Oklahoma Gunman Breaks Long Silence In Prison

TRIAL SET APRIL 10

Maintaining Innocence, He Says He Is a Victim Of Frame-up

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., April 16.—Jack Russell, 21 years old, alleged Texas bad man, who will be tried here for murder April 20 in connection with the death of Herbert Buckner and Jim Hendrix on a lonely Stephens county road February 2, has at last broken his long silence and talked.

Russell refused for more than a month to speak with any persons but his attorney in connection with the case. He is said to have maintained his silence in his cell and not to have spoken to other men in the jail.

Russell is alleged to have been riding with Hendrix and four or five others when they attempted to hold up Buckner and another man who were riding on the road in a heavy truck. They opened fire, according to the story pieced together by officers, and the shooting was returned from the truck.

Maintains Innocence

The two men were killed and after more than a month Russell was arrested in southern Texas and returned to face trial. Russell maintains he is innocent of the crime, and that there are two men who can prove he was not at the shooting, though he agrees that he knew beforehand that it might occur.

He declared that the men can voluntarily prove his "perfect alibi" and free him, or he will take the "small" sentence he thinks may be given him. Jess Long, county attorney, plans to ask the death sentence for Russell.

"I wouldn't mind going up for a year," Russell said. "Then I wouldn't mind returning to Texas for serving

Fork In a Road Makes Decision For Texas Army

Suffering Army's Spirit Leaps High Again When Battle With Santa Ana Impends

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT
Courier Dispatch to the Record News

HOUSTON'S HEADQUARTERS, April 16, 1836—The Texas army is marching toward the enemy. Toward battle for the first time since the Alamo and the horrible treachery of Goliad. On a turn at the forks of the road today hangs the destiny of an American republic in the southwest, and hangs the fate of more than 2,000 Anglo Saxon settlers in this dominion whose indpendence was declared on March second.

Tonight the Texans are marching toward Harrisburg, toward the burning capital of the tottering republic, toward the forces of General Santa Ana, usurper-dictator of Mexico, who is scouring south Texas in ruthless determination to kill or to drive every American back across the Sabine.

The most dramatic moment of the war, since the emotional scene when Thomas J. Rusk, secretary of war, came to the army headquarters of General Sam Houston and pleaded for a last desperate stand to be taken and that the Alamo be avenged, came today. It came upon the army at a tense time of uncertainty and expectancy. Ragged soldiers of the little undisciplined force cheered the event as an augury of new hope.

General Sam Houston rode at the head of his seven hundred men today in their march away from the Brazos. The army left the Brazos early today, where it had camped two days after making a difficult crossing. The soldiers followed the winding trail southeastward. Many

Caliche Hills Of Texas Give Rubber To World's Supply

SAN ANTONIO, April 16.—(AP)—The Caliche covered hills and mountains of West Texas bordering on the Rio Grande river, are contributing materially to this country's depleted rubber supply and have potentialities of developing an industry that may attract nation-wide attention, Harry Adams, supervisor of parks for the Southern Pacific in Texas and Louisiana, said here today.

The Border Rubber company of Marathon, formed a few years ago in a small way and gradually expanded until its present plant represents an investment of approximately $25,000, is now shipping crude rubber made from the rubber, or "hule" weeds, which grow on the hillside, where no other vegetation seems to survive.

British Shipper Leaves Fortune

LONDON, April 16.—(AP)—Sir Robert Paterson Houston, 73-year-old shipping baronet who died on the Island of Jersey on Wednesday, left a fortune estimated at 7,000,000 pounds. It is reported in the press that he willed the bulk of his estate to a cabinet minister and some of the papers believe the minister to be Lord Birkenhead.

Lord Birkenhead and Sir Robert had been close friends for 20 years. Sir Robert left no relatives except his widow, who, before their marriage in 1924, was Lady Lucy Byron.

Announcement Sunday To Give Details Of Beauty Contest Here

Definite announcement of dates, places and other information concerning the contest to be staged here as a preliminary to the annual bathing girl revue at Galveston will be announced Sunday, it was decided Friday. Practically all details for the big event have been worked out by this time.

The contest here will be for the selection of an official "Miss Wichita Falls" who will represent this city in the Galveston beauty pageant. It is possible two victors will be named here, the second, perhaps, to be known as "Miss Wichita County."

The winner, or winners, will be given a trip to Galveston with all expenses paid where she will have the opportunity of competing with winners from other sections of the state in the great Galveston revue which is one of the features of the southwest. The winner of this goes to the Atlantic City beauty pageant where "Miss America" is annually crowned. In addition to this prize, valuable other awards are to be competed for, these being in the form of cash, clothing, jewels and other articles.

The local contest will be conducted by competent officials and with a close eye to propriety.

MA OPPOSES SPECIAL BOND SESSION CALL

Time Inopportune to Ask Legislature to Validate Them

MEETING DEMANDS IT

Representatives Gather In Fort Worth to Plan Action

AUSTIN, April 16.—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson reiterated today that no special session of the legislature will be called at this time seeking to validate district road bonds. She said the bill proposed by interested parties at Fort Worth had been received but is yet to be considered.

Upon her return from Dallas this morning where she pitched the first ball in the Dallas-Fort Worth game of the Texas league Thursday, she was beseiged with invitations to open other sporting events, practically all of which she declined.

FORT WORTH, April 16.—(AP) After looking the situation squarely in the face representative Texas state, county and city officials at a meeting here decided to present a memorandum to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson requesting her to call a special road bond validation session of the legislature at the earliest possible moment.

Convinced that the state is losing almost daily on bond issues, a sum equal to the $50,000 it would cost to call the special session, state senators and representatives agreed to a truce with Governor Ferguson and to go into such a session for the sole purpose of enacting the required legislation for validation of the bonds.

Bankers Present

Afternoon talks were brief and to the point; that they carried weight seemed evident. Alden H. Little, St. Louis, who came here to represent the American Investment Bankers association, told of the enlistment of his association of the best legal ability in the country in an effort to straighten out the tangle which cast a shadow over all Texas bonds, whether involved in the Archer county decision or not.

A. R. Losh, engineer in charge of the United States bureau of public roods, stated that the situation has caused the curtailment by fifty per cent of road building activities in Texas with further reductions in view unless immediate action is taken. This reduction naturally cuts off a large amount of federal aid, he said.

State Senator Edgar E. Witt of Waco, declaring that the situation requires a special session, evinced entire willingness to "leave the other governmental trouble for later consideration" in the event a special session is called.

Fort Worth Loses

State Senator Robert A. Stuart of Fort Worth likewise stated a willingness to abjure partisan politics at a special session and pointed out that Fort Worth alone has already a loss of $250,000 in sight on bonds already voted, due to the depressed market for Texas bonds of any kind.

State Senator Jesse R. Smith of Breckenridge, echoed the sentiments already expressed in regard to attending strictly to bond validation if a special session is called.

The committee named to draw the memorial to Governor Ferguson consists of Clifford B. Jones, Spur; Tucker Royall, Palestine; Sewell Myer, Houston; J. A. Kemp, Wichita Falls; Leonard Tillotson, Sealy. The general committee appointed to take over the situation and call whatever meetings are required is made up as follows:

Tillotson, chairman; Mayor O. F. Holcombe, Houston; Mayor H. C. Meacham, Fort Worth; C. Y. Welch, Quanah; J. B. Rector, Austin Homer D. Wade, Fort Worth; R. J. Potts, Waco; Jesse Wright, Corpus Christi; J. J. Collins, Dallas; C. C. Walsh, Dallas; J. A. Kemp, Wichita Falls.

Taking Bath Is Disastrous To Texas Man

Found In Bath Tub In Barber Shop, Electrocuted; Revived

RISING STAR, April 16.—(AP) After 12 hours unconsciousness, Ted Barnes, 24, of Sipe Springs, was revived from the effects of electrocution of a barber shop bath tub here. He is expected to recover.

Barbers think Barnes must have slipped and grabbed a nearby electric light, causing a short circuit as he fell into the tub.

He was submerged with water in his lungs when found.

F. H. PROTESTS NEW CHURCH

Proposed Baptist Structure At Buchanan And F Under Fire

Organized opposition on the part of residents of Floral Heights addition to prevent construction of the Floral Heights Baptist church within the confines of that portion of the city loomed Friday night.

Residents of the section, which roughly includes Buchanan, Grant, Tilden and Hayes from Tenth street to the fire station announced their intention of calling a mass meeting of property owners at the court house tonight at which time the policy of restriction to be followed hereafter will be discussed.

Property in the Floral Heights addition was purchased by the present owners, it is claimed, with the proviso in the deed that only residences were to be built. Although this restriction is understood to have expired some time ago, it is also said it can be continued or made permanent upon agreement of a majority of property owners.

No need for such restriction has been felt until recent announcement of the church to be built at Avenue F and Buchanan. The church, it is claimed, will be a detriment to property values in its immediatae neighborhood.

Several hundred delegates attended the sessions which are to continue through Saturday.

ZENITH WINS SOCALLED AIR 'PIRACY' CASE

Federal Judge Holds Government Not Within Rights

HALTS REGULATION

Appropriation of Wave Lengths Endorsed By Court

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—The first "air piracy" case in the history of radio in the United States was decided here today in favor of the Zenith Radio corporation and its president, Eugene F. McDonald, Jr., against the government in the court of federal District Judge James H. Wilkerson. The government in criminal action charged the defendants with operating radio apparatus contrary to the license issued to the corporation's station WJAZ. Four specific allegations were made.

The court held that sections one and two of the wireless act of 1912—the only laws existing that apply to broadcasting—were ambiguous and that the act itself did not empower the secretary of commerce with certain discretionary powers which he has alleged assumed. The decision is considered by attorneys as blanketing the administrative rulings of the secretary of commerce.

Limit Broadcasting.

Station WJAZ was licensed to operate one night a week for two hours on the same wave length of 332.4 meters assigned to the General Electric company station KOA at Denver. Unable to obtain permission for more time, WJAZ wilfully "pirated" a wave length which was set aside for use of Canadian broadcasting stations and according to the briefs in the case took this action in the hope of initiating court action and bringing about legislation and clarification of the existing broadcasting laws and regulations. In addition to using the wave length the station also extended its time on the air.

In regard to the regulations, Judge Wilkerson in his decision said:

"There is no express grant of power in the act to the secretary of commerce to establish regulations. The regulations, subject to which the licence is granted are contained in the fourth section of the act. The defendants license authorizes a use of a wave length of 322.4 meters on Thursday nights from 10 to 12 p. m., when the use of this period is not desired by the General Electric company's Denver station.

"The secretary of commerce is required to issue the license subject to the regulations of the act. The congress has withheld from him the power to prescribe additional regulations. If there is a conflict between a provision in the license and the regulations established by congress, the latter must control."

No Chaos Expected.

Regarding the division of time with another station the decision says "the statute is ambiguous in this respect and while it should be given reasonable construction ambiguities are not to be solved so as to embrace offenses not clearly within the law."

McDonald, in a statement, said such a decision was expected.

He and his attorneys interpreted the decision as having "absolutely no effect on the average broadcasting stations and chaos can not result in spite of the recent newspaper statement of Secretary Hoover. The decision will prevent seizure on piracy of wave bands by unlicensed stations or by stations not specifically licensed as manufacturers are experimenters as the present law provides."

J. Elliott Byrne, assistant federal district attorney said steps would be taken in an effort to appeal the decision.

San Antonio Oil Well Owners Are Shy of Publicity

SAN ANTONIO, April 16.—(AP)—Friction between property owners in the Mission Grove district of San Antonio and the scores of curious persons who daily visit the scenes of a miniature oil boom is increasing with the number of wells.

On two streets in the neighborhood of little bungalows and chicken yards, seven wells have been drilled and all, with the exception of the "discovery" well, which was filled in, are producing some oil, at 12 to 15 feet. Since news of the "oil pool" spread a week ago today, thousands of persons including oil experts, have visited Mission Grove.

But no wthe Mission Grove residents, shrinking from publicity, have invoked business like measures to protect their flowers and gardens from tramping. One woman put up a sign reading:

"There is no oil here, and you keep off the grass."

FORMER OFFICIAL GUILTY

DEL RIO, Texas, April 16.—(AP) oe Johnson, former city official, was found guilty in district court here Friday of aggravated assult. He was fined $500 and sentenced to 60 days in jail. Jackson is now deputy sheriff in Schleicher county. Motion for a new trial will be argued Saturday.

J. D. White, Deputy Sheriff, Filed On For Hitting Scribe

Officer Riled at Request for Grand Jury Data, Answers With Fists Flying

Charges of assault and battery were filed Friday afternoon against Dennis White, a deputy sheriff under Fred K. Smith, following an unprovoked attack on a Record News reporter a short time before. A warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace R. V. Guinn and after White had appeared before the justice the case was set for trail at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

White, evidently incensed at a request from A. D. Hallman, court house reporter for The Record News, floored the latter with a stiff swing as Hallman stood with his hands in his pockets. He had asked for some information concerning the final report of the grand jury Friday afternoon. The officer was sitting in a chair when the reporter made his original request and answered this with a curt assertion that "if you get anything out of here it will have to be from Fred Smith."

Then Fists Fly.

"Well, that attitude is not going to do either of us any good," Hallman told him, mindful of the fact that White as office deputy is in charge of all jail and department records. White's answer was a leap from his chair and a swing of his fists.

Shortly after the attack, County Attorney Wayne Somerville took the complaint which was sworn out and the warrant for White's arrest was issued a few minutes later by Judge Gwinn.

White's display of temper came as a climax to a period of surliness starting when the Record News printed stories to the effect that the sheriff's department was active in efforts to secure a parole for Jack Jackson, convicted murderer. On March 11, the Record News carried a front page story telling that Jackson, who was shortly to be taken to Huntsville to begin serving his sentence, was seeking desperately to obtain at least an extension of time in order to "get his personal affairs into shape."

Seeks to Aid Jackson.

White was actively engaged at the court house seeking to enlist the aid of various officials who he wanted to intercede with Governor Ferguson in Jackson's behalf. He met with but little success, a fact duly chronicled by the Record News, and the next day Hallman was threatened with physical violence. Nothing more serious resulted at the time, however.

The campaign in Jackson's behalf was continued by White, however, and on March 13, Governor Ferguson granted the 60-day furlough after Sheriff Smith had gone to Austin to present his case to the executive. The front page of the March 14 issue of the Record News carried a story telling of the governor's action. It was announced that the 60 days of liberty had been granted to allow Jackson "to put his personal affairs in shape before going to the penitentiary."

On April 6th Jackson and two others men were arrested in this city following the hi-jacking of a Hilliday grocer and an assistant a short time before. One of Jackson's two companions carried a commission issued by the sheriff's department here. It was canceled the next morning by Sheriff Smith.

LEGION CELEBRATES

San Antonio Post to Make Merry Over Successful Drive.

AUSTIN, April 16.—(AP)—S. M. Hankins, state adjutant of the American Legion, and John Fulcher, assistant adjutant, left tonight for San Antonio, where Saturday they will of the Alamo post of the legion. The participate in a jollification meeting meeting will celebrate meeting of the Alamo post of the legion. The meeting will celebrate Wednesday's enrolling of one thousand new members. John R. McQuigg, national commander, was in San Antonio at the time.

"The feat of the San Antonio post is the outstanding yet accomplished by a Texas post," Hankins said.

Select Your Men With More Care, Grand Jury Asks

Declares Officers Should Be More Judicious In Their Picking

A recommendation to city and county department heads that they be more careful in the future in the selection of their deputies, and a blanket criticism of the failure of city, precinct and county officials to work together in enforcement of law and suppression of crime form the two high-lights in the report of the grand jury of the 30th district court which adjourned Friday afternoon after two weeks of work.

"Our investigations have developed the fact," the report reads, "that there seems to be a feeling of hostility between sheriff, constable and city police departments of our law enforcement bodies, rather than a spirit of cooperation and a desire to assist each other in the apprehension of criminals. We recommend to the heads of these three departments that they endeavor to get together and work out a plan whereby they may cooperate together to the end that crime may be suppressed and the law more vigorously enforced in the county, than is now the case where there is not cooperation between them."

Need Better Selection

The report further states, "We further recommend that the city and county department heads be more careful in the future in the selection of men for officers to the end that only such men be placed in position of trust and power as are efficient officers and have made good records in the past."

The report is signed by C. E. McDannald, foreman.

In its prelude it states that the grand jury has been in session eight days, examining 300 witnesses and returning a total of 81 bills of indictment. The body was adjourned by Judge Wilson following the returning of the final report.

SEE BIG YEAR AHEAD

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—A bigger year in 1926 for the Southern Pacific than in 1925 is foreseen by William Sproule, president who says that more satisfactory weather conditions from Oregon to Texas makes the agricultural outlook in the road's territory more promising than a year ago and his belief that general business at least should continue its present pace. Gross revenues for March were larger than a year ago. Fruit crops, mining and other industrials were making satisfactory progress.

Look What The Mayor Did!

Straw Hat Day Next Tuesday

With all the whereases and wherefores pertinent to a question of such moment, Mayor R. E. Shepherd yesterday issued an official proclamation designating next Tuesday, April 20, as straw hat day in Wichita Falls.

It seems that the general health of that infamous animal known generally and specifically as "The Male" will be considerably impaired not to say endangered, by continuing the use of head gear other than those constructed of a hay field product. It is therefore incumbent on all and sundry, the mayor hazards, to straightway acquire a straw lid in the interests of health, comfort and the city's physical appearance.

