "Who's Who"

Employment Is Still Increasing In Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Employment in Texas business and industry was still increasing in October, with a 21.4 per cent gain over October, 1942, and a 2.9 per cent increase over September, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported here today.

Payrolls also were rising. The October total ran 2.5 per cent above that for September and 35.7 per cent above October of last year.

Fort Worth showed the largest single increase in employment and pay-rolls on a year-to-year basis, reporting a 97.5 per cent gain in employment and 111.4 per cent increase in payrolls from Oct. 1942 to Oct. 1943.

Hidalgo Republicans Lay Plans For Year

McALLEN, Nov. 19. (A.P.)—Republicans in Hidalgo county, a Democratic stronghold for years until insurgent voters took over the reins and tossed out the local administration in 1930, will have a complete new organization this year. They called a meeting here this week to get their plans in line.

Robert N. Clarke, county executive chairman for the Republicans for the past several years, said it was likely the party would be more active in 1944 than it has in the past 10 years. Recommendations for Republican election judges for the 1944 general ballot will be made soon to the county commissioners.

University Students To Get Refund—OPA

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—University of Texas students were jubilant today over an order calling upon boarding houses to refund the amount they have increased charges over the level that was in effect April 10. The order was announced by H. R. Gipson, assistant dean in charge of housing.

At the opening of the fall term, prices advanced generally from $5 to $10 a month.

To make raises in the future, housemothers must get approval of OPA. To get that they must submit data showing operating cost increases equal to the proposed rate increase.

The University cafeteria has had few price raises, officials said. Milk has gone up and applie pie, a favorite dessert, now costs seven cents instead of five. The cafeteria has not followed the device of some restaurants — reducing portions served—and has tried to limit increases to "luxury" dishes, officials said.

20-Year Old Soldier Adopted In Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—A strapping 20-year-old soldier in the uniform of the United States army was adopted by a 51-year-old foster mother today in the court of District Judge Ewing Boyd.

"This is the first adoption of an adult I've seen in all the time I've been on the bench," Judge Boyd said as he signed the papers.

The ward is Charles Burnett Smith, an orphan who was reared by the foster mother, Mrs. Mary Brown. The adoption was carried out to establish the soldier as her legal heir.

YOUTH DIES OF WOUND

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 19. (A.P.)—Accidentally shot during the struggle between a man and woman over a pistol, Edward Coy Frugia, 15, of Beaumont, died today in a hospital here.

OPA Clerks Here For Regulations School

District Office of Price administration staff is holding a three-day session which concludes today, and thirteen chief clerks from war price and rationing boards in the seventy-one county district are attending.

The meetings, held in the West Texas Gas building, include a discussion of price regulations in order that the staff, as well as the price division, may become acquainted with the situation. Enforcement and information programs also have been discussed.

J. H. Blundell, regional information executive of Dallas, spoke Friday.

High School Students Rouse Ire Of Firemen

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (A.P.)—Activities of 12 Lamar high school students were being investigated today after 12 false alarms sent fire equipment racing through the south end between 8:15 and 12:30 last night.

Firemen sent to douse a bonfire on the school grounds reported several boys tried to keep them from reaching the blaze by putting kinks in the fire house and throwing brickbats.

Levelland Lobos Win Over Westerner "B" Team, 19-0

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Editor

LEVELLAND, Nov. 19.—Horace Byerley ran and passed the Levelland Lobos to a 19 to 0 victory over the Lubbock Westerner "B" team of Coaches Dixie White and Howard Price here this afternoon. The Lobos struck in the first three periods, making one touchdown to each period, then were held in the final period as second stringers took over the play.

But while Byerley was setting an offensive pace, the play of "Wild Bill" Tibbets, the receiving end of the Levelland battery, was playing one of the greatest games at end seen in this area this season. Tibbets was easily the outstanding man on the field, and his fine play completely throttled the offensive of the visiting Westerners.

The Lobos showed a hard running attack in which Byerley took over as the scrappy Lubbock linemen swarmed through to stop Seth Murphy, the Lobo running ace, for the first time this season.

Another outstanding star in the game for Levelland was Al Bickham at guard, who was doing about the same kind of job in the line as Tibbets was doing on the wings.

Johnny Cole Stars

Much of the low scoring by the Lobos was caused by the great defensive work of Johnny Cole, Lubbock halfback, who played a great ball game in the Westerner secondary. The rock ribbed center of the Lubbock line, composed of Clinton Benefield, Harold Burdett and O. C. Foster took a terrific pounding from the Levelland steamroller, but it was largely through the work of this trio that Murphy was stopped for the first time.

Bueron Lindsey was the offense of the Westerners, with Yantis Wright and Billy Bob Harris coming through with some nice gains, but were not as consistent with them as Lindsey.

But the Westerners were never able to cash in when in scoring position and three times were stopped inside the 20, and one of these times was stopped inside the five.

First Score

Levelland took the opening kickoff and stormed down to the Lubbock 17 before they were stopped. Lubbock couldn't go far with the ball, and kicked and Levelland came back for the touchdown march. Byerley rifled a pass to Tibbets from 20 yards out for the first marker. Tibbets kick was wide and the Lobos led 6 to 0 at the end of the quarter.

A Lobo break in the second quarter was converted into a touchdown as Wright fumbled a punt and Davis recovered for Levelland on the Lubbock 31. The Lobos bucked the ball down to the 27 on three plays, then Byerley again unlimbered his pitching arm with a 27 yard aerial to Tibbets who took the ball about the five, twisted free from one tackler and lunged across the goal line.

Gambled And Won

In the third quarter, Levelland gambled with a fourth down pass on it's own 46 and Byerley again hit a bullseye to Tibbets for 34 yards to the Lubbock 20. Byerley then passed to Humphries who went to the Lubbock 5, and in two running plays, Byerley knifed over his own right tackle from three yards out for the touchdown. Byerley kicked the extra point.

Byerley was injured in the fourth quarter when he hit on his shoulder after a beautiful recovery of territory after a bad pass from center. The extent of his injury was not learned, but it was thought that his collar bone was broken.

The starting lineup:

New Deal Wins Twice Over Abernathy Clubs

NEW DEAL, Nov. 19. (AP) (Special)—The New Deal High school cagers won both games of a double header over Abernathy here tonight, the New Deal girls winning 26 to 13 in the opener while the boys nosed out an 11 to 10 victory in the nightcap.

Brownfield Cubs Fall Before Sandies, 21-0

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 19. (Special)—The Brownfield Cubs laid aside their cotton sacks here this afternoon, and for three quarters they stood toe to toe and battled the Amarillo Golden Sandies to a standstill before wilting in the final period to lose 21 to 0.

Led by Joe Snodgrass, Ralph Carley and Bobby Jones, the Cub line played inspired football and checked the mighty Sandies through most of the game, but could never get an offense to clicking along with the defense.

In the third period, Brownfield offered its greatest threat. Edwin Moore stepped back and fired a long pass into the arms of Kenneth Jones, skyscraper wingman, but Jones was pulled down from behind by Billy Keith Irwin on the Amarillo 1. The Sandies stood off the attack for four plays and took over the ball on the two.

The Cubs took everything the nationally famous Sandies could throw at them in the first quarter, and were like seven rocks of granite. Not until the second period could the Sandie offense hang up their first first-and-ten.

Early in the second period, Amarillo took over on a punt on the Sandie 47. Mixon broke loose to the Brownfield 31 for the first first down for the Sandies. On the next play, Taylor broke into the clear and covered the remaining 31 yards for the touchdown.

Later in the second period, the Sandies rolled back, but a great goal line stand took all the Sandies had to offer and held for downs on the Cub 3 yard line.

The Sandies were played to a standstill for the rest of the first half, and until well along in the fourth quarter before the Sandies began to roll again and started a touchdown march from their own 34, making three first downs in the march with Irwin going over from four yards out.

Later in the final period, Brownfield tried to take to the air to overtake the Sandies, but the Sandies intercepted one of the passes on the Cub 32. In three plays they made a first down on the 14 and Mixon covered this distance for the touchdown. Irwin kicked successfully on all three extra points.

San Angelo Wins Top Game Of State, Grid Races Near Playoffs

Sweetwater's high stepping Mustangs arrived too late with too little at San Angelo tonight, and Milton Rathbone and Company, the San Angelo Bobcats, roared on undefeated and untied with a 13 to 7 win over the Mustangs.

