PROPOSED CITY HALL - This is a sketch of the proposed City Hall building which would house a community room and all city offices, plus the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture offices. Plans call for a two level building, with 6000 square feet of floor space. Exterior would be constructed of stucco with marble chips pressed into the stucco, with bronze glass and trim. Councilmen agreed to look into the possibility of such a building, determined on the basis of whether people of the city wanted it or not, and as to how it could be financed.

New City Hall Proposed

A group of interested citizens met Tuesday night with the city council in support of the construction of a new city hall for Olton.

Joe McKay, representative of Brasher, Goyette and Rapier, Architects-Engineers, of Lubbock, spoke to the group showing drawings of the exterior and floor plan of the proposed city hall.

The site selected for the new structure is available at a fee of $9500 and is located between 8th and 9th Street on the Anton Highway.

The proposed building would have a west entrance, with a secondary entrance from the east which would also give access to a community room, located in the basement.

A total of 6000 square feet of floor space, the structure would cost an estimated $182,870. This total includes the cost of site, paving and walks, building costs and miscellaneous fees, excluding furnishings.

The ground level floor would accomodate city offices, with storage and vault; the Chamber of Commerce Office; council and corporation court room; restrooms and lobby. An elevator would have to be included in the plans because of a law governing public buildings, which designates that an elevator

Election Called By Board

Long range planning for Olton School system brought about the calling of a trustees election, adoption of school calendar for 1974-75, and approval of the Work-Study Program for summer.

Routine matters claimed the attention of Royce Collins, Burley Faver, Don Muller, Garland DePrang, Uil Gunter and Floyd Prentice as they continued with approval of minutes, current accounts, superintendent's and tax collector's reports, Tuesday evening in the Board Room at Olton High School.

In discussing accounts payable for January, Turner explained some of the larger items. In one instance he pointed to "individualized instruction machines" which are to be used in junior high, and which he thinks will prove valuable assets.

In another instance he pointed to the increased bill for natural gas, the largest the board had ever allowed, had been brought about since "daylight saving time" had been in use.

Citing the expiration of terms of Faver and DePrang, an election date was set for April 6 to name two board members. Elmer Moore was named election judge and V.Y. Jefferies, alternate.

Final filing date was set for Mar. 6. Period of Absentee voting will be Mar. 18 through Apr. 2, with Doris Watt serving as Absentee clerk, and Edna Price, deputy clerk.

Incumbents have filed for re-election.

Work-study program for summer weeks was approved. The program will be the same as has been used during the past several years. Ten students will work a total of 60 days, June 20 to Aug. 17, at $1.60 per hour. Total cost of the program was set at $7680, for which the State will pay 80 per cent. Only 20 per cent of the amount will be assumed locally. Carried out through the vocational-agriculture program, "ag" students will be used with David Maxey administering the work-study objectives.

Mrs. Virginia Moss, tax-collector, reported that tax collections were well ahead of those at the same period last year. Collections now stand at 95.65 per cent; at this period last year the figure was 92.16 per cent.

Mrs. Moss stated that collections on the delinquent roll were not as good as the

'Not A Simple Business'

A load of locally grown grain was hauled to Atlanta in the piney woods of far East Texas early in the year of 1940 and sold for $65. That $65 was used to purchase "green, knotty" lumber and hauled back to Olton to build a small, old-styed frame building to house a new business for the town -- Olton Auto Company.

The business was a new venture for O.C. Armistead and the late O.R. "Cap" Ogletree, partners already in a service station. The two saw a need and a future for a business to supply demands in the progressing age of mechanization.

Bill Miller, son of a pioneer Olton resident, made the long haul and T.D. Pearson was the carpenter who constructed the small building.

Stock of parts was very limited in the business' early days with World War II creating a scarcity of automotive parts along with so many other shortages. That problem would continue to plague the business throughout the war years.

Ogletree's widow, Mardema, recalls those early years and the difficulty the shortages posed. She remembers they made buying trips as far away as Fort Worth.

A particularly vivid memory of one of those trips included a visit with a friendly wholesaler whose sage advice she recalls with a chuckle.

"He recommended that an auto parts business be kept 'cluttered and messy' for that way to clientele would feel comfortable. He even suggested," she says "that some merchandise be piled right out on the floor where customers would have to step around it."

During this time, the Ogletrees sold their interest in the business to Armistead and sometime later Mardema's father, the late G.W. Locke became a partner.

Mardema recalls that stock was not the only thing in short supply during the war years of the business' beginning.

"So was money," she says with a smile. She adds that she and Cap did not own a car until they sold the business and she laughs as she adds, "it took all the parts we had to bring enough money for us to buy our car--a sed one at that."

The prized car was sold in a gesture of patriotism during the later years of the war when gas and tires were among the many things in short supply.

In November 1949, Armistead sold his interest to Witt Lacewell and moved from Olton to California. Lacewell and Locke continued as partners for a short while and then Locke became sole owner, continuing operation of the business until his death in 1969. His daughters, Helen Locke and Mardema, have been owners since that time.

Locke, a farmer to whom early rising came natural, operated the business with the awareness of farming

Show Animals Bring Record Sale Prices

Records toppled last weekend as total sales for the 29th Annual FFA, FHA, and 4-H Stock Show hit an all time high of $26,353.01. Total sales for the 1973 show were $21,616.20.

Of the record total, $24,933.26 was for the sale of animals through the ring. Re-sale of non-placing animals totaled $1419.75.

Shannon Thomas exhibited the grand champion steer, an 1139-lb Charolais cross which sold to Toro Grain for one dollar per pound. John Ted Daugherty's reserve champion steer brought 91 cents per pound. Olton State Bank purchased the 979-lb Hereford.

Brent Hamby showed the grand champion barrow, a 219-lb heavyweight Duroc. Leon's Grocery paid $1.24 per pound. High Plains Grain purchased the reserve champion barrow, a 196-lb lightweight Chester White exhibited by Jana Mandrell, for $1.05 per pound.

Two dollars was the purchase price per pound of the grand champion lamb shown by Sharon O'Neal. The 116-lb. heavyweight Suffolk was purchased by Olton Grain Coop. Wood-Jordan-Davis bought the reserve champion lamb, a 105-lb heavyweight Hampshire exhibited by Scott Pinkerton.