The proclamation is as follows:

PROCLAMATION

Know all men by these presents:

That, whereas the winter season has passed into the beyond and that fiery orbit known as Old Sol is fast approaching our immediate proximity, it becomes necessary for that species of the sex known as "The Male," to safeguard his health and comfort as well as improve his general appearance.

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it known that OFFICIAL STRAW HAT DAY be declared in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 20th day of April, A. D., 1926. This date to mark the opening of the Summer Season and be the occasion for the appearance of Straw Hats throughout the city.

(signed) R. E. SHEPHERD, Mayor.

"HER MAN"

--By Beatrice Burton--

READ THIS FIRST:

SYLVIA STARR has been engaged to RANDALL PHELPS for a year when he asks her to free him because he's fallen in love with her chum, FAY SHIRLEY.

Heartbroken, Sylvia gives him up, to the great satisfaction of her AUNT AGONY, the shrewd old maid who brought her up. Aunt Agony calls Ranny a good-for-nothing and says he'll never be faithful to any woman. Her opinion of him seems to be right, too, for presently he drops Fay and marries Sylvia after all!

After they're married he and Fay have a second love affair. And he gambles and drinks, and Sylvia has to give piano lessons to help keep a roof over their heads.

But when she breaks the news that she's going to have a baby, Ranny turns over a new leaf and behaves himself for a while. And Fay quickly announces her engagement to an old beau of hers, EDDIE CARTER.

Soon after the birth of JUNIOR, the baby, Ranny goes back to his old habits, however. He gives Sylvia almost no money and buys himself an expensive new car to take his latest "crush," MRS. JANE BRACKETT, a grass widow, out riding. Sylvia goes on with her singing lessons from her former teacher.

One afternoon she sings at a tea given by MOTHER PHELPS, but Ranny forbids her ever to do it again. He says he's not going to be known as the husband of "Sylvia Phelps, the Singer." But Sylvia writes a song, "When Everything's Said," that becomes popular, and she wonders what Ranny will say when he comes back from a vacation in the North Woods and finds that his wife has become celebrated almost overnight! He is jealous of Sylvia and hates anyone to pay attention to her, especially PETER WILK, the bachelor brother of Aunt Agony's good friend, MISS SARAH WILK.

Aunt Agony and Sylvia take the baby to a country inn for a rest. Fay comes with two unknown men named "Bill" and "Jim" and drinks her way through a luncheon with Sylvia. Afterward when Sylvia says goodby, Bill suddenly decides on going somewhere else for more drink. When Sylvia refuses to go, he throws her in the car. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

It was the first time in all the twenty-four years of her life that any man but Ranny Phelps had ever touched Sylvia's lips. It was the first time she had ever been kissed against her own free will!

Dozens of men had tried to make love to her, of course! You couldn't be as beautiful as she was and not have them make love to you!

The tantalising red flower of her mouth drew men in the same way that a rose draws bees to its perfume self; but in spite of them all, she had kept her lips unsoiled for Ranny!

It had not been easy. No, indeed!

For in these days of "mugging" parties and I-should-worry morals, men seldom believe that when a girl says "no" she means "no." But Sylvia always meant it!

And so, when the strange man beside her caught her to him and planted not one, but many, hard, brutal kisses on her soft mouth, she lost her head completely.

She went mad with fury for an instant, and she did an insane thing.

She braced herself against the side of the speeding car and hit him a terrific blow just under his ear.

"Let me go!" she sobbed out, through clenched teeth. She was beside herself with rage.

The unknown Bill let go of her. He let go of the steering wheel, too, and if Sylvia hadn't seized it with lightning quickness, the car would have gone tearing into a potato field. As it was, it swerved into a fence and stuck there, caught by the barbed wire.

Back in the rumble seat Fay was screaming wildly, but when the car stopped her screams turned into laughter just as wild.

"What do you think this is, the Vanderbilt cup race?" she kept calling to the man who sat beside Sylvia. But he didn't answer her. He was sitting perfectly still in his seat, staring ahead of him at the brown stretch of the potato field.

Without turning his head toward her, he began to talk to Sylvia.

"Do you realize that you might have killed us all by doing that?" he asked her—"by hitting me that way?"

He was completely sober now.

Sylvia only buried her head deeper in her hands. She was shaking all over and her breath was coming in big, sobbing gasps.

"What did you do it for, you young demon?" he went on with his questions, "what did you do it for?" He evidently didn't know just why she had struck him

She Brought the Little Salt Bag and Laid it Before Him.

She raised her head and looked at him with wet eyes. "What did you—you—kiss me for?"

The man named Bill didn't answer her at once.

He looked at her thoughtfully for two or three minutes longer, as if he were taking her in, or trying to take her in.

"Well," he said finally, after a long-drawn whistle, "there are still a few of you left, aren't there?"

Her frown was puzzled. "What do you mean—a few what left?"

"A few girls who don't want to pet," he explained himself. "Most girls' feelings are hurt if you don't want to make love to them ten seconds after you meet them. You must know that's so, yourself."

Sylvia didn't argue with him, although she knew that what he said wasn't quite true.

She had no desire to sit here talking to this good-looking, reckless person whom she hardly knew. What she wanted was to get back to the inn and the baby and Aunt Agony just as fast as she could.

She opened the door of the car and got out.

"Here! Where do you think you're going?" Fay asked, leaning from the back seat.

In the brilliant searching sunlight of the afternoon Sylvia could see that little lines were beginning to trace themselves on Fay's well-powdered face. Her eyes were large and bright with drink, and above them straggled a lock of her "touched up" hair. Something, perhaps the bleached hair, had begun to give Fay a common look. She did not look like a "nice" woman, in spite of her costly white clothes and her string of real pearls.

"This," thought Sylvia, looking at her, "this is what happens to a woman who marries without love. It hardens her, coarsens her."

And all at once she was tremendously sorry for Fay, for if Fay had money, she had nothing else. You could see that by her face. It was filled with a great loneliness and restlessness. The empty green eyes seemed always to be looking for something that they never found, these days.

"I'm going back to the inn, Fay," Sylvia said gently and took one of her freckled, jewel-crusted hands in her own ringless one. "I've got to get back to the baby. Aunt Agony'll have a fit if I leave her alone with him. You people go ahead and have your celebration all the same, won't you?"

The man named Bill got out of the car and stood in the sunlight and shook hands with her. "Will you believe me if I tell you that I've enjoyed seeing you today more than I've enjoyed anything for a long time? Will you believe it?" His eyes were serious.

Sylvia laughed faintly. "No, I'm afraid I can't believe that," she said, but while she was saying it something told her that the man really meant what he said.

She stood in the middle of the sun-baked pavement and watched the blue torpedo of a car disappear down the road in hot pursuit of pleasure—that will-o'-the-wisp that is always just around the next bend of the highway.

"I wouldn't change places with Fay for a million dollars," she thought, as the car became nothing but a blue speck in the sunny distance.

As she turned into the driveway of the inn, between the stone gate posts, she heard another car coming, and stepped onto the grass until it should past.

But it stopped, and a tall thin figure in duster, helmet and goggles got out.

It was Peter Wilk.

"Well, of all things! What are you doing here?" Sylvia cried, and ran toward him with her hands outstretched. "How do you happen to be in this neck of the woods?"

"I came because all your telephone lines are down. I've been trying to get you on the wire for over an hour," Peter told her. "Finally I decided to drive up here for you. I figured it wouldn't take much longer than to telegraph, by the time they brought out the message from the village."

"What's the matter?" Sylvia broke

ELECTRA BLAST BURNS WORKERS

Gas Escaping From Well Ignites From Oil Stove

ELECTRA, April 16.—J. E. Adkins, age 32, the driller on the Kimmell and Dillard lease, six miles south of this city and Otis Tummler, age 25, an employe at the well which was being drilled in, were badly burned Friday when gas and oil coming from the well ignited with a small oil stove on the floor of the rig, causing an explosion.

Adkins is in a critical condition, receiving severe burns on his face, right hand, right arm, legs and hips, almost one-third of the surface of his body being burned. Tummler received burns on his back, right side, face, ears and arms. He, however, was able to walk a short distance after the accident.

Both men were taken to the Electra hospital by other employes on the lease, where Dr. F. D. Shepherd dressed their burns. Later an ambulance from Wichita Falls took them to the Clinic hospital of that city.

Mr. Adkins has a wife living in this city, while Mr. Tummler made his home with Mrs. L. C. Langston of North Waggoner street.

PARDON HOPES

the 24 years against me there, I might get a pardon in that state," he concluded.

Russell declared he was a peaceable man, and willing to make an honest living, but that he was started on his criminal career by harboring a man who "snitched" on him and framed him with a crime he was innocent of. This happened in the Lower Rio Grande valley, he said, but declined to give the city. He was sentenced to five years there for burglary, and not thinking he deserved it, Russell said he started "skipping from the law."

Opinion Against Him

The newspapers of Wichita Falls created a public opinion and sentiment against him, which would prevent him from going straight if he should be freed, Russell said. He told of a fight he had there in the jail, in which he struck several other prisoners with a milk bottle and knocked them senseless. The fight, he said, followed charges and lies made against him by the prisoners he fought. This was before he broke jail there.

"I told the county attorney there that I'd kill him, if he bothered my wife, and after I got loose and found that he had arrested her I returned.

The Wichita Falls county attorney, according to Russell, told him that if he (Russell) got away, he would send Mrs. Russell to the state prison for two years. Following this Russell said he made the threat against his life.

Officer Has Drop

Russell declared he would never have been arrested the last time in southern Texas, but that the officer had the "drop" on him first. Russell declared he would have had a "nice little home in Wichita Falls if the officers had left him alone." He is a painter and interior decorator.

Mrs. Russell, who married her husband three years ago when she was 17 years old, is in a southern Texas city with their infant daughter waiting for the coming trial. Russell has not been allowed to speak to his wife since his incarceration here. He is not allowed to walk about in the cells, for fear he will make a break for liberty.

WOMEN MEETING

District Gathering of Clubs Tell Of Achievements.

DALLAS April 16.—(AP)—Achievements of women's clubs of Texas as cultural centers were commended here today by Speakers at the second district annual convention, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, at which Miss Ollie Bird, Denison, district president, is presiding.

Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, state education president, urged each club to maintain a scholarship and loan fund for underprivileged school children.

Before the convention ends Saturday, a resolution will be introduced urging creation of a boar dof criminology in Texas.

OPPOSES NEW PORT

Additional Gulf Harbor Would Hurt, Witness Says.

HOUSTON, April 16.—(AP)—Additional competition that might follow establishment of another gulf port at Freeport would not be beneficial to Texas generally, H. C. Eargle, of Beaumont, told Master in Chancery Judge Henry J. Dannenbaum here today.

Mr. Eargle, rate and traffic expert of the Beaumont chamber of commerce, said he was testifying as an individual. He was called by opponents of the project in Brazoria county where a bond issue of $1,000,000 has been voted but which is being held up by a temporary injunction.

Two More Pardons Granted By Miriam

AUSTIN, April 16.—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today granted two conditional pardons. M. F. Davis, sentenced one year in Harris county for transporting liquor was granted a conditional pardon after serving half of sentence, on recommendation of Judge Overstreet and A. W. Walker, president of the Carpenters' union, and for good service rendered.

Joe Shapps, sentenced one year for manufacturing liquor in Williamson county, was granted a conditional pardon on recommendation of Halsey Davis, chief accountant of the penitentiary system, and because he has a dependent wife and children. He has a clear record for portion of sentence served.

QUANAH TEAM WINS

QUANAH, April 16.—Quanah high school team won third place in the Panhandle stock judging contest as a team, but divided honors with Lubbock on individual classes of live stock. Quanah took first place on horses and fat hogs. All five boys made a perfect score in the fat hog class. The boys were J. Z. Harvey, John Neal, Marvin Butts, William Alexander and Hibit Brisbm. William Alexander proved to be the best judge on the team, making a score of 486 out of 550 points. This contest was held at Canyon Saturday, the heavy rain made the trip a very hard and rather unpleasant one but results were satisfactory.

AN AMBITIOUS WOMAN

"WITH a sincere desire to serve the state of Florida and with the belief that I can best serve her interests in the national house of representatives I am announcing my intention to seek the post," was the message that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen sent to the men and women voters of the fourth Florida district.

Mrs. Owens is the daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan. She married an English army officer and only recently became an American citizen for the second time. In her marriage to Major Owen, she renounced her American citizenship. Major Owen is on the retired list, and now his wife is a citizen of this proud republic and not a subject of John Bull.

Has she individual merit or qualification or is she making the race on the family name? Her father was elected to congress from a Nebraska district when a very young man. He made a free trade speech as a curtain raiser that won him lots of publicity, and his second speech for the unlimited coinage of silver placed him in the headlines for a second time.

Then his congressional career terminated. His district sent a republican to congress. Bryan became a newspaper correspondent and he was a newspaper correspondent when he captured a presidential nomination in the city of Chicago in 1896.

He knew the value of publicity. He had a golden tongue. He knew less of economics than any great leader in public life. He was a political evangelist of America, and while he never won the presidency he drew to himself a personal following in every American state, that is one of the marvels of American politics.

Now what will happen to his daughter who is seeking a political career in the everglades state.

NEW IMMIGRATION LAW FOR MEXICO

PRESIDENT CALLES has in preparation a new immigration bill which will be submitted to the Mexican congress. The bill would require a tax on all incoming aliens and registration of all aliens. Also it would prohibit the entrance of aliens pursuing callings forbidden in Mexico. This clause would be applied to ministers of the gospel. The chief executive would be authorized to decide on the question of admissability of aliens, meaning that he could refuse the admittance of any person to Mexico.

Well, there is a bill pending in the American congress, calling for the registration of all aliens, but it contains no clause that could be applied to ministers of the gospel. Mexico for Mexicans, appears to be the slogan of President Calles.

America for Americans, and Texas for Texans, is the slogan of Evangelist Zim of Naples, Ellis county, who is a democratic contender for the nomination of governor, subject to the action of the July primary. If it is all right for Zim, the Evangelist, it is all right for Calles, the chief executive of Mexico.

MERELY AMUSING

General Andrews thinks that if 3.75 beer is made unpalatable nobody will drink it. That will make the bootleggers smile

TOM BLANTON'S COUNTRY

NOVICE is a little town in Coleman county. Novice enjoyed a winter revival led by the Rev. Scott W. Hickey. Many sinners hit the trail. It was resolved by the converts to administer a knockout blow to old John Barleycorn in the Novice jurisdiction. Hence, they subscribed $100 as a reward for the arrest and conviction of any distiller or bootlegger operating within five miles of Novice.

Now who will take down the first reward? Who will turn in the villian who manufactures moonshine for selling purposes, and lastly, why only one reward. Why not a revolving fund ever ready to pay to the sleuths of the law when they bag the outlaws of the illicit stills? There is a campaign on in Texas. Make it interesting.

SUCCESS NOTE

Apparently the way to become an industrial czar is to spend a lifetime acquiring ignorance of the duties of the job.

READY FOR THE GABFEST

THERE are eight candidates for attorney general in the field and Dallas furnishes five. There is going to be a grand slaughter for the edification of the mob on July 2.

THOSE WHO LEAD UPHILL LIVES

IN MOST every town there is a man, legless, or armless, or blind, who has achieved success despite physical defects which usually make a human an object of pity.

And very often these handicapped persons owe their success to the misfortune which weights them.

This is so not because the world is inclined to deal less tenaciously with them, for it does not; but because they exert to the utmost the faculties that are left them.

They seldom know beforehand how far they are going to reach, and this helps them; for if they knew the greatness of the task before them they would not attempt it.

Samuel Butler opined that "he who knows he is infirm, and would yet climb, does not think of the summit which he believes to be beyond his reach, but climbs slowly onward, taking very short steps, looking below as often as he likes, but not above him, never trying his powers but seldom stopping, and then, sometimes, behold! he is on top, which he never could have aimed at could he have seen it from below.

"It is only in novels," wrote Butler (in his Notebook), "that handicapped people, 'fired by knowledge of the difficulties that others have overcome, resolve to triumph over every obstacle by dint of sheer determination, and in the end carry everything before them.' In real life the person who thus starts almost invariably fails. This is the worst kind of start."

"The greatest secret of good work whether in music, literature or painting lies in not attempting too much; if it be asked, 'What is too much?' the answer is, 'Anything that we find difficult or unpleasant'," Butler decided.

"We should not ask whether others find this same thing difficult. If we find the difficulty so great that the overcoming it is a labor and not a pleasure, we should either change our aim altogether, or aim, at any rate, at some lower point. It must be remembered that no work is required to be more than right as far as it goes; the greatest work cannot get beyond this and the least comes strangely near the greatest if this can be said of it."

PREMATURE

Before the league of nations attempts to censor motion pictures it had better find out whether such action will be approved by Brazil.

THE TIME FOR POETRY AND THE TIME FOR PHILSOPHY

IT HAS been observed that in youth it is the outward aspect of things that most engages us; while in age, thought or reflection is the predominating quality of the mind.

Hence, youth is the time for poetry, and age is more inclined to philosophy.

In practical affairs it is the same: a man shapes his resolutions in youth more by the impression that the outward world makes upon him; whereas, when he is old, it is thought that determines his actions

This is partly to be explained by the fact that it is only when a man is old that the results of outward observation are present in sufficient numbers to allow of their being classified according to the ideas they represent—a process which in its turn causes those ideas to be more fully understood in all their bearings, and the exact amount of trust to be placed in them.