The San Angelo victory over the Mustangs gave San Angelo undisputed leadership in District 3, and a victory in the only game in the state matching unbeaten, untied elevens.

The first bi-district game for the December playoffs and arranged Friday night as the Goose Creek Ganders roared over Beaumont 46 to 0 to clinch the championship of District 14, and become the opponent of Jeff Davis (Houston) in the bi-district. Jeff Davis won the District 13 title last week.

The Vernon Lions moved a step closer to a second meeting with the Amarillo Golden Lookies by pushing aside the Wichita Falls Coyotes and overcome the Coyote Stadium jinx with a 7 to 0 triumph.

Ysleta rolled to a title in 4AA with a 27 to 0 win over Bowie of El Paso. The Waco Tigers returned to the state playoffs for 1943 with a thumping 47 to 6 victory over Bryan in the playoff between the Class A and Class B winners of district 10.

The Breckenridge Buckaroos threw the Texas schoolboy race into a panic, and the thunder of their 103 to 0 win over Mineral Wells has given other teams in the state the jitters.

Coach Floyd Wagstaff's Kilgore football club did a lot to clear the picture in the District 11 muddle by upsetting the Tyler Lions, 13 to 6, while the Marshall Mavericks were rolling over Longview 13 to 6 to eliminate the Lobos from the running. Tyler can still tie Marshall for the title with a win over Marshall Thursday.

In the Dallas district, the Sunset and Woodrow Wilson clubs stormed down toward the wire in a dead heat with Sunset knocked over Crozier Tech 14 to 0 and Woodrow Wilson stopping North Dallas 36 to 14.

The Golden Scotties of Highland Park continued to roar in the state's Northern bracket, rolling to a 60 to 6 win over Sulphur Springs Friday night.

Sudan Rolls On With Win Over Littlefield

SUDAN, Nov. 19. (Special) — The Sudan High school grid machine marched on here this afternoon, rolling over Littlefield 13 to 0, and at the same time extending over another game the record of an uncrossed goal line.

All the scoring was done in the first half with Harold May going over for a touchdown in the first period and Choc Miller scoring in the second period.

Sudan will clash here Thursday afternoon with the Levelland Lobos for the district championship in a ball game that is expected to provide plenty of fireworks.

Denver City Awarded Win On Penetrations

SEMINOLE, Nov. 19. (Special)—The Denver City Mustangs upset the dope bucket here this afternoon and held the Seminole Indians to a 7-7 tie and roundly outplayed the Indians to win the game on penetrations.

The penetration victory gives Denver City a strangle hold on second place in the District 6-A race, and a possible chance to tie for first place should Seminole lose its remaining game of the season with Seagraves next week.

Red Raiders To Clash With Mustangs At Dallas Today

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP) — The young Texas Tech Red Raiders will seek their second Southwest Conference victim here Saturday when they battle the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, who have won only one football game this season A crowd of 4,000 is expected.

The Raiders, whose player roster lists only 16 and 17-year-old freshmen except for one junior and a sophomore, have won three out of nine games played. One of their victories was the 40 to 20 defeat of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, which came with a final period scoring spree.

In another game against a Southwest Conference team, Tech lost to Rice, 13 to 0.

The Mustangs downed Rice 12 to 0, their only win in seven games played.

Coach Jimmy Stewart has been experimenting this week with a new Mustang backfield combination which probably will start Saturday's game. It includes L. B. Cox at quarterback; Bobby Stewart at left half instead of Lloyd Parker; Billy Walling at right half and Billy Gipson at full.

The Raiders arrived in Dallas in time for a final workout here this afternoon. Quarterback Joe Thompson and end Don Dudley took little part in Tech's rough practice sessions this week, but they are expected to start Saturday's game.

Probable starting lineups (kickoff at 2:30 p. m. cwt).

Cowhands To Play Tahoka Wednesday

Coach Howard "Admiral" Price's Lubbock Cowhands evidently like to play tough ball games and Wednesday afternoon will be hosts to the high stepping Tahoka Bulldogs.

The Cowhands have shown rapid improvement in late games this season, winning over Petersburg and tying the hard charging Cooper club after three losses to J. B. Morris and company.

The game Wednesday will start at 4 o'clock.

Oklahoma Aggies Win Over Arkansas, 19-13

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 19. (AP)—The youthful Oklahoma A. and M. Cowboys tripped the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, 19 to 13, before 10,000 spectators here tonight in a furious aerial battle.

Before giving in to the Aggies the Razorbacks kept the pigskin in the air for most of the 60 minute struggle and a rush play was indeed rare. Arkansas threw 60 passes, completing 26 of them for 372 yards and 15 first downs.

The Aggies, led by their great tailback, freshman Bob Finmore, took advantage of every scoring opportunity to pound the Porkers for touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters. They took the lead in the first and never trailed.

Duke Declines Offer For Cotton Bowl Tilt

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—Prospects of a Cotton Bowl game between Duke and the winner of the Texas-Texas A. and M. game Thanksgiving Day have gone glimmering.

Coach Eddie Cameron of Duke said today his school was not considering a bowl game because the Navy does not want it and the 48-hour rule on Naval trainees would prohibit a long trip. It was considered unlikely that the rule would be lifted.

Duke authorities said this week's game with North Carolina would be the last of the season.

It was known that Duke was ranked at the top among teams being considered for the Cotton Bowl and that both Texas and A. and M., who clash at College Station for the Southwest Conference title and an automatic invitation to be host team in the Dallas bowl classic, were favorable to the North Carolina team.

Southwestern Faces Arkansas Ags Today

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 19. (AP)—Southwestern University Pirates of Georgetown, Tex., and the Monticello (Ark.) A & M Bollweevils will play football here Saturday for the benefit of the local war chest fund. The kickoff is slated for 2:30 p. m. and the attendance is expected to be some 7,000.

The Bollweevils are undefeated, but have a draw game with Southwestern of Louisiana. Because the Pirates have lost many of their stars who carried the team to sensational victories earlier in the season, the Bollweevils are being given plenty of support to triumph.

Players who served at nine universities and colleges in the Southwest are listed with the Bollweevils and Southwestern has a similar number of Southwest colleges and universities represented on its roster.

Cooper Rallies Late To Beat Petersburg

PETERSBURG, Nov. 19. (Special) — The Cooper High school grid club came from behind here this afternoon to win 1 to 7 over Petersburg in a bitterly contested ball game.

Petersburg got off to a 7 to 0 lead in the first quarter, but in the second period, Cooper tied the score with Shepperd going across for the score. In the fourth period, J. B. Morris, injured Cooper star, came into the game to storm his way down field for the winning touchdown.

Buckaroos Run Wild Over Mineral Wells

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Breckenridge Buckaroos rolled up the year's highest score in Texas schoolboy football today by smashing Mineral Wells 103-0 with White of Breckenridge kicking 13 out of 15 tries for extra point—some kind of a grid record in itself.

Breckenridge threw seven touchdown passes that gained a total of 336 yards.

The Bucks put the game on ice with four touchdowns in the first period and after that resorted to long passes.

Beau Jack Is Champ Again

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP) — Bouncing Beau Jack, the "upset kid" of the ring who usually runs out of gas inside of ten rounds, kept roaring along for 15 sizzling sessions tonight to outpoint Bob Montgomery and win back the New York version of the world lightweight championship before a near capacity crowd in Madison Square Garden. Jack weighed 132¾; Montgomery 133¾.

Victim, himself, of an upset against a 9 to 1 shot (Bobby Ruffin) only six weeks ago, the Jumping Jack jumped all around the premises tonight to score one of the major surprises of the season against the title holder from Philadelphia, who was a favorite at post time.

He won by a close—but a clear—margin, after weathering Bobcat's closing rush in the 14th and 15th rounds during which the defending champion, apparently realizing his title was slipping, threw everything into a desperate rally. Through these last two heats, the Beau was a sadly battered and weary warrior, holding on at times and falling into the ropes on other occasions.

But at the end, he was in front, and the verdict drew a tremendous roar from the crowd of 17,866 who contributed to a gross gate of $96,873.04 to make this the biggest financial success of the season. On the Associated Press score card, the Beau had seven rounds, with six going to Montgomery and two even.