Showmanship trophies were presented to Shannon Thomas, steer and lamb Divisions, and Steve Kennedy, swine.

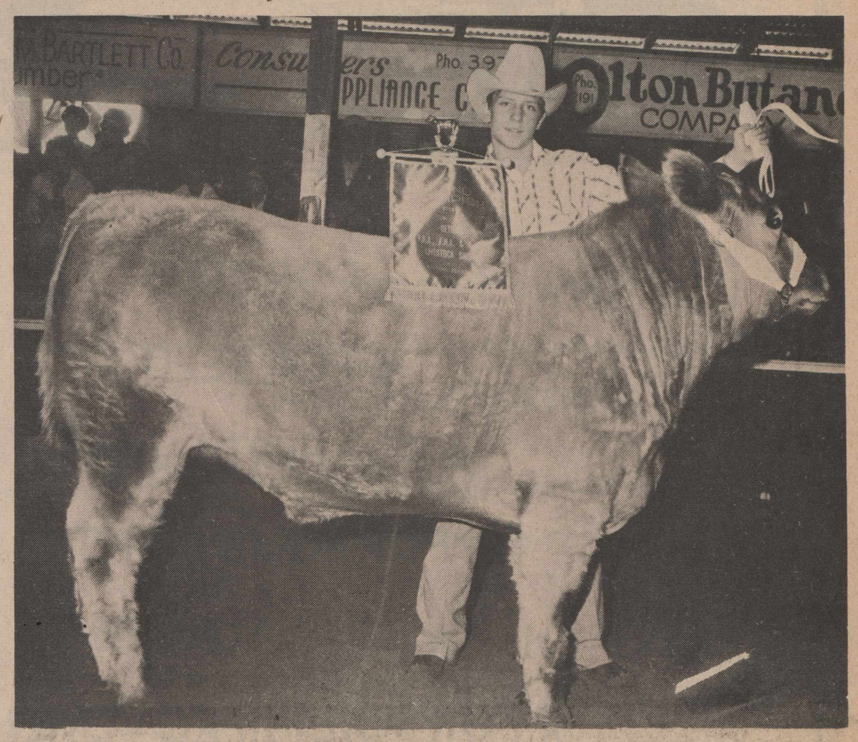

Winners of the Clean Pen awards were Tony and Jimmy Villanueva, steers; Kelli Smith, lambs; and Bryan Muller, swine.

A trophy for Outstanding Exhibitor, given annually by Raymond "Cotton" Lewis, was presented to Brent Hamby.

Relda Strain was high point Future Homemaker, an honor she also received her freshman year.

Japan Assignment Described In Letter To Home Town

(Editor's note: It was my privilege to share in a bit of one of Gene Gallagher's letters home not long after he arrived in Japan. It was so enjoyable, I asked that his parents relay my request for a letter that could be shared with you, the folks of his home town. I think you will enjoy it as much as I and I hope it is only the first of several he'll write. Mozelle Trotter)

Dear Mozelle,

It seems everytime I get a letter from home or every time I call, someone tells me that you have been wanting me to write a letter so I decided that I've put it off long enough. I've been trying to get my thoughts organized before I started a letter to you, but so far haven't had much luck at getting my brain cranked up. Anyway, I figured if I was ever going to get it done, the only way was to sit down and start writing. I'm not much of an informative type letter writer, so if this doesn't make much sense or if it doesn't give you much info then all I can say is "sorry about that." So here goes.

I left Lubbock on Sept. 1 and flew to San Francisco with one short stop in Albuquerque, N.M. From San Francisco, I had to catch a Greyhound bus to Travis Air Force Base at Fairfield, Calif., where I arrived about 8 p.m. on the evening of the first. I checked in at the personnel desk there and found out that my MAC (Military Airlift Command) flight to Japan didn't leave until 8 o'clock the next morning. Such being the case, I spent the night in a transient barracks there at Travis.

We left Travis at 8 a.m. on the morning of the 2nd, flew for five hours, and landed in Honolulu, Hawaii, at 11 a.m. (Hawaii time) on the morning of the second. We sat in Hawaii for an hour while the plane was being serviced, so I just wondered around the airport to pass the time. While I was there I ran into an old buddy from boot camp who was stationed in Honolulu and just happened to be wondering around the airport killing time. So I had a little time to rap with him before splitting for Japan.

We left Honolulu at noon, flew for another seven hours and arrived at Yokota Air Base in Yokota, Japan, at 3 p.m. on the afternoon of the third. Now, I probably lost you on the times and dates because I know that I was all mixed up by the time we got here. To tell you the truth though, I was so tired I didn't really care what time or day it was.

Upon arriving in Yokota we were briefed on Japan, the people, the customs, etc. After the briefing and having our baggage checked by the customs officials, we boarded a Navy bus for the long, tiring, five hour, 40 mile trip to Yokosuka. That is bound to have been the longest five hours of my life. Like I said, it is only about 40 miles from Yakota to Yokosuka, but the traffic is really bad over here and besides, I think the Japanese bus driver knew everything but where he was going!!! But, by some great miracle we finally made it to the base here at Yokosuka by about 9 p.m. I spent about the first three days checking in before starting to work.

As you know, I'm a radioman. A radioman's job is to establish and maintain communications. being between ships, ship and shore, or shore and shore, and to communiate in the fastest, most efficient way possible by whatever means are available or that the situation requires.

Now for Japan. As yet I haven't really seen much of Japan except for Yokosuka and the surrounding area. What I have seen though is really beautiful. The country is just hill after hill and they are covered with beautiful trees and shrubbery. I live in a Japanese apartment about eight miles from the base and I'm only about two miles from the beach. You would have to see some of these beaches to believe them cause they are really beautiful. On a clear day you can see Mt. Fuji almost perfectly and that too is a very fascinating view.