In youth, the impressions that things make, that is, the outward aspects of life, are so overpoweringly strong, especially in the case of people of lively and imaginative disposition, that they view the world like a picture; and their chief concern is the figure they cut in it, the appearance they present; but they are unaware of the extent to which this in the case.

Schopenhauer makes the statement that there can be no doubt that the intellectual powers are most capable of enduring great and sustained efforts in youth, up to the age of thirty-five; from which period their strength begins to decline, though very gradually.

"Still, the later years of life, and even old age itself, are not without their intellectual compensation.

"It is only then that a man can be said to be really rich in experience or in learning; he has then had time and opportunity enough to enable him to see and think over life from all its sides; he has been able to compare one thing with another, and to discover the points of contact and connecting links, so that only then are the true relations of things rightly understood."

EARTH

A Fascinating New Story of Romance

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

"That night," his voice had sunk to little more than a hoarse whisper, "that night, I met my brother Samuel on his way to the Sanford shack, across the railroad. We quarreled, over Mary Sanford, the baby, the estate. In the heat of it I shot Samuel—with the derringer of the old man! There was his body at my feet! It would be found in the morning. The whistle of the train! I dragged the body to the railroad track, laid it across the track.

"But what I had hoped did not happen. The head was severed, tossed forty feet or more from the body. And in that head was gaping that bloody bullet wound! I buried the head—in the meadow, somewhere in the middle!"

A stifled groan escaped the trembling lips of the old man. "Out there, in the meadow, you will find my shovel. I was going to try and dig it up. I dropped the shovel when the dogs heard me."

Kennedy dragged him on into the house. There in the kitchen he sank into a chair, his chair, quaking. Outside the dogs were at tehdoor. He shuddered again, apprehensively, as he thought of their burly forms, interrupting him, pursuing him.

"That night—no one saw me!"

"No one?"

Kennedy was toying with a pair of worn woman's slippers he had drawn from a package in the old secretary in the front room. I recognized them. They were the slippers of her mother that Ruth Sanford Saxton had once shown us. On them was encrusted thick yet the red shale of the meadow.

"No one?" Craig repeated. He mused a moment. "It drove some one insane!"

"I know! I know! I know! The memory of it has driven me insane too." In the half dark, his coat off now, his white hair whiter than ever, he started forward from the chair, his arms raised in agony to heaven. "My life has been hell! Sam has been paid—paid in full! Everywhere I look I saw them. Every voice sounded their voices. They were with me all the time. I couldn't stand it any longer—at my heels, at my elbows, pointing fingers at me in my sleep! I couldn't get any comfort in the house. I stole from their child. I sold it, to lose them. And in selling it, they have found me—come closer to me than ever! Oh, my God! Have more mercy than I showed!"

"Thought they did not know how well the builded," pursued Craig relentlessly, "those people who said this house was haunted were right. It was haunted, Jasper Saxton, haunted by Mary Sanford's spirit She knew—and it had driven her insane—to her death!"

"And now, what are you going to do with me, Kennedy? Tomorrow, he paused as if what would happen tomorrow were too terrible even to think.

"No statute of limitations runs against this crime of yours, Jasper Saxton!" Kennedy's voice had a hard impersonal ring in it, more menacing than anger. "The spirits of Samuel Saxton and Mary Sanford haunt justice. There is no change of venue for that case!" Kennedy stopped. "You can make a will that shall do justice to the baby Ruth. All else between you and your God!"

"It's not what I'm going to do with you Jasper Saxton. It's not what the law is going to do with you. It's what you are going to do with yourself!"

"My-God."

The old man rose, tottered toward the front room? "K-Kennedy is there a pen—and ink—and paper—in that secretary of father's?

"Yes."

Five—ten minutes passed in the creaking old kitchen.

Suddely the silence was broken by a shot in the parlor. I followed Craig in.

Jasper Saxton lay across the hearth. On the secretary lay a hasty, troubling scrawl, leaving all to Ruth. On the floor beside the body, was the old derringer with which he had killed his brother Samuel.

"In the end," muttered Kennedy, "he was his brother's keeper. Dust to dust, ashes to ashes, earth to earth!"

Questions From the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

Shall the college man marry the uneducated girl who fascinates him? —Seven love questions answered for six 18-year-old girls—Advice to a widower on selecting wife No. 2.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a college undergraduate having my first love affair. My sweetheart is crazy about fine clothes and her desire in life is to have an uproarious good time. She has very little education and a dislike for book-learning and any form of intellectual pursuit.

On the other hand, I am keen on education and intend to devote my life to a profession that will require continuous study. This girl attracts me because of her lack of formal education. I am afraid that a college girl might turn out a femme savante, more interested in things of the mind than in domestic life. What do you think?—FRED J.

Answer: I think, my dear Fred, that a college undergraduate having his initial love affair need not lie awake at night wondering what sort of a wife any girl will make. There will be so many others before he is ready to marry that he will have forgotten the very name of his first flame, and he won't be able to tell for the life of him whether it was Mary or Rose or Sally. Or perhaps it was Jane.

These calf-love romances are a part of the college course that every boy goes through, and they are highly educational if you merely skim the surface of them as you do certain studies. For from every girl you can learn certain things about women that will be useful information for you to have the balance of your life.

But on the other hand, remember the warning of the poet who said, "My only books were women's looks, and folly is all they have taught me."

In answering your question, however, I can but warn you against the danger in marrying a woman whose taste and ideals and inspirations are so totally different from your own. The most important thing in marriage is congeniality. The only husbands and wives who do not come to bore each other and get on each other's nerves are those who are interested in the same things.

Try to realize how tired you will get of a wife who knows none of the things that you know, to whom you cannot even talk, except as you would a child, because she cannot understand anything that is outside of her range of limited experiences. Think how weary you will get of having to listen to her eternal babble about household matters and the back-door gossip of the neighborhood.

Think how lonely you will be with a wife who cannot enter into any of your plans and inspirations.

Think how ashamed you will be of a wife who is ignorant, who makes mistakes in grammar, who asks fool questions that show her lack of education, and who is a laughing-stock among your friends.

There is a very general idea among men that every unintelligent woman is domestic, and because a girl doesn't know anything else she must know how to cook and manage a house. Never was there a greater mistake.

The girl who is too inert and too lazy, who is too pleasure-loving and self-indulgent to go to school and acquire an education is a loafer by nature, and she will make a slouchy and slovenly housekeeper, who spends her time gadding the street instead of working in her home. It is the intelligent, educated woman who brings all of her mentality to bear on her problem that makes the sort of a wife who is a real helpmate to a man.

Oil Fire Results In Death Of Birds And Threatens Clam

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., April 16.—(AP)—Thousands of sea birds are being killed and extinction threatens the famous Pismo Clam as a result of the $10,000,000 oil fire at San Luis Obispo.

Captain Robert Ord, arriving from Avila yesterday, declared that in the effort to control the fire oil reached the ocean and has spread out for a distance of 14 miles down the coast. The sea birds, he said, settling into the sea would alight in the oil and become covered with the black fluid, become helpless and reach the beach only to die. The oil has found its way into all the bay for 14 miles down the coast, saturating the beach sands and at low tide covering the clam beds with a black scum.

The Union Oil company, Captain Ord said, is preparing to clean up the beach line by spraying the surface water with gasoline and setting it afire. Company engineers say this will relieve the situation.

GEYSERS SPURT

HILO, T. H., April 16.—(AP)—Two flaming red geysers spurting lava 200 feet into the air and visible almost 50 miles away was the latest display of temperament today by Mauna Loa, while streams of lava continued to flow toward the ocean.

Dr. J. A. Jaggar, in charge of the volcano observatory, predicted today that one stream of lava would pass by a village church which now is in its path.

Work Not to Visit Texas This April

AUSTIN, April 16.—(AP)—Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, will not visit Texas in April as he had planned, John A. Norris, chairman of the Texas board of water engineers, was advised today by officials of the San Antonio chamber of commerce.

Mr. Norris had been invited to go with Secretary Work's party on a tour of the lower Rio Grande Valley.

BLIZZARD IN NEW YORK

MALONE, N. Y., April 16.—(AP)—A blizzard raged in this section today, leaving drifts of snow. The fall here was three inches.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

TAKE SOMETHING HOME

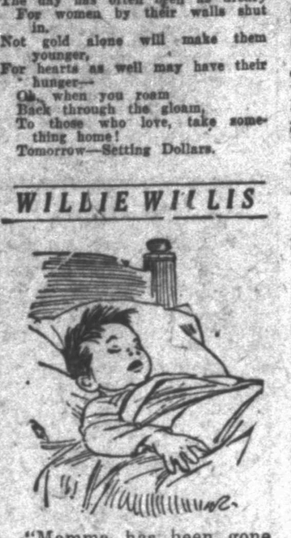

Take something home—a little gold,
Since gold must give us roof and rafter,
And yet a house must also hold
A lot of love, a little laughter.
I would not scoff at wealth or wages,
And yet the world all down the ages,
Wished something more
Than just a store
Of gold returning fathers bore.

Take something home, a good wife waits,
And waits for something more than this.
However wealth accumulates,
She still will want the oldtime kiss.
I would not scorn the gold you bring her,
And yet I hope a song you sing her,
Perhaps 'a flow'r
Will have more pow'r
To make her glad at evening's hour.

Take something home—a smile of cheer,
However hard the day has been.
The day has often been as dreary
For women by their walls shut in.
Not gold alone will make them younger,
For hearts as well may have their hunger—
Oh, when you roam
Back through the gloam,
To those who love, take something home!

Tomorrow—Setting Dollars.

WILLIE WILLIS

"Mamma has been gone two days, an' I wouldn't care much if there wasn't so many funny noises at night with just me an' Papa here."

What Do You Know About It?

WHAT DO YOU KONW ABOU

1. What is the largest state in the union?
2. What is the small[illegible] state in the union?
3. What is the second [illegible]allest state in the union?
4. What states have boundaries with no irregularities, that is, are perfect rectangles?
6. What states border on the Ohio river?

Answers to th[illegible]e questions in Monday's Record News.

TOO HOT

Nothing is more difficult than to survey a straight long distance, allowing for the earth's curvature and for the erratic irregularities of the compass which does not by any means point north exactly but is detracted wildly if there are any nearby deposits of magnetic iron. Due to bad surveying the government recently admitted, many states are how in possession of land they should yield to neighbor states. North Carolina has suffered more than any other state in this way, but there is one little jog which North Carolina seems to have bitten out of South Carolina. Tradition in the tar-heel state has it that a rich old woman owned that bit of property when the survey came through. She asked which state her house would be in. "In South Carolina, madam" replied the surveyors. "Oh, dear, put me in North Carolina," who was accustomed to hav being way, "It's so hot down in South Carolina."

Now what do you know about that?

Answer to yesterday's questions:

1. An eclipse of the sun is caused by the moon's passing between the observer on the earth's surface and the sun.
2. An eclipse of the moon is caused by the earth's passing between the sun and the moon, so as to throw a shadow on the moon.
3. The intervals of time between total solar eclipses are of different lengths but have been calculated to a nicety for centuries in advance.
4. When the sun passes between the earth and some other heavenly body it is not an eclipse; the planet or star is said to be occulted.
5. The moon is the only heavenly body that ever eclipses the sun.
6. The earth casts a cone-shaped shadow into space for about one million miles.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

Today's planetary aspects are very favorable and betoken success in all work related to constructive effort or in gatherings—either family or social. The efforts of engineers and mechanics are most favored by the indications but all industry will benefit by the good influences that are in evidence. Above all, there will be sensed a spirit of rivalry and competition that must necessarily create redoubled energy and the will to achieve. Today is a most suitable opportunity for marriage and the astrological signs denote much happiness for those that are wed in such an atmosphere of hope and encouragement. There do not appear to exist any shadows, and permanent sunshine is assured.

Children born today will not, according to the signs, enjoy very robust health during infancy. With proper nutrition, and taking into consideration their phenominal recuperative powers there is no reason to anticipate anything other than a happy issue out of all their troubles. In later life, they will develop along normal lines. Their characters will be determined, without being obstinate. They will generally be able to gain their ends by tact rather than by forcefulness. They will be ambitious and studious and as children, will realize that in order to attain their object in school or in after life, they must lay a foundation of work. In this, they will differ from the majority of children, who "want the moon" but are not equipped with sufficient energy to start on the attempt to travel towards it.

If today is your birthday you are alike indifferent to conditions and surroundings. You are not callous, as your emotions are very keen, but, so far as inaminate environment is concerned, you attach very little importance to it consideration in them. You are as happy in a hovel as in a palace. This does not apply however, to your companions and associates. Herein you display exceptional discrimination and only seek out those whose interests have something in common with and those tasks are similar to your own.

You are a careful reader and assimilate all that is worthwhile. You enjoy the faculty of clear thinking but seem to lack the ability to give verbal expression to your thoughts. You may not, in the span of your life, achieve any great material success, but you will never prove to be a failure.

Successful people born this date are:

Jonas M. Bundy, editor and author.
John Pierpont Morgan, financier.
William R. Day, statesman, secretary of state under McKinley.
Charles H. Parkhurst, clergyman and reformer.
Hamilton Fish, ex-congressman.

THE HOUSEWIFE THRILLS TO SPRING!

A Muddlesome Spring Song.
By Mrs. L. C. Obenchain.

O sweet Spring days so bright and long,
O twilight's scented gloom!
(My parlor rugs I must have cleaned
Before the violets bloom.)
'Tis time to throw dull care aside
And ask a truce of sorrow!
(How black my curtains seem to look.
I'll take them down tomorrow!)

The crocus lifts her golden cup
For soft, warm rains to fill;
(Just look at all those finger-prints
On door and wall and sill!)
Today the swallows passed my door;
Soon, soon will come the thrushes!
(And that reminds me, I must buy
Two brand-new scrubbing brushes!)

Why try to write about the joy
From life renewed, up-springing,
Although some hearts might echo back
The rapture of my singing?
Alas, I've lost forevermore
The season's mystic meaning;
I wonder if in Heaven I'll find
A Spring with no Spring cleaning!

"You ask," smiled the genial Dr. Traprock, "if I am really a physician. Yes, I am Dean of Women at the Eskimo University, where I received the degree of Doctor of Patent Medicine in 1900. My offices are at the North Pole, where I specialize in Sunstroke. Santa Claus still owes me for a stomach ache he had last Christmas.

"Thank you for the match. Have you a cigar? How did I happen to break into THE FUN SHOP? Ah, that was easy—too easy. I bound and gagged the nightwatchman, and slipped the editor a prescription. Of course I have had my share of rejections—especially by the Eskimo Coeds. However, I am the author of several books: The Ice Book; the Book of Cigarette Papers; and a Book of Two Cent Stamps. My work on Dynamite handed the critics a jolt and went over with a bang, and it brought me an offer from two different colleges to accept chairs. The University of Siam begged me to accept the chair of English Literature, and Sing Sing College offered me the chair of Electricity.

HOGG MEETING CLOSES SUNDAY

Evangelist to Go to Memphis to Conduct Services There

The Will Hogg evangelistic party will close a two-week's revival meeting at the Floral Heights Methodist church Sunday night. During the meeting there have been nearly 100 accessions to the church, most of them being by profession of faith. A large class will be baptized by the pastor, Dr. S. A. Barnes, at the Sunday morning service. Dr. Hogg leaves late Sunday night for a two-weeks meeting at Memphis, Tenn., his home city.

Rev. S. J. T. Williams, campaign director of the evangelistic party, left Friday to supervise the erection of a large community tabernacle at Sweetwater, and make preliminary plans for a big union revival meeting there to begin Sunday, May 2. Jeff Wall, evangelistic singer, will accompany Dr. Hogg to his meeting at Memphis.

M'Clurkan And Fain Hosts To Store, Oil Workers

Workers of the W. B. McClurkan department store and employes of the Murchison-Fain Oil company were guests Friday night of Marvin Smith and Lamar Fain at a big chicken barbecue and party held at Haven Park. An excellent chicken dinner and all the trimmings were served to those attending, while a short program was later enjoyed.

Mayor R. E. Shepherd, who attended as a guest, acted as impromptu toastmaster for the occasion and called for a number of short talks. He also led the crowd in some group singing.

About 115 persons attended.

Many Turn Out To Inspect New Talunar Residence

Several hundred people have visited the Talunar Place Home, 2401 Bullington street since the re-opening. Rain and bad weather prevented carrying out of the initial program several days ago. The home was closed until Thursday when it was re-opened and a constant stream of people have inspected and gone through it since.

Expressions of approval were made of the carefully planned arrangements both interior and exterior, and also of the attractive furniture of the house. Every piece in each room harmonizes perfectly in its respective position.

This home is only one among many now being erected in the Talunar Place by Talbert, Lundien and Arnhold. Some of these are completely erected and ready for inspection.

The Talunar Place Home will remain open all day today from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. The public is invited to go out and get an idea of what is new in home building and furnishings.

CHIROS LOSE

U. S. Court Denies Texas Practitioners Injunction.

NEW ORLEANS, April 16.—(AP) Chiropractors of Texas lost their appeal in the United States circuit court of appeals today when a decision was rendered denying an injunction sought against Dan Moody, attorney general, and other Texas authorities. The Texas chiropractors asked for an injunction to prevent the attorney general and his assistants from interefring with them by causing their arrest.