Frogs Battle Owls In Only Southwest Game

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19. (AP) — Texas Christian's Horned Frogs play somebody their size and with enough men to stand up in that last-quarter stretch Saturday when they move against the Rice Owls.

In their last two games, the Frogs faltered when the chips were really down, mainly because they ran plumb out of fresh players, and the opposition rolled up eight touchdowns — and thus came heavy TCU losses to Texas Tech and Texas.

This week found a number of recruits and Coach Leo Meyer says he'll have at least one man ready to relieve each starter.

The Owls will come to town in their best physical condition in weeks with Joe Kucera and Frank Lawrence, regular backs, recovering from injuries and ready to go.

Meyer will be trying for his first victory over a team coached by Jess Neely. The latter came to Rice in 1940 and since then has two wins and a tie with the Frogs.

A crowd of 5,000 is expected for the game — the final Southwest conference tilt for Rice and the next to last for Texas Christian.

Floydada Plays Spur Thursday For Crown

FLOYDADA, Nov. 19. (Special) — The Floydada Whirlwinds and the Spur Bulldogs will meet at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon on Wester Field here for the championship of District 4-A, it was announced today by Walter Travis, superintendent of schools here.

By winning the last games of the season today, the two schools finished the season in a tie for first place.

At Lockney this afternoon, the Spur Bulldogs won 28 to 7 while at Matador, the Floydada Whirlwinds blew over the Matadors 35 to 6.

In the round robin schedule played this year, Floydada took advantage of the breaks to win the first game 15 to 0, and in the second meeting on Armistice Day, the breaks were reversed and Spur won 14 to 13.

Post Noses Out Twin Victory At Lorenzo

LORENZO, Nov. 19. (Special)—In two well played basketball games here tonight, the Post High school teams carried off both wins with the Post girls winning 20 to 17 after an extra five minute overtime session. The Post boys nosed out a 28 to 27 win in the nightcap.

The Post clubs showed a fine floor game and sportsmanship with Atemlester one of the outstanding performers for Post.

Williams was high point man for Lorenzo for the boys and Shirley paced the scoring for Post. Yvonne Bolles of Lorenzo was high pointer for the girls with 11 points while Billie Corda with eight was high for Post.

Cue Wizard Exhibits Skill For Soldiers

Erwin Rudolph, five-times world's pocket billiard champion, will present his table of tricks at South Plains Army Air Flied today with soldiers at the field as guests.

The overseas veteran of World War I who is making a tour of Army Camps entertaining servicemen of this war, will be presented in the various squadron dayrooms throughout the day at the field.

He will invite enlisted men and officers of his audience to take free instruction on some of the finer points of billiards, a game which he claims anyone can master with enough play.

Rudolph won the world's championship in 1927-30-31-33 and again in 1941, dominating the field for two decades and defeating such experts as Ralph Greenleaf, the Frank Taberski, Willie Mosconi, Irving Crane and others.

Rudolph gave an exhibition yesterday at Lubbock Army Air field.

Maznicki Has Irish Worried

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 19. (AP)—The extent of halfback Frank Maznicki's injuries has kept the Notre Dame coaching staff guessing this week, just as shrewd Don Faurot, coach of the Iowa Seahawks, had planned.

The Irish still will be guessing up to kick-off time Saturday, when they meet the Navy Preflight team before an expected sell-out throng of 56,000.

Although Manicki, the former Chicago Bear who became the percussion cap in Faurot's "sliding T" system this fall, was said to be definitely sidelined with a knee injury earlier this week, he was included on a 36-man traveling squad. He and five other ex-professionals are the shock absorbers of the undefeated and untied Seahawks who vaulted into the No. 2 spot behind Notre Dame on the list of the nation's leading teams.

Ironically, Manicki learned much of his football under Coach Frank Leahy at Boston College. Leahy knows his abilities and respects them. So it's little wonder the Maznicki's true status has remained a well-guarded secret.

In addition to being the team's leading scorer Maznicki also is a key man in the Seahawks' pass defense. Without him the Seahawks are believed to be quite vulnerable to an air raid.

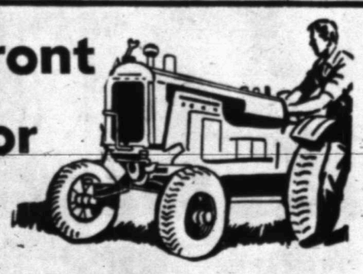

The Irish have spent most of their time in practices polishing their overhead game, featuring the battery of Johnny Lujack and and his towering target, end John Yonakor.

It Still Can Happen Here

RESIDENTS of Lubbock and Slaton have had tragic reminders within the past few days that fatal traffic accidents still can occur.

The traffic records of both cities, as measured by fatalities, have been among the best in Texas. That of Lubbock actually has been the best of any Texas city for nearly two years. Yet, as has been demonstrated, so recently, neither is immune to this form of tragedy.

True, traffic movement is the lightest in a great many years, for reasons that we all understand. Most motorists—and with the conspicuous exception of too many Lubbock taxicab drivers—are driving their cars more slowly and more cautiously than ever before.

Yet accidents still occur. Perhaps the very facts that cars are fewer and, for the most part, travel more slowly have dulled the senses of too many of us to an ever-present danger. Perhaps we are not as alert to traffic dangers as we were in other days. If so, it is most tragic, because a split-second of carelessness can be just as fatal as it ever was.

So the recent tragedies are causes for everyone—motorists and pedestrians alike—to take stock. Let's remind ourselves that an automobile is potentially as dangerous to human life as it ever was. Let's remember that most of the cars now upon the streets and highways are showing signs of wear. On the whole, they may not be as easy to control as when they were newer.

Let's remember, too, that we now are entering the most dangerous season of the year from the standpoint of traffic hazards. Darkness comes earlier and remains longer. Pavements are sure to be slippery on occasions. The holiday periods are sure to mean a much heavier traffic movement.

Let's try to be careful—more careful than we ever have been before. Let's be safe. After all, these practices of care and safety by the individual—the motorist and the pedestrian—are the best insurance against being sorry.

General MacArthur Reports

IT is unfortunate, for obvious reasons, when official Washington and military commanders in the field engage in public disputes. When disagreements arise, as they will from time to time, no useful purpose is likely to be served by telling the enemy about them.

Therefore, it might have been better if General MacArthur and Rear Admiral William B. Young, a spokesman for official Washington and the naval high command, had avoided a public controversy over the quantities of war materials that are being sent into the Southwest Pacific. But, since a dispute has occurred, it is clearly apparent that any fault in the matter rests squarely upon Admiral Young and that General MacArthur followed about the only course that just circumstances would permit.

Admiral Young invited challenge when he reported that "American supplies are reaching the Southwest Pacific in quantities sufficient for large scale operations against the Japanese."

The position in which such a statement, left unchallenged, might place General MacArthur as commander-in-chief in the Southwest Pacific is obvious. That statement, unchallenged, would shift from official Washington to General MacArthur the responsibility and blame for failure to start those "large scale operations" which a great many Americans would like to see.

But the statement was challenged, and promptly. General MacArthur speedily made known that his forces never have received as much as 10 per cent of what America is shipping overseas. Naturally, he did not mention specific quantities. But no one can suppose that America ever will whip the Japs with less than 10 per cent of its strength.

If there is anything unfortunate about the incident, it is the satisfaction the enemy may obtain from a disagreement between two high American leaders. At the same time, the American people are further indebted to General MacArthur for having answered with facts an apparent administration attempt to mislead them concerning the true state of affairs in the Pacific.

Its' hard to realize that it was only a few years ago, comparatively speaking, when the federal government could do something with less than a billion dollars.

Play By Play

BY PAUL DAVID PRESTON

EMERGENCY
CHAPTER XXV

Probably in deference to Coach Pop Miller and his hopes for a championship victory this week, the commandant at Lincoln Field had given each football player who wanted it a three-day leave from duty. Most of them took it with a whoop and a holler. They could sleep late, loaf, go places in the city, and at Pop's direction concentrate on strategy to whip the State U. team Thursday afternoon.

Duane Hogan, however, was somewhat of an exception. He liked to fly even more than he liked football. It came second only to his home occupation of ranching, in his mind.