Japan is a relatively small island and there is something like 100 million people here, so as you might guess it's pretty crowded. The people are really friendly though, and if you show them the proper respect, they are always willing to help you. Japan is pretty well "westernized" and most of the younger people dress about the same as we do. Still, they have their own ways and customs and the older people still dress Japanese style. Sometimes, though, I think that these people have absolutely no common sense what so ever. I know that's not a very nice thing to say, but I honestly believe it's true. Especially when it comes to driving. Sometimes I just wonder if all these people didn't get their drivers licenses out of a box of Cracker Jacks. I don't think they realize the hazards of driving and when a dangerous situation occurs they haven't the faintest idea what to do to avoid it. I learned real quick when I first started driving over here, that if you don't drive extra defensively, you'll never make it from one blocks to the next. The majority of the Japanese drivers over here wouldn't last five minutes on a highway in the states. I'm not trying to cut down the Japanese people or anything, I'm just saying that they seem not to think about a situation that may arise in the future and then when something does happen they're not prepared for it. Anyway, it's hard to explain when I say they seem not to have any common sense. You would just have to be here yourself in order to understand. The Japanese are really a great bunch of people and if you treat them right and show them a little courtesy, then they'll do the same for you.

It's winter right now in Japan and it has been pretty cold for about the last two months. The coldest it has been getting has been in the high twenties, but generally runs about the mid-30's. It usually doesn't snow in this area, but a couple of weeks ago we did get enough snow just to cover the ground solid. It seems to rain quite frequently though, and in fact it has been raining all day today. It always seems much colder than what the temperature really is, and I suppose that fact is due to the humidity and altitude. I have been told that in the summer it usually doesn't get above 90 degrees, but the humidity gets really high and it gets very sultry. I'm inclined to believe that too, because when I first got here it would be about 80 to 85 degrees but it seemed more like 120 degrees because of the humidity.

That seems to be about all the information I can give you right now, for however much good it might have done you. As I told you to start with I'm not much of a letter writer, so on that note I think I'll quit. Maybe I've given you a little insight to Japan. Hope so anyway. As Digby O'Dell (the undertaker on the Life of Riley) would say, I'd better be shoveling off.

Yours truly,
Gene

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Just maybe--if you're lucky-- you have a sister. I'll grant it's probably nice too to have a brother but lacking one myself, I'll speak only for that gift from God, a sister.

There's a time in your life, if you're like me, when you'd gladly trade your sister-- or sisters --for 'most anything offered. There are those times when the little fellow who said he'd "rather have a puppy" had quite a point!

If you're the eldest then there's sure to be a time when That Girl evokes an emotion not described as love. In fact, it couldn't even be called like!

You know - like the time when your best friend comes to spend the night and you're brimming over with "private talk" and She insists on sticking around like fleas on old Rover.

Yes, they're sure to drop in value at times like that!

They also decline in your affections when, caught in your "treasure box," they so innocently explain "I was only looking."

Self-righteously and with some degree of satisfaction you get your chance someday, if another little sister comes long late enough, to say "That's how you used to do me!"

Then you grow up and, with maturity, you realize That Girl has made such a change! She's no longer a "little pest" but is rather a counterpart, a companion, a confidant. She grows dearer with each year. Forgotten are the bad times she gave you and recalled are happy little events of your childhood that you never realized would someday be treasures in your memory storehouse.

Just maybe your sister might be a nice as mine -- she might be honored as "Woman of the Year." And when they cite the good things about her you sit back with a satisfied knowledge, "I know that all along."

You glory in the honor she's your sister and, in my case, you glory in the knowledge that the other sister has the qualifications also to be chosen as "Woman of the Year."

With a compassion big enough to encompass the mangiest stray pup and the scrubbiest little alley cat, she opens her heart to children and young people.

Den Mother past the years her own son was a Cub Scout, she served again when no one else would. Nor were her "dens" limited to the recommended eight for no little fellow who had the longing failed to be a Cub because the den was filled.

Being the mama of daughters, too, she gives equal efforts as a Brownie leader. She, with her husband, labor long hours to insure the youngsters in their community have the opportunity for Little Dribblers and Little League.

And then because she "finds" The time she teaches Sunday School and Bible School.

Ah, yes, my "double troubles" of childhood are double blessings of womanhood. I'm glad they're mine!

Methodist Women Meet, Begin New Organization

Women of the First United Methodist Church "began a new era" Tuesday evening with a salad supper and meeting in fellowship hall of the church.

No longer separate organizations, Women's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild, women of the church meet under the new name United Methodist Women. Tuesday's meeting was the first under the new organization.

Mrs. Leo Ross Bryant, president, presided. Mrs. Owen Norfleet, vice president handed out year books and previewed the year to come. Devotional thoughts with an emphasis on love were shared by Mrs. Glenn Singleterry.

Tables were decorated with a Valentine motif with red hearts enscribed with scripture verses including the word "heart." An arrangement of red and white carnations centered the buffet table.

Special guests were the Rev. Al E. Jennings, pastor, and Mrs. Ola Pasich of Riverside, Calif.

Courtesy In Carson Home Honors McAlister Family

Mr. and Mrs. Billy McAlister, Karla and Kelon were honored with a farewell party Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carson, Kody and Kamber. The McAlister family has moved to Hereford.

Mrs. H.M. Henderson, mother of Mrs. McAlister, was a special guest.

The party table was laid with a beige linen cloth with pink trim. The centerpiece, an arrangement of red, pink and white carnations was displayed in a milk glass container. Each flower was centered with a miniature red heart. A candelabra fitted with pink tapers added to the decor of the table. Sweet breads, coffee and cranapple punch were served using silver and crystal appointments.

Nearby was a money tree shading a gingerbread house. Individual gifts and selections of glassware and pottery were presented.

Party Honors Vic Allcorn

Vic Allcorn was guest of honor at a surprise birthday dinner Saturday evening in the home of his aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Uil Gunter, Kent and Jennie Lynn.

Attending with Vic were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allcorn and their sons, Kyle and Troy; the honoree's uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carson and Alan, Mark Hodges and the host family.

The cake was frosted in white and decorated with Mustang blue lettering "Happy 18th Birthday, Vic." The decor of the cake also included basketball phrases such as "foul", "dribble," "free throw," "goal," and "tie ball." All were in Mustang blue coloring.

FROM WILSON

Mrs. Mae Moore of Wilson was a recent visitor of her son Lee Moore. Mrs. Moore was accompanied by her daughter-in-law and granddaughter, Mrs. Vollie Moore and Connie, also of Wilson. They visited Mrs. Mae Moore's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Moore and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Moore, Cindy and D'Andrea.

FROM OKLAHOMA

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Russell were Mr. and Mrs. Xvere Hebensperger of Hobart, Okla.