TWO MARRIAGE LICENSES

Two marriage licenses were issued Friday by the county clerk's office, these going to Clarence Mason and Alice Fisher and to Howard Tate and Edna Lee Gilham, all of Wichita Falls.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, 1709 Elizabeth street, who has been in ill health for the past six months, is making steady improvement and will soon be able to get up, it is believed.

BROWNING BUYS TOYS FOR BRIDE

'Cinderella' to Have Ample Amusement Before Log Fire

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP) Edward W. Browning, the 51-year-old Cinderella man, who says his greatest ambition is to preside over a happy home and family, has taken occasion, during his honeymoon with his 15-year-old bride, to visit a toy shop and purchase several sets of games intended for fireside amusement. The bride accompanied him to the toy shop late yesterday after she had spent most of the day buying expensive gowns and other female apparel, including a mink cat, in Fifth avenue shops. Browning, on the fifth day of their honeymoon, bought her an engagement ring, a wedding ring and also a birthday ring, at a cost of about $5,000. The birthday ring was a lover's knot in platinum, with two large diamonds. The bride will be 16 on June 16.

While the children's society yesterday dropped its action, started before the marriage, seeking to remove the girl from the guardianship of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Heenon other worries appeared on the couple's matrimonial horizon. After Browning had received several threatening telephone calls he hired six private detectives to keep guard in the hotel at Bronxville, N. Y., where he has been staying during the past two days with his bride.

After her shopping tour yesterday Mrs. Browning said:

"Why, I have scarcely begun my shopping yet. I have ever so many things to get."

She makes her shopping rounds in Browning's car, accompanied by her mother and a footman, in addition to the chauffeur. It was explained the footman was needed to save her annoyance from the crowds.

VERNON

TO PRESENT PAGEANT.

Thompson school will present a stage scene illustrating the work being done in the school at 8 o'clock Friday evening, according to announcements issued. The stage will be set with works which appeared in the county school exhibit together with the white ribbon indicating third place among the rural schools, which was won by Thompson.

Each phase of work represented will be clearly and definitely explained and demonstrated by the pupils. For example, oral biographies will be given to explain the written themes and posters on "The Mother," "The Father," and "The Defender of Texas." A new method of learning to spell difficult words in the fourth grade will be presented. A representative lesson in teaching first grade reading to foreigners will be given in the form of a ball game by the pupils together with black board illustrations of verbs like "hit," "catch," "roll," "pitch," "see," and "run."

Piano solos and duets will create a musical atmosphere for the occasion, according to the program.

Fork In a Road

of the soldiers were known to be murmuring their belief that Houston intended to retreat straight to the Louisiana border at Nacogdoches—to abandon for all time the republic christened in the blood of the Alamo heroes.

Destination a Secret

Even his highest officers believed the taciturn commander would continue the march to the border. Houston had kept his destination a secret. Officers told him it would be difficult to lead the men away from the fair fields of their liberty and their hope, from the struggling hundreds of run-aways who are fleeing ahead of the marauding Mexicans and blood-thirsty Indians.

Indeed, Houston's Adjutant General, John A. Wharton today rode up to the silent general and exclaimed, "Sam, if you try to lead these men away, they will fire on you." Houston gave no answer, but rode moodily ahead, his head drooping.

Then the army came to the little settlement at Donoghue's early this afternoon. The road forks here, one branch going toward Louisiana, the other toward Harrisburg.

For a moment his followers seemed dazed with the overwhelming importance of the decision, made known to them this way.

Then they began cheering. The entire group were stirred deeply. It was a moment of profound significance, a moment on which the whole future of the desperate defense depends; the decision was one which will, even the humblest freeman-soldier realized, one that will decide the course of the war for independence.

The tenseness was over in a minute. The soldiers seemed to gain new strength. They shouted and cheered the name of Houston. The men raced their weary horses. The marchers threw their hats into the air. "Deaf" Smith, the scout, was loudest of them all in his hurrahs.

The army went into camp just below Donoghue's tonight. The short march was arduous. The men were wearied to the point of falling. But they are on firmer ground tonight, after crossing innumerable marshes and bayous, and their spirits are refreshened and buoyant tonight.

Nearly Get Burnett

Couriers informed General Houston late today that Santa Ana, who yesterday burned the republic's capitol building at Harrisburg, has started down the bayou toward Galveston, apparently determined to overtake President Burnett, who fled just ahead of the swarthy marauders, and who escaped into a boat under fire of the Mexican musketeers.

Adjutant General John A. Wharton reached headquarters early this morning, bringing from Velasco the two cannon, the "twin sisters" given Houston by the people of Cincinnati. The cannon, the only ones the Texans have, were pulled by six mules, but in crossing the marshes and bayous, it was necessary for fifty soldiers to tug on the ropes to pull them through, the cannon often sinking entirely out of sight in the mud.

Just as the fortunes of the dwindling army, and with it of the republic, were at the lowest ebb, the spirits of the men have soared to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. It is to do battle, they know, and against superior numbers; but war in the open is welcome, a chance to avenge the treachery and barbarism by which Texans have been disarmed and butchered in the past few weeks.

All about the army today followed straggling groups of the run-aways, of women and children, who carry what pitiful possessions they have, and trudge along, barefoot, or ride in dilapidated carts, following after the army in the pathetic hope of safety, in horror of the brutal viciousness of the brown pursuers and the red marauders. More than fifty sick and injured, and two mothers of babies born during the march are being hauled in carts and wagons of the army.

Herrin Klan Raider Tires of Strife And Will Move Elsewhere

HERRIN, Ill., April 16.—(AP) John Smith, former ku klux klan liquor raider, has sold out and left Herrin, it was learned today.

Some said Florida and some Kentucky, but whatever his destination Smith lost no time in leaving the place where for nearly three years he had been one of the central figures in klan and anti-klan clashes.

His garage, which was riddled by bullets in Tuesday's battle, was sold late yesterday to two Herring automobile and accessory dealers who divided the stock between them. Smith left town immediately by automobile.

The coroner's inquest into the six slayings Tuesday was slow in getting under way this morning.

BOY IS SLAIN

Son of Sheriff Is Mistaken For Burglar, Killed.

WILBURTON, Okla., April 16.—(AP) Carl Mitchell, 15, son of Deputy Sheriff Walter Mitchell, was shot and instantly killed early today by Mrs. Austin Park, wife of the sheriff of Latimer, who mistook him for a burglar.

The Mitchell boy, who had been staying at the Park home while Mr. Park was away on a fishing trip, arose early this morning and stepped outside of the house for a few moments. When he returned the noise awakened Mrs. Park and she fired once with a revolver.

THAT'S THE CATCH

Policemen Denied Ma's Reward Because Of Trial Court.

DALLAS, April 16.—(AP)—Two Dallas policemen, J. W. Hitt and C. F. Isbell who claimed the $500 reward Governor Miriam A. Ferguson offered for arrest and conviction of a bootlegger worth more than $5,000 will not get the bounty, because their case was in federal court.

In a letter from Ghent Sanderford, the governor's secretary, the officers were told that reward was for convictions in state courts. The man they arrested pleaded guilty in United States district court, and therefore, the officers would not be entitled to the reward, the letter said.

CAN'T BE BOTHERED

New Waco Mayor Won't Worry Over Voters' Troubles.

WACO, April 16.—(AP)—Dr. H. F. Connally, installed as mayor of Waco last night, declared that he and the other members of the commission were unanimous in their determination to turn all details of the city government over to the city manager. "I don't want people phoning me about cows, dead cats and water trouble. It is especially unpleasant at breakfast time," the new mayor said. "I won't be annoyed during my term as mayor."

Other officers installed last night are: Dr. S. R. Spencer, V. M. Cox and A. Baker-Duncan, commissioners; D. W. Bartlett, city recorder; C. C. Shear and Dr. Edward Smith, water commissioners. The new mayor is a cousin of Congressman Tom Connally.

A MESSAGE TO JOHN K. HUSBAND

Not long ago we addressed an advertisement particularly to the women-folks of Wichita Falls, telling them about Westmoreland Park. About why each of them should choose it as the place for the new home. We called attention to the many aspects of Westmoreland Park that appeal to the wives and the mothers—the home makers.

Today, we want to talk to you men-folks, you husbands, about Westmoreland Park. And we can sum up what we want to say, with just this—let the lady have her way about it.

When she tells you that Westmoreland Park answers every question she could raise about the site for the new home—let her have her way about it

Chances are, she's considered the question from every angle that you would, and from some that you might not think of. She wants the new home to have beautiful surroundings. She wants the kind of soil, the assurance of ample water, for a lovely yard. She wants the freedom of the spacious building sites. She wants the protection against undesirable structures. She wants the full benefit of the elevation, the absence of mud and dust and congestion. She has considered the accessibility to school, the availability of recreational facilities. And with all these, she wants an atmosphere of niceness, of distinctive charm and comfort.

We ask that you let her have her way about it because she has considered all these factors, and found that Westmoreland Park offers them in liberal measure.

Westmoreland's values are unequaled in Wichita Falls. The choicest building tracts sell for $3,850—and these are three and a-third times as large as a city lot that would cost you fully half as much.

Westmoreland Park is directly in the line of the city's growth. Your tract there will have investment value as well as happiness value.

Your first step toward the new home is an easy step—just phone us. Or any realtor.

Fugitive Captured In Dallas Raids

DALLAS, April 16.—(AP)—Olin Earl Hilton, fugitive from the Leavenworth Kansas, federal penitentiary, is in custody here following a police round-up of suspects, and will be returned to prison to complete his 20-year sentence for the killing of Special Agent Yolten at Houston in 1918.

Hilton, under an assumed name, told officers he had been pardoned but a wire to Leavenworth developed that he is an escaped fugitive. A general court marital at Houston sentenced Hilton 99 years for fatally shooting Yolten during an absence without leave from Fort Sam Houston. The sentence later was commuted to 20 years.

in. Her face had gone white to the very lips, and she grasped Peter's arm in both of her trembling hands. "Something's happened to Ranny! Something's happened to Ranny!"

"Yes, but nothing much," Peter soothed her in his deep, drawling voice. "He's eaten something that's upset him, I guess. Eddie Carter drove him back home from that trip they started on, and this morning he called me up. He's been trying to reach you, but couldn't. What do you suppose has happened to the phone at the inn?"

The look Sylvia gave him was withering in its scorn. "You should stop to wonder about the telephone!" she said blightingly. "What you want to do is get me back to Ranny! Drive me up to the front door and wait for three minutes while I tell Aunt Agony what to do about the baby."

Within ten minutes Sylvia had packed a bag, left Aunt Agony with Junior and endless directions as to his care, and was back in Peter's car.

"Have you an electric pad and any whiskey in your house?" he asked as they drove along over the road toward town, just within the speed limit. "If you haven't, we'd better get some, somewhere, don't you think? Ranny's not seriously sick, but heat is always a good thing for stomach trouble, isn't it? Seems to me I've heard Sarah say so."

"Who's with Ranny now?" asked Sylvia, paying no attention to his kindly advice, or her there was no one in the world who mattered but the husband who was thirty miles away from her—then twenty-eight miles—then only twenty. She kept her eyes on the mile posts as they sped along.

"I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll stop in at our house and get some brandy," Peter said as they swept into town just as the blue dusk and the golden globes of the street lamps began to transform it into its nightly Fairyland.

Peter's house on Tower Street was closed for the summer.

All the furniture was swathed in ghostly white, and all the shades were drawn. There was a musty, close smell in the rooms.

Sylvia's nostrils widened and sniffed as she followed Peter through them to a little breakfast room off the dining room.

From a cupboard he took a dusty bottle of French brandy and gave it to Sylvia. She stood in the downstairs hall holding it while he went on up to the second floor for Sarah's electric pad.

"There, now we're all set, aren't we?" he asked, cheerfully, as he came down. He went around the house turning out the lights, and Sylvia walked out on the front porch, still holding her bottle.

She noticed that, as she stood there a woman walked past in the street and stared at her. But she thought nothing of it until a few days later.

It turned out that what Ranny had was the measles—the kind that last only three days but make you awfully, awfully sick while they do last.

He was much better by Sunday. "Due to my wonderful wife," he said to Dr. Buzzard when he came in for his daily visit.

Sylvia smiled at both of them with her flirt's eyes.

"I'm a marvelous nurse," she said, chaffing them.

She was marvelously happy.

It was like a second honeymoon—having Ranny all to herself for these few days. She was so busy taking care of him, and so happy just being with him that she forgot even to look at her mail until Sunday afternoon, when they were sitting at the dining room table having a cold "snack."

It was then that she found the heavy, engraved announcement of Jane Brackett's marriage to "James Heaton Squires."

"Does that make your heart turn over?" she asked, pushing it across the table toward him.

He barely glanced at it, and shook his head as he tossed it back on the table. "Nope," he said glibly, "I never did care very much for her. You thought I did, but I didn't."

She knew that what he said wasn't true. She knew that for months he had been frantically in love with Jane Brackett. Hadn't he stayed out until midnight with her night after night? Hadn't he broken her own heart?

But she tried to forget it, now that it was all over.

And in that moment she was sure she understood Ranny. He was weak. He couldn't help falling in love. He was a thoughtless child, and he had broken her heart, much as a thoughtless child might break a vase. Wasn't that the way of it?

And when he came around the table and put his arms around her, she went all weak and dreamy and happy at the very touch of him—at the odor of his Turkish cigarets and the wash that he used on his hair.

"You do love me?" she asked, "and you'll never go away from me again?"

He nodded that golden head of his that was like the head of a young Apollo. He nodded it firmly, without a word.

She believed him!

"Now, how about our finances?" he asked, presently. "This sickness of mine has set us back quite a little. And your aunt's being up in that inn with the kid—that's going to cost something, too!"

Sylvia got up and went into the kitchen where she kept her little money bag hidden on the top shelf, in a popcorn shaker. She brought it back and flung out the money in it on the table before Ranny.

"There!" she said, "I've saved that, dollar by dollar. It'll more than pay the doctor bill. Let's not worry about money. I'm making plenty of it. Sweet Darling Old Husband!" She kissed him on the back of his neck. She felt that he was hers again—hers for keeps this time!

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Fay asks Sylvia to tell a lie for her. Sylvia sings at Sarah Wilk's party. Peter takes her home in his car. Who was the girl they saw in Ranny's car?

BURKBURNETT

STUDY CLUB.

The University Study club reports a most delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. W. D. Utts Wednesday afternoon when a splendid program on current matter, Texas development and other subjects of interest was presented by Mrs. L. B. Harwell and Mrs. John E. Haynes.

A review of club rules of etiquette and courtesy, the most needed usages and other points of club manners was given by the parliamentarian, Mrs. J. M. F. Gill.

During the social hour a plate luncheon was served by the hostess to the following guests: Mesdames Adams, Russell Chamberlain, Erwin W. R. Hill, R. D. Cunningham, J. C. Blum, Joe Davis, R. M. Gilchrist, J. M. F. Gill, John E. Haynes, I. E. Harwell, W. P. Martin, J. M. Pogue, E. H. Simons, R. C. Tevis, M. L. Urban and Mrs. Rex Smith.

HONOR DAUGHTER.

On Thursday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neeley Vaught was the center of a gathering of happy children in honor of the fourth birthday of little Miss Virginia Lee Vaught the daughter of the family.

The little folks enjoyed a series of indoor baby games which was blended into an impromptu program of jolly stories and recitations of nursery rhymes.

Then came the cutting of the birthday cake bright with tiny candles, in special courtesy to the little honoree who was also the recipient of a many little friendship tokens from her playmates assembled.

A treat of ice cream was served with the good cake and every little boy and girl told the hostess what a jolly good time they had enjoyed, at Virginia Lee's birthday.

Those assisting the kind mother hostess, Mrs. Vaught, were Mrs. A. H. Loehofner and Mrs. Richard Saxe.

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED.

The marriage of Ray Kilkenstein of this city and Miss Mattie Stanbaugh is reported to have taken place in Archer City Thursday afternoon and after a brief honeymoon visit the young couple will be at home on the McMann lease.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stanbrough formerly of Newtown community and this city.

Ray Kilkinstein is the son of Joe Kilkenstein an official of the Magnolia Oil company, also formerly of this section during the oil boom days before moving to Dallas where the family now lives.

NEEDLE CLUB.

The Wednesday Needle club met in business session this week in the home of Mrs. J. T. Boase, where the program was featured by a pretty cup towel shower for Mrs. J. S. Mills, in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Boase then served a plate luncheon during which merry chatter prevailed and a happy gathering enjoyed.

Those present were Mesdames J. L. Caffee, R. H. Maloney, A. J. Key, M. E. Prinzing, J. D. Majors, O. C. Mills, Geoge Armstrong, W. M. (Dutch) Wolfe, O. E. Melton, S. G. Cruse, J. L. Boase and P. L. Holt, a sister of the hostess visiting from Wichita Falls.

UNIQUE PROGRAM.

The Current Literature club reports a unique program of their work in session this week at the home of Mrs. R. C. Preston with Mrs. Butler Westerfield as joint hostess.

It was known as "Original Day" and the roll call was answered by original truisms, some of which proved to be gems of thought.

The program was introduced by a talk by Mrs. W. W. Majors on "The Good Derived From Belonging to a Study Club."

Mrs. Sparkman's personal sketch poem on current literature was most enjoyable and clever; a story of college life and activities by Mrs. Price was especially good and bespoke talent in the short story creation work.

Following this was a sweet musical composition in instrumental music by Mrs. W. B. Hogg, this in turn was succeeded by Mrs. White's clever parady on Maud Muller as a modern flapper.