"Could I have a ship for a while this afternoon, sir?" he asked Major Winship on Wednesday noon. "Coach Miller has ruled out any football work. I'd sort of like to—uh—"

The major smiled. "Postman, taking a walk on his day off! Sailor, going boating in the park!"

Duane grinned. "Yes, sir."

"Take the ship of course, Hogan. Like to see that interest."

"I thought I might take up Heavy Underwood, too, sir. He's knocked out of the game, but he's well enough to fly as a passenger."

"That's the spirit, Hogan; Permit granted."

"Thank you, sir."

That's why people liked big Duane from down on the Rio Grande. It was generally known by now that he big-brothered the widow, Nancy Hale, and her little son when they were dramatically dumped into the football team's lap a while back. He had rebuilt the loft apartment for them. He had given them a friendly social rush. He had brought baby Scooter a puppy—one destined to play a part in the Aggie game last week with Duane himself!

It had all won them national prominence and it had linked Duane's name with Nancy's in a romantic way. Duane himself had never commented on all that. Big, quiet-mannered Duane.

* * *

He and Heavy Underwood had fun for two hours trying out some new gadgets on a training ship. Heavy was not as quick at mathematics or at aeronautics in general as Duane, and the fullback tutored the center.

"She's awful sensitive," Duane would say, for instance. "When you handle the controls, Heavy, don't slam 'em over like you were hazing steers into a boxcar. Treat 'em delicate, like kissing a girl."

Heavy scoffed. "How many girls you ever kissed?"

"Never mind. But I got ideas about how to do it, see."

"Ideas don't count there. Action does."

"But we ain't kissing girls now, we're flying. This takes brains."

"Unh."

The two friends could "sass" each other endlessly and love it. Duane was a smooth aviator. In a few weeks he'd get his bars, and he wanted Heavy Underwood to be graduated with him. He knew, too, that he'd be missing the big holes Heavy usually made in enemy football lines. He tried not to think of the State game tomorrow.

They came down around 3 o'clock, and together went to their quarters. Another cadet saw them.

"Hi, Hogan, somebody left a phone call for you," he called out. "Some dizzy dame."

"All dames are dizzy," Underwood proclaimed.

"This one acted special."

"Who was it?" Duane asked casually. "Mrs. Hale? I got a dinner date there. Hope she isn't breaking it. Me, I go for home cooking."

"Wasn't the widow," the cadet said. "Seriously, Hogan, she said for you to call at once. Said it was an emergency. It was Coach Miller's daughter, Blythe!"

"Hey!" That seemed to startle Duane. He dropped all easy manner at once, strode inside to the phone.

He couldn't get Blythe at home. And at Pop's office all he could hear was a wild hubbub of masculine voices. Whoever answered just said, "She ain't around."

But—emergency.

Blythe had said it was emergency. He tore through a shower bath and into fresh uniform, then quickly got a little soiled and sweaty again by running to catch a jeep.

"Hustle me over to the athletic field, will you, kids?" he begged of the jeep driver.

"What's in it, general?" his buddies wanted to know.

"No foolin', hurry! I'll—I'll make it up, you Nazis!"

That of course was an insult. The driver swung his wheel. The jeep circled back the other way.

"Come on, I'm not fooling!" Duane meant it now. "I take it back—that Nazi stuff. You're gentlemen and scholars, see. Drinks tonight are on me. Hurry, damn it, hurry!"

"Drinks, eh? Sure?"

"Sure! You blackmailers!"

The driver swung back again. There was some more high razzing. But they dumped Duane out unceremoniously at the gymnasium.

* * *

He went straight to Pop's office, waded through the 20 or 30 men crowding around there. Promptly he was introduced to a brusque stranger named Loumann.

"Look at this, T. J.!" Loumann said, holding Duane's hand and appraising him carefully. "This is him! The same one! Hogan! T. J., get an option on him for after the war. Get it quick. Maybe we can arrange one picture with him even before the—"

"Where's Blythe Miller?" Duane broke in. "Where is she?"

"Look, son I'm Loumann of World Features. I'm signing you for—"

"Where's Bly? Pop, where's Bly?" Hogan roared a bit now.

Nobody knew, Summers, the newspaperman, looked self-consciously around. He had been with Blythe a bit ago. But evidently she had left.

Duane left, too, nodding a promise to talk later. The men resumed their chatter as Duane shut the door Outside, he wasn't quite sure where to look for her. Nancy Hale wasn't there in Pop's office. It must be nearly 5 o'clock—he looked at his wrist watch.

"She wasn't invited to Nancy's," he recalled, "but she might've gone up there early for something. I better go see."

He went around to the far door and turned up Nancy's stairs. Instantly, strange rumbly noises in the apartment halted him. The stair hall was almost dark, but the sounds were unmistakable. Somebody was scuffling or fighting somebody else up there!

"Good grief!"

Next moment he heard two short, terrorized shrieks from a girl. And then—Bang!

Before the gun shot he was already leaping up the stairs. The door was locked, but he grasped the knob and braced his feet for a power pull.

Fear Of Fascism Laid To Loss Of Faith In Christian Democracy

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Reporting on a recent speaking tour, Dr. Homer P. Rainey, University of Texas president, said in an address at the University Baptist church here that Christian democracy needs to recapture lost faith to become again a great dynamic force.

Rainey was one of four speakers on a 10-day mission sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ.

Fear of Fascism in this country, Rainey said, arises out of the fact that Americans have lost some of their faith in Christian democratic principles.

Millions Of Post-War Jobs Said Necessary

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—To achieve full employment after the war, the nation must provide 56 million civilian jobs, says the council of state government's committee on postwar reconstruction and development.

In a report prepared for submission to the organization's general council, the committee said "the potential productive capacity of a fully employed working force in 1946 will be almost 50 per cent greater than the nation's actual output in the year before Pearl Harbor."

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THOSE of us who are past the draft age, or physically unfit to serve, nevertheless can't escape the fact for a moment that there is a war on.

Read your newspaper, turn on your radio, try to buy a pair of shoes — and you simply can't escape it.

But more than anything, more personal than anything else, is my nightly pre-going-to-bed visit to the refrigerator.

For years it has been almost a rite.

The last friend gone, the last line read, the final yawn, the wife about to lock the doors and turn off the lights before going upstairs—and then comes my good night trip out to the kitchen with Deuce, my Sealyham, at my side.

He's drooling in anticipation, I'm licking my lips, also in anticipation.

That is he is and I was.

Deuce doesn't know there is a war. I do—and I would even if I didn't have a paper or a radio in the house.

* * *

What a joy it used to be to go to that refrigerator.

No Admiral Byrd, No Peary, no Amundsen ever got more of a thrill out of their explorations than I did out of my discoveries.

There was that left-over piece of steak, or an enticingly pink cut of roast beef. There was Camembert cheese and Liederkranz, and plump and spicy sausages, Virginia ham, and heaps of butter.

There was the picking and choosing, throwing a tid-bit here and there to Deuce.

Then came the slicing of the bread, the thick slab of butter, the covering of the bread—one slice with ham, the other with roast beef, a heap of lettuce, a glass of milk.

What a time Deuce and I had over those night luncheons.

What a glorious happy feeling when we rolled into bed, happy as hogs, defying all the doctors' warnings, soundly sleeping till it was time for breakfast.

* * *

BUT now? Last night I just about managed to find a thin piece of Swiss cheese. There was about a teaspoonful of butter in the house.

Deuce had to be satisfied with a crust of bread—and apparently was.

But I went up to bed, my stomach just about as full as the holes in the cheese.

Sherman certainly was right.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Lebanon uprising exemplified the sort of dollar diplomacy which the United Nations hope to avoid in liquidating the present world disturbance. It stems directly from secret dealings, shady treaties negotiated, and petroleum politics practiced by the Allies at the Versailles Peace conference.

Nearly all of the nations in this exotic land, which bridges Europe, Asia and Africa, were pledged outright independence almost 30 years ago if they would line up against Germany. The one exception was Turkey, which fought on the kaiser's side.

So many promises were scattered that an ironic commentator said it taught him why Palestine was called the Promised Land. It was offered to both the Arabs and the Jews. That dispute is not yet settled.