Hear Grandson Deliver Sermon

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Phillips attended church Sunday morning at Tascosa Baptist Church of Amarillo. Their grandson, Phillip Waldrop, received his license as a minister during the services. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Waldrop of Stratford, formerly of Olton.

They remained in Amarillo to be present at the evening services when the Rev. Phillip Waldrop was speaker.

Also present for the services were Waldrop's parents, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lambright of Stinett.

Carrasco, Hernandez Vows Pledged Sunday

St. John's Catholic Church of Hart was the setting for the solemnization of wedding vows of Miss Rosita Carrasco and Jessie Hernandez Jr.

The Rev. Ralfael Chen officiated the exchange of vows before an altar set with white candles in tapered candelabras entwined with greenery and small white flowers. Baskets of white floral arrangements flanked the candelabras.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. David Carrasco. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hernandez Sr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal Empire gown of silk fashioned with long sleeves caught at the wrists with lace cuffs. Tiny seed pearls enhanced the gown. Her tiered veil was edged with lace and she carried a bouquet of carnations with white streamers.

Mary Hernandez of Groom, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridemaids were Norma Catano, Maricella Paz, Sylvia Guitierrez, Patricia Martinez, Anna Garza, Patricia Montemayor, Yolanda Lopez, Lori Sarabia, Adelina Garza and Socorro Bustamantez. Maricella Carrasco, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Padrinos and madrinas were Messrs. and Mmes. Alfredo Gonzales, Margarito Paz of Odessa, Florentino Bustamante, Alfredo Martinez of Dallas, Alfredo Martinez Jr. of Morton, Bush Martinez, Santos Nieves, Jose Isaquire, Agustine Perez, Eusebio Robledo and Miss Senaida Reyna and Ismael Carrasco.

Bridesmaids wore formal dresses of apricot with gathered skirts encircled with a flounce at the hemline. Gold trim added accents. Madrinas wore formal Empire gowns of red with gold trim at the neckline and waist.

Johnny Hernandez and David Hernandez, both of Groom, brothers of the groom, were best man and ring bearer, respectively.

A wedding dinner was held in the community hall in Nazareth. The newlyweds are at home in Lubbock following a wedding trip to New Mexico.

The bride attended Presidio Schools. Hernandez attended Hart High School and served two years in the Army. He is employed in Lubbock.

Cooks Of The Week

Recipes shared this week come from those charming little cookie promoters, the Brownies and Girl Scouts. In observing the annual cookie sale, the girls are making available recipes for tasty desserts whose basic ingredients are Girl Scout cookies.

The four Brownies pictured above are among those small Oltonites helping in the sale. Pictured left to right are Jane Ellen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Taylor; Shelle Sivley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sivley; Kimberlee Coen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coen; and Mendy Faver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burley Faver.

Little brown and green clad girls will begin their sales efforts Friday at 4 p.m. and will continue selling through March 9. Five different cookies will be available this year.

The young cooks remind all cooks that their cookies freeze well so that they may enjoy these recipes later in the year. Cookies are packaged in smaller wrapped packages within the box.

LEMON CREME ICE CREAM PIE

1½ c. crushed Lemon Cremes (including filling)
2 T. softened butter
3 pints vanilla ice cream
¼ c. lemonade concentrate
1 drop yellow food coloring

Combine crushed cookies and butter. Firmly press into 9-inch pie plate. Soften 1½ pints of the ice cream. Spread in pie shell. Combine lemonade concentrate and food coloring; swirl over softened ice cream. Freeze until firm to the touch. Soften remaining 1½ pints ice cream and spread over concentrate. Freeze until firm. If desired, garnish with sprigs of fresh mint and lemon slices. Makes 8 servings.

GREEN ANGEL DELIGHT

2 c. crushed Girl Scout Sandwich Cookie crumbs
½ c. melted margarine or butter
1 13-oz. can evaporated milk
1 3-oz. pkg. lime flavored gelatin
1¾ c. hot water
¼ c. lime juice
2 T. lemon juice
1 c. sugar
1 6-oz. pkg chocolate pieces

Mix butter with sandwich cookie crumbs. Line 13 x 9 inch dish with mixture. Whip milk which has been chilled in freezing compartment. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. After partially set, whip until fluffy. Mix juices and sugar together; fold into gelatin. Fold in whipped milk and chocolate pieces. Pour over cookie crumbs. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Makes 14 servings.

DATE AND NUT ROLL

18 Scot-Tea cookies, crumbled
¾ c. chopped dates
14 large marshmallows, cut
1 c. chopped nutmeats
½ c. whipped cream

Combine all the ingredients; mix well and roll up with ½ c. additional Scot-Tea cookies on the outside. Wrap in waxed paper and put in refrigerator at least 5 hours. Cut in slices and top with whipped cream.

MINTED BROWNIE PIE

14 chocolate mint cookies
3 egg whites
salt
¾ c. sugar
½ t. vanilla
½ c. chopped nutmeats
1 c. whipped cream
curls of shaved chocolate

Chill cookies in refrigerator, then roll between waxed paper to make crumbs. Beat egg whites and salt together until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar beating constantly until stiff. Fold in cookie crumbs, vanilla and nutmeats. Spread in buttered 9-inch pie plate and chill several hours. Spoon into dessert dishes. Serve with whipped cream garnished with shaved chocolate curls.

First Aid Course Set

Firemen and their wives will begin instuction Monday night in a 12-hour multi-media first aid course. Joe Wall of Plainview will be the instructor.

Final plans for the course were completed Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Smoke-Puffs, firemen's auxiliary. Classes will be held from 7-10 p.m. for four consecutive Mondays.

Homemakers Plan Social

Young Homemakers have planned an evening of fun for Friday, Feb. 22 in the Homemaking Cottage.

Termed a "casual social" the meeting will include members and husbands and will begin at 8 p.m.

Table games are planned to include "42", bridge, Skip-bo, and others. Snacks will be served.

Young homemakers are invited and urged to be present with husbands as honored guests.

ATTENDS SCHOOL

Garry Peel attended a training session for hydrostat transmission service last week in Dallas. Employed by Wood-Jordan-Davis, Peel was enrolled in the two-day intensive training school which was sponsored by International Harvestor for servicemen in the territory.