Another original poem wos given by Mrs. W. A. Scarbrough, entitled "Little Acts That Count."

Mrs. J. Fred Curry's short story, "Before Her Mirror," was another worthy poduction of olginality and interest.

Mrs. Jess Cook's "Ode to the Club Members" added to the charm and originality of the program.

The program closed with the reading of a letter by Mrs. N. C. Sheffer from her nephew a senior in the California University, who described a wonderful western journey, calling it "Trip to Paradise Valley."

During the business session of the study club, Mrs. Miller's resignation as vice president was succeeded by Mrs. R. E. Fisher.

Mrs. J. C. Smith was welcomed into the organization as a new member, while Mrs. John Bostick was elected to membership.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. John Knox, who has been ill in the Wichita Falls hospital has recovered sufficiently to be returned to her home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of the Texhoma field announce the arrival of a daughter in their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hardin, who returned a few days ago from their winter stay in Florida were called to Carter, Okla., Tuesday to attend her brother, Mr. Fulks, who is reported to have suffered a stroke.

James Ford, Ben Davis, Charles Quast and Jewell Ryley, students in A. and M. college at College Station are spending the Ross Volunteers' vacation of a few days with their respective parents in this city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ford have moved from their home on the lease to the cottage on East Main Street, formerly occupied by John Q. Humphrey and family now residing in Wichita Falls.

Arthur Gardner who was injured on the head and shoulder on the Gulf lease is reported recovering.

Lineman Injured When Pole Topplss

ALTUS, April 16.—C. E. Pace, an employee of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, was severely injured today when the post on which he was working fell and broke his left leg and cut a gash across his forehead.

His leg was broken just below his knee and the bone was twisted and pushed out of the flesh, according to Dr. Earl W. Mabry, attending physician.

The accident occurred on South Blain street.

His home is in Chico, Texas.

ELECTRA

REUNION HOSTESS

Mrs. P. A. Low, age 74, was hostess to an elaborately arranged family reunion Tuesday Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, when 60 of her children, grand-children, brothers and sisters from all over the state and several adjoining states were present. The climax of the affair was a dinner given at high noon Thursday at which time two old friends of the family, Mrs. J. T. Eubanks of Burkburnett, and Miss Flora Sutton of this city, were present. Other affairs planned for the guests were trips through the oil districts, theater parties and general visiting together.

Patsy Ann Eubanks was born in Kentucky in 1851, but came to Texas two years later, and settled in Williamson county where in 1867, she became the bride of P. A. Low, a Confederate veteran. Mr. Low died in Williamson county, the old family home in 1918, at the ripe old age of 60, having been one of the most progressive farmers of that section of the county, the first to encourage public educations and a very splendid citizen along civic lines.

The reunion was of guests ranging in ages from 76 to 3. C. H. Eubanks of Seminole, Texas, being the oldest, a brother of Mrs. Low and little Miss Eva Lou Low, age 3, a great-grand daughter, the youngest. There are 86 living descendants of Mrs. Low, among which are 10 children, 41 grandchildren, and 36 great-grand children. The brothers and sisters are greeting each other again after 32 years, while Mrs. Low says this is the first time she has seen some of her children in 14 years. This is the largest family reunion that ever came to view in Electra.

The brothers and sisters of Mrs. Low are: C. H. Eubanks, of Seminole, Texas; W. F. Eubanks of Tishomingo, Okla.; Mrs. M. S. Buchanan of Fargo, N. D.; Mrs. T. C. Wilson, of Shawnee, Okla. The children are: Mrs. J. W. Shaw, Windgate, Texas; Mrs. G. F. Gault, Electra; Mrs. G. W. Keel, Luther, Texas; Mrs. W. E. Puckett, Winter, Texas; Mrs. W. F. Houtchins of Harrold, Texas; Mrs. S. B. Henry, Stanton, Texas; C. W. Low, Ackerly, Texas; D. T. Low, Harrold, Texas; I. J. Low, Vick Springs, Texas, and Robb Low Electra.

TEXAS FLIER KILLED

Amarillo Officer Dies After Crash In San Antonio.

SAN ANTONIO, April 16.—(AP) Second Lieutenant Porter B. Fuqua, student flyer of the advance flying school, Kelly field, was fatally injured this morning when his plane crashed in a mesquite covered pasture seven miles northwest of San Antonio. He died a few hours later at the base hospital, Fort Sam Houston. His home was in Amarillo.

The accident was seen by Edward Garagon, who was delivering groceries in the northwest part of the city. It took Garagnon about an hour to locate the wrecked plane in the mesquite thicket.

WAURIKA

CATHOLIC LADIES MEET

The Catholic ladies held their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Miles Murphy. The afternoon was spent in sewing and with a talk fest which was very much enjoyed, tongues and needles keeping pace. The hostess served a lovely plate luncheon at the close of the afternoon.

SOCIETY MEETS

The Missionary society of the Methodist church met at the church Monday afternoon for a lesson in Bible study. The resignation of Mrs. O. L. Sims as president was accepted and Mrs. M. C. Groseclose, vice president, succeeded to the office with Mrs. M. C. Maupin as newly elected vice president. The lesson was led by Mrs. J. V. West and was Matthew 6, 7 chapters; after the interesting lesson a contest was held concerning the parables of Jesus, Mrs. Bert Thompson answering more questions correctly than any one else present. Mrs. George Horne gave a report of the Annual Missionary meeting.

DAWSONS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Dawson entertained very informally Tuesday night with a jolly family party. There were two tables of bridge for the older folk while the children conducted a Charleston contest. Mrs. Wheaton Clark and Mrs. Jack Jasper had high scores for the evening. The hostess served a collation at the close of the games to Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Heacock and their daughter, Polly Anna, Mrs. Gall Durham and her daughter, Miss Mary Wade Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jasper and their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth, and to Mr. and Mrs. Wheaten Clark.

HOSTESS TO SOCIETY

Presbyterian Missionary society had for hostess Monday afternoon Mrs. T. N. Chanxler, Mrs. George Lang, leader of the interesting lesson on Africa. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. A. K. Price, Mesdames E. B. Patton, E. E. Brown and Cliff Mitchell each making interesting lesson contributions. Following the lesson a social half hour was enjoyed during which time negro spirituals were sung and a violin solo was given by Mrs. Mitchell.

Pioneer Railroad Man Dies in Dallas

DALLAS, April 16.—Major William H. Abrams, 86, a pioneer in Texas and Pacific railway development in Texas, died here today after a residence of 42 years in Dallas.

As land and tax commissioner for the Texas and Pacific, Major Abrams supervised the road's acquisition of right of way for lines into Dallas in 1873. He subsequently was general agent for the company's entire land properties.

Surviving Major Abrams are two sons, Lucian Abrams, of Lynne, Conn., and Harold J. Abrams, Dallas, and a sister, Miss Louise C. Abrams of Chicago.

CHILDRESS

SOLEMNIZE WEDDING.

Miss Arlie Dial was married Sunday morning to Mr. Leo Shider of Canadian. Rev. Garland Shell performed the ceremony. The young couple left for a little trip to Dallas in their car.

HONORED WITH SHOWER.

A very pretty shower was given on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lewis Leonie for Mrs. Claud Jarrell, who, before her marriage, was Miss Nita Jones. Those who were hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Jack Brown J. H. Mowrey, Jack Fields, Lewis Levine and Miss Eileen Roach.

The spacious rooms of the Levine home were thrown together and made a beautiful setting with their decorations of carnations and sweet peas.

The honoree entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. J. H. Mowrey. The honoree was followed by her mother, Mrs. J. Calvin Jones and Miss Georgia Jones.

A number of beautiful and useful gifts were received.

ENTERTAINS CLUB.

Mrs. Joe M. Barnhart Jr. entertained the Night club Friday evening at her home. Mrs. Jack Klutts won high score at bridge for the ladies and Clint Rogers won high for the men. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bone were the guests of the club. A delicious plate lunch was served to five tables of guests.

S. O. S. ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Tom Huggins entertained the S. O. S. club on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Floyd Piggott won high and Mrs. W. E. Davis low score. Mrs. Smith of Wichita Falls received the guest prize, a pretty flower bowl. A salad course followed by an ice course was served to the following ladies. Mesdames Travis Walling, Bill Heasler, Floyd Piggott, H. C. Graham, Lee Hollingsworth, W. E. Davis, R. C. Bowe, Leslie Johnson, Miss Rita Withey and the honor guest, Mrs. Smith of Wichita Falls.

OLNEY

BRIDGE ENTERTAINED

Miss Christine Robertson entertained the Thursday Bridge club at her suburban home when only club members were guests. Hand-drawn linen doilies and stationery were the prizes offered in the games, which were won by Mesdames Edwin Hooker and George B. Hamilton.

Later delicious refreshments of chicken salad in tomato shells, sandwiches, cake and hot chocolate were served to Mesdames Lavalle Arwood, George B. Hamilton, Skeen Staley, Morriss Hannis, Roy Roach, Elby Wilborn, Harlan Deets, Fred Harrell, Charles Hunt, S. O. Callahan Jr., Edwin Hooker and the hostess.

CHRISTIAN SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary society of the Christian church met in a short business session Monday afternoon at the church, when plans for the ensuing summer season were discussed.

ELECT DELEGATES

At a business session of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church Monday afternoon, Mrs. Mont L. Waggoner was elected to represent the local society at the conference to be held in Temple, Texas, the last week in this month. Mrs. John Dyers was elected alternate.

At this time the women also formulated plans for the serving of a chicken dinner on Saturday, April 24, the place to be selected later.

CLUB STUDIES M'DOWELL

The Olney Music club bids fair to make of Olney a true music center, if programs similar to the one given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. A. Cooper are studied and presented. The life and work of Edward Alexander, imminent American composer, was the subject for the study. Mrs. E. W. Hunt read a paper on this theme, giving the effect of his life and character on his music, telling of the freshness of the themes, which are derived from the great outdoors of this country.

Several McDowell numbers were presented later. Miss Gladys Drum gave selections from "Woodland Sketches," and Mrs. B. C. Schulkey played two violin numbers from the same group. Mrs. R. O. Githens of Dallas sang "An Tree" and a selection from McDowell's "Indian Suite." Roll call was answered by names of various compositions of the composer.

Later, the hostess, Mrs. Rhea Anderson served a delicious ice course and fruit punch to Mesdames A. A. Cooper, O. T. Anderson, J. C. Lovelace, M. D. Wolvertan, B. C. Cehulkey, R. O. Githens, Henry Harris, M. Gruver and Misses Gladys Drum, Fannie Noah.

OLNEY WOMEN TO MEET

A delegation of Olney club women will attend the convention of the First District of Federated clubs which meets April 20 in Vernon, when they will extend a cordial invitation to the district to convene in Olney in 1927. Olney is eager to receive the club women in the first district which will prove a stimulus to local club work with the goal in view of giving the other club women of the first district a most enjoyable and eventful item during the 1927 convention.

Burk Runners Hope To Put In Mean Bid At Today's Tourney

Ludgate Sends Hard Team to Iowa Park

Burkburnett will send her best track team to the county meet this year, a far better balanced team than has ever before represented Burk in track.

The outlook for Burkburnett is very bright at the present time and they are hoping to capture both senior and junior honors today at Hawk field in Iowa Park.

Coach H. T. Ludgate has stood behind the boys all the time and has shoved them forward steadily. Captain Harrold Hickam has been with them all the time, and his fighting spirit on the field has greatly encouraged the boys to fight their best to win.

All of the men will be in the best of shape.

Captain Harrold Hickam wil lbe called upon to handle the 220-yard dash, mile run and in the mile relay. This lad is expected to bring home some ribbons from the meet.

Leroy Eddie will run the 100 and 220 yard dash as well as enter the broad jump. Pat "Bannanas" Hood will enter the 220 and 440 yard dashes and will be on the mile relay team.

Floyd Patterson will toss the javelin and put the shot, high jump and run the hurles for the Bulldogs, and is expected to be the big man in the field events.

Johnnie McDonald will put the shot and throw the javelin. H. D. Hurd will run the 880 yard dash and in the relay. Hurd is expected to bring back the bacon in both of these by Burkburnett fans.

Mitchell Wolfe will have a chance to show how his hard work has improved when he gets started on the 440 yard dash and the mile relay. Glenn West will be in both the hurdles and the high jump.

Lofton "Pedro" Nelson will show his ability to run the mile. Hugh Williams wil lrun in the low hurdles. Sam Moore will have the pole vault to himself and all of the track fans are hoping him luck in this event.

Longhorn Track Men Off For Rice

AUSTIN, April 16.—Assistant Coach Curtis Alderson and 20 Texas university track and field performers left here tonight for Houston, where Saturday the Steers enagge the Rice Owls. It will be the first Southwestern conference meet for Texas.

Six of the outstanding Longhorn athletes will not participate against Rice, but will take part at Lawrence, Kan., in the Kansas relay carnival.

A team composed of Budd, quarter-miler; Cockrell, 220 yards sprinter; Glass, half-miler; and Miller, miler, will compete in the Kansas mile and seven-eighths medley relay, in which last year a Longhorn team set a world's record of 7:35.6.

Sheppard will enter the broad and high jumps, and Gooch will throw the discus.

Yanks Beat Boston, 3-2, to Win Series

BOSTON, April 16.—(AP)—The Yankees won their first series of the season today by taking the third and final game from the Red Sox, 3 to 2. Herb Pennock, though he yielded ten hits was strong in the pinches. Zahniser started for the Sox, but was struck on the leg by a batted ball in the second and had to retire. The score:

Sergeant Murphy Runs Last Race

BOGSIDE, Scotland, April 16.—(AP)—The long career of Sergeant Murphy, first American owned horse to win a grand national steeple-chase in 84 years is at an end.

The Sergeant who won the grand national at Liverpool in 1923 under the colors of Stephen Sanford Jr., of Amsterdam, N. Y., slipped on a turn in the west Scotland steeplechase today and broke a hind leg. He was destroyed, the race being won by J. Dodd's seven year old Pot Hook, who finished the two-mile course alone. The odds were 2 to 1 on Sergeant Murphy and 4 to 1 on Pot Hook.

Sergeant Murphy was to have been retired last year but he carried his 16 years so lightly, even giving weight to horses half his age, that his owner decided to give him another season.

HARRIS TAKES FREE-HITTING GO FROM MAC

Rommel Drops 4-3 Verdict To Marberry And Reuther

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Washington took a free hitting game from Philadelphia today, 4 to 3, giving the Senators three of the four game series. Five Athletic pitchers failed to keep Washington players off the bases. Manager Bucky Harris was ordered off the field in the ninth when he vigorously protested Umpire Nallin's ruling that he had not touched second base in a close play. The score:

Gulley Poles Triple With Sacks Loaded, Cubs Win 5 to 1

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—Tom Gulley's three-base hit with the bases filled in the first inning proved the undoing of Charley Robertson in his first appearance against his former teammates today and Chicago defeated St. Louis, 5 to 1, for the third straight time. Red Faber pitched in fine form and was never in danger until the ninth when the visitors bunched two hits and saved themselves from a shutout. The score:

Tigers Win, 5-3, When Johns Holds Tribe to 4 Hits

DETROIT, April 16.—(AP)—August Johns, Fort Worth rookie, held Cleveland to four hits and turned in a five to three victory for Detroit today. Two of the Indian hits were made in the first inning, a double by Spurgeon and a triple by Speaker and these coupled with two errors by O'Rourke gave the Indians their three markers. Shaute's wildness and a double by Hellmann which cleared the bases were responsible for Detroit's five runs in the third. Shaute walked two men and hit another in this inning. The score:

Cardinals Still Lack Pitching—Unless Bill Has Turned Trick

It is generally admitted that the Cardinals' pennant chances hang on the quality of pitching developed by diligent labor with the squad on hand when the bell rings.

Critics generally agree that Bill Killifer holds in his hands the power to lead the Cardinals to the championship though it be a heroic task for one man.

The St. Louis team enters the 1926 campaign with the same attacking power, the same driving force and the same fielding strength it had last year and in 1924—when it was in the thick of the fight from bell to bell.

Manager Hornsby feels that the experience obtained last year by Lee Doubtit, young outfielder, will make him a more valuable player this year.

He looks to Vic Keen, young hurler obtained from the Cubs for Jimmy Cooney, to aid his pitching staff. And he counts on Bob O'Farrell to handle the catching in his usual brilliant style.

But what Hornsby is banking on mainly is the success Killefer has had to date and will have during the season in getting something out of this list of castoff hurlers on the staff:

Walter Mails.
Allan Sothoron.
Leo Dickerman.
Sylvester Johnson.
Walter Huntzinger.

If he can make two consistent winners from this bunch, to team along with Keen, Bill Sherdel and Art Reinhardt, the St. Louis team may win the National league pennant. For on pitching alone do their chances rest. No one will gainsay the ball murdering propensities of Hornsby's outfit. And the matter in which he handled them after becoming manager last June leaves no doubt as to his greatness as a leader.

Abe Mitchell Beats George Duncan In Roehampton Final

ROEHAMPTON, England, April 16.—(AP)—Abe Mitchell today defeated George Duncan, three up and two to play, thus winning the Roehampton golf club invitation professional tournament with its prize of £200. This annual competition affords British professional golfers the first opportunity to display their spring golfing styles, and Mitchell sustained the hopes that the golfing public of this country places in him as the likeliest man to end the raids on the British open championship to which the Americans have so successfully conducted in four out of the last five years.