Each prospective beneficiary believes now that it was double-crossed by the French and the British, who immediately engaged in a duel for commercial and diplomatic supremacy at the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

Nor was the United States entirely blameless. Our delegation failed to insist on application of Woodrow Wilson's Fourteen Points to those peoples. It pulled out and sailed for home. In the squabble concerning Mosul oil the Harding administration demanded—and received—a 20 per cent cut for American interests.

* * *

BITTER: Recent difficulties in the Near East were hatched in the private suites of the Hotel Crillon in Paris where the Big Four delegates did their backroom plotting.

This sordid background explains why no state in this region except Iraq has declared war on the Axis—why there has been no "revolt in the desert" such as T. E. Lawrence organized—why inhabitants question whether the Atlantic Charter will be as meaningless to them as were Mr. Wilson's idealistis assurances.

It is true that Britain and Russia had to move quickly and ruthlessly at the start of the conflict to prevent the Germans and Italians from gaining a foothold in these countries. Enemy control would have provided needed raw materials and a possible junction with the Japanese. But when the Cossacks and the Tommies invaded Iraq a native official remarked, "This is our Pearl Harbor!"

Such ancient and bitter memories, together with India's plight, may force FDR to intervene more than he desires in Anglo-Soviet handling of the problem.

* * *

SABOTAGE: Diplomats here do not minimize the dangers inherent in the turmoil under the shade of the cedars of Lebanon, although only a small area and a couple of million persons are involved.

The population of the surrounding countries is Moslem, and Asiatic in culture, and aspirations. And at the moment the emperor of Japan has more followers of Mohammed under his aegis than any other world leader except King George. This offers him an avenue of propaganda that might do incalculable harm.

The Arabs have not experienced the brutality of Japanese rule. But they have suffered from shabby treatment at the hands of the Occidentals. Even today the natives are restless under the military restraints our occupying forces have had to impose in Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Egypt and Saudi Arabia.

It is doubtful whether any of the above would enter the fray on Hitler's side; he looks like a loser. But American-built railways and highways supplying Russia run through the heart of this territory. Airlines and trucking routes cross the Arabian desert. Oil wells and refineries stud the terrain. Sabotage—or even a sitdown strike—could damage our cause tremendously at this crucial moment.

* * *

KREMLIN: Donald Nelson's simple, old-shoe personality appealed to Josef Stalin more potently than those of more polished pilgrims from the United States. The pair palsy-walsied like two old grads at a college reunion.

The WPB chairman broke the Volga ice with an apparently lucky remark: "Don't get me wrong, Mister Premier," he said. "I am a businessman, not a politician."

"Good!" grunted the host. "I don't like politicians!"

Nelson then complimented the dictator on the combat qualities of the Red Army.

"Why shouldn't they fight bravely?" asked the Generalissimo, astonished. "They are fighting for their fatherland."

"But we are amazed at your leaders' skill in strategy and their execution of tactics," continued the former Sears Roebuck executive. "They are so good."

"They ought to be good. We have made almost every possible mistake in the past, so it is time that we learned something from those blunders."

Emily Post etiquette for meeting and getting along with Uncle Joe appears to be to leave the high hat, kid gloves, cane and spats at home before ringing his doorbell.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

AT THIS moment the focal point of the whole war is Turkey. Her actions in the immediate future may decide the length of the conflict.

Should she join the United Nations, the step would be the year's greatest Allied victory—even more important than the Soviet attack, the bombing of the Reich or the invasion of Italy.

Such positive declarations may seem exaggerations to the casual reader, but not so to Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin. These chiefs and their strategists know that if Ankara abandons neutrality, she will open to us key territory from which to stab at the very heart of Germany.

The collapse of the Balkans undermined the Kaiser's empire. Watch the eastern Mediterranean littoral again for stupendous events.

* * *

DISGUSTED: Although Turkey sealed an alliance with Britain early in the struggle, she remained on the bench because she feared both Germany and the Soviet Union.

Her distrust of Russia dates from the old days when the czars were eager to annex Constantinople, the seat of the Graeco-Russian church. Stalin has restored the Orthodox Metropolitan in the USSR, but it is doubtful whether his countrymen entertain more than a sentimental interest in the affairs of the Bosporus Patriarchate.

A more mundane suspicion in Ankara is that her powerful neighbor—as in the Romanoff period—wants control of the Dardanelles.

Since the treaty of 1841 no foreign warship has been allowed to navigate the straits without the permission of Turkey. In the Russo-Japanese war in 1904 two of the czar's cruisers, disguised as merchant steamers, slipped unobserved through the narrow waters. But Petersburg and, later, Moscow persistently demanded an outlet from the Black Sea.

London, backed by several European powers, has always blocked Russian ambitions in the Gallipoli zone. The small Turkish republic, unless supported by the British lion, would be at the mercy of the bear.

Insiders, familiar with diplomatic maneuvers, reveal that there are wheels within wheels affecting the Levant. The Kremlin would like to mount guns and control the northern shores of the Bosporus to keep all other nations out. Until this war Whitehall policy favored fortifying the southern banks of the Dardanelles to hold Russia in.

* * *

MISGIVINGS: In addition to this perpetually sore point, Turkish-Soviet relations were strained by Moscow's opposition to a proposed Balkan federation championed by President Inonu. At one time a chain of allies extending from the Baltic to the Aegean Sea was advocated by central European statesmen. Naturally Stalin considered this a cordon sanitaire.

But the new league plan is more modest and includes merely the countries of the Balkan Peninsula. Underlying motives are the curb on repacious Bulgaria and the maintenance of peace. Nevertheless, the Red commissar objected—much to the annoyance of the Turks.

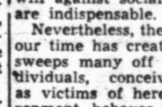

With the removal of these stumbling blocks to friendship Moslems and Muscovites may clasp hands without misgivings.

On Being A REAL PERSON

BY DR. HARRY EMERSON FOSDICK

Deterministic Theory Offers Defenses For Our Deficiencies

ON its highest level man's contemporary desire to escape responsibility expresses itself not in emphasis on luck, or in emotional submission to fate, but in a thoroughgoing deterministic theory, ascribing all personal qualities to heredity and environment. Personality is an effect, not a creative cause; it has no more initiative than a shadow; when we feel creative we are fooling ourselves; Booth could not have avoided killing Lincoln; St. Francis of Assisi could not have helped being a saint; Tschaikowsky could not have resisted composing the Sixth Symphony. When one is determined to hold this theory, there is no arguing him out of it, for it can neither be finally proved nor disproved.

This theory offers defenses for every kind of deficiency, so that no botched life need look far to find an excuse.

The youthful science of endocrinology plays up the decisive importance of the glands; educational psychology creates a general impression of unalterable I. Q.'s; psychiatry weighs down our speech with half-understood, ponderous words describing the various phobias and complexes, so that, as Dr. Henry C. Link says, they become "a vocabulary of defeat"; mechanistic philosophy reduces man to a helpless cog in the cosmic machine; and for very pity's sake, humanitarian sentiment, outraged at social inequities, ascribes human failure and evil to an unjust society. Here is a massing of potent influences focused on one effect: the denial to man of any power over his own life.

One need not question the entire validity of these influences in order to feel chary of their consequence. Even Christians should appreciate the factual elements in materialism, for there is a mechanistic aspect of the universe. As for the discoveries of psychology, the techniques of psychiatry, the experimentation of sciences like endocrinology, and the indignant protests of humanitarian good will against social injustice, they are indispensable.

Nevertheless, their confluence in our time has created a flood that sweeps many off their feet. Individuals, conceiving themselves as victims of heredity and environment ,behaves as such, and illustrate the remark of a contemporary philosopher that "there is a deep tendency in human nature to become like that which we imagine ourselves to be."

The conviction that heredity and circumstances together make us what we are commonly appears in popular thought when an unsatisfactory heritage plus a calamitous environment are used to explain personal failure. When this occurs in the case of a friend, or when humane sentiment broods over social injustice to the underprivileged, the motive of sympathy deepens our desire to exonerate whipped and beaten men and women from responsibility for their fate. Inheritance and environment doomed them, we say.

It would be absurd to deny the truth in such judgments. It is possible to be not so much born as damned into the world. But are heredity and environment the sole factors in shaping personality?