HAS SURGERY

Bud Huckabee underwent back surgery in East Dallas Hospital Thursday, Feb. 7.

DKG Entertains County Society

Epsilon Delta Chapter entertained the Delta Kappa Gamma Society of Bailey and Lamb Counties, Saturday, Feb. 2 at 10:30 a.m.

The Executive Board was in session for one half hour. This was followed by a brunch consisting of assorted breads, sausage, frozen fruit salad, baked olives, hot punch and coffee. Business for the month was then taken care of and a challenging program on "New Perspectives-Ladders to Climb" was given. Gladys Hauk was program chairman and was assisted by Maxine Nichols, Iona Donnally and Flora Burks.

Songs were by Ruth Ford and Addie Abernathy led in the closing collect.

Hostesses were Carmalita Barnett, Sue Burgess, Helen Bohner, Linnie Campbell, Eloise Galloway and Uleta Jenkins.

FROM LUBBOCK

Mrs. Nora Thompson of Lubbock visited recently with Mrs. E.S. Huckabee.

board would like, but that progress was being made.

In reporting attendance figures, Superintendent Turner reported a loss of 19 students, five from high school and the remainder from elementary grades. Enrollment now stands at 956.

Turner did report that he was well pleased with average daily attendance, in view of the fact that so many neighboring schools have had to close because of sickness in epidemic proportions.

He stated that local attendance had stood in the low 90 percent until Tuesday when it had dropped to 88 percent.

When asked if he could account for our apparent "good fortune" he attributed it to a stringent program of sanitation measures employed for the last several months.

By way of explanation he stated that a disinfectant solution, such as is used in hospitals, was used daily in rest rooms and showers; a stepped-up sterilization of all utensils was used in the lunchroom; and class rooms are "fogged" daily, with elementary rooms and cafeteria receiving two applications of the disinfecting mist each day. Turner said the cost of the program is very low and he thinks it has certainly proven its worth.

Turner further reported that the lunchroom is operating "in the black" having received current commodities through the food stamp plan for free lunches.

In presenting the School Calendar for approval, Turner stated that the 190 day school term would begin Aug. 19 with In-Service training for teachers.

He pointed out that "We have found it better to start school in the middle of the week than to try to begin after Christmas holidays in the middle of the week."

Therefore the schedule calls for mid-term to begin Jan. 2 with two days in-service for teachers giving students two weeks holiday, barring halts for bad weather earlier.

SCOUT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phares hosted a weiner roast at their home for members of Boy Scout Troop 220.

The boys had hot dogs, chili, potato chips, candy, pops and toasted marshmallows. After supper the group went hiking and played on the trampoline.

Scouts present were Toby Pedroza, Kevin Noack, Bruce Allen, Mike and Gary Cross, Ted Giles, Rex Witten and Lance Phares. Chad and Brent Phares were guests.

The troop meets each Monday at 8 p.m. in the Scout House. New members are needed.

Local Students To Houseparty

Karin Kennedy and Sharon Porch attended the Lubbock Christian College House Party held last weekend for high school students. The Oltonites were guests of Karin's Cousin Kathy Kennedy of Hart.

Friday evening they saw the Master Follies which was produced in Moody Auditorium by the social clubs of the college.

Saturday they lunched at the Lubbock Mall and Saturday night they saw the L.C.C. vs. E.N.M.U. basketball game, Homecoming game for the college.

Sunday morning Karin and Sharon attended services with Kathy at South Side Church of Christ, and lunched in the dorm cafeteria.

OKLAHOMA VISIT

Mrs. R.L. Chitwood returned Monday after an absence of severel days. She was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Ollie Stubblefield of Wilson, Okla., and visited friends, Mrs. Gladys Pickrell of Tipton, Okla., and Mrs. Elsie Shaw, Roosevelt, Okla.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. L.D. Smith flew home Monday after staying a month with her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Fern Hancock and Lisa of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Smith visited there with a granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Murphy, Rick, Scott and Tera.

IN DIMMITT

Mr. and Mrs. E.J. McCord spent Friday afternoon with their nephew's family, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Small, Jeri, Kelli and Toni of Dimmitt.

Oltonites To Houston For Lay Witness Mission

W.T. (Dub) Hall Jr., coordinator, led in a Lay Witness Mission Feb. 8-10 in First Baptist Church of Highlands, a Houston suburb.

Seventy members of the lay-team traveling in two chartered buses were drawn from Perryton, Amarillo, Sunnyside, Edmonson, Olton, Littlefield, Lubbock Tahoka, Snyder and Roscoe.

Additional team members traveling via car came from Nacogdoches, College Station and Abilene.

Members of the bus delegation were hosted Thursday evening and given accomodations for the night by members of the Greenhill Baptist Church of Snyder and First Baptist Church of Roscoe.

Local people making this trip to take part in the weekend meeting were Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sorley and Cynthia; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coen and Kevin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Howard and Billy Carl; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bundick; Mr. and Mrs. David Kersh; Bill Mason and David; Mrs. Don Huguley; Mrs. C.S. Silcott and Misses Brynea Allcorn and Debra Jordan.

We're Sorry!

Our apologies go out this week for a double failure in the account of the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

First, in behalf of Farmer of the Year "Cotton" Lewis, we failed to mention a number of worthwhile ways he's served his fellowmen. An active supporter of the annual FFA, FHA and 4-H Stock Show, he annually donates a trophy to be presented to the outstanding exhibitor. He has also served as 4-H Club adult leader.

Lewis has served three terms on the CCA board of directors and has served on the board of directors of the Central Plains Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center in Plainview since its beginning.

He has worked on fund drives for the Salvation Army and Boy Scouts of America.

A great big "We're sorry" goes out, too, to Toro Grain for our failure to acknowledge their generous gift of the delicious New York City strip steaks.

Toro is a new member of the Chamber along with Sorley Supply and Farmers Pump Company.

Bible Class Hosts Supper

Members of Adult Bible School Class of Main Street Church of Christ held a salad supper and fellowship hour at the County Club Sunday evening following church services. Milton Caraway, minister, is teacher of the class.

ATTEND SERVICES

Last rites for Mrs. Lille McFatridge, 88, were held Monday afternoon in the Methodist Church of Tell. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Shorty Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Smith, their son Joe Bob and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Smith, attended the services.