He eliminated an able youngster, W. B. Smith, four up and three to play, in the semi-finals this morning before renewing his ancient and friendly rivalry with Duncan. All this came after the trouncing which he administered to Archibald Compston yesterday when the score was four up and three to play.

Tonight Mitchell's admirers were more certain than heretofore that few if any golfers on the other side of the Atlantic can defeat him in a 72-hole match and the arrival of the American golfing invaders is awaited with the greatest interest.

Records Expected To Go In Kansas Relay Meet Today

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 16.—(AP)—A warm sun today and prospects for continued fair weather brightened prospects for record smashing performances in several events at the Kansas relays at Memorial stadium here tomorrow.

Nearly a thousand track and field athletes from over the country will compete in the meet.

Charles Hoff of Norway world's champion pole vaulter, who will try for a new outdoor record, and Adrian Paulen, middle distance champion of Holland who will compete in a special quarter-mile race will lend an international flavor to the relays.

Throughout the United States there are no fewer than 10,000 football coaches and trainers who receive from $1,000 to $15,000 a year for their work.

Gents Nose Out Mustangs, 9-8

SHREVEPORT, La., April 16.—(AP)—Centenary Bentlemen nosed out the SMU Mustangs 9-8 in ten innings to make a clean sweep of the two-game series here today. With one man out and "Dutch" Binion perched on second, Crawford hit one to Mann and the latter let the ball roll through his legs and with it went the ball game, Binion racing in on the miscue.

Romotsky was Coach Ray Morrison's first choice to pitch but the former gave way to Wooleidge in the ninth with the bases filled and one out. The next man hit into a double play.

The Gents scored the winning run off of Wooleidge in the tenth stanza. Crawford and Davis worked for Centenary.

The features of the extra-inning battle were home runs by Davis in the eighth for the locals and one by Coombs in the ninth for the visitors, in addition to a spectacular catch one hand by Coombs in center field.

BUFFS WIN AT HOME, 4 TO 2

Houston Gets to Hanson For Quartet of Runs In Sixth

HOUSTON, April 16.—(AP)—Young Elmer Hanson from the Pacific Coast, pitching his first game of professional baseball, had one bad inning here today and the Buffs won the opening game of the home season from Beaumont, 4 to 2. Ken Penner was in the box for the Buffs and but for an error by Bailey in the ninth would have scored a shutout. A crowd estimated at not more than 5,000 witnessed the affray.

Davenport Leads Frederick To Win Over Grandfield

FREDERICK, April 16.—J. L. Davenport, high point man, led the Frederick high school track team to victory over the Grandfield high pacers in an interesting track meet here Tuesday afternoon. The final point tabulation was 66 points for Frederick and 57 for Grandfield.

Running on a slow track, the men hampered by mud clogged cleats were unable to establish good time in any events except the quarter-mile event, which was negotiated by Davenport, of Frederick in 53.6.

Both teams are training hard, hoping to carry away the cup in the coming Tillman county Interscholastic track and field meet which is to be held April 29 and 30 and May 1.

Texhoma Plays Coyotes Today

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company baseball team plays the Wichita Falls high school nine this afternoon on the Coyote diamond. The high school is borrowing two of the Texhoma pitchers for the game. They are Thurman and Graham.

The Texhoma club will journey to Burkburnett for a game with the Burkburnett Texhomas Sunday afternoon. This will close the practice season for Texhoma before the regular season opener next Thursday with the Security Bank team.

Jimmy Parker will work in at least a part of the next two Texhoma games to get his arm limbered up for the Security battle.

WACO SHADES SANTONE, 5-4

Two Misjudged Flies Just Enough to Give Pratt Lucky Win

SAN ANTONIO, April 16.—(AP)—Two misjudged flies, one going for a three bagger and another for two bases, gave Waco two runs to win the opening game of the Texas league season here today, 5 to 4, before a crowd of nearly 8,000. Willie Hudlin, Oklahoma 18-year-old high school boy, was on the slab for Waco, and went the entire route, shutting out the Bears in the last inning with the bases full, when Golvin sent a long fly to center, which Wilson bagged to retire the side.

Opening day ceremonies consisted of a parade of players of the two teams, followed by the officials of the San Antonio amateur baseball commission and amateur players in uniform with a brass band to liven it up. Police Commissioner Phil Wright pitched the first ball, and Commissioner Paul Steffler was at the receiving end. The score:

Electra and Burk Netmen Win Out In Tourney Final

Three Teams Enter County Meet Today Virtually Tied Up

The Wichita county tennis championship games were played in Iowa Park last Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. The games were hard fought and the winners well earned the honor.

In the boys doubles Grady Ragsdale and Harvey Moore, of Burkburnett, were defeated by George Howley and Owen Parr, from Electra, in the preliminaries. The Electra boys also defeated Paul Enloe and Wallace Beasley, of Iowa Park in the finals.

Paul Enloe and Wallace Beasley, of Iowa Park, defeated Grady Moore and Harvey Ragsdale, of Burkburnett, for runner ups.

In the boys singles ictor Davis, of Burkburnett, defeated Paul Enloe of Iowa Park, in the preliminaries and Jess Weaver, of Electra, in the finals for county honors.

Burk Girls Win.

Paul Enloe, of Iowa Park, defeated Jess Weaver, of Electra, for the runner up honors.

In the girl's doubles Mary Kate Ellis and Pearl Haney, of Burkburnett, defeated Mary Dean Reneau and Inez Igou, of Electra, in the preliminaries, and Jessie Lou Counts and Virginia Bell Walker, of Iowa Park, for the county championship.

Virginia Bell Walker and Jessie Lou Counts, of Iowa Park, defeated Mary Dean Reneau and Inez Igou, of Electra, for runner ups.

In the girls singles Addie East, of Burkburnett, defeated Esthma Alderson, of Electra, in the preliminaries, but lost to Roy Golden for the championship honors.

Honors Almost Even.

Addie East, of Burkburnett, defeated Esthma Alderman, of Electra, for second place.

The results of the tennis games leaves the three class A high schools of Wichita county rather close. The scores for the three schools are: Iowa Park 82 points, Electra 81 points, and Burkburnett 80.

The teams will enter the track meet Saturday with this standing, and the team that wins the county track meet will be the all-around champions of the county. The track events will start at 10 a. m. and a large crowd is expected to attend this meet.

PANTHERS AND STEERS TIE IN 10-ACT FARCE

Dallas Fans Yap at Home Club When Atzmen Knot Count

FORT WORTH, April 16.—(AP)—They couldn't cram enough comedy in nine innings of baseball so the Panthers and Steers battled an extra inning Friday and were willing to give some additional fun but Umpire Hill ruled it too dark and the game ended, 8 to 8. Joe Victor, Huck Betts, Lou North, Lefty Suman and Slim Love, the pitchers, did their best to make it a refined drama but the slapstick persisted. Lou North decided he could not be left out of the fun and legged three bases on a drive to right-center which Hack Miller snared after a long run. After the Panthers tied it in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, driving Victor from the box in the fifth, disposing of Shuman in the sixth and giving Slim Love some trouble, the fans howled for the Steer hide. Neither team scored after the sixth, though both had opportunities. The score:

SPORTING NEWS — THE RECORD NEWS — FIRST ACCURATE COMPLETE

Ed Hughes' Column

Friendly sporting relations between this country and Great Britain have been cementing firmly through varied competitive clashes in the last decade. In track and field sports the bristling ill-feeling that manifested itself in the London Olympics of 1908 has completely died away. Oxford-Cambridge teams visiting this country have been royally received and their presence has been a keen delight to American sportsmen. English and Australian tennis stars endeavoring to win the Davis cup have done much to promote a feeling of genuine friendship toward the mother country.

But "Old Campaigner," an eminent English boxing critic, is evidently tiring of the pleasant relations. He writes "a warning to British boxers visiting America," entitling it "Vultures of the Ring." In part, it follows:

"A word of warning to all our boxers, big, little, good, indifferent. If, and when, you hear America calling and you are disposed to take a chance in the States do not accept the stories about 'money for nothing' at their face value. We are not in this country immune from the rapacious manager, but the most avaricious and unscrupulous of his kind here is a paragon of all the virtues compared to his American brother. They skin you alive over there. Fights they will get you, but their overhead charges are stupendous, unconscionable, and not infrequently smack of a species of garrotting.

"Within the last month a British boxer took the ring on the understanding that win or lose he would receive the better part of 11,000 pounds. Actually, he got less than 200 pounds. Mr. Manager docked 50 per cent, there was travel, hotels, training, publicity; and the fight he was according to the reading of every competent, impartial judge of boxing with a place at the ringside, he was held to have lost.

"The popular assumption is that American boxing is definitely controlled, and in this regard offers to us an example which we might copy with considerable profit to ourselves.

* * *

BRITISH BOXERS STRANDED

"My experience has taught me that in point of cold facts the conditions in New York and the States generally are infinitely worse than in this country. There is more rascality in American boxing than the average man ever dreamed of. Even a world's champion has to disgorge unbelievable sums of money else he would be frozen out; the merely ambitious British boy who, very properly, decides that his education would be the more complete if he did his fighting in all the countries, will find from the very moment he lands in America he is surrounded by so many vultures. No British boxer should go to the States without first having a definite job to do when he lands.

"Unhappily, the professional fighter, with but a few brilliant exceptions, is a simpleton and has no more than the foggiest notion of what a contract is. With the result that most times when he wanders abroad he is bamboozled outrageously.

* * *

"Within the recent years I have known of only two European boxers who have picked up really big money in America—Carpentier and Jimmy Wilde. Carpentier, through Descamps, made it a condition precedent to his fighting Dempsey that his end should be in the hands of his bankers before he put on a glove; Wilde, immensely fortunate in having Mr. Teddy Lewis to look after his affairs, insisted upon having the money which he was to be paid to do battle with Pancho Villa, before he set sail; but these two were in a position to dictate; they could commend.

"Very sad stories of British boxers left practically stranded in America come to me repeatedly, and I have more than a shrewd suspicion that the worst stories are never told. There have been English boys reduced to such a state of penury that they have been pleased to work at a training camp for their keep.

MILLIGAN'S TREATMENT

"Literally, you fight for your bread and cheese in America; you have to be a topnotcher to make an acquaintance with the loaves and fishes of the American ring, whether you are of the States or any other country. The foreigner is seldom permitted to carry off swag worth the while, and I am wondering whether such as Tommy Milligan is the happier for having exploited America? If all that I have heard is true, I should say that he is free to doubt the wisdom of his adventure. That he has made a fortune by fighting Zivic I seriously question.

"I am sorry for Milligan; he had the positive assurance that if he went to New York he would be put in a match for the welter title with Mickey Walker, and I am not blaming him for accepting that assurance. But promises that have to do with fighting have ever been so much pie crust. Milligan should never have left home without first having a cast iron undertaking that it would be Walker or no fight at all if he made the trip.

* * *

"Jack Kearns, who looks after Walker, is not a man to give any boxer, whether of his or any other country, an opportunity to acquire that which is in the keeping of his man. I was amazed when I was told that Walker, through Kearns, let it be known that he was simply pining for a fight with the Scot, and when I gave myself over to reflection I decided that if Milligan did go to New York there was a danger of his plans miscarrying."

"I will not say that Walker did not develop a sore toe, but I will not believe that either Walker or Kearns was all out to fight Milligan. My deduction is this: On his first trip Milligan having demonstrated abundantly that he was an exceptional boxer and one who was bound sooner or later to take a tilt at the welter title, Kearns, about as shrewd a fellow as any I have happened upon conceived the idea that if Milligan could be but into a contest with such as Zivic and beaten, Walker would, as a matter of course hold to the championship for perhaps an indefinite period.

"When Milligan found that Walker pleaded such a dreadfully sore toe that he could not go to war, Tommy was in a position of either to get some of his expenses liquidated by having some sort of fight or returning to his native Scotland pretty well broke. He beat Zivic first time undoubtedly, and I shall ever contend that he was scandalously treated when he was adjudged to have lost.

"Why he made a second journey to America is, of course, entirely his own business but if I may be permitted to hazard a guess it was because he believed that if he had fair dealings, Walker would be bound to toe the line.

"If all our youngsters who have ventured to America were to give a faithful account of their experiences they would provide reading of a most extraordinary kind."

Nothing could be more unjust to American boxing than the above article. Granted that boxing here is not lily-white and never will be, the fact remains that our glove fighting is on a much higher plane in every way than in any other country. As for England, the game there is practically at a dead stop. There is no money to be had for it and practically as little enthusiasm.

In America, managers, promoters and boxers themselves are so much superior to the British brand that "Old Campaigner's" remarks appear ridiculous. It is true that this country has no use for a foreigner unless he can really fight. If he cannot, then the poor fellow is almost certain to drop to the level of hired help at training camps. Fighting here is a business, a very big one, and it costs money to "put over" a newcomer. Milligan did not get his bout with Walker because in the end he did not justify his claims. He was beaten by George Levine, practically an unknown and who has since been crowded out of the limelight by Meyer Cohen.

As for British treatment of star American boxers, how about Tom Gibbons at the Wembley Stadium with Bloomfield? Gibbons got scarcely a cent of the big purse promised him. When such purses are promised in this country, the British boxers get them.

FROGS TAG IT ON LONGHORNS

Home Runs by Wolfe And Taylor Cause Varsity Downfall

AUSTIN, April 16.—(AP)—Long drives over the left field wall by Bear Wolfe and Harry Taylor today enabled the TUC Toads to shade the Texas University Longhorns, 6 to 5. It was the first game TCU had ever won in Austin from the Longhorns.

Two men were on when Wolfe in the third, slugged one of Cox's fast ones for a homer. Fred Thompson retaliated for Texas in the same inning by swatting a homer with two on.

The Frogs were trailing by one run when they came to bat in the seventh. "Hobo" Carson reached first on Radford's error, and counted ahead of Taylor, who parked the ball.

After the third inning, Carson pitched magnificiently. The loss was charged to Cox.

IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY

Six members of a New York family named Steinbugler claim the world's family billard honors. They stand ready to meet any other family in a match.

Fussell and Rip Hold 'Em, Turgeon and Mule Sock

SHREVEPORT 16.—The Spudders went in a tie for first place, along with two other clubs this afternoon when they defeated the Sports 3 to 2 in a hard fought game. The contest was a pitching duel between Lefty Fussell, of the Texans and Smokey Joe Cantrell, of the locals. Neither hurler was able to finish out the game due to the need of pinch hitters when chances presented themselves to score a victory. Fussell retired in the sixth when Metzler batted for him and Cantrell went out of the game in the eighth when Thompson batted for him. Thompson finished the game on the hill for the Sports and Wheeler for the Brainard crew.

Slow fielding marred the play, both teams being slow on ground balls with the results that runners were continuously on the bases. The Sports were more guilty in this respect than their opponents. In every inning but the last, the visitors reached first base. On plays that looked like easy double plays the Shreveporters were able to get only one out.

Mule Socks Pill.

Mule Washburn was the dangerous man at the bat for the Spuds, getting a single and a double in three trials. Ping Bodie made two hits but they were of the scratch variety to the infield.

After three innings of scoreless playing, Pete Turgeon put the Spudders in the lead in the fourth with a home run over the left field wall. In the fifth the Spuds doubled the count when Brainard doubled to left field, went to third when Lamb was thrown out by Benton and scored when Query grounded out to short. Fussell rolled to second to close the inning.

The Sports tied the score in the sixth when a couple of errors put Fussell in the hole. Bodie camped under Bonowitz high fly but dropped the ball and Bonowitz pulled up at second. Phelps hit to center and when the ball got away from Fitzgerald, Bonowitz scored and Phelps went to second. He advanced when Cantrell rolled out. Donovan popped up in short right field and Turgeon made a one hand catch and held Phelps at third. Benton singled to left and Phelps counted with the tying run.

Right Back at 'Em.

The Spuds came right back in the seventh to win back the lead. Washburn doubled to left and Bodie was safe on a hit to Hoffman. Brainard hit to Donovan who fumbled and the bases were full. Lamb rolled to Hoffman and was out at first, Washburn scored. Query was given four wide ones and Metzler batted for Fussell and popped to Phelps.

In the eighth after two were out Washburn drew a pass and Bodie was safe on a hit to deep short. The inning came to a close when Brainard hit a high skier to third.

In the ninth Tarleton sent Kirke in to bat for Donovan and Kirke got a scratch hit over second.

Lennox went into run for him and was forced at second by Benton on a roller to short. Taylor flied to left and Hoffman popped to short.

WILL TIGER CARROLL Be Battle Note For Fighting Canadians This Year?

Dan Howley, smiling, large and peppery leader of the Toronto International league club, wears an unusually expansive smile these days, for his spring hopes have been realized.

He felt that his club needed one good pitcher to keep it in the pennant fight this season. Six of the club's outstanding stars had been sold or traded to major league clubs over the winter. Other positions seemed plugged but he needed a pitcher. When the Detroit Tigers turned Owen Carroll, Holy Cross boy, over to him recently the big man felt satisfied.

Carroll starts his first full season in professional baseball listed as a coming pitching star. Howley doesn't expect to keep him more than one season. Ty Cobb doesn't expect to leave him there more than one season. One busy year in a fast minor organization is all the college boy needs to make him a great hurler in the opinion of many critics.

Carroll joined the Tigers last summer, just three days after doffing his ca pand gown as a graduate of Holy Cross, alma mater of many a great ball player. He boasted a bachelor of arts degree by wanted a B. B. degree.