* * *

WHEN, rather than a calamitous heredity and environment, one faces instead superior inheritance and favorable circumstance, there is a better chance to reach an objective judgment. Must such an individual necessarily be an admirable personality? Is that fate, willy-nilly, forced upon him? Certainly in the actual process of living it does not seem so.

To the favorably born and well-vested man, the realistic truth, as he experiences it, appears to be that he must make to his fine heritage and advantageous environing a conscious personal response, often costly, onerous, and sacrificial, or else be a disastrous failure. It would be difficult to persuade Mendelssohn that he could not possibly have missed being Mendelssohn, or to convince Pasteur that he could not have fallen short of becoming Pasteur. The experience of painful effort in becoming a real person is too vivid to be escaped.

PRICES BOUNCE BACK

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—The stock market today negotiated one of its best recovery sessions in more than three months as a sharp bulge in utility preferreds and specialties spread to leaders in virtually all other departments.

The revival was attributed to various factors including mounting tax hopes as it was announced War department economies had slashed more than $13,000,000,000 from 1943 appropriations.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .6 of a point, widest gain since Aug. 10. Of 843 issues traded, 577 advanced, 119 declined and 147 were unchanged. Transfers totaled 806,290 shares compared with 620,380 Thursday.

Electric Power and Light senior issues climbed 12 and 12¾ points, respectively.

Conspicuous on the swing were preferreds of American Power and Light, Standard Gas and United Corp. Well ahead were Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Morris and Essex, Bethlehem, American Telephone, Western Union "A," U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, United Aircraft and Montgomery Ward.

The lately bounding liquors suffered a split. American Distilling, up 4 at one period, nose-dived for a loss of as much but steadied at the last and ended down 1⅛. Allied Mills conceded ⅛.

Russian Engineers To Inspect Texas System

Austin, Nov. 19. (AP)—Two Russian engineers, E. F. Kojevnikov and N. Perelshtein, will inspect the Texas State Highway system beginning in El Paso Nov. 22.

Their tour, including a visit to state highway department headquarters here Nov. 23, will end Nov. 28.

With the technicians who are touring the United States under lease-lend arrangements will be a translator, Boris R. Petroff of the U. S. Public Roads Administration staff.

Dies Committee To Issue Report On Jap Relocation Centers

JASPER, Texas, Nov. 19. (AP) — Rep. Martin Dies (D-Texas) said here today "we are investigating the whole situation and will issue a special report soon" on recent events at Japanese relocation centers.

Dies, chairman of the House committee on un-American activities, commented in response to a statement in Washington yesterday by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) that these events make it "imperative" that the Dies committee renew hearings "on the un-American activities in connection with the War relocation authority."

Thomas, in a letter to Dies, spoke of "the coddling of the Japanese in this country by one of our own government agencies."

pending yet more of forces so badly needed elsewhere, announced a victory to follow its recovery of the Dodecanese islands of Cos and Leros—seizure of the outlying islets of Patmos, Ikaria, Furni and Lipsos, the military significance of which is not clear.

The situation on the more important island of Samos, the last in the Aegean to remain under Allied resistance there was still strong and implied that some of the Allied forces taken off Cos and Leros had gone in to support the Samos garrison.

Propaganda Actions

All these actions, however, were inconsequential to the future Allied strategy in the south of Europe and seemed to be largely propaganda actions as far as the Germans were concerned.

Hard and factual were the continued fierce resistance to the thousands of Rommel's troops by Tito's irregulars in Yugoslavia and the rising weight of Allied air bombardments both against the seats of German air power in Greece and in support of Yugoslav ground forces.

As to Yugoslavia, Tito's communique announced a series of mixed successes and reverses against the Germans, and new clashes with the Chetnik forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic.

Three Towns Lost

Three towns in Dalmatia bordering on the Adriatic were lost to the Nazis, but heavy German attacks were repulsed in the Serbian-Bosnian border region and the Germans were thrown back with heavy losses before a Yugoslav offensive in the Hercegovina region.

Most significant of all was Tito's report that the German command was concentrating large additional forces—which presumably would have had to come from northern Italy—in the area of Kimue, the enemy's principal marshalling point in this area.

Reds Lose Zhitomir

ing the dangerous Russian salient. It may mean, however, a German decision to stabilize the present line and seek a return to the Dnieper for the winter.

Flanking Move Seen

In their new crossing of the Dnieper near Cherkasi, 60 miles southeast of Kiev, the Russians opened the way to flank either the Germans attacking at Zhitomir or the Nazi units who have been battling for weeks at Krivoi Rog to keep open the escape corridor between this iron ore center and the manganese town of Nikopol in the Dnieper bend.

In the Rechitsa area, Gen. Rokossovsky's Army was reported to have advanced to within six miles of the confluence of the Dnieper and Berezina rivers. From here it is another 25 miles to Zhlobin, the capture of which would complete the severance of all Gomel's rail communications.

McMurry Drive Launched Here

With a set goal to contact each Methodist family in Lubbock, a meeting and banquet was held at the First Methodist church last night in Fellowship hall, beginning the McMurry college $1,750,000 endowment campaign. This campaign will last through November 30. Goal for the church here has been set at $45,000.

Alfred T. Snoke, executive secretary of the campaign, spoke at the meeting, explaining the way to approach families. He stated that the campaign had two goals —to secure the required amount of money and to promote good will for the college. Snoke came here from the Abilene headquarters.

Local Committee

Executive committee of the campaign includes Walter G. Alderson, chairman of the organization; Sam Leifeste, chairman of publicity; C. H. Hamilton, local church chairman; and Paul Hardwick, Roy Furr, W. T. Strange and Dr. H. I. Robinson.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Tech college, has been named as honorary chairman and Dr. M. C. Overton will act as chairman of Big Gifts committee.

Teams Organize

Two divisions have been organized to promote the campaign. Heads of the divisions are to be called "majors" and heads of the teams which work under the divisions are to be called "captains." In the first division, Major R. P. Fuller will act as head with the following listed as captains: C. D. Doggett, Watson Wilson, Ben V. Smith, J. H. Portwood, F. W. Grace, R. E. Hamilton and G. H. Williams. In the second division, Major Clay Thompson will have for his captains: R. B. Luker, Arch King, jr., R. O. Short, Joe Telford, J. P. Elms, Marshall Howard and John Austin.

Progress of the campaign will be discussed at a "checkup" banquet to be held next Friday night.

of Allied air power, planes blasted the Japanese on New Guinea with 44 tons of bombs in support of the Aussie thrust at Sattelberg; pounded new holes in the northern Solomons on the enemy's Buka air base with 71 tons; and flew 2,400 miles roundtrip to hit oil refineries and air bases on Java and Bali with 27 tons.

Ahead Of Schedule

Secretary of Navy Knox, in Washington, reported American forces are "ahead of schedule" in the campaign to drive the Jap from the Southwest Pacific.

New assaults were aimed Thursday against Tarawa, major enemy base in the Gilberts, and Wednesday against the Mili and Maloelap islands in the Marshalls. They ran the attacks into the sixth straight day and heightened the belief they are preliminary rounds in the posmied mid-Pacific offensive.

Carrier aircraft made its initial appearance in the mid-Pacific raids Thursday, blasting Betio island of the Tarawa atoll and starting large oil fires.

Some Interception

For the first time in the week-long raids, Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale's 7th Air force encountered interception enough to result in damage to his Liberators. Two of them were damaged at Maloelap where an intercepting Zero was shot from the sky, another probably destroyed and several damaged.

Australians, supported by heavy artillery, mortar and machinegun fire and bombing and strafings by American planes, drew to within a mile of Sattelberg from where the Japanese hold a 3,000-foot plateau overlooking the Allied-held Finschhafen.

At Bougainville in the northern Solomons the Japanese are showing increased air activity, sending over more than 35 planes, Wednesday against the Augusta bay beachhead. Eighteen were destroyed.

More than 100 Allied planes kept up the work of bombing out nearby enemy air bases around Bougainville, with Admiral Halsey's forces concentrating 71 tons on Buka where the day before a Navy task force had rained 101 tons of shells.

Former House Speaker Suffers Heart Attack

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Lee Satterwhite, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, and only man to have represented counties of East Texas, West Texas and the Panhandle in the Legislature, was reported improved today after a heart attack sent him to a local hospital last night.