TO BE FEATURED at a "Pops" concert are Greg Burgess, Kevin Workman and Brad Kelley, members of Olton High School Band. The concert is scheduled Thursday night following a PTA meeting.

Youth Party In McGill Home

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students who attend Main Street Church of Christ Bible classes were entertained by their teachers, Mrs. Lowell McGill and Mrs. D.M. Granbery Friday evening in the McGill home.

Rex Boyles of Lubbock School of Preaching presented the Devotional and conducted a Bible quiz.

Young people present were Sharla Nicholas, Nina Spurlin, D.F. Roberts Jr., Kevin Williams, James Roberts, Melissa Caraway and Dent McGill.

Refreshments were served.

FROM ROSWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Duncan and McAlan, of Roswell, N.M., have been guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGill. Arriving Thursday Mrs. Duncan and her son remained here while her husband made a business trip. Following a Sunday visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Duncan of Shallowater, the Roswellites returned to their home Monday.

SCOUT NEWS

Brownie Troop No. 306 celebrated Valentine's Day with a party in the Scout hut Tuesday.

The girls worked on the banquet decorations for the upcoming Girl Scout Banquet, which is scheduled for March 15.

Refreshments of Valentine cake and red punch were served by Mrs. Burley Faver and Mrs. Bob Coen to Christi Williams, Mindy Faver, Donna Griffin, Jessie Luera, Melinda Salas, Jacquie Smith, Jackie Peel, Charla Franklin, Denette Burgess, Kim Coen, Gaylene Truelock, Chona Ross and Rosa Marroquin.

Valentine favors were presented to each girl in attendance.

The Junior Girl Scouts met Monday at the Scout Hut for their regular meeting, and made Valentine cards for their parents.

The Girl Scout Cookie sale was discussed, and final plans were made.

Mrs. Gene Gee served refreshments of candy bars and Cokes to Patsy Brown, Tonya Brooks, Denise Houston, Leigh Kersh, Tonya Kimbrough, Thelma Wade, Debra Lockett, Melba Lockett, Teresa Tinner, and assistant leader, Carol Scribiner.

The group meets each Monday afternoon from 4:12 to 5:15 in the Scout Hut. New members are invited.

Cookie Sale Starts Friday

Brownie Scouts and Girl Scouts will begin their annual cookie sale at 4 p.m. Friday with sales continuing through March 9 or until their supply is exhausted.

Selling for $1 per box, the cookies come in five choices--Lemon Cremes, Sandwich Creams, Scot-Teas (butter cookies), Mint and Savannahs (peanut butter.)

Local troops will keep 10 cents per box for use in the local organization. The remaining portion is used for maintenance and improvement of Camp Rio Blanco; camping equipment for the troops to check out; funds to help girls attend national events; selling awards and to help provide a new Council service center in Lubbock.

Girls selling 20 boxes will receive a cookie certificate. Other awards are given for selling 35 boxes, a poster; 50, comb and file set; 100, cookie patch; and 180, campership to Camp Rio Blanco.

The Caprock Council, of which Olton is a part, needs the support of everyone to accomplish their goal of 100,000 boxes in the 1974 cookie sale campaign.

Cookies this year are secured from a new company-Burry, a division of Quaker Oats Company.

The three local troops have ordered 1,400 boxes of cookies. Brownie Troop #60 will try to sell 600 boxes; Troop #306, 500 boxes and Junior Scouts. 300 boxes.

'Pops' Concert, PTA Slated

A "Pops" concert will be presented Thursday evening in the high school auditorium and will feature selections that everyone will know and enjoy, says Band Director Fred Stockdale.

The concert will follow immediately a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Winston Bley, fifth grade teacher, will speak in the annual Founders Day observance.

Slated to begin at 7:30 p.m., members of the Brownie Scouts will conduct the flag ceremony.

Features of the concert will include a trumpet trio, Brad Kelley, Kevin Workman and Gregg Burgess, playing Leory Anderson's "Buglers Holiday."

Other selections will include highlights from "Mary Poppins" and "Greensleeves." A special treat for the audience, Stockdale says, is the opportunity to hear the concert band play accompaniment for a moog synthesiser recorded on tape. The synthesiser is a tone generator fed into a computor to produce different recorded tones.

Sounds will be familiar to many people who talk long distance and hear tones as numbers are dialed by the operator. The tune played by the synthesiser is entitled "Pop Corn" and was popular last year as an instrumental number.

The concert will conclude with the Mustang Band's production "Instant Concert," which includes 30 familiar melodies played in three minutes.

A brief meeting of Band Parents is called following the concert.

Trash Problem

Attention has been called to a problem in the alley south of Ninth Street in the Hillcrest Addition, according to word from city hall.

Residents are asked to make sure that trash is burned and/or kept in barrels and cans. Blowing refuse has caused hardship on the farmer who owns the land next to this alley. Irrigation furrows are stopped up by the blowing trash and officials at the city hall asked that care be taken in disposing of the trash.

Olton Musicians, Parents To Ski In High Country

Some 141 Mustang Band members, parents and guests will leave Olton Friday, Feb. 22, at 4:30 p.m. for a weekend of skiing at Red River, N.M.

Planned by the seniors in the band, while on a trip to Colorado last summer, the size of the group has greatly increased and now includes 50 adults and 91 students. The trip will be made in three chartered buses.

Group reservation and travel rates have been kept so low that family members and some friends have been included for the weekend of fun.

Buses will arrive at the Band parking lot at 3 p.m. and loading will begin so that departure can be made immediately after dismissal of school. Traveling at 55 miles per hour via Clovis, the buses are scheduled to arrive at Red River after six hours, forty-five minutes of non-stop driving.