Ty Cobb shoved Carroll into the at Boston. The announced debut of at oBston. The announced debut of the New England favorite drew a holiday-sized crowd to Fenway park. Carroll started working as calmly as calmly as though he was warming up on the campus at Holy Cross.

The Red Sox, smarting under the riding a tail-end team gets, was out to maim and kill anything on which it could prey. Despite the savage attack of the Sox on Carroll's offerings he would have won his game but for the fact that the Tiger infield booted it away.

Carroll was yanked in the seventh inning, a bit disappointed but not a bit shaken.

Carroll stands out as one of the greatest college pitchers ever produced. The wonder of it is that he did not burn himself out in his college days. In the years he pitched for the college team he won a total of 50 games and lost but two. Magnificient pitching it took to pile up this record. In those 52 games he permitted just 32 earned runs.

He seemed to be a great pitcher when he joined the freshman squad at Holy Cross. If memory serves me right he defeated Harvard, Yale and Princeton for the freshmen. Princeton alone of the big three managed to score a victory over him in the four years he hurled in college uniform.

Cobb, searching long and diligently for pitchers upon whom he can depend, is not satisfied with this year's hurling staff. He could use Carroll right now. The Detroit leader, however, realizes that Carroll will fare better with more experience. This is why he is letting him out for a year. Next year Cobb will have a pitcher to present to the world, he believes—one who should team with Edwin Wells and Earl Whitehill in a new generation of hurlers.

Aggie Runners Defeat Baylor

COLLEGE STATION, April 16.—(AP)—Texas Aggies defeated Baylor Bears in a closely contested track meet here today. Wilson of the Aggies and Stovall of Baylor tied for high point honors with two first places each. One conference record was bettered when Taylor of Baylor cut loose with a 142 foot heave of the discus.

Gosh! Ain't That Terrible! Dallas Opines Golf About To Put Skids On Baseball

DALLAS, April 16.—(AP)—The king of American sports no longer reigns supreme for golf is at least a pretender to the throne, delegates to the Southwestern Playground conference agreed here today.

The art of driving a white pellet over the land scape is rooting king baseball out of his own ballwick, according to W. F. Jacoby, Dallas playground director, and others at the conference agreed with him.

One speaker told how he had arranged a splendid baseball diamond for his playground, and when he viewed it on the second day after turning the kids in ,the erstwhile diamond had nine holes and had become a golf course.

There is a distinct lessening in the demand for amateur baseball, despite the continued enthusiasm for the major league variety, said Mr. Jacoby. On the other hand the demand for golf has increased to the point where it is self-supporting from the fees. The first year of municipal golf in Dallas brought out 62,000 players. This number, Mr. Jacoby said, had doubled in the last three years.

Braves Beat Phils In Final, 6 to 5

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(AP)—The Boston Braves won their first game of the season by taking the final game of the series from Philadelphia, 6 to 5. Ernie Maun was pounded for six runs in the four innings, but Ulrich stopped the Braves' attack. Bob Smith was effective for Boston until the ninth when the locals scored two runs and had two men on base but pinch hitter, Clarence Mitchell popped to Bancroft. The score:

More Truth Than Poetry

TO A LINNET

Though poets praise the merry note
You pipe at evening, little linnet,
It sounds to me more like a gloat
With just a bit of malice in it.
While I at dawn, my mind on work,
Must to a dingy office hurry,
Amid the leafy boughs you lurk
Without a single care or worry.
All day you breathe the country air
Upon the slender branches swinging,
Or idly flutter here and there,
No wonder that you feel like singing!

To the green grub-supplying ground
Which is your butcher and your grocer,
With tranquil slumber you are blessed,
No fears of unpaid debts distress you—
There is no mortgage on your nest,
Nor can a landlord dispossess you.
And when your children once have learned
The useful art of aviation,
You need not blow in all you've earned
Endeavoring to educate them.

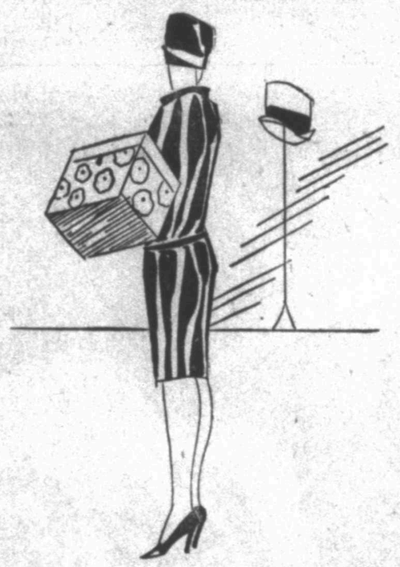

As soon as dinner time comes 'round
You merely sweep a little closer
You see me struggling to maintain
What I am pleased to call my freedom,
You see me hurry forth to gain
The dollars—and I sorely need 'em.
You watch my back, which with the years
Becomes more nearly bended double
And raise your voice, and give three cheers
Because you feel quite free from trouble.
Your song does not appeal to me
As blithe and gay and sweetly cheering,
It may perhaps express your glee
But it sounds to me more like sneering!

Junior College Carnival Arena For Friday Fun

Education was side tracked for fun at the Junior college Friday night when under the auspices of the Music club, the building was turned over to the Junior college carnival. A large crowd turned out for the numerous attractions offered by the students. Proceeds from sale of admission tickets will go for purchase of stage settings for the college.

A large array of standard side shows were arranged in the main first floor corridors, while the auditorium was given over to the main performance. A vivid and tragic dramatization of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was given as a feature of the show, with Chink Whitelaw, Ira L. Cain Jr., Delores Peavy, Tom McCart and O. H. Box in the stellar roles. Miss Dorothy Reed read the famous poem while it was being enacted. A solo dance by Beulah Shipley and an Apache dance by Viva Riley and Emmett Bauknight enlivened proceeding later.

Refreshments were sold in the side shows, while the corridors were showered with confetti and serpentines.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, April 16.—(AP)—The cotton market developed more activity today than has been the rule for a considerable time past. During the afternoon trading was particularly brisk under the influence of rather general selling pressure. The trend of prices was downward from start to finish although the decline did not gather good headway until after noon. After an easier opening two to four points below the close of yesterday the market eased off gradually during the morning on better weather prospects and the decline became more rapid later on advices from the interior that the weather was generally dry. At the lowest reached right at the end old crop months were 21 to 24 points net down compared with the previous close and new crop months were 32 to 34 points net lower. The close was at the bottom, showing net losses for the day for the general list of 20 to 34 points.

At the start prices were two to four points down on disappointing cables and a comparatively dry weather map. The first trades at 18.08 for May, 17.67 for July, 16.75 for October and 16.73 for December proved to be the highs of the day. Prices continued to decline after the start and it soon became evident that new crop months were weaker than the old crop position. By noon the decline from yesterday's close was 10 to 11 points. Selling gathered considerable headway during the afternoon particularly for the new crop positions and new lows were made on all months in the late trading with May at 17.90, July at 17.45, October at 16.43 and December at 16.43, or 21 to 34 points below the previous close. The close was at the lowest.

Weekly statistics were bearish but the market paid little attention to anything but the weather. Exports for the day were large, reaching 73,107 bales. Exports for the week totaled 157,413 bales.

NEW YORK FUTURES.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)Cotton futures closed steady at net decline of 15 to 27 points.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—Prospects for generally fair and warmer weather in the south seemed responsible for declines in the cotton market today. New crop deliveries made new low records for the season, October selling off to 17.14 or 24 points net lower while May broke to 18.62 or 20 points below yesterday's closing quotations. The general market closed steady but within a point or two of the lowest, showing net declines of 17 to 27 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of one to three points and soon showed net losses of five to eight points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and a more favorable weather map. Initial selling promoted by the improving weather situation then seemed to have run its course and trading was very quiet during mid-day with fluctuations narrow.

Failure of the renewed steadiness to bring in buying of any general character encouraged bearish sentiment, however, and offerings became heavier in the afternoon. Som eof the Wall Street selling may have been inspired by the action of the spot market. May contracts seemed to be obtainable at a slightly reduced premium over July but the main factor was the prospect for good weather over the week-end. Southern as well as local and Wall Street selling developed on the decline which followed and carried active months about 18 to 26 points net lower. May contracts, which had sold at 19.30 at the beginning of the week, broke about 38 points from that level while December declined from 17.33, the recent high price, to 16.80, compared with 16.83, the low price touched at the beginning of March. Last prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

The week-end figures attracted very little comment and did not appear to be considered a factor either way but the trade was evidently very favorably impressed by the weather outlook and the selling was supposed to be in belief that with continued good weather, recent delays in the new crop start would soon be overcome.

Exports today 76,707, making 6,837,222 so far this season. Port receipts 23,841, U. S. port stocks 1,043,776 bales.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—Heavy selling of General Motors on announcement that the company had closed down its Canadian plant on account of tariff changes unsettled today's stock market just before the close after an early period of moderate strength. Final quotations disclosed considerable irregularity a long list of net gains ranging from fractions to five points being offset by a smaller number of net declines. Trading was extremely quiet, the day's sales slightly exceeding 1,000,000 shares.

Outside the stock market chief financial interest centered in the strength of the bond market reflecting easing monetary conditions, the renewed weakness of French exchange which sagged to another new low level; the advance in Canadian exchange above the "gold export" point and heavy realizing in May wheat, which dropped over 2c a bushel to $1.65⅝.

General Motors, which had been run up to 118⅝ in the early afternoon fell back to 115⅝ in the late selling movement closing just above that figure for a net loss of 1⅝. Mack Trucks dropped from 109⅛ to 107½. Net declines of a point or more also were recorded by U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Dodge, Jordan, Pierce Arrow preferred, Stewart Warner and Hudson, the last named dropping from 66⅞ to 62 and then rallying feebly.

U. S. Steel common touched 119⅝ and then dropped back to 118½, the opening price.

Buying of the merger rails was rather active in the early trading as a result of the interstate commerce commission's approval of the recent election of three "Frisco" directors to the Rock Island board but it was checked later by the publication of a statement Chairman Lovett of the Union Pacific that existing laws were an obstacle to mergers on a large scale. Rock Island closed unchanged at 44, after having touched 46¼, and Frisco common closed ⅝ higher at 88⅛ after having sold at 90⅝. Other active rails showed little change on the day.

Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent and held steady at that figure all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. Demand sterling ruled slightly higher around $4.85⅝ but French francs sagged over three points to 3.35 cents. Other continental rates moved within rather narrow and irregular limits a jump of nine points to 14.29 cents in Spanish pesetas being one of the few features. The Canadian dollar was again quoted at a gain of 5-32 of one per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—Big profit taking sales together with impending shipments of wheat from the northwest to Chicago, gave a decided downturn to wheat values today. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled ⅝c to 2¼c net lower, May (new) $1.65⅝ to $1.65¾ and July $1.40⅝ to $1.40½. Corn finished ⅝c to 1⅛c off, oats ⅛c to ⅝c down and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 10c.

Corn and oats lost ground owing largely to wheat weakness. Pit speculators were aggressive sellers of corn.

Provisions advanced in line with hog values and because the increase of stocks of lard here in the first half of April proved to be much less than was looked for.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say "a backward season over a wide area has been mainly accountable for a slow development of spring trade. Some goods which normally should be moving freely now are not going actively into consumption, because of inclement weather and farm work in different sections also has been retarded. Opening of lake navigation at northern ports moreover has been delayed, and business generally has not gained the hoped for momentum thus far in the second quarter. The comparative smallness of dealers' stocks of merchandise remains a strong point, yet a lagging of retail distribution tends to bring out offers of price concessions. After 13 successive weeks during which declines in wholesale quotations have predominated, a condition has been reached where profit margins in some lines of manufacture are very close and the absence of a broad forward demand caused a curtailment of production in some directions.

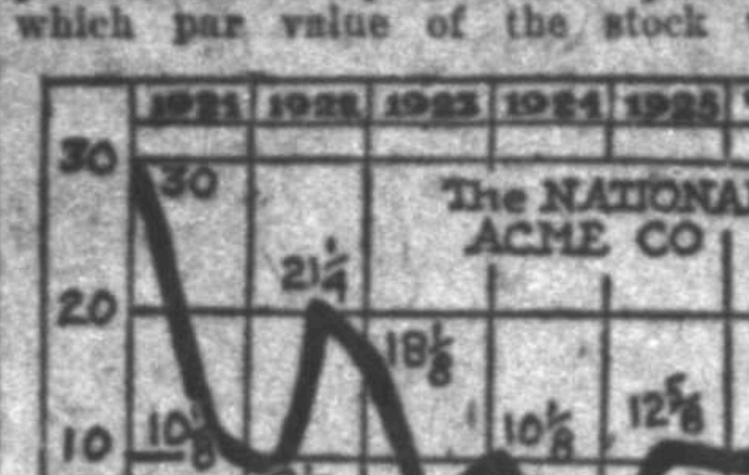

Weekly bank clearings $8,95,007,000.

STOCK-A-DAY

The National Acme company has two distinct phases in its program of manufacture. One is the production of automatic machines and the other is the production of machine parts from metal bars through the use of automatic machines. The concern is the largest of its kind in the world. Products include standard cap and set screws, nuts and studs, special brass and steel parts, automatic screw machines and automatic threading taps and dies.

The plants of the company are located at Cleveland and at Windsor, Vt. A policy of curtailment and retrenchment was adopted in 1924. Surplus equipment was reduced and some auxiliary machine portions of the business sold. In October, 1924, the stockholders approved a re-capitalization plan by which par value of the stock was cut from $50 to $10 a share. This enabled the company to reduce good will and patents in its balance sheet from $14,864,535 to $7,500,000 and to write off property and inventory accounts totaling over $3,000,000. There remained a resultant book profit and loss account of $8,424,280.

Capital stock outstanding now consists of $560,000 in shares of $10 par. Funded debt totals $4,194,000 due in 1931. Earnings since 1920 have been unsatisfactory. A net loss of $626,649 was incurred in 1924. In the 9 months ended Sept. 30, 1925, net profits after depreciation, interest and mid-year inventory write off, amounted to $300,-336 or 60 cents a share on the capital stock. No dividends have been paid since Dec. 1, 1920.

Produce

TEXAS PRODUCE.

SAN ANTONIO, April 16.—The Texas vegetable movement was incompletely reported this morning, two cars of cabbage, two onions, 13 string beans, two sweet potatoes, but there was a heavy pick up for the previous two days consisting of 75 cars of mixed vegetables for the 14 and 15 for the 13. Fifty-two cars of cabbage fwor the 14 and 56 for the 13, 31 cars of potatoes for the 14 and 34 for the 13, one car of onions for the 14 and one car of lettuce for that date. Shipments: Potatoes at Brownsville were stronger yesterday around $5.50@5.75 cwt. for United States No. 1 triumphs, string beans were strong at $2.50@2.70 per bushel hamper, carrots were unchanged, beets about steady at $1.00@1.20, cabbage weak at $20@25 per ton usual terms, with hardly enough cash business to establish a market around $17.50 per ton.

Eggs are little weaker at south Texas markets this morning and a little stronger in the North Texas trade. Most poultry items are unchanged and in good demand, except turkeys which are hard to move.

San Antonio: Hens 23@25c; fryers 40 @43c; old roosters 12c; turkeys, No. 1's, 25@28, few higher; old toms 22c; No. 2's, 15@18c per pound liveweight basis. Eggs, fresh to producers $7.50@7.75 per case.

Fort Worth: Hens 20@22c; larger springs 35@38c; small 25@30c; old roosters 12@13c; turkeys 28@30c pound liveweight basis.

Eggs, fresh gathered firsts $7.75 with cases.

Butter: packing stock country 23@24c; creamery A grade 42c; B 40c per pound.

CHICAGO POULTRY.

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—Poultry alive, unsettled; receipts none; fowls 31c, broilers 50@55c; turkeys 35c; roosters 21c; ducks 30@32c; geese 19c.

TOYS UNPOPULAR

American "Thingamagigs" Replace German Products.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP) The German toy is fast losing its place in the heart of the American boy, due largely, the commerce department announced today, to the development of American made and more modern "thingamagigs."

German toy exports last year to the United States declined 33 per cent.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, April 16.—Strength was an outstanding factor in the cattle market Friday. Cows were purchased early on a good, strong basis, heifers and yearlings held to a fully steady level and calf prices were mostly 25c up. Beef steers moved slowly at rates that were barely in line with the week's decline.

Only 2,000 head of cattle and 300 calves appeared as fresh receipts and half of the run of cattle consisted of steers on through billing.

Beef steers market slow as all week. Not more than half dozen loads fresh supplies. String of more than 20 loads failing to sell Thursday at $6.50.

Demand for cows and mixed cattle relatively broad, considerable activity. Short load cows $5.90, other carload sales $4.85 @5.85. Canners and cutters $3.25@3.85, mostly.

About six cars good heifers and yearlings were shown in addition to few loads of medium to fairly useful quality. One sale Oklahoma yearlings $9.50.

Compared with Thursday's break, calf market was a quarter higher, active. Two cars heavy brahma calves $7.75. Medium to good kinds $6.50@7.50. Nothing new in the stocker and feeder division. Small receipts, demand quiet.

Hog market steady, around 1,000 yarded, but 200 packer pens being hogs brought in from another market. A shipper took a car of 176 pounders at $13.00, these being the most desirable on offer. A sale of 219 pound hogs at $12.75 was to a packer. Sows went at $9.50@10.50.