Satterwhite, 73, now lives in Austin. He resided variously at Wortham, Panhandle, Amarillo and Odessa when he was a state representative.

Heavy Jap Troop Movement Reported

CHUNGKING, Nov. 19. (AP) — Trustworthy reports reaching Chungking today said heavy Japanese troop movements from Manchukuo and North China were in progress with the Southwest Pacific as the most probable destination of the contingents.

At the same time widespread fighting was reported on the central and southwest China fronts with a military spokesman admitting for the first time that the Japanese had made a crossing of the Salween river below the Burma road but declaring that the invaders had been thrown back.

The crossing was called a "reconnaissance in force" by the spokesman, who said about 1,000 Japanese troops in three parties participated.

The American 14th Air force supported the Chinese, bombing the airdrome and barracks at Kengtung where they destroyed streamrollers and bulldozers, attacking a river ferry on the Salween, and showering bombs on a Japanese calavry party crossing the river where they killed more than 50 and sank a barge and many sampans.

Germany Rocked

Kepner, chief of the Eighth Air Force Fighter command, hinted that American fighters soon would be able to fly even greater distances than at present, perhaps even on the 1,200-mile round trip to Berlin, permitting American daylight raids on the capital.

Longer Range Fighters

Kepner said the new fighters have a longer range than the current Thunderbolts and Lightnings which, with extra gas tanks, have escorted Flying Fortresses on as far as 800 mile round trips.

Last night's RAF mission to Germany carried the greatest tonnage ever dropped on a single night. Since the concentration was split on two targets, it was probably less than the record weight dropped on either city.

Today's daylight raids by the American heavies and their fighter escort bored into Germany for the eighth major raid of the month and returning crews reported the German fighter force apparently exhausted by the weight of recent day-night attacks, for hardly a single enemy fighter was sighted in the sky. One crewman reported bombs hit squarely on the target, obsrved through a break in the cloudy, wintry sky.

The Germans acknowledged considerable damage to Berlin from the night pounding, complaining that the British attacked under favorable cloud cover, hitting residential sections on the outskirts of the city.

Large Number Of Dead

"One must reckon with a considerable number of dead," the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Aftonbladet said.

Berlin's outskirts are filled with war industries.

Flyers reported the "extraordinary experience" of being over Berlin without seeing a German plane. Only a few combats were reported. Fires glowed in a wide area over the city, the crewmen said, and explosions occurred below so great that they even burst up through a thick layer of clouds that obscured the flashes of the blockbusters.

More than 12 hours after the big Berlin raid, the German high command indicated fires still were raging in the city in a brief broadcast announcement which said "the Anglo-American" raid started conflagrations but "these have now been brought under control."

Late reports from Stockholm said traffic in Berlin was paralyzed and that the raid was one of the heaviest yet to hit the German capital. The reports said the main attack struck on the south and southwest suburbs and that single bombs hit the center of the city.

The U. S. Army communique telling of the Fortress assault on western Germany failed to name the targets, although in the past communiques have done so. No explanation was given for the omission.

The Berlin radio said numerous U. S. bomber formations penetrated western occupied territories and Germany at noon and that bombs "were dropped on scattered rural communities in northwest Germany."

Greater Victories By Reds Imminent

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

"Victory guns" boomed in Moscow to herald recapture of Korosten and Rechitsa sounded an ominous prelude to even greater impending Russian victories.

By every rule of war experience, the fall of those key positions of the wavering Nazi defense front in the west central Ukraine and White Russia paves the way for a major Russian strategic blow. The Kiev bulge is now secure against Nazi counter-attack from the north. A 150-mile-wide gap has opened in the German front and set the scene for a final Red drive southwestward to Zhmerinka junction which would trap all German forces in southwestern Russia against the Rumanian borders.

SIMPSON

Indicated Objective

That has been the indicated Russian objective ever since the Kiev sector flared into action. The stiffest Nazi resistance to the triple-pronged Russian drive westward from the Kiev area came along the Kiev-Zhmerinka railway. Nazi commanders realized that the whole right flank of their Army in Russia would be cut off from direct communications with Germany and the tentative winter defense line on the Bug river would become untenable if the Russians reached the Odessa-Taropol-Lwow railroad at Zhmerinka.

With that rail route the only direct connection for the Nazis in southwestern Russia with Germany via Poland, Hitler's forces apparently were compelled to regain control of the rail junction of Zhitomir or endanger vast armies to the south.

Reds Evacuate Junction

Russian evacuation of the western Ukraine highway and rail junction was announced by Moscow but both the Russian capital and Berlin had indicated the movement was local and chiefly defensive.

Whether the German drive can help erase the peril depends largely on whether the Russians are able to step up their momentum for a sweep that will take the Zhitomir sector of the Kiev bulge and open the door to their primary objective, the Odessa-Taropol railway.

Such a maneuver would complete the greatest military trap in history.

Coke Stevenson Hits OPA Slaughter Order

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The OPA regulation that put a quota on cattle slaughter will prove to have been a worse blunder than the cattle killing program of a few years ago, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, ranchman, predicted today after a return from a trip in the ranch country.

Stevenson said he would not go as far as some and say the order was an attempt to ruin the ranchman, but he could find no plausible reason for it.

Coupled with feed shortage, he said, it is resulting in many ranchers facing the prospects of losing thousands of unmarketed cattle from winter storms.

Grapefruit Juice To Be Released—WFA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Approximately 2,400,000 cases of canned grapefruit juice now held by the government will be released within the next few weeks for civilian consumption, the War Food Administration announced today.

Purchased by the government from the 1942-43 pack, the juice will be offered for sale to canners at levels which will permit its resale at established ceiling prices.

WFA add that canners who originally sold the juice to the government will be given the first opportunity to buy it back.

Lower Travel Fares After War Advocated

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Postwar passenger fares as low as 1 cent per mile, general use of streamliners, and faster schedules were advocated today by American railroad executives.

Leaders of the industry put at the top of their peacetime program a determination to hold as much as possible of the 1943 passenger traffic, which has reached the 80 million miles.

The aims and ideas of carrier chiefs were brought out in a survey conducted by the publication, Railway Age, but the names of none of them were used.

Red Head Has Habit 'Uh Huh' Case Is Dismissed

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay closed the "uh huh" case today without imposing penalty on Mrs. Florence Pringle, a red-haired ice-dock operator who caused all the commotion.

Testifying as a government witness last Monday, Mrs. Pringle answered "uh huh" despite warnings from the judge to say "Yes" if her answer was in the affirmative.

Judge Hannay noted the red haired witness had "disobeyed" court instructions 11 times in giving answers and ordered her to appear today in court.

"Can you give any reason why you disobeyed by instructions?" he asked.

"I'm sorry, Judge," Mrs. Pringle answered. "Saying 'uh huh' is a habit. But I'll not say it anymore. In fact, I've quit saying it."

Judge Hannay smiled, told Mrs. Pringle she could go and as she left the courtroom a reporter asked:

"Is your husband in the army, Mrs. Pringle?"

Mrs. Pringle smiled.

"Uh huh," she said.

Women's Group Backs Subsidy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Backing for continued consumer food subsidies came from the league of women voters today while a powerful house coalition drove on toward a climactic showdown Monday in its fight to outlaw such payments.

One of the first major consumer groups to enter the fight over subsidies, the league declared through a resolution adopted by its national board:

"Ruin lies ahead unless Congress quits undermining price control and if it persists in its refusal to see that subsidies are essential to price control; unless both Congress and the President hold firm on wage stabilization; and unless the Congress stops backing away from using the taxing power to curb inflation."

General Debate Finished

The House completed general debate late today, and took the weekend off to think over the arguments of opposing forces with the likelihood that several compromise amendments will be offered—and defeated—Monday before a vote is reached on the bill itself.

Highlight in the long and bitter controversy on the floor today came in a warning from Representative Monroney (D-Okla) that the President might interpret passage of the anti-subsidy bill as a "mandate to break the line" and place the responsibility for inflation on the lawmakers.

Monroney argued that the situation is different now from last July, when the chief executive vetoed a similar prohibition; that now the President is "vexed" by "innumerable wage difficulties" and labor problems and might sign the bill.