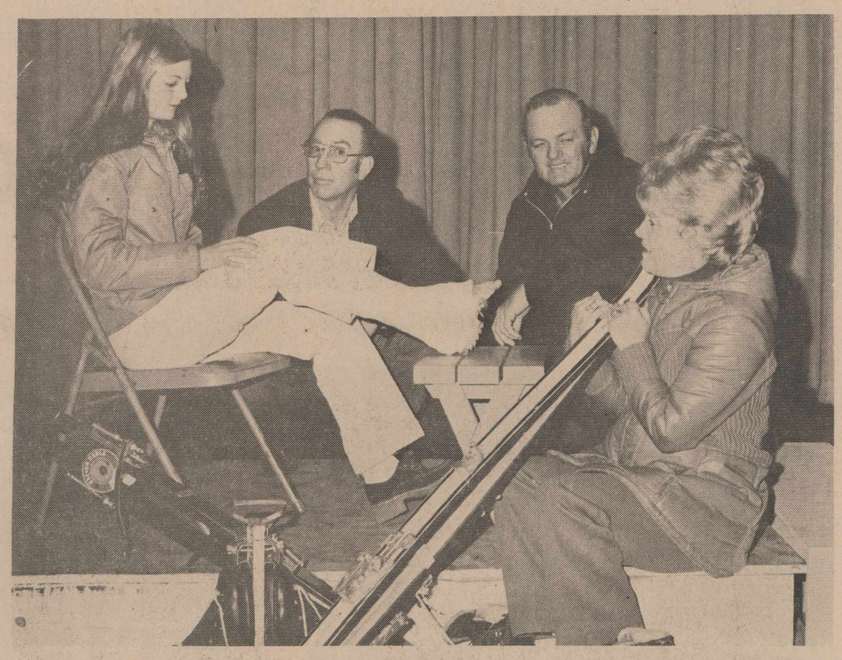

Activities will begin Saturday morning with ski checkout and a two hour lesson for the majority of the band. A second session of skiing wil be available Sunday, before the return trip which will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Housing arrangements and ski rental have been handled by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lacy. Denny Barnett, Band Parents organization president, and Willie Gene Green, past president, are assisting with other details of the excursion.

All sixteen units of Terrace Towers Lodge have been booked for the band and its guests.

Fred Stockdale, band director, has emphasized that the trip is not sponsored by the school. Each member of the group will pay his own expenses.

"The Band," Stockdale says, "has scheduled a spring trip. On May 9, 10 and 11 they will compete in the Six Flags Over Texas band contest."

WANT TO GO SKIING? - Three charter buses are scheduled to leave next Friday for Red River, N.M. and the ski slopes. Denny Barnett, Willie Green and Tammye Green (who has evidence that skiing is fun?) is shown here with Mrs. Willie Green, discussing the upcoming trip. Barnett seems to have doubts as to his feeling of skiing.

"To save energy and money this summer . . . cool your home with Gas Central Air Conditioning.

You save with a gas system because it's a more efficient energy user than its electric counterpart. It's more efficient because gas, unlike electricity, is a direct source of energy. You don't have the energy loss that occurs in electrical generation and transmission.

We help you save in another way, too.

In addition to determining the exact cooling requirements of your home, our cooling specialists also check your attic insulation. If it's insufficient, insulation is added and included as part of the job. Proper insulation saves energy and money for both cooling and heating.
So, beat the summer rush.

CALL US NOW FOR A FREE COOLING SURVEY AND ASK ABOUT SPECIAL WINTER TERMS.

PIONEER NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Also, if you're buying or building a home make sure it's a Natural Energy Home with Gas cooling and get more for your energy dollar year 'round."

P-A-G

Man-that's Sorghum!

Mr. Farmer, seed selection time is here and this year you can be sure of making a wise choice when you pick any of the following P-A-G "Proven Performance" Hybrid Sorghums. Every P-A-G variety features big heads of grain that dry down fast.

And more importantly . . . each is a proven yielder!

Book your P-A-G Hybrid Sorghum by February 28, 1974 and take advantage of your P-A-G Dealer's Booking Bonus Program. For each ten bags booked and purchased, you'll get one bag FREE.

Check the outstanding characteristics of these P-A-G Hybrids and then contact your local P-A-G Dealer today.

Adapted for areas where a medium early hybrid is desired. Large semi-open heads dry down fast. Excellent for farmers with limited water or for late planting, or a dry land sorghum crop. Fast maturity, high yield potential and easy harvest are features of this P-A-G variety.

511

A hetero-yellow endosperm adapted to both irrigated and dryland conditions. Matures medium to medium late. Excellent MDM tolerance and smut resistance. 511 features outstanding head exertion, threshability and standability. Heads are large and open.

516

If MDM and head smut tend to be a problem, 516 is a wise choice. A medium late maturing hybrid with outstanding yield potential. The head is semi-compact but drys down fast. Excellent head exertion and threshability. Record yields reported during 1973.

662

A full season hetero-yellow endosperm hybrid with head smut resistance and tolerant to MDM. At maturity, heads open well in this medium short plant. Excellent standability characteristics. Performs well throughout the sorghum belt.

BOOKING BONUS AVAILABLE THROUGH FEBRUARY 28

Fillies Lose To Whirlettes, 50-48

Olton High Fillies met Floydada Monday night in the first bi-district tilt ever for the school.

A close fought game, the results could just as easily been in Olton's favor at the end. However, when the last seconds ticked off, Floydada's Whirlettes were two points ahead and Olton had lost 50-48.

High scorer for the Fillies was Susie Culwell who sunk 22. Donna Hodges basketed 14 and Donna Muller was close behind with 12.

Leading with rebounds was Donna Muller, who had 6; Laurie Gallagher, 5; and Susie Culwell and Donna Hodges each got 3.

At halftime, Olton led 28-27.

Scores according to each quarter of play were Olton, first, 20 points; second 8 points; 3rd, 8; and 4th, 12. Floydada had 19, 8, 12, and 11.

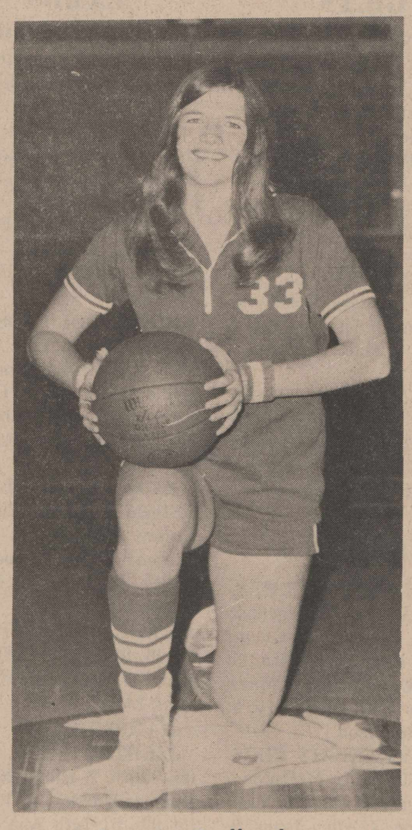

Floydada attempted 18 free throws and sunk 16, while Olton attempted 8 and sunk 6.