Active trading developed in the sheep house where arrivals were close to 2,000 head. A string of shorn wethers averaged 88 pounds and made $8.00, a price that looked steady with the week's decline.

Cattle 3,200 including 300 calves and 1,00 cattle through, market slow on steers, strong on cows, steady on yearlings, 25 cents higher on calves; beeves $5.50@8.50; stockers $5.00@7.50; fat cows $4.00@5.75; cutters $3.50@3.85; canners $3.15@3.35; heifers $5.50@8.00; yearlings $5.50 @9.50; bulls $3.75@5.50; calves $4.00 @8.50.

Hogs, 1,000 including 200 direct; top $13.00; bulk $12.50@12.75; light $12.75 @13.00; medium $12.50@12.75; heavy $12.00@12.35; mixed $11.50@12.00; common $11.00@11.50; sows $10.00@10.50; pigs $10.00@12.50.

Sheep 2,000, market steady; genuine lambs $12.00@15.00; shorn lambs $10.00 @11.35; shorn feeder lambs $7.50@8.50; yearlings $9.00@10.25; wethers $7.05@8.00; ewes $6.00@7.00; culls $1.00@2.25; stockers $3.00@6.00; goats $1.50 @3.75.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK.

KANSAS CITY, April 16.—Cattle, 1,600; calves 200; not enough fresh cattle offered on native side to test value; mixed yearlings $9.50; Texas steers of common to medium quality in quarantine division $6.60 to $7.85; fully steady; top veals $9.50; stockers and feeders steady.

Hogs, 3,000; uneven, 10 to 25; higher; top $13.00 on 160 pound averages; bulk of sales $11.40 to $12.60; 130 to 240 pound averages $12.35 to $12.55; light lights up to $13.25; 250 to 350 pounds $11.25@12.15; packing sows mostly $10.00@10.85; stock pigs scarce, steady, $13.00@13.75.

Sheep, 3,500; killing classes steady; no choice wool lambs offered; best on sale $12.85; clippers $11.50; short deck California spring lambs $15.35; others $15.00 with 16 per cent sort for slaughter $12.00; shorn California lambs $10.50; yearlings $9.75; ewes $8.00@8.10; Texas goats $10.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—Cattle 2,000; steer trade steady bulk $8.50@9.65; mixed yearlings upward to $10.40; best weighty steers $10.25; only handful she stock offered 10@15c higher; other classes steady; bologna bulls upward to $6.40; vealers $8.50@9.00 to packers; $10.00@11.00 to outsiders.

Hogs, 14,000; active; 10@25c higher; 240 to 325 pound butchers $11.65@12.60; 200 to 225 pound averages $12.70@13.15; 180 pounds down $13.50@13.70; sows $10.40@10.60, pigs $13.75@14.00; estimated holdover 2,000.

Sheep 8,000; fat lambs generally 25@50c higher; sheep and shearing lambs firm; wooled lambs $14.00@14.50; shorn lambs $12.50; aged wethers and two-year-olds mixed $11.00; fat ewes $8.50@9.25; shearing lambs upward to $13.50.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, April 16.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The eastern wool markets continue very quiet. Apparently there is nothing in the immediate outlook to give any one much confidence. Business at the mills is slow and generally unsettled and unsatisfactory.

In the west buying has been less active and a small volume of wool has been sold. In Montana 38 cents has been paid, partly on manufacturers' account for bulk half blood clips, although most growers have been asking 40 cents. In other sections there has been little change. One or two choice clips in Nevada and Texas have been purchased at a half cent advance in the grease, but probably at satisfactory clean costs. Some buyers have withdrawn virtually from the market, quoting lower prices.

The foreign markets are fairly steady.

Mohair is firm with no business of moment reported. Quotations:

Scoured basis Texas fine 12 months (selected) $1.12@1.15; fine 8 months $1.

Mohair best combing 65@70c; best carding 50@55c.

Charleston Routs Hulu Hula Among Hawaiian Maidens

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—(AP)—The Charleston is putting the hula hula out of business in Hawaii. Miss Juliet Marquise, princess of royal Kanaka blood, is authority for this. She arrived here yesterday for an American visit. She was not dressed like a Hawiian native, but as fashionably attired as though she had come from New York.

"The hula hula," said Miss Marquise, "the Charleston is putting it out of business. Besides, it isn't Hawaiian. I don't know where it originated, probably in Afghanistan."

The Charleston, the princess says, is driving out all native dances before it.

URGE LETTERS

Army Officers and Enlisted Men Asked to Write Mothers.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP) Secretary Davis of the war department has sent a letter to army commanders advising "that each officer and enlisted man write a letter to his home on Mothers' Day (May 19), as an expression of love and reverence we owe the mothers of our country."

ASK APPROPRIATION

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP) Secretary Wilbur today asked congress for an appropriation of $19,-177,600 for construction and imporvements at naval bases.

More Financial Support For Schools Needed, Marrs Says Here

STATE SUP'T. HOLDS MEETING

Next Legislature to Make Needed Changes, He Predicts

"The principal problems before the people of Texas with reference to public education is the greater financial support by the state and a better organization of the administrative system," S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, who is conducting a regional conference on public education at the Wichita county court house, said yesterday.

"We are expecting the 40th legislature to provide a minimum per capita apportionment of $15," he said in speaking of the financial support. "The present year, the apportionment is $14, but in 1926-1927, the prospect is that it will drop to $12. The reason for this drop is that we have no balance to carry over from the preceding year. There would have been a $12 apportionment this year had we not had a balance carried over.

Provide $12 Per Capita

"The regular constitutional sources of income for the state's available school fund furnish practically $12 per capita and any increase above that amount must be provided by new legislation," Mr. Marrs said.

Another problem he discussed is the provision for free high school instruction, for every child, regardless of where he may live. "No parent should be required to pay tuition in a free school system for the school is not free and the opportunities are not equal whenever it devolves upon the parent to pay any tuition," he declared.

The receiving districts should get compensation for teaching non-residents from a special appropriation by the state.

In the morning session of the conference, Mr. Marrs discussed the financial support of the state, county and district. He was followed by Miss Mary Jo Popplewell, chief high school supervisor of the state department of education, who discussed the process of classification and accrediting of high schools.

There is a general though incorrect belief that a degree is necessary for certification of teachers," Miss Popplewell said. "Many teachers that have completed but a year and a half of college work make the best teachers, and the schools prefer to keep them for their teaching qualities."

On the other hand, she stated, degrees mean nothing to those who have not learned anything while acquiring them. Two years at college qualifies a teacher for a primary certificate which includes the first seven grades but does not allow her to teach in a high school. This may be "raised" by advanced study and a four-year certificate obtained, she said.

Watch Arrangements

The arrangements of the program should be guided by the demands of the community and its ability to pay for the subjects taught, she continued. "A small school should not have too many credits. A school of 250 pupils had 29 credits and was $16,000 in debt. English comes first and is a major. Civics and economics should be emphasized because they tend to teach the student citizenship. Sciences and mathmatics are a requirement and should come before languages, which are optional. General science is inexpensive and can be used in conjunction with a botany or chemistry laboratory."

L. S. Thrift, manager of the free text book division will speak Saturday morning, giving a brief history of the state free text book law; he will be followed by L. D. Borden, chief rural supervisor of the department of education, Austin.

Mrs. Fletcher Hurt In Fall to Street

Mrs. Roberta Aiken Fletcher, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. W. Aiken, 1205 Burnett street, is in a local hospital following a slight accident at about 2:30 this afternoon in which she suffered a severely cut wrist. Mrs. Fletcher was stepping from her car at the curb of her mother's home with an empty milk bottle in her hand. She tripped on the curb, the bottle was broken and arteries in her wrist were cut, causing considerable loss of blood. She was given prompt medical aid and is reported as doing nicely.

Forum Building a Necessity For Wichita Falls, Says Mrs. Joline In Endorsing Club Campaign Here

Community Will Rally to Whole Hearted Support Of $50,000 Drive When it Starts, She Declares In Interview Friday

That the people of Wichita Falls will respond wholeheartedly to the appeal of the Woman's Forum for a $50,000 fund with which to erect a magnificent club building in the Country club estates is the belief of Mrs. Carrie Joline, for a number of years actively identified with club work in this city and who is prominent in such work throughout the state. The campaign for this fund will be started Monday, April 26, and will continue for four days. The site on which the building is to be erected was donated by the Hamilton-Maryin Investment company.

Relative to the progress of club work in Wichita Falls and concerning the need for the club building, Mrs. Joline has the following to say:

Memberships Limited.

"When the first club was organized in Wichita Falls in 1895 the membership was limited to 15, as we had only space to accommodate that number and this in the home of Col. L. T. Miller.

"Since that time every woman's club has had to limit its membership. We now have 22 clubs in the Forum and with Olney, Iowa Park and other neighboring towns represented. Are we too, going to limit our membership and not take advantage of this opportunity to co-operate with our neighbors? Are we going to refuse to make Wichita Falls the educational and cultural center of this district, as it is now the business center?

For over 30 years the women have worked in small groups. They have organized and successfully operated the Y. W. C. A., Business Women's club, the Day Nursery, the Parent Teachers association, and 1 cafeterias and in this increased the efficiency of our schools 100 per cent. They have equipped playgrounds, and have done a vast amount of civic work.

A Need for the Women.

Now are we going to refuse to continue this work and to advance, for the need of space? Our men have built railroads and created a business center in Wichita Falls. Are we going to make an educational and cultural center in which their wives and families will be happy and enter into the same atmosphere and club life that has been created for the men, or are they to become discontented, long for their old associates and eventually leave Wichita Falls as many have for these same reasons. The Forum gives to the woman the same comradeship that the clubs furnish the men. There she finds the same congenial friends who will make her happy and contented and will give to her the feeling that she is indeed a part of our community.

Are we going to continue our work so successfully begun? Yes! We are going to ask the aid of every citizen and they will respond in the same loyal spirit the women have always shown when called upon for every public work, and it will be put over in the Wichita Falls way.

C. C. MATHEWS DIES FRIDAY

Prominent In Business Here For More Than 12 Years

C. C. Mathews, aged 50, died at 2:40 Friday afternoon at his home, 1111 Polk street, after a long period of illness.

He had been prominent in business circles of the city for the 12 years he had made this his home, having operated as a hotel proprietor and having had other interests. He was well known throughout this territory.

As survivors Mr. Mathews leaves his mother, Mrs. H. S. Mathews, his widow, three brothers, and three sisters. The brothers are: J. O. Mathews and J. P. Mathews of Dalhart and H. L. Mathews of Wichita Falls; while the sisters are: Mrs. W. T. Merrill of Fort Worth, Mrs. E. W. Carter of Fort Worth and Mrs. E. C. Underwood of Wichita Falls.

The body was taken to the Hines mortuary and prepared for burial, which will be Saturday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at the First Christian church at 3 o'clock this afternoon with Rev. Randolph Clark of Stephenville officiating. The local Odd Fellows lodge, in which Mr. Mathews had been an active member, will have charge of the services in Rosemont Burial park.

PLAN FOR BANQUET.

In the second meeting of the Inter-Club council of Girl Reserves held Friday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. plans were made by the representatives from nine elementary schools of the city to have the mother-daughter banquet the evening of April 30 at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Enloe is chairman of the arrangements.

The devotional was led at the meeting by Edna Earle Chapman; Lurline Moore led the sentence prayers. Rita Bob Turner, president, presided at the meeting.

M. E. BIDS ARE CALLED MAY 10

To Receive Proposals On New Church That Date

Bids on the contract for the proposed new building of the First Methodist church, south, will be received Monday, May 10, according to announcement by J. J. Perkins, chairman of the building committee, following a meeting of the board.

The new church building which is to be located on the corner of Tenth and Travis, will be one of the finest church edifices in the south when it is completed, according to the plans drawn for the structure, and statements from architects in various sections of the south. It is expected that construction work will start early in the summer for the new building.

50 Indictments Returned Friday By Grand Jury

A total of 50 indictments were returned by the grand jury of the 30th district court Friday afternoon at the conclusion of almost two weeks of work. The 50 indictments bring the total returned by the body from 31 to 81, the former number having been returned in a partial report a week ago.

Among the indictments are bills charging Louis Robinson, negro, with the murder of Howard Nelson on March 26, and three charging G. W. Jones of Iowa Park with three serious statutory offenses. There are two bills charging violations of the liquor laws, a large number charging forgery, a large number charging burglary and theft. Names mentioned in the indictments, however, are kept secret pending arresting on capeases by the sheriff's department.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO C-C MEETING

Wichita Falls Will Send Big Delegation To Amarillo

Wichita Falls will send a special train and some 175 or 180 business men to the annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce in Amarillo June 21, 22 and 23, it was decided Friday at a meeting of the chamber publicity committee. The matter, after having been worked out in some detail by the committee, was presented later in the day to the business council and given its endorsement.

The train, orders for which have already been placed, will consist of eight standard Pullmans, a dining car and baggage car equipped with shower baths. This will make the party entirely independent of Amarillo hotels and cafes which, it is presumed, will be taxed far beyond their capacity. All meals will be served the Wichitans on the diner and the Pullmans will be available for sleeping quarters.

Present plans also contemplate the taking of a 25-piece brass band as a part of the delegation.

The train will leave here on the night of Monday, June 21, arriving in Amarillo on the morning of the 22nd. Two full days will be spent at the convention and the party will be back in Wichita Falls the morning of Thursday, the 24th.

Determined efforts will be made by the delegation to bring back the 1927 West Texas convention to this city.

Parnell to Speak At Bridge Opening

In connection with the celebration marking the opening of the Vernon-Frederick bridge, Senator J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls will appear on a program marking the opening of the structure April 21. Senator Parnell has been an active worker in conjunction with its construction and acquisition. The celebration proper, along with the annual convention of the Lee Highway association, will be staged at Davidson, Okla.

Governor Miriam Ferguson is expected to attend the meeting, it has been announced by L. C. Dobbs, secretary of the board of city development of Davidson, and an address by Governor Trapp of Oklahoma has been announced for the gathering.

Several features, including a barbecue at noon are being planned.

FORUM DRIVE BEFORE C-C.

Members of the Wichita Falls Women's Forum will take up most of the time at next week's meeting of the chamber of commerce business council. Full announcements will be made of the $50,000 building fund campaign to be launched in behalf of the new forum club house.

Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, president of the Forum, made a short announcement at Friday council meeting and said that more detailed plans would be laid before the council next week.

The Old Home Town

Mrs. R. G. Percival and baby, Paul Hudson, are in Dallas visiting her sister.

Mrs. Kay McWethy, who has been quite ill at her home on Wilson street, is improving.

W. Roberts, who is confined to his home with rheumatism, is reported improving.

The Texas club will give a dance at the Kemp hotel this evening when music will be furnished by Ralph Britt and his orchestra from Denver, Colo.

Little Miss Frances Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Benson, is improving at the Hargrave-Walker sanitarium following an operation several days ago.

A revival meeting will be held June 13-27 by the First Southern Presbyterian church on the vacant lots in front of the tabernacle, according to the pastor, Rev. Gaines B. Hall, yesterday.

Dr. and Mrs. Claud B. Norris of Youngstown, Ohio, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Heard. Dr. Norris, dermatologist, is on his way to Dallas to attend the American Medical association. Mrs. Norris is a journalist, and is the organizer of Theta Sigma Phi, journalism fraternity for women, at the University of Texas.

Miss Anna Hanna of Quanah who was recently elected superintendent of schools of Hardeman county, filling the place of Mrs. Frances E. Bone who resigned to become principal of the Sam Houston school of this city, attended the regional conference on public education being held at the court house Wednesday.

MAKE PLANS FOR HEALTH PARADE

May 1 to See Civic Societies Here In Demonstration

Plans are going forward for the Health Day parade May 1 when various civic organizations of Wichita Falls will participate with health floats, in co-operation with child health day of national Child Health week. Miss Beatrice Hall, nutritionist of the local chapter of Red Cross, is sponsoring the work.

Floats will be entered by the Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Optimists clubs, the chamber of commerce, Safety council, Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves, Camp Fire Girls, Woman's Federated Missionary society, Academy of St. Mary, Red Cross and the Mother's council. The public schools of the city, including the Washington school for negroes and the Mexican school will participate, and compete for three cash prizes.

The University club is observing the day with a playlet on health week. Better Homes week also closes on May 1, and programs that are being featured in one of the Talunar Place houses will include a health pageant and an address by Miss Hall on that day.

C. of C. Endorses Ard Schooling

Official endorsement and wholehearted commendation of his efforts was given Friday to Floyd Ard Jr., talented young pianist of this city, by the business council of the chamber of commerce. A motion was passed by the council in which it pledged support and encouragement to him in his ambition to further develope his musical talents.

Mr. Ard was present at the luncheon and made announcement of the piano recital he is to give at the Junior college next Friday evening. Proceeds from ticket sales to this will go to help defraying the cost of study in Vienna this summer. After the announcement one man bought 10 tickets on the spot.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Ard played a selection for the council.

Old Sol Warms Things Up Today

Old Sol, after having bowed in subjection to the assaults of King Winter for the last week, broke forth into full glory again Friday and drove the thermometer up to 80 degrees for one of the warmest days of the year.

A minimum of 46 degrees was reported by the observation station of the Wichita Falls Electric company, these two extremes furnishing an unusually wide variance.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

A committee composed of John O'Donohue, Ed Railey and E. G. Hill was appointed Friday by John W. Bradley to work out details of business council luncheon hereafter. The work in the past has been done by officials of the chamber, who will now be relieved of some of this work.