Costello Wires His Regrets To Board

HOLLWOOD, Nov. 19. (AP)—Comedian Lou Costello had a date with his draft board at Paterson, N. J., today, but sent his regrets.

He received notice yesterday that his classification had been changed from 3-A to 1-A, with instructions that he report there today for a preliminary blood test.

Costello wired a request that his case be transferred to a local draft board and resumed his recuperation from an attack of rheumatic fever that kept him bedfast for several months recently.

Mrs. FDR Advocates Full Use Of Subsidies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt advocated consumer price subsidies today as an anti-inflationary system to cut down postwar burdens and accused "a certain group" of stimulating congressional opposition in order to get higher prices.

She did not specify who could be found in this group but noted "we never had this excitement about subsidies" until price desires were at issue.

"Nobody bothered to make a fuss about tariffs, yet tariff is a subsidy," the President's wife told her press conference.

Economy Move To Be Enlarged

By TONY SMITH
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—House Appropriations committee members today proposed that investigations which already have cut the 1944 budgets of the War and Navy departments by $13,913,519,000 be extended to the Maritime commission and the War Shipping administration.

The committee expects to save additional billions in its continuing investigation of appropriations for the armed forces, but Rep. Joe Starnes, D., Ala., said:

The largest reduction—$13,163,519,000—was made by the War department in the $59,034,839,673 appropriation Congress authorized for its use in the fiscal year. An additional $750,000,000 was effected in deficiency estimates of the Navy department several weeks ago. The navy investigation still is uncompleted.

Huge Slash For Army

The huge slash in anticipated Army expenditures was announced last night in an informal report to the House by Chairman J. Buell Snyder, D., Pa., of the military appropriations subcommittee. He accounted for it as follows:

1. Reduction in military personnel strength from an anticipated 8,200,000 officers and men to 7,652,000—$1,945,039,000.

2. Curtailment of armament and equipment programs—$8,262,759,000.

3. Reduction in facilities, including maintenance—$780,447,000.

4. Modification and possible permanent deferment of a portion of the airplane program—$2,086,069,000.

5. Miscellaneous projects—$88,205,000.

No Immediate Bearing

Snyder said the budget reductions had no immediate bearing on the need for more money, but added: "It means that some day there will be that much debt to be liquidated and consequently a lesser amount of taxes to be paid."

His report coincided with a new Treasury estimate that present tax law will bring in $41,137,300,000 in revenue in 1944 instead of $38,500,000,000 because of anticipated higher national income. Figuring the yield of the pending tax bill at $2,047,500,000, it estimated total 1944 revenues at $43,184,800,000.

Third Of Receipts

The budget savings made by Snyder's committee is equal to about 33 per cent of the estimated Treasury receipts for the current fiscal year and exceeds by $66,086,091,333 the amount actually received through direct taxes on individuals during the fiscal year 1943.

Snyder said the War department had not been coerced into giving up the money, but "took the intiative, and has established a procedure whereby additional amounts will be placed in the budget bureau reserve from time to time when circumstances justify."

Many Bills Filed To Help Small Business

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The department of commerce today released a digest of 390 bills considered in Congress "in behalf of small business" since 1933.

Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones in a foreword said that the interests of small business and of large business are interdependent, each complementary to the other. The 390 bills were introduced in the 1933-1942 decade. Twenty-six were given final approval. In the first six months of this year about 50 additional bills were introduced to aid small enterprises.

Revue "What Next" Is Set At SPAAF Tonight

A snappy song and dance revue, "What Next," will be presented at South Plains Army Air field at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the post theater.

Another in the series of USO shows, the revue features a cast of comedians, singers and dancers. Jack Waldron, a veteran of the comic stage, will emcee the revue.

Among the stars of the show are the Young Sisters, acrobatic tap dancers, Mystic Craig, sleight of hand tricks, the Shy Sisters, singers, and Edward Charles Freivogel, pianist and musical specialties.

ICE PICK IS DIFFERENT

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—John Henry Davis, cab-driver, isn't one to be bothered too much when someone pulls a pistol on him—but an ice pick, that's different. Last night, one of two passengers pulled a gun and ordered him out of his cab. Davis hesitated. The other occupant, wielding an ice pick, swung, grazing Davis' neck. Davis hesitated no longer.

Texas A. & M. Man Is Said Killed In Italy

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—Word has been received by Texas A. & M. college officials of the death in action of Lt. J. C. Beasley, cytogeneticist with the agronomy division of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station from 1932 until entering military service in 1942.

Beasley's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Beasley of Carroll, O., informed officials here that Beasley was killed in Italy, Sept. 12.

A graduate of Texas A. & M., and Harvard, Beasley was one of the first scientists to use colchicine as a means of doubling the number of chromosomes in cotton, enabling a better breeding of cotton hybrids.

Air Travel And Freight Shipments To The Fartherest Corners Of The World By Air Transport Command Are Simple Things Now

By PAUL KERN LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—"A ride to the U. S.? Sure. Get a parachute and a life belt and I'll take you. Be ready in two hours."

Capt. Roy R. Brown, 23-year-old U. S. Army air ferry pilot from Berryville, Ark., was speaking as he luxuriated under the unbelievable hot shower in the washroom of an African airfield.

Before midnight we were on our way in a battered but reliable old Flying Fortress. The "Guardian Angel," by name, that Brown was bringing home for someone to experiment with.

Sounds Prosaic Enough

It sounds prosaic enough, perhaps, and Captain Brown certainly thought it was commonplace, but to an American leaving the Mediterranean war zone that flight and the sights seen along the route were more impressive even than battles witnessed or shells dodged.

It was a first-hand view of what may well prove to be one of the greatest individual American factors in winning the peace; the American Air Transport command with its tremendous series of bases, making air travel and freight shipment to the farthest corners of the world as simple as a week-end trip to visit grandma.

Function Day and Night

In the Middle East, clear across Africa, all along the Brazilian coast, in the West Indies, and right through the United States itself, the huge fields of the transport command function day and night, shuttling planes and men and materials.

Tremendous mess halls are always open, serving good American food;

There is everywhere a constant ordered bustle of business, and air of purpose and movement. And always the planes take off and land, bound for almost every point of the compass.

Others Have Done More

Captain Brown said he had not done a great deal, had only flown the Atlantic nine round trips, been out as far as India and managed to get in about 100 hours a month flight and the sights seen along the route were more impressive even than battles witnessed or shells dodged.

Others such as his navigator, First Lieut. Chester E. Daniels, 25, of Oklahoma City, Daniels has made ten round trips across the Atlantic.

Or the flight engineer, Corp. Ray Cole of Sweetwater, Tex., whose drawl is unchanged but whose horizon is larger.

Wool Restrictions Are Lifted By WPB

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The War Production Board today lifted restrictions on the use of wool in the production of clothing, draperies, and upholstery fabrics.

Only exceptions are: The use of finer grades of alpaca is banned except for military purposes, and only carpet wool and mohair are permitted for the manufacture of floor coverings.

Restrictions on the consumption of wool had been in effect since a month after Pearl Harbor. The initial order cut civilian fabric production more than 50 per cent in many instances.

With today's order, WPB revoked an order which gave special assistance to wool producers in procuring rayon staple fibre. Rayon is now scarce in contrast to present adequate supplies of wool.

Chandler To Inquire On Pacific Shipments

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Senator Chandler (D-Ky) said today he may ask the military committee to inquire about the amount of supplies being shipped to General Douglas MacArthur's southwest Pacific forces.

"It was apparent at the time I was in that area that insufficient aid was being sent to General MacArthur," said Chandler, one of the five Senators who toured the war zones.

Strange Things Seen In Crosby's Research

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—A drill that makes a bigger hole as it bores, an airplane engine without a crankshaft and a crutch with a built-in seat are just three of the ideas uncovered by, of all people, the tuneful trio of Crosby brothers—Bing, Larry and Bob.

Modern Industry, magazine for industrial management and production men, tells the story of the Crosbys' "clearing house for postwar product ideas," the Crosby Research foundation at Pasadena, Calif., in its current issue.

WITH U. S. FORCES ON Bougainville, Solomons, Nov. 19 (AP)—A captured Japanese infantry officer paid this left-handed compliment to the American Marines:

"Marines are not such good jungle fighters. But the trouble is the Marines tear down the jungle. After a while there is no jungle left to fight in."