Named to all-district team were Susie Culwell, Laurie Gallagher and Carla Moses. Donna Muller received honorable mention.

Write In The Groove

BRYAN ALLCORN AND FREDDY STOCKDALE

We start off this week with an interesting news flash. On Wednesday at OHS, yes! OHS, there was a bidding war going on. No, it wasn't between the NBA and the ABA, or the NHL against the WHA. This was a war going on between the G.I.L.W.M. and the G.I.L.W.M.A. In case you don't comprehend, G.I.L.W.M. stands for the "Girl In Love With Me" and G.I.L.W.M.A. stands for the "Girl In Love With Me Also."

Also this week, we feature a preview of some of the things in store for spring. First of all, the track outlook is good. In the girls division, the defending district champions have just about everybody back. Some of their hopefuls are: Melanie Cowart, Donna Hodges, Cindy Moore, Marla Favor, and Holly Daughtry are the sprinters. Striding out in the distance events will be Kim Barnett, Kay Givens and Carla Clark. Last but not least, Donna Muller, Jimmie Graham, and Laurie Gallagher will be the "Chunkers", or as they are more famously known, "The Weight Men." The boys will undoubtedly be lead by "The Fearsome Foursome." Joe Alcorta and John Rodriquez are listed as promising newcomers, while David Daughtry could be a darkhouse.

Olton is also defending champion in the UIL Literary events. The One-Act play cast will perform "Screwtape" with Monte Chitwood and Mark Gunter in the lead roles, although Ferd and Byron cast their votes to a play called "The Boys on the Bus" which was performed last Tuesday night. The program included such stars as Robert Offield singing his version of "I Don't Know the Words", Ruben Saldivar's version of "Silent Night," Kevin "Silver Tongue" Workman with tear jerking version of "The School Song," and Elvis starring with Glen "Jigaboo" Johnson and a cast of a thousand screaming fans.

Our great golf team will be made of such greats as "The Grip," "The Stud," "Watermelon," and "Ticky." Then of course there's always "you know who."

Also, if there is enough interest, we may have a talent show or two. First prize is a date with the waitress we had at Friona. Second prize is two dates.

Now on with the comments:
Donna M. and Jimmie G.-Jackin em up?
Kim B.- Frenchy
Paul A. - New publisher of SCOPE magazine.
Gayla M. - New line in zippers.
Mike F. - One tin soldier.
Glen J. - Shake, baby, shake.

Olton Auto

schedules and had the doors open by 7 a.m. or earlier.

Roy Salas worked a number of years for Locke and came back to the firm several months ago. Harold "Tiny" Jordan has been with the business since 1956 and became manager when Wyman Blackwell moved from Olton in 1964.

The original building, located just a bit north of the company's present day location, was involved in a freak accident in its earlier days. One Sunday afternoon a driver failed to negotiate the turn from Highway 70 onto Main Street and smashed into the small frame building knocking it off its foundation.

"Our stock wasn't very large but there were auto parts everywhere," Mardema remembers.

That building was replaced with the brick building which now houses Thompson Chevrolet's body shop. The business was moved to its present location in 1957.

Undersirable publicity in area papers in the early 1950's contributed to an unforgettable event in the business' history. When newspapers picked up the local story of the town being without the services of a nightwatchman, the business became the target of burglars who left extensive damages in their attempt to "blow the safe."

Auto parts were blown all over the store and the firms' bookkeeping records scattered from the store to the alley in back where many were blown away.

Mardema for some time now has been bookkeeper for Olton Auto, something her father had always wanted, she says. Helping her during her mother's illness were Harold's wife, Bettye and their daughter, Debbie.

The years have brought numerous changes for the auto parts business. The trend of today is to a return to "fix it yourself." Stock, too, reflects the changing era.

Jordan explaining the change says when he began work at Olton Auto probably 95 percent of the people had their work done but today about 75 percent do their own repairs with the exception of major overhauls.

Today's inventory must be much more extensive business."

Olton Auto's thirty-fourth anniversary is being celebrated with the firm giving away a number of copies of a very helpful book "The Time-Life Book of the Family Car."

Complete with illustrations and step-by-step instructions, it is a book that Mardema describes "I think it could help even me fix a car."

Friends and customers may register for the free books through March 16.

"I think it's interesting and it makes me very proud," Mardema says sincerely, "that the business has some second and third generation customers."

"We're no longer a 'very simple business'," Mardema says. "With gadgetry to today it is a very complex than in those days. More and more accessories through the years have made a demand for many more parts.

must be provided if there is more than one floor.

In the lower level, a community center room, with an estimated 2000 sq. ft.; storm shelter; serving kitchen; emergency operating center, restrooms and storage units plus stairways and elevators would be housed.

Councilmen agreed to look into the possible ways of financing such a structure and will meet with the group and other interested persons Feb. 26 at 7:30 at the city hall.

Those attending were Basil Sherman, Doug Goen, Don Loafman, Garland Ruthart, Eleanor Sudduth, Robert Sivley, Owen Jones, Melvin Rape, Larry Garvin, Bob Duncan, Leon Noack and Tom Sluder. Spokesman for the group was Carl McClure.

In other action, councilmen agree to pass an ordinance for Pioneer Natural Gas Company, giving them the authority to regulate rates of gas on a monthly basis rather than a yearly basis as had been in the past.

Councilmen were told that a fence would have to be built around the water tower and instructed Water Superintendent Orian Hackler to look into the costs of six foot chain link fencing. Hackler said that Green Thumb workers would erect the fence at no cost to the city.

In final action, councilmen voted to give the mayor the authority to call an election for April 6 at which time three councilmen will be elected. Term of Joe Hall, Vernon Nixon and Jimmie Jenkins will expire. Fred Hicks was named election judge, with V.Y. Jefferies as assistant. Alternate will be W.T. Hankins.

A request for a rate increase by General Telephone was tabled because of the lack of information needed to make a decision at this time.
